The New Railway Board.

THE King government promised the consolidation of the various nationally-owned lines, and steps have been taken to implement that promise.

The sincerity of the government is shown in the way in which the personnel of the board of directors has been selected.

Help Will Come.

NORTHERN ONTARIO is today black, blistered and in the grip of disaster and death.

The big matter right now is that there are people up there who need help.

The people of the Dominion want to help. The heart of the Canadian people is sound in that respect.

Ontario wants people to go into the northern districts.

Those who have never experienced the touch of the forest fire can have no appreciation of what these people have passed through.

The heart of the Dominion goes out to Northern Ontario.

Not Seeking Office.

IN this country men seek office. In fact, they fight for it—make friends into enemies in their efforts to get there.

WITHDRAW 2 CAR FERRIES

C. P. R. Abandons Boats At Windsor, Preferring Tunnel Transportation.

Demands of Crews For Higher Wages Blamed For Change.

Special to London Advertiser. WINDSOR, Oct. 5.—The two big Canadian Pacific car ferries, Michigan and Ontario which, for nearly 30 years, have been in service transporting freight and passengers across the Detroit River here, have been permanently abandoned for the more modern method of tunnel transportation, it was learned here today.

The ferry owned by the Pere Marquette and which has a carrying capacity of 28 freight cars is now being used to move Canadian Pacific freight to and from the Michigan side, and has been put on continuous day and night run.

It is understood that this system will continue only until such time as arrangements can be made for handling all Canadian Pacific Railway business through the Michigan Central tunnel.

The placing of the two Canadian Pacific ferries in retirement throws perhaps 30 men out of employment, but some of them have been absorbed by the Pere Marquette.

Demands of men on the boats for an eight-hour day with an advanced scale of pay, had much to do, it is said, with the decision to give up operation of the two ferries.

Special to London Advertiser. WOODSTOCK, Oct. 5.—The special committee of the Ontario Legislature appointed to investigate the various acts respecting motor traffic in the province met a large number of citizens of Oxford County at a meeting held in the city hall this forenoon and heard many views expressed regarding the administration and enforcement of the motor vehicle act.

Hon. F. C. Biggs was in the party, and before attending the meeting he inspected the highway between Woodstock and Ingersoll. Fred Millman, president of the local Motor Club, presented a series of recommendations made by the club regarding the amendment of the laws respecting motor travel.

The chief of these recommendations was that horse-drawn vehicles be asked to carry lights.

The motor club officials were satisfied with the present speed limit, but favored the enforcement of a law requiring all car drivers to be examined and licensed. Mayor Paul advocated the amendment of the clauses of the act which set a definite mileage per hour as the speed limit, and wished to substitute for them a clause simply saying that the speed limit should be a reasonable one for the safety of the public.

A discussion centered on the proposal to have special parking lights placed on all cars. Following the meeting the meeting of the committee was continued at luncheon by the mayor and city council.

AUTUMN WEDDING PLEASING EVENT

Marriage of Popular Ashfield Couple Interests Numerous Friends.

LUCKNOW, Oct. 5.—An incident of more than passing interest to a very large circle of friends and acquaintances transpired today in the marriage of Miss Ida May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hackett of Ashfield, to Mr. John Ewart Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor of the same place. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, and was performed by Rev. A. C. Tiffin of Ryth, uncle of the groom, assisted by Rev. De Witt Cosens, pastor of the bride, Mrs. Drennan, sister of the bride, played the wedding march. During the signing of the register Mrs. De Witt Cosens sang "When True Love Is Thine," accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Tiffin.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin with overdress of silk embroidered lace. She wore the bridal veil, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The happy couple were attended save by the bride's little niece, Miss Lenore Stothers, who performed the part of flower girl in a most winsome manner. The gifts to the bride and groom were very choice.

After the wedding ceremony the bride and groom left on the afternoon train for Galt, Guelph and Toronto. On their return they will reside on the outskirts of Lucknow.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett have the proud distinction of both being born in Ashfield, where they still reside. They have a family of two sons and six daughters, the youngest of whom has now changed her name and place of abode. They were all married in the order of their age, and are all now residing in Ashfield within a half-hour's journey of their father's home. They were all present with their children at the wedding today, making a most interesting and unique gathering, even for an occasion of this kind.

ADJUST GRIEVANCES OF ST. THOMAS P. M. WORKERS

Special to London Advertiser. ST. THOMAS, Oct. 5.—The wage disputes in the shops of the Pere Marquette in Canada are practically settled, it was learned here Thursday. No further trouble is anticipated.

The reduced rates of pay, as awarded by the United States Railroad Labor Board in June last and sustained by the board of conciliation that investigated the shipmen's case as being fair and reasonable, were made effective on the local division from Sept. 15. C. Montgomery, the divisional master mechanic, reported, and the last fortnightly checks, which arrived a few days ago, were accepted by the employees. The dispute between the Canadian clerical employees and the company also appears to have been settled.

"Everything is lovely out here," declared Mr. Montgomery. "I haven't heard a word about any trouble for some time, and so far as I can find out, there isn't likely to be any either on this side of the United States."

WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH HIS LIQUOR?

Stratford Man in Quandary Because His Home Is Not Private Dwelling.

Special to London Advertiser. STRATFORD, Oct. 5.—What to do with some half-dozen bottles of good Canadian Club whiskey, his own property, is probably perplexing Ernest Sourbier today. A peculiar situation has arisen out of a local police court case in which Charles and Ernest Sourbier, Forman avenue, were charged with keeping liquor for sale.

Charles was convicted this morning and was fined $500 or three months in jail. On the other hand Ernest was dismissed, and is allowed to keep his liquor. Charles' liquor is, of course, confiscated.

There is a clause in the O. T. A. which states where an occupant or any member of the family, or any occupant of any private dwelling house is convicted in or respect of such house, the house ceases to be a private dwelling for one year within the meaning of this act.

Thus Ernest Sourbier is placed in the unique position that he cannot take his liquor from the police court back to his home (which is not a private dwellinghouse now, as far as the O. T. A. is concerned); he cannot sell it; he cannot give it away; and he cannot store it in his neighbor's house. John Murray, the lawyer who defended Sourbier said he intends to take the matter of disposal of the liquor up with the board of license commissioners of Ontario. It is expected that about thirty boys will enter in the Perth County

AMATEUR THESPIANS ORGANIZE AT SARNIA

SARNIA, Oct. 5.—The Sarnia Philharmonic Choral Society, which last year made a great impression in the county with its performance of the "Mikado," has decided to again take up Gilbert and Sullivan this season, and will present "The Yeomen of the Guard," commencing next week. The play will be staged in January.

The society has been reorganized with the following officers: President, A. Willis; vice-president, Norman E. Olds; secretary, A. L. Parsons; treasurer, E. R. Eacrett; pianist, Mrs. A. W. Willis; conductor, Miss Henrietta Jenkins; stage manager, Col. A. Rowland Davies; executive committee, the officers and I. B. Fleming, Miss Anna Boyington and T. Fox; auditors, Norman E. Olds and S. Woodrow; librarians, W. S. Thorn and Miss Nora Glynn.

BRANTFORD TO DISCUSS AID FOR FIRE SUFFERERS

Special to London Advertiser. BRANTFORD, Oct. 5.—It is expected that the city council will take some action to give material assistance to the unfortunate who are suffering from the forest fires in Northern Ontario. In discussing the matter, Mayor Parker stated that the matter was under consideration by the city council and that a definite decision would be arrived at during Monday night's session. "The news of the fire has come upon us so suddenly that we have had no time to give the matter our consideration, but I expect that some action will be taken to aid the suffering people." So commented his worship when asked about the matter.

A special meeting of the executive and members of the chamber of commerce has been called for tomorrow afternoon to discuss some means to aid the Northern Ontario fire sufferers. According to the reports, it is altogether likely that a subscription list will be started in order to send supplies to the fire-stricken regions. Last year as many as 2,000 grasshoppers were found in a square foot of soil in Southern Alberta.

I am willing to work around the house after school hours in return for my keep, and will help in every way I can. I do hope you can find a home for me, Miss Grey, as I do not want to lose any time at school, as it means so much. If any of your city readers would take me, would they write you, Miss Grey, for my address. Hoping that I will get good news soon, I am, A WILLING WORKER.

Will Be Able To Buy S. C. H. Post Cards. The Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. O. E., is to have the distinction of issuing the first War Memorial Children's Hospital post cards. This new enterprise was decided upon at Thursday's meeting, and Mrs. B. Hookway, Mrs. J. Ferguson, and Mrs. Roy Cunningham appointed a committee to look after the printing of the cards. Arrangements were also made for a bridge and euchre in the near future, under the joint convener-ship of Mrs. Gordon Edgecombe and Mrs. B. Elford. Mrs. Gordon Zavitz, who is leaving to make her home in Goderich, was showered with good wishes and presented with a letter of introduction to the order in Goderich. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. Ferguson, Forward avenue, and one of the pleasures of the afternoon was a stroll round the beautiful grounds, which command a magnificent view. Afternoon tea was served, with Mrs. O. I. Cunningham and Mrs. Zavitz performing the duties of tea hostesses.

DON'T KILL YOUR WIFE LET "COLONIAL MAID" WASHES BETTER Blue Bird ELECTRIC CLOTHES WASHER DO YOUR DIRTY WORK. No woman who is respected by her husband should be compelled to spend a whole day each week in the year occupied in the menial and unhealthy task of trying to wash her clothes clean with her bare hands, when electricity is available to do this for her better, quicker and at a trifling weekly cost. Think This Over, Mr. Man! Write today for our illustrated booklet "Out of Bondage" which tells you how to wash, and ask your dealer to give you a "Blue Bird" demonstration. He will gladly do so. BLUEBIRD CORPORATION, LTD. Brantford, Ont.

Fashions Forecast. The Popular Two-Material Dress. The new fashion mode certainly favors the woman who makes or makes over her own clothes, for the popular use of two materials, as in this style affords an excellent opportunity for the thrifty woman to make over her short sleeve frock which is worn in places not to use short lengths of material. For those who prefer, it may also be made of a single material. The skirt of the original model was made in a delightful shade of brown, called rosewood, silk crepe with the waist of printed crepe de chine. You could make this dress with no difficulty in about two afternoons and figuring material at $1.50 per yard, it would cost about $5.75. The pattern, No. 1534, cuts in sizes 16 years, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches, bust measure. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch plain material with 1 1/2 yards 36-inch plaid material with 1 1/2 yards 15c, stamps or coin (coin preferred).

PERSONALS Mrs. Ronald Harris, Eldon House, is visiting in Galt. Miss Ruth Little has returned to London after spending several weeks at her home in Galt. Mrs. John Stevenson, Elmwood avenue, goes to Toronto next week for a few days to visit with friends. Mrs. C. J. Miller and son Carl of Hamilton are guests of the former's sister, Mrs. A. Steel, Patricia street.

WAKELING—ORCHARD. A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, Siloam, by Rev. Mr. Love, when Mary Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orchard, Thornedale, was united in marriage to William J. Wakeling, London. The pretty bride looked charming in a gown of navy canton crepe, with a corsage of Ophelia roses. Many beautiful presents were received by the popular bride. The gift of the groom was a handsome club bag, and the office staff of the Northern Life, of which the bride was a member, gave her a shower, presenting her with four pieces of Community plate, Adam pattern, silver. The happy couple will reside in London.

REVINGTON—SIMPSON. A very pretty wedding took place in Christ Church, McGillivray, on Wednesday, Oct. 4, when Alma, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Simpson, became the bride of Mr. Wesley Revington, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Revington, Lucan. Rev. F. Whalen officiated. Mr. R. Neil presided at the organ, while Mr. Maurice Simpson acted as usher. The church was beautifully decorated with white asters, white wedding bells and autumn leaves. The young bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess satin, draped with radium lace. Her wedding veil of embroidered Brussels net, fell from a coronet of orange blossom. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies and Ophelia roses. The only bridal attendant was little Eva Revington, the groom's young sister, who was dressed in a frilly frock of white satin and carried a basket of Sweetheart roses. The church was decorated with the register Miss Aleina Patrick sang very sweetly, "For You Alone." After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where about sixty guests enjoyed a wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Revington left on their motor trip to Detroit, and on their return will live on Main street, Lucan, in their new home which is almost completed. The groom's gift to the bride was a beaver fur neckpiece, and to the ushers and organist, gold cuff links, the soloist a gold bar pin with pearls, and the flower girl a gold locket and chain. The bride traveled in a smart suit of navy tricotine, and black velvet hat, with paradise plumes and silver trimmings.

otherwise Janey Canuck, the widely-read Canadian writer, and equally famous as "Judge Emily Murphy," is to be a visitor in Toronto next week in her honor Mrs. Howard Ferguson is entertaining at luncheon at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, on Wednesday, Oct. 11, one or two Londoners having had the honor of being included in the invitation list. Just after arriving in Winnipeg to attend the annual convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, Mrs. E. C. McCann of this city, London Diocesan president, met with an accident in the Royal Alexandra Hotel, where she was staying, spraining her ankle. Fortunately, the sessions of the convention were being held in the hotel, and she was able to be present in a wheel chair. The injury necessitated change in plans for her return trip. She had intended coming back by St. Paul and Chicago, and stopping over for a visit with her son Cecil at Iron Mountain, Mich. Instead she came by the north shore route of the C. P. R. A charming program was presented at the reception and recital given in Mr. A. D. Jordan's studio at the Institute of Musical Art Thursday afternoon by the artist pupils of Miss Topley-Thomas and Mr. Jordan. This delightful affair marked the opening of the dramatic department of the institution. Miss Topley-Thomas was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. D. Jordan, and at the tea hour Mrs. Charles Percy and Mrs. Jordan poured at the tea table decked with yellow mums. Misses Margaret Jordan, Dorothy Davis, Ulah Kennedy and Laura Kirkwood acted as assistants. The following was the program presented: Songs, "Bird of the Wilderness," by Tagore, music by Horsemann, "Sunset," by Sidney Lanier, music by Alexander Russell, by Miss Hilda McMillen. The Kaiser's Memoirs

BULOW finally did the great trick of bringing Conservatives and Liberals together in Germany, thus getting a big majority for the parties siding with the government. In doing so, the great abilities of the chancellor, his skill, statecraft and shrewd knowledge of men, shone forth most brilliantly. The great service rendered by him in achieving this success won him thorough appreciation and gratitude from his country and from myself; and, in addition, an increase of my trust in him. The boundless delight of the people of Berlin in the defeat of the Social Democrats at the polls led to the nocturnal demonstration, which I shall never forget in front of my palace, in the course of which my automobile had to force a way for itself, little by little, amid a cheering crowd of many thousands surrounding it. The Lustgarten was packed with great multitudes of people, at whose tumultuous request the empress and I had to appear on the balcony in order to receive their homage.

The chancellor was present at the visit of King Edward VII. to Kiel. Among the many guests was the former chief court marshal of the emperor, Frederick Count Seckendorff, long acquainted with Edward VII. through his many visits to England, who reposed great trust in the count. This gentleman, at the behest of Bulow, with whom he was friendly, arranged an interview between the king and the chancellor.

It took place on board the royal English yacht after a breakfast to which I and the chancellor were invited. Both gentlemen sat for a long time alone over their cigars. Afterward Bulow reported to me what had transpired at the interview. In discussing the possible conclusion of an alliance between Germany and England, the king, he told me, had stated that such a thing was not perhaps necessary in the case of our two countries, since there was no real cause for enmity or strife between them. This refusal to make an alliance was a plain sign of the English policy of non-interference, which soon made itself felt clearly and disagreeably at the Algiers conference. The pro-French and anti-German attitude of England, which there came out into the open, was due, as I learned from King Edward VII., who had sent Sir D. Mackenzie Wallace to Algiers as his "supervising representative," equipped with personal instructions.

From hints given by the latter to his friends it turned out that it was the king's wish to oppose Germany strongly and support France at every opportunity. When it was pointed out to him that it might be possible, after all, to take up later with Germany on this or that question and perhaps come to an understanding, he replied that, first of all, came the Anglo-Russian agreement; that, once that was assured, an "arrangement" might be made with Germany also. The English "arrangement" consisted in the encirclement of Germany.

His Friendship With Bulow.

The relations between me and the chancellor remained trustful and friendly throughout this period. He was present repeatedly at the Kiel regatta. Here, he found occasion, among other matters, to confer with the prince of Monaco and a number of influential Frenchmen, who were guests aboard the prince's yacht, among whom doubtless the most eminent was M. Jules Roche, the leading expert on European budgets, and a great admirer of Goethe. He always carried a copy of "Faust" in his pocket.

In April, 1906, came the unfortunate collapse in the Reichstag of the overworked chancellor. As soon as I received the news I hurried there and was glad that Privy Councillor Renvers could give me encouraging news about Bulow's condition. While the prince was recuperating during the summer at Nordsee, I went from Heiligoland, which had been inspecting, on a torpedo boat to the island, and surprised the chancellor and his wife at their villa. I spent the day in chatting with the chancellor, who had already recovered his health to an encouraging degree, and was browned by the sea air and sunlight.

In the late autumn of 1907 the empress and I paid a visit to Windsor, at the invitation of King Edward VII. We were most cordially received by the English royal family, and the visit went off harmoniously. After this visit, I went for a rest to the castle of Highcliffe, belonging to General Stewart Wortley, situated on the south coast of England, opposite The Needles.

Before my departure for England, the chancellor, who was much pleased at the English invitation, had long talks with me as to the best way for getting on a better footing with England, and had suggested to me a number of his desires and projects, to serve me as guides in my conversations with Englishmen. During my visit I had frequent occasion to discuss the subjects agreed upon, and conduct conversations as desired by the chancellor. Cipher telegrams containing my reports on these conversations went regularly to Berlin, and I repeatedly received from the chancellor approving telegrams.

I used to show these after the evening meal to my intimates who were accompanied me on my visit. These men, among them the Chief Court Marshal Count Eulenberg and Prince Max Egon Fürstenberg, read them, and rejoiced with me at the harmonious understanding between me and the chancellor.

erals of the left, the Democrats and the Socialists, distinguished themselves by an outburst of fury, which became, in their partisan press, a veritable orgy, in which loud demands were made for the limitation of autocratic, despotic inclinations, etc. This agitation lasted the whole winter, without hindrance or objection from high government circles. Only after the chancellor's audience did it stop.

Later, a coolness gradually arose between the chancellor and the political parties. The Conservatives drew away from the Liberals—first appeared in the bloc. Centrists and Socialists—but, above all, the chancellor himself—brought about his downfall, as Count Hertling repeatedly explained to me later—for the last time at Spa. He was proud to have worked energetically toward causing Bulow's downfall.

When matters had reached an impossible pass, the chancellor drew the proper conclusions and recommended to me the choice of Herr von Bethmann as the fifth chancellor of the empire. After careful consultations, I decided to acquiesce in the wish of Prince Bulow, to accept his request for retirement, and to summon the man recommended by him as his successor.

URGES LOYALTY TO NEW PRESIDENT

Vice-President in Address To Railway Officials Stresses Importance of Co-operation.

Special to London Advertiser. TORONTO, Oct. 5.—"Give to the newly-appointed president of the Canadian railways the same undivided loyalty that you have always given to the Grand Trunk. I feel assured from my long association with you that your fullest co-operation will be willingly rendered."

This was part of a striking message delivered to the officials of the motive power and car departments of the Grand Trunk today by Mr. W. D. Robb, the vice-president and general manager of the system.

Mr. Robb came to Toronto to consult with Sir Joseph Flavelle, and also took the opportunity of addressing the officials of the motive power and car departments gathered here for their monthly staff meeting.

The relationship between emperor and chancellor, excellent and amicable up to that time, was, at all events, disturbed. I gave up personal relations with the chancellor and confined myself to official dealings. After consultation with the minister of the royal household and the chief of the cabinet, I resolved to follow Prince Fürstenberg's advice as to getting together the Highcliffe dispatches, and charged the foreign office with this task. It failed of accomplishment because the dispatches in question were not to be found.

Toward the end of the winter the chancellor requested an audience with me. I walked up and down with him in the picture gallery of the palace, between the pictures of my ancestors, of the battles of the Seven Years' War, of the proclamation of the empire at Versailles, and was awared when the chancellor harked back to the events of the autumn of 1908 and undertook to explain his attitude. Thereupon I took occasion to talk with him about the entire past. The frank talk and the explanations of the prince, which satisfied me, did so. A pleasant evening, enlivened by the result that he remained in office.

SURGEON'S DEATH BRINGS INQUIRY

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—A thorough investigation into the death of Dr. Norman Allen, who died last night from tetanus following an operation for gall stones, has been ordered by Chief Coroner Graham, who has directed Coroner Dr. J. H. McConnell to conduct the inquiry.

All the catgut material used in St. Michael's Hospital for such operations and also at St. Joseph's Hospital has been taken by Coroner McConnell for examination, and a test line will be made of the material to see if there is any trace of bacteria in the gut.

An autopsy was performed on the body last night, and a piece of the tissue where the catgut was put in was removed and will be tested at the laboratory in the General Hospital.

SCHOOL TEACHERS GATHER AT GUELPH

More Than 500 From Wellington and Waterloo Counties in Session.

Special to London Advertiser. GUELPH, Oct. 5.—School teachers from all over Wellington and Waterloo Counties gathered here today at the opening of one of the largest teachers' conventions ever held in Western Ontario, the attendance being estimated over 500.

The opening session of the City of Guelph and North Wellington Teachers' Association was held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A., while the sister association of North and South Wellington sessions were held in the basement of Chalmers Church. The opening exercises in the Y. M. C. A. were conducted by the Rev. H. C. Irvine, pastor of Norfolk Street Methodist Church.

A very able address was given by G. A. Clark, principal of Drayton Continuation School, the title being: "The teacher as a community leader." The school should be the community center, the section of the community center, the teacher the community leader, said Mr. Clark, who dealt with the great influence of the teacher when he is thoroughly enthused in his work. Many schools are proud of the many persons of influence who have been instructed in schools where teachers have been community leaders.

Do Much By Music.

Some of the subjects of the curriculum do not lend themselves to help development, but these are subjects that do so, such as literature and history, but above these are ideals of a faithful teacher. Much can be done by music, recitations and programs of a literary nature. The teacher has a great privilege and opportunity in leadership outside of the schoolroom such as organization of various clubs, such as boy scouts and girl guides.

Judge H. S. Mott explained the workings and powers of the juvenile court. He asked if our system of schoolroom government is conducive to the production of the best type of citizen. We should direct instincts, not repress them, stated the speaker. When a boy is in school at four or sixteen, he should be self-governing. Hence, we should introduce democratic government in the higher grades, otherwise the sudden change from autocracy, when the pupil left school, is likely to get into trouble.

The chief address was given by Professor Soares, who was listened to with rapt attention. Some of the things he said were: "Morality is not a subject. Living together is the great problem. This is morality; immorality is a social matter. All God wants is that we play our part unto our fellowmen. We can learn from our mistakes. Patriotism is often founded on lies and many other pithy sayings."

President Reynolds of the O. A. C. spoke about rural depopulation and the general aversion of the present generation to work. Country teachers are educating the pupils away from the farms, and city teachers are educating them into the professions, and away from the trades. For this reason foreign artisans and laborers have to take the place of native Canadians.

Nominate Officers.

The nominating committee reported as follows: Hon-presidents, J. B. Reynolds, M. A., president O. A. C. Guelph; James Davidson, M. A., G. C. I., president, George R. Coombe, Guelph; vice-president, William C. Murray, Elora, secretary, J. R. Benham, Guelph; treasurer, D. Mitchell, Fergus; executive committee, Inspectors Tytler and Craig.

METHODISTS TO HELP RELIEVE FIRE VICTIMS

General Conference Decides To Assist Sufferers by National Effort.

PRAY FOR PEACE IN EAST

Delegates Reject Proposal To Place Laymen On Stationing Committees.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—Fealty to the British crown and constitution, abhorrence of war, and a fervent hope that the agencies of peace would prevail in the dispute between Great Britain and the Turkish Nationalists in the Near East situation were expressed in the form of resolutions adopted by the Methodist conference this morning.

The conference also expressed its sympathy with the sufferers of the forest fires in Northern Ontario, and directed that practical support be extended through the church. A committee was appointed to investigate conditions resulting from the fires in the North and to send out an alarm to the Methodist churches throughout the Dominion. The committee will take up the matter of relief for the sufferers immediately with Hon. W. E. Roney, attorney-general of Ontario.

The feature of the morning session was an address by Rev. Dr. E. W. Salesby, the noted authority on social hygiene, of London, England, who stressed the necessity of instilling into the young the value of air, light, food and water as the agencies of pure physical life, and the virtues of work, play, love and worship as the means of spiritual welfare.

The report of the discipline committee recommending that laymen be appointed on the stationing committees was rejected by an overwhelming majority. The memorial from the Toronto Methodist conference asking special help for superannuated ministers in affliction was also rejected. The recommendation of the superannuation committee that no action be taken with regard to the memorial of the Hamilton conference for a permanent superannuation to ministers incapacitated through ill-health was approved by the conference. No action was recommended in the other memorial of the Hamilton conference for an increase in widows' annuities, and the recommendation was adopted.

It was announced that the conference will take up the matter of church union at the opening session tomorrow.

FEAR FOR LIVES OF FELLOW-CITIZENS

Anxious Regarding Safety of Stratford People in Fire Zone.

Special to London Advertiser. STRATFORD, Oct. 5.—The news of the great forest fire in Northern Ontario was learned in the city with genuine regret, and deep concern is occasioned in several homes.

So far as can be learned, four Stratford people, Jack Ross, traveler for R. M. Ballantyne; Mr. McKie Irwin, Miss Ruth Kappel and Miss Vera Latimer, are in the fire-stricken area. Mr. Ross, who was in Hatleybury, which is one of the towns wiped out, reached Cobalt in safety, and telephoned relatives in the city last night. He stated that all his travelers' samples and personal baggage had to be left behind and were consumed in the flames.

No definite word has been received from the other three Stratfordites, but judging from their locations they are thought to be safe.

Miss Kappel, who is a daughter of Fire Chief A. S. Kappel and Mrs. Kappel, is teaching in Central School, Cobalt, and Miss Latimer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Latimer, Nile street, is teaching in Powassan.

Mr. Irwin is in the mining district of Summash, which is reported to be out of the fire zone.

Sarnia Township Pigs Eat Home Brew Mash and "Cut Up Capers."

Special to London Advertiser. SARNIA, Oct. 5.—That the Ontario temperance act needs strengthening if it is to cover all cases of liquor intemperance in this province is suggested in an amusing story related by a provincial officer today, concerning a raid carried out on the 2nd line of Sarnia Township.

The officers found a quantity of mash in the course of their investigation at a certain farm, and, having taken a sample, left the remainder lying around the farm yard. A litter of young pigs needed no further invitation, and the effect was soon noticeable, for the pigs run amuck in the farm yard. They grunted, squealed and performed extraordinary contortions; in fact, they did everything that a respectably-reared family of pigs should not do, to the great amusement of the neighbors who gathered to watch the performance.

When the Turks Applied the Torch At Smyrna

The lives, homes and hopes of thousands in Smyrna went up with these flames. All through the night frantic screams of the terror-stricken inhabitants, hemmed in by fire on one side and the water on the other, could be heard on board the allied warships anchored in the bay. But little could be done to stay the fury of the onrushing flames. By the time they were spent, thousands were homeless, many were dead and property damage mounted into millions. The above photograph was taken when the flames were at their height. This picture was rushed by airplane to Paris and then to Canada.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, Oct. 5.—Kitchener and Waterloo are to join in the organization of a gigantic choral society, under the auspices of the Kitchener-Waterloo Music Club, according to an announcement made here today, in which it is stated that Director Yule, who has charge of music in the public schools will assume charge of the organization. The society has already 50 talented Twin City women listed for the chorus, and efforts are now being made to bring the list of male singers to 50. It is expected the male section of the choir will be completed in ten days, when rehearsals will be started. It is estimated the organization may engage some famous singers and instrumentalists for solo work in connection with the concerts at present planned.

church board. Today it was announced the church had sent forth a call to Rev. Mr. Imrie, pastor of the Indian Road Baptist Church in Toronto. It is expected Mr. Imrie will accept the call from the local church.

Windsor Dentists Victimized by Thieves Who Steal Gold Fillings

WINDSOR, Oct. 5.—Gold thieves who operate in dentists' offices, stealing gold fillings for false teeth and gold taken from bridge dental work have made their appearance in Windsor and have looted at least two dental offices here.

The first theft of this kind occurred a week ago in the office of Dr. M. G. Erick, in the Allen Theater Building. Between $70 and $100 worth of gold filling taken from bridge dental work was taken from his office.

Thursday during noon hour, when Dr. C. Daryaw, whose offices are in the Merchants' Bank Building, was at lunch, some person entered his office and took therefrom about $40 worth of pure gold.

Since then two suspicious characters were noted in the vicinity of Dr. J. L. McGowan's offices, in the Barton Netting Building. They persisted in hanging around Dr. McGowan's offices during a whole morning without apparent object, the doctor states.

DAME FASHION SAYS In the Good Old Days.

Handkerchiefs got pinned where he who ran could see—and that's no more than these modern ones deserve. Linen in all bright colors such as vesal green, bois rose, amber and hankow blue, dainty toiles with rolled edges, exquisite madeira and pongee are the lovely representatives.

A La Russe

—or adorned with Russian dressing—that's how Chauve Souris velvet come to lay hold of feminine hearts. They are vivid velvets printed on bright broadened backgrounds and their gay, sparkling designs are as worthy as their namesake.

All's Not Vanity

At least in Handbags, for in the newest there are divisions—some small one for vanity and one much larger for this, that and everything else. In Morocco, moire, or tulle, with flagpole frames and marcasite trimmings, these Bags are very smart.

Out in the Cold, Cold World,

Where there is all the weather that no one has ever done anything about, is a fine place to sleep—if one possesses Flannelette sleeping garments. For duty bound are these, in pink, blue or white, to subdue all wicked winds.

"When One Possesses"

—a permanent wave, thinks a Caracul Coat, "so very much time can be spent on other things, looking smart, for instance." For Caracul is quite in the mode for smart Fall apparel.

Not a Faint Star

—nor a certain one, but a bright jeweled crystal or gauth ornament, or perhaps a jet cabochon control the destiny of many a drape and panel. For by their gleaming efforts do droops and panels stay gracefully put.

A Fine Touch

—of hospitality is in these padded Crepe de Chine Negligees. Ah, yes, indeed; and they can really take shivers right out of cold mornings and put comfort into long evenings that have cosy chairs and good books in the background.
