A Retrospect

THE old saying that "stately oaks from small acorns grow" was never more exemplified than in the origin of St. James' Church, Guelph, which during thirty years has grown from a Mission Sunday School to one of the largest churches in the diocese of Niagara, with a steady record of progress. What the transition has meant in persevering effort, self sacrifice and unflagging zeal only the few can say who are left with us to-day of that small number who started out in the year 1890 with the determination to establish a second parish of the Church of England in this city, which would look after the spiritual life of the westerly portion of Guelph. God has indeed been with the Parish in all its ways, to bring it to the day when the Church erected for His praise and glory can be consecrated clear of debt for the great work that is yet before us.

Any attempt to record the history of the Parish of St. James' cannot but impress us with the bravery and faith of those who overcame many obstacles in their pathway, and with a broad vision of the future secured a division of the then Parish of St. George's, and founded the Church of St. James the Apostle. Few in numbers, but strong in spirit and faith in the Lord their God, with no endowment or large promises, they started with no thought of failure upon a $16,000 undertaking.

Few of those faithful souls remain with us to-day. During the years that have gone, death has been busy, and removals to other spheres of influence have been numerous, but they left behind a memory of unconquerable faith that bids us of to-day go forward with the work and in our turn leave behind us a similar record of faith in God, and devotion to duty.

The minute book, that is used for the recording of the business transactions of this year's Vestry Meeting, is the same that records the successive congregational gatherings since the Parish was formed. It is replete with interest as the official record of the early days of St. James' and a barometer of its successes, and, in a few instances, its failures—for the past thirty years have not been without their disappointment in both the spiritual and temporal affairs of this congregation. A coincidence in connection with this book is that its pages will be completed when the record of this year's Vestry meeting is entered.

Historical

THE first meeting in connection with St. James' Parish was held in the old South Ward Schoolhouse on the corner of Glasgow Street and Waterloo Avenue, on Wednesday evening, March 19th, 1890, at 7.30 o'clock, and the minutes thereof are in the handwriting of the late Thomas W. Saunders, Police Magistrate, who may with every reason be termed the father of the Parish, for it was he who saw the need of another parish, and aided by a few faithful souls, secured Bishop Hamilton's approval, for its establishment. What Mr. Saunders was to the Parish in its early days, few members of the Church to-day can fully appreciate. By the influence of his words and deeds he was a tower of strength to the early Church; he was counsellor and friend alike to clergy and laity; he served for years as Church Warden, Lay Reader and Sunday School Superintendent; while his beloved wife was a leader of that noble band of ladies, who worked assiduously in manifold ways to add to the Church's numbers and usefulness. Though he was not privileged to live to see this day, we are indeed pleased that Mrs. Saunders has been spared to share in our rejoicing. Of the ladies and gentlemen who were present at that meeting, and whose names appear in the minutes, very few are left with us, as a glance at the names following will show:—

T. W. Saunders, Mrs. Saunders, William Slater, F. J. Chadwick, George Harvey, St. George Scarlett, Miss J. Keating, G. A. Richardson, R. Mackenzie, James F. Kidner, W. R. C. and Mrs. Forster, John C. Holley, William C. and Mrs. Walker, William Buckle, R. M. Lindsay, George Hicks, Louisa Hicks, B. D. Saunders, Thomas Grant, W. M. Stanley, Henry Thatcher, John Ogg, John Jones, N. H. Bonallick, C. E. Howitt, E. Harvey, Joanna Harvey, Grace

Kernighan, Thomas Steele, Charles Pinder, Joseph Shaw, George Bradshaw, T. Hodgson, W. C. J. Hill, M. A. Hill, Miss Howes, Minnie Cain, Lorne Campbell, A. E. Smith, William Godfrey, James McDonald, Jane Buckle, Mrs. J. Gibbs, Mrs. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Charles Champion, Fred Leader, Mrs. W. A. Garham, Charles Walker, J. Richardson, Mrs. Kernighan, William Smith, John Smith, Fannie Hudson, Mrs. John Hudson, R. Harvey, Grace Kernighan, Thos. Grant, Robert Gausby, John Roche, Walter Clarke, J. D. Campbell, W. A. Christie, Alfred Cullen, Mrs. Chisholm, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Ogg, Mrs. J. McD. Campbell, Mrs. Colson.

At this meeting the preliminary steps taken to secure a division of the Parish, were outlined and approved, the terms of said division being agreed to on the third day of March by the Rt. Rev. Charles Hamilton, D.D., Bishop of Niagara. It was decided to call the Parish "St. James," and steps were at once taken to secure a rector, and to raise a fund to pay him the stipend of $800 a year.

The First Rector

The rectorship was offered to the Rev. (now Archdeacon) E. A. Irving, who had had much to do with the formation of the Parish as the result of his activities in Sunday School work in this section of the city, while curate of St. George's, but he felt unable to accept. Rev. A. J. Pelt, M. A. (afterwards Rural Dean and Archdeacon) was then appointed the first rector of St. James' Parish, and the records indicate that during the most trying of ten years, when the demands were many and trade was generally dull, that gentleman labored unceasingly and with great success to build up the congregation spiritually and numerically. Too much cannot be said of the work he accomplished. He gave his whole heart and the benefit of a cultured mind to the cause of St. James'; he went over to England and secured some money for the building fund. The type of service which he introduced recognized the three principles requisite in Divine service, of decency, order and edification, and has been maintained ever since. The letter of the rector in his acceptance of the pastorate may still be applied to those who are carrying on the work to-day: "May God give us all wisdom, strength and courage to build upon the only true foundation, even Jesus Christ, presented through his Church and Sacraments."

Inasmuch as the school house where the Sunday School had been held was not large enough for holding services, the Board of Education allowed the use of the Collegiate Gymnasium, and until the basement of the new church was ready, that building was used. The first services being held there on Sunday, 27th of April, 1890, and the first Vestry Meeting on the 5th of May following.

The first Wardens of the Church were Messrs. T. W. Saunders and E. Harvey, and the first Sidesmen were Messrs. W. R. C. Forster, R. Mackenzie, G. A. Richardson, W. Slater, William C. Walker, A. McRae, John Ogg, and A. E. Lyon. Later on Messrs. J. E. Perry, W. McWilliams, George J. Thorpe, W. E. Cutten, A. E. Smith and Fred Harvey were added. F. J. Chadwick, W. M. Stanley and Charles Walker were the first lay delegates to Synod.

Building the Church

Steps were immediately taken to commence the building of a new church, and after the present site had been selected from among others, it was donated by Mr. E. Harvey. The deed for this recently came into the possession of the officials of the church, for the first time since it was drawn up, for it has since been held by the mortgagors. It bears date the 4th March, 1891, and conveyed lot 21 on the south side of Paisley street, containing about a fifth of an acre, "for the celebration of divine service therein according to the rites and doctrines of the Church of England in Canada." It is signed by Mr. and Mrs. F. Harvey, Rev. A. J. Belt, Thos. W. Saunders and F. Harvey, the last three named representing the church. R. C. Windeyer, of Toronto, was engaged as the architect, and after the plans had been finally approved, William Stevens and Son were awarded the contract. The building committee was composed of the Rector, Church Wardens, Wm. Slater, C. Walker and F. J. Chadwick. Later on Mr. Slater resigned from the committee, having been awarded the contract for the masonry, which to-day stands to his credit as a well constructed piece of work. Another member of St. James' who worked on the building was Mr. William Guy, who assisted with the carpentry. The late Mr. H. N. Benallick was appointed to take Mr. Slater's place on the Building Committee, and Mr. M. Jones took the place of Mr. Chadwick, who died while the building was in course of construction.

The work of erecting the Church was pushed forward rapidly. The contract was let November 8th, 1890. On the 6th of April following, the ground was marked off and excavation commenced. On April 30th, the first stone was laid, and on July 7th operations had so far progressed that the Bishop was able to lay the corner stone. On December 20th, 1891, the first service was held in the basement of the Church, an event that was signally celebrated. Operations on the Church proper went forward so rapidly that on Easter day, April 17th, 1892, one year after the ground was ready for building operations, and two years after the first service was held in the Parish, dedicatory services were held in the completed building, which was everywhere admired as the prettiest and best appointed Church of its size in this part of Ontario.

There were good sized congregations and it is learned from the first financial statement presented that the total receipts for the year 1890 were $1,619.07. There were fifty-four regular contributors to the envelope system that first year.

What struggles and privations were endured in those early years only a faint idea is given by a perusal of the early records of the Parish. This we do know: when the contract was let for the Church, the amount of promised subscriptions was only $3,500, of which $1,033.28 had been paid. So closely pressed was the congregation for money that one minute records a vote of thanks to a member for supplying wood for heating the basement of the Church, while frequent special meetings of the Vestry were held to try and raise additional funds to meet over-drafts at the bank. The rector was in receipt of an $800 stipend, which was increased to $900, and the year following he voluntarily relinquished $100 of it in order to help out. What sublime self-pegation on the part of pastor and devoted loyalty on the part of people!

Cost of the Church

The report of the building fund committee of 1893 shows that the total cost of the Church, without organ, was $15,000.00. The first organ installed was not satisfactory, and in 1899 the present organ, costing $1,000, was erected, by Lye and Son, Toronto, the cost being defrayed by a "mite fund." Liabilities of about $11,000 were carried for some time, which was reduced until about fourteen years ago, a mortgage of $7,000 was effected, which, with other liabilities, was the load carried for years, until in 1911, a bequest of $4,000 by the late Matthew Jones, together with the premiums on a number of life insurance policies, reduced the mortgage to $2,472. In 1915 this was again reduced by $100, left by the will of the late Mrs. W. Pipe, for years one of the most indefatigable workers of the Church, and in 1918 a legacy of $1,200 from the late J. D. McWilliams cleared off a note for $900 long held by him and reduced the mortgage to $1,973, which brought the total to such a figure that the movement to clear off the mortgage was mooted, with the result that every dollar owing on the building of the Church was cleared off on the 26th day of March, 1920. Considerable credit in this respect is due the committee which has handled the matter throughout, composed of the Wardens, Jos. Curzon, secretary, F. C. Spackman, F. K. Baker, E. C. Pettifer, A. Shonk, Sr., E. Drysdale, N. L. Young and the late John Trimite.

It may not be out of place to refer to the mortgage which is now destroyed. It was effected in 1906, to pay off another mortgage held by the Fuller Estate, the $7,000 being borrowed from the Federal Life Assurance Co. of Canada, who later transferred it to the Sun Life Assurance Co. The mortgage is approved by J. Philip Niagara, the then Bishop of the diocese, W. R. Clarke, secretary-treasurer, and the signatures to the document on behalf of the church are Christopher P. Sparling, Charles L. Nelles and Robert Mackenzie.

The Five Rectors of the Parish

During its thirty years of existence St. James' Church has had five rectors, and has been signally fortunate in obtaining men of deep spirituality, high intellectuality, and all permeated with loyalty and devotion to their work. The Rev. A. J. Belt, M.A., was Rector until October, 1900, when he resigned to go to Milton. The Rev. E. A. Vesey, of Georgetown, was appointed to the charge of the Parish the same year, being succeeded in 1903 by Rev. Christopher P. Sparling, M.A., of Harriston. This gentleman and his esteemed wife labored with great success and acceptance until 1905, when, to the regret of all, Mr. Sparling decided to accept a pastorate at Louisville, Ky. Rev. C. H. Buckland, of Listowel, was then appointed by the late Bishop Dumoulin to the rectorship, and considerable strides forward were made during his direction of affairs for ten years, the latter part of which was made momentous by the outbreak of the Great War. To do their part in withstanding the German oppressors nearly all of the men of the Parish a'de to quality went overseas. The handsome brass memorial tablet and honor roll erected on the transept wall, dedicated on the 25th of January, 1920, containing the names of sixteen killed or died in action, and one hundred and thirteen of those who enlisted, which latter included the Rev. C. H. Buckland and two of his sons, the former going overseas in 1916, and resigning the Parish in 1917, when he became convinced that its interests were suffering by reason of the absence of a rector.

CONSECRATION SOUVENIR

Some very handsome gifts were made to the Church during Rev. Mr. Buckland's pastorate. A handsome window was installed over the altar to the memory of Mrs. Annette Raikes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Saunders. The altar now in use was erected to the memory of the late Matthew Jones, and a beautiful rerodiss in keeping therewith was given by Mrs. Nelles, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Pipe; while the steps leading thereto were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Buckland, in memory of their son, Godfrey. A brass lectern was given by Mrs. J. J. Drew, in memory of her father, the late Mr. Gibbs, and the pulpit was given as a thank offering by Mrs. and Mr. W. Duncan, the baptismal font and brass railing around it having been donated some years previous by Miss Keatinge and the Sunday School.

In addition to these gifts the church was at various times the recipient of various memorials to the departed. One of these was a brass tablet erected by J. Eardley Willmott on the death of Mrs. Belt, and others to Mrs. Nicholson (Mrs. Sparling's mother), Miss Harriett Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Saunders, Mrs. J. L. Stanley, (Mrs. A. E. Smith's mother), Orrie Porter and Hector Cooper. Last year a handsome oak rood screen (the first erected in this part of Canada) was put up at the entrance to the chancel in memory of the late Lieut. Ronald Campbell, M. C., killed in action, his mother, Lady Campbell, of Malvern, England, being the contributor through her cousin, Major H. D. Merewether. The screen has added materially to the beauty of the church.

Upon Mr. Buckland's resignation His Lordship Bishop Clark appointed Rev. Archibald Cameron Mackintosh, B.D., of Fort Erie, to the rectorship, who has since energetically continued the good work and under whom the Church has prospered. In 1918 the Bishop appointed Mr. Mackintosh to be a canon of the diocese, and very shortly afterwards appointed him Archdeacon of the Counties of Wellington and Halton, a position which he now holds. The honor thus conferred was duly appreciated by the congregation.

The progress that has been made of late years in the Parish is clearly portrayed by the fact that St. James' is now clear of all mortgage indebtedness. Early in 1918, it was decided to purchase a rectory and one was secured on the corner of Cork and Glasgow Streets, the same being now held by a committee in trust for the Parish, until it is taken over by the Vestry. A lot next to the Church, of sufficient size for a school house, is also owned by the congregation and is now clear of debt.

Valued Assistance

An account of the life and activities of St. James' Church would not be complete without some reference to the distinguished clergymen who have taken part in its services and given of themselves without stint in an honorary capacity. The first of these is the Rev. Canon Baker, formerly rector of Bath, who came here to reside in 1897 and for a number of years was an honored and respected parishioner and gave valuable assistance to the rector. He passed to his reward in 1908. In 1907 the Rev. C. J. S. Bethune was appointed on the staff of the O.A.C., and made St. James' his church home. From that time until now he has given ungrudgingly of his services and means to the Church, and through many trying times has been a true and steadfast friend. For some years until his death in the early part of 1920, the Rev. W. Duthie, a respected minister, who for years officiated at Hespeler, was with us and gave what assistance he could, and the Rev. O. Glynn H. Lloyd was in charge of the Parish after Mr. Buckland went overseas until the present rector was appointed. He worked with unflagging zeal to advance the Church's interests.

In the early years of the Church when the rector was without the clerical assistance that came with later days, lay readers were appointed, those holding the office being Messrs. W. R. C. Forster, W. M. Stanley, T. W. Saunders, J. E. Perry, Eardley Willmott and Joseph Curzon.

All through its career St. James' has been well organized, and no doubt owes much of its success because of that fact. A branch of the Women's Auxiliary was formed in 1892 and has since been a tower of strength and one of the most active organizations of the Parish. It has been of great assistance to the Wardens beside the great work it has done for Missions. A junior branch of the Auxiliary is also doing good work amongst the girls. A Chancel Guild has been in operation from the opening of the Church, and Missionary zeal has always been a strong feature of the Parish. In the early days services were held in Brooklyn, in the West End, in Pudding and at Moulborough.

CONSECRATION SOUVENIR

Statistical

The first Confirmation was held in the Parish on Sunday, October 12th, 1890, with twenty-four candidates receiving the rite from his Lordship, Bishop Charles Hamilton.

The first death notice in the Parish Record was in October, 1890.

Very shortly after the basement of the Church was completed the first wedding in the Church building took place, uniting Mary Slater to Frederick John Robin.

The first wedding in the Parish was that of James Louis East to Alice Rydall, on December 10th, 1890.

The first baptismal record is that of Margaret S., daughter of George and Eliza Ann Hood, on June 8th, 1890.

The Sunday-School

No history of St. James' Parish would be complete without a reference to the splendid work of the Sunday School—the foundation stone of the Church. The start of the Parish originated in the Sunday School which was held for years in the South Ward school by members of the Church residing in St. James' Ward. In the thirty years of the Parish's experience as a separate identity the Sunday School has had only five superintendents, two of them still being members of St. James' Church. At the commencement; W. R. C. Forster, now of Branchton, was superintendent. In 1893 Robert Mackenzie succeeded to the position, his place being taken two years later by the late Thomas W. Saunders. Three years afterwards A. E. Smith, who had been secretary-treasurer of the school since 1893, was appointed to the position, which he held until 1917, when he was succeeded by A. Benašiek, who is ably continuing the good work founded by his predecessors in office, supported by an able band of teachers, who continue to evidence the same devotion and self sacrifice that have been the predominating spirit of the teachers of the Sunday School since its formation.

The Choir

It will be thirty years ago on April 27th that St. James' Parish choir led the first service held in the Guelph Collegiate Institute gymnasium, Miss Nettie Saunders presiding as organist, which position she filled until July, 1895, with skill and faithfulness. During those past thirty years what changes have taken place in the choir; many have seen the little white clad choristers of 1890 grow to manhood and now their children are old enough to take the places once occupied by their parents. Miss Trisie Chisholm was a fitting co-worker with Miss Saunders as leader of the choir and continued in her services to the Church until February, 1896. It may be interesting to recall the personell of the choir during those early days, which was composed as follows: Ladies—Miss Pipe, Miss Rose Chadwick, Miss Snider, Miss Mary Snider, Mrs. E. Harvey, Miss Clark, Miss Minnie Howard. Gentlemen—Mr. C. S. Nichols, Mr. W. M. Stanley, Mr. R. Grierson, Mr. Percy Morris. Boys—Sydney Saunders, Harry Howitt, Harry Cullen, Stuart Saunders, Willie Cotton, Frank Buckle, Joseph Benallick, John Chadwick, Fred Gibbs and Jack Harvey.

Upon Miss Chisholm's retirement her place was filled by J. Wyatt Trendall, who gave place to Mr. B. Saunders, and he in turn was succeeded by F. R. Clark. Then came Mr. S. Pratt in 1899, followed by Miss Ethel Worswick, Professor Thomas, Miss Henderson, H. K. Anthony, J. Packer, E. E. Bell. For the past nine years Mr. J. R. Pears, the present occupant of the office, has faithfully and perseveringly continued the choir in the state of proficiency which has always been a marked characteristic of the services of St. James'. At the organ one recalls Miss Kate Reynolds, Miss Walker, Miss Eva Taylor, Miss Grant, Miss Hill, and Mr. James Metcalf, who held the position with great ability for a number of years until, upon his demise, he was succeeded by Miss Marjorie Marshall, who continues to give great satisfaction in assisting with the praises of Almighty God. The congregation of St. James has always been proud of the choir and its splendid work and the quality of music furnished has amply justified that pride.
