2 BEAVER HARBOR MEN MISSING 3 DAY

FAIL TO RETURN AFTER TRIP TO PUM. SCHOONER

Government Boat Ordered to Make Search For Them

HEAVY SEAS RUN

Had Gone Out to Repair Vessels Sails on Tuesday Morning

FEARS are entertained for the safety of two residents of Beaver Harbor, Charlotte county, Albert Eldridge, aged about 30 years, and Edmund O'Brien, aged about 35 years, who left their motor boat on Tuesday to repair a sail on the schooner Odessa Ruth, which was anchored about two miles off the Wolves. Up until this afternoon they had not returned. Search will be made for the men, and a Government boat will proceed to the vicinity as soon as the weather permits.

According to the word received this afternoon from Beaver Harbor the sea was calm and the weather fine when the men left about 10 o'clock in the morning expecting to return about two o'clock the same afternoon. When the men did not return up to late Tuesday night, although it had remained comparatively fine, fears were entertained for their safety.

STORM DEVELOPS

During the night, however, a storm developed and nothing could be done to search for them yesterday as heavy seas were running. The weather today was reported to be bad with tremendous seas running. The schooner, said to have a cargo of liquor, was cruising up and down the bay under full sail all day yesterday. The men, said to be on board, were reported to have been blown overboard and the men, if they were on board, was another fact that has added to the fears regarding their safety. Some of the inhabitants of the locality thought they were able to discern a small boat stern of the Odessa Ruth yesterday, but they were not sure and the vessel was too far away to make identification of the small craft possible.

DOLLAR ORDERED OUT

Last evening word was sent to J. C. Chesley, agent for the Marine and Fisheries Department here, and he immediately sent a radio message to the C. G. S. Dollar at Westport to proceed and ascertain if the men are on board the vessel. He received a message this morning that, on account of the heavy northwest wind and rough sea, the Dollar was unable to proceed until more favorable weather conditions. He then ordered the steamer to forego the balance of her work at that vicinity and to take up the search as soon as the storm abated.

ORDERS REVISED

It is reported that the vessel is owned and operated by a man in this city and that he had notified residents of Beaver Harbor that today he had sent a boat down to investigate the matter. Both men are married. Mr. O'Brien has a wife and five children, while Mr. Eldridge has a wife and three children, who are anxiously awaiting word regarding the question of their safety.

French Patriot Denies Self To Aid Country

The letter, which bears the signature "A Patriot," says: "Be the Foch of Peace. Be energetic and get us out of the hole. All Frenchmen are with you." The writer promises to send a similar sum to the Premier each week during December. The Petit Parisien also has received 12 francs, representing a day's pay, from a building yard workman named G. Thiel, to aid in getting the country out of its financial distress. Thiel asks that they organize a national subscription, as was done in Italy.

EVIDENCE FAILS TO SUPPORT CHARGE THAT PARISIENNE WAS SPY EMPLOYED BY BRITAIN

PARIS, Dec. 10.—The famous air service espionage case is now admitted to be a "man's nest" by the same newspapers which made charges that Great Britain employed the alleged spies. The police assert that despite diligent search, they have found no evidence whatever to support the confession made by Mlle. Marthe Moreuil in Paris and the French attaché in London, are accorded the fullest possible facilities to obtain information concerning the progress of aerial espionage and that consequently the use of spies was not required.

TURKS CHARGED WITH MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS

GENEVA, Dec. 10.—Tewfik Ruzhdi Bey, the Turkish Foreign Minister, told press correspondents today that the Turkish delegation would not participate in any further meetings of the council of the League of Nations for discussion of the Mosul controversy. Turkish envoys refuse to attend session today—say Arbitration Barred.

LEAGUE AGENT SUBMITS HIS REPORT TO COUNCIL

GENEVA, Dec. 10.—Atrocious acts of violence, going as far as massacre, have been committed by Turkish soldiers along the provisional frontier of Mosul, in Northern Mesopotamia, General Laidoner, of Estonia, special League of Nations agent, declared in a report submitted at today's session of the league council. The Turks refused to attend the meeting, complaining that the Mosul affair had gone beyond the powers of their mandate from the Angora government, which permitted mediation but not arbitration by the League of the Middle East with Great Britain.

WHOLESALE ATROCITIES

In his report, General Laidoner asserted that the Turks had carried out wholesale deportations of Christians from the villages along the Mosul frontier, as well as massacres, rape, and other wholesale atrocities. In some cases, taking life. During the deportations, the report said, the sick were abandoned to die. Others died of starvation or exposure, while the survivors were left in an absolutely pitiable state.

FOOD PRICES HERE UP IN NOVEMBER

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 10.—A general increase in November prices is indicated in a statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics. The index number of the bureau rose five points in November, being 161.1 as compared with 156.6 in October. Fifty-three price quotations were higher; 83 were lower and 150 were unchanged. Five of the 100 items moved upward; two moved downward, and one was unchanged.

AMERY JUSTIFIED

The British Secretary for the Dominions, L. C. M. S. Amery, said General Laidoner's findings regarding the deportations confirmed his own exposition of the situation before the September meeting of the council, and disapproved the Turkish denials. "It is proof that the British willingness to submit the case to the arbitration of the council is a gesture of peace, of world peace," he added. "Our contentions are proved. If either party runs the risk of losing by arbitration, it is not Turkey, but Great Britain, who has been rightfully occupying the territory for eight years."

INDIAN UPSETS WEATHER MEN'S GLOOMY DOPE

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 10.—Widely heralded prognostications of two years of continuous winter made by some internationally known long distance weather forecasters are disputed by Buffalo Roller, 90-year-old Chippewa tribal wiseman of the plains. Two Indians, while hunting, stumbled on a nest of extirpators, from which they escaped. Rattlers are uncommon in December in Montana. Asked for an explanation of their presence, Buffalo Roller said: "Earth heat hot. Warm winter coming. Next year be dry. Montana is enjoying 'Indian summer' weather."

ROME DISPLEASED OVER U. S. DRY MOVE

Publication of Appeal Before Submission to Vatican is Disliked

By THOMAS B. MORGAN United Press Staff Correspondent ROME, Dec. 10.—Vatican circles today manifested their undisguised displeasure at the publicity given the recent letter of the United Committee for prohibition enforcement (U. S. A.) appealing for Papal moral support. The fact that the letter was made public in Washington before it was in the hands of His Holiness was disliked, especially as such appeals are deemed confidential until the proper time for public announcement comes. As a result of the Vatican's displeasure, it is now practically certain that the letter will be answered courteously but with a simple acknowledgment of receipt.

WARRANTS ISSUED BUT NOT EXECUTED

Officials Unable to Identify People in Pennsylvania Disturbance

Canadian Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 10.—Deputy sheriffs who were sent to Library, yesterday, with fifty John Doe warrants charging riot against persons who were in a crowd there Tuesday, when a woman was crushed to death by a consular truck of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, have not served any of the papers. Inability to identify the persons in the gathering, was given as the reason.

P. T. Pagan, president of District 6, of the United Mine Workers, who said that the truck was driven into the crowd, conferred with the family of Mrs. George Timcko, the woman killed, and announced they were too much affected to do anything as to criminal charges against the truck driver. Asked concerning the issuance of the John Doe warrants, Pagan said there was no riot and that there were only about 20 persons in the crowd.

CANADIAN PACIFIC COMPARTMENT-OBSERVATION SLEEPERS

A most attractive feature of Canadian Pacific service between Saint John and Montreal is provided by the Compartment-Observation sleepers which are now running on train 15, leaving Saint John at four o'clock in the afternoon, and on train 16, leaving Montreal at seven o'clock in the evening.

Each of these cars contains one drawing-room, three compartments, a large observation room and an observation platform, the latter of course being always placed at the rear end of the train. The observation room, which is fitted with large windows, giving a practically unobstructed view on three sides, is intended as a lounge for the benefit of all sleeping-car passengers on the train. It is supplied with the latest magazines, as well as with stationery and a writing-desk.

Each compartment contains one lower and one upper berth, and toilet facilities, much like a drawing-room. Patrons traveling alone or in parties of two, who are unable to secure a drawing-room, will find a compartment most convenient, as well as distinctly lower in price.

Needless to say, whole car is fitted up to the best Canadian Pacific standard, thus ensuring complete comfort to the traveler.

Broadcasting of Moving Pictures Is Demonstrated

LONDON, Dec. 9.—In the near future pictures, it is confidently expected, will be broadcast by wireless and received at home with the same ease as concerts and speeches. The inventor claims that his receiving set is as easy to work as a gramophone. The transmitter's task is said to be as simple as working a magic lantern. All that remains is for a general service of picture broadcasting to be started.

A few days ago Thorne Baker, a well-known wireless engineer, gave a demonstration of his invention before members of the Royal Photographic Society, and the results have created extraordinary interest among wireless experimenters. Mr. Baker transmitted pictures across the lecture room by wireless, and, after the demonstration, stated in effect that:

If the broadcasting companies chose to broadcast pictures anyone with a loud speaker could receive them as easily as they now receive sounds.

FELL INTO HARBOR.

Melbourne Chapman, steward of the tug Joseph, slipped from the boat yesterday morning into the icy waters of the harbor while the tug was at the coal bunkers of the Dominion Coal Company, West Saint John. He was pulled on board by Captain Shields and apparently was none the worse for his involuntary dip in the harbor.

CANNOT AGREE

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Failure of the National League to agree on a tentative schedule which would assure closing the season prior to October 3, one week later than the date in the American League today contributed a new problem for discussion at the joint meeting of the two circuits tomorrow.

Although President John A. Heydler held out hope that the schedule committee might find it possible to complete the campaign on September 29 he indicates that geographical and anti-Sunday baseball conditions faced by the older circuit pointed strongly to an October closing date.

DEATH OF HON. L. P. FARRIS

The death of Hon. L. P. Farris, one of New Brunswick's Old Guard of public men, will create deep regret throughout a wide circle in this province. Had he lived a few days longer, Mr. Farris would have completed his eighty-second year. His was not only a long life but one of most useful activity. Interest in politics has long marked the Farris family, and Mr. Farris' father was a member of the House of Commons for a great many years. Mr. Farris was elected to the New Brunswick Legislature in 1892, and held his seat there for sixteen years, retiring in 1908 when the Hazen Government went into power.
He served under Hon. A. G. Blair, Hon. Henry Emmerson, Hon. L. J. Tweedle and Hon. Clifford Robinson during his terms as Premier, and for many years he was Commissioner of Agriculture, a work to which he devoted himself most assiduously, and in which he gave all the more valuable service because he was himself a practical farmer and was closely in touch with the needs and possibilities of our agriculture.
His four sons have all achieved distinction in their walks of life. One is Dr. Farris of the County Hospital, famous as a tuberculous authority; another, J. W. deB. Farris, K. C., was formerly Attorney-General of British Columbia, with whom a third son, Wendell B. Farris, is in partnership and a fourth, Bruce M. Farris, is a member of the King, Farris Lumber Company of British Columbia.
An earnest and friendly man, the late Mr. Farris was highly esteemed for his excellent qualities, and his death will be mourned sincerely by a great circle, including many beyond the bounds of New Brunswick.

A PARIS MARRIAGE

The young woman who was arrested in Paris on suspicion that she was a spy in the employ of the British was probably attempting to qualify for a career in the moving pictures. The Paris newspapers and the Paris police, by affecting to regard her activities seriously, have certainly helped her along. It is announced to-day that the police can discover no evidence in support of her alleged confession that she was engaged in espionage, and it is now made known that three Englishmen, said to be former British officers, who were arrested because of her statements, will be released.
It is pointed out now by French experts that spying upon the airmen would be useless and unnecessary, inasmuch as British military attaches in Paris are given every facility for obtaining information concerning French aerial developments, and the French observers in Britain are accorded the same privilege. In other words, anything the young woman might discover was available without any spying.
The incident, as it was treated by the Paris newspapers, appears to be merely further evidence of an increasing sentiment against foreigners which has been evident in Paris throughout the negotiations of the settlement of the French war debts. Recently an American business man with large interests in Paris contributed to the American Mercury a score of clipping from Paris journals veiling hostility towards foreigners, particularly Americans and British. Among these excerpts was this one from L'Ouvre, the favorite paper of M. Herriot, a recent Premier: "The professors at Johns Hopkins have placed an order for several families of Himalayan monkeys. If the Americans intend to prove that they are not descended from monkeys, they are bound to fail, we may be sure." From the same paper is taken a note by M. Gustave Tery, who is a strong supporter of the League of Nations and of peace in general: "I am going to found a Joan of Arc Society for the purpose of booting the English and the Americans out of France. We have got to teach these unwelcome visitors that they are not wanted here." To the Mercury's list may be added the Paris Mith, which a few days ago made a bitter attack against the foreigners who make up more than one-tenth of the country's population, bracketing Americans with Germans and Russians as the kind that should be "only tolerated while others should be sought after."
The Paris newspapers are noted for that sort of thing. It has really no international significance. France, which is deeply disturbed over the question of finance, appears unable to face the debit situation with good humor, and Paris is particularly sensitive and given to barbed words.

There appears to be increased hope for the recovery of Rudyard Kipling. The noon bulletin of day reports that he is making slow but satisfactory progress.
Ransay MacDonald declares that much land in Great Britain is lying idle, while people who could live on it are being urged to emigrate to the overseas Dominions. He says that what is wanted is a great national scheme of land development which would mean the employment of fifty per cent. of the people on the soil. Lloyd George has been preaching that doctrine, and Mr. MacDonald's latest speech will lend additional interest to reports concerning a possible alliance between the Liberal party and Labor.

The real weather prophet—who knows what is wanted and proceeds to predict it—gets into the news to-day in connection with Rudyard Kipling's old Chippewa Indian—old enough to know anything. Being told that rattlesnakes are still keeping above ground there, he says the winter will be warm. The Indian and the snakes make up a promising antidote against those dismal prophets who have been saying the winter will be one of intense severity and that there will be no summer in 1926. They never consulted the rattlesnakes.

Odds and Ends

Kipling and the Kaiser

(Boston Transcript.)
To the Editor of the Transcript:
In connection with Rudyard Kipling's valiant fight against the ravages of pneumonia at the present time in Burwash, England, at the present time in Burwash, England, it is interesting to note the fact that he was just as seriously ill of the same disease, if not more so, in New York city in 1899, when he was 34 years of age and his name was spreading fast throughout the world.
Wilhelm Hohenzollern, then German emperor, at that time cabled the following message:
BERLIN, March 5, 1899.
Mrs. Rudyard Kipling, Hotel Gretnoble, New York City.
As an enthusiastic admirer of the incomparable works of your husband I await with anxiety news of his condition.
God grant that he may be spared to you and to all who are thankful to him for the heart-moving manner in which he has sung the deeds of our great common race.
(Signed) WILLIAM, I. R.
The above cablegram is quoted from a newspaper clipping of that month and year and which is in my scrap-book.
I would be still more interested to know what Wilhelm thinks today of our great common race and whether he has duplicated his message of 1899 at this time.

Old Silver Dollar To Go.
And now, as though enough American institutions had not been scuttled in the last few years, they are going to take from us our good old silver dollar. The dollar bill, it appears, wears out too soon and must be replaced by a coin which people will use. This coin will be part gold, part silver, about the size of a quarter and very convenient to handle. Well, if it can never take the place of our silver dollar, the best-loved and least-used coin that was ever minted. There was romance in a silver dollar. It came to symbolize something, the large and generous aspect of American affairs. From it arose a whole vocabulary of money. It was a plunk, a simoleon, a paving-stone, an iron man, a cart-wheel. It had a little ring to it as O. Henry said, when it was dropped on a bar in large numbers it sounded like a selection on the xylophone. And now it goes the way of the medicine show, the dime novel and the Sunday night buggy ride.

The Gun That Isn't Loaded.
(See Daily Star.)
There is a universal rule that a gun should not be left loaded in camp. But one of the best bushmen in Algoma does not believe in the practice. He was discussing the accident to Bill Dryden, who is now in the General Hospital, recovering from a bullet wound in the leg. Bill was in his cabin at Pine Lake, luxuriously resting in bed with one leg hoisted up on the other knee, when the gun somebody was showing to a third party exploded. The gun was not known to be loaded.
"You will notice," said the bushman, "that all these accidents come from guns that are not loaded—that is they are supposed to be unloaded. It is only when someone is found to be incorrect. In my camp, I always keep my gun loaded, and I warn everybody that every gun I have is kept loaded. So nobody ever takes one up carelessly. A gun that is loaded is dangerous. A man will either leave it alone, or handle it gingerly. Once you get people into the notion that a gun is dangerous, there is little chance of an accident."

Dinner Stories

AN ENGLISH paper tells of rival butchers. They lived on opposite sides of a certain street, and one day one of them placed over his shop the legend:
"We sell sausages to the gentry and nobility of the country."
The next day, over the way, appeared the sign:
"We sell sausages to the gentry and nobility of the whole country."
Not to be outdone, the rival put up what he evidently regarded as a final statement, namely:
"We sell sausages to the King."
Next day there appeared over the door of the first sausage maker the simple expression of loyalty:
"God Save the King."

AN ELDERLY lady entered a store and asked to be shown some table-cloths. A salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her.
"Haven't you something new?" she asked.
The clerk then brought another pile and showed them to her.
"These are the newest patterns," he said. "You will notice that the edge runs right around the border, and the centre is in the middle."
"Isn't that lovely!" said the lady. "I will take a half a dozen of those."

Something Else To Swear Off

The Best Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD
WHEN COURAGE IS VALUELESS.
IT SHOULD be obvious that next to prudence, the quality of mind most essential to happiness is courage.
Life is one long battle; we have to fight at every step; and Voltaire rightly says that if we succeed, it is at the point of the sword, and that we die with the weapon in our hand.
However, and this should be remembered always, it is possible for courage to be carried to an excess and to degenerate into rashness.
It may be said even that humans need some fear in their mental makeup to enable them to exist in the world.
Bacon connects panic with Paul the personification of Nature, and observes that fear is innate in every living thing, and, in fact, tends to its preservation, but that it is apt to come into play without due cause.
"Panic" often is missed. The distinguishing feature of the word, your dictionary tells you, is that there is no clear notion of any definite danger along with it; that it presumes rather than knows that danger exists; and that, in case of need, it pleads fright itself as the reason for being afraid.
SCHOPENHAUER preached that man's attitude should be such that he would not quake even if the world fell in ruins.
"Our whole life itself—let alone its blessings—would not be worth such a cowardly trembling and shaking of the heart."
Therefore, let us face life courageously and show a firm front to every ill.
NEVERTHELESS, "NO SURRENDER" is a dangerous word.
Courage works ill unless it is tempered with prudence.
Courage avails us nothing unless we know how to use it.
It is true that we cannot endow ourselves with either courage or prudence, since man inherits both; still he can do much to develop them by means of resolute exercise.

Poems That Live

SONG.
The clover blossoms kiss her feet,
She is so sweet,
While I, who may not kiss her hand,
Bless all the wild flowers in the land.
Soft sunshine falls across her breast,
She is so bliss,
I'm jealous of its arms of gold,
O that these arms her form might fold.
Gently she breezes kiss her hair,
She is so fair!
Let flowers and sun and breeze go by,
O dearest! Love me or I die.

MASS TELEPATHY TEST FAILURE

10 Million English People Concentrate, But Jury Unable to Get Idea

Interesting Experiment is Tried—Lady Tree is Amongst Judges

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The concentrated thoughts of approximately ten million listeners in failed a few nights ago to convey to the minds of eight prominent men and women, seated in a locked room in the Savoy Hotel, six simple subjects on which the vast multitude had been asked to fix their minds.

The occasion was an attempt on the part of the B. B. C. to test the possibilities of "mass telepathy." Sir Alfred Robbings, seated at the microphone in the 2 L O studio, directed the test and informed the listeners-in of the subject on which they were to concentrate.

Lady Tree, Miss Zena Dare, Commander Kenworthy, M. P., and Mr. James Agate were among the eight people who tried to read the thoughts of all Great Britain. After the listeners-in had been given the subject, the "jury" was allowed one minute in which to receive the telepathic wave.

The letter "K" was the first subject chosen. All England thought of "K" for a minute. In the Savoy Hotel the "jury" tried to keep their minds blank for the reception of the thoughts.

Tide of National Sentiment For Using Home Ports Rising

By A. M. BELDING.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 9.—No representative of the Maritime Provinces will lack a welcome in London. "We are with you," is a sentence I have heard many times from the lips of men who have large business concerns, and who sympathize fully with the aspirations of the provinces by the sea. More and more the significance of the diversion of Canadian trade to United States channels is being realized in Ontario, even while the difficulties in the way of doing all our business through our own ports are apparent.

I FOUND a man in London who knows more about the West Indies and the Caribbean Sea region than many people who see the West India steamers come to their wharves. He is Henry Pocock, of Canadian Concrete Machinery Co., Ltd., and he was one of the party of which W. S. Fisher was a member, who toured that region in the interests of Canadian business a few years ago. Mr. Pocock does not anticipate a sudden large increase in trade in that direction. The Americans, he says, are well entrenched, with frequent steamship services; and, aside from that, our people must be prepared not only to purchase what our neighbors down there have to sell, but to give them our products in the shape in which they want them.

W. N. Manning, of Sherlock Manning Pianos, Ltd., gave the same information. They have a large export business, and it is all done through Canadian ports except in cases where, as in Australia, they send their product to ports where Canadian steamers do not call. Mr. Manning declared his complete sympathy with the campaign to route all possible traffic through our own ports.

J. M. Gunn, of the McClary Mig. Co., said that their policy is to buy everything through Canadian ports, although it is on rare occasions necessary to use an American port to get a desired service to some overseas market. The friends of Col. Garthshore will be glad to know that he has recovered from a serious illness, and was able to attend today's Rotary Club luncheon. I also met D. George Clark, former manager in Saint John, who was active in the campaign that resulted in commission government. As was said in a previous letter, I also met Mr. Gilmour of the McClary staff, a Saint John man, and George Rivers, who is here for a few days.

I GOT some further information today about the advantage Buffalo has over Canadian ports in the flour trade. Canadian wheat, ground in Buffalo, in bond, gets a rate of 16 cents per hundred pounds in New York, while the rate from the Canadian side, a few miles away, is 15.5 cents. From Goderich, Ont., to the seaboard the rate is 21 cents, and from Port Huron, a few miles away, it is 16.5 cents. Flour milled from our wheat on the American side gets a lower rate than the products of Ontario Mills, and has that advantage in competition with our flour in overseas markets. Hence Buffalo is getting the elevators and the mills—at our expense.

The London Chamber of Commerce, with R. H. Dowler as president and Major W. H. Woods as commissioner, and a strong executive, has accomplished a great deal in the last year. Major Woods has twice gone to the Northwestern University to take a short course in industrial research, and is an indefatigable worker. Within the last year the executive called into conference the executives of the various service clubs, such as Rotary, Kiwanis and the Lions, and asked for frank criticism, and fully answered unfounded rumors regarding the attitude and activities of the Chamber. In January it will make a drive for membership and funds, placing clearly before the citizens what has been done this year, and what may be done next year, and putting squarely up to the people the question whether they want the programme carried out, and are willing to provide the funds, or whether they are not. To get industries which have a real chance of success, to attract investment capital, and to labor in community building are among the aims of this progressive body of business men, and their example is worthy of emulation now as never before in the Maritimes.

THE Rotary Club gave the message of the Maritimes a most sympathetic hearing today, and President Herbert Spittal remarked that no better method of creating understanding and awakening active sympathy could be adopted than that of sending through the country a representative to make the situation clear. Among the Rotarians present was George Wesley, formerly of Saint John, who conducts a large and successful engraving business here, and who was very kind and helpful to the writer on his former visit to London.

ON THE WAY HOME
MR. A. M. BELDING, editor of the Saint John Telegraph describes himself as a reconstructed Canadian. He started out last year as a missionary from the east to tell the rest of Canada that the Maritime Provinces were part of the Confederation past. He admits that he had some misgivings at the outset; rather suspected that he would find an indifferent reception to what he had to say.

"Last year he was in London; now he is here again. In the interval he has travelled far and learned much and the greatest lesson he will carry home is that the people of the provinces in Canada have not in the past had an understanding of each other's problems.

"Mr. Belding's claim for recognition of the maritimes seems reasonable. Western Canada has its big wheat crop, and much of the money derived from it comes to Ontario and Quebec factories, and business is stimulated as a result. This trade does not reach the maritimes. In the east they have natural products of the farm, mineral production and fishing wealth; they are on the seaboard or close to it. The great need is a chance to find markets for their goods and facilities to reach these markets. They cannot ship west because the distance is too great; they cannot get into their logical market in the New England states because a tariff stands in the way. What they do want is greater development and use of their resources so that they will have a better chance to ship to the outside world. That seems to be a very reasonable request, one which the other provinces should be willing to assist.

"The Maritimes do about 80 per cent. of their buying in imported goods in central Canada, a much larger proportion than we get from the eastern provinces. Mr. Belding should feel free to tell his people that the rest of the provinces will play their part in making it possible for his corner of the dominion to reach out and occupy markets where the produce of the maritimes can be sold."

Let Baby Cry, Advises Coue; Says All Will Reap Benefit

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Professor Coue, is famous for his slogan: "Every day in every way getting better and better." He has just paid another visit to London. The professor now says that his system "is one of the best things possible" for babies.

"The simplest way to apply it," he said, "is to leave a crying baby to cry. If a mother is certain that her child is as comfortable as it can be with good food and bedding, and that there are no sins pressing upon his conscience, she should let it cry. She will soon be able to enjoy uninterrupted nights of sleep, and the baby will benefit."

She was formerly Mary J. Keating, of Newcastle, N. B., and with her husband had resided in Sunny Brae for the last ten years. She is survived by her husband, three step-daughters, Mrs. John A. McCabe, Newcastle; Mrs. H. Harold Carroll and Miss Loretta Major, at home; also one sister, Miss Elizabeth Keating, and four brothers, William, Patrick and Charles, of Newcastle, and Thomas, in the United States.

RUSSIAN TOP-BOOTS ARE LONDON RAGE

One Shop Disposes of 1,400 Pairs—Sell From $4 to $40 a Pair

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Russian boots are in great demand. During the last month more than 1,400 pairs have been sold by one shop alone, which cannot obtain supplies quickly enough to meet the demands of its customers.

Fashion has piped a merry tune, and women are dancing to it—along Pond street to Piccadilly, through the Strand, citywards, and from suburb to suburb, all shod in the neatest of new top-boots.

The reason for the sudden popularity of Russian boots is really easy to find. The weather is at the root of the matter. A harsh dictate of those who set the fashion? No; women have accepted the notion of their own accord this winter.

The boots can be bought at all kinds of prices, from $4 to $40. Of course, those of suede or of kid, with fur-trimmed tops, or hand-sewn pairs, are more expensive.

Russian boots do not vary much in type among those most commonly bought. Quite plain boots are obviously the favorites. There are three styles of fastening at the top: one is by a silk lace which gathers the top of the boot to fit the leg, one by an elastic garter, the other is by an adjustable suspender. All the fastenings are hidden within the boots.

Will Russian boots make any difference in the length of the skirt in the coming fashions? A fashion expert declared in answer to the question that short skirts were never likely to be ousted from popularity.

Tourist's Offer of $1,000 For Museum's Model Ship Refused

AN AMERICAN TOURIST recently offered $1,000 for one of the remarkably fine rigged ship models here. He was told that he could not have the model, but that it would probably be possible to have a similar one made for a quarter of the price. He replied that he did not want any duplicate.

Four of the rigged models show the types of wooden ships made in Saint John from 1820 to 1880, and form a record of the development of the different types.

EARLIEST TYPE.
The largest model with a seven-foot hull and 10 feet overall, is of the oldest type. The model is of the "Commerce" built in Saint John in the late '20's of the last century. It is primitive in its details, the galley being the only structure above the deck. In those days it was necessary to have a galley on deck because an open fire was used for cooking. It was in vessels of this type that the early immigrants traveled to Canada.

THE TYPE OF 1839.
It was the next model that the American visitor so greatly desired, a model named "Britain's Queen," which is four feet, eight inches in the hull, and six feet, four inches overall, and represents the type of ship built in Saint John in 1839. It shows the advance on the first type, as it has both quarter-deck and fore-castle, and has a captain for hoisting the anchor.

OTHER MODELS.
The third model is smaller, measuring 28 inches in the hull, and three feet three inches over all. It represents the type of ship built in Saint John in 1863, and was given to the Natural History Society by the Misses Helen and Elizabeth Thomson, of Hotheyay. It shows the extended quarter deck, and fore-castle, and has a galley also and is a full rigged ship; every detail complete.

THE FOURTH MODEL is quite small, having a 15-inch hull and being 19 inches over all. It has six spars while the earlier types had only three spars. It has also the captain's cabin and other quarters built above the quarter deck. It is a beautiful piece of workmanship built by James Lawton, of the firm of William and James Lawton, shipbuilders. After being finished it was exhibited for some time in the drug store of Dr. John Smith, Dock street, and was afterwards kept in Mr. Lawton's home.

NECK BROKEN BUT HOPES FOR RECOVERY

Injured Man Walks Alone After Accident, But is Taken to Hospital

LEEDS, Dec. 10.—An extraordinary case under treatment at the Leeds Infirmary is that of a man suffering from partial fracture of the neck, but of whose cure hopes are entertained.

While cutting up a haystack at Lucas Farm, Narmanton, a laborer 33 years old, fell from the top, a height of about 15 feet, and broke two small bones in his spine.

He was alone, and getting up from the ground, he walked several hundred yards to the farmhouse, and was then taken to the infirmary. His head was on one side, supported only, as it was afterwards found, by the broken spinal bones. He was quite rational in his speech.

Shall She Marry the Young Man Who Hasn't a Steady Job?—Slacker Wives Should be Divorced as Readily as Lazy Husbands—Should a Girl Accept Favors From Suitors Who Don't Suit?

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been engaged to a young man for eighteen months whom I love and who loves me dearly. We are very anxious to marry and would do so, except that he has no steady job. He works off and on two or three days a week, but I have a steady job as a stenographer.

DOROTHY DIX

Now, Miss Dix, my mother is a widow who has her own home and we could go to live with her. That would be just the same as having our own home, wouldn't it? Shall we marry and go to live with my mother? We are going to do just as you say.

ANSWER:

If you take my advice you will on no account get married until the young man has regular work every day in the week, which will enable him to support a family.

It isn't necessary for a young couple to have riches before they marry, but it is absolutely necessary for them to have a decent assured living. It is eternally true that love dies out of the window when poverty comes in at the door, and the poverty is of that kind that means hunger and cold and shabbiness and torturing fear of the future.

You can't think about the state of your heart when your stomach is crying out for food. You can't be tender and loving when you are worried to death to know where the next meal is coming from and where you are to find a roof to cover your head.

And no man who is worthy of a woman's love can be happy if he is dependent and grafting his living and that of his family off his wife's people. He will know that he is cutting a despicable figure in the eyes of every one who knows him, and his shame and his anger at himself will turn upon those who help him and make him hate them and revile them.

I have seen this happen a thousand times, my dear. Never yet have I seen a dependent son-in-law who treated his mother-in-law with even common politeness. Invariably he was like a snarling dog who bit the hand that fed it.

You say that your mother's home would be the same as your home if you married. That is not true. Your mother's home is her own home, and when you marry you forfeit your right to it. Your mother worked hard to make her own home. It represents years of labor and self-sacrifice, and in her old age she should have the privilege of living in it in peace and quiet and comfort. She should not be forced to share it with the stranger you propose to saddle on her and who may treat her badly. Nor should she be forced to support your children. Whatever income she possesses should go to buy her comforts and luxuries.

I urge you not to marry this young man, no matter how much you love him, until he can make a living for you. If he is worth having, he can do that; and if he wants you, he will hustle around and get a steady job. Don't inflict yourself and your husband and your children on your poor old mother.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—What do you think of shiftless and slovenly wives? There are any number of steady, hard-working men who never cut off a clean table or sleep in a clean bed because their wives are too lazy to raise a hand. These women bring children into the world who are never cared for and who must carry the memory of their miserable, neglected childhood as long as they live. Poverty does not create dirt, but dirt and shiftlessness create poverty, and lazy women cause more misery in a family than drunkenness. If women were all good and clean men would be the same.

ANSWER: I have long said, Robert, that what was sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose, and that inasmuch as the law compels a man to support his wife, it should compel the wife to make a clean and comfortable home for her husband. If nonsupport is a cause for divorce, as it is in many States, bad housekeeping should be also recognized as a cause for divorce.

It is just as much a woman's duty to make a comfortable home for her family as it is a man's duty to provide the raw materials out of which the home is made. The woman who fails to sweep her floors and make her beds and cook nourishing and palatable foods is just as criminal as the man who is too lazy to work or who drinks or gambles away the family income.

I think that every man who has a lazy or slovenly wife is absolutely justified in leaving her and that he should do so before there are any children born to be poisoned by her bad cooking or to be brought up on the street because it is more comfortable than their pigsty of a home.

If every young man would find out before he got married whether the girl to whom he was about to entrust his stomach and his future comfort and happiness was a good free-hand cook and expert with the broom about half of the domestic misery in the world would be saved and many a home kept intact that is now broken up, for the grounds in the coffee pot are the grounds of many a divorce.

And I believe that if every man would let his wife know unmistakably that he expected her to do her part in the matrimonial partnership as efficiently as he did his that it would turn many a slacker wife into a real helpmeet.

For wives do not wish to lose their jobs any more than do any other women who have good paying positions, and they would make good on them if they had to. It is because husbands are too easy and let them get away with laziness and slovenliness that wives put it over on them.

DEAR MISS DIX—What shall be done with persistent suitors who do not suit? Some are too old and some too dull, but are willing to entertain me. Is it the part of wisdom to admit them to my society or should I accept no favors from them when I have nothing to return? I am not so sure I want to marry. I am trained to a profession and it seems that my useful work is there.

ANSWER: The average man is quite capable of looking after his own interests, so you have no cause to worry about any danger of hurting his hard-boiled heart.

Of course, it is a dishonorable thing for a woman to make a man believe that she intends to marry him when she has no idea whatever of doing so, and to let him spend his money upon her in the pursuit of a hopeless case.

Evidently you have not done that, so your conscience is clear. I think that many women exaggerate men's sentimentality, anyway. There are many men who do not desire to marry. They do not want to burden themselves with a family, and yet they like feminine society and to take a pretty and attractive woman around. In such cases a woman makes ample return for any courtesies the man shows her by being pleasant and agreeable. Platonic friendship in the past has been a myth, but in these days of self-supporting women who do not themselves desire to marry it has become a pleasant reality.

THE TWINS HAVE A RIDE.

Where a minute or two before the big picture in the picture gallery was only a quiet dignified painting called "The Tipton Coach," now everything had changed.

Not only had the Twins and Mister Blue Cap walked right into the picture, behind the glass, but they had become acquainted with all the people in it as well.

There was Mister Blokins, the big fat landlord, and Miss Cranford, the beautiful young lady about to step into the coach and start on a journey, and last, but not least, Bill, the coachman, who wore a top-heavy beaver hat and a huge muffler. The Twins wondered if it were not the heat from this wonderful muffler that made Bill's face so red.

"Would you like to come for a ride with me, children?" asked Miss Cranford sweetly. "If you were never on a coach, it may be interesting to go part way to Tipton. Bill can put you on the return coach at Mudport."

"Oh, we'd love to go!" said Nancy quickly. "Only I haven't a coat or hat along."

"Oh, that's all right," said Miss Cranford. "Hetty, my maid, has all sorts of extra wraps with her. You'll not be cold. Come on, Hetty, bring the bags and things and climb into the coach. We must be starting at once."

Bill, the coachman, looked at the town clock. "Yes, it's high time we started if we want to get to Mudport before the London Coach reaches there. Climb right in, everybody."

"May we sit on top?" asked Nick. "Yes, let's all sit on top," said Miss Cranford. "All but Hetty, who must stay inside to watch the bags."

Once an old lady got on, with a big white goose in a basket. But the lid came off and the goose flew away, and Bill had to stop the coach and let the old lady out.

Nobody seemed to notice Mister Blue Cap. Being a fairy he managed to keep out of sight some way. But he was there just the same.

Nancy was quite warm and comfortable in one of Miss Cranford's shawls, and Bill, the coachman, said he was an-tirely too warm in his muffler, and passed it back to Nick. The coach rolled along through lovely country roads with hedges on each side. They passed through pretty villages, and busy towns, and at last they reached Mudport.

"I'm sorry," said Miss Cranford, "but it is getting late, and I think you'd better get off here, children, and go back on that coach standing there. It is the London Coach and I know the driver. He will take care of you. Keep the wraps—Mister Blokins will send them to you. Good-bye!"

"Good-bye!" said the Twins, climbing down. "And thank you very much for the ride."

To Be Continued.

News Notes From Movie Land

By JACK JUNGMEYER

THE Gish sisters, Lillian and Dorothy, afford an interesting dual example of how the screen may fashion the true ego into a quite different dramatic identity by constant reiteration of selected roles.

Lillian, whose prevailing roles present her as the serious, candid, tragedy-haunted heroine, is actually more cautious, tactful and expedient than her sister, Dorothy, frank, blunt, outspoken, earnest, is usually presented in films as frivolous, fickle, superficial.

This curious diversity between the real and the affected in Lillian and Dorothy has been crystallized over a period of years by outside and more or less uncontrollable factors which shape movie careers, and also by that strange human yearning to seem something else than we are.

Dorothy, inclined to be very soberly serious, has wanted to seem gay, blithe, roguish, imperious. She proceeds more from emotional impulse. And if she has latterly felt that this is the wrong track, that it is holding her back from her most effective expression, her reputation for screen buster has held her closely to the established role.

Lillian, more the artist, more intellectual and calculating, has managed to convey the more profound emotional effect, while realizing that artistry is essentially artificial—a matter of distortion and legitimate dramatic preparation. She approaches her characterizations with extreme care and thoughtful preparation. Her feelings are well bridled by her keen intellect.

Lillian's keen perception held her directed toward her goal. Dorothy's goal was perhaps never quite so clearly defined, and she has floundered more in approaching it.

Associated Charities to Invite Meeting of Benevolent Organizations

Early Lists of Needy For Christmas Time Care Are Called For

At the meeting of the Associated Charities in the Bible Society rooms yesterday afternoon the hope was expressed that churches and organizations would assist the society in its Christmas work for the poor of the city by sending in their lists of homes to which gifts will be sent or for which gifts are desired.

The secretary, Miss Grace O. Robertson, goes over the lists to see that there is no duplication in giving and that every family in need of Christmas cheer is looked after. Already some of the names on the society's lists have been given out to those who wish to provide Christmas cheer and the society's own Christmas fund for the poor has received two very generous contributions.

Mrs. Percy Thomson has sent $100 and the Lady Roberts Chapter, I. O. D. E., has sent $10. W. Shives Fisher, president, was in the chair and the meeting completed organization for the year by electing as additional members of the executive Hon. R. J. Ritchie, Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, Adjutant Chapman of the Salvation Army, H. Usher Miller, Dr. D. C. Maloney, D. W. Puddington, Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. T. N. Vincent, Mrs. W. H. Nice, Miss Brittain, Mrs. J. D. Seely and Mrs. C. L. Beard. Miss Grace O. Robertson was reappointed as secretary.

SUGGESTION DISCUSSED. The matter of the calling of a conference of all organizations interested in relief work in the city was discussed. The Associated Charities had been asked to take action in this matter by its annual meeting, following a suggestion made by A. M. Rowan, commissioner of the poor, that charitable grants by the city should be pooled and administered from one centre. It was decided yesterday to call the conference at an early date. The month just closed had been a very busy one for the secretary of the society, who submitted the following statistical report of her work during November: Applications received, 198; seeking employ. sent, 17; employment was found for, 7; records given, 28; seeking relief, 66; relief was procured for, 84; visits made, 120; clothing was given to, 8; cases investigated, 18, and seeking transportation, 6.

ROSEBUD DAY PLANS

Annual Tag Day on Next Saturday—Ward Conveners Appointed

On Saturday of this week the Saint John Women's Council will make its annual tag day appeal on behalf of the Children's Aid Home. The tag day for the Children's Aid has always been known as Rosebud Day and was at one time held on Queen Alexandra's birthday, when the Queen's appeal on behalf of children was made in the Old Country.

The children that the Rosebud Day funds will assist are amongst those who present the most pitiful plea to the generous public. Mrs. H. B. Peck and Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson as joint conveners for the wards have been enrolling volunteers to head up the tagging in the various districts. Those who have been appointed to take charge of different wards are as follows: Prince, Mrs. Harold Hooper; Dukes, Mrs. Mary Gribble; Queens, Mrs. Edward Mooney; Kings, Mrs. Mary Gunn; Wellington, Mrs. I. F. Longley; Sydney, Mrs. Jewett; Dufferin, Mrs. J. Silliphant; Lansdowne, Mrs. Walter L. Gregg; Lorne, Mrs. H. Usher Miller; Guys, Mrs. E. A. Young; Brooks, Mrs. W. E. Morris; Fairville, Miss Mary O'Brien.

PACKING DAY AT RED CROSS DEPOT

It was packing day at the provincial Red Cross depot yesterday when parcels of warm garments were being sent out for the soldier patients at River Glade and for the Christmas tree at Woodstock. The parcel for Woodstock contained five dozen articles, scarves, mittens and bloomers and is being sent to the Woodstock Red Cross branch to help load down the Christmas tree, which the Red Cross workers in that centre give each year for the poorer children of the community. They are all hand made or hand knit articles and should give great comfort to the children.

The parcel for River Glade contained a scarlet Christmas stocking, a pair of warm woolen stockings and a pair of hand knit wristers for each of the 25 soldier patients now in the sanatorium.

Hon. Mr. Farris was widely known and held in very high esteem throughout the province and for 16 consecutive years he sat in the provincial legislature, serving under four different premiers and in the provincial office of Commissioner of Agriculture.

He was an ardent Liberal and whether a candidate himself or no longer in the political arena he always played an active part in the realm of politics. During the construction period of the C. P. R. in the Maritime Provinces Mr. Farris was commissioner of the police supervising the work in New Brunswick.

He is survived by the widow and four sons. All of his sons have achieved conspicuous success in the various fields of endeavor in which they have entered. One son, J. W. Delb. Farris, K. C., was formerly Attorney General in British Columbia and is now practicing law in Vancouver.

HOCKEY CLASSIC TONIGHT WHEN NEW YORK MEETS SENATORS

GREAT CHANCE FOR OTTAWA TO INCREASE LEAD

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—What is expected to be one of the professional hockey classics of the 1925-26 season is booked for tonight, when the Senators and the Chicago Bears meet at the arena in a scheduled N. H. L. fixture. This will be Ottawa's fourth home game in as many starts, and it will be a great chance for the locals to increase their lead as league leaders by hanging up another victory. Led by Tommy Gorman, former manager of the Ottawa club, the Americans will be at full strength and are just now going strong, as they did in their 2-1 victory over the Canadiens in Montreal Tuesday night.

"King" Clancy will be back in his usual position on the defense against the Americans, and it is expected that the Senators will be at their very best for the contest.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 10.—Pittsburgh won another game in the National Hockey League schedule last night, when they took St. Patricks of Toronto into camp by the score of 6-3. Toronto had all the best of the play in the first period, when their sharpshooter, Babe Dye, netted two goals to one by the Pirates, by Coacher. Pittsburgh started in the second period and got two more, Smith and Drury doing the trick. St. Patricks were no match for the home team in the third period, Pittsburgh running in three goals to the visitors' one, Babe Dye doing the trick again, making it three for him on the night.

Drury scored another in this period along with Milks and White.

Goal-keeper Worcester played a fine game, and saved off several close goals. He was knocked unconscious near the end of the game, but was revived and played the rest of the game. Coacher and Workers, for Pittsburgh, and Dye, for St. Patricks, were the brilliant performers of the evening.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Stanley Coveskie, of the Washington Senators, and not Herb Penneck, of the Chicago Bears, was the most effective pitcher in the American League in the 1925 season, as announced tonight at league headquarters.

Official averages recently published gave the New York southpaw the honor, but a recheck of the figures shows Coveskie is credited with the lowest percentage of earned runs, the margin being one one-hundredth of an earned run per game.

Corrected figures give Penneck an earned run per game percentage of 2.53, plus, while the Washington star allowed but 2.84 earned runs per game.

East Saint John Defeats Exmouth

The East Saint John team defeated the Exmouth street team on the latter's floor last night in the schedule game of the boys' rules section of the Saint John Girls' Basketball League. The score was 7 to 6. Close checking by the defense of both teams forced the forward play to be a rugged one. Overtime play was necessary to decide the contest. R. Woodruff was the referee.

The lineup was as follows: Coach, M. McCallister. P. Holton. Centre, E. Crump. M. Woodruff. M. Cooper. M. Foley. L. Lawton. V. Foster. H. Tingley. M. Gordon. G. Styles. F. Bagwell.

“Willie” Logan Sends In Entry For Stocking Funds Events

Willie Logan

This is the boy who won the Maritime and provincial championship senior meets last year, although under 18 years. He has entered the Times-Star Stocking Fund races on Hilton Belyea's rink in West Saint John next Wednesday night. Logan had barely read the announcement in last night's Times-Star when he asked that he be counted as one ready to do his bit in helping along this worthy fund. He followed close on the heels of Charlie Gorman, Canadian skating ace, in sending in his name and with two such prominent skaters as Gorman and Logan entered, some excellent competition is assured. This meet, in addition, will give the boys much-needed competition before leaving for the big meets.

FINE RECORD.

Few boys in the skating game have a finer record than this young Logan. Ever since he went on the circuit, he has shown up well and last year he won the coveted title of "International Intermediate Champion" in addition to annexing the Canadian title for this class. Any boy who does this in one year is no fish in the pan and not content with that he came home and walked away with the Maritime and provincial senior championship, although at that time under 18 years. Gorman, of course, did not win these meets, Francis, also shows the eldest son of Fred Logan, former international champion, while his younger brother, Francis, also shows some promise as a skater, having won the International and Canadian titles for boys under 12 years. Willie Logan also is a sculler of note, being Maritime junior champion.

ENTRIES CLOSE MONDAY.

The first of the series of races will be run on next Wednesday night, if suitable. If not, on the following night. The following events are carded: 200, 800 and mile. It was first decided to have the second series, to include the 400 and the three-mile races on the following Wednesday, but its close proximity to Christmas has moved the committee to switch the date to Monday, December 21. The events are open to any senior amateur skater in the city and all entries will close on Monday night, December 14, at 10 o'clock. Entries may be made to the rink at any time, but the deadline is on Monday night, December 14, at 10 o'clock. The winners of the events will be awarded a trophy to be presented to the winner.

NATIONALS DEFEAT Y. M. C. I.

The Nationals were handicapped when they met the Y. M. C. I. basketball team last night, having only four players. The Y. M. C. I. consented to allow the Nationals to play a National Junior. The game, however, ended in a score of 33 to 22 in favor of the Nationals.

SAINT JOHN'S OPPORTUNITY for having the best senior hockey team since the early days of the sport in Saint John, were never brighter than they are this year. On the forward line, they have eight fast players contending for positions on the team. Of late years this has been the weak point in the locals' team. Fast skaters have been available and always will be available in the skating metropolis of Canada. Good stick handlers and goal getters are what has been lacking here especially the latter. Shooting wide of the nets, right at the goal tender or from too far out has been a weakness with Saint John forwards. This season, this is being rectified by hard, steady practice and the presence on St. John line-up of players who have received this training elsewhere. Present indications are that Saint John will have its greatest goal getting team in local hockey history. The defence looks good with four players contending for goal and four seeking places on the right and left defence. Saturday afternoon there was a good turnout on the lake and many of the players appeared to be in mid season form. The going of the two LeClairs is expected to be a cramp in the St. John line-up but there are several youngsters burning up in their anxiety to keep Susep on the map. Moncton has a hustling young outfit and when this trio starts their annual clashes the well-known ice is bound to fly.

THE SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE is over at last and the sport world breathes a sigh of relief. Keeping up the excitement for six days whirling around a track gives the excitement of a cramp in the neck. It reminds us of the story of the guy who went mad looking for a corner in a roundhouse.

HOW WOULD YOU like to hear the clerk of the course at the Times-Star Stocking Fund races on Hilton Belyea's rink call out "All out for the Old Timers' Special—Logan, Belyea, Breen, Parkes, Welch, Duffy, etc. etc.?" To the present-day fan, such names are names only. It has been suggested that the fans of today would like to see the champions of yesterday in action and we pass it along for what it is worth. A race with Fred Logan, former international champion, Hilton Belyea, Hudson Breen, Park Parker, Mike Welch, Park Duffy and others, would pack them in tighter than sardines. These are the men who bore Saint John's name in years gone by in the form of Pete Logan, Ed Snowgrass, Frank Garnett, and others, are making a good job of carrying on. It was they who thrilled the older generation with their great speed and the way they toppled over the fellows who came here to show the boys how to skate. How would you like to see them in action once more? The committee would be only too glad to stage such an exhibition if it could be arranged.

MR. "RED" GRANGE—ever hear of him?—says he will not get married just yet. "Red" apparently prefers the golf to the flat iron, and, the rolling ball to the rolling-pin.

"CAN THEY COMEBACK?" a question as old as sport itself, is going to receive another answer tomorrow night after the hospital attendants have lugged out of the ring either Paul Berlenbach or Jack Delaney. This fracas is for the light-heavyweight title of the world and if the French-Canadian wins, it means fame and glory for some time. A defeat for Mr. Berlenbach will set him back to the bottom of the ladder. But the main item is this—"Can Berlenbach stop Delaney, remembering that it was the sharp-shooting right hand of the Bridgeport battler that knocked him cold in their first meeting? If he can do that, the Astoria boxer lifts himself into the highly-exclusive class presided over by one Stanley Ketchell. There is one likelihood that comes back and keeps the man who layed him. The medical experts report Mr. Delaney is in great shape. So is Berlenbach. A knockout seems assured. If Mr. Delaney is right, Mr. Berlenbach probably will see more stars than there are in Hollywood. If he is not right, the odds favor the rugged Berlenbach. Your guess is as good as the next fellow's.

Delaney Now In Good Shape For Big Test

By JOHN J. DUNLOP

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight champion of ten world titles, and Jack Delaney, Bridgeport battler, dedicate Tex Rickard's new Madison Square Garden indoor boxing tomorrow night when they battle over the 15-round stretch with the title at stake. The weight which is the limit of the light heavyweight division. Berlenbach has come down to this poundage gradually and naturally. His weight is giving the commission no concern.

The same cannot be said of Jack Delaney, however. The local authorities are not so sure that Jack is as fit as he should be for the gruelling battle that Berlenbach is certain to give him. While practically every critic who has seen Delaney in his Bridgeport camp has come away convinced that he has completely recovered from his illness of several months ago and is in splendid condition it is a fact that not a few disquieting rumors have reached the ears of the local commissioners in the course of the last two weeks.

"Doc" Casey, Delaney's trainer, has been doing as much as he can to get reports that have been circulated to the effect that his charge is not at the top of his form. Short addresses were made by the challenger, more than indignation. He declared that he would have a fine laugh at the expense those who have been questioning Jack's condition.

JACK'S TRAINER CONFIDENT. "I have never seen Delaney in better shape than he is right now," said Casey. "He is stronger, faster and in generally better physical condition than when he stopped Berlenbach at Madison Square Garden in 1924. He has been doing as much as he can for a day and has thrived on the work. Anybody who thinks he can't get in the ring for five or six rounds is wrong. The best of them is wrong. So far as Berlenbach is concerned, Jack won't have to go fifteen rounds because he will win inside of ten rounds. If Jack doesn't win inside of ten rounds I'll be very much surprised."

While boxing Commission is keeping an eye on each of the training camps, the ticket sale for the battle is going mad. The fight will be held at Madison Square Garden. The various box offices in the new building were literally swamped yesterday.

Grange Takes Ruth's Place

PARIS, Dec. 10.—"Red" Grange is replacing Babe Ruth as the average Frenchman's idea of the premier athlete of the United States, owing to the extraordinary publicity given to Grange's football ball fortunes and great earnings as a professional in the Paris newspapers.

La Matin prints on the front page a sketch of Grange's football career, illustrated by a large figure wearing a football headgear, supposed to represent the Illinois star in the field. The article contains this comment: "Red Grange is dimming Ruth's star as America's best-paid athlete. He has beaten the bambino's record both in the importance of his fame and in the rapidity in which he achieved it."

WANTS TO MEET IRVING. Bert Schneider, former Canadian welterweight champion and who is now fighting in and around New York, would like to take on Joe Irving, Tommy Moore, Schneider lost a close decision to Field at Toronto recently and feel certain that the former champion can eliminate all other contenders thereby demanding another crack at the Canadian title.

WILL DISCUSS BOONSPIEL HERE

Curlers Tonight Consider Plan for World Championship Skating Week

Would be Another Good Faction Adding to Saint John's Sporting Fame

The matter of holding a grand bonspiel in this city during the week of the world skating championships and the selection of six representatives to go from this part of Canada to the imperial gathering of curlers in Scotland during January, will be discussed at the annual session of the Royal Caledonia Curling Club executive to meet in the Bramwick Hotel, Moncton, tonight.

On the noon train today the following Saint John curlers left to attend the gathering: J. A. Sinclair and J. C. Chesley for the "Thistle Curling Club"; Fred C. Beatty and Charles F. Sanford for St. Andrew's Curling Club; C. O. Morris for the Carleton Curling Club; Charles Coster left to represent Hampton, and Judge Limerick to speak for Fredericton. E. T. MacKay and J. G. Stout of Bathurst; Reginald Shives and Max Mowatt of Campbellton; R. A. Snowball and H. D. Heckbert of Chatham; R. Percy Dickson and W. N. Rippey of Moncton; and John Russell and J. C. Linden of Newcastle, will also be present. P. W. Coombs of Saint John is provincial secretary.

BOONSPIEL PLAN.

The suggestion made unofficially some time ago that a grand bonspiel be held in Saint John during the gala week of the world's skating classic, when Thunberg will try—like Harold Hagen of old—to carry off the icy palm across the seas, will be decided tonight, it is expected. Saint John curlers are naturally very keen for this event and feel it would help the sum total of sporting fame for this city as well as swell the assured vast crowd of visitors.

The date of departure of the Canadian curlers for Scotland is set for the first week in January. All the curlers will assemble in this city for overseas transportation per C. P. R. liner Montrose. There may be some lively games while the curlers are awaiting the sailing of the steamer.

WEST SIDE WATER SUPPLY WAS LOST

Trouble at Spruce Lake Quickly Remedied and All Soon Moving

West Saint John was without water for nearly an hour last night, but fortunately the shut-off occurred while householders were asleep and the demand was light. The high wind drove the anchor ice into the intake and the gate house at Spruce Lake and the ice had to be removed to get the distributing mains functioning once more.

Commissioner Wigmore was notified soon after midnight, and with a crew of men went to the lake. They spent the rest of the night remedying conditions. On the way to the lake the water was turned on in the reservoir in case of emergency. In less than an hour after the arrival at Spruce Lake the water was flowing back into the mains and this morning the pressure was back to normal.
