LONDON'S SCANDAL CASE. LONDON, April 4.-In the Wilde-Queensbury suit the prosecution closed its case today, and the defense began.

SHIP ABANDONED AT SEA. LONDON, April 4.- The Normandie, from New York to Hamburg, passed the Scilly Islands today. She reported that the ship Arno, Captain Newham, from New York March 21, for Liverpool, had been abandoned at sea. All hands on board were saved.

M. P.S INDICTED. LONDON, April 4.-Messrs. Brock, Dibley, Wright and Theobald and Mr. F. M. Coldwell M.P.s, who were the directors in the Liberator and other companies promoted by Jabez Spencer Balfour, have been committed for trial on charges of fraud.

SOUTHAMPTON'S IMPROVEMENTS SOUTHAMPTON, April 4. - The steamer Lahn, which arrived here at 1 o'clock this morning, proceeded directly to Empress dock. The Lahn is the first steamer of her line to enter the docks without a tender. She immediately transferred her mails and passengers, which left by train at 3 o'clock this morning, thus expediting their arrival in London.

LONDON, April 4.—A Central News dispatch from Shanghai says the correspondent of the Shanghai Mercury writes under the date of March 28 that he had visited the battlefield at Tien-Chwang-Tai, and found that the bodies of the Chinese dead had not been buried but had been left as they fell, and many of them had been devoured by dogs. The place was wholly deserted.

THE LIBEL SUIT. LONDON, April 4-The ination of Oscar Wilde was concluded today. Wilde's solicitor, Sir Edward Clarke, read a letter written by the Marquis of Queensberry reviling Lord Rosebery, Mr. Gladstone and the Queen because of the appointing of his son to the peerage of Drumlaney. In one of the letters the marquis declared that Lord Alfred Douglas was not his son.

CONTRADICTORY ACCOUNTS. CALCUTTA, April 4.-In the fight at Melandri Pass on March 30 the loss to the British Chitral expedition was three killed and two wounded. The enemy lost 500 killed

It is reported from Simla that the Chitral expedition sustained losses more severe than was at first reported. Umra Khan is reported to have captured two British officers. Hundreds of natives are flocking to his standard. All of the reported casualties to British forces refer to the Second Brigade. The other brigade has not been heard from. C. P. R. SHARES GO UP.

LONDON, April 4.-There was a sharp recovery of Canadian Pacific shares on the Stock Exchange this morning.

LONDON, April 4.—Commenting on the Canadian Pacific situation, the Westminster Gazette says the management of that road is on a par with that of most American roads. The Gazette advises the shareholders to take matters into their own hands by arranging that the meetings shall be held is London instead of Montreal.

A LOSING SPECULATION.

LONDON, April 4.-Arnold Morley, Postmaster-General, spoke in the House of Commons this evening concerning the business relations of the Government telegraph lines and the newspapers. He reiterated the statement made by him last month before the Congress of the Chambers of Commerce that the Government's annual loss on press telegrams was $1,500,000. He was willing to institute an imperial inquiry, he said, if he could get the assurance that the press would abide by the result and assent to 'cris'ative revision of the

MADRID, April 4.-The number of Spanish troops in Cuba will within 30 days aggregate 40,000. Upwards of 18,are now in Havana and in the different | ical department. Provinces, and at least 20,000 more will leave Cadiz this month. The insurgents are carrying on a guerilla warfare, and are said not to exceed 3,000 at the ut-most. Their operations are confined Falls postoffice. wholly to Santiago de Cuba, which is filled with great mountain ranges, in which the insurgents find refuge whenever pursued by the Spanish troops, and from which it is difficult to dislodge

JAPS IN POSSESSION. ,

LONDON, April 4.-A Central News dispatch from Tokio says information has been received from the Pescadores that on March 29 the Japanese warship Matsuda sounded the mouth of Makong Bay. No torpedoes were found, and the transports landed their troops and stores in Makong Harbor. The Chinese coldiers imprisoned there were sent to the mainland in junks. The captured officers were retained. The guns in the forts were slightly damaged and are being repaired. The inhabitants are resuming business, and appear to be easy to govern

FLEEING FROM FORMOSA. LONDON, April 4.-From Hong Kong the Times has this dispatch under to-South Formosa to the mainland and Hong Kong. The Chinese army in are believed to be safe. Vigorous measures have been taken in Swatow and Canton to resist the invaders. Booms have been placed in Canton River and torpedos have been placed in Swatow

FIRED ON A WHITE FLAG. LONDON, April 4.—A dispatch from Tokio says Gen. Nodzu reports from Hai Cheng that on April 1 he sent a Chinese messenger to the Chinese mili-tary front notifying the commander of the armistice, and requesting a meet-ing to arrange details. On April 2 he sent a Japanese messenger and a trumpeter, requesting an answer within 24 hours. On April 3 the messenger and the trumpeter not having returned, Col. Aoki, fearing foul play, started himself with a white flag and a trumpeter toward the outposts. The Chinese outposts began firing when Col. Aoki halted and signaled with his flag of truce. When he attempted to advance the Chinese renewed their firing, wounding the Japanese flag bearer, and Col. Aoki was obliged to return. Gen. Nodzu asked whether the Chinese envoy has informed the Government at Pekin of

MORE ARISTOCRATS IN COURT. LONDON, April 4.-The petition of Countess Russell against her husband, Earl Russell, for a restitution of her conjugal rights, was opened in the divorce division of the High Court of all day long uneventfully and unosten-Queen's Bench this forenoon. The ground upon which the restitution she seeks is opposed is cruelty on her part in having accused him of certain disgusting offenses during the progress of her unsuccessful action for divorce in 1893. Sir Henry James, Q.C., on behalf of Earl Russell, denounced the countess' charge as entirely false, and said that should the wife succeed in obtaining the restoration of her conjugal rights she would doubtless demand that her husband maintain her. This he was not disposed to do after the charges she had made against him.

Sir Henry James said that after trial for divorce the countess nad proceeded to return to her husband, but he had refused unless she retracted the statements made against him. The countess threatened to go on the stage in order to obtain a livelihood, whereupon her husband reminded her of the fact that she had an income of £600 per annum. FALSE REPORT OF THE QUEEN'S DEATH.

LONDON, April 4.—There is no truth in the report cabled here from New York of the death of Queen Victoria.

The latest official report in regard to the Queen, received from Nice last evening, says: "The Queen, accompanied by Princess Beatrice, drove to Beauleau along the mountain road leading to La Bastide. She paid a visit to Lord and Lady Salisbury and returned to Cimiez by way of Villefranche. In the evening her Majesty entertained Sir Edward Malet and others at dinner. Htr Majesty was in good health and spirits." Another dispatch from Nice this afternoon says that at 3 p.m. the Prince of Wales attended the christening of a son of his groom-in-waiting, Sir Francis Knollys. Earl Spencer, who has been serving as minister in attendance upon the Queen, returned from Nice at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. Lord Ripon will leave here for Nice on Saturday to fulfill a similar function. No official references are made to the state of the Queen's health. Last evening's advices reported her to be in excellent health.

A dispatch sent from Nice at 8:20 o'clock this evening says the Queen this forenoon visited the Zoological Gardens, and upon her return gave an audience to the Comtesse Trani. Later in the day she drove to Sabron and paid a visit to the Duchess of Saxe-Cobourg, and this evening gave a small dinner party at the Cimiez Hotel.

A woman named Mary Sutherland was found dead on Thursday morning at 926 Dorchester street, Montreal. In a little bag in her room $828 was found and in a little hand satchel $25. She was 70 years of age.

Under the international sealing agreement, sealing on the coast will cease on April 30, and present prospects, says a Vancouver dispatch, indicate that the catch for the first half of the season will be very light. The action of the private bills committee of the Provincial Legislature in throwing out the city of Hamilton's day's date: The Chinese are fleeing from bill to amend the charter of the Hamilton Gas Company, creates considerable dissatisfaction in Hamilfon.

DULL BUT USEFUL

Describes Thursday's Session of the Legislature.

Mowat's Law Reform Bill Passed and Other Measures Enacted-The Session Drawing to a Close.

(Special to the "Advertiser."

PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, April 4. - Today's has been a useful session, but it has also been a dull one, for Government business has been tatiously passed through the House.

A legal bill of the Premier's became law, and then a batch of Government motions passed. The first was the ratification of the rules made by the Department of Crown Lands for the use of the diamond drill, and it passed after a suggestion by Col. Matheson that the rules be made more liberal. This was met by Mr. Hardy by a proof that the Ontario regulations were much more liberal than those of a number of the states of the union which were cited by Col. Matheson.

The motion to indorse the contract by which cheaper school books will be secured was passed after Dr. Ryerson had suggested that they should be made cheaper still, and Mr. Ross had explained that they were as cheap as could be consistently with allowing the publishers to recoup themselves for their risk and outlay.

One motion was carried which is significant. It was that after tomorrow Government business have precedence on all days over everything but private bills; also that there be a sitting on Saturday. That means the beginning of the end, and a week from next Saturday the first session of the Eighth Parliament will be a thing of the past. Hon. Mr. Hardy's bill to amend the lection law went through without incident. He introduced one important amendment, which provides that in case of a charge of treating being made it shall be a sufficient answer to say that the candidate has been accustomed to treat. Hon. Mr. Dryden's bill to amend the Agriculture and Arts Association went through quietly, the only interseting thing in it being a discussion of horseracing, the bill as approved making it illegal to hold racing other than trials of speed under direction and control of the officers of the association. A large deputation of those interested in the Ontario and Rainy River Railway this afternoon asked the Government to bonus 140 miles of that road by either giving $55 a mile or guaranteeing the ompany's bonds on certain terms. The Government promised the usual consideration.

Hon. Mr. Ross in the afternoon introduced a bill to amend the Manhood Suffrage Registration Act by making the act passed in 1894 apply to towns as well as cities. In country towns the county judges, police magistrate and county clerk are to be the board of registrars, and in other towns the police magistrate, town clerk and Divi-sion Court clerk. University students may register in the place where they study, if they do not register elsewhere. The House then dispatched in quick crder half a dozen other Government bills and adjourned at 11:20 p.m.

KNOX COLLEGE.

The Annual Convocation-Degrees Con-

TORONTO, April 4.—The annual convocation of Knox College took place this afternoon and was largely attended. Interest was added to the proceedings in the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Divinity on Rev. Edward Graham, of Chico, California, who graduated from Knox in 1861, and who after some years of pastoral work in Milwaukee settled on the Pacific coast, where he is now a director of the Theoogical College of San Francisco. Rev. R. G. Morrison, of British Colambia, was also given the degree of B. A. A feature of the afternoon also was the presentation of a portrait in oil of the late Prof. Thompson, of the college staff, by Mr. Mortimer Clark, chairman of the board of management.

PERPLEXES THE PHYSICIANS. QUEBEC, April 4-An epidemic of an unknown disease which perplexes the physicians of the place has broken out at Herbertville, Lake St. John, Que. A large number of deaths have occurred within a short time.

OPENING OF NAVIGATION. AMHERSTBURG, April 4.-The large palace steamer City of Detroit passed here for Cleveland today. She is the first boat this season. Lake Erie is almost free from ict.

The ice in the St. Clair River is still heavily jammed all the way from the Flats to Grand Point. PANIC IN A MONTREAL CHURCH.

MONTREAL, April 4.—During a woman's retreat in the Parish Church of Ste. Cunigonde tonight, an hysterical woman shouted fire, and a panic took place. The church was crowded with women, and they made for the door, the result being a scene of confusion, during which several women were rather severely injured, but none fatally.

Progress of the Campaign in Antigonish

-Notes by the Way. GERRYMANDERING EXPECTED. WINNIPEG, April 4.-A Moosomin dispatch says that it is expected that East and West Assiniboia constituencies for the Dominion House will be gerrymandered at the approaching session of the Commons, and three constituencies, East, West and Center, created. East Assiniboia will extend westward to Indian Head, Central will extend to Moosejaw, and West Assiniboia further west.

A STORY ABOUT SIR C. H. TUPPER. HALIFAX, N. S., April 4.—An interesting story has leaked out from Conservative sources in connection with Sir Hibbert Tupper's resignation fiasco, which pertinently illustrates the Tupper craving for political honors and emolument. When the appointments in connection with the Bering Sea arbitration were being considered, the conclusion at first reached was to have Hon. J. A. Chapleau appointed Canada's represen tative on the tribunal, the intention being that Sir John Thompson should act as agent for Canada in connection with British counsel. The High Commissioner, however, had an eye to promoting the interests of his hopeful son, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and getting the ear of the British Government, succeeded in having Sir John appointed arbitrator, which permitted the Minister of Marine to secure the position of agent, hus edging Chapleau altogether out of the arbitration. Young Tupper got the title which might otherwise have gone to Chapleau.

THE ANTIGONISH CAMPAIGN. HALIFAX, N. S., April 4.-In Antigonish Mr. McIsaac is carrying on a vigorous campaign, and writes that the outlook is excellent. Mr. Chisholm and his agents are carrying on a sort of still hunt. Unless the Manitoba school question creates unexpected complications which may influence Bishop Cameron and his clergy to give active support to the Tory candidate, which is very improbable, Mr. McIsaac will be elected by a large majority. So far the clergy have maintained a manly neutrality in the contest, and as Bishop Cameron starts on a trip to Europe on the 13th, active interference from that quarter is improbable. Sir C. H. Tupper, it is reported, is going to Antigonish to take a hand in the campaign. He will get a warm reception in a way that he won't relish, and the probabilities are that he will do Chisholm more harm than good. they would like no better fun than to have Tupper go down there.

While in St. John today en route for Antigonish Sir Tupper said the report of his resignation was the work of the newspaper correspondents, who had little or no regard for the truth. The scribes of some of the Tory newspapers will feel complimented.

WARM WORK IN HALDIMAND. CAYUGA, Ont., April 4.-The fight in Haldimand has barely commenced, but the interest shown on all hands is intense. The Conservative party are well organized, and are putting forth very effort to return Dr. Montague, but the number of old-time Conservatives who express themselves as opposed to the doctor's policy make it somewhat doubtful as to the result. Mr. McCarthy's organizer has been well over the ground, and expects to complete the organization by tomorrow. Mr. McCarthy speaks here tomorrow. NOTES.

North York Conservatives met in convention on Thursday, but did not agree on a candidate to oppose Hon. John Charlton. They may do so later.

Hugh John Macdonald, who moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Davin, M. They were Howe, D'Arcy McGee, Laurier and Davin.

CARPETS.

If our understanding is correct you want to buy from the biggest stocks and at the lowest prices. We began the carpet business by keeping out of the rut into which the trade had got, and maintaining the stock in a most wholesome condition. We mean to lift it higher yet; for there's a trade in carpets possible to the store that'll supply it well, immensely larger than any now existing. We think the way to do it lies in the very direction we have taken—

> Exclusive Styles, Largest assortment, Finest qualities, Best values. Perfect service, Lowest prices.

Busy months are ahead of us in this department. As your mind rests on housecleaning and renovating think of the most likely place to, supply your wants. Come and see us. Under one roof.

> Carpets, Oilcloths, Linoleums, Mattings, Curtains. Curtain Materials, Rugs, Mats, Blinds, Blind Rollers, Blind Fringes, Curtain Poles, Etc., etc.

here. Our prices are convincing. For instance—

A yard wide Hemp Carpet at 9c.

A yard wide Extra Heavy Union Carpet at 25c.

A Good Tapestry Stair Carpet at

A Heavy China Matting, yard wide, at 12 1/2 c.

A Heavy English Linoleum, not oilcloth, at 45c.

A Blind complete, roller, pull and fasteners, for 40c.

We import for the trade of Western Ontario, and do not propose carrying a stock of FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CARPETS ALONE to be approached in price by any petty dealers in this part of the Province. Our sales during last month are an evidence that our prices are unapproachable. All railroad charges prepaid on purchases out of town.

1282 and 130 Dundas Street.

SILKS.

Elegance coupled with economy prevades this stock. Richness roams hrough all grades, from 25c to $3 60. Name any four stores in this city whose combined stock of silks of all kinds equals what we have in our large department. Our Silk Department is both the center and circumference of that business in this section. A few of the specials are—25C 67 shades in Bengaline, Pongors, Chinas, Taffetas and Surahs, all at the one price.

25C 20-Inch Pure Silk Black Surahs. 45C Wide-Width Colored Surahs.

Wide-Width Colored Chinas. Fancy Colored French Checks. 60C All colors Pure Silk Surah Twills, extra heavy weight.

Black, Colorded, Cotton

Dress Goods.

All these departments are enlarged to meet the increased demand. If we are rightly informed no one attempts to give as much space nor to offer so large an assortment. Neither could we afford to do it but for the fact that our lower prices and direct importations of the newest novelties has given great impetus to our business. Certainly every good thing that can be found anywhere else is on our counters and equally certain is it that a great many things that cannot be found anywhere else are here, because we made special orders limiting the sale of goods to our own house.

An idea of prices-20C All-Wool French Serges, 42 inches wide.

350 Fancy Silk French Stripes, 44 inches wide. 38c All-Wool Plain Serges, all colors, 46 inches wide, 50C Fancy Check Suitings, 45 inches wide, every pattern a novelty.

50C Our 65c quality French Henriettas, every color, at this price. Cotton Dress Goods.

People are astonished at the room we have given these goods, but their Everything for house furnishings is astonishment increases on viewing the assortment, everyone decidedly new.

Irish Dimities. Dotted Babtiste. Printed Organdies. Japanese Crepe. French Ginghams. Scotch Lawns. French Zephyrs. Printed Lawns. Silk Mixed Linens. Striped Coverts. Plain Drills. Fancy Pique. From 12½c to 57c a yard.

MILLINERY.

The success of the millinery opening encourages us to continue the display of patterns, hats and bonnets all this week. Last week we wrote strong things and true concerning our headwear and millinery finery.

The opening was a success, both in point of enthusiasm and sales. But we never know what it is to rest on our oars. We have the facilities to make and trim, the capital, command and skill to collect smart hats and bonnets, and each day will see some new oddities added to our imported collection of French patterns. The present collection is unequaled by any store in this neighborhood, so we're told and believe.

St. Thomas Did Not Want Electric Railway Communication With London, Fearing Competit.on-Arguments Before the Committee of the Legislature.

(Special to the "Advertiser.") PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, April 5. - By a tie vote in the railway committee, decided by the casting vote of the chairman, Hon. E. H. Bronson, the London and Western Ontario Electric Railway Company has been refused a charter, and the two smaller lines, the London Radial Electric Railway and the St. Thomas Radial Electric Railway, are to be allowed to tap the counties of Elgin and Middlesex for their respective cities. This determination was arrived at after a discussion of half an hour. Mr. E. R. Cameron represented the two smaller com panies, while from St. Thomas came Mayor Idsardi and Ald. McCully, Col. Stacey and

Engineer Bell. For the London and Western Ontario Railway appeared Messrs. I. F. Hellmuth and C. H. Ivey, while there were also present Messrs. H. A. Everett, T. H. Smallman and S. R. Break. The three bills were first of all taken up to consider the advisability of placing together. The London Radial and the St. a candidate in the field at the next Do-Thomas Radial lines being arrayed in opposition to the London and Western Ontario. Mr. Allan Bogue, as is generally known, Mr. Cameron opened the discussion, urging that the two smaller lines were local enterprises promoted by business men of the respective cities. They would not trench upon each other, he said, while the other would be in competition with both and was controlled by American capitalists. He argued strongly in favor of lines that would cause trade to center in the county towns instead of those that would attract trade to larger centers. Mr. Hellmuth spoke for the London and Western Ontario Railway, urging that the smaller lines led from nowhere to nowhere, and asking that the committee give it a chance to offer the choice to the municipalities concerned as to which of the two sets of lines they would choose. He also argued strongly against the principle of lines being confined to the counties, seeing no reason for such artificial limitations.

Mr. Cameron replied that the points proposed to be touched by the London and Western Ontario line were already well served by railways, while the other two lines proposed to reach places not already served by railways, and so subserve local interests. St. Thomas, in particular, did not wish to have this line between it and London.

Mayor Idsardi opposed the London and Western Ontario line on the ground of it centralizing effect. Then Mr. Awrey took the field in be-half of the London radial line, resting his principal objection to the longest line on what he declared to be a fact that the west of the Province is on the verge of a great electric railway monopoly, the city and the rural lines all being in the same hands. The Province had enough of these, he said. Further, he asserted that the men at the back of the London and Western Ontario charter were the same as those controlling the Toronto and London lines, and this led to a discussion, Mr. Whitney holding that this was not the case. Mr. McLean, Dr. Meacham and Mr. Brower argued on behalf of the small railway companies, Mr. Whitney de-

Licenses issued for year 1894-5 are: Taverns, 34; shops, 6; wholesales, 5. Applications made for year 1895-6 are 36 taverns, shops 7, wholesale 4. Any petitions against the granting of license to any new applicant or the premises named, signed by duly qualified electors in any polling subdivision in which premises are situated, must be lodged with the undersigned at least four days before the day of meeting.

ROBERT HENDERSON, Inspector, 88u

fending the London and Western Ontario Railway.

Finally Mr. Bronson cut short the discussion by submitting the question to vote as to whether all three charters should be given, or only these of the two smaller companies.

The vote stood 16 to 16, and Mr. Broncon promptly decided for the local com-panies. The two bills were then rapidly run through, and passed with a few to the different branches was allowed. while a request of the company to be allowed to cross steam railway lines at grade under certain circumstances was refused-the General Electric Railway Act being followed. In the London bill a clause was in-serted at the instance of City Solicitor Meredith of London keeping the company from expropriating any of the city water powers and from going along the Westminster pipe line road without the consent of the water com-missioners, so as to guard against electrolysis.

South Middlesex Patrons Choose R. M. Piper, of Westminster,

To Contest South Middlesex for the Commons - He Has Not Yet Accepted

South Middlesex Patrons are on the move again. Representatives from nearly every association in the riding met in secret session in the county council chamber yesterday afternoon minion election. The original nominee. withdrew some time ago, claiming that Parliamentary duties and his would not agree: The action of Mr. Bogue necessitated the calling of a meeting some weeks past, when, after four hours' talk, the party failed to name a man who would stand. meeting of yesterday was a continuation of the first, and the object was the same. Mr. R. M. Piper, deputy reeve of Westminster; Mr. A. F. Anderson, lot 14, con. 4, and Frank Elliott, lot 16, con. 2, Westminster, were nominated. Messrs. Anderson and Elliott declined in favor of Mr. Piper who was made the unanimous choice of the convention. Mr. Piper was not present, and it is unknown whether he will accept the nomination. A large amount of time was consumed in discussing the propriety of appointing lecturers and effecting organization for campaign work. The executive of the county has the matter in charge.

THE FIRST ROBIN,

Seen by Mr. F. G. Clampitt on Feb. 28-Honor to Whom Honor Is Due.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": Sir,-I notice in tonight's "Advertiser" that Mr. John Hooper is reported to have seen the first robin of this year. I claim that I saw the first robin on Feb. 28, 1895, and wish you would be kind enough to give me the credit through your paper, and

IS HANGING PAINLESS!

A Youngster Hangs Himself While Demonstrating a Theory. O'NEILL, O. T., April 4. - Grover Leeper, 13 years old, hanged himself today. He was discussing with several companions the lynching of Barrett Scott. Young Leeper insisted hanging was a painless death, and to demonstrate the fact fastened a hitching strap over a pole and around his neck and swung from a box. Before his compan-inos realized his situation he was dead. JOHN BULL IN FIGHTING TRIM. May Pounce on Nicaragua Unless She

Settles the Hatch Affair. NEW YORK, April 5 .- The Herald's special from Panama says: The British cruiser Royal Arthur, with Admiral Stephenson, has arrived from Calloa. From one of her officers it is learned that landing parties were organized and drilled during the voyage. The officer said the objective point of the vessel was Corinto, Nicaragua, where it is likely she would land men if Great Britain's claim against Nicaragua for the expulsion of Consular Agent Hatch was not satisfactory. The Royal Arthur will await further instructions from the British Admiralty before proceeding to Nicaragua. SHOT DEAD BY AN INDIAN. WINNIPEG, April 4 .- Near Gleichen, Alberta Territory, Frank Skyner, the Dominion Government issuer of rations to the Blackfeet Indian reserve, was shot dead by an Indian named Atchawan. A posse of mounted police is now on the trail of the assassin. The Indians say Atchewan is crazy.

A BIG TELEPHONE COMPANY. CHICAGO, Ill., April 5.-A morning paper prints the following: "The finest combination of capital and political influence ever gotten together has been organized to enter the telephone field and rout the Bell monopoly by giving cheaper and, as it is claimed, better telephones. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected. THE barbarous practice of endeavoring to improve on nature's handiwork by cropping dog's ears has received another well-merited blow. WORK IN DIRTY SEWERS

What Some Men Will Have to Do Very Soon

For the Benefit of the Public Health-Pall Mall Street Residents Say They Much Need a Sewer.

Business relating to sewers was chief among the entries on the order paper for No. 2 committee's meeting last night, when Ald. Wm. Heaman was in the chair, with Ald. E. Parnell, A. Callahan, J. Nutkins, S. O'Meara, Mayor and Commissioner Owens were present. The sewer question was introduced by the reading of Engineer Graydon's report on the condition of the Dundas and Richmond street branches. The report stated that they were in good condition, and only required a little repairing near York and Richmond streets. Dundas street sewer was 8 feet 10 inches deep at Wellington street and 13 feet 2 inches at the Market Lane. Along Dundas and Richmond there were quite a number of rotten wooden box drains from buildings, which should be taken out and replaced (if used) by tile. Sewers on both strets were very dirty, and it was necessary 75c PAIR to flush them thoroughly, and for this purpose two or three men would have to work inside them. "It is about seven years since the work was done," said the engineer, "and it is badly needed." The recommendation was left with the engineer and Chairman Heaman.

Mr. John Christie appeared in support of his request to have the walk on the north side of Pall Mall street, between Waterloo and Colborne, moved out. Mr. Christie dropped in when the aldermen were talking about the engineer's report, and said: "We need some sewage system in the north end very badly. Residents up there are willing to have one constructed along Pall Mall street under the Local Improvement Act." Mr. Christie dwelt on the great need for the sewer, and said it would have to be constructed sewerage system and the many obstacles in the way of constructing it as Dr. Gardiner had desired. "A trunk sewer system has got to come some sewer system has got to come some day, however," said the alderman.

"That is true," said Mayor Little,
"but the council that undertakes the project will never come back." No promise was given Mr. Christie. Richard Hill and several propertyowners on Laura street applied for the grading of that thoroughfare. John Christie and others asked that the walk on the north side of Pall Mall street be moved out. Both requests were laid over for a report from Engineer Graydon. The request from the city engineer for a typewriter for his office was filed.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Valid Reasons Why the Assessment Rolls for the Past Year Should be Published.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": The fact that the majority of the real Children's Corset Waists, in estate owners in the city decided by their ballots at the municipal elections Only 25c Each in January last that the assessment rolls for the present year should be James B. Stuart to arise and declare published places the matter so far as them. the council is concerned beyond the arena of discussion. To carry out the wishes of the citizens, so emphatically expressed at the ballot box, is their bounden duty. Any deviation from this usual British course of procedure would be to establish a precedent fraught with evil results, and one that no true citizen would be a party to.

Regarding cost, this would be more than counterbalanced by the increased revenue that would be derived from the printing of the assessment rolls. By the fair equalization of assessed valu-the fair equalization of assessed valu-on the approach of the wolf and leaves through publication, by raising properties inadvertently rated lower than they would to some extent know his their neighbors', the city would realize manhood; to show men the broad horimany times over the cost of the work. In our assessment commissioner we have a faithful official, and he, I feel sure, would hail with pleasure the assistance given him by the public in putting the assessment as far as possible on a fair and equitable basis, which is one of the benefits all would derive from publicity. Besides, the work need not necessarily be done again for some years, and the expense in connection with it is a small item in the estimates, the best scheme for a deep channel to the Atlantic has been for some time a off many of the useless expenditures off many of the useless expenditures the city is incurring.

The fact that the Real Estate Owners' Protective Association objected to the movement at its inception, and still continue in opposition, affords the strongest possible reason why the rolls should be published. They are alert in watching their personal interests, look keenly after the rolls, and when last year's lists are published it will undoubtedly be found that they, at all events, are not over-assessed. It is no argument for them to say that the rolls are open to the public. There is not one working-man in fifty has the time to examine the lists, and if he had it is questionable if he could read them without the aid of an expert. It would bother the clerks themselves who filled in the details to make them out. To take up the commissioners' time in securing information on several properties would make the applicant feel that he was encroaching oo much on that obliging official's time. If the majority of the property-holders want the information in printed form it should be given to them.

To publish the assessment in the voters' lists is not practicable, and would not meet the case, for the reason that where too or more properties are owned by one man in a ward either his different lots would be given in a lump, or else the property only that he lives on would be published. The respective ratings of the different properties could not possibly be given in it. There are thousands of lots in the city on the assessment rolls that do not and could not be shown in the voters' lists. The meager information given in this way fear of God. would be worse than useless, and be misleading. Besides, to comply with would require to be distributed to every house in the city instead of the limited copies now printed, and if this is done it is questionabile if there would be any saving effected.

Another objection to the latter course is: It is the last rolls that are wanted, so as to govern others like myself in looking after this year's assessment, which could not be done in the voters' lists plan. We want to see the work as it has been done in the past, not as it is to be; and if produced in convenient form would be valuable for reference.

As one of those who voted for the publication of the lists. I think it. lication of the lists, I think it only right that the wishes of the majority should be carried out, and the full information asked for given us, and feel confident that the council will see to it that this more of a building up of the true charis done. Knox Church Pulpit, South London, Filled Once Again.

Successful Induction of Rev. James B. Stuart, of Toronto.

Warm and Cordial Welcome - Addresses to the Pastor and People A Capable Sermon.

Rev. James B. Stuart was inducted pastor of Knox Church, South London, last night under most auspicious circumstances. The church was crowded, not only with the members of the congregation, but their friends from St. Andrew's and Park Avenue, over the river. The pulpit was almost hidden under the bloom of many flowers, a couple of which came to grief when Rev. W. J. Clark became especially vigorous in his address to the people. The congregation of Knox Church will be a model one indeed if they take to heart all the advice given them by Rev. W. J. Clark. And the new pastor cannot fail to be a model for his fellow-ministers if he carefully follows all the rules laid down for his conduct by Rev. Mr. Currie, of Belmont. Rev. Mr. Stuart is a commanding figure, and towered head and shoulders over Rev. W. J. Clark and Elder Thompson as they conducted him to the vestibule after the

His tall stature gives him the appearance of stooping slightly forward, and as he walked down the aisle with a conductor on either side, a smile played beneath a rathe" bushy mustache. His welcome was a very cordial one, and the pastor's smile expanded in proportion as his arm became tired. A social welcome will be given to Mr. Stuart tonight. Tea will be served from 6 o'clock to 8, and the programme will then be rendered. Rev. A.H. Anderson, of Aylmer, preached the sermon, and the induction cere-mony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Mil-lar, of Mosa. A number of ministers who were attending the Presbytery were present, including Rev. Mr. Mc-Donald (St. Thomas), Rev. M. P. Talling, Rev. Mr. Harg, Rev. E. H. Saw-ers, Rev. Mr. Henderson (Appin) and others. Rev. W. J. Clark, in accordance with established procedure, issued the formal challenge in the name of the Presbytery for anyone who had any objections to make against the life or doctrine of

No one appeared to have any objection to Mr. Stuart, and in the meantime Miss Gilmour sang a very pretty She was accompanied by Mr Wm. Ellis. THE SERMON.

Rev. A. H. Anderson preached from St. John's Gospel, chapter x. The parable of the Shepherd formed the basis of the talented preacher's remarks, and the lesson was well illustrated. In reading the verses he laid special stress upon those passages where it is said that the sheep know the voice of the shepherd, how the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep, the sheep to perish. Christ spoke these zon of the newer life, so that they would follow him to the green pastures where he would show them the tree of life. Christ was an open door, where they could go for strength. The world, the flesh and the devil might be all around them, but he could give them full, abundant and true Christian life. Then Christ represented himself as a sacrifice in laying down his life for the These things which Christ depicted of himself were true also of the shepherd that Christ set up over his church on earth. The true shepherd entered by the doorway. He who climbed up another way was a thief and a robber. Man must be called of God, and before he could become a pastor he must be called by a flock, and thus enter by the door. He could then speak directly out of his own heart the things which God had given him to speak. A minister should know the language of God and the language of men, and ever must be a living voice. Then he must be an open doorway. He must have a heart open to all and live in actual contact with his people so as to understand them and to teach them, His duty was to be ever ready to help. He must be one who can lead the sheep out of the narrowness of life to the wider paths where they could be fed with the bread of life. Lastly he must be a sacrifice, be willing to put aside all high ambitions, and his life must be a daily living sacrifice for his Savior and for his God, THE INDUCTION.

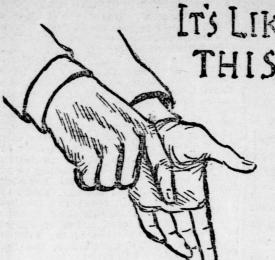

Rev. W. J. Clark, moderater of the congregation, gave a brief history of the vacancy in the pulpit, and stated that the choice of the congregaion had fallen upon Rev. J. B. Stuart, B. A., of St. Mark's Church, Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Millar, moderator of the Presbytery, then put the usual questions to Mr. Stuart concerning the Presbyterian faith and doctrine. Mr. Stuart responded to each question concerning his faith by saying "I do" and "I will." In reply to other questions he said that he had not used any undue influences to procure the call, and would strive to rule his house and his church in the Mr. Stuart continued to stand in front of the altar, and in the prayer that folthe bylaw a copy of the voters' list lowed Rev. Mr. Millar asked that all differences concerning the call would disappear, and that God would ratify in Heaven what they did on earth. Mr. Millar then formally inducted the pastor in the name of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and by authority

Mr. Currie then addressed the minister, advising him to know his flock in order to minister successfully to its and not to forget that he was a child once himself. He told him also to know the aged and infirm, and again to know the Bible. A minister's work was not acter in God's children, which could only be done by feeding the flock with would know his voice. Concluding, his prayer was that Mr. Stuart's ministry Buy the Best would result in the salvation of many

Rev. W. J. Clark addressed the congregation, saying that he thought Mr. Butter at Stuart was a happy man to be settled in the congregation. The people had always showed a united spirit, and were ready to yield to each other's wishes. They should render their pastor love. He had been highly regarded by his people and brethren in Toronto, and they should treat him so kindly that he would soon forget the sting of parting from his Toronto congregation. There were many ways of showing this affection. One was regular attendance at church Jersey Butter.

service. There was a growing tendency to attend only one service a day, which was to be deplored. It was a hard experience for a pastor to go to the trouble of preparing a sermon only to find that a little rain had kept a great many away. He also advised them to turn out well to week night services. Women were in the majority at these meetings, and he asked the men who had a desire to see their pastor's work prosper to be present at prayer meetings. They should also show their appreciation by contributing liberally to the funds of the church. He denounced the conduct of those who had money to spend in pleasures and who had not enough to pay their share of church expenses. Again, they should show their confidence in him by kindness. It was a strength to a pastor to know that his people appreciated his work. A minister's work was a great drain on his nervous system, and a great drain on his heart. There should be an inflow of kindly feeling from the people to offset this. He pointed out the difference between flattery and true appreciation, and said that the latter was to a pastor's heart like the balmy air of spring to a person who had been confined all winter. Lastly, he advised those who were regular attendants, but who had not professed themselves Christians, not to stand aloof, but gladen their pastor's heart by professing Christianity. He warned them against divisions, and asked them to pray for God's blessing on the pastor's work. If they would do their part he was persuaded that Mr. Stuart would do his. The meeting then closed, and Mr. Stuart met as many of the congregation

-English coal mines produced 188,-277,525 tons of coal in 1894, exceeding the highest previous record, that of 1891, by nearly three million tons. Britain is not the decaying nation that the high tax libelers in this country attempt to make out.

-In New York city, wherever there are asphalt-paved streets, it is great fun for children on roller skates to tag on to vehicles and be drawn along. Drivers rarely resent this, and the children fasten to all sorts of vehicles. -The most noteworthy article in the Canadian Magazine for April is that by Hon. David Mills, M.P., on "Saxon or Slav; England or Russia." In view of the present condition of affairs in Europe, the statesmanlike views of the member for Bothwell should have many readers. "A Glimpse of Robert Barr" introduces the reader to a now famous Western Ontario author; and "Rome Revisited," by Mr. C. R. W. Biggar, takes the reader to the ever-attractive scenes of early European civilization. The illustrations are excellent. Published by the Ontario Publishing Company, Toronto.

-St. Thomas City Council has resolved to send a delegation to Toronto to oppose the passage of the London and Western Ontario Radial Electric Railway Company Bill. It is the intention of the company to give speedy, frequent and cheap transit between the two cities, and St. Thomas shopkeepers are very much alarmed that the St. Thomas people will come here in increasing numbers to do their shopping. As this seems to be the only objection which the St. Thomas aldermen have to the bill, it should not be entertained. It would be as sensible to prohibit the running of electric cars in London altogether, on the ground that suburban dealers might have some customers who, with rapid transit, would prefer to buy down town. Radial railway development cannot be "cribbed, cabined and confined" in that Way.

CITY GARBAGE REMOVAL.

Col. George E. Waring predicts that the day will come when a great city may make $500,000 a year from the sale of garbage instead of, as at present, paying that much to have it removed. and then not getting the job done thoroughly.

In this city we have civic co-operative water supply, co-operative lighting of public streets, co-operative fire and police protection, but when it comes to co-operative public cleaning-as much needed for the public welfare as anything else-our civic authorities draw the line. They insist that the work shall be done in the old haphazard, inlividualistic, unsatisfactory way, just is it was done when London was an unincorporated village.

Sir Oliver Mowat stated in the Legislature yesterday that the House would likely conclude its business by tomorrow week. The legislators have conducted their business this year with dispatch. Far from being the session of turmoil that some prophesied, the proceedings have been most agreeable. When the Conservatives were not supporting the Government the Patrons were, and so the majorities for Sir Oliver have been

The story is told of the Premier that when he was asked what his majority is in this Legislature, he replied, with a twinkle in his eyes, "I can scarcely fix it exactly; but you can put it down as fluctuating round 39."

CITY LETTER RATES.

Because the Dominion Government increased the postage on letters mailed in cities, to be delivered within the same limits, from one cent to two cents, it has lost a large and profitable revenue from this source, while inflicting inconvenience and expense on many. Such corporations as the London Water Commissioners do not use the postoffice, but send their notices by messenger.

The Toronto City Council have memorialized the Government to reduce the postage on city letters to one cent, and the News, chronicling the fact, says: "The rate should never have been increased. Even at the one-cent charge there was a very large profit in the postoffice transactions in Toronto, and the postal service should not be made a source of revenue." The same may be said of London. Why should the patrons of the mails in cities, who supply by far the most profitable of the postal traffic, be discriminated against to make up for deficiencies caused by extending the system in new districts?

The Island Now Negotiating to Come Into the Dominion.

France Has Treaty Rights to a Large Portion of the Shores.

Rejoicing of the French Officials at St Pierre.

Why Britain Has Not Arranged With France to Give Up Her Claims of Dominion on the Island.

A St. Pierre (Miquelon Island) correspondent of the Toronto Globe writes:
"When Newfoundland becomes part of Canada, France will take a hand in Canadian politics." These were the words of a French official as we looked from the heights of Cap a l'Aigle upon the south shore of Newfoundland twelve miles away. What he meant was that with absolute sovereignty of this Miquelon archipelago, and with something akin to exclusive territorial jurisdiction from Cape Ray all along the west shore of Newfoundland-the shore near est to Quebec-to Belle Isle, and from Belle Isle down to the east shore as far as Cape St. John, France, when Newfoundland enters the Dominion, will exercise a perceptible influence upon French Canada.

"It is the most natural thing in the world that she should. She controls 800 of the 2,000 miles of Newfoundland seaboard, and will continue to control it in the Confederation, while here at St. Pierre she has 6,000 resident subjects and 8,000 birds of passage who come to fish in the spring and return in the fall to St. Malo, a place enshrined in every French-Canadian heart. French vessels of war patrol the west shore and will continue to do so. The liveliest friendship and affection exists between the French settlers on the west shore and the French-Canadians of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and will not be diminished when they are united poli-The other day twenty families from Matane came to the west shore to work in the French lobster factories. The French Government is taking settlers from Miquelon and planting them there. As inshore fishermen they have a share of the bounties. Here on these French islands there is a strong desire to see Newfoundland joined to the Dominion. First of all, it is felt that the impregnable position of France in the west shore controversy will be strengthened by the sympathy and support of the French-Canadians. Secondly, the Miquelon people would rather see Newfoundland belong to a community like Canada that is 40 per cent French than to remain in the hands of the English merchants of St. Johns and Harbor Grace, with whom they have always been at odds. To tell the truth, in their eyes it will be a step towards the rehabilitation of France as a power in North America. You and I may smile at the notion, but the Frenchman, even the French fisherman, has a soul full of poetry about his race, its traditions, aspirations and possibilities.

"It is interesting to watch with what a fervor of enthusiasm the crew of a French - Canadian fishing schooner greets the sight of the tricolor on one of the handsome French warships, white from stem to stern as she sweeps past on her way to guard French interests on the west shore. 'It will be a still more interesting spectacle, says my official friend, 'to watch these same ships performing that duty amid the acclaim of 2,000,000 French speaking Canadians when Newfoundland belongs to Canada.' It certainly will.

THE RIGHTS OF FRANCE. imagine that France can be induced to relinquish her treaty rights on the west shore or surrender the Miquelon Islands. Ever since the controversy broke out Britain has urged Newfoundlanders to respect those rights. In 1890 (see British Blue Book C-6,334, North America) the Chamber of Commerce at St. Johns met and resolved that "the orders received and enforced by the British payal of and enforced by the British naval officers, while operating grievously against Newfoundland fishermen, powerfully aid the officers of the French fleet in giving effect to the misinterpretation of existing treaties"—but nothing came of the protest. The Annual Register says in its political section, England cannot afford to increase the friction existing between herself and France over the British occupation of Egypt by raising the question of the French occupation of the west shore, and the NEWFOUNDLAND'S TROUBLES. Newfoundland has a grievance in the sthate of things existing on these island. Britain ceded them to France, as the treaty reads, "for the purpose of serving as a real sheater to the French fishermen," or, as the French text has it, "de servir reellement d'abri aux pechours"; and the French King promised his "constant attention to prevent the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon from becoming an object of jealously between the two nations." But, as Mr. Harvey has pointed out to But, as Mr. Harvey has pointed out to England, the one special purpose for which the islands were given and accepted has become in course of time a minor one. They are a place of shelter still, but for many years they have been vastly more than that—the headquarters of the French fishery on the banks now fed by bounties which put Newfoundland fish at a disadvantage in the markets of both hemispheres. They are also the headquarters of an enormous smuggling trade carried on with Newfoundland and Canada, and in order to protect this traffic a British consul is not allowed on the islands. Lastly, they are a rendezvous and outfitting base for the French men-of-war, which see that things on une west shore are regulated according to what Sir James Winter and Messrs. Morine and Scott called in a state paper "French whims.' When Newfoundland joins Canada Canada will have her hands full with the smuggling business alone.

All this is aggravating, of course, to Newfoundland, and will, at least, be equally exasperating to the Dominion, but there is no help for it. I need not go over the story of the old treaties. As Lord Sallsbury said in Positions As Lord Salisbury said in Parliament, Newfoundland is the "sport of historic errors," the victim of Lord Bolingbroke's blundering or excessive good nature, but apparently there is no way out of the muddle. The French yellow books are eloquent on this point. The French Government has declared over and over again that it cannot afford to withdraw from the west shore or part with St. Pierre or yield any portion of its rights, for compensation or otherwise, and there can be no doubt that it is sincere. It has rejected offers of compensation and stuck to this text

WHY FRANCE WON'T LET GO. Newfoundland says it is "pure cussedness," that France wants simply to worry England, but this is rather an unfriendly interpretation. Most important interpretation was in Errore. tant interests have grown up in France in connection with these fisheries French fishermen have been coming to Newfoundland the banks for three centuries or more, and a considerable proortion of the population of her board facing the Atlantic is dependent one way or another upon the industry. As I have said, from five to nine thouand men and boys, with from three to five hundred fishing vessels, freight vessels, tramp steamers and what not, come here in the spring and go back in the autumn. The volume of trade done at St. Pierre in drying cod, preparing herring and supplying the Bank fleet is very considerable. Times are hard just now, and business with Newfoundland has suffered from the new French tariff, applied with modifications in 1893. A few years ago, however, the exports and imports came to nearly $5,000,000 annually. In proportion to populatiin, this was far and away greater than the foreign trade of Newfoundland or any province in the Dominion. It is quite true that the cod has nearly forsaken the west shore, but the salmon and herring fisheries are valuable, and the French lobster factories, though few in number as yet. promise well. If they should get bounties, and they expect to, they will prove keen competitors with those in Canada and the United States, for, as everyone knows, the French are unexcelled in the art of canning products. The French Government says that to give up its foothold in North American waters would be to pauperize many thousands of its people and wipe out a great deal of capital. The cod roes obtained here are used as bait in the valuable sardine fisheries at home. Cod liver oil is another product that gives employment to French labor. Moreover, the fleet is recruited largely from the Bank fishermen. Bounties are paid to both vessels and to catch when sold on the express ground that the fishery is a training school for the navy.

POSITION OF NEWFOUNDLAND. No one can visit Newfoundland without lamenting the existence of the French imperium in imperio on the west shore, the hardship to Newfoundland fishermen in having to compete with French bounty fed fish—a cent and a half a pound on dry cod sold on this continent—caught at their own door, and the injury done to the revenue and trade of the colony by those who buy cheap liquors, tobacco, drugs, etc., at St. Pierre and then run them across to Lamaline and all parts of Fortune Bay and Placentia without paying duty. There is no reciprocity in this contraband traffic. St. Pierre is the only harbor in the Miquelon Islands where a steamer can land. Small boats could land on the little Miquelon, but out-posts of the "gendarmerie coloniale" are stationed there as well as on the un-inhabited Great Miquelon and on Dog Island in St. Pierre harbor. They get firewood, poles for fencing, spruce for beer, poultry, cattle and bait from Newfoundland and in the regular way, but Newfoundland fish and all other foreign fish are prohibited, and the customs laws in general are enforced with much vigor. Not long since a schooner from Rose Blanche owned by Mr. Draddy, of Placentia Bay, ran into St. Pierre for shelter. The crew in ignorance undertook to sell some cod roes, where-upon the vessel was seized and the cargo or codfish confiscated. All this, I repeat, is annoying, but the question is what under the circumstances can be done about it now or when Newfoundland is part of the Do-minion? It is no use for some flery young Canadian to say that it will be necessary to expel France, bag and baggage, from the west shore and from St Pierre. She was here by solemn treaty right. No one ought to blame England. As an honorable nation, she has to see that her covenants are observed and her obligations fulfilled. She cannot go round the world with a chip on her shoulder demanding redress for every grievance at the point of the bayonet.

"Yes, we arraign her! but she The weary Titan, with deaf Ears, and labor-dimmed eyes, Regarding neither to right Nor left, goes passively by, Staggering on to her goal; Bearing on shoulders immense Atlantean, the load Well-nigh not to be borne Of the too vast orb of her fate."

So says one of her modern poets. It is also well to remember that she is no longer ruled by a militant aristocracy, but by an industrial democracy, the products of whose labor certain British colonies tax most unmercifully. The "historic errors" are to blame. Historic errors have deprived Canada of invaluable seaboards and vast inland possessions, but, as in this case, what cannot be cured must be endured.

THAT ACHING HEAD.

What Causes it and How Overcome. How often the remark, "Oh, my head aches," and there are many varieties of aches and pains the head is subject to all along the line, from the dull and heavy and oppressed feeling over the eyes, to the persistent, racking and torturing misery of sick headache. The cause is in most cases the same, the overflow of poisonous uric acid is not extracted from the blood by the kidneys, and accumulating in the blood, cause high and irregular pulse, headaches, mental depression and nausea. Chase's K. and L. Pills tone and restore the kidneys, excrete poisonous matter from the blood, sending it on its way pure and health-giving, curing head-ache, and removing all the attending symptoms from its wake. Mrs. G. Bird, Harriston, Ont., while attending the 1894 fall exhibition at Toronto, was taken very ill with sick headache and dizziness. She was subject to these attacks for years, compelling her to take to her bed. In this case by using Chase's Pills relief was immediately obtained, and the usual days of misery and pros-tration avoided. Thousands of such cases can be referred to where Chase's Pills have cured sick headache and its attendant symptoms. 25 cents a box. SUNDAY STREET CARS.

A Protest Against Local Option in This Matter-Petitions To Be Circulated.

The members of the Lord's Day Alliance of this city and some of the local clergymen are moving to induce the Ontario Government to disallow the proposal contained in Hon. Mr. Bronson's bill now before the Legislature referring the question of Sunday traffic on radial railways to the muniposed legislation. The reasons urged against local option being granted in this case are:

"That we regard the public observance of the Lord's Day as essential to the moral and physical and mental well being of the community, and any interference with the sancity, quiet and order of the day as inimical to the best interests of the public.

"We regard, with grave apprehension, the reference of this question to the popular vote of the various municipalities concerned, inasmuch as the monetary interests of corporations often become a powerful factor in determining the popular vote, and the introduction of such a clause as is proposed would involve frequent agitation and disturbance in the municipalities affected |

"We recognize the right of all citizens to the rest and quiet observance of the Lord's Day, and any interference with these rights by legislative or local option action is a matter to be deeply deplored, and we humbly, yet most earnestly pray that the Ontario Legislature may include such a clause in the proposed bill as will finally settle this question, and not leave it to local and periodical agitation."

tion).

THE LONDONS' ANNUAL MEETING In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of wheels, and it is not surprising that the annual meeting last night of the London Bicycle Club in the handsome and commodious rooms on Dundas street was largely attended and very enthusiastic. President Carroll occupied the chair.

The following officers were elected: President-Dr. Balfour (acclamation). Vice-President-H. C. McBride. The contest in this lay between Mr. McBride and Mr. James Ferguson. Secretary-Treasurer—B. W. Glover, e-elected, by acclamation. Captain-Fred Beltz (acclamation). First Lieutenant-Alex. Johnston (ac-

Reporter—J. R. Miller (acclamation). House Committee—James Colerick, Bert Screaton, Sam. Stevely, O. B. Leslie, E. White and J. Belton. Racing Board—C. White, Dr. Balfour, George Macbeth, Fred Scandrett and

James Belton. There was a keen concipalities concerned. A petition will be test in this, nine nominations being circulated in the churches on Sunday next made. Great regret was felt at the for signatures protesting against the profrom the board of which he was an invaluable member. Mr. McCormick explained that business pressure would not allow him to devote the necessary time to the board duties.

Dr. Balfour, James McCormick and B. W. Glover will represent the club at the C. W. A. convention in Toronto on April 12. Dr. Balfour is a candidate for the vice-presidency.

Brief speeches were made by most of the officers elect. The new captain was warmly received, and announced a club run next Wednesday night-weather permitting-if not, a social evening at the club house.

The annual report of the popular secretary-treasurer showed the receipts for the year to have been $1,197 38, and the disbursements $1,179 91, leaving a balance of $17 47. Of the receipts $217 29 came from the race meet and $421 from membership fees. The club's assets are $722 17, and deducting its liabilities its present worth is $612 75, a splendid showing, considering the heavy expense it has incurred in leasing new quarters and furnishing them so sumptuously.

The annual report of the racing board was presented by the chairman, Mr. James McCormick. It stated that during last season the club was represented at sixteen race meets, and its riders won 34 first prizes, 41 seconds and 19 thirds, an excellent showing, seeing that local racers have been sadly handicapped by the absence of a proper track.

The racing team entered in five meets and captured four valuable trophies. There were thirteen prizes offered in the Donly road races from St. Thomas to Port Stanley, of which London riders carried off ten, besides two time rethe exodus from the parishes below this city to the United States had again set in worse tel, St. Thomas, to the Fraser House, than ever. It is now learned that during in 28:50, and one from St. Thomas bridge last week no less than 110 families and 70 to the Fraser House in 24:13. Both of these were taken by Frank Radway, who also broke the St. John's record in 29:07 2-5, and the American 100-mile record. The Londons had charge of the great relay race in this division, and covered the routes under schedule

Captain McCormick's report stated that an average of 76 members had attended the two club runs under his command. He had been loyally supported by other officers.

The proposition to build a bicycle track at Queen's Park was enthusias-tically indersed and $500 subscribed on the spot. The track will be nearly half a mile around, the fair board objecting to an embankment across the present hollow inside the horse ring. This will make the London track the finest in Canada, it is expected.

A committee was appointed to secure samples of cloth for club uniforms. At the conclusion votes of thanks were tendered the retiring officers and duly acknowledged. Several new members were added to the already large list, and prospects for a boom are very

A Noteworthy Speech by the Canadian Statesman.

The Future of Ireland Outlined in an Address at the Scottish Capital.

A week or two ago the cable chronicled the fact that Hon. Edward Blake was suffering from the fashionable complain of la grippe. When he appeared at Edinburgh, on St. Patrick's night, however, it was shown he had regained his health and was in splendid condition. The celebration took the form of a concert of national music, with an address by Mr. Blake, in the Music Hall, Edinburgh. The honorable gentleman, who was received with cheers, said there were days in the former history of Ireland in which her sons throughout the world celebrated the national anniversary with song and speech, mainly and of necessity devoted to a record of the glories and the tragedies of the past, to an effort to stimuiate and animate the national spirit in the long period of apparent eclipse of the national cause. Today, however, those who spoke on the anniversary had work to do of a more practical character, because the position of the cause had changed, and changed infinitely for the better. Though they might never forget the past, yet their duty was with the present. There was no possibility of success for Ireland if hel sons at home or abroad did not realize that the essential condition of that suc-cess was that they should stand to-

FATE OF IRELAND. They were at this moment in the midst of a critical and arouous session, to be followed, if all went well, by a tremendous electoral contest at no distant date; yet their system of Parliamentary representation was so crude in its machinery that no man could foretell that even a popular majority of considerable magnitude might secure return of the same complexion or of the same proportion to Parliament. He was glad to know that the fate of Ireland did not depend upon the result of any single election.

The fate of Ireland depended upon one thing only-upon the continued enthusiasm, unity and determination of the Irish at home and acroad. The pledge of their success was the unity and discipline of the Irish Parliamentary party, which was the exponent of their views. It was absolutely essential that they should in their special conditions continue to be bound by obligations more stringent than those which ordinarily prevated in political parties, that their pledge of unity should be rigorously maintained. The spirit of that pledge demanded of him if he chose, with reference to any course agreed to or declined by the Irish Parliamentary party, not to resign his seat and so eschew the responsibility of it. He accepted that responsibility, whatever his individual opinion, and that he, as a member of the party, was not entitled to weaken the hands of the party by saying a word outside against the decision to which they had arrived. Thus only could the 70, who ought to be 80 or 85, and who, he trusted, would approximate 80 at no distant date, exert over the conduct of analrs in the Imperial Parliament, which was essential to the progress of their cause.

REDMONDISM WANING. Redmondism was, he believed, wan-ng fast in Ireland, because the course and conduct of the leaders and representatives of that party in late days had been such as to render it extreme ly difficult to speak of it in terms other than of indignation and of the strongest rebuke. He could not see how there could be any hope for Redmondism, unless it were the hope of its continued existence in a very dwindling condition, if they were fools enough to play into its hands by dis-union and quar-reling among themselves.

He did not come as an apologist for the Irish Parliamentary party. He be lieved it had done its duty by the coun try and by its supporters. Upon all the great questions of public policy with which they had to deal there had been, so far as he knew, practical unanimity in their ranks, and he believed there had been a practically unanimous acceptance of their decisions by those with whose representation they were intrusted. The measures which the Government were proposing had all good democratic objects, calculated to strengthen the great force upon which they relied, and they were, therefore, interested in the successful prosecution of them NO MORE HOME RULE BILLS. It was absurd to say that the Irish people should not be satisfied with the fact that their Home Rule Bill, after six months of most screnuous exertion. had been passed through the House of Commons, and that there had been repeated declarations in the country and at the opening of Parliament by the leaders of the Government in both Houses, that Home Rule was to remain a primary policy of the Liberal party. He indorsed Lord Ripon's statement that it would be a criminal waste of time to introduce another Home Rule Bill now. It would do no possible good because they knew as well as if the vent had happened what the fate of the bill would be, and it would take up the whole of that time, all too scant, which would enable them to attempt those other measures which were of such great importance.

Mr. Blake spoke of the recent visit of Irish Unionist delegates to this country, and addressed himself to controverting certain of the statements and arguments they advanced in opposition to Home Rule. He strove, in particular, to show in effect what Unionists were contending for was the maintenance of the religious ascendancy which Protestants had established even in districts of Ireland where they were an obvious minority of the population. Taking the counties of Donegal, Waterford, Tipperary, Kerry and Sligo, he affirmed among other things, that while the aggregate population of these was in pro portion of 660,000 Catnolics to 73,000 Protestants, the aggregate grand juries of the five counties were composed of 114

Protestants and only two Catholics.
WOULDN'T BE TOLERATED. He had told many an English audi ence that they would not stand for 24 hours in their counties the state of things they were now forcing upon the Irish people in their counties. When it was said that what the frish Roman Catholic priests really wanted was an opportunity to endow and establish the Roman Catholic Church, he, as a Protestant, declared that there was no greater example in the history of the world of the capacity of a church to stand without endowment, without establishment, as the church of the poor, kept impoverished to assist the church of the rich, than the Roman Catholic Church of Ireland, and there were no people within his knowledge who were more tolerant, who were more disposed to ignore religious distinctions in secular affairs than the people who belonged to that church in Ireland.

In conclusion, Mr. Blake, in effect, adin conclusion, and blake, in effect, advised his audience that the duty of Irishmen was to preserve their independence, their organization, their freedom of action to the full, and work in alliance with the Liberal party so long as it continued in its present course of keeping home rule as a prominent fea-ture of its policy, and until the day was won and they could congratulate themselves on the restoration of the rights of their country.

What Interlining will Stand Such Usage as this except Fibre Chamois

A hadsome puff sleeve, if supported by Fibre Chamois, may be twisted and wrung like a wet cloth and then, with a light shake only, will stand out as stylish and graceful as ever. Some materials may not stand this but the lining always will—and that is harder usage than a gown will get in

It has a Soft Smooth Finish and will not wear the finest fabric. At all the leading stores—in three weights, 64 inches wide, 35c per yard. Every yard of the Genuine Fibre Chamois is Labeled. Beware of inferior imitations.

CHICAGO. April 4.—The cattle trade was rather discouraging today, buyers being satisfied with small purchases. Receipts were light, but prices showed no improvement. There was a poor shipping demand for hogs and as packers had no competition they found little difficulty in putting prices 5c to 10c lower. Buyers of sheep were fairly well loaded up, and although the supply was light, prices were '10c lower on account of the slow trade.

SENT TO BARRIE.

John Jackson Will be Taken There for Trial.

The Magistrate Finds the Charges of Stealing Sustained-Bail Fixed at $200.

The police magistrate spent considerably over two hours this morning listening to the evidence in the case of the Queen against John Jackson, who is charged with stealing $305 from the Dominion Government while he occupied the position of fishery inspector at Midland. The prisoner was defended by Ed. Meredith, city, and Lawyer Denton, of Toronto. Mr. Fisher prosecuted. The witnesses were only two in number, and both for the prosecution. One was Mr. F. Gourdeon, chief clerk of the Fishery Department, Ottawa, and the other was W. E. Gladstone-not the Gladstone of home rule and wood-chopping fame, but Watkin E. Gladstone, who is postmaster at Midland, Ont. Government Detective O'Reilley was also present. Mr. Gourdeau detailed the relations of Jackson with the Government, from the date of his connection in 1892 until the spring of 1894. As fishery inspector his duty was to collect the license fees paid by fishermen and remit the same to the Government monthly. His salary was $1 50 a year and traveling expenses. Mr. Fisher submitted ten receipts given by Jackson to fishermen for $5 licenses, which the Government claimed was part of the money which Jackson failed to turn

Then Mr. Gladstone took the stand and told of remitting various sums by money order and express to Jackson, who never sent him any receipt. The fishermen paid the money to Gladstone to forward to Jackson.

The defense claimed that there was no felonious intent, and that the prisoner claimed that the Government owed him $130 65. It was simply a dispute as to amounts due, the lawyers said, and could not be held as stealing. If it was stealing the Government would have prosecuted at once, instead of waiting and writing to Jackson, and stating that if he settled there would be no criminal prosecution.

Magistrate Parke held that the charge was sustained, and gave orders that Jackson should be taken to Barrie for trial. Bail was fixed at $400, in two sureties of

Permission Granted to Construct an Electric Railway to the Waterworks

By the Railway Committee of the Legislature-Certain Conditions.

(Special to the "Advertiser." PARLIAMENT HOUSE, TORONTO, April 5 .- The London and Springbank Railway Bill came up at a late stage of the proceedings of the railwry committee today the Canadian Pacific steamer Manitoba and was passed after numerous amendments had been added. Its very name has disappeared. It is now "An Act Respecting the London Street Railway" and it authorizes the London Railway Company to run its line out to Springbank.

Mr. Meredith secured a number of amendments to the bill in the interests of the city. One was that the line must not run along The many friends of Dr. Hugh A. the Westminster Pipe Line Road without Stevenson, of this city, a graduate of the consent of the city, nor must it connect the Westminster Pipe Line Road without the Western University Medical De- with the plant of the waterworks without partment, will be glad to hear of additional honors won by him at Trinity missioners, and it must remove such conmissioners, and it must remove such connection on being directed, so that electrolysis will be guarded against. The hotel, which it is proposed to start at Springbank, must be temperance, and no city property can be used for the bridge without the consent of the city and the water commissioners, and it must not impede navigation. With these Collegiate Institute receives a fixed changes the bill passed, the arrangement half-yearly grant from the county of being on the whole amicable. Mr. Hellmuth appeared for the company and Mr. Meredith for the city.

> Bayley's Millinery Opening is the Attraction-Under Excellent Supervision and Contains the Best of Everything.

An old saying is to the effect that all men and women have to start business in the world at the bottom of the ladder to acquire genuine success. It has invariably proved to be true, and especially in the case of one London merchant.

Seven years ago 1st of March last a drygoods establishment was opened at 172 Dundas street by C. H. Bayley. That business has on its merits steadily increased, until this spring the only course open to Mr. Bayley was to secure larger premises. His method of meeting the public wants grew in popularity, and he decided to lease No. 174, the adjoining store, and amalgamate it with No. 172. This entailed much inconvehnience and a large outlay of hard cash, but Mr. Bayley carried out his intentions. Now he has undoubtedly one of the finest stores in Canada, which At the residence of Mr. J. C. Judd is attracting the attention of London's (water commissioner), Ridout street south. This department was introduced with the enlargement of the premises. It is in full swing, and is under the supervision of Miss Simpson. Miss Simpson was brought from Philadelphia, where she was associated with Strawbridge & Clothier, one of the largest (if not the largest) firms in the Quaker City. She has had a wide experience in the millinery work, and possesses much originality, which is absolutely necessary to insure success. The department at Bayley's is well stocked, and the English, French and American markets are abundantly represented. Flowers are there in plenty, and bonnets and hats are everywhere. The leaders this year will be the Dutch bonnet, the Napoleon, Trilby, Gaiety Girl, and Star. To add to their beauty, all the latest novelties and ribbons are used. Dressmaking also plays an important part at Bayley's, and the ladies in charge of the department are lately from Cleveland. Bayley is after the trade this season, and he is being well rewarded for his enterprise.

A TERRIBLE TUMBLE.

Explosion and Collapse in New Orleans-

Fourteen People Killed. NEW ORLEANS, La., April 5 .-Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning an explosion took place in a ship chandlery establishment run by Charles Salatta. The store was located in a threestory building, which was entirely destroyed. Salatta, with his wife, one child, three servants and a clerk, were caught by the falling walls and killed. A saloon run by Emile Bouet, situated next door, was crushed by the tumbling ruins, and some five or six fishermen, who were sleeping upstairs, are supposed to have been killed. A late estimate of the killed places the number

OSCAR WILDE IS GUILTY.

LONDON, April 5.—The case of Oscar Wilde against the Marquis of Queensberry for libel was brought to a close this morning by a verdict for defendant. The jury found not only that the defendant was not guilty of libel, but in a subsidiary verdict declared that the Marquis of Queensberry's charges were true and had been made for the public good. The witnesses for the marquis were not even called. When the verdict was rendered the Marquis of Queensberry left the dock amid loud cheers. The judge granted an order requiring Wilde to pay the costs of the defense. Mr. Wilde was not in court this morning. The Westminster Gazette says: Mr. Wilde hurriedly left the building during Sir Edward Clarke's statement. A warrant for his arrest has not yet been applied for.

the Holborne Hotel, where he was joined afterwards by Lord Alfred Douglas and companion. The three took lunch-eon together. The Evening News has received the following letter from Oscar "It would have been impossible for me to have proved my case without putting Lord Alfred Douglas in the witness box against his father. He was extremely anxious to go in the witness box, but I would not et him. Rather than put him in so painful a position I determined to withdraw from the case and bear upon my own shoulders whatever ignominy and shame might result from the persecution of the Marquis of Queensberry. The poor child was dimly thankful to be left alone at last in the great chamber which Mrs. Sinclair had assigned to her. She threw herself on the bed and wept, as only young creatures can weep in the hour of trial—with an utter hopelessness and despair of the future, than which, we learn in later years, nothing can be more futile. Stella believed that she could never be happy again. Her misfortunes seemed more than she knew how to bear. Her father's death -so painful in its concomitant circumstances—the loss of her fortune, the desertion of her lover-these were troubles indeed. And what made it worse was her recollection of the trust that she had bestowed on John Hannington; the tender words that she had lavished, the offer to wait for him-oh, the shame of it!-when he had not wanted to wait for her; the absence of reserve and caution, which, in her singlehearted acceptance of his apparent homage, she had never thought of maintaining. It occurred to her now that she had been much too ready to listen to him, that she had been too easily won to gain his esteem; and she resolved, in bitterness of spirit, that no one should ever again have reason to accuse her of over-eagerness to listen to a lover. She would live and die single and heart-broken; she would earn an income for Aunt Jacky, and do her duty to the world, but the joys of life could never come to her. She saw herself, in imagination, growing old and gay, not cheerful, like dear Aunt Jacky, be stiff and rigid and unresponsive, and she sickened at the thought. Thirty, forty, fifty years of it, perhaps. Oh, if she could but die at once, and hide her sorrow and her mortification in the grave!

She was sufficiently prostrate next day to be unable to rise, and the doctor who was ment for talked about a severe nervous shock and the advisability of keep ng her quiet. Stella turned her face to the wall, and hoped and longed that she was going to die. Surely she could not go on living with the cold hand of despair upon her heart?

But youth is strong, and life is sweet in spite of passionate asseverations to the contrary. In a few days Stella was downstairs-out on the lawn-walking feebly at and then she recognized the fact that she was not going to die but to live, and that, in spite of the pain at her heart, she must begin to look for her work in life.

She did not think of answering John Hannington's letter. She burned it one day in a paroxysm of grief and shame, and never thought of wondering whether or no he had destroyed those loving letters which he had fore! I would not have come this way if I had from her. An older woman, of more had known she was here. Mrs. experience, would perhaps have written to demand their restoration. The mere remembrance of them brought a scorching flood of crimson to poor Stella's cheek and brow; she certainly could not have borne to allude to them again. She wished the remembrance of them to be entirely blotted out; and she never imagined that Hannington might not be quite as anxious as she was to obliterate all traces of her first foolish dream of love. Stella's letters made very pretty reading, in Hannington's opinion; and now that he had shown her the facts of her position, he had no idea of depriving himself of the gratifica-tion which her expressions of devotion might some day afford him.

When Stella grew strogenr she began to take long walks, and as neither Mrs. Sinclair nor Aunt Jacky was strong enough to accompany her, she generally took them alone. As the autumn advanced she began to make some silent preparations for her future work. She inserted an advertisement in the local papers, and put an announcement in the windows of various shops to the effect that a lady wished to give daily lessons in French and German (acquired abroad), English, music, and singing. It was a modest little advertisement, and seemed to attract no attention from anybody. But Stella was not dismayed. She made inquiries about lodgings in Birnam and Dunkeld, and consulted the clergymen of the neighborhood about her chances of success. One and all asked her the same question—why had she fixed upon Dunkeld as a place in which to start her career? When the visitors left it in the autumn there was not the least chance for anybody, without very special qualifications indeed, to find pupils.

"I suppose that I must go to Glasgow or Edinburgh,' Stella reflected, sorrowfully. "I thought Aunt Jacky would like Dunkeld better, that was all. And also, perhaps, that Mrs. Sinclair could find me something. But she seems to know nobody."

It was in October when she came to this conclusion. She set out one afternoon for a long ramble-a longer one, indeed, than her annt or her friends would have thought advisable; but she was a good walker. She was accompanied by a splendid collie dog which belonged Mr. Sinclair, but had attached himself almost exclusively to Stella since the beginning of her visit. She passed through Dunkeld and turned up the road which ran past the village of Inver towards the Rumbling Bridge and the Hermitage Falls. It was her favorite walk, and she had plenty of time before her. The Braan would be especially fine on a day like this, for the previous two nights had brought heavy rain, and the stream would be "in spate," a sight which Stella had heard of, express a wish for some specimen of a tern, which grows freely on the banks of the

She had got well up the hill, and was standing to look once more at the view-the little tributory stream with the village on its banks in the valley below her, and, further on, the towers of Dunkeld, with the ever varying background of hill and forest, and the canopy of a brilliant yet changeable autumn sky-when she was roused from her dreamy mood by the sound of horses' feet on the road. She could not see the riders, because the road turned sharply at a little distance above the spot where she was stand-ing; but the sound told her that several equestrians were advancing, and she did not care to be overtaken in the attitude of a tourist or a landscape painter, as she phrased it to herself, gazing at the scenery with abstracted eyes—an incarnate note of admiration! She called Laddie to heel, and walked on soberly in a purposeful and business like way.

A party of some half-dozen riders came down the road. At the first two or three Stella did not even glance; but as the fourth passed, she became conscious that the gentleman made a quick movement as if to raise his hat, and then refrained, seeing that she either did not see him or did not mean to look at him. Stella had just time to bow to Donald Vereker. She looked instinctively at the next couple; and then the color flashed into her pale face. It was John Hannington and a lady—a very handsome women, by the bye, with a good deal of color, and very black hair and eyes.

Hannington did an extremely foolish thing. He did not often lose his self-control, but for a moment he certainly lost it now. Without waiting for Stella to bow first, he impulsively raised his hat. In spite of the hot, tell-tale color in her face, however, Stella had spirit enough not to return the salutation. She looked him steadily in the face and passed him by. Hannington's dark face grew purple with rage and shame.

"The cut direct!" said his companion, no other than Lady Val, who never, spared him when she got an opportunity of lashing him with her tongue. 'What does this mean, Jack? Did not that uncommonly pretty. girl recognise you, or does she mean to decline your acquaintance?"

"I'm sure I don't know," said Hannington, giving a savage cut to his horse's flank. "I suppose she does not remember me; or perhaps I am mistaken in her face."

"Impossible, with such a startlingly pretty one," said Lady Val. She turned round and glanced after Stella. "Very graceful, too. Distinguished-looking. Who

"Oh, I must have been mistaken. I thought it was a young lady I once traveled with from London; but she would have known me, I think."

"There is not much question as to whether that girl knew you. There was recognition in her eye, Mr. Jack, and a fine determination to have nothing more to do with your Donald" — spurring forward to her cousin's side—"who was that girl in black who bowed to you just now?"

"Why, Miss Raeburn," said Donald, unsuspiciously. "The girl whom we met at Balmerino, don't you know,—the very day of her father's suicide. She's lost all her money, and has left Dundee—I didn't know she was in this part of the world."

"Oh," said Lady Val. She shut her lips rather tightly, and kept a thoughtful silence first, and then with growing vigour, along for some minutes, then joined her friends in the shady lanes and over the heatnery hills: front. Hannington was left in the rear, face.

"Confound the girl!" he said to himself. "I'd sooner that had happened before anybody rather than Val Gilderoy. She does badger one so, and she is so abominably sharp. What a fool I was not to pass her Muir certainly told me that she had left Dunkeld. And really I should never have thought that Stella would show so much spirit! But it was deuced awkward for me, and I owe her a grudge for it. So look out, Miss Stella Raeburn; for if I can do you a bad turn by way of paying you out one of these days, I shall do it. I generally do pay my debts in that line; and I swear I'll make you apologize or smart for it. You forget that I've got those pretty letters of yours at home.

I'll keep them now." (To be Continued.)

Rheumatism Cured, Rhoumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood attacking the fibrous tissues of the joints. Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. There was $101,400 worth of building in Stratford in 1894, but improvements will not be so extensive this year. The late Wm. Peers, of Woodstock, left a legacy of a 107-acre farm near Beachville, to Old St. Paul's Church. The revenue derived from its rental will be about $300 per year.

Mrs. Young, mother of Mr. Young, of Young & Kenter, Princeton, took a paralytic stroke, the other day and never spoke, but passed peacefully away. She was a highly respected old resident.

One of the oldest, if not actually the most aged resident of Tiverton, recently passed away, namely Mrs. Mary Dearmid, aged 99 years. Mrs. Mc-McDearmid, relict of the late Hugh Mc-Dearmid, was one of the earliest settlers of Bruce, and lived on the second concession, on the farm on which she died, for over 40 years.

Mrs. Wieland, a woman having five children, appeared before Judge Lacourse at Berlin on Wednesday on a charge of having attempted to commit suicide. A number of charitable women tried to induce her to go to the House of Industry, when she drew a razor and threatened to kill herself. She said she was only fooling. She was discharged.

The farm of 150 acres near Exeter, belonging to Mr. John Willis, has been sold under mortgage to Mr. Wm. Penhale, of Stephen, for $9,330. Mr. Willis hale, of Stephen, for $9,330. Mr. Willis also sold privately the 33 acres facing the London road to John Treble, for $2,000. This property is well situated and adjacent to the village. Some years ago Mr. Willis was the happy possessor of this fine farm, but through backsor of this fine farm, but through backing notes for dishonorable persons, he lost heavily.

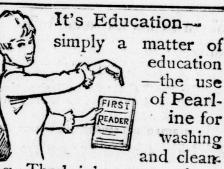

Frank Sexsmith, living on the gravel rood, Huron township, a short distance from Kincardine, cut his throat with a razor on Saturday in the presence of his wife and family. Although losing much blood, he may recover. On reaching home, he discussed with his reaching home, he discussed with his wife a lawsuit in which he was interested, and being of opinion that it might turn out unfavorable, he remarked that he would end the affair. He then committed the rash deed.

In some shipping cases returned from Parry Sound, the employes of Messrs.
W. Paterson & Son, Brantford, found a large Canadian eagle, which had been killed there, and probably sent to Brantford to show what kind of birds they have in that section of the country. It has been viewed by many, and is said to be the largest eagle ever killed in this country. It measures 6 feet 4 inches from tip to tip of the wings, and from the beak to the tail over 4 feet. The beak is very heavy, and the claws long and sharp.

A very pretty house wedding took place on Wednesday evening at Bothwell at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Scott, when her daughter Jean was united in marriage to Mr. W. John Davidson, father of the groom, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and friends of both parties.

Miss Maud Davidon, sister of the oom, was the maid of honor, and wore biscuit crepon and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Scott, niece of the bride, was dressed in pale blue and carried a basket of white daisies. The bride was attired in white silk and carried a large cluster of bridal roses. Mr. P. Scott, of Toronto, supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left on the 9:25 train for Stratford, followed by the kind wishes of their many Bothwell friends.

The returns of the county jail, as compiled by the governor, Mr. Patrick Kelly, show that during the quarter ending March 31, 122 persons were committed. The aggregate number of days spent in prison by these was window. McCully & Trompour, photonumber of days spent in prison by these was 2,207. The amount of supplies purchased including meat, potatoes, etc.—was \$97 45, but the cost of the supplies consumed was only \$95 93. Thus the average cost of keeping a prisoner for a day was $4\frac{1}{2}$ cents. This is still lower than for any quarter last year, the decrease being caused by the reduced figures at which supplies have been contracted for. A CHARMING CONCERT.

The enterprising Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church held a concert last evening in the lecture room of that church. It was well attended, and the various numbers were well rendered and much appreciated. Mr. J. T. Dalton was one of the chief attractions, singing "The Fatal Wed-ding," being accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Holman, and the applause which greeted them showed that these old-time favorites are as popular as ever. Miss Raymond was also well received. The other selections were all up to the mark, and the praise which was given at the close proved it to be one of the best of the season. The programme was spondent of the Mercantile and Financial Times of New York refers to Mr. Edgar T. Paul, a former well-known Londoner:

A lamentable case of mistaken rash judgment and persecution of an innocent and highly esteemed business man came to light in Justice Bradwell's court in this city a few days ago. On March 9, Justice Brad-well issued two warrants for the arrest of Edgar T. Paul, a prominent real estate dealer, on the charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and fraudulent sale of real estate. The warrants were sworn out by Herbert Schettler, who claims he had purchased two lots of Paul in Willmette in 1889, warranty deed for which was given by Paul and wife in March, 1893. Mr. Paul and Andrew O. Butler were in partnerhin in the ownership of and sale of a large subdivision in Willmette. When the matter was brought up the fact was established that the lots were in the name of Butler and Mr. Paul had forgotten to secure the necessary transfer by quit claim from his partner. In the time between the sale in 1889 and the final issuing of the deed in 1893, the matter had been entirely forgotten by Mr. Paul. As soon as the matter had been explained, Mr. Paul satisfied the complainant by giving him the necessary deed from Butler, his partner, and the charges were dismissed. Occurrences of this character are regretable, as they often inflict serious and farreaching injury on well meaning people. Mr. Edgar M. Paul is one of the most reputable and reliable real estate operators in the city. He bears an excellent character for honesty, firmnness and straightforwardness in business. He is a pleasant, affable gentleman to transact business with and has hosts of friends and admirers.
