

COL. HUGHES MAKES REPLY TO ATTACK

There Are Some "Fanatical Orangemen," He Says, Making Trouble.

Parade of Regiment at Religious Affair Was Quite Legal.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defence, has addressed an open letter to the Orange Order, in reply to resolutions passed by several lodges of that body protesting against the participation of the 65th regiment in the recent Corpus Christi ceremonies in Montreal. The Minister's letter is as follows: "To the Orangemen of Canada: "The principles of the Orange institution are, without exception, the best yet promulgated for the upbuilding of humanity. Orangemen, as a class, are unsurpassed by the best of any in the world. "Their principles are the broadest kind of tolerance, yet, unfortunately, in all organizations intolerant, fanatical-minded people are found. However, these in the Orange order are a very small percentage of the great mass of splendid, well-informed men constituting that society. "A few of this intolerant class have recently been interesting themselves passing resolutions against the fact that the 65th regiment of Montreal marched in a Corpus Christi procession a few weeks ago in that city. Resolutions are formulated without the slightest regard to the facts of the case, and the authors thereof openly and flagrantly violate the first principles of the Orange institution. "Not the first time. "But this is not the first time I have calmly faced the wrath of a few fanatics. Yet I have lived to be defended and justified by every sensible man in the Orange order. "In 1896 I had the honor of opposing Laurier's policy, and also Tupper's policy re Manitoba schools. Laurier's policy is found in the iniquitous systems prevailing in Manitoba to-day, while Tupper's was rank coercion. My mandate was for both political parties to let the people of Manitoba alone. Time has vindicated the wisdom of my policy. "Now, what are the facts of this 65th regiment affair? The 65th is one of the best regiments in Canada. They marched loyally to the North-West in 1885, and fought against their compatriots at Frenchman's Butte, and rendered splendid service everywhere in that campaign. Col. Ostell and others now in the corps served Queen and country on that occasion. How many of those now passing condemnatory resolutions did likewise? (Continued on page four.)

Dramatic Suspense In The British Commons After a Close Vote

Majority of Asquith Government Fell to 23, and There Was Great Excitement in the Lobbies—So Thunderstruck Were Unionists That They Failed to Raise a Cheer.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] NEW YORK, July 8.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: There was dramatic suspense in the House of Commons last night when the government's majority fell to 23 the lowest Premier Asquith has yet secured except on one or two occasions when a snap division was called. The situation, which gave rise to great excitement in the lobbies where the talk is of an almost immediate general election, arose from the premier's motion to allocate only seven days to further discussion of the finance bill. During an animated debate this application of the guillotine was sharply criticized by the opposition, and a vote was taken at 8 a.m. When the figures were announced, (269 to 246), members on both sides were too amazed to make any immediate demonstration, though a few cheers were raised by the Tories, but later the excitement grew intense. A speech subsequently made by Walter H. Long, ex-chief secretary for Ireland, added to the electricity of the atmosphere. He complained bitterly of the absence of the premier and threatened to move the adjournment of the debate. It was explained by Mr. Lloyd George that Premier Asquith was keeping an important engagement. Meanwhile in the House of Lords the government's bill to remodel the council of India, the body which in London advises the secretary of state for India, was rejected by 96 to 38, so that altogether ministers had a very bad day in parliament.

PANKHURST IS IN COMMAND ONCE AGAIN

Militant Leader Goes Back to Work and Violent Scene Starts.

Four Suffragettes Were Put on Trial For Conspiracy.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, July 8.—An end was put to-day to the brief respite in the militant suffragette agitation when Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader, resumed command of the forces of the Women's Social and Political Union at their London headquarters. Mrs. Pankhurst, who reoccupied the offices at noon, was not molested by the police although they knew of her intention and had detectives on duty in the vicinity. Simultaneously with the reappearance of Mrs. Pankhurst a violent scene was created in the central criminal court, where Mrs. H. F. Alice Hall, Miss Grace Roe, Miss Julia Jameson and Miss Ellen Armes were brought up for trial for conspiracy. The charge against them was that of "conspiring with others maliciously to commit damage and injury, to spoil certain real and personal property of the Liege subjects of our lord, the king. The prisoners had been arrested during a raid on a west-end flat on May 21 and in their room were found a new shrapnel grenade of very ingenious manufacture, coils of fuse and plans of houses with instructions how to reach them and as to the usual movements of the police in the vicinity. Miss Roe and Mrs. Hall when brought into court surrounded by women warders refused to plead. They threw papers and pens from the prisoners enclosure and shouted a running commentary on their treatment in Holloway jail. Although both of these prisoners complained of having been forcibly fed they made a violent fight and it took two policemen and five women attendants to carry them out of court to the cells below. When the judge decided to proceed with the trial in the absence of the two women Mrs. Hall threw herself to the floor and kicked several policemen, and it took some minutes to remove her. The other prisoners pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Pankhurst was however permitted to remain in active command of the militants for only a very brief period, as when she emerged from her headquarters to go to lunch the police pounced on her and took her to Holloway jail. After Burns' Cottage. GLASGOW, Scotland, July 8.—An attempt to destroy the cottage at Ayr, where Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, was born January 25, 1759, was made just before daylight to-day by two members of a militant suffragette "arson squad." The two women were surprised by a nightwatchman as they were in the act of placing large bombs against the doors and windows of the poet's birthplace, which is venerated as a shrine by the Scottish nation. The man captured one of the militants, but the other escaped.

Asquith Was Taunted With Neglecting House For Trivial Reason

Premier Not Present for the Debate on the Budget, and Lord Robert Cecil Raises Strong Objection—A Dinner With the American Ambassador, Walter Page.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, July 8.—(Montreal Gazette cable)—A strange incident occurred in the House of Commons last evening. Shortly before eleven o'clock Hon. Walter Long and Lord Robert Cecil drew attention to the absence of the prime minister from the debate on the budget which was going on. Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George explained that Mr. Asquith was keeping an engagement with the American ambassador, Lord Robert Cecil taunted the premier with "merely dining with the American ambassador," whereupon William Redmond rose amid an uproar and cried: "You have no right to sneer at the American ambassador." Lord Robert retorted: "You will misunderstand me. I like to dine with the American ambassador myself." Lord Robert added that he deemed it perfectly ludicrous for the chancellor of the exchequer to tell the house that because the prime minister was dining with somebody, however, exalted, he could not be present at ten minutes to eleven. Such an excuse was scandalous and an insult to the house. The Unionist leader, Mr. Bonar Law, in supporting Lord Robert Cecil said if Mr. Asquith had an engagement with the American ambassador, and if it were a question of peace or war, there would be an excuse, but as it was there was no excuse. Two trainloads of English home-seekers left for the west yesterday.

MURDER IS STILL MYSTERY AT FREEPORT

Although Attorney Will Ask For Indictment Against Some One.

Theory is Advanced That a Gunman Played Part in the Affair.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] FREEPORT, N. Y., July 8.—That the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey on Tuesday of the last week in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman was no longer a mystery is the belief of Lewis J. Smith, district attorney of Nassau county. To-morrow Mr. Smith will appear before the grand jury, and according to a statement made by him, he will ask that an indictment be returned against the person he suspects of having killed Mrs. Bailey. The presentation of the cases before the grand jury will go on, no matter what verdict is given at the coroner's inquest. It will be resumed to-day before Coroner Norton and promises to be an interesting session. District Attorney Smith and Sheriff Pettit have eliminated Norton as a co-worker in the case, it is said, but despite the split the prosecutor will be present to ask questions of the witnesses and the sheriff will be there ready to start out on any new clues that are developed. Detectives to-day are running down a new theory of the killing that was advanced in Freeport yesterday. This was to the effect that a New York gunman played a part in it, that he brought the weapon from New York, broke the glass of the window looking upon Dr. Carman's office, handed the gun to the slayer, took it back after the shooting and then escaped with it. For some reason this theory was regarded by both official and unofficial investigators as more worthy of credence than any of the other wild stories which have been drifting about Freeport ever since the night of the shooting. Several subpoenas have been issued ordering witnesses to appear before the grand jury. Among those in Freeport who received one is Miss Hazel Coombes, the young girl who testified at the last session of the inquest that Mrs. Carman was downstairs, fully dressed, about half an hour before the shooting. The inquest to-day will no doubt bring out some highly interesting things. One of the important witnesses will be Gaston Boissault, manager of the company who dealt with Mrs. Carman when she rented and then purchased a telephonic device, one end of which was concealed in the doctor's office and the other in a desk drawer in her bed chamber. An Eye Witness. FREEPORT, N. Y., July 8.—Just before the inquest was resumed the (Continued on Page Four.)

HAD REAL JOKE

King George Was Handed the Wrong Address to Read at Glasgow.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] NEW YORK, July 8.—A cable to the New York Times from London says: A visit of the King and Queen to Glasgow yesterday provided an amusing incident. In the City Council chamber the King received a series of addresses. One address was from the corporation. McKinnon Wood, the minister in attendance on the King, handed his Majesty the royal address in reply. For two minutes the King continued reading, then came to a sentence which could not possibly have anything to do with the city council. He turned to McKinnon Wood and laughed heartily. The Queen, Princess Mary and everyone else joined in the laughter. Mr. Wood was the only person who did not appear to appreciate the joke. Very solemnly he handed another document to the King and His Majesty began again.

"HAD HIS BEER" IN A DRY TOWN

Magistrate Will Consult the "Higher Ups" Before He Convicts Man.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] WOODSTOCK, July 8.—A Police Court case of considerable interest was heard at Norwich to-day, when W. E. Cunningham of that village was charged with having liquor in his possession for sale in a local option village. He had ordered two kegs of ale, one for himself and another for a neighbor, which were delivered from Woodstock. Soon after delivery the South Oxford License Commissioner seized them. The defence was that the ale was bought for private consumption. The magistrate will consult the Attorney-General's Department before giving his decision.

PAINFUL MISHAP

Six-Year-Old Girl Fell, and Broke Her Arm in Two Places.

Yesterday afternoon while on duty at the Central Fire station about four o'clock, Fireman Joseph Rock received a telephone message from the General Hospital saying that his six year old daughter, Evelyn had met with an accident and was about to be put under an anesthetic. Mr. Rock could hardly understand the meaning, as his little daughter was quite well when he left home at noon. Rushing up to the hospital on his bicycle he found his daughter on the bed ready for an operation on her right arm. The little girl had been playing in the house at 49 Lawrence street and fell over the stair railing a distance of ten feet to the floor below breaking both bones of the lower part of her right arm. Mrs. Rock was out at the time and the plucky child walked up to a neighbor's house to her mother and told her she had hurt her arm. Mrs. Rock seeing what the trouble was picked the child up and carried her to the hospital where doctor Nichol operated. This morning Evelyn was getting along quite nicely, having been removed to her home last evening.

JEALOUSY AND CRIME.

NEW YORK, July 8.—A London cable to the Tribune says: Jealousy and crime in declining years of life were described yesterday in an extraordinary case at the Chester assizes, where a woman 72 years old was sentenced to death for the murder of her husband. She excused herself by alleging a love affair on the part of her husband with another woman. The jury strongly recommended the woman to mercy, and it is unlikely that the sentence will be carried into effect.

NEW SMALLPOX HOSPITAL TO BE ERECTED EXACTLY WHERE OLD ONE STANDS

Board of Health Driven to Action—Cannot Get Any Different Location in the Entire Township Than Mt. Hope Cemetery.

The first real forward step in the securing of a decent and respectable new Isolation Hospital for the city of Brantford, that long talked of and much needed improvement, was taken last night by the City Board of Health at their monthly meeting in the city hall, when on motion of Mayor Spence and Dr. earson, M.H.O., the board appointed Chairman John Patte and Wm. Walsh, a committee of two from the board, to confer with the Building and Grounds Committee of the City Council to push along the erection of a Hospital. It was made plain by Mayor Spence and other members of the board that the Township Council would simply refuse to permit the erection of the hospital within the limits of the township other than the present site in Mt. Hope Cemetery, where they were perfectly willing to pay one-fifth of the cost. On the whole the board thought that Mt. Hope was the on-

ROCKEFELLER IS SEVENTY-FIVE TODAY

Financier is following His Regular Daily Practice of a Round of Golf.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] NEW YORK, July 8.—Although John D. Rockefeller is 75 years old to-day, no celebration is being held at his Pocantico Hills estate, where he is spending the summer.

Mr. Rockefeller planned to follow his daily practice of playing his eighteen holes of golf. Weather rarely interferes with that exercise. Later in the day he may take an automobile ride. He will probably also go the rounds of the estate with his superintendent. There will be no birthday gathering, as Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister are in feeble health and John D. Rockefeller, jr., is at Seal Harbor, Me. Many congratulatory messages have already been received, which pleased Mr. Rockefeller, although he said he wished the day might pass without publicity.

REAL HOT FIGHT

Rev. Gordon is Accused of Profit Sharing in Hotel Business.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] WINNIPEG, July 8.—A new canvass was injected into the campaign last night, when, addressing a meeting in Portage la Prairie, Hon. Arthur Meighen, declared Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, whom he described as "leader of so-called opposition campaign of purity," was a shareholder in the King Edward Hotel at Neepawa. Mr. Meighen added that he had actually seen a cheque endorsed by Mr. Gordon which he had received in payment of dividends. Dr. Gordon is billed to speak in Portage Thursday night under the auspices of Social Service council. It is pointed out on the Liberal side that Mr. Meighen did not state whether this was during prohibition times in Neepawa. A number of meetings remain to be held in various parts of the province to-night and to-morrow night. Hon. Mr. Meighen and Hon. Dr. Roche being down for one each night. Premier Roblin will address no more public meetings.

GAS EXPLOSION

Furniture in House on West Mill Street Was Badly Scorched.

A gas explosion at 228 West Mill street, last night at a few minutes before ten o'clock brought the Central Hall firemen to the house owned by A. Lord of 248 West Mill St., and occupied by Lance Routh and Robert Trench. Routh and his family had moved in recently and the people who had moved out had left an open gas pipe in the front room of the house. The Rouths left the house last evening to go to visit friends and left the coal range burning. The Trench family in the rear of the house turned on the gas at the meter and the result was the front room was filled with gas from the open gas pipe, which ignited from the coal range, with the result that quite an explosion occurred, blowing out the front window and setting fire to the furniture and the woodwork. By the time the firemen had arrived in response to an alarm from Box 52, the blaze had been extinguished, although the furniture was badly scorched. Car. Cooper, an eleven year old boy was drowned in a creek near Sarnia.

PADDED ACCOUNTS

Admission Made in Reference to Building of Railway in New Brunswick.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] FREDERICTON, N. B., July 8.—Padding of accounts in connection with the building of the Southampton Railway was admitted before Commissioner R. A. Pringle of Ottawa at yesterday afternoon's session in his investigation on behalf of the Dominion Government.

James Cunningham of Fredericton, said he had a verbal contract with Mr. Pinder for part of the work and gave a receipted bill for $4,040. The work is included in the inspecting engineer's report as costing $7,440. To the commissioner the witness admitted that the account was made up and receipted when the investigation started. Mr. Pringle: "All he owed you was $3,101." "Yes." "Why did you make up this bill and receipt it?" "Because Mr. Pinder asked me to." "It was arranged since the investigation opened to fill out the accounts?" "It had been in my mind." Pringle: "You know that it had never been in your mind, and that it was concocted for the purpose of the railway company in this investigation. I think we understand this matter fully now. You may sit down."

BY-LAW TO RAISE MONEY FOR HOSPITAL WILL BE SUBMITTED TO RATEPAYERS

Meeting of Board Held Yesterday—New Wings Are Completed—Increased Charges for Private and Semi-Private Wards Are Decided Upon.

The regular meeting of the Governors of the Hospital Board took place yesterday afternoon. Present, Messrs C. H. Waterous (president), G. Stratford, H. Symons, Warden Milmine, F. D. Reville, Dr. Bell, G. Watt, H. Cockshutt, A. K. Bunnell, R. Sanderson. The application of Dr. Cooke, Sydneyham St., a new comer to the city, to be added to the medical staff, was granted on the usual terms. There was quite a lengthy discussion with reference to finances, and Mr. A. K. Bunnell reported that terms had been arranged with Schultz Bros. for the balance of their contract. The need for an improved isolation building was dwelt upon, and it was decided to ask Dr. Pearson, Dr. Bier and Dr. Chapin, representing the medical association to meet the finance committee in the Mayor's office at 4 p.m. on July 10th. The necessary outlay will then be discussed. The new buildings are practically complete, barring the furnishings. Their equipment is absolutely necessary as the present structure is overcrowded with patients. An estimate will be prepared with regard to all months owing and needed, and the city council asked to submit a by-law to the people for meeting same. Messrs Waterous, Cockshutt and Bunnell were appointed to meet the Mayor in this regard. Miss Carson, superintendent, in her report, stated that 80 patients had been admitted during the month, 74 discharged, 3 deaths, 57 at present in residence. She announced that four nurses would shortly graduate and recommended a motor ambulance. She also enumerated a number of articles required, a matter which will be taken up with the Women's Hospital. Y. W. C. A. Girls And The Summer Conference

The Brantford girls who were appointed to represent the various clubs of the Y. W. C. A. at the annual convention held this year at Muskoka, and who numbered ten strong report having had an excellent time at the famous summer resort, in spite of the fact that the weather could not be called perfect.

The splendid watering facilities afforded many opportunities for lake bathing and launch parties, after the session of conference were over, but the water being slightly cold, debarred any but the strongest from tasting the pleasures of a dip in the depths. The launch trips however appealed to the girls and many of the prettiest spots of the district were visited by this means, including Shadow River, Indian River, Lake Roseau and Lake Zoxeth. Spacious grounds were exquisitely laid out and many treasures of birch bark were found and brought home by Brantford maids.

Brantford was both numerically and literally strong in the affairs of the convention and they were heard from start to finish both in sport and business matters, Evelyn Fenn coming to be regarded as a master of all things. Her prowess was especially noticeable in a basketball game between picked teams representing Brantford and Stratford, and the Queen's College girls of Kingston. The score of 24 to 2 in favor of the selected teams gives a good idea of the inferiority of the college team. Of this score Evelyn Fenn must be credited with eleven of the twelve baskets of 22 points. She was regarded as the heroine of the game. But it was not all sport and pastime for the ten days play for the mornings of a comprehensive study of the Bible, and also to mission work and study. Supper over the girls retired to the chapel where religious exercises were conducted.

From two until three o'clock was rest hour, when all girls were supposed to peacefully repose and quietly deliberate upon the morning's work. The rest of the afternoon was their own to do as they wished and it was during these pleasant intervals that the girls enjoyed the scenery of the district and partook of many of the holiday pastimes which are found at Muskoka as they are at any other resort of holiday makers.

ORGAN RECITAL OF HIGH MERIT

Was Rendered at the Conservatory of Music Last Evening.

The organ recital given by Mr. J. L. K. Branson, A.C.G.O., at the Conservatory of Music last evening was one of exceptionally high merit. The programme was a splendid tribute to the versatility of the young organist, and his musical education for the compositions played, represented the more severe classic school of Bach and Mendelssohn, as well as that of the most modern composer. The Bach number was played in a musically style, the rhythm being well marked, the pedal passages smooth and the manual technique clean and distinct, without even a suspicion of "blurring."

Mendelssohn's second Organ Sonata received a splendid interpretation in spite of a little nervousness. The registration showed excellent musical judgment throughout, and an intelligent understanding of the great master.

The Toccata by Dubois, a composition whose principal function is the test of technical skill on the part of the performer, was given in a manner that met the demands of this popular piece. The three numbers, A, B, and C, were of a modern and more delicate character, and each received a true musician's interpretation. The overture William Tell, which is so well known and always popular on a programme, was never better given in Brantford. The young artist treated the overture as an arrangement for orchestra, and handled the organ as if it were an orchestra, treating the different stops as separate instruments. His registration throughout showed a thorough knowledge of orchestration, the organ being used to great effect in the crescendo passages working up to the climax of full organ representing the fury of the storm, had a splendid effect, while the second movement of quiet, pastoral character, was delicately given, the registration being exquisite. The liquid, timid tones of the flute making a beautiful contrast to the reeds. The last movement, the embodiment of gaiety and mirth, was fully entered into by Mr. Branson, and enthusiastic applause greeted the organist as he lifted his hands from the organ. It is no exaggeration to say that Mr. Branson will make his mark in the musical world.

The Misses Maud Taylor and Aileen Hart are the possessors of well trained mezzo soprano voices, and the singing of their respective vocal numbers was enthusiastically received. These young ladies will certainly become vocal favorites in Brantford. Mr. F. C. Thomas accompanied in his usual efficient manner. Principal W. Norman Andrews and the Conservatory of Music have turned out many a successful musician, but no young organist has given greater promise than Mr. Branson. Mr. Branson leaves for New York to-morrow and sails by the Olympic for St. Malo, France, where he will spend a couple of months with his parents, after which he will resume his musical studies at the Royal College of Music in London, England. The National Anthem brought a most delightful programme to a close.

Paris News

PARIS, July 7.—The Council met last night, with all members present and Mayor Patterson in the chair. A communication was read from B. Lester, asking for a grant towards the Dominion Day celebration to be held by the band and firemen. On motion of Ald. Stewart and Reynolds the letter was filed.

A petition from the Paris Citizens' Band, asking for a grant of $250, an addition of $100 to the usual grant, was presented to the Council. The estimates having been made for the current year, the petition was not accepted.

On motion of Ald. Pitts and Sinclair, 400 tons of broken stone will be purchased for use on the streets, and the contract for plank for repairs on the bridges was let to Geo. E. Taylor. Arthur Clarke will lay the cement walks this summer in town.

The report of the surveyor re the Arlington Park Theatre ticket office showed that the building had been erected some 14 feet on the street line. The matter was considered in committee of the whole, and the theatre authorities will be requested to relocate the building from off the street line and have the sidewalk replaced.

H. A. Asseline applied for the position of caretaker of the fire hall, equipment and council chamber. On motion the letter was filed.

The Council will have a number of seats placed in King's Ward park, and parties found damaging same will be prosecuted.

A petition was presented by Brown & Horton, fish peddlers, asking the Council to grant no license to any outside man to peddle fish in Paris. They pointed out the hard matter it was to keep fish during the warm season. During the discussion of the same it transpired that a case was before the magistrate of a man having peddled in Paris without a license, and pending settlement of same, no action would be taken with the petition.

Council then adjourned.

The ladies of the Sacred Heart Society are holding a big garden party in the Agricultural Park on Tuesday evening, July 14th.

The members of St. James' choir, the Sunday school teachers and Rev. Mr. Purton's Bible Class, as well as his Sunday morning class, are requested to meet in the parish hall on Saturday afternoon, at 3.30. A photograph of the various bodies will be taken for the worthy rector, who is shortly leaving this parish for Detroit. The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held a very successful talent tea this afternoon at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Lou La Pierre, Bond street.

Mrs. Morley and Miss Morley of London are the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Harvey, Wilson.

Miss E. Robinson has returned from a pleasant holiday spent at Walkerton.

Mrs. Anderson motored from Toronto and spent the week-end with Mrs. Stokes, Banfield street.

Mrs. John Elkington has returned home after attending the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Peter Hope of Ayr. Mrs. Hope was in her 91st year, and was well known throughout the community, having lived for over 67 years in the same house in Ayr.

UNKNOWN MAN KILLED ON G.T.R. NEAR TORONTO
TORONTO, July 8.—Letters on his person addressed to "George Coates, 235 Thirteenth street, west, Scranton, Pa., are the only clue to the identity of a man fatally injured by a Grand Trunk train at Swansea immediately west of this city, yesterday afternoon and who later died in the hospital.

When picked up the injured man gave his name as "Stephen Wilcocks, 186 Broadview avenue, Toronto," and a scrap of paper was found bearing that address. Wilcocks was called to the morgue and did not know the man.

A vote on a motion of Premier Assquith reduced the Government majority in the British Commons to 23.

QUACKS ARE TOO NUMEROUS

So Say the Doctors in Convention at Toronto City.

(By Special Wire to the Courier)
TORONTO, July 8.—Members of the Ontario Medical Council this morning protested loudly against "every tom, dick and harry" being permitted to assume title of doctor, and work to the advantage of the community.
"Either this council has no power, it has no backbone," said Ryan, "we should force to the attention of government to the harm being done the community by alleged drugless physicians. I think that they are hurting the community. Something should be done and done at once. We act and not allow this sort of drift."
The settled preference of so many of the members of parliament for Gibson, was to allow the "quacks" to pursue their way, holding that were not hurting any person stand was ridiculous declared Gibson. The "quacks" were hurting the public. The council should take a stand, matter and force the issue before the house.
The council to a man disapproved charter having been granted school of "manotherapy" in London. Dr. Ferguson pointed out some time ago the provincial government's department had notified council that the government regarded it as a body that nothing be done without sending word council. Yet a charter had been issued without the council being consulted.
Col. Hon. Sam Hughes issued a statement in which he criticized the men for their criticism of the Regiment taking part in a church ceremony.

SITUATION IN IRELAND NOW REGARDED AS MOST CRITICAL

DUBLIN, July 8.—Estimates of the number of the Irish Nationalist volunteers vary between 80,000, which is the Dublin Castle figures compiled by the police, and a quarter of a million, which is the estimate given in platform speeches. Careful inquiry shows that there are 50,000 in Leinster, which takes the lead, about 45,000 in Ulster (increasing rapidly), 35,000 in Munster and 25,000 in Connaught.

The difficulty of exact estimate arises from the fact that the movement is not organized from the centre. Forces have sprung up spontaneously in every parish, and so far are only loosely connected with the provisional central body. There has been a complete wiping out of all class distinctions, and the rank and file include every grade—farmers, laborers, shop assistants, clerks, doctors, lawyers and country gentlemen. There is a very strong leveling of old time expired soldiers, old Connaught Rangers, Dublin Fusiliers and Munster Fusiliers, and their experience is proving useful in the drill.

The chief military commanders are Colonel Maurice Moore, who commanded the Connaught Rangers in the Boer War, and Captain White, a son of the General White, who defended Ladysmith. Recent accessions are Sir Henry Grattan Bellew, a grandson of the great Henry Grattan, who had experience in the Fifth Dragoon Guards; and Captain Bellingham, brother of the Marchioness of Bute, who is at present an aide-de-camp to the Lord Lieutenant. Military experience, however slight, is at a premium and a medical student with a little volunteer training, is commanding as sergeant, a squad which includes among the privates a university professor of law.

The army has extremely little equipment and almost no money. But the material is excellent and the enthusiasm unbounded. Mr Redmond's open association with the movement will remove the difficulty of getting money. The men in charge of the movement are for the most part unknown, and there has been much reluctance to provide funds till the money went, who would spend the money and for what.

The central body consists of 25 men of them fifteen are said to be Home Rulers in sympathy with Mr. Redmond, but the more active, influential and effective spirits are members of the Sinn Fein party. They have few supporters in the country and the great bulk of the volunteers are supporters of Redmond. Mr Redmond offered his co-operation to the central body if he was allowed to nominate an equal number of men on it pending the election of the volunteer branches of a central executive. Failing acceptance he will recommend each county to govern itself.

This offer was rejected on a hastily summoned meeting of the executive who proposed that each county should elect a representative to sit with them. This has produced strong protest from Professor Kerr, who says the meeting was not properly convened and asks for a full meeting when the members would accept Mr Redmond's offer. Mr Redmond cannot allow a movement mainly composed of his supporters to be commanded by a self qualified body, of which the most active members are opponents of his. Once the volunteer members can hold their convention to check an executive matter, the matter will settle itself. Meantime there may be friction which will be obviated to a great extent by making each county govern itself and its own volunteers.

Not Taken Seriously. BELFAST, June 8.—The leaders of the Covenanters in Ulster profess to consider the Nationalist volunteer movement as something not to be taken seriously. These Nationalist bands in the Ulster counties drill spasmodically and are not connected with any central organization. All the local leaders act entirely on their own initiative. In some districts the volunteers are split into factions under opposing leaders, who carry on a newspaper warfare.

The Ulster leaders say that the Nationalist volunteers must fail through the impossibility of getting arms. They claim to have many letters from America showing that the Irish there are tired of contributing to Home Rule, and now that they consider an Irish Parliament assured, they propose to let those in Ireland settle their internal questions without help. Even if American sympathizers should refill the war chest, the present Government measures to suppress gun-running in all ports would checkmate them.

"We have two years' start in the matter of arming, and we mean to keep it," an official of the Ulster Unionist Council said to the Associated Press. In many Ulster villages the Nationalist bands are being drilled by retired army sergeants near the halls and par-

QUACKS ARE TOO NUMEROUS

So Say the Doctors in Convention at Toronto
City.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]
TORONTO, July 8.—Members of the Ontario Medical Council in session this morning protested loud and long against "every tom, dick and harry" being permitted to assume the title of doctor and work to the disadvantage of the community. "Either this council has no power or else it has no backbone," said Dr. Ryan, "we should force to the attention of government to the harm that is being done the community by these alleged druggish physicians. I don't think that they are hurting the medical men so much as they are hurting the community. Something should be done and done at once. We should act and not allow this sort of thing to drift."

The settled preference of some of the members of parliament said Dr. Gibson, was to allow the "quacks" to pursue their way, holding that they were not hurting any person. This stand was ridiculous declared Dr. Gibson. The "quacks" were surely hurting the public. The council council should take a stand in the matter and force the issue before the house.

The council to a man disapproved a charter having been granted to the school of "manotherapy" in Hamilton. Dr. Ferguson pointed out that some time ago the provincial secretary's department had notified the council that the government recognized it as a body that nothing would be done without sending word to the council. Yet a charter had been granted without the council being consulted.

Col. Hon. Sam Hughes issues statement in which he criticizes Orange-men for their criticism of the 6th Regiment taking part in Catholic church ceremony.

Lights Broken
Hydro Electric lights continue to be broken in spite of police vigilance and during the past week two lights were broken, one on Erie Avenue beside the Tutela Park and another on Elgin Street in front of the Keaton Motor Company. The number has considerably decreased since the week previous when over a dozen were registered in one week. No convictions have yet been registered, but the effects of the police watch is to be noticed.

Moose Held Smoker.
Brantford Lodge, No. 1475, Loyal Order of Moose opened up their club rooms in the Lyons building, 68 Colborne street on Monday evening, July 6, in the form of a smoker. Dr. Elliott occupied the chair. Speeches and songs followed. Mr. James Whittaker and Mr. Byers with the assistance of Lloyd Dymond at the piano rendered some fine solos. The rooms are the finest club rooms in the city and fill the long felt want of a home for the boys. The House committee composed of Jack Kelly, chairman, and P. Shultz, secretary, along with Messrs Hartley Burns, W. Byers, James Eason, Ed. Dunn, Geo. Patte, Dr. Elliott and Chas. Rutland had charge of the furnishing of the rooms which they did in a way that gave a pleasant surprise to many.

HOSPITAL NEEDS

The people of Brantford will, ere long, be asked to vote more money in connection with the general hospital.

This is not because there has been any waste or extravagance, but for the reason that the demands upon the institution are daily becoming more onerous. To meet requirements, new buildings have been completed. They have been constructed in a most modern manner, with plenty of light, sun verandahs and all the latest accessories with regard to the proper and the hygienic method of taking care of the sick. Citizens should make it their business to examine the new structures. There is nothing ornate but a splendid regard for the all round opportunities given the afflicted to regain their health under the best possible circumstances.

Brantfordites should bear in mind how little their hospital has cost them as compared with other places. Through the generosity of the late John H. Stratford, the original building was presented absolutely free together with the site, now valued at very many thousands of dollars. Those first outlays, contrary to the general experience of other municipalities, did not cost the ratepayers one cent.

By comparison with other places, it is found that the Brantford institution, at less charge to general patients, is one of the most economically run in the Province, not because of any stint with regard to necessities, but as the outcome of careful management.

The Courier feels sure when the Governors place the entire situation before the community, as they will shortly, that the response will be as cordial as the need warrants. The county councillors, after due investigation, have been most generous in their action. The next needed move will be up to the city.

MONTREAL'S WASTE.

According to an article in the Montreal News, municipal affairs in that city must be sadly in need of a dose of chloride of lime.

A business corporation that was shown to be wasting from $40,000 to $50,000 a week in wages would be a screaming joke in the commercial world. Supposing that its affairs had been allowed to reach that bad, mismanaged stage, when the situation of this leakage was revealed, there would be a tremendous "calling down" of the directors and department heads, and doubtless a wholesale "firing" of the "men higher up."

Yet, as a business proposition, the corporation of the city of Montreal is wasting every week all of fifty thousand dollars in wages that, from the economic standpoint, ought never to be paid.

In its various departments the city employs during the season, from May to October or November, at a low average, eleven thousand laborers, chiefly on road and paving work. These men are not skilled mechanics. They are the kind of workers common to any country, in whose hands a pick or a shovel is placed, and to whom orders are given to tear up such a piece of roadway, or to spread such a heap of stones.

By paying for the most ordinary class of work $2.25 per day, the city is dropping at the least $30,250 every week, which is allowing an average of $1.75 per day per man, at which rate there is in the city at the present time more than an abundant supply of laborers. At this reckoning, and allowing seven months as the outdoor working year, the city will have over-paid for laboring work, by November, a matter of $847,000. The citizens may well ask where their money is going to!

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT RAILWAY TO HUDSON BAY.

In a recent interview, N. K. Boyd, one of the contractors, is reported to have said in Winnipeg that it is expected soon to have 3,000 men on the work, of which over 2,000 will be engaged on grading and the remainder on bridge work, tracklaying and ballasting. The plant on the work consists of 3 steam shovels at Pas and 2 at mileage 110; 13 locomotives; 100 Hart convertible cars, and numerous box and flat cars, in addition to two passenger cars which are being operated as far as mileage 110. It is expected to have track laid to the Manitou Rapids of Nelson River, and to have the grading completed from the Manitou Falls to within 110 miles of Port Nelson by the end of the year. A large bridge is to be built at Manitou Rapids, and the foundation work will be done this year.

The work of laying out the terminals at Pas and at Port Nelson is being proceeded with. Two tracks have been laid at Pas, one from the round-house at Eighth St., and another from the Canadian Northern Railway, connecting with the bridge across the Saskatchewan River. It is reported that eight tracks are to be laid in the yards at once, in such a manner that six additional tracks may be added as required.

Of the ultimate value of the road there is very great doubt. Hudson's Bay is only navigable for a short period of the year, and then only under circumstances of great danger. However, the project has been in response to one of the many demands of the West; who have Oliver Twist discounted about one thousand per cent. when it comes to asking for something more.

KEEPING OUT THE HINDOOS.

The Dominion Government did a proper thing when, by Order-in-Council, they declared that the consignment of Hindoos on a Japanese steamer could not be landed at Vancouver. The British Columbia Court of Appeals has now sustained the validity of that action, and the undesirable will have to go back from whence they came. Still further appeals may, of course, be taken before the Canadian Supreme Court and the British Privy Council, but the process will be too lengthy for the would-be invaders to hold out.

The whole thing was an avowed attempt on the part of a wealthy native to open up a wide avenue of settlement for his compatriots in Canada. We don't want them and, what's more, won't have them. Another shipload is now stated to be on the way, and they also should, and will, be received with the same kind of open arms turned into a kick. The law is that such immigrants should have $200 each of their own money and not be either artisans or laborers. That just about bars the whole bunch.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Montreal is infested with firebugs. If they'd fire some of their municipal leeches it would be a hanged sight better.

A wire from Quebec says that the city bailiff there has "elephants on his hands." That must be even worse than the girl who has chaps on her feet.

A news item makes the announcement, "French Submarine Sinks." That's a strange news. Ordinary mortals had an idea that a submarine was constructed to avoid just that.

An esteemed contemporary has a learned article on the "Psychology of Color." As to that, the color of a man's money is usually the thing about which the ordinary mortal is most concerned.

BY-LAW TO RAISE HOSPITAL MONEY

The death occurred to-day of Mr. John McGeary, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of Brantford. Deceased, who was over 80 years of age, was in business for many years on Colborne street, and later with the power and light company when Mr. Robert Henry was manager. He throughout led a life of good citizenship, and in all his relations was the sort of honor and integrity. As husband and father he occupied a place in the home of an example to all. The children who mourn his great loss are Mrs. George Mann (London), Mrs. (Rev.) Graham (Toronto) and Mrs. D. J. Waterloo (Brantford).

A most worthy citizen has been called to his reward, and many will be the kindly remembrances with reference to his sterling character and upright career.

City News Items.

Mrs. F. J. Reid and daughter Margaret of 170 Murray Street are spending the holidays on a farm in Wellington County. They will return in September.

Tennis at Caledonia
A contingent of Y. M. C. A. tennis players left the city this afternoon to travel by motor to Caledonia where they will play a club in a tournament series. Those representing the Brantford "Y" were Harold Preston, H. Gould, E. C. Gould, G. H. Cunningham. With such players as the two Goolds on their team they are confident of victory.

It is expected that the Niagara Falls peace protocols will be signed to-day.

THE ONE THEME

You talk of Pope and Byron, of Milton, Keats and Scott, and I admit I'm tirin' of all that kind of rot; you say the world is richer since Shakespeare sung his lays; to Jones, our southpaw pitcher, you give no word of praise. Through inning after inning he pitched a hitless game, and yet you come here grinning to talk of Wordsworth's fame. You speak of Alexander, and say he was a brick, that storied old commander who sighted for worlds to lick; I fear there's nothing in it, this clawing o'er his bones, and at the present minute my thoughts are all of Jones. You musty ancient heroes' were doubtless wearing bells, your Hannibals and Neros, your dauntless William Tells, but they are dead and planted, long since they met their fate, and I am now enchanted with Jones, whose curves are great. Of statesmen and of thinkers you come to spile a while, and they are surely clinkers when anybody's in style, but statesmanship is musty, and thinkers are a bore, when Jones, the true and trusty, is making batsmen sore. Forget the printed pages, the wreaths and halls of fame, forget the bards and sages, and come and see the game!

Obituary

Late John R. Flower

John R. Flower was suddenly called to his last rest yesterday when he passed away at the age of forty-three years. He was a carpenter by trade, and was working on Saturday last, but was stricken by an illness on Sunday at his residence, 93 Ontario St. He was a well known member of the Ancient Order of Foresters, and leaves a widow and two small children, with whom are the sympathies of many sorrowing friends.

The funeral will take place to-morrow to Mount Hope cemetery, when the Rev. M. Loney of Immanuel Baptist church will officiate.

Late Mrs Elizabeth Snider

There passed away yesterday at her late residence, "The Maples," Brantford Township, Elizabeth Snider, widow of the late William D. Snider. She deceased, who was a daughter of the late Hon. William Likens, was a life long resident of the community, and a member of the First Baptist church. She was of a true Christian character, and beloved by all with whom she came in contact.

Two children, Frank W., and Gertrude, are left to mourn the loss of a true and devoted mother.

The funeral will take place on Thursday to Mount Hope cemetery, when the Rev. Llewellyn Brown will conduct the ceremony.

Late George Campbell.

A well-known citizen of Brantford passed away in Buffalo on Monday last when George Campbell received the last call. He was nearing his seventieth year and had only resided in the States for the last three years. His city residence was 155 Darling street, and here he lived for the major portion of his life, being 30 years connected with the Grand Trunk railroad.

He was an honored member of Gore Lodge, No. 34, I.O.O.F., in which he had 25 years' service. In life he was a brother of the late Mary and Alexander Campbell, while he was the uncle of Oswald, James, Mary, Margaret and Matilda Campbell and Mr. Thos. Kanane.

The funeral will take place from the undertaking parlors of H. S. Peirce, 75 Colborne St., to Mount Hope Cemetery, on Friday afternoon.

Late John McGeary.

The 65th also sent some of its best to South Africa. Their custom for more than half a century, it seems, has been to parade on Corpus Christi Sunday carrying government rifles. I do not here discuss the character of the procession. My views on that subject may be as strong as any, but the procession comes under the heading "religious," and under the law, soldiers are permitted to march therein, but they are not permitted to carry government rifles.

Within their Rights
During the last year, owing to irregularity by members of certain cadet corps, who had carried rifles in religious processions, I caused notification to be sent to every corps in Canada to the above effect. Therefore, this year, when the religious authorities asked Col. Ostell, as usual, to march, he drew attention to the law, and respectfully declined to obey it. Col. Ostell further, in an interview in the Montreal Gazette, contracted the rumor that the officers and non-commissioned officers were rebellious over the order, and he reiterated the assertion that to a man, officer, non-commissioned officers and men, would loyally observe the law.

I was then appealed to, not by the 65th, not by Roman Catholics alone but by Protestant citizens of Montreal—as good and true as are in Canada, and by several Protestant newspapers—to suspend the carrying of Government rifles to be carried. As every honest Orangeman knows, I refused point blank to allow any change. It was then brought out by a Protestant officer in Montreal that rifles other than those issued by the government, could be carried without violating the law. This interpretation was confirmed by the judge-advocate general, and no better Protestant Orangeman than he exists. The prohibition was against the carrying of Government rifles. The Militia Department has no authority to interfere against private rifles. That would come under municipal, provincial or Justice Department control.

Side Arms Only in Future
"Permit me to say, however, that I am convinced that, on reflection, the religious authorities, on learning that their custom has been in violation of the regulations enforced since Wellington's time, will be the first to desist from the carrying of rifles in religious processions. I am further convinced that the militia and cadets of the country, all high-spirited and proud of their organizations, will not agree, for the future, to even a technical observance of the law by carrying private rifles. They will, I am fully convinced, see the propriety of marching in the usual way—side arms only."

"It is rather amusing to me to see the attempts to stir up, on the one hand, Protestant fanaticism, and, on the other hand, Roman Catholicism. Recently I declined to permit the turning out of troops, or the firing of salutes in honor of a distinguished prelate of the Roman Catholic church because what would be done for one church must be done for all, and forthwith I am assailed as a fanatic by a few Roman Catholics rigidly adhered to the law regarding the carrying of government rifles in religious processions and am assailed by a few Protestant fanatics who do not understand the facts at all."

"These people seem to think that it is the function of the Minister of Militia to butt into everything concerning firearms or fireworks."

"Permit me to say, I endeavor strictly to attend to the business of the Department of Militia and Defence, and it is not my intention to district attorney announced that he had discovered a new witness, a man who says he was an eye witness to the murder. The man, an insurance agent, said he was passing the Carman home at 8 o'clock on the night of the murder when he heard a crash of glass and turned to see what caused it, saw a woman dressed in white looking into a window of the physician's office. Then, he told the detectives, he heard the report of a revolver and saw the woman disappear toward the rear of the house.

It was said that the man might be placed on the witness stand provided preliminary examination did not disclose flaws in his story.

BODY SEEN FLOATING DOWN ST. CLAIR RIVER.

SARNIA, July 8.—The body of a man clad in a blue and white sweater, was seen floating down the Canadian channel of the St. Clair river yesterday afternoon. The body was first sighted near the mouth of the river and again farther down the stream. The corpse drifted towards a pile driver but when the crew tried to recover it it sank and did not resurface. It is believed to be the same one seen off Harnor Beach a couple of weeks ago.

HOE YOUR OWN ROW

THERE are people who have the knack of shifting their responsibilities and burdens to other people's shoulders down ter's defence. It's a mean and contemptible thing to do and if I believed in the transmigration of souls, which same I don't, I'd say any person little enough to do it would be a mouse or a crawling or something equally as distinctive in the life yet come. That's only one fair and square way to live life and that is to carry yer own troubles and worries; in other words hoe yer own row, or in still others, set tight, square yer jaw and mild your own dinged business. It may be a long-gone and uninteresting pursuit at first but that's a dipperful of joy at the other end of the row and any amount of genuine satisfaction between the hills yer hoein'. Yebatye, it pays to hoe yer own row!

and licensing of milk and dairy vendors and the sale of their products, and on the solicitor's advice the following resolution, moved by Mayor Spence and seconded by Wm. Walsh was carried: "That this board requests the municipal council to pass such a by-law for the licensing and regulating of milk and dairy products in accordance with the report of Dr. Pearson, M. H. O."

In accordance with previous resolution of the board it was decided to take steps to repair the unsanitary conditions of the lavatories in the City Hall.

The general feeling of the board was that the only proper solution of the public lavatory question was to submit a by-law to the electors on January 1st, next for the raising of a certain money for the erection of properly equipped public lavatories in different parts of the city.

The subject of pure ice cream was brought up and Dr. Pearson explained that the inspection of ice cream by street vendors was under the Dominion Pure Food Officers who make inspection of all food stuffs offered for sale.

The board decided to allow Mrs. Anguish, 340 Dalhousie St., the sum of $30 for maintenance of her boarders while they were quarantined.

Accounts to the extent of $175 were passed, including $30 on the grocery account for the maintenance of the inmates of the Isolation Hospital. There was some kicking as to the prices charged in the accounts and while the whole bill amounted to $85.47 only $50 was allowed, the rest to be looked into before payment.

PAINTERS' STRIKE

Nearly All the Men, it is Said, Have Returned to Old Jobs.

The painters strike is practically ended and most of the men are reported to be radually returning, if not already returned to their masters at the old rates. The men themselves brought about this result and can attach the blame to nothing but lack of organization. The assurance of Mr. F. J. Todd of Stratford who claimed to be the general organizer of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America, came to nought and the financial assistance which was promised the men was not forthcoming. They began by taking orders from customers who desired their assistance and competition among the men became keen with the inevitable result that prices were cut and further cut until profits were reduced to a minimum. This, it is said, was done by the union men themselves, and they soon found it hard to exist, for where they had been fighting for 30 and 35 cents an hour, some work, it is said, was done as low as 20 cents.

The masters noted this tendency and stood firm realizing that sooner or later the men would return to their previous work. There are now not more than six union men who are still out on strike and it is likely that they will soon be employed as formerly. The failure of the strike has had a bad effect on the painting trade of the city, as now there are several minor painters who are cutting rates, and who are not turning out the work which the larger firms are capable of. This means poorer prices and inferior workmanship, while the trade itself has experienced a severe slump.

NO EXCURSION

Massey-Harris Association Calls it Off For This Year.

NO EXCURSION... etaoin shrdn At a meeting of the Massey Harris Employees' Excursion Committee which was held last evening the following resolution in connection with this year's excursion was passed:—

"Whereas it having been decided to celebrate Old Home Week in Brantford this year at a date which is in close proximity to that usually chosen for our excursion and also owing to the bad state of the water supply at Niagara Falls which was pronounced by Doctors locally to be the cause of the typhoid epidemic which overran this city last year, we feel it incumbent upon to look after the health of our people here to the best of our ability and also to support the Old Home Week Committee in their gallant efforts to make the celebration a pronounced success."

And whereas the fact that by omitting the excursion this year some 2500 people would spend their money at home rather than abroad, thus materially contributing to the success of the Old Home Week.

"Be it therefore resolved that notwithstanding the fact that the employees of the Massey-Harris Co. have had a very busy year, having worked practically full time from the 1st of October, the excursion be withdrawn this year, and out committee urge other similar organizations to assist the Old Home Week in like manner, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the press and to the Old Home Week Committee.

Still at the Hospital

Poll Taxes Due

Additional notices for the collection of poll tax are being sent out by Tax Collector F. Benedict. There are a very large number not paid yet and if these are not forthcoming within a few days summonses will be issued and the delayed parties will have to pay the costs of a court case, as well as the tax itself. Some fancy that they have to be a certain length of time in the city to pay the tax, but this is not the case, as a person here only to be one day in the city to be eligible for the tax.

Lacrosse Practice

The Intermediate Lacrosse team will meet for practice on Friday night at Agricultural Park. The team is getting back into regular form after their crippled condition of the past week and will be in good shape for the game with St. Mary's here on the 18th inst. Some new faces will be seen on the team at that game including the Bumberry brothers from the Indian reserve, who the London Telemachs were after this year but failed to get. They should be a decided advantage to the team.

Life Underwriters

The regular monthly meeting of the Brantford Life Underwriters' Association was held in the Canada Life office on Monday. Preparation are being made for the big convention at Halifax, which will be held on July 28-30. Several local insurance men will be in attendance. Strong resolutions were passed in reference to the attitude the association would adopt toward non-members, and copies of these will be forwarded to Halifax. The local association is one of the leading organizations in the country and is doing much to improve the standing of the business.

MAYOR SPENCE REFUTES SLANDER CAST AT HIM

What Happened the Night Before Election in the East Ward.

Mayor Spence has addressed the following open letter to Mr. Joseph Ham: Joseph Ham, Esq., City: Dear Sir, - Information has reached me that on Sunday, the 28th day of June, during the evening preceding election day, Mrs. Ham telephoned to the Chief of Police and informed him that some wrong was being done or suspected in polling subdivision 21, in Ward 4, and that Mayor Spence desired an officer sent down to stop it. In consequence of this message Police Constable Tyrell was sent there, and reports that on his way down he met you on Murray street, and was informed by you that I was driving about Subdivision No. 21 in my automobile, running without lights and taking up men in my car driving them a short distance and setting them down again; also that I was visiting houses in Brock Lane and attempting to intimidate voters.

I am willing to make allowances for a certain amount of excitement and consequent misrepresentation during the heat of an election, but I am occupying the position of Chief Magistrate of Brantford, and I am informed that these statements and inferences drawn from them are widely circulated at the present time.

I have to say that on the evening in question I was in Port Dover, and arrived from there at the Overland garage in company with Mr. S. F. Passmore, Mr. George Yapp, Mr. James Seac and Mr. George Mitchell at 9.25 p.m. I drove my car from there direct to my house and put the car in the garage and went home and was preparing to retire. At 9.45 I was telephoned by Mr. Simmons, who is a Conservative worker in subdivision 21, that a number of people were about there and asking me to come down. I drove down after some demur to the corner of Marlboro and Rawdon streets, where the committee room was, and there met a number of Conservative workers and heard their reports as to persons they had been watching. I took Mr. Gee and Mr. Squires in my car and drove around several blocks and returned to the corner of Rawdon and Marlboro streets. I did not leave the car nor did any one enter it except the men I have named. The electric lights on my car were burning all the time. I advised those there to go home, as I was of the opinion that each party was simply watching the other. I then drove to the Overland garage, taking Alderman Bragg home on the way. I did not have a drop of oil and gasoline for the next day and then went home, where I arrived at 10.45, having been away, all told, one hour. I did not leave my house again that night, although I was again telephoned to about 12.45 from subdivision 21, but did not think the matter important, and did not go out.

I have made this somewhat lengthy statement in order that you may have an opportunity to verify it, and I now call upon you to do this and either make your charges publicly or publicly withdraw your statements.

As this is a public matter, I am forwarding this letter to the press.

Yours truly, JNO. H. SPENCE.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WOODSTOCK, Ont., July 8 - The death took place here this morning at 8 o'clock of Dr. James Bruce Coleridge, former mayor of Ingersoll, and a life long resident of Oxford County. He accepted the Conservative nomination in the recent provincial election, but the state of his health compelled his withdrawal at the last moment.

Heartrending Finish To 12 Inning Struggle

Red Sox Succumbed to London, 6-4—It Was a Great Game to Watch, But Had the Wrong Kick to it.

It was a great battle, the second game with London yesterday afternoon, and although the fans didn't have the pleasure of seeing the home team win out, still they did see them put up a good fight for twelve innings, during which the Red Sox tied the score twice when London had a lead of two runs on them each time, the Cockskeys finally winning out 6-4. If the Red Sox only keep up the splendid fighting spirit they showed yesterday there is no doubt but that they will make a noise in the league right soon, and they will certainly have the confidence of the local fans restored to them. Gero did the pitching for Brantford for nine innings, when Taylor replaced him to break the score in the Sox's favor, but the attempt failed, as, while Eddie held them scoreless for the tenth and eleventh innings, Lamy's home run in the 12th, scoring himself and Bierbauer, who Eddie had walked, broke the tie, and the Sox were not able to come across with a third tie-up. Dick-Reidy pitched for the Sox in the tenth and replaced Heck by Beebe, who struck out Lamond, Taylor and Nelson in the last two innings, and though he walked Long and Deneau

BEAVERS BEAT SAINTS AGAIN

Hamilton Shut Out Ottawa—Peterboro Beat Erie Yankees.

ST. THOMAS, July 8.—Relief Pitcher Schaeffer of the Toronto Beavers was equal to the occasion yesterday when he held the Saints to one run in the ninth, after relieving Graham with none out with the bases populated, enabling the visitors to win the second consecutive game at the local lot by the score of 2 to 1. Graham pitched a wonderful game up to the ninth, but a hit and two walks filled the bases when Knotty Lee trotted out one of the best pinch pitchers in the league in Schaeffer. Graham only allowed five hits, three of which were of the scratch order and should have easily won his contest, as the locals did not deserve to win on the play.

Sporting Comment

Looking over yesterday's game, if it were not for the fact that Brantford today occupies last place there would be no kick coming on the result. The game lasted twelve innings, during which time there were thrills galore. Of course the last bad play is always responsible for the loss thereof. Rube when he misjudged Lamy's fly in the 12th is responsible. The hit went as a fluke home run, the ball bounding over the fence. Nothing could have been more exasperating to the fans than the way things turned out. Had the thing gone for a two bagger it would not have been nearly as disastrous.

CLERGYMAN AS AN OFFICIAL AT LONDON FIGHT.

LONDON, July 8.—A unique feature of last night's match for the lightweight championship of the world between Fred Welsh and Willie Ritchie at Olympia was the appearance in the ring of a clergyman as master of ceremonies.

SHAG MUST BE AWFUL

HAMILTON, July 8.—In a fast, snappy game that was chock full of thrills and which was finished in record time, the Athletics shut out the Senators here yesterday by a 2 to 0 score. Up until the sixth session the game was undoubtedly the best exhibition of ball demonstrated here this season, with both men going at top speed. Ottawa was successful in securing only three hits during the entire game, which came singly in the second, third and fourth, while the locals had only touched Peterson for two singles up till the sixth.

PETES BEAT YANKES.

PETERBORO, July 8.—Peterboro beat Erie easily again yesterday, 8 to 3. Creswell, the home left hander had the better of Lefty Dorbeck. A fierce onslaught in the fifth gave the Petes five runs and circled the game. The Yanks got only four hits off Creswell until two were gone in the ninth, when Behan singled and McNeil followed with a home run. The score; Peterboro 8, Erie 3.

DAY OF REST IS LAUGHED AT

Couldn't Exchange Red Germanium on Sunday Under It.

LONDON, June 20.—The Weekly Rest Day Bill, which was brought forward in the House of Commons recently, could not survive the criticisms to which its provisions were subjected. Nominally the bill is intended to secure that workers shall have one day's rest in seven, and with this principle no one quarrels, but after Mr. Handel Booth had entertained the House for an hour with a sprightly account of the anomalies of the measure, members began to see a Sabbatarian spirit looming behind it, and from that moment it was doomed. Even Mr. Goulding, who moved the second reading of the bill, could not support all its provisions. He said it had been drafted by the Imperial Sunday Alliance, and some of its too drastic provisions would have to be deleted.

Mr. Dickinson seconded the bill. "We have been treated to early-Christian martyr sort of essays," scoffed Mr. Handel Booth, who moved the rejection of the bill. "Under the very first clause," he said, "if two workmen were on their allotments on Sunday morning, and one wanted to exchange a red germanium with the other, he could not do it. (Laughter.) "You can go to a chemist or a doctor, but if a man has toothache he must wait patiently till Monday morning.

purchase of milk," went on Mr. Booth "but you must not buy new-laid eggs." "At this club a member may have a hot meal on Sunday and drinks with it, but he must buy no smoking requisites or sweetmeats. After dinner we should find members going round the room trying to cadge a cigar. (Loud laughter.) And a coster who took his 'donah' out for the day might give her a glass of port wine or spirits, but might not buy a few chocolates." (Renewed laughter.)

Fresh fish or fruit might be bought, "but not a Bismarck-herring or an anchovy. You can't have radishes, carrots or turnips but I think a cucumber would escape.

Theatrical companies were to be allowed to travel on Sundays. "Hon. members will go to the railway stations to see their friends in 'Lady Godiva' or 'The Girl up a Ladder,' and cab drivers were to be exempted because some people might want to be driven to church or chapel, he supposed.

"A bill of good intentions but fantastic provisions," was Mr. Harry Lawson's description. "It's the sort of bill a satirist might have drafted after listening to a sermon on the want of Sabbath observance." On newspaper proprietors he stoutly opposed the bill. "There is not a newspaper in the country which could be produced on Monday morning under the conditions laid down as to working hours." The distribution of Sunday newspapers in the country would also be interfered with.

As a railwayman, Mr. J. H. Thomas strongly supported the bill, Mr. Hudson, too, favored it, and Lord Henry Bentinck read a telegram in support of it from the National Chamber of Retail Traders, representing 100,000 shopkeepers.

"Some are in favor of the principle, but not of the bill; some are in favor of the bill but not in favor of passing it," was the satirical comment of Mr. Ellis Griffith, Under-Secretary at the Home Office, who announced that the government's support of the bill must be conditional upon its being sent to be taken.

Mr. Henry Chaplin declared that "soon they will want to prevent hens laying on a Sunday."

The bill was rejected by 117 to 105.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma Kept Her Locks, Dark, Glossy Thick with a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. The old-time mixture of Sage Tea streaked and faded hair is grandmothers treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Agent, George Bowles.

HYGIENE AND GRACE OF THE MODERN DRESS

"In the controversy which has recently been raging around this eternally interesting question, (modern dress,) the supporters of the existing modes would certainly seem to have right on their side as far as hygiene and grace are concerned," says The Gentlewoman.

"One writer who is in the opposite camp avers that the present costumes are bound to lead to the physical degeneration of women. Health statistics, however, point to the contrary. Was there ever a time when women were more beautiful or had a clearer outlook upon life?"

"Objection is made to the habits of wearing the hat over one eye. This could be defended from many points of view. The eye in question might be 'the glad eye,' which, of course, ought to be hidden, and the fashion might reasonably be regarded as an eye preservative. It ought to disarm all criticism on the subject of sex inquisitiveness because the follower of the custom voluntarily sacrifices half her powers of outward observation, for the purpose of her hope of devoting to the more salutary purpose of introspection. The symbolism even of modern millinery thus lends itself to all sorts of interesting psychological interpretation.

"But to speak seriously," continues the writer, "there can be no two opinions on the subject of the vast superiority of the existing fashions over all those which have preceded them. When we remember the hideous crinoline, the tight lacing, the old-fashioned skirt with yards of cumbersome material hanging heavily from the waist. The frock that carried microbes by the myriads in its train, the inflated shoulders that made a woman ridiculously top-heavy, one must welcome the light sinuous grace, the corsetless ease, the beauty of color and contour which characterize the creations of our modistes of to-day.

SLEEPS IN HIS OWN COFFIN

Eccentric Made Bed in Which He Proposes to Take Eternal Rest.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—Every night in the year, E. T. Hunger, formerly chief of police of Lincoln, sleeps in his coffin. The home-made box stands on the front porch of the Hunger residence, at No. 2314 Randolph street, and at night, after the neighbors have gone to bed, "Old Man" Hunger goes out and climbs into the box. If the weather is cold, or if a shower comes up, he pulls the top of the coffin over the opening, leaves a crack through which he can get a little fresh air, and calmly goes to sleep. Mr. Hunger is now 76 years old and for many years he has been sleeping in this coffin.

"And I made that coffin myself, too," he says proudly. "Costs too much to die in these days. So I just thought I'd play a joke on the undertakers and make my own coffin while I was well enough to do it. So I got me some inch plank about a foot wide and several pieces 2 x 4. I put the latter at each corner to make the box stable, and then I nailed it together with 8-penny nails. Whole thing cost me less than $5, but it's strong enough to hold a man about my size without any trouble. And won't those undertakers be mad when I die and they can't get any of my money?"

The Hunger home sits back from the street and there are trees all around it. In the summer these trees shade the porch and the gruesome object cannot be seen plainly. But when winter strips the limbs and branches, Mr. Hunger's home-made coffin can be seen by all passersby.

For more than twenty years Mr. Hunger was a constable in Lincoln and is one of the best known men in the city. But the fact that he sleeps in his coffin every night is a fact known to few others than his neighbors and close friends.

"Hope I'll die some night right in that coffin," says the ex-chief of police. "My family know just what I want done, I want them to nail that lid on just as quickly as they know I'm dead, and then haul me out to the cemetery; don't want any of those undertakers holding me up for a big bill for funeral expenses. No, sir; what's good enough for me to sleep in is good enough for me to be buried in."

The old man has his sleeping box nicely arranged. He built the casket a little bit deeper than usual, and then he fitted a set of hinges to the bottom. On these hinges he placed a mattress and then came his blankets and quilts.

"I heard of lots of people who've built their own coffins I suppose," says Hunger. "But you don't very often hear of a fellow who turned round and sleeps in it after he has made it, do you?"

"I don't like this thing of putting jewellery and expensive clothes in the ground. They are needed here on the surface. Thousands of dollars are wasted that way every day. Now I'm going to die simply, and I want to be put away just as simply, I've given a will which divides up the estate, and my son has a wagon. We are not going to have a preacher. And there won't be any funeral exercises of any kind. These here undertakers charge a fellow more than a hundred dollars. It is outrageous."

"But then, I am only 76 years old, and I don't expect to die yet for about 20 years. My grandmother lived to be 103, and in twenty years I will be seven years younger than she was when she died. But if I live a hundred years more I am going to sleep in that coffin every night. I like it."

"Do you know that is the most comfortable bed I ever got in?"

"It's true," he insisted. "They club friends of you, and they talking rather cattily. I was sure they didn't know who I was. I wanted them to know who I was, Mary." "I don't know," said Mary, "but her eyes are looking for the first as if she really did believe me. telephone rang just a little while ago—and some strange woman up that you—you'd been flirting and did your card in a trolley car so the woman behind you could pick it up—said, at first I didn't believe it, honestly. What a Card Brought.

AN ironic sense of malice has gotten me into a peculiar mess. Having dropped my card in a trolley car so that two women who were somewhat cattily discussing my wife might find it and have an attack of conscience, I now LEONA DALRYMPLE learn to my sorrow, that it was an exceedingly unwise thing to do. It has precipitated a domestic squall.

Secrets of Health

Why All Milk For Your Baby Must Be Boiled

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

AND what is so rare as a day in June? Then, if ever, come perfect days. Then heaven tries the earth if it be in time. And over it softly her warm ear lays.

This glorious, healthful, happy, bridal month is full of beauties that lull the unwary, buoyant one into a sense of security, which may conceal a danger. The month when joy, like beauty, may prove to be only skin deep; when the temptation of dazzling pastures and azure skies may lure you to some physical undoing.

To Avoid Sunstroke.

"Insulation" or sunstroke, and heat stroke, may be a sword of Damocles suspended for hotter days of the summer, but the split-second which dangles on the bald head of Fisher Time must be grasped now, because the old fellow has a well greased skull. You cannot see him from behind, because a big bird's head compared with him is like a regiment of bayonets or a picket fence. Take him, then, by the forelock, and see that you perspire freely at all times. Sunstroke cannot live with perspiration.

It is, however, to infantile pabulum that you must look most carefully in these early days of cholera infantum, "summer complaint," acute dysentery, and the other bad milk and water ailments of baby life.

There is no such imaginary danger as the "second summer" superstition for little ones. There is an eternal summer danger for all babies for at least five summers. Every summer has the same danger of its own. The "second summer," like certain marital troubles, seems worse.

Boil Baby's Milk.

It seems to be a lesson slowly learned by fond parents that because a bottle looks "clean," a milk is rich and tastes "sweet" that it still can cause a Caeser's legion of infantile deaths. Yet it is true, proved beyond denial.

The deadly germs of summer diarrhoea are more insidious than a silletto in an alley. Their first signs are loose stools, their second follows quickly—it is death!

Mother's milk, which passes from the breast directly and without delay into the baby's mouth, is dependable at all times. No certified "pasteurized-at-the-dairy" or "fresh cow's milk" contains any immunity to the terrible bacterial demon of infant ailments in summer.

Boiling milk for babies has its defects, but death to the child has never been among them. This cannot be said of any other plan to protect the child's milk.

For the nonce, then, let me command all young mothers, uncontrolled by ancient errors and neighbor's tales, to nurse their babies with their own breast milk throughout the summer.

If this is not feasible, by all means boil for 20 minutes the milk that is left on your doorstep. The trivial disorders, such as a sluggish alimentary canal, which comes from boiled milk, can be corrected by orange juice, grape juice, polka of eggs and oatmeal rusk.

Once the diarrhoea appears, even in a child whose grandmothers will tell you is "a natural form," stop all food for a few days. Give nothing but boiled water.

Just required in this day to emphasize the need of absolute sterilization of bottles, nipples and anything that approaches a child's mouth? Hardly. Even in the remote backwoods they now know this must be done.

Undered Gowns Now the Craze

By MADGE MARVEL

WITH the generous adaptation of the waistcoat by womankind it is comparatively easy to take a step further in purloining masculine garments, and add suspenders to feminine costume.

There is considerable logic in the occasional use of suspenders, for, made of the same material as the skirt, they join the contrasting blouse into a harmonious whole, and become a relative and efficient part of the gown. worn with a tailored frock of serge or linen, they give a desirable note of smartness, and, when developed in tulle and worn with evening gowns, but in such instances they were designated as bretelles, and their use was entirely ornamental instead of practical.

Suggests Jumper Dress.

The gown shown is a recent Paris importation, and is applicable to all the linen and cotton weaves so much used this season, as well as to the serges, taffetas and poplins.

There is the suggestion of the once favored jumper dress in the suspended frock, but in this costume the straps are carried down to the skirt, where they do the work of the sash, so they become more important than mere suspenders.

They very cleverly confine the partners which are as bouffant as a consistent with grace of outline.

The material is a fine silk and linen weaves in one of the new bronze shades. From this model, one of the noted modistes tells me, she has made several very smart costumes for the New York season.

One in particular was developed in canary yellow French linen with the Suspenders and Banner Straps.

Another way in which the thin, white blouse is made one with the linen frock is by having the underarm pieces of the material of the skirt, cut in square effect, which makes the sheer blouse seem like a deep gulf.

In many of these gowns there is also a little square across the back, which comes about to the shoulder blades. This is a style which only the fast-backed woman should attempt, for it accentuates any rounder tendency. In the same way judgment should be used in adopting the crossed suspenders and sash. It will break long lines, and unless one has the height and the litheness to brave it, the effect will not please.

Long Tunics and Lace.

Two or three black tulle gowns which I have particularly noticed, made for the summer vacation trips, to be worn for the informal dance or the semi-formal occasion where full evening dress is not permissible, have the long tunic of the tulle, and the upper portion of the blouse and the lower edge of the skirt of sheer white lace. The portion of the tulle which extends above the waistline is supplied with a slight puffing. The tulle reaches within six inches of the edge of the lace petticoat. The sleeves and gowns are also of the lace.

There are some stunning turbans, made in the close, fitted, high crown style which was so much worn earlier in the season, offered by exclusive milliners for midsummer wear. One of them accorded beautifully with the black tulle and lace frock on the suspended gown. It is completely formed of white, violets seem thick upon a tulle or net foundation, and at the sides are two lacquered white wings.

A little vinegar placed in the rinsing water on washing day will prevent the hands from becoming rough and chapped.

To clean brass flower pots or trays, rub them with a piece of lemon; then pour boiling water over them, and finally polish with a soft dry cloth.

When ironing it is a very good plan to get a clean brick, a white one if possible, as a stand. The iron will retain heat much longer than if an open iron stand be used.

When boiled and unboiled eggs get mixed, spin them, and the boiled ones will spin around quite fast; while those which have not been cooked will hardly spin round once.

Pernanganate of potash will cleanse dirty filters of all impurities. A solution should be passed through the filter until it comes out as pink as when it was poured in.

Salt-ammoniac will clean a furred kettle. Fill the kettle with cold water, add a little ammoniac to it and boil. All the fur will dissolve. Well rinse the kettle afterwards.

Tar may be removed from the hands by rubbing with the outside of fresh oranges or lemon peel and drying immediately. The volatile oils dissolve tar so that it can be rubbed off.

Gay-gas pepper is excellent to rid cupboards of mice. The floor should be gone over carefully and each hole stopped up with a piece of rag dipped in water and then in cayenne pepper.

When making a pie, the juice from the fruit very often soaks through the undercrust and spoils the appearance of it. This can be prevented by brushing the undercrust over with the white of an egg.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie:

Perhaps you could advise me what to do. I have been going with a young man for nearly six years. We are not engaged yet; but he says there is a good time coming for me. Last month he came back from the West and stayed for a night and a day at my house. He seldom writes me, yet he does not want to break off altogether. He wants to keep on, but he will not say when he intends to marry me. He thinks I'm going to marry some one else. Now he has gone back West.

I am very lonely. I know, hardly any place in the city. Please tell me how to meet some nice young men and women. I would like to have some nice young men to go out with, or some nice girl friend with whom to go to church. I go to church morning and evening, but I seldom meet any young people and

I am a little lonesome. Please help me. DARK HAIRIED LASSIE.

She's going back West. And he says, he hopes you'll write—once in a while—and he didn't ask you to marry him, after all. And he didn't say he loved you, and now you are heart-broken, and don't know what to do.

Why, you say yourself that the man thinks you're going to marry some one else. Why did he tell you that? Did you think it would make him come to time?

Well, it didn't, you see, and now you wish you had never seen him at all—well, you will, so do I, little girl, but you can't help that now.

What you can help is writing to him any longer or paying any more serious attention to him whatsoever. He isn't the only man in the world, just because he and, before you know it you will find some one who really loves you—some one who will appreciate your faithfulness.

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper, and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Three Minute Journeys

WHERE TWO PRIESTS BRING LUCK

By TEMPLE MANNING

Of all the people of the earth would give to the Maori the palm for hospitality. Never shall I forget the delightful marriage feast it was my good luck to attend one warm New Zealand day.

A runner came to my camp from up country with the invitation smiling on his lips. He bade me hasten to the "hul" or feast, for there were many invited guests, and the festivities would soon begin. Nothing loath, I mounted my unshod native pony, and followed him up through the hills to where the smoke of many cook fires hospitably beckoned.

Loth's cries greeted us, "Teira-koe" (How do you do?) and "Kia-ora" (Welcome) sounded on all sides. Everybody stopped to smile and make my feet at home, although they were all busy at one thing or another, around the 20 "kupas" (ovens) from which rose the most appetizing odors. At the chief's house I drew rein, and was surprised to find a Catholic priest of my acquaintance.

With mock annoyance he told me how he happened to be there. The couple about to be married, were not Catholics. Some time before they had embraced Baptist faith, but their own pastor was away. Differences of creed meant nothing to a Maori; all they wished was to be married by a white "tohunga" (priest). My friend happened to be travelling near, and some of the bridegroom's friends went over to his camp and kidnapped him. He protested, laughingly, but the good smells from the ovens made him stand by. Greatly to the little "whare-karaka" (church), and we took our places near the altar. Great masses of fragrant, white clematis and the crimson "pohutuwa" flowers, made the interior a "lovely" bower.

The good Catholic father was amazed when a native Maori priest stepped to his side, to help him perform the ceremony. But the "whare" the "whare" was finished. He invited the bridegroom to a waiata near the altar with water. He took a sip and then handed it to the

As we emerged from the chapel a rattled horn rang out through the grove, and a "sweet" voice, "Kouriri" (girl) changed a song of happy invitation to the feast that was ready spread. We sat down to dinner, 400 strong, and over the cluster of the tables sang the songs of the Maori to the branches overhead, the musical tinkle of a nearby water-fall, and the happy laughter of the bridal party.

To them it was the height of good fortune that an old "tohunga" of their fathers' faith had wedded them, and that while their priest had made them one,

DUNN GETS $9,500 FOR THREE PLAYERS

Sells One to New York and Two to Cincinnati Red.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday reached the conclusion that there is more profit in trading players than there is to be had by maintaining a championship team in Baltimore against the Federal League, and disposed of three of the stars, who were considered the best on the team.

He sold 'Biedie' Cree, for three years the star outfielder of the Highlanders, to an option on Cree and exercised it. Outfielder Bill Holden was released to the Baltimore club as a part of the deal involving Cree.

Farrell is now dealing with Dunn for Pitcher Ruth, and it is expected that the deal will be consummated before the end of the week. The players will report to their new clubs on Friday of this week. Dunn took this means of getting back at least part of the money he has lost in Baltimore this season.

Fastic fans want to see Carpenter and Gunboat Smith come together. A bout of this nature with these two as principals would cause more excitement at the present time than anything that could be staged.

FREDDIE WELSH NOW CHAMPION

English Fighter Give the Decision Over Willie Ritchie After Twenty Rounds.

LONDON, July 8.—Freddie Welsh lightweight champion of England, yesterday beat Willie Ritchie in a 20-round fight and won the lightweight championship of the world at Olympia. In the opening rounds Welsh scored more points than Ritchie. In the fifth round, however, Ritchie forced the fighting and in this and the next two rounds there were some sharp exchanges and heavy fighting in which Ritchie generally got the upper hand. Several times the American was cautioned for holding in the clinches.

In the eighth round the Welshman recovered his liveliness and in this and the ninth round forced the fighting and had the best of the encounter. When half the match was over Welsh led easily on points. Ritchie revived somewhat in the eleventh and there were some hot exchanges in this and the twelfth, Welsh repeatedly by his remarkable quickness scoring and then eluding heavy attacks.

In the thirteenth Ritchie had it all his own way, landing some heavy blows and forcing the fighting all through while Welsh appeared to be weakening.

The fourteenth was also Ritchie's and the fighting was very fast. Then both slowed up, but in the sixteenth round there was a lot of in-fighting and Welsh was boxing splendidly. Ritchie meantime trying for a knock-out.

In the seventeenth Ritchie got home a number of sharp body blows and forced the fighting throughout, but Welsh was very clever in covering. Welsh obtained some more points in the eighteenth, which was a very fast round and left Ritchie with a bleeding lip.

The nineteenth was even, with Ritchie forcing the fighting. Welsh finishes strong. The final round was the swiftest of the whole fight and Welsh had the better of it.

Of the 20 rounds 10 were undoubtedly Welsh's, five went to Ritchie and the other five were about even. Ritchie broke down when the decision was given against him and was in tears when seen in the dressing room. "I have nothing to say," said between sobs. His manager and seconds were just as reticent.

Later at the hotel where he is stopping he said, "I do not intend to make a holler, but I do think the worst I should have got was a draw. Welsh was holding all the time and I was doing the fighting. Therefore I think the decision was not fair to me.

There was some dissatisfaction among the American spectators at the fight at the decision, because neither man was bested at the finish, and although the Welshman scored more blows, those of the American appeared to be more telling.

The revival of interest in pugilism in England was evinced by the big assemblage of all classes which had congregated in the great arena of Olympia. Before 6 o'clock lines had begun to before the stadium, marshaled by the police and long before 8 o'clock the hour for the preliminary bout to begin the big stadium, which seats 12,000 spectators, was comfortably filled.

A fortune had already been wagered upon the outcome of the battle, but as the final hour approached there was a spurt and thousands of dollars were bet at even money. It was estimated that close to $500,000 changed hands on the outcome. The enthusiasm was intense. The British were stirred and there were wild cheers for Welsh. A thousand or more Americans who sat about the ringside replied with shouts of "Ritchie, Ritchie."

One hour before the big fight the great oblong iron framework building, covered with glass was bursting with humanity. Outside the building crowds waited for Ritchie and Welsh to make their appearance.

At 9:30 it was stated that the big event would be a little late in starting because another preliminary contest between local men was put on. The crowd paid little heed to the second preliminary and waited patiently for the principal event to be staged. At 9:45 p. m. Gunboat Smith, the American fighter, entered the ring. He was introduced by Rev. Moyather Baudier. Smith got an ovation, the crowd being with him in view of his approaching contest with the Frenchman, George Carpenter. George Monro, former bantam champion, was one of Ritchie's seconds. The other included Joe Coyne "Daisy" Green and Lord Clonmell. At 9:58 Welsh entered the ring. At 10:04 Ritchie entered the ring. Welsh received a tremendous ovation when he entered the ring. He wore a black trunk. Mrs. Ritchie reached up and shook hands with the American fighter. Mrs. Welsh, wife of the Welsh fighter, arrived at the ringside.

WHAT'S AILING WALTER JOHNSON, IS THE QUESTION

Great Washington Twirler Appears to Have Gone Bad This Year.

By Frank G. Menke NEW YORK, July 8.—Everybody seems to be entered in the grand little guessing contest, "What's the matter with Walter Johnson?" And nearly everybody has a different hazard.

Some think that Walt has hit the chutes; that he isn't what he used to be as a pitcher, and that he'll never come back. They point out that Walt has been on the firing line for about eight years and doing so much firing that he's run out of ammunition, and that he's through.

Others think that Walt's just a bit worked out, that he's having an off year, as is the case with most ball players. They'll think that he'll come back next year with the same stuff as of old.

Another faction thinks that Walt is going to hook up with the Feds next year and that on that account he's quite indifferent about what he does this year. They point out that Walt has been promised a huge salary by the Feds next year, no matter what he does in the pitching line this year, and therefore he's just taking things easy this year.

What's your guess? The contest is free. Larry Cheney of the Cubs seems to be a curious mixture of control—and the lack of it. Larry has given more bases on balls than any pitcher in the National League, and has struck out more men than any of his rivals. How do you dope it? When he's good, he's very, very good, and when he's bad he's awful.

Christy Mathewson of the Giants, in addressing a crowd of schoolboys, said in giving advice about the art of pitching:

"Don't be too anxious to throw a curve. Some of the best curve pitchers I have known were never able to make the big leagues. The reason was that they could never attain control. In pitching control is everything. "Most young pitchers attempt a round arm delivery because it permits them to put more on the ball. I would advise you to keep to a straight overhand delivery. Never mind if the opposing batters do make hits off you. It won't be long before you can place the ball where you want to and began to outguess the batters.

"Dutch Uncle," writing in the Minneapolis Journal, rapped the nail on the top when he penned the following some days back, concerning the squabble between the Feds. and organized baseball.

"The general public is going to see the winning ball team, or the ball team showing a dash, or the speed or the most class. The organized bosses need not think any one is going to follow organized teams out of any sentiment as it is a business and amusement proposition, and the crowd will go where the best show is offered. It is a fight wherein cash is fighting cash with cash for the winner and no cash for the loser. No great or vital principles are involved. It is merely one set of professional athletes in competition for coin with another set equally ravenous.

And in the meanwhile, tennis, polo, golf and the amateur sports are making tremendous inroads."

Canadian League Notes

Peterboro Review: The Brantford sport writers are hitting 1999 in the gloom league. Did you ever notice that every time Brantford wins at home the game is great etc. When they lose the home team is rotten etc. It looks from here as though the Brantford newspaper offices are in the throes of an epidemic of "lemonitis". The disease is evidently spreading in "The End of the World" alias Telephone City where the natives help push the cars up the hill and sing "All Hail the Power That Never Comes."

Leonard Mark Dobson as Addie Richardson the Canadian League's Sporting Life, correspondent terms him sent glad tidings from the front this morning. Headquarters of the local club were more than pleased to know that Dolan the elongated first sacker, is whaling the pill in the big league style, and fielding his position perfectly. Then the other good news was that Louie Schettler the semiprimitive whiffed fourteen of the clouting Eric club. He also states that the team is hitting in grand style and with the added strength by Dolan's presence should break up many games. The Hamilton club is negotiating with Manager Blount with a view to trading Gilhooly for a pitcher. Curley is negotiating for the services of a twirler named Harten but has not received any definite word. Joe Byrne, blow in from home and reported his father as gaining in health every day. Thrailkill the former Saint who filled in during Joe's absence has been let out.

The Petes are still three points ahead of Hamilton for seventh place, while Ottawa by beating London yesterday tied up for the supremacy of the League. St. Thomas lost to Toronto, which makes the race tighter than ever. The Petes are five games from third place. Go to it.

Eric Despatch; Charley Hickman scout for the Cleveland Naps was in the grand stand yesterday. Hickman declares that the Canadian league is the best minor organization in the country this year. He has visited them all, he says, and the Canadian circuit has a good shade on all, both in the matter of attendance and in the brand of ball played. Hickman says there are a number of likely youths in the circuit, and he has his eyes on more than one.

Hamilton Herald: Eddie Taylor is easily the most valuable man on the Brantford club. He can pitch or play any other position on the field besides being of much assistance to Deneau in piloting the ship. He heaved Friday's game against the Athletics, and on Saturday was back at second base. Roth being moved over to shortstop to replace Gil Forge who was injured. Taylor accepted six chances without an error and started one of the visitors' two double plays.

Peterboro Examiner: Dad Stewart is still leading the Petes in stick work maintaining his average of .338 throughout the week. Kelly dropped a few points by reason of getting only one hit in the three games in which he participated. Welsh was the big gainer for the week, getting nine hits in four games. Mully Miller added two points to his average and Curly Blount gained twelve in the week. He has been climbing steadily for some time, while he has scored 3 runs, well ahead of the rest of the Petes. Welsh is next with 27.

COMMISSION RUN THROUGH

A. K. Bunnell, Ex-Mayor pointed as Commission Night—Shoe Merchant Through.

A By-law, naming A. K. B. Charles H. Hartman and W. Turnbull, commissioners to over the management of the Ford Street Railway, was put to a special meeting of the city council last night. Another by-law closing of shoe stores at 7 p. m. day, with the exception of Saturdays before statutory holidays ten days before Christmas, was put through. On these latter closing shall be effected at 10 A. debenture by-law to pay if road roller was also put through.

Some opposition was encountered in the appointment of the Streetway Commissioners. Ald. Brae Ald. Calbeck suggesting that the council keep the management of the road under its own wing. The surprising statement was made by Calbeck that no promise had given the people when the by-law was voted on that the road should be operated by a commission. As a matter of fact the Mayor others at several meetings pronounced that a commission was the only method of managing the road and a virtual promise was given in this regard. However as Spence pointed out last night it is impracticable for a council members to attempt to run the way and if the attempt were made would be paved for all kind trouble.
