REV. F. C. SIMPSON'S REPLY TO REV. P. W. DIXON'S SECOND LETTER ON THE NE TEMERE DECREE.

The following sermon, in reply to Rev. P. W. Dixon's second letter on the Ne Temere decree was preached by Rev. F. C. Simpson in St. Mark's church, Douglastown, on August 6th, 1911.—

"Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's."—Matt. 22:21.

I use these words so my text may appear to be treating Father Dixon as David treated the fallen giant of Gath; for you will remember that this verse was the sword with which he thought to slay and silence me. In spirit and attitude he greatly resembled that ancient enemy of God's chosen people, Goliath, who proudly boasted of his strength and was arrayed, from head to foot, in brass; but all his boasting and all his brass did not save him.

When I had finished reading Father Dixon's letter I also thought of an old Latin saw, which he will be able to interpret for himself, "Parturient montes, nascetur ridiculus mus." Such a heap of inconsequent rubbish, arrogance and insolence, braggadocio and calderdash I have rarely met with. He begins by questioning my right to speak from my own pulpit regarding a matter of vital importance to the Protestants of this country. He says "the man on the street would naturally conclude that Dr. Cousins should have replied to him and insinuates that my speaking was a breach of good breeding. I may say that I have had no communication whatever with Dr. Cousins regarding the matter, and he has nothing to do with my action. Father Dixon says I should have kept quiet and allowed the Dr. to look after his own affairs, that is childish quarrelling. The promulgation of the Ne Temere Decree and the painful and disgraceful consequences, cannot be considered Dr. Cousins' affair. Father Dixon wrote a long letter to the papers purporting to set forth the view of his church with regard to the decree, and it may be presumed he wrote especially for the benefit of Protestants; in that letter he applied his remarks, in a most insolent manner, to ALL WHO SHARED THE VIEWS OF DR. COUSINS. And, frankly and fairly, from my own pulpit, I discussed the matter, presenting the Protestant view of that obnoxious decree and its pernicious effects, AS I HAD A PERFECT RIGHT TO DO. I am quite sure "the man on the street," will concede me that right. Father Dixon charges me with rushing into the limelight. I did nothing of the kind. If there was any such rushing he had it all to himself. Who asked him to publish his elaborate spiteful? I sought no publicity and only gave my sermon to the paper when requested to do so.

"The man on the street" is sharp enough to see that there is NO ARGUMENT in cynical and senseless sneers, or scatology and amphibological abuse. Father Dixon ought to be the last man in the world to talk about "the proprieties" and a "breach of good breeding." But after all, what does it matter who preached the sermon? why did not Father Dixon try to answer it? If, instead of whining like a whipped child for the sympathy of "the man on the street," he had in a manly, perhaps I ought to say GENTLEMANLY, way, dealt with my sermon on its merits, he might possibly have done something to show that he is not DEFICIENT IN LEARNING AS IN SOME JUDGMENT AND THE PROPRIETIES" (the capitals are quoted my remarks on the proprieties, I can easily afford to ignore his personal references in that connection) and then goes on to say that "The Infallibility of the church comprises dogmas of faith and morals, as for instance, the truth of the Trinity, or the Incarnation of the Second Person of the Trinity. Discipline changes as conditions of time and place may demand. Thus the liturgy of the East is, in essentials, not the same as in the West. The Tametsi decree has been somewhat amplified by the 'Ne Temere.' No Catholic imagines that they are infallible utterances."

In reply to that I would observe that the doctrines of the Trinity, the Incarnation and such doctrines are entirely independent of, and can be in no way affected by, the Roman doctrine of infallibility. These doctrines were held by the church before there was a church of Rome and many centuries before men dreamed of the infallibility of that church. He tells us frankly that his church is not the same in the East as in the West; that with regard to matters of discipline and the decree "Tametsi" and the "Ne Temere" the church is fallible, that is, liable to err and deceive. I quite agree with him. With regard to my statement that there are Catholic countries where the promulgation of this very decree is not tolerated and where the church of Rome stands before the determination and resistance of its own people; he has this to say: the "Ne Temere" decree was promulgated by its publication in Roman Official Documents independent of any view which peoples or governments may take with regard to it. That is a very misleading statement, and will not deceive many; the fact is, that the views of peoples and governments have been most carefully considered, and the decree HAS NOT BEEN PROMULGATED IN CERTAIN COUNTRIES BECAUSE THE CHURCH DARES NOT TO PROMULGATE IT. He presumes that I refer to Germany, but I spoke of CATHOLIC countries; Germany is not a Catholic country. This decree is not promulgated in Italy and if Father Dixon presumed to say in Italy, what he presumes to say of people legally married in this country, he would probably find himself in a penitentiary. His explanation with regard to Germany is exceedingly lame. "The Catholic church was unwilling to create an embarrassing condition of things, therefore did not promulgate the 'Tametsi' and has not promulgated the 'Ne Temere.'" "The Pope made special laws for the Germanic provinces." Why? Where does the boasted independence of the church come in? Surely there was fear of the "embarrassing conditions." Who will believe that "the views of peoples and governments," were not considered? The church of Rome moves carefully in that Protestant country, and the priests of Rome, y.e., the Pope of Rome cannot insult the memory of the great Reformer with impunity. We may well wonder why the church of Rome has been so willing "to create an embarrassing condition of things" in this country, and under that flag which has given it greater privileges than have been found elsewhere. It is evidently true that the church of Rome repudiates the doctrine of religious equality; there is the constant demand for toleration where it is in the minority, and an equally constant refusal of toleration where it is in the majority. Father Dixon professes to have been moved to immoderate laughter by my references to "this Protestant country" and "that saint of God, Luther." I am afraid it was forced laughter; he did not find much food for mirth in my sermons. However in quoting his Latin proverb, he forgets another: "Per multum visum potius cogit nosse cultum." He also forgot the French proverb: "Rira bien qui rira le dernier."

There is a personal matter in Father Dixon's letter to which I think I ought to refer; he wonders what English Village I came from? What difference can it make to this matter whether I came from a village or a city? But what does Father Dixon mean? If his words mean anything at all they contain a distinct sneer at village born people, he considers a youth born in a village the intellectual inferior of a youth born in a city. Is that so? of course it is not. The highest positions in church and state have often been filled by those who came from obscure villages. In all professions and trades the foremost places are filled by those who have come from villages. Where did President Lincoln and President Garfield come from? where did our own grand old man Lord Strathcona come from? where did Father Dixon's own bishop come from? where did the present Pope come from? and did not Jesus himself come from an obscure village. Is not Father Dixon's sneer but a repetition of the ancient sneer of the hypocritical Pharisees who despise Jesus because he came from Nazareth? All honor to our village born youths who can achieve success and rise to high and honorable positions. "What will the intelligent people of Douglastown think," of this sneer at villages and village born people? We are proud of our boys when we hear of their success. Some of them appear destined to adorn the priesthood of Father Dixon's own church, and we are justly proud of those, who seem so well able to take care of themselves when placed in competition with city born youths. It so happens that I cannot claim the honor of being born in a village for my home is in one of the large cities of England.

No one however, will wonder much regarding the antecedents of Father Dixon, for his letter is eloquent of his origin and breeding, which he can neither hide nor forget. I might say to him what was said to Peter when he so far forgot himself as to use foul and filthy language altogether unbecoming in a follower of Jesus, "thy speech betrayeth thee."

Father Dixon's claim that "this country was discovered by Catholic pioneers before that Saint of God Martin Luther was privileged to wear pants" needs a little revision. "But why does he drag in Luther there? it is neither smart nor funny and is just as much to the point as it would be for me to say that Father Chiniquy did a great temperance work before Father Dixon was privileged to wear pants."

The claim that the divine commission "Go ye therefore and teach all nations" etc., was given exclusively to the church of Rome, is preposterous. That command was given before there was a church of Rome; it was given to the disciples, and through them to the whole church, which, as I said in my former sermon is something much larger than the church of Rome. But how Father Dixon can say "to this command she has listened in reverend obedience" in view of the history of the church, I cannot see. This command has been no more reverently obeyed than has the command of my text. What is the use of Father Dixon pretending that his church has confined itself to the work of preaching the gospel and seeking to establish the SPIRITUAL KINGDOM of Jesus Christ on earth. The church of Rome is not willing to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." She strenuously endeavors to arrogate to herself both the prerogatives of Caesar and God. And this is especially true with regard to this matter of marriage.

The reference to the language of Peter and John when forbidden to speak at all or teach in the name of Jesus, is entirely beside the mark. They were not seeking to steal "the things that belonged to Caesar, any more than they were seeking to usurp the power that belongs to God."

Father Dixon asks if I ever heard of the Catholic missionaries who converted peoples from paganism? Of course I have heard of them; and I also have heard what Father Dixon forgot to mention, how, besides converting them, they stole all their rites and ceremonies. He knows well enough that the ceremonies he practices, and the regalia with which he adorns himself, are neither Christian nor scriptural. Such performances were never practiced by the apostles, and we cannot imagine even Peter himself arrayed in such gorgeous apparel. These are purely pagan in their origin; and probably Father Dixon could tell us whose image that really is in the Vatican which is revered as the image of St. Peter. Where did the Pope's title "Pontiff" come from? Not from the New Testament. It was the title of the Pagan priests of Rome for centuries before the time of Christ. It was later adopted by the Roman Emperors, and when they dropped it, it was picked up by the Christian bishops of Rome; and now this title, borrowed from a pagan cult, forms one of the sacred designations of the Pope. He asks further if I have heard of the "Jesuits" and their work "which is the admiration of cultured people to this day"? Of course I have; and I have also heard something about them which Father Dixon forgot to mention, namely, that they have been expelled again and again from almost every Catholic country in Europe; and that in 1773 the entire order was suppressed by a brief of Pope Clement the fourteenth and all their goods confiscated. THAT IS TRUE and I did not find it in "Fox's book of Martyrs." He refers with pride to their early labors in this country; but what did Frontenac say of them? and their missions to the Indians? In a confidential despatch to the Court of France he said "The Jesuits will not civilize the Indians because they wish to keep them in perpetual wardship. They think more of beaver skins than of souls and their missions are pure mockeries. With scornful contempt he repudiated my statement that this is a Protestant country. I rather think in speaking so boldly he was speaking out of school." But you will not fail to see how thoroughly he corroborates my other statement that this country is now claimed by the Church of Rome as a Catholic Country. He cannot refrain from repeated reference to Luther and Henry VIII. He must surely deeply deplore the action of Pope Clement VII by which England was lost to the Church of Rome. But who can believe that if that catastrophe could have been averted by the granting of a divorce, it would have been granted? A church, as elastic in its discipline, and as accommodating in its dispensations and its special laws, as Father Dixon shows his church to be, would have found some way to pronounce Henry's marriage "null and void."

I said that the Church of Rome is not willing to "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." That church claims the right to rule over morally as well as spiritually; he claims the right to rule in civil matters, and that in spite of the words of Jesus. By these words he clearly indicated the attitude his followers should take, and was an example to them in refusing to be drawn into matters civil and political. He distinctly stated that his kingdom is not a temporal kingdom. To Pilate he said "My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, then would my followers fight."

When Peter drew a sword he rebuked him and said "they that take the sword shall perish with the sword." Paul said: "the weapons of our warfare are not carnal," and Peter said: "Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king as supreme, or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him." Can Father Dixon pretend that the history of the Church of Rome harmonizes with these scriptures? There is resistance, rebellion and defiance of civil laws and civil rights. And how has that church robbed God of his prerogatives? By making that sin, which He has not made sin. What is sin? "Sin is the transgression of the law," whose law? Paul makes the matter very clear; but Father Dixon would say "sin is the transgression of the varying precepts of the Pope who makes one set of rules for one country and a different set for another, so that what is sin in one place is not sin in another place." Father Dixon will know that I did not find the following in Fox's book of Martyrs. Question: "Do the precepts of the Church oblige under pain of mortal sin?" Answer: "Yes." In another part of the same book I find this: "It is called mortal sin because it kills the soul; which is sanctifying grace; and because it brings everlasting death and damnation on the soul." It is a mortal sin for a Catholic to be married to a Protestant by a Protestant clergyman in this country, but it is not a mortal sin in Germany. It is a mortal sin today, but was not a mortal sin before 1908. The decree Tametsi was never promulgated in Scotland or England or indeed in Protestant countries generally; and then three centuries after the close of the Council of Trent, the CATHOLIC DICTIONARY (1884, p. 436) bearing the imprimatur of Cardinal Manning pointed out that "the marriages of Protestants or Catholics before the Protestant clergyman or magistrate, or without any functionary, in these countries, are valid. But all this is changed by the Ne Temere decree, so that what was not adultery before 1908 is now adultery; and what was a valid marriage is now no marriage at all. Is it not blasphemous presumption in any church to say that marriages are null and void before God which a little while ago she declared to be valid and true and which she continues to recognize as valid and true in some countries?"

Father Dixon is horrified at the thought of "a government of infidels" tampering with the Levitical impediments. By what right then has the Pope tampered with and changed them? He claims the right to change the law of God respecting marriage. Is that rendering unto God the things that are God's? In proof of what I have just said, I may tell you, that of the twelve Tridentine Canons concerning marriage, three run thus:—

"If any one saith, that those degrees only of consanguinity and affinity, which are set down in Leviticus, can hinder matrimony from being contracted, and dissolve it when contracted; and that the church cannot dispense in some of those degrees, or establish that others may hinder and dissolve it; let him be anathema."

"If one saith, that the church could not establish impediments dissolving marriage; or that she has erred in establishing them; let him be anathema."

"If any one saith, that matrimonial causes do not belong to ecclesiastical judges; let him be anathema."

If that is not arrogating the prerogatives of both Caesar and God, what is it? The church makes unscriptural and unlawful impediments, but for a monetary consideration will remove them; and of course the greater the impediment the greater the cost of the dispensation.

"Whence came this knack? or who did it begin?"

Did Christ e'er keep a custom house for sin?"

No dispensation of the Pope, can make a thing a MORTAL SIN, which is not a sin in His sight. Neither can a sin be changed into a virtue by a dispensation however much may have been paid for it. This shows how wrong it is for Father Dixon to tell people that they are living "in a state of sin" whom the state declares lawfully married. Again, Father Dixon fears that a government of infidels might legislate away "the fundamental rules or principles governing society." What must be said of a church that is attempting to do that very thing? The foundations of society are endangered by this recent decree; our laws and liberties are threatened; happy homes are destroyed; an affectionate husband, in fear for his soul's salvation has been persuaded to leave a loving wife, to steal away her two infants and hide them. She is heart-broken and crying for her children. By this very decree she has been robbed of her loved ones. Could infidels do worse?

There is just one thing more to which I shall now refer as briefly as possible. Father Dixon says Protestant ministers are NO LONGER Christian; (it is good to find him confessing that they were Christian) he says, they have lost faith in the Divinity of Christ and the truths of Christianity; this, he says, is a sad fact which cannot be denied. I most emphatically deny it. A man is sorely pressed when he seeks refuge in lies. I unhesitatingly characterize Father Dixon's statement as a wilful and malicious falsehood. Let him take our catechism and compare it with his own and he will find that we hold MORE FIRMLY and teach more faithfully "the truth as it is in Jesus," the truth of our Lord's Divinity, than he does himself.

I had purposed referring to some other things, but what I have said will suffice, for the present. I think I have answered Father Dixon's query, "has he forgotten the command of Christ, 'Render unto Caesar and unto God the things which are God's.'" I shall close by quoting two verses from Martin Luther's majestic hymn (the man Father Dixon called "a weakling").

SACKVILLE COLLEGES

At Sackville, N. B., a most at the very centre of the Maritime Provinces, are the Mount Allison Institutions whose students make up one of the largest educational communities in Canada—save, of course, those communities in some of the bigger cities. The institutions include the University, the Ladies' College and the Academy. In today's paper will be found the advertisements which tell something of the splendid work which these schools are doing.

At the University courses are given in Arts, Engineering and Theology. Various special and honor courses are also given as well as an advanced course in Finance and Commerce. In the Engineering Faculty a two year course is given and on completing it students are admitted with further examination to the third year at McGill and other great engineering schools. Students securing their engineering courses in this way are able to do so at much lower cost than by taking all four years of their work at one of the large technical colleges. The University has one of the finest stone residences in Canada and in this building nearly all of the male students make their home and the same the great benefit of home life to the members of the large home community. The University offers students a number of prizes. This year among other prizes are five Entrance Bursaries to the value of $75 each. Full information regarding all prizes is found in the University calendar which will be sent free on application to Rev. Dr. Borden, Sackville.

The Ladies' College, which is the largest residential Ladies' College in the Dominion, includes not only the Literary Department but the Conservatory of Music, the Massey-Treble school of Household Science, and the School of Fine Arts. It provides Literary and Household Science courses; instruction in Painting, Drawing, Designing, Modelling, Leather and Metal Work, etc.; courses in Oratory and Piano, Pipe Organ, Violin and Voice. The Art School, with the Owens Art Gallery and a magnificent collection of valuable paintings, is under the direction of a member of the Royal Canadian Academy who is also an exhibitor in salons across the water. He is assisted by talented and trained teachers. The Conservatory of Music is under the direction of an English professor who has associated with him as teachers ladies and gentlemen, most of whom have been trained abroad. The staff of the college includes over twenty teachers and four occasional lecturers. At this institution, too, a number of prizes are offered. A calendar will be sent free on application to Rev. Dr. Campbell.

The Academy is a pleasant residential school where boys are prepared for matriculation in Arts, Engineering, Medicine, etc. Special courses are also given. Connected with the institution is the Commercial College in which excellent instruction is given in Business Courses, Shorthand and Typewriting. The staff of teachers is strong both in the Academy and in the Commercial College and the constant aim is to make the institution one which will not only give the best of instruction but will also be instrumental in moulding character along desirable lines. The principal, Mr. J. M. Palmer, M. A., will send full information on request.

The Mount Allison authorities are fortunate in that their schools are located in one of the most healthful towns in eastern Canada. This, of itself, leads many parents to send their children to these steadily growing institutions.

FUGITIVE SNEZZLER

CUTS THROAT
San Francisco, Aug. 4—Carry F. Mankie, formerly a banker of Pearl Harbor but for three years a fugitive under indictment for embezzling $500,000 from the U. S. Navy, died here early today, a suicide. Sitting on his prison cell, he snatched a razor and cut his throat.

THIS IS CANADA'S ATHLETIC INKINGS

Halifax Echo:—This is undoubtedly Canada's inking so far as sport is concerned. Last week Canadian sportsmen captured about everything worth capturing at Saratoga and Private Clifford romped away with both the Kniss Prize and the Prince of Wales Prize at Bisley. Earlier in the season Canadian athletes covered themselves with glory at the Festival of Empire sports and still earlier Miss Dorothy Campbell, of Toronto, successfully defended her title of lady golf champion of the world. This supremacy of Canadians in the athletic world is naturally the source of considerable pride. It should also be the source of much gratification. So long as the Dominion can count on men and women who are physically sound and vigorous the future of the country is assured. The encouragement of athletic sports is perhaps the most important factor to this end. Much of the success of Anglo-Saxons may be ascribed to their devotion to athletics and it is pleasing to note that this devotion appears to be spreading to other parts of the Dominion.

SHOWS THE TREND TOWARDS CHURCH UNION

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 2.—The general trend of the religious bodies toward church union or at least toward a working agreement, is shown by the following motion which Judge Emattinson, of St. Thomas, will put before the general synod of the Anglican church in London next month, resolving that a standing committee of both houses be appointed to co-operate with similar committees or other authorities of other Christian churches in formulating a plan for defining territoriality or otherwise the field of operations of the respective churches and taking the necessary steps to carry the same into effect.

WARNING TO LOOK OUT FOR GAMBLERS

Quebec Aug. 5.—American professional gamblers who have about played themselves out on the transatlantic railway lines of Uncle Sam's domain, have made an onslaught on the Canadian transportation companies and it is said are meeting with fair success. Several tourists arrived in the city with reports of having "given up" some ready cash to the adventurers, who travel alone, meet by accident, want a fourth to make up a party for bridge, poker or any other game of chance known to the gambling fraternity, than look for some innocent victim.

It is strange how many victims can be found, both old and young. The authorities of Quebec were notified of the expected presence in town of this gentry and all transportation companies now have special detectives employed to locate these undesirable tourists and give them a taste of the Canadian criminal code, if they do not make a hurried departure over the line.

In the meantime, it is not out of the way to warn the visitors to Quebec, to beware of strangers who entice them into an "innocent" game of cards, for it is impossible to beat the gambler and his confederates at his game.

New York, Aug. 2.—The population of New York City passed the five million mark on August 1, according to figures prepared by the health department. The statistician estimates that the city now has 5,000,400 residents a gain of about 120,000 for the past year. The official figures of the United States census for 1910 was 4,776,803.

LEAVES LARGE AMOUNTS FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Aug. 2.—The will of Edward R. Lodge, a lumber manufacturer, admitted to probate yesterday, disposed of personal property amounting to $4,000,000.

One million dollars is to be set aside as a trust fund, the proceeds of which are to be used for charitable purposes. The proceeds are to be distributed to worthy poor and to charitable institutions.

The residue of the estate is to be divided or more judiciously distributed.

Or had risen quickly overnight and fallen again—
To rise nevermore.
Twas weak flour, of course.

Mr. McLean has an ice factory in Rogersville, where he was employed for the season. He was short of ice for the season and had exhausted his supply. Would You Provide for the Care of Canada's Needy Consumptives?

THEM SEND YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES

A national institution that accepts patients from all parts of Canada. Here is one of hundreds of letters being received daily—

John D. McNaughton, New Liskeard, Ont.: A young man not belonging here, and suffering from it is believed, consumption, is being kept by one of the hotels here. He has no means and has been refused admission to our hospital. The conditions where he is offer him no chance. Could he be admitted to your Free Hospital for Consumptives? If not, could you inform me where he can be sent, and what steps are necessary to secure prompt admittance?

Since the hospital was opened in April, 1902, one thousand five hundred and twenty-four patients have been treated in this institution, representing people from every province in the Dominion. For the week ending November 20th, 1900, one hundred and twenty-five patients were in residence. Ninety-six of these are not paying a fee for their maintenance—absolute free. The other twenty-nine paid from $2.00 to $4.00 a week. No one pays more than $4.00.

Suitable cases are admitted promptly on completion of application papers.

A GRATEFUL PATIENT. Norah P. Canham: Enclosed you will find receipt for my ticket from Gravenhurst, hoping that you will be able to oblige me with the fare. I was at your Sanatorium ten months, and I was sent away from there as an apparent cure. I am now working in the city, and I am feeling fine. I was most thankful for the care I got from the doctors and staff, and I must say that I spent the time of my life while I was there.

TAKING THE CURE IN WINTER AT MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is dependent on the good-will and gifts of the Canadian public. Money is greatly needed for the purchase of the large and increasing number of patients that are entering the institution.

It is unnecessary to dwell on what Dr. Leacock has done for McGill since his appointment to the Chair of the Department of Economics and Political Science. It is sufficient to say that from insignificance, Prof. Leacock's department has become the strongest of any in the Faculty of Arts.

Dr. Stephen Butler Leacock was born at Swanmoor, Hant, Eng., in 1869. He came to Canada in 1876. He received his primary education at Upper Canada College and from there entered Toronto University.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

MR. JOHN VYE Mr. John Vye, a well known citizen of Beaubair's Point, Derby, died suddenly at midnight, on the 2nd inst. deceased had complained only two days and even then appeared in good health. He had always been a total abstainer from alcohol and tobacco and maintained his health and strength till the end. He was an honored member of St. James' Presbyterian church, Nelson. Mr. Vye was born April 12th, 1839 and on Aug. 29, 1872, married Miss Jane Loggie of Loggieville four of whose children survive-Alvin, Clifford and Leslie and Mrs. Montgomery McLeod, all of Nelson. By his second wife, Miss Nancy Ferguson of Cassilis, who survives him he leaves two sons, Henderson and Lyman at home. The surviving brothers and sisters are Henry and Joseph Vye, both of St. James, Buxton, Chatham Head, Mrs. James Gulliver, Douglastown; and Mrs. Jas. Jellison of Boston.

The funeral services at the house were conducted Friday afternoon, by Rev. F. C. Simpson, interment at St. James cemetery. Nelson The pall bearers were: Geo. Flett, Alfred Bateaman, Thomas Vye, Allan McKenzie, Allan Flett, and Daniel Baldwin deceased's favorite, by name; Jesus Lead Me all the Way, and Jesus Lover of my Soul, were sung. Much sympathy is felt for the suddenly bereaved wife and child. "On the Resurrection Morn'g, Soul and Body meet again: No more sorrow, no more weeping, No more pain, Here awhile they must be parted, And the best is Sabbath keep, Waiting in a holy stillness, Wrapped in Sleep."

SUMMER MONTHS FATAL TO SMALL CHILDREN

The summer months are the hardest of the year on small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are all common at this time and many a precious life is snuffed out after only a few hours illness. As a safeguard mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes on suddenly will bring the little one through safely. Mrs. Larry DeGracie, Mizonette, N. B., writes: "Last summer my baby suffered greatly from her stomach and bowels and nothing helped her till I began giving her Baby's Own Tablets. They regulated her bowels, sweetened her stomach, and now she is a big, healthy, happy child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Co., Brockville, Ont."

THE VANISHING FORESTS

THE Vanishing Forests of the United States Showing Signs of Exhaustion. Commissioners and committees have been appointed in various parts of the United States to make reports on what should and could be done to prevent the destruction and prepare for the restoration of timber supplies, but whereas actually a response to the recommendations was secured the means employed were too feeble to prevent the former and too inefficient to secure adequate results in the latter direction. For instance, the latest State to move in the matter of taking care of its important timber interest, Alabama (whose annual lumber output is valued at $5,000,000), appropriates $500 for carrying out the provisions of the act providing a commission with various duties. The great State of Minnesota whose forest products in one year approach in value $45,000,000, devotes less than $12,000 to its forest interests, and $20,000 on prairie planting. The State of Maine, which still cuts around one billion feet, and is indebted to the forest for a product of $18,000,000 in value, keeps within the modest sum of $25,000 to pay for the protection against fire and the support of a commissioner. Examples of such pleaure and inadequate measures are found in many other States.

GIRLS AS FARMERS

There are many women wage-earners today who enter the already overcrowded field of unskilled labor because they have neither the incentive nor the opportunity to learn some healthful remunerative occupation, says Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, in Physical Culture for August. While young girls have been passing the best years of their lives in sweatshops, over-crowded work-rooms, and unsanitary tenements, and have been paid less than a living wage for their work, our rich soil has been spasmodically tilled by nomadic tramps staying at one farm just long enough to work their way to the next, to spend the money that they have earned.

I want some of these pallid cheeked, hard-worked girls in the factories and shops to give up their city work and try farming. I hope to show them that farming may be made more profitable than factory work, that it is much pleasanter to do, and that they themselves will grow strong, robust and rosy after a few weeks of garden work. They will be better citizens, better mothers and better help-mates if they exchange their tiring city toil for outdoor work which will be pleasant as supporting.

There is no reason why women should not make clever and astute farmers, providing they know their subject thoroughly and are interested in it.

UNION SERVICES

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations will unite next Sabbath in Methodist church in the morning and in St. James in the evening.

NEED OF THE HOUR.

Major George Washington Stephens Talks on Canadian Transportation.

Not long ago Major Stephens, the President of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, delivered a masterly address before the Empire Club of Canada on the development of the St. Lawrence route. "In the possession of this great national asset, the St. Lawrence waterway," said Mr. Stephens, "into which has gone the genius and the energy of the Canadian people, Canada unquestionably has within her midst the cheapest and most efficient national trade route on the Continent. The St. Lawrence River to-day carries and sees from the port of Montreal one-third of the country's national trade. In this enterprise there are just 6,000,000 Canadian shareholders, all equally interested. At her present rate of increase Canada will, during the twentieth century, contribute to the Empire a population exceeding that now occupying the British Isles, and will produce from one-quarter of her available areas in the West more wheat than now comprises the total wheat crop of the United States. There are two methods of providing for the handling of this new business, not to mention the concurrent industrial production of the country: First, by increasing transportation and terminal facilities on Canadian soil; second, by allowing business to be taken care of by transportation routes and sea terminals not within the limits of this Dominion. I like to regard this system extending from Fort William to the sea, a distance of 2,500 miles, as a great national undertaking into which we are putting the money, the genius and the patriotism of the Canadian people, and out of which are coming, year by year, privileges and powers to the transportation interests of Canada of great diversity."

The Catalogue of Acadia Seminary, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in our columns, has come to our table. An examination of the booklet, which is well printed and illustrated, shows that the work of this well known school is organized in three departments. The Academic Department includes the Collegiate Course, the Sophomore and Freshmen Matriculation courses. The Fine Arts Department includes courses in Music-Piano, Voice, Violin, and the usual theoretical branches-Art, in Oils, Water Color and China Painting, and the new works in Arts and Crafts, and Oratory. The Department of Practical Arts provides courses in Household Science, Business, Stenography and Typewriting. All of these courses are characterized by modernness, breadth and thoroughness, and aim not merely to prepare the pupil for the profession open to women but for COMPLETE LIVING. To do this work a staff of twenty teachers, of fine personality, qualified by training, temperament and experience, is employed. Admirable provision is made for the development of the physical life of the girls by the presence on the staff of a resident Trained Nurse and a competent Physical Director. Simplicity in living and dress, high ideals in conduct and thoroughness of work are insisted upon. That the school is a popular one is evidenced by the fact that during the last seven years the registered attendance has been doubled. Full particulars concerning the work of Acadia Seminary may be obtained from the PRINCIPAL, E. T. BROWN, Acadia Seminary, P. O. Box 100, St. John, N. B.

ABSOLUTE

STORIES

Montreal, Aug. 3rd.—That mechanical and chemically produced fogs, which are turned loose at will, may become a more important factor than the Hague Peace Tribunal in the elimination of war is the most significant feature of the offer of a local inventor to sell to the Government a secret process by which it is claimed fogs can be produced whenever and wherever wanted. The idea originated at an agricultural fair, as the result of an effort to protect growing crops from the sun during dry periods, and to supply them with moisture. It developed, however, that while the fogs might be used to blot out the sunlight the moisture which they contained would be of little or no value as a substitute for rain. It was then that the value in case of war of fogs which could be produced at will became apparent. The squadron of an enemy once enveloped by one of these artificial fogs would be practically helpless and at the mercy of the torpedo boats, while even on land a formidable army would be greatly hampered. While the process by which the fogs are produced has not yet been patented on a large scale, the possibilities are apparent and it may be that the idea at first considered as a purely defensive war measure may yet result in making both land and naval battles impossible.

ing all the summer luxuries. As a result the originator of the plan lived like a prince without a penny of expense. His deception was ultimately discovered but since none of the goods he ordered had been delivered and nothing had been lost except the money voluntarily spent on his entertainment, the most serious charge which could be made against him was that of being a "suspicious character." As there are several thousand such people here the charge is not troubling the ingenious visitor.

TWO DROWNED
FROM TRAWLER

Halifax, Aug. 4.—While approaching Canso harbor last night in a dense fog, the steam trawler Cambodia struck on Flag Island Point, and is hard and fast. While running the anchor after the steamer struck, Mate Simon Sorenson and one of the crew, Paul Thompson, were drowned by the sinking of their boat. A third man who with them jumped clear as the boat went down and was picked up by a fishing dory which put off from the shore. The Cambodia is one of the largest type of steam trawlers, belonging to Grimsby, England, is commanded by Capt. Oleser, an experienced trawler, and has been fishing on this side only a few weeks with fair success. It is not yet known what may be the chances of floating the steamer. The bodies of the men have not been recovered.

SPORTING LIARS.

A unique controversy is raging here as the result of the attempt of local investigators to classify outdoor summer sports in the order of the number of prevarications which each incites, to the end that growing children may be protected from those calculated to ruin a reputation for veracity. Unfortunately the investigators have been unable to agree as to which sport or pastime causes the most lies and hence the controversy. The opinion is unanimous that tennis causes the least. Next in order the investigators have created shooting for primal place followed by sailing and walking of which it is obvious that none offer an attractive field for the man with an elastic imagination. From this point, however, the investigators have stirred up trouble, since they end the list with golfing, camping and fishing. As a result campers and anglers are up in arms and loud in their assertion that the golf liar is not only the greatest in the world but the most stupid, even excelling the automobile liar who boasts of what his car can do and how many miles he can run on a gallon of gasoline. It does not seem probable that the discussion will be easily decided even if the Mayor does appoint a committee to investigate the matter for the benefit of the public playgrounds. But the majority of the investigators agree that if the love of truth is to be cultivated in the growing child his sports should be limited to tennis, canoeing and shooting.

LIVING FOR NOTHING

That it is impossible to live for nothing, even in Montreal, and in spite of the increased cost of living without violating the letter of the law, has just been demonstrated here in a most ingenious manner by a visitor to whom local bunco men are figuratively taking off their hats. For more than two weeks this man had been living on the fat of the city with out a single cent of expense to him self. Like most effective plans his was so simple that the regular residents of this city who live by their wits are still wondering how they overlooked it. The clever visitor simply went to wholesale manufacturers of clothing and placed large orders to be shipped to a certain big out of town house. In every case, however, he was careful to stipulate that shipment was not to be made for a month, or until such time as the house which he claimed to represent had sent a cheque to cover the bill, thereby protecting himself against a charge of attempted fraud. His orders were large, and naturally at each place where he gave them the sales chief took him for dimmers, theatres, and the like gladly furnish-

HORSE STEALING
AROUND MONCTON

Moncton, Aug. 4.—Another horse stealing case is engaging the attention of the authorities in Westmorland. Gotro village and surrounding country are stirred today over an alleged case of horse stealing and incendiarism at that village. Last night Silas Le Blanc phoned the police here that a horse belonging to him was taken last night and his barn burned, containing a considerable quantity of farm machinery and live stock. Another man named Belliveau, about a quarter of a mile away, also had a horse stolen. The police of Moncton, Shediac and elsewhere are searching for the guilty party. The police believe it is the work of a man released from penitentiary recently after serving time for a similar offence.

MCCURDY FLIES FROM HAMILTON TO TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 3.—A new Canadian record for long distance flying was established last evening when J. A. D. McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, and his colleague, Chas. F. Willard, successfully flew from Hamilton to Toronto, the former taking in the north end of Fisherman's Island near the Cherry street bridge and the latter in Exhibition Park. McCurdy made a course as the crow flies, sailing over the lake at a height of 3,000 feet at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Willard, who started some thirteen minutes in advance of his team mate, was not so familiar with the country and for a good portion of the journey followed the course of the railway tracks.

INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION
DURING MONTH OF JUNE

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 4.—Canadas immigration grows. The figures for the month of June last announced show an influx of 40,000 as against 34,482 for June of last year, 16 per cent increase. Of this number 27,974 came in at ocean ports, while people from the United States moved across the boundary to the number of 12,035.

TOO ONE SIDED

Having labor to buy and goods to sell, says the Toront Globe, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association naturally wants the obstruction on the importation of labor relaxed while objecting to the pending relaxation of the obstructions on the importation of goods. The men with labor to sell and goods to buy were at one time deluded into taking a similar attitude, but are growing wiser.

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

WHEN you enter the Canada Cement Prize Contest, your dealer will assist you. Consult him in reference to conditions of the contest. Refer all questions of doubt to him to decide. Confer with him when his experience and advice and his knowledge of our plan would seem helpful. Don't hesitate about doing this. We have requested him to assist to the best of his ability any farmer in his locality competing in this contest—whether it's a matter involving the application of cement, or how to go about winning one of the prizes offered in this contest. Do you realize that you have as good a chance as the next man to win one of those prizes? There are four for each Province, as follows: PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911, the greatest number of bags of "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who in 1911 uses "CANADA" Cement on his farm for the greatest number of purposes. PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with photograph showing the best of any particular kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work shown by accompanying photograph, was done. Contest will close on November 15th, 1911, and as soon as possible thereafter, prizes will be awarded. Be sure and get a copy of our Contest Circular, telling all about the contest. Ask your dealer for one or use the attached coupon, if you find it more convenient. In writing us, mention whether you wish received your copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Cement," a profusely-illustrated 160-page book, which tells you how to build with concrete, so that you can do much of the work yourself. It's a mighty handy and useful book, and should save you many a dollar. Farmers who have received it say it is splendid. Write tonight and it will go back to you with Prize Circulars. Fulfill, by return mail. Please send Circulars and Book. Name..... Address.....

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women, and makes distinctly an epoch in their lives. For a woman in a time of such a nature is prepared or unprepared to properly care for her self, of course, by every woman, and it is a matter of time of adjustment, but not of preparation, for an organism untried for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock which is hard to recover from.

There is no doubt that the mother of a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The explanation lies in the fact that, with all the evidence of hardened nerves and broken health, resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, do not do so and pay the penalty.

In many homes since children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

KILLED BY TRAIN

ON INTERCOLONIAL

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 3.—While at his work in the round house early this morning, Timothy Donohue found a man's hat on the pilot of a locomotive and blood stains. Finding that neither the engineer nor firemen knew of any accident, he walked along the track to his home in Sunny Brae, and while en route was horrified to see the body of a man dead at Hall's Creek bridge, lying in the road about forty feet below the track. Dr. Harris, the coroner, found the dead man's both legs broken, one of the bones sticking out of the trouser leg, and that one shoe was torn completely off and his foot badly mutilated. His head on the left side was smashed in and part of the man's brains were lying within a few feet of him. His arms were broken and his clothes badly torn.

No trace of his identity could be found, the only articles in the pockets being 5 cents, a small piece of tobacco and a handkerchief and collar button. The man was wearing a blue suit. The hat found on the engine was stamped with the Sussex Mercantile Company's trade mark. This is the only clue. The man was evidently struck by No. 9 express coming into Moncton.

The body was conveyed to Tuttle's morgue.

NEWCASTLE WANTS JUSTICE DONE

At the regular monthly meeting of Newcastle Board of Trade on the 7th instant the following were accepted as new members, bringing the membership of the Board up to about 115: Mr. C. M. Dickson, and Messrs. H. R. Mosby, Ernest Mullin, W. I. Durack, S. B. Miller, J. E. T. Lindon, and E. A. O'Donnell, Newcastle. Elected also, Messrs. Derby, Engh, Vye, Chatham Junction, G. R. Parker and George R. Vanderbeck, Millerton; Wm. Sullivan, Redbank; C. T. Morris, Chatham; and T. G. Gill, Burnside River. The following were elected delegates to represent the Board at the Maritime Board of Trade which meets in Moncton Aug. 16th and 17th inst.: President Patrick Hennessy, Secretary E. A. McCurt, Ald. George Stables, W. J. Jarline, J. D. Clegham, Ald. H. H. Stuart, George M. Dale, Hon. Donald Morrison, Ald. John Clark and John Ferguson, Alternates—Ald. T. W. Butler, S. W. Miller, R. A. Murdoch, C. C. Hayward and J. D. Paulin. Great dissatisfaction was expressed with the tardiness of the I. R. C. Managing Board in not extending the Newcastle—Blackville service to Doaktown so as to allow the people of Doaktown, who are only 50 miles from Newcastle but 64 from Fredericton to trade in Newcastle, their natural market, where they sell most of their lumber. Trains run so that they proceed to Bridgetown, N. S., to attend the United Baptist Convention for the Maritime Provinces which lasts from August 10th to the 22nd.

they now are compelled to do their trading in Fredericton, thus giving business to the C. P. R. that should go by the I. R. C. The putting on of a shunter to relieve the Blackville train or shunting duty at Newcastle, Derby Jet, the Lower Derby pulp mill and Millerton is greatly needed and the daily train service now completed here from Blackville must be extended to Doaktown. It would cost but $10 or $15 a day extra but the extra traffic would soon repay the extra costs. The alternate daily service from Doaktown to Newcastle and Chatham, proposed by Chatham and apparently favored by Mr. W. S. Logie and Mr. Tiffin, would cost $100 a day. It was time for Newcastle and up river districts to assert their rights. It had taken fifteen or twenty years to get the missing link completed, and steps should be taken to prevent such a delay for the extension to Doaktown. It was decided to authorize the secretary to telegraph the Ottawa authorities for an immediate reply to the representations made them by Newcastle Board of Trade on July 21st, and if necessary, a delegation will be sent to Ottawa to press the matter. After the transaction of some minor business, the Board adjourned to meet again next Friday August 11th at 8 p. m.
