Laurier went on, the House while in close attention to his "when the Minister of Public …king for himself and colleagues, the policy of the new Govern… be to stand by the well-known …e Conservative party, or rather Sir John Macdonald and of the …party. For this I was pre… I am yet prepared to believe …be further the policy of the …ntlemen opposite to endeavor …s much as possible out …lory of their departed …prepared to believe that in …atures of his policy they will …but in the better and nobler …policy already I see a wide …the position of the present … If there is one thing for …udgment Sir John Macdonald …eserving of commendation it …eavored to maintain a proper …between the different sections …f this country, between the passions and …rejudices which struggle within the bosom …this young nation, and in respect also to …ose great powers which in a new com…unity like this will always raise and have …isen to gigantic proportions. In this …spect I see a wide departure from the …olicy of Sir John Macdonald." (Cheers.) Following this train a little further, the House still hang…ing intently on every word as it dropped from his lips, Mr. Laurier alluded to "the creature of our making" which threatens to become stronger than it is in magnitude—the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. To-day the gentleman who was at the head of the Government, the Prime Minister of Canada, was a gentleman of well-known ability, of great ability, but it was a well-known fact that the abilities of the Prime Minister had been exercised for the last ten years and more not for the service of the country, but for the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway. "Mr. Abbott," said he, "has since the inception of the railway been the legal head of the company, its advisory authority. He has framed all its measures and directs all its agreements and he has favored all its schemes. I will not say that he was captain of the craft, but he was pilot of the craft and piloted it up to the present day." (H…r.) Mr. Laurier now made clear the …n he took in regard to this. "I will …y from this," he remarked, "that the …ernment of the country has been han…ver to the C. P. R. Company. I speak …the full responsibility attaching to m…ords, and I do not, I will not, hesitate …say that the C. P. R. Company has been given undue preponderance in the councils of this nation. (Cheers.) Sir, I shall be told how that Mr. Abbott has no longer any connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company; that he does not own any of that company's stock, but I say …at supposing he does not own any stock, …imagine for a moment that he has …p all interest in the company?" …rier then commented on the fact …though Mr. Abbott had severed his …ion with the company the stock of …pany had gone up since he accepted …emiership, and adverted to the Pre… services. …pposing that Sir John Macdonald, …he was in power, had taken into his …ernment a gentleman who had been …minently identified with the Grand …nk, immediately the stock of the Cana…n Pacific Railway would have gone down and that of the Grand Trunk would have gone up. Thus it is that although Mr. Abbott has severed his connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company the stock of the company instead of going down has gone up, showing that the advantage to whoever may be the own…s of …property of the Canadian Paci… is really understood by the pu… (Hear, hear.) I say this in … of hostility or disparagement to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. I will not say, I do not intend to say, a word to the disparagement

After his death …y, Selenkus, Demetrius …would not allow the ques…e solved. The rival factions would not suffer one of themselves to be exalted to the throne of Alexander. (Cheers and laughter.) Here Alexander the Great is dead, and the question arises who is the most worthy of those gentlemen to be his successor, Antigonus or Ptolemy or Lysimachus or Selenkus or Demetrius? (Laughter.) The rival factions said not Antigonus, not Ptolemy, not Lysimachus, not Selenkus. (Loud cheers.) These were not allowed to fill the vacant throne, so Mr. Abbott was sent for. (Laughter.) That was the why and the wherefore of the appointment of Mr. Abbott. "And, sir," proceeded Mr. Laurier, "I am justified in saying this because Mr. Abbott himself has acknowledged, speaking in the Senate a few days ago, that he was really a compromise."

The honorable gentleman next drew an interesting comparison between the position of the Government leader and the standard-bearer selected in party convention over the border. They do not on those occasions allow the prominent candidates to go to the front, because divisions would be created in the party, so they select somebody who is a dark horse. "What I complain of," continued Mr. Laurier, "with reference to this matter—I have nothing to do with the disputes of the Conservative party—what I complain of is that this House has not been dealt with with the same friendliness as the other branch of the Legislature. The statement given to this House was very meager indeed. Thus it reads: "It was felt by his Excellency that the state of public affairs did not require that measures should be taken for the formation of a new Cabinet before the grave should have closed over the remains of the late lamented Premier, before the last honors had been paid him. I do not believe that unless there were reasons of state his Excellency would have departed from the practice followed in England. Her Majesty, when she lost the services of Lord Palmerston by death, did not wait until the funeral was over before selecting his successor. Immediately upon the death of Lord Palmerson the Queen sent for Lord John Russell. Why his Excellency did not think himself justified in following that precedent was a matter upon which explanation should be given. We are to infer that his Excellency had enough confidence in Sir John Thompson to call him in to instruct him as to who should be his Prime Minister, but had not confidence enough in him to ask him to be his Prime Minister. He had just confidence enough in him to ask him to give him the best advice as a Privy Councilor whom he could consult, but he stopped short of the confidence which he would repose in him as Prime Minister. This, it seems to me, is the construction to be put upon the course pursued by his Excellency from the language used, but this is not the construction of the Ministerial organ. From that organ it appears that Sir John Thompson had been called upon to form a Cabinet. If this is so let us hear it, and if it is not so let us hear it. (Hear, hear.) But I object to the matter being left so that any doubt would exist upon the subject."

Mr. Laurier concluded by referring to the action taken by Mr. Chapleau, and the influence it had on the course pursued by Mr. Abbott and Mr. Thompson. That gentleman had been the dictator of who should be made Premier, and if the organ of the Secretary of State was to be believed, the arrangements made were only intended to be temporary. and that Mr. Chapleau, the Secretary of State, will be made Minister of Railways, and that the heads of certain occupants of the treasury bench are to be cut off. (Cheers and laughter.) It was said that Hon. Mr. Drummond, Sir John Thompson and Mr. Chapleau had a long conference, the result of which had not been known definitely, but everywhere it is heard that the Conservatives of Montreal and the Province of Quebec generally have consented for the sake of harmony and peace to tolerate a state of things which they deplore on the express condition that S… Hector Langevin and certain other members of the Administration should bind themselves in writing to give in their resignation immediately after the session. (Cheers and laughter.)

The discussion was continued for the Government by Sir John Thompson, Hector Langevin, Mr. Tupper and others, and for the Opposition by Sir Richard C…wright, Hon. D. Mills, Mr. Edgar and others.

The division resulted in a vote of 10[illegible] 83; a majority of twenty only against Laurier's motion. Messrs. Tarte, S… and Vaillancourt voted with the Op…tion. Mr. Joncas was paired with Chapleau.

The House adjourned at 1:30 o'clock.

To him it will be a symbol of …erited honor throughout his life.

Flame having been used by the ancients and moderns as the emblem of life, and its extinction as the symbol of death, the front of the medal represents a boy blowing an extinguished torch in the hope as expressed by the motto "Lateat Scintillula Forsan," which, being interpreted, means "Peradventure a little spark may yet lie hid." This design appears applicable both to the person apparently dead and to the one who endeavors to resuscitate him. Under the device is the following inscription abbreviated: "SOCIETAS LONDINI IN RESUSCITATIONEM INTERMORTUORUM INSTITUTA, MDCCLXXIV"—"The (Royal Humane) Society, established in London for the recovery of persons in a state of suspended animation, 1774."

The reverse of the medal exhibits a Civic Wreath, which was the Roman award for saving life; the inscription round it expresses the merit which obtains this honor from the society, "Hoc pretium cive servato tulit"—"He has obtained this reward for having saved the life of a citizen." Within the wreath is the following inscription abbreviated, "Vitam ob servatam dono dedit Societas Regia Humana"—"The Royal Humane Society presented this gift for savinglife."

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

A sensational story published in the Chicago Globe narrating the horrible death of a man blown to atoms by an explosion of powder while he was teaming it from the Dominion Powder Company's mills at New Glasgow to Newbury, is characterized as the work of a sensational correspondent from that section, and is looked upon as a good joke on the Globe. Most likely, however, the article was penned in the Globe office, and in that case the joke is on the dupes that pay for that paper.

A disgraceful act was committed last week by a young fellow named Tudholme, son of the tavern proprietor in this village. Several of the villagers were doing their road work, getting out gravel in the pit, and young Tudholme, who had a jug of beer, suggested all should drink. Among those who refused was a boy, and upon force being threatened the lad proposed to smash the jug with his shovel. Meeting him some time afterwards in the village, Tudholme assaulted him, knocking him down and stepping on him. He was arrested shortly afterwards by Constable Spence, taken before Squire Edwards and fined $7 50, a small amount considering the offense. It is such a scene as this that brings before the peace-loving portion of the community the evils of the liquor traffic and also the fact that this village could with benefit do with only one hotel instead of three.

Words of a Great Historian and Writer.

A well-known historian and writer once said: "Let me be restored to perfect health and bodily vigor; give me refreshing sleep at night and banish the weariness which oppresses me when I rise each morning, and I will willingly sacrifice all the fame and honors that have been bestowed upon me by my countrymen and mankind in general." Honor, fame and renown without health cannot enable a man to enjoy life and its pleasures; the poorest beggar often lives happier and more contented. The man who finds his appetite failing; or his stomach weak and disordered; his nerves unsteady; his muscles twitching; who experiences a fullness in the head and headaches; who does not sleep well; who gets up in the morning with a coated tongue and a feeling of weariness, is on the highway to suffering and serious troubles. These symptoms require the immediate use of that valuable remedy known as Paine's Celery Compound. Its use means certain restoration to perfect health, strength, robustness and mental vigor. In all the above-mentioned troubles its value is now firmly established and well known. Men and women, old and young, find it just what they require in every emergency and difficulty. Try it, reader, and be convinced.

One of the sights at Springfield, Mass., is a handsomely dressed woman who never walks out unless accompanied by at least nine dogs.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

THE GREAT INVESTIGATION.

The journalistic friends of Sir Hector Langevin and Mr. McGreevy, M.P., are making a sorry mess of their sidewind defense of the couple.

A few days ago, the high tax papers were earnestly beseeching the Liberal press not to prejudge the case. Now when the testimony is beginning to get pretty ugly, and has documentary proof in its support, the same newspapers keep asserting that it amounts to nothing—that it is lies anyway, that even if it is proved that Mr. McGreevy sold his influence and obtained perquisites for the contractors who were willing to "divy" up with him, to the extent of many thousands of dollars, it cannot be said that Sir Hector Langevin, the Minister of Public Works is implicated.

Here is a specimen criticism indulged in by the organs interested in shielding the Minister and his associates:

"If the Liberals have any evidence whatever to involve the Minister of Public Works in this scandal, they are holding it back for tactical reasons."

Why is the truth so persistently withheld by these apologists? They know as well as we do, that this case has not been promoted by the Liberals, but by Mr. Tarte, a man who has been a Conservative, though he was elected to Parliament largely by Liberal votes on the express promise that he would produce such evidence as would show the necessity for a change in the giving out of contracts and compel the retirement from Parliament of unworthy men. All the interest that the Liberal party in the House can have in the matter is to see that justice is done to all parties, and that as speedily as possible the nest of corruption shall be cleaned out. It is their bounden duty to aid Mr. Tarte in a task that to him has not been congenial, but which it was his duty to undertake.

The newspaper defender of Sir Hector further says:

"At best the investigation cannot conclude within a month, and thus far the very worst side of the matter has been presented."

The evidence so far presented is bad enough. It goes to prove that Sir Hector Langevin's department let contracts at Quebec, Levis and Esquimalt, B. C., for many thousands of dollars more than the value of the work done; that the contractors were permitted to pocket the proceeds thus dishonestly paid; and gave $23,000, $24,000 and $27,000 to Mr. McGreevy, M. P., who was permitted to keep a portion of it for his own use, and paid over the remainder to help elect Conservative candidates at elections for the Dominion Parliament. All this was done at a time when we were told the high tax policy was carrying everthing before it! What a popular card high taxation must be when it requires such aids.

DR. KOCH'S "TUBERCULIN."

Through the munificence of Mr. Mulock, M.P., Prof. Ramsay Wright was sent to Berlin as a special delegate from the University of Ontario to study the new treatment for consumption brought out by Dr. Koch. Prof. Wright has just returned, bearing with him all that probably will be known about the composition of the lymph until such time as its discoverer makes public its composition to the medical world. That Koch has promised to do as soon as he has obtained a pure cultivation of the principal substance, which he hopes to achieve in a few weeks.

The excitement over the discovery, Prof. Wright says, has abated considerably in Germany, as has certainly been the case on this continent. Scientists, however, are following the advice of the professor, and are prosecuting their researches along the same line with untiring energy. While Prof. Koch is still sanguine he believes that the bad results have been due largely to the injudicious application of the treatment and the injudicious selection of cases. Before Prof. Wright left Berlin he was shown some of the purified material with which Prof. Koch was making his first experiments. The discoverer has never revealed the secret of his first lymph; but several people believe that the imitations they are produced are practically the same; and all these are evaporated beef tea cultures of tubercle bacilli. Dr. Koch himself says he has no doubt that these do give the same results, although he has never acknowledged that his is made in the same way. Prof. Koch further stated: "There are evidently several different ways in which the active material can be got out of the tubercle bacilli and I don't know that my way is the best. I prefer, therefore, for the present that other bacteriologists should go on experimenting so that they may perhaps find a better way than I have." Prof. Wright made numerous animal experiments both with Koch's lymph and imitations and some of these gave very favorable results.

Dr. A. Jacobi, of New York, who has also been studying the subject, agrees with Professor Wright that the remedy has not yet reached its full fruition, and that it must be applied with care. Dr. Jacobi further asserts his belief that the future successful treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis will be a "combination of climatic cures with the careful and persistent use of tuberculin."

It is because of the great variety of after-effects that Dr. Jacobi recommends extreme caution and small doses. In the 60 selected cases covering all phases of the disease which form the basis of his report, he finds that upon joint and bone tuberculosis this remedy had slight effect; in cutaneous tuberculosis the improvement was marked, while tubercular meningitis and peritonitis were not affected. Of the 16 pulmonary cases treated "1 died, 4 were not improved, 5 were improved, 4 were much improved and 2 recovered." This in the opinion of Dr. Jacobi is a great advance upon the results that follow the customary careful treatment of patients without the use of tuberculin. In the reports from 55 German hospitals 1,061 cases were under treatment; of these 13 had been cured, 171 considerably improved, 194 improved, 586 not improved and 46 had died. This is sufficient to prove that the popular anticipations of wonderful results from the use of Dr. Koch's remedy have been realized to a reasonable extent. The improvements that are likely to be made in the lymph will, it is to be hoped, yet bring about much more favorable results. What should be remembered above all things is that it has been demonstrated th the lymph, so far, has had very little effect in combatting consumption in its advanced stage, whereas it has been used in the early stages of the disease to excellent advantage. Here again is proved the necessity for the very earliest treatment possible.

THE INCREASE IN LONGEVITY.

Notwithstanding the numerous agencies of destruction which were not in existence a hundred years ago, the average lease of life has been very materially extended since the middle of the last century. The increase in longevity was first discovered by the British Government in connection with its annuity branch, which like the life insurance business is based on life tables. After operating on the basis of tables prepared in 1725 for about a century it discovered that it was losing money, and an investigation proved that the life tables were at fault, that the average duration of life had materially increased since 1725. In spite of accidents from explosions, by machinery, by railroad and steamboat disaster, by electric wires and other modern inventions, it is estimated that during the past 100 years no less than nine years have been added to the average period of human life the world over.

This prolongation of life is due in some measure to the scientific work of such men as Liebeg and Jenner, but probably more to the printer'sart, by means of which correct ideas regarding sanitation, food and clothing have been diffused among all classes. Houses are now constructed with some consideration for drainage, heating and ventilation. A comparison of the death-rate in the model tenements built in London out of the Peabody fund with that of the ordinary tenement houses, shows that the former have been instrumental in saving thousands of lives. As the laws of sanitation and hygiene become better known and observed the time will probably come when centenarians will be no rarer than octogenarians are now.

WHAT THE "ADVERTISER" THINKS ABOUT IT.

"SAVE me from my friends" is now the cry of Sir Hector Langevin.

THE revising barrister of Shelburne, N. S., is the partner of the sitting Conservative member. Better let the M.P. compile the list to insure him a majority.

SCOTLAND has over 4,000,000 of inhabitants, according to a recent census. The North land thrives under free trade. It would thrive still more if allowed to manage its own local affairs.

THE London Free Press says that evidence against Sir Hector Langevin may yet be forthcoming, but it is quite sure that the worst evidence in the McGreevy-Langevin scandal case is in. How does it know? The wish is probably father to the thought.

LAST winter, we learn on the authority of Mr. Warring Kennedy, a local philanthropist, 1 in 25 of the people of Toronto was in receipt of charity. Yet the workingmen are asked to bow down before the monopolists and thank them for the N.P., steady work and high wages!

NO ONE but an alien could be got to father the petition against the return of Mr. Bowman, Liberal M. P. for North Waterloo. As the man (Knell by name) managed to squeeze his vote in at last election, his friends are now fighting in the courts to have it decided that his non-naturalization was no impediment to his assuming the role of petitioner.

THE State of Delaware will this year produce an immense crop of peaches. From 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 baskets will be harvested, and 500 cars daily will be required to convey the fruit to the market. The report will be good news to lovers of the lucious peach, albeit Canadians who wish to have an early peach or to fully share in the cheapness that plenty brings will have to pay a tax on both peaches and the baskets that contain them.

GRIP, having in view recent developments in the English Courts, suggests an addition to the national anthem, one verse of which is in the following terms:

Though quite a rambler,
Yet she's no gambler
Upon the green.
When she is dining out
She doesn't take about
A baccarat lay-out—
God save the Queen!

THOMAS MCNAUGHT, honorary colonial secretary of the Scottish Home Rule Association, has issued an appeal to Scots abroad to aid him in the scheme for advancing Scottish interests by the agency of a local legislature. The argument of the appeal is that the domestic affairs of Scotland should be regulated by Scotchmen, those of Ireland by Irishmen and those of Wales by Welshmen. Freed from the care of the domestic affairs of these divisions, it is claimed that the Imperial Parliament would not only be in a better position than now to attend to the affairs of the empire, but would be in a condition to invite the colonies to send representatives to share equally with all British subjects at home and abroad in the privileges as well as the reponsibilities of governing the British empire. The appeal says that to many Englishmen Scotland has no separate existence, but is simply the part of England which lies north of the Tweed. With them it is always the "English army," the "English navy," the "English Government." It is urged that the Scottish nationality is in danger of being extinguished, and that the ancient kingdom is on the brink of being merged into the northern counties of England. Subscriptions may be sent either through the National Bank of Scotland, Edinburgh, or direct to the treasurer, William Mitchell, 79 Princes street, Edinburgh.

THE WAY TO VIEW IT.

[Hamilton Times.]

With the Liberals, it is not a question of men, but of measures. For the good of the country the party of high taxation must be put out. If Tory dissentions bring the day of deliverance nearer so much the better.

OUR PARALYZED TRADE.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

This condition has been brought about by the artificial and paralyzing character of the fiscal policy of the present Administration. They have pursued their blind folly, ignoring the voice and warning of wisdom. We are now about to reap some of the bitter fruits of this carnival of national folly.

THE NEW DRINK.

[Grand Rapids, Mich., Democrat.]

The latest remedy for alcoholism is petroleum. To a man who is bound to soak himself in an inflammable substance there would seem but little choice between the two drinks. Petroleum has the advantge of cheapness, and those afflicted with alcoholism might find the new drink worthy a fair trial.

THE ALLEGED CONFERENCE.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

Possibly, the result of the conference fixed for Oct. 12 between the American Secretary of State and the Canadian commissioners with regard to reciprocity may have considerable influence upon the future of parties in the Dominion. If there should be no agreement effected between the two countries it is unlikely that the present Ministry or its policy could be long sustained.

LOYALTY IN CANADA.

[Moncton, N.B., Transcript.]

Canada is at heart loyal—Canadians are at heart loyal, whether they call themselves Liberal or Conservative, and it is just as well that the British and American people should recognize this fact at the outset, as it will prevent the possibility of a great many misunderstandings in the future. Liberal rule in Canada, instead of weakening, will strengthen the ties of British connection by making our people more contented under an economic and wise Administration, whose fiscal policy is based upon a recognition of the actual conditions of trade on this continent.

BOTH TARIFFS HIT THE FARMERS.

[London Free Press.]

Some farmers have accepted the position and parted with their wool at the lower range of prices, but quite a number are still holding in the hope that something may turn up to advance values to the basis which they obtained before the McKinley tariff came into force. Those dealers in Ontario who were caught with the balance of last season's clip on hand have sustained some smart losses, and are not likely to take any further risks. Consequently they are not buying except at prices low enough to insure them from any further losses. The future of the wool-producers of Canada is therefore not by any means a bright one. The poor farmers appear to be catching it in all directions.

THE GOOD NAME OF THE COUNTRY.

[Hamilton Herald.]

There seems to be no reason for further doubt as to the fact that contractors paid money to the election fund in Quebec through a Conservative member of Parliament. Whatever Sir Hector Langevin's connection with the matter may be, it seems clear that Mr. McGreevy was a sort of go-between and collector for the election fund, and that public contracts were manipulated in such a way that the money, while paid by the contractors, was taken out of the public chest. It is not a good thing for any country to look lightly on offenses of this kind. If a right moral sentiment is to be maintained, the country must deal sharply with all who may be shown to be mixed up in fraud upon the treasury. The Herald is not a party organ, and is neither anxious to condemn one party nor uphold the other, but it is anxious for the good name of our common country and concerned for an honest administration of affairs.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

MR. JOAB SCALES, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Lame Back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man out of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

WONDERFUL CURES.

FOR THIRTY YEARS.—Mrs. L. Squire, Ontario Steam Dye Works, Toronto, says: "For about thirty years I have doctored for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia without getting any cure. I then tried Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and the benefits I have received from this medicine are such that I cannot withhold this expression of my gratitude. It acts immediately upon the Liver, and its good effects are noticed at once. As a Dyspepsia remedy I don't think it can be equalled."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

HARDENED AND ENLARGED LIVER.—Mrs. H. Hall, Navarino, N.Y., writes: "For years I have been troubled with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was hardened and enlarged. I was troubled with Dizziness, Pain in my Right Shoulder, Constipation, and gradually losing flesh all the time. All food soured on my stomach, even with the closest attention to diet. I was under the care of three physicians, but did not get any relief. A friend sent me a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and it affords me much pleasure to inform you that the benefit I have received from it is far beyond my expectation. I feel better now than I have done for years."

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

THE TURF.

STRATHMEATH WINS THE AMERICAN DERBY.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The races at Washington Park Saturday were witnessed by 25,000 persons. The American Derby surpassed in interest all the seven previous Derbys at this track. The race netted $19,000 to the winner.

First race, 1 mile—Joe Carter, 1; Yale, 2; Labold, 3. Time, 1:53½.

Second race, 1⅛ miles—Santiago, 1; Sportsman, 2; Dickerson, 3. Time, 2:05.

Third race, the American Derby, 1½ miles—The starters were Kingman, Strathmeath, Pessara, Michael, Lodowic, Snowball, Vailera, High Tariff, Poet Scout and Forerunner. Strathmeath was the favorite at 2 to 1 against. The start was a good one for all but Ludowic, who was left ten lengths behind. Allen immediately took Forerunner to the front, and passing the stand was leading the bunch by half a length. Going round the turn and up the back stretch Poet Scout and Michael were neck and neck, with Forerunner fourth. The two run as a team to the far turn, when Poet Scout drew away; but it was only for an instant, for Strathmeath on the extreme outside set sail for the leader. Half down the stretch he was at Poet Scout's throatlatch, and in another stride had forged ahead. Steady as clockwork he came on and won by a length from Poet Scout, who beat Kingman half a length. Time, 2:49½. High Tariff broke down at the three-quarter pole, and, after running 100 yards in a crippled condition, dropped dead on the track.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—St. Albans, 1; Martin Russell, 2; Martie K, 3. Time, 1:57¾.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile—Strathmead, 1; Frank Kinney, 2; Curt Gunn, 3. Time, 1:07.

VOICES OF THE PEOPLE.

The Drivers' Side.

Their Reasons for the Street Railway Difficulty.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

We would like to correct the impression left on the minds of the public by last Saturday's insertion in your paper. Mr. Smith therein states that he gave the drivers the reason of Chauncey Smith's discharge, namely, "neglect of duty." Chauncey Smith gave in his way-bill on Friday night, and then was told he was not wanted. He asked for a reason, and was told simply "that he had nothing for him to do. He then insisted on a reason being given, and was told "that his way-bill was not satisfactory." Now, the public must understand that it is impossible for any driver to compel passengers to mount his car and pay a fare; therefore, we contend that this was no reason at all. When another driver asked Mr. Smith a reason for this man's discharge, he was told, "I discharged him, and that is sufficient for you to know," saying in addition to this that there would be more go also. In consequence of a petition sent in a week previous to May 26 we obtained on that date shorter hours. This petition was arranged unknown to Mr. Smith until it was in the hands of the president. The consequence was that since the above date we have received nothing but bearish incivility from Mr. Smith. This, of course, was expected, as also that he would "spot" those who had anything to do with the above mentioned petition. To save this every driver promised to stand by one another and to see no man discharged without a proper course being given. Hence this trouble. He has also stated to disinterested parties that he was waiting for a chance against the three men who formed the committee of this association. The men who have left the road are those who were men enough to stand by their word. Concerning those who went back on their promise, we leave a right-thinking public to form an opinion.

PLAIN SPEAKING

By Bishop Campbell on the Matter of Gambling and Other Vices.

TORONTO, June 22.—The third annual sermon to the Knights of the Maccabees was preached yesterday afternoon by Bishop T. W. Campbell in the Reformed Episcopal Church, College street, Dr. Parker, of Barrie, assisting in the service. In the course of an excellent discourse the bishop said: "Society has vices which must be condemned and overthrown—profanity, intemperance, gambling, Sabbath-breaking. We have the spectacle of those occupying high positions transgressing the laws of God and man with regard to these evils, and we find society condoning some of these offenses against social purity. The time has come for plain speaking when the heir-apparent to the throne is paving the way for a general desecration of the Sabbath day by Sunday dinner parties, followed by secular entertainments, and when he is found transgressing the laws of the land. Against gambling, it has gone too far already, and the time has come when Christian men must come out boldly in defense of the laws of God and the purity and welfare of society. The best protection against vice is the cultivation of virtue. To keep out the evil cultivate the good.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, June 22.—Cattle—Offerings, 230 cars; market dull, slow, and from 15c to 25c lower; best grade steers, $5 80 for New York trade; good grades of good weight cattle, $5 23 to $5 50; medium weights of 1,100 to 1,200 lbs were slow, except for choice, which sold at $4 40 to $4 60; pony fat steers, $4 15 to $4 30; cow stuff and light weight medium to common quality in very large supply, with hardly any inquiry; a few sales made at 25c to 40c lower than last week. Bulls in light demand at 15c to 25c lower than last week; practically no demand for stockers and feeders; a few loads sold at $3 to $3 25. Milkers and springers, 15 to 18 cars on sale; values are $2 to $4 per head lower than last week, and common quality cows not wanted at any price. The cattle market closed dull, with a number of stockers' milk cows and a fair number of fat cattle unsold.

Sheep and Lambs—Offerings, 35 cars; market slightly better; lambs a shade firmer; about all were sold, best yearlings bringing $5 25; choice sheep, $5, and best spring lambs, $6 75 to $7. Common stock of all kinds very dull and no improvement in value.

Hogs—Receipts, 60 cars of sale stock; good demand for all grades but heavy hogs, and prices were stronger. Good to choice Yorkers sold at $4 85 to $4 90; good mediums also brought $4 90, and pigs were a good sale at $4 65 to $4 80.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Que., June 22.—The attendance of buyers to-day was rather limited and the cattle offered were for the most part grass fed. The market had a drooping tendency, owing no doubt to the wet weather, and the few cattle that were on it, compared with the large number of the lower grade. A few were purchased for exportation. There was a good demand for sheep of the best kind for shipping purposes, and there was also an unusually good demand for lean hogs by buyers who fatten them for further use. About 450 sheep and lambs, 550 calves and 150 lean hogs offered. Best cattle sold at from 5¼c to 5½c, and equally good ones, but not so large, brought from 4⅞c to 5c per lb; the lower grades sold at 3c per lb, and medium stock from 4c to 4½c per lb, live weight. Sheep suitable for shipping use sold readily at from $4 50 to $6 80 each; medium at from $3 50 to $4, and the culls, $3 to $4 50; calves, $2 50 to $12 each; and the lean hogs, $4 to $8 each.

BRITISH TRADE.

EDINBURGH, June 13.—John Swan & Sons' weekly report says: The supplies of home-fed cattle have been generally smaller all over this week. The demand has been good and the highest prices of the season obtained. The English markets as a rule also having been better caused a large attendance of south country buyers, while there was a strong contingent from Ireland, and the local demand decidedly better. There were 100 States cattle at Yorkhill, which are reported to have met a good trade. There have been about 1,600 Canadian cattle in Glasgow, a large number of which were exceedingly prime, and in many cases nearly made top price. There are 1,200 due for next week.

The number of fat sheep on offer has been about the same, and of lambs considerably more. Best descriptions of sheep realized a fair trade at prices similar to last week. Ewes showed in larger numbers and made lower prices. Lambs were more numerous and a great proportion of which were of secondary quality; best grades made previous prices, but secondary were from 1s to 2s cheaper. Calves, a large and good show, and again met a dear trade at late rates. Pigs met a better trade.

The number of store sheep on offer this week has not been so large; the general quality under an average. Best class met quite as good a trade, but secondary, owing to the continued barren weather, are very slow to sell, part being left unsold. Store cattle, if in good condition, make full prices, but secondary 2-year-olds and stirks are exceedingly bad to sell. Milch cows not quite so numerous, and they met a rather better trade at a slight advance in prices.

Best beef, 8s 9d to 9s; secondary, 7s 9d to 8s per stone. Best mutton, in wool, 9½d; clipped, 8½d to 8¾d; ewes, 7d to 7½d.

Gambling in the Army Discussed—Th Education Bill Debated.

LONDON, June 23.—In a debate in th House of Lords on the Manipur rebellion Viscount Cross, Secretary for India repudiated portions of the statemen made by Sir J. E. Gorst in th recent discussion on the subject i the House of Commons. Last night Si J. E. Gorst sent a communicatio to Lord Salisbury, stating that the allusion left him no alternative but to resign hi position as Under Secretary of the India Office. Lord Salisbury immediately responded, trying to induce him to remain in office.

Lord Denman in the House of Lords gave notice that he will move the rejection of the Irish Land Bill when it comes up for second reading on Tuesday.

Mr. Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, replying to a question put by Henry Peyton Cobb (Radical) in the House of Commons, said he would consider whether a request for a three years' return of names, etc., of all commissioned officers and privates in the British army w had been punished, or who had been reduced to the ranks for conniving at card playing, or gambling, or for taking part i such card playing or gambling, could be granted. Mr. Stanhope added that he d not see the necessity for an order calling the attention of commanding officers t the army regulations in regard to gambling, as he did not believe these regulations had been broken.

Sir William Hart-Dyke moved the second reading of the Educational Bill. Mr. Bartlett moved to reject the bill o the ground that it was not likely to improve the education of the country. He said that though the House was prepared to amend the present system of education by extending assistance to parents unable to pay the fees they ought not to accept a measure which throws upon general taxation the expense of educating children whose parents are able to pay.

Mr. Bartley scorned the Educational Bill as a bribe, and predicted that as a bid for a renewal of Tory power it would prove an illusion and a snare. He drew a humorous picture of Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain leaving the Garden of Eden, hand in hand, after the general election. Mr. Hamilton defended the bill.

Mr. Balfour denied Mr. Macneill's statements, and the motion was rejected—191 to 116.

Rheumatism is not easily dislodged; only the most powerfully-penetrating remedies reach to its very foundations. The most successful treatment known, and it is now frequently resorted to by medical men, is the application of that now famous remedy for pain—Polson's Nerviline. It is safe to say that nothing yet discovered has afforded equal satisfaction to the suffering, and no matter how bad the case may be Nerviline is sure to cure it. Fell Among Thieves

CHAPTER I.

Five-Year-Old Club, in Albemarle
, was originally started for a purpose
, in the eyes of its founder at least,
e of the most laudable in the world.
venerable Earl of Bridgebourne and ually venerable crony, General Iney were lamenting, as elderly gentle-ill do upon occasion, the decadence times. They agreed with conviction othing was as good as it used to be, weather was not as warm, the port ot so well flavored or so wholesome, young women were not as pretty as used to be. The Most Noble the uis of Becksworth sat by and listened diatribes of his friends, and by and ered them a new theme for sorrow in t to which all three grew eloquent.
women, the wine, and the weather past mending, but in the matter sug-d by the marquis there was something e done. He spoke of the rarity of n killed for the table at a proper age, he venerable earl, in a flush of inspira-created by the mere utterance of a e the Five-Year-Old Club. The as-ion had no other purpose than the g of five-year-old mutton for its bers' eating but before a month was president, vice-president, committee, urer, and secretary, were all elected, a ly list of members had enrolled them-s, a breed of sheep had been selected xperiment upon, and a fair-sized scrap d on Dartmoor had been rented by club. Then for a month or two the ts of the head grazier were read with petizing interest, and the attendance embers fell off rapidly as it became to the least observant that a five-old sheep took at least five years to up in. Before six months had gone nce the date of its foundation the club grown to be one of the dullest and neglected of resorts. Nobody talk even of five-year-old mutton ever; the association possessed no interest, and very few of its mem-had any other theme in common. The for the second annual subscription met a languid response. Youth is popy supposed to be the season of im-ence, but youth at least has time for
ing. Some of the elderly contingent pped away by the act of nature, and a many others were doubtful of their lives being long enough to bring to the ised land of gourmandise. Some of veterans were put upon water-gruel the like poor diet by relentless medical sers, and under these conditions found interest in haunch and saddle fade dly away. In short, before a single t of the club mutton had ever decorated club-table the association itself had tically gone out of existence.
here was the flock on Dartmoor, its erable elders ripe within a month or for the sacrificial knife—there was the zier sending up a quarterly report to be by nobody, there was the scrap of rland experimentally leased for one and nty years, and there was the club mises rented for the same period. But e was practically no club.
these circumstances Captain Peter aton appeared upon the scene. He was an of perspicacity and energy, and he in one way or another a certain little ital at his command. He saw the entialities of the club as a proprietary ern, and after due negotiations pur-ed its belongings and was free to use name. His chief initial difficulty lay in ing somebody to deal with, but that surmounted the way lay plain and before him.
he taste for good mutton not being ex-ively confined to the elderly members the aristocracy, the worthy captain, h his stock-in-trade in hand, found no iculty in getting about him a company he younger sort. Excellent names, not e so well known, so solid or respectable the earlier, but excellent still, were nd for the committee. But whether the members were drawn towards Captain er Heaton by the process of natural ection or not it is certain that they were uriously raffish and disorderly set of
ple. They kept abnormal hours, and drank fancifully named drinks from the afternoon beginning of their day until the morning close of it. They gambled heavily, and willingly paid to the club proprietor absurb sums for gambling tools and gambling time. There were plenty of young men of title among them, and here and there in their ranks an elderly peer who might have been supposed to know better than to waste his time in the pursuits and society of the Five-Year-Old Club. There were mashers from the Guards, the genuine, undoubted, and undoubtable thing, and imitation mashers from outside, whose social coin rang false to discerning ear. There were florid, vulgar turfites and sporting journalists, permantly stale with eleemosynary champagne. There were actors there who had walked from the drawing-room to the stage leaving their breeding midway. There were fledging youths, innocently knowing in respect to wines, cigars, and horses, and more easily to be made a prey by flattered vanity than any village greenhorn in his ignorance.

It would be a libel to say that there were not good fellows in this curious crowd. There were certain sturdy men of the world who dreamt of robbing nobody, and who would certainly have puzzled the astutest member of the gang to rob them. There were honest harumscarum good-hearted lads, who were learning the A B C of the world in that singular seminary, and paying more than they thought of for the tuition they received.

Amongst these was one Harry Wayne, who was great-grandson to no less a person than the noble founder of the club. The Earl of Bridgebourne had got into the nineties by this time, and the Five-Year-Old Club was about a dozen years of age. The earl had completely withdrawn himself from it years ago, and to his uninstructed fancy it was as respectable, as stately, and as dull as it had been in his own day. The old nobleman naturally went but little into the world, but he kept all his faculties sharp and clear, was extremely proud of the youthfulness of his aspect—he looked not a day over five hundred—and the uncertain activity of his venerable legs. He was a very stately old gentleman indeed, but the pride of youth carried him so far that on coming down to breakfast of a morning he would not disdain to execute a little dancing step or two before familiars, displaying his youthful vigor and agility with a mirth which grinned the saddest memento mori.

The earl was aware of his great-grandson's membership of the club, and at least on one occasion splendidly congratulated him on the precocious good sense which led him to choose the society of his elders and his betters. The young man perfectly understood the position of affairs, but for his own sake refrained from laughter until he was out of the magnificent old gentleman's presence.

Mr. Harry Wynne, whose fortunes this history proposes to follow, had barely achieved his majority. He stood six feet in his socks, and though at present too thin for his height, gave promise of developing into a rather handsome fellow. He wore his fair hair closely cropped, and had a little golden down upon his upper lip. He had a good, frank pair of gray eyes of his own, well set apart, was gifted by nature with high spirits, and a not inconsiderable share of mother wit, and was altogether a very fair specimen of the British adolescent, so far as aspect and manners are concerned. He had no profession, and not a great deal of money, and he had been bred in a baddish school. Eton and Cambridge had between them inoculated the boy with the notion that debt was the normal condition of a gentleman. Without being in the faintest degree intentionally dishonest, he had learned that so long as a man nursed the intent to pay mere tradespeople their debts, the time of payment stood for next to nothing. In fact, the villainous system of credit, as practiced with young men of good families of our public schools and universities, had got into the lad's bones. He had been in debt when he was 8 years of age, and had lived on credit ever since, paying away his hypothecated little income cheerfully when it came to him, and walking daily deeper and deeper into the mire, in the serene certainty that there was sound land ahead of him.

"G ve Me a Cigar."
"Gi e Me an El Padre"

QU RY: Who do you think obtains the best v lue for his money, the man who asks for a igar, or the one who asks for an "El Padr " or any other of our brands?

It is Difficult to Obtain a Good Cigar.

This expression, heard so frequently, is used only by those consumers who at cigar stores, hotels and restaurants, simply say: "Give me a Cigar."

Those smokers who ask for an "El Padre" "Madre e Hijo,," "La Cadena," "La Flora," "Cable or "Mungo," and insist upon having the brand they ask for, do not have occasion to use the expression: 'It is difficult to obtain a good Cigar."

The consumer who permits dealers and others to hand him any brand they choose has himself to blame if he is dissatisfied with his purchase.

It is Human Nature for business men to push the sale of goods that pay the largest profit.

It is Policy for the consumer to insist upon having Reliable Brands.

There are some dealers who decry our brands, more especially the "La Cadena" and "La Flora" (the cream of the Havana crop), solely on account of their desire to push the sale of Inferior Goods and Private Brands that pay a larger profit.

If the same attention is given to the purchase of cigars as to wearing apparel, the complaints that are frequently heard would soon cease to exist.

We manufacture only the Highest Grade of Cigars. We are not cheap cigar manufacturers. We aim to give the best of quality consistent with prics charged, and do not pretend to offer the public Gold Dollars for Ninety Cents.

Three Years Free
The Coming School of Medicine.
The Histogenetic System.

THIS SYSTEM IS COMPLETE, having different medicines for all the different diseases. The theory is entirely different from that of the old schools. The medicines are perfectly pure, containing nothing of a poisonous nature whatever, and are quite tasteless. For three years these medicines have been given away free and thoroughly tested in the most hopeless cases before being placed on the market. The result has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable have been cured, and abundance of proof can be produced to convince the most skeptical that Histogenetic Medicines have cured and are curing to-day DISEASES at a later stage than any other system of medicine in the world. In ACUTE cases the medicines act like magic. Chronic troubles require a longer time, generally from one to three months, according to the nature of the complaint. In FEMALE IRREGULARITIES, WOMB TROUBLES, etc., the medicines have been especially successful. Private EXAMINATIONS in these troubles are almost, if not quite, absolutely unnecessary. Call or send for one of our free books explaining the system. They should be in every house in the land.

RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA
LONDON, April 26, 1891.
I am happy to acknowledge, and now testify, to the efficacy of your medicines in curing Rheumatism. I have suffered with this painful disease in my shoulders, knees and hips for twenty-five years, also with sciatica for some time. I decided to try Histogenetic Medicines as a last resort, as nothing ever seemed to give me any permanent relief. The first week's medicine gave me relief, and in two weeks the sciatica disappeared and has not returned. I took the medicines for six weeks, and am cured of the rheumatism. I feel better in every way. I am sixty years of age, and feel quite smart and active. I can cheerfully recommend these medicines to the public, and will be glad to tell any sufferer about my case. It is now nearly two months since I ceased taking the medicines, and the effect is permanent.

The glory of man consists in not merely in looking up to what is above him, but in lifting up what is below him; the noblest and most exhalted character is also the tenderest and most helpful.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Tacoma, Washington, is to have a $100,000 park.

No more Bald Heads. No more Gray Hair. Capilline is indisputably the most excellent and agreeable preparation ever offered for preventing the falling of the hair and for restoring it to its natural color and beauty.

WHY NOT?

You have corns, warts, bunions, moles or cancers. Why are they not cured? You ask a reasonable question. It demands a candid answer. You have it here: You bought a corn cure. You thought you had Barkwell's, but it was not the genuine; you got a counterfeit. It was no more use than water. We missed the sale of what you wanted. So far, it is your money gone; our money goes too. You get another and think it is the genuine. You have made a mistake, and we are in disgrace. More of your money's gone; more of our money is gone. Your corns are no better; our reputation no better. You make up your mind they cannot be cured. We have lost a customer. You have got hold of the wrong end of the fact. You have got hold of the wrong bottle. Both our moneys are gone. Not only our moneys are gone, but our opinions of one another are wrong. We don't know you by sight or name. You don't know us. We think "how dull you are to get an imitation when you might as well get Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure." And you think "what fools the manufacturers of that corn cure are to cheat so." Let's get acquainted with one another. Let's get acquainted with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. The manufacturer is not the unhandsome name you call him by. And you can't help it. Come on. Nobody deals more handsomely. Nobody ever loses a cent by getting Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure, but they always lose a corn. We never have any trouble except from these infernal counterfeiters. Neither do you with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. ywt

A NEW DEPARTURE.

Fac-similes of Handwriting Transmitted by Electricity.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The feat of sending fac-similes of handwriting by electricity has been accomplished in a measure. Several thousand words were sent and received between Chicago and New York in this manner yesterday. In writing there are but two movements, the up and down stroke, the other movement being silent. The curves are the result of the two movements. The speed can be as high as it is possible to write, but the instrument yesterday was set at 25 words a minute.

Lives of others oft remind us
Married life may be sublime.

We trust to be forgiven this parody of lines from Longfellow's immortal "Psalm of Life." Husbands who are wise and thoughtful know that the happiness of the home depends largely on the health of the mistress of the home. Many are the tasks which daily confront her. How can a woman contend against the trials aud worries of housekeeping if she be suffering from those distressing irregularities, ailments and weaknesses peculiar to her sex? Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a specific for these disorders. The only remedy, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers. Satisfaction guaranteed in every case or money refunded. See printed guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

Brown, the disappointed, says that it requires about as long to get a girl well out of her twentieth year as for a horse to get beyond "eight years old this spring."

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

Fire is a good thing in the house; but it should be in the chimney, and not in the wife's temper—cooking victuals, not roasting the husband.

"Strange that Irish landlords are so nervous?" "I didn't know they were." "Why, yes; the leased thing worries them."

The great lung healer is found in excellent medicine sold as Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

~~Sir Walter Raleigh introduced the use of tobacco in Europe centuries ago, but if he could to-day smoke a Highland Lassie cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., London, he would assuredly consider himself one of the greatest of public benefactors. It is a five-cent cigar and has no superior on the market. The composition is of the choicest nature, the workmanship of the best and the flavor delicious. Try them.~~
