

INVESTIGATING IN ST. JOHN INTERESTS

Board of Trade and Harbor Commissioner Working on Grain Rate Matter.

Vancouver's bid for the trans-Atlantic grain shipments from Canada is receiving the attention of both the local Board of Trade and T. H. Bullock, commissioner of harbors. Mr. Bullock said this morning that he was investigating differentials, etc., in an effort to see what could be done to insure the port receiving fair treatment in the matter of the grain traffic from the west.

According to information received from the C. P. R. the ocean rates for St. John last winter averaged one shilling and nine pence a quarter, or about eight shillings and two pence a ton, as compared with fifty-two shillings and six pence a ton from Vancouver. Rail charges from central and western points, however, showed the through charges via St. John above those via Vancouver, as the following comparison will show—

Table with 2 columns: From, Via. Rows include Vancouver, Montreal, and other routes with corresponding rates.

While the wharfage rate at Vancouver was only one cent a ton as compared with six cents at St. John and seven cents at Montreal, he called attention to the fact that this would mean but little when applied to the bushel.

The quarter is figured as eight bushels at 60 pounds to the bushel to the ton is 480 pounds, or 2400 pounds.

QUINN'S SLIP WORK.

Commissioner Frink announced this morning that a proposal to reconstruct the face of the wharf or bulkhead at Quinn's slip in British street would be brought to the attention of the city council at its committee meeting on Monday. The wharf is erected on city property and serves the purpose of supporting the street at that place. It is considered in bad condition and if allowed to collapse entirely, it is feared that an entirely new wharf or possibly a concrete retaining wall would be necessary to sustain the roadway. As there are several streets passing through the bulkhead into the slip, the matter of looking after these outlets will also require attention.

"Yes, We Have No Trout Streams There Today"

If the writer of the once famous song, "When Broadway Was a Parade" was in the city today, he might be constrained to compose a companion entitled, "When Waterloo Street was a Brook."

While city workmen were excavating in that street yesterday in preparation for the installation of a large manhole, they found that broken stone existed in the roadway to the depth of five feet and they came to the conclusion that some extensive filling was done before the street was brought to its present level. The matter was reported to Commissioner Frink, who later was in conversation with one of the old time residents of the district, who confirmed the workmen's supposition.

"Why, I remember the time," he confided to the commissioner, "when I used to paddle a raft from where Paddock street now enters Waterloo, down a stream which crossed the land near where Linger's Laundry now stands and thence wound its way around a spot which was lately occupied by a bakery at the corner of Union and Prince Edward streets, and part of which is now covered by the plant of the Core Co., Ltd."

"The city has dried up a lot since then," one of his auditors facetiously remarked.

The Rossley Kiddies Entertain Halifax

The Halifax Mail, reporting the performance of the Rossley Kiddies in that city says they are to give three performances daily at the Majestic Theatre.

"This is the third season of the Rossley Kiddie show," the Mail continues, "and the current programme consists of brand new numbers and features. The continuing songs, gossamer and light, making beautiful stage color effects possible and adding much to the beauty of the revue as a whole. The Kiddies company numbers thirty to forty, of ages from four to fourteen years, and the group all show wonderful training results approximating the work of professionals. Their revue is a happy mixture of dances, songs, gossamer, and wealth of apparel. After a dozen or more songs and dances, the programme settles down to a Scottish revue tending to set the theater on fire, and all the leading plays and proper accessories of dress being presented, and they make it a great day-night for Auld Scotland."

Fredericton Here For Crucial Games

Meet Saints Tonight and Vets Twice on Saturday; and Saints Again on Monday.

The Fredericton team, leaders in the Two-1 League, arrived in the city today to start a crucial series with the local clubs. This evening they are to be pitted against St. Peter's and tomorrow night they will meet the Vets and on Monday evening will again clash with St. Peter's. Fredericton leads even in order to win the first series, while the Vets must win both games and St. Peter's at least one if the Capital team is to be headed. St. Peter's still have a chance to tie for first place providing they play an equal number of games and win them all. Thus it will be seen how much depends on the result of the week-end contests in the Two-1 League. In event of Fredericton winning the series the next big fight will be for second honors. It is expected that Price will be on the mound for the local tonight, but it is not known who will perform for Fredericton.

Real Movement To Bring More Beauty Into St. John Homes

To the end that we may have here in St. John the means of making every home as beautiful as it deserves while well within the range of every income, the House of Marcus has applied its buying resources in completing a collection of works of art in furniture, rugs, and linens. Planning on the thought that most of our life is spent in the environment of our own home and that that environment has a tremendous power and influence on individual happiness, contentment and culture, we set ourselves the task of assembling a series of suites and pieces of special refinement.

The task is finished—St. John now has a large exhibit of fine furniture such it hardly began to have before—and the gains appeal to every income. Come and judge.

Geo. H. Potter STILL LIVING

No Solution Yet of Murderer's Attack on Bear River Man.

St. John, N. B., July 20.—(Special to The Times.)—At ten o'clock this morning George H. Potter, the victim of the murderous assault near Bear River was still alive. He had not recovered consciousness although he seemed to sense in some way the efforts being made to make him comfortable. Physicians and others tried hard to arouse him and succeeded once in getting a murmur from him but it was only a murmur. Nothing intelligible was conveyed and he again slipped into unconsciousness. The opinion is expressed among those who know the people that it will turn out to be a deed done by some one who knew his habits and was well acquainted with him. Yesterday your correspondent heard a lady of this vicinity freely express herself against the "curious" seekers who were trying to make trouble, and that seems to be the policy adopted by all the neighbors with whom he talked. Mrs. Potter, the wife of the injured man, seemed to be the only one who answered questions freely and as fully as she could.

RUSSIAN PRISON HORRORS REVEALED BY REFUGEE

London, July 19.—(By Mail)—A Russian medical student, who for some time had been forcibly employed as a junior member of the "preliminary prison" of the Cheka, in Moscow, on the famous Lubianka, and who escaped abroad and is now in Constantinople, relates in the Russian press his experiences. According to his account the Russian correspondent on February 1, 1923, there were 15,290 political prisoners detained in the different prisons of Moscow. Of this total 10 per cent were workers, peasants and freed army soldiers and 40 per cent were members of the intelligentsia and professional classes.

The most terrible of all the Cheka prisons and places of detention is the famous "international prison" on the Lubianka, which is guarded by the special Cheka military detachment, consisting exclusively of Letts and Chinese, who do not speak or understand a single word of Russian. Last February there were 800 inmates in this prison, all awaiting their death, as only persons sentenced to capital punishment are kept there. The conditions prevailing in this "international prison" are too horrible to relate. The inmates are not allowed to receive or send letters, nor to read books or receive food from the outside world. They are only allowed out into the courtyard once a day, and that for not more than ten minutes.

MOSLEMS NOW FLOCK TO MECCA

July 24 is Day of Sacrifice—Only 16 Christians Known to Have Seen Holy City.

Cairo, June 19.—(A. P. by Mail).—Pilgrims are now converging on Mecca, their sacred city and the birthplace of Mohammed. Thousands are traveling from all parts of the Muslim world to be present on the day of sacrifice, July 24. Egyptian Mohammedans have dispatched the sacred carpet to Mecca with elaborate ceremonial and prayer. Since the burial of the Prophet Mohammed, more than a thousand years ago, Christians have been forbidden to enter the Holy City, which is surrounded with great mystery and veneration. But in spite of this interdiction, sixteen Christians are known to have entered the city in disguise. Death would have been their fate if they had been detected. This far no American has set foot within its sacred walls. The foreigners who have penetrated the city have been mostly Englishmen who spoke Arabic and disguised themselves as priests or peasants.

On arrival within a short distance of Mecca the pilgrim discards his ordinary clothing and assumes the garb of a "hajee"—a garment consisting of a white apron with a piece of cloth thrown over the shoulder. Sandals may be worn, but the head must be kept uncovered.

In the city itself certain ablutions are performed, after which the "Black Stone" is kissed, and the pilgrim runs seven times round the mosque. After special prayers and genuflections he then drinks from the Holy Well, and once more kisses the stone.

On the following morning there takes place the quiet ceremony of pelting the devil with stones, followed by the sacrifice, when a sheep, goat, or camel is offered, according to the pilgrim's means. This concludes the pilgrimage.

The meat of the slaughtered animal is prepared for use on the return journey. "What's the other dime for?" Mori said he asked him.

Mori said that he had added his tip to the bill, knowing from experience that Mori would not give it to him.

"I don't care about the dime," Mori explained to the magistrate, "but this robbery has got to be shown up. I'm a red-blooded American, and this is going to be a test case, if it costs me a thousand dollars."

Magistrate Brough said he would hear the case on August 2. Meanwhile Mr. Mori probably will get shaved somewhere else.

NON-TIPPER HALES BARBER TO BAR FOR 30-CENT SHAVE

Says Hair Dresser Admitted Overcharge to Cover His Gratuity.

New York, July 20.—A. W. Mori, manager of the Woodstock Typewriter Company, is a courageous man. He doesn't tip barbers unless he happens to feel like it. Moreover, he goes regularly to the shop at 298 Broadway when he has a shave or haircut—that is, he did so there regularly. The rest of the story was told to Magistrate Brough in Tombs court, where Mori appeared to make a complaint of petty larceny against Joseph Costello, one of the barbers.

He said that after he had a shave Costello charged him thirty instead of the usual twenty cents.

"What's the other dime for?" Mori said he asked him.

Mori said that he had added his tip to the bill, knowing from experience that Mori would not give it to him.

"I don't care about the dime," Mori explained to the magistrate, "but this robbery has got to be shown up. I'm a red-blooded American, and this is going to be a test case, if it costs me a thousand dollars."

New York, July 20.—William Halloran of 818 East Thirtieth Street, who has been employed at Bellevue Hospital a number of years as an electrician, became despondent over his tubercular condition and attempted suicide. Halloran returned a few days ago from the Catskills, where he had been for three months for his health. The change did not seem to him to effect so great an improvement as he had hoped.

I went into a garden on a balmy summer day. The birds were singing gaily, all the world was bright and gay!

"Tom Wood" and "Mrs. Henry Morse" and "General Jacquemont" have blossomed in other gardens in days of long ago!

O! Snowwhite "Carl Druksel," I bow before thy shrine! Thou'rt queen! and pride of all the flowers in which the sun doth shine!

Now, which one do I love the best, or which the brightest hue? O dear! I cannot make a choice, I love you all as true!

FREDERICTON HAS A FLAG QUESTION

The City Council will probably be asked to determine on what occasions in future the flag at City Hall shall be flown in addition to the regular Dominion holidays.

Some time ago additions were made to the number of recognized days on which the flag has been hoisted, until it has become a difficult and diplomatic matter to determine what patron Saints are to be thus recognized by the city in this manner.

St. Patrick later coming in for due recognition. Immediately considerable interest became attached to the Glorious Twelfth and a tardy display of the flag on this most recent occasion brought forth a storm of protest.

City Hall officials are refusing to undertake the responsibility of discriminating between a host of days of celebration, and the matter, it is said, will probably be left for the council to decide.

SAY JAPANESE MAKE BEST CARD PLAYERS

The term "poker face" has been in use a very long time; it describes not the expression but the total lack of expression on the face of a good poker player at a critical time in the game.

A friend of mine while traveling round the world played poker with men of all races, and he told me that he found the Japanese were by far the finest players. Never at any time, even by the flutter of an eyelid, do they play any emotion.

Women are often supposed to possess a sixth sense at cards. They know without any apparent evidence to them where certain cards lie. In all probability this is because they are quick to note any change of voice or alteration of expression.

Even in chess, the only game in which luck plays no part, the clever reader of faces is likely to gain an advantage. A player may display annoyance or disgust over a faulty move which might otherwise pass unnoticed.

In the final of a billiards competition I once saw a curious instance which illustrates the use of watching one's opponent. One of the players, brilliant but highly-strung, was winning count on his balls, and he was about to pocket his ball and left a double baulk.

Such safety play was perfectly proper, but did not escape the steady player that his opponent was annoyed, although the only way in which he showed it was by elaborating his flourishes when he addressed his ball.

A second point again followed by a double baulk, and the brilliant player lost both his temper and the game. Roughly speaking, emotion may be illustrated by the value of watching one's opponent.

Every one knows the customary sound of the begin to flop the eyebrows, angry movements, too, are easy to read, from the rhythmic gestures of pleasure to the frown of the angry man. But it is not easy to tell from a person's expression his exact shade of emotion.

In high spirits the circulation of the blood is increased and the face expands. The eyes brighten and the color of the face rises. The eyebrows, the eyes and the corners of the mouth are raised.

In low spirits the face lengthens; the eyes become dull, and the lips, cheeks and lower jaw seem to sink down from the eyes and down the neck. Many a man, probably many a business deal, has been lost through not studying one's opponent's face.

TRAIN ETIQUETTE

The most convincing acting in my experience," said the dramatic critic who lives on Long Island, "was seen daily on the 6.45 every afternoon. The train is crowded and passengers are in a vain search for seats.

Some of the women seem tired and I watch to see if any gallant rises to offer his seat. But none of the men on the aisle seats even raises his eyes. He cannot see the woman standing beside him who is trying to get a seat.

"Oh, I must get a seat. I've been on my feet all day." "What superb pantomime! An experienced onlooker would be convinced that each of those seat holders was reading a story that affected their seat myself under similar conditions and these are the thoughts running through their heads.

"The service would further remind passengers that in the event of a bus being occasionally overcrowded and somewhat uncomfortable, to be liberal in their sometimes valuable thoughts through placing themselves as being the late-comers some other day."

Aged Digby County Man Badly Beaten

George Potter, 72, Found Unconscious in Shack with Head Battered—Blood Covered Tongue Located Nearby—Was Living Alone.

Unconscious, with his head badly battered and his clothing soaked in blood, George Potter, seventy-two, a blacksmith, was found lying on a couch in his shack on the main road between Bear River and Digby yesterday morning.

His recovery is doubtful. A pair of tongs, covered with blood, and which are thought to have been used by someone to carry out an assault on the aged man, were found in a basket at the rear of the shack.

The discovery was made by William Hanks, a lumber-in-law, who had missed Mr. Potter from the field in which he had been cutting grass. The injured man was taken to the home of his wife, from whom he had been living apart for the last ten years, although remaining on friendly terms.

The matter was reported to the sheriff at Digby, who is investigating, but as yet no one has been arrested. It is therefore presumed that the assault took place the previous evening.

U. S. MATTERS BEFORE A. O. H.

Montreal, July 20.—Unalterable opposition to the U. S. forming "entangling alliances" with any or all world powers and insistence on the Munro Doctrine as the bulwark of American security, were two main points in a strongly worded resolution introduced at yesterday's meeting here of the national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Another resolution passed was in substance to the effect that the U. S. should insist on the right of the merchant marine from the payment of tolls for passage through the Panama Canal.

Charging that insidious efforts are being made by friends of England to falsify American school history text books, particularly as to the revolution, the 1812 war, and the Civil War, a resolution was introduced commending the Knights of Columbus for the campaign they are waging in this connection.

FISH CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

Tugging at Line, It Wakes Steeper, Who Overturns His Boat. Detroit, July 20.—"Drowned by fish" has been written by local authorities opposite the name of Lawrence Wimberly, aged thirty-seven, who met death in the St. Clair River.

Wimberly, accompanied by George B. Horrell, went to the middle of the river to drop a fishing line overboard and went to sleep. A fish swallowed the bait and began tugging at it. The line became wrapped about his arms and legs, and he was unable to swim to shore.

The fish had escaped when Wimberly's body was recovered. Chicago Police Question Her "Tamer Murder—Four 'Pais' Held. Chicago, July 20.—Another "girl-man," this time a girl posing as a man, was apprehended by the Chicago police in an attempt to identify the slayer of her husband, Fred G. Thompson, the man who posed as a woman, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for the murder of Tesmer.

It was only after a half hour of questioning, during which time she answered questions which were indicative of life in the slums, that the police took off the prisoner's cap and the long tresses of a girl were revealed. She gave her name as Blanche Voorhes. She said she had a husband in Danville, Ill.

Four youths were arrested with the girl and one has confessed, according to the police, that the band has taken part in numerous recent robberies of taxicab drivers.

AGED MYSTERY SNAKE REAPPEARS ON FARM

Middletown's Enoch Adrien 'Boa Constrictor' Stirs Memorials of Oldest Natives. Middletown, N. Y., July 20.—After an absence of several years, the famous from here, has again made its appearance.

The snake, it is claimed, always appears on the same spot. It is a very large one and some of the oldest inhabitants of the section declare the snake was seen by them when they were many years younger.

Those who have seen the snake recently declare that it resembles more a box constrictor than any other species. No one who has seen the reptile has ventured to approach very near and there has not been a gun in evidence, otherwise the snake would probably have met its doom. An effort will now be made to exterminate it on its next appearance.

BULGARIAN PRINCESSES IN WELFARE WORK

P. by Mail).—The Princesses Nadejda (the name means Hope) and Evdokia, sisters of King Boris and daughters of Ferdinand, former king of the Bulgarians, are endeavoring themselves to the charitable workers of Sofia by their active interest in the welfare work in and around the Bulgarian capital.

Accompanied only by a servant the two sisters of the king make frequent visits to hospitals, nurseries and similar establishments. They paid a visit to the Red Cross Hospital, on the outskirts of the city. 6 POSE AS POLICE; SET $50,000 IN SILK

Two Flee When Real Patrolman Appears and Stolen Truck Crashes Into a Store—One Caught.

New York, July 20.—A truckload of silk, valued at $50,000, was stolen in the Bronx by six men, one of whom wore a fake policeman's uniform, with a counterfeit badge. All of them were in a touring car with a Police Department marker.

Four of the men "arrested" the driver of the truck and his helper, and drove them about the Bronx, holding them until they received word from "headquarters" that the men were all right and should be let go.

The truck was owned by William Skinner & Son, silk merchants and manufacturers at Fourth avenue and Seventeenth street. George and Leo Labonte, brothers, of 78 Lynn street, Holyoke, Mass., were on the truck. They left one of the company's mills at Holyoke with a full load of silk on Monday evening, on the way to the main office of the company here.

Driving all night, they reached 61st street and Boston Road about 6:15 o'clock next morning, when they saw what seemed to be a Police Department automobile, in which were a policeman in uniform and five men. The truck stopped on the opposite side of the road, and after passing the truck, turned around and overtook it. The "policeman" leaped out of the car and ordered the truck driver to stop.

"Where's your bill of lading for this load?" "I haven't got any," replied Leo Labonte. "We never carry bills of lading, and I've been driving this route a long time."

"Well, you've got to have one," the "policeman" insisted. "You men get down off that seat."

The driver said he thought the men with the "policeman" were detectives, as two of them displayed badges, so he obeyed. Three of the men, he said, drew their revolvers.

AIR FLIVVER AT 65 MILES AN HOUR

London, July 2.—(A. P. by Mail).—Last years dream of aerial fliers has come true an experimental glider fitted with twin engines of five horsepower and two tiny propellers has, in its first test flight, hit up a speed of 65 miles an hour and attained a height of 2,300 feet.

The propellers, each a yard in length, are at the back of the front plane, where a chain connects them with the engine. The pilot sits in front. The span of the front wings measures only 33 feet, and the length from head to tail is 12 feet.

This new glider will be entered in the various European gliding contests this summer. These are sure to produce even greater sensations than those of a year ago, since in the interim the use of small powered engines in airplanes has made distinct progress.

Hunt For Convicts In Cypress Swamp

Philadelphia, Pa., July 20.—Four of the six convicts who escaped from the Eastern Penitentiary, this city, last Saturday are believed to be in hiding in the salt marshes and dense cypress brush that fringe the lower eastern shore of Maryland.

The motor launch Sunbeam stolen by them at Pocomoke City early Sunday had but five or six gallons of gasoline in her tank, according to Coleman F. Byrd, owner of the craft, who does not believe that the convicts could have traveled further than Crisfield, Md.

With the man-hunt on in the swamps places where the dory could have been scuttled are being dragged, and coast guards, volunteers in motorboats and shipping in Chesapeake Bay are combing the coast.

The St. John Fusiliers' band gave an enjoyable concert in King square last evening. Many citizens took advantage of the fine weather to attend and the large crowd showed much appreciation of the fine programme played.

Phone Calls Drive Woman to Suicide

Pittsburgh, July 20.—Driven to desperation by anonymous telephone calls saying her husband was unfaithful, Mrs. Anna Nolte, wife of the borough engineer of McKees Rocks, committed suicide last week. It was learned by Deputy Coroner Frank H. Spitzer.

The "poison calls," according to affidavits filed with the Deputy Coroner, came from both men and women. They were received during the absence of Nolte, and the family was never able to trace them. The practice was long continued and finally Mrs. Nolte's health failed and she took poison.

Inspector Emmerson, who has been investigating the break into the Post Office at Elgin for the postal authorities, returned yesterday to the city. He reports nothing new in the situation.

Meanwhile, a taxicab driver who had said he had the holiday, had called Patrolman John O'Connor of the Morrisania Station. O'Connor got into the taxicab and caught up with the truck. Directly they saw the policeman the robbers jumped from the truck—and ran in opposite directions. The truck ran up on the sidewalk at 160th street and Boston Road, broke a water hydrant, crashed into a plumber's supply store, breaking the plate glass window and stopped with its nose in the showcase.

One of the robbers escaped, but the other was followed by a crowd, headed by the policeman, who caught him hiding in a cellar. The robber surrendered when O'Connor drew his pistol. He was taken to Police Headquarters, where he said he was Jack Ransman, a peddler. Arraigned in Morrisania Court later on the charge of robbery, he was held without bail for examination. The police said their records showed he was arrested in 1917 on the charge of grand larceny and for carrying a pistol, but was discharged; was held by a magistrate for burglary in June, 1922, but was released in the charge of grand larceny and for carrying a pistol, but was discharged; was held by a magistrate for burglary in June, 1922, but was released in the charge of grand larceny and for carrying a pistol, but was discharged.

New Orleans, July 20.—Belle Smith, 22-year-old negro, stabbed in the heart six weeks ago by her fiancé, Joseph Mott, is back at work at her place in the kitchen of a small restaurant here, authorities at Charity Hospital announced.

The woman was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. An eight-inch incision to the heart region revealed a cut one-half inch in length in the organ. Three stitches were made in the heart and about 2100 CC. of normal saline was injected with adrenaline from time to time to strengthen the action of the organ which has become weak from loss of blood.

Blood transfusion was resorted to the following day and for four weeks the woman fought for life, then began to improve rapidly. She returned to work Saturday.

DOWNING, HE SAYS, NOT MANNING

Sent Up for Trial in Assault and Robbery Case—Detective Power Tells of Find.

Alfred Manning was sent up for trial this morning by Police Magistrate Henderson on a charge of assault and beating William Doherty and robbing him. At the conclusion of the evidence the Magistrate asked the accused to stand up and called him by name. The accused then said that Manning was not his name but an alias. His right name, he said, was Downing. He is said to belong to Eastport, Maine.

The first witness this morning was the victim of the alleged assault, William Doherty. He identified a watch produced in court as his.

Detective Power said that Doherty made a complaint as the result of which Manning had been arrested. On searching him in the guard room there had been found in his possession $18.00. In consequence of information he received the witness said he had gone to a person and had received the watch and chain and $80.00 one $20 bill and one $10 bill. This made $78.20 in all. He had later made some inquiries at the hospital.

J. B. Dever, who appeared for Doherty, said this concluded the evidence for the prosecution. He said that he thought a case had been made out against the accused and asked that he be committed to stand trial. The Magistrate then committed the prisoner.

N. B. Electric Power Commission Considers Requests

Not Liable for Damages to Private Property by Musquash Flood, Reported to be Attitude of the Board.

Applications for extensions of electric service to Pettitville, Annapolis, Norton, Welsford and Lorneville, as well as other smaller localities were considered at a meeting of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission here this morning.

The commission also further considered the matter of a line from Woodstock to the international boundary to transmit current. It was announced that the electrical engineer would prepare a report on the matter in time for submission to the next meeting of the Provincial Government.

It was reported that surveys of the power at Grand Falls and also of the recent flood at Musquash was considered but no action has been taken so far. HON. MR. MICHAUD SAYS GO SLOW ON PULP EMBARGO

States Not Feasible Until New Brunswick is in Better Condition to Compete.

Until the people of New Brunswick were in a position to compete with United States paper manufacturers, any embargo on the shipment of pulpwood from this province to the United States would not be feasible according to the Hon. J. E. Michaud of Edmundston, minister without portfolio in the Provincial Government, who was in the city today.

Mr. Michaud pointed out the solution of the question rested on the ability of the province to supply intending manufacturers with cheap power, and until this was forthcoming a pulpwood embargo would be against the interests of the lumber operators of the province. He referred to the fact that the United States was not dependent solely upon Canada for its pulpwood supply and any action against the lines of an embargo might bring retaliatory measures, while, on the other hand, the republic to the south was a profitable market for New Brunswick pulpwood.

SPEEDING ON CALL OF MOTHER ILL

Harold Danaer Fine Cut to $5 Under the Circumstances.

Harold Danaer was charged this morning with exceeding the speed limit at the intersection of Prince Edward and Exmouth streets on July 14. He pleaded guilty but said he had been summoned from the country in haste because of the illness of his mother, who lived in Germain street. He had watched danger points as closely as possible. The magistrate said that under the circumstances he would fine the accused only $5. Even though the circumstances were unusual there had been danger to life and limb, but he would accept a nominal fine in this case. The report was made by Police-Constable Garter.

William Sharkey was fined $2 for soliciting passengers inside the rails at the Union depot on July 17. The magistrate said the fine ran up to $20 and that his predecessor had intimated his intention of imposing more than $2, but for the present he would adhere to that.

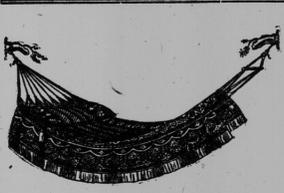

Will Not Exhume Kennedy's Body

North Shore Coroner Says Brain Was Examined at Autopsy.

A special despatch to The Times from Newcastle today said that Dr. Marven, the coroner who was investigating the death of Frank Kennedy of Chatham Head, who died suddenly last Saturday at his home, had said that the body would not be exhumed for further examination as the brain had been fully examined at the autopsy and its condition noted.

It was reported that Dr. H. L. Abramson, provincial pathologist and chief of laboratories at the General Public Hospital, who is making a test of some parts of the body, telegraphed to the coroner on Wednesday for the brain.
