British Labor Condemns French Reparations Attitude

CHAMBERLAIN TURNS GUNS ON LIBERALS FOR DECISION

Chancellor of the Exchequer

Address.

THOMAS' ATTITUDE

British Railwaymen's Secretary
Declares Party Has No Reasons To Apologize.

Associated Press Despatch.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—In the resumption of debate on the speech from the throne today, J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's secretary, alluded briefly to the international connections of the British Labor Party. He said that party did not regret and was not going to apologize for its association with internationalists.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign policy, Mr. Thomas said: "We have been asked how we are going to deal with France. God forbid that any of our words should be construed that we are anxious to break with France or talk about war." However, he added, "real friendship did not consist in pretending that all was well when all was not." He condemned France's attitude on the reparations question, and said that when France was following the wrong path and heading for disaster she ought to be told so. He declared that because of the British government's vacillating foreign policy France was treating the former with contempt.

Chamberlain Defiant.

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, following Mr. Thomas, struck a note of defiance to the Liberals who purpose supporting Labor on the vote of confidence Monday. Mr. Chamberlain said to the Liberals: "We are asking nothing from you. We make no bargain with you. We point out to you that your choice is between a party whose program you proclaim to be a reshuffle of your own, and a party which stands to please see page 4, column 5."

A. N. UDY IS ELECTED VOCATIONAL CHAIRMAN

Appointment Made at Meeting in the Technical School
Today.

A. N. Udy was elected chairman of the advisory vocational committee of the board of education at a meeting this afternoon.

J. E. Wright was appointed to a special committee on insurance and W. N. Mann will represent the committee on the body to inquire into the account system and duties of officials.

Chairman Bryden Campbell stated that the trustees must keep in mind the need of developing the social side of applied secondary education and in order to do this the Technical School, as originally planned, must be completed as the years continue.

Inspector F. S. Rutherford of the department of education, also spoke briefly, praising the school.

TELLS STORY OF WORLD'S GREAT TRAGEDY.

Following World's Greatest Disaster.

SMUGGLES PHOTOS

Japanese Are Starting Reconstruction of Devastated Area.

By the greatest stretch of imagination, few persons can conceive the awful havoc wrought by the Japanese earthquake unless they see photographs of piles of horribly mangled bodies, in the possession of D. B. Sparks, now staying at the Tecumseh House here.

Mr. Sparks is private agent in Shanghai for several local manufacturing concerns. He is the first Canadian to bring, in picture form, the true story of the greatest disaster in all history—the Japanese earthquake. To The Advertiser this morning he showed a photo of a main street in Yokohama after the earthquake. His horror is almost beyond description.

Twenty thousand bodies of men and women piled four feet high, mangled and dismembered, lying in a shocking jumble; limbs, heads and torsos resting in one appalling mountain of decimated humanity, are what the photos show. These pictures were taken in violation of Japanese law. They are the first to be smuggled into this country. They are too gruesome to be reproduced in a newspaper.

Mr. Sparks will be in London today and tomorrow visiting manufacturing concerns, whom he represents in Shanghai. He was in Yokohama and other devastated sections of Japan just after the quake.

"The sight cannot be described," Mr. Sparks told The Advertiser. "If please see page 18, col. three."

DETROIT ROTARIANS COMING HERE MONDAY

American Visitors Will Bring Own Orchestra For Club Gathering.

Monday next will be a big day for London Rotarians, when the Detroit club will be on hand with fifty or more of its members. Word was received from the secretary of the Detroit club today that the entertainment would be provided by Edward Guest of the Detroit Free Press.

The visitors are bringing their own orchestra, and arrive in two special cars at 4:10 on Monday afternoon. The dinner will be at six instead of at noon as usual, and the Detroit Rotarians will depart for home on the National at a few minutes after nine. The committee of the London Rotary Club is making preparations for a successful gathering.

NEW FURNITURE FOR CHIEF.

Recent additions to the furnishings of Chief of Police Robert Birrell's office were augmented this morning when a handsome fumed oak bookcase was carried into the chief's working apartments. This is for the purpose of accommodating numerous books on police activities and statistics.

SEWER GIVES WORK

TO 100 MEN A WEEK

Scheme Used Great Aid to Unemployment, J. C.
Spencer States.

London's storm sewer is taking care of 150 men each week, according to J. C. Spencer, superintendent of the labor bureau. These men are given a full week's work at a time, a suggestion of the city council some time ago, when it was thought that a full week's work better than three days, as it would be easier for the men out of work to get employment for a whole week than for a shorter period.

Mr. Spencer says that this is a great help in the matter of reducing the unemployment overload at this time of the year. The lot of the skilled man is in a way worse than that of the common laborer. The iron and steel trades are reported as being dull, and men in those industries are feeling the effects of the slack season. With the spring and the resumption of building, the employment situation is expected to improve.

EGYPTIAN CABINET QUILTS

Associated Press Despatch.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Newspaper despatches from Cairo report the resignation of the Egyptian cabinet in consequence of the electoral victory of the Zagloulists or Nationalists.

WILL CHOOSE CHAIRMAN.

Holding their inaugural session tonight, members of the Housing Commission must choose between Dr. R. Dennis and ex-Ald. Ashton for their 1924 chairman.

OFFICIAL MAY NOT RESIGN POSITION

Charles Turner To Stay as Tax Collector If Assistant Granted.

In all probability Charles Turner, city tax collector, will not relinquish his post, according to a report received early this afternoon from Ald. L. H. Douglass, chairman of the finance committee.

The chairman held a conference at noon with the tax collector, asking him to reconsider his resignation tendered at the recent session of the committee.

"He will reconsider his decision," the chairman said, "and it is more than likely that he will remain upon the understanding that we appoint a first-class assistant. It would be Mr. Turner's wish then to retire permanently within a year or two."

It is the chairman's desire also that a first-class man be appointed as assistant, who would be able to take over the duties should the collector retire at any future date.

FISHERY PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Archie Mac Company of Port
Stanley Sustains Heavy Loss
Early Today.

Special To The Advertiser.

Port Stanley, Jan. 18.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the buildings and contents of the Archie Mac Fish Co., Main street, at an early hour this morning.

The fire was discovered about two a.m., but had made such headway that the fire department upon arrival could only confine their efforts to save the adjoining buildings. The whole equipment, twine, nets, corks, etc., will be a total loss. The amount of the loss sustained by the company has not as yet been determined but will run into several thousands of dollars there being large quantities of twine, nets, etc., stored in the building for the winter.

The company's tug, Archie Mac was docked farther down the harbor and consequently was undamaged. The ice house adjoining on the south side of this company's building and formerly owned by H. F. Woollett was rather badly scorched and a portion of the roof burned. The ice house and other buildings of the Co-operative Fish Co. adjoining on the north side were only slightly damaged.

MELANCHOLY INDIVIDUAL

DECIDES TO END HIS LIFE

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Jan. 18.—A man who registered as Archie Kert, and who is said to have been born in Montreal in 1890, committed suicide yesterday in the Hotel Normandie. Kert left a letter in which he said he was tired of life and had decided to die.

He asked to be buried in a Jewish cemetery and left money to pay the expenses.

MEETING DATE CHANGED.

At the last class in astronomy, Professor Kingston gave a short lecture on his recent trip to Catalina Island, where he viewed the total eclipse of the sun. He showed photographs of the preparations made by the Jerkes observatory party, of which he was a member, to take pictures of the wonderful spectacle.

ATTORNEY MAY CALL WITNESSES IN DEFENCE

Judd Asked To Subpoena Witnesses, Clarence Topping Lacking Funds.

WILLING TO ASSIST

Step Is Means of Giving the Confessed Slayer Fair Trial.

Because Clarence Topping has no money with which to conduct his defence on the charge of murder, Crown Attorney Judd has been asked to subpoena all witnesses for the defence and to see to it that their expenses are paid.

This was the statement made this afternoon to The Advertiser by D. A. G. Swanson, Oshawa who is defending Topping. Mr. Swanson stated that in his experience in such cases, the crown had always been willing to assist the defence in gaining for the prisoner a fair trial and he had no doubt that the attorney general would accede to the request which will be made to him through Crown Attorney Judd.

Mr. Swanson stated he had a list of 30 names from which to pick witnesses for the defence.

"Of course I do not purpose calling that number of witnesses," stated Mr. Swanson. "I am not sure yet how many we will call."

"When in London last week I made inquiries at the sheriff's office and was told that Dr. Robinson of the Ontario Hospital had already examined my client as to his sanity, but have not received any report yet as to the conclusions of the alienist."

"Should Dr. Robinson believe Topping is sane, I am prepared to call in one of the most eminent alienists in Canada to examine Topping. On the other hand, if Dr. Robinson comes to the conclusion that Clarence Topping is insane, it will not be necessary for me to call any witnesses in the case. I will likely be in London on Sunday and may have something more to say at that time."

H. C. LOGAN,

son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Logan, 54 Maitland street, who was yesterday presented before Mr. Justice Kelly at Osgoode Hall for his call to the bar. Mr. Logan is well-known locally as an athlete. He won a scholarship and gold medal for the highest standing of students at Osgoode Hall.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS PREPARE FOR EXAMS

Classes at Western Close Thursday To Allow Time To Study.

All classes at the University of Western Ontario ceased yesterday in order that the students might have ample time to prepare for the first semester examinations, which commence Saturday morning. The examinations will continue all next week, and classes will not commence again until the Wednesday following examinations.

At the last class in astronomy, Professor Kingston gave a short lecture on his recent trip to Catalina Island, where he viewed the total eclipse of the sun. He showed photographs of the preparations made by the Jerkes observatory party, of which he was a member, to take pictures of the wonderful spectacle.

Opportunity Is Knocking At Your Front Door Today To Put Money in Your Hand

Eleven Automobiles or Their Cash Values Waiting To Be Given Away.

SOMETHING FOR ALL

The Advertiser Will Pay Cash
Commissions To Everyone in Contest.

There are twelve prosperous businessmen in twelve different cities in Canada who owe their start in life to having competed for prizes in newspaper circulation contests.

In each instance it was an automobile won in a contest, and in each instance the automobile was immediately turned over for cash, thus furnishing the necessary capital with which to lay the foundation of a successful business.

The names of these successful businessmen will be gladly given upon making application to the manager of The London Advertiser $20,000 cash prize contest.

What other men and women have accomplished, you, Mr. Reader, can accomplish in this contest.

How often have you said to yourself: "If I had $1,000 I would start in business for myself?"

Here is the very opportunity you have been looking for, and it lies entirely with yourself whether you earn $1,000 or $2,000 during the next few weeks.

The Advertiser's big contest has only been announced and already nominations and inquiries are being received from all over Western Ontario.

You may send in your name or the name of some friend whom you would like to see win one of the eleven automobiles, as soon as you receive this paper or at any time thereafter, and all information and receipt books will be forwarded to you at once.

Persons entering their names today will have a big advantage over those who enter later.

Everything to Gain.

You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by entering your name in this contest.

Eleven automobiles will be given away, or their cash equivalents.

There are enough renewal subscriptions to The London Advertiser to be had for the asking to insure success in winning one of the automobiles.

The contest is just starting, so that all who enter will have an equal chance.

This is your contest. This is your opportunity to earn a lot of money in a few weeks. There will be no losers. Every person who enters will get a prize or cash commission.

Telephone 7352.

Call us by telephone at 7352, and we will have one of our representatives call upon you and explain everything. People living outside the city of London may call long distance and all information will be given.

Do not overlook the 200-vote coupon that is published on the Contest Page every day. Each coupon counts 200 votes. A few friends saving these coupons would give you many thousands of votes.

The Advertiser Contest Office is located at the corner of King and Richmond streets. The telephone number is 7352.

Use the coupon at the bottom of this page for enrolling your name or the name of some friend.

RESULT OF ANNEX TAX SUIT IS STILL AWAITED

City authorities still await an announcement from the courts relative to their recent suit against the McCormick Manufacturing Company for additional school taxes—the celebrated "annex school tax issue" of many years standing.

Officials have always professed the belief that the municipality would lose, but in the meanwhile the various industries in the annexed district will be assessed upon a basis of a city win in the courts.

CITY BYLAW COVERS FIRE PREVENTION IN LONDON

Chief States One Man Doing
Work of Inspection at Present.

FINE IS PENALTY

Proprietors of Buildings Must Have Rubbish Removed Each Day.

Fire prevention is covered adequately by a city ordinance, bylaw 5830 being the most recent legislation of that nature, passed during the term of ex-Mayor C. R. Somerville.

Sub-section (1) of section 46 of the city bylaw 5830, the city's fire ordinance reads as follows:

"No waste paper, straw, shaving, excelsior or other inflammable rubbish shall be allowed to accumulate in any building, yard or alley except that such material be stored in a fireproof room provided with fire-doors or in covered metal receptacles; if such materials are not stored in such fireproof rooms or receptacles, they shall be removed or destroyed at the close of each business day."

It is further stipulated in bylaw 5830 that all convictions under this ruling may be followed with a fine not to exceed $50 or a sentence in the common jail in default of this fine, not to exceed 21 days.

Regular Inspections.

The onus for the enforcement of the fire bylaw rests upon the fire department. "Regular inspections must be made."

Fire Chief John Aitken stated today that inspections are as numerous and as thorough as possible under the circumstances governing his department. Since the first of the year, for example he has been able to have one fireman engaged continually at this work.

But this will not always be possible throughout the year he stresses unless the city councillors act upon his request for additional men at the central fire station or the city's existing stations.

In fact his request for more men was received at Wednesday's inaugural session of the finance committee, but left in abeyance until such time as the city council meets.

Please see page 18, col. four.

"HERE COME THE COPS" AND ALL IS CONFUSION

T. Slobasky Fails To Appear To Tell Part in Restaurant
Mix-Up.

"Here come the cops," someone shouted in a restaurant at Carling and Richmond streets last evening when Sergeant Last and a constable, attracted by much noise, tried to find out what it was all about.

On hearing the warning, customers scrambled about in confusion, and Louis Slobasky vainly tried to get on his feet. He was using profane language because he couldn't get his arm in the sleeve. Constables claim he was very drunk.

Slobasky was told to appear in court this morning but failed to show up. The case will probably be heard on Saturday.

BRANCH HIGH SCHOOLS ARE STILL FAR AWAY

Mayor Wenige Declares No Money For City Hall, None For Schools.

"No city hall, no branch high schools." Harsh words, these, from Mayor George Wenige today, following the attitude of members of the school board who yesterday effected their first move for the construction of another collegiate institute.

"You do not consider the time is opportune to make provision for increased secondary school accommodation?" he was asked.

"Not in view of the vote against a new city hall," was his reply. "What provision would you suggest then, to relieve the situation described by the trustees," he was asked.

"That's up to the school board, not the city council," was the mayor's concluding ultimatum.

LOEW'S THEATRE
PICTURE AND ACTS
SHOW REAL MERIT

"The Light That Failed" Excellent in Theme and Art.

THREE ACROBATS THRILL

To satisfy the taste of most people a good acrobatic act will spice an otherwise flavorless dish of vaudeville. When the dish itself is well-flavored, the extra sauce is even more piquant. The Chandon Trio is the sauce which accompanies a very fair bill at Loew's for the remainder of the week. All three, unusually slight in stature, are manifestly possessed of unusual strength, and they clearly indicate that all the resources of muscle development have not been yet utilized by vaudeville performers. The double spinning surprised the audience. Features of this sort are rare even as the climax to an act of extraordinary merit. The second act did go a little flat, but overefficiency came bubbling to the surface again with the headliner. The customary rap was taken at Mr. Volstead, or, to localize it, Mr. O. T. A., but this comedy and cleverness, very entertaining.

Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed" has been made into an excellent picture. Percy Marmont, Sigrid Holmquist and Jacqueline Logan are among an excellent cast. The colorful atmosphere of the Sudan has been caught fast and held with a dramatic intensity which makes the picture as fascinatingly interesting as the book. Swift action and underneath this the poignant theme of a romance held since childhood, the story has made an excellent film.

Old Belief That Boy Babies Die More Readily Than Girls Vindicated By Statistics

Percentage Among Females Is 85.5 Per 1,000—Male Rate 111.8.

MANY TRIPLETS BORN

1923 Figures Show Birth Rate in Canada Declined Since Previous Year.

Vital statistics for Canada, exclusive of Quebec, for 1923 show the birth rate in all but one province has declined substantially since 1922, there having been nearly 1,000 more births in that year than in the one recently ended. The figures also reveal a slight increase in infant mortality.

The Province of Ontario, however, is an exception. About 500 more births occurred in the past year than in 1922, the Western provinces having been responsible for the general decline. An interesting feature in connection with mortality figures just issued is vindication of the ancient belief that boy babies die more readily than girls. According to Dominion statistics the percentage of deaths among girls under a year is 85.5 per 1,000, while the boy babies die at a rate of 111.8 per 1,000, demonstrating that boys' chances of surviving the first year are about 22 per cent less than girls.

No quadruplets were reported in 1923, but triplets were numerous, as many as 120 sets having been recorded. Twins also had a good year, the number running well over the 2,000 mark.

While the birth rate in Ontario showed a slight increase, it is still much below that of 1919, 1920 and 1921. This again indicates there is some truth in the belief that hard times depress the birth rate. In fact, the average notched up during 1923 is far below that of any other year in the past decade with the exception of 1922.

While females are best able to withstand the onslaughts of diphtheria and pneumonia, it appears that their powers of resistance to bronchitis are less than males. In every province this disease has taken a fairly heavy toll among girl babies. In all other maladies boys succumb much more easily than girls.

Winter months are hard on infants, the number of deaths reported for January, February and March, far surpassing those of April, May and June. In the colder climates the death rate among infants is greater than in Ontario and British Columbia, provinces enjoying comparatively mild winters. February is the big death-dealing month for babies in all localities. British Columbia possesses the kindest climate, the mortality rate there being only 66 per 1,000, which is only half what it was in New Brunswick.

New Brunswick and Ontario lead in deaths of all kinds with 15.7 and 13.3 respectively. Apparently the western provinces are more apt to live in, the rate in Saskatchewan being only 8.8 and the rate in British Columbia and Alberta being approximately the same.

Marriages are not anywhere near the number reported for 1919, 1920, and 1921, but they showed a definite gain in all parts over 1922. These figures also indicate that marriage is governed to a large extent on the prosperity of a country.

HARVESTERS SHUN WORK AT TORONTO

Only Three Out of 5,000 Accepted Farm Labor Offered.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Jan. 17.—The unemployed British harvesters have not yet displayed any enthusiasm for the plan to secure employment for them arranged at a special meeting of their representatives and officers of the Ontario employment bureau Tuesday last. According to the arrangement, farm work would be provided for all the single members of the party at a rate of $15 per month for the first month, and after for a period of twelve months at the current rates of farm labor. Thus far three of the British harvesters have signified their willingness to go on the farms. One applicant was willing to be placed on condition that his wages after the initial month would not be less than $65 a month. He would not be satisfied with less.

There are about 5,000 men in the city now seeking employment.

"RAPID FIRE" PLAY BY ORIGINALS IS CLEVER OFFERING

Red Newman and Company Draw Capacity House At Majestic.

FLAPPERS GALORE

Red Newman and his inimitable originals have come back to London again and last night in the Majestic proved that the lure of their entertainment is as strong and enticing as ever. Over and above any individual performance in "Rapid Fire" is the magnetic atmosphere of "Service" life that was always such an attraction of the Dumbells. The cheery optimism of Bairnsfather runs through the whole bright show, and surely the spirit of "Old Bill" walks incarnate across the stage hand in hand with these gay singers in fustian.

Three hours of delightful fun interspersed with really wonderful impersonations is the fare offered by Red Newman's boys and 'girls' to Londoners for tonight and on Saturday. "Red" is so well known to us all that he needs no introduction. His art is as ripe and mellow as of yore. His spontaneous vivacity as the Coster rigged up in the glory of his 'feathers', and the vigorous energetic representation of the bearded stoker, in the song of that name go to prove his versatility and the strength of the appeal he makes in every characterization. In "Mulligan Up," a fragment from France, as the old soldier who never dies, he is amusing and picturesque.

And what girls this company has. For grace, elegance and feminine attraction there is no more bewitching than the rolling of Jack Holland's blue eyes in "Welcome Me" or as the Empress Catherine of Russia or as the daintily clad jockey in pink breeches. Jack is of the same saucy eyed lady of infinite charm who came to expect when we see his name on the program. Gene Pearson is a "peach" of a girl. To a wonderful make-up he adds a voice of exquisite quality that lends itself without much effort to the parts he plays. His singing last night of "The Last Rose of Summer," though confined to one verse in "Songs of Long Ago" was a work of art, not overdone and not overdone. His grace on the stage should be a lesson to all young flappers who think it effeminate. Then there is Fred Fenwick, another girl, a radiant dancer with a wonderful complex, two very "glad" eyes and a way of wearing her hair and her clothes that is positively a flirtation with the baldheaded row. You must go and see her to appreciate her ability. Alan Murray dances in a couple of dances and shows that the masculine form can be just as supple and well-poised as Pavlova herself. Jimmy Goodie is as he always is a sad-faced coon with a multitude of troubles on his mind. His dry style of humor was a refreshing change from the speed of the rest of the show. Fred Fenwick, in "Overheard in the Rotunda," he told a few of his own jokes in a way that kept the house pleased and chuckling. Tom Young, who is blessed with an excellent baritone, in "Little Mother of Mine," sang with charm.

The company has also another side to its endeavors. There is a quartet that might sing very well on any concert stage, consisting of Tom Young, Jerry Brayford, Bill Tennant and Bertram Langley. Last night they sang with perfect sympathy a chorus in "Scotland" and a song in an eastern scene, both of which were received with the close attention they deserved.

And last and not least there was Ted Charter. He appears in several parts, but has a place all to himself in the first act, when he preaches a most clerical sermon on such a common subject as Flirtation. In his hands the story of the flirting couple is cleverly told without too much suggestion of the type of parson he is supposed to represent. Take it by and large it's a jolly good show, and well worth seeing.

PLENTY OF VARIETY

The promised vaudeville program at the Grand Opera House, which is playing there the last half of this week, lived up to expectations and proved to be one of the best balanced offerings of its kind yet seen in the city.

There was variety and entertainment galore crammed into the nine acts, each one of which is listed as one of Keith's circuit, known throughout the States and Canadian cities that support vaudeville the year round. Good audiences at both performances yesterday greeted the performers.

The program opened with a spectacular exhibition of roller skating by Whirio and Babe. On the small space at their disposal they whirled and danced, executing many difficult manoeuvres. The work of the male member in skating and twisting supporting his partner drew forth applause, while the step dance on skates was well done. The act closed with the appearance of their little daughter, who did not seem to be afraid of anything that might happen to her.

Sunny Clark, a black-face comedian, next appeared, and with a couple of songs and considerable patter enticed the audience into a good humor. His comparisons of 30 years ago and now was quite amusing, the references being most apt.

Three charming songbirds are Yandis, Beverly and West, who put across several songs in an entertaining manner. Their costumes are good and the girls themselves are pleasing to the eye. The number opens with a haunting melody of India, closing with more modern music.

Ed and Flo Brown presented several clog dances, in which the male partner excelled. Although small he gave one of the best exhibitions of clog dancing seen here for some time, his wooden shoes beating a regular tattoo on the floor. Singing interspersed with the dancing made the number attractive.

An undoubted hit was scored by Mosse's Circus, in which monkeys and dogs participated. This was an excellent example of what can be done with monkeys, the feats of the small animals, together with their amusing capers, keeping the audience in laughter. One of the animals had all the traits of the human, in that he was particularly ticklish, and when he began to laugh everyone in the house joined in. It was hard to say who was laughing the loudest. That trapeze and aerial acts are not confined to humans was also emphasized when a little monkey in white performed on swinging rings, doing several of the most precise and apparent nonchalance. It is an act that all kiddies should see.

George and Lillian Mitchell, assisted by their young daughter, under years, put across a clean, clever number, combining singing and dancing with humor in a manner that pleased everybody. The man dances well and the girl's voice has pleasing qualities. The feature of this number, however, was the dancing of the little girl, who was encircled, together with her parents.

Knight and June Trio, two men and a woman, offer one of the most amusing numbers seen here for some time. Their harmony is good, all the voices being strong and blending well. The antics of the two men are really funny and that their offering was appreciated was evidenced by the applause accorded, resulting in an additional song and line of patter.

An accordionist of no mean merit is Jack Allen, an Italian, who is quite at home with either grand opera or jazz. His several numbers resulted in an encore, and his presentation was one of the features of the bill.

Sensational might be the correct adjective to apply to the closing number, which was one of such merit that the patrons did not think of leaving or getting ready to leave until the close. The Ella Barr trio, father, mother and son, present an exhibition of hand-balancing that is of the best. The strength of the woman, made apparent by the ease with which she supported one man on her extended legs and another on her hands, while lying on her back, was astonishing. The apparent ease, also, with which each member performed his or her feat helped to make it a success.

Altogether the bill is quite good, and one that any lover of vaudeville should see.

PRINCIPAL BEAL REFUTES CRITICISMS OF THE "TECH"

NEW COURSES ARE SOON TO BE ADDED DECLARES BEAL

Principal of Technical School Submits Several Important Recommendations.

REPORT GRATIFYING

Criticism hurled at the Technical School of recent weeks would seem to be unfounded, following the reading of Principal Beal's inaugural at the meeting of the vocational advisory board today.

Besides refuting the criticisms, several recommendations have been made that undoubtedly will be carried out as soon as the committee settles down for the year's work.

Prominent among the recommendations made were those for the establishment of a course in bricklaying, following the completion of the six-room addition. A printing course will also be started as soon as possible. Physical training came in for some mention, the fact that there is no place for this to be conducted being noted and a recommendation that something should be done to relieve the lack of space.

In opening his address, Mr. Beal stated that the total enrollment at the school during the last school year was 2,132 students in all classes, more than 1,000 attending each of the day and evening classes.

He dealt in detail with the courses taught, these being a technical high school course for boys, high school economics course for girls, matriculation course, commercial high school course, general preparatory course for boys and girls, part-time course for adolescents, and special courses. Referring to the adolescent classes, Mr. Beal stated that he had never in his whole career seen a class of students so soiled in need of some form of uplift and training, stating that it was not a case of giving them higher education, but preventing them from becoming illiterate and later a charge on the community.

He referred to the work done in securing employment for the students and the close co-operation existing between the school and the school. Several letters were read showing that this part of the work was appreciated.

Distribution of Pupils.

The distribution of 180 students who left the school during the year without graduating was as follows: 10, dressmaking; 1, electric work; 3, commercial offices; 11, draughtsmen; 1, delivery; 5, drygoods clerks; 7, electrical work; 4, farming; 19, floor walker; 1, housekeeping; 25, machinists; 4, manufacturing machine operators; 3, printing and lithography; 3, plumbing; 2, retail clerks; 18, shoe trade; 3, switchboard operators; 2, tailoring; 2, tents and awnings; 1, telegraph operator; 1, wholesaler; 6, waiter; 1, other educational institutions; 23; left city; 21; illness; 2, unknown; 10, total, 180.

Those Who Graduated.

The distribution of the 161 who completed the course and graduated from the technical and commercial departments was as follows: Bookbinding 1, clerks in banks and offices 21, carpenters 3, draughting 19, dressmaking 1, electric work 3, farming 7, housekeeping 3, jewellers' apprentice 1, machinists 13, motor mechanics 4, manufacturing machine operators 3, nursing 1, printing and lithography 2, retail stores 11, road 1, stenographers and bookkeepers 48, other trades 3, higher educational instit. 6, left city 7, unknown 1, total 161.

BANK TELLER IS SENT DOWN FOR THREE YEARS

Canadian Press Despatch. Edmonton, Jan. 18.—Harry C. Davidson, former bank teller, who was found guilty of theft of $18,000 from the Imperial Bank here, also of making false entries, was yesterday sentenced to three years in the Prince Albert penitentiary by Judge Simmons. Davidson was arrested in Florida.

In an attempt to get the sentence reduced to a jail term, counsel for the defence said he feared the association with "red" criminals at the penitentiary would "develop" another "Red" Ryan.

HOPE NEW SERUM TO PROVE BENEFIT

Dr. H. W. Hill Believes Treatment To Prevent Scarlet Fever To Be Effective.

High hopes are held out by Dr. H. W. Hill, dean of the Institute of Public Health, that the new serum which is said to make people immune to scarlet fever, will prove most effective. The discovery of an anti-toxin for scarlet fever was announced by Dr. A. R. Doche, associate professor of physicians and surgeons in Columbia University, New York.

"It is already known," Dr. Hill said, "that the blood of certain individuals whom nature has made immune to scarlet fever will also render others immune if inoculated into their blood in sufficient quantities." "The announcement of Dr. Doche has not yet been commented on by medical men or medical journals. Consequently, we cannot speak with authority on it. However, the reasonable view is that Dr. Doche may have isolated some animal which is impervious to the disease and it is probable that this animal's blood can be procured in large quantities and made into a form of anti-toxin." "Full details regarding the latest developments in regard to the discovery will not be given out this month. In the meantime I would say the find looks promising. Past experience indicates that certain human beings are immune, and there is no reason why some animal could not be found that is also immune. The blood of such an animal might prove to have effective curative properties."

SLEIGHS AND SLIDES DECREASE IN FAVOR

Playground Scheme Given As Reason For Old Pastimes Disappearing.

"Things are not like they used to be," according to dealers in young people's playthings. The dealers have particular reference to sleighs and slides. The demand for boys' sleds has decreased by about 200 per cent.

No explanation is advanced for this state of affairs except that the youngsters are becoming too blasé to be seen on a sleigh. Their apparent antipathy to slides is reflected in the small number of times for sliding on sidewalks of the city. Five years ago police officials used to catch about half a dozen youngsters every week for this offence, but nobody is caught any more.

"I think the main reason lies in the development of so many parks and playgrounds where the boys and girls can skate and have a good time without resorting to sleighs and slides," a local merchant said. "We haven't sold a dozen sleds all winter."

Ferry Battles With Ice Floes

Associated Press Despatch. Mackinaw City, Mich., Jan. 18.—The Mackinaw Transportation Company's car ferry Chief Wawatam, which left St. Ignace yesterday morning at 4 o'clock with 30 men aboard, arrived here shortly before midnight after an 18-hour battle against ice floes. The Chief Wawatam was to leave at noon today on its return trip to the upper peninsula terminus in an effort to restore communication between the two peninsulas and move stormbound travelers.

It is already known that the Chief Wawatam was to leave at noon today on its return trip to the upper peninsula terminus in an effort to restore communication between the two peninsulas and move stormbound travelers.

The new 1924 license marker for automobiles is a yellow plate with black figures, the same colors as are used in Michigan. Whether there will be any confusion or not between these two plates depends entirely on the shades of yellow used. No plates have arrived in the city so far, so it is a matter of speculation.

If the province decides on a delicate canary or a pale lemon, the difficulty disappears, as the Michigan yellow is dark enough to be an orange.

How the bootlegging and bank-robbing fraternity will react to the similarity in license plate colorings is still to be discovered. If the drifter Michigan plate gets a covering of nice June road dust it might resemble the Ontario plate, and if one of the "home plates" so to speak, comes in a slightly heavier shade than usual or if the color takes on a coat of sun-burn, then the speed cop and the rum hunter, "we going to have quite a little picnic telling one from 't'her."

On the evening of Friday, January 25, St. Andrew's Society holds its annual Burns' concert in the Patricia Theatre. A splendid and varied program of songs, dances and selections has been arranged by the program committee and includes such popular and well-known artists as Jean Anderson Thirde, Jessie Butt, and Duncan R. Cowan, all of Toronto.

Miss Thirde will sing here such beautiful airs as "Doon the Burn Davie Lad," "The Bonnie Briar Bush," and "Robbie Burns" and "Hame O' Mine." Duncan Cowan is a killed comedian with a host of admirers throughout the city. The Munro Juvenile Pipe Band is a London feature of the program sure to please a Scottish audience. The London Ladies' Orchestra, a newcomer in London musical art is offering a medley of Scottish tunes. Charles E. Wheeler, organist of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will act as accompanist and James H. MacIntyre will be chairman of the evening.

BOARD STRIVES TO COLLECT FEES OF OUTSIDE PUPILS

Education Officials Claim the County Council Are Partly Liable.

RULING SOUGHT

For the past year, high school students attending the local collegiate from counties other than those adjacent to Middlesex have paid no fees, with the result that steps will now be taken to collect the amount owing to the board of education for educational expenses in connection with their tuition.

This statement was made at the meeting of No. 3 committee yesterday afternoon, when Secretary Tanner asked the committee to take some action in dealing with the problem of outside pupils.

Mr. Tanner pointed out that the law, as laid down by the department, states that the county councils adjacent to Middlesex shall pay 80 per cent of the cost of education of students attending the high schools whose homes are in the said counties.

But no mention is made of other counties, with the result that no fees have been collected. Efforts have been made, but in every case the clerk of the county has written back and declared that London could not legally claim any fees, as they were not liable, according to the act.

While there are not many pupils attending from outside counties, nevertheless, the money that would be collected represents a tidy little sum.

It was pointed out to the committee that the board had the power to collect 100 per cent from the student, or 80 per cent from the county councils, but only where the student lived adjacent to the county in which the high school was situated, as far as the latter clause is concerned.

It was felt that the board could collect 100 per cent from those attending from distant counties, but this would bring the cost of tuition up to a high figure, as the costs of education, as estimated for this purpose, includes an average of the total maintenance expenses, capital and interest expenditures, and expenditures on equipment. In addition to which, these students board in the city and therefore have additional expenses.

The committee felt that it would be better to exact the 80 per cent from the county councils rather than 100 per cent from the student, and as a result, authorized Secretary Tanner to write to the department for a ruling on the matter.

City Treasurer James Bell also stated that nothing had been paid but that at accounts for the past year and other periods not paid for, were being prepared, and would be sent to the councils involved.

Local county councils had always sent in their checks when requested.

Little Boys Are Favored When Londoners Seeking Children For Adoption

Girls Are Favored When Babies Are Not Wanted Permanently.

BILLY FINDS HOME

Care Shown to Ascertain the Parents of Children in Orphanage.

When Londoners wish to adopt a baby they usually prefer a boy. But when they wish to take a youngster into their homes temporarily they select a girl. This interesting fact is brought out in a report of the Protestant Orphans' Home of London.

Of the fifty odd youngsters who live in the Richmond street institution, about a dozen are released every six months to the care of the city or district committee either for adoption or just temporarily. Girls are the favored ones three times out of four when lonely married or unmarried people desire the blessing of humanity to brighten up their homes. But boys are given first consideration when permanent little boarders are required.

The "orphans" in the Protestant Orphans' Home are rarely orphans in the true sense of the word. Frequently their parents are separated, and the mother, denied an income large enough to support her youngster, is forced to place him in the orphanage. Often, too, a father whose wife has deserted him has not the facilities to take proper care of his children, and contributes a certain sum of money a week for their upkeep in the home. Some of the babies, of course, are real orphans, but the number is not large.

Londoners are very particular as to the kind of child they wish to adopt. They always want to know the child's name, sometimes they desire a girl not more than four years, with red hair and brown eyes. Unfortunately the institution did not have her "board" and the woman went away disappointed.

Requirements Humorous. "The requirements many ask for are really very funny," the matron of the establishment said. "One of the primary requirements is that a boy or girl come from a respectable family."

Then the lady, whom all the children call "Mamma," told the story of Billy.

Billy was a little mite with an unfortunate history. He was such a bright child that almost every person wanting a boy for adopting would want him. They thought he would learn of his parentage, and little Billy would be out of luck. They wouldn't have a child like that.

Recently a woman came in to look over the children. The matron pointed out little Billy for the event, dressing him up in classic style, combing his shock of light hair. When he entered the drawing-room to be inspected by his prospective new mother, he was spick and span.

In five minutes he came out with tears in his eyes. He just knew she wouldn't take him. Billy told his "Mamma," "Nobody seemed to want to take Billy. The woman had decided to take a girl at the last moment."

The explanation of the woman's change of mind was that she had acquired into Billy's ancestry, and it did not suit her conventional ideas. This happened again and again, until one day a big farmer brought a boy, and was shown Billy. He took him without asking a question. It did not matter to the farmer who Billy's parents were. He was adopting the boy, not the parents.

SERGEANT JOHN BARNHILL, popular London police officer who has just completed his 25th year of service.

COMPLETES 25TH YEAR OF SERVICE

Sergeant John Barnhill Has a Splendid Record as London Police Officer.

A quarter of a century of splendid service on the London police force. That is the record of Sergeant John Barnhill, one of the most popular and respected officers that ever stepped forth on a police beat in this city. Sergeant Barnhill joined "London's finest" on January 2, 1899 with five other men, Richard De Coursey, the late Sergeant Tom Noonan, Timothy Donaghy, Inspector "Bud" Lucas and Jim Shill.

When Queen Victoria called for soldiers to fight her battles in South Africa, Sergeant Barnhill turned in his police uniform and donned the Queen's khaki, serving with the forces for nine months with great distinction. He was invalided home and after recovering his health, once more joined the police department ruled by Chief W. T. Williams.

Constable Barnhill as he was known at that time, was in many tight corners in the old days when London was known as the "rowdy city."

When the great war broke out in 1914, Sergeant Barnhill was not satisfied until he had enlisted. The blood of youth was not coursing through his veins as it did in '99 but that made no difference. He signed up with the 8th Battery in 1915 and was soon made sergeant. He returned to London as a sergeant major and was frequently mentioned in despatches, winning the French medal Militaire. Sergeant Barnhill almost lost his life when blown up by an eight-inch shell in 1916. He was invalided home in November of that year, his rugged constitution stood him in good stead and the police department was glad to once more have the sergeant doing police duty.

Sergeant Barnhill is recognized as being one of Chief Brrell's best and most trustworthy subordinates. He is especially popular with the younger officers and gives them the "old time" "tips" from his wealth of experience.

Excellent reports of the past year's work were tendered at the annual meeting of New St. James' Presbyterian Church held last Wednesday evening. With W. G. Brown, acting as chairman, the report of the managers was read by J. A. McNaughton. The treasurer presented the financial statement which indicated receipts of $8,129.58, and $2,745 raised for the mortgage fund. The session record read by Mr. Ballantyne indicated 857 members. A splendid report was given from the Ladies' Aid Society. The receipts were $1,144.01, and they have a balance of $184.56 on hand. The Sunday school report showed an average attendance of 245, 73 per cent of the number on the roll. The general missionary contributions for the year were $3,411.30, and the W. M. S. $857.57.

The newly-elected board of managers is as follows: C. E. Nelson, D. J. Patterson, C. McDonald, H. E. Strength, Robert Stevenson, F. W. Scandrett and A. E. Chapman.

It is reported that an assessor has resigned his post in Monaghan Township, near Peterborough, because he had "inconscientious reasons for signing the assessment roll."

There will be at least one assessor in Heaven. City Assessment Commissioner Harry Bennett commented today.

ALDERMAN SMITH ASKS DEFINITION OF GROCERY STORE

Would Like Definite Answer From Competent Legal Source.

OPPOSES EARLY CLOSING

Here's a question from Ald. Edwin Smith which appears easy to answer off hand until one stops to analyze the several angles thereof—what is a grocery store?

"Ed" reminds that until recently he was actively engaged in the wholesale grocery business, but he would like to have a definite answer to his query from a competent legal source, the city solicitor, for instance.

And that is the very reason, he explains, that he voted at Wednesday's meeting of the finance committee against the grocers' early closing bylaw.

Ald. Smith goes on to point out that the people in this modern age could practically carry on if there were no grocery establishments at all, although he is not advocating such a development.

What is sold in a grocery store is usually sold in another store somewhere. Ald. Smith states that his idea of a grocer is "a person who sells something that can be purchased at almost any other store except a grocery store."

"What is a grocery store?" asks Ald. Smith. "That is a question that has yet to be answered to my satisfaction. We are making the laws for the people and this request for early closing comes from grocers who have not stated just what constitutes a grocery, and I would like to have a legal opinion in that respect."

"If it is the desire of the members of the Retail Grocers' Association to close their stores early," he stated, "in order to do away with the employment of their help after 7 p.m. week nights and after 9 p.m. Saturdays, let them ask for an amendment of the bylaw that would compel them to have their clerks and drivers leave at that hour, while they (the employees) could stay on the job just as long as they chose—sleep on the premises if they liked. That would solve that problem for them."

The early closing bylaw comes to the city council Monday night for its preliminary hearing, and interest in the final outcome is manifested throughout the city, not only among the grocers, but all retail merchants, and the patrons of all.

MISS TOPEY-THOMAS READS MARCO POLO STORY

The reading of Marco Polo, by Miss Topey-Thomas, at the Playcraft studio, in Wolfe street, this week, was greatly enjoyed by a large audience.

Miss Thomas' interpretation of the story, of Marco Polo, as told by Don Byrnie, was delightful. It is a tale of a Venetian adventurer, who forsook the counting house in Venice to become a missionary in China, where he won the heart of Golden Balls, daughter of the great khan. In an explanatory foreword, Miss Topey-Thomas stated that Don Byrnie was an American of Ulster ancestry, educated in Dublin, who wrote the Venetian story from a Celtic viewpoint.

Miss Topey-Thomas has given very few readings in London, and it is hoped that more of them will be given in future, in addition to the weekly recitals presented by her pupils at Playerscraft.

EXCELLENT REPORTS ON WORK TENDERED

St. James Presbyterian Church Selects New Board of Managers.

Excellent reports of the past year's work were tendered at the annual meeting of New St. James' Presbyterian Church held last Wednesday evening. With W. G. Brown, acting as chairman, the report of the managers was read by J. A. McNaughton. The treasurer presented the financial statement which indicated receipts of $8,129.58, and $2,745 raised for the mortgage fund. The session record read by Mr. Ballantyne indicated 857 members. A splendid report was given from the Ladies' Aid Society. The receipts were $1,144.01, and they have a balance of $184.56 on hand. The Sunday school report showed an average attendance of 245, 73 per cent of the number on the roll. The general missionary contributions for the year were $3,411.30, and the W. M. S. $857.57.

The newly-elected board of managers is as follows: C. E. Nelson, D. J. Patterson, C. McDonald, H. E. Strength, Robert Stevenson, F. W. Scandrett and A. E. Chapman.

It is reported that an assessor has resigned his post in Monaghan Township, near Peterborough, because he had "inconscientious reasons for signing the assessment roll."

STRIKE ORDER CONDEMNED BY BRITISH RAIL CHIEFS

BRITISH RAILWAY LEADERS CLASH OVER STRIKE CALL

Bromley Calls For Walkout, While Thomas Orders Work Continued.

GRAVE BLUNDER

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Jan. 18.—What appeared to be a rift in the railway labor ranks appeared today, when J. Bromley announced that his executive had no alternative but to carry on with the strike set for Sunday night, and simultaneously an important circular, signed by J. H. Thomas and C. T. Camp, was issued from the headquarters of the National Union of Railwaymen to all its branches denouncing the strike. The circular said that up to the present moment the leaders had refused to believe that such a "grave blunder" as a strike would be embarked upon. It added: "Any member of the N. U. R. ceasing to work or refusing to do any job he would have done had there been no strike is a blackleg to the signature of his accredited representatives who have accepted the wages award, and is a traitor to the decision of the special general meeting, which is the democratic method whereby his views were expressed."

TUBERCULAR ASSC. HAS A GOOD YEAR

Treasurer's Report Shows That Organization Ended Year With Good Surplus.

The Byron branch of the Tubercular Veterans' Association, the largest in the Dominion, has ended the most successful year in its history, and the treasurer showed, at the annual meeting this week, that the year ended had left them with a balance of $203.70. Expenses for the year had been $712.59, and the receipts $916.29. The financial report of the benevolent fund, which proved most satisfactory, showed that 95 per cent of the problem cases had been taken up with the department and only 5 per cent left in abeyance. The following officers of the association were elected for 1924: President, T. J. Masters (by acclamation); vice-president, T. Fox; treasurer, J. W. Morris; secretary, N. L. Philp (by acclamation); assistant secretary, P. Bridges; vice-assistant secretary, J. Nichol. Executive committee—Comrades S. Seddon, R. Hale, H. W. Love, P. Corcoran, C. Wall, E. Henderson, E. HEALING SOOTHING ANTISEPTIC
For Injuries & Skin Troubles

Lam-Buk

LINIMENT FOUND TO BE POWERFUL GERMICIDE

Originally, Absorbine Jr. was sold only as a pain reliever and an embrocation. It was quickly discovered that the liniment was positive death to all forms of germ life, and it is now used as a mouth wash, for wound dressing and for all disinfecting purposes. Another surprise was yet in store. A Wm. Pratt of Springfield, Mass., applied Absorbine Jr. to a varicose vein to relieve the intense pain. Not only did the pain leave, but he noticed every day the swollen vein becoming smaller. The treatment was kept up and, today, Mr. Pratt's legs, though he has never used anything else on them, are as smooth as when he was a boy. It has now been proved that Absorbine Jr. is an actual specific for varicose veins, leg ulcers, boils, pyorrhea and a number of other ailments and injuries besides that for which it was first prepared. Nothing serves so many every day purposes and nothing is better entitled to its place in every home. When it is needed, it will be needed in a hurry. Don't wait for someone to be hurt. Price of Farmers' Goods And European Conditions Big Factors In City Trade

E. W. Gairns States Conditions Greatly Improved Over Last Year.

WORST PERIOD PAST

Buoyancy in Wholesale Trade Proves Encouraging to Greater Development.

The price of goods to the farmer and the condition of Europe are the two vital factors influencing industry in London and district. Although trade is much improved over the same period of last year, prospects of prosperity are in direct ratio to the rapidly with which Europe is reconstructed. These conclusions have been reached by E. W. Gairns, manager of Bradstreet here, who has devoted months to studying and analyzing the business situation as it pertains to London and Western Ontario. The better the price for wheat and other grains the greater will be the prosperity of the country as a whole, but an increase on prices obtained by agriculturists depends largely on the ability of Europe to absorb the products of Canadian farms, Mr. Gairns declared.

"Just now merchants are conducting sales and business in comparatively quiet, which is to be expected at this time of the year," Mr. Gairns said. "No one can predict the future. Conditions are much improved over last year, which was the most desperate period for industry. Canada has passed through in the last decade if business is to thrive, as we hope it will during the spring and summer, the farmer must get good prices for his products."

"Whether he does hinges, of course, on the condition of European markets. At present they are chaos. Our interest in European affairs should be real and intense, because on the ability of Europe to reconstruct depends our whole commercial future."

Reports to Bradstreet from local concerns say that seasonal conditions prevail at both retail and wholesale stores this week. Many merchants are busy taking stock which attracts their attention and limits their activity for the moment. Sentiment is good, however, and the general feeling is that a large volume of trade can be looked for during the coming spring. Weather conditions have not been as favorable as they might be in regard to the fall sown grain. Rain which fell subsequent to the snow has retarded the covering which was protecting young plants. So far as is known, however, little damage has as yet been done.

Industry is to be congratulated, Mr. Gairns points out, that it has successfully lived through the worst period of depression that has struck this continent for many years. The past year and 1922 will go down in history as the most inactive trade intervals ever known.

Buoyancy prevails in many wholesale lines, and travelers are meeting with encouragement, while a number of better orders to sort up stock have been received. The best symptom of better trade is the feeling of confidence which is growing daily. Retailers and wholesalers both show a tendency to buy with assurance that they will be able to carry on under satisfactory conditions. Collections on the whole are fairly good.

There were more sounds of revelry by night. This time it was at 735 Elias street, where there were more policemen gathered there than you could shake a stick at. In fact, from all accounts there were 20 bluecoats present, but they were off duty and having a mighty good time.

It was the regular Thursday night party conducted by members of Chief Birrell's squad who were fortunate enough to be off duty. Last night was held at the home of Constable Earl Knight, Elias street, and when the party broke up at midnight, it was the best of the best yet. Mr. and Mrs. Knight saw to it that every person had a good time, and it was a good time.

Verbal selections were given by Sergeant Tomlin, Walter Harper, Earl Knight, Jack Parker and others. There were cards and dancing while the refreshments disappeared in the twinkling of an eye. The party was a success, and the words of the ability of Mrs. Knight as a cook.

As far as the average day student is concerned, I think it a very good thing," said Mr. Miller. "The supplementary examinations as held

CHURCH RECORDS FINE PROGRESS

First Congregational Members Gather For the 86th Anniversary.

The congregation of the First Congregational Church met recently to celebrate the eighty-sixth anniversary. After a supper provided by the ladies, the meeting was called to order by the pastor, Rev. M. Kelly, and was opened with a short devotional service, in which he was assisted by Rev. F. A. Steven.

Mr. Kelly, in his address, expressed satisfaction at the present state of affairs. The secretary reported membership a little in advance of last year. The report of the Ladies' Aid was very encouraging, showing the best results for many years. Miss Wright, secretary, and Mrs. W. T. E. Wright, treasurer, were complimented on the record made.

The Women's Board of Missions reported through Miss MacLeod very successful gatherings, and Mrs. Anderson had a gratifying report of funds raised for Home and Foreign Missions.

The Sunday school report by Mr. Book was of a very satisfactory nature, and claim was made that for all-round results the school was holding its own. The list of the activities of the Young People's Societies as given by Miss Robbins was acknowledged with hearty applause of all present.

Edgar Kelly and Ted Carpenter detailed the efforts of the Trail Rangers. The report of the Men's Get-Together Club evoked applause, as W. Reid told of work accomplished. Mission offerings were reported by Miss Dixon, and the weekly offerings by Wilson Wright.

Treasurer R. Johnston reported a satisfactory year. Officers for the coming year were then appointed as follows: Pastor, Rev. M. Kelly; secretary, F. W. Robbins; treasurer, R. Johnston; evangelist, R. W. Wright; music, Miss Dixon; S. S. superintendents, Messrs. Anundson, Drennan, Marshall and Robbins; honorary, Rev. Mr. Steven; board of management, Messrs. Book, Creighton, Gibbons, Ellis, Jepson, Harrison, Nukins, Walker, E. Wright, with the pastor, secretary and treasurer of the church, and the president, secretary and treasurer of the Ladies' Aid; auditors, Messrs. S. M. Jepson and E. H. Marshall; organist, F. J. Fitzgerald; janitor, Lewis Carter.

KIWANIS CALLED A KEY TO PEACE OF ALL NATIONS

Rev. R. J. Wilson, Toronto, Addresses Local Club at Luncheon.

COMMON BOND NEEDED

Kiwanis, the guarantee of international peace, was the description given the club at its noon luncheon today by Rev. R. J. Wilson of Toronto, the speaker, and a former member of the Kingston Kiwanis Club.

The spirit of Kiwanis, Mr. Wilson defined as something which could hold together whole nations and races by means of its bond of good fellowship. "Ribbons of steel won't hold together the east and west," he said. "Something more is needed, a common bond of sympathy and mutual understanding. He is no true Canadian who makes it harder for east to understand west, or for west to understand east. Neither is he a good citizen nor true to the empire 'who makes it harder for English to understand English or English to understand French. Canada is a country of two great races, with endless opportunities for misunderstanding, and with an endless diversion of creed and characteristics."

Kiwanis, Mr. Wilson said, was something the exact opposite of a feeling which would capitalize these racial misunderstandings and develop them in racial bitterness and hate. Discussing also the international possibilities of Kiwanis, he said: "The tragedy of the past twelve years is one of broken friendship. The cockpit of Europe today is a sorry spectacle of broken friendships, suspicion and hatred. As an international force, it is the task of Kiwanis to aim at a better understanding on the part of those who now hate and only wait strength and opportunity to fly at one another's throats."

Mr. Wilson devoted the first part of his address to Kiwanis as a community force, emphasizing its national and international aspects. "A force can be either static or dynamic. It can look ahead or it can remain still. The static force will think of the days when we were children and say the streets were good enough for us to play in. The dynamic force realizes that there isn't a street in any city town or village today which is safe for a child to play on. In our day, no one ever thought of a child's right to be well-born and healthy. We kept him healthy as they could with the castor oil bottle and sulphur and molasses in the spring. For the rest, we played when we didn't have chores to do. Today Kiwanis recognizes that it is the alienable right of any child to play, and the better they learn to play, the better citizens they will be."

BOLER IS NEWEST TORY LUMINARY

Friends of Westminster Deputy Reeve Urge His Nomination.

Another political star has arisen on the East Middlesex Conservative horizon and is now twinkling brightly on the Tory camp. This vivid blue luminary is no other than Deputy Reeve William Boler of Westminster Township, who was elected to office two weeks ago by the largest vote ever polled in the township.

"Bill" Boler is known far and wide and popular with both Liberals and Conservatives. He even has some warm friends in the U. F. O. camp, who would undoubtedly swing his way should he be nominated to carry the blue banner in the next federal election.

Deputy-Reeve Boler has always taken a deep interest in the affairs of the Conservative party, and has been a prominent Tory worker around Byron even before he was old enough to vote. His friends are already at work in his interests, and should Boler not get the next Conservative nomination in East Middlesex there will likely be a serious split in the Tory stronghold of Byron.

destroy Liberalism and all it stands for. You will vote for socialism on Monday, and it will be on your own heads if you are ground to pieces later on."

Mr. Chamberlain begged Labor not to dismiss hastily the proposals in connection with imperial preference, out of any pedantic theory. He emphasized the enormous importance of dominion trade, instancing how preference had stimulated Great Britain's trade with Australia. Labor must remember, said the chancellor, that the preference proposals were in the nature of a moral gesture, and that the direction in which that gesture was made might affect seriously the future attitude of the dominions toward Great Britain.

Mr. Thomas asked if the Conservatives had dropped protection. Mr. Chamberlain replying that it was obvious from the King's speech that protection would not be a part of the program of the present government if it continued in power.

CHURCHILL'S LETTER.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Jan. 18.—Although Winston Spencer Churchill's open letter, in which he says the advent of a Socialist government would be a "serious national misfortune" at the same time deploring a Liberal-Laborite agreement, receives much attention from the newspapers this morning it cannot be said that the comments are regarded as a political bombshell that threatens to alter the outlook. Mr. Churchill, defeated at the recent election, is still a very prominent member of the Liberal party and his intervention is manifestly unwelcome to the loyal supporters of Herbert Asquith, while it is naturally greeted with the utmost satisfaction by the anti-Laborites. However, the regrets of the former and the gratification of the latter are muted by a feeling that the letter comes too late. One speculation that will certainly arise from its publication is whether Mr. Churchill is preparing the way to reaffiliate himself with the conservatives, whom he left in 1906.

Letter is Commended. The possibility of his taking such a step has often been the subject of gossip in interested quarters. The Daily Mail recalls that when he was recently approached on the subject of re-entering parliament Mr. Churchill was quoted as saying that as long as the issue was not protection versus free trade he under no circumstances would stand against a Conservative candidate anywhere.

The Daily Telegraph and the Daily Mail, both strong opponents of a Liberal-Laborite situation, have given a hearty support of Labor's aspirations, warmly commend the letter, asserting that no one hitherto has presented so admirably the gravity of the situation before the country as does Mr. Churchill when he says: "The currents of party warfare are carrying us all into dangerous waters."

The enthronement in office of a Socialist government will be a serious national misfortune such as has usually befallen great states only on the morrow of defeat and war. It will place both Liberal and Labor parties in a thoroughly false position. The Liberal party will be led into supporting the Socialists whom they have just been fighting in hundreds of constituencies."

Liberal Press Surprised. The Liberal press comments with surprise at this intrusion by a prominent member of the Liberal party, planned and ordered by his nominal leader, Mr. Asquith. The Daily Chronicle expressed regret and condemnation. "Perhaps the fairest comment would be to say that in his absorption with the tactics of the situation Mr. Churchill seems perhaps to have missed his realities." The Westminster Gazette considers the letter very remarkable, but that "the panic fears of a Labor government he expresses will leave the country's generally mentally untroubled. His letter in reality is a plea for union with the Conservative forces and any such union would be suicidal to Liberalism."

SCARLET FEVER PASSING.

The number of scarlet fever cases in the city is less this year than it has been in any similar periods since 1913. There are only 25 persons in quarantine with the disease. Two of these were reported this week, and the remainder are cases of from six weeks to a week old.

'Tis Leap Year, and Western Co-eds Plan Their Own 'Hop'

Girls of Arts '25 and '26 To Mark St. Valentine's Day.

MEN INVITED, TOO

Fair Sex Will Call After Escorts —Boys Will Be Denied Pencils.

Girls of the University of Western Ontario attending mathematical classes made a startling announcement to their sister co-eds several days ago. They took the number 1924, divided it by four, and found there was no remainder. The conclusion was that if this year is 1924 this must be leap year. As a result of this discovery, leap year is to be taken advantage of by the Western co-eds, and a leap year dance has been arranged.

On St. Valentine's Day the girls of arts '25 and '26 are to hold a party at the Oxford street gymnasium. Men are to be invited, of course, but it rests with the girls to give the invitations. The whole dance is being handled by girls alone, and the program has been arranged thusly: Each girl is to invite the boy she likes best. On the night of the party she will call for him and escort him to the dance. Programs will be given out, but pencils will only be attached to those belonging to the girls. This is done so that no boy will be able to ask a girl for a dance.

On St. Valentine's night femininity in Western "it" will reign supreme. Girls will be able to pick and choose at will, with no fear of becoming a mere decoration on the wall. A month remains before the dance is scheduled to take place, and Western men have already commenced to curry favor with co-eds. For a month no flower of Western "it" will blush and waste her sweetestness on the desert air. A month of rushing courtship is predicted.

LONDONERS PASS WITH HONORS

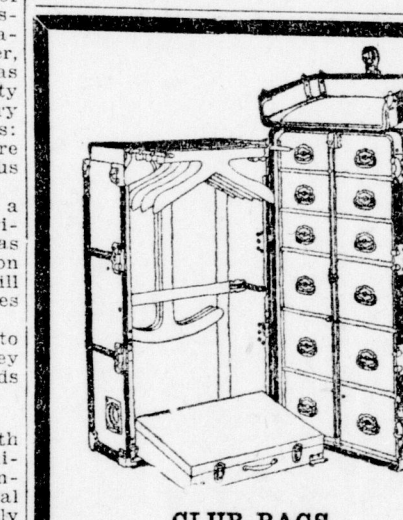

W. E. Dyer and H. C. Logan, Osgoode Hall Graduates, Were Both Born in City.

W. E. Dyer and H. C. Logan, the two London men who were presented to Mr. Justice Kelly at Osgoode Hall yesterday, were both born in this city. Of eight others who graduated this year, they were the only two to pass with honors.

William Dyer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dyer, Haymarket. He was educated first at the Victoria Public School, and later at the old High School. He first commenced law with the firm of Jarvis & Vining, and four years ago entered Osgoode Hall. He passed through each year with honors.

H. C. ("Dutch") Logan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Logan, 654 Midland street. He was educated at Simcoe Street School and the High School, and first entered the firm of Ivey & Ivey. At Osgoode Hall he graduated with a scholarship and tied with D. A. Martin of Hamilton for the gold medal presented to student with the highest standing during the year. Mr. Logan has been taken into the firm of Cronyn, Bette & Black. He was well known in London for his athletic prowess, being a member of the intermediate hockey team and the Orient baseball team. He also played hockey for the Bankers' League.

EDUCATION BOARD INDORSES PLAN TO VISIT TORONTO

Three Members Will Interview Minister on Secondary Schools.

CLERK DISCUSSED

The action of number three committee of the board of education was confirmed at a special meeting of the board at the Technical School at noon today, when the sending of a delegation to Toronto to interview the minister and department of education relative to secondary school accommodation in London was approved.

Chairman Bryden N. Campbell, Dr. A. J. Grant and Rev. Quintin Warner will compose the delegation, and will visit Toronto within a few days. Trustee A. N. Udy felt that the committee should have waited until the opinion of the council had been secured, but Dr. Grant stated that the sending of a deputation was merely to determine the provincial government's attitude on the matter. Considerable discussion centered around the need for a clerk of works on the various construction works of the board. It was suggested that the man now employed at the Technical School be discharged, the work there being completed. Referring to the man who had been employed at Trafalgar School, Mr. Lawson stated that he had been discharged and asked the architect the reason. Mr. Carrothers stated that he had been inefficient. "I take exception to that," replied Mr. Lawson. "It was a matter between the architect and the clerk of the works. They could not get on together. I asked to be shown a single example of inefficiency and it was not done. I don't think the architect should have the power to engage and discharge these men without coming to the board."

POULTRY ASSOCIATION RESTORES TREASURY

Credit Balance Result of Show Held Last November.

At the annual meeting of the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association the past secretary, W. H. Henderson, told the members that the association now had a balance of $314 to its credit as a result of the poultry show held in London in November last. This was an unexpected piece of good news, as the association had all its funds in the Home Bank previously and lost it. In recognition of the hard and strenuous work on the part of the secretary the past officers presented Mrs. Henderson, who helped her husband with much of the work in connection with the show, with a set of silver. It was arranged to hold a lunch meeting in the near future to which many outstanding poultrymen from other cities will be invited.

BETTER LIGHT URGED FOR ZONE IN BUSINESS AREA

DOWNTOWN PLAN OF STREET LIGHTS MAY BE CHANGED

Mayor Believes Whole Zone Proposed Should Be Altered.

IN GENERAL RATE

A downtown ornamental lighting zone will be mapped out within the next few days, following a conference this morning between E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission, and Mayor Wenig.

The mayor proposes to have City Engineer W. W. Near and the general manager meet as early as possible and consider this proposal. It is the desire of the city authorities interested that special attention be paid during the coming year to better lighting for the city, including the business district.

General Manager Buchanan explained this morning to the mayor that the present ornamental lighting system for the downtown district is cared for in the general rate. It seems that this fact was not generally understood by the city councilors before. But it seems that the cost of the improved ornamental lighting for Dundas street, from Wellington to Waterloo streets, was not computed in a like manner.

Now that the city councilors have more information at their disposal, it is more than likely that the recent Dundas street costs will be levied as through the remainder of the downtown district.

Manager Buchanan stated that it was still possible to reduce the cost of the night lights by removing it bracket from each pole. This did not meet with the approval of the mayor, however, who felt that the entire business district should be lighted as on Dundas street in front of the city hall and the armories.

The downtown zone for ornamental lighting purposes would include all likelihood be bounded on the east by Waterloo street, on the west by Ridout street, on the south by the C. R. N. and on the north by Maple or Kent streets for cost purposes.

RENEWING FIRE HOSE.

After hanging on the racks for six years, the canvas fire hose in the public utilities building are being renewed. There are four, and each floor, and will be replaced within a day or so.

"Scofflaw" Has No Appeal To Residents of London

Fail To See Point in Stubbing Conscience of Lawless Drinker.

MERELY SUPERFLUITY

"Scofflaw" the word chosen from more than 25,000 suggestions as the best calculated to "stab the conscience of the lawless drinkers" will be given short shrift in London if any attempt is made to force it into the vocabulary of citizens.

A $200 prize was offered for a phrase which would best describe violators of the Volstead Act in the United States and "Scofflaw" received the verdict. Local police officers, despite the birth of this word, will continue to refer to those charged with infringing the provisions of the O. T. A. as merely "violators of the law."

"It's just another indication of American fanaticism," a citizen said today. "Many people break the law from the point of view of patriotism. It was a crime to eat certain edibles in England in the 15th century, and now those who were hanged for offending that law are known as martyrs. Perhaps it will be the same about temperance acts."

Remarks passed by others questioned regarding the wisdom of choosing a word intended to stab the conscience of liquor act violators reveal that "Scofflaw" will not become a very popular phrase. On the other hand some declared the word a superfluous.

"The man who deliberately breaks the law does not mind what people call him. How can you stab the conscience of a man when he has no conscience to stab?" a local clergyman said.

"I don't think it possible to shame men who have the courage of their convictions," it was pointed out. "Drinking is doubtless a bad thing for every community, but many persons who drink are better living individuals than those who don't. Usually they are better hearted and more tolerant. 'Scofflaw' is the result of intolerance. However, the ordinary man does not care what drinkers are called. The main thing is to enforce the law fairly."

CO-ORDINATION URGED IN CITY RELIEF WORK

Social Service Council Takes Up the Question of Overlapping.

Co-ordination of city relief was a matter which received a great deal of attention at the meeting of the social service council last evening, held in the Y.M.C.A. In the past, it is believed, there has been some overlapping in relief work, and that this may be eliminated, and also to produce a wider distribution, representatives of all local relief-giving organizations have been asked to meet next Thursday to discuss a possible co-ordination and central form of organization.

Another matter which received attention was the possibility of eliminating Western Ontario work from the local social service council. At present, the local officers have jurisdiction over a large part of Western Ontario, and there is a possibility that the boundaries of their work should be redrawn to include only the city. This matter was referred to the executive.

The meeting was largely attended. The absence of the president, James Gray, and P. Nash, acting as chairman, Mr. Nash is vice-president of the council.

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS FIVE THOUSAND TREES

Appropriation For Tree-Trimming Purposes Is Now Exhausted.

Five thousand dollars, five thousand trees. That, in brief, is the way the $5,000 appropriation granted to the city for tree-trimming as a means of unemployment relief was expended.

In addition to the 5,000 trees that were trimmed, 100 were cut down, so that the cost averaged less than one dollar per tree. This is considered cheap by those who handle the trimmers as with professional tree-trimmers the cost might run four or five times as high.

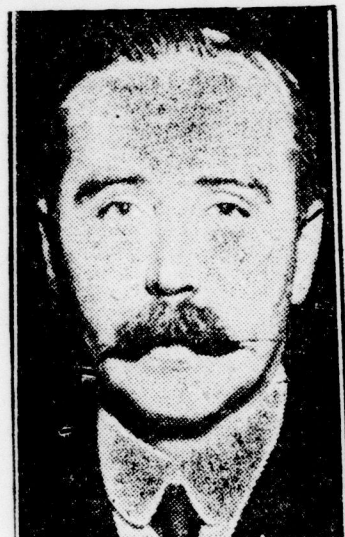

About 140 unemployed were kept continually at work under the supervision of Parks Superintendent E. E. Graham, and the work was done expeditiously and well, considering that unskilled labor was employed. Two of the men fell from trees, but these accidents were not serious.

The city council will be notified that the appropriation has been exhausted.

REV. BRUCE HUNTER SPEAKS TO COLLEGIATE STUDENTS

Rev. D. Bruce Hunter visited the Central Collegiate yesterday morning and as part of the opening exercises in the auditorium, delivered a splendid ten-minute address to the students. Principal Miller stated that Mr. Hunter's topic and treatment of it was particularly adaptable to school students.

CAR LINE TO NEW 'U' WILL BE REFUSED

Officials Plan To Keep University Avenue Free From Unnecessary Traffic.

The street railway company will not be permitted to lay tracks and run car service to the new buildings of the University of Western Ontario, Dean W. Sterwood Fox declared today.

It was rumored that the street railway contemplated running a special line to the new university buildings in order to accommodate the many students who will be living in the city.

University avenue is owned by Western University, and the plan of the board of governors is to keep the street free from unnecessary traffic. Dean Fox said this morning that he was not prepared to give permission for the street railway to lay tracks and run cars to the new university buildings.

OVERHAULING OF WELLS INCREASES SUPPLY

Commission Using Secret Process Divulged by Engineer Cured.

Old wells of the public utilities commission are being overhauled and cleaned out with most satisfactory results, according to General Manager E. V. Buchanan.

Since the visit of Engineer W. C. Cuddeback, the commission have been carrying out a systematic scheme of overhauling, which everything in connection with any one well is inspected and improved, if possible. This consists of cleaning the pumps and also the shafts, the latter is done by a process divulged to the city by Mr. Cuddeback under a promise of secrecy. It is believed that chemicals, however, enter in some manner into the invention.

That the efforts of the commission have not been misplaced is evidenced by the fact that one of the Poster wells has doubled its capacity, while the increase from 40,000 to 420,000 gallons per day in an old well behind number one sub-station is ample justification of the work. Twelve wells are to be overhauled.

TUBERCULAR PATIENT WINS FIGHT IN COURT

J. Toal Refuses To Return To Westminster—Will Go To Hamilton.

James Toal's spirited refusal to return to Westminster Psychopathic Hospital after being ordered to do so because his tubercular condition constituted a menace to the public, culminated in a victory for Toal at police court today.

Howard Cluff, counsel for the tubercular victim, said his client was not insane and therefore should not be compelled to remain in the hospital. Toal was found living with his bride of three months in a city dwelling and was ordered to Westminster by Dr. Walter Dowdman, officer of health. He refused, saying he would go to any other sanatorium in Canada.

Exhaustive testimony as to Toal's sanity was taken last week. Finally the court gave permission for him to become an inmate of Hamilton Sanatorium. When the decision was announced in police court today, Toal and his young wife smiled triumphantly and departed in high spirits.

CHALLENGE GOES FORTH AND BATTLE PLANNED

Kiwanians and Rotarians Will Clash in Volley Ball Game.

The challenge has gone forth. Once more Rotarians and Kiwanians will battle for supremacy, but not in a spelling match.

The representatives of the rival clubs will this time meet on the gymnasium floor and attempt to manage their opponents beyond recognition in a strenuous exposition of volley ball. The date for the battle has been tentatively set for either January 23 or 24, this not allowing much time for either club to bring in ringer or to get down to intensive training. Despite this, however, the struggle is expected to stand out in the annals of either club as one of the hardest-fought and to which every side goes to victory.

The challenge was made by the Kiwanians in downing worthy opponents.

INSURANCE OFFICIAL WILL ADDRESS MEETING HERE

William May, Jr., assistant manager of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Toronto, will address a meeting of insurance underwriters of London to be held at the Blue Dragon Tea Rooms tonight at 6:30 p.m. Mr. May is one of the outstanding figures in the insurance profession in the Dominion and is well-qualified to speak on "Salesmanship," the subject to be chosen.

F. J. Stephenson, supervisor of agencies for the London Life, and a former president of the Dominion Life Underwriters, will also have a message for the underwriters of London.

THREE HUNDRED PRESENT AT ASKIN STREET BANQUET

Second of Series of Church Celebrations Is Splendid Success.

REV. J. B. HUNTER SPEAKS

There were over three hundred people in attendance at the congregational supper held last evening in Askin Street Methodist Church. The supper was the second of the series of church celebrations in connection with the dedication of the new gymnasium, and it proved as delightfully successful as its predecessor. Supper commenced at 8 o'clock and following this there was a program which combined music and an excellent address by Rev. J. Bruce Hunter, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Hunter spoke on "The Spirit of the Age." His theme was the need of honesty in all forms of life.

"We will never be a great people publicly, privately, or spiritually," he said, "if we haven't the fundamental principles of honesty. Wherever life takes us, it should be in the knowledge that it is built on a foundation of honesty."

If a man is to make a success of life, Mr. Hunter continued, he must first choose his calling, and then specialize in following it with singleness of purpose. This makes for the noble life of man, and is the only way in which man can live close to God.

J. F. Maine commenced the program with his pleasantly informal introductory address, following which there was a singing, and several solos by Mrs. William Wortman, rendered in splendid fashion. Last evening, Mrs. Wortman chose to sing "Friend of Mine," "Little Brown Boy," "Land of the Long Ago," and "I Long for You."

Extremely capable committees had been placed in charge of the affair. The decorating committee used a scheme of pink and silver, which proved very effective. Candles decorated all the tables, and at the head-table, there was a large silver basket, filled with pink chrysanthemums, and at intervals along the table, pink candles in silver holders were set, and silver bud vases, each bearing a flower. In charge of this were Mrs. A. Jackson, Mrs. (Dr.) J. H. Versey, who spoke on "Christianity and the Non-Christian Religions," giving his illustrations as a student missionary at Goulais Bay on the east of Lake Superior. The young people decided to hold a sleighing party at their next meeting. The social committee were placed in charge.

At their regular weekly meeting last evening, the Quivive Club of Wellington Street Presbyterian Church decided to raise a series of electric fan to the church. Miss Edna Wardell presided. Following their business meeting, the girls spent an hour in games.

A missionary program was given at last night's meeting of the Senior Pathfinders of St. Andrew's Church, over which Agnes McKay presided. Readings from "Japan on the Upward Trail" were given by Mrs. Armstrong and Sybil Hill. Mrs. Wilson represented the W. M. S. at the meeting. Mrs. Douglas conducted the period of Bible study.

"SMILE-AWHILE" CLASS.

The "Smile-Awhile" Class of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Freeland, Dufferin avenue, where they held their annual meeting and elected officers for the coming year.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Lila Griffin; vice-president, Miss Mary Black; secretary, Miss Lila Savitz; treasurer, Miss Lila Black; press recorder, Miss Lila Black; and Mrs. J. Baldwin, by presenting her with a handsome framed oil painting and a bouquet of flowers. Miss J. Metcalfe read the nicely worded address in appreciation of their place of the business meeting, excellent reports of the past year's work were given. Plans were discussed to make the next year a busy one, and the class is already arranging to give a series of social events, in which the members paid tribute to their teacher, Mrs. J. Baldwin, by presenting her with a handsome framed oil painting and a bouquet of flowers. Miss J. EXCELSIOR CLASS.

Two presentations were happy features of the annual meeting of the Excelsior Young Ladies Bible Class of All Saints Church held last evening at the home of the president, Miss Kathleen Patton. The class presented their teacher, Mrs. R. Allister, with a pretty fernery, and one of their number who recently became a bride with some handsome flat silverware. Mrs. Johnston, who presided, was married to a mother and daughter banquet, to take place on or near St. Valentine's Day. The birthday box, which has been a class institution, will be continued and the contents given to the cheer fund.

New officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Kathleen Patton; vice-president, Miss Kathleen Patton; second vice-president, Miss Marjorie Wells; secretary, Miss Irene Tingey; assistant secretary, Miss Marjorie Wells; treasurer, Miss Lillian Ivory; social committee, Miss

Council Will Be Asked To Vote

Another Two or Three Thousand Dollars.

At Monday's session of the city council the members will be asked to vote another $2,000 or $3,000 for relief work. Mayor Wenig favors this move, whether the money shall be expended for tree trimming or otherwise.

The city engineering authorities report that a full quota of men are back at work on the Wellington-High street sewer job. But one day was lost this week, owing to rainy weather. It is expected that the work will last for several weeks longer. The unemployed engaged on this undertaking are still working in weekly shifts.

COMMITTEE OBJECTS TO SOLICITOR'S BILL

Collegiate Board Will Only Pay Amount Due From That Body.

An item in the list of accounts presented for payment by Secretary Tanner at No. 3 committee meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon to be questioned was that concerning the account of T. G. Meredith, solicitor.

The committee, which deals with collegiate matters only, were asked to pass an account for $677.72, this being the solicitor's annual statement. Members of the committee took exception to this, however, as the amount due from collegiates was only $153.02, and they contended that the remaining $524.70 should have been included where it belonged—in the accounts of the other schools.

Secretary Tanner was ordered to make the correction, whereupon the committee agreed that portion of the account dealing with the secondary schools.

When You Can Be Well, Why Be Sick!

Why Suffer Delay and Grow Worse?

Enjoy Life—Health—Happiness

To Have No Back Pains, No Nervousness, No Kidney Disease, With Plenty of Life, Energy and No Blood Disorders, Is the Wish of Every Young, Old or Middle-Aged Person.

To you—if you are sick—if you suffer—if you are afflicted with any ailments of MEN—if you are worn out, tired or failing, if you need medical advice—if you are not in perfect health—if life is a dragging, miserable existence—if you lack energy, vim and vigor that make life worth living, to you—rich or poor—young or old—you need my treatment at once.

Nerves and Blood Are Life. The lack of nerve force is found among men of all ages. This is true with men in all walks of life, from the day laborer to the mechanic or professional man. Merchant and clergy are alike affected, and the result is a life of overwork, dissipation, sedentary habits or worry, and your vital organs are disturbed, remember, delay in seeing the right doctor makes it more difficult to overcome the symptoms, and you might reach an incurable condition beyond relief if you delay too long.

My Equipment is composed of the latest and best known agents in Electrical, Surgical, and Mechanical Apparatus, and am prepared by the knowledge of their use and the experience in prescribing them so as to get the greatest uniform results from them.

I am Prepared to Give You German, Electric, Vaccines and any and all forms of treatment of this character that have been tried and proved a success.

YOUNG MEN—THINK OF YOUR FUTURE

How about it, are you qualified to face it—others doing more and getting more out of life than you are? Find out, if you don't know already, what is dragging you down. No one can violate nature's laws and succeed. I have helped thousands physically, mentally, morally. I believe I (as I have thousands of other men) can help you. Just be frank and tell me your troubles. Let me help you to regain and maintain your health.

CITY MUST GET PERMIT TO MAKE RAILWAY DEAL

Solicitor Rules Council Must Apply To Legislature For Right.

TANGLE GROWS WORSE

Have No Power To Grant Spreading of Payments For Paving.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith handed down the opinion in conference yesterday afternoon with city councillors and officials that they must seek the permission of the Ontario Legislature before they enter into any agreement whereby the latter's share of paving costs could be spread over a period of ten years.

The solicitor's opinion will be submitted to the members of the city council at their regular session Monday night next. Action with a little delay as possible is expected. The company authorities have already tendered checks for more than $5,000, their first payment under a ten-year agreement to pay, which they claim by reason of a resolution passed in council last spring.

Those who attended yesterday's conference with the solicitor were Mayor George Weniger, Ald. L. H. Douglass, chairman of the finance committee, Ald. John Green, chairman of the board of works, Ald. Frank McKay, City Clerk Sam Baker and City Treasurer James Bell.

The solicitor and aldermen considered also the next logical proceeding relative to the proposed purchase of the railway system and that section of highway 116 which provides that the people must give their one year's notice of proposal to purchase on or before March 8 next.

The city solicitor warned that while who was yesterday re-elected chairman of the public utilities commission for 1924.

the city could give notice to buy, it was further subject to a ratification of the people at their election next December, and if they voted in the negative after having obligated themselves with a formal notice, it would lead to a highly involved situation.

From the solicitor's opinion it is gathered that the city councillors lack the authority, within the provisions of the local improvement act, to expend money for street railway work, the same to be returned by the company at certain intervals. Permission to do this must then be sought from the Legislature, the solicitor stated, and as soon as possible.

VINING CHAIRMAN PUBLIC UTILITIES

Is Re-elected Head of Department At Inaugural Meeting.

McFARLAND ON PARKS

Jared Vining was re-elected chairman of the public utilities commission for 1924 at the inaugural meeting of that body yesterday afternoon.

Commissioner T. W. McFarland was re-elected head of the parks committee, and Philip Pocock to the playgrounds. Commissioner McFarland named General Manager E. V. Buchanan and Parks Superintendent E. E. Graham as his committee, while Commissioner Pocock did not set forth who would serve on the playgrounds, wishing to consider the matter more fully. Commissioners Webster and McFarland were appointed representatives to the Western Fair Board.

The commission decided to supply the necessary labor requested by the Horticultural Society, on the recommendation of the parks committee, to beautify the pipe of ground bounded by Richmond, Clarence and Bathurst streets and the L. & P. S. tracks. The society will furnish the plants, while the L. & P. S. have signified their intention of plowing the land, sprinkling it and keeping the grass cut.

It was also brought to the attention of the commission that the application for a $50,000 loan by the city council for tree trimming, as a measure of unemployment relief was used up.

The commission approved of granting fire protection to the police village of Byron. This would necessitate the installation of six hydrants and their supply of water. The cost per hydrant would be about $30. The water thus supplied would be for fire purposes only. The matter was left with the general manager to report on.

The first and second floors of the public utilities building will be paired. It was decided after a short deliberation.

General Manager Buchanan and members of the staff were authorized to attend the convention of the Municipal Electrical Union, to be held in Toronto January 23, 24 and 25.

DEATH KNELL RUNG FOR GOVERNMENT

Asquith Announces, Amid Cheers, That He Will Support Labor Amendment.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE

John R. Clynes Introduces Motion and Scores Foreign Policies.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Jan. 17.—Premier Baldwin's Conservative government this evening received its death sentence at the hands of the Opposition in the House of Commons, as had been anticipated.

This came when former Premier Asquith arose and, amid the cheers of his Liberal followers and the groans of the Conservatives, announced that he would vote for the Labor motion of "no confidence" in the government presented by John R. Clynes, and would advise all his friends to do likewise.

Nothing short of a political upheaval, namely, the wholly improbable desertion of a large number of the opposition Conservatives, would save the government, which will go to the guillotine Monday evening, according to the present program.

Attacks Tory Rule.

After introducing the "no confidence" motion in the form of an amendment to the address in reply to the king's speech, Mr. Clynes scored the Tory regime, both for what it had done and for what it did not do, during the last twelve months.

The speech from the throne, he declared, was inaccurate in stating that Great Britain's relations with foreign powers remained friendly. If the relations with Russia were friendly, he asked, why had not Russia been recognized? Was it because Russia had not undertaken to pay her debts? If that was to be a bar to recognition, how about it that France had a representative in London?

"Our position abroad is weaker than ever before," he asserted. "Our influence in foreign affairs has almost disappeared. When France needed our aid it was given without stint against Germany. Our claim now to influence the peace policy is justified by the sacrifices we made and by our genuine desire for the future security of France herself."

Want Peace.

"The great war must be made a means to a great end—enduring friendship in Europe. This is only possible if Germany and France are at peace. To treat Germany now worse than Germany treated France fifty years ago is to make monstrous preparation for the next great war."

Therefore, we cannot longer merely watch and wait. Acts must be governed by the urgency for settlement in Europe, built in regard for Britain's economic rights and necessities.

"We are paying our debts. We fought and sacrificed. Yet we are suffering more than the countries we defended and rescued. The limits have been reached to the price Great Britain can afford to pay. There are glimmers of hope from the American participation in the reparation question. American co-operation is not merely welcome; it is essential."

During the speech Mr. Clynes gave further inkling of Labor's intentions. Referring to the dominion trade, he said Ramsay MacDonald, who as head of the parliamentary Labor party, is the prospective prime minister, had given assurance that so far as pledges had been made they would be carried out, and the House would be given full opportunity to decide on a number of important issues raised.

Improve Trade.

Mr. Clynes' own view was that the Dominion trade showed substantial opportunities and prospects for improvement. He also emphasized the necessity for not neglecting the European market. "If we neglect the European market," he said, "we must seriously consider the problem of voluntary transference of population on agreed terms for mutual benefit. I am satisfied that if these agreed terms can be arranged it will be better for labor in this country."

At the conclusion of his speech, Mr. Asquith, summarizing the position of himself and the Liberal Party, concluded the Laborites were the natural inheritors of the power when the Baldwin government was defeated, and that it was the duty of every patriotic man and woman to do his or her best without sacrificing principles of honor to facilitate Labor's task.

In a house constituted like the present Commons it was idle talk of the imminent danger of a socialist regime. The Laborites possessed no free license to do as they liked; they were not their own masters, but like other parties in the House were limited by parliamentary conditions. While stating these views Mr. Asquith was emphatic in pointing out that the Liberal Party was deeply and sincerely pledged to give no countenance to Socialist experiments.

Raps Liberals.

After generally defending the policy of the Baldwin government, he proceeded to read from a number of addresses made by prominent Liberal candidates in the recent election, denouncing the Laborites' Socialist program as disastrous for the country. Then, pointing to the benches where Asquith, Lloyd George and other Liberal leaders sat, he exclaimed:

"What are you going to do about it? Are you going to put into power the very party whose program you thus denounced?"

This evoked boisterous cheers from the Conservative benches. Sir William then rapped out: "I'm ashamed president of the United Mine Workers' Association of America, who will decide whether the Nova Scotia coal miners strike is justified under union regulations. His decision is anxiously awaited.

of the Socialist party for taking office only by the help of men holding such views of their policy."

He predicted that, while the Liberals would do Labor no good by their action, they would effectively prevent the Liberals from taking office for another hundred years.

ALBERTANS VOTE DOWN PROPOSALS FOR SEPARATION

United Farmers Declare Against Making West Independent of Canada.

OPPOSED TO BANK

Canadian Press Despatch. Edmonton, Jan. 17.—The United Farmers of Alberta declared today that they do not desire to set up in the Western Provinces a separate British dominion. A resolution which asked the provincial government to approach the other western provinces with a view to setting up a British colony independent of the Eastern Provinces, found support from only five of six delegates.

A sub-motion which reminded members of parliament that unless the West had relief in matters of resources, tax, freight rates, etc., there was a possibility "that we may demand establishment as independent dominion under the British crown," was voted for by a score or so in the hall. Both resolutions were declared defeated in the midst of applause.

Self-determination.

H. McKenzie of Sedgewick sponsored the original motion and he claimed for Canada "the right of self-determination." He denied any motive of joining the United States. The substitute was moved by Col. C. W. Robinson of Munson, who declared that the West was being discriminated against and "that this is no bluff."

"It's only a matter of time until we are the big set of Canada and the east will be begging for our favors," said C. H. Connor of Innisfail, and another delegate compared the proposed taxation to that of a "fifteen-year-old boy whose daddy doesn't give him his own way."

A. L. Blue of Rosyth said the resolution could not be put into effect, anyway, because Canada's "king" the Senate would reject it.

The proposal that the Alberta government take steps to secure a federal character for a bank and proceed with its organization under government control was emphatically rejected late today by the United Farmers of Alberta, after President H. Wood had described the scheme as "dangerous" and as "very liable to lead to disaster."

Mr. Wood made a vigorous attack on the proposal, and declared that, as the government had pronounced definitely against it, and considered passing of the resolution would be a direct vote of lack of confidence in the Greenfield administration, and they would be taking a desperate chance of wrecking the government.

"This organization," said Mr. Wood, "has survived a period of stress, and now we see daylight. Do not run it blindly headlong on the rocks of destruction."

The resolution was similar to the one which the conventions of 1922 and 1923 adopted, and sought the establishment of a bank which would be under government ownership and control but would exercise all the functions of the ordinary chartered banks, including the issue of currency. The government, through a statement presented to the convention Tuesday night, declared the plan impracticable and declined to go ahead with it.

COLLEGE STUDENT DIES AFTER WRESTLING MATCH

Associated Press Despatch. Phillipsburg, N. J., Jan. 17.—Leo P. Mooney, 17 years old, a Phillips-

Good Health Secret of Beauty

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude, headaches, and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, the most successful remedy known to overcome woman's ills and restore health and beauty.—Adv.

CHURCHILL SEEKS TO DEFEAT LABOR

Liberal Opposes With Vehemence Any Union With Laborites.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Jan. 17.—Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, and one of the powers of the Liberal party, has come out strongly against a Labor government, and opposes with vehemence any union of the Liberals with the Laborites for the purpose of putting a Labor government in control.

He will tomorrow publish a vigorous open letter, in which, in characteristic outspoken terms, he paints the dangers of the advent of a Labor government with a Socialist program, and appeals to the crown an address in reply to the king's speech recording its repudiation of Socialism and its distrust of those "whose policy of a capital levy and the nationalization of the means of production, distribution and exchange has been signally defeated at the polls."

Mr. Churchill begins by stating: "The currents of party warfare are carrying us all into dangerous waters. The entrenchment in office of a Socialist government will be a serious national misfortune, such as has usually befallen great states only on the morrow of defeat or war. It will place both Liberal and Labor parties in a thoroughly false position. The Liberal party will be led into supporting the Socialists whom they have just been fighting in hundreds of constituencies."

REBEL SHIPS FIRE ON TAMPICO CITY

Gunboats Throw Town in a Panic and Then Bombard Suburbs.

ARTILLERY ANSWERS FIRE

Associated Press Despatch. Tampico, Jan. 17.—Rebel gunboats bombarded the city and port of Tampico this morning.

The news of the bombardment was received in a telephone message from the observer stationed at La Barra. The message said:

Jesus M. Palma, chief of the coast-guard, at 9 o'clock this morning sighted the rebel gunboats Tampico and Saragoca, which had prevented six ships from entering the port. The rebels were five tankers and the Dutch steamer Maasdam.

"The rebel gunboats fired four shots. The artillery stationed at the entrance to the port replied and forced the rebel vessels to retire outside the range of the guns."

"Then the rebel ships directed their fire against the suburb of Varadero, located to the left of the Panuco River, destroying several Chinese houses. How many of the occupants of these houses perished is not known. An aeroplane sent up to reconnoitre identified both the rebel boats."

"At noon the ships cruised off the mouth of the Panuco River, trying to land a landing place."

The foreign residents of Tampico are in an expectant mood. There is considerable tension among the native population. Immediately after the bombardment, James B. Stewart, the United States embassy at Mexico City, and the state department in Washington and requested instructions.

Some of the populace, fearful lest the rebel ships again fire on the town, have left Tampico. The port is well protected by artillery. President Obregon is being kept informed of the situation.

BRIQUETTES MADE FOR TEST PURPOSE

Are Composed of Saskatchewan Lignite and Satisfactorily Carbonized.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—A carload of briquettes made from Saskatchewan lignite is on the way from North Dakota to Ottawa, there is another on the way to Winnipeg, and still another on the way to Regina. At these points the briquettes will be distributed for testing and report to the department of mines.

The lignite, stated Charles Cammell, deputy minister of mines, this afternoon, was satisfactorily carbonized and then sent to a briquette plant in North Dakota to be made into briquettes.

MANY HERE SLOWLY POISONED WHEN FILTER GETS OUT OF FIX

Begins With Symptoms Such as Headaches, Sour Stomach, Sharp Pains and Nervous, Upset Condition.

Every drop of water used here passes through a filter where poisonous waste matter is eliminated and the water is made pure. People would soon protest if city officials allowed this filter to get clogged up so that it could no longer purify water which flows into your home. Yet, people never stop to think that there is a filter in the body that is just as important to you as the one that purifies the city water supply.

Why You Feel Badly.

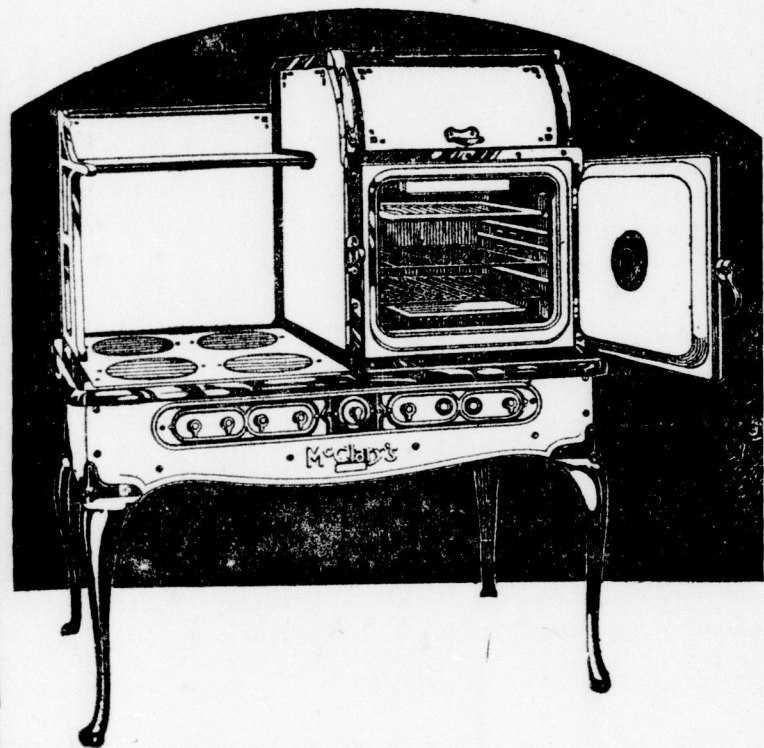

This filter is your liver. When working as Nature intended it purifies your blood every drop of which filters through your liver every 15 minutes. It also supplies the secretions that are essential to digestion and nourishment and prevents constipation. But, when this filter becomes clogged up with poisonous waste, it cannot do these three things. Consequently you often wake up feeling dull, nervous and tired. Your system is slowly poisoned and you suffer from such symptoms as sour stomach, belching of gas, improper movement of the bowels, sick headaches and a nervous, upset condition. You catch cold easily and your system is too rundown to throw off these troubles. You continue to feel badly until your filter has been properly cleansed and toned.

Dr. Thatcher Offers Relief.

Science can now help you feel your best again! Dr. Thatcher has perfected a purely vegetable syrup (known as Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup) which has brought quick relief in numerous cases like those described above. It contains only ingredients known to physicians for their corrective and health-building properties. It helps Nature to cleanse and tone your liver properly and build up your system.

Try a spoonful after the next meal. Notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by B. A. Mitchell, 114 Dundas street and Taylor's Drug Store, 390 Richmond street, half block south of Dundas in London. J. W. Craig in Dresden and by leading druggists in every city and town, with the understanding that you will be completely satisfied; otherwise your money will be returned and you are the judge.—Adv.

A Lesson In Electric Cookery

TO THE HOUSEKEEPERS OF LONDON:

Electricity is the greatest boon that has come to women for the lightening of their household work.

And of all the electrical burden-bearing appliances found at the Hydro Shop, none has been of greater benefit than the electric range.

Right here in London a master electric range has been developed—McClary's can with pride claim to have produced an electric range without a superior.

And in London, at any rate, a prophet is not without honor, as is evidenced by the large number of enthusiastic users of McClary's Electric in this city. We hear from them constantly.

Hydro cooking is cheap in itself, but so this McClary's have added their great heat-retaining features, by means of which most of your baking is done on "stored heat." You can use your oven for hours after all current has been turned off.

We have chosen McClary's Electric Range for our electric cooking demonstration all next week. And we hope to have as our guests all the women of London interested in electric cooking—and who is not?

Drop in for half an hour. Compare the different ranges on our floor. We shall be glad to explain everything you naturally ask about.

Be our guest. See the "stored heat" principle in operation. Sample the baking. And learn how you can save your money, and, most important of all, save YOURSELF.

Yours faithfully,

G. W. BLAY.

Help From Department Sought For City Schools

Trustees Decide Accommodation For Secondary Education Must Be Provided.

WILL VISIT MINISTER

The question of secondary school accommodation jumped to the fore in matters educational yesterday afternoon, when a committee was appointed to visit Toronto and consult with the minister of education and the department relative to their intentions in the matter of secondary education and the amount of assistance that could be expected in the form of a grant if the city should undertake to construct new buildings. This matter was the first one introduced at the opening meeting of No. 3 committee, when Chairman Dr. A. J. Grant brought it up in dealing with the inaugural address of the board chairman.

Dr. Grant stated that this year there was a total of 1,385 pupils enrolled in the colleges of the city, and that next year it was estimated this figure would reach at least 1,500.

Housing Problem.

"Even though we disregard the quality of the accommodation available, we still have the problem of housing these students," stated the chairman. "We are using condemned public schools as two units, and the cramming of these buildings, together with the Central Collegiate, to a point of overcrowding is causing the utmost inconvenience to the students and teachers, and undoubtedly will show up in some way or another."

Pointing out that even though a start on new buildings were made now, it would be September, 1925, before they could be finished, Dr. Grant expressed the hope that the committee and the board would present a united front in dealing with the question.

"We are legally and morally bound to supply accommodation for these students, and it is the duty of this committee to see that they get it. The citizen at large are realizing that it must be done, the parents and children know it, and a public opinion is being formed that will not be gainsaid."

Grants Important.

"Government grants are an important factor in the matter of secondary education, and owing to the accommodation we are forced to use in the east and south sections, we are annually losing portions of these grants. We must consult with the department and the minister and find out what is their mind in this matter, and also as to how to get the largest grant possible."

After the return of a delegation from Toronto, a tour of inspection must be made. On this we will take the representatives of the council, the board, the press and others. Several are not conversant with the situation, but when they know there will be a difference. The mayor has shown a willingness to co-operate, and I think when everyone knows the need that exists there will be no further doubt but that it is a real one."

Trustee Mrs. J. L. A. Hunt then moved that Chairman Bryden N. Campbell, Dr. A. J. Grant and Rev. Quintin Warner compose the committee to wait on the department and interview the minister. A request for ATTACKS BANKS.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Fallon, who made a sweeping denunciation of the banking systems of Canada.

Buy Magazines.

The next question taken up was that of magazines at the colleges. This was left in the hands of Principal E. A. Miller, the committee feeling that he was the better qualified to deal with the matter. The books are used in the libraries and purchased through a library fund included in the estimates.

Another matter taken up was that of fees from pupils belonging to counties not contiguous to Middlesex, and it is probable that the delegation that visits Toronto will also ask for an interpretation of the departmental law in this respect.

The Crow of Croup A Warning To All Mothers

Croup starts with a dry cough and rattling in the throat, after which the croupy crow gives warning of the disease. The child, after tossing restlessly about, will start up with a flushed face, protruding eyeballs, and a distressing look of terror and anxiety. There is a struggle for breath, and the expectation of the mucous matter is so difficult to get rid of that the effort appears to threaten strangulation.

On the first sign of the "croupy crow," mothers should administer Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and this give the child prompt and permanent relief, and perhaps the life saved by taking this precaution.

Mrs. H. A. Langhorn, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My little boy was very bad with the croup, and I could not get anything to relieve him until I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I cannot praise it too highly for the relief it gave him."

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, 60c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Company Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

DAIRYMEN OPPOSE OLEO IMPORTATION

Would Back Government Measure To Compel Grading of Cream.

CONVENTION ENDS

Strong Plea For Quality Goes Out From Several Speakers.

The fifty-seventh annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario held its last sessions yesterday in the Masonic Temple.

While the morning was devoted to more or less technical speaking and discussion on such topics as butter making and curing cheese, the afternoon session featured two most interesting and useful addresses. Alex. McKay, general manager of the Manitoba Co-operative Creameries, Limited, spoke exhaustively on the working of compulsory cream grading in Manitoba, and W. Mac Waddell, manager of the Strathroy Creamery, who has achieved a wonderful result in his own business with cream grading, and who told the members what he had actually been able to accomplish in this way.

Mannell Speaks.

H. Mannell of Woodstock, who was elected president of the association for 1924, in his inaugural address thanked the members for the honor conferred on him and assured them that he would do all he could to forward the interests of the association during his term of office. He asked for any constructive criticism that might throw any light on the dairymen's problems of Western Ontario, and added that the directorate was sufficiently broadminded to receive such suggestions in the right way.

A strong resolution was passed urging the federal government to continue the act now in force which prohibits the importation of oleomargarine into Canada, as being in the best interests of the people of the Dominion. Other resolutions dealt with cow testing in the province and urged some government stimulation in this direction. They offered the support of the association to any form of compulsory cream grading if the government imposed it, and recommending the adoption of cream grading standards in Ontario.

Present Trophies.

The trophies won in the butter and cheese judging competitions were presented by the president at the conclusion of the sessions. There was a large number of winners, and two hundred being present, an improvement over Wednesday, when the wet weather proved a deterrent.

A. A. Ruddick, Dominion dairy and cold storage commissioner at Ottawa, in an address in the morning, expressed his optimism in the future of the dairymen in Canada and said that rapidly increasing world markets would take care of all the number one grade dairy products that Canada could produce. For the lower grades there was a very poor demand and he advised the adoption of "quality" as the dairy slogan for 1924.

At the afternoon and last session of the convention the addresses of more than usual interest were given. The first was given by W. MacWaddell, manager of the Strathroy Creamery, on the value of cream grading, and the second was by Alex. McKay, manager of the Manitoba Co-operative Creameries, Limited, on compulsory cream grading in Manitoba.

Prohibit Oleomargarine.

An important resolution in favor of the present federal legislation prohibiting the importation of oleomargarine into Canada passed unanimously.

Mr. McKay, who is an Ontario man with ten years' experience in creamery methods in the West, stated the case of compulsory or co-operative cream grading, as he called it, in Manitoba.

"In 1914," he said, "our butter had such a bad name for flavor that even the Winnipeg dealers would not buy it for storage. At the beginning we began to grade by cream voluntarily, but without much success. We found, too, at this time, that the Alberta dairymen, who were faced with a very similar problem, had appealed to the provincial government for aid, that they had changed from paying a flat rate for cream to paying according to test, and that they had succeeded in improving their butter so much that they were selling it down here in Ontario and getting a better price than we could get in Manitoba."

"So we in turn asked our provincial government to come to our aid. By its help we succeeded in overcoming the handicap of a large number of individual graders in a country with few large creameries, and set a standard of grading and adhered to it."

Send Graders.

"We send our graders to the creameries and change them every two weeks so they will not become too confined to any one man's ideas and because we want uniformity in the butter. We usually get them from the agricultural college, and find that with the help of creamerymen, which is always very willingly given, that any young man of average intelligence can soon learn to detect off flavors."

They only make an acidity test in doubtful samples. They work in the smaller creameries just as any other employee, but in the larger creameries they can put in their whole time at grading. Payment is made at so much for every hundred pounds of fat. In our case we found that the cost of grading worked out at 54 of a cent per hundred pounds. This was the average for the province.

We pay a differential price of 2 cents between No. 1 and special cream. As evidence of the results achieved by grading in Manitoba, though only in force for one year, Mr. McKay gave the following figures as the average for the province: Table cream 28.1 per cent, special 10.6 per cent, first grade 45.1, second grade 15.6, and off grade 3, which means that 84 per cent of Manitoba cream in 1923 was No. 1.

Test Butter.

The value of grading was also shown by the regarding of many cases of butter that had stood for some time. One car put up in June re-graded 87 per cent number one in September, another car put up in July re-graded 95 per cent number one in December, and a third car put up in October graded 100 per cent number one in December.

He said the westerner would become a much greater producer of dairy products in the future. No plans for grading of cream had been made for 1924, but the general consensus of opinion in his province was strongly in favor of continuing the work. Packing butter carefully he styled one of the most important items of co-operative butter production effort.

Mr. MacWaddell demonstrated with figures what he had been able to accomplish in his creamery in Strathroy by cream grading, and stated that whereas his creamery was graded number two in 1922, it was graded number one in 1923 by the dairy inspector. Prices received throughout the year were the best the market provided, though less butter was produced.

Satisfy Customers.

A special benefit that had accrued to the creamery was thoroughly satisfied customers. A differential price of five cents a pound is paid by the Strathroy creamery between first and second class butter, and he said that the next question to be tackled was to get patrons to stock better cows. He felt that there was more money in the dairy industry for all of them if a better cow was introduced into the district.

He gave the following figures for 1922 and 1923 showing the improvements made by cream grading at Strathroy.

1922—Total firsts, 23.4%; total seconds, 76.6%. 1923—Total firsts, 91.5%; total seconds, 8.5%.

W. H. Sproule of the O. A. C. followed with an interesting address on the dairy experimental work carried on in the college last summer in connection with butter making. "These experiments," he said, "were conducted with the object of determining what effect the addition of lactic starters would have on the loss of fat in churning and the quality of the butter when fresh and after holding 1, 3 and 6 months in storage. The experiments were made with both sour and sweet cream."

Government Helps.

George A. Putnam, director of dairying in Ontario, reiterated what all the speakers of the convention have said so far that quality is the outstanding need in all dairy products.

He declared that the government could never give too much service to butter and cheese makers provided they set certain strict standards of quality and sanitation and adhered to them. He said: "I would withhold any government aid from those creameries which failed to come up to the standards set in either way."

He asked the members whether it would be possible to standardize all equipment in Ontario creameries, arguing that this would tend to a smaller overhead in production and much greater ease in handling and marketing.

Eliminate the inferior and produce the top grade in all dairy products, was the gist of his message to the dairymen. He thought it would be a wise move to prohibit the exportation of all inferior goods, as one shipment of inferior stuff would do more harm to the market than could be rectified in a year of high-grade exportation.

Gives Report.

Frank Hearn, London, chief dairy instructor for Western Ontario of the department of agriculture, read his report for the district.

H. A. Smallfield of the O. A. C., Guelph, the last speaker on the program, and gave a brief resume of the manufacture of condensed and powdered buttermilk and of its sale prospects. He said that experiments at the college proved that it is, at its present price, an unprofitable supplementary feed for hogs, and that tankage is cheaper and better. The experience of other colleges in the States had been the same. He preferred the powdered buttermilk to the condensed variety, and thought it should have a better outlet for sale when it could be produced at a lower cost.

Joseph Burgess, chief grader in Ottawa, said that the winners in the individual judging competitions, Garnet Bain of Lakeside and T. J. Newman, London, were among the finest judges he had ever met. The winners in the butter and cheese judging competitions were: CHEESE SCORING COMPETITION Individual Scoring: Garnet Bain, Lakeside, Ont.; W. J. Pickard, Mount Elgin, Ont.; J. Edlington, Mossley, Ont.; Jos. Skelton, London, Ont. TEAM SCORING COMPETITION Cheese: Garnet Bain, Lakeside, Ont.; Jos. Skelton, London; W. J. Murphy, Thorndale, Ont. G. B. Brodie, Glanworth, instructor.

BUTTER SCORING COMPETITION Individual Scoring: T. J. Newman, Lorneville; W. C. Johnston, Galt; R. D. McEwan, Lindsay; T. F. Corkery, Harwood. TEAM SCORING COMPETITION Butter: T. J. Newman, Lorneville; R. D. McEwan, Lindsay; John Almon, Smithville. The different colors of the light, however, as we have discovered, do not pass with equal ease, the "curtain" absorbing the violet rays easiest, and the red with greatest difficulty.

Are Your Electric Appliances Safe?

To protect hydro users from the danger of shock or electrocution, the Hydro Shop will make a FREE TEST of all appliances brought in today or tomorrow between 9 and 12 a.m. and 1:30 and 6 p.m.

You will not be asked where you bought the appliance. Our whole aim is to give you the protection of expert guidance.

A Thorough Test Faults Corrected will be made with power at 550 volts, a pressure five times as great as you are using in your home.

Your appliance may be "live" and not reveal it until the user comes simultaneously into contact with water or gas pipes or other connection with the ground. Avoid that risk. Have a test made now.

It takes only a moment to tell by our test if your device is properly insulated.

If anything is wrong, repairs will be made promptly at moderate cost if you give the order.

A loose screw was the beginning of a recent tragedy. Act now and protect your family.

WARNING—Never under any circumstances touch a connected electric appliance, switch or fixture and plumbing fixtures or other "ground" at the same time.

How To Enter The London Advertiser's $20,000 Automobile and Cash Prize Campaign

FIRST—Fill in the entry blank on this page. Then send it to the Contest Manager, who will supply you with all information, receipt books, instruction sheets, etc.

SECOND—Make up your mind that you are going to win the $2,000 or at least one of the many Automobiles offered. What others can accomplish you can do.

THIRD—There are a number of people in your district who are not taking The London Advertiser. Get a list of these people and make a house to house canvass—every home is a possibility. Take a few minutes and make up a list of your own friends and acquaintances, and it will surprise you how soon you will have an army of workers around you, all wanting to assist you in winning the big prize.

FOURTH—Anyone may nominate himself or herself or any friend. There are no free votes with the nomination or Entry Blank, but there is a ballot published in this announcement good for 200 free votes. Each ballot counts for 200 free votes for the person whose name appears on the ballot. So that, when soliciting your friends and others for subscriptions you can secure many extra votes by asking them to save the 200 vote ballot from their paper.

FIFTH—Get busy right away. Send in your name. Don't let time mark another minute against your chances for success. Those who start early will have the best chance of winning the big prizes.

SIXTH—Get in touch with the Campaign Department of The London Advertiser. Anything you don't understand, write us, and we will gladly furnish you with all information.

ZION DAUGHTERS TO BECOME JUNIOR HADASSAH CHAPTER

Will Be Reorganized During Mrs. A. J. Freeman's Visit Here on Sunday.

MISS LEWIS PRESIDENT

New Chapter Will Adopt Small Palestine Orphan As Initial Work.

When Mrs. A. J. Freeman of Ottawa, national president of Hadassah, leaves the city at the beginning of the week, the London organization, which has been known as Daughters of Zion for twelve long and successful years, will have become a Junior Hadassah chapter. For one of the official duties of this distinguished woman, who comes to the city Sunday, will be to reorganize the Daughters of Zion into a Hadassah chapter.

Mrs. Freeman is coming to London primarily to be present at the sixth birthday party of the London Hadassah Chapter, which will take the form of a banquet in the Alma Block on Sunday night.

It was the call of duty and a keen sympathy for the suffering of the people of their own race in Palestine that induced these London Zionists to decide on becoming members of Hadassah, whose chief work is in the interests of the Jewish orphans of Palestine. One of the first duties will be to adopt a Palestine orphan, clothing and educating him at an expense of $200 a year. Another duty will be to make clothing for the destitute people of Palestine.

The girls of the Daughters of Zion have loved their own organization and are giving it up with regret. They will still remain Zionists, however, although they will be known officially as a Junior Hadassah chapter and will work for the cause of Hadassah.

Mrs. J. Sellick of Toronto, organizer of Hadassah in Canada, and affectionately called the "grandmother of Hadassah," although she is yet young in years, will also be an important visitor on this occasion, while a third guest will be Mrs. D. Dunkelman of Toronto, president of the Toronto Hadassah Council.

Miss Ida Lewis, president of the Daughters of Zion, who was instrumental in bringing the Hadassah officers to London for the purpose of organizing the new chapter, will entertain her chapter and the officers of the local Hadassah Chapter at her home at the tea hour on Sunday afternoon. At it will be on this occasion that the new chapter will have its birth. The officers of the Daughters of Zion, who will automatically become the officers of the new Junior Hadassah chapter, are: President, Miss Ida Lewis; vice-president, Miss Lily Walter; secretary, Miss Edith Silverstein; treasurer, Miss Leah White; trustees, Miss Deia Lewis and Miss Nettie Berman.

PRIDE LONDON CIRCLE HONORS RETIRING CHIEF

Mrs. E. Mellen Presented With Pretty Bouquet at Installation Meeting.

A. O. F. Circle 182, the Pride of London Circle 182, A. L. F., held an interesting installation meeting on Wednesday night. The officiating officer was Deputy Bro. W. Richards, who was assisted by Grand Marshal Companion Scott of the circle.

Mrs. A. Sheridan is the new chief companion. Other officers installed were: Past chief companion, Mrs. E. Mellen; sub-chief companion, Mrs. F. Grigg; right guide, Mrs. D. Wood; left guide, Mrs. J. Hair; secretary, Miss T. Cotner; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Hawer; inside guard, Mrs. Madley; outer guard, Mrs. Watt; minute secretary, Mrs. May Haldane; pianist, Mrs. May Young; trustees, Mrs. A. Sheridan, Miss Hawley, Mrs. Blanche Brown; and medical officer, Dr. Cameron Wilson.

After the installation services a varied program was given by the following: Miss Jeanette Sonely, Miss Peggy Robin and Miss Marina Martin. The drill team of the circle gave a very creditable performance.

Mrs. E. Mellen, the retiring chief companion, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by two little girls as a token of appreciation of the valuable work she has rendered to the circle.

Dancing and cards brought the remainder of the evening to a successful close.

CLUB NEWS

GIRL GUIDE TRAINING CORPS.

The London Girl Guides officers company has now become a training corps. Meeting this week for supper at "Lenmore," the members followed up the banquet with company drill under the direction of Miss Ruth Robinson. Mrs. C. H. Hill was in the chair. Those present included Mrs. Hill, Miss Aiden, Miss Beth Pennington, Miss Helen d'Avignon, Miss McCausland, Mrs. Marsden, Miss Alma Price, Miss Muriel McBride and Miss Mary Cooke.

ST. MARY'S UNIT. Meeting this week in St. Mary's Parish Hall, St. Mary's Mothers' Unit made plans for a social to be held Thursday evening in the Parish Hall. Cards will be played and Lethbridge's Orchestra will be in attendance. The president, Mrs. J. Larkin, congratulated two of the members on being elected to the executive of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. B. McCormick, who was elected secretary, and Mrs. W. J. Hoy, third vice-president.

LIBRARIANS MEET. At a meeting of the librarians held at the home of Miss Louise Gahan, Harvard street, last evening it was decided that a club would not be organized, but that the librarians would meet periodically during the year to discuss library matters.

New York, Jan. 17.—Sauter watches, hung on chains like "regular" pendants, are in fashion again. In platinum and diamonds they are gorgeous, though others in American and brilliant are by no means to be sneezed at.

DISCOVERED! A BOOK CLUB CALLED "THE ILLITERATES"

Twenty London Women Have Been Studying Together For Three Years.

MRS. HARVEY PRESIDENT

Meet Next Tuesday To Discuss Life and Letters of Walter Page.

How a well-organized literary club, with 20 members and a large waiting list, which has been meeting in London every fortnight for the last three years, could escape the vigilant eye of the press and remain unexposed to the public curiosity until today is a mystery. But such is the case. The members, all of whom are well-known London women, are shy of publicity, and 18 of them will gaze with horror at the paper today when they see themselves "written up." Two of the members will not be so surprised, because the writer has been "talking" to them, under protest, for a very long time. But the two are never known. The writer's lips are sealed.

The members themselves have attributed their success in avoiding publicity so far to the fact that they call themselves "The Illiterates." That name would never bear exposure to printers' ink, they say. However, how is it in black and white and no harm done at all.

On Choosing a Name. Their reason for choosing this name was simply that they believe it applies. No one else would dare to call them such. And certainly after three years of study of the latest books, with a little excursion back into the literature of past ages, their members must be pretty well informed.

The club, of which Mrs. Alexander Harvey, Jun., is now president, was organized over three years ago, the members banding themselves together for the purpose of keeping in touch with the latest literature. The program for next Tuesday night will give some idea of the work of the organization. The meetings are very informal, and are held every two weeks at the homes of the members. This time the members are to be the guests of Mrs. John Deweller, and the subject will be the "Life and Letters of Walter Page."

Mrs. Jared Vining will give a short sketch of the life of this distinguished man and read short extracts from the book, which M. M. Wendell Holmes will refer to his career as an ambassador, and Mrs. V. K. Greer will discuss the man as a journalist. The club is divided into three groups, each group being responsible for an evening. The last meeting was held at the home of Miss Jeffrey, Hayman Court, and the subject discussed was Papin's "Life of Christ."

Members Read Plays. Usually the club studies some modern writer, but occasionally the members have a "Browning evening" or an evening of Shakespeare. In fact, one night each year is given over to the reading of a Shakespeare play, and another night to the reading of a modern play by Glassworthy or Drinkwater or writers of their school. The object of the club is rather to induce in the members a desire to read themselves than to urge close study of any particular work.

Miss May Fowler, now living in California, was one of the original members of the club, and was remembered at Christmas time when a telegram was despatched to her from the "Illiterates." The members now are Mrs. Alexander Harvey, Mrs. F. M. Kennedy, Mrs. J. D. Deweller, Mrs. Jared Vining, Mrs. Wendell Holmes, Mrs. E. V. Greer, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Charles E. Cowley, Mrs. Hutchinson, Miss Minnie Raymond, Mrs. W. E. Saunders, Miss Sanderson, Mrs. E. T. White, Mrs. W. R. PERSONALS

Mrs. W. C. Falls, Grosvenor street, entertained recently at Ma Jong.

Mrs. Victor Lewis is visiting in Stratford, the guest of Miss Robertson.

General Shannon of Toronto, formerly of this city, is visiting in Bermuda.

Mrs. E. N. Rigby and little son of Toronto are guests with Mrs. Frank White, King street.

Miss Doris Smith of Toronto is coming to town shortly and will be a guest with Miss Marion Beck at "Headley."

Dr. Roy Kingswood, chief house surgeon at Victoria Hospital, is spending a few days with friends in Komoka and Detroit.

Mrs. A. M. Jarvis, Ridout street south, will be the hostess Monday next at bridge given in honor of Mrs. Maine of Detroit.

The head nurses' staff of Victoria Hospital entertained at a bridge last evening. Four tables were arranged and later a dainty supper was served.

Mr. A. T. Dodgson, superintendent of the Greene-Swift Company, is in New York, attending the convention of the International Clothing Designers.

Mrs. Clara Wolf, Huron street, entertained at a delightful euchre party this week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Agnew, who are leaving at the end of this month to make their home in Toronto.

Miss E. Maude Davidson of Medicine Hat, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Davidson, Ridout street, spent the past ten days in New York. Miss Davidson will remain in the city about ten days before returning to Medicine Hat.

Mrs. A. Cave arranged a charming china tea last evening in honor of Miss Ethel Thompson, a bride-elect of this week, at her home in Elias street. The handsome gifts were presented to the guest of honor in a large basket. Cards and dancing were enjoyed, followed by a dainty supper.

MISS CARRIE CARMICHAEL, president of the National Council of Women, who has but recently returned to Canada after attending the International Labor Conference in Geneva. Miss Carmichael will visit London in the near future, as the guest of the Local Council of Women.

Mrs. Arthur Linnell has returned home after a brief visit in Hamilton, where she was a guest at the installation of Eastern Star officers. Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor of Preston was the installing officer and both were guests at a large Eastern Star banquet, at which covers were laid for five hundred.

Under the auspices of the Day Nursery board, a bridge and euchre is being given Sunday afternoon at the Cafe de Luxe. A large number of tables are being arranged and the proceeds of this affair are in aid of the nursery funds.

Dr. D. C. McFarlane, who has been spending the past few weeks in London, is expected to return to Canada to continue a special three-year course in eye, ear, nose and throat at the Manhattan Hospital, Mrs. McFarlane, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, Talbot street, will join him there in February.

At a meeting of the Harriet Boomer Chapter, I.O.G.E., held recently at the home of Miss Christine Wanless, Dundas street, plans were made for a bridge and dance to be held at the Cafe de Luxe, Jan. 25. Miss Elsie Wood and Mrs. Gordon Galbraith were appointed conveners, and a meeting of the chapter will be held Jan. 24 to make final plans for the affair.

A successful affair of this afternoon was the bridge given at Smallman and Ingram's tea room under the auspices of the Isabel Hampton Chapter, I.O.G.E. Thirty tables were in play and a number of guests came in at the tea hour. The regent Mrs. Ross Thomas, was assisted in welcoming the guests by the coffee, vases, Mrs. G. M. Wilson, Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. Harold Snellgrove.

Among the interesting functions which are being arranged in honor of Mrs. A. J. Freeman of Ottawa, national president of Hadassah, who arrives in the city next Monday, day to be present at the Hadassah Chapter's sixth birthday on that night, is a luncheon party of which Mrs. A. J. Freeman is president, of the London Hadassah Chapter, is hostess.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Max Lerner is arranging a tea for the Hadassah members in honor of the out-of-town guests, who will include Mrs. D. Dunkelman and Mrs. J. Sellick of Toronto.

The last reception of the season was given yesterday at Government House, Toronto, when hundreds of guests, the first of the winter, gathered to honor the Lieutenant-governor and Mrs. Cockshutt received in the gray drawing-room, the hostess wearing a gown of gray and georgette embroidered in steel and crystal beads. She also wore diamond ornaments, gray suede shoes and a corsage of orchids and roses. Spring flowers were used throughout the rooms and the long buffet tea tables were adorned with flowering plants in white wicker baskets.

The following ladies arranged for tables at the very successful bridge and Ma Jong party held at the Highland Golf Club yesterday afternoon: Miss Emery, Mrs. M. Rowland, Mrs. Jepson, Miss Clara Karp, Mrs. M. Jackson, Mrs. J. J. Foote, Mrs. H. E. White, Mrs. E. Hayman, Mrs. F. Hayman, Mrs. F. M. Kennedy, Mrs. H. E. Boomer, Mrs. T. W. The Youngest Congressman Congressman Clarence J. McLeod, of Michigan, is said to be the youngest member to sit in the House of Representatives, for, while only 27, he is serving his second term.

His Deadly Rival

Dorothy Dix

Names First Baby as Co-respondent in Many Divorces

It's a Great Thing To Be a Good Mother, But Don't Overdo It at the Expense of Being a Good Wife—Wholesome Neglect Is Often Good for Children; Never for Husbands.

It would be interesting to know how many estranged husbands and wives began drifting apart with the advent of the first baby.

Children are popularly supposed to be the tie that binds a man and woman indissolubly together. In only and spirit in marriage. Often this is true, and in their love and hopes and ambitions for their children a husband and wife literally become "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one." Also very often for the sake of their children men and women endure a marriage that they have come to loathe and hate, and are bound together like prisoners whose balls and chains clank at every movement they make.

Unhappily, children's hands do not always draw husbands and wives closer together. They just as often push them apart, and when this happens it is often the woman's fault rather than the man's.

Few men prefer their children above their wives, but for the great majority of women their husbands exist only as their children's father and as purveyors to their children.

The first baby definitely and for all time puts the husband's nose out of joint. Up to that time husband has been king of the domestic realm. His wife has put on her prettiest clothes and adorned herself for him. She has been chum and playmate. She has exerted herself to amuse and entertain him. She has looked out for his comfort, has seen that he had the best of everything, and he has revelled in the bliss of having the center of the stage and the spotlight turned always upon him.

Then arrives the baby, and from having been the worshiped head of the house, husband finds that he is nothing, with no one so poor as to do him reverence.

Wife no longer cares what sort of a figure she cuts in his eyes, or whether he admires her or not. She looks sloppily around the house because the baby pulls at her clothes and musses her chiffons. When husband wants to go out at night she refuses because she can't leave the baby, and if he drags her along anyway, she interrupts the most thrilling part of a play to ask him if he thinks the nurse has forgotten to give the baby his bottle.

There are no more chatty evenings at home, because she is off worshipping before the baby's shrine. She quits reading anything but baby books, and her conversation gets to be about as stimulating as sterilized milk. She is too busy with the baby to show her that he has the things he likes to eat.

There are thousands of homes which are run exclusively for the children. There is never any food on the table except just the simple things that children can eat. There is never any conversation except about the children. The wife never manifests the slightest interest in her husband, or shows him any affection. All of the tenderness, the caresses, the sympathy and understanding is lavished on the children. It is the children's likes and dislikes and prejudices that are remembered and catered to.

There are thousands of women who begrudge every cent that a husband spends on himself because they want the money to throw away on the children. They will nag their husbands into giving up smoking so that they can buy the baby a real lace cap. There are thousands of women who literally work their husbands to death that their daughters may go off to finishing schools and their boys have the latest model sports automobile.

Now the average man loves his children, but he has not this crazy, obsessing passion for them that their mother has. When the first baby comes he is proud of it and fond of it, and he wants it to have every proper care and attention, but he doesn't want to spend hours sitting by its crib, gazing over it and marveling at how naturally it breathes. He wants to go about the ordinary affairs of life as he did before the baby was born, and he wants his wife's companionship.

But she will seldom go with him, and when she does she is no fun because she doesn't enter into the spirit of anything. She has left her whole interest in life behind in the nursery. Now is she an entertaining companion at home any more? And if she gets on his nerves being told to "sh-h-h-h" every time he shuts the door, for fear he will wake the baby.

He even discovers that his wife is relieved when he goes out without her, and leaves her undisturbed to her infant adoration. And so the rift is first made between them. Each starts on a life in which the other has no part, and that takes them farther away from each other as the years go by.

If the true co-respondent ever named in many a divorce case, it would be the first baby, for there are always plenty of women a man can find who will play with him while his wife is busy in the nursery; who will listen to him and flatter him while his wife is telling the baby he is the most beautiful thing in the world. While mama is holding the baby's hand, some vamp is generally holding papa's.

It is a great thing to be a good mother, but it is equally as great a thing to be a good wife. And it is a bad thing to do either one at the expense of the other. Often children are better off for a little wholesome neglect, but a husband never is.

Remember that, ladies, and don't make your baby your husband's deadly rival.

J. Turner; treasurer, Mrs. James Brady; secretary, Miss Anna Fisher. During the meeting a very interesting paper on "Music" was given by Mrs. Leo Kirwin.

WOMEN and THE HOME

DENNY BROOKS

A STORY OF COURAGE.
By ELENORE MEHERIN.

CHAPTER LXXXIII.

Denny sat with his legs crossed, a magazine opened before him. He didn't turn a page. His heart seemed to be swelling, to be crowding the breath out of him. He got up, walked about the room, stopped before a picture of the Bridal Falls. He stared at this, nodding and saying, "Lots of water there. Lot of power there."

The door from the little white room opened. It was like a bolt catching him in the middle of the back. The nurse, he turned quickly with a terrible effort demanding, "Well?"

She smiled. "The doctor hasn't begun the examination yet."

What? Oh—not yet—oh, I see—

He sat down and picked up the magazine. Now his whole body throbbed with pulses that were almost audible in the intense, unnatural quiet of the room.

Suddenly he heard Katy's laugh—same joyous laugh as yesterday, last week, last month—an astounding, wondrously human thing that reached out to him and said, "Look, and loosen the tightness clutching at his throat."

Why in the world was he shaking like this? He laughed. They couldn't hurt her. Just coming to a doctor wasn't going to doom her. Good Lord!

It seemed to him that he sat there hours, ten days, eternally settling about him in a cold, breathless pall. The door opened again—and again the nurse smiling. He merely looked at her.

The doctor will see you, Mr. Brooks."

The hand, like a claw, at his throat. All over. Now—now he would hear—

Then Denny was leaning with both hands at a desk, staring through gray fogs at a face—the young doctor's face. And suddenly the fogs were parted with a luminous shaft, with a lightning flame, that struck into a spirit with a madness—an emotion, terrific, heart shaking, too big to endure.

"Yes, she'll walk. I'm sure of it. No reason why she shouldn't. In time, of course. It can be done."

Denny turned quickly, a wild shiver running over him, racing up and down his spine. Katy walking! Good Lord, walking! Too much—gee whizz! He bit his lips. Without facing the doctor, he managed to say, "Well, it means a great deal!"

Then his chin shook. Hell, let the fool doctor think what he liked! He whipped out a handkerchief, blew his nose with ferocious gusto. "You're sure? She'll walk? Without crutches? Without a cane?"

"That's what I hope. It won't be done in a month, or in two or three. Denny laughed, put out his hand. "This means a lot!" To all the tails of the delicate operation, you're sure about the walking, about that?" He kept blowing his nose, managing cleverly to keep the handkerchief over his face.

"Tell her? Gee!"

Katy was in the reception, putting on her gloves, taking off again. Tears streamed down cheeks.

"Oh, Denny!" He didn't whether it was a laugh or a sob she caught his hand and looked at the cloudless eyes swimming. "Glad, Denny—oh—"

He stooped down and kissed her. "Gee, Katy—kid—aw, gee!"

She covered her face and cried, then she fumbled for her powder puff. He found it and as she dabbed it on her nose and then on her eyes and back on her nose again, she laughed. "Well, you're crying yourself, Mr. Denny. You're crying, too!"

"Guess I got as good a right as you have—come on now, Stupe!"

And as he lifted her to the taxi he kept saying, "Gee, Katy—say."

She sank in the corner. "Denny, I'll just cry for a minute. Then we'll talk. I can't help it. I think there's some kind of a crazy spring bubbling up—inside—and when it gets to the top—well—here it is now—"

"Well—you see—you can't get it all out in laughing—I'm not really crying—just kind of foolish. You glad, Denny. You didn't say you were glad."

Out came the handkerchief—poor nose.

"Say, Denny—it's much better if you up and cry a little—next week, Denny, just think—oh, won't you be glad—won't we have the finest old gorgeous times? Didn't I know it though—now didn't I?"

"Say, Katy—it won't be next week—not that soon."

"Oh—next week—next year—but sometime—not ever so far away."

Suddenly she pressed her face against his arm. "It's almost more than I can stand, Denny. I think I could walk now. That's the way I feel. Oh, I love you, Denny. I think I'm melting. Remember the day you brought me from the hospital back to Aunt Josie's? You remember what He said about me and being a cripple and what was to take care of me?"

"Gee—don't, Katy!" In a tumult of piercing tenderness, Denny put his arm around her. "Don't think about that, Katy."

"Oh, but the way you stood up, Denny, and you only 15, and said you were to look after me. And haven't you done it though! Oh, if I should have wings as well as feet, if I should have wings a mile long, I'd still think about the way you stood up against him, Denny. Stood up for me—didn't you?"

Blocks and they said nothing, but Katy kept her hand folded under his. When he looked at her she wiped her eyes. When she looked at Denny his mouth twitched a tremulous, "Aw, gee—"

"But let me tell you this, Denny—I'm glad for all these years, I wouldn't have a single one changed."

"Don't you want to walk, Katy? Sorry the dream's coming true."

The red lips—red like Queenie's—trembling. "Denny, let's not tell Stephen. I'll just surprise him and, some day, without ever saying a word, I'll come so early with little buckles on my shoes all shining—I'll come prancing down to meet him. Do you think he'll be glad? Ever and ever so glad?"

"Listen, Katy, you don't think you'll step off the table and walk five minutes after the operation, do you? It might be a year."

"Oh, what's a year after so many?"

"I don't care about that."

"Then why not tell Steve?"

"It would be so much sweeter not to say nothing, but just to surprise him. Only you and I do the waiting, Denny. Just you and I."

It was as though fine warm threads weaved their thought together in a web of tenderness; of gladness poignant and deep as pain.

When Denny looked at Katy there came a rush to his throat as though his heart overflowed or as though it discharged foolish tears instead of blood into his veins. He found himself stopping at work with a startled, "Gee, she'll walk!" Each time it came as something new—like a wondrous, incredible revelation.

He would see her beautiful, tall, graceful as Joan—swinging open a door, running over to the piano, standing with her hands airily fluttering the way she had that day he came home and found her with her old lace curtain draped about her practicing before the broken mirror for the dance of the Flower Fairies.

What a little, slim thing she was then—swift, why she could beat him running any day, and he was no dear, beautiful angel. I know you do it," she prayed. "But you're not finished yet. Don't go away. Stay—stay."

In the afternoon she sat in the back garden of the little Traynor cottage. She thought: "Shall I write and tell Stephen? No—No! Surprise him! Might he die from being so shocked with joy? Oh, I guess so. And in these days, Katy laughed and cried herself to sleep. "Oh, you do it," she prayed. "But you're not finished yet. Don't go away. Stay—stay."

The glory would not be quite complete, nor all the brilliance lighted in the star till Stephen knew.

IDAHO GIRL WILL PLAY BEFORE DRAMA LEAGUE

Miss Louise Steele To Have the Leading Role in Comedy Directed by V. Perry.

When the London Drama League presents Booth Tarkington's "The Ghost Story," under the direction of Vincent Perry, at the February meeting, it will introduce to the members an entirely new cast of players. In the leading role of this delightful little comedy will be found Murray McDiarmid, while Miss Louise Steele, a visitor in the city from Boise, Idaho, will take the part of leading lady. Other members of the cast are: Miss Ena Thirsk, Miss Lena Short, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Helena Humston, Reginald Fyron, Frank Adams and Walter Mawson. And it is whispered that every one of the women members of the cast is a beauty.

The Medieval Shoe.

Paris, Jan. 17.—A medieval type of shoe now is being brought out. While held on by the merest of thin straps and by as few of these as possible the shoe has in front a long, pointed tongue of satin or leather which reaches to the ankle.

Strange Combinations.

London, Jan. 17.—The strangest fabrics are combined in evening frocks shown here today. At the Berkeley the other evening one American woman wore the gown of silver lame which had a deep footing of rough camel's hair cloth.

Pale Green Lingerie.

New York, Jan. 17.—A visit to the exclusive lingerie shops today affords convincing assurance that the season's smartest shades for lingerie are pale green and sunshine yellow. Both tints look remarkably well when given a touch of either silver or black.

Russia Has Children's Regiment

Russia has its first children's regiment, recruited from boys of the age of six and up. The military idea is early getting its hold here.

Yowler the Bob Cat Becomes Very Curious About Gray Fox

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Yowler the Bob Cat was on his way to the old cotton field to hunt for Little Robber the Cotton Rat. His way took him near the garden on the edge of which Denny and Nanny Meadow Mouse had made their home. Suddenly Yowler stopped and threw up his head. His keen ears had caught certain queer sounds over in that garden. Something unusual was going on over there. He couldn't make it out at all.

Now Yowler has just as much curiosity as anyone else. He wanted to know what was going on over there. He turned and swiftly, but noiselessly, made his way over into that garden, and creeping from stump to stump, keeping himself very close to the ground, reached a place where without being seen he could see what was going on.

What he saw was Gray Fox pouncing on a rusty old can, knocking it this way and that way, and once in a while picking it up and shaking it. "What ails that fellow?" muttered Yowler under his breath. "He acts as if he has lost his temper over that old can, but what there can be about that old can to make Gray Fox lose his temper is too much for me. He is growling and snarling as if that old can were alive and he was fighting with it. My, my, my, I have never seen Gray Fox in a worse temper. Now what under the sun can there be about an old can to make Gray Fox lose his temper like this?"

For a few minutes Yowler watched, and with every minute he grew more curious. Then he crept a little nearer. "It's a queer performance," said he to himself. "It's the queerest performance that ever I've seen. Hello! Now what can be the matter with Gray Fox?" He acts as if that paw has been hurt."

Gray Fox had stopped knocking that old can about, and was licking the paw that Danny Meadow Mouse had bitten and that had been cut on the edge of the old can. But he did this for only a moment or two. Then he pounced on that can again, and once more knocked it about this way and that.

What he saw was Gray Fox pouncing on a rusty can.

Yowler crept still nearer. He made no effort to keep out of sight. He knew that Gray Fox had no eyes anything but that old can. Further more, Yowler didn't care much. Gray Fox did see him. In fact, rather intended that Gray Fox should. He was curious about that old can, and he knew that if Gray Fox should see him he wouldn't stop to even pass the time of day.

At last Gray Fox hit that old can harder than ever and sent it end over end straight toward Yowler, where it stopped just a little way in front of him. Gray Fox sprang after it. Yowler arched his back and growled. Gray Fox gave a yelp of fright, stopped so suddenly that he nearly fell, turned and disappeared in less than time it takes to tell it.

Oh, mammy FRY'S does taste so good when you're hungry!

Mothers! Just try this—let the children have a cup of delicious, warming and invigorating FRY'S Cocoa when they come home from school. It is such a "hungry time," and such a long wait from dinner to supper, whereas a cup of FRY'S is easily made and every drop is nourishment of the finest kind.

If your child is nervous, pale and not strong, you will find a regular afternoon cup of FRY'S a wonderful tonic food because it contains every element a child needs for growing. Of course, everyone likes FRY'S, its flavor is so delightful, and really, it is one of the most economical foods you can buy. Of course, remember

"Nothing will do but FRY'S"

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1924.

The Right Spirit.

W. Mac. Waddell of the Strathroy Creamery told the Ontario Dairywomen's Association at the session in London on Thursday that he had a confession to make. During 1922 he was hostile to the idea of grading cream, and he rebelled at the way in which butter was graded down because it was made in part at least of second-grade cream. He had written some fairly sharp letters to Mr. Scott, who conducts the grading station at Toronto.

During 1923 he had bought for his creamery on the basis of graded cream. In that time he made a new record. In 1922 his butter graded seconds in 76 per cent of the tests; in 1923 his product graded "firsts" in 94.5 per cent of the tests. Mr. Waddell was man enough to come before the meeting and publicly admit his error, and call for three cheers for Mr. Ross, the man he had tackled the year previously for his assistance on cream grading.

It showed a fine spirit, a spirit that was in keeping with the quality of his 1923 butter.

Law and the Individual.

A peculiar case came up in London police court, it being that of a girl, working for $11 a week, who had stolen some goods from the store in which she worked.

Restitution of the goods has been made, and a young man from a northern center appeared in court, stating that he had been keeping company with the girl previously, and was prepared to marry her if she were released.

Now there is the point that crime must be punished, and a respect for the law maintained, but against that there is the higher point of the future of the individual concerned.

Here was a chance for her to be married, and go to a new home some distance away from here, get a new start and take her place in the community.

The decision that she must go to common jail for two months may tidy the law, but it has not solved the case for the girl.

Farmers in U. S.

The farmers of United States, especially from the northwest, are knocking at the door in Washington. They want assistance; they want the government to buy their crops; they want more protection against Canadian wheat. There is no denying the seriousness of their situation, and there is any denying the danger to the government granting the quest.

The farmers of the western states want after a protective tariff on their wheat produce. In order to get it they had to bargain with almost every other line of business that had a friend at Washington. The result is that when the farmer got his tariff he had also given a high protective fence to the people from whom he had to buy the things he did not produce, and his last state was worse than the first.

The U. S. grain grower has a 30 cents a bushel tariff on wheat from Canada, against a 12-cent barrier set up by this country.

In his trouble he goes to Washington to ask for loans and more tariffs. The only way Washington can help farmers is by seeking the re-establishment of buying power in Europe, and their movements in this direction have been those of a man with a chain and ball tied to his feet.

Get the Money.

Reports indicate that foreign buyers have taken up property in Germany, getting it for a fraction of its actual value. Being possessed of foreign money, they have been able to buy at ridiculously low figures.

One despatch quotes a buyer who secured a fairly large estate as saying: "When things come back to normal I will let it go; there should be a real profit on the thing."

No doubt that is quite legitimate, but it has in it the idea that the dollar is the greatest thing in the world.

The German people are at the point where they have to part with their homes; their money, poor as it is, is not sufficient to go out and trade on; there are people, plenty of them, without enough to eat.

An excellent field to exploit, is it not?

Let us go in and profit on their distress. Let us buy up their property when they are down and out, and when they want it back we shall make them pay for it through the nose.

No—there's something in any red-blooded man that rebels at the idea of going through a man's pockets when he's down and out.

They Will Not Vote.

Toronto made a very poor showing at the municipal elections when it came to getting the people out to vote.

Ottawa had about a fifty per cent vote, while Hamilton, with quite a show of interest on the surface, got only one-quarter of its vote registered.

Yet in all these centers taxes are high—they have gone up at an alarming rate over a period of ten years.

The one time when the people paying these taxes have a chance to say effectively what they think is on election day, and on that day they are from 50 to 75 per cent dumb.

They have very little right to complain of a situation they refuse to help in correcting.

Very Indefinite.

Nine colored men appeared in court in Chatham. They were charged with gambling, but they denied this, stating that they were just sitting around in an effort to see which one could tell the biggest lie.

The Chatham despatch is very indefinite. It does not even state what particular portion of the Conservative platform was being discussed.

Law for the Cows.

East Zorra is not going to allow cows to pasture on the roadside any more. It was so decided by a vote at the last election.

All of which shows that we are living in a stylish world and that things are moving along.

Why, it's not more than a generation or so back that Dougald McIntosh was candidate for mayor of Parkhill on one occasion, and his chief plank was that he would make the streets of the town the pasture for the poor man's cow.

However, Dougald didn't win on that plank, and the liberty of the cow, like the liberty of the individual, has been increasingly and definitely defined by laws and by-laws.

What Is Value?

The old assessor of North Monaghan Township has resigned. His claim is that he has a conscience, and cannot sign the roll stating that he has assessed property at its full value.

He has to deal largely with farm lands, and it would be a difficult task for him to say whether he had assessed at full value or not, for the very good reason that no one can state definitely what the value of a farm is.

"Value," according to the best definition ever given, is the price arrived at between the least urgent buyer and the least urgent seller.

When a man is very urgent in his desire to sell he will let go at a lower figure than the man who is not particular about selling. On the other hand a man keen to purchase for some special reason will probably pay a higher price by reason of his urgency.

Take it another way. There are farms around here on which loans were made during the war; they were valued at $18,000, and some of them have been sold since, on the basis of present-day returns from the farms, as low as $10,500. What we call "value" is in reality a fickle sort of thing, influenced by earning powers and the desire of the owner to dispose of his property.

The assessor in North Monaghan is no doubt a worthy man, but the man who succeeds him will have exactly the same problem to face.

Note and Comment.

Blessed is the man who when he pays his grocery and butcher on Saturday night is square with the world.

A speed maniac is a chap who manages to pass us when we are crowding every possible mile out of the old bus.

CAN EUROPE HOLD TOGETHER?

Chapter X.: Reparations and the Ruhr Invasion.

This series of articles is a simple but accurate explanation of world conditions, from the point of view of a distinguished specialist. These articles are the result of his most recent tour of Europe, made especially for securing the data—a trip on which he visited sixteen countries, talked with the premiers of half of them and the finance ministers of twelve, and in field observations secured a mass of facts. Mr. Sinclair says finance economics can be told so simply a child can grasp them. His articles prove his claim.

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR.

"Dr. Cuno, why can't you and France get together?" "Well, I will tell you exactly," replied the German chancellor speaking perfect English. "I am not a politician. I am a businessman. Before coming here I was head of the German-American Steamship Company. When a difficult problem arose with the French steamship people I would put on my hat and go to Paris, and we would settle the difficulty that way. I followed the same procedure with the English and the Scandinavians, and they followed the same with us. That was good business. Then I was asked to act as reparations agent. I had never been in politics, but I knew that the reparations question was purely a business question and would have to be handled in a business way. I agreed to accept the chancellorship. But I was soon disillusioned, for I found out that Mr. Poincaré was not interested in settling the reparations problem on a business basis at all. He spoke of many other things. Mr. Poincaré is a politician and not a businessman. I, on the other hand, am a businessman and not a politician. That is why the reparations problem is in such a muddle. Now, either Mr. Poincaré must retire and a businessman must put in his place, or I must go and a politician put in my place. Oil and water do not mix."

Pay Every Debt.

The German government was finally told that they must pay $3,000 millions of dollars in reparations. With this vast sum, I could have paid every public debt in 1913 of every country in Europe and in the United States, Japan and Canada as well. Every one, I would still have enough money left over to pay the debts of each one of the forty-eight states of the United States. Still my money would not be all gone. I could build fifty hospitals, costing $2,000,000 each in fifty different cities in the United States and Canada. I would have enough over to put $50,000,000 in the bank for a rainy day. That is the sum which is demanded from a people who occupy an area not so large as the two states of North Dakota and Montana combined.

Let us approach this problem in another way. The interest charges and the sinking fund on this amount totals about 2,000 millions of dollars a year. As we have already seen it must be paid in gold or goods. The present total gold supply of Germany would pay just seven days' interest charges. Gold payment then is out of the question. She can only pay in goods. That is, she must sell to the world each year 2,000 millions of dollars more goods than she buys from the world. No student of finance has ever been able to suggest any other way to settle a foreign debt. So let us see where we come out.

Immense Imports.

In 1922 Germany exported 935 millions of dollars of goods, while she imported 1,500 millions of dollars worth of goods. In this way Germany last year bought 565 millions of dollars more goods than she sold. Is there any financial wizard in all the world who can show how Germany can sell 2,000 millions of dollars more goods than she buys without first buying the raw material, which she turns into the finished article? Then who would take the goods if she would get them ready? Would France or England or the United States actually import and then re-export them to Germany? I am not a politician. I am a businessman. Before coming here I was head of the German-American Steamship Company. When a difficult problem arose with the French steamship people I would put on my hat and go to Paris, and we would settle the difficulty that way. I followed the same procedure with the English and the Scandinavians, and they followed the same with us. That was good business. Then I was asked to act as reparations agent. I had never been in politics, but I knew that the reparations question was purely a business question and would have to be handled in a business way. I agreed to accept the chancellorship. But I was soon disillusioned, for I found out that Mr. Poincaré was not interested in settling the reparations problem on a business basis at all. He spoke of many other things. Mr. Poincaré is a politician and not a businessman. I, on the other hand, am a businessman and not a politician. That is why the reparations problem is in such a muddle. Now, either Mr. Poincaré must retire and a businessman must put in his place, or I must go and a politician put in my place. Oil and water do not mix."

Still the Wirth cabinet was placed in power as the government of fulfillment. The late Dr. Rathenau, German minister of reparations, had laid over to the reparations commission ships, aeroplanes, coal, coke, lumber, agricultural machinery, railroad equipment, iron and hundreds of thousands of cattle, sheep, pigs and other live stock. It may be a surprise to know that Dr. Ludwig Stein, a leading professor and economist of Switzerland, has already paid to the reparations commission in goods and money an amount equal to 14,000 millions of dollars. The French on their hand estimate the amount at 2,000 millions. Possibly the correct figure is somewhere between the two.

And now when public opinion of the whole world is coming around to a more sane business approach to the reparations question, France enters the Ruhr and announces to the world that the reparations figure must stand. And that she expects to stay in the Ruhr until a full settlement satisfactory to her is made. The French on their hand estimate the amount at 2,000 millions. Possibly the correct figure is somewhere between the two.

1. To get within her political and economic control the coke and coal of the Ruhr, now so essential for her iron and steel business.

2. To disintegrate and destroy the German economic system, finally causing a political and economic collapse.

With Germany out of the way France believes that with her military and economic power she can dominate the life and business of Europe for the next few centuries.

That to me is the significance of reparations and the Ruhr invasions. In the meantime the condition of the average man and woman and child in Germany and France too grows much worse. But that means nothing now in this struggle of death.

Sir—Have read the report of the addresses of Hon. Arthur Meighen at London on Friday evening. In his scathing denunciation of the government, he claimed that Premier King's tinkering with the fiscal policy had caused the present crisis of depression.

The unstable condition of the country, unemployment and thousands of good Canadians to leave this country for the United States; and, for all these and the many other "disasters" which he attributed to the government, he little Arthur and his band of huckster-office-seekers again to power.

He also claimed that the deeds of the government during his regime were vindicated, and that the charges of waste and extravagance laid against it had not been justified. Let us examine. At the very time this country was staggering under the load of debts, Mr. Meighen spent millions on a dry-dock on the British Columbia coast. For the benefit of private promoters he guaranteed $45,000,000 in bonds to McKenzie & Mann, who were to build a $40,000,000 manufacturing concern, to settle their taxes with an I. O. U., and it was believed at the time that it was not the only empty case. In fact, he had the cool nerve to tell the people that the charges of waste and extravagance laid against his government had not been justified. Can Mr. Meighen justify his usurpation of power for two years without a mandate?

In view of the enormous national debt, can he justify the raising of his salary to $19,000 a year, and that of the leader of the opposition $14,500, and an increase of $1,500 to each of the members? In the special session of parliament, called to ratify the peace treaty, can he justify his action in prolonging the session to 31 days to enable each of the members to draw an additional $1,000, making their seasonal indemnity that year $5,000, when the work could have been done in five days?

In the summer of 1920, when the housewives of this country were paying from 21 cents to 23 cents a pound for sugar, and because of a pretended shortage, were having it doled out to them by a butcher's dele groceries barons shipped nearly 50,000,000 pounds to the United States, and when the price fell then they fixed the price to the Canadian consumer

TWO MEN BANISHED

Will Replay Game If Necessary To Decide Group Title.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Marys, Jan. 17.—After 30 minutes of overtime here tonight St. Marys and London intermediates wrapped up the puck and called it a night, with the score tied, 3-3. The game will be replayed if it enters into the group title argument. Halfway through the second period, Gillies and Yates parted from the O. H. A. rules and played under those formulated by the Marquis of Queensbury, and both were banished for the rest of the game. The struggle, which saw the score tied several times.

London led the first two periods. Gillies and McGeech were the net bulgers in the first, while D. Louch and Lu Lavelle counted one, making it read 2-1.

Three Shine. Gillies, Loughed and Somers again stood out to start the second period. A Louch combination tied the score after three minutes, and then McGeech sent London ahead.

The Gillies and Yates setto preceded Johnny Burgess' crash to the ice with an injury. Loughed alone sent London into the lead, 4-2, and just before the bell Lu Lavelle twanged the twine.

W. Louch scored on a rebound from a Louch-Tour combination, and then St. Marys drew ahead two goals, via Lavelle and Hobbs. With D. Louch in the pen, Somers scored, and Loughed, almost from the face-off, knotted the count up again. Loughed passed to McGeech for the goal which should have won, but W. Louch wiped this off with a counter, and but 60 seconds to go.

No Scoring. Somers and W. Louch scintillated in the first ten minutes of extra time, but no scoring resulted. In the second period W. Louch scored, McGeech, with a smart piece of play, evened the count with five minutes yet to go, and the teams battling desperately.

The teams: St. Marys—Sims, Tuer, Yates, Lavelle, W. Louch, D. Louch, Hobbs and Mitchell. London—Smith, Somers, Loughed, McGeech, Burgess, Gillies, Hindmarsh and Cooney. Referee—Geo. Hillier, Kitchener.

Two Draw—10:30 a.m. Ferguson, Thistles, vs. Dr. Robinson, Ontario Hospital; Sage, L.C.C., vs. Brown, Thistles; Gibson, Thistles, vs. Pearson, L.C.C.; Banks, L.C.C., vs. McCullough, Thistles.

KITCHENER COUNCIL HONORS RANGERS' FOOTBALL TEAM

Special to The Advertiser. Kitchener, Jan. 17.—The members of the finance committee of the Kitchener City Council voted $100 at their meeting here tonight to be used in giving a banquet to the Kitchener Rangers' football team as a recognition of the team having been victorious in the W. O. B. A. series. It has been the custom of the council to honor the team in some way in recognition of their victory, and a letter from the club apprized the council that the donation of $100 toward a banquet would be the most acceptable manner in which the council could honor the members.

Glencoe Juniors Drop From Race

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, Jan. 17.—Glencoe Juniors have defaulted their game with the Woodstock O. H. A. sextet which was to have been played at the Scotch Town Tuesday night, and have announced that they would drop out of the group race with the London, Ingersoll and Woodstock kids.

ADD NOVEL FEATURES TO DOG SHOW TONIGHT

Several English Importations Will Make First Appearance On This Side.

Many new dogs will appear at the show in the new Dodge Garage, on York street east of Ridout, tonight, when the premier evening show of the London Canine Association will be staged. In English bulldogs there has been several importations recently, and in other breeds, particularly Boston Terriers, there are many puppies to make their debut in this event. The shows often-times bring out the winners of future events, and the fact that the dogs are to be passed upon by the expert, Bert Swann of Long Branch, denotes that some of the spring winnings will be forecasted. Mr. Swann is a dog man upon whom the local fanciers place a great deal of confidence, and the extra expense necessary to bring the authority to the city will no doubt be rewarded with a bumper entry.

It is announced by the Canine Association that the silver spoons popularized by the shows of recent years will again be given with each ribbon. This means that several dozen of the handsome Community Plate spoons will go into new hands, and some of the exhibitors of other shows will have an opportunity to add to their collection. Plenty of prizes will also be provided to divide the competition. In each breed there will be a puppy class under three months, a puppy class under six months and a puppy class under one year. Then there will be the regular novice, limit and open classes. The green class has also been added for the dog that has never before been shown and owned by an exhibitor who has never shown one.

This class was created purely to encourage the owners of the pet dog, and the citizen who does not care to compete against the seasoned winners of the experienced fanciers. Of course many dogs exhibited for the first time will also be shown in the other classes to test their mettle against the winners. A children's class in each breed has also been provided. This, it was felt by the association, would provide a little experience for the boy and girl who intends showing their dogs in the Hobby Fair in May.

Many hundreds of spectators are expected to throng the big garage where the show is held, as the recent membership drive of the association has added many new names to the club's list and a membership ticket entitles the holders to admission without charge.

SEATS SELLING FAST

From advance inquiries being received from many sources by the London Garrison A. A. regarding its boxing show next Friday, indications now are that the accommodation of the armories will be taxed to the utmost. The very excellent cardman Harry Burns has evidently met with the entire approval of boxing enthusiasts generally.

Reserved seats will be placed on sale this week-end at Johnston Bros. Jewelers, R. M. Brisco's and Saville's Forest City Garage, Clarence street. At the last show staged by this organization a considerable jam occurred at the entrance to the building, but arrangements have been completed this time whereby those who purchase their tickets in advance will be admitted through the Waterloo street entrance. DEMPSEY WILL MEET GIBBONS NEXT JUNE Rickard Makes Known Time of Return Match With the Champion.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Jan. 17.—The return world's heavyweight title match between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons will be held in New York the first week in June, Promoter Tex Rickard announced today in denying reports that he planned to stage the contest during the Democratic national convention, which opens here June 24.

At the same time Rickard disclosed that after the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, contracts for which he expects to have signed within a fortnight, his next fight venture will not take place before the middle of July, when he hopes to stage a heavyweight elimination test between Harry Wills, negro contender, and Luis Angel Firpo. The winner of this match, if Rickard's plans materialize, would fight Dempsey in September, provided the champion succeeded in disposing of Gibbons in June.

CHARLTON WINS GAME.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Jan. 17.—In a replayed game from the first round of the English Association cup series today Charlton Athletic defeated Accrington by 1 to 0. Charlton will meet Wolverhampton in the second round. Blackheath won from London University in a rugby match by 19 to 0 today.

On the Side Lines

With C. S. G.

HARD TO DOPE.

There have been a bunch of upsets already this season in senior hockey, and exhibition efforts of the seniors against intermediate teams have seemingly tended to increase the difficulties of the dopers. The experts no sooner point a team for the title and get their reasons all nicely laid out in an orderly row than the favorites are handed a bump. Varsity's win over the Hamilton Tigers constitutes the latest and very hardest bump the experts have received.

It looks as if Granites' absence will bring the senior hockey standard down a bit this season. Granites undoubtedly set a standard of play that had the other senior crews playing at top speed all the time. Now there are in-and-out tendencies creeping in that are unusual in hockey especially.

Parkdale plays at Hamilton tonight, and tomorrow night Kitchener-Twin City meet Aura Lee in Toronto. If the Kitchener outfit can win it will go a long way toward proving that their victory over Varsity wasn't a fluke, all of which will give the dopers still more wrinkles and more alibis to hunt.

HOW DOES JOIE DO IT?

Joie Ray has arrived in New York for a winter campaign. Joie must have had a good summer in the taxi business to be able to afford a winter in New York.

NOT CANVASS EXPERTS.

Johnny Wilson and Greb meet tonight. Johnny Wilson has never been knocked out; Greb only once, and then in his first fight. Wilson has come up to almost even terms in the wagering. Johnny, they claim, is a vastly different fighter now that he has no title to defend. How they claim that is hard to see, as Johnny when he had a title didn't do much fighting.

CYNICS.

There are plenty of people who think that "senior" when applied to hockey should be spelled "senior."

ALL S'WELL.

Miss Gladys Robinson has been "whitewashed" by the amateur officials, and is as good an amateur as if the naughty thought of turning professional had never entered her head. During the proceedings it was established that Miss Robinson, who was always believed married, had a right to that name, as she had divorced her husband three years ago. Amateurs may not compete under an assumed name.

NOT AMATEURS.

Under this ruling Fannie Hurst and a few more of the "women novelists" brigade who persist in keeping their maiden names and only week-end appointments with their husbands will have an awful time getting cards to enter amateur milking contests now so popular in New York.

Stratford C. N. R. Intermediates Will Meet Aces At Local "Y."

IS STRONG GROUP

Season Promises Best Games City Has Seen in Years.

The O. B. A. season opens here Wednesday night at the "Y" gym, when Stratford C. N. R. takes on the local "Y" Aces.

The group, which is composed of Stratford, St. Thomas, London "Y" and London A. A. A. teams, promises to produce a winner that will take a lot of beating for the intermediate title.

C. N. R. has shown its class in several exhibition engagements, and when the local group gets going properly the fans won't be far away from the senior brand of the court pastime.

The preliminary game has not been arranged yet. The referee also remains to be named.

"Y" Aces have been working out steadily, and are in great shape for the opening tilt of which promises the best season local men's basketball has enjoyed in a good many years. The fact that two local teams are in the group adds some tobacco to the tangle.

William Allen, Herb Mitchell and Guy Andrews of the local Checker Club are competing in the Dominion Checker Tourney in Toronto this week. The local checker club has been going strong this season, and numbers in its membership some very fine players across the squared board.

City Juniors Will Have Stiff Opposition From Ingersoll Tonight

INGERSOLL KIDS SHOW MARKED IMPROVEMENT

Local Juniors Not Under-Estimating Strength of Tonight's Visitors.

McMILLAN RECOVERS

London's Star Forward Will Be in Lineup Again.

McMillan will not be lost to the juniors for the rest of the season, nor for any part of it, as the ex-Glenora youngster will be in the game tonight against Ingersoll. He turned up ready for practice last night, but as the workout discovered owing to a misunderstanding, he spent the time getting fitted with new knee pads. So the team will line up the same way in what it faced Woodstock and held the heavy Red and Whites to a 1-0 score on their own ice.

The local youngsters are not under-estimating the Ingersoll team. The Dairy Town lads have improved wonderfully the last week, reports claim, and, if they have, the locals will need everything they can throw over the boards tonight to keep within easy trailing distance of the Woodstockers.

The rest of the local squad are in good shape. McMILLAN's knee is still stiff, but a medical examination here proved there was nothing broken, and that the injury was mostly strain. This takes quite a load off the minds of the local officials, it might be remarked in passing.

As well as being in good shape, they realize that they've got to play with Woodstock in mind for the second lap. They have a chance, slightly outside it seemed at first, but since their wonderful showing in the second meeting at Woodstock their stock has almost reached the scoring point. To keep it going up they must duplicate Woodstock's scoring against Ingersoll, bearing in mind, of course, that Woodstock has probably cost a slight spell over the London lads.

Henderson of Ingersoll will referee the game, and a local referee will handle the return game in Ingersoll.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Jan. 17.—Woodstock curlers at present have not the brightest future in view. The rink, which for many years served as a curlers' home, has been closed down in order to allow the building of an extension to the Central school. It was thought that it could be erected again on another lot in plenty of time for the curling season.

Ingersoll Curling Club has come to the rescue to some extent and has given the local club permission to use their rink. Many of the enthusiastic stone slingers will thus likely be found this year at the cream cheese town.

HAGERSVILLE WINS.

Special to The Advertiser.

Cayuga, Jan. 17.—Hagersville proved too much for the local O.H.A. intermediate here tonight and went home with a 3 to 1 win under their belts.

ASKIN ELKS LOSE GAME TO TILLSONBURG JUNIORS

Tillsonburg, Jan. 17.—Tillsonburg Juniors defeated London Elks here tonight in a good game. Weekes starred for the locals, while R. Baker, the Elks wing man, was the best.

The line-ups:
Tillsonburg—Hill; Smith and Barker; Weekes; Stubbs and Jaques.
London Elks—J. Reid; C. Milligan and R. Carraire; Daglesish; R. Baker and G. Gordon.
Referee—T. Thurston.

INDOOR BASEBALL LEAGUE SHOULD START NEXT WEEK

The indoor baseball league faltered again last night at the armories, when C. O. T. C. failed to turn up for their game with 1st W. O. R. Several pick-up games were played, though, and the league should get started next week.

There is some difficulty in rounding up teams, owing to the fact that so many of the players are engaged in other sports on the nights on which the games fall.

TWIN CITY TAKES SENIOR O. H. A. WIN

Kitchener Climbs Into Leadership by Defeating St. Marys 7-2.

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Jan. 17.—Uncorking a fast offensive in the final period, which St. Marys was unable to stem, the Twin City Seniors tonight defeated the Torontonians by 7 to 2, and thus climbed into the leadership of Group No. 1 of the senior O. H. A.

There was not a great deal of combination, although Kitchener got theirs working finally in the third, while St. Marys showed flashes in the second.

St. Marys, although outplayed, were in the hunt until the final period, but then they were outclassed, with three in an half minutes of that period gone, the Kitchener team tore in and tallied three counters in one minute. St. Marys replied midway through with a counter while Gross was in the penalty-box, and in the last three minutes the Kitchener squad again broke loose, notching three. The best man on the ice was "Bert" Siebert of the locals. He scored three of the locals' goals, two on clever individual rushes and one on a combination play with Gross.

Werner Schnarr showed plenty of speed, while Gelly Schnarr was, of course, prominent with his back-checking.

The teams:
St. Marys—Goal, Kels; defence, Kitchener and G. Sullivan; center, Bailey; wings, P. Burke and Brophy; subs, F. Sullivan and Stokes.

Twin City Seniors—Goal, Pries; defence, Hemphill and Siebert; center, W. Schnarr; wings, G. Schnarr and Hillman; subs, Gross and Kentner.

Referee—Charlie Stewart.

"Y" JUVENILES BEAT YOUNG JUDEANS 30 TO 4

The London and District cagers were busy last night. Two juvenile and one midget game were staged.

The Y. M. C. A. Juveniles defeated the Young Judeans' Club at the Central Collegiate gym last night by the overwhelming score of 30-4. The first five minutes of play was rather loose, as it took the "Y" boys some time to get their combination working.

However, once they started, they combined well and left the Judeans far in the rear.

Obey was the ace for the "Y" with C. B. Chapman a good second. Levy was the only Judean to score.

The final score:

Referee—C. Barbour.

Arrows Beaten.

C. A. C. Arrows sustained a 26-5 defeat at the hands of the Colts in another juvenile fixture. The half time score was 13-5. Despite the one-sided score the game was a good one, and Arrows believe they'll strike they will sustain winning streak again.

The line-ups:
Juveniles—Comex, Ashton, Henderson, Logan, Allen, Brown.
C. A. C. Arrows—Dromgole, Pitt, Raffaele, Cook, R. Henry, O'Hara.
Referee—Quick.

Wingfoots Win.

Wingfoots defeated De LaSalle, 22-9, in the midget division last night. De LaSalle were lighter, but put up a good struggle, and will be heard from later on in the season.

TROPHIES ARE PRESENTED TO WINNERS IN NORFOLK

Special to The Advertiser.

Simcoe, Jan. 17.—The Norfolk County Junior Football League held a general meeting and banquet last night, at which the trophies won last season were presented. The league trophy, won by the Walsh Tigers, was presented by B. G. Mears, secretary-treasurer of the Norfolk and District Junior Football Association. In making the presentation, he referred to the way football had developed in Norfolk County. The Norfolk teams, he said, had taken a greater interest than the Brantford teams.

Rev. J. R. Vaughan presented the Molsons Bank trophy, which had been won by the Port Dover football club. The meeting of the league was held after the presentation and supper. The president referred in his address to the difficulty of securing men willing to act as referees and to the bad condition of some of the playing fields, and hoped for improvement in these respects in 1924.

The secretary in his report stated that 93 players had registered. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $19.66.

Officers were elected for the year as follows: President, John Pratt; first vice-president, Rev. J. R. Vaughan, second vice-president, D. Hall; secretary-treasurer, A. M. Hall.

ENARCOS AND EAST END ARE VICTORS IN PETROLIA LOOP

Special to The Advertiser.

Petrolia, Jan. 17.—The local indoor baseball league fixtures held in the town hall last night proved to be the most exciting matches ever staged here. The first game, between Enarcos and High School, was keenly contested, with the students leading up to the last inning, when the oilmen scored four runs to win 8 to 7.

The East End Merchants were allotted the cellar position by the West Enders by 18 to 14 in close game. Art Wilson pitched for the West Enders, and was in his old form.

The batteries:
Enarcos—Smith, Howlett and McRitchie; High School, Hyatt and Churchill; East End, Douglas and Copeland; West End, Wilson and Donald.

TWO ST. THOMAS RINKS QUALIFY FOR TANKARD

Defeat Thistles in Play-Off At London Curling Club.

Special to The Advertiser.

Two St. Thomas Granites' rinks skipped by W. K. Cameron and "Bob" Emslie will represent this district in Ontario tankard games in Toronto by virtue of their victory over the London Thistles at the London Curling Club rink last night in the final play-off for the district honors.

The rinks:

INDIANS CLASH WITH GREEN SHIRTS TONIGHT

Special to The Advertiser.

Kitchener, Jan. 17.—A capacity crowd will greet the first appearance here tomorrow night of the Stratford Indians for their schedule game with the Kitchener Green Shirts in the Big Four series. Every seat has been sold and it is expected that 4,000 will view the contest. The interest, not only in the two towns, but also in Western Ontario, is intense and a great battle is anticipated. It is many years since Stratford scored a victory on Kitchener ice and they hope to break the hoodoo tomorrow night, but the Green Shirts are confident that they will again turn in a win and thus tie up the grouping.

On paper there is little to choose from between the two teams. Stratford has an edge in speed, but the Green Shirts are more experienced, and they are adepts at the body-checking game.

The two teams will likely line up the same as in their recent contests, with the exception that Kitchener will use Schell as one of their subs, while the Stratfordites may trot out Ken Crane, formerly of the Toronto Riverdies.

PRESTON WINS FROM GALT IN FAST HOCKEY FIXTURE

Special to The Advertiser.

Preston, Jan. 17.—One goal in the first period and two in each of the second and third gave Preston Juniors a 4 to 1 victory over the Galt Juniors here tonight in a junior O. H. A. fixture. McDonald scored the lone counter for Galt in the second, but the Big Four series. Every seat has been sold and it is expected that 4,000 will view the contest. The interest, not only in the two towns, but also in Western Ontario, is intense and a great battle is anticipated. Galt—Goal, Bolt; defence, Heckard and Stockford; centre, Duval; wings, McDonald and Wismer; subs, Gaskin and Fulton.

ILLNESS WILL PREVENT ROY CLAXTON'S APPEARING

Special to The Advertiser.

Wallaceburg, Jan. 17.—The Wallaceburg A. A. A. today received word that owing to illness, Roy Claxton of Sarnia, who was to have boxed Gordon of Chatham here Friday night, will be unable to be on hand. Arrangements have, however, been made with Hambleton of Point Edward, who has already given several fine shows in the glass town, to take his place. There is also doubt that Gordon will be able to attend, owing to the serious illness of his mother, in which case arrangements will be made for Foy of Chatham to deputize. In any case the fans may rest assured of a first-class exhibition of boxing.

GALT AT FULL STRENGTH FOR BIG FOUR TILT TONIGHT

Special to The Advertiser.

Galt, Jan. 17.—While Preston Riverdies may have the services of Arnott, Kreason and Goalkeeper Schmalz, all of whom were injured in the game Monday with Stratford, for their Big Four fixture here tomorrow night, the Terriers will be at full strength for the first time this season, both Watts and Woods, who have been laid up with injuries being sufficiently recovered to get back into the game.

ST. ANDREWS WIN JUNIOR CITY TILT

Orioles Defeat Perrins, and Askin Hawks Outplay East End.

Special to The Advertiser.

A loosely played exhibition of hockey was dished up to a small number of fans at Westminster rink last night when the Orioles defeated Perrins, 3 to 0, in the opening tilt of a three-game affair in the Junior City League.

Perrins' team, which appears the weakest in the league, will be strengthened before the next game when several new players will be signed up.

Manual and Woods were the best for the Orioles, while Wilcox, the young centre for Perrins, played a faultless game throughout.

The teams:
Orioles—Goal, Hall; defence, Elwood and Malone; centre, Woods; wings, Northy and Manual; subs, Ellison, Foster, Norris.
Perrins—Goal, Howard; defence, Gotsinger and O'Rourke; centre, Wilcox; wings, B. Howard and Ray; subs, Gotsinger and Nopper.

Second Game.

In the second tilt of the evening the Askin Hawks outplayed the East End Club with superior combination and stickhandling by the score of 7 to 4, the East End Club being somewhat weakened by the absence of their regular goalie.

The teams:
Hawks—Goal, Talbot; defence, Ruse and Land; centre, Penny; wings, Mackay and McEachern; subs, Penny and Baker.
Referee—Doollittle.

Third Game.

The last affair of the night was by far the best, when St. Andrews defeated Scott-McGill by a score of 6 to 3. Both teams showed good stickhandling and excellent combination. Harold Grace, a member of the Western University team, turned in an exceptionally fine game, scoring four of St. Andrews' six tallies, while H. Adams was the best for the losers.

The teams:
St. Andrews—Goal, Scott; defence, Black and Smith; centre, Dalrymple; wings, Grace and Casselman; subs, Kelly and Johnston.
Scott-McGill—Goal, Bottom; defence, Pugh and Hesse; centre, Adams; wings, Renaud and Pugh; subs, Drake and Graham.

Referee—Doollittle.

SCHOOL ICE LOOP OPENS NEXT WEEK

Late Start Obliges Use of Elimination Method in Games.

Special to The Advertiser.

The Public School Hockey League will open next week. It was announced yesterday. The schedules will be published Saturday.

It was decided this year, in view of the late start and the uncertainty of the weather, to put the competition on an elimination basis. This will insure a winner being declared in the quickest and surest way.

The race for the Eddie McKay Memorial Trophy, donated to the public schools three years ago by William Haddon, promises to be better than ever this year. The elimination method of competition is not always the kind that really proves champions, but, under the circumstances, no other course could be followed. The games will be arranged so that the teams play about twice each week.

A survey of the present Junior City League has shown two things. One is that the majority of the players played last year in the Public School League; the other confirms the need of the junior circuit. Most of the teams in the public

WOODSTOCK MAY QUIT SENIOR BALL CIRCUIT

Last Year's Southern Counties Nine Now Pretty Well Disbanded.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Jan. 17.—Although a meeting of the S. O. B. L. has been called at London on Feb. 1, nothing definite can be learned from local baseball officials regarding the future of the Woodstock Pirates in the loop or whether the city will be represented in senior league baseball in case the Southern Division is disbanded and the O. B. A. conducted on the same lines as the O. H. A.

The Pirates have been pretty well disbanded. Two of the best pill slingers of the crew have migrated to Galt. Harold Lynch, third baseman and captain of the Woodstock team, is going to the home of the Terriers with Dougherty. Woodstock's star junior hurler, who broke into senior company last season, there is some hope of an intermediate team at least, but that, too, is by no means assured.

schools have had some practice, despite the fact that the open-air rinks have been flooded out or snowed under.

Wagner Thinks Lively Bat Brought Slump in Stealing

Advices Against Shifting Lineup For Left or Right Hand Pitchers.

URGES SIGNAL CODE

Hans Considers Inside Baseball Not Essential in Modern Game.

By HANS WAGNER.

As a conclusion to my baseball examination papers I present the following for study by the amateur ball teams this spring. A close study and discussion of them I feel sure will help.

Stealing Bases.

1. Is the art of stealing bases on the decline?
2. Does the success of stealing lie chiefly in the lead and quick start or in speed?
3. Is stealing third advisable with none or one out?
4. Do you use the double steal with one or two outs?
5. Has the half balk motion of pitchers interfered with stealing?
6. Is the throwing of catchers more speedy and accurate?
7. Is it easier to steal third than second?
8. Have pitchers improved in holding runners on bases?
9. Do you advise stealing home? If so, when?

The answer to the first question, of course, is yes. This decline is due largely to the changes of hitting the lively ball safely. They are greater, I believe, than the chances of stealing successfully.

It is not my purpose to answer all these questions, thereby killing what interest they may have. For the benefit of the fan who is not an expert, however, I will explain that the stealing of third is, or should be, easier than stealing second. Many ball players contend that no man ought to be thrown out stealing third at any time. It is all in the start.

An experienced ball player instinctively knows this, and is a good judge of distance. Therefore, if he has enough start to steal third he ought to steal it. With a good lead they can't throw him out. If he hasn't sufficient start, then he ought not to steal. Ninety times out of a hundred when a runner is thrown out stealing third it is a matter of bad judgment. Any skillful base runner can time the play exactly.

Lively Ball Chief Factor.

Of course, the pitchers and catchers both have improved but not enough to cause the present decline in base stealing. Most of that can be laid to the lively ball.

The Delayed Steal.

1. Is the single delayed steal a good play? Doubtful.
2. Is the proper time for the man on first to start when the catcher is in the act of returning the ball to the pitcher? Or just when the catcher is actually throwing it to the pitcher?
3. Do you have a man stealing second go hard and then hold up near second, giving the man on third a chance to score when there are runners on first and third?

The delayed steal is a very tricky and a very effective play at times. It is called delayed because the runner does not start until the catcher has the ball—the ordinary steal starts with the pitcher's throw to the catcher. If the runner can start the exact moment when the pitcher is letting the ball go back to pitcher it will succeed often. It then takes two throws to get runner, and the catcher's throw to the pitcher is never as fast as from the pitcher to the catcher. The delayed steal also has the element of surprise.

Substitute Pinch Hitters.

1. Is substituting pinch hitters important in offensive baseball?
2. Would you substitute a pinch hitter for a pitcher who is going all right at the middle of the game?
3. Do you believe in shifting your lineup according to left or right handed pitching?
4. Give a code of signals that could be used in offensive baseball.
5. Which do you consider the more important, a strong defense, or a strong offense, including pitching?
6. Have the new rules on pitching hurt the effectiveness of pitchers (in league ball)—(actually)—(psychologically)?
7. Has the rule compelling the catcher to stay in the box until the pitcher has delivered the ball helped the offense? Has it prevented intentional passing of the ball?
8. Is there as much inside baseball used today as in former years?

What Simple Signs Mean.

These questions, I realize, open up a wide field of discussion. The opinion of any one man can not decide them.

For instance, I do not believe in shifting a line-up for left or right handed pitching. At least I believe a team ought to be constructed so that such a shift would be unnecessary. We never thought of such a thing in the past. A good batter ought to be able to hit any kind of pitch. Still, there are very able managers who do make these shifts. There are critical moments, I admit, when it is a good thing. But as a general principle I do not believe in it.

That uninitiated may understand my question on a code of signals, let me explain that all ball clubs have one. I have asked this question in the hope that amateurs will make theirs simple. Any complicated set of signals is worse than none at all. If a batter wants to signal for the hit and run, a simple sign is to rearrange his cap, rub the end of his bat, tap the bat on the heel of his shoe—any of these will do. As good a signal as any for stealing is simply for the coach at first base to tell the man when to go. Some teams use words instead of signs. We still laugh about the Boston manager who used to give the signal for stealing by yelling "Red Leary, the bank robber!"

McGraw and Clarke always used very simple signals. I have seen McGraw merely indicate with his hands while sitting on the bench what he wanted the runner to do. Above all, an amateur team should never have complicated signals. The signs, as we call them, can't be studied in baseball as they are in football—by a series of numbers.

Inside Ball Needed Less.

As to the offensive side having an advantage by the catcher being

Poke and Cross Checks

Now the fat is in the fire in the Ontario Hockey Association over the Dr. Carson-St. Patrick's affair. The O. H. A., through President W. A. Fry, is said to have announced that it would back Carson in the controversy with the pro league club, but last night the Hamilton Beavers, intermediates, beaten by Grimsby with Carson in the lineup, have protested the game.

Evidently the Hamilton Beavers intend to make an issue of the matter, notwithstanding the alleged attitude of the association to which it belongs. The whole affair is one of interesting possibilities, and will require some handling.

Dr. "Bill" Carson would give the Toronto pros the punch they seem to lack. Fast and fearless and with a shot difficult to handle, Carson could be relied upon to get many goals for St. Patrick's. The last may not have been heard of the player's intention to sign a pro contract, although he is backed by the O.H.A. and other amateur authorities, but determination not to play professionally.

Morenz stepped out of the O.H.A. intermediate ranks and is already regarded as the star of the pro league. He was the best performer on the ice in the recent Ottawa-Bellefleur game at Ottawa, and again in the St. Patrick's-Canadian fixture last Saturday night he was the outstanding player. The fastest skater in the world is played in the O.H.A., and it would play the pro teams to get a little of the big league's speed and youth on their lineup.

Morenz, "Mickey" Roach, Dye, Spring, Forbes, J. R. Roach and others stepped into the ranks of the salary chasers and were stars.

The proposed pro hockey league in the Maritime Provinces is having a hard sledding. The amateurs down by the sea refused to accept the salary bait, and difficulty is being experienced in getting enough players. Further efforts will be made to land the big fish of the discards from Frank Calder's league.

It is intimated in Hamilton that Percy Thompson may be interested in handling of the Hams to Percy Leiser. The job of managing and playing is too big an undertaking for Ken Randall.

Stratford threatens to regain her former glories in hockey. The Canadian National Railway's Apprentice League boasts some smart youngsters. The Classic City always paid betting attention to the younger fry.

Kitchener would like to have George Hiller out again, but that player in the act of returning the ball to the pitcher? Or just when the catcher is actually throwing it to the pitcher?

ADDRESS ON INDIA GIVEN AT LIBRARY

Professor Anderson Deals With Historical Side of Country.

An informative historical address on India, which proved to be of exceptional interest, was given by Professor Frank Anderson at the Public Library last night under the auspices of the University of Western Ontario, extension department.

Professor Anderson based his address on the historical side of India, and dealt with the country from the point of view of religious history. He referred to the wealth of historical information contained in the ancient Hindu remains, and showed actual photographs of some of the great Indian temples which are left to this day. He made special reference to the temple of Jagannath at Puri, and gave an interesting account of the sacred city of Benares.

Pictures showing holy men of India, atoning for their sins by reposing on beds of spikes evoked exclamations from the audience, who never before realized this was a common practice among the Indians.

The speaker told of Indian life during the reign of the great Mohammedan emperors. Pictures of the wonderful tomb of Tajmahal, built in the seventeenth century by Shah Jahan, were shown. He also gave a short description of the Buddhist caves and temples in Western India, which were carved and hewn from solid rock.

Professor Anderson concluded his address with an account of the modern city of Bombay, where for several years he resided.

An explanation of the Towers of Silence was probably the feature of Professor Anderson's address. He told of how the Indians disposed of their dead by putting them in the tower and leaving them for the vulture of the air to eat away.

Professor J. A. Gunton will be the speaker at next week's meeting under the extension department. The subject of his address will be "Chemistry in the Service of Man."

FRANKLIN CLUB HEARS STORY OF PRINTING INK

Interesting Address Is Given by C. R. Conquergood At Tecumseh House.

The Franklin Club of London held one of its largest meetings last night in the Tecumseh House and listened to "The Story of Printing Inks" as told by C. R. Conquergood, secretary of the Canada Printing Ink Company of Toronto.

The story, which was both interesting and instructive, was beautifully illustrated by a number of lantern slides. The speaker spent a large part of the time in showing the ramifications of the printing trades. There are 121 daily newspapers in Canada and about 900 weekly newspapers. Printing, lithography, book-making, plate printing and embossing were all dealt with. The story of labels, catalogues, books and many others were touched upon; how oils and varnishes are gathered and made, how colors are made was most interesting.

The speaker made a special appeal for the support of Canadian magazines, and pointed out that we are buying almost six times as many foreign publications as Canadian, and he thought the proportions ought to be reversed for the welfare of Canada.

Major Kippen occupied the chair, and called upon W. E. Sharpe, the representative of the company, to introduce the subject and the speaker.

RESPECTED LONDONER DIES AT HER HOME

Mrs. Louisa Gilpin, 40 Pipe
Line, Passes Away Yesterday Afternoon.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Louisa Gilpin, aged 75 years, at her home, 40 Pipe Line road. She was the widow of the late Rev. J. W. Gilpin, and had been a resident of this city for many years.

She is survived by three sons, William G. of Dunville, Ont.; Herbert T. of Edwell, Michigan, and John of this city; and three daughters, Mrs. Albert Wilkins, Harriston; Mrs. J. C. Blair, Preston, and Ertle at home. Funeral services will be held at her residence at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, after which the body will be shipped to Harriston, via the C. N. R., where interment will be made in the Harriston Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Services will be held in Harriston at her daughter's residence.

Bullet Is Found In Body Dead Man

Autopsy Reveals Injuries He Received in Holdup.

Canadian Press Despatch. Saskatoon, Jan. 17.—An autopsy performed on the elderly man who dropped dead in the government employment office here yesterday disclosed that a bullet was lodged in his intestines and that the back of his skull was open to the brain. The injuries were apparently sustained in a hold-up in which the man, whose name was given as Jardine, was slugged and presumably shot two or three years ago in Saskatoon. The hold-up was reported at that time to city police, but was never solved.

ESTABLISHES RECORD.
Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Jan. 17.—Marquis Raoul Pateras Pescara, the Argentine inventor, yesterday established a world record flight for helicopters. He remained in the air eight minutes, thirteen seconds and flew a distance estimated at 1,164 yards (1,267 yards).

"Follow the Wise Rather Than the Foolish"

The wisdom of this age old proverb offers a thought to the one who wants to get his money's worth when he buys a used car. Wise used car buyers go to a dealer whose reputation of fair dealing has been rightly earned over a period of years.

KIDNAPPING OF KING HUSSEIN FRUSTRATED

Escort Repels Attackers After Lengthy Struggle Near Petra, Jerusalem.

Associated Press Despatch.
Jerusalem, Jan. 17.—King Hussein of the Hedjaz narrowly escaped kidnapping near Petra when he was attacked by Wahabis. His escort repelled the attackers only after a lengthy struggle.
There has been friction for a long time between Sultan Ibn Saud of Nejd, ruler of the Wahabis, and King Hussein because of disagreements over the frontier.

Lumberjack Dies On Lonely Trail

Frozen Body Is Found North of Sudbury.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Sudbury, Jan. 17.—The frozen body of Samuel Lacasse, lumberjack, aged about 45, has been found in the snow twenty miles back of the village of Nairn. Lacasse had started out on January 10 with a crew going to X. Graves' Bigwood camp, but left them after nineteen miles from Nairn. There was a cabin less than a quarter of a mile from where the body was found, and where Lacasse could have obtained shelter, but it is doubtful if he really knew the trail.

Store-Wide Contributions For Saturday January Sales

For five days in the week January sales are confined to two or three departments only, but Saturday is an open sale day for the whole store. Many departments waiting for this weekly opportunity. Even with a whole page, space is at a premium and announcements are necessarily brief, but none the less significant. Only one Saturday left in the month, after tomorrow. Are you taking full advantage of the sale opportunities? Many pocketbooks are being helped through this month of sales. Homes and wardrobes brightened at about half the anticipated cost.

New Shot Taffetas for Millinery and Dresses, Ready Tomorrow at $2.50 Yard

Almost as soon as fashion intimates this newest thing, you find it here, and at the usual popular price, too. The colors are the newest, of course. All are 36 inches wide. These colors in shot taffeta—Venetian rose and gold, rose and silver, opal and gold, tan and fairy green, black and navy, green and black; also the new light colors in plain taffetas, including spark red, jade and almond greens, palm beach (a new light sand), Belgian rose. All one price $2.50 yard

White Broadcloth Silk, a Yard Wide, $1.79 Yard

A wonderful Silk from Japan, wonderful for its perfect washing qualities—its beauty of pure silk weave. Special dull finish for men's fine shirts, ladies' sport dresses and jackets. This is one of the very few materials of all silk that is of the delicate broadcloth weave, and lacks the usual bright, crisp finish of silks. Price $1.79 yard

Ivory White Fuji Silk, 30 Inches Wide, $1.39 Yd.

Another shipment of similar weave to broadcloth silk. For men's shirts and ladies' dresses and lingerie. All pure silk. Price $1.39 yard

$3.95 Yard—Still a Few Colors Left for Tomorrow, in Our Sale of Silk Velvets for Dresses

If you did not participate in this sale of fine quality Silk Chiffon Velvets, so fashionable for dresses, you have another opportunity tomorrow. In these new colors—American Beauty, bittersweet, Venetian rose, jade, almond green, Cartouche brown, Burma gold, azure blue, tortoiseshell brown, tangerine, autumn brown, taupe; widths 36 to 39 inches wide. Some sold regularly double this price; quantities limited. Come early for selection. All $3.95 yard

Velour Brocades on Silk Georgette Crepes, $7.95 Yard

Just five colors to sell—pretty jade green, Venetian rose, old blue, white, also azure blue ground with navy brocade. All are 36 inches wide. $7.95 yd.

The Breath of the Avenue

Our Twice-a-Week Letter From New York.

"The Breath of the Avenue" Says—

FABRICS: For fashion, black satin first. Plain crepe in high colors next. Printed crepes are close rivals of both of these.

The printed designs in the order of their prominence are: Floral, geometric, stripe and polka dots.

The floral prints are usually large. Circular flowers in bright colors are placed at regular intervals as shown in a pussywillow dress of black, printed with red roses and green stems. Occasionally the flowers are hand-painted.

These floral prints are the very newest way for afternoon dresses to show their spring fashion and their promise to be popular later.

COLORS: Solid colors and prints run a close race. Black leads in solid colors. The high colors, such as the lighter blues, almond greens, soft tans and brick reds, are next. But they come far behind black for silk afternoon dresses.

These same high colors—blues, greens and reds, form the background for the new printed crepes and chiffons for formal dresses. One particularly significant dress at Hickson's is of brick red crepe printed with cream-colored wild flowers.

TRIMMINGS: 1. Capes attached at the neck or cape-like draperies that are a part of a blouse. Many cape sleeves.

2. Higher necklines, higher and closer than the Jenny neckline.

3. Scarfs attached to necklines—usually to collarless V-necks.

4. Jabit draperies from neck to waistline, from shoulders, or cut in one-piece with dress in Vionnet style.
