STARK'S POINT, March, 1895.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the value of the Fertilizers sold by you. I used last year five tons, of Bradley's Potato Manure on twenty acres of potatoes, with a good deal of satisfaction, averaging nearly 200 bushels per acre from the whole field. Its dryness and mechanical condition seem to me to be perfect. I used it in the Planter without clogging, while other fertilizers that I used were too damp to be used at all in the machine. I got good value for my investment, and shall use it in increased quantities.

Margaretville Notes. KENTVILLE, 29th May, 1895.
To Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cunningham;

The laws of Canada allow the free importation of corn from the United States for ensilage and soiling purposes, while on all corn used for feeding purposes is laid a duty of 7½ per cent, per bushel. The Canadian customs authorities have discovered that a large amount of corn imported from the United States into Canada free, is afterwards used for food. Considerable of this corn has been seized. The total value of the corn thus entered, it is estimated, exceeds $190,000. Foss Cures Weak Stamach and Kidney Troubles.

Correspondence.

Angus D. Gilbert's Position.

The Boston Globe recently sent a reporter to Nova Scotia to obtain the family history of Angus D. Gilbert, the alleged murderer of the little Sterling girl at Dorchester, Mass. and Wednesday's edition contains a five column illustrated article as the result.

It shows that Angus Gilbert lived the first part of his life in Halifax, his father, Mr. George Gilbert, being employed in Mumford's market. A few years later the family moved to Meagher's Grant. The defense to be set up at Gilbert's trial is insanity, and the Globe man has clearly established that there are distinct traces of insanity on the mother's side.

The government of Massachusetts are being bothered by cranks in connection with the approaching trial. There has been a phrenologist hanging about the prison where Gilbert is confined for some time. He does not profess to be able to settle the matter of Gilbert's guilt surely, but he declares that if he could once get his hands upon the prisoner's bumps that he could tell whether it would be possible for him to have committed the crime.

Who Should Advertise. DEAR SIR,—My attention has been directed to an item published in a recent issue of your paper, purporting to be an extract from a letter written to the Messenger and Visitor by Rev. Mr. Brown, Baptist minister of Nictaux. I am sure we all rejoice that Mr. Brown, on his arrival on his new charge, found his people at Torbrook enjoying such a high state of spiritual life. We could hardly expect him to give any credit for this state of things to a Methodist revival, conducted for several weeks at Torbrook Mines,—which was in progress up to the time of Adelaide, South Australia, June 6. — The opening of parliament took place to-day. The governor, Sir Thomas Burton, who recently succeeded the Earl of Kintore, congratulated the members upon the improving prospects of the colony of South Australia. He added that the price of wheat, copper, wool and silver had risen and that trade generally was reviving.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood. "A year ago my father, William Thomp-son, was taken suddenly ill with inflam-mation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some tim last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario. Remember

If you wish to be successful in Plum culture, get good trees and varieties that produce the best fruit suited to our soil and climate. Plant properly, and give the necessary care, and success is assured. I have the right trees, and shall be glad to give any purchaser all the points I have in my possession, by which I have made the business a success.

Are you putting out Cranberry vines? Then don't make the mistake of planting kinds which will be ruined by early frosts four seasons out of five. Some of our largest growers made this mistake, and are now replanting with early kinds. We can supply the Early Rell, which matures its fruit before damaging frosts come. Vines young, productive and vigorous. Send for work on Cranberry Culture. Sent free.

Don't Let Horses Gnaw Trees.

One of the most grievous injuries that is done to our shade trees is caused by the now used. gnawing of bark by horses. This gnawing is for the most part done in the spring, when the tree is full of sap. The bark is then most inviting to the animals appetite, and it is at that time that the most damage may be done to the tree. When such a wound has once been made in a tree it grows rapidly, the trunk becomes terribly disfigured, and the tree is soon seen to be slowly dying. As soon as the trunk has been stripped of its bark in one spot the solid wood of the tree, being exposed to the weather and without nature's protection, soon dies, and as this crumbles away each year a new layer is exposed to the air until the gaping wound eats to the very heart of the tree. Many of the fine trees that once gave welcoming shade have been felled simply because a glaring wound in their trunks, caused by this gnawing by horses, rendered them a menace the passerby.

Simple Cure for Lockjaw.

A Pest.

Prof. Harvey, entomologist of the Maine State experimental station at Orono, has sent out a description of one of the worst insect pests that prey upon raspberry and strawberry plants. It is a small black beetle about one-eighth of an inch long. These beetles hibernate and come out in the early spring, doing great damage to the flower buds. They soon mate and lay eggs for another brood. The grubs live in the roots of the plants and later appear as beetles, and one pound of fresh white helebore to 50 gallons of water.
