Poetry.

John Jenkins' Sermon.

The minister said last night, says he, "Don't be afraid of giving; if your life isn't worth anything to other folks, why, what's the use of livin'?"

And the minister he went on to say, "There's various kinds of cheating, and religion's as good for every day as it is to bring to meetin'."

And when he spoke of fashion, and a woman's mill' passion, and a woman's mill' passion, and a woman's mill' passion.

They instinctively shudder at the voice of blasphemy.

NOT BLOOD AND COLD BLOOD. The Jews used to curse when angry, or in trouble, therefore when the apostle James gives them the exhortation, "Above all things, swear not."

THE ENGLISH LESS PROFANE. Of all the languages where the English language is spoken, this is the worst for universal profanity. I remember reading a statement by Vice President Wilson, that during some month spent in England, he severely heard a profane word.

LONDON HACKNEY. I heard in all my stay in England only one profane word. This includes four weeks spent in London amongst all classes of people. I saw long lines of backs and shoulders, especially, stopped by some street blockade, but nobody swore about it.

THE WORST OF ALL. I ought to add, however, that while I was in London, I was in the Holy City, the crew of a man-of-war, (British), I was told, pitched their tents near by; and morning and evening the officers cursed the men and the men cursed the officers.

WORSE THAN CAPT. JACK. We are in truth the worst swearers in Christendom. We are lovelier, in this respect, than the Modoc Indians, who never speak the name of the Great Spirit but with reverence.

ADVANTAGES OF SWEARING. The Lord brings some good out of almost every form of evil, and does not permit all this infinite amount of cursing to take place without using it, to some extent, to a good purpose.

and his Saviour, the less likely he is to be saved.

It should be remembered that every curse is a bad prayer, a wish that the greatest possible evil may overtake the person who is cursed. It is the most surprising thing in the world that men will submit to be so cursed and not take offence.

Dress of our Extremities. During the damp and cold season, deficient dress of the feet and legs is a fruitful source of disease. The head, throat, and liver are perhaps the most frequent sufferers. The legs and feet are from the central part of the body.

AVOID IMITATIONS OF SWEARING. Many of us use language that is almost profane and leads to worse. The Saviour forbade any explicit, in addition to simple Yes and No; saying that "whatsoever is more than this cometh of evil."

Why Men Need Wives. What does a man need a wife for? It is not merely to sweep the house and make the beds, and darn the socks, and cook the meals, chiefly that a man wants a wife.

REBUKE SWEARERS. All good citizens ought to express disapprobation in some way, whenever they hear profane language. There are many ways. Sidney Smith, once doing some business with a man who cursed a great deal, and at length quite suggested, "To save my soul, let us assume that all mankind are damned, and proceed with our business."

INFERUS THE SWEARER. The habit is harmful to man, as well as insulting to God. Nothing hardens the conscience and deadens the religious susceptibility more than the practice of taking God's name in vain.

"Don't Swear," at the depot, the person who handed them to me remarked, "May the Lord give you grace to distribute them!"

will put her lips to his ear and whisper words of counsel, and her hand to his heart and impart new inspirations. All through life—through storm and through sunshine, conflict and victory, through adverse and favoring winds—man needs a woman's love; the heart yearns for it.

Our Roving Correspondent. St. Petersburg, Sept. 16, 1873. A description of the palace has been purposely deferred. Now, how much space is to be allowed for an account of the residence of the Emperor of all the Russias? If you find this too long, "boil it down."

The grand staircase has a very familiar appearance, although I never saw anything at all to compare with it. The steps, in three flights, are of marble. The gallery runs around the top, adorned with 20 monoliths of grey granite.

There are quite a number of rooms, filled with sculpture. We could not devote much time to this, although many of the statues and busts were brought here at great expense and are by the best and modern artists.

"Don't Swear."

From a Sermon by Rev. A. L. Peck.

THE NATIONAL SIN. Profanity is the American vice. No even drunkenness is so common, for all drunken people and many who are sober swear.

Groups of little boys at play follow the example of older people, and curse one another with great volubility. Stop and listen, and you will hear the boys of the high school swearing on the Common, as they play ball.

There is comparatively little profanity among them. I do not know why. If bad temper, or vexation, be a pretext for swearing, women have as much occasion for oaths as men. They have quite as much to provoke them, and there is as good reason for cursing in the kitchen and nursery as in the shop and field.

WOMEN AND GIRLS DO NOT SWEAR.

Mr. Dorror. As many of our readers may not understand the cause of the arrest of Mr. Douglas, referred to in his letter recently published in your columns...

In 1871, about the time I had completed the repairs on the stone in question, he came to me and said he was going to have it insured and asked me if I with John Roach, would sign a certificate of its valuation at $1200.

I learned that I was blamed for placing too high a value—$1500—on it. After some time had elapsed, I wrote to Mr. Hutt, the agent at Halifax, for a copy of the certificate, which was sent to me...

More than usual preparation is being made here for intellectual and musical entertainments during the coming winter. There are arrangements made for readings, lectures and concerts...

Wit and Humor.

Putting up a stove-pipe in Danbury is politely termed "attending a black crook machine."

"On week days you buy your music by the sheet; on Sundays you can buy it by the choir for nothing."

"A man, who is enlaged as an 'energetic citizen,' was recently run over by a funeral in Providence, R. I."

"Why," asked a governess of her little charge, "do we pay God to give us our daily bread? Why don't we ask for four days, or five days, or a week?"

"Fred," said a young man, walking up State street in Chicago the other day, after listening to his wonderful story, "do you know why you are like a harp struck by lightning?"

"An old lady, long famed for sour looks and cross words, was observed to have suddenly become very amiable."
