NAVAL REDUCTION CONFERENCE LOOMS

JAPAN ADVOCATING NEW PARLEY WITH BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES

Objection Registered Against Stand of France and Italy SPLIT AT GENEVA

European Countries Demand Security Pact Prior to Land Disarmament

GENEVA, May 21—While the question of security is a prerequisite to disarmament, which is still being maintained by France, Belgium and Italy, seems to preclude any immediate result being obtained by the preparatory disarmament commission to European land disarmament, a naval reduction conference between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, seems among the possible eventualities of the gathering of representatives of the nations here.

SEEK TO ECONOMIZE A three power conference, it is contended by the Japanese, could frame a supplementary Washington naval agreement to cover cruisers, submarines and airplanes. The Japanese spokesman said a revision of the existing program for the construction of Japanese cruisers would result in big economies in the budget.

WANT SECURITY FIRST Rumania, Poland and Finland are standing with France, Belgium and Italy that greater security than now prevails must be had before further land disarmament may be carried out.

NEW TRAIN SHED WELL ADVANCED BY NEXT WINTER

General Manager Appleton of C. N. R. Tells of Plans OF LATEST TYPE

Sunken Tracks to Be Feature of Construction; New Depot For Brookville

THAT the new train shed at the depot should be well advanced in construction before next winter, and that it will embrace the latest and best features of the leading modern depots of Canada, was the assurance of Walter U. Appleton, general manager of the C. N. R., Atlantic region, who was in town today.

He states that as soon as soundings now going on are completed concrete work will begin and the big $100,000 job rushed along.

UP-TO-DATE TYPE The train shed when completed will be so up-to-date and accommodating that it will completely transform the situation at the depot and make the present building of secondary consideration. In the plans are provisions for modern expressage rooms, checking and baggage rooms and various quarters not included in the present layout.

UMBRELLA ROOF The roof of the new train shed will be the umbrella type—weatherproof but ventilating. The tracks will be sunken step-high and intervening promenade will be grassy or some such composition, as in Montreal and other big stations. The gables, doors and all details will be quite up to the best standards.

A series of steel arches, which will form the roof of the new train shed, will probably begin where the present tracks lie, though final decisions as to other developments of travel are making the actual place of entraining and detraining highly important from the viewpoint of facility. The new Saint John train shed will be highly creditable in this regard.

AT BROOKVILLE Mr. Appleton says Brookville is to have a new depot also. It will be of brick and stone, to replace the old wooden structure destroyed several weeks ago by fire. A side-tracked passenger car has been serving as a shelter for the travelling public in this locality ever since the destruction of the station.

It was not possible to accede to the requests of some Brookville patrons of the railway, who suggested a merger of the Coldbrook and Brookville depots at a common point of contact, with the idea of making an amalgamated area worthy of a telegraphic station. The reason for this refusal is that Coldbrook is a yard terminal and requires wire communication with the city. However, a nice, slightly masonry shelter-depot will grace Brookville as soon as possible.

TRAIN DERAILED HAMILTON, Ont., May 21—A Canadian National Railway passenger train was derailed near the Stony Creek station this morning. The engineer was injured but as far as can be ascertained no passengers were badly hurt.

Westerners Plan Long Fur Trading Expedition Into Arctic Regions

Canadian Press VANCOUVER, B. C., May 21—On June 15 the 75-foot power schooner Nigalik, built at Vancouver, will depart for the Arctic on a fur-trading expedition which will keep her in the Far North from two to five years. The vessel, constructed for a newly-formed Canadian company, controlled by C. F.

Clarke and R. C. Macgregor, of Vancouver, and backed by New York capital, cost $400,000 to build, and it is expected she will be able to withstand all the rigors of a long Arctic trip.

Clarke and Macgregor have had long experience as fur traders in the north. The Nigalik will proceed from Vancouver along the Alaska coast line, trading with Eskimos, and then proceed to Boritha Peninsula, where it may be necessary to winter, but it is planned, if possible, to make the Northwest Passage to Baffin Land, the same as Amundsen tried to make coming westward.

With good luck in trading and weather conditions, the trip may be completed in two years, but provision has been made for a stay of five years if necessary.

2 FLIERS MISSING

M. B. Favor, Student Aviator, and Mechanic Lost in Alaska Flight

Swishart, mechanic, who left Seattle last Sunday for a non-stop flight to Ketchikan, Alaska, was received by a canvass made by British Columbia west coast radio stations. No word of the missing men has been received at Ketchikan.

NO NEW MOVES FOR SETTLEMENT BY EITHER SIDE

Delegates To Miners' Federation Return To Their Districts WEEK-END LULL

Premier Baldwin and Cabinet Members Leave Tomorrow for Country

LONDON, May 21—The mine owners today informed the government that Premier Baldwin's compromise suggestions for ending the coal steep would limit freedom of administration and would not increase the efficiency of the industry.

The owners urged restoration of the eight-hour day to reduce costs of production. They maintain that if this were accepted the reductions in wages would be less than at present. The seven-hour day is now the standard in the mines.

LONDON, May 21—There is every indication that the deadlock in the mining situation will continue well into next week, at least, as neither the government nor the mine owners have made any new moves toward a settlement.

The delegates of the Miners' Federation, as well as the members of the miners' executive, are returning to their districts after brief meetings this morning.

BREAKDOWN SERIOUS LONDON, May 21—There is a disposition in official quarters today to regard the breakdown in the negotiations for the settlement of the coal strike as extremely serious, because both the owners and the miners have decided not to accept the government's proposals.

It also appears that the cabinet itself is not united on this subject. Premier Baldwin having to meet some severe criticism from his associates because of nationalisation in his proposals. Other ministers are not favorable to the idea because of its possible heavy cost.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY AT ST. JOSEPH'S TO BE HELD ON MAY 24

Super-Drama "Calvary" is Slated For Evening With Forty in Cast

ATHLETICS DURING A.M. AND AFTERNOON

Event of Sports Will Be Ball Game With Saint John Team

ST. JOSEPH'S, N. B., May 20.—The annual field day of the students of St. Joseph's University, is to be celebrated on a large scale this year on May 24. A day of real sport is planned, followed by an evening of entertainment, and it is expected to outclass all previous field days. The morning and afternoon will be taken up with sports and a band concert, and in the evening will be given the super-drama "Calvary," with 40 students in the cast.

The morning will usher in the feature event, the mile run, followed by many other similar events which will be carried over until early in the afternoon. This will be followed at 3 o'clock by a game of baseball. It is expected that a team from Saint John will be on hand to meet the college nine. In anticipation of being pitted against a strong lineup under the command of last year's remarkable stand-by, "Jack" Dalton, of the class of '25, St. Joseph's team is hard at practice to work themselves into shape. A band concert is to be given by the students' band at 5 p.m.

The event of the evening will be the reproduction of "Calvary"—a super-drama with a cast of forty students—depicting the betrayal and death of Christ, interwoven with many biblical events and

MONCTON, May 21.—The Moncton branch of the Great War Veterans Association quarterly general business meeting held at the Barker House was a great success. It was the unanimous expression of those present that even personal ambitions and personal desires should succumb to the requirements that are needed to develop the Empire. It was considered necessary for all returned men to give the association of the Great War Veterans and their active support. The speakers were President Ernest Dorton, Major George O. Price, Past President Major A. T. McLean, Major MacKinnon and others.

DISARMAMENT.

Were it not tragic, there would be something truly humorous in the report of the academic declamations of the delegates to the Geneva disarmament conference.

Then, armaments are a matter of defence as well as offence, and the nation that lowers its guard renounces its position.

War appears unutterably more horrible to M. de Broqueville than the aeroplane and poison gas, he says, and who started to use gas when it was forbidden?

Count von Bernsdorff is almost more legible than the rest. "Forbid the aeroplane and poison gas," he says, "and who started to use gas when it was forbidden?"

"Because," he points out, "our factories are so near the frontier." Somewhere we seem to have heard of factories established by Germans beyond Germany's frontiers.

"The 'Give us security, and we will lay down our arms' cry is doubtless sincere. But what is security? Can it ever be absolute?"

"The 'Give us security, and we will lay down our arms' cry is doubtless sincere. But what is security? Can it ever be absolute?"

Some day it is to be presumed that the community of nations will organize for protection on the same lines as do communities of individuals.

But this might create a fresh danger. One of the ex-Kaiser's grandiose preparatory schemes, one little known to the public, was to form a sort of affiliation of military castes throughout the world.

The Maritime Rights Commission is expected to begin its investigations next month. Now is the moment for governments, associations and individuals throughout the three provinces to get together.

SPRING.

If anybody doubted it last week there is no question about it today—spring is here.

There are pairs of men on the grass plots of Princess street, earnest resolute men who lean on forks or rakes while they discuss chewing gum and civic administration.

Two men were seen on the street. One was in a blue-grey habit, the other in a blue-grey habit.

SIR WM. JOYNSON-HICKS.

IT WAS married men's night at the revival meeting.

"Let all you husbands who have trouble on your minds stand up!" shouted the emotional preacher at the height of his spasms.

Instantly every man in the church rose to his feet except...

"Ah!" exclaimed the preacher, peering out at this lone sinner, who occupied a chair near the door apart from the others, "you are one in a million."

"It ain't that," piped back this one helplessly, as the rest of the congregation turned to gaze suspiciously at him. "I can't get up—I'm paralyzed."

A CITY merchant who has a passion for reading out-of-town newspapers and also for answering many of the advertisements he finds in them tells this on himself.

The other day he answered an advertisement in one of the New York papers stating that for one dollar a method for saving gas bills would be sent. In two days he received a printed slip which read: "Paste them in a scrapbook."

POEMS I LOVE

"A Psalm of Life," by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

WHEN I was a child I was forced, with other children, as doubtless you were, to learn by heart certain poems; and among the first, of course, was Longfellow's "A Psalm of Life."

It took me many years to forget the voice of a dispenser of knowledge, who recognized in the poet's page, with no comprehension of the fact that she was dropping into my ears one of the loveliest bits of verse in our language.

The Very Idea!

By Edith Cochrane

THAT blamed expression "well enough" has caused a heap of trouble. Because of it, our finest stuff has often been just a bubble.

The world will keep on going though you pick the softest way to make your daily showing, but you'll find it doesn't pay.

If fish really is good brain food, it's a shame that some people, that they don't sell whole meat.

The height of efficiency is making the office boy put all the discarded letters in alphabetical order before throwing them in the waste basket.

You never know just what to do with a pen that won't write. Why not leave it in some postoffice?

He bought a hunter's license, but it didn't work so nice. In spite of it, they pinched the guy for shooting loaded dice.

Now we know what has become of the old-fashioned kid who used to get spanked in the woodshed. He's out in the garage spanking his own kid.

It's a great idea to keep your spirits up—and yet most people keep 'em down in the basement.

Just think of the pretty lathing girls the life guards are gonna pass up getting this summer, 'cause they'll think they're boys.

FABLES IN FACT MARRIAGE DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE PERIOD FOR INSTANCES COMMA CONSIDER THE GIRL WHO WENT AROUND WITH A PELLA FOR YEARS COMMA DURING THAT TIME SHE TOOK SUCH AN INTEREST IN HIM THAT SHE EVEN PICKED OUT HIS SUITS PERIOD HELPFUL GIRL COMMA ONE MIGHT SAY PERIOD THEN THEY GOT MARRIED AND DOES SHE DO IT ANY MORE QUESTION MARK HUT OH DASH DASH SHE'S SATURD TO PICK HIS POCKETS NOW PERIOD

He can get meat and clothes for that; and he will find very little difference intrinsically, if he is a wise man.

Carlyle's idea of a perfect man was one with his intellect clear, plain geometric mirror, brilliantly sensitive of all objects and impressions around it, and imagining all things in their correct proportions—not twisted up into conceals, and distorting everything, so that he cannot see the truth of the matter without endless groping—healthily, clear, and free.

Here, then, is something more to be desired than the things that most men seek.

What One Woman Learned About the Wife-Job—Why the Girls Who Go the Pace Have Beauz But No Husbands—Eliminating Family Friction.

DEAR MISS DIX—I was married to a good man, and had a nice home and a car, but because we argued and quarrelled I was fowl enough to leave him. Since then I have had to earn my own living, and I realize now what a man has to go through to keep up a home, and I don't wonder that he is sometimes cross and irritable.

Believe me, if my husband would take me back, I would be willing to overlook a lot of his shortcomings that I made such a fuss about. I have had my lesson. Would you tell him so, and ask for another trial. JENNIE.

ANSWER: I certainly would, Jennie. Perhaps he has had his lesson, too. And you both will have learned the folly of arguing over things, and know how to make concessions, and you will put as much thought and work into trying to make your marriage a success as you would into trying making a success of any other job you tackled.

It can always be done, you know. There would be mighty few divorcees if the husband were to "sell" himself to his wife as he does to his best customer, and if the wife would handle her husband as tactfully, and put up with as much nerves and crankiness in him as she does from her boss in an office or store.

You say, now that you have tried making your own living, that you realize what a man has to go through with, and how, when he comes home tired and nervous, and any chance word or little misadventure is the straw that breaks the camel's back. He is ready to fight at the drop of a hat and likely to drop it if you don't.

I often think that the old proverb, "One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives," is truer in matrimony than anywhere else. If husbands and wives could only change places now and then, and know the trials and difficulties of each other's lot, they would have much more sympathy and patience with each other, and the exchange would correct so many of the abuses of matrimony.

If a woman had wrestled all day with unreasonable patrons, or stupid and unreliable employes; if her very soul had been torn with anxiety and she had seen ruin staring her in the face; if she was scared blue when she thought of what the future might hold not only for her but for those dependent upon her, she wouldn't wonder if a man, similarly situated, wants to sit silent all evening, nor would she mistake this silence for grouches and surliness.

And if any man had ever had the experience of going the round of the domestic treadmill of cooking and sewing and washing and baby-tending day after day, he would never wonder that a woman needs a bit of gaiety to cheer her up and take her thoughts into new channels.

A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind, and if only husbands and wives could swap places occasionally, it would bring about a domestic millennium. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—We are two modern girls. We believe in petting parties, mugging, drinking, smoking, everything that the up-to-date flapper does. We have plenty of beauz, but among them all we cannot find any man who comes up to our ideal, or whom we consider worthy of our love. Why is this? TWO BROWN-EYED BEAUTIES.

ANSWER: I should say that there is a very simple explanation to your problem. It is this: that no worthwhile man wants to marry a girl who pets and drinks and smokes. You can't imagine Sir Galahad being allured by a chessy little sport, can you? Now can you think of any good reason why a clean living man, who has fastidious ideals of feminine purity, would desire to kiss a girl whose lips had been a free-lunch counter to every Tom, Dick and Harry, and who had been pawed over by every drug-store sheik who took her to the movies.

Nor can you fancy any serious-minded man, the sort of a man who marries for keeps, and who intends to love, honor and cherish his wife, deliberately picking out for a wife and the mother of his children an alcoholic whom he had seen disgustingly drunk. Nor would that girl be a cigarette and particularly commended her to him.

The girls who go the pace, who drink and smoke and pet, will always have plenty of beauz. They probably will always be able to find men of their own class who want to marry them. But when it comes to the men who are worth marrying, it is a different story.

For the men who have real stamina; the men who have brains and heart, and high purposes; the men who are going to be the big men ten and twenty years from now, have also their ideals of what they want in a wife, and the qualities they look for are not the ability to drink hooch and smoke like a furnace, and to have done away with all maidenly reserve. They want their peaches still with the down on them, not the bruised fruit that has been too much maltreated. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married eleven years, have a husband I love, a pretty home, two beautiful babies, and my happiness would be complete, except that my husband doesn't get along with my mother. No real quarrel, they just can't agree.

I always go to my mother's one a week to spend the day, and she always insists that I stay for supper. I call my husband to come out, and there is always a row about it. Don't you think for my sake that he ought to be willing to come? What shall I do? ELVIRA.

ANSWER: Of course, your husband should be willing to make this slight sacrifice of going to your mother's and making himself agreeable if it places you and makes you happy, but if he won't, he won't, and it is up to you not to make too much of a mountain out of a very small molehill.

A woman of intelligence soon finds out that she has to take her husband as he is, and not as he should be, and when she accepts him on this basis and makes the best of him, her troubles are simplified, because then she stops sputtering herself against a stone wall which only bruises her and does no good.

So in your particular case, eliminate the very fruitful subject of argument and quarrel by frankly telling your mother that your husband is tired after his day's work and wants to come to his own home. Quit asking him to go to your mother's to supper. Do your visiting in the daytime. Go twice a week if you want to, but don't stay to supper, and don't force hubby into going against his will.

If you will do this, and leave him free to come and go as he likes, he will probably like to go now and then. One of the reasons why husbands have such a distaste for their wives' families is because their wives are always ramming them down their throats. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

BY JACK JUNGMEYER It is peculiarly appropriate that Victor McLaglen, six-foot-three of fighting man, should have been selected by the Fox Company for the role of "Captain Flag" in the forthcoming screen version of "What Price Glory?" McLaglen is the warrior son of an Episcopal bishop, combining in his staid person the gentle graces of churchmen and the stern discipline of the soldier, tested in the World War. He is, moreover, a finished actor, having learned to express these attributes in "stark simplicity" of finer shades during several years of screen experience which began in England after the war, and which include recent roles in "The Unholy Three," "Winds of Chance," the forthcoming "Men of Steel" and "Beau Geste."

SEE-SAWING and BROADWAY

Manly are the tender and romantic tales written about the picturesque old folks who sell newspapers, shooting and what not on "the sidewalk of New York."

There is the tale of the blind couple who have their newstand in front of a big railroad station and who have gone contentedly down the years without seeing each other; working happily side by side.

And there is another blind man in the Broadway belt, whose dexterity at making change and picking from a dozen piles of papers the particular one requested never fails to attract a crowd.

And the frowny old woman who sells gum just outside of one of Fifth Avenue's most fashionable churches, though no Fifth Avenue—she would be caught chewing gum for a queen's ransom.

HERE is the latest: For many years they have kept a newspaper stand in the very heart of the "frantic Forties." As nice an old couple as can be found anywhere in all the millions that make up Manhattan.

Show people went out of their way to patronize them. There is perhaps the largest "stand" business among the old couple folk. At certain hours of the day the little news stand is fairly littered with stagers great and small.

The other day the building at the side of which they have carried on changed hands and remodeling and rebuilding was begun. His income from this will be no small penny.

All of which doesn't effect their lives in the least. They want to remain on the Broadway side street because they enjoy the rush and bustle, the color and the chatter, the presence of the actors and actresses—all the gay and giddy things that make up the Broadway belt. They would be completely "lost" without it. The old, old lure of the white lights has caught and held them as surely as ever it did a stage-struck maid.

And so, if you care to look, you may see them on Forty-sixth street, just a stone's throw from the "gay white way." GILBERT SWAN.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

PEN SCRATCHER THE NEWSPAPER MAN "Oh Dear!" said the little Whiffet. "I wish I could find my shadow!" "Why don't you advertise?" said a voice behind them. "Advertise!" cried the Whiffet turning around. "And who are you?" "Pen Scratchers," said the sunny person starting at them, his arms akimbo and a big pen behind his ear. "I'm a newspaper man. I run the 'Hollow Log Gazette.' Also the 'Log Hollow Bugle.' In the morning it's one—in the evening it's the other. All I do is to change the name and the weather and the politics and folks don't know the difference. There are tricks to all trades."

C. G. I. T. RALLY IS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Algonquin Intermediate and Pollyanna Senior Group Are Awarded Cups

One of the most successful of the contest rallies yet held by the C. G. I. T. in Saint John was that held last evening in the German street Baptist church, when the Algonquin intermediate group of St. Andrew's church and the Pollyanna senior group of Centenary church won the contest for dramatization of a missionary story.

The Pollyanna group having won the cup in the previous year will now hold it permanently.

The nature of the contest varies each year but the cups have been in annual competition. Mrs. J. S. Donnell, president of the Saint John Girls' Work Board, presided and led the opening devotions. Miss Marjorie Trotter, Maritime girls' work secretary, was present and gave a short address. The opening song was led by Miss Grace Marshall, who was also the leader for a game which was much enjoyed.

The program of the evening had been admirably arranged and reflected much credit on Miss Helen Smalley, secretary of the board who had devoted much time and pains to its preparation. There were six churches entered in the contests. Four churches, Queen square, St. Andrew's, Centenary and German street had groups entered in both the senior and intermediate contests and St. Matthew's had only a senior group competing while Fort St. John had only a junior group entered.

In the intermediate contest for a missionary talk Miss Allister Smith represented the Algonquin group of St. Andrew's church and related the story of Madame Sellen, the Swiss missionary. This story was awarded the cup which has been donated by Judge George A. Henderson and he made the presentation in person last night.

SENIOR CONTEST.

In the senior contest for the dramatization of a Bible story or a missionary story Centenary church Pollyanna group gave the dramatization of a missionary story showing how a little girl became interested in missions after seeing the people of missionary lands in a dream. Miss Mary Fulton was the soloist in the dramatization. The cup which Centenary group won was donated by Mrs. R. W. Wigmore and was presented last night by Mrs. Bonnell. It is now the permanent possession of Centenary C. G. I. T. The stories of the other dramatizations were those of the Ten Virgins, the Good Samaritan, Ruth and Naomi and the Call of Samuel.

Mrs. F. T. Bertram, Miss Blanche Myles and Mrs. J. D. Hunter were the judges in the intermediate contest. The judges for the senior contest were Mrs. H. C. Rice, Miss Crawford and Miss Marjorie Johnson.

GETS INSURANCE ON LIVE HUSBAND

New York Woman's $10,000 Fraud Detected by Police of That City

NEW YORK, May 21—Captain John J. Gallagher and detectives of his command found letters in the home of Mrs. Sydney Denning, 107th Woodside, which they said she had received within the last three months from the husband on whose "death" a year ago she collected $10,000 life insurance.

One of the detectives who accompanied Captain Gallagher and Mrs. Denning to the house said that as he was about to open a letter he had picked up Mrs. Denning reached for a razor which lay on a nearby table. Lieutenant Joseph Donlon seized her before she could grasp the razor.

One letter bore the postmark Groton, Va., and the other Shamokin, Pa. Both had been mailed within three months, the detectives said. Mrs. Denning refused to comment on the finding of the letters. She has maintained since her arrest that her identification of the man who was found dead in Astoria in April, 1924, as her husband was made in good faith, and that she did not know he was alive until he appeared in Astoria recently.

Denning, a stone worker, was questioned last week by the police, and said he had passed the last year traveling through the South and herbs of the trial, while there was no trace of proof that the five accused men had broken into the customs house. Blanche, Atkinson and McKim were charged with receiving stolen liquor, while Roy Coates and Lloyd Pife were charged with theft. The five men last week elected to be tried in the County Court and this morning pleaded guilty to their respective charges.

Skyscrapers Barred By Cologne Council

The city of Cologne does not want another skyscraper, the city council has decided. One, a ten-story warehouse, is regarded as enough. The majority of voters influenced the council in its decision. Skyscrapers, it was said, would obstruct the view of the famous Cologne Cathedral, which towers above every building in the city and can be seen from a distance of several miles.

TWENTY-FIVE OTHERS INVOLVED

The Magic of the Medicine Man

In the pioneer days of this country, the Indian Medicine Man knew a remedy in the roots and herbs of the field for the alleviation of almost every ailment of mankind. So potent did it prove, that the relief from suffering seemed like magic. More than 60 years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., compounded her now famous Vegetable Compound from the roots and herbs of the field, and in all these years, nothing has even been found to equal it in overcoming ailments of women.

F. I. WITHERS HEADS BOYS' WORK BOARD

Important Phases of Activities Discussed at Gathering Last Night

F. I. Withers was elected president of the Saint John Boys' Work Board at the annual meeting held last evening in the Y. M. C. A., with A. R. Crookshank, the retiring president, in the chair. The meeting was well attended, heard satisfactory reports and discussed some important phases of the work. Rev. W. C. Machum offered the opening prayer and the various officers and committee chairmen submitted their reports.

Mr. Crookshank reported on contemplated changes in the C. S. E. T. program. The meeting discussed thoroughly such matters as problems of leadership, relationship towards the Y. M. C. A., and towards the Boy Scout program. These matters were referred back to the incoming executive for action.

Mr. Machum urged the leaders and all interested to attend the co-operative camp that will be held at Big Cove, N. S., from July 2 to 10.

It was decided to hold a Boys' Conference in Saint John during the fall and if possible at the time of the visit of Taylor Station from Oct. 22 to 24.

Rev. Hugh Miller offered the closing prayer.

Wary Bird Revived By Music's Charms

NEW YORK, May 21—A brown carrier pigeon, thoroughly worn out by its struggles through a rainstorm, fluttered down to rest in the yard of Mrs. Ava B. Curtis in the Bronx. The bird was close to death when Mrs. Curtis carried it into her kitchen to warm it.

It failed to give signs of returning strength and Ruth Block, who was calling upon Mrs. Curtis had an inspiration. Ruth is a violinist and she hurried to her home and got the instrument. The pigeon seemed to respond to the music and soon came around.

Wall Street Boys Are Fingerprinted

The National Surety Company of New York has begun the fingerprinting and photographing of runners and messengers for about 100 of the larger Wall Street brokerage houses. Officials of the surety company declared that the plan has met with almost unanimous approval of the firms whose employees are bonded by the company as a precaution against thefts. Officials of the surety company declared was worked out primarily for the protection of the runners, many of whose credentials had been stolen or copied by swindlers and later used to obtain positions with Wall Street houses. The new system, it was said, would do away with a certain amount of "looseness" that now exists in the methods of employing stock brokerage messengers.

CHURCH ORGANIST PRESENTED GIFT

The presentation of a very nice hat box to Miss Lillian Bromfield, organist of Portland United church, took place last evening after the regular choir practice in the Y. M. A. hall. The gift was presented on behalf of all the choir members by Fred Jones, who extended best wishes to Miss Bromfield for a pleasant vacation trip. She will accompany her mother, Mrs. Herbert Bromfield, on a three months' trip to Bristol, England, and is leaving Saint John on Tuesday to sail on Wednesday from Quebec. Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Perfect Milk for Every Use

PERFECT MILK—because it is just that; natural milk as it comes from selected herds; fresh full-cream whole milk, with the water alone removed.

FOR EVERY USE—because it is ready, not only for every use to which fresh milk can be put, but at all times—regardless of heat or cold; whether the milkman has called or not; at mid-day or midnight; in home or nursery; in summer cottages; on trains; in the room of the girl who "boards herself"; in the camps of the followers of trail and stream.

The New Klim

is whole milk in powder form. It is milk, less the water, but containing all the nutritive qualities, all the freshness, all the fragrant odor, all the sweetness of Nature's perfect food. Merely add water and you have natural milk, cream and all—but pasteurized and made doubly safe.

PATRIOTIC NOTE IS SOUNDED ON EMPIRE DAY IN CITY SCHOOLS

Picture of Miss Warner Presented—Premier Speaker in West End; Father Cloran at St. Peter's—I. O. D. E. Prizes Awarded

EMPIRE DAY was well observed in the schools of Saint John today, the scholars taking part in patriotic programs, which were supplemented by addresses from prominent citizens. The exercises at all the schools were witnessed by many parents and friends of the teachers and pupils. The rooms were decorated tastefully, the national colors and flowers predominating. Prizes in history were presented by the I. O. D. E. in the various schools.

At the High School the features were as follows: Address by Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, rector of Trinity church, and the presentation of a framed portrait of the late Miss Agnes Warner.

Premier Baxter was a speaker in the New Albert school. In St. Peter's boys' school an address on "Loyalty," by Rev. Father James Cloran, C. S. S. R., was the outstanding feature.

EMPIRE BUILDERS. Rev. Mr. Lawrence in his address at the High School told of the life work of three empire builders, Sir Walter Raleigh, Lord Robert Clive and Sir Cecil Rhodes. Sir Walter, he said, was the first to have definite ideas of the establishment of British colonies overseas. The speaker drew attention to the various efforts to plant a colony in Virginia. Later, people from this colony got a foothold in Canada, and the coming of the United Empire Loyalists completed the foundation of British colonies in this country.

Rev. Mr. Lawrence said, had not been built entirely by soldiers and sailors. Men and women in industrial, commercial and professional life had no small part. The program was carried out as was announced in The Times-Star yesterday. A special feature was the presentation of a picture of the late Miss Agnes Warner, war nurse, who died recently in New York. The presentation was made in suitable terms by Lieut. Colonel W. H. Harrison. The following list of honors in pretty lettering was framed and suspended with silver chains from the frame of the picture: A silver plate on the frame bears this inscription: "Presented by the High School Alumni, Empire Day, 1925." The list of honors reads as follows:

AGNES LOUISE WARNER. A graduate of the Victoria High School, Saint John, 1890.—of McGill University—of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York. She served with the French during the whole period of the war, and received the following honors: March 29, 1917—Medaille d'Honneur.

CLARK'S TOMATO KETCHUP. Improves the taste of fish or meat. A most wholesome, inexpensive relish. Made by the makers of the celebrated CLARK'S FISH & BEANS. W. CLARK Limited, Montreal. Establishments at Montreal, P.Q., St. Remi, P.Q. & Harrow, Ont. 14-20

THE household linens had been in storage. The pillow slips, newly made of fine materials, had been washed once, then put away in a cedar chest. About three months later they were hurriedly put into guest service. In the morning the guests were all embarrassed—the pillow slips were full of holes. One woman guest saved the day by admitting the same thing had happened to her own household linen—it was the fault of harsh impure soap, and hurried rinsing. This is a true account of a true happening—an extreme case of course, but it shows what can happen—what does happen in a lesser degree every time clothes are washed with soap other than Sunlight—and it's only the truth to say it could never have happened with Sunlight Soap. Your laundress knows Sunlight is all-pure soap, as harmless to fabric as it is ruinous to dirt. Made by Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto. The largest selling laundry soap in the world. Loyalty was a word denoting the opposite to ingratitude, deceit and treachery. He impressed on the pupils the necessity of being respectful of authority and grateful for favors. He told them to foster the family spirit, the club spirit, the country spirit. Loyalty was not work; it was a quality they should join to their work. If they wanted money or pay let them work for it. rices that go to a modern champion of the ring. He received about $10,000 for last night's fight, a third as much as the dejected champion, but "big money" now is within his reach. This stalwart, broad shouldered youth of Slavish extraction, who has succeeded in a game at which three brothers failed, is only 23. Rugged a brawler he is, he has also made a study of the science of the ring. It is to this he ascribes chiefly his crowning success. "When Walker beat me three years ago, in Newark, I made up my mind I would take the title from him some day," said Latozo. "It took me quite a while, but I used an intensive study of Walker and his fighting methods." Details of the last few rounds follow:

PLUGS WALKER'S HEAD.
Round 8—Latozo plugged Walker about the head but took a battering on the ribs in return. Walker dug his right to the body while his left found Latozo's chin. The challenger sent Walker's head back with a straight left and took a series of jabs on the jaw in return. The referee kept busy pulling them apart. Both landed lefts to the head and Latozo caught Walker on the ear with a stiff right. They were sparring at the bell.

OPENS WITH RUSH.
Round 9—Walker opened with a rush and pounded the challenger about the head. Latozo worked his right to the body, but was backed off with a flurry of choppy wallows to the head. The champion missed twice with his left and they clinched and they leaned their heads together and traded uppercuts to the chin. Latozo's left connected sharply to the jaw. Walker's left connected with Latozo's head just before the bell.

BOTH FLAIL AWAY.
Round 10—They came together with a rush. Both flailed away to head with both fists. Latozo sent the champion to the ropes with a smashing right and sent his head with a left uppercut.

IVANHOE—

"CAN SAVE IVANHOE—IT IS MY PURPOSE," SAID DE BRACY, "FOR WHEN ROBERT OF BRACY, WHO IS IT SMALL DARE TO PUT FORTH A VIOLENT HAND UPON HER KINSMAN, THE SON OF HER GUARDIAN, THE COMPANION OF HER YOUTH, BUT IT IS HIS LOVE MUST BUY HIS PROTECTION. RE-DE, AND WILFRED DIES."

"ERHAPS EVEN WITH THIS THREAT DE BRACY WOULD NOT HAVE OBTAINED ROVENA'S PROMISE TO MARRY HIM, BUT HE MADE IT PLAIN ALSO THAT CEDRIC ALSO WOULD PAY WITH HIS LIFE IF SHE PROVED STUBBORN, SO THE FAIR ROVENA, OVERCOME WITH THIS INFORMATION, BROKE DOWN AND CRIED."

"DE BRACY, UNMOVED AT HER GRIEF, WAS INTERRUPTED BY THE SOUND OF A HORN OUTSIDE THE CASTLE. THE SAME THAT HAD INTERRUPTED FRONT-ROBEAU IN HIS TORTURE OF ISAC. MEANWHILE DE BRACY'S DAUGHTER OF ISAC, HAD BEEN THROWN INTO A TURRET. THERE, ALSO A PRISONER, WAS AN OLD MAID, WIFRED."

"REBECCA'S CAPTORS MADE URGENT BE COME, BUT SHE REMAINED A WHILE BEFORE DEPARTING. TO TELL REBECCA THERE WAS NO ESCAPE FROM THE CASTLE SAVE BY DEATH. REBECCA WAS NOT LONG ALONE, FOR BOIS-GUILBERT ENTERED ROOM AFTER, TO FLED FOR HER HAND, AND HE TOO WAS INTERRUPTED BY THE SOUND OF THE HORN OUTSIDE."

JOY IN CAMP OF NEW YORK YANKES

Five Full Games in Lead With Ruth Chalking up 15 Homers

NEW YORK, May 21—Five full games ahead of Cleveland, their nearest rival, a string of nine straight victories, incidentally 15 homers for Babe Ruth—there is reason for joy among the Yankees.

Yesterday they defeated the St. Louis Browns again on six hits, but two of them were crashes to the bleachers by Ruth and Collins. The final verdict was 5 to 4.

Brayton pitched excellently behind a heavy barrage from the bats of the Mackmen, and turned back Cleveland, 10 to 2.

Detroit battered Stanley Coveleskie for 10 hits in five innings and eked out a 6 to 5 victory over Washington.

There was another slugfest at Boston, where Chicago downed the Red Sox 13 to 4.

Brooklyn dropped a notch in the National League with another setback at the hands of the circuit-leading Cincinnati Club, 7 to 2. The defeat put the Dodgers in third place. Pittsburgh lost to the struggling Giants, 5 to 4, a ninth-inning rally falling short. Vic Kenna of the St. Louis Cards, won his sixth game of the season by holding the Phillies to five hits and one run. Charley Root served another good game for the Cubs and downed the Boston Braves 8 to 4.

TWO PRESENTATIONS MADE TO E. BOYANER

Young Judeans and Musicians Honor Him on Eve of Marriage

Eli Boyaner who is to be married on next Tuesday was doubly honored by associates in different circles last night, first at a dinner tendered him by the Young Judeans at the home of A. Babio, Summer street and later at the Royal Hotel by the Musicians Union Local 728 as represented by the executive board of that body.

The Young Judean's dinner Ralph Isaacs the president was in the chair and presented the guest of the occasion with a profusely illustrated copy of the Old Testament imported from Palestine direct. The pictures constitute a rare example of the bibliographer's art.

PLACED ON TRIAL

At the musician's dinner in honor of their secretary, President Garfield Stevens headed the table. After a bounteous repast the proceedings took on the nature of an inquiry into a formal charge laid against Mr. Boyaner for entering into an "engagement" without the full sanction of the executive—a serious offence in union procedure. Legal papers had been served upon the accused and the speech card was a list of those arrayed to defend him.

The idea was amusing and had the effect of bringing out all the good things the musicians knew about their secretary. The case was placed before M. L. Harrison, treasurer of the Union and dean of local musicians as final court of appeal. Mr. Harrison in a fatherly speech acquitted Mr. Boyaner with honor and credit. The president then presented to him a pair of antique candlesticks, which were duly acknowledged in a happy reminiscence reply by the recipient. Everybody present signed his name to the legally-phrased acquittal judgment of the tribunal.
