

INTERVIEW WITH MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE

PITTSBURG GAZETTE, JULY 17, 1902

"IF YOU WERE A YOUNG MAN, and had your start to make in the world, would you take up the manufacture of steel?" was asked of Andrew Carnegie by a gentleman who met him on the train to New York after his last visit to Pittsburgh.

MR. McKEOWN.

Conclusion of His Address to the Jury Yesterday.

A Calm, Dispassionate and Eloquent Review of the Evidence Before the Court.

Hon. Mr. McKeown yesterday afternoon concluded his address to the jury. It was marked by an entire absence of passion or prejudice. He said:- It is quite apparent that one or two of these boys committed the crime.

ander and uses these expressions which are incompatible with his innocence. He speaks to other boys about the revolver. All these movements, all these approaches and expressions come from Higgins, although Goodspeed, too, was watched. Is it possible all these things considered, that Higgins could be believed not to have committed the crime?

TALKING ABOUT IT and yet each of the witnesses says he does not remember whether they were talking about the murder. The counsel for the defence speaks about the evidence, but where was the mercy meted out to Willie Doherty.

POINTS TO HIGGINS as the boy who committed the crime. Jurymen may come to the conclusion that both of the boys are not telling the whole truth, and may come to the conclusion that both boys were in it.

THE KING'S PARDON unless recommended by the officers of the law. Continuing, Mr. McKeown said that for creating an impression that in some way the crown was standing behind Goodspeed's pleading his manhood, he had no desire to criticize Mr. Mullin.

LEADS TO SAFETY but the strict performance of duty. There is a duty upon the officers of the crown to follow this matter to an end, and it will be done. None of you has stronger feelings of sympathy than our obligations nor throw away. We all know it in our own lives.

STORY WAS WRITTEN OUT an learned. These things are very painful, especially when counsel appear to be involved. Also the jury will remember that a piece of paper was taken from Higgins when he was "on the stand."

DEATH OF MRS. GOUCHER. Digby, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Goucher, wife of Rev. J. B. Goucher, died today. She was born in Annapolis county 67 years ago. She leaves, beside a husband, two sons, Rev. W. C. Goucher, of St. Stephen, N. B., and J. H. Goucher, of Kentville, N. S., and one daughter, Mrs. Roy Williams, of Yarmouth.

would lead to the murder would arise in two minutes. It would not seem that he would shoot because of a quarrel over the revolver. If Doherty had picked up the stone and faced Goodspeed, there would be time enough to fire. In neither story does there appear to be any MOTIVE FOR THE CRIME. At least not for ordinary people, but in this case, we are dealing with boys steeped in crime. The motive may be covered up and never shown, but you cannot expect that the action of boys like these would be governed by the same motives as those of men who would reason: After all, who can trace the beginnings of a crime.

OUT OF HIS WAY to say that the case was not being well handled, and delivered several panegyrics on the attorney general, in which Mr. McKeown quite agreed.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH THEM? To the Editor of the Montreal Witness: Sir,—Dr. Thain Davidson, in his Talks With Young Men, says: "One of the greatest social problems of the day is what are we to do with the thousands of young lads now growing up to manhood?"

Jones of Waterbury & Rising left yesterday for a short visit to Boston and other American cities.

WELL TO REMEMBER.

Sir Charles Tupper, referring to the fast Atlantic service, in which he is much interested, said in Montreal the other day that the country would now be in possession of such a service had not Lord Aberdeen undertaken to refuse to sign the minute of council providing for a fast Canadian line, and this notwithstanding the fact that the measure had been practically unanimously adopted in the house of commons, where it was supported by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the leading men of the party.
