NOTES TO FARMERS.

WORDS OF ADVICE FROM CANADA'S AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS.

The Value of Russian Apples for Canadian Planters and Fruit Growers -

A subject of growing importance to the Canadian Fruit Grower is the value of Russian apples. In order to get results more rapidly and arrive at reliable conclusions to be brought before our nurserymen and fruit-growers, I was authorized by the Minister of Agriculture, last season, to examine the oldest orchards of these fruits, which are now found in the western States, those having been planted about twenty years ago. After looking over the whole years ago. After looking over the whole field carefully, the following conclusions have been reached:

First, that the northern limits of apple culture can be materially extended by planting the hardiest of these varities. Second, all fruit-growing districts of Canada may be benefited by adding a judicious selection of the best kinds. Third, that among them are many valuable summer apples Fourth, experience seems to indicate that among them are winter apples of fair quality and superior hardiness. Fifth, that in the milder portions of Ontario these winter apples are not of sufficiently good quality to be recommended. It is difficult in to be recommended. It is difficult in many localities to get an unbiased opinion in regard to the Russian apples. Two schools or factions among apple-growers have sprung up; one of which maintains the supremacy of our native fruits, while the other andorses the Russian while the other endorses the annules. Without personal examination it other endorses the Russian is difficult to get at the actual status of the case. No doubt, amongst them are many valuable summer varieties, but owing to unpronouncable names, many mistakes and synonyms, the work of selection has been very slow. It is also assumed that there are a few varieties of long-keeping winter apples of good hardiness, but I do not think they will rate high in quality. In my report for 1892 I have described about thirty of these varieties, and have recom mended that nurserymen should propagate them, because I think the time has come these should be disseminated. In this list there are ten summer varieties, six fall varieties and twelve winter varie-

The following varieties are selected their hardiness and vigor from those which have been recommended in this report, and

A GOTHAM YOUNG MAN.

He Went to Liverpool But (ame Back Much Sconer Than He Expected

A pretty good story comes from New York, per Correspondent Lewis, who has been over in Gotham interviewing . President Cleveland. It appears that a son of wealthy parents in Manhattan Island came recently, and correspondingly of age acquired a generous wad of the long green securities of the realm. While he was a pretty lively youth, he also had a well-de-fined stratum of good sense running through his composition, and upon finding him-self possessed of plenty of means he determined to use a portion of it in seeing the world. He also adopted a rather novel idea regarding the way he would travel. He was too fond of New York to leave it for any length of time, so he decided that he would take in one country at the time; spend a month in England, for instance, come back here, then visit France, and so on. Accordingly he purchased himself a ticket to Liverpool under the arrangement in vogue with steamship companies, which allows a person to go over on a certain steamer and to come back on the same boat on any of its return trips within a specified time. He sailed away in great shape, and in due time arrived in Liverpool, a city he in due time arrived in inverpoor, a city ne intended to explore thoroughly.

Following the advice of experienced friends, he secured private lodgings in preference to going to a hotel, and then, sad to relate, as a preliminary to his sight seeing he proceeded to test the qualities of dog's head ale and Old Tom gin in the home of its birth. The mixture acted disastrously in his case, for in a short while he became as drunk as the apocryphal owl. He became helpless in legs, body and head, and while in this condition attracted the attention of two "bobbies." The English policeman always take a dample. ways take a drunken man to his home if it can be discovered, because if all the jags they came across were taken to the station edifice would have to be larger than a world's fair building to accommodate them. Accordingly the bobbies proceeded to search the young man for his address, when they came across his return ticket to "Blawst me heyes," ejaculated the discoverer, "but th' bloody youngstar is booked for th' Servyah an' th' boat leaves in two

A vehicle was hastily procured and the youth was bundled into it and whirled away to the dock. The boat's offiers were accustomed to receive passengers in such a condition too often to take any notice of taken and dumped in a state room until the preliminaries of sailing were finished. The young man slumbered soundly. Imagine his feelings when he awoke to find himself the case before them, sc aboard he was

Mr. N. Bawlf, as chairman of the committee, said that after having given the matter due consideration the committee had decided upon taking up subscrip-tions, as had been done two years ago; for this purpose a committee had been appointed. After all other means had been exhausted the clergy should be called on to get names of parties whom the committee might not be able to see. It had been thought there might be a bazzar; but the money would be practically given by the same men, and a bazaar meant a lot of work for the ladies taken up by nurserymen.

Dr. Barrett said it would not be convenient for him to pay at that date, as he saw by the papers that he would have to pay his Protestant school taxes then, and he would take a little breathing spell afterwards.

Mr. O'Connell Powell then read the minutes of the previous meeting and on motion they were unanimously adopted. Mr. Marrin said that the meeting had already borne some fruit. The chairman of the Finance committee of the City Conncil had cut down the school estimate, and suggested that the Collegiate institute be made self-sustaining. In this he was right; it was bad enough to have to pay for the teaching of the portion of children who attend the schools children of Protestants without being called on to make professionals of them. more or less than the Winnipeg College. The colleges should step in, for the ground was being cut from under their Quite a number of Protestant school trustees were anxious that this opinions and maintained them institution should either be swept away or made self-sustaining. There was a school near the Mulvey school which h understood was being used for some kind of a Protestant mission; it was bad enough to have to build and support rotestant schools, but it seemed the eachers, in hovels that the Protestants would not use for stables.

Mr. Carroll referred to a recent discussion in the Hamilton Collegiate board, in which it had been held that public school education was good enough for any children. It was howled out that the City was being overcrowded by Looking over the School Board report he in Manitoba were the Catholic laymen found that it had cost $40,000, so he had passive on the school been out $15,000, but this was not much for the School Board! The school Board had been asked to give a building for a fire hall if there was no other use for it; but the applicants were told that schools. Could they not use the old building and build a smaller one for half the money? this would surely suffice for five years to come. The money of the School Board is the same as the money of a private institution. Admitting for the sake of argument that the public schools are good as people believe, why do we not stop here, and go no farther. This is an agricultural country; but the Collegiate schools are not edu-cating young men for the country, but to be lawyers, doctors, etc., so that the country is overrun with them. Taxes are high enough now. Those who support the Collegiate Institute are no always the high salaried officials living on the Hudson's Bay reserve. and who never pay a dollar for taxes yet those same high salaried people if a nail is out of the sidewalk in front of their dwelling or if the electric light happens to go out for half a minute will at once call up the City hall on the telephone and rise a hue and cry. Grain merchants, hardware merchants, dry goods merchants, and others are cutting down their exexpenses; but the school board asks for $110,000 as against $95,000 the amount of last year. He believed that the teachers

Dr. Barret said he had not been present at the last meetting, but he had read the report with a great deal of interest and had been very much pleased with the action taken. He thought Mr. Marrin and Mr. Bawlf had sufficiently exposed the simple robbery of the taxpayers to support the Collegiate institute. This institute had entered into competition with the colleges affiliated to the university, Manitoba, St. Jonh's, St. Boniface, and the beautiful college the Wesleyan body is now building. The Catholics have the oldest and first of these institutions at St. Boniface. These colleges offer sufficient facilities for tree hardy, vigorous, fruit large, good quality; Arabka (imported by Ellwanger and Barry), tree hardy, fruit of the Blue Pearmain type; Zusoff (No. 585), grades with Fameuse in hardiness, fruit large, handsome, fair quality, good keeper.—John Craig, Horticulturist, Experimental Farm.

Messrs. P. Marrin, J. Carroll, and J. A. Richard added to carry out the financial arrangements for the current year.

At this juncture Mr. P. Marrin suggestion fill up the collegiate institute, because it offers free education at the expense of the public. The collegiate institute is but a child of the School Roard. Higher higher education and are quite com- had charge of Grand Rapids and all the taking people out of their position in life. Farmers' sons attend the collegiate institute instead of going to one of the Ann's church, that hereafter he will colleges and granduate in the university. After they get their degree they are of too much importance to return to the farm and become utself and productive the stand taken by him, says that from trustees should do a little as other people.

Mr. Golden said the Collegiate Institute had been built with the view of being beneficial to the children of poor men; but it did directly the opposite. The poor man was unable to educate his children beyond the sixth, seventh or eighth grade; he had to remove them at the age of ten or twelve and place them in establishments where they could earn weekly salaries. Mr. Golden went on to show the expenses of interest on $283,000 debentures; the cost of pupils per head, a little over $53, the total being $169,658. 44, and the average attendance 3.198; the total seating capacity of all the schools was 4,400, deduct from this one hundred for the Mulvey school, and the difference, 4,300, represents the actual seating capacity. Hence the estimate of 5.200 children of school age is correct, one or two more schools will have to be built during the present year. Another reason why the Collegiate Institute does not fill the bill is because the greater

are of a vounger age. The Administrator of the diocese was The Collegiate institute was nothing then invited to speak. He was glad and proud of the proceedings of this meeting, well as of the former ones. The Catholics of Winnipeg had taken an honorable standing; they had their sacrifice. They had friends with them, the sympathy of many Protestants in their maintaining their schools. He thanked them for the steps taken, and hoped they would persevere.

The chairman stated that Mr. John churches, while they had to educate their own children with poorly paid there were the poorly paid the poorly O'Donohue had apologised for having After a few remarks by two or three other gentlemen the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

It was announced that the committee appointed would meet on Friday next; also that the schools would open on Monday.

The fact that Father Kammer's church is in a section of the city where such marriages are frequent has caused the sensation. For the last twenty-five years he has performed marriages under the conditions named above with the consent of the bishop, from whom a dispensation must first be obtained. In applying for such dispensation the circumstances must be told to the bishop, and the priest making such application is held, in a measure, responsible for the result of the union.

ST. PATRICK'S SOCIETY PICNIC.

The Leading Event of the Season

Winnipeggers are noted for doing things right when they start at it, or if they don't, letting it alone, and on the civic holiday we had an example of this trait of our character.

The civic holiday was taken advantage of by St. Patrick's Society for their annual days' outing and a most successful day it was.

Old Sol was smiling beningly all day; but cool breezes made the atmosphere such that the rays of the sun were to a great extent unheeded.

For weeks before the Sons of St. Patrick were busy making the necessary arrangements for the day's sport, and the way in which all the events were handled, proves that they know how to conduct a satisfactory issue,a programme of amusement and recreations which is creditable to them. Messrs. A. W. Law, E. G. Barrett, D. Smith, W. H. Rourke, E. Cass, J. J. Golden, J. W. O'Lane, W. H. D'Arcy. M. McManus, T. D. Cooper, J. O'Donohue, and T. G. Mathers, with T. D. Deegan as chairman, Gerald F. Brophy as president composed the committee for the day's

Other races were run but the interest seemed to be centred in the tug of war contest between teams picked from the flower of our Scotch and Irish citizens.

In the second pull, Alexander, one of the Irish team met with an unfortunate accident, breaking one of his ribs. This the day for Ireland, at least such is the general verdict. The Scotch won the second pull, and no less enthusiasm greeted their victory than that which the Irish received. When the men came together for the third and final pull, the Irish had nine men, and Capt. Currie refused to take off one of his, whereupon Capt. Deegan shouted out well boys, they will not agree to leave off a man, and we will pull them nine to ten." This announcement was hissed and cheered. The brave Scotchmen would not abide by their Captain's decision and insisted upon either taking a man off their team or letting the Irish find another to take Alexanders's place. Capt. Currie agreed to the latter proposition, and an oudsider was called into help the Irish. Of course the Celts were suffering from a great disadvantage in this, for though the man whom they selected was one of the best, yet he was not in training. Nevertheless the third and last pull was a grand one. For the first two minutes neither side away and inch by inch victory was perching upon their hanner. At last the

OUR ARCHBISHOP'S LETTER.

ST. BONIFACE, May 10th, 1893.

Mr. E. J Dermody. DEAP SIR,—I see by the last issue of the NORTHWEST REVIEW that you have been intrusted by the directors of the journal with he management of the same, "the company for the present retaining charge of the editors."

for the present retaining charge of the editorial columns."

I need not tell you that I take a deep interest in the Northwest Review which is the only English Catholic paper published within the limits of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. I hope that you will obtain a remunerative success. It is enough that the editors do their work gratuitously, it cannot be expected that the material part of the publication should remain without remuneration. I therefore strongly recommend to all Catholics under my jurisdiction to give a liberal support to the Northwest Review. It has fully my approval, though, of course, I cannot be responsible for every word centained in it. The editors write as they think proper, they are at full liberty to say what they wish and in the way they like best. The sole control I can claim is over the principles they express and I have no hesitation instating that the principles announced by them are sound and ought to be endorsed by every sound Catholic in this country.

I therefore consider that you enter a good work and I pray to God that He will bless you in its accomplishment.

I remain.

Yours all devoted in Christ, †ALEX. ARCHBISHOP OF ST. BONIFACE

Here is a lesson for Catholics all over the world to learn. If any further inducement to learn this lesson is necessary it will be found in the profound utterances of the Holy Father in his late Great Encyclical. In that master lesson to the world the Vicar of Christ has emphati cally declared that the greatest peril to the unity of the Church is to be found in the Masonic sect "a formidable power which has long oppressed nations, and particularly Catholic nations." This sect is insolently proud of its power its resources and its successes.

This is not to be wondered at for it is the offspring of the devil and the devil is a great power for evil whenever his power is permitted by men to prevail says:

The Holy Father justy says: "From dark retreats in which it lavs its plots and snares, it comes out into the broad light of our cities, and, as if to hurl defiance at God, it is in this very city, the capital of the Catholic world, it has established its headquarters. Among the few newspapers in Canada who took this contemptible pretext as an ignorance, perhaps the meanest and most malacious was the Free Press of this city. That journal seemed to excel its past recent record in its attempts to make the Catholic church responsible for the deplorable conduct of a mad mob. If Sir William C. 'FIRMNESS UNDER PERSECUTION.'

Under the above heading we give a translation of a portion of an article which appears in the editorial columns of our esteemed contemporary, La Croix du Canada on the attitude taken by the Catholics of Winnipeg on the school question. La Croix says: "We formed a very good estimate of our brethren in Manftoba. Although groaning under the cruel weight of a double school tax, they are not the less firm and determined in the face of an intolerant and oppressive majority. A despatch from Winnipeg informs us that the Catholics of that city held a meeting the evening of (Angust 14th) for the purpose of discussing the school question. Resulting in the Death of T. J. Hogan.

It is our sad duty this week to record the death of Mr. T. J. Hogan, which occurred Wednesday Aug. 22nd.

In our last issue we gave an account of the accident which was the cause of his death. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. Mary's cemetery. It will be remembered that the afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. Mary's cemetery. It will be remembered that the deceased met an untimely death by falling off a freight car, alighting on his head on the rails, which rendered him unconscious in which state he remained till his death. The St. Boniface band headed the solemn procession which proceeded up Main Street to the place of interment. A large body of friends attended the funeral in last respect to the deceased, among them being all the members of the C. M. B. A. and Catbolic Order of Foresters. The several officials sent their carriages and the coffin was a mass of wreaths and other floral tokens. The scene at the grave was a sad one. The deceased had been in the employ of the C. P. R. for a number of years and was a faithful servant and will be missed by all who knew him. The pallbearers were: Messrs. P. O'Donnell, M. Buck, B. Rafferty, J. Russell, N. Le Croix and Jno. Bawlf, The ceremony was conducted by te Rev. Fr. Gauthier. M. Hughes and Son had charge of the funeral arrangements. We extend to his bereaved relatives our sincere consideration. funeral arrangements. We extend to his bereaved relatives our sincere con-dolence in this their sad hour of trial.

The Pill for the People.

Murilla, Sta., Ont., Jan. 13, 1890. W. H. Comstock, Breckville, Ont.

DHAR SIR,—Have been selling your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills for the past eight years; they are the only Pill for the people. After having used them once, they always come back for more.

Yours truly.

Yours truly, JNO. McLEAN.

R. RYAN, Gower Point, Ont.

HOW IS THIS?

Something unique even in these days of mammoth premium offers, is the latest effort of Stafford's Magazine, a New York monthly of home and general reading.

The proposition is to send the magazine one year for one dollar, the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each title of the regular subscription price, and in addition to send each subscriper fifty-two complete novels during subscriper fifty-two complete novels during the twelve months; one each week.

Think of it. You receive a new and complete novel, by mail, post paid, every week for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get for fifty-two weeks, and in addition you get months, all for one dollar. It is an offer which the publishers can only afford to make in the confident expectation of getting a hundred thousand new subscribers. Among the authors in the coming series are Wilkie Collins, Walter Besant, Mrs. Oliphant, Mary Cecil Hay, Florence Marryat, Anthony Trollope, A Conan Doyle Miss Braddon, Captain Marryat, Miss Thackery and Jules Verne. If you wish to take advantage of this anusual opportunity send one dollar for Stafford's Magazine, one year. Your first copy of the magazine, and your first number of the fity two novels (one each week) which you are to receive during the year will be sent you by return mail. Remit by P. O. DEAR SIR,—This is to certify that I deal in Parent Medicines, iacluding various kinds of Pilla. I self more of the Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. I self more of the Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills than of all the others combined. Their sales I find arm stiff in creasing.

Norman, Out., January 15, 1890.

W. H. Constock, Brockville, Out.

Dear Stra.—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills' are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is thereuit?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; a the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much on ein thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning have been cured with little tro ble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Musec's Pille, and so preserve v.gor and vital'ty.

DRAR SIR.—For many years, I have been a firm believer in your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root 1416.*

Not with a blind faith, but a confidence wrought by an actual personal experience of their value and merit. My business is such that I spend much o; my time away from home, and I would not consider my travelling outfit complete without a box of Morse's Pills.
