On the North Sea coast the Germans are keeping up a continuous bombardment against the Belgian and French trenches.

Official French Summary

Paris, Feb. 1.—The French war office this afternoon reported: "The day of January 31 was marked, as had been January 30, by artillery fighting, which was particularly spirited in all the northern region."

Along the entire Alsace front, from the junction of this river, with the rise as far as Berry-Aux-Bac, our batteries were successful at over-riding...

In Champagne, to the northeast of Meuil-Les-Hurlas, we perfected our organization in a little forest which we took possession of the day before yesterday.

January 31 was relatively calm in the Argonne, where the Germans seem to have suffered heavily in the recent fighting.

There is nothing of interest to report from the fronts in the Woerw district, in Lorraine and in the Vosges.

Petrograd, Feb. 1.—The Russians officially announce the occupation of Tahr, Persia. The statement says: "In the fighting below Tahr, the Turks lost four field guns, provisions, munitions and many prisoners. Having been cut off from Tahr and suffered heavy losses, they took to flight. On January 30 we occupied Tahr. Either fronts are without material change."

EMPIRE'S LIGHT SHALL NOT GO OUT

Never So Long as a Dollar or a Man Remains

A STIRRING ADDRESS

N. W. Rowell, Opposition Leader in Ontario, Addresses Canadian Club Here—Canada's Young Men to go to War in Increasing Numbers

An address breathing the highest patriotism and dealing with Canada's part in the great struggle as well as with other phases of the war was delivered at the Canadian Club luncheon today by N. W. Rowell, K. C., leader of the opposition in Ontario.

Mr. Rowell spoke of the debt of gratitude which the whole of the empire owes to the maritime provinces for the great men they had given to the public life of the dominion and also for the many leaders in the intellectual life of the dominion who had gone from this part of the country.

Referring to the unity of the empire Mr. Rowell said that the war had shown the essential unity of all its component parts in a manner that had proved surprising to those who thought the empire so loosely joined together.

In Canada he had been struck also with the patriotism of the public men who had turned away from party loyalties to the exposition of the highest hopes and aspirations of the Canadian people.

Another matter of special interest dealt with by the speaker was the imperial conference to which he referred as one of the greatest forces for the unifying of the empire.

Mr. Rowell commended Germany and England in regard to the relation to the military and civil power, the form of government, their attitude as to the recognition of nationality, their sentiments regarding universal peace and international intercourse, responsible government, the betterment of the condition of the masses, and their sentiments as to the relations of might and right.

Mr. Rowell set forth very clearly the great contrast there is between the two countries in these various respects, the one representing militarism and the other democracy.

German Submarine Raid Sends Rates Up—How The Leinsters Escaped—Berlin Boastful Over Achievement

Liverpool, Feb. 1.—The insurance rates on coasters have been raised from five to twenty shillings per cent, as a result of the German submarine raid.

Dublin via London, Feb. 1.—"Rough weather has no terrors for the German submarines," declared the captain of the steamer Leinster, in telling of his steamer's narrow escape from a German submarine off Dublin Bay.

The Leinster plies across the Irish Channel between Holyhead and Kings-town. The outgoing boat left Kings-town last night at 11 o'clock, and was posted at the pier stating that the incoming boat had been chased by a submarine. As a result, all the passengers there cancelled the trip.

THE TOKO MARU London, Feb. 1.—A member of the British steamer Toko Maru, sunk in the English channel off Folkestone, yesterday by a submarine, has arrived in London, and thus describes the disaster.

When we sighted her late on Sunday afternoon, just outside the entrance to Dublin Bay," he said, "the weather was so rough that not a single passenger was on deck. The submarine approached as while she was submerged, but we sighted her emerging less than a mile away. She signaled us to halt, we were fired upon, but I sprang full speed ahead, changing our course every few miles. Our pursuer kept the weather well, but we got the engines up by twenty-four knots and soon outdistanced her."

GERMANS GROW TIRED OF IT; DEPRESSION AND ANXIETY PREVAIL

Newspaper Man, Who Has Just Been in Prominent Cities, Says That is Sentiment-Wild Tales of Unearned Victories no Longer Believed

New York, Feb. 1.—A cable to the Herald from London this morning says: "Alfred Arnold, a New York Herald and London Daily Express special correspondent, who has just returned after a tour of Frankfurt-On-Main, Dusseldorf, Elberfeld, Bremen, Hamburg and Munich, writes that the most significant symptom observed was the appearance of a definite peace party in the industrial centres and the organization of peace meetings and placarding to stop the war."

On the whole the prevalent sentiment in Germany, is one of depression and anxiety. Stories of sweeping victories, especially over the hated British, are no longer credited. War news is scanty and has lost its power to cheer.

The coarseness of the now prevailing foods—actually scarce, but the fare is war fare—is significant and revolts the German appetite. All delicacies are reserved for the hospitals.

Only paper money now is used in Germany, and all gold and silver has to be surrendered to municipal authorities.

General French Again On Quiet Visit To London; The King Calls on Him

His Majesty Overrides Custom—British Commander-in-Chief Confers With Monarch and the War Council

London, Jan. 29.—(Correspondence of the A. P.)—Again, unknown to the British public, Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France and Belgium, has paid another flying visit to London, conferred with the king and the war council, and returned to the front, without a word of his trip appearing in the newspapers.

Contrary to precedent, the king called on Sir John at his residence, 94 Lancaster Gate, W., instead of Sir John going to Buckingham Palace.

Sir John crossed the channel, and reached London on Tuesday, January 12, dressed in a dark suit and a derby, no one recognized him either on the train from the coast, or when he stepped from a motor car in front of his house.

His first caller was Premier Asquith, who remained about an hour. The premier was followed by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and by Rt. Hon. Lloyd George.

It was evening and dark when the king arrived by motor. No one knew of his coming, and there was no crowd to greet him. It is doubtful even whether Sir John's butler, for the moment, recognized the distinguished visitor.

For more than an hour the king remained with Sir John in a conference in which they alone participated. What they discussed it will remain for some future chronicler of the war to disclose.

Next day Sir John, dressed in the same brown suit and wearing the same derby, took train from Charing Cross station for Dover. There he boarded a cruiser for Calais. To guard against mines or sudden attacks, a destroyer preceded the cruiser and at each side of her steamed a battleship.

GERMAN CRUISERS BUILT TO RUN AWAY

Could Use More Guns in Flight Than in Chasing—British Idea is the Opposite

London, Feb. 1.—The Times' naval correspondent discussing the lessons of the North Sea battle, says that nothing is more strikingly illustrated than the value of the battle cruiser, the child of Lord Fisher, with its uniform armament of heavy guns and the highest speed obtainable on a given displacement. He adds: "The fine speed and great gun power of the battle cruiser would be of little use if the value of high speed has been recognized, insure that the unwilling enemy should be brought to action, or in an action with one willing to fight, enable the former to choose and maintain the most advantageous position and range."

GREAT PLAY AT IMPERIAL MONDAY Bronson Howard wrote a large proportion of the most successful dramas written by Americans and his play "The Banker's Daughter" ranks with the greatest in the history of the modern stage. "The Banker's Daughter" is a portrayal of American life interwoven with love, pathos and humor; it is superbly acted and stupendously staged.

BRITISH TACT WINS IN EGYPT

Only Moslem Troops Sent From India

Good Effect on Natives, Colonialists Welcomed and "Holy War" Discouraged

London, Jan. 2.—(By mail to New York)—One of the cleverest moves made by the British War Office during the war was the landing of only Moslem soldiers from India for the defense of Egypt. Among the 100,000 odd Indians drafted to different parts of the war area there are, perhaps, a hundred different religions, and a little less fact on the part of the authorities might have meant trouble for the British.

The Brahmins, Hindus, Parsis, worshippers of Yama, Kali, Shiva, and other creeds, however, were sent to France, East Africa, China, and in fact everywhere but Egypt. Only Mohammedan regiments put foot on Egyptian soil, and the effect on the population was immediate. The Australian, New Zealanders, and English territorial who replaced the regular garrisons were, according to the Egyptian mind, all "Gibberners," and as such not to be distinguished from the regular army, but when the Moslem soldiers from India were sent to the principal mosque of Alexandria, there was some alarm and indignation, but the dusky troops had no difficulty in proving to the priests that they, too, were of the "Faithful," and there was much wonderment when it was learned that all the soldiers from India were "true believers." This made the Egyptians "firmly to think" for the Indians were quite satisfied that in fighting for the British Kaiser-i-Hind against the Padishah and Hadji Mohammed Williams of Berlin, they were in no way acting to the detriment of their religion. The Egyptians have never loved "British rule," and when they saw the British army they were ready to fight the Turks for the Turkish importance of the Sheik-ul-Islam's war proclamation had been diminished.

There appears to be little danger of a serious invasion of Egypt, particularly in Palestine, a road which has never been successfully negotiated by an army of any size. The coast route taken by the British on the retirement of his invading forces is commended from the sea, and would prove a veritable death trap, while the British and French warships, in the Suez Canal could easily annihilate an attacking force from that direction.

There are only two desert routes into Egypt. One is south from the sea coast to the Nile, and the other is north across the Sinai Peninsula, but wells are few and far between and the probability of transportation of supplies for an invading army by these two routes is practically insuperable.

Apart from the arrival of the British, the never-ending procession of troops and warships through the Suez Canal, and the numbers of the troops sent to replace the old garrison have practically convinced the population that this is no time to rise against the British. Despite the activities of "Young Turk" revolutionaries, the great mass of the people are contented with their rule, and see no reason for changing it for the rule of Constantinople and the unknown Kaiser in Berlin.

BRITISH ADMIRAL DEAD London, Feb. 1.—Rear Admiral the Hon. Victor A. Montagu died yesterday. He served with the fleet with Russia in 1855, in the China war of 1857, and with the naval brigade in the Indian mutiny of 1858. He was retired in 1886.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE You Ought to Have Your Eyes Examined Eye defects are subtle. Because accommodation can often be forced, frequently a defect which glasses would correct if neglected, or is not noticed at all until permanent injury results.

The great danger to eyes is that defect in vision, unless corrected, continues to grow. Also that as the eye grows older, the inner lens becomes less elastic, and near vision is secured only by straining the eye.

The sensible way to insure your sight is to have a competent optometrist examine your eyes at least every two years.

We are prepared to make such expert examinations and if glasses are needed provide you with the exact lenses your eyes require. The examination will not inconvenience you and will take but a little time.

THE WAR NEWS.

The appearance of a German submarine off Fleetwood, in the path of vessels approaching Liverpool and Manchester, and the fact that this craft was able to sink three British vessels and escape without challenge, has naturally excited some excitement in shipping circles.

It is evident that conditions in Austro-Hungary are growing more and more serious, and an important Russian victory would do much to hasten the end for that country.

In a telegram to the marshal of Moscow, Emperor Nicholas has once more declared that the war will not end until the enemies of Russia have been completely crushed.

A comparison of the relative losses of the British and German fleets shows that those of Germany have been the greatest in number of vessels and in tonnage.

German statesmen are reported to have said to Baron Burián, the Austrian foreign minister, that disarming Europe would only mean that Great Britain would be able to tyrannize the whole world.

A Paris report claims that the British have retaken from the Germans some trenches which the latter had captured, and that all along the line the fighting continues favorable to the Allies.

The Story of a Church That Believes In a Town

(By William F. Danforth, Pastor of Christ Church, Elmhurst, Ill., in The American Magazine.) The question "How may we unify our town into a community?" focuses the suburban problem. The answer of Elmhurst, Ill., sixteen miles west of Chicago, is the Community House opened early in 1914 by Christ Church, which exists "for the purpose of uniting, as far as possible, all the representatives of Christian faiths in Elmhurst, in vital membership and active work, as a church for the community as a whole."

Building the Community House, In this rather bad state of affairs, Christ Church, trying constantly to conciliate and unite all factions, suggested the building of a community house in the church premises. The idea appealed tremendously to both classes and by the work of a building committee of eleven, within two months $9,000 were subscribed in a place where the tradition was that $4,000 could be raised for the top limit that could be raised for anything.

Getting the Men Together, First, I sent out a letter to 250 men in all localities of the municipality, including post cards, in which I named the Community Club, it was a frank "man-to-man" letter, stating that the house was a fact, as all willing to "chip in" in an organization to provide entertainment, etc. free to the general public, and to give the thing a "permanent" character.

Principles of Management, The by-laws of the house state that all entertainments, events, or affairs of any nature must be booked two weeks in advance with the secretary of the Community House. Applications for time must be made in writing, stating date desired, the time when the affair is to begin, and when it will end, and briefly, its nature. This is a safety device to keep out anything objectionable.

STRENGTH FOR MOTHERHOOD, The importance of reserve strength and pure blood at this period cannot be over-emphasized and Nature's pure nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is the blood-strengthening the bones and nourishment the whole system. It is free from harmful drugs.

whole, and this constitution delegates the control of the Community House to a board of management, which is composed of representatives of each of the organizations participating in the use of the house; namely, one representative from the Y. M. C. A., one from the Women's Club, one from the Community Club, one from the Y. W. C. A., one from the board of trustees of Christ Church, one from the board of Deacons of Christ Church, one from the Women's Aid Society of Christ Church, and "the pastor" of Christ Church. Each of these is elected annually, by each of the organizations, each in a different month of the year, so that the board never has a wholesale going out of office on the board, but always some members of several months' experience. This board represents every side of Elmhurst. It has given the community confidence and shown the people that Christ Church meant what it said—that the entire city was to have a voice in the control. By common consent, however, it was deemed just that Christ Church should have a majority on the board. This has worked splendidly. The young people have a chance to assist in the control (not to be dominated by the old people) and the old people have a chance to let the youth run away with it.

J. F. MacDOUGALL DEAD IN ARKANSAS, AGED 65

Native of Long Reach and For Some Time a Resident of St. John

At the Crystal Street Sanitarium, Hot Springs, Ark., U. S., on January 11, John Frederic MacDougall, formerly of New Brunswick, died after a lingering illness. Mr. MacDougall was born at the Long Reach, on the St. John river, near the place now known as The Cedars, on December 10, 1849, and at his death was sixty-five years, one month and a day old.

He was known as one who could "new timber out of the thick trees and bring it to an excellent work." For the last twenty-five years Mr. MacDougall has been a resident of the United States and for some years, on account of his health, in the sunny south. The last time he was to visit his old home he was called to the death bed of his father, Daniel MacDougall, where all the members of his family met together never all to meet together again on earth.

As a man of great ability, strong as he was gentle, and of a winning personality, he made many friends in his native land and wherever his changed lot was cast. Though a generation has passed, many will still remember him and feel all the "sadness of farewell" at his "crossing the bar" and sympathize deeply with his surviving relatives, by whom he will ever be held in grateful and loving remembrance.

WITH THE SOLDIERS Today's Tramp Postponed—A Tug of War Challenge

The route march planned for today for the 26th Battalion to Rothbury with equipment and rations was postponed because of the heavy snowfall. The morning was spent in indoor drill at the armory.

A Challenge. A friendly rivalry has existed for some time between the Army Service Corps, No. 6 Co., and the 26th Battalion in athletics. This morning a challenge was issued in behalf of the No. 6 Company's tug-of-war team by Q. M. S. Harding, desiring a match for Friday night of this week. If the challenge is accepted the match will probably take place in the Opera House. An answer is requested by the 26th Battalion. Friends of Elmer R. Ingraham of the post office staff will be interested to learn that he has received a position with the Canadian Postal Corps, and will leave for Toronto this evening to join in a muster there which was being ordered to report for duty at once.

No Orders Yet. As yet no mobilization orders have been received for the 6th Mounted Rifles. Recruiting has gone on with a steady swing so that when the orders are received the lists will be almost complete.

Ronald Johnson, a member of the 26th Battalion, was the recipient of a very pretty silver wrist watch on last Friday evening from friends who assembled at the home of James Johnson, Chesley street. During the evening a pleasing programme of games and music was carried out and refreshments were served.

Westley Mason, who received a wrist-watch at the home of Mrs. Little, 299 Brussels street, one evening last week, is her son by a former marriage, and not her step-son.

FATALLY STRICKEN Samuel Snodgrass Dies Suddenly In Waterloo Street

Death came suddenly this morning to Samuel Snodgrass, aged about seventy years, in Waterloo street. About 9:30 o'clock he was noticed by Philip Fitzpatrick from across the street, leaning against the railing in front of the Bishop's Palace, and with another man, Mr. Fitzpatrick hurried to assist him. They found him lying on the ground and he died before they reached there. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Mr. Snodgrass was a native of Cornwall, N. B., and was a member of the St. John's Lodge, No. 1, of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick, where it rests pending further instructions. Mr. Snodgrass has lived at Damascene street in Kings County between Hampton and Titusville. He sold his farm there recently and came to the city, boarding at 164 Waterloo street. He went out this morning on business and was overcome with heart trouble. Five sons survive, four of whom, Samuel, John, James and Joseph, are in the states, and there is a daughter, Mrs. John Carson of Halifax. She has been notified and a telegram has also been sent to the son, Samuel, who lives in Rhode Island.

OPEN TO CRITICISM

A well-known citizen called at the Times office this morning to tell of an incident which occurred in the Old Burial Ground a few minutes before seven o'clock last evening. He was on his way to church. Two ladies slipped and fell on the icy sidewalk. One of them, an elderly lady, was severely hurt. He stopped to help her up and soon a small group was collected. A policeman came from Sydney street. One of the bystanders said: "Cannot the officer over a coach?" The policeman replied that he would go up and report to headquarters. One of the ladies begged him not to do that. He then said "All right," in a very curt way, and walked away without even having asked whether the lady was seriously injured. Fortunately the lady's home was not far away.

Death of J. A. Dibblee, Former Mayor and Twice Elected To Legislature

Woodstock, N. B., Feb. 1.—J. Allan Dibblee, of the firm of W. F. Dibblee & Son, died at his home yesterday after a few days' illness with Bright's Disease. In his death the town loses one of its most prominent business men. He had not been in robust health but attended to business every day and was looking fine. In the letter he enclosed a snapshot of himself and Garnett, a well known local boxer. This picture is reproduced here.

REAL ESTATE IN ST. JOHN

"Conditions in the local real estate market must be regarded as encouraging in comparison with the situation in almost any other part of Canada," said S. H. Taylor of Taylor & Sweeney, a Times reporter. "We have had five sales in the last month and other brokers seem to be getting their share of business also. For a while there was a tendency on the part of those who were looking for property to purchase to wait in hope that war times would bring bargain prices. There has been no indication of any material reduction in prices in this city and many of those who have been delaying are now making their purchases. Of course most of the buying is for actual use and there is little investment business but conditions in St. John are such that an active market is not necessary to hold up prices as the prices for inside properties hardly reached actual values even during the busiest times."
