

GOVERNMENT BUYS CATARACT POWER.

Three-Year Contract for Asylum Supply And Hydro Scheme Supporters Are Wondering City-May Get Lights at $50 Each.

An announcement this morning to the effect that the Ontario Government has closed a three-year contract with the Cataract Power Company to supply power to the Hamilton Asylum caused considerable surprise among the aldermen, in view of the fact that it was understood that if the city took Hydro-Electric power it was to have the Asylum contract. To say the least, this move on the Government's part is taken as significant that there is no intention to build the western transmission lines for two or three years. In some quarters it is taken as an indication that the Government intends dropping its scheme as soon as the elections are over.

That the City Council will sign a contract with the Cataract Power Company along the lines of the proposition made last night, was the consensus of opinion in municipal circles to-day. A majority of the aldermen are understood to be prepared to close with the company if it will give the city a 20-year contract for are lights at $50 per lamp. Although General Manager Hawkins declared during the conference that the company did not want to touch the lighting business at less than $80 per lamp, it is understood that in discussing the matter with some of the aldermen after the meeting an intimation was given that the company might grant this concession. The aldermen, with one or two exceptions, all seem very favorably impressed with the new proposition. "It is a very good offer," said Chairman Sweeney, of the Board of Works, this morning. "It certainly won't over some of the Hydro-Electric supporters. The offer was not made any too soon, for there was a proposition on foot to have a resolution passed that would commit the Council more or less to Hydro power at the same Council meeting. The Cataract move last night will undoubtedly lead this off. Chairman Sweeney will call a meeting of the Power Committee next week to take the matter up."

Mayor Stewart and City Solicitor Waddell are quite satisfied that the city has the upper hand in the matter of annexing that portion of Barton township on the mountain top, the residents of which are making application to come into Hamilton. This view, he thinks, was upheld by the ruling majority of the Council Board yesterday. The Council on Monday night will pass a resolution favoring taking in the section. If, however, it is discovered after the resolution is passed that the terms of the township people are not satisfactory, the resolution will be immediately rescinded and the city is said to have the Board's assurance that no order will be made in this event.

ROSELLE KNOT

Presented With Illuminated Address by Belleville Canadian Club.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Belleville, Ont., May 7.—A pleasing event occurred here last night. After the second act of "Alice Sit by the Fire" Col. Pantou, Secretary of the Canadian Club, stepped on the stage and presented Miss Roselle Knot with a beautiful illuminated address from the club, complimenting her upon being chosen Canada's representative actress and her company selected to appear before the Prince of Wales and officers of the British squadron at Quebec centenary, also wishing her Godspeed upon the forthcoming tour of Australia and other British colonies. The event was a complete surprise to Miss Knot.

BABIES' DAY.

Eighty of Them at Barton Street Church.

Notwithstanding the heavy down-pour of rain yesterday afternoon some 80 babies found their way to the semi-annual baby rally held in Barton Street Methodist Church under the auspices of the cradle roll department of the W. M. S. As a result of the vigorous effort of Mrs. W. Alport, superintendent of the department, there are now some 200 babies on the cradle roll of the church. Most of these would have been present yesterday had the weather permitted. There was an excellent programme consisting of songs, recitations and dialogues by the juniors. The pastor of the church acted as chairman. Beautiful bouquets were given to the mothers for their babies in memory of the day. Mrs. Alport was made a life member of the W. M. S. A feature of the day was the offering of several babies by the pastor, Rev. H. G. Livingston. At the close of the programme refreshments were served and an hour spent in social intercourse.

The Eating of It.

That proves the quality and deliciousness of our pea-fed bacon and ham. It's not the ordinary factory cured. It's selected, cured from young hogs, that are specially fed, then cured in a way that produces the most delicious bacon and ham you ever tasted. It costs a little more than the ordinary kinds, but it's worth it.—Bain & Adams, 89, 91 King Street East.

BARTON HAS NO STANDING

In Application of Mountaineers For Annexation.

This Is Decision of Ontario Railway Board. No Action Until City Council Passes Resolution.

Toronto, May 6.—In order to give the municipal council of Hamilton an opportunity to pass a resolution in respect of the annexation of a portion of the Township of Barton to the city, the hearing of the argument on the application to that effect was adjourned by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, this afternoon. It was held by Mr. Jas. Leitch, C. C., the chairman, that such a resolution was necessary before the board could act. He agreed with City Solicitor Waddell that the application coming from the residents on the mountain could not be considered a contravention of the section of the proclamation of 1903 binding Hamilton to seek no further additions of territory from Barton Township within ten years. Mr. Wm. Bell represented the petitioners. For the city, Mr. Waddell, accompanied by Mayor Stewart, was present, and for the township Mr. W. A. H. Duff, Reeve Gage and Councillors Hill and Gallagher were in attendance. On behalf of the petitioners, Mr. Bell defined the district which it was desired to add to Hamilton. He presented a petition signed by the residents, and pointed out that facilities were required to supply water to the district. If the territory were added to the city, debentures might be issued for the construction of waterworks. City Solicitor Waddell said that the

HOLOCAUST IN NEW YORK.

Four Persons Killed and Twelve Hurt in Tenement Fire.

Fire Escapes Choked—Baby Roasted Alive—Die in Their Sleep.

New York, May 7.—Four persons were killed and 12 injured early to-day in a fire, believed to be of incendiary origin. The fire practically destroyed the five-story tenement house at No. 101 Orchard street. This building is within a stone's throw of Delancy and all of the streets where 26 persons were burned to death in a tenement house fire three years ago.

The dead are: Eva Berg, 53 years old; Samuel Sach, 10 years old; Hattie Kopleman, 2 years old, and an unidentified man.

The fire was first seen by a policeman, who turned into Orchard street when the flames were shooting from windows in the lower part of the house. His call for help brought several other officers to his assistance, and the fire escapes were choked with frightened tenants. The policemen carried several children to the ground before the firemen arrived. By that time, men, women and children were packed so closely on the fire escapes that no one could get down. While persons in the building who had been unable to get out because all the windows leading to the fire escapes were crowded, struggled for exit on one side, the firemen on extension ladders labored in the other. One by one women and children were dragged from the overloaded platforms by firemen and carried down the extension ladders to safety. More than a hundred persons were so rescued.

Little Hattie Kopleman lost her life, and her mother narrowly missed the same fate while attempting to escape by means of the rope. Mrs. Kopleman had gone out on a fire escape, intending to make her way to the roof, as the flames were sweeping around the lower part of the iron ladder. She had the child in her arms, when she slipped through the window to the platform. A mistle caused her to fall, and as she struck the side of the platform, Hattie fell from her arms and rolled through the opening in the platform to the floor below, which was red hot. There the child was burned to death before any one could reach her. Mrs. Kopleman rolled across the opening, but saved herself from falling through. Mrs. Eva Berg and the Sach boy were burned to death in their rooms, apparently having been overcome by smoke while asleep.

DIRTY SCHOOLS.

Provincial Board of Health After St. Catharines.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, May 7.—Dr. Charles Hodggett, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, who inspected the public schools a couple of weeks ago, has written Mayor Campbell condemning in very strong language the sanitary arrangements of the schools. He found, he says, dirty floors in some of the rooms, dirty sinks in others, had ventilation generally and poor lighting. Dr. Hodggett also makes some recommendations by which matters complained of may be remedied.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS. Are you working for Mac? Then there is the homely house fly. Is the Board of Health to wage war against the tribe? Whitney is a poor shot. Missed the first try. If the cells were properly sandpapered they wouldn't be so bad. The Charlie Peebles weather was a day late. That was all. I tell you the people are terribly tired reading about those fakes. No wonder the Times is in demand. Everybody says that Mr. Wardrope is a nice man. Perhaps the Canadian Club will invite Mr. Barnard to its next function. Ward meetings to-night. Go up and see what you can do to help. Ham Regan thinks the temperance people are unreasonable. They think Ham is trying to crawl out of it. Now give the painters a job and brighten up your surroundings. If Whitney says he will promise Hamilton nothing in regard to a Technical College, what becomes of the Spectator's statement that Hamilton was assured that it would get the College? It was too bad that the boys would not listen to John Milne's speech at the Savoy. John's speeches are machine made. Whitney opposed the Succession Duties Act and he opposed the building of the Temiskaming Railway, and now he boasts about the revenue he received from them. He has Mr. Ross to thank for both. Mr. Hendrie has still Mr. New's gravel pit to depend upon to carry him through the campaign. Let us have a decent campaign. Either Mr. Wardrope or Mr. McClemont could have made a better speech than did Premier Whitney. The merchants would like a little seasonal weather. Don't walk on the fresh young grass. Come around to some of the Liberal meetings and hear speeches that are speeches. Now I ask you as a favor to go out and work for Mr. Wardrope and Mr. McClemont. The other fellows are busy. Don't be beat. Whitney had nothing to say about the Normal College deal. It was indefensible. Whitney raised the license fees and now boasts of what he gave back. But he took more than he gave. When the Dundas cars pass up James street south the residents get such a shaking that it feels just as if there were an earthquake, and broken plaster comes tumbling down ever and anon, as the story book says. This is a fact. When the lantern man was throwing pictures of Whitney and other notorious or celebrated characters on the screen at the Savoy on Whitney night, the picture of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was flashed before the audience, and Wilfrid's picture got as much applause as did all the others put together. Is everybody happy?

THREE SHOT IN FAMILY FEUD.

Trouble Began Over Destruction of Blockade Whiskey Distillery.

Men Who Went to Have Revenge Shot From Ambush.

Danville, Va., May 7.—As a result of a bitter family feud, which has caused several previous difficulties of a more or less serious nature, three men were shot to death from ambush near Phillipsburg, Va., a town some distance from here.

The men killed were: Samuel Shelton, aged 25; Charles Dodson, aged 35; James Holly, aged 19.

The following were arrested on the charge of having committed the murders, and released on bail, for a preliminary hearing to-day: Samuel and Grover Massey, brothers, and Hereford and Thomas Spencer, brothers. The feud existing between the Shelton and Dodson families on one side and the Massey and Spencer families on the other was brought to a focus several days ago when some unknown parties set up and destroyed a blockade whiskey distillery operated by Samuel Shelton.

Shelton and his friends accused Wm. Massey of the deed and started out yesterday morning with the avowed intention of destroying a blockade distillery alleged to have been operated by Massey. Half a dozen men were in the party and all were heavily armed. It is said that before they arrived at their destination, and while on the plantation of Hereford Spencer, the Spencers and Masseys being warned, concealed themselves behind a cluster of bushes on the road and opened fire, with repeating rifles. Over seventy-five shots were fired in rapid succession, the three mentioned above being killed while their companions fled. Over twenty bullets were extracted from the body of one of the victims. The scene of the killing is in the heart of a neighborhood infested with illicit distilleries and near the place where a woman was shot to death about a year ago by a band of moonshiners because she had informed on them.

IS ENGAGED UNTIL MAY 20

But Leader MacKay Hopes to Come to Hamilton.

Registration Court May 18, 19, 22 and 23.

Liberals Are Confident in Surrounding Counties.

Nothing has yet been settled about the proposed visit of Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Liberal leader, to this city. He has engagements covering every night for the next two weeks, so that it will be impossible for him to come until after the 20th of May. He is desirous of speaking here, however, and the Liberal Association is just as anxious to secure him.

Judge Snider announced this morning that he had received word from the Government to the effect that he had been appointed Chairman of the Registration Court, which will convene in this city shortly. He intimated he expected to arrive here on Monday of next week, and if it did come then, he would call the court, consisting of Judge Snider, Chairman; Judge Monck, Magistrate Jelfs and T. H. A. Begus County Court Clerk, for its first session on the following Monday, April 18th. According to statute, the court must sit four days, and the last sitting must be on a Saturday. The court has had an informal meeting already and it has been decided to hold the sittings on the Monday and Tuesday of the week following the arrival of the writ. The Government has done away with the supplementary registration, and all absentees must be present on the days the court sits, or

THE PRIVATE GRAVEYARD.

Latest Revelations Regarding the Laporte Murder Factory.

Matrimonial Advertisement Which Lured Men to Their Doom.

Laporte, Ind., May 7.—The grizzly story told yesterday of the private graveyard at the farm of Mrs. Bella Guinness, a mile north of Laporte, is still in its earliest chapter. To-day the estimates of the number of persons murdered at the place through the lure of a matrimonial bureau run all the way from 12 to 20. The exhumation yesterday of four dismembered bodies wrapped in burlap brings the total of victims who have been buried to nine. Including the bodies supposed to be those of Mrs. Guinness and her three children discovered after the fire which burned the farm house on April 28, the total of deaths to be investigated and accounted for is 13.

There was a scant doubt that Sheriff Snitzer to-day would discover evidence of murder in two more suspected graves as yet unopened. All suspicious parts of the premises are to be dug up with especial attention to the "soft" spots beneath rubbish heaps, which so far invariably have been found to conceal bodies.

Ray Lamphere, who is in jail here, still asserts his innocent of the murder. Attorney Smith, however, says he has positive proof that Lamphere had guilty knowledge of the Guinness murders if he had not indeed participated in them. The prosecutor is in possession of letters, written in Norwegian, which he is carefully guarding. These letters, written to Andrew Helegisch by Mrs. Guinness, contain references which indicate Lamphere's guilt. That he killed Mrs. Guinness and her children and set fire to the house in order to prevent any revelation that might involve him is the theory of the prosecution.

In his cell Lamphere was asked concerning a secret room in the Guinness country mansion to which no one was ever admitted except Mrs. Guinness herself. She had the key and kept the door locked constantly. In the night hours no one in the household was ever near that room. That the authorities believe was the chamber of horrors whose walls must have been spattered with the blood of the ill-fated victims of the woman's greed for gold and passion for "bigamy" "I never was in that room," said Lamphere. "I knew that there was a room in the house that was always kept locked and there was also a room in the Three Men Now in the Running For South Wellington.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Guelph, May 7.—Three candidates, including the Socialist, are now in the running for South Wellington, and the prospects are that there may be still another in the field to represent the Independent Labor party. A meeting was held last night, and such a course favored. Three names were mentioned, and of these two spoke favorably of running. Another meeting will be held later in the week, at which one of these men will probably be selected.

Memphis, Tenn., May 7.—A special from Texarkana, Ark., says: Immediately following his preliminary trial at Naples, Texas, to-day on a charge of assault to murder and rob, John Williams, a negro, was taken in charge by a mob and hanged to a tree near the depot. Williams was charged with assaulting a white man at this place about a month ago, and was recently captured in Pensacola, Florida.

BRIBERY ALLEGED.

Relative of "Uncle Joe" Cannon Arrested in Hamilton

Says He Will Fight Against Extradition.

A sensation was sprung here this morning when Nelson Cannon, formerly of Columbus, Ohio, was arrested on a charge of bribing the city engineer of Columbus over a year ago. Cannon's grandfather and "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Republican candidate for Roosevelt's job, are cousins. The prisoner in custody here is a good looking young man, well educated and takes things coolly.

For over a year the police all over the States and Canada have been hunting for Cannon, whom they want to place behind bars, where the city engineer he is alleged to have bribed, is at present. Cannon was closely chased by two officials from Columbus, a detective and Deputy Sheriff Phelan. This morning the detective decided to return to Columbus as there was business there which needed his attention. He went to the H. & B. Station and with him went Phelan. The detective boarded a train and went out via the Buffalo route. Phelan walked down James street then, and when he was about half way to the corner of King and James streets he spotted a man whom he immediately decided was the one he wanted. He was talking with two insurance men and Phelan asked Constables Wm. McLean and Jim Harris to take him in charge. He was taken to the City Hall and Inspector McMahon and the deputy sheriff, started to look up his description. The man they had did not answer very closely the description of Cannon, but when a photo of him was reached he was spotted at once. Inspector McMahon then started to question him, and after talking with him for some time Cannon admitted his identity. He was the man wanted all right, and that he had pleaded guilty before the Grand Jury in the States to five charges of bribery and jumped his bail while awaiting trial but "they can't do anything to me," he told the inspector confidently.

Cannon has had a great time for the 14 or 15 months he has been in Canada. He landed in Grimsby when he first struck King Edward's land and put up at the "Village Inn." He soon became friendly with the people in that neighborhood, and Mrs. Cannon and their only child, a young girl, were his closest friends. He was in the habit of going boating with the best citizens in town. One of the young men from Grimsby who met him and went boating with him occasionally is connected with a well-known insurance company here, and decided to get Cannon a job. Just three weeks ago his name was rejected at headquarters, as the Cleveland Asphalt Paving Co., which he gave as a reference, refused to say anything about Cannon, either god or bad. Cannon then found out that the police were after him and started out to jump from place to place in an effort to lose them. His wife's sister lives in Aylmer, and on one of his jumps he landed there just a week ago last Monday. The Chief of police there remembered his face, but he could not be held, and was allowed to go. What he did next he did not properly issued warrant against him. All trace of him was lost, till two days ago, when he turned up in Toronto. There a detective recognized him, and went to Judge Winchester to get a warrant for him. When the detective got back armed with the warrant and with visions of reward ahead of him, Uncle Joe's relative had disappeared. He had been here two days when the police were notified by Phelan and his arrest resulted to-day.

The prisoner announced that he would fight extradition.

The story of the offence he is arrested for, as told by the local police, is that the corporation of the city of Columbus advertised for tenders for asphalt road supplies. There were a great many tenders, and the rivalry was keen. Cannon was the representative of the Cleveland company, and he is alleged to have bribed the City Engineer to report in favor of his company's offer.

ARRESTED WITNESS.

Police Found More Tools Buried At His Home.

After hearing the evidence of Edward Taylor in the police court this morning the police decided they were in the wrong in charging him with the theft of a number of tools from T. Laing, and that his story that White stole the tools was right. White, who was a witness against Taylor, was locked up, and after being in the cell for some time admitted that he stole the tools, and that there were a number of tools buried under his house. The police found the tools buried where he had told them. White will come up in the morning, charged with theft.

Six Per Cent. on Increased Earnings,

Company Doing Repairs and Snow Cleaning.

There is still a prospect of the Street Railway Company and the city reaching an understanding by which an entire new system and extensions will be built. Negotiations which were broken off by the Conference Committee when it rejected the last proposition have been resumed, and the indications are that the new offer which the company promised to make to-day will be sent to the ratepayers for their verdict. Following the conference with the council on the power question last night, Hon. J. M. Gibson announced the company was prepared to continue negotiations. It will undertake, he says, to build an entire new system, with extensions, and to purchase new cars if the city will guarantee a bond issue of $500,000, and only collect 6 per cent. on increased earnings over $316,000. The company will continue to look after the snow cleaning and repairs, something that it asked the city to take over in the last offer. An offer in writing to that effect will be made to-day.

Nearly all the members of the Conference Committee were present last night and with one exception appeared to be favorable to submitting the company's new offer to the ratepayers. Chairman Sweeney said to-day that another meeting of the Conference Committee would not be held to discuss the new offer, but it will be brought up in the council. He thinks the aldermen will sanction it going to the people, and at the same time submit a by-law for permanent roads, calling for an expenditure of about $250,000.

TIME EXTENDED.

Manitoulin & North Shore Railway Co. Got Another Year.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, May 7.—The Commons Railway Committee again considered the bill extending by one year the time given by the Manitoulin & North Shore Railway Company to begin construction of road at the Manitoulin Island. A deputation from the island appeared before the committee to protest against any further extension of time to the company unless they agreed to spend at least $25,000 in actual work of construction on the section between Sudbury and Little Current before July 15th, and are then prepared to vigorously prosecute the building of the road. Mr. T. Reid, for the company, declared that, failing the success of the new arrangements being made to get capital to begin the construction by Oct. 1st next, the company would agree to sell out the charter and all subsidiary rights at the direction of the Minister of Railways. There was a long discussion, but Mr. Dument, M.P., who fought vigorously against any unqualified extension of time, succeeded in getting an amendment in the bill in accordance with the views of the deputation and the measure passed without further trouble.

That some of the players in the "Red Mill" company, who played at the Grand here last night at followers of Isaak Walton was evident from what happened to them yesterday afternoon. Arriving here the party put up at the hotel and early in the afternoon three of the ladies decided to go fishing after visiting several dispensaries on the way to the foot of MacNab street, they rented a boat and fishing outfit and launched out. After waiting in a vain endeavor to get even a little nibble, the party rolled up their lines and sat down to give vent to their feelings and opinions of Hamilton generally. The rain which had been holding off for some time came down heavily and the party got a fairly good drenching. This did not damp their ardor, however, for after a lengthy argument it was unanimously decided that all hands go in for a swim. They went in without going through the formality of removing their clothes. The cool water soon made them scurry for the hotel again.

FATED TO LOVE HER

"But how did I get here, Cissy?" "James lifted you up, dear, like a feather, and carried you out of church, and Olivia followed and everybody stared, and Mr. What's-his-name, the church warden, looked spasmodic, and made a dash at his pew door, but thought better of it, and returned to his singing, and the clerk rushed into the vestry and brought forth a decanter, and flew after you, and Jones, the schoolmaster, flew after him. And the school children began to behave themselves 'most dreadfully' of which I was glad, for it enabled me to relieve my mind by frowning and shaking my forefingers. Then back came Jones, and cuffed Walter Primmins, and shook Sally Turner, and struck Jim Giles into the middle of the aisle. And then the clerk came back and, seeing anxiety depicted on my countenance, paused at the pew door and whispered consolingly that the young lady was very bad, indeed, and had been taken to the vicarage. Whereupon I began to think of going to the vicarage myself, when, suddenly, the door opened and behold James and Olivia! James looking as well as could be expected, and Olivia considerably better than the same. Which reassured me. And now, are you really all right, my darling? Seriously, you had no business at church. How did you and Mrs. Edgecombe get on together? Were you congratulated?"

me—I must tell you just one thing more. "Make haste, then; get it over." "James, you may think it silly, but one of the chief reasons why I fear I love you too well is that the bare idea of death is so terrible to me. Now, I ought— "Gabrielle, Gabrielle, I can't stand this." "Only let me finish. I ought to be able to think of it calmly, even happily; because, I thought it would be leaving you, it would be going to God. But, James, I cannot think of it so, and that grieves me." "If you could that would grieve me, I fancy. Well; you have unburdened your mind, so let us drop the subject. You are a great deal too scrupulous, as you will acknowledge when your health comes back. Now, should you like to hear those lines from George Herbert?" Gabrielle gladly assented. He opened the quaint old book, and read until peace, fuller than before, returned to her, and tranquility to himself. CHAPTER XXXI. "Godfrey," said Mr. Hawkins, entering the study where Charlie sat poring, sorely puzzled, over the "Ecclesiastical" obituary. "Godfrey, how are you related to that Miss Wynne who lives with the Gordons?" "Charley unclasped two ink hands from a somewhat rough head of hair and looked up. "We are not related—only friends," he answered. "What of her?" "She is just engaged—so Edgecombe tells me—to young Gordon. Settled on Saturday, it seems."

Lingerie Dresses. The lingerie dresses are all single-piece garments, and have a waist line of narrow embroidery or insertion. Those of linen or cloth are given a stitched or braided waist band. They all button in the back. Unless all signs fall, these "jumper" dresses will be the favorite forms for the summer. They are made with fancy waists, attached to the skirt by a finished belt. The waist portion, which is designed to be worn over a lingerie blouse, is quite likely to consist of stitched hands set into a round yoke band. Bricelles or sleeve caps or Ottoman armholes are added, through which or below which the lingerie sleeves are seen.—Harper's Bazar. "No, we'll run running. You ought to do it; you're a girl."

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1907.

CHEAP POWER.

If the offer made by the Cataract Power Company to supply Hamilton with electric current for lighting, water pumping and other purposes not in competition with the company, is lacking in anything, it is not lacking in definiteness. The company offers, in writing, to furnish power at ten per cent. less than the lowest price for which it can be sold by the Hydro-Electric Commission in Toronto, or in any place west of Hamilton, and ten per cent. cheaper than the Commission can sell in Hamilton, and, in order that there may be no doubt about what that means, the Hydro-Electric Commission is named as the judge. The offer cannot but commend itself to every person who has the interests of Hamilton at heart. Municipal competition is keen. Toronto is eternally looking for some advantage over Hamilton, and no other city in the Province is slow to make the very best use of its advantages. Hamilton was the first Canadian city to reap the benefits of an ample supply of electric power at low cost, and some of her best industries were secured because of the advantage she enjoyed in that respect. As long as this city can say to all comers that it can supply the cheapest power in Canada, it need not worry about what other cities may be able to do, and if a local company can supply the municipal corporation with power, for municipal purposes, at a lower rate than it can be obtained from any other source, the same company can be depended upon to supply manufacturers and other power upon similarly advantageous terms. Looking at the offer purely from the standpoint it is of great importance to place the city at once in a position to obtain power for municipal purposes at the lowest price yet named, to get it without a moment's delay. There is no contract in blank to be signed; no estimates which are not guaranteed, such as characterize the Hydro-Electric scheme; no waiting until an expensive power line and a costly distributing plant are erected; no possibility, as is the case with the Hydro-Electric, of the whole thing proving a myth and being abandoned. The course for the city to pursue is to go with the utmost care into every feature of the offer, including the purchase of the lighting plant, transformer space rental, pole proposition and all other points, and deal with it purely as a business proposition.

OH, JOHN S.!

Commenting on the refusal of the Minister of Justice to advise the disallowance of a number of Ontario statutes of doubtful validity, the Montreal Gazette (Tory) expresses the opinion that this kind of legislation might well be disallowed. It declares: "The mass of the people of Canada think of themselves as Canadians rather than as residents of the province which is their home. They have no objection to, and may even be well satisfied with, any exercise of due authority that asserts the right of the whole to restrain the unwise or unpatriotic or nationally impolitic action of the law makers of a part of the country. There was precedent that would have justified the Minister of Justice in disallowing some, not all of the measures dealt with, as being in his view, within the classification set out by Sir John Macdonald in 1868.

Dealing with Hon. J. S. Hendrie's freak legislation, the "Big Stick Bill," which the Minister of Justice described as "ineffective and harmless," regarding it as certain that no court of justice would uphold it, the Gazette says:

A third act dealt with is that somewhat extraordinary measure, widely condemned when it was introduced (by Hon. J. S. Hendrie), which proposes to take away and destroy the rights and franchises of any "public utilities" company which, after being incorporated by the Legislature of the province, seeks a charter from Parliament to make its undertaking, within the terms of the law, a work "for the general advantage of Canada." The power assumed by this act is so arbitrary, so needlessly restrictive of the freedom of men who have the capacity to devise and carry out large enterprises, and so purposeless for good, that it is difficult to understand how any body of responsible men could sanction it. Mr. Aylesworth holds it to be clearly illegal. He points out that by the B. N. A. Act Parliament is given uncontrolled discretion to determine what works are for the general advantage of Canada, and holds that by the statute in question the Legislature of Ontario assumes to destroy any Ontario company with regard to which Parliament may see fit to make the declaration. Such a law under such circumstances would appear to be well within the classification of "altogether illegal and unconstitutional," and might well have been disallowed. It can be believed that Sir John Macdonald would have disallowed it. Mr. Aylesworth, after condemning it as mischievous and a mere brutum fulmen, a harmless thunderbolt, recommends that nothing be done in the matter, and the act will remain a threat to and restriction on the reasonable enterprise of investors.

The Gazette is clearly of opinion that this measure should have been disallowed, and thinks that Mr. Aylesworth should have so recommended without regarding the blatant shouters about "provincial rights." It concludes, however, that Mr. Aylesworth's policy "is not without its worldly wisdom, and may be followed by other Ministers of Justice when called on to deal with mischievous provincial laws. When the courts, duly called on in a specific case, declare an act unconstitutional, its authors may neither rage nor help themselves."

Whitney boasted of the sale of $3,000,000 bonds in Canada. The Tory organs emphatically say that the borrowing of money in Canada by the Governments is exceedingly unwise, and tends to intensify financial stringency. One or other opinion is wrong.

A LITTLE TORY ROW.

Politics in British Columbia is a queer mess. A short time ago the Vancouver Province, edited by a former Hamiltonian, "fopped" to Toryism, and has become as zealous and as devoted to the McBride-Bowser Government as, under such circumstances, political apostates usually become. It has, in short, assumed to relegate all the other Tory organs to inferior positions, and has out-Bowsered Bowser in trying to make capital out of the Japanese treaty and immigration questions. Just now it is assuming to deal ex-cathedra with the row in the Tory camp over Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's re-entrance into politics. The Vancouver Saturday Sunset, in its Tory sympathies, makes no effort to conceal its disgust at the Province's performance. It says:

Now does any man with an ounce of wit believe that the Daily Province cares a button for any party, or is sincere in its advocacy of any interest, save and solely of its own? A renegade in politics, a paper without convictions of its own, the aim and policy of which is to be on the side that wins—the one which controls the money bags—this "organ of public opinion" lectures party men upon their duties to their party. This turned Tory sheet presumes to prescribe a course of action for men who have in past years—when it paid or suited the Province better to champion other causes—been devoted and loyal adherents to the principles of their party; men who have made many and heavy sacrifices, are now told to go away back and sit down by a paper which has neither principle nor loyalty and supports only causes and parties which it pays to support. It would all be very funny did it not once more demonstrate the sickening brand of politics in which this Province is steeped.

Those are very vigorous words, but readers of the Province will hardly wonder at them. "Jackal" journalism—that kind of newspaper "principle" which, chameleon-like, takes its color from the particular situation which it regards as likely to yield it at the moment the most craft, is not entirely unknown to eastern readers, too, and perhaps its most remarkable peculiarity is that the more lightly its opinions are held, and the greater its facility to change them when change is likely to enable it to catch the coppers, the more vociferous it is in heralding its beautiful independence, and the more bitterly it declaims against the wickedness of political partisanship. The public are not all, or always, fooled. Honest men of all shades of politics like to know where a paper is at, and that there is other basis for its opinions than is expressed in dollars and cents.

WHAT BEAT CHURCHILL?

The Toronto Mail and Empire, in common with a number of its politically unscrupulous confreres, strives hard to make it appear that Winston Churchill's defeat was a solar plexus blow to free trade. It declares that "in the North-west Manchester election the trade question was the predominant issue." But then, our contemporary seems to forget the fact that the free trade issue was only one of many, and that it has not changed since the general elections, while a number of other important issues have taken prominence. As the Mail's own writer, the Flaneur, than whom there is no more unreasonable and bigoted Tory, says, the defeat was "an expression of public disapproval of the Government policy generally." He admits that the Ministry, whether its legislative proposals are good or bad, "has aroused bitter antagonism all around, and evidently conciliated no section of the people." He alleges that "the proposals most generally disliked are the Licensing Bill and the Old Age Pensions." Certain it is that the Conservative candidate, according to despatches, kept the tariff issue in the background, and harped upon the radical and socialist tendencies of the Government, its License Bill, the Education Bill, and its Irish legislation. The election "proved," as a contemporary says, "a demonstration against strenuous legislation in a country accustomed to the slow and the sure."

DID WHITNEY MISREPRESENT?

Hon. A. G. MacKay made a serious charge against Premier Whitney at a meeting in Woodstock yesterday. He charged that Mr. Whitney misrepresented the facts as to the Canadian Northern guarantee in his Hamilton speech. Mr. MacKay stated that it was Provincial Treasurer Matheson who signed the first guarantee to the Canadian Northern, and not Mr. Ross' Treasurer, Mr. MacKay said:

The James Bay Railway Company were working under a Dominion charter, and the mortgage is registered with the Secretary of State at Ottawa. I find on inquiry that the mortgage was not taken by the Liberal Government at all. It is dated July 12, 1906, and the guarantee is dated July 17, 1906, and it was signed on behalf of the Province by Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer. In addition, I find that the plan of the road from Toronto to Sudbury was filed two years before the taking of the mortgage. It shows the road running right through the city of Toronto, and actually to the city Station. It goes without saying that the mortgage, if properly taken, covers the Toronto terminals, and includes buildings, etc., then or afterwards acquired.

In view of these facts, Whitney's statement that the first guarantee did not cover terminals and that he gave a second guarantee to make the Province safe, requires some explanation. Then if the first mortgage was not sufficient, whose fault was that? Matheson signed it.

Neither Hamilton, nor any other place in Ontario, would be in any danger of power monopoly to-day had Whitney not, in a spirit of revenge, cancelled the arrangement made by Ross for absolute control of the price of 62,500 h.p. from Niagara. That arrangement would have meant Government regulation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

But you didn't hear Whitney explain why he surrendered to the spoilsmen, did you?

Even the Ottawa Journal thinks that if Sir Wilfrid's promises as to the civil service inquiry are carried out, little or no grievance will remain.

In the editorial headed "Crude Estimates" in last evening's Times, the total cost of 5,000 horse power at $10.40 at the Falls was made $521,000. It should have been $52,000.

Mr. Lloyd-George ridicules the idea that the British hop trade has been damaged by over-importation. He declares that the importation of hops is less now than 30 years ago.

The Conservatives in Whitney's time in Opposition used to make a fuss about the number of messengers employed in the Legislature. There were 21 in those days. Now there are 42!

A good deal of comment has been caused by Whitney's careful avoidance to give Adam Beck any credit in connection with the power matter. He complimented Hendrie and others, but Beck's name he did not even mention.

The local gover monopoly organ remarks on Buffalo's subjection to power monopoly, and at the same time seeks to tie up Hamilton to a thirty years' power monopoly, a course which it has already declared to be "imprudent."

Whitney tried to excuse the Government's failure to keep the promises made in the 1905 campaign about labelling prison-made goods, pleading that they would be sold more cheaply because on that account. Isn't that a miserable effort!

With strong, honest, intelligent ministers in charge, no civil service commission would have been needed to investigate this or any other department. —Hamilton Spectator.

Then under Conservative Governments we never had a "strong, honest, intelligent minister."

Whitney did not attempt to justify his action in spitefully cancelling the concession of Niagara current to generate 125,000 horse-power of electricity on condition that 62,500 h.p. be reserved for the municipalities, Government to fix the price for power. That was a most unstatesmanlike act.

If the Government were to lay all its business before the House and say "That's what you have to do," the Opposition's best pretext for impeding progress would disappear. —Ottawa Journal.

We do not think so. An Opposition with no other policy than a desire to exploit scandals is not likely to devote itself to business merely because business is to be done.

The city should be perfectly satisfied with the action of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board yesterday in connection with the proposed annexation of a portion of the mountain to Hamilton. It looks as if the Board will decide in favor of the scheme, without much consideration as to how it will affect the township.

The other day the senior Tory organ was assuring the public that it was all settled six months ago that Hamilton should have the Provincial Technical College. Now it is lauding Whitney for refusing to enlighten us as to the matter, lest he should be suspected of trying to bribe us. But if it was settled six months ago, why should he hesitate?

The new Elections Bill provision that where the lists are not prepared by the municipalities, or where the Provincial Governments in any way interfere with them, a revision under Dominion officials will be made, is objected to by the Opposition, and obstruction is threatened on that account. The clause will effect the Manitoba and British Columbia lists where the municipalities are not left unhampered to do the work.

Whitney said that in providing that a three-fifths vote should be required to carry local option he also provided that no penny-ha'penny technicality should be allowed to set aside the people's will, and that if a by-law "contains some little error, it is just as good as if it was a gilt-edged by-law." Of course, the Premier talked humbug. The decision in such matters is for the courts. And see on what hair-splitting the Toronto license by-law was set aside.

The Kingston Standard (Tory) will now have to change its tactics in defending Whitney's $2,500,000 bond guarantee. It has not failed to appreciate that the transaction was not to be approved, and that it was a violation of Whitney's pledges. It was, however, pleaded that it was "merely a mistake." "Mistake," indeed! Why, at Hamilton Whitney gloried in it, declaring that he was here to boast about it. What will the Kingston organ say to that?

OUR EXCHANGES

None So Tough. (Toronto Mail and Empire.) No Prime Minister of Ontario ever before had the election refused to be unfolded by Mr. Whitney to his Hamilton hearers.

Weren't We Promised it? (Toronto News.) Mr. Whitney does not believe in bribing constituencies with public money. On the eve of the election he refused to promise a technical school. The Government, he says, will do right by the city no matter who is elected.

Fighting the Flies. (Toronto Star.) The Chicago Health Department has made a declaration of war against the house fly. A fly will wade about in the germs of an infectious disease, and when it lands on milk, or walk over jelly, ice cream, sugar, meat, or butter, with its mouth and legs smeared with filth.

Need a Bath. (Grimby Independent.) I see in a report of the police court in Hamilton that a child had been sent home from school about the middle of January to be cleaned up and the job had not been done by the first of May—it is no wonder that some of the people in Hamilton are asking for public baths—it is not a "trip to Europe" some of the people in Hamilton want, it is a "trip to the bath tub."

Canadian Failures. Insolencies in the Dominion of Canada, as reported by the Dominion & Co. were 116 in number and $1,911,981 in amount of defaulted indebtedness, against 82 failures last year for $62,509. Manufacturing failures were 28 in number and $50,719 in amount, against 22 similar failures last year for $57,707. Retail failures were 20 in number and $1,200,000 in amount, against 17 similar failures last year for $1,200,000. Total failures for 1907, when the amount involved was $29,900.

A Good Word for Doukhobors. (Montreal Gazette, Tory.) Mr. Oliver, minister of the interior, has said in parliament of the eight thousand Doukhobors who came to Canada that no other immigrants, numbers considered, had had come so little in conflict with the authorities. This is worth remembering, especially in the case of Hamilton, where they settled, which people by the industry of the whole community, and which, under the general law, gets from the government of Canada an allowance per head for the whole number, greater than the amount required to keep the poor demented ones in the confinement their cases call for. What the people think about the unfortunate is shown by the pity and help everywhere extended to them. The politicians might make note of this fact.

Canadian Historical Places. (Toronto Globe.) The people of Hamilton and vicinity have set a good example to other parts of Canada in calling attention in various ways to the site of the battle of Stoney Creek, the incident being the ceremony on Sunday of consecrating the spot where many British soldiers buried their bodies, and where they died, the historian of the Pelepossonian war. The so-called battle was a successful surprise, planned with ingenuity and carried out courageously and successfully. The battle, in the opinion of the writer, was one of the most important in the history of the province, and the manner of it had an enduring effect on the spirit of the Canadian people who were then making for them, herculean efforts to clear their land of invaders.

Bluffing It Out. (Ottawa Free Press.) Premier Whitney, at the meeting in Hamilton last evening which opened his Ontario campaign, declared that he preferred to boast about, rather than defend, the guarantee of the Canadian Northern bonds, the most justifiable act of the Government.

These statements are the rashest and most unbusinesslike made by any public man in defence of a public measure in the history of Ontario, and the Premier, in the opinion of the writer, is determined to bluff the matter through until the Legislature meets, and no longer be made successfully.

Premier Whitney followed up this bluff and bluster with a deliberate falsehood. In an attempt to show that the Opposition had ample time to protest against the guarantee, but did not do so, Mr. Whitney declared that the resolution was introduced on a Thursday afternoon, and that the Premier's speech was made on the following Tuesday. The facts of the matter are the business of the Legislature, and the Premier's speech was finished forty-eight hours after the C. N. R. resolution was introduced, and within that time the legislators departed for their homes, their duties of the session over. True, protraction did not take place until Tuesday, but all the business of the session had been disposed of three days previously.

Whitney a Deceiver. (Kingston Whig.) Mr. Whitney was being exposed as a deceiver. When he sprang the Canadian Northern railway guarantee upon the house he alleged that he wanted to improve the security of the government, that the original mortgage on the road did not cover the terminals. He did not give the opposition time in which to investigate. It had been before the conservative party caucus, before the House, and the opposition was not given until 1906, two years after the maps and records had been made for inspection.

The scandal deepens and becomes indefensible as a consequence, and it is not relieved by the slight by the cross-deception of the Premier. He intimates that the liberals knew the facts. They did not or there would have been a different result. It provided for a first mortgage on all the property, movable and immovable, building, plant, rolling stock, and revenues present and future. If there were anything defective about the mortgage, the Whitney government had to assume the responsibility since it was not given until 1906, two years after the maps and records had been made for inspection.

FOR BATTLEFIELD. Women's Wentworth Historical Society Will Assist.

The Women's Wentworth Historical Society had another large and enthusiastic meeting yesterday in the Y. W. C. A. The Treasurer, Miss Ethel McKay, having resigned on account of her illness, Mrs. Tolson, president of the society, while parting with her with regret, because she had been a most faithful and efficient treasurer, and a personal favorite, rejoiced in her happiness. She was presented with a handsome silver sash, holding two unique cut glass perfume bottles, suitably inscribed. Miss Phyllis McKay was elected Treasurer pro tem.

Mrs. Henstridge, the caretaker at Stoney Creek Battlefield, having resigned on account of moving into the city, Mrs. Tolson was appointed caretaker. The society voted $25 to Mrs. Henstridge as a token of its appreciation of her services during the eight years she has been at the Battlefield.

The President, Mrs. Calder, outlined her plans for the coming Fete at Stoney Creek Battlefield, June 6, which were heartily endorsed. It will be a unique outdoor entertainment, for which the large grounds and grand view are so well fitted. There will be many novelties and surprises never before seen in Hamilton.

Among more familiar scenes will be a May-pole dance, in charge of Miss Hendrie; an orange tree, in charge of Mrs. John S. Hendrie, and a rose tree, in charge of Mrs. Harry V. Cann. Another meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. reading room, Main street, next Tuesday morning at 10.30, when committees will be appointed and all arrangements completed, and it is hoped every member will be present. The funds are in aid of Hamilton Branch of the Quebec Battlefields Association, and will be sent in the name of the society, so it is hoped the sum realized will be worthy of the donation of Stoney Creek Battlefield to Quebec Battlefield.

The number of tickets will not be limited, and every person who buys one is helping to pay for Canada's national park—an honor and a privilege.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to C. R. Macdonough for a donation of 150 post cards, with a capital view in colors of Stoney Creek Battlefield and house.

MERRITTON LIGHTS.

Village Figuring on Going In For Municipal Ownership.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, Ont., May 7.—Merritton Council last evening received a report from K. L. Aitken, of Toronto, an electrical expert, in connection with the electric illumination of the village streets. The present system, which expires this year, and the council is moving in the direction of a municipal plant. The expert values the property of the village in respect to wires, poles, etc., which might be used as part of a municipal system, at $1,207.10, and says that an expenditure of $2,250 would be sufficient to give a 24-hour service with 150 incandescent street lamps.

"I am looking forward to a state of society," said the reformer, "in which every citizen will be happy and comfortable and unmolested by graft." "Of course," answered Mr. Serinus Barker. "Everybody is. We all expect eventually to attain heaven."—Washington Star.

CARROLL'S Five Stores (713 John Street South, Cor. Emerald and Wilson, Cor. James and Macaulay, Cor. Queen and Hunter, Cor. York and Caroline.)

WAITING FOR THE WHISTLE. Varied Assemblages of Vehicles That Bank Up at Crossings.

When you drag a net you get all sorts of fishes in it; when at a traffic regulated street crossing the policeman holds up his hand there bank up in the halted line along the street all sorts of vehicles.

What the major part of these vehicles may be would depend somewhat on where in the city the policeman stood; but there are streets in the town, thoroughfares of varied traffic, in which the vehicles thus held up might include pretty much everything on wheels, as here now in such a bunch in such a street stood a hearse.

In the front rank of the halted procession, ranging across the street up by the crossing and waiting for the signal to go on, stood a big Fifth avenue motor stage, and then a double truck, and a light delivery wagon. In the next rank back stood, behind the stage, a hansom cab, and next to that a hearse, and next to that an automobile touring car, and back of this came other ranks of trucks and cabs and wagons and automobiles, until the short block had thus held up with the hearse standing there in the midst of them.

It had glass panelled sides, through which you could see, resting on the rollers within, an oak burial casket; the driver of the hansom cab, on one side, could look down from his high perch upon the roof of the hearse; the people in the automobile on the other side could look through the glass side of the hearse upon the casket, while upon the box seat, all in black and with high hats, sat the hearse driver and the undertaker, waiting like everybody else, for the policeman's whistle.

And when that sounded the hearse-driver started up his black horses with the rest, the whole waiting bunch seemed to get into motion at once, and in a moment they were passing over the crossing in ranks and detachments, the cabs and the wagons and the automobiles and the trucks going on their various errands in their various ways with the living, and the hearse following its way with the dead. —New York Sun

The Lazy Lad. Young Albert was a lazy lad, And idled all the day, He was not really very bad, But had a slight way, He would not work, and even had A good dislike for play.

On journeys he could never go, He tried and tried in vain, But he was always late, and so At home he would remain. Because he was so very slow He always missed the train.

Once he took up a slice of bread, And looked at it in doubt, And when they asked him why, he said As he began to pour, "The butter is so hard to spread, 'T'd rather go without."

And when the Christmas elfly bells rang And Santa Claus cried "What!" And when the raindrops swiftly fell, Across the winter snow, His stockings he would never hang Because it tired him so.

It made him tired to go to bed; It made him tired to rise; And tried to shut his eyes, He would not walk, because he said, It seemed like exercise.

And so through life young Albert went A lazy, lazy lad, He never earned a single cent, And never wished he had, Oh, he was very indolent, And yet not really bad.

AN EGREGIOUS MISNOMER.

Gerrymander Whitney's Blunder In Talking Of "A Square Deal."

Premier Whitney was somewhat unfortunate in suggesting as the title of the performance given by his political troupe at the Savoy Theatre the recollection-challenging words, "A Square Deal."

A little reference to some of Mr. Whitney's uncanonized statements is demanded. He claimed much credit for the increase of about $3,500,000 in the revenue of the Province. Yet what are the facts?

"Observe," roared Whitney, "how that in every item the revenue has increased by leaps and bounds under our management." Among the items of increase presented was the Dominion subsidy, $1,734,000 being poured into the treasury of the Province.

It was evident that Whitney feels a sort of shame-faced pride in the gerrymander. He did not pretend that the law as to redistribution contemplated an settlement of the constituencies at such a time. He did not, it is true, boast his success in "hiving the Grits," but he did assume the air of one who might have been guilty to a more reprehensible degree of cowardice and injustice than he had been.

Mr. Whitney indulged in a little self-praise because "we have reduced the price of a set of school books from $1.30 to 40c." He did not explain that he was referring to school readers only; nor did he tell the assembled faithful that these prices are only for the end of the stock of old readers thrown on the bargain counter in prospect of being unsaleable because of the incoming of a new set.

ernment deliberately committed itself to the most disgraceful and wasteful prison labor contract ever heard of in Canada, and to make the concession more valuable to the friends of the Government to whom it was given they even waived the labelling of the product! Is Whitney to be believed now?

On the three-fifths local option clause the Premier flourished some. He referred to the fact that only taxpayers were allowed to vote on money-by-laws—as if the illustration had any relevancy—and pointed out that in certain cases some of the churches required more than a majority vote. He wanted it understood, however, that he was not bound to the three-fifths, and, if the results were not good, it could be changed. Some seem to think it was a broad hint that when changing it will conduce to the easier repeal of widely adopted local option, Whitney may be convinced. But in view of his attitude, why should he declare that everybody knows where he stands, while they do not know the opinion of Mr. MacKay, who has consistently opposed the clause?

No new light was shed on the La Rose deal, in which the brother-in-law of a Minister was one of the fortunate ones to profit by $130,000 dealt out in the closing hours of the session. No excuse Whitney deserve for this? Notwithstanding enormously increased charges in the Crown Lands Department on timber and minerals, the increase since 1904 has been but $387,000, and, be it remembered, it was Ross' policy of development of the north country, and his building of the railway—both strongly opposed by Whitney and his party.

In the C. N. R. bond guarantee matter he declared that he was not there to defend it, but to boast about it. He resorted to the threadbare excuse that on coming into office he had found that the terms of the railway were not included in the guarantee, and that, therefore, the Government's security, as far as they were concerned, would not be worth a button. Hence the increased guarantee. This excuse is but a condemnation of Whitney's administration. Under the Ross Government the guarantee act was made to cover all the property the railway had, or that it might subsequently have. The guarantee, given in the form of a mortgage, was not executed until after Whitney was in power, and if the security taken was not sufficient, it was not because the act was not comprehensive enough. If Whitney bungled the taking of the mortgage the fault was Whitney's. His excuse does not excuse him.

The side-tracking of law reform, and the neglect of technical education leave two more subjects for rosy promises. The Premier was very careful not to commit himself to anything regarding the Provincial Technical College for Hamilton, which his local organs attempt to make it appear as good as decided on long ago. His policy in this matter was that of Hosea Biglow's candidate:

He spoke guardedly, framing his sentences so as to encourage his devotees to think they might mean much, yet to leave him free to say that he had given Hamilton no reason to think that it would get the institution. It was a true Whitney utterance, lacking every element of candor, significantly deceptive in the light of statements made at the Tory convention.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OR PUBLIC CONTROL.

(Ottawa Free Press.) Hon. N. A. Belcourt has rendered a public service to the State and to the people of Canada by delivering a recent speech in the Senate in which he took strong ground against the public ownership and operation of public utilities.

A Thought For The Day

Why is it that we so often hear some little child say, "I hate church, I love Sunday School?" One reason is that the morning service is uninteresting to the child. Oh, that preachers could realize that old people like what will interest the young people. To do this may be difficult, but it is worth accomplishing.

WILL APPEAL TO RAILWAY BOARD

FOR DIAMOND CROSSING AT HERKIMER AND HESS.

Jolley Cut Road to be Improved at a Cost of $500—Other Work Sanctioned.

An appeal to the Dominion Railway Board will be made by the city in an effort to force the Bradford & Hamilton Railway to install a girder rail diamond at the Hess and Herkimer street crossing. This course was decided on by the Board of Works last evening, after the property owners on this corner appeared and once more demanded that the city take steps to protect their interests. Engineer Barrow has already testified that the present construction work from his point of view is satisfactory. The owners say that every time a street car hits the diamond the noise is unbearable.

The committee will spend $500 making improvements at the Jolley Cut road, which is in very bad shape. An application from Holland A. White for the extension of Mountain avenue, southerly sixty feet, wide on the conditions that houses be kept back ten feet from the street line and the street be graded at his expense, was granted. The expenditure of $100 for repairs to the road on Erie avenue was authorized. The Wentworth street mountain steps will be repaired at a cost of $300. It will cost $1,000 to extend King William street east of Sanford street. The property owners agree to pay half the cost and a by-law will be passed.

GENERAL COTTON WAS PRESENT.

INFORMAL INSPECTION OF THE HIGHLANDERS.

Fine Parade of 449 in the Rain—The General and Ladies Entertained Afterwards.

Bad weather does not interfere much with the excellent parades of the 91st regiment, as it turned out 449 officers and men last evening, in most disagreeable weather. No doubt the presence of General Cotton, commander of the Ontario forces, had something to do with the parade state, but it goes to show that the enthusiasm of the men is at a very high pitch and is likely to remain so for the rest of the season. The regiment had to work inside instead of going to Victoria Park, as was at first intended. Despite the disadvantages of the small shed, the men worked to the satisfaction of the inspecting officer. Half battalion drill was indulged in under Col. Logie and Major Bruce, after which Col. Logie expressed his pleasure at the large parade, and hoped the men would keep up the good work. He also referred to the excellent showing of the men in the Athletic Association of the regiment.

After the parade the officers entertained General Cotton and his staff and also the ladies present to a light luncheon in the officers' quarters. Col. Moore and Major Tidswell were with General Cotton during the earlier part of the evening.

MANY HORSES BURNED.

Stables at Owen Sound and Rapid City Destroyed.

Owen Sound, May 6.—Fire broke out in the barns of the Carney Lumber Co., Limited, shortly after midnight, and the building and contents were destroyed, and all but two of the nineteen heavy draught mill horses were cremated. The company estimates its loss at $5,000, fully covered by insurance.

Rapid City, Man., May 6.—A disastrous fire occurred six miles east of here last night, resulting in the complete destruction of the combined stable, granary and implement shed of Hunter Bros., with six horses and a large quantity of wheat, oats and barley. The Hunters made a gallant attempt to rescue the horses, but despite their efforts they only succeeded in saving eleven when the roof fell in. The men narrowly escaped death in the burning mass.

The doctor feels that he has come to the end of his patience when he completes his professional call.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OR PUBLIC CONTROL.

(Ottawa Free Press.) Hon. N. A. Belcourt has rendered a public service to the State and to the people of Canada by delivering a recent speech in the Senate in which he took strong ground against the public ownership and operation of public utilities.

Mr. Belcourt declared that the only policy consistent with the temperance, the genius, the aptitudes and the aspirations of the Canadian people, the only policy suited to its geographical, industrial, commercial and social conditions, was freedom of labor, freedom of capital, freedom of individual initiative and activity, tempered by wise and vigilant regulation and control.

The arguments which led Mr. Belcourt to the conclusion above cited were prefaced by an able and careful historical review of the growth of individualism and the influence of individualism in the modern world. He showed that in every country, in every age, monopolies, both State and private, sometimes side by side, at other times separately, have existed and flourished. Aristotle tells us of a steel trust and an oil trust which flourished in his time. The record shows conclusively that of all monopolies, State monopolies have uniformly been the most oppressive, most difficult to destroy and have most retarded and impeded material progress and development, and in the case of the Roman Empire, were a potent factor in its disintegration and ultimate downfall.

Coming then to the issue as it faces us in Canada, the Senator took the position that no Government, national, Provincial or municipal, should undertake any business that may be as well and economically conducted by private enterprise. In support of this proposition he advanced the reasons which follow: 1. Because the natural and legitimate function of government is to govern to administer justice equally to its citizens, to provide protection to the State, to its members and to their lives, property, health and education and to enforce the law.

2. Because on general political grounds, nationalization and municipalization would establish a state of public utility which would destroy, demoralize the voter and destroy individual effort. 3. Because on economic considerations this policy is inherently unsound, as the results almost unanimously show. 4. Because, assuming that state or municipal operation of public utilities is in certain cases, under exceptional circumstances and extraordinary favorable conditions, it does not follow that the same policy, except in exceptional cases, would prove to be practical, beneficial and successful in Canada.

5. Because, state or municipal operation of public utilities offer much more serious danger to the nation and to the people, to the welfare of both and to responsible government, than do corporate or private monopolies. 6. Because the remedy to the evil complained of lies not in state or local control and regulation.

Russia is to-day the greatest living example of a country where the state monopolizes all utilities, said Mr. Belcourt. Would any Canadian ask that the Dominion should retrograde in the condition of Russia? Australia is another country where state ownership has been largely adopted, but Australia's debt is $300 per capita, while that of Canada is only $45; and the revenue from the state-owned utilities is insufficient to pay the interest on the public debt contracted to create those public utilities. The experience of England and Scotland in municipalization of utilities was such, in the opinion of Mr. Belcourt, as to make it quite apparent to his mind that it has bred corruption and demoralized the voter. He cited a remarkable array of facts and figures to support his conviction, pointing out that the backward of the political pendulum in Great Britain as proof that the people are weary of these experiments, and proceeded:

"If in old and well settled communities, those to be found in the British Isles, by setting the population enjoying the improvements and betterments of an advanced civilization, and great commercial, industrial and scientific development, to say nothing for their well-known progressiveness, their great commercial ability and their eminently practical conception of life with their capacity for organization and practical statesmanship, municipal trading, as it is there called, has been generally unsuccessful, and in many cases woefully so, is it not manifest that such a policy would prove to be a dismal failure in Canada? Assuming that we have the same capacity as that of our citizens of the Motherland, are not all other conditions entirely different? Let me refer only to a few:

"Canada is 3,500 miles by 1,400 miles in area. If Canada were as thickly populated as the British Isles, it would have over one billion people. Three-fourths of Canada's area is awaiting to be filled up, settled and provided with the many requirements of modern prosperous civilized life, and what a task that implies! We have our railways to complete, and new ones to build, our waterways to perfect, and new ones to create, roads and highways to open up, or to improve, agricultural, dairying and other industries of all kinds to assist, establish or develop, the products of the mines, the forest and the fisheries over this vast area to take out, manufacture and market. We have to provide improvements to navigation and shipping; trade and commerce to extend; financial institutions to promote, organize or expand.

"We have to assist present educational, scientific, and philanthropic institutions, and to provide additional facilities to all of them. We must assimilate and acclimatize the large number of foreigners who are now coming to us, and who will in greater numbers still land on our shores to fill up and colonize the unoccupied lands. We have to propagate harmony, good feeling and unity among the old and the new elements, especially of our population. A broad, virile and sound national sentiment is to be created and fostered.

"In this vast programme, in this tremendous task, is there not enough and more for the full exercise of all energies and activities, the good will, the patriotism, the ambition and the patriotism of our people, and of the individual, each within their legitimate scope and natural sphere? The burden of government is nowhere in the world heavier and its task more difficult than it is in Canada to-day, and it must continue to grow in greater numbers. What justification, what excuse, what reason would there be for any increase to that burden? What reason is there for taking from the individual the doing of that which he can do with profit to himself and advantage to the community, and to devote his time and energy to already over-burdened public functionaries and representatives whose whole time, energy and attention are required for the performance of their public trust? What justification would there be for diverting the attention and energies of these public functionaries from the performance of their duties, which they alone can perform, to objects which the individual can discharge as well?

"None, I submit, unless it is to increase to a dangerous extent the activities of government, and as a consequence, the immediate and long-term government and its indirect influence. None, unless it is desired to erect an all-pervading and omnipotent bureaucracy, to multiply to a very dangerous degree the already unbearable burden and nuisance of political patronage. None, unless it is desired to revert back to the condition of the past, during the middle ages, to stifle individual effort, the spirit of enterprise, to destroy the rewards due to individual energy and ambition—in a word, to go back to serfdom."

Mr. Belcourt was especially happy in his manner of dealing with the question of nationalization of railways. Not only would it involve the Government operating telegraph, telephone and steamship enterprises, but it would probably add 400,000 employees of one kind or another to the public service of Canada, who, with the present number employed, would form a huge bureaucracy numbering nearly one-tenth of the whole population and possessing almost one-half of the total national voting power, a bureaucracy with ramifications from end to end of the country, and which could easily be mobilized into a solid condition to effectively direct and control the whole governmental function.

The summing up of the whole matter as viewed by the hon. gentleman is that the remedy for any supposed ills is to be found in regulation by the State and not in state ownership and operation. The only policy consistent with the interests and the genius, the temperament and the aspirations of the Canadian people, he maintains, may be summed up thus:

"Private exploitation of public utility with Government control and regulation, or, in other words, the presence of capital and freedom of labor; both subject to control and regulation."

MUST REMOVE THE MACHINES

Or Be Fined for Breaking the Lord's Day Act.

Toronto, May 27.—According to the judgment of Mr. Kingsford yesterday, the notice "not open for business on Sundays" does not exempt any cent-in-the-slot machines from charges of breaking the Lord's Day Act.

A charge which was laid against a company owning a number of automatic match box vendors was withdrawn, but the company manager was informed that he must arrange to take in his machines over Sundays or be penalized for contravening the Lord's Day Act.

FINCH BROS. 29 AND 31 KING ST. WEST

THEY MUST STAND TRIAL.

Several Big New York Financiers Must Face Jury.

New York, May 6.—The trials of Charles W. Morse, Alfred H. Curtis and F. Augustus Heinze on charges growing out of their conduct of New York banks will begin in June, according to an announcement by U. S. District Attorney Stimson. All three pleaded not guilty to the indictments against them.

Curtis and Morse are accused of conspiring to deceive the bank examiners by making false entries in the bank's books to conceal loans alleged to have been obtained in order to promote speculation in the stock of the American Ice Co. and the Consolidated Steamship Company, in which Morse was interested.

Heinze is accused of over-certifying cheques to the amount of $437,000 as President of the Mercantile National Bank for the benefit of the firm of Otto Heinze & Co., of which his brother was President.

OPPOSED PREFERENCE.

MR. BOLE HAD THE EVIDENCE.

Many Frauds in Winnipeg In Provincial Elections.

Four Hundred and Fifty Names Who Had No Right to Vote.

Debate on Elections Bill Continued—One-Cent Drop Letters.

Ottawa, May 6.—The debate on the election bill occupied the attention of the House for the greater part of today's sitting. Messrs. Bole, Boyce and Conmee taking part in the debate. Mr. Bole, who was the first speaker, sprang a sensation by responding to Mr. Borden's challenge to give names or instances of wrongdoing under the present registration system in Manitoba. He produced several affidavits, which he read to the House, and which showed that naturalization papers for 450 Galicians had been improperly taken out, with the knowledge of Conservative officials, for the purpose of registration in the last provincial election in Winnipeg. The production and reading of these affidavits seemed to be rather disconcerting to the Opposition. The line of cleavage was, as yesterday, most clearly defined, the two Government members mentioned taking the ground that the measure is absolutely essential to remedy existing paradoxes and actual evils, and Mr. Boyce, who, by the way, held the floor for a much longer period than the combined time of the other two speakers, seeing in it only a partisan outrage on the people of Canada. If the length of time occupied last night by Mr. Alcorn and to-day by Mr. Boyce is to be the average of Opposition speakers, the debate will be interminable. During the course of his remarks Mr. Conmee said he was informed on good authority, in spite of what Premier Whitney had said, that the Provincial election in New Ontario would not be held on the same day as the general election. The lists were not prepared, and arrangements were being made to take the vote on another day.

One-cent Drop Letters.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux introduced his bill to amend the postoffice act providing for one-cent drop letters in cities where the letter-carrier system exists. The Postmaster-General explained that the bill also proposed to make it a condition of appointment of postoffice superintendents that the candidate must have been five years in the service instead of ten, as at present. A third amendment provided for the appointment of a financial superintendent. In view of the great expansion of postoffice business it had been found, especially in the Northwest, that the work of supervising and auditing the books is impossible for much work on the inspectors. The status of the financial superintendent would be similar to the chief postoffice superintendent, and his duties would be to audit and supervise all the books from one end of the Dominion to the other.

Mr. Hamilton asked whether it was the intention of the Postmaster-General to provide for a half-cent rate for drop letters in rural towns and villages.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux said that when the time came to discuss the bill more fully he would explain how the one-cent letter system in cities would help in giving more postal facilities to the rural parts of the country.

Mr. Lennox—Will it apply to places where there are drop letters at present? Hon. Mr. Lemieux—The one-cent drop letter rate will be established in cities where the letter-carrier system exists—only in those places.

The bill was read a first time.

Civic Holidays Only.

Answering Mr. Lavergne, Sir Wilfrid said it was not the intention of the Government to proclaim any holidays during the coming celebrations at Quebec. Such a proclamation might be made by the Mayor of Quebec or other cities.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux informed Mr. Lavergne that he had not asked for tenders for designs for an issue of postage stamps for the tercentenary celebration, and had had no communication with any artist on the subject.

Mr. Lavergne asked whether it was true that the Government intended to appoint to the next vacancy in the Senate Hon. Adelard Turgeon, and whether the Government were aware that Mr. Turgeon was accused of graft in the administration of his department.

Replying to Mr. Wilmot, Hon. Mr. Pugsley said he had received a petition from the inhabitants of Chase's Point, on the St. John River, N. B., asking for aid in the construction of a public wharf at that point. The petition did not contain a clause pledging the petitioners, in case their prayer was granted, to support the Liberal candidate at the next Federal election.

Mr. Borden asked the Minister of Marine and Fisheries whether the resignation of Deputy Minister Gourdeau had been accepted.

MURDER VICTIM

Was a Young Austrian Who Recently Arrived in Toronto.

Erindale, May 6.—Although already identified by two men, the body of Alex. Luitick, the Galician found murdered in the woods near here on Sunday, will tomorrow be exhumed, to allow two more men to prove further identification. One of the men who will tomorrow view the remains is an employee of Mr. W. D. Davis, who runs an employment agency in Front street, Toronto, at which place the deceased applied for work upon his arrival in Canada. The other man is Mr. S. McDonald, of Erindale, who, on the 16th of April, saw the deceased in company with three other foreigners on the road from Port Credit to Clarkson. According to the latter, the man whom he thinks to be the deceased, was writing in a book, while the other men were standing around, and the book to which he refers corresponds almost in every detail with the notebook found in the possession of the murdered man.

BISHOP OF WASHINGTON.

Appointment Goes to a Graduate of Trinity College.

Washington, D. C., May 6.—Right Rev. Charles Henry Brent, Bishop of the Philippines, was elected Bishop of Washington to-day by the thirteenth annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Bishop Henry Yates Satterlee. A cable despatch was sent to Bishop Brent at Manila, announcing the action of the convention. A reply is expected to-morrow. It is not altogether certain that Bishop Brent will accept, for he is said to be anxious to complete certain work undertaken in the Philippines.

The election was made on the second ballot, when he received thirty-five clerical and thirty-nine lay votes. There were nine other candidates.

The new Bishop was born at Newcastles, Ont., April 9, 1862. He was graduated from Trinity College in 1884, and two years later was ordained deacon. In 1887 he was ordained priest and assigned to St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, as assistant minister. He later held two charges in Boston, and in 1902 was elected Bishop of the Philippines. From 1897 to 1900 Bishop Brent was on the editorial staff of the Churchman in New York city. He is considered one of the most gifted orators in the church.

EAT ORANGES

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP WELL

Careful tests have proved beyond question that orange juice has clearly defined medicinal virtues. Those who suffer with indigestion—are compelled "to diet"—find that after eating oranges regularly for breakfast there is no distress, no palpitation.

Where there was a tendency towards constipation, the eating of oranges regulated the bowels.

In skin troubles, those who began the morning meal with an orange were noticeably improved.

There is, however, a quicker way to get better results. This is to take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" tablets at bedtime in addition to the juice of an orange before breakfast the next morning. "Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes, in which the medicinal action is many times intensified by the special way of combining them. Valuable tonics are then added.

Take the juice of an orange before breakfast—take "Fruit-a-tives" at night—and you will quickly be rid of Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Constipation and Biliousness. "Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price by "Fruit-a-tives," Limited, Ottawa.

BANK ROBBERS.

THEY FIGHT BATTLE WITH THE WATCHMAN.

Interrupted in Attempt to Break in the Molsens Bank at Merlin, They Reply to Shots With Fusillade—Two Stores Robbed.

Chatham, Ont., May 6.—The village of Merlin was the scene at an early hour this morning of a bold attempt on the part of a gang of burglars to rob the Molsens Bank and a subsequent pistol battle with the watchman. Although the thieves were looted in their attempt to rob the bank they did not leave the village empty-handed, as they succeeded in entering two stores and getting both money and valuables.

They first entered a departmental store of J. H. Hainday and stole out the safe from which they abstracted $100. They then turned their attention to Arthur Smith's jewelry store, and secured a considerable quantity of jewelry.

The Molsens Bank was the next object of their depredations, but here they met with an unexpected check. They had opened a window of the bank and one of the burglars was climbing through it when the bank watchman saw the work of the burglars. He promptly raised an alarm, and pulling out his revolver, opened fire on the intruders. The burglars at once reloaded with their pistols, and a regular fusillade of shots was exchanged, but without any of the bull's taking effect. The sound of the firing awakened the villagers, who turned out a final out the season, but by the time they arrived on the scene the burglars had made good their escape, without leaving any clue to their line of retreat.

DASH FOR LIBERTY.

Group of Russian Political Prisoners Attacked Guards.

Alexandrovsk, May 6.—A group of important political prisoners made an attempt to regain liberty here to-day. Some of them were killed, and in the melee they succeeded in striking down some of the prison guards, but ten got away.

The prisoners were led by Ilinsky, the man who assassinated Gen. Count Alexander Ignatieff at St. Peter, Dec. 22, 1906. They attacked and disarmed the prison guards while at exercise in the prison. Three of the guards were killed, and six were wounded with their own weapons. The prisoners then made a dash for liberty. The guards summoned help, and a pursuit was begun, during which two of the escaping men were killed and four wounded. Three others, including Ilinsky, were recaptured.

Ilinsky was serving a sentence of eleven years' imprisonment for the murder of Ignatieff.

ORCHARD GRANTED REPRIEVE,

But the Murderer Says He Wants to Die.

Boise, Idaho, May 6.—Harry Orchard, the Canadian, who confessed that he had killed ex-Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho, with a bomb, and who was recently sentenced to death for the crime, has been granted a reprieve by Governor Gooding. His execution, which was to have taken place on Friday of next week, has been postponed until July 2.

Declaring that the contempt to which he is subjected from the other prisoners makes life in the penitentiary unbearable, Harry Orchard yesterday said he wanted to die on the gallows and that he hoped the Board of pardons would reject the application of Judge Wood to have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment. "I want to have an end to it all," he said.

Orchard said that the other prisoners at the penitentiary refuse to associate with him, and that his existence is worse than death.

Orchard asked his attorney not to ask for clemency, and his request was partially complied with. His counsel merely presented the recommendation made by Judge Wood.

Orchard is a native of Northumberland County, Ontario. His real name, disclosed by him at the trial of Haywood last year in Boise, for complicity in the murder, is Albert Horsey. For some time he ran a cheese factory near Brighton, and was generally regarded as a young man of good principles. He assumed the name of Orchard after he went west.

MANUEL'S OATH.

BOY RULER OF PORTUGAL FORMALLY PROCLAIMED KING.

Declares That His Ideal is the Nation's Prosperity, and His Ambition the Winning of the People's Love.

Lisbon, May 6.—Manuel, the boy King of Portugal, to-day solemnly took the coronation oath, and, with all the traditional courtly observance, was proclaimed the ruler of the nation. The day was observed as a holiday, and the city was aglow in a brilliant sunshine and a myriad of flags and flowers. Through the streets, which were lined with troops and filled with throngs of people, King Manuel, accompanied by the high dignitaries, drove in the State coach to the Parliament House.

King Manuel, who presented a striking figure in his cloak of velvet and ermine, and who was followed by heralds and pages, was ceremoniously escorted to the throne. Then, holding the royal sceptre in his left hand, the King placed his right hand on the sacred book of the Gospels, and swore to maintain the Catholic religion and the integrity of the realm, and to observe the constitution and laws of Portugal. After the oath had been taken King Manuel read the following:

"My ideal is the nation's prosperity, and my ambition is the winning of my people's love."

From the balcony of the Parliament buildings Manuel formally proclaimed King by the Grand Standard-bearer of the Realm, whereupon the shouts of the heralds of "Long live the King" rose up, and the booming of guns carried the news throughout the city.

WHO HAS THE DIAMONDS?

Man Said to be in Toronto With $10,000 Worth.

New York, May 6.—The American has received the following despatch from Toronto: News has just reached here of the discovery of a diamond field of great richness and magnitude at Motatway River, between Lakes Matagami and Shabogami, in the Province of Quebec. The fields are of vast extent, and pockets of stones of first water are found scattered over a blue clay district for a distance of twenty miles.

These new fields were located by a young American named John A. Mackenzie, and his guide, "Indian Joe," after a two summers' search. Mackenzie has arrived here with $10,000 worth of diamonds, pronounced by experts to be of first water. It is said that Tiffany of New York, sent two expeditions last summer on a diamond hunt in this district, but they headed too far east and failed.

WAS MISTAKEN FOR MOIR.

Tramp Arrested at St. Thomas Resembles London Murderer.

St. Thomas, May 6.—A tramp who claims his name is John William Tait, of Nova Scotia, was arrested here to-day on suspicion of being Moir, the man who shot and killed Color-Sergeant Lloyd at Wolsley Barracks, London, recently. Tait has a piece out of his left ear, is tattooed on the left arm, and has a scar on the little finger, and talks with a Scotch accent, characteristics which also mark Moir, and these led Dr. Guest, who spied the man trying to effect an entrance to the back yard of Mayor Geddes' residence, to call the police.

At the police station it was discovered that Moir's description did not tally with Tait's in other respects. He is held as a vagrant.

IN BEAUFORT SEA.

Canadian Sovereignty Acknowledged by United States Whalers.

Ottawa, May 6.—During the past winter American whalers operating in the Arctic Ocean adjacent to the mouth of the Mackenzie River, and eastward along the coasts of the islands of Beaufort Sea, have for the first time on record acknowledged Canadian authority in these remote regions by the payment of customs duties. The amount collected has been comparatively small, but the principle is important, as establishing there what has already been admitted in Hudson's Bay, the ownership of these northern lands by the British Crown.

BRITAIN PAYS THE BILL

While Other Nations Catch Seals in the Pacific.

London, May 6.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Reginald McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, pointed out, in answer to a question by Mr. Harold Cox, that not only Canada, but people of other nations engaged in the seal fisheries of the Pacific, while Britain paid for the patrolling.

Sir Gilbert Parker asked if the West Indies would make a preferential arrangement with Canada. Colonel Seely, Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, replied that that was a hypothetical question, which he could not answer.

Traveller Drowned at Vancouver.

Vancouver, May 6.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the police, assisted by Caretaker Burgess, of the Vancouver Yacht Club, found the body of W. G. Kennedy, formerly traveller for Thomas Ryan & Co. of Winnipeg, whose coat and hat were deposited on the Yacht Club's float in the coal harbor late last night. The body had drifted to the Georgia side of the coal harbor.

Music and the Drama

An audience of ample proportions, considering the time of year, witnessed, at the Grand Opera House last evening, a performance of Blossom and Herbert's latest success, "The Red Mill." This piece, termed a "musical play" on the programme, has given stellar roles to the famous Stone and Montgomery who made a very large mark as the Scarecrow and Tin Woodman in "The Wizard of Oz," but last night's audience was not privileged to see them in the parts of Con. Kidder and Kil Connor. The roles were taken by John Ford and Wm. R. Swor, nimble and hardworking young fellows who, heading the No. 2 company, furnish good copies of the originals. The play is an admirable admixture of fun and frolic, with a dash of romantic adventure, and has more body than most musical farces.

made many friends here a year ago while in the city as manager of Marie Hall, states that he is manager of the Gloucestershire Historical Pageant, which is to be held at Cheltenham next July. The affair is to be held under Royal patronage, and promises to be the biggest thing of the kind ever held in England. There will be 2,500 in gorgeous costumes and the music is to be supplied by the Band of the Royal Marines and an orchestra of 100 pieces. The price of admission ranges from one pound down to three shillings.

Subscription lists for the Allea-Fox-Edwards recital will close tonight at 8 o'clock. The plan of reserved seats will open at Nordheimer's, 18 King street west, on Saturday, May 3, at 9 a. m., for subscribers, and on Monday, May 11, 9 a. m., for the general public. Owing to the limited seating capacity of the Conservatory of Music Hall, those securing seats should secure them as soon as possible.

Sir Frederick Bridge. In addition to the fourteen anthems to be sung by Centenary Church choir at the lecture-recital on English cathedral music to be given by Sir Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster Abbey, this evening, Albert Archdeacon will sing, an aria, the composition of Dr. Bridge, and also take part in Purcell's famous anthem, "Sing to the Lord." Dr. Bridge will also play organ solos.

Well-Rendered Cantata. The cantata, "Death and Life," was presented at All Saints' Church last evening, and won the hearty approbation of a large and appreciative audience. The most of 35 parts an excellent interpretation of the cantata, the singing giving general satisfaction. The following programme was given as an introduction: The Wilderness . . . . . Goss Come Unto Me . . . . . Coenan

The Lord Is My Shepherd . . . . . Little Mr. Symmes. From Egypt's Bonage . . . . . Page He Was Lapsed . . . . . Hamuel Mrs. Allan. The King Is Coming . . . . . Roedel Mr. Payne.

Miss McAndrew's Pupils. The spring recital of the pupils of Miss Ethel McAndrew was held last evening in the recital hall of the Conservatory of Music, and was largely attended by the friends of those taking part. All performed in a very creditable manner, which spoke volumes for the excellent manner in which Miss McAndrew has trained them.

More than forty years ago in a provincial town in England a small boy sat with his father in the stalls of a theatre and saw E. A. Sothorn play the part of the hero in "The American Cousin," first presented in 1858 and last played in 1879, must have awakened strange memories in old theatre goers.

At every performance at Bennett's the crowds that are attending have left well satisfied with the fare put up for them. Manager Driscoll has seen to it that his theatre closes its first season with a bill that will be remembered as one of the best that ever came to the city. The headliners are the sketch, "The Unexpected," and Brown, Mealey and Melrose, comedy aerobats. In the former a racy plot is worked out, which is an excellent combination of excitement and humor. The description of the horse race over the "home is one of the best things ever done here in vaudeville. Brown, Mealey and Melrose, besides their aerobatic work, which is much above the average, tear off a screaming parody of a ball game. Nonette, the young lady violinist, is a talented musician, who has been receiving laurels from this city. Her programme is a mixture of the classical and popular airs. J. Warren Keene's slight-of-hand tricks are done with a marvelous rapidity, and he is one of the most popular items in the bill. The Kato Bears have made a hit with their tight-rope, refined dancing and acting. The scenery in connection with this act is gorgeous, and the rainstorm which concludes it is a triumph of stage mechanism. The inclusion of John Hackett's pupils in the bill has been endorsed by the applause they always receive. The Gardner brothers are a pair of expert roller skaters.

There are a dozen reasons why Henry Woodruff, star of "Brown of Harvard," which comes to the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening, is the ideal hero for a college play, and a dozen more why he is peculiarly qualified for preference in a college play. Mr. Woodruff is one of the few men who, at college, won equal distinction in the classroom and in athletics. He took his A. B. close to the head of his class in 1898, and at the same time was recognized as the fastest oarsman in a single shell on the Charles River. At springing and boxing, too, he was equally clever, winning the 100-yard dash at the track meet in '97 in 10.18 seconds, and being accounted the swiftest middle-weight in Harvard during his entire four years there.

Not only did he direct all Harvard's dramatic performances while he was there, but he wrote as well as staged "Bosca Bella," the play given by the Hasty Pudding Club in his graduating year. The Hasty Pudding Club is the most exclusive social organization at Harvard, and has a history as pasting the book for its annual entertainment is one of the greatest in the university. Ability, and not popularity, is the sine qua non for the man who would achieve the distinction.

Mr. Woodruff has been endorsed as the typical American college man by nearly every big university in the land. During the thirty weeks "Brown of Harvard" was played at the Princess Theatre, New York, every big institution in the East had a special night at the play. Theatre parties of college men from 300 to 500 strong attended the performance, the former number coming from institutions as far from the metropolis as Yale, Princeton, University of Pennsylvania, and Harvard itself, and the unanimous verdict was that Henry Woodruff truly typed the American college man, and that "Brown of Harvard" as truly reflected American college life.

Rev. S. B. Ronald, Presbyterian missionary to the Jews, in the course of an address on the conditions of women among the Hebrews, announces that the new mission to the Jews at 156 Teraplay street, would be opened on Monday night.

At the morning session satisfactory reports were presented from the Presbyterian Societies at Minnedosa, Orangeville, Ottawa, Owen Sound, Toronto, Stratford, Winnipeg, Regina and a number of other centres. The Indian and Chinese in the Northwest and British Columbia, and the home mission reports were presented by Mrs. Bell, Miss Craig and Miss Reid. Other reports were read by Miss George, Mrs. Robinson, Miss Parsons, Mrs. Watson, Winnipeg, and Mrs. MacGillivray.

GREAT CARGO OF BOOZE.

The Canadian Lake Steamship Line will begin a tri-weekly service between Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Port Arthur and Port William next week. The company's new steamer, Tagona, built at Glasgow, and launched a few months ago, sails for Canada on May 14 with a $150,000 cargo of Irish and Scotch whiskey for Toronto.

FORESTERS' RATES.

On account of the unfavorable weather there was not a very large attendance, last night, at the Independent Order of Foresters district meeting. The chief business was the discussion of the proposed new schedule of rates. Those present indulged in a purely informal talk, but did not decide upon any particular course of action. The subject will be thoroughly discussed before the High Court meeting.

JOHNSON GETS VOTE.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—Returns received from all parts of Minnesota up to midnight indicate that Governor John A. Johnson last night carried the Democratic primaries against Wm. J. Bryan, and that the State convention which will meet in St. Paul on May 14 will instruct the 22 delegates from Minnesota to the national convention to vote for Governor Johnson for the Presidential nomination.

WILL REQUIRE $20,000 MORE.

THAT AMOUNT REQUIRED TO FINISH THE ANNEX SEWER. Trouble With the Board of Health Over Sewer Built at the Head of Wentworth Street.

It will cost about $20,000 more to complete the building of the new east end annex sewer than the city estimated or provided funds. This fact was made known at the Sewers Committee meeting, yesterday afternoon. About $12,000 was lost on the sale of the debentures, more money was paid for the land than it was intended to expend on a site, and another $5,000 was spent on Stipes inlet.

The committee authorized a deal for the sale of land to the Hamilton Steel & Iron Company under terms already agreed upon. The city will exchange a piece of the property bought for the site for a sewer disposal plant and will receive about $14,000.

Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer, asked that a sewer be built on Ferris street, near Clark avenue. The aldermen decided this work would be done if the Board of Health ordered it. Last year the department built a sewer on Wentworth street at a cost of $300 for the Board of Health, which refused to pay the account. The aldermen recommended the Council that this be charged up against the Board's appropriation.

W. S. Moore and J. Horning were given permission to connect their premises with a sewer on Delaware avenue at a rental of $10 a year, because they contributed towards the cost of the celebrated Sherman avenue sewer, although never deriving any benefit from it. The aldermen agreed that they would not consent to connections in the township except where the applicants had contributed to the cost of the sewer. Several applications were refused on this ground.

The financial statement from the first of the year to date showed that $6,669 of the $19,000 appropriation for the sewer disposal plants had been spent, while $1,335 of the general appropriation of $7,000 has been expended.

Nominations on Wednesday for the Legislature: Liberals, Dr. Andrew MacKay in North Oxford, Mr. W. McCart in Stormont, and Mr. H. M. Kennedy in Port Arthur. Conservatives, North City, Mr. W. S. Middlebro for the Commons, and Mr. G. M. Boyd for the Legislature.

G. T. R. BUILDING.

Magnificent Structure at the Franco-British Exhibition.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) London, Eng., May 6.—Of Canada's representation at the Franco-British Exhibition, the Grand Trunk Railway building is the most advanced, and will be completed for official opening on May 14. Covering an area of two thousand square feet, the structure is erected from an original design, Renaissance architecture. Above the portico is an allegorical group representing the Grand Trunk Pacific linking the Atlantic to the Pacific. It rises to a great height, surmounted by an illuminated star, emblematic of Canada as the star of the Empire. The interior of the building is beautifully arranged, and includes a decorative frieze of grains and grasses from Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Large photographs depicting the fishing, hunting regions and popular summer resorts of Ontario, and industrial features of Eastern Canada, adorn the walls. Magnificent specimens, mounted, fish, game, among which two record moose heads from Ontario are prominently displayed in the centre of the main room, rises in pyramid, covered with natural products from the fruit districts of Ontario. The whole arrangement of the Grand Trunk building is a credit to the railway and a big advertisement for Canada.

FINE PICTURES.

Exhibition at Art School Attracting Attention.

Many visitors thronged the Art School galleries yesterday to inspect the works of Miss Otilie E. Palm, Mr. Harry A. Neyland, Mr. Albert H. Robinson and Mr. J. S. Gordon, which are on view from the 1st to the 4th of May. The exhibition is one of the most complete ever seen here and contains many beautiful and valuable paintings. There are 81 paintings on exhibition, and each one is well worth the trouble of going to see. Despite the inclement weather and counter attractions the attendance has been good since the opening. The exhibition will be open until May 28th. The paintings shown are as follows:

Paintings by Miss Otilie E. Palm—Portrait, John S. Gordon; portrait, Bertha C. Palm; Garden Study 1, 2, 3; Still Life, 1, 2; Tea Gossip.

Paintings by Harry Neyland—December (local); Brooklyn Bridge, Having Time (local); The Farm on the Hill, The Fisher Village, The Birches (Dundurn Park), The Elms, The Burning Fog, Niagara Falls, Sunrise, North River (New York), The Rolling Mills (local), Floating Clouds, The Meish Brook (local), Sunset, Boat in Fog, Hay Cocks, Clouds, Morning Shadows, Wash Day, The Lone Gate, View from Beach, Rover, White Rocks (Isle of Shoals), December Thaw, The New Moon, Blue Shadows, Fishermen's Huts, Glistening Waters, The Old Moon, Sunshine (Isle of Shoals), Early Morning (Isle of Shoals), The Maine Coast.

Paintings by Albert H. Robinson—Sunset, Ste. Agathe, Snow Scene (Rose-dale Ravine), Castle des Monts, Thunder Clouds, Snow Scene, The Deserted Homestead, Lac des Saules, French Canadian Farm, Along the Erie Canal, Snow Scene, Sawmill (Ste. Agathe), Smoke, Boats in Harbor, French Fishing Village.

Paintings by J. S. Gordon—The Japanese Gown, Meadow Rue, A Toilet, The Clock Tower, The Gold Fish Bowl, The Back Meadow, Winter Sunset, Japanese Fantasy 1, 2, 3, Fantasy Insects, Disturbed, High Noon at Red Hill (Bar-ton), Near Rockton, Evening Glow, Low Tide at Buckhaven (Fife), Departure of the Fishing Fleet (Buckhaven), Across the Fields—Spring, The Plowed Field, The Greek Poet, Fancy Head, The Prairies, Twilight, The First Plunge of Niagara, Oakville, Early Spring.

The pictures that seem to attract most notice are Miss Palm's portrait of John S. Gordon, Mr. Neyland's Maine Coast, Mr. Robinson's Village of St. Agatha, and Mr. Gordon's Japanese Gown.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

Second Wife Secures Separation From Dr. Dixon.

Buffalo, May 7.—The marriage of Emily F. Dixon and Dr. William A. Dixon was annulled by order of Justice Marcus yesterday on the ground of a previous marriage with Mary Alice Downs Dixon. Dixon made no defence. Until recently the Dixons lived on No. 314 Delaware avenue. He was employed as a traveling salesman for a drug firm. Dixon was married to Mary Alice Downs in St. Matthew's Church, Hamilton, by Rev. C. E. Whitcomb in 1892, but they separated in 1893.

Dixon declared that he lost trace of his wife and heard nothing of her for a number of years. He believed her dead, he says, until her suit for breach of promise against Senator Patrick H. McCarron, of Brooklyn, came to his notice. In the meantime, in March, 1905, he had married Emily Ferris in New York.

Several weeks ago Dixon filed papers in a divorce action against his first wife, Mary Alice Downs Dixon, naming Senator McCarron as co-respondent. When this action reached the notice of Mrs. Dixon No. 1, who was then in New York, she made a charge of bigamy against Dixon. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he kept under cover for some time. Finally he appeared before Magistrate Droegre in New York, and after a hearing, was discharged. The Judge holding that Dixon thought his wife dead when he married the second time.

GOT WIDOW'S SHARE.

Chicago, May 7.—Mrs. John Alft, Dowry was awarded $400 by the appraiser of the personal property of the late founder of Zion City yesterday. They filed their report, showing that instead of the great wealth supposed to have been held by Dowry, the total amount was $1,200. Mrs. Dowry received the widow's share, one-third.

FRANCIS JOSEPH.

Vienna, May 7.—Emperor Francis Joseph left Schoenbrunn yesterday for the first time in two months, and came to Vienna to greet the royal personages who are arriving for his jubilee. Heavy rains which have prevailed threaten to spoil the decorations which everywhere adorn the city.

MAJOR SNIPED.

London, May 7.—A despatch received here to-day from Landi-Wotl says that it is reported that Major Cope Smith, commanding the Fifteenth Camel Corps, while seeking with a mounted escort to recover stolen animals, was mortally wounded by snipers, and died before reaching camp.

A WHITNEY FALSEHOOD.

Treasurer Matheson Signed the First C. N. Guarantee.

Hon. Mr. MacKay Charges Whitney With Not Telling the Truth.

There Was No Need for a Second Canadian Northern Mortgage.

Woodstock, May 6.—Hon. A. G. MacKay, addressing the North Oxford Liberal convention to-day, brought out the fact that the first Canadian Northern guarantee was signed by the Hon. A. J. Matheson in 1906. In round terms he accused Premier Whitney of misrepresenting the facts in his Hamilton speech as to the Canadian Northern guarantee, and also accused the Provincial Treasurer of being guilty of misrepresentation. The gathering was one of the most enthusiastic held in the history of North Oxford.

The City Hall was crowded with delegates, and no less than eighteen gentlemen were nominated. Of that number, however, fourteen withdrew, and only the names of Dr. Andrew MacKay, Woodstock; Mr. D. J. Ross, Embury; Dr. John Mearns, Woodstock; and Mr. John McEvin, East Zorra, went to the convention. Finally, it was decided that Dr. MacKay should be entrusted the task of carrying the Liberal flag to victory in North Oxford.

The Liberal Charge of Affairs has stated to a journalist that the troubles in Afghanistan are due to the feebleness of the Ameer, who lacks authority over his subjects, and that they are not caused by the Anglo-Russian agreement.

Treasurer had been guilty of misrepresentation when, at Newmarket, he said that the speaker had, for political friendship, given away the Larose claim to O'Brien. When he entered into his brief term of office, Mr. MacKay explained, he found the present Deputy Minister of Mines, the Deputy Minister of Lands, and Dr. Kennedy acting as a board of arbitration and dealing with the dispute. That board had brought in a report giving a certain amount of that board, who had inquired into the facts. Colonel Matheson knew that, and he knew that the matter had been inquired into by a disinterested board.

SIXTY AFGHANS KILLED. Result of the Recent Fighting in the Khyber Pass.

London, May 6.—Sixty Afghans were killed in the fighting which took place between a large force of Afghans and the British troops last Saturday at a point in the Khyber Pass near Landikotal, according to a despatch sent in by a correspondent with the British column. A message is published here to-day from Lahore giving the Afghan dead at 300, but this communication is discredited.

New York, May 6.—A cable despatch to the Herald from St. Petersburg says: The British Charge d'Affaires has stated to a journalist that the troubles in Afghanistan are due to the feebleness of the Ameer, who lacks authority over his subjects, and that they are not caused by the Anglo-Russian agreement.

TURKISH GIRL'S ROMANCE. Escaping From Constantinople, is Now Engaged to Polish Noble.

Paris, May 6.—Mlle. Nouriveh, the daughter of the late Nouri Bey, the Turkish Foreign Minister, whose sensational escape from her father's house in Constantinople two years ago attracted unusual attention, is engaged to marry Count Ladislaus de Rohovinsky.

Mlle. Nouriveh and her sister fled from Constantinople accompanied by their governess, and although the Turkish authorities attempted to have them arrested at Belgrade and Vienna, they succeeded in reaching Paris, where they have since lived unmolested.

Their father, Nouri Bey, made them a small allowance, and the elder sister, whose engagement is now announced, is now accompanying her in-coming by writing articles for the newspapers.

SCIENTISTS PEACEFUL. But Mrs. Eddy Says They Must Not Join Peace Societies.

Boston, Mass., May 6.—Mary Baker G. Eddy has issued an edict prohibiting Christian Scientists from joining any organizations having for their object the maintenance of peace. The order takes the form of a by-law of the Church, and reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the members of the mother church and of its branch churches to promote peace on earth and good-will towards men, but to do this it is not needful to form outside organizations. Members of the mother church shall not hereafter become members of peace societies, but shall promote the welfare of all mankind by demonstrating the rules of Divine Love."

A short time ago Mrs. Eddy issued a declaration expressing her opinion that the building of battleships was an assurance of peace. One of her most famous sayings was that prohibiting her followers from holding membership in any social organizations except Masonic lodges.

DR. DOUGLAS DEAD. Speaker of Prince Edward Island Legislature Passes Away.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 6.—Dr. Douglas, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature since Feb. 25, 1905, died at his home at Hunter River this morning, after ten days' illness from pleuro-pneumonia. He was born at Hillsboro, in December, 1850, educated at McGill University and New York, and graduated M. D. C. M. at the former institution. He represented the second district of Queen's in the Liberal interests since July 11th, 1900, when he was elected in a by-election.

LOOTER WILL BE TRIED. German Officer Who Took Emperor's Marriage Certificate.

Berlin, May 6.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs at the instance of the Chinese Legation has instituted the prosecution of a German military official who was a member of the expedition against Peking in 1900 for purloining the Chinese Emperor's marriage certificate, details of which were called some time ago. The officer took the document as a souvenir, not knowing what it was, and after other looting officers of the western powers had rejected it, supposing it to be worthless. It is stated that the document passed through the hands of ten Count Von Wiersee and other high officers, none of whom objected to its removal.

Not the Liberals. The James Bay Railway Company were working under a Dominion charter, and the mortgage is registered with the Secretary of State at Ottawa was not taken by the Liberal Government at all. It is dated July 17, 1906, and it was signed on behalf of the Province by Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer. In addition, I find that the plan of the road from Toronto to Sudbury was filed two years before the taking of the mortgage. It shows the road running right through the city of Toronto, and actually to the Union Station. It goes without saying that the mortgage if properly taken covers the Toronto terminals, and includes buildings, etc., then or afterwards acquired.

Special Exceptions. The mortgage is drawn with the special exception that it does not cover lines to be built afterwards, nor does it cover certain property at Barnsdale, Muskoka, nor does it cover bonuses in connection with any of those lines. Terminals are not excepted, and it clearly follows that the original mortgage covers all terminal facilities in the city of Toronto, which would, of course, include all buildings then and afterwards erected on lands there. The arguments of the Premier and of The Mail and Empire that the mortgage only covered the middle of the road is entirely misleading and not in accordance with fact.

The Larose Deal. Turning to the Larose grant, Mr. Mackay stated that the Provincial British Shipyard Strike. Postponement Interpreted as Hopeful for Settlement.

London, May 6.—The negotiations between the shipyard owners and their locked-out employees, which have been presided over by Winston Churchill, President of the Board of Trade, have been without result thus far, but the fact that they were to-day postponed until May 11th, is interpreted hopefully. Mr. Churchill has returned to Dundee to continue his electoral campaign in that constituency.

A NATURAL DEATH. No Trace of Poison Found in Mrs. St. Pierre's Body.

Ottawa, May 6.—As a result of imputations that his wife's death might have been caused by poisoning, Mr. W. St. Pierre has issued three writs, claiming $5,000 damages each from Mrs. Clara Hugg, a sister of Mrs. St. Pierre, Mrs. Walter St. Denis, the deceased woman's mother, and Walter St. Denis, a brother.

A Dainty House Gown.

No. 5703.—In this attractive design for a wrapper, comfort and grace have both been considered. It is cut on the most simple lines and admits of several variations. The lower edge may be in round length or have a slight sweep and if low neck is not desired provision is made for high neck finished by frills of the material, but full length bishop sleeves are also provided for. A graduated circular flounce is a stylish feature of the mode, and a broad sailor collar is a charming addition, which may however be omitted. The mode is suitable for development in French challis, crepe cloth, voile, cashmere, albatross, dimity and percale. For 36-inch bust measure 8 1/2 yards of 36-inch material will be required.

Ladies' Wrapper.—In high or low neck, long or short sleeves and round or sweep length. No. 5703. Sizes for 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

The above illustration will be mailed to any address on receipt of ten cents.

HOME MADE SPRING TONIC

This is the month in which to take something to clean the blood of impurities and build up the system. The following is the recipe of a well-known authority, and anyone can prepare it at home at very little cost. Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce. Compound Salsolone, one ounce. Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces. Get these simple ingredients from your druggist, mix all together, shake well and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime. Everybody should take something to help the blood, which becomes impoverished, and almost sour after the winter season, especially those who are subject to rheumatism, catarrh, kidney and bladder trouble. It is said that one week's use of this mixture will clean the skin of sores, pimples or boils. This is sound, healthy advice, which will be appreciated by many readers.

CRISIS HAS PASSED.

Jacob H. Schiff Expects a Wave of Prosperity. New York, May 6.—Optimistic in his views, absorbed during an extended trip through Europe and Egypt, Jacob H. Schiff returned to this city yesterday on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie of the North German Lloyd from Bremen.

Regarding financial conditions both here and abroad, Mr. Schiff said he believed that the crisis had passed and that a wave of prosperity similar to that which was experienced here before the recent panic was on its way. "The financial conditions in Europe," he said, "excepting perhaps in Germany, which has its own particular difficulties, have at present much similarity to our own. In England and France money is abundant, more so, perhaps, in England, where the people for some years have been saving and accumulating, so that once more England's investing power has become large. The English, however, have grown more cautious and conservative in their investments than they formerly were. Germany has made great strides, both quantitatively and qualitatively, in the development of her industries, but that country is so largely dependent upon a foreign market as an outlet for her products that the depression prevailing all over the world has hit German manufacturers particularly hard.

"Conditions in the United States appear to be the determining factor everywhere, and we are not likely to return to normal conditions until after the presidential election, and we find what kind of tariff revision we are going to have."

SHEFFIELD

Mr. Ross Wales, of Milton, spent Sunday at his home here. Mr. and Mrs. S. Main, of Brantford, spent Easter with friends here. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Carnell have returned from a pleasant visit among relatives in Hamilton and Waterdown.

Mr. Sparling, of Trenton, spent Sunday in the village. Mr. Joseph Mewkinney, a well known and respected citizen of this place, passed away on Thursday last. The funeral, which took place on Saturday at Sheffield Cemetery, was large.

The monthly meeting of the Sheffield Ladies' Institute was held at the home of Mrs. John Malcolm on Wednesday, April 29. There were twenty-four ladies present. The meeting was opened by the reading of the Lord's Prayer. The President, Mrs. R. Martin, was in the chair. Papers were read by several on general subjects, followed by instrumental music by Miss Nellie Malcolm, after which a lengthy discussion on spring sewing was held.

Mrs. Douglas, President of the Galt Institute, gave an address on the working of that branch. The meeting then adjourned to meet again on the 27th of the present month at 2.30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Main. The subjects to be dealt with at that meeting are "Entertainment in the Home" and "Mending." All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Gummert spent Sunday in Galt. Mrs. Cora Cairns is quite indisposed. Mr. Thos. Cornell, of Galt, called on friends here last evening. Mr. Cooley is under the doctor's care. Mrs. (Dr.) Manes is holidaying in Winnipeg.

The Oddfellows of this place gave an at-home for the Galt Lodge on Monday evening last. Mr. Tempier will give an illustrated lecture in the U. B. Church on Friday evening.

CARLISLE

Sacramental services will be held in the Methodist Church next Sabbath. Mr. K. Koella is suffering from an attack of grip.

Considerable excitement was caused in the village on Tuesday afternoon, when a team owned by Mr. Hinton became frightened at a passing automobile, and, dashing through a wire fence, ran down Main street. The horses just missed smashing the plate glass window of the post office before they were stopped.

Miss Ruth Bennett, of Hamilton, is visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. H. Bennett. Miss Kathleen Morris entertained a number of her friends on Thursday at a birthday party.

The baseball team has begun practice, and will open the season on Saturday next, playing Clappison's corners, on the Carlisle diamond.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Carey and Messrs. Lorne and Roy Carey, of Freeport spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Green. Miss Harris, of Hamilton, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Allison this week.

Miss Olive Weston, of Hamilton, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hood, last week.

SCOTLAND

A very large quantity of onion seed has been sown in this place this spring. Mr. C. F. Eddy has leased his store to Mr. Charles Hunter and sister, Mrs. R. Bronson, who will put in a stock of groceries.

Farmers are very busy with their seeding and also preparing their land for planting. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Johnson, of Boston, were calling on relatives here on Friday.

Miss Grace Pitcher, of Vanessa Station, and Miss Lulu Anderson, of Boston, were calling on Miss Johnson on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McCrimmon were calling on relatives here on Tuesday.

MOIR HEADING FOR BUFFALO. London Murderer Was Seen by the Postmaster of Humberstone.

Welland, Ont., May 6.—The despatch from Dunville on Saturday stating that Moir, the London murderer, had been seen there, is now authenticated by Postmaster Elias Furry, of Humberstone. At seven o'clock on Monday morning a man entered Mr. Furry's store and bought a loaf of bread and three cents' worth of butter. Mr. Furry, on being shown a picture of Moir the next day, unhesitatingly said that his Monday morning visitor was the man.

Humberstone is about twenty miles east of where Moir was seen on Saturday night, and only 22 miles distant from the border. The police are searching every freight and passenger train bound for Buffalo. Well-igger Killed by Gas. Davidson, Sask., May 6.—Rosi M. Boyd, who arrived here a month ago from Quebec, was overcome by gas in a well being bored on the farm of W. F. Berry, near here, this morning, and died before he could be brought to the surface.

The trouble with luck is that it seldom comes back to play a return engagement.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY EVEN-NUMBERED SECTION OF Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 2 and 36, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less. Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district in which the land is situated. Entry may, however, be made at any agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the intending homesteader.

DUTIES.—(1) At least six months' residence upon satisfactory cultivation of the land in each year for three years. (2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet with this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the agent for the district of such intention. W. W. COREY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior, N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Hon. Seizaburo Shimizu at Ottawa—Immigration Question Settled.

Ottawa, May 6.—Hon. Seizaburo Shimizu, the new Japanese Consul-General to Canada, has reached Ottawa, and has been declared that since Hon. Mr. Lemieux went to Japan the statesmen there have a much better understanding of Canada's viewpoint on the immigration question, and he believed there now was almost a perfect understanding between the two countries. He did not anticipate any further emigration from Japan to Canada.

ELEVATOR INSPECTION.

An Important Amendment to the Grain Inspection Act. Ottawa, May 6.—The Government measure to amend the grain inspection act to be introduced in the Senate shortly by Sir Richard Cartwright, will, it is understood, provide for an important change in the present system of a clause providing for adequate Government inspection of all interior and terminal elevators, thereby bringing them all under Government control and remedying the chief complaints now arising out of private ownership and operation.

It is also understood that a clause will be put in the bill providing for selling grain by sample instead of by grade only, according to the present system.

"CANNING" HIS SPEECHES.

Bryan Preparing for Campaign—Snaking Into Phonograph. New York, May 6.—A despatch to The Herald from Lincoln, Neb., says: In the seclusion of his Fairview home William J. Bryan has been talking for several hours each day. His words have floated into a phonograph. His voice was in excellent condition and the results have been marvelous. It is asserted that two million records will be manufactured. Should Mr. Bryan be nominated for the Presidency he will utilize the phonograph plan and his speeches will be sent out to every hamlet.

Weakness in the Spring

is overcome when the blood is made rich and red by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. Weakness is the word which best describes the condition of most people in the spring. It may be bodily weakness, tired, draggy feeling and lack of energy and vigor.

Or it may be weakness of the heart, the nerves, the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or other vital organs. Stimulants only give temporary relief. That is absolutely necessary is rich, red blood such as is formed by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, to nourish the organs back to health and vigor so that they can derive nourishment from the food.

Because of its blood-building qualities Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is marvelously successful as a spring restorative. 50c a box, at all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every box of the genuine.

WREN AND WOMEN. Use Big 4 for unnatural discharges, inflammation, irritations or ulcerations of the female membrane. Painless, and not irritating. Sold by Druggists, or sent in plain wrapper. Price, 25c. Per box, 50c. or 3 boxes $1.25. Circular sent on request.

RAIN CAUSED POSTPONEMENT.

Opening of the Baseball Season To-day Is Off.

Ray Wolf of the Michigan State League Signed by Hamilton—Bartl Won a Bloody Match at Akron.

Rain to-day compelled Manager Paige to postpone the opening of the professional baseball season. A telegram was sent to Niagara Falls this morning informing Manager Murray of the weather conditions here, and requesting "the Yankees" not to come until to-morrow morning. If the weather clears up the opening game will take place at Britannia Park, starting at 4 o'clock. The teams will line up as follows:

Niagara Falls—Tierno 3b, Kelly 2b, Armstrong c. f., Toy 1b, Robertson 1. f., Wagner s. s., McCabe c., Bates r. f., Doremus, Bradley or Beaver p.

Hamilton—Brennen or Curtis 3b, Finemore s. s., Carey 2b., McMillen 1. f., Hackbusch c. f., Bradford r. f., Maxey 1b., Muir, Gieson and Fenske p., Howard and De Rohn c.

RAY WOLF SIGNED.

This morning Manager Paige received a letter from Ray Wolf, of Springfield, Ohio, accepting the terms offered to him to play third base. Paige at once telegraphed for him to come on, and arrive here in time for Saturday's game. Wolf played with the Tecumseh, Mich. team last year, the winners of the Michigan State League.

CITY LEAGUE OPENING.

The City Baseball League completed arrangements for the season at a meeting held at Skerrett's last evening. The Broadviews were admitted to the league instead of the Senecas. The opening games will be played on Saturday next at the Asylum grounds at 3 o'clock between the Crescents and Asylum. At the Mountain View Park the Alerts and F. A. B. will meet at 2 o'clock, and the Broadviews and Jays at 4.

EASTERN LEAGUE SCORES.

At Providence—Providence took the first game of the series from Montreal yesterday after ten innings. The game was marked by free hitting on both sides. Score: R. H. E. Providence . . . . . 5 10 2 Montreal . . . . . 4 13 4 Batteries—Cronin and W. Clark; Keefe and E. Clark.

COVERING FOR THE INFIELD.

Toronto, May 7.—While the Pittsburgh National management is considering the innovation of keeping the infield covered by night, the Toronto management has gone ahead with the venture and ordered a tarpaulin cover large enough to protect the infield and the outfield for a distance of twenty feet back from the base lines.

The cover consists of 1,900 feet of heavy tarpaulin, and is spread every night, no matter what the weather indications. It is often possible to play games after the use of the cover which would otherwise have to be postponed on account of wet grounds.

The first move toward cutting down the squad during the opening of the season was made yesterday. Pitcher Eddie Connolly was notified that he had been loaned to the Albany club of the New York State League. Connolly is a big fellow of the Applegate type, with good curves, speed and control. He is a fast fielder, and a good hitter for a pitcher, but lacks the experience which is necessary in the Eastern League. If he improves rapidly in the State League he may be recalled before the end of the present season.

EXCITEMENT AT GUELPH.

Guelph, May 6.—The team that will go to London to-morrow to represent the Maple Leafs in their first exhibition game will have on it five local men, who will be given their first try-out. The Guelph team will likely line up as follows: Pitcher, Turner or Clark; catcher, Drome; infield, McTaggale 1b., Carr 2b., McGuire s. s., King 3b., outfield, A. Murray, Williams, Shea and Clark. Manager Murray has signed two new men, and J. Connors, a first baseman, from Troy, N. Y., and Tom Garvey, of Lima, Ohio. Garvey is a pitcher. He signed with Columbus early in the season, but was farmed out to Lima.

FOUL TIPS.

A meeting of the West End Junior Baseball League will be held at Skerrett's this evening. Any business in connection with the league opening on Sat-

ARASEE WON.

The Columbia Selling Stakes at 7 to 1.

New York, May 7.—Cold, disagreeable weather kept the attendance down at the Jamaica track yesterday, and only a small crowd turned out. Arasee, backed down from 7 to 1 to 9 to 2, easily won the Columbia Selling Stakes, one and one-sixteenth miles, defeating the odds-on favorite, Castlewood. Arasee took the lead easily, and opening up a big lead, gradually increased his advantage to the end, where he won by four lengths. Castlewood was three lengths before Aluda. Jockey G. Swain was suspected for the remainder of the meeting. Shilling rode Silk Hose, in at 15 to 1.

FOXHOUNDS FOR OTTAWA.

London, May 7.—Seven fox-hounds from the Duke of Westminster's famous pack, and exceptionally fine animals, were despatched to Dr. Webster, of the Ottawa Hunt, per steamer Laxe Manitoba.

WOODBINE WORK OUT.

Toronto, May 7.—The most interesting work of the training at Woodbine yesterday was that of the Dymott King's Plater, Courtown II, who was sent a mile in 1:46, the best of the season. He was tiring at the end, but that was to be expected after so smart a performance, and he will undoubtedly be benefited by the work. His way of going was favorably commented on by the trainers, and left the impression that the good things said about him were quite justified. The three-year-old Canmie Maid worked with him, and did a trifle the better of it at the end. She is a seasoned mare, and won several races last year. The first furlong was done in 1:12 3/4, quarter in 2:41 3/4, three furlongs in 3:7, half-mile in :50, five furlongs in 1:03 1/4, three-quarters in 1:18 1/4, and the mile in 1:46. Excelsior, the

OLD CRESTALLEN HAD HALF A MILE ALONE.

Old Crestallen had half a mile in 1:40 2/3, the first part at a slightly faster rate. The two-year-olds, Stormcloud and Devancon, covered half a mile in 33 seconds, while the Fort Hunter youngsters, Fort Garry and Fort Simpson, took three seconds longer for the same journey. Teacup had six furlongs in 1:21.

BARON DILLON KILLED.

Lexington, Ky., May 7.—Baron Dillon, 2:12, the noted trotting sire, while being jogged upon the turnpike, fell and broke both his forelegs, and was destroyed. Baron Dillon was the property of J. E. Wells, of Jersey City, N. J., and was located at the Allendale Farm, owned by Jerry L. Patton, near this city. He was by Baron Wilkes, 2:18, out of Mattie Nutwood, by Nutwood. During his stud career Baron Dillon has given to the turf twenty-three standard performers, and was one of the most promising young sires in all Kentucky.

A Clergyman Out For Fun.

Of course, I believe in the bicycle. It makes the day longer, the mile shorter, everything I want nearer, and anything I don't want easier to get away from, besides all the fun of it. Rev. William Channing Gannett, Unitarian clergyman, author, Rochester, N. Y.

HURTUBISE WON AGAIN.

Peterboro, May 7.—The handicap wrestling match here last night between Eugene Hurtubise, of this city, and Frank Kennedy, of New York, in which the local man was to throw his opponent four times in an hour, came to a sudden and unexpected ending. Hurtubise went right after the New Yorker on the start, and in four minutes secured the first fall with a body hold.

SWASTIKAS WON SERIES.

At the Y. M. C. A. last night the Rangers defeated the Wanderers in the closing game in the City Basketball League. The score was 45 to 12. Following is the standing of the teams:

Team	Won	Lost
Swastikas	6	1
Rangers	5	2
Alexanders	4	3
East Hamilton	4	3
Clerks	3	4
Tigers	2	5
Wanderers	2	4

BOWLING SCORES.

In the City Bowling League series last night, the Hamilton II, won three games from the Wood-Valance team. The scores:

Team	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	5th	6th	7th	8th	9th	10th	Total
Archeon	129	174	184	154	178	143	112	94	319

LONGBOAT QUILTS TRAINING.

Caledonia, May 6.—(Special)—Tom Longboat's race against a horse from Hageraville to Caledonia will be postponed to-day owing to rain and bad roads.

SOME SNAPSHOTS AT SPORTS AND SPORTSMEN

The system of speculation in vogue at the Louisville Jockey Club's present meeting cannot be said to have a fair trial until it has been in use for a little time. That is, as far as affairs go in America. That it is workable and eminently superior to the bookmaking system has long ago been established by the experience of other countries. To the long-shot player one outstanding result of the first day was that it gave a return of $407.00 for $3 in the case of backers of Nancy for a place in the last race. Nancy, by the way, is a sister to the Two Thousand Guineas, winner of yesterday. Only two tickets were sold, and the pickers therefore divided the pool into two portions only. Some merits of the individual system are that it is far less expensive to the player than bookmaking, the "kitty" being fixed and small; it eliminates any class interest in the result; it abolishes any line of cleavage represented by layers and backers, and reduces speculation simply to individual betting. The plunger and the picker are not provided for, and they are not wanted. Undoubtedly the many advantages of the system will result in its general adoption, and the effect will be enormously beneficial. The poolroom and the handbook are hampered, if not entirely suppressed, under this system.

Commodore Patsy Roach says if the rain continues he will give "that torn tarpaulin" to the manager of the Tigers, to cover the infield with.

Toronto Globe: The King's active participation in the sport of the turf, in which his revered mother was also interested to the extent of breeding some of the best of race horses and regularly attending the Ascot meeting, brings up some recollection of a remark made at the time he succeeded to the throne of England. After the period of mourning his passed a rumor was printed that when he returned to the turf the King, who had been successful as the Prince of Wales, would do so under an assumed name. This is a fairly common turf custom throughout the world, and an assumed name is not in any way a manner of concealment, all such being registered with the turf governing bodies before they can be used. In the case of the King of England it would have been eminently fitting had the Sovereign decided to take part under a nom de course in a sport in which he would be viewing his subjects on absolutely equal terms, but that was not the interpretation put upon the rumor in some quarters.

Is Roseben all in? Has the "big train," the mighty son of Ben Strome—Roseben, and the idol of the eastern turf, seen his best days? This is the one question turfmen and turf followers have been asking each other since the peerless sprinter went down to ignominious defeat twice last week in company which it was thought he could smother with his speed.

Day Johnson, the owner, whose affectionate regard for the big gelding is as tender as that of a father for his child, and Trainer Frank Weir, who fairly idolized his pet, are loath to believe that the King of sprinters has run his last good race. But wise turf followers shake their head, satisfied that he is a hushen—N. Y. Telegraph.

It is expected that Bobby Kerr and some other Hamilton athletes will go to London to take part in the Olympic trial games to be held in Queen's Park on May 16th. A large programme of events has been prepared, and the most promising to be the biggest thing of the kind ever held in the Forest City.

Two of our most illustrious Presidents were devotees of racing. The immortal Washington owned and raced thoroughbreds and at least one meeting officiated as steward. And the great Ulysses S. Grant yielded to no man in his love for the thoroughbreds. It might not be strictly the fact to say that he was the actual owner of some horses that raced, but it certainly is the fact that he was always a patron of the sport and not only attended the races but, whenever it was possible spent the week's end with his lifelong friend Governor Brown, of Maryland, going every day to the training track and spending hours watching the work of the horses.

At that time John Hyland was trainer for Mr. Brown and he may tell you that an ardent admirer of the thoroughbred the great President was. Thomas Jefferson, General Wade Hampton, Governor Butler, of South Carolina—these are but a few of the men illustrious in public as in private life that raced horses both for the pleasure it afforded a man for the benefit of agriculture and the horse product which they knew to be, and jealously will say that their citizenship and their standing was a law to the normal.

Racing dates back in this country to the very pioneer days when men were rugged in their honesty and in their ideals and when they pursued

MANY GREAT MEN ENJOYED RACING.

Washington and Grant Were Like King Edward.

"In these days," said a member of the Jockey Club at Jamaica on Saturday to a New York reporter, "it seems to be assumed by certain persons that an aloofness, at least, if not positive hostility to racing and all its allied interests, was an aid to pre-emption to high places." And that this is so the recent conference attempted in New York by Gen. Woodford on behalf of Governor Hughes may be cited. He thought it "would aid the Governor as a candidate for the Presidency if he succeeded in wiping out the sport. Well, if this is so, times have changed for a surely and with men.

Two of our most illustrious Presidents were devotees of racing. The immortal Washington owned and raced thoroughbreds and at least one meeting officiated as steward. And the great Ulysses S. Grant yielded to no man in his love for the thoroughbreds. It might not be strictly the fact to say that he was the actual owner of some horses that raced, but it certainly is the fact that he was always a patron of the sport and not only attended the races but, whenever it was possible spent the week's end with his lifelong friend Governor Brown, of Maryland, going every day to the training track and spending hours watching the work of the horses.

At that time John Hyland was trainer for Mr. Brown and he may tell you that an ardent admirer of the thoroughbred the great President was. Thomas Jefferson, General Wade Hampton, Governor Butler, of South Carolina—these are but a few of the men illustrious in public as in private life that raced horses both for the pleasure it afforded a man for the benefit of agriculture and the horse product which they knew to be, and jealously will say that their citizenship and their standing was a law to the normal.

Racing dates back in this country to the very pioneer days when men were rugged in their honesty and in their ideals and when they pursued life, liberty and happiness in many fashions—when they mined their own business. You will find in Bancroft's history that as far back as 1656 to improve the thoroughbred was an early object of pride, favored by legislation and that speed was specially valued.

John J. Hyland, who is spoken of in the interview given above, in my years on the turf, was a better sportsman or knew more about a horse than he did. He understood the practical value of the horse as well for he had been through things that tested the different sorts of horses in practical manner. I remember very well his many visits down to the home of Mr. A. D. Brown, of Baltimore, for whom I then was training and the thoroughbred was always what attracted him most.

He would spend hours with us talking of pedigree and of racing and never seemed to tire of watching the gallops. Many a time I recall his going with me into the infield and remaining there during the schooling. He enjoyed racing and made no secret of it and he enjoyed the racing because he knew that it was the test. He believed it took contest to bring out the best and certainly if any man ever lived who had a right to know, President Grant was the man. His visits to my training stable I always remember as one of the most pleasant experiences I ever had. There wasn't a man or boy of us that wouldn't have climbed the Washington monument if he had asked us because he was such a wholesome gentleman and had such a fondness for horses.

While Mr. Hyland said he had no knowledge on the matter and thought it never was published, it was quite generally understood that President Grant, if he was not the sole owner, had at least an interest in the well-known performer, General Harney, if not in some other horses that bore the silks of the Maryland sportsman.

HEADLIGHT FOR HORSES

Eugene L. Richards, a teacher in the Goshen (Conn.) academy, has been granted letters patent for a headlight for horses. The light, a six candle power incandescent electric lamp, is suspended in front of the horse's breast. A wire connects with electric batteries which are carried in the vehicle.

COULD JACKSON WHIP JEFFRIES?

Some Items From the World's Scrap Pile.

Chas. "Parson" Davies, now settled down in business in New Orleans, was in his time the manager of John L. Sullivan; managed the late Peter Jackson for many years, and was also the backer of Joe Choynski. Davies recently bemoaned the fact that there are no good fighters before the public to-day.

"The period from 1880 to 1900 was the golden age," said the veteran sporting man. "Look at the names of Sullivan, Paddy Ryan, Smith, Mitchell, Kilrain, Slavin, Goddard, Joe McAuliffe, Jackson, Corbett, Sharkey, Fitzsimmons and Jeffries. I mention only the big men, because it is in their doings that public interest centres."

"In that period I think I saw every big fight. My judgment on men of the ring is not the same as some of my contemporaries. For instance, in the argument as between Sullivan and Jeffries my views are very decided.

"Jeffries would have whipped Sullivan the best day the big fellow ever saw. I say it in no unkindness, but to my mind Sullivan was an overrated man. He had not the build of a world-beater. He was short as compared to Jeffries, his legs were pitifully out of proportion to his great chest, and he was no notable boxer.

"Jackson and Jeffries would have made the greatest match in the history of the ring, provided that the pair could have been brought together when poor Peter was at his best.

"There never was a greater man than Jackson. He had the height, the reach and the head. He could box like Tommy Ryan, hit like Fitzsimmons, and be as cool as Griffo. Jeffries at his best was a wonderful man, and in our time I can think of only one fighter who had a right with him. That was Jackson. It would have been an even chance, with my preference leaning a little to the negro.

"Peter was a rare type. He was conscious of his color, but not ashamed of it. He never obtained a dinner on the company of white men, unless first sought, and even then he never overstepped the bounds of propriety. No wonder that in England, where race prejudice is less keen than here, he ever was the idol of the sporting public.

"Yet all Peter's greatness, Corbett should have beaten him in the sixty-one round battle. It is a fact little known that in that contest both men were ill before they went into the ring. Neither man had any right to be fighting, and it was only gameness that carried them through.

"Contrary to the general opinion, it was not a great fight. From the fortieth round on they were too weak to do much battling. In fact, it became so slow that I quit them along about the forty-fifth and went to bed."

KETCHEL IS AFTER BURNS.

San Francisco, May 7.—Stanley Ketchel announces his intention of matching himself with any of the heavyweights in the country (Twin Sullivan next Saturday afternoon. The Grand Rapids middleweight topped off his training before a vast gathering of fight fans, and booms up a perfect fighting machine, which is almost certain to set the Boston light-heavy out of the mill has passed the twentieth round. In meeting the bigger of the Sullivan brothers Ketchel will tackle a rugged, slashing miller, who has a shade on the young whirlwind, who a few weeks ago put Barney Mike out in three punches. Ketchel's terrific hitting ability and his wonderful knack of scoring with both hands while going at top speed, is fancied by the bettors, who have favored Ketchel in a majority of the light layers, which has been made up to this time on the outcome of the battle.

BURNS NOT COMING HOME.

Mrs. Tommy Burns, wife of the champion pugilist, has left for New York, where she will sail for England the latter part of the week. In London she will join her husband, who will take her to Carlisle in an effort to restore her health. Burns denies any intention of coming home for the present.

He expects to match with Johnson, but will not fight before fall. He will go to Carlisle with Mrs. Burns, and will spend two or three months there. Burns says that his constant training of the past year makes necessary a rest before working for as tough a man as Johnson.

A BLOODY BOUT.

Fred Bartl Defeated Jobson, the Scandinavian.

Akron, Ohio, May 7. (Special)—Last night Fred Bartl won two falls from Harold Jobson, the Scandinavian, and retained the middleweight wrestling championship. He got the first fall in 38 minutes and the second in 29 minutes. The match was the roughest ever seen here, both men being covered with blood. Bartl, who is a great favorite here, was loudly cheered.

HURTUBISE WON AGAIN.

Peterboro, May 7.—The handicap wrestling match here last night between Eugene Hurtubise, of this city, and Frank Kennedy, of New York, in which the local man was to throw his opponent four times in an hour, came to a sudden and unexpected ending. Hurtubise went right after the New Yorker on the start, and in four minutes secured the first fall with a body hold.

After the rest Hurtubise remained on the aggressive, and in one minute got a second fall with an arm and body hold. In doing so he severely strained the muscles of Kennedy's neck and right shoulder, and two doctors who were called advised him not to go on. Kennedy was going to continue in spite of this, but the police prevented him, and before Yokome awarded the match to Hurtubise.

SWASTIKAS WON SERIES.

FOUND DEAD.

Traveller For Hamilton House Succumbed at Brandon.

Mr. James Alexander, western representative of the Dominion Drug Company, of this city, and one of the best known drug travellers in this country, was found dead in bed at the Grand View Hotel, Brandon, Man., about noon yesterday. Deceased was a native of Kingston, and has been a trusted and valued employee of the Dominion Drug Co. for the past five years, before which he travelled for Henry Skinner & Co., of Kingston. He was about 44 years of age, and unmarried. The remains will be shipped to his home in Kingston for interment.

The funeral of Robert Amos took place this afternoon, from his late residence, 227 Bay street north. Rev. Dr. Lyle conducted the service. Deceased was a native of Kingston, and has been a trusted and valued employee of the Dominion Drug Co. for the past five years, before which he travelled for Henry Skinner & Co., of Kingston. He was about 44 years of age, and unmarried. The remains will be shipped to his home in Kingston for interment.

The funeral of Lizzie Whitney, wife of T. A. Smith, Dundas, took place from the residence of her mother, Mrs. E. T. Whitney, 223 Park street north, yesterday afternoon at 2.30. The floral tributes were very numerous. The pallbearers were Benjamin and Petrie Whitney, brothers of deceased; E. C. Shepherd, T. E. Peters, John Atkins and William Johnson.

Much sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Millward upon the loss of their infant son Vernon, aged seven months, who passed away early this morning at the residence of his parents, 48 King street west. The funeral, which is private, will be held on Friday.

LATE COMERS

Caused Trouble at Opera House Last Night.

A well known young business man had some trouble at the Grand last night, and as a result he threatens to take action against the proprietor of the theatre. It appeared he and a friend had tickets for seats near the orchestra, and as the performance had started before they arrived they were told they would have to take back seats till after the first act. The business man insisted on being shown to his seat, and was told he could get his money back, but he could not take his seat till the drop of the curtain. The argument became so spirited that a policeman was called, and the men left without asking for the refund of their money.

WAS A JOKE.

Yesterday afternoon a man called at the Times office and inserted a small ad. in the want column—200 men wanted, apply at once to Court House Hotel. No sooner was the paper on the streets than the hotel began to be besieged with applicants. There was no one there wanting men; the affair evidently being a joke. That sort of thing need to be considered smart on April 1st. It reminds one of the April fool coal order of a few years ago, when every coal dealer in the city received an order to deliver black diamonds at the home of a certain well known citizen. But the men who applied for work yesterday did not appreciate April fool jokes in May.

FIFTY-NINE CENT SALE

To be Continued Friday—More Amazing Value-Giving.

The Right House announces in their big ad. in to-night's paper, the continuation of the great 59c sale that has attracted the attention of every lover of good values in the vicinity. By special request of scores of customers, this sale has been extended for Friday instead of the regular Friday programme. More new lines have been added, making this last day of 59c offerings even more astonishing than the two previous days.

A visit to The Right House will cause you amazement at the purchasing power of this magic price—fifty-nine cents.

Thomas C. Watkins is also holding a big reduction sale of curtains, carpets, rugs, linoleum, draperies, bedding and upholstery. No better time to furnish than now at this sale.

The great absolute reduction sale of household linens, sheetings and pillow cottons has but two more days to run. Are you sharing the savings? Right House regular prices are reduced a fifth to a third and even more. Only two days left. Supply every need for months to come, to-morrow.

UP IN THE AIR.

Hotel Employees Who Helped Had No Union Cards.

Chicago, May 7.—Industrious and charitably inclined employees of the Wellington Hotel have succeeded in getting the management of that hostelry into considerable trouble with a score of labor unions and incidentally tying up work on the pending improvements indefinitely. It all grew out of a natural desire of the hotel employees to assist in hurrying the work on the improvements. According to charges of the union officials, these employees extended the plumbing and carried on other branches of work during the night, after the regular workers had gone home.

As the hotel men were not members of these unions, complaints immediately were made. Yesterday 250 workers, representing practically every branch of the Building Trades Association went on strike, because they believed that these non-union men were encroaching upon their territory.

Meanwhile the hotel is, strictly speaking, "up in the air," hoisted upon jacks, where the union men have left it.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The Moulders' Affairs Are Being Straightened Out.

There was a meeting of the Iron Moulders' Union, last night, and Mr. M. J. Keough, the international officer, who has been here for some days, made a verbal report on the conference he has held with the foundrymen in regard to wages. That is about all the information that Mr. Keough and members of the union would give out in regard to it. Mr. Keough said that the trouble here was practically confined to one shop, and he hoped that would be fixed up to-day, as he has been called to Cincinnati and will leave for that city in the morning. "I think," he said, "that the foundrymen realize that if there was a reduction in wages here it would mean a reduction in other places, and the result is that the middlemen would get the benefit of the reduced prices. It would disturb trade. The claim made in a certain quarter that the moulders' scale here is higher than in other Canadian centres is not well founded."

In regard to the trouble of the pressers in the clothing factory of Copley, Noyes & Randall, it is stated that union officials have taken the applications of all pressers who desire to join, and have forwarded a petition to headquarters for help. It was feared that there may be a break in pressers' wages, which run from $12 to $16 a week. Under the piece work system some of the men can make only $10 or $11 a week, it is claimed.

GOULD AND HUBERT

Will Represent Hamilton at C. L. A. Meeting

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Hamilton Lacrosse Club at the Royal Hotel this morning, Messrs. J. G. Gould and Fred Hubert were appointed delegates to the meeting of the C. L. A. in Toronto to-morrow; to arrange the senior series. It is thought that the league will be composed of Hamilton, Brantford, St. Catharines and Galt.

A meeting of the directors of the Britannia Athletic Company was held last night to consider the proposition made by the Hamilton Lacrosse Club in regard to playing the C. L. A. games at Britannia Park. The club wants a long stand built in the west side of the grounds. The directors decided to get tenders on the work required and to decide on the proposition later.

Milwaukee, May 7.—Al Wolgast, of Milwaukee, got the decision over Frankie Neil, of Chicago, in a 16-round bout before the Green Valley boxing club last night. It was Wolgast's fight all the way through, the Californian getting even break in the 6th only. Neil was forced to cover up in the ninth and was all but out in the last round.

New York, May 7.—According to the Tribune to-day, Treasurer Julian Wientz, of the American Olympic Committee has made a detailed statement of the various donations to a fund to send a representative U. S. team to the Olympic games in England this summer. Up to date, he reports only $11,041 has been subscribed, which is far short of the $50,000 which the American committee estimates will be necessary to send a strong team abroad.

THE PRIVATE GRAVEYARD.

basement, a sort of ice box, that no one ever knew much about. It was a big place, capable of accommodating several persons.

This place near a door which led out to the backyard is believed to have been the temporary morgue for the victims. So many bodies have been found that the authorities believed that the woman saved her victims and disarticulated the bodies in groups, and buried them that way, sewed up in gunny sacks, adding chloride of lime to the earth to aid disintegration.

Additional light on the methods by which Mrs. Bella Guinness caused the death of her farm, one mile north of here by poison, who are supposed to have fallen victims to her lust for money, was shed early to-day by Ask K. Hegelein, brother of Andrew Hegelein, of Mansfield, South Dakota, whose dismembered corpse is among the nine thus far found. Hegelein told the coroner that not only had his brother been in communication with the woman, but also that she had written to him after Andrew's disappearance in an attempt to induce him to come to this city.

"Sell your brother's stock and come here and we will hunt your brother together," was the gist of the epistles written in Norwegian and as yet only partially translated. The letters are jealously guarded by Hegelein by orders of Ralph N. Smith, prosecuting attorney, here has been revealed to show that the woman had attempted to gain a hold over the nearest relative of her latest victim.

Rain may interfere with further examinations to-day. The Interfering Ad. Chicago, May 7.—Following is Mrs. Guinness' matrimonial ad. with which victims were lured to death. "Personal—Comely widow, who owns large farm in one of the finest districts in Laporte County, Ind., desires to make the acquaintance of gentleman, unusually well provided, with view of joining fortunes. No replies by letter considered unless sender is willing to follow answer with personal visit."

AWFUL.

The Times this morning received the following from New York by post card special, dated May 6: "First Regiment Canadian Republican Army leaves 66 East 4th street, New York city, Friday, May 8, 8 p. m., for Winnipeg, to organize Canadian Republic. W. R. Hearst, President; Col. Abe Shipley.

Fun for the Boy.

The parents of a Baltimore lad, a pupil in one of the public schools, are fond of boasting that their hopeful has never missed a day's attendance at school during a period of eleven years. On one occasion the proud father was asked to explain how this apparently impossible feat had been accomplished. "Did he have the usual childish diseases—measles, whooping cough and so on?" the father was asked. "O, yes." "How, then, could he have always been at school?" "The fact is," explained the father, "he always had 'em during the holidays."—Harper's Weekly.
