Arabs Combat Britains Palestine Policy.

LONDON (Associated Press.)-The vernment is unremitting in its eforts to find a solution of the Palestine problem. To this end it has, among other things, recently published the official correspondence that has passed between the government, the Palestine Arab delegation now in ondon, and the Zionist organization since last February. Included in an official statement of British policy, as given out July 1, to the effect that a lewish national home will be foundd in Palestine, and the Jewish people will be in Palestine as of right and not sufferance. The disappearance of subordination of the Arab population language or culture is not contemplated, and the establishment of a full neasure of self government in Palestine will be fostered. The special position of the Zionist Executive does not entitle it to a share in the gov ernment of the country. The Arab delegation has replied to this statenent of policy as follows: "Since its establishment in Palestine the Zionst Commission has very much interferred with the administration of Palestine under one pretext or another, all of which were based on solicitude for Jewish interests. One military administrator after another, and one British official after another, had to go because they could not and would not govern the country on lines laid down betweed Arab and Zionist increasing day by day and resulting in general retrogression, because the immigrants dumped upon the country from different parts of the world are ignorant of the language, customs and character of the Arabs, and enter character of the Arabs, and enter Palestine by the might of England and against the will of the people, who are convinced that these people have come to strangle them. Nature does not allow the creation of a spirit of co-operation between two peoples so different. The fact is that his Majesty's Government has placed itself in he position of a partisan in Pales-

Driven by the exigencies of the Great War to demand on behalf of the Allies the co-operation of the Arabs against the Turks, Britain agreed to recognize their independence within a territory which included Palestine and Syria. This was on October 24. 1915. On November 2, 1917, possibly with a view of obtaining other and ually necessary support, the Earl of Balfour made his famous declaration in favor of the establishment of a Jewish home in Palestine." I know just what the dicks will do, how they will follow up the clew. They do not admit that selves a claim to ennoblement, but they see no reason why men qualified by personal gifts or by public service, for a title, should be suspect be cause they contribute to their political party. The pity is that the impression prevails that some of the recipients have had little else to commend htem for the honour except their wealth, some of which they were only too willing to barter for a decoration. If the Royal Commission which was conceded in the British House of Commons on Monday, July 17th to enquire into the existing honours system, and to consider what procedure might be adopted to assist the Prime Minister in his future recommendations. succeeds in ridding the system of that objectionable blemish it will render at least one good ser vice. It may yet be possible for wire pullers in titles to have them placed on the Stock Exchange and sold to the highest bidders for the purpose of creating Government revenue, to be applied in reducing the National debt. South Africa and Canada have expressed their views as to the further granting of titles to these countries, on the basis of actual public merit. Newfoundland honours are easy. (Twillingate Sun.) OUR LATITUDE.

We note the feeling of dissatisfaction among the people in respect to living and in respect to high prices charged on merchandise. Some newspaner comment is dwelling on the hard problem our folk are yet facing, and t seems that to get back to 1914 rates is impossible. Our normal is now, unless economy in the management of government is begun and begun in haste. Men who toil on in the hope of receiving better returns for more yet to keep the wolf in the distance. Those who have earned no small sum give vent to their feelings and of comfort, or get enough to pull them through no matter what they earn.

It is easily explained and does not need the pen of a Milton or a Shakespeare to unravel, that with the pre-Peerage, 1918. 1st Baron, Edward sent methods of taxation, and the present waste and extravagance, the present false prophecies among gamblers. the outcome now is that the bulk of the consumers must pay for the damage done through the neglect of the pilots on board. The reefs and breakers of bankruptcy are rugged ones that spare not the ship, and with lost bearings and courses our latitude will become hard to determine. Again, it is not pleasant to learn that misjudgement and carelessness often causes the sinking of valuables in pro-

MOTION PICTURE THAT WILL STRIKE HOME.

A motion picture that will strike home to many young American married couples is "Dangerous Curve Ahead!", Goldwyn feature, written by Rupert Hughes, which is at the Nickel Theatre to-day. Miss Helene Chadwick, called the "most photographed girl in America," has the principal role. The story of the play concerns the early married life of a small-town girl who was the belle of her community before her marriage to an easy going demestically inclined husband. Inwardly chafing under the restraints imposed by the cares of her home, and the rearing of her two children, she seizes the first opportunity to taste again of the butterfly life in society, while her husband is away on business.

How she avoids the Dangerous Curve, and is brought to her senses by the illness of her little child, eagerly resuming the yoke of domesticity, de dramatically portrayed.

The picture is well acted and splendidly photographed, several innovations being resorted to that alone lift the film from the commonplace. Miss Chadwick does the best work of her career in the picture, and she is ably supported by Richard Dix, "Lefty" their toil, find that they must toil Flynn, of Yale athletic fame, James Neill, Edythe Chapman and Kate
