Village Council Meeting Why Not in Waterdown

At the call of the Reeve the Council met at 1 p. m. May 3rd, for the purpose of passing a By-law for the issue of Debentures to the amount of $55,000 for purchasing site, building and equipping a school house for S. S. No. 3, East Flamboro and Waterdown.

The Reeve occupied the chair and Councillors Markle, Griffin and Langford present.

On motion a By-law was introduced authorizing the issuing of Debentures for $55,000 for purchasing a site, building and equipping a school house for S. S. No. 3. The By-law was read the third time and passed, signed, sealed and numbered 217.

On motion the council adjourned.

Pursuant to adjournment the Council met May 12th. The Reeve and Councillors all present, minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

It was moved by R. Smith and seconded by J. C. Langford that this Council accept the offer of Morgan Dean, Harris & Co. for the $55,000 Public School Debentures at 99 at 54%. They to pay for the Legal advice and the printing of the Debentures.

On motion the Reeve was authorized to issue his cheque in payment of the following accounts.

To F. Thomas for teaming and spreading gravel, $6.

On motion the Council adjourned to June 9th as a Court of Revision and for general business.

Sad, Very Sad

We acknowledge, with the greatest of appreciation, the following "sole" inspiring verses from a Kilbride poet-laureate.

Kilbrides the Home of gentle folks you shurely know this town, and we never hold folks cheaply Like they do in watter down.

We dont judge By fancy clothes folks wear Be they color Blue or Brown, and they mind their own affairs But they dont in watter down.

We crown our feasts with Butter and we Rise to play around But there are no codfish gentry Like they Re in watter down.

We are a Law abiding People and Honest up and down, there is no flies at all, at all, Like their is in watter down.

So if you want to go to glory and wear a golden crown, just stop a printing trash and Stuff about our folks in town.

Those who do nothing wrong seldom do anything.

A group of investors in New York City have purchased a plant at Fenlon Falls, Ontario, and have announced that they will employ 600 hands in the manufacture of turned and shaped wood work including Handles, Spools, Clothespins, Dumb Bells, Shewers, Toys, Penholders, Rulers, Yard Sticks, Indian Clubs, etc. An extensive export trade is to be established by this firm through Brokers in London, Paris, Brussels, and Melbourne. Shipments will be made in June.

Fenlon Falls is a small town on the G. T. R. fourteen miles north of Lindsay, has a population of 1053. Manufacturing and shipping facilities are no better there than in Waterdown and the questions naturally arise,— Where will they get the 600 hands to operate this plant? Where and how are they to live? How many new homes are to be built in Fenlon Falls, and how many men will be employed in building those homes? Will property values increase? Will the tax rate be higher or lower? With a greatly increased population, what new improvements can the town afford? Will the General Store Merchant, the Hardware-dealer, Druggist Baker, Barber, Taylor, Blacksmith, Coal Dealer, Hotel Proprietor and every other business man in town employ more help, do more business and make more money? Will the Doctor need another "Ford" or will the town need another Doctor?

What will happen to Fenlon Falls is already the history of many thriving towns in Ontario.

A "Pig" is fed on "Old Injun" Well; its not bad grub at that, A "Town" when fed with "employment"

Will prosper, grow and get fat.

The war is over and now is the time to convert your Victory Bonds into a more profitable investment, just as safe and just as patriotic (for patriotism like charity begins at home). In a dozen different ways you will receive dividends from a Factory in Waterdown. If you have not already made application for stock leave your name at the Review Office.

Two Kinds of Fish

(By a Waterdown Bard)
Jup, Pluvius takes to raining,
But let him take his way,
Although it stops the farmers,
Some of our friends have else to say.
For how could this old world go on
If Pluvius ceased to give,
What would we do for water,
And how could fishes live.

Thus goes our thoughts to fishing,
A sport to some so dear;
Our fair haired little children
Have naught else their hearts to cheer.

Some fish for love of fishing;
Others fish for daily bread,
But to go fishing on the Sabbath
Is Satan's work instead.

The Military Cross

We are aware of the fact that Major D. U. McGregor is strongly opposed to any publicity of his war record, a record to be proud of, and we also know that Canadians are anxious to hear of the daring deeds of their young heroes. In a democratic country the majority rules, therefore we print the official record as it appeared in the London Gazette, dated the 8th of Jan. 1919, a copy of which he received last week from the Duke of Devonshire when he was presented with the military decoration.

MILITARY CROSS

2nd Lieutenant Douglas Urquhart McGregor, Royal Flying Corps (S. R.)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in leading patrols against hostile formations. He has attacked and driven down enemy aircraft on several occasions, in spite of their being in superior numbers, displaying in every instance splendid dash and determination to get to close range.

THE YUKON.

Some Interesting Points for Canadians.

(George Brimston, in Dawson Daily News).
Yukon Territory contains 192,000 square miles.
More than half of the great area of Yukon is habitable.
Yukon is the last great area for grazing and agriculture.
Yukon is a paradise when compared with other parts of the world where millions of people have lived and prospered.
Yukon Territory and Northern Alberta and Northern British Columbia are practically without a railway.
Yukon has transportation for only about four months in the year.
Yukon can raise turnips weighing from 25 to 44 pounds each.
Canada opened up the Hun in Europe.

GALL-KLENZ

Canada will open up the Yukon with an electric railway.
Such action on their part will open up a market for Canadian goods.
This is Canada's market with no tariff wall to climb over to sell her goods.
Canadian people will see that this is done for their own benefit.
Mineral resources of the territory have not been scratched.
The foregoing are facts for you to study and take advantage of now.
For further information regarding Yukon, apply to the Yukon Development of Interior, Ottawa, and the Gold Commissioner, Dawson.
Yukon Territory sent over 600 men to the Great War, the largest per capita in Canada.
Yukon's patriotic cash contribution is greater than any portion of the British Empire, per capita.
Yukon's subscriptions to the Victory loan are an example for the remainder of Canada. Dawson last November subscribed $318,000 in cash and got twenty-one crowns on her Victory flag. Dawson and Klondike did not get a dollar back in muni-

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE
Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 625 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.
Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years' experience is at your service as our letter held in strict confidence."

ness orders and other war purchases—such as flooded the rest of Canada. Now Yukon asks for a railway that she may send more wealth direct, and for immediate and direct aid to roads, mining, and other industries. Is she not entitled to it?

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians
Glucose in Fruit.
The presence of glucose in fruit preserves as an adulterant may be discovered by the following method given by Popular Science Monthly: In the case of jam or marmalade it is necessary to filter off the solid matter by running the mixture through a piece of muslin. Allow the solution to become perfectly cool, and then add an equal volume, or a little more, of strong alcohol. If glucose is present a dense white precipitate slowly settles down. Where no glucose has been employed, there is no precipitate, save, in some cases, a very trifling sediment of proteid matter, which, however, is so small that it could not possibly be mistaken for the sediment which glucose produces. The last named is not particularly harmful in itself, but is very frequently used as an adulterant in supposedly pure preserves for extra profit.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers state positively that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they know of for little ones. Their experience has taught them that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them and that they can be given with perfect safety to children of all ages. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Therrien, St. Gabriel de Brandon, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. I thought I would lose my baby before trying the Tablets, but they soon made him healthy and happy and now I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Your Blood.
Have you ever thought what it is? It is the nutritive fluid of the tissues.
All sorts of valuable elements are in your blood.
Among these are water, fibrine, albumen, chlorides of sodium and of potassium, phosphates of soda, lime and magnesia, and other things.
In your blood are floated minute solid bodies (called "corpuscles") of two kinds, white and red, the latter giving the color to the blood.
The size of the red corpuscles are only 1-3200 of an inch (the white corpuscles are much larger and less numerous). The red corpuscles have great power to absorb oxygen which they get from the lungs and carry all over the body to form new combinations and changes in the tissues, the results of which are poured into the blood.

Wit and Humor.
"Bertie," said his mother, sorrowfully, "every time you are naughty I get another grey hair." "My word!" replied Bertie; "you must have been a terror. Look at grandpa!"
Magistrate—"How did you manage to extract the man's watch from his pocket when it was provided with a safety catch? Prisoner—"Excuse me, sir, that is a professional secret. I am willing to teach you, however, for two guineas."
A party of "Waacs" were being shown over a repair factory at one of the bases in France. "This," said the obliging soldier, as they entered a shed, "is the engine boiler." One fair charmer, with a quizzical smile, asked: "But why do they boil the engines?" And her guide softly replied: "To make the engine tender."
A soldier was waiting for the Muddleton train, the only one of the day. After he had waited for an unreasonable time the porter hove in sight. "How long will I have to wait," the soldier asked, "for that bally train?" "How long have you got?" asked the porter, with apparent irrelevance. "Fourteen days." "Well," said the porter, "you'd better wait."

Private Jibson's wife coaxed Jibson to send word of his whereabouts in France from time to time, despite the censor. Jibson proceeded to do so by placing dots under certain letters in his epistle, which, when sent out, formed a word. Once he made his dots too large and the censor rubbed them out and put some of his own. When Mrs. Jibson deciphered her message this is what it spelt: C-e-n-s-o-r-e-d.

WHEN WE ARE RICH.
(Spanish River News.)

If any of us don't feel like working—why, we are sick. And we don't have to be at home and in bed in order to be sick.
It is not normal not to feel like working.
We are sick if we are short of normal.
The remedy is easy and cheap—cheaper to apply than not to apply—not only in the cost but in the final economy of doing more with less effort and in eventually earning more.
The salesman, for instance, who feels more like going to a picture show than calling upon prospective purchasers, and thus selling more and earning more, is sick—in the sense that he does not feel normal.
Here is the remedy in one or all of the following four stipulations:
First: Don't eat so much; cut down on concentrated food, like meat, eggs and the like, and eat more vegetables, like cabbage, greens and celery, of character.
Second: Drink at least six glasses of water a day and more in summer.
Third: Sleep with the windows up and without the head covered with the bed clothes.
Fourth: Walk at least part way to and from work. Walk fast and breathe deeply.

Wood's Phosphatine.
The Great English Remedy. Tones and invigorates the whole nervous system, makes new Blood in old veins, cures Nervous debility, Mental and Brain Weakness, Loss of Energy, Palpitation of the Heart, Failing Memory. Price $1 per box, six for $5. One will please, six will cure. Sold by all druggists or mailed in plain pkg. on receipt of price. New pamphlet mailed free. THE WOOD MEDICINE CO., TORONTO, ONT. (Formerly Weston.)

The greatest mistake that most of us make is in believing that the more we eat the more strength we give to our bodies and minds.
Excess food of certain type goes to make excess fat, which is the worst kind of excess baggage.
It takes strength to carry this excess baggage around that might be better used in productive effort—working. Some of us become fatigued in carrying this excess baggage around, and the result is that we don't feel like working.
Certain other foods, particularly meat in excess quantities, go to make waste. And if this waste is not eliminated it becomes like clinkers in the furnace—it accumulates in the lower intestines and forms poisons that penetrate the system and produce that don't-feel-like-work feeling, or fatigue after work.
The remedy for improper elimination (constipation) is in eating fruits and vegetables of a fibrous kind, and bread with a large percentage of bran in it. Fibrous fruits, like apples, oranges, grapefruit; vegoruous vegetables, like carrots, greens, celery, parsnips, and turnips, not only provide the mineral elements of elimination but form a sweep, or swab, for the lower intestines.

Most of the indisposition towards work, and that tired feeling, are a result of confusing stomach emptiness with hunger.
The way most of us eat it would take about ten days of fasting to really get hungry. Fill up the emptiness with bulk of fruits and vegetables and go without a meal or two now and then by filling up on water.
If any of us don't feel like working it is a good plan to keep on working and quit eating. As to what we eat, it is well to follow our own instincts; that is, eat what we want, or what agrees with us, but not so much.
The don't-feel-like-work feeling, or just plain laziness, or fatigue after a normal amount of effort, simply means that we have been using energy, that might have been productive and profitable in digesting needless amounts of food and in resisting poisons that are generated by its accumulated waste.

The Edibles.
A small grocery stock was being sold off under the hammer, and included in a somewhat eager assemblage was a man who had journeyed full of hope from the far end of the city. Impatiently he waited while odd lots in piecay, candles, blacking, and washing soda were sold, he blurted out:—"Hey, auctioneer, when are ye gaun tea pit up the edibles?"
"Ay, ay," responded that gentleman cheerily, "we'll jist has something in that line. John, hand's up thae packets o' canary seed."

New Uses of Cotton.
The people as yet little understand the wonderful variety of uses to which cotton is no wput. One industry has established at Columbus, Ga., at a cost of $2,000,000 a mill whose machinery is capable of producing 53 different. The government has recently placed orders for many million yards, it having been found possible to substitute a cotton weave for the rubber gas masks and rubber coats which alrmen year. Secretary Daniels has ordered the purchase of 110,000,000 pounds of cotton for navy uses and 200,000,000 yards of cotton gauze for surgical purposes. Chemists making researches believe that within a short time additional uses of cotton will be found; and yet only a few years ago about the only use of American cotton was in the manufacture of sheeting, etc.

Plant Something.
Have you planted anything?
Don't miss it if you haven't.
The seed you plant yourself means more to you.
Plant something high, like nasturtium or zinnia.
Morning glory rewards you, and so do marigold and gypsophila (baby's breath).
If you want vines, try flowering beans (they grow fast), sweet peas, ornamental guord Japanese hop vines.
The cypress, with its red and white flowers, and the cobaea, or cup and saucer, are good vines to plant, and if 'twere done, 'twere well 'twere done quickly! Go to it!

How Cloves Are Cured.
In the Spice Islands the cloves are sometimes cured by being smoked over a wood fire until they assume a deep brown color, when the further drying is accomplished by the sun. Occasionally the buds are scalded before being dried. If bright sunny days prevail artificial heat may be dispensed with and the buds sun-dried from first to last. The crop loses about sixty per cent. in drying.

ROUMAN HALT AIDS HUNGARY

Communist Government Seems to Be Stronger

As Result of the Allies' Course.

Vinna Cable—Reports from Budapest say that the position of the Hungarian Communist Government appears to have grown stronger in the last few days.

The halt of the Roumanian advance has encouraged the Communists who believe that the Roumanians undertook more than they were able to accomplish if their intention was to reach Budapest. (Official announcement has been made that the allied troops moving on Budapest were ordered late last week to halt their advance by the Peace Conference.) The Roumanians, however, have effected a junction with the Czech-Slovak and have cut off communication between Budapest and Russia by way of the Ukraine.

The peace negotiations at Paris are being watched closely by the Communist Government. The Workers and other newspapers in Budapest denounce the peace treaty as "capitalistic," aiming at the enslavement of "our noble German brothers."

Because there are no cloth factories in operation the Hungarian Government has ordered further requisitions of cloth, cotton, linen goods, and the bed and personal clothing of the men and women of the bourgeoisie for use in making white underwear for the Red Guard army. Women of the bourgeoisie are being forced to make over their own lingerie into shirts and other garments.

The Communist Government apparently working against time in the hope that the peasants of Roumania will revolt and erect a Communist Government.

Religious schools in Hungary have been secularized and theological seminaries are closed. Representations by the allies have saved the convents.

The Communist Government has made an announcement that it is proud of the fact that there is neither drunkenness nor begging in Hungary.

A Pill for Brain Workers—The man who works with his brains is more liable to derangement of the digestive system than the man who works with his hands, because the one calls upon his nervous energy while the other applies only his muscular strength. Brain fog, belching, irregularities of the stomach and liver, and the best remedy that can be used is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are specially compounded for such cases and all those who use them can certify to their superior power.

Barley Long Known to Man. Barley was originally a wild grass of western Asia. It is believed to be the most ancient cultivated vegetable food of mankind. Three varieties of the grain have been found in the prehistoric lake dwellings of Switzerland, dating back to the Stone Age.

Height of Ignorance.

A fond parent noticed his youngest, a boy, in very animated conference with a number of other boys and a young woman, and that evening inquired of the boy what all the excitement was about. "That was my teacher," said the boy, "and we were trying to explain the ball game to her. She couldn't understand a darned thing. I just don't understand how she ever got to be a school teacher."

As a vermicide there is no preparation that equals Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It has saved the lives of countless children.

Scenes like this are being enacted all over the Continent and the Canadian Trade Commission and the National War Garden Commission urge more home food raising.

Stunning New Wraps.

They are of a new silk called Paulette, which is kin to the fashionable tricotette.

Made into loose mantle-like coats or capes, these wraps have beautiful silks for lining, and are trimmed with collars and cuffs of squirrel or other fur.

One wrap had a collar of soft gray Angora—and it was lovely.

Other wraps are embroidered with velvety cheille, and finished with great chenille tassels.

Taupe, putty, Chinese blue and silver gray are some of the lovely colors in which these new wraps are to be found.

Almost a Miracle But Very Simple

Was the Cure of John New by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

His Troubles All Came from Sick Kidneys and He Treated Them With the Old Reliable Canadian Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hillside, Battleford, Sask., May 19.—(Special.)—With a speed that was almost miraculous, Mr. John New, a well-known farmer here, has been cured of kidney trouble from which he suffered for several years.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me," he says. "I wish to give them all the thanks."

Speaking further of his troubles and their sudden cure, Mr. New says: "I think I inherited my kidney disease from my parents, and I suffered off and on for several years. I had stiffness in the joints, cramps in the muscles, backache and neuralgia.

"I perspired freely on the slightest exertion, and my perspiration had an unpleasant odor. I was irritable, often dizzy and was depressed and low spirited. My skin was dry and had a harsh feeling, and I was often nervous.

"I took just one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me."

If your troubles come from the kidneys you will have some of the symptoms that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured in Mr. New's case. Ask your neighbor about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PROGRAMME OF COSSACK CHIEF

Denikine Communicates It to the Allies.

Fight Bolshevism and Restore Order.

Paris Cable—General Denikine, the head of the Cossack anti-Bolshevik Government in Southeastern Russia, has communicated his programme to representatives of the Allied powers. The principal points of the programme follow:

1. To continue the struggle against Bolshevism.
2. Restoration of law and order.
3. Reconstruction of a unified and indivisible Russia.
4. Convocation of a constituent assembly based upon universal suffrage.
5. Larger regional autonomy and the establishment of self-governing districts.
6. Civil and religious liberty.
7. Immediate agrarian reforms.
8. Adoption of measures tending to protect workers against exploitation by the capitalists and against Government abuses.

Miller's Worm Powders not only make the infantile system untenable for worms, but by their action on the stomach, liver and bowels they correct such troubles as lack of appetite, biliousness and other intestinal disorders that the worms create. Children thrive upon them and no matter what condition their worm-infested stomachs may be in, they will show improvement as soon as the treatment begins.

Worth Knowing.

Chamois is one of the few things which come out smooth and soft from washing if wrung directly from the soap suds without rinsing in clear water. The latter process tends to harden it.

One of the reasons why spinach is such a valuable food is that it is such an excellent butter carrier. City dwellers need more fats than most of them get, and butter is almost the best fat in the world. Oil is better, but it is too expensive for everyone to use.

Raisins for fruit cake are much improved by cooking. Let them cook slowly and then simmer until the skin is tender.

The old idea of putting oilcloth under the washstand cover is now adopted for doilies on highly polished tables.

A syrup made of lemon juice and sugar is delicious on sliced bananas for a luncheon dessert.

A simple dessert is plain boiled rice served with sugar generously mixed with ground cinnamon.

S. for help was unheard, and with considerable hard work they were able to extricate themselves from their perilous position, not much the worse for their experience.

The proposal is now being made to have community kitchens in Canada. We hate to knock any bright ideas, but still firmly believe that if six or eight women from one neighborhood are going to start to work together in the same kitchen, well, another league of nations will have to be formed.

If the reader wants to settle in a wide-awake community, all he has to do is to look at the local newspaper. A wide awake, well supported home newspaper is always associated with good schools, churches, active business and intelligent people. It never fails. No business man or pioneer in any community makes any better investment than in the support of a home newspaper.

WASTING OUR WEALTH

FACTS ABOUT DISAPPEARANCE OF FORESTS.

People of Canada Are "Mind to the Meaning of the Loss of Timber, and an Expert in Forestry Makes Some Plain Statements About the Situation—Food for Very Serious Thought.

A SEVERE indictment of the management of our forests, and especially of the attempts to safeguard them from fire, was made by Dr. C. D. Howe, Faculty of Forestry, University of Toronto, at the recent annual meeting of the Commission of Conservation. He showed that not only is the present supply of pine, spruce, and balsam diminishing rapidly, but that the methods of logging and the repeated ravages of fire are killing off the young trees. The result will be in a few years the end of an industry which is exceeded only by agriculture and manufacturing as a producer of wealth to the country.

People are aware in a general way of the enormous loss to timber caused annually by forest fires, but the most destructive effects of these fires are not generally recognized or appreciated even by those who have our forests in their keeping. It is the repeated fire which is the most vicious agent of destruction, for it kills the young trees which are to make the future forest, and it also kills the mother or seed trees, which might if allowed to live replace the young that are destroyed. He examined 80,000 acres of cut-over and burned-over pine lands in the central portion of old Ontario and found 110 young pine trees on the average acre of area burned over once; 14 pine trees per acre on areas burned over three times, and only three pine trees on the average acre of areas burned over four or more times. It will take several hundred years for nature to restock these areas with pine.

"This is not an exceptional case. Repeated forest fires are producing similar results on thousands of square miles throughout the Dominion. One-half of our commercial timber lands have been burned. Even if there never were another forest fire, one-half of our future supply of timber should come from these burned areas. Every fire decreases that possibility by destroying the young commercial trees. We have not only killed the commercial, revenue-bearing trees on one-half the timber-producing area in Canada, but our forest policy has been such that we have virtually decreed their children shall not live."

The original forest in the St. Maurice River Valley was dominated by white pine from 3 to 6 feet in diameter and from 100 to 150 feet high, towering 50 to 75 feet above the associated birch, maple, spruce, and balsam. Judging from the stumps left, the trees ran from five to 30 per acre, but to-day there is only an odd pine standing on some inaccessible bluff. The original giants have disappeared from the forest, and, worse still, no young pines are rising to take their place. In order to prosper the pine requires plenty of light overhead, but the openings made in the forest by the removal of the original trees were allowed to fill up with hardwoods, which overshadowed and stifled the young pine shoots.

It was further shown by Dr. Howe that both spruce and balsam were also in danger of extinction. Taking 97 acres of severely culled areas from which 26 spruce trees per acre had been removed, he found that the present number of spruce trees per acre was: Seedlings below half-inch, 422; half-inch to three inches, 28; four inches to seven inches, 19, and eight inches to eleven inches, 7. Although the total came to 477 new trees, it will be noted that the mortality increased very rapidly with the growth of these trees. The net result is that there will be only 7 spruce trees to take the place of the 26 per acre removed by logging operations. Taking the same severely-culled areas based on sample plots totaling 97 acres from which 32 balsam trees per acre had been removed, he found that the present number of balsam trees per acre was: seedlings below one-half inch, 2,477; half-inch to three inches inclusive, 58; four to seven inches, 27, and eight to eleven inches, 12. Apparently there would be over 2,500 balsam trees per acre to replace the 32 removed, but again the rate of mortality increases so rapidly with the growth of the trees that there will really be only 12 trees per acre where 32 had been taken away. Moreover, 7 out of the 12 will be so diseased as to be unfit for pulpwood, so that the net result will be only 5 pulpwood-bearing balsams where 32 were originally.

Dr. Howe states that the fundamental problem is how to guard the forests properly from fire; that in the last decade about 10,000,000 have been spent in protection, and yet that the forest has been so unsafe for trees through destruction by fire that there is apprehension of serious curtailment, perhaps exhaustion, of our timber supply. He declares that without adequate fire protection it is only a waste of time to discuss methods of forest conservation, and that when they are made reasonably safe from fire other measures are required to make them continually productive.

Tigers Like Water.

Tigers are extremely fond of bathing. In a zoo, if a tub be provided, they will eagerly make use of its facilities for ablution. They are first-rate swimmers, and in former days it was reckoned at Singapore that they "ate a Chinaman a night," swimming across from the mainland to get him.

Twenty Dollars a Day in Alaska.

Miners employed in the Alaskan mines receive twenty dollars per day the year round.

Katchutegus.

The lively controversy still rages in British Columbia as to whether Vancouver Island shall be renamed, and if so what the new name shall be. Inasmuch as the island was known to the Indians long before Captain George Vancouver sighted its mountain tops as Katchutegus, why not call it that? Kat-chu-teg-us, by the way, may be freely translated as meaning "the plain," and is just about as applicable to Vancouver Island as Maple Creek or Mountain View, Manitoba.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson VIII. May 25, 1919.
Jonah 3: 1-10.

Commentary.—I. Jonah's repentance and work (Jonah 3: 1-4). 1. The word of the Lord came unto Jonah.—We know little of this prophet aside from what is given us in his prophecy. He was the son of Amittai and his home was in the northern part of Israel. The second time—God in mercy gave Jonah a second call to carry the message to Nineveh. At the first call, instead of going the 600 miles north-east to Nineveh, he started westward to Tarshish, in Spain, a distance of 2,000 miles. His disastrous experience on that trip made him willing to obey the second call, although the very conditions that turned him aside the first time still prevailed. 2. Go unto Nineveh—His mission was to Nineveh, which was the great city of Assyria. This nation was hostile to Israel, and within a few decades carried Israel into captivity. That great city—the city must have had a population of more than a million, and Jonah was called to go and cry against it" (ch. 1: 2). Farrar calls it the London of the ancient world. The preaching that I had to do was given in the first, call that Jonah received, where the Lord said, "Their wickedness is come up before me" (ch. 1: 2). The city was a stronghold for heathenism, and the sins which accompanied their religious observances and resulted from them had come up before the Lord, who knew the kind of people the Ninevites needed and the kind that would prove effectual. 3. Of three days' journey—Counting twenty miles as a day's journey, the distance around Nineveh was sixty miles. This was surrounded by a wall one hundred feet high and broad enough at the top for three chariots to be driven abreast. "Within the vast space thus enclosed rose palaces and almost inconceivable size and grandeur, amidst gardens and grounds in which the highest art had created every beauty that could gratify pride or ravish the senses. One palace alone, disclosed in its ruins by the toll of the explorer, revealed twenty acres, huge gates of entrance, guarded by colossal human-headed bulls and gigantic lions, and seventy-one halls and chambers, adorned throughout, round all their sides, by great squares of alabaster covered with sculptures of the warlike deeds of the king of kings and varied scenes from civil or military life."—Gaillet. 4. Began to enter . . . a day's journey.—The thought seems to be that as he entered the city and proceeded on his way, he delivered the message which God had given him for the people. Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.—The cup of Nineveh's iniquity was almost full, and unless the people should repent there would be but forty days before the city would be destroyed. Taking this proclamation in connection with what took place later, we must conclude that there was an implied condition in the decreed destruction of the city. If the people did not turn away from their wickedness by hearty repentance, they would be destroyed.

II. Nineveh's repentance (Jonah 3: 6-10). 5. the people of Nineveh believed God.—It was a strange sight that met the eyes of the Ninevites, and a strange message that greeted their ears, as the foreign prophet with his peculiar phylactery and with his denunciatory words passed through-out their city, yet with the work of the Holy Spirit the message took effect and the people believed God. proclaimed a fast.—A sign of humiliation and repentance, put on sackcloth.—They covered themselves with a coarse cloth, made of goat's-hair, which was a symbol of sorrow and mourning. The repentance seems to have been immediate and general. 6. the King of Nineveh.—He placed himself upon a level with his lowest subject, and all humbled themselves because of their sins, sat in ashes.—He left his costly throne and took the lowest place, expressing his deep sorrow. 7. neither man nor beast.—The case was one of momentous interest and demanded the deepest humiliation. Kell says "It was the manifestation of the thought, that just as the animals which live with man are drawn into fellowship with his sin, so their sufferings might also help to appease the wrath of God." "Men and women, old and young, high and low, and even the cattle themselves, all kept such a fast as the total abstinence from food implies." 8. cry mightily unto God.—This shows the intensity of feeling that prevailed. There was a marvelous change from their sinful practices and idolatrous worship to prayer to Pilate's crime or the tragic death of the eighteen who were crushed by the falling power of Sileam. The teaching of Jesus here is not regarding the judgments of God upon the wicked, but regarding the necessity for repentance. Not only should the Galileans and the eighteen who were killed by the falling tower have repented, but the necessity is laid upon all to repent, otherwise destruction is certain. Repentance includes a thorough change of attitude toward sin, with a desire for deliverance from it. Acts 2: 37, 38. The people who heard Peter preach at Pentecost were deeply moved and asked the apostles what they should do. Peter's reply was, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost." John the Baptist came preaching repentance; Jesus came preaching repentance; and the apostles went forth with the same message.

QUESTIONS—Upon what mission was Jonah sent? What course did he take upon the first call? Where was Nineveh and how far from the land of Israel? How large a city was Nineveh? What message did Jesus deliver? What effect did his preaching have upon the people? What did God do with the city? What, in what does repentance consist? What are the fruits of repentance?

PRactical SURVEY.
Topic—The nature and fruits of repentance.

I. Repentance.
II. Its fruits.

1. Repentance.—Repentance holds its place as a cardinal doctrine of the Christian system and an experience inseparable from a true Christian life. Throughout the scriptures its place and importance are recognized. Under the ceremonial dispensation, in which material blessings were the prominent incentive and their withdrawal of punishment, repentance is an indispensable condition of material or moral restoration. In the later spiritual dispensation it is inseparable from Christian experience and privilege. John preached repentance, and Jesus throughout his ministry exhorted the same imperative demand and commanded that it be preached in his name. That it might become possible was the purpose of his exaltation (Acts 5: 31). It was the keynote of apostolic preaching, as it must continue of all true evangelism. Any preaching which modifies or nullifies this essential truth is radically and fatally defective. Repentance originates in a "godly sorrow," which breaks the heart for sin and from sin, and secures its character rather than its consequences. The apostle establishes a sharp distinction in moral value when he adds, "The sorrow of the world worketh death." Repent, though deepened to include the the true God, turn . . . from his evil way.—Prayer to be effectual must be accompanied by a turning away from all sin. 9. who can tell if God will turn.—The very fact that Jonah's message, "Yet forty days," showed a few days' delay in the execution of the sentence, gave them hope that if they should repent and turn away from their sins, the Lord would accordingly turn away his anger from them. 10. God saw their works.—He saw as a man can see. Man sees the outward signs of repentance, but God sees the condition of the heart. They brought forth "fruits meet for repentance," turning from their evil ways. God repented.—He changed his purpose in keeping with their changed attitude toward him.

III. Repentance and salvation (Luke 13: 1-5; Acts 2: 37-38). Jesus emphasizes the necessity of repentance as a condition of salvation in his reference to the Galileans and to those upon whom the tower of Sileam fell. The persons who told him about the cruel act of Pilate in putting the Galileans to death, may have believed that they were especially wicked, and retribution was visited upon them for their sins. This may have been the fact, but it is also a fact that by no means all the punishment for sin is visited upon the guilty in this life. We know nothing more than is given here about

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY'S WORK

DEPENDS UPON GOOD BLOOD TO NOURISH THE BODY

Weak People Need a Tonic, One Which Acts Directly Upon the Blood and That Does Not Weaken the Body by Useless Purging.

There are thousands of people throughout Canada who are without ambition or strength to do their day's work, and who are always tired out, have but little appetite and a poor digestion. They cannot get a refreshing night's sleep and are subject to headaches, backaches and nervousness because their blood is impure. To men and women in this condition, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give quick relief and permanent cure because of their direct action on the blood, which they build up to its normal strength. As the blood becomes rich and red it strengthens the muscles, tones up the nerves, makes the stomach capable of digesting food, and repairs the wastes caused by worry or work. In a word, the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills means restoration to perfect health.

BLOOD TURNED TO WATER.

Miss Jessie McLean, Trenton, N.H., says:—"I was so weak as it was possible for any one to be, and yet able to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went up stairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. Soon after beginning the use of the Pills I began to get stronger, and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to weak girls and I shall always warmly recommend them."

RHEUMATIC PAINS.

The sufferer from rheumatism who experiences with outward applications is only wasting valuable time and good money in depending upon such treatment the trouble still remains, and is at the time becoming more firmly rooted—harder to cure when the proper treatment is applied. Treat this disease through the blood and you will soon be rid of the pains and tortures. As a cure for rheumatism Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unequalled. They act directly on the impure, weak blood; they purify and strengthen it, and so root out the cause of rheumatism. Mr. D. Lewis, postmaster at Beeminc, N. B., says:—"I was attacked with rheumatism, which settled in my elbow, shoulder and knee joints, and at times caused me great suffering. The trouble was particularly severe last spring and I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the Pills for some time the rheumatic pains and stiffness in the joints disappeared and I have not had any return of the trouble."

A GOOD DIGESTION.

Mrs. W. H. Dale, Midland, Ont., says:—"I suffered for a long time from a severe form of indigestion, and had doctored so much without benefit that I had all but given up hope of getting better. Everything I ate caused me intense pain and some days I did not touch a thing but a cup of cold water, and even that distressed me. As a result I was very much run down, and slept so poorly that I dreaded night coming on. I was continually taking medicine, but was actually growing worse instead of better. Having often read the cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I finally decided to give them a trial. I have had great cause to bless this decision, for by the time I had used a couple of boxes there was no doubt the pills were helping me, and in less time than I had anticipated the pills had cured me, and I was again enjoying not only good digestion, but better health in every way than before."

ALWAYS FEELS FIT.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood, and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen every organ and every nerve, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, despondent, people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg County, N. S., says:—"I am a Provincial Land Surveyor, and am exposed the greater part of the year to very hard work travelling through the forests by day and camping out by night, and find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions, and on such occasions I take them regularly. The result is I am always fit. I never take cold, and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as a tonic and health builder, I am never without them and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people I meet."

SKIN TROUBLE CURED.

Mrs. W. Ritchie, Parkburg, Sask., says:—"Two years ago I was attacked with eczema on my hands. I tried almost everything that was advised, but as the trouble was growing worse I consulted a doctor and took his treatment for some time with no better results. By this time my hands were a mass of sores and I began to despair of finding a cure. A friend strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to do so. After using two boxes I could see an improvement and I got a further supply. I used altogether eight boxes, by which time every trace of the eczema had disappeared and there has been not a single symptom of the trouble since that time. I gladly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for troubles of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home, and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off illness. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

and asked only a servant's place, with bread. Confession accompanies repentance, as forsaking follows it. Both are conditions of moral restoration (Prov. 28: 13; 1 John 1: 9). Restoration, where necessary, is an inseparable result. Ceremonialism required the restoration of the thing wrongfully secured, and in some cases with multiplied value (Ezek. 32: 4). Zacharias opened his purse with his heart and promised a fourfold restoration of all excess collections, together with half his fortune for benevolences. The parables of the lost sheep and lost silver express divine solitude and rejoicing. When repentance is sincere, it awakens angelic interest and rejoicing and, accompanied by true faith, results in salvation. W.H.G.

moral element of remorse, does not constitute repentance. It means the entire and eternal renunciation of sin in desire and deed (Isa. 55: 7). It has primary regard to the law and its requirements. Though essential, it is neither meritorious nor expiatory. In itself it possesses no moral value, and is not the ground of forgiveness. It offers no atonement and renders no satisfaction. It may assure the future, but makes no provision for the past.

II. Its fruits.—The repentance always produces results. John demanded of the flocking multitudes that they "bring forth fruits meet for repentance," the rich by becoming unselfish, the publicans, honest in their collections and accounts and the soldiers by ceasing from violence, false accusations and malicious discontent. He warned them against expectations founded on magic. Nineveh repented at the preaching of Jonah, and king and peasant sat in sackcloth side by side. Threatened destruction was averted, and an unpromised pardon secured. The prodigal son repented when, humbled and hungry, he faced homeward, framing his confession as he went, demanding nothing.

"I call it a beautiful one," he trusted himself to say.

"Ah! you men are so easily deceived," said her ladyship. "The paint is an inch thick, and there is belladonna under her eyes."

Jack could not help smiling even in his bitterness of heart, for had he not seen that self-same face under its present circumstances, too, within a yard of his own nose?

And what a voice, so deceitful and affected; and yet there are some men who would call that poor, painted creature pretty. Jack, an idea has just struck me.

"What is it, Maud?" he asked, with a noble gentleness.

"That is the creature that has bewitched Beaumont."

Jack started, although he had expected it.

"Maud," he said, with a broken voice, "Heaven forgive you! I know you do not mean it, but you cut me to the heart with your cruel uncharity. That face is a good one, and I know it, let it have bewitched Beaumont or any other man. I—I am thirsty. Let me go and get something and I will return directly."

He left the box abruptly, and Lady Maud leaned back with her eyes closed.

She was suffering in her way, too, for every arrow she had shot wounded her in the shooting, seeing the pain it produced in his heart.

"It is for his good," she muttered. "For his good and mine. This will cure him—it is curing him, I know."

Jack did not come back till the closing of the last act, and then looked steadfastly away from his fair companion, who drew her cloak around her with one last shudder and begged him to take her out to the carriage.

"You had better wait until the crush is over," he said, quietly.

"Very well," she said.

"Have you found—what you came to find?" he asked, with a touch of bitterness.

"Ah, yes," she said. "Poor Beaumont! I am sure that painted girl who played the Fairy Queen was she. Poor fellow!"

Wash The Kidneys!

After Bad Colds or Influenza
Look to Kidneys and Bladder!

Owing to bad colds, over-eating or intemperance, or to the after effects of influenza—uric acid and toxins (poisons) are stored up in the body and cause backache, lumbago, rheumatic pains and stiff joints.

It is most essential that treatment be directed towards prompt casting out of the poisons from the body which cause these pains and aches. This means that the excretory organs—the bowels, skin and kidneys—should be excited to their best efforts. Every one should clean house—internally—and thus protect one's self from many germ diseases, by taking castor oil or a pleasant laxative such as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which are made of May-apple, aloes and jalap. Take these every other day. This will excite efficient bowel action. If you suffer from backache, irritation of the bladder and the kidneys, shown by the frequent calls to get out of bed at night, considerable sediment in the water, brick-dust deposit, perhaps headache in the morning, you should obtain at the drug store "Anurie" (anturic acid), first put up by Dr. Pierce.

To build up the strength and improve the blood, take an iron tonic such as "Ironie," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, to be had in tablets at drug stores, or some good herbal tonic such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made from wild roots and herbs without alcohol, and put up in tablets or liquid.

ing extended behind the scenes.

Anderson had kept his eyes on Mary and was getting anxious that his part of the plot should be carried to success.

The ingredients were ready, and in the most natural way possible he came rushing up to the greenroom.

"Miss Montague there?" he said.

"Yes," said Mary, coming out ready dressed for home.

"Oh! I'm sorry to disturb you, but a woman is waiting at the stage door who says she wants to see you."

"Me?" said Mary.

"Yes," said Anderson, averting his eyes from her surprised ones.

"I will come," said Mary, and she followed him to the stage door.

A woman stood there with a bundle in her arms.

"Oh, miss," said she, "forgive a poor creature for daring to trouble you, but the manager is so strict. Would ye mind holding the poor little innocent while I go in to speak to him? He won't allow no babies behind the scenes."

"I will hold her," said Mary; "but be quick, please." And with a smile she took the little thing and with a woman's divine love drew aside its voluminous wraps to peep at it.

"Dear little thing!" she murmured. "So cold a night, too!"

And she pressed it to her in the most natural way, unconscious that the sady penitent Tubbs, who had hovered about her, longing to beg her pardon, but not daring to do so ever since the quarrel in the greenroom, was hovering about her this instant.

The crush was over, and Jack took his Queen of Sheba downstairs.

"Where is the brougham?" said he.

"I do not see it."

"Oh, do not let us wait. It is around the corner," said Lady Maud, who of course had given her instructions. "It is a beautiful night! We will go around to it, please."

Jack, without a word, took her around and was opening the door of the carriage, which was very nearly opposite the stage entrance, when a sight met his eyes that made him start.

There in the doorway stood Mary Montague, the woman who had stolen all his heart, pressing a child to her bosom, and a man, he remembered him standing proudly by.

He turned pale and clutched the door.

Lady Maud, who had entered the carriage, caught his arm.

"Look, Jack!" said she, in a whisper, "there she is, the impudent thing."

The whisper was not so low but it reached Mary's ears.

She looked up and saw the pair, turned pale at the sight of them, and naturally fell back, and fled down the narrow passage.

This was enough for Jack, but not for Lady Maud.

She stopped him from getting into the carriage, and called to a man who had just emerged from the entrance.

He approached and lifted his hat; he was Anderson, the actor.

"My man," said Lady Maud, "can you tell me who that young person was who stood here just now?"

"With the baby?" said Anderson.

Lady Maud nodded.

"Miss Montague," said Anderson, without looking at Jack.

"And the—or—man?"

"Father of the child," said Anderson.

"Mrs. Montague, then?" said Lady Maud.

"No, ma'am," said the man, with a significant shrug.

Jack turned faint, and grasped the door.

Before he could speak, however, Lady Maud drew him in and the carriage rolled away.

CHAPTER IX.

A more miserable man than Jack Hamilton, as he sat in his elegant sitting-room on the morning after his and Lady Maud's visit to the Signet, could not be found.

He had not closed his eyes all night, three bottles of soda water standing at his elbow testified to that; he felt ill and weary from disappointment and grief. Now that he felt he ought to dismiss Mary Montague from his heart, he found, for the first time, how firmly she was rooted there. To pick her from him was like tugging at the roots of his own happiness.

"Poor girl! poor girl!" he muttered, tapping another bottle of soda water, and stirring the fire between the draughts. "It is poverty or something of that sort that has driven her to it. I'll never believe anything wrong of her, but seeing is believing; there is nothing to be said to ocular demonstration. I have been deceived, self-deceived, and there's an end of it."

But unfortunately for his peace of mind that was not the end of it.

He had a duty to go through.

He must go to Lady Maud and confess his wrong-doing, explain that it was not Beau but he who had been making himself ridiculous, and altogether make the amende honorable for his harsh speeches and general condemnation of her the night before.

It was a better task, but Jack was not one to shrink from duty, however unpalatable it might be, and accordingly got up, thrust his forehead into a basin of cold water to freshen himself, got into his greatcoat, and slowly marched downstairs; it was not until the door was open that he remembered his hat, and with a sign trudged upstairs for it, muttering:

"I'm very far gone, indeed, very far gone."

The park, notwithstanding the charms of the morning, looked dingy to him, and he fancied that the countenances of all he met wore a villainous expression.

Poor Jack! he forgot he was looking through green spectacles.

Lady Maud was up, and, attired in a beautiful morning robe, was sitting in the drawing-room hard at work—or presenting to be—upon an impossible house and surroundings in water colors.

She looked up, and shifted her paint brush from the right hand to the left to shake hands with him.

"Why, Jack," she said, "how ill you look! Have you been up all night?"

"No—that is, yes; no, not exactly, but I have had a bad headache."

She guessed at the cause, but pretending ignorance, arose with her stately grace and brought a bottle of eau-de-cologne from a cabinet.

"Give me your handkerchief," she said, and when he had produced it, she poured some of the spirit upon it. "Press it to your forehead," she continued, and as he seemed disinclined, she held it there herself for a moment. "Do you think of my sketch?" she asked, looking down at it.

"Well," he said, smiling sadly, "I should not like to live in the original without a very heavy thing in the accident company! That left wall is falling in rapidly."

"For shame!" she said. "I prided myself on the house, too. What do you think of the trees?"

"Admirable," he said. "Lifelike; that one we used to have in the Noah's Ark was nothing to these; there's a man, too, but I think the ark could carry off the palm there."

She laughed her well-bred laugh.

"You are incorrigible," she said. "There, I won't paint any more, you have made me dissatisfied with it. And what made you so dreadfully pale-looking? Did you drink too much claret last night after you got home, or was it a bad cigar? Poor Jack!"

"Maud," he said, walking to the fire, which she was poking, and leaning his strong arm upon the broad mantel. "I have come here this morning to tell you—"

She looked up at his sad eyes with a sympathetic glance. He caught it and looked down.

"I have had a bitter lesson, Maud," he said, "a very bitter one, and I am feeling the effects this morning. You remember—how should you forget, though?—telling me of Beaumont's infatuation for the girl we saw last night at the Signet?"

She nodded and drew the slightest shade nearer to him.

"Well," he said, "you were right on every point save one. She is unworthy of any man's love, least of all a gentleman's! She is—there, I cannot talk of her, for, Maud, it was not Beaumont who was caught by her pettiness and mock modesty, but I—"

"You!" she said, with admirably feigned astonishment.

"Ay," he said, bitterly. "And, Maud, let me tell you, I thought I really loved her. I—But do more of that, let it pass. As I said, she is unworthy of any man's love, and I, like other idiots, must suffer for my folly."

Lady Maud drew nearer, and as his voice dropped with the last words, she put out her white, soft hand and touched his arm.

"Poor Jack!" she breathed, in a thrilling voice of pity and something, still more tender. "I pity you, Jack, but I am so glad. It would have broken my heart if you—you had been ruined—lost and ruined. It would have broken my heart."

He looked up and met the gentle, impassioned regard of her beautiful eyes, and a sudden inspiration seized him.

"You would have been as sorry as that for me, Maud," he said, earnestly—"a stupid, worthless simp-tion? You would have been as sorry as that? Ah, Maud, you are too good to me; you are too good and beautiful. Maud—" His earnestness grew eager, for she had laid her hand upon his and the warmth of it was forcing him.

"Maud," he continued, "do you care enough for me to warrant me asking you to be my wife? We have always been together, we know each other by heart; you know also how stupid and weak-minded I am, and I know how good, how true, how beautiful you are. Maud, be my wife! I have loved you ever since we were children. Be my wife!"

With a little sob, that if not real was most splendidly feigned, her ladyship deposited her head upon his broad chest, and poor Jack, who had never deceived himself more than he was doing at this moment, pressed a kiss upon the elegantly braided topknot, and believed he was truly happy at last.

Then they sat down and talked. Lady Maud with a sweet conscious air, Jack with a remnant of sadness about him.

Lady Pacewell entered, and Jack, while Lady Maud glided from the room, communicated the glad tidings.

Her ladyship was delighted, and, of course, let loose her worldliness at the first sentence.

"My dear Jack, it's the very thing I have prayed for! With Maud's little income and your twenty thousand you will be so delightfully rich. My dear Jack, bless you! Oh, you have made me happy!"

Then Jack kissed her high-bred forehead and took his leave, feeling—well, rather more composed than happy perhaps.

He did not go straight home, but wandered about the park, musing. And so he was to marry his cousin Maud.

Beautiful Lady Maud was to be his wife.

Heigho! It was a wonderful world certainly, and things came about in the most remarkable manner, and thinking thus, he very improperly sipped, and made for his chambers. His servant met him at the door.

"Mr. Shallop is waiting upstairs, sir."

Jack ascended the stairs slowly, and found Mr. Shallop in his armchair, with a patient look upon his face, that said plainly:

"I've been waiting, waiting till I'm disgusted."

"Hello!" said Jack. "I'm sorry you have been kept, Shallop. I had no idea I should have been so long or I should have left word."

"No consequence," said Mr. Shallop. "I've lost time, but you'll find it in the bill, you know."

Jack laughed, but rather absently, and, pitching his hat and coat on the sofa, sank into the opposite chair, and rang the bell.

"I was obliged to wait," said Mr. Shallop, "for it's business, and important business, too."

"Not a word," said Jack, "I'll you have had some lunch."

Mr. Shallop smiled, and presently the valet brought up nicely arranged lunch.

Then the two gentlemen drew up and fell to, Jack dropping off into the chair again after a few mouthfuls, but Mr. Shallop, like a wise man, enjoying the good things set before him and eating leisurely, relating scraps of gossip for Jack's amusement meanwhile.

"Do you mind smoke while you are eating?" said Jack.

"I've finished long ago," said Mr. Shallop, taking a cigar himself and removing to the armchair with wine-glass in hand. "It is superb hook, magnificent."

Jack nodded.

"We'll have another bottle up. Williams, a light for Mr. Shallop."

The valet brought the fresh bottle of hook, superintended the lighting of Mr. Shallop's cigar and then withdrew.

Then, Mr. Shallop, with a curious glance at his client, cleared his throat, and said:

"Now to business, I suppose."

"Ay, cut away," said Jack, careless-

Strength Will Return To Weak People Using This Treatment

You are discouraged. You feel old and worn. You are sick, but not aware of the fact. You can drag yourself around—but work is impossible. With your stomach crying out for assistance and the nerves an edge why not try Ferrazone?—it will surely do you good.

Ferrazone is a wonderful combination of vegetable extracts, fortified by excellent tonics for the nerves and stomach.

When you feel dejected, Ferrazone cheers you up. When languor and oppression weigh you down, Ferrazone staves you up. When sleep is impossible Ferrazone calms the nerves and gives you rest. For bounding health, good looks, good spirits, nothing equals Ferrazone; makes the weak strong and the sick well. Good for men, women and children; try Ferrazone, it can work wonders, as it has for Mrs. Mary Meoing, of Harbor Bouche, N. S., who writes:

"Ferrazone built me up. Before using it I scarcely knew what good health meant. I was just as miserable and weak as any woman could be. Tired from morning to night, bothered by trifles, unceasingly nervous. The first box of Ferrazone improved my blood, gave me appetite. In a short time I was like a new person. Now I rejoice in abundant good health."

Try Ferrazone. It will make an unexpected improvement in your looks, your feeling, your health.

Whether anemic, nervous or suffering from secret disorders—if you want cure, use Ferrazone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers or direct from The Cattarhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.
