CLOSURE NAVAL THROUGH

Stories Fear Facing the People

Will Attempt to Put Gag Law on the Statute Book

Derails Will Resist All Efforts to Stifle Free Speech in Parliament — Are Willing to Vote Interim Supply So That Public Works and Pay of Civil Servants May Not Stop — Government Agrees to Cut Out Endurance Tests.

Ottawa, March 23.—The closure bill and supply will probably be the main items of the day before the commons for the final session of the fiscal year. Premier Borden's closure bill already drafted along lines of the rules for the restriction debate adopted in the British house in 1911. The closure clause of these rules is as follows: After a question has been proposed a member rising in his place may claim to give: That the question be now put, unless it shall appear to the chair of such motion is an abuse of the rules of the house or an infringement of the rights of the minority; the question, that the question be now put, shall be put forthwith and decided without amendment debate. The adoption of such a rule in the Canadian commons would, of course, enable majority to shut off debate at any time, regardless of the right which each member now has to voice the views of the story he represents before any vote is taken. It is to be noted that the bill is not intended to pass without strenuous protest in the Liberal representatives in the commons. They believe that the navy issue only properly be solved by an appeal the country after the passing of a resolution bill, and the fight for this is to be firmly continued when parliament resumes on Tuesday.

Derails Will Agree to Interim Supply. Within a few days the government will in urgent need of supply to carry on administration after March 31. On the opposition consent to an interim supply, the government will have no funds available to carry on the public service, proceed with public works, etc. The supply bill, however, is not intended to carry on all the ordinary business of the government, pay salaries to civil servants, etc., will be passed without objection. This will enable the government to carry on its ordinary business until the end of May, and give time the passing of a redistribution bill, and holding of an election, if Premier Borden so decides.

The Liberals recognize that the king's erament must be carried on, but at the same time the passing of an interim supply for special purposes, will not deprive the opposition of their present strategic position in regard to forcing an election if the government still refuses to return to an interim supply vote. The government has agreed not to again pass the house in continuous session for a time. There will be no more special endurance contests.

HAMPTON HOUSE AND MOST OF ITS CONTENTS BURNED

Hampton, N. B., March 23.—(Special.)—A story and a half wooden house on the ground at the end of Dock street owned and occupied by Thomas H. Every effort proved unavailable in subduing the flames.

During the day saw five large and one small iceberg. The large bergs were about 200 to 300 feet long and 50 to 80 feet high. One about 60 feet long and 20 feet high and had three peaks. All the bergs were drifting south (true) about 1 1/2 knots per hour through the field ice.

CHARTERS.
Steam Tonnage—A limited volume of business was concluded in chartering during the week, and a steady demand prevails for additional boats, many of the orders being for prompt delivery. Freight is wanted for grain, general cargo, timber, deals, and coal to trans-Atlantic destinations, and a limited demand comes from the West Indies, South America, Africa and the far east. Prompt boats of all sizes are exceedingly scarce, while for April and later loading the offerings are but meagre.
Sail Tonnage—The general conditions of the sail tonnage market are without change of consequence, rates remaining firm at the levels recently current, while chartering continues to be limited by the light offerings of tonnage for all kinds of business.
1,000 stbs, Bay Chaleur to an Irish port, 25c, May.
1,000 stbs, 1,400 to 1,800 stbs, Bay of Fundy to the Clyde, Mersey or Bristol Channel, 25c, June-July.

FLOOD CONDITIONS AT KOUCHIBOUQUIC.
Cellars and Lower Parts of Buildings Filled With Water — Fears for Safety of Bridge.
Richibucto, N. B., March 21.—This town and vicinity have been visited to most unreasonable weather. For the past six days water has been running in the ditches, most of the cellars are full and the snow has almost entirely disappeared. The channel of the river is open as far as Marsh Point, and the thermometer today climbed to nearly 70 degrees in the shade.
The water has been steadily rising, and there is great danger of the bridge being carried away. In Clifford Adkinson's store the water is up to the top of the counter. It has been necessary to remove the goods to the upstairs. William Collins has been obliged to move out of his home, as the water was over the tables. In Mr. Adkinson's home the concrete ceiling has twice been full and has had to be pumped out.

REAL ESTATE GREAT LEAD IN EXPORT FIGURES.
Valuable cargoes of exports during the last ten days have given the total figures for March 31 of this year a good lead over the same time of the previous year. The cargoes of 1912-13 have overcome the handicap which resulted during the winter weather season. In the year, the increase will be steady until the end of the season.
The value of the Canadian goods shows the same steady increase which has been noted throughout the present year, the gain for the week being $450,000, and the figures have gained by $300,000. The figures are:
1912-13 1911-12
Canadian goods $1,307,511 $1,103,972
Foreign goods 4,906,461 5,168,269
Total $6,213,972 $6,272,241

FADING AT THIRTY
When Woman Should be in the Prime of Charm and Beauty.
At thirty to thirty-five a woman should be in the prime of charm and beauty, and yet many women begin to fade before the first signs of old age appear. This is due to the fact that the complexion grows sallow. Dark rings under the eyes, and headaches follow, with backaches and low spirits. The cause of this is simple: the need of blood. Good health is pure blood and health. It is good blood that brings the glow of health to the cheek, brightens the eye, and elasticity of the skin, and the general happiness of the body. When woman feels faded and worn out her blood supply needs attention, and the one unrivaled and sure remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the fine medicine. The daughters intend to go in for poultry farming, while the brothers will manage the other end of the business. The farm is one of the best on the Belleisle and is in a high state of cultivation. It fronts on the Belleisle Creek road for 125 rods, and the rear of the place is only a quarter of a mile from the railway station. The property lies in a square block.

The most important part of the city's paving programme has been cancelled through the action of 113 citizens who protested against paying the bill. The number of names signed to the various petitions is:
Charlotte, King to Queen Squares 20
Union, Chatham Hill to Water Street 23
Union, Waterloo to Brussels 11
South side of King Square 5
Germantown, King to Union 5
17th Prince, German to Charlotte 7
Brittain 17
Paradise Row 11
Mayor Smith has been criticised by two property owners in King street east with a proposition that the city undertake the paving of that street. They, and others, would be willing to contribute their share, basing their proposition on what it would be if the street were the same width as Charlotte street. The idea is to have a line of gravel on the street and on each side of the sidewalk with ornamental trees planted at intervals. If carried out it would make the street one block longer in the business district of the city. It is probable that the sentiments of the other property owners will be ascertained.
A error man concerned in real estate in Londonderry says that the plan of the Canada Iron Corporation and the Montreal and St. John Railway Company, which arrived at Quebec on Thursday, reported that on March 14, in lat 40 03, lon 70 53, passed a spar sticking out of water two feet above a submerged wreck.

FLOOD CONDITIONS AT KOUCHIBOUQUIC.
Cellars and Lower Parts of Buildings Filled With Water — Fears for Safety of Bridge.
Richibucto, N. B., March 21.—This town and vicinity have been visited to most unreasonable weather. For the past six days water has been running in the ditches, most of the cellars are full and the snow has almost entirely disappeared. The channel of the river is open as far as Marsh Point, and the thermometer today climbed to nearly 70 degrees in the shade.
The water has been steadily rising, and there is great danger of the bridge being carried away. In Clifford Adkinson's store the water is up to the top of the counter. It has been necessary to remove the goods to the upstairs. William Collins has been obliged to move out of his home, as the water was over the tables. In Mr. Adkinson's home the concrete ceiling has twice been full and has had to be pumped out.

REAL ESTATE GREAT LEAD IN EXPORT FIGURES.
Valuable cargoes of exports during the last ten days have given the total figures for March 31 of this year a good lead over the same time of the previous year. The cargoes of 1912-13 have overcome the handicap which resulted during the winter weather season. In the year, the increase will be steady until the end of the season.
The value of the Canadian goods shows the same steady increase which has been noted throughout the present year, the gain for the week being $450,000, and the figures have gained by $300,000. The figures are:
1912-13 1911-12
Canadian goods $1,307,511 $1,103,972
Foreign goods 4,906,461 5,168,269
Total $6,213,972 $6,272,241

FADING AT THIRTY
When Woman Should be in the Prime of Charm and Beauty.
At thirty to thirty-five a woman should be in the prime of charm and beauty, and yet many women begin to fade before the first signs of old age appear. This is due to the fact that the complexion grows sallow. Dark rings under the eyes, and headaches follow, with backaches and low spirits. The cause of this is simple: the need of blood. Good health is pure blood and health. It is good blood that brings the glow of health to the cheek, brightens the eye, and elasticity of the skin, and the general happiness of the body. When woman feels faded and worn out her blood supply needs attention, and the one unrivaled and sure remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the fine medicine. The daughters intend to go in for poultry farming, while the brothers will manage the other end of the business. The farm is one of the best on the Belleisle and is in a high state of cultivation. It fronts on the Belleisle Creek road for 125 rods, and the rear of the place is only a quarter of a mile from

ASSASSINATED KING AND SUCCESSOR

ST. JOHN MAN IS GRAND MASTER
Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., Head of Orange Order in New Brunswick — An All-Night Session.
The seventeenth annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of New Brunswick L. O. O. came to an end on Thursday morning at six o'clock after an all night session to finish up the last item of business. The most important part of this session was the election of officers for the ensuing term and this resulted as follows: Grand master, Dr. Wm. B. Wallace, St. John.
Deputy grand master, Hon. J. H. McMann, Milltown.
Junior deputy grand master, J. Devereaux, Campbellton.
Grand chaplain, Rev. F. C. Simpson, Douglastown.
Grand treasurer, H. G. Wadman, Moncton.
Grand secretary, Neil J. Morrison, St. John.
Assistant secretary, S. W. Smith, Stanley Pleasant.
Grand lecturer, E. H. Clarkson, Moncton.
Grand director of ceremonies, J. W. Clark, Moncton.
Grand auditors, Harry Sellen, St. John and John B. Bell of Chatham.
Deputy grand chaplain, Rev. C. S. St. Jean of Mecklem, Rev. S. H. Schurman of Hartland, Rev. J. B. Byles of Donkton, Rev. B. H. Fenwick of Milltown and Rev. E. H. Concoran of Westmorland county.
It is noteworthy that the grand treasurer was first elected to that office eleven years ago when the grand lodge was meeting in Chatham and he has filled the position with great acceptance ever since. The grand secretary, Neil J. Morrison, has been a longer record of work as he has filled this very important post for the last fifteen years.
The afternoon session yesterday was filled with routine work and reports of committees on matters that had little public interest. At 7:30 the evening session began with the grand master in the chair and the reports of committees were first finished and then began the election of officers for the ensuing term.
The afternoon session yesterday was served in the banquet hall of the lodge rooms and about 150 sat down to table. The session was then resumed and the incoming officers were installed by Past Grand Master Colonel A. J. Armstrong assisted by Grand Director of Ceremonies, J. W. Clarke.

NEW KING NOW REIGNS IN GREECE
Constantine Took the Oath of Office Yesterday, and Was Accorded an Ovation.
Athens, Greece, March 21.—King Constantine of Greece took the constitutional oath of office in the chamber of deputies today in the presence of the highest officials of the state and all of the members of parliament.
Among the grants decided upon was one of $100 towards the A. W. MacRae monument in St. John.
An entertainer whose powers were much appreciated at the banquet was Barry Allan of Fredericton who delighted those present with a recitation and monologue. The convention was one of the largest ever held in the history of the order and in point of unanimity and progress was one of the most successful that the members ever attended.

YANKEE DOODLE AND THE PULPWOOD
My name is Yankee Doodle, I'll not deny the same; I come here after pulpwood And I must goe my way. I bought up those old leases From men with noses blue. Good Kidd remember for fifty years— Sing Yankee Doodle Doo!
If you want to be successful You must begin in time; Before the last election I brought them into line; I was well equipped for business He may prove true, And now the rest is easy— Sing Yankee Doodle Doo!
So here's a flowing bowl; I'll drink a health to you; I'll never forget this kindness So long as time may roll; He may prove about the poor man To those with noses blue, But I got all the lands I want— Sing Yankee Doodle Doo!

The Methodist Church

In nearly all the Methodist churches of Chicago, special services are being held during Passion week. In the Garrison Theatre, noon meetings are held, addressed by Bishop William F. McDowell.

Bishop Quayle has recently published a book of prayers, entitled "The Climax of God."

One of the most vigorous Epworth Leagues of New England is connected with the Main street church of Nashua, N. H. A report of its sociological department for the last four months shows that 192 calls on the sick and aged were made, and 43 bouquets and 5 plants, 92 baskets of fruit and 11 dinners were sent. 334 post cards carried over to the shut-ins, and 106 valentines were sent to the orphanage and day nursery. Warm undereaters were given to 23 small children. A wheel chair costing $30 was purchased for an invalid. 12 new dresses were made for some young girls, 3 blankets, 14 quilts and 535 garments were distributed. All this and much more was done to make life brighter for the sick and aged of privation and pain.

Methodism is at work in the State of Massachusetts among persons of foreign birth speaking nine different languages.

The collection plate was a blanket. An offering is being made by Methodists whose average income is $300 a year. The occasion is a thanksgiving service for the closing day of the conference year at Viharabad, South India. After an hour of praise and testimony the people spread an old blanket on the ground on which to take the collection. Men and women came bringing bags of grain, chickens, one brought a sheep, another a goat. Last of all came the offering of a humble contribution. His contribution was at the end of a rope and at the end of the rope was a horse. He led the horse on to the blanket and presented it as his offering of the most valuable thing he had. If Canadian Methodism gave in proportion to the brothers in South India, the financial problem of the church would have immediate solution.

The Primitive Methodist church has a building in Edinburgh known as Livingstone Hall. It was opened by a daughter of David Livingstone and contains a statue of the missionary.

Sir Robert W. Perks, one of Methodism's most prominent laymen and who is well known in Canada, does not find the situation within the church of the present hour, one that is in any degree discouraging. He was speaking a few days ago at the Portsmouth Garrison and Naval Mission. In the course of the address he said that he did not attach much importance to the comments of the secular press upon what they were pleased to call the decline of the religious feeling in England, and that the condition of British Nonconformity. Possibly it was true that less importance was attached now than there used to be to the outward form and ceremony of religion. Undoubtedly the Lord's Day was not so sacredly observed as in days gone by. But there never was a time in the history of Wesleyan Methodism when there were more active workers in their churches, more men in the official ranks of their church;

Monday, Mar. 24.—Word reached the city yesterday of the death of James F. Porteous, which took place in Minneapolis yesterday. Mr. Porteous formerly resided in St. John and was for many years connected with the firm of R. A. & J. Stewart, lumber dealers. He was also manager of the firm's New York office and later moved to Minneapolis, where he was engaged in the lumber business.

The news of his death was sent to the city by Colonel H. H. McLean, who with Mrs. McLean and Miss McLean, had been spending the vacation in New York. Mr. Porteous was a brother of Mrs. McLean. Colonel and Mrs. McLean will go back to Minneapolis for the funeral. The deceased is survived by his wife and Mrs. McLean is the only other near relative. Samuel Girvan, of this city, is a cousin. It is not known what arrangements are being made for the funeral.

William B. Barkhouse. Hopewell Hill, March 25.—(Special)—William B. Barkhouse, of this place, died at his home here last night under very sad circumstances. Four days ago Mr. Barkhouse while working in his yard took a severe pain in the knee, which was supposed at the time only trifling. The trouble, however, became aggravated and rapidly developed into a most serious condition with intense suffering and a doctor was summoned, who pronounced the trouble black typhoid, soon blood poisoning set in of a malignant type with treatment which could only be relieved by opiates, and the unfortunate man passed away at 10 o'clock last night. He was 42 years of age, son of John B. Barkhouse and was a wife, formerly Miss Forsythe, and three little children; also two brothers, Norman and Archibald Barkhouse, of this place. His health had been widespread respect throughout the community and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

J. B. Hammond. J. B. Hammond, for many years a resident of Hampton, but formerly of this city, died on Saturday at the home of his son, Somerville (Maine). Mr. Hammond was in the seventy-fifth year of his age. He was the son of the late William Hammond, of St. John, and he lived here until the year of the fire when he lost a valuable business. He then removed to the Canadian Club, and then went to Regina, where he had made his home ever since. Last fall he began to fail in health and he and his wife went to spend the winter with their son. He is survived by his wife, one son and three sisters. The sisters are Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Ring and Mrs. Ring, all of Boston.

Regina Methodists have doubtless already put somewhere in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars into Regina College. They will bear a large share of the new hundred thousand dollar college building about to be erected. Metropolitan church has given seventy thousand dollars to city church extension, not withstanding the cyclone; and it will take over one hundred thousand to put the Metropolitan back upon its foundations. Moreover, in addition to the cost of the temporary building for Regina's new east end, and church building, the next summer will see the commencement of construction work on the new Rae street and Fourteenth avenue church. This represents, covering a period of two or three years, a money value of over three-quarters of a million.

Thirteen burial permits were issued last week by the Board of Health. Deaths were due one each to the following causes: senility, apoplexy, pneumonia, heart disease, cerebral hemorrhage, arterio sclerosis, emphysema, carcinoma of stomach, chronic emphysema, drowning, intestinal obstruction, mesenteric and broncho-pneumonia.

W. G. Clarke, of Bear River, informs the Halifax Chronicle that a powerful group of men, inside and outside Canada, are interested in a project to establish a big sulphite pulp mill at Bear River, and have practically decided to embark in the enterprise of generating 4,000 horse power at that place. There is a vast quantity of raw material for pulp mills.

Thomas L. Quinn. Boston, March 21.—(Special)—Thomas L. Quinn, formerly of St. John, died at his home in South Boston yesterday.

Mr. Bulyea was in the sixty-fifth year of his age and until a week ago was in perfectly good health. He became ill with pneumonia and rapidly grew worse. His death, however, was entirely unexpected.

Stevens-McDonald. Hopewell Hill, March 20.—A wedding of much interest took place at Midway, Albert county, last evening, when Mrs. Ethel McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Doherty, was united in marriage to Howard Stevens, a well known resident of Hopewell Hill. The ceremony, which was at the home of the bride's parents, and was performed by the Rev. Mr. Markham, pastor of the Harvey Baptist church, a large number of the relatives of the contracting being present. The bride was attended by her bridesmaids in a costume of white silk voile, and was unattended.

BURIED TREASURE

NOVA SCOTIA COAST

An Interesting Story of the Efforts to Recover Gold and Jewels Supposed to have Been Left in Well-Defined Pit by Pirates Many Years Ago—Local Man Working Along Scientific Lines.

Separated from the mainland by a narrow channel at that point known as the Western Shore and about four miles from the town of Chester, Nova Scotia, there lies near the head of Mahone Bay a piece of land a mile in length and half a mile broad on one island. There is supposed to have been buried on this island, perhaps 200 years ago, by roving pirates, treasure of enormous value, and during the last century strenuous efforts have been made to regain these alleged hidden and fabulous riches.

That great sums of money and vast quantities of jewels were buried by pirates somewhere along the Atlantic coast there is little doubt; and evidence, which upon investigation has seldom failed to convince those who have given it thoughtful and careful consideration, is to be found at Oak Island, which, it is declared, prove that something was buried there many decades ago and that this something was encased in a huge steel chest which was deposited deep in the earth and covered over with a large quantity of earth and sand. The most positive proof of the existence of this material at the bottom of the great pit, long ago discovered, has been secured by Captain John Welling, a deep sea marine and expert diver, who has been in the office, who now occupies the position of first officer on board the government dredge "W. S. Fielding," employed in the harbor development work at this port. Captain Welling was formerly in command of one of the finest clipper ships that ever sailed the Atlantic and he is a firm believer in the existence of treasure on the little island of Nova Scotia coast. He has spent much time and money in looking for the treasure, and those who are best acquainted with the work accomplished and the conditions of the island, are confident that he has succeeded in recovering the treasure. It was way back in 1795 that three men—Smith, McGinnis and Vaughn—while engaged in the search for seven tracts of coal lands in Queens county.

The reports to Registrar J. B. Jones last week tell of two marriages and sixteen births—eight boys and eight girls. Enoch Hoben and others of Fredericton were in the city last week and it was reported that the visit had to do with securing the steamer "Hampstead" for the Gagetown-Fredericton service. Joseph E. Andler, Harry K. Pell, E. A. McCurdy, W. Herbert Byles of Newsway and J. Howard Richards of Boiestown, Northumberland county, have applied for incorporation as the Canadian Gas Works Ltd., to carry on the business of manufacturing gas of all kinds and allied industries. Thirteen burial permits were issued last week by the Board of Health. DR. PUGSLEY IS "THE MAN WHO FIGHTS"

Leading Liberal Newspaper in Ottawa Warmly Praises St. John's Representative.

The Ottawa Free Press publishes a picture of Hon. William Pugsley, and the following in black type: "Well might the Liberal members give three cheers on Saturday night for Hon. William Pugsley. The former Minister of Public Works had proved himself a wonder. It was very largely due to his resourcefulness and his courage, and his undoubted enthusiasm that the Liberals were able to close the week with cheers at all. From the very moment Bulldog 'Bob' Rogers' leath was untried and he sprang into the fray, he found himself up against an antagonist who might have been expected to let him snap them never so hard, the bulldog's fangs refused to take hold, and after many desperate attempts to dominate the situation he had finally to retire crestfallen. "After twenty-seven hours continuously in the chamber Dr. Pugsley was on Saturday night as full of enthusiasm and determination as ever. For every move of the government he had a counter move. He was afraid neither of the awful power of the steam roller nor of the prearranged tricks of the Rogers' machine. As usual, he was suave and calm, except on one occasion when the chairman of the committee was apparently attempting to close off the Liberals by turning his back on them. Then the doctor stepped into the aisle, and if the chairman had not just retired, he might have been forced to forcibly compelled to grate by the doctor's strong arm. "Of Dr. Pugsley the Liberals can well say in the words of Kipling: 'He's all of sand and a finger when alive.' An 'e's generally shammin' when 'e's dead; 'E's a daisy, 'e's a ducky, 'e's a lamb, 'E's the only 'ting doesn't give a damnation for a regiment of British infantry."

150 DEAD LEFT IN WAKE OF WESTERN TORNADO

(Continued from page 1.) The storm struck the village about 8.30 and traveled in a northeasterly direction. Every building on the business street was destroyed, as was every other building, with the exception of the church and parts of two residential streets. The bodies of the victims were placed in the church, which is being used temporarily as a morgue. Physicians arrived from the towns of Avoca and Syracuse and the injured were given first attention. The bodies of the victims were placed in the church, which is being used temporarily as a morgue. Eighteen Killed at Terre Haute, Ind., March 24.—Eighteen persons known to have been killed, 250 more or less seriously injured, 275 houses destroyed and other property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000, was the toll of the tornado that devastated Terre Haute and vicinity last night. Tonight the officials in charge of the rescue work say the list of deaths will be increased as the debris is cleared away from the wreckage of wrecked buildings. Hundreds of homeless tonight are being cared for by charitable institutions and the city is crowded with refugees. The rescue work is being carried on by the militia, which was ordered out early today by Governor Ralston, who directed the relief measures from Indianapolis.

POWER SCHEME ON ST. JOHN HELD UP

(Continued from page 1.) The significance of this objection lies in the fact that before the mighty St. John river can be harnessed for the purpose of generating electricity or power there must be a new treaty between Canada and the work of the commission at the present time will be invaluable in drawing up such an agreement. The plan at present two or three power propositions on the St. John river which are under consideration, but if the St. John River Commission has authority to regulate these matters, which many believe it has, there will undoubtedly be a new international agreement made before they are carried out. At Grand Falls, one of the most beautiful places on the whole St. John river, where the power available is second only to Niagara Falls in eastern America, there is a project under consideration, which means the expenditure of in the vicinity of 7,000,000 in the development of the power and the erection of an immense pulp and paper mill. Hearings on both these projects have been held by the commission, it being only recently that they met in St. John to take evidence on the St. John Hydro-Electric Co.'s plans, but reports have not yet been prepared. It is expected that the summer will bring forth the results of the commission's work.

The plan as outlined by W. W. Frank Hatheway out of the city dividing up the land into lots of 150 feet long and 25 feet wide, and those present gave their views on the securing of space for the workmen's houses. James Sugrue, president of the Gypsy Settlement, thought the plan worthy of consideration. He believed that it would build much of a house with a man's work, so a long period of time. S. J. J.
