CHINA'S FINANCES ARE LOW EMPRESS ASKS ECONOMY

Imperial Edict Says It's Very Difficult to Provide for Drilling of Troops.

Washington, Aug. 16.—An edict issued on June 21 by the Dowager Empress and promulgated by the Emperor of China is remarkable for its attempt to introduce economy in the imperial administration in order to provide funds for the army.

The Chinese are informed that strict economy is practised in the imperial household, and that its allowances will be still further restricted. Here is the edict:

"The affairs of the country are now in a very precarious state, and there are numerous matters that are waiting to be put in order, but our finances have become so depleted that it is very difficult to provide the necessary funds for the very important matter of drilling our troops. It is to the people that the government looks for all its needs. The habit of those between us and you to squander thousands and spend money extravagantly has become so strong and systematic that there is now no way in which it can be broken. The useless expenditure for these sinucers works a great injury to the whole country.

NOT FOR CANADA TO LEAD USING METRIC SYSTEM

C.M.A. Committee Receives Numerous Objections to Proposal—Spreading Local Influence.

The metric system whose virtues and points of desirability have been projected to persistent examination by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association these many months past cropped up once again as a live issue at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the commercial intelligence committee of that body.

Among the number of important objections raised the most prominent was that neither Great Britain nor the United States had adopted the system. It was also pointed out that Canada, to do as yet, the time is not ripe.

PILGRIMAGES WERE MORE NUMEROUS

This Year and Sample

Cure is Recorded.

Montreal, Aug. 16. (Special.)—The Pilgrimages to St. Anne de Beauspre have been more numerous this season than ever.

The C.P.R. has handled many thousands, especially from the neighborhood of Malone, New York State.

Among those who claim to derive benefit from the pilgrimages to the shrine is Mrs. Delorme of Malone, who stated this morning that she went to the shrine with crutches, owing to a spinal disease with which she had been troubled for years.

She offered fervent prayers for several days. At last something seemed to tell her that she might throw away her crutches, which she did. She could hardly believe it at first, but she actually was able to walk. She praised and blessed the good Saint, "but," as she said to-day, "was almost afraid to leave my crutches behind me, for my faith was not strong enough to believe that I would be permanently cured. However, I prayed for more faith; I left the crutches behind; and here I am, as well as ever. At least I feel as well, and am so thankful for restoration."

MUST FACE AN ODD CHARGE.

Offered to Withdraw a Prosecution If Money Was Returned.

On Aug. 29 Sherman T. Sutton will appear in police court to answer the charge "that he did send, knowing the contents thereof, a letter to one J. A. Ferrault, demanding of him, with menaces, and without any reasonable or probable cause the sum of $50 in money."

Following is a copy of the letter upon which the charge is laid: Toronto, Aug. 2, 1904. J. A. Ferrault, 555 St. Hubert-street, Montreal: Sir—Yours of the 25th ult. with duty in hand and contents noted. Your son has not been tried yet, and I would ask you to send me $50 that he was in police court last week. I am out or as much as possible at once, and I'll follow my promises in my former letter.

Now I have no reason to expect compensation from you after the trial, so act as once, if you would have my assistance.

Yours truly, Sherman T. Sutton.

The information is sworn to by Detective Forrest.

This case has grown out of another, which was in police court last week. On Jan. 6, 1903, a warrant was issued for Ralph A. Ferrault at the request of Sherman T. Sutton, who claimed that Ferrault had stolen $25 from him. Ferrault left town, and the police learned that he was in Montreal. Three months later in prison in Montreal. At the expiration of his time he was met by Detective Forrest and brought to Toronto to stand trial on the Sutton charge. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in jail.

APPARENT IMPOTENCE OF BRITAIN

St. James Gazette Fears King's Speech May Have Bad Effect.

The St. James Gazette, commenting on the King's speech, says the effect of the apparent impotence of Great Britain to protect her own may have far-reaching consequences.

Her money is entirely under the control of her friends, who indignantly deny that any engagement exists, and declare emphatically that should such a marriage be contemplated young Dowager would receive a penniless bride.

Mr. Palmer, who has just arrived on his motor car from Switzerland, and who is an intimate friend of Miss Howard's family, says such a marriage would be the ruin of a disreputable fraud who trades in religion would never be tolerated.

MAY WIPE OUT BENEFITS.

Many Knights of Pythias Feel the Order is Purely Fraternal.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16.—The Supreme Lodge, which is the business department of the Knights of Pythias, opened its sessions to-day. It was predicted by some that the lodge would wipe away all forms of benefits, but strong opposition to this move seems assured. Many knights feel that the order is purely fraternal, and that all insurance features should be eliminated.

In his report the supreme chancellor advised printing the ritual in foreign languages, and the ability of the order to expand is limited to the English speaking zone.

BEATS PERRY'S BILLY SCORE.

Dawson City News: If King Edward does the right thing he will send Corporal Jack Graham of the R.N.W.M.F. $1250, the same sum that he gave Perry of the famous "Fanny" when Perry did some very good shooting. It cannot be compared to the score made by Graham, who was shot by Perry with the police team yesterday, and at all the ranges made 98, or two more than Perry. He had a wonderful record up to the 1000-yard mark, when one bad shot pulled his score down three points or he would have exceeded Perry by five points. At 500 yards Graham made seven bullseyes, or a possible 41, 200 yards he made 24, the latter shot being on the bullseye line.

SOMETHING ABOUT GRENFELL

The Vigorous Personality of the Man Now Heralded to Become Our Next Governor-General.

Taplow Court, the Buckinghamshire seat of W. H. Grenfell, who is now the most prominently mentioned to succeed Lord Minto as governor-general, stands on the summit of the end of the range of hills which runs along the River Thames from Maidenhead to Henley. The site of the present house stands on the summit of the earliest times.

The Grenfells came originally from Cornwall, and claim among their ancestors men who made great names among the people of the west, to whom the late Charles Kingsley, who married a Miss Grenfell, used to love to trace their pedigree; and the foundations of the family fortune were laid by a small squire, one Pascoe Grenfell, who, at the end of the last century, started works at Swanes to smelt the Cornish copper ores, and finally fixed upon Taplow as his country place of residence, and erected the tomb to be seen in the old Taplow churchyard. On this I saw it recorded, that in 1802 to 1804, as his son, Charles Pascoe Grenfell, represented Preston, and his son, Mr. Grenfell's father was member for Windsor and Deil represented hereford in the house of commons. His surprise for Alpine guides and established a record in alpine climbing. In eight days he "did" the Little Matterhorn, Monte Rosa, Rothorn and Matterhorn, and the "Grenfell" was the most notable to observe that this was a very smart work indeed.

On the left of the entrance hall "don't" on the left of the entrance hall are plentiful photographic portraits of the eight and nine, as well as pictures of alpine heights, while in his great central hall, round which the house is built, may be seen cars and tankards and other mementoes of his physical powers on the river and running-path.

In the earlier portion of his period of travel and adventure, Mr. Grenfell thoroughly familiarized himself with Switzerland and Canada. Three times he stood on the summit of the Matterhorn, and once passed the tempo crossed an Oxford eight across the English Channel.

His swim across Niagara. Another achievement of Mr. Grenfell was the swimming twice across Niagara from the American to the Canadian shore, the water below and fill the air with spray. According to Mr. Grenfell, he was mainly successful in keeping the legs up during the swim, so as to avoid the eddies locally known as "the second time I did it," he said, "it was for a while in a terrible funk, but I got into the water, and I was washed and could feel it carrying me under the falls."

On two occasions Mr. Grenfell went on hunting expeditions into the Rocky Mountains. On the first of these, in 1884, he was accompanied by his friend, the Hon. Gilbert Leigh, in the Highgate Mountains, Wyoming. He was once lost while wandering in a camp in search of game.

Chased Tigers, too. Both Mr. and Mrs. Grenfell visited India in the winter of 1891-2 and were the guests of Lord and Lady Harris at the house of Lord and Lady Wellesley at Madras, and the Viceroys and Marchioness of Lansdowne further north. Mr. Grenfell spent a very enjoyable time, and after shooting in the southern part of the country they also visited the Maharajah of Kutch Behar, where they played lawn tennis and were prominently identified with the bi-metallic movement, and it was largely owing to the strong and convinced views he held and signed his seat in the house of commons for hereford in the summer of 1888.

Mr. Grenfell's home is plentifully decorated with the trophies of the chase, more than fifty antlers of red deer adorning the walls of his own special room alone. This apartment, no less than the library, contains good store of books, while Taplow possesses not a few fine paintings.

STOCK MARKET

A LESSON TO CANADIANS FROM PACKERS' STRIKE.

More than a month has transpired since the determined struggle for mastery between the beef trust and the allied unions commenced in the meat-packing centres of the United States. The effects of the struggle are manifesting to the commercial world the great supplies of meats, provisions and by-products that are placed upon the world's markets by the big packing plants of the United States. In one respect the United States leather merchants are already feeling the effect of the shipping and demand of tanners for best hides cannot be fully supplied from native stock. Some of the big packers assert that they have means in their coolers sufficient to supply regular customers for a month hence. Although prices have been slightly advanced, and many thousands of people in the United States are out of work, the consumption of fresh meats and provisions has been fully up to ordinary requirements. A limited quantity of chilled beef has been forwarded from the United States to British ports during the past four weeks. The latest action of the unions in stopping the transit of ice to the big packers makes the situation more acute. There is little prospect of their sending any more chilled beef or fresh pork for awhile. Many months have elapsed since Denmark advanced and been seen in Smithfield Market, London, but on July 23 a considerable number were offered for sale, and also some from Holland. This seems to point to the conclusion that higher prices would soon attract meat to British markets from unusual quarters. Frozen beef from Australasia and Argentina benefited to the extent of 1-1/2 to 2c per lb. The very best effect of the struggle, as pertaining to Canada, would be the opening up of the chilled beef and fresh pork trade between this country and Britain. Surely the enterprise of the Danish co-operative concerns in already reaching out for the trade, through the largely-lessened quantities of chilled beef, should make the Canadian believe themselves to obtain a firm footing in providing the beef and pork for the British public.

ACCRETION IN VALUE OF WHEAT CROP.

The Chicago stock speculators have done well for the American farmer, providing the present price of wheat futures until this season's crop is harvested, and for all wheat to pass the contract grade, but as such is not at all likely, a reduction of one-third would still leave the increased value of the crop at about $100,000,000 higher than a few short weeks ago. Even if the farmer cannot get the present crop at the advance, he is estimated to have had 37,000,000 bushels on hand on July 1, and the primary receipts would tend to show that the profit of $9,250,000 on this amount is being taken in pending a change that might occur in the market. The strange part of the enormous rise is the coolness with which it is treated by the Liverpool traders. Futures at the English centre have just moved in a ratio of 1 to 4 and since the fall movement occurred at Chicago, English prices are only about six cents a bushel higher. Serious damage from rust in the United States northwest is responsible for much of the firmness of the market, and this week our own Northwest is reported to have been invaded by a similar crop disease. The Ontario wheat crop will be unusually small this year. The government report issued last week confirms the announcements already made of the almost absolute loss of fall wheat. Ontario farmers who are fortunate enough to have harvested an average yield will undoubtedly receive a higher price than that paid last season, but the belief that some express, that wheat prices will yet reach abnormal figures, is belied this far by the nonchalance displayed by the speculators in the ruling market of the world.

WHY THE SCARCITY OF SHEEP FLOCKS?

The large number of 3679 sheep and lambs were on the city market last Thursday. A few years ago such a number could not have been sold in a week. So many coming in on the same day had the effect of lowering the price for the later sale; however, they were all sold out without any serious loss. Breeding ewes of proper age and weight are in steady demand at western markets, indicating that United States farmers are alike in interest in providing for the increased consumption of mutton and lamb, and the satisfactory prices they are now receiving for wool. The thoughtful Ontario farmers will retain or purchase good ewes to increase their flocks, now that they are assured that for a year or two there is no likelihood of an overburdened market, for either mutton, lamb or wool. As one travels through the good farming sections of Ontario the eye dwells with pleasure upon the fine herds of cattle grazing in the pasture, but a fine flock of sheep and lambs. Journey along to a poor section of country and you miss the fine cattle and good sheep. There must be a reason for this state of affairs. Can not some of our readers account for this change?

Productiveness of Small Farms.

Chicago Drovers' Journal: No farmer should have more land than he can cultivate well. It is a waste of time and energy to attempt to cover too much, and as a general thing results are less satisfactory. Many of the small farms in England yield as much as some of the big ones in this country, because the English farmer is compelled to economize in land and has to make it produce the maximum crops. One wonderer why this is still true for centuries, and the raising of live stock keep the soil so well balanced that there is no year to year. Our farmers will come to that some day, but not until land gets much scarcer and dearer.

HEAVY HORSES SCARCE IN TORONTO MARKET.

Prices Reported Fairly Good, With Prospects of Increased Business.

It can scarcely be said that the horse market has been a dull one this season. However, there are indications of some brisk buying and selling in the near future. Walter Harland Smith of The Repository reports that he has already received several orders for work horses for contractors. There are required to be from 14 to 18 hundred pounds in weight, and anywhere in workable age from five and six years up. They must be hardy possess good feet and be active walkers. Contractors, in fact, show a disposition to be a little more exacting as to quality than in former years. This refers not only to the horses themselves, but also to the prices, for it should be known that while buyers are particularly anxious for quality, soundness and formation, they are by no means disposed to be generous in quotations. The demand for heavy horses appears to have taken up exactly where it left off at the completion of the summer season, and is just about as steady. But there is a decided tendency to depreciate prices, and purchasers seem to be undervaluing that activity in demand implies a scarcity that in its turn indicates rising figures.

In Ontario many inquiries are heard of good general purpose horses, but he practical correspondingly scarce, with those heard in the years of distress, that is, in the concluding years of the last century. Breeders and farmers, on the other hand, seem inclined to imagine that they should receive a price for their horses that is not far from that of three or four years ago. There is nothing whatever to warrant this idea, except the fact that people are becoming more educated and demand sounder horses than was the case a few years ago. It is not surprising that agriculturists would bear this fact in mind and endeavor to breed accordingly. Among other reasons for their expectation of improved prices. A study of the situation, however, will convince anybody that no more trouble is taken now in selecting sires for dams, or vice versa, than there was wont to be. The steam and electricity being of common use in the country districts and on the farms, the cost of raising a horse is not so great as it used to be. If they are to get better prices for their stock they must also provide better food. Motor cars and other engines are lessening the use of horses, which of course means that improved stock will be in demand, but not in the same quantity as in the past. The fact that the demand for heavy horses is still active, and ready purchasers. As the season advances the demand for carriage horses will increase, and it is not surprising that drivers are being induced primarily to refer to sound-bottomed, good-looking horses, and not to any empty-headed dependents entirely upon the supply and the price. In the spring of 1903, when the same market was in vogue, quotations here were higher than in their own country. The regular Tuesday and Friday sales at the Repository have been well attended, and the offerings in all classes have sold quickly at prices that were considered good. Consignors expressed themselves very pleased to do so well during what is usually a dull season, namely, from July 15 to Aug. 15.

WALTER HARLAND SMITH'S REPORT.

The present apparent scarcity of draught horses is due to the immense harvesting operations throughout the province and prices will doubtless be easier within the next month. The regular Tuesday and Friday sales at the Repository have been well attended, and the offerings in all classes have sold quickly at prices that were considered good. Consignors expressed themselves very pleased to do so well during what is usually a dull season, namely, from July 15 to Aug. 15.

Following are the prevailing prices for sound horses, 5 to 7 years. Single roadsters, 15 to 16 hands, $150 to $250; single colts and carriage horses, 15 to 16 hands, $150 to $200; matched pairs and carriage horses, 15 to 16 hands, $375 to $575; delivery horses, 1100 to 1200 lbs., $125 to $175; general purpose and express horses, 1200 to 1350 lbs., $135 to $185; draught horses, 1550 lbs., $175 to $225; serviceable second-hand horses, $40 to $100; serviceable second-hand drivers, $50 to $110.

Chicago Horse Market.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The demand for all quarters has ruled narrow and different for common and medium offerings, with prices averaging $5 to $10 lower. As a whole, the trade for the week has been the dullist and most unsatisfactory of the season. A few extra choice offerings of all classes have attracted buyers at stationary prices, but all arrivals not gilt-edged have been affected by the general decline. Industries are disturbed in all parts of the country are assigned as the principal cause of strikes restricting the demand. Receipts have been liberal for the week, approximately 1200, against 1500 last week and 1297 for the corresponding week a year ago. Until the late week in July the trade held stronger than the average for the summer market.

HIGHER PRICES FOR HOGS.

Hog prices on the Toronto market have now reached the highest point of the year, $5.75 per cwt. fed and watered off cars. Packers report the supply even at this price somewhat limited, and the opinion is voiced among drovers that a further advance will take place. The prime cause of the higher price is the scarcity of supplies. The present year has not been of the best for hog raising, and farmers have not the quantity on hand they had last year. In the States the market continues to be governed by the packers' strength caused by a shortage, is the higher price of feed. Grain prices are holding considerably higher than they were, and this in itself is sufficient to cause the farmer to demand more for his finished hog.

TO RESTORE SOIL FERTILITY.

Receipts of live stock were moderate—68 carloads, composed of 528 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 307 hogs and 68 calves. With a few exceptions, the quality of fat cattle was moderate to medium. Trade was fair for best cattle, but slow for the common classes. Prices were much the same as those paid at the close of last week, but not so high. About nine loads of the above-mentioned cattle came from the Junction market, eight loads not being for sale, but for export. Exporters, of which there were only two or three loads, sold at from $4.50 to $4.75 per cwt. better cattle would no doubt have brought more money.

FORCING MOULTING.

The idea of forcing hens to moult early, so that they may commence laying again in the fall and early winter when eggs are generally scarce and dear, has been a method of some farmers in one State that is not new, but is receiving more attention at the hands of experiment stations in Canada and the United States. The first person to give this idea a trial seems to have been an American, Mr. Van Dresser. Recognizing that moulting is a trying time to the hen, the growth of new feathers, the energy of the fowl, and all egg-producing being checked in consequence, which caused them to stop laying and moult early, so that their new feathers should all be grown early in the fall and winter, thus reaping the benefit of high prices for their eggs. Mr. Van Dresser's method consisted of withholding food from the hens for a few days, either altogether or to a certain extent, and reduced their weight, and then feeding heavily on food suitable for feather production and for the building up of the vital system. This plan met with good success in his hands.

A detailed experiment was also carried out at the West Virginia Experiment Station, where a number of Rhode Island Reds and White Leghorns, commencing on Aug. 5, were given no food in runs 15x100 feet which had been seeded to corn and purposes barren of grain at the time. At the conclusion of this period the hens were liberally fed on a ration of mash, beet scrap, corn, wheat and oats. On Aug. 12 the hens ceased laying, and on Aug. 15 they had a complete moult. In comparison with hens which had been fed regularly all along, with no change of food, it was found that the hens that had been fasted for a few days laid only just beginning to moult at this date, and their egg production had fallen off for 5 or 6 days for the flock.

START POTATOES IN BOXES.

English Gower Believes Plant Increases Yield Greatly. Writers on agricultural topics for British newspapers continue to develop a good deal of attention to potato culture and to the prominence it has obtained owing to the interest in and the high price paid for certain new varieties. The agricultural writer of The Birmingham Post told some weeks ago of the success of M. Wallace of Dumfriesshire, a farmer who uses the boxing system for raising his potatoes. He gave it as his experience that the yield per acre of potatoes had been increased by two or three tons owing to the accelerated maturity of early potatoes by sprouting them in boxes in the winter or early spring. Mr. Wallace is an advocate of frequent change of soil and of planting high, good potatoes from seed in spring, and he is a convert to the theory that the change he advocates, and which his hearers approved, was from a high altitude or cold, wet climate to a warmer locality. A very interesting point was touched upon by the lecturer in respect to the use of immature tubers for seed. He declared emphatically that the best and most robust crops are obtained from seed in spring, and are obtained in support of his argument the popularity of Scotch seed, which is seldom matured.

Mechanical Power for Farms.

It is quite probable that before many years the great bulk of the work on the farms will be done by mechanical power. The progress made in automobile building has shown that a high degree of efficiency can be obtained at comparatively little cost, so far as fuel is concerned. The time is not likely to ever come when the old reliable horse will be entirely replaced from farm work, but that he will be relieved of a big part of it looks quite certain, for the feed consumed by ordinary horses is sufficient to furnish fuel that would run a motor capable of doing much more work.

START POTATOES IN BOXES.

English Gower Believes Plant Increases Yield Greatly. Writers on agricultural topics for British newspapers continue to develop a good deal of attention to potato culture and to the prominence it has obtained owing to the interest in and the high price paid for certain new varieties. The agricultural writer of The Birmingham Post told some weeks ago of the success of M. Wallace of Dumfriesshire, a farmer who uses the boxing system for raising his potatoes. He gave it as his experience that the yield per acre of potatoes had been increased by two or three tons owing to the accelerated maturity of early potatoes by sprouting them in boxes in the winter or early spring. Mr. Wallace is an advocate of frequent change of soil and of planting high, good potatoes from seed in spring, and he is a convert to the theory that the change he advocates, and which his hearers approved, was from a high altitude or cold, wet climate to a warmer locality. A very interesting point was touched upon by the lecturer in respect to the use of immature tubers for seed. He declared emphatically that the best and most robust crops are obtained from seed in spring, and are obtained in support of his argument the popularity of Scotch seed, which is seldom matured.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Receipts of live stock were moderate—68 carloads, composed of 528 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 307 hogs and 68 calves. With a few exceptions, the quality of fat cattle was moderate to medium. Trade was fair for best cattle, but slow for the common classes. Prices were much the same as those paid at the close of last week, but not so high. About nine loads of the above-mentioned cattle came from the Junction market, eight loads not being for sale, but for export. Exporters, of which there were only two or three loads, sold at from $4.50 to $4.75 per cwt. better cattle would no doubt have brought more money.

A Day for Weathered Oak

Furniture Sale gives artistic people an opportunity to buy quality pieces of that dark, old-fashioned den furniture at a big reduction.

NEVER MIND WHAT THE DEALER SAYS

It's easy enough to say that some other shoe polish is "just as good" as "2 IN 1". It's quite another thing to back up the statement with facts.

"2 IN 1" SHOE POLISH

is the only one worthy of the name. It's a paste that takes the place of the liquid-and-paste combination dressings. Free of acids and Turpentine. Made solely of pure oils. Has no equals—and no rivals.
