GERMANY WILL NOT GIVE ONE INCH OF LAND

Peace Impossible so Long as Allies Demand Any Teuton Territory

MICHAELIS SPEAKS Plot Discovered To Paralyze German Fleet and Force Peace

By Courier Leased Wire Amsterdam, Oct. 10.—German chancellor, Dr. Georg Michaelis, in speaking of peace said, according to advices reaching here to-day that as long as Germany's enemies demanded any German soil, as long as they tried to drive a wedge between the German people and their empire, peace was impossible.

Admiral von Capelle attempted to link the Radical Socialists with the plot. He said the ringleader had discussed the plot with Deputies Haase and Vogther in the Radical Socialist conference room in the Reichstag building. The deputies had called attention to the dangerous nature of the plot and had advised the greatest caution, but had agreed to furnish propaganda material.

Socialist deputies interrupted the speaker with cries of "dissect." Deputy David of the Majority Socialists, demanded the government produce proof and that the Reichstag should suspend judgment in the meantime.

Chancellor Michaelis earlier in session had referred to the affair, rumors of which had apparently gained publicity. He declared he could not co-operate with nor recognize a party which put itself in the pale by activities directed against the fatherland.

The disclosure in connection with the Radical Socialists, if it were true, came most opportunely to help the government out of its embarrassment over the interpellation regarding pan-German propaganda. Admiral von Capelle hammered home his statement with a declaration of necessity for a proper enlightenment of the military forces.

Plotted to Obtain "Complete and Protracted Interruption of Traffic"

FRESH DISCLOSURES Lansing Continues Spilling of Diplomatic Beans at Washington

BERNSTORFF GUILTY "Embassy Must In No Circumstances Be Compromised," Warning Given

Washington, Oct. 10.—Further exposition of Ambassador Bernstorff's activities in the United States, including the destruction of the Canadian Pacific Railway at several points with a view to complete a protracted interruption of traffic, Captain Boyhem, who is known on your side and is shortly returning, has been given instructions. Inform the military attaché and provide the necessary funds.

"The Secretary of State published the following messages from the German Foreign Office to Count von Bernstorff in January, 1916: "January 3.—Secret. General Staff desires energetic action in regard to proposed destruction of Canadian Pacific Railway at several points with a view to complete a protracted interruption of traffic. Captain Boyhem, who is known on your side and is shortly returning, has been given instructions. Inform the military attaché and provide the necessary funds."

"One and two are absolutely reliable and discreet. No. 3 is reliable, but not always discreet. These persons were indicated by Sir Roger Casement. In the United States sabotage was carried out on every kind of factory for supplying munitions of war. Railway embankments and bridges must not be touched. Embassy must in no circumstances be compromised. Similar precautions must be taken in regard to Irish pro-German propaganda."

"The following telegram from Count von Bernstorff to the Foreign Office in Berlin was sent in September, 1916: "September 15. With reference to report AN 2665 of May 10th, 1916. The embargo conference, in regard to whose earlier fruitful co-operation, Dr. Hale can give information, is just about to enter upon a vigorous campaign to secure a majority in both Houses of Congress favorable to Germany and requests further support. There is no possibility of our being compromised. Request telegraphic reply."

In this latest step of exposures the state department believes it has removed the last doubt that Count von Bernstorff was the directing hand in America of the German machine for espionage. The revelations of the part played by Jeremiah O'Leary was not unexpected and the fact that his name was suggested by Sir Roger Casement, who later was executed in England on the charge of treason, already had been indicated in early disclosures made by the department. The injection of the name "Dr. Hale" into the German organization was something of a surprise, however, and gave immediate rise to speculation as to just what individual was meant. Dr. William Byrnes Hale, acting as a newspaper correspondent, was then in Germany

British Hold Gains Against Most Desperate Counter Attacks of Enemy, While French Press on to New Points, and Take More Prisoners

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Oct. 10.—A further advance has been made by the French troops which took the offensive yesterday in Belgium in conjunction with the British. Papegoat Farm has been captured, the war office announces, and more prisoners have been taken. The statement follows: "In Belgium we made further progress east of Draebank, occupying Papegoat Farm and taking forty prisoners. On our new front the enemy undertook only patrol operations."

"North of the Aisne the German artillery was particularly active in the region of Laffaux. We made a successful attack northwest of Neolombe Farm.

"On the right bank of the Meuse, in the region of the Chaume Wood there was active artillery fighting with no infantry engagement. There is nothing to report on the remainder of the fronts."

London, Oct. 10.—Several counter-attacks were made by the Germans last night in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staden railway. To-day's official statement says these attacks were repulsed, but that south of the railway on a front of 2,000 yards, the British advance troops were forced back a short distance.

FOE TAKEN BY SURPRISE YESTERDAY

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Reuter's correspondent from British headquarters in France says the Germans held their front much more heavily than in recent battles which suggests to the correspondent a return to their earlier defensive tactics, depending rather upon man power than on concrete.

"The Germans were taken by surprise," says the correspondent. "Prisoners frankly confess the probability of an attack in such weather and over such ground was not thought of. How little it was expected was shown by the fact that two German divisions, which had to bear the brunt of the onslaught only completed taking over the line at three o'clock this morning and were wholly unfamiliar with their surroundings."

"The prisoners include men from still another division from the Russian front." With the French Army in Flanders, Tuesday, Oct. 9.—(By Associated Press)—The French advance north of Ypres to-day reached the village of Veldhoel, south of the forest of Houtholst, making the depth of the forward movement about one mile.

On their way through the marsh lands, where progress only was possible over rapidly laid board walks, sometimes exceeding a mile in length, the French rushed and overcame the resistance of numerous block-houses constructed of reinforced concrete and bristling with machine guns. Several extensive farm houses organized to delay the attackers and only demolished partly by the preparatory artillery fire were taken.

There is evidence on all sides that the Germans sustained severe losses. The French casualties were few as on the occasion of the last two attacks in co-operation with the British when their total losses of all kinds were far exceeded by the number of unwounded prisoners captured from the Germans.

DRIVE HITS HUN MORALE HARD

British front in France and Belgium, Tuesday, Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The blow struck by the British and French forces to-day against a wide section of the German defences between the Houtholst forest and Broodseinde has resulted in another great success. Over much of this front the attacking troops swept forward to a depth of 1,200 yards or more, over-running many important strongholds of the scattered enemy.

This afternoon the allies were digging in almost on the outskirts of Houtholst forest. Further south they had gained the Passchendaele wood within less than 1,000 yards of Passchendaele village, thereby wrenching nearly all that remains to the Germans of the famous Passchendaele Gheluvelt ridge system of fortifications.

Again the German losses have been great and reports from all along the line indicate that organization and morale were hit hard. It has been another wonderful performance on the part of the Allies and the victory has been more remarkable because of the tremendous natural difficulties in the advance. The rain the past two days has hurried much of the battle ground into a morass, through which the French and the men of the British Empire floundered knee-deep. How they could make their way forward over such ground, much less fight over it, is the amazing thing. This very fact undoubtedly contributed to the day's triumph. German prisoners say nobody on their side had thought the Allies would advance under such conditions. The approach of the mud-covered Allied troops, coming through the marshes before German lines apparently unnerfed the enemy. They surrendered in large numbers in many places or ran away as fast as they could. The Germans attempted one counter-attack of considerable size. This was astride the Ypres—Roulers railway and was erased near the railway northwest of Poelcapelle put up strenuous resistance. There was heavy fighting at Koekeut, north of Langemarck, where there was a nest of redoubts. For the most part the Germans in this region surrendered without making strong resistance. Some of the hottest work of the day occurred in the town of Poelcapelle. In last Thursday's drive the British had established themselves in the western half of the village and vigorous fighting has continued there ever since. At dawn to-day hand-to-hand fighting among the ruins began in earnest and the Germans were gradually pushed back to the eastern outskirts of the town where they took up a position in a big brewery. This place was well fortified and every window furnished an opening for a machine gun. The battle continued several hours, but early in the afternoon it was announced that the Germans had been forced to evacuate the brewery and to withdraw still further. The forward line in the region of Poelcapelle, was held thinly by the Germans, and except for the fight in the town itself, the British had comparatively little difficulty in breaking through. The advance on the Passchendaele ridge involved the capture of many redoubt positions. A small party of British troops who joined in the attack in this section had, marched eleven hours through the deep mud and water before they reached their assembly line. During their journey they fell into shell holes full of water and often had to pause to pull one out of the boggy ground. After their arrival, they went over the top and fought gallantly. The story of the fighting in this section is much the same as elsewhere, the Germans apparently being demoralized and giving little resistance. One temporarily disconcerting fea-

ENEMY CLAIMS ALL BRITISH ATTACKS VAIN

Teuton Battle Lines Held Firmly By Defenders, Says Official

SITUATION IN BRIEF Haig's Repeated Thrusts Give Allies The Ascendancy

By Courier Leased Wire Berlin, Oct. 10, via London.—The German battle lines on the Flanders front from Poelcapelle to the south of Gheluvelt are held firmly by their defenders, says to-day's army headquarters report. Repeated hostile attacks upon this front of approximately eight miles all broke down with the heaviest losses, it is declared.

Eleven British divisions were engaged in yesterday's battles in Flanders, in addition to the French troops which attacked, the headquarters statement says.

The Situation Field Marshal Haig, with the help of the French, has struck another successful blow in the Ypres salient, and the German tenacity of the dominant ridge east of Ypres is nearing an end. The British yesterday captured further sections of the ridge in the direction of Passchendaele, and British guns now dominate that part still in German hands as the railway centres of Staden, Roulers and Menin and the railroad between Roulers and Menin.

One more stroke, perhaps two and the Germans must bow before the superior power of the Allies in Flanders and retreat. Should the Germans retire to the line of Beuges-Thiel-Congrat-Lille, they would relinquish their hold on the greater part of the Belgium coast now used by them for submarine bases. Their retirement to this line would make a sharp salient north of Lille, unless they choose to give up that stronghold and retreat to Tournai.

Tuesday, the British and French made their gains under difficult conditions. The weather was stormy and the ground was waterlogged from the rain of several days.

From southeast of Broodseinde to St. Jansbeek, where they joined the French, the British made gains all along the line. At Broodseinde the Australians went over the crest of the Passchendaele ridge, while other troops advanced a mile north along the ridge, gaining all objectives.

In the center Poelcapelle fell into British hands and a considerable advance was made between it and the ridge. On the left the outskirts of the forest of Houtholst was gained in advance two miles northwest of Poelcapelle. The French gained all the German defenses on a two mile front, captured two villages and reached the forest of Houtholst. German prisoners to the number of more than 1,300 were taken by the Anglo-French troops. Heavy losses were inflicted on the German front. The adverse conditions, did not lose in man power.

A move to paralyze the German fleet in order to force the German government to make peace has been uncovered by the British Admiralty. The ringleaders have been apprehended and Vice Admiral von Capelle, minister of marine, announces that they have been punished. An attempt by the government to throw the blame for the movement on the Radical Socialists, who have been outspoken recently in their hostility to the government met with a demand by a leader of the Majority Socialists that it produce proof and that the Reichstag suspend judgment.

The Radical Socialist effort to heckle the government through an interpellation on Pan-German propaganda was stayed, however, by the announcement of the plot in the Reichstag, and probably rescued Chancellor Michaelis and his aides from an embarrassing situation.

Announcement was made that the new government intends to carry out an active foreign policy with the purpose of making peace in agreement with our allies as soon as possible. Meanwhile the government will take steps to bring the army to its highest fighting power and to restore economic and social tranquility to the country.

WEATHER NONE TOO GOOD FOR NEW YORK GAME

Prospects Were Uncertain Again This Morning; More Rain Expected

DELAY AGGRAVATING Both Teams Keyed To High Pitch, and Anxious For The Ray

By Courier Leased Wire New York, Oct. 10.—Weather prospects appeared uncertain again to-day for the third game between New York and Chicago. At 8 o'clock the wind was in the northwest and the overcast sky appeared to be breaking.

New York, Oct. 10.—White Sox and Giants, thoroughly rested after their two days of idleness, will return to the fray to-day, if the weather permits and battle for supremacy in the third game of the series for the baseball championship of the world. Yesterday's downpour of rain was a great disappointment to players and fans alike, but it has been forgotten in the eagerness of the ball teams to resume the contest, and the rooters to get a look at the contenders for the title. The two days' lay-off has added zest to the series and a tussle worthy for championship form is looked for to-day. Chicago is eager to win in four straight and New York must take the third to increase the team's chances of finally winning out.

A cold northwest wind and an overcast sky gave the fans little to hope for at 8 a. m. The rain that caused a postponement of yesterday's game ceased falling at dusk, but overhead conditions this morning gave promise of anything but dry weather and a warm sun to cheer players and spectators. With anything like fair weather, the Polo Grounds, with seats for more than 68,000 persons, will hold a capacity crowd. Despite last night's rain and the cold penetrating wind, many fans turned out again during the night and waited for the opening of the ball park gates. The crowd began to grow with the first streaks of dawn and when the gates to the two dollar unreserved seats in the lower grand stand, and to the dollar bleacher seats were opened, it was nearly as large as the average world's series throng of other years. Rain checks possessed by the fifteen thousand persons who braved yesterday's rain and sat in the uncovered seats during the downpour, were good for to-day's game only. Special gates were opened for the holders of the checks. A large number of the rain checks fell into the hands of speculators, who in many cases bought them at a reduction from fans who could not attend to-day's games.

Early reports from the groundkeepers assured the management of the New York club that if no more rain fell the diamond would be in good condition. The infield was covered when yesterday's rain began and it is dry and fairly fast. The outfield, however, is somewhat heavy, but not too soft to make an ap-

OPENING SUPPER IN Y. M. C. A. SEMI-CENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN

First Gun in Drive For $45,000 Objective Fired Last Night—G. A. Warburton of Toronto a Speaker—Massey-Harris Co. Gives $5000

If last night's stirring and inspiring banquet of the workers who will conduct the membership and financial campaigns in the interests of the Y.M.C.A. held in that building, was any criterion of the manner in which the balance of the canvass will be conducted, there need be no doubt regarding the ultimate result. The speakers of the evening, which were George A. Warburton of Toronto, emphasized the value that the institution is at the present day, and the immense amount of work that is being accomplished by its officers among the troops of the allies on the battlefields of Europe.

Two hundred campaigners, some seasoned veterans, and others raw novices, but all setting out with a determination to achieve the desired mark, sat down to the tastefully decorated tables laden with dainty refreshments. Regret was expressed that the Board of Directors, and President Findlay of the Massey-Harris Company, stating the inability of these gentlemen to be present.

It was announced at this juncture that a great honor had been conferred upon Brantford, and especially upon the chairman of the campaign, Mr. Harry Cockshutt, who yesterday was appointed the director of the Bank of Montreal. The Bank of Montreal, stated Mr. Cook, had been in existence for over a hundred years, and for the first time in its history, an Ontario man had been included in the Board of Directors. On the head of this announcement the banquet-teers applauded heartily and enthusiastically, taking it for a sign of the honor that this honor had been conferred upon their chairman at the outset of the campaign.

The first milestone has already been passed in the campaign, for it was announced that the Massey-Harris Company, including the Verity Plow Company, had made the initial contribution among the manufacturers of the city, and had given the Y.M.C.A. a sum of $5000 toward removing the debt.

Chairman Harry Cockshutt. "This is the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Y.M.C.A. in Brantford," said Mr. Cockshutt in his opening words of a brief chairman's address, "and my father was president of the first Y.M.C.A. in this city, therefore I consider it an honor to have been requested to assume the chairmanship of this campaign. I will be more proud if I can deliver the goods, and my father would say $50,000, one thousand for every year of the history of the institution in Brantford."

"The campaign should be vigorously prosecuted for the honor of the city. Brantford is largely a manufacturing city, and the Y.M.C.A. has filled a want in the community where trained men are essential. It is a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether and we'll go over the ridge."

Sec. G. H. Williamson explained the procedure that would be followed in canvassing for the financial campaign, and concluded by stating: "Brantford has a national reputation for the campaigns that have been conducted here, and no campaign has ever failed in this city, and I am sure this one will be successful."

E. A. Danby, chairman of the membership committee, outlined the methods that were to be adopted by his workers in their efforts for the next few days, their efforts for the assistance of a team of war veterans, that the success of the campaign was assured.

George A. Warburton, Toronto, who has become famous through his energetic endeavors toward accomplishing province wide prohibition, delivered an inspiring address that radiated his own energy and stirred the workers to a zeal for their three day campaign. He reviewed his trip around the world a year ago, and related his experiences of coming into contact with the Y. M. C. A. in the Orient, and of the influential position there occupied by them. He told of the work that was being accomplished on the firing line among the troops of the Allies, and how, in general, the cause of Christianity and civilization was being propagated throughout the world by this institution.

"Some of the Associations in the Dominion have made use of the excuse that the war has hampered their efficiency, and some boards of directors have allowed the finances to lapse. However, I congratulate you, gentlemen, that you have seen in the war an opportunity to serve, and have taken the steps necessary to remove the debt from your building. Personally, I think you have done right."

The potent influence that is exerted in the nations of the Orient, many of them avowedly non-Christian, from Japan to India, was marvellous, declared Mr. Warburton. In Japan, the institution is at the center of the life of the nation. In Korea it is to be found in the heart of the country in the midst of a people non-Christian, and under the control of a heathen officialdom, yet at the same time the government officials are willing to discuss the Y. M. C. A., and will willingly admit the good influence that is being brought to bear on the young life of the nation.

The same conditions were true in China, that new yet old republic of the East, where the changes of the past ten years young men have come into their own and are realizing the benefit to be derived from coming in contact with the Y. M. C. A. In Ceylon and India, there was a marvellous adaptation of the Y. M. C. A.: On every vessel that leaves India for the front carrying rough, uneducated, uncouth men to the battle front, there are representatives of the Y. M. C. A. to cheer them, and these "men of the triangle" continued with them until the front line was reached. There was not single city in the world visited by Mr. Warburton while in India, in which he did not locate a branch of the Y. M. C. A.

"Then I went over to France and again I saw the Y.M.C.A. busily and faithfully engaged in work among the soldiers. Wherever there was a hospital there was the Y.M.C.A. and wherever there were rooms there would be found the hut with the red triangle over the entrance. The same conditions prevail in England.

"It is because the association has so commended itself to the people of the world that we now have this opportunity. It does not mean that we have not made mistakes, but it means that wherever the allies are fighting to-night the Y.M.C.A. is there ministering to their needs, making their lives purer, better, and stronger, and upholding among our boys those principles for which we are fighting in Europe to-day."

"Was there in the history of the nation that so many people were living an unselfish life. It is one of the compensations of the war that more are living less for themselves and more for others. We are learning as the result of the war, and God help us if we are not, that there is nothing too good to give up. Christianity challenges men to service for others, just as Christ served men, and I think the Y.M.C.A. would be unworthy of its name if it failed to live up to that ideal. I believe that what we need to-day is a more practical interpretation of Christianity that what were the Master on earth to-night he would be seeking out the men who had caught some of this vision, he had caught and he would be overseas to-night, looking after the boys."

Rev. G. A. Woodside hoped that the canvassers would adopt that ideal propounded by Mr. Warburton. The work was not to be regarded as a local measure, but as a service to the kingdom of God. He briefly referred to the situation fifty years ago, when the institution was first established in Brantford. The men who had ventured into the undertaking then must have been of a gigantic faith, thought the speaker, to confront the odds that were piled up at that early day, when thousands were more difficult to secure than millions are to-day. As a result of the efforts of our predecessors we were living more comfortable and happier lives to-day. He said: "We are not worthy of the mantle of our fathers if we fail to measure up to our opportunities."

Speaking of the work at the front and in the training camps, the speaker declared: "We are fighting to-day for the overthrow of materialism, the curse of this century, and the men who are standing to-day for the ascendancy of spiritual things, and we should be willing to sacrifice ourselves to some extent, at least as our Great Brother died to redeem man, spiritually and physically."

His parting message was a strong appeal to the men who were going forth on the morrow, to extend themselves to the greatest of their ability to reach the mark set as an objective. "Brantford people have never failed in any campaign into which they have entered and many times they have overshoot the mark, and I am sure they are going to accomplish their object and are not going to fall in this crisis," he concluded.

Rev. Dr. Henderson thought that if ever there was a day when the value of the Y. M. C. A. was recognized that time was the present. Never before had it accomplished such marvellous work for mankind. His hope was that every success would wait upon the effort to remove the debt from the building.

W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., received an ovation when he rose to speak, for his father it was who was the first president of the local institution.

"I was a Y. M. C. A. worker for many years, and stood by it during its darkest days," he said. "I can remember when I was a small child earning my own living, as some of you may think I never honestly subscribed a third of my income to the first building, and the spirit that actuated our forefathers, is actuating our sons."

The war work of the Y. M. C. A. had greatly commended itself to the speaker, and he thought that at the present time when its usefulness had become so apparent, that every day possible should be done to maintain its efficiency. He done to maintain its efficiency. "The war work of the Y. M. C. A.

A. has pretty nearly revolutionized my feeling regarding it. Not a few letters from my boys and relatives at the front have been written on the paper of Y. M. C. A. Their words of appreciation have reconvinced me, if that were necessary, to my old appreciation of the institution.

The price of the institution is the crucible and fire of the war, and has stood out as a shining light on the boys at the front. It deserves our warmest and most sincere appreciation.

Going further into the particulars of the work at the front, Mr. Cockshutt paid a glowing tribute to Capt. Best, a former Y. M. C. A. worker here, when he said: "Mr. Best is one of the outstanding religious figures of this war. He has taken religion up to the cannon's mouth, and any religion that can stand up to the mouth of the guns is a good enough religion for me."

In conclusion, Mr. Cockshutt said, "I am glad to see that the word of the institution in the city, and related the prominent part that had been taken by the late Mr. I. Cockshutt in establishing the Association here. He felt sure that the present campaign would prove successful."

George Wedlake, Hon. Pres., who was president of the board of directors of the institution, was elected stated that at first the estimated cost of the structure was $90,000 but it was later found that it would cost $100,000. The population of the city had reached 40,000 people. He also felt sure that a city of 27,000 could clear up a debt of $45,000 without very great effort.

The banquet was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem, which was followed by a song carried with workers the concluding appeal of the chairman.

"I ask you in the name of the Y. M. C. A. and for the honor of Brantford to see that we do our duty to secure the forty-five thousand dollars."

BRITISH

Setting on the result of the series has not undergone any change. Two to one and three to one that the American League winners would win the series were the prevailing odds with not many takers. It appeared to be more wagering on the result of to-day's game than on the outcome of the series, even the money being offered by both sides.

Some of the New York betting was based on the belief that yesterday's postponement helped the New York team. It was admitted by Giant rooters that the defeats sustained by the National Leaguers in Chicago had severely shaken the team as a whole and had to some extent demoralized the pitching staff. Manager McGraw's pitching plans were shot to pieces by the White Sox batters and the close followers of the game feel that the engine in and finish the Giants. The pitchers were going good. Cleo and Faber by virtue of their wins over the eastern team, were full of confidence and anxious to perform again. Manager Rowland of the Chicago team, says that his men are still up to concert pitch and that to-day's game will demonstrate that fact. He says he feels confident that his men will win in four straight and duplicate the feat of the Boston Braves against the Philadelphia Athletics in 1914. He declares that his team is the best that has ever represented the American League in a world's series.

Manager McGraw of the Giants has little to say regarding the situation his team is in. He has told friends that he is still hopeful that his pitchers and batters will show their true form and even up the series. He banks largely on Schupp and Sallee coming through successfully before a home crowd, it is said.

Many guesses are being made on the pitching possibilities for the third game. Yesterday it was felt that Cleoite would again oppose Sallee, but with the rest that Schupp has obtained, there is a possibility that he may be sent to the mound. The general opinion, however, is that it will be Cleoite against Sallee.

The probable batting order for today is as follows: New York J. Collins, 1. f. Burns, 1. f. McMillen, 3b Herzog, 2b Kauff, c. f. E. Collins, 2b Jackson, r. f. Fletcher, c. f. Gandil, 1b Robertson, r. f. Weaver, s. s. Holke, 1b Shaik, c. Cleoite, p. Sallee, p.

Unhappy: At plate, Klem, on bases O'Loughlin, Riegler and Evans. Forced lay-off has helped the team to pull itself together and has given the twirlers a chance to get a good rest.

By the same token, New York supporters argue, the idleness did not do the White Sox any good. The western team was on edge, playing right on its toes and having twice landed victory, was eager to

SECRETARY LANSING ADHERED TO THE SAME POLICY OF SILENCE TO-DAY AS HAS CHARACTERIZED PREVIOUS DISCLOSURES, ADDING THIS UNFORTUNATE MAN BEFORE PERITUD WITHOUT COMMENT OR INTERPRETATION. IT HAS BEEN UNDERSTOOD THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAVE OTHER RECORDS OF BERNARD'S ACTIVITIES.

Publication of the German foreign office's message referring to Jeremiah O'Leary, caused many smiles of grim satisfaction among other Americans. It was recalled that during the last presidential campaign O'Leary, as president of the American Truth Society, telegraphed the President that he would vote for Mr. Wilson on account of his international policy.

The President replied from his summer home at Shadow Lawn, under date of September 29, 1916: "Your telegram received. I would feel deeply mortified to have you or anybody like you vote for me. Since you have access to many disloyal Americans and I have not, I will ask you to convey this message to them."

INTERNATIONAL CAUSING TROUBLE

City Council Urges Action Against Foreigners Who Molest Women

"That the Police Magistrate be requested to give his serious consideration to the advisability of interfering for the duration of the war with all alien enemies found in any manner molesting the women or young girls of this city, or found loitering in places for which they cannot give good reasons."

Internment of enemy aliens molesting women or otherwise misbehaving themselves, may be the solution of the "foreign menace" within the city. The above resolution, moved by Ald. MacBride and seconded by Ald. English, was passed unanimously at last night's meeting of the City Council.

The Chief of Police is the one who has the power to intern, corrected Mayor Bowley. "If the magistrate dismisses a man brought before him," observed Ald. MacBride, "can the Chief of Police still intern him?"

"He can," replied Mayor Bowley, "and I hope he will intern a good many." Ald. English explained that his motion was no blow against law-abiding foreigners of any nationality, but struck at the turbulent element.

On his arm at the battle of the Aisne and is fit for light employment only. This morning R. T. Hall, engineer of this city, provided him with suitable employment.

WAR VETERANS WANT TAXES ON HOME REMOVED

Petition For Remission Submitted To Council Last Night

The Great War Veterans' Association petitioned the city council last night for remittance of the taxes on their club house on Dalhousie street, Ald. Jones and Ald. MacBride moved that the request be granted.

"It should be referred to a committee," demurred the mayor. "Let us dispose of the matter now," urged Ald. Jones.

"It can very well be laid over until the next meeting of the council," observed His Worship. "We will not railroad the thing through."

"I will refer it to the finance committee," agreed Ald. Jones, "on condition that they act upon it to-night." "No, no!" insisted Mayor Bowley. "The matter need not be disposed of to-night. This petition in order to be legally submitted to the council, should have been handed in before noon to-day."

"Is that rule still in force?" queried Ald. Jones.

"I cannot find it in the book of by-laws," observed Ald. Jones. "It has been dropped from there, and there are rules contained therein which are no longer obeyed."

The matter was referred to the finance committee.

TEAMSTER SUICIDED

Discouraged with life, Orvil Overholt, a teamster residing with his family at 55 Walter street, committed suicide last night by taking strychnine, and his dead body was found early this morning in the barn at the rear of Mr. James Watt's residence, Alfred street. Beside his body was found a brief letter written by the unfortunate man before he died, and addressed to his father, wife and children, bidding them good-bye and giving as his reason for committing the act, that he had had a poor year, and was discouraged.

Coroner Fissette and Dr. Phillips were summoned, but it was found that life had long since departed, and as it was a clear case of suicide it was decided not to hold an inquest.

The deceased was employed as a teamster by George Watt and Sons, wholesale grocers of this city. He was a young man, married, with a small family. In addition he is survived by his father.

A Bowl of Soup and a Slice of Bread

HOW many of us grumble at the burden of planning three meals a day, day after day! How much more simple it is in Belgium, where most of the inhabitants stand in line for a few hours to get a bowl of soup and a slice of bread—the entire day's ration.

Imagine any little child you know trying to crawl on such a pitance! Naturally the poor little Belgian children are breaking down. Tuberculosis, rickets and kindred ills are the common lot. As far as funds will permit these children are taken to England to recuperate under proper feeding and care. But funds are so low they cannot be kept longer than 6 weeks, and more than 15,000 children are waiting for this much. Centraal commissie (marked for the Belgian Children's Health Fund) will cash the Dutch authorities, who have replaced the American Government, to carry on this vital work successfully.

Then the orphan! Think of the thousands whose fathers have fallen in battle, are still fighting, or have been taken away in German bondage. Living in the midst of plenty, will you deny these orphans must be fed and clothed and educated? Yet to work, too, must depend largely on charity. Mark your contributions for the Belgian Orphan's Fund.

As you plan your own meals, remember Belgium's "Bowl of Soup and a Slice of Bread" and HELP until you feel the pinch. It's a debt we owe to Belgium. Your contribution will go entire through the Belgian Minister of the Interior (to Le Havre, France) to Dutch authorities, who administer the relief work under the approval of the British and Dutch Governments, and Mr. Hoover's Committee. A Bowl of Soup and a Slice of Bread HOW many of us grumble at the burden of planning three meals a day, day after day! How much more simple it is in Belgium, where most of the inhabitants stand in line for a few hours to get a bowl of soup and a slice of bread—the entire day's ration. Imagine any little child you know trying to crawl on such a pitance! Naturally the poor little Belgian children are breaking down. Tuberculosis, rickets and kindred ills are the common lot. As far as funds will permit these children are taken to England to recuperate under proper feeding and care. But funds are so low they cannot be kept longer than 6 weeks, and more than 15,000 children are waiting for this much. Centraal commissie (marked for the Belgian Children's Health Fund) will cash the Dutch authorities, who have replaced the American Government, to carry on this vital work successfully. Then the orphan! Think of the thousands whose fathers have fallen in battle, are still fighting, or have been taken away in German bondage. Living in the midst of plenty, will you deny these orphans must be fed and clothed and educated? Yet to work, too, must depend largely on charity. FRESH THRUST BY ALLIES TOWARD GERMAN SUB BASES

British Wedge, Fire Tipped, Driven Two Miles Into Teuton Defences—French Assist in Smash; Many Villages and Prisoners Taken

London, Oct. 9.—The British troops launched a new offensive this morning in Flanders in conjunction with the French, the second big attack within a week, and the fourth in nineteen days. The assault was made on a wide front east and north-east of Ypres.

The British effected the complete capture of Poelcapelle, and advanced nearly two miles to the north-west of that village. According to reports from Field Marshal Haig tonight, the British operations were very successful. All objectives have been gained, and the number of prisoners already exceeds 1,000.

Haig's principal offensive centred on the portions of the Paschendale-Gheluvelt ridge still held by the Germans, being eastward from Poelcapelle, which was captured, and north-eastward from Broodseinde toward Paschendale, the ultimate objective still being the Ostend-Lille road. Taken as a whole, the joint operation makes more apparent the crowning desire of the allies in this region—the forcing back of the Germans to points where their evacuation of Ostend and Zeebrugge, naval and submarine bases on the North Sea, will become necessary.

At several points Haig's advance was sharply contested by the Germans—particularly north of Broodseinde, the nearest approach to the railroad line, and near the Polderhoek Chateau. Nowhere, however, were the Germans able to stay the advance, except near the Polderhoek Chateau, where the terrific fire of their machine guns momentarily forced the British to give ground. Later the troops realigned themselves and the successful push went on again.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The capture of the villages of St. Jean de Mangelare and Veldhoek, numerous blockhouses, is reported in the French official communication of tonight dealing with the operations Tuesday in Flanders, where British troops joined up with the British left wing to the south of Dixmude in an endeavor to bring that section of the line even with the sharp wedge that had previously been driven into the German front by Haig east of Broodseinde. The total advance of the French reached to a depth of one and one-quarter miles, to the southern outskirts of the Houtholst Wood, and on a front of more than a mile and one-half.

More than 900 prisoners and a number of cannon and machine guns fell into the hands of the French. All of the observations dominating the vast Flanders plains are now in the hands of the allies. A German division which was just handing over the lines to a French division recently arrived from the Russian front were caught by the French and great numbers killed. The result of the day's fighting, in addition to the men and material captured, is that the Forest of Houtholst, which comprises five or six miles of thickly wooded ground, is now flanked on both sides. This wood contains considerable artillery and large numbers of machine guns, by the Germans must find extraordinary difficulty in keeping them supplied. (Canadian Press Despatches.) New York, Oct. 9.—The Associated Press issued the following tonight: The big fight is on again in Flanders, and the Germans are being hammered hard. Field Marshal Haig is battering away on the east and northeast, while French troops have joined up with the British left wing to the south of Dixmude in an endeavor to bring that section of the line even with the sharp wedge that has been driven into the German front by Haig east of Broodseinde. Germans Suffer Heavy Losses. Launching their attacks simultaneously Tuesday morning, both armies had been rewarded with goodly gains before nightfall, in addition to having inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans and taking many of their men prisoner. Prior to the announcement of the commencement of the attack there had been no intimation that the French were ready for an advance. In fact it had been rather expected that even the British Commander-in-Chief would delay taking the aggressive again for several days, owing to the terrible condition of the ground he is in quest of—a veritable marsh, caused by the heavy rains of Sunday and Monday.

That's the work of the Y. M. C. A. It starts with the boy, develops him into a responsible man and sends him out into the world properly equipped mentally and physically to carry his share of the burden of citizenship. Its work is of greater importance to-day than ever before in the history of the world. Gaps are being created in every walk of life that it is going to take big men to fill—men who are sound in body and mind. During the period of voluntary enlistment dozens of men who had been rejected on account of some physical defect were fitted here and accepted for military service.

Its doors and equipment have been and are still open to absolutely free use of enlisted men, whether in training, going to or returning from the front. To returned men it extends these privileges free for a period of six months.

Committees welcome returned soldiers, visiting them in their homes, inviting them to use the buildings and seeking to serve them.

Ask any returned man what about the Y. M. C. A. at the front—and he will tell you it is the best friend that Jack Canuck, Tommy or Sammy has.

We want to keep up our share of that work and are counting on the generosity of the citizens of Brantford to make it possible.

Its Place at Home

The "Y" strives particularly for the boys and young men. The war is depopulating the country of its best men. Their places must be taken by boys and youths.

Every time a Canadian soldier is killed at the front the value of every Canadian boy increases. Can we work too hard to give them the kind of a start in life that will develop them into efficient and worthy citizens? The best is none too good for our boys.

Nor is the older man left out of Y. M. C. A. activities. Business and professional men's classes, evening classes and events for factory and shop employees are all enthusiastically carried on. Unsurpassed equipment in every department is at the disposal of members.

The building is a home for the man away from home as well as the place where the man living at home can make firm friendships and live in an elevating environment.

representatives, the lawyers their, the doctors, the university professors, the civil engineers, the schoolmasters, the great merchants there, and so on. Of course, this is a mere suggestion, but somehow or other Germany must in future be governed by its first-rate and not, as is now the case, by its third-rate mind.

Some of the latter even went so far as to say that one of the Government's primary object in passing the bill was to get the working classes under the thumb of the military in order to nip any incipient revolution in the bud. When the Socialists objected to the harsher clauses of the bill, the government overcame these objections by mendaciously asserting the Reichstag that the Munitions Bill passed in England some time before had gone even further in its interference with the liberty of the individual, and they even had the effrontery to quote instances to suit their purpose.

In order to disprove these statements a sceptical member of the Reichstag with whom I was acquainted, and who had no English, asked me if I would search through the English Parliamentary reports in order to track down the government tables. I was only too glad to do so, and went to the Reichstag with him. I Only Take Two and Half. was introduced to Dr. X, the director of the Library, with perfect frankness, as "Professor Belmer," formerly English lecturer at the University of Berlin. My sponsor added with a laugh Professor Belmer is one of our enemies and is thinking, I believe, of leaving us for England, as soon as an opportunity offers. The Director took it as a joke and laughed too, though evidently somewhat puzzled as to where the humor came in.

I was thus able to pass in and out of the Reichstag whenever I liked. It was a strange feeling to walk through those lobbies and to sit in the Library, with sometimes a learned ecclesiastic, of the Centre Party attached a piece of paper saying that he was a traitor to his country. The photo shows the firing party.

no argument but defeat by the sword will avail to make the German people see reason, and that no tribunal but that of the sword will suffice for many years to make them keep the terms of the peace which the world is about in the name of justice to impose on them.

Much to my amusement it turned out that the special volume concerning the bill had been carefully removed by the Government in order to prevent sceptical members from checking the minister's statements. It turned out, too, that the corresponding volume in the library of the Prussian Diet, the only other place where these records were kept in Berlin had also mysteriously vanished for the time being. Not till three weeks later when the bill had become hard and fast law, did the books re-appear on their accustomed shelves, and the Director informed me with an augur-like smile that they were now at my disposal.

During my stay in Berlin, I did what I could to make the British standpoint clear to those Germans who would tolerate discussion. My deep conviction, however, is that Convalescence after pneumonia, typhoid fever and the grip, is sometimes merely apparent, not real. To make it real and rapid, there is no other tonic so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla. Thousands testify. Take Hood's.

TO BOOST THE BOOZE. By Courier Leased Wire New York, Oct. 10.—The law providing for the invoicing of every gallon of alcoholic liquors has led many prominent members of the liquor trade to predict the price of whiskey will probably range from fifty cents to one dollar per drink during the next three years or that whiskey and other like beverages will be sold by the ounce. It is also predicted that the treating habit will practically be abolished. There was a meeting of the liquor interests here yesterday to discuss matters.

FUEL AND FOOD BY-LAW GOES TO THE PEOPLE FOR RATIFICATION ON NOV. 3

Ald. Mac Bride's Plans Shattered Last Night by Amendment Introduced by Ald. Bragg—To Intern Foreigners Molesting Women.

On November 3 the property owners will vote on a By-Law on the Fuel and Food question, as the result of an amendment submitted by Ald. Bragg at the council meeting last night to the original Fuel and Food By-Law. The amendment came as a bombshell to the majority, and was put through after heated passages between Ald. Bragg, Ald. MacBride and the Mayor. The result thus achieved is in direct reversal of the policy adopted at the last council meeting, of submitting a referendum to the electors in general, at the municipal elections in January.

The Fuel and Food committee submitted another report, and were authorized to proceed with an investigation of the quantity of anthracite coal now on hand in the city. Strong representation was made for the internment of enemy aliens annoying women or otherwise disturbing the peace.

The council frittered away less than the usual amount of time, being only twenty-five minutes late in opening.

The annual grant of $300.00 to the Brantford Horticultural Society was made, although Ald. Bragg and others urged a reduction in the sum as a measure of wartime economy.

Municipal Publicity.
R. L. Werry addressed the council on the subject of publicity for the municipality, speaking in the interests of the Canadian Municipal Journal, and urging the city's purchase of a descriptive page in an impending publication dealing with all important municipalities of Canada.

Ask Assistance.
D. Z. Gibson, on behalf of the coal dealers of the city, appealed to the council for assistance during the next two months, in meeting the fuel situation. He asked the appointment of a delegate to cross to the U. S. to buy coal, offering to pay $10 for every carload of coal secured by him for the purchase of local merchants.

"Why didn't the dealers buy coal last summer, when they had the chance?" queried Ald. MacBride. "Because we should have had to raise the price," replied Mr. Gibson. "How much?"

"Two dollars a ton."
"I could have sold it to you for less than that," declared Ald. MacBride. "This is a grand stand play, Mr. Mayor, and I mean to see that it does not avail," know the coal question thorough?"

To Hear or Not to Hear.
Fearing that the session might not last until midnight, the council squabbled over the hearing of a delegation of coal dealers. Ald. MacBride insisted that the delegation be heard at once.

"Let us get through the regular business first," urged Ald. Dowling. "I am tired of staying here until all hours of the night."
Ald. Jones held it courtesy to position to secure coal advantageously.

The committee are now compiling data along this line, and the referendum is necessary as a part of the case to be submitted.

Objections to a Money By-law.
While the Chairman of the Railway and Municipal Board has expressed the opinion that he would favor a Money By-Law, that was his personal opinion, we have no assurance that even a Money By-law would be assented to by the other members of the Board. Mr. Ingram, the other member of the Board present at former hearing, laid more particular emphasis on the desirability of providing that it was necessary for the Municipality to enter into the fuel business, and expressed the opinion that complete data should be submitted.

Under the Act the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board have full power to deal with this matter in any manner they may see fit and proper, and might just as readily refuse their assent on the Money By-Law as on a referendum.

The Committee do not feel, however, that the Board would turn a deaf ear to the voice of the people of Brantford, and the only way to procure the opinion of all the people concerned is by a referendum.

Your Committee recommend, that that inasmuch as your Committee in its report to Council under date of July 3rd, specially requested the local coal dealers to make as equitable a distribution of coal as possible throughout the city, the City Clerk be instructed to ask the Fuel Controller's Department to vest this Council with power to:

1. Ascertain through the Customs Department the quantity of anthracite coal received in this city since April 1st last.

2. To require the local dealers to supply a record of all deliveries to date.

3. To acquire an inventory of all anthracite coal now on hand in this city. This action is necessary, owing to the fact that a great many of our citizens are without coal and report that they cannot secure any from the dealers. With this information at hand, and the co-operation of the Fuel Controller, the present situation could be relieved by the issuing of coal cards.

4. That this Council authorize the Fuel and Food Committee to procure sufficient coal and report thereon, for delivery after Nov. 15, when upper lake navigation will be closed.

5. That this Council authorize the fuel and food committee to arrange for the holding of a public meeting in some public building to discuss the proposed referendum.

6. That the fuel and food committee be empowered to give all possible assistance to the regular dealers in their efforts to procure coal.

A Legal Issue.
The report was once declared carried, but Ald. Dowling took posthumous objection, maintaining that the proper course of action was submission of a moneyed by-law to the property owners.

Ald. Jones declared himself in opposition to the resolution for a referendum, passed at the last meeting of the council, when he was absent through illness.

Ald. Wiley inquired the object of the report, which made important requests of the council, requests requiring detailed consideration. He did not favor the council's purchase of coal before the by-law was approved by the Railway Board.

"The object is to act as though we had authority which we have not," declared Mayor Bowby. "Could the by-law not be submitted at an early date?" queried Ald. Wiley.

"It is a case of necessity," declared Ald. Jones, "and I think we should go ahead with it."
"It is illegal," declared Mayor Bowby. "The people will sanction such an illegality," retorted Ald. Jones. "What of your oath of office?" queried His Worship.

"That is broken at heart nine times," declared Ald. Jones.

Thousands of Canadians, Amongst the Birdmen Are Now Making History

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Nearly five thousand Canadians are helping the Allies in the air. The number is increasing almost daily.

Not all of the five thousand are aviators. More than one thousand have joined the Royal Flying Corp as aviation Cadets and more than three men. Nothing will appeal to his as mechanics, helpers, etc. Upwards of 50 are in the Royal Naval Air Service as officers, mechanics and helpers.

FITNESS DEMAND CAUSES SURPRISE

Many Canadians at Home Did Not Realize How Important Perfect Condition Looms at Front

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The operation of the Military Service Act, as it has been explained in the press by the Military Service Council, has aroused considerable interest throughout the country. Many people, according to reports reaching official quarters here, are surprised at the importance assumed by physical fitness in the making up of armies for active service.

As a matter of fact, physical condition is all important in the case of a soldier, explains a high official of the Militia Department. You will rarely find a veteran soldier who is not possessed of an extremely strong constitution. For the onerous duties of fighting in the trenches, men must be in perfect condition and that is why a certain percentage only of many thousands of reserves is available at any time for immediate reinforcement. Men who are not in category "A1" when the call comes cannot be taken.

To many men, indeed, it is one of the attractions of military life that rugged health is demanded of those who would go to the front—where the vast majority of soldiers in training are always eager to go.

Rippling Rhymes
Homesick.
There is no sickness more severe than that a fellow knows when far away from comrades dear, from good old friends and foes. A man may have the croup or mumps, the jaundice or the gout, and never know the doleful dumps, he's a very good. But courage will not brace him up, when far removed from home, he yearns for book and chair and pup, and for his fine-tooth comb, I used to wrap with David Dose, my neighbor, everyday, and thought that I'd enjoy repose when I had gone away. I built me then a little crib, among the mountains bare, and took my tucker and my bib, and spent the summer there. And how I longed no person knows, while I lived in that shack to throw some riches at Mr. Dose, and see him throw them back. Man longs for old familiar things when he a-broad may roam; no new surrounding ever brings the joy he feels at home. Some neighbors envy me my cot beside a snow-capped hill, where there are never flies to swat and heat waves do not kill. But when I'm there I huddle up before the glowing fire, and long to see my cat and pup, my bookshelves and my lyre.

She just lay and cried, and neighbors all thought we could not save her. The doctors said she had stomach trouble, and that her chances were small. Yet Dr. Cassell's Tablets cured her. They have been worth their weight in gold to us. I don't think there is any medicine for children like Dr. Cassell's Tablets."

LADY'S DRESS.
By Anabel Worthington.
A style which is generally becoming to the slender type of figure is the long waisted effect, and one of the latest and most successful French models in this style is shown in No. 8430. The panel effect forms the front of the waist. The rest of the waist is without fulness, and extends slightly below the normal waist line, where it is stitched to the skirt.

Courier Daily Recipe Column

Rye Gems.
Mix 1 cup of rye meal and 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, with 1-3 cup of molasses, 1 cup buttermilk or sour milk; if sour milk is used add a dessertspoon of shortening. Dissolve an even teaspoonful of soda in a little hot water, add to the mixture and beat till smooth; pour into greased gem pans and set on top of the range until they rise. Bake about 20 minutes.

White Bread.
Three pints of good bread flour, stand in warm place over night where it will get dry and light. In the morning make a sponge; 1/2 cup of flour, 1/4 cup of milk, in which dissolve the yeast; let rise until ready to fall, then add 1 1/2 pints of warm milk, 1 even tablespoon of sugar, 1 tablespoon of lard, 1 teaspoonful of salt; knead 10 minutes. Let rise until 1/2 as large again as when first mixed, taking care always to keep it cool in rising. Knead 5 minutes more in bowl, let it rise twice as large, then form into loaves, used while shaping in loaves. Let rise about 30 minutes in a warm place, then set in a cool place 1 hour if large, 1/2 hour if small. Bake rather slowly, not hot enough to scorch. If the sponge is made ready for this, the bread should be ready for the oven at 11 o'clock. There is no danger of having sour bread with this recipe. One secret in having light bread is drying flour before using.

chance of escaping. And even if she had to limp down to the beach, there were boats to be found there. And there was the bare possibility that she might be able to row across the strait to the mainland before her flight was discovered. And even if overtaken, she could be no worse off than she was. Every one believed her guilt; there was no way for her to prove her innocence. She might better chance the adventure. On frantic impulse, without giving herself time to weigh the dangers, Sally switched off the light, sat down on the window-sill, swung her legs over, and let herself down until she hung by the grip of both hands upon the sill. And then she repented. She was of a sudden terribly afraid. Remembering too late the high heels of her slippers, she discovered the certainty of a turned ankle—which would hurt frightfully even if it failed to incapacitate her totally. For the life of her head, she released her grasp, though already the release of her weight was beginning to cause a most perceptible ache in the muscles of her arms. Right—and caught her breath on a sob to hear herself called softly from below. "Miss Manwaring! For the love of Mike—" She looked down and confirmed recognition of his voice with the sight of his upturned face of amazement. He stood almost immediately beneath her. Heavy on the bell that brewed her misadventures—alone knew where he had come from so inopportunistly. Still, there he was. "What are you doing? What's the matter?" he called again—and again softly, so that his voice did not carry far. She wouldn't answer. For one thing, she couldn't think what to say. The explanation was at once obvious and unspeakably foolish of her. Her hands were slipping. She gripped her teeth and kicked convulsively, but decorously, seeking a foothold on the smooth face of the wall that wasn't there. At this his tone changed. He understood what was happening. He came more nearly under and planted himself with wide-spread feet and outstretched arms. "What are you holding on there any longer?" he insisted. "Let go. Drop. I'll catch you." Only the mortification of that prospect nerved her aching fingers to retain their grip as long as they did—which, however, was not overlong. She felt herself slipping, remembered that she mustn't scream, whatever happened, experienced an instant of shuddering suspense, then an instantaneous eternity, where, paradoxically, part of her seemed still to be clinging to the window-edge while most of her was slipping giddily down through a bottomless pit, saw the grinning moon reel dizzily in the blue vault of heaven—and with a little shock landed squarely in the arms of Mr. Trego. He staggered to some extent, for she was a solidly constructed young person, but recovered cleverly—and had the impudence to seem amused. Sally's first impression on regaining grasp of her wits was of his smiling face, but over hers, of a low chuckle, and then, her complete stupefaction, that she was being kissed. WHEN YOUR WORDS COME BACK.
I had a startling and mind opening little experience the other night. A group of us were talking about a man who is not at all popular with us. Said the Authorman, "He is a mean kind of a cuss. Why they say he takes advantage of his brother's poor eye sight to fix over the accounts and help himself to all the money he wants. No wonder his brother grumbles about how poor business is. They say he doesn't know a thing about that expensive sail boat Phillip's bought."

SOLDIERS MURDERED
Hamilton, Oct. 9.—According to word received to-day by Rev. George Tabbs, two members of his congregation at St. James Church, Privates R. Jones and W. H. Jones were deliberately murdered by the Huns. The letter from Pte. H. Hanson, one of his flock, also tells of those who escaped and others reported as prisoners in Germany. "Fritz apparently had too much to do to look after his prisoners," writes Hanson, "for we found the two men mentioned with their throats slit."

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:
Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOBL, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.
