THE CANADIAN POULTRY REVIEW

DEVOTED TO A

POULTRY, IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

PUBLISHED BY H. B. DONOVAN.

VOL. XIII.

58 BAY STREET, TORONTO.

No. 2

NOTES AND COMMENTS

GUELPH ASSOCIATION.

An Association has been organized in Guelph under the name of the Guelph Poultry and Pet Stock Association with the following officers: President, C. J. Eisele; Vice-President, Geo. Chamberlain; Sec'y and Treas., John Colson; board of directors—Thos. H. Smelt, A. Tyson, H. Pearson, G. Sully, W. Coon, J. D. Robertson, J. B. Collins, W. Stewart and H. Sallows. From the enthusiasm manifested by those present at the inaugural meeting, there is no doubt of the success of the Association.

NO TWO WEEKS FOR BARRIE.

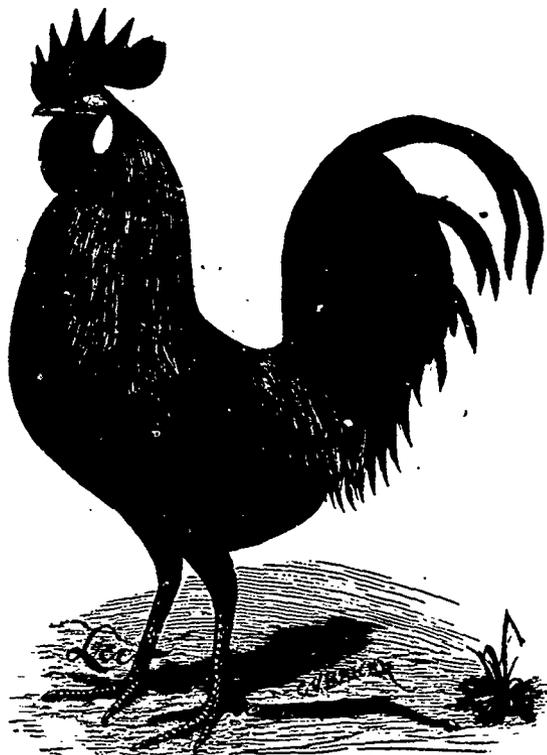

We are particularly requested to draw attention to the fact, as embodied in the report in another column, that the Kempenfeldt Association, is, as a body, entirely opposed to the increasing of the time the poultry are on exhibition at the Industrial Exhibition.

MR. GEO. H. CARLEY,

Barrie, has shipped three birds to British Columbia, the means of sale being the advertising pages of the REVIEW. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

WHICH EGGS ARE BEST?

Mr. Joseph Kinsey, Doon, sent us

BROWN LEGHORN COCK.

for comparison three eggs of six varieties of fowls. The varieties with the weights of the eggs were as follows, light Brahma hens $7\frac{3}{4}$ oz., partridge Cochin hens 8 oz., white Dorking hens 6 oz., silver-grey hens $7\frac{1}{4}$ oz., dark Brahma pullets $5\frac{3}{4}$ oz., white Plymouth Rock pullets $5\frac{1}{2}$ oz.

WEIGHT.

As far as weight goes it will be seen that the eggs laid by hens have a decided advantage over those laid by pullets. The partridge Cochin's rather surprised us, averaging 6 to the pound, an unusual weight.

QUALITY.

On tasting one of each, cooked, we noticed the Cochin eggs were very delicate in taste, yolk rather light in color and white beautifully clear; silver-grey, yolk darker, white very transparent, delicate in taste; Plymouth Rock very similar; white Dorking, yolk very dark, flavor delicate; light Brahma, yolk light in color and eggs strong to the taste; dark Brahma, yolk nice color, taste rich.

THE SHELLS

of all were strong, those of the part-ridge Cochin being almost mahogany in color, thus refuting the theory that the darker the shell the deeper in color will the yolk be.

BIRDS ALL FED ALIKE.

Mr. Kinsey informs us that his birds are all fed alike, and are now in full lay; he states they pay better than anything on the farm.

NEW YORK JUDGES.

Since giving the list in our last issue the following names have been added, B. N. Pierce, Indianapolis, Ind.; Geo. A. Brown, Baltimore, Md.; J. D. Nevius, Philadelphia, Pa.

$40 FOR A MINORCA.

Mr. McCormick has sold the black Minorca cockerel, 1st at the Ontario, for forty dollars, this being the highest figure we know of, ever paid for a Canadian bred bird.

THIS BIRD

is bred from the much-talked of disqualified cockerel at Buffalo last winter, and beats his sire in size and general shape, is beautiful in color, has good lobes and typical comb.

WE LEARN

that the second prize cockerel was sold to the same buyer at a good figure.

MR. C. J. DANIELS,

Toronto, left for England early last month, and purposes bringing back quite a lot of stock. He will personally select stock or eggs for any intending importers sending him postal order to cover amount of purchase. His address for one month will be, Epsom, Surrey, England.

ONTARIO MEETING.

A report of the annual meeting of the Poultry Association of Ontario will be found elsewhere. Our eastern friends have had a long wait, but they have got it at last, and knowing them as we do, we feel assured that it could not have gone to a more favorable locality, or to a more enterprising, enthusiastic and hard-working lot of fanciers.

THE BY-LAWS

adopted by the Association will also be found, we have not space this month to refer to them in detail.

THE MONTREAL PRIZE LISTS

are now ready and can be had on application to the Secretary, Mr. J. H. Cayford, box 1168, Montreal. This will be the only show in the province this year.

THE LAST SHOW

accounts of the Ontario have never been audited, the books not yet being ready for the auditors. This matter should receive immediate attention. A deficit of $22.47, we understand, exists.

PROMPTNESS ITSELF.

The Ontario show closed on the Friday at noon, on Tuesday we received by mail the full prize list with scores. Good boy! Hamill.

MONTREAL SHOW.

Our Montreal correspondent writes us: The annual show has been fixed for the 18th, 19th and 20th of February 1890, and the Victoria Armory Hall which gave us much satisfaction last year has been secured again. A very liberal respond to the appeal of the Society has been given by the citizens of Montreal, as may be seen by the large list of specials in the prize list. The services of Mr. I. K. Felch, so well known to every fancier, have again been secured for the poultry, and Mr. J. B. Jones of Toronto, who so ably handled the pigeons last year, will again officiate. We expect that a large number of entries will be received from eastern Ontario which we hope to reciprocate next winter at Bowmanville.

MR. JOHN E. GILL,

Franklin, Pa., the well known breeder of Games and Game Bantams, has, through pressure of business engagements been obliged to offer all his stock for sale.

TREASURER O. P. A.

We are in a position to state that the Treasurer of the Poultry Association of Ontario has given the desired bond endorsed Mr. J. E. Lawrence and Mr. Wm. Chase.

AMALGAMATION.

Mr. Dilworth in his letter opens up a matter of supreme importance to the fraternity at large, more especially those of Ontario, and while he does not claim absolute perfection for his plan, still it seems to us that if both parties can be satisfied it will lead to good results.

EXPRESS YOUR OPINION.

We shall be glad to have an expression of opinion from some of the younger as well as the older heads of both Associations.

T. T. COLEMAN DEAD.

Our Bowmanville correspondent writes us: It is with very great regret that we have to chronicle the death of one of our Directors, who was also one of the oldest poultry fanciers in Central Ontario. We refer to the late T. T. Coleman chief of police for this town who died of pneumonia on Jan. 15th at the age of 67 years. By his death the Bowmanville fanciers lose one of their warmest supporters, and he will also be missed at the Directors Board of the Agricultural society of West Durham, of which he has been an active member since its inception many years ago. He was the first, and until his death the principal fancier and breeder of the Asiatic varieties in this town, and stock bred by him has found its way to all the shows of Canada, and has been the foundation of a good many first class yards.

THINK OF IT.

Last year Canada exported nearly two and a quarter million dollars worth of eggs.

NO QUORUM.

At the last monthly meeting of the Toronto Bantam, Pigeon and P. S. Club no quorum was present, so no business could be transacted.

STOLEN OR STRAYED;

Mr. C. W. Eckhardt, Unionville, had a Plymouth R. hen, pullet & cockerel either stolen or missent from Bowmanville show. If any fancier knows anything of them will he please correspond with the REVIEW.

MORTIMER'S MONTHLY MORSELS.

BY F. A. MORTIMER, POTTSVILLE, PA.

Cultivate a cheerful and contented disposition. Do you know that cheerful looks make every dish a feast?

Never throw food on the snow or muddy places when feeding fowls, it is necessary that food shall be clean.

The runs must be dry, wet feet will make biddy sick. A southern slope is desirable. The house should have a southern exposure, be sheltered from the winds, roomy, warm, light and properly ventilated.

Ducks should have separate houses from other fowls. No roosts are necessary, but they should have troughs, as they do not like to pick and hunt in the ground like chickens.

Take your stock to the show and get them scored, then you will have a guide to judge your other fowls by.

Great expectations are often the forerunners of disappointment. It is so with the poultry business. Go at it calmly and reflectively. Study the wants and dispositions of your fowls; get the experiences and ideas of others; add to and improve your stock gradually and you are on the road to success.

Colonizing fowls in separate small flocks in the manner they are kept in villages and small towns is practical. Any number divided into small lots with separate houses and runs will be productive and profitable, if brains, means, and a thoroughly practical knowledge of poultry culture be employed at all times.

GAPES. Causes.—Foul water, exposure to wet, damp places to roost, by feeding sloppy feed, and lacking in nourishment.

This is the most common disorder of poultry, and is most prevalent in hot weather, and very fatal. This disease is caused by numerous red worms, near the size of a cambric needle, adhering to the lining of the windpipe. When seen by a large magnifying glass they appear to be all head, and the head a mouth. From the first sight of them that can be obtained under a glass they are double, the male and female together, somewhat in the shape of the letter Y. They attach themselves to the windpipe by their sucker-shaped mouths. They lay eggs in great numbers, which may be seen attached to their bodies. They enlarge and multiply very fast. As soon as the blood vessels cease to yield sufficient nourishment the weaker ones lose their hold and begin to move about, causing others to lose their hold, until finally quite a ball of them, is formed, drops down on the chest or lungs, causing death by suffocation.

Cure.—Mix a teaspoonful of turpentine with a pint of dry meal moistened with milk or boiling water, and feed while warm and see that every chicken eats. If any refuse give them a pill of the mixture. This will at least prevent a spread of the disease, and will in many cases effect a cure, but if the relief should not be prompt, secure the sick ones and place them in a box and subject them to the fumes of a mixture of equal parts of wood tar, turpentine and sulphur; set the mixture on fire and keep the chicks in the box until nearly suffocated, or rather keep them under the influence of the fumes as long as it is safe. As soon as the chicks show signs of relief feed them on soft food on a clean surface. To every quart of soft feed add a quarter of an ounce of Rochelle salts. They will need but little care after.

A good sized fowl eats about one and a half bushels of corn in a year, or its equivalent, that is about three and two-third ounces a day. On this basis almost any man can calculate the cost of a flock a year in case he must buy everything. The allowance is liberal; small sized fowls require a little less.

To prevent hens from eating their eggs, turn the nest so that the hens must enter by the rear. The interior of the nest should be dark, so that there will be hardly any light in it at all. The nests should also be about three inches above the floor, in order to compel the hens to jump up to them before reaching the eggs. By such an arrangement the inducement to eat the eggs will be materially lessened.

In former issues we have frequently alluded to the valuable qualities of the white Minorcas, which have become established in this country and admitted to the Standard of Perfection. There is also a black variety equally as good as the white one. Some persons do not like black breeds, but where eggs are desired the color of the plumage is only a secondary consideration. However, for crossing on light Brahmas and white Cochins, the white Minorcas are destined to become great favorites, as they are more compact than white Leghorns, lay more eggs, and are larger in size. It was predicted that they would excel all other breeds, as layers, and they have been given a fair trial. They have had a successful competition with other breeds, and it cannot be doubted that they have added largely to the production, especially since they have been distributed to all points. We would advise you to give this breed a trial.

A western farmer insists that the following is a true story: "My wife's old hen was sitting beside the garden fence on thirteen eggs. About a week ago a large black snake came along and ate the hen, curled himself on the eggs, and stayed there until they hatched out, and then ate the whole brood at once."

The foregoing item has been going the rounds of the poultry press. Such things make us tired. Readers want solid instructive reading. Such items do not interest any one, and the sooner editors learn it the better. Give your readers something to think about, that is what they take poultry papers for.

Of all thieves, fools are the worst; they rob us of time and temper.—Goethe.

NOTES.

BY F. M. CLEMANS, JR.

Diversified farming is the shortest and surest road to success for the small landholder, and even the large landholder is beginning to see the error of making a specialty of one crop, and thus "putting all his eggs into one basket." The small farmer who keeps a variety of small live-stock, hogs, sheep, poultry of all kinds, and raises a variety of crops, "going in" a little on fruit both small and large, who has a little farm free from mortgage may safely expect to "keep the wolf from the door" and get ahead in a very substantial manner also. Prices of lands are now coming within reach of persons of moderate means as it becomes more and more understood that the large land holder cannot make interest on his investment by raising special crops and by allowing large tracts of land to remain idle. The common poultry business has not been overdone. Prices are as good as they have been, and the demand is increasing. While there is no great future in poultry raising, it must become a great item in the product of small farms. There is no reason why every farmer should not produce enough poultry and eggs to pay his "store bills."

* * *

Soft shelled eggs are occasioned by the hen being too fat or from lack of shell-forming food. The latter case results from fowls being kept closely in small runs, as fowls having range will pick up enough calcereous material. It is a very good plan to keep a supply of this shell-forming material where the fowls will have free access to it, (Bro. Jacobs of the Poultry Keeper to the contrary, notwithstanding). Shell-less eggs are often found under the perch when the hen is too fat or is suffering from internal disease. In such cases feed on unstimulating food, and remove the patient to a quiet place by herself as she is likely to introduce the almost incurable habit of egg eating into the flock.

* * *

Those who breed pure-bred fowls and depend on local patronage will not as a rule meet with much success. Printers' ink is the best salesman, but much depends on the manner in which it is used. No one will subscribe for a specialty paper who is not interested in the industry represented by that paper, and so the entire subscription list of such a journal as the REVIEW, is made up of the class the poultry breeder wishes to reach. As an advertising medium for poultry breeders it is readily understood that an "ad." in such a journal is worth more to the poultry breeder than it would be worth in a journal of larger circulation going to a different class of readers.

ST. CATHARINES FEASTS THE ONTARIO VISITORS.

After the annual meeting of the Poultry Association of Ontario the St. Catharines Poultry Association invited the visiting fanciers to a well spread supper at the house of mine host Hartnett, yecept the St. Catharines. The supper room was tastefully decorated with evergreens, chinese lanterns, mottoes, &c., and the tables fairly groaned under the good things placed on them. Mr. J. C. Rykert, M.P. occupied the chair, and amongst others present were noticed Messrs. E. Dawyer, Warden of the County; Reeve Clark, of Grimsby; Deputy Reeve C. A. Wilson, of Louth; H. B. Donovan, Poultry Review, Toronto; L. A. Congdon, Dunnville; H. M. Fales, La Salle, N.Y.; C. H. Ackery, Tonawanda, N.Y.; T. W. Woodruff, Niagara Falls, Ont.; R. E. Bingham, Stayner; Geo. G. McCormick, London; J. Dilworth, Toronto; W. K. Pattison, and R. Hammill, St. Catharines; L. G. Jarvis, Port Stanley; W. Fox and W. Barber, Toronto; H. E. Russ, Grimsby; S. N. Clemo, Dunnville; W. McNeil, London; J. Briggs, Hamilton; J. B. Clark, Dunnville; J. E. Lawrence, St. Catharines; J. H. Saunders, R. W. Evans, A Bogue, R. Scott, and G. W. Spooner, London; W. Coon, Guelph; J. L. Cocoran, Stratford; T. H. Smelt, Guelph; W. R. Knight, Bowmanville; C. W. Lawton, Beeton; J. Cole, Hamilton; G. H. Chamberlain, Guelph; H. Bender, Niagara Falls; W. H. Crowie, St. Catharines, and many others. After ample justice was done to the excellent repast, Mr. Rykert, in his usual happy manner expressed the pleasure it gave him to be presiding at such a gathering, representing as it did a most valuable and important industry. He was also glad to meet with so many old friends from the United States, who, as birds of a feather, did their best to make their Canadian show a success. In dignified language the speaker casually touched upon his long experience with many present at the old time Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association, through whose fostering care nearly all the specialties, such as they were representing, had taken a position of which they were all proud. Their exhibit was a grand one, and if not a financial success, it at least, showed that those gentlemen interested were able to present exhibits of poultry in every class which took no second place to any other.

The chairman then proposed the usual loyal and standard toasts, which were heartily responded to.

LONDON POULTRY AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION.

At the special request of Mr. G. G. McCormick the last regular meeting of this Association was held at his residence, Dufferin Avenue, on the evening of the 17th of Dec. the President, W. McNeil in the chair and a good attendance of members. After the minutes of last meeting had been read and confirmed and the books of the Association audited and found correct, the election of officers for 1890 was proceeded with, which resulted in all of the officers of 1889 being re-elected for a second term. The business of the meeting being exhausted, we were invited to adjourn to the dining room where an elegant supper was in waiting for us prepared under Mrs. McCormick's personal supervision. After a vigorous attack on the good things provided, and when the smoke had cleared away we re-assembled in the drawing room where a pleasant hour was whiled away in speeches and song. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. McCormick for the very agreeable manner in which they had entertained those present. Mr. McCormick replied in a neat speech thanking the members for their presence. Before separating we were invited to inspect his new poultry house which is a model of neatness and comfort, all pronounced it immense.

R. OKE, Sec'y.

KEMPENFELDT POULTRY, PIGEON AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the above Association was held in their rooms Barrie on Tuesday evening, Jan 6th 1890. Mr. Peter the President in the chair with a grand showing of members.

There being no particular communications the applications for membership were considered which resulted in three new members being enrolled.

Several motions were carried to arrange about the Barrie Exhibition Building, it not being large enough to accommodate the show that is expected next fall. It was the unanimous opinion of this Association that they do not agree with the Industrial Exhibition Association in prolonging exhibition of poultry longer than the one week.

Next thing taken up was the judging of Antwerps and Fantails which resulted in a good pair of silver-dun Antwerps winning first prize owned by Mr. W. Patterson and the pair of black Fans owned by Mr. E. G. Bingham winning 1st prize in Fan class, being very closely contested by a pair of blues owned by Mr. H. N. Hughes. The birds for exhibition next meeting are Wyandotte pullets, rose-comb white Leghorn hens, single-comb white Leghorn pullets, Langshan cockerels and hens, also Turbits, Owls, and Jacobins. Our Association is growing fast, having eleven new members the last two meetings.

GEO. H. CARLFY,
Barrie, Ont., Jan. 10th, 1890. Sec'y.

TORONTO POULTRY PIGEON AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION.

The above Association held its usual monthly meeting on the 16th inst. The President in the chair, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. Mr. John A. Thurston was duly elected a member. The by-laws as adopted at the annual meeting and revised by the Executive Committee were approved of. There were on exhibition a pair of silver Wyandottes shown by E. F. Doty, but owing to some misunderstanding this class will compete again, when, it is hoped more birds will be exhibited. Mr. W. Fox showed a pair of dun Carriers which won first, and two pairs of dun Barbs which won second and third, there were no other birds on exhibition. There was a debate held on artificial heating for poultry houses for and against. The majority seemed against the idea of heating artificially. Mr. Bache gave us some good information in favor of heating, stating some facts founded on experience. The debate for next meeting will be "Flooring for poultry houses." There being no further business the meeting adjourned. Receipts $6.80.

E. F. DOTY, Sec'y.

BUFF COCHIN CLUB.

The third Annual Meeting of the American Buff Cochin Club will be held at New York City, in the American Institute Building, at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, February 24th, 1890, during the great Poultry Exhibition. Owing to the energy of some members of the Club, together with assistance from other breeders of buff Cochins, the handsome sum of $72 has been collected for specials at N. Y., $18 to be awarded for best cock, cockerel, hen and pullet. As this will draw a large number of breeders and fine birds here, it is proposed to thoroughly reorganize the Club, consequently it is the duty of every buff Cochin Breeder in America to be present at this meeting of the Club.

Those desiring to become members will kindly send their names to the Secretary.

GEORGE E. PEER.

PEKIN OR COCHIN ?

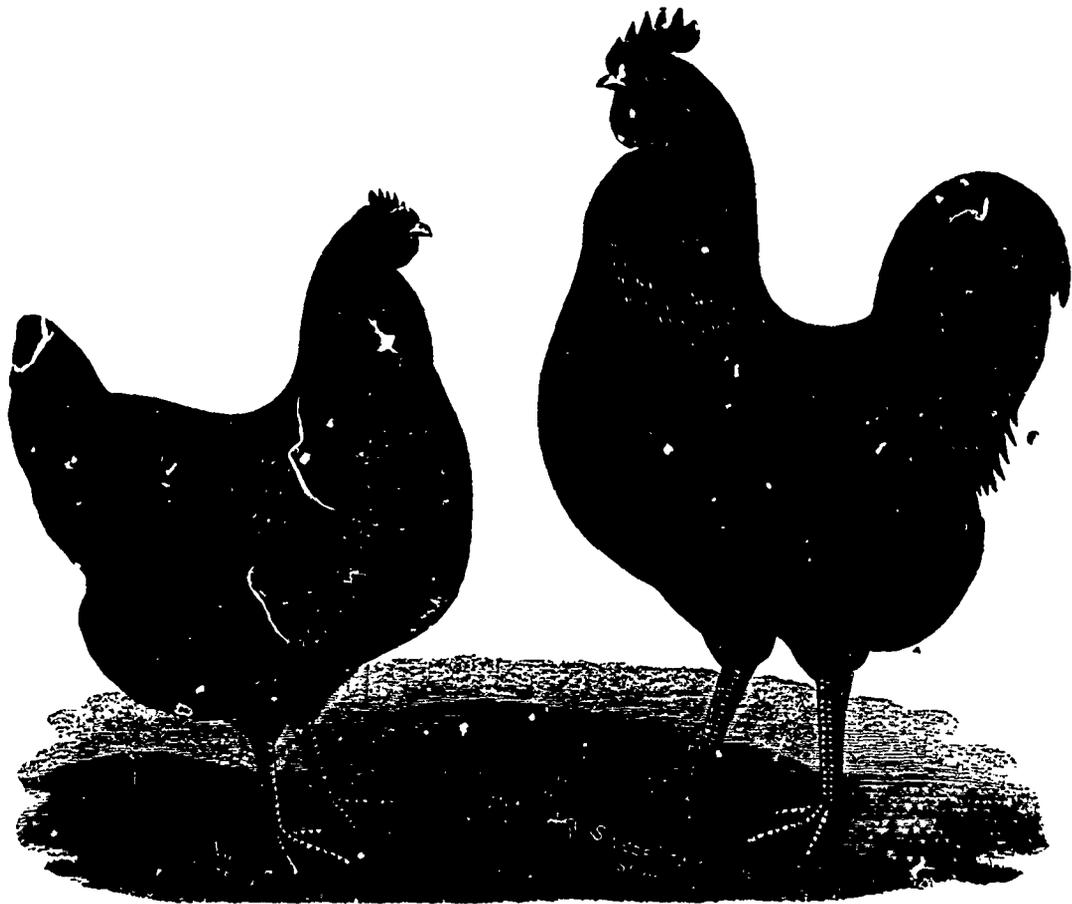

Editor Review :-

I noticed in the REVIEW, a month or so ago, a letter from Mr Butterfield, in which he refers to the Standard color for Pekin Bantams. I think the proper name for them would be Cochin Bantams. The Poultry Club (English) which issues a Standard for nearly all varieties of fowls has concluded not to issue a Standard for Cochin Bantams or Game Bantams, but breeders of these are to go by the Standards for the large varieties of Cochins and Games, except, of course, the size, which should be as small as possible. I think that the fanciers in this country should try to breed their Pekin Bantams as much like buff Cochins in color and shape as possible. A portrait of a pair of winners, which was the frontispiece to an English journal, showed the cock to be without a tail, being almost "rumpless." I see that the American and English Game Standards are slightly different, or at least the application of the American Standard implies as much. The English Games are the style sought after in Canada, however. I hope to see a friendly controversy re Pekin or Cochin Bantams.

Yours truly,

E. F. DOTY.

"UNITY IS STRENGTH"

THE AMALGAMATION OF THE POULTRY
ASSOCIATION OF ONTARIO, AND EASTERN ONTARIO ASSOC-IATION, OTTAWA.

Editor Review :—

Can you through the medium of your journal bring to a successful issue the amalgamation of the above two Associations? I certainly think it would be a grand thing for the poultry fraternity of this Province, what a magnificent prize list could then be offered. It would be the means of drawing out all our best birds and all our live fanciers. I would suggest that the two Associations join together, select a good deputation to wait on the Government, and ask for a total grant of say $1200.00. I would also suggest that a scheme something like the following be agreed upon: In 1892 the show to be in Ottawa, 1893 Kingston, Peterboro or Bowmanville, 1894 Toronto, 1895 Hamilton, Guelph or St. Catharines, 1896 London; same order to be repeated every five years. In this way it would be twice east of Toronto, and twice west, every five years.

I am quite certain from what I know of the Poultry fraternity in and around Ottawa, that if a course similar to above were fully explained it would meet with their approval and I am almost positive a scheme of this kind would be in every way acceptable to the Province.

In the first place it would only be necessary for the Ontario Board of Directors and those of Ottawa to come to some understanding regarding the terms of amalgamation, then select a committee from the two Boards and formulate a scheme to present to the Hon. Mr. Drury, Minister of Agriculture, for his consideration. I am satisfied that if the plans presented are what I am sure they can be made the Government will see at a glance that it will be largely to the benefit of the Province and indeed the whole Dominion. Why the eggs exported last year from Canada amounted to over two million dollars, and we stand to-day the second largest egg exporting country in the world. I hope the board of Directors will not allow this matter to rest here, and that others more able than I will give their influence and support to accomplish this end.

If Ottawa Directors will make known to the Ontario Board of Directors what they consider themselves justly entitled to, I am quite certain, from what I know of the new board of directors of the Ontario Poultry Association just elected at St. Catharines, that their desires (if reasonable) would meet with approval. If I can be of any use to aid in the amalgamation, and the procuring of increased grant, you know where to find me.

I am yours, etc.,

JOSEPH DILWORTH.

OUR ILLUSTRATIONS.

Our pages are replete with portraits this month and all good ones. The trio of Indian Games are owned by Mr. P. A. Webster, of Cazenovia, N. Y., and were imported by him from Messrs Abbott Bros., England, who certify that these are the best birds of this variety they have ever exported. The picture was made from a photograph of the birds, and is in Lee's usual finished and artistic style.

The brown Leghorn cock is the property of Mr. C. V. Baker, of Stoutsville, Ohio, whose six pullets won the National Stockman egg contest, laying 905 eggs in nine months. This bird was at the head of the pen.

The trio of white Plymouth Rocks are from the breeding pen which won high praise and 1st honors at Buffalo International show last winter, then owned by Mr. A. M. Hough, of Ohio, but recently purchased at a high figure and now owned by Mr. Ross A. Smith, of Charleston, S. C. Mr. Smith is a leading poultry man in the south, devoting time and money to this hobby as well as to Floriculture, and is manager of the Southern Directory Publishing Co. We hope in next issue to give a perspective view of his houses, lofts and yards.

The laced Wyandotte cut represents "Duke of Gloster" and mates, winner of 1st prize and silver medal for best breeding pen at Madison Square Garden, New York City. They are owned and were bred by Mr. Edw. B. Thompson, Amenia, N.Y. Duke of Gloster was sired by Richard 2nd, the winner of 1st prize as a cock at Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 1889.

The Plymouth Rock cut represents "Sweepstakes Jr." 94¼ and "Virginia" 94¼ winner of 1st prize and silver medals for best male and female at the great show at Madison Square Garden, New York City, and 1st prize at the International Exhibition at Buffalo, N.Y., Jan., 1889, for highest scoring cock and best pair fowls. Both birds were sired by Mr. T's famous "Sweepstakes," scoring 95, 95 and 95¼ by three judges as a cockerel and 94 as a cock, winning 1st at New York.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION OF ONTARIO.

ANNUAL SHOW AT ST. CATHARINES.

The annual show of the above Association was, this year, held in the bottom flat of a large stone building, originally built for milling purposes, though not situated on the main street it was adjacent thereto and easily got at. The hall is admirably suited for such a purpose, there being ample floor room for coops and passages, or alleyways. We regret that the attendance was wretchedly poor and consequently the door receipts almost nil. When and where will the public patronize a show of this kind as it ought to?

The Secretary, Mr. R. Hamill, seemed to have entirely too much to do and the clerical assistants supplied the judges were far from immaculate, resulting in a good deal of confusion in the placing of awards in some classes.

Having but a short time at our disposal we were unable to make extended comment. But the scores show the quality of the exhibits. Messrs. Jarvis and Butterfield kindly supplied the notes on the classes they judged.

MR. BUTTERFIELD SAYS.

In light Brahmas 47 birds and perhaps the best 47 birds ever exhibited in Canada, at any one show, the best cock by all odds was the one shown by Mr. Ford, of Milton, had he not lost so much as 3 for comb and 2 for weight; excepting these two places he is my ideal for a grand light Brahma cock, and for symmetry and cleanness of feather and the beautiful fan tail he carries, makes him pretty hard to beat. The 1st prize cock of Mr. Ackerley's is a nice bird, but not so nicely finished as the one of Mr. Ford's, still he scores about 92 while Mr. Ford's had to succumb to the two heavy cuts. The 2nd prize cock lost too much on tail, to make him a winner in good company, and the third prize loses too much in color of back. There is one thing our Canadian breeders forget, and that is in reference to tails of light Brahmas, and that is the fan-tail. A fan-tail light Brahma hardly ever suffers more than ½ point on tail, where as a light Brahma cock with long tail after one year old suffers 2 to 3 points, that is for shape of tail and white in tail. So I would kindly suggest to the breeders of light Brahmas the advantage of fan-tails and save the heavy cuts. If my memory serves me right, the 1st prize light Brahma cock was cut very little in tail and another bird shown by Mr. Acklerley, suffers much on tail for white and shape. In cockerels the 1st prize did not suffer much only in shape, came out too erect, and the 2nd prize cockerel suffered from being too short in back, and tail too high but still free from white, the third prize cockerel is a grand bird but suffers severely for comb and looseness of wing, but still a good bird or would not have scored 93½, and when 1 point determines between 1st and 3rd it behoves all breeders to not breed the defects which are fatal in close competition. In light Bahma hens, the 1st prize hen after we had got away from her head and neck it was hard to find any faults, and same may be said of Mr. Cole's excepting she was lacking breast shape; one or two light Brahma hens suffered 3 or 4 cuts for showing yellow and brick color on surface of back and wing. Pullets were a nice lot, two or three showed the effects of over showing. The 1st pullet was grand except her hackle, being a little short and not distinct enough in pencilling or striping.

Dark Brahmas, not well represented, still what were there were fairly good birds and most of them exchanged hands so we may expect some grand chicks at Toronto this fall, as they have gone into good hands for feed and attention.

Games were a splendid collection especially black red's and piles; brown red and duckwings sadly neglected.

Hamburgs were well represented and I think some of them especially grand specimens.

Leghorns, brown and white in chicks were some grand specimens, especially the winning cockerels.

Polands seem to be still improving, also the same may be said of Houdans.

Game Bantams, some good birds, not near so good as a whole as they were 10 years ago.

Sebrights are still nearer perfection.

MR. JARVIS' NOTES.

The show room was excellent as far as light for judging went but isolated as to location. The attendance of visitors was not what it should be, and unfortunately the electric light proved a failure so the door receipts will not be as good as last year. But the Directors may congratulate themselves on having a grand exhibition so far as the quality of the birds was concerned. The exhibitors cannot help but feel grateful to the worthy President, Mr. Rykert and the Directors for their valuable services. The management was good, and the President, Secretary-Treasurer and Directors did everything in their power to make the show a success, and to make it pleasant for the exhibitors during their stay in St. Catharines. I will say a few words in reference to the classes allotted to me. There were seventy-five buff Cochins on exhibition, all good birds; the prize winners scored from 90 to 94½. black Cochins were represented by about a dozen birds, the winners were grand and in good condition. White Cochins, a small class but all good birds. Partridge, a large class, but outside of the 1st and 2nd prize birds nothing else in class of any particular note. The 1st prize cock was the finest I have seen for a great many years. A pullet shown in the old class, would have been an easy winner in her proper place.

Minorcas were a large class, over fifty birds on exhibition. The 1st prize cockerel was a grand bird, also the 1st prize pullet scoring 97 points. The 1st prize cock, a good one, but a little off in comb and lobes; the 1st and 2nd prize hens were very close. Several birds in class with nice plumage and symmetry, but very small. Two pair of whites shown, all good birds.

Dorkings a large class, and all varieties represented. In silver-greys, old, the cocks were very close, the owners believing their own to be the best and they are both good judges in this class. ½ point decided where the 1st ticket was to be placed.

Polands well represented in all classes and all good birds, the exhibit was simply grand.

Wyandottes, a large class. Whites good, only the prize winners in laced worthy of mention.

It fell to my lot to judge the ducks, and they were the finest I ever saw in America, most of them being in splendid condition, and it was difficult to find a place to cut them, they were as nearly perfect as we can get them.

Two pairs of Toulouse and four of Bremen Geese on exhibition, all good specimens.

Four pairs of Bronze Turkeys were all over Standard weight and grand in color.

BOWMANVILLE SHOW.

From our own Correspondent.

The 7th Annual Show of the Bowmanville Poultry Association has come and gone and again we can chronicle a success for the Association. Their show has been from the start about the only one in Ontario that uniformly pays its way and this year has not been an exception to this rule. The show of birds was large, and some of them deserved all the prizes they got as they would be hard to beat in any competition. In some classes there was a falling off both in quality and numbers, from former years, but this was more than made up by the increase in other varieties. The Games showed marked decrease, this is one of the varieties that seems to find but little favor with our local fanciers, or indeed with outsiders as very few were brought in for competition, on the other hand there never was such a show here of Plymouth Rocks, Leghorns and Langshans, the first named being especially good with the prizes well placed. The show of Dorkings was not large but the quality of the birds showed that the lovers of this old variety do not intend to let their favorites suffer at their hands. The Hamburg's did not come out with the same force as in former years, the blacks and silver-spangled being virtually in the field alone, the pencilled and golden-spangled varieties were conspicuous by their absence, the few specimens shown scarcely called for comment. The Bantam classes held their own both in Games and fancy varieties and some of them showed careful breeding, and skilful handling.

The Association tried a new feature this year in their show; by adding certain classes for dead and dressed poultry, but this branch was not the success that it ought to have been. The prizes given were very liberal, but the farming community did not seem to take in the fact that it was an entirely free show in every way, or else doubtless the display would have been much larger, as it was the specimens shown were exceedingly fine, and reflected great credit upon the persons who sent them in for exhibition. Another year we hope to see this branch of the show score a brilliant success.

[You will have the Ontario next year and this would indeed be a good branch to add to the list—ED.]

NOTES BY THE JUDGE, MR. SHARP
BUTTERFIELD.

According to promise, I give you a few outlines of the late Bowmanville Show. When I arrived at the show on Tuesday afternoon, I found them with most of the birds weighed and ready for scoring, but the day being so cloudy, we did not get through many birds, but on Wednesday morning commenced shortly after eight o'clock, and with the valuable assistance of my clerks, Mr. Moorecraft, and Mr. Brown, we managed to score nearly 300 birds by the close of the day. I had a cage right close to good light, and every bird was brought right from its place in the show to be scored, and some of them brought twice over to satisfy some of the incredulous, whether there was any truth about scoring, and where there was only half point difference, and that was made in symmetry, which is quite easily accounted for, because birds stand in better position at one time than another, which in general appearance and harmony of parts will easily make half point on symmetry. Of course, Mr. Editor, a judge could get a much better idea of symmetry from the bird where it has been standing for a day or so in the same coop, but to give justice to all the other parts of the birds he wants good and equal light for all.

Well, they had a grand show of good birds and in grand condition, and quite a lot of birds scored 94. In light Brahmas the winning birds were grand. The dark Brahma is sadly neglected as you would notice at St. Catharines. The buffs shown by Mr. Hare were grand, but a good many buffs were disqualified for being too light in weight. Partridge Cochins were not so plenty, but grand birds won the prizes; Mr. Coleman showed a fine cockerel scored 93½, grand in hackle and saddle. In Plymouth Rocks there were close on to fifty birds, and some really good birds won the honors; I think pretty much all belonging east of Toronto, and when the eastern and western breeders meet at Bowmanville next year, it will be a hard fought contest for the principal honors. White Plymouth Rocks were fairly represented by grand birds. Houdans were strong and good, especially the first prize cock and first prize hen. Hamburgs were grand, but the golden spangled hens and pullets showed a good deal of white on body and fluff; silver spangled and black were well up in the 90's. Leghorns shown by Rice & Hawes, were good and fit for any competition, Games were not very strong, but in pyles there were some fine birds, and their worst faults was clubby heads. Bantams was well represented. Wyandottes were not heavy, but all good birds, and the cockerel and pullets shown by Mr. Martin was as good as your humble servant has seen. Polands were not very well represented, but enough good birds to take the prizes.

I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without saying a few words for the management of the show. A better lot of workers I never met at any show, a good tie with the Dunnville boys, and so much depends on good workers at a show to make it pass off satisfactorily, and I am sure the Ontario will not have any reason to regret giving their show to Bowmanville. The Secretary, President and Directors stuck close to their posts, and everything was done to avoid any favors being shown to any exhibitor, but a fair field and no favors expected, which is the only true foundation of any exhibition, and I expect a grand success for the Ontario, both in quantities of birds and door receipts.

THE EASTERN ONTARIO SHOW, OTTAWA.

The fifth annual exhibition of the E. O. P. and P. S. A. was held in the old Police Court building, Ottawa, Jan. 14 to 17. The entries numbered a few less than last year, but the quality of many of the classes made up for any deficiency in this respect. The wearer of the ermine, in the shape of a linen duster, was Mr. A. Stephens, of Wellesley, Mass., U. S. A. His judgment appeared to satisfy the boys, more especially as the prizes had been well distributed, few exhibitors being left out of the money. In some cases we thought he interpreted the Standard a little harshly, having disqualified a few good birds in the American class for "feathered shanks," where such did not, so far as our eye could see, exist. Perhaps it is better to err on the safe side. The scoring was done without taking the birds out of their coops, except in one or two classes, and the judge marked his own score cards. This system has its advantages, one of which is, a saving to the Association of the services of an extra clerk. The attendance fell far short of former years. This was not anticipated by the committee, as it was thought the holding of the show in such a convenient and well-known rendezvous would add to, rather than diminish the door receipts.

We missed the cheery faces of some old-time exhibitors, notably Messrs. Oldreive, Howison, Garrett, Daniels and others, but understand that most of these had birds on exhibition. It speaks volumes for the management of this fixture, that the same exhibitors send their birds year after year knowing they always have a fair field, and all the favors they can win. May we meet them all again next year and many new ones. The following is our criticism of the winners:

Light Brahmas.—Cock, 1st good hackle, comb too large, nice shape, some white in tail. 2nd lacks only in size, good comb, clean yellow legs well feathered. Hen, 1st and 2nd large birds. Cockerels, 1st beautiful legs well feathered, light hackle, body not quite correct in shape; 2nd coarse in comb and head, short back, head and tail too near each other, crooked toes. Pullets, 1st and 2nd good birds, small neat combs, fair in hackle, good symmetry.

D. Brahmas.—Cockerels, 1st large bird, fair comb, grand yellow legs well feathered, breast solid black, good tail. The pullets in this class were not up to the cockerel.

P. Cochins.—Cockerels, 1st neat comb, breast rich black, grand leg and toe feathering; 2nd good size, little high on legs, off on breast, not as well grown as 1st. Pullets, 1st beautiful color, real mahogany, finely penciled, neat comb, pale in lobe; 2nd not so nicely penciled, also off in lobe. Hen, 1st large size, good comb, nice penciling, rare sort; good color, leg well feathered, small comb.

W. Cochins.—The cocks were a poor lot. Hens, 1st nice white plumage, fair comb, plenty of cushion; 2nd loses in color of leg and comb.

Black Cochins.—Cocks, 1st short, stocky bird, bad comb, good color; 2nd better in legs and feet, also in comb, fails only in size. Hens, 1st grand cochin shape, neat comb, good in leg and toe feathering. The other hen in this class was not heavy enough to qualify.

Buff Cochins.—Cocks, 1st grand bird, nicely serrated comb, legs good color and well feathered; 2nd off in comb, color and shape. Hens, 1st splashy in plumage, not enough cushion. A better hen was not fat enough to weigh 7 pounds so was disqualified. Cockerels, 1st a daisy, grand shape, well feathered legs and toes, ought to win anywhere; 2nd loses in color and size, legs a beautiful color and well feathered. Pullets, 1st nice even color, good comb; another pullet weighed but $4\frac{3}{4}$ pounds.

Langshans were a large class; cocks, 1st nice plumage, legs rough; 2nd off in comb and shape. Hens, 1st large, only fair in comb; 2nd nice comb, some feathers on middle toe. Cockerels, 1st a genuine Langshan in shape, in good condition. Same pen contains 1st and 2nd pullets, a nice lot.

Barred Plymouth Rocks were a large class and a few birds were of high quality. Cocks 1st very large, coarse in comb, high on legs, tail carried forward, plumage good, 2nd a shade lighter in color small comb, but not nicely serrated, better in symmetry than 1st.

Hens—1st, yellow beak and leg, nice comb, rather dark plumage, and somewhat splashed in back; 2nd correct color of leg, nice comb and symmetry. An unnoticed hen of large size, nicely marked, neat in comb, a little pale in lobe was our choice for first. There were several others little short of the winners. Cockerels, 1st a beautiful, clear bird, neat comb, tail well barred to tip of feathers; 2nd trim little bird, light in color, off on comb and leggy.

Pullets.—1st neat head, and tail plumage just right, yellow legs—fit for keen competition; 2nd equally good except in lobe, which was a trifle pale, we noticed one or two others that would ornament any fanciers yard.

The White P. Rocks numbered but two—a cockerel and pullet. The former was badly frozen, and disqualified for “feathered shanks.” We examined this bird, but failed to find the feathers as stated. Pullet 1st nice colored legs good body, poor comb.

Wyandottes—were not a large class and the quality was but medium. Both the gold and silver were lumped under “Laced Wyandottes.” This seems to us poor economy, and will account in a great measure for the lack of interest manifested by breeders generally. Surely the breeders of this variety deserve better treatment at the hands of the managers of our poultry associations! and the breed is one worthy the attention of enthusiastic fanciers. We notice that other associations have followed in the wake of the Eastern Ontario, and take this opportunity to enter our protest against such classification. Breeders cannot be expected to make entries or feel grateful, when only half the amount offered for some inferior varieties, is placed upon their favorites. Cock 2nd off on breast and tail, only fair in comb, and not up to Standard weight.

Hens—1st good size and symmetry, clean yellow legs, and nicely laced all over, off on comb, 2nd better in comb, not so well laced on back. Pullets—1st good dark bird, well laced on breast and wing, nice comb; 2nd off on breast lacing. Several golden Wyandottes were on exhibition, most of which were off on comb or lacing; or both. We should like to see half a dozen good specimens, such as a certain breeder in the west has described in the columns of the REVIEW.

Dorkings were a small class, Cock 1st, capital size, color, and feet. Hens 1st a good one but might be a little better color on the breast; 2nd hen, good color and size, nice hackle.

White Leghorns—a large class; cocks 1st nice size, good legs off on comb, wattles and lobes; 2nd off on lobes and wattles, comb not quite right, fine color. Hens, 1st and 2d capital color, legs and combs about right. Cockerels, 1st a picture, comb A1 legs right color, grand lobes; 2nd heavy in comb; 1st pullet, a rare good one, little too much comb; 2nd fair comb nice lobe, fails in condition.

Brown Leghorns—Cockerels, 1st a beauty, grand comb, smooth white lobes good hackle; 2nd large comb, poor lobes. Pullets, 1st rather heavy in comb, nice color, beautiful breast; 1st hen good bird; 2nd little inferior.

Black Leghorns were represented by one hen a good one, which was given the red.

B. Spanish—Cock 1st large comb and good face; 2nd loses on these points. Cockerel 1st erect comb well serrated, smooth face; 2nd bad comb, nice face, small size not well grown. What has become of the Minorca? We did not find a single specimen.

Silver Polish—Cock 1st good crest, round deep breast, tail well expanded but splashed with grey; hen 1st a good one, plumage well laced, nice tail; cockerel 1st, off on breast, fair in crest, tail too close and splashed.

G. Polish—Cock 1st nice crest, bad tail; hen 1st nice crest, breast good shape and well laced, tail splashed.

Hamburgs—Golden Spangled were a bad lot.

Silver penciled do.

S. Spangled were a good class; cock 1st well spangled breast, good comb, hen 1st, small neat comb, nice lobe plumage well spangled; pullet 1st, off on comb, breast heavily marked, tail well tipped; 2nd better comb, good bird.

Games—B. B. Red—Cock 1st away up on good legs, long head with a villainous look about the eyes, grand style and color, tail well carried—wins well; 2nd loses in size; hen 1st good color, long head, 2nd rather dark in color, large size; cockerel, 1st long head, short hackle, whip tail carried a little too high, grand color for a young bird; pullet 1st a neat headed, upstanding bird, a little dark in color; 2nd grand in station fine tail, good head plenty of leg.

Brown Red Game—Cock 1st short in neck and legs, tail carried too high, head medium. Hens only moderate in quality.

G. D Wing—Cockerels, 1st long head hackle profuse, rather much tail, good color; 2nd a silver, fair hackle, color on back inclined to be golden; hen 1st a golden—good size as this variety runs 2nd—a golden, did not stand well when we looked her over; pullet 1st a nice silver small but shapely.

Game Bantams—B. B. Red, Cock, 1st a grand one in station, good head, tail and plenty of leg—rather dark in plumage wins easy; 2nd off on tail and carriage not so good as first, neat head; hen, 1st a beauty with capital head and neat comb, long close tail well carried, a rare good one; 2nd a worthy competitor. Cockerels, 1st a neat little bird, dark color legs long; 2nd too much breast, tail well carried; pullets, 1st a neat little bird; 2nd also good.

Brown Red—Cocks—1st too heavy in head and tail, profuse in hackle; hen a neat one; 1st cockerel a poor affair, 1st pullet much better. Quality in this variety appears to be vested in the females. D. Wing Cock, 1st well up on legs, stylish, a little on the large size; 2nd mottled breast long head, whip tail cockerel, 1st nice station, will probably outgrow the show pen but will make a useful breeder; 2nd a smaller bird, neat head, tail well carried, our choice for first; pullet very neat. Red Pyle—1st cockerel all out on condition, pullet 1st small bird, nice breast, head and tail; cock, 1st yellow legs capital head, a surplus of tail, color not decided enough; hen 1st, off on breast, lacks station; 2nd good station, color not decided, nice head and tail—rather large; pullet, 2nd very neat, legs yellow, short in body.

Pekin Bantams—Cock 1st good color short yellow legs well feathered, nice comb; 2nd light on breast, a little large, hen, 1st, short legs, nice cushion; 2nd light in color, pale in leg. Cockerels, 1st pale leg; 2nd grand symmetry, neat comb, short yellow legs well feathered, our choice for first; 1st pullet good, Cochinchina shape, short legs; 2nd yellow legs, too narrow in body, and too much tail.

Black Rose-Comb—Cock 1st, small neat head, fair comb, red in lobes; hen 1st very small size fair comb and lobe; cockerel, 1st a little beauty, nice lobe good tail; 2nd too long in leg, large size, lacks symmetry; pullet 1st very neat, off in comb; 2nd late bird, loses in condition.

Japanese Bantams—Only a cock and hen, fair birds often described.

Golden Sebright—Hen, 1st a beauty shapely, with good comb, not quite right in breast lacing, 2nd fair bird; pullet 1st nice back, off on breast; 2nd well up to first.

Ducks made a fine display. Pekins were good as were some other varieties Geese and Turkeys were good classes, especially the latter.

ALFRED GEDDES,
Secretary.

CHATHAM SHOW.

JUDGES NOTES.

Chatham show passed off very satisfactorily. I was surprised to find so many good birds, all owned in Chatham and neighborhood. Light and dark Brahmas, very good birds were the prize-winners; and in Cochins some very fair, 3 Langshans were especially good, and also 1st prize cockerel. There were some really good white Leghorn pullets and fine cockerels, which would have scored high had it not been for yellow plumage. There was quite a good show of brown Leghorns, and Games were well represented. The Secretary and President were very attentive, and score cards were nailed up just as fast as each section was judged, which gives quite a lot of interest to the exhibitor, to learn and see what and where their birds are cut.

Of course a show like St. Catharines with 1,200 birds to score makes a terrible lot of confusion because of the length of time it takes to score that number of birds. Scoring has its faults and its virtues. The length of time is its greatest fault, and one other fault is the amount of birds one judge has to score in so short a time, which makes one have to go ahead without giving much attention to all the minor details. Sometimes errors in entry and loss of number card, chicks having torn it off, all causing loss of time, and I shall hope to see the day when all birds can be judged in one day, so that the judges will have a little time to go over their work and see if any errors have been made, and have a friendly chat with exhibitors in clearing up any defects the exhibitors cannot see, that the judges saw when marking score card. The advantage derived from scoring is that we know how good the birds are and wherein the deficiency lies, and your humble servant knows of no other way in judging birds which will give to exhibitors, as a whole, so much valuable information. And I am sure if judges had more time to go around after the awards were made it would lend quite an enchantment to the arduous duties of a judge after the scoring is over. I am busy in Detroit now and will try and give you some of the important notices of the show.

Yours,

S. BUTTERFIELD.

Windsor, Jan. 27, 1890.

THE MILTON POULTRY AND PET STOCK SOCIETY SHOW.

Communicated.

The above Society is to be congratulated on the success of their show held in the town of Milton on 30 and 31st Dec. and Jan. 1st. The entries reached about 600 and the quality of the stock throughout was excellent, we have seldom seen all represented by such fine specimens. The looks of satisfaction beaming on the faces of the officers made it evident that all was favorable so far, and a hasty examination of the show pens was sufficient to convince us that they had good reason to feel pleased with the response the fanciers from far and near had made to their efforts. The Town Hall is an excellent room for a poultry show, being well lighted by windows on all sides, but if this Society prospers in proportion to its two years growth, it will have to look around for a larger hall as its capacity this year was taxed to its utmost. The coops were well arranged and are uniform and neat.

The light Brahma class had 78 entries and a look at the prize list will show you they were a grand lot from the scores attained. Most of the prizes were awarded to Jno. Cole, Hamilton and John G. Ford, Milton. The black breasted red Game had 42 entries, a large exhibit and grand birds.

All the birds were scored by T. H. Smelt of Guelph who worked faithfully from morning until darkness made further work impossible, we never saw a judge more diligent in his work, and he had good cause to be as he had a heavy contract on hand, as Mr. Bicknell, who had also been engaged to judge, was unable to be present, however we never before saw exhibitors so generally satisfied with the judging. They were permitted to see the work done and all were convinced that no partiality was shown, but the birds judged on their merits. A number of birds were disqualified but in every case where the owners were present they were perfectly satisfied with the justice of the decisions. All prize winners received the amount of prize money in full before leaving the show, and every one has since been settled with; the door receipts were very satisfactory to the management.

LATE ITEMS.

JAS. P. BESWICK,

Toronto, another of the old time fancies has passed away. Mr. Beswick was 68 years of age and was for 60 years a resident of Toronto. For some years he took a very active part in poultry culture, especially in Games, of which he was a liberal importer. His name will be well-known to such men as Bogue and McNeil, London, D. Allan, Galt, and others who were conversant with poultry matters years ago. His death was caused by inflammation of the lungs.

THE FANCIERS OF CHESTER,

a suburb of Toronto, have formed a club and have duly elected President, Manager, &c. It is purely a business enterprise.

AT DUNNVILLE

we learn, another such Club has been formed but we have as yet got no particulars.

Editor Review:—

DEAR SIR,—Would you please inform me through your valuable paper whether or not we can raise Golden Pheasants in south-west Highgate, Ont. H. B.

(Pheasants of all kinds can be, with proper care, successfully reared in any part of Canada. Several articles on this subject appeared in back numbers of REVIEW. A small "ad." would probably bring replies.
