Guelph Evening Mercury

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 20, 1873.

Town and County News.

The Rev. John Gemmill will preach in Knox Church on Sabbath next.

BALL AND SUPPER.—To-morrow (Friday) evening, the Guelph Firemen's annual Ball and Supper will be held in the Town Hall, and a pleasant time is looked forward to. Tickets, $1.50 each, may be procured from any of the officers. We hope to see a good turn-out.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Rev. Joel Briggs, P. G. W. P., will deliver a lecture on the subject of prohibition, in the Good Templar's hall, to-night, commencing at eight o'clock. Friends and opponents of prohibition, and the public generally, are cordially invited to be present.

BAND CONCERT.—A grand vocal and instrumental concert will be given by the Venturi Horn Band, in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening next, 25th inst. Admission 25 cents. As the band contributed to the amusement of the public during the summer months, on the market square, gratuitously, no doubt for this and other reasons, there will be a bumper house on Tuesday evening.

ANDER'S INSURANCE COMPANY.—It is now quite certain that the creditors of the Aikie's Insurance Company in Canada will not realize the full amount of their claims—certainly not from the assets in Canada. In closing up its affairs loss has been added to loss; the assets have dwindled down, and from facts reported to us by their special agent now in this country we conclude that American creditors are not likely to fare any better than Canadian. We would advise holders of existing policies to place their risks elsewhere.

PUBLIC MEETING.—A meeting to consider the best measures to be adopted for supplying this district with the agricultural and other laborers so greatly needed, will be held here on Tuesday evening next, the 26th of February, in the Council room, or some other suitable place to be made known (the hall being occupied for a Band concert), when John A. Donaldson, Esq., Immigration Agent, Toronto, G. T. Haigh, Ontario Immigration Agent, Quebec, and other gentlemen will address the meeting. A full attendance is requested.

POLICE COURT.

Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M.

Thursday, Feb. 20.

Margaret and Michael Gallagher charged John Carney with threatening to do them bodily harm. Bound over to keep the peace for 12 months.

Wm. Murphy was charged by Charles Coffey with allowing four cows to run at large, contrary to by-law. Case withdrawn on payment of costs.

LITTEL'S LIVING AGE.—The numbers of The Living Age, dated respectively Feb. 8th and Feb. 15th, contain the following noteworthy articles: Mr. Erond's English in Ireland, by W. E. H. Locky, Macmillan's Magazine; The Emperor Alexander and the Policy of Russia, British Quarterly Review; Heroism, by C. Kingsley, Cornhill Magazine; Some Curiosities of Criticism, Fraser's Magazine; Paganini, Good Words; The Three Interests in Old English Literature, Contemporary Review; "An Ugly Dog," Cornhill Magazine; The Emperor Napoleon, Economist; Brantome, Cornhill Magazine; Overwork, Saturday Review; Dr. Carpenter on Mental Acquisition and Inheritance, Spectator; together with instalments of "His Little Serene Highness," translated from the Paris Deutsch-Fritze Review, and of "The Two Brothers," by M. Ereckman-Chatrin poetry and miscellany. The first number of January began a new volume and new series, with entirely new serials, affording an unusually excellent opportunity for the beginning of new subscriptions. The subscription price of this 64 page weekly magazine is $8 a year, or for $10 any one of the American $4 magazines is sent with The Living Age for a year. Littell & Gay, Boston, Publishers.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—We have received from the publishers, James R. Osgood & Co., Boston, the March number of this valuable monthly. Contents: The Quarrel of Jefferson and Hamilton; The Making of the future; A Poet; The Abbe Gallani; My Sparrows; Robert Owen at New Lanark; Best; A Good Word for Quakers; Life under Glass; Heartbreak Hill; A Chance Acquaintance; John Reed's Thoughts; Recent Literature; Art, Music, Science, Politics. For sale at the Bookstores.

BY THE WATERS OF DAVENON.—Such is the title of a new sacred song, laid upon our table by Anderson. Words from Psalm xxviii; music by Rev. John McCaul, L.L.D.

A second supply of bound vols. of British Workman and British Workwoman to hand, at Anderson's Book Store.

Local and Other Items.

A grand public dinner to Sir Hugh Allan, prior to his departure for England is on the tapis.

A man named Black, resident in Galt, was committed to jail, this week, for beating his wife.

The February cattle fair held in Galt was well attended, beef selling from 24 to 42 cents per pound.

An evening class is about to be opened in Galt, by the Mechanics' Institute, for the purpose of teaching drawing.

The complimentary dinner given to Messrs. Allan and Brown, in Galt, on the 11th inst., was a very pleasant affair.

Heavy rains are reported from all sections of Virginia, and several lands slides on the railways have caused much damage.

This morning a party of engineers left for Glenora, to make preparations for laying a double track for the Great Western Railway to Windsor.

Isabella, once Queen of Spain, is in appearance younger, healthier and happier than when she reigned at Madrid. She is at Paris now. Affairs in Spain may possibly interfere somewhat with her enforced quietude.

CANADIAN SOUTHERN.—The construction trains on the Canadian Southern are working night and day to complete the track. The last tie and rails are expected to be put down on Thursday, about six miles east from this place. Several officials of the road will be at the ceremony.

COAL MINE EXPLOSION.—An explosion occurred on Tuesday, the 18th inst., in the coal mine in Talk o' the Hill, in Staffordshire, while the men were at work. Between thirty and forty miners are reported killed. The fire which broke out after the explosion was extinguished with difficulty. No bodies have yet been recovered.

An individual, resident in Sarnia, admits having incurred a bill of $1,100 for liquors, used in the family and for guests, during the past year. A clergyman, speaking in a temperance meeting, referred to the matter, and the local papers have been discussing the subject and the veracity of this individual and the clergyman.

"Wearing of the Green" may be rather dangerous even in a hall-room. A lady in London was recently conveyed from the gay and festive scene, prostrated by exhalations from the beautiful green robe which she wore. The most powerful antidotes failed to recover the fair one; but when a friend knelt and whispered to her that "her false hair was coming off," she recovered instantly.

THE WITNESS LIBEL SUIT.—The decision in the Montreal Witness libel suit will be given by Police Magistrate Judah on the 25th proximo. The case is causing the utmost excitement. It is also rumored that the Witness is in for two other suits—one by the Belgian Bros. for defaming their characters; and the other by the Gas Works—damages rumored to be asked, $100,000.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred in St. Catharines on Tuesday morning. Patrick Goodenough, employed in Mr. Simpson's ship yard, was engaged in hoisting a beam from the ground to the vessel, when it swung round, catching him between it and one of the stanchions, crushing his head badly, at the same time stunning him so that he lost his footing and fell into the hold of the vessel. He was immediately conveyed to his home, where medical attendance was sent for. He is in a very precarious condition, but hopes are entertained of his recovery.

LIBEL SUITS.—Libel suits against newspapers appear to be about as barren of pecuniary profit on the other side of the Atlantic as they usually are on this side. The agent of the late Marquis of Hertford was called upon to resign by Richard Wallace, the successor to the Irish estates of that deceased absentee and voluntary. The Northern Whig, of Dublin, congratulated the tenants on their escape from the dictatorial rule of the agent. The latter brought a libel suit, and obtained a verdict for $500, in stead of $50,000, which he wanted to get. The defendant is not willing to pay even $500, and has applied for a new trial. People who are waiting for verdicts against newspapers to pay off mortgages with, should take warning.

DEATH OF REV. MR. PELLER.—The sudden death of this reverend gentleman, on Wednesday, has taken his friends by surprise. He was cheerful on Friday, apparently in good health and robust strength, and made several calls; to-day the place that knew him once knows him no more. Mr. Pellar was born in or near Perth, Scotland, in the year 1811, and was, consequently, in his sixty-second year. He had been a resident of Canada for 15 years. He leaves a wife and six children to lament his loss. His oldest son, his pride and joy, ministers to a large and flourishing church in Glasgow—the sad intelligence has yet to reach him; the others are at hand, to mingle their regret with ours. The lesson comes fraught with power to each of our readers, lay or clerical: "Be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye know not the Son of man cometh."

SEVERAL important Government Bills passed this reading yesterday besides the Lien Act. Among them were the Drainage (Municipal Debentures) Bill; the Deaf and Dumb and Blind Institutions Bill, and the Telegraph Messages (evidence) Bill. No less than four important Ministerial bills passed a third and final reading yesterday. This shows that the Government is pushing through the public business as fast as it is prudent to proceed, concluding that we have no Upper House in Ontario to supervise the proceedings of the Legislative Assembly.

Ontario Legislature.

Feb. 19.

The Speaker informed the House that the Clerk had received from the Judges appointed to inquire into and report on Estate Bills their report in the cases of the late Mrs. Kingsmill, of the property of Judge Kingsmill, of Bruce. The following is the report of the Judges:

Toronto, 17th Feb. 1873.

Sir,—In reference to bill (No. 206) re Kingsmill, being an Estate Bill, forwarded to me by you, I have the honor to report for the information of the Honourable the Legislative Assembly:

That, having consulted with two of my brother judges, who are peculiarly fitted to consider the subject of "Trusts," we are of opinion that the Position and Bill referred to, forwarded to me by you, do not afford sufficient information to enable us to make a satisfactory report thereon.

Under the trusts of the settlement made by the late Mrs. Kingsmill, the trustees were to invest the trust funds in "such securities" as might seem expedient to them; this would not give them power to invest the moneys in the purchase of lands, and therefore the purchase of the lands in question does not seem to be warranted by the deed of settlement.

The trustees would have a lien for the amount they advanced, if it has not been repaid; and I would think it reasonable, if there is any need for an Act, that it should specify that the proceeds of the sale were to be applied in payment of the amount advanced by Mr. Kingsmill's trustees, and interest thereon, or whatever balance of this sum may remain unpaid; and that the rest of the purchase money should be held under the trusts of Mrs. Kingsmill's settlement.

If this property is worth a sum of money over and above what is needed to repay the advance made by Mrs. Kingsmill's trustees, it is obviously unfair that this sum should be withdrawn from the trusts of Mrs. Kingsmill's settlement. The result would be as follows:—Say the property is worth five thousand dollars, and there is due to Mrs. Kingsmill's trustees for the amount advanced by them, two thousand five hundred dollars, there would be a sum of two thousand five hundred dollars remaining after this payment; that sum should go to the trustees of Mrs. Kingsmill's settlement; and under this instrument, Mrs. Kingsmill being dead, Mr. Kingsmill is absolutely entitled to the amount; the effect of the Act would then be to take from Mr. Kingsmill two thousand five hundred dollars which he, or any person having claim against him, would be entitled to, and to settle it upon his children; the unfairness of this is so obvious that I need not do more than call attention to it; on the other hand, if this property be worth only one thousand dollars, and the trustees have advanced upon it two thousand five hundred dollars, or have bought it for Mrs. Kingsmill's trust estate, the Legislature would apparently be sanctioning this breach of trust.

It should be born in mind that, while the persons apparently interested in estates give their consent to the legislation which is asked, there may be interests outside of them before the House which would be extinguished by granting what is demanded.

The sale from the Building Society to Mr. and Mrs. Kingsmill's trustees—for the same gentlemen represents both estates, appears to have been a private one, and therefore is no test of the veracity of the value of the property, and we are not informed of the fact whether or not the money advanced from Mrs. Kingsmill's trust estate to make this purchase was ever repaid, though from the facts stated, it may be inferred that it has not been.

It is a most unsatisfactory advising on a matter of this kind, without full information as to all the facts, and without having a copy of the instruments, upon the exact wording of which no one depends.

We cannot at present see that it is reasonable to pass the Act here asked for. If any being supplied with the information referred to, we may find cause for concurring to a different conclusion.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
WM. B. RICHARDS, C. J.

Mr. Macdonald resumed the debate on the resolution in reference to Timber Licenses, which occupied the remainder of the day.

An amendment censuring the government was voted down, only 18 voting for it and 53 against it.

Mr. Wood (Brant) moved an amendment to the amendment of Mr. Wood (Victoria) appearing in general terms of the policy of the Government. This was carried by 63 against 5. Other amendments were moved, but defeated by equally large majorities, and the policy of the government triumphantly sustained.

Albany Live Stock Market.

BEEVES.—The market opened buoyant and has continued firm. A large number of New York and Brighton dealers were in attendance, but they did not make any purchases. The local and country trade were well represented, and all wanted cattle. The supply this week is larger than last week, and the quality some dealers having obtained 4c and others 4c per lb. advance on last week's rates. Scarcely sufficient has yet been done to establish any ruling rates, although a good many cattle have changed hands.

MILK COWS.—Market overstocked, demand light, and prices range from $30 to $50 for common to good.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.—Market rules about as last week. The supply is somewhat lighter than last week, and a fair business has been reported.

NEW YORK STATE POULTRY SHOW.—The Western N. Y. State Poultry Show is being held this week in Buffalo, and is a great success. There are 750 entries and $3,500 are offered in prizes. There are six exhibitors from Canada, and among these Mr. F. Sturdy of Guelph has been quite successful. He took a first special for Best Partridge, Cochins, Cocker, 1st and special for Aylesbury ducks; 1st and special for Houdan ducks; and 2nd for Partridge Cochins chicken. We notice that Mr. Daniel Allen of Galt is also a prominent exhibitor. At a meeting of the principal exhibitors held on Saturday last, an Association was formed, to be called the "American Poultry Association" and to embrace both the U. S. and Canada. Among the officers elected we notice that Mr. Daniel Allen, of Galt, was made one of the Presidents.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Sentenced to be Hanged.

Death of Judge Richmond.

$11,500 worth of Gold Watches and Jewellery Stolen.

Attempt to Excite Soldiers.

Don Carlos' Star Descending.

Railway Accident.

One Killed and a Number Wounded.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Judge Gary yesterday sentenced George Driver, convicted of the murder of his wife in this city in December last, to be hanged on the 14th of March. Judge Richmond, of the 23rd Judicial circuit, died suddenly yesterday at Champaign, Ill.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 20.—Henry Goldsmith, employed in selling jewelry for J. Brunner, New York, reports that while at supper last evening at the City Hotel his room was entered and his trunk and satchel robbed of eighty two gold watches worth $6,000, diamonds worth $4,000, and diamond pins worth $1,500 dollars. There is no clue to the robber yet.

Cleveland, Feb. 20.—Several cases of trichina are reported here in a family named Kruger, who are accustomed to eating sausages containing raw pork.

Madrid, Feb. 19.—A corporal attached to a regiment in Alcazar del San Juan, a town in New Castile, yesterday attempted to excite a meeting among his fellow soldiers in favor of Don Carlos. The troops refused to take part in the movement, and gave repeated cheers for the Republic. The corporal was arrested.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 19.—An accident occurred on the Fort Zenith Railway this morning to the eastward-bound main train. As the train was rounding a curve two miles east of Plumer's Station, the left track, turn i out, and went down an embankment. The car was known as a box car, closed on both sides, giving no chance for passengers to escape. There was no bell-ringer on the cars to the engine to give the alarm, and the car dragged 900 yards before it went down the embankment, and the train could be stopped; 21 of the passengers were wounded, and one, it is reported, killed. Several ladies and children are among the wounded, receiving hurts and bruises in various ways.

For the Bird Killers.

The Swiss naturalist, Baron Von Tschudi, has this to say on behalf of birds, the efficient but too seldom appreciated allies of the husbandman: "Without birds successful agriculture is impossible. They annihilate in a few months a greater number of destructive insects than human hands could accomplish in the same number of years. Among the most useful may be classed the swallow, wren, robin, redbreast, sparrow, and finch." Tschudi tested a titmouse upon a rosebush of his neighbour, which rich the same in a few hours of insecticide. A robin was seen to feed in the neighbourhood 900 flies in an hour. A pair of night swallows destroyed fifteen minutes an immense swarm of gnats. A pair of wrens flew thirty six times an hour, with insects in their bills, to their nests. He considers the sparrow very important; a pair of these in a single day carry over 300 worms or caterpillars to their nests—certainly a good compensation for the few cherries which they pluck from the trees. The generality of small birds carry to their young ones during the feeding period nothing but insects, worms, snails, spiders, &c.—A farmer indignantly destroys a robin because he has caught him eating a cherry, and thinks he has done mankind a service; but let him take a moment to open the crop of the bird and he will find it full of worms. In some instances 200 worms and grubs have been found in the gizzard of a single bird. An oriole shot in a field of wheat had 300 worms in its crop. A pair of orioles (parent birds) destroy 1,000 caterpillars a day. The commissioners appointed by the French Government have reported with an accuracy characteristic of French legislation. It has been decided that by no agency save that of little birds can the ravage of insects be kept down. A certain insect was found to lay 2,000 eggs, but a certain titmouse was found to eat 200,000 of these eggs, in a year. A swallow devours about 550 insects in a year, eggs and all. A house sparrow's nest in the city of Paris was found to contain 700 eggs of upper wings of cockchafers, though of course, in such a place food of other kinds was procurable in abundance. The blue bird in some respects reminds one of the English robin redbreast, tho' as an insect destroyer it surpasses the English bird. Its food consists of all kinds of insects, especially the larvae of the codling moth and canker worms and caterpillars of every description are quickly destroyed. The birds arrive in time to destroy the female moth as it ascends into the tree in early spring to deposit its eggs."

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—The St. Catharines News says:—An enterprise, on a large scale, is about to be commenced on the Weaver farm, just outside of the corporation. The whole farm, consisting of 100 acres, is to

Guelpb Evening Mercury

THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 20, 1873. An Act Respecting the Public Health.

We have received a copy of the bill, introduced by Mr. Mowat into the Ontario Legislature, entitled an Act respecting the Public Health. The bill provides that the health officers may enter and examine premises, in the place for which they hold office, as often as they deem it necessary, and should the premises be in a filthy or unclean state, may order the proprietor or occupant to cleanse them, and in case of refusal the officers shall have the power to cause it to be done, in the interest of the public health.

Whoever wilfully disobeys or resists any lawful order of the health officers, or wilfully obstructs any person acting under the authority or employed in the execution of the Act either before or after the appointment of a central board of health, or wilfully violates any regulations made and declared by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, or issued by the central board of health under the Act, or neglects or refuses to comply with such regulations, shall be liable for every such offence to a penalty not exceeding twenty dollars.

We consider the provisions of the bill excellent, and hope that it will receive its third reading and the sanction of His Excellency, so that we may derive the benefit from it at once.

Car Smuggling.

In our issue of Monday, we published a letter from the Hamilton correspondent of the Globe, charging the Great Western Railway Company with having evaded the payment of $300,000 duty on railway carriages, manufactured in the United States. The correspondent also hints that the Government at Ottawa were aware of these facts, and winked at the transaction. Now these were charges of a very grave nature, and we preferred making no comments until we were better acquainted with the facts.

The Hamilton Spectator, and a number of other Conservative journals, whose special duty it appears to be to follow the whitewashing art, became indignant. The idea of a correspondent, or any other man, accusing the spotless Government of Sir John A. Macdonald, or the respectable corporation known as the Great Western Railway Company, of doing what was wrong, was preposterous, and without making a single enquiry the whole thing was characterized as a "issue of falsehoods."

In the Globe of Wednesday, Mr. Joseph Price, Treasurer of the Great Western Railway Company, published a lengthy letter in defence of the Company, in reference to the matter. We read the letter carefully, and concluded that the writer had made a very lame attempt at defence. In speaking of this letter the Globe says that had the writer met the charge directly, instead of his suggestions not really touching the issue, there would have been no doubt left on the mind of any one. Mr. Price does not attempt to deny that the importation of a large quantity of rolling stock by the Great Western Railway, three years ago, from the United States—on which no duty was paid—became the subject of formal investigation by the Ottawa Government. He tells us that the Company paid $200,000 of duties on "all the locomotives required for the changed route"—which we doubt not is true—but he says nothing of over $100,000 of duties on railway carriages which were not paid though equally due. The affair has been held in terrorem over the head of the Great Western Company ever since.

This morning's Globe says, from full enquiry made, that the information of its correspondent was strictly true. The whole affair is a very strange piece of business, and suggestive of a crowd of surmises.

The excitement over the Water Works question in Toronto continues unabated, and from present indications there is no doubt but that the attempt to increase the cost from $500,000 to $1,100,000 will be defeated on being submitted to the vote of the people. The connection of Mr. Smith, Collector of Customs, with the corruption transaction in the capacity of "The Boy" has led the public to suspect that the whole truth is not yet known.

It is intimated among members of the House that Mr. Laurier, finding that his efforts in the Opposition have been unfortunate, and discerning that the prevailing sentiment of the people (including those of South Grey) as well as the representatives, is increasing in favor of the Government, has concluded to pave the way for re-entrance to the Reform ranks. Sensible fellow. It is hinted that, by the termination of the session, all active Opposition to the Government shall have ceased, and that Mr. M. C. Cameron will merely retain his position on the left of the Speaker in order to indicate that provision has been made for opposition.

ANNABEL

OR THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER VI.
EVIL TIDINGS FOR MRS. LANGTON—THE FATAL DISCOVERY.

"A surprising thing is it not?" said Mr. Langton, attributing his wife's violent excitement to nothing more than the extraordinary character of the news he had given her. "I was quite struck also when I learned it, but I am glad also, for I never approved of Seymour's conduct to his sister, and this chance meeting with her orphan daughter gives him the opportunity of atoning for it in some measure. He seems quite pleased with the girl."

"Oh!" said Mrs. Langton, with a bitter sneer, "doubtless the girl would take very good care that he should. And the circumstances favored her design most admirably. She it was, no doubt, who prevented him from communicating with us, knowing that this would deprive her of the opportunity of wheedling herself into his favor."

"My dear, you are entirely wrong," interrupted her husband, with a hearty laugh. "The girl didn't know who the old gentleman was who had come to her hands. And she doesn't know even yet, for no sooner did he come to understand who she was—which he speedily did, for she bears her mother's name of Annabel, and few questions put to the landlady confirmed the truth—that he carefully concealed his own name, and never uttered a word by which he could be identified. Now he has gone, and left them as much in ignorance on this point as ever."

"Why, what could be his meaning for that?" said Augusta, indignantly. "No doubt that he might have experienced the girl's true character. And the result seems to have pleased him intensely, for he writes of her in terms of the highest admiration. I am almost inclined to think that remorse and shame helped to make him conceal himself. But I have no doubt he means to withdraw the veil ere long, and even to have her to Rockstone. More than that, the young man who was with her in Woolman's Lane, and saved Seymour from the robber, was her lover—Philip Weston by name—who was Jansen's head clerk before his bankruptcy. It happens that he is at present in want of a situation, and Seymour requested me to give him a good position in our house. I have done so, and he comes on Monday as the manager of the American department."

Mrs. Langton had sat down again in her seat, under the influence of a dizziness which she could scarcely conceal, though she desired to do so. Her knowledge of her husband's character, as well as his present manner, warned her that he would not view the matter in the same light, or cherish the same feelings concerning it. The feelings were, however, so terrible in their nature that it was in vain for her to try wholly to hide the effect.

"Go, dearest Joseph, will he make her his heir?" she gasped.

"I expect so; I hope so."

"You hope so?"

"Certainly. Is she not his niece, his nearest relation?"

"But—she—that is, her mother—offended her family past forgiveness."

"The more's the pity, Augusta. I never heard anything said against the man she married."

"But were they married? The rumor went that they were not."

"I never believed that. Neither Langton nor your cousin Annabel were capable of immorality. They went away, doubtless, and were married in private; but that was the fault of her family, who so unreasonably opposed the union. As to no marriage ceremony having taken place, that is simply absurd—a cruel, malicious aspersion in unwearied of a moment's belief. Then, as to the respectability of Langton, no one could question it."

"It was of inferior station."

"Inferior fiddlers," said the merchant impatiently. "He was an honorable and upright man, though I understand he became unfortunate, and was lost sight of many years ago. They are both dead now, it seems, and this girl, their child, has been maintaining herself by teaching music. This fortunate meeting with her uncle will remove her above that necessity. Why, she will be among the wealthiest heiresses in England."

"As our expense, Joseph. We have hitherto counted on Seymour's possessions."

"So we have. And to tell you the truth, on the strength of that I have witnessed the basis of our business to a degree which may have serious consequences for want of his money. But should he put in this youth, Philip Weston, as a partner, all will still be right, for of course he will marry Annabel, and they will succeed to Rockstone and all the cash. Ha, there is the second bell, and I am not dressed for dinner."

"Don't trouble yourself to-day, Mr. Langton," said his wife, as, pale and ghastly, she rose to proceed to the dining-room. "We are fortunately alone—fortunately, I say, seeing that we have had disappointing tidings."

She took his arm, and they proceeded to the dining-room together.

The blood is composed of minute particles or discs resembling the scales of a fish. Nervous force is thence by which these discs are conveyed to the exercised muscles. In the several members of the body, the muscles are mostly voluntary, those of the heart, lungs, stomach, &c., are involuntary. In order to restore a diseased or enfeebled organ, it is necessary to promote the strength of muscles through the nervous system. We have no means so tonic as so reliable and convenient as Follies' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we, therefore, gladly recommend it in the diseases of such organs as depend for health upon involuntary muscular action.

Photography.

(From the Elora Observer.)

A great advance has been made of late in photographic portraiture. The camera of ten years ago, with its chalk and black and white plates, has been superseded by all sorts of apparatus given place to portraits containing fair gradations of light and shade. Incompetents, who have paid their few dollars and spent a few days to learn the secret part of every public school education, are leaving the business disappointed; and men of artistic training—sculptors, painters and draughtsmen—after years of conservative disgust, are taking up the camera and placing its productions in their merited position. But it may be asked, what improvement can be made in the integrity of a photograph? When required to produce the picture of a subject in only one colour, perhaps none; but when different colours are to be reproduced, much, for the following reason: When the human eye looks at the solar spectrum, its impression is on the yellow rays in the centre are the brightest, whereas the camera examining the same subject impresses on its retina, the photograph, its decisions that the violet is the brightest, and insists on giving the rainbow the most beautiful gradation from dark on the red side to light on the violet side. Hence the disappointments to ladies in dress, and to every body, artists included, in the pictures of faces which have either temporary or permanent patches of colour.

The whole photographic fraternity according to their ability, has of late gone to work to make the camera produce what the eye sees, by retouching; and although vexation and failure has been the experience of many, the artist who in early life has mastered drawing, after first-rate models, has only to apply the accomplishment to photography to invest his production with an impressive and lasting charm. Moreover, few people retain in their features, when required to be still, that animated expression which they show in conversation. To discern the change and replace it by a touch of the pencil can only be done by the experienced artist. That talent will be abundantly patronized wherever there is an educated and accomplished community is not to be wondered at. Patrons of the art who had portraits ad nauseum for one dollar per dozen, are willingly paying that sum for a sample copy of the beauties now produced. In consequence of this improvement in the remuneration, the car, or temporary erection of the past, is giving place to palaces devoted to this advancing art in every town of importance, and in no place of similar dimensions has this new enterprise been pushed to the same extent as in the village of Elora. A visit to the new photographic buildings of Mr. Cannon will afford the greatest pleasure to any person of aesthetic culture. Combining the ability and experience of the artist with the perseverance and liberality necessary to erect such premises, and invest in such furniture, he is enabled to supply to the community, and is sure to receive, ample support from an appreciating community.
