Fire in Packing Case Flooded Big Building

Started the Automatic Sprinklers and Did Considerable Damage - Other Fires.

The fire department had a number of runs yesterday, but fortunately the total loss was small. The origin of a couple of them is somewhat of a mystery and Chief Thompson thinks there may be a firebug. There have been a score of these small scorches in the downtown section of the city within the past two weeks. The majority of them have started in out of the way spots, where there was no excuse.

At 8:30 a.m. the office of the Dominion Express Co., in the Union station, was damaged to the extent of $200. The office is in the tower and adjoins that of C. P. R. Solicitor MacMurchy. Both parties lost some valuable papers. Electric wires may have been the cause.

At 9:45 a.m. 7 Centre-street, a rough-cast house, occupied by S. Goldstein, was scorched. Damage to house was $50 to contents $50.

At 10:20 a.m. a small blaze was discovered at a stairway in the Merchants' Bank, 13 Wellington-street. This is one of the mysterious fires. The damage was $25.

At 4:45 p.m. there was another run to the Nordheimer Building, 75 York-street. A blazing packing case in the room of Julius Elman, agent for gardeners, was the cause. The damage by fire was trifling, but the automatic sprinklers got busy and did the rest. The damage to the several firms in the building will run up in the hundreds. The same thing happened a few months ago. A quick and liberal use of the tarpaulins and a muscular use of brooms to sweep the water out saved the occupants a good deal of loss.

An hour later a plug of the automatic sprinkler in the McKinnon building, a block to the south, blew out. This sent in a still alarm and brought the firemen out again. Fortunately the trouble was in the basement and the damage was trifling. Cause unknown. Fire in a stable at 325 West Block-street did $150 damage; cause unknown.

Albert Squalls, aged 24, who was employed by the C. P. R., was yesterday sent to the Central for five months for theft of a web of cloth valued at $70 from the freight shed.

STEWART THE CANDIDATE TO CARRY W. MIDDLESEX

Secures Conservative Nomination in Close Contest With Samuel McCreery.

Mr. Bridges, Jan. 29.—(Special).—The Conservatives of West Middlesex, in convention today, placed George A. Stewart of Strathroy in nomination for the by-election made necessary by the resignation of Hon. G. W. Ross.

Three candidates went to the convention, but the fight was between Samuel J. McCreery of Glencoe and Mr. Stewart, strong men in their respective districts. The honor fell to Mr. Stewart by a close vote, chiefly upon the ground that he had carried the party standard in previous contests.

The outlook is regarded as very promising. The Conservatives being united and determined to make a strong bid for the constituency, which only once in its history has returned a Conservative.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary, and Hon. Adam Beck delivered addresses. The provincial secretary explained in detail the position of the government with regard to the rural public schools.

Hon. Adam Beck confirmed the announcement that seats would be abolished from the Thames for a period of two years. He scored a strong point when he pointed out that the fish being taken from the river, which were said to be unfit for Canadian consumption, found ready sale in the United States to the extent of $15,000 worth each year.

The following nominations go before the convention were made: Samuel J. McCreery, Glencoe; Isaac Walker, Woodgreen; Neil Galbraith, Ekfrid; George A. Stewart, Strathroy; George Lewis, Metcalfe; Richard Dunlop, Napier; Malcolm S. Leitch, Alton; Thomas English, Wadsworth; Robert McLoughlin, Metcalfe; Dr. Wilson, Wadsworth; H. C. Pope, Strathroy; J. A. Kinnie, Glencoe; William Young, Caradoc; J. W. Cameron, mayor, Strathroy; Major Beattie, ex-M. P., and Dr. Roome, ex-M. P., London.

The annual meeting resulted in the election of the following officers: President, William Young, Caradoc; vice-president, Isaac Walker, Woodgreen; secretary-treasurer, George Lewis, Metcalfe; delegates, Delawar, John Hooper, Caradoc; D. J. Donald, son, Strathroy; Metcalfe, George Lewis, Strathroy; Ekfrid, N. A. Galbraith, Appin; Mosa, A. B. McKellar, Glencoe; Wadsworth, Thomas English; Glencoe, John Oldrieve; Newbury, Charles Tucker; Strathroy, H. C. Pope.

The first notice officially received by the government of the vacancy in the seat was the announcement in Saturday's Canada Gazette that Hon. Mr. Ross had become a senator. This reached the government on Monday, before which date no action could be taken. It is anticipated that the election will be over by March.

NEW SITE FOR KNOX COLLEGE Will Be on Varsity Campus With Frontage on St. George St.

The new site for Knox College will cut off a long strip 25 feet wide from the west side of university campus, and will include the properties and dwellings of Hon. S. C. Biggs, Esq., and Mr. McLaren and Prof. A. B. MacCallum. The amount for the purchase of property and the erection of the new building is estimated at $500,000, which will be raised by subscription, and which it is hoped will realize over and above the price which the city should contribute any amount which would be required. This was discussed at the senate meeting last night, and the popular impression is that the full amount would be realized, in which case there would be no hurry about the raising of the money, which will increase in value each year.

The new college will front on university campus, and will be situated midway between the old Knox College and the new convocation hall. The location is admirable.

Arrangements will be made to initiate the canvass for funds at once. It will begin in Toronto, and it is estimated that the city should contribute any amount which would be required.

In order to carry on the campaign which this new enterprise will involve, the board has decided to ask Dr. E. B. Ballantyne, professor in church history, to devote special attention to the organizing and prosecuting of the canvass. It was also unanimously agreed to appoint Dr. Ballantyne as colleague and successor to Principal McLaren. The venerable principal heartily concurred in the action. It was his desire to complete his eighty years of work, and if spared to see the completion of the proposition, he would gladly hand over the reins to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make new blood. They soothe the nerves and strengthen the whole system. They strike right at the cause of agonizing neuralgia.

John McDermott, Bond Healer, Ont. was seized with pains in all parts of my body. I consulted a doctor, who told me the trouble was neuralgia. He treated me with morphine, but it did not help me. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to try them. By the time I had taken three boxes, there was a good improvement in my case, and after I had taken ten boxes, every ache and pain had disappeared. I had gained in weight and felt better in every way. I shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the blood is poor, the nerves are starved; this is the cause of neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance, paralysis or locomotor ataxia. All these troubles are cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because they actually make new blood, and red blood that feeds and soothes the starved nerves and sends health and strength to every part of the body. That is why these pills also cure such troubles as rheumatism, anemia, chronic erysipelas, indigestion, and the special ailments of growing girls and women. But you must get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. If in doubt, write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. The pills will be sent by mail at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. If you are allergic, try them today.

Minority Shareholders of H. G. & B. Railway Are Threatening Action

Hamilton, Jan. 29.—(Special).—One of the big events of the year, musically, took place this evening, when the Edgar Choir gave its third annual concert. Bruce A. Carey, the conductor, was highly complimented. The assisting artists were: Miss Freda Steiner, soprano; and Gwendolyn K.C.; John G. Gault and J. R. Mould, directors of the Hamilton Grimsby & Beamsville Railway, with fraud will be issued at once, so the representatives of the minority shareholders declared.

A large section of the city council is very suspicious of the move made by the majority shareholders to have the issue of $200,000 stock set aside, claiming that the allotment of the stock to the majority shareholders was illegal.

Under the terms of the agreement, the board in asking to be heard by the council Wednesday evening. Many of the aldermen think the board should deliver its judgment in the case, all they want is for the company to live up to its agreement. They do not want any saw-orf or compromise, and do not welcome the railway board as a mediator between the city and the company.

The episode on the Dundas car, was this morning fined $10, and bound over in $400 to keep the peace.

Pleasure Not Theirs. The aldermen last year, with the object of petitioning the governor-general to release the city of Toronto, are requested to send their claims to Mrs. Dickardson, 30 Givens-street, Toronto, before Feb. 15th, 1907. John W. Williams and Mrs. Richardson, Executors thereof. 3095

The killing resulted apparently from a quarrel over possession of the factory. Courty had lately got possession of it by foreclosure of a mortgage. Courty was awakened by an attack on the door and when he opened it was greeted by a volley of bullets. John Ged, who was assisting to guard the property, was wounded. Ged identified Orayns as the man who fired the shots.

MR. GRAHAM'S PLATFORM.

Yesterday's proceedings in the legislature lend added point to Prof. Goldwin Smith's persistent contention that there is no room in Ontario for two political parties organized on existing lines. The truth is that the only parties the province can afford to have are those that represent respectively the people and the franchise-holding corporations. For this is the real question before the citizens to-day, and it is important enough to form the dividing line between one set of politicians and the other. How misleading the names attached to the present provincial parties are was made clearly manifest in the excellent speech delivered by the new Liberal leader. It is illuminating to find Mr. Graham declaring that his party must make a right-about-turn and look ahead and not behind. That if the Liberal party was to justify its name, should have been its normal attitude, and the Mr. Graham could scarcely be expected to condemn in explicit terms the policy of his predecessor he certainly did so by a most eloquent silence. With Mr. Graham's platform The World can scarcely quarrel, even if it desired to do so. But believing that measures are of more importance than the perpetuation of meaningless party names, we welcome his platform, not as a substitution for that of the premier, but as a support of it. Mr. Whitney must now see the strength of public sentiment behind the movement for the protection of the provincial utilities, services and resources from corporate exploitation. Recent exposures must have convinced him that any real relief must come from greater trust in the people. One omission that Mr. Graham's deliverance—that touching civil service reform. This may have been inadvertent, but there can be no doubt about the necessity and advisability of severing the civil service of the province from all party and political associations. The use made of it by the late government was unpardonable and offered many openings for retaliation, which Mr. Whitney has done well to refuse. The province is strong enough and rich enough to re-organize the civil service on proper lines, and Mr. Whitney will establish no better claim to public gratitude than by undertaking and accomplishing the task. With this latest development, interest in the legislature will be centered round the effect it will have on the policy of the government. If it has its due weight it will compel an even more decided stand in the future for the cause of public ownership and operation of the provincial utilities and services, and for the strict administration of its natural resources in the interest of the people. Mr. Graham's points along this line were all good and sound, and if he is insistent upon them his term of leadership will be a credit to himself and of enduring benefit to Ontario and its cities.

SALARIES OF HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTORS.

There is just one weakness in the policy of the Ontario Government with regard to teachers' salaries. It pays wretchedly low salaries to its own officials in the education department. Principals of normal schools and high school inspectors are shamefully underpaid, in comparison with the scale prevailing elsewhere. That such men as Inspectors Spotton and Wetherall should be drawing only $2700, or $800 less than the most highly paid principal whom they inspect, and $1300 less than Public School Inspector Hughes, is a disgrace to the province that employs them. Men of this calibre are not influenced together by financial considerations in accepting a position elsewhere as they hold. As has been said elsewhere in discussing the salary question, ambition gratified, the possession of power and the sense of achievement appeal to many men of the highest attainments and soles them for under-remuneration. But that is no excuse for parsimony on the part of the employing and—benefiting AGENCY. If the government wishes to show its good faith in the effort to improve the teachers' lot, let it set an example by paying its own officials on a scale that raises them above their subordinates not in the pay of the province.

CANADA AND THE WEST ATLANTIC

In another column The World prints an editorial leader which appeared the other day in The New York Times. It takes as a test a comment made by Mr. W. F. Maclean in the Dominion house of commons to the effect that he regarded "certain incidents of the Jamaica earthquake as a distinct loss to imperial prestige on this continent—a thing all Canadians took pride in." He went on to point out that there was a lesson for us in the withdrawal of the British naval stations, and that we might yet need of a more Canadian flag on a Canadian ship in seas that are as much ours as our neighbors. The thesis which The Times maintains against this view is that "Great Britain needs no naval station on this side of the Atlantic because her possessions and her interests are secure from attack." That security is, of course, provided by the United States, and its resolve to maintain existing conditions on this hemisphere. Free from aggressive designs itself and united in close and abiding friendship with the parent land, British naval stations in the West Atlantic are superfluous. British possessions and British interests are safe from molestation by the United States, while molestation from any other quarter would instantly become a matter of grave concern to its people. "Reflection we imagine," concludes The Times, "will measurably diminish Mr. Maclean's regrets over the absence of British naval vessels from the Atlantic coast."

THIS LINE OF ARGUMENT IS NOW AND AGAIN HEARD IN CANADA FROM THAT CLASS OF PUBLICISTS WHO IMAGINE THAT PROPER PREPARATION FOR SELF DEFENSE AND THE MAINTENANCE OF NATIONAL RIGHTS INVOLVES MILITARISM AND OTHER OFFENSES AGAINST THE CAUSE OF PEACE.

They presumably are willing enough to reappear in the real or fancied security offered by the Monroe doctrine and the self-denying glorification which forms part of the patriotic eloquence of our assertive neighbors. But to exist in pusillanimous dependence of this kind is not likely to be acceptable to Canadians generally, and would argue a deficiency in the spirit and drive essential for the building of a strong and self-reliant nation. And the point for Canadians is not at all whether British squadrons in the West Atlantic were necessary or their withdrawal expedient or the reverse as a matter of imperial naval policy, but it is what position the Dominion is to occupy in the changed circumstances. The transfer of the important naval bases of Halifax and Esquimaux to Canada's care marks another step in the evolution of the empire and its component states. It was an admission that in future each of these states must undertake the duty of maintaining the imperial prestige and its own, in its own seas and within its own relative sphere of influence. Unquestionably the fact that when the Kingston disaster occurred no British ship was on hand or within call, and the privilege of rendering first aid in the task of repressing disorder and relieving suffering devolved upon vessels of the United States navy, did weaken imperial prestige in the West Indies. It demonstrated the unpreparedness of the authorities to cope with a sudden and grave peril demanding the immediate assistance of a disciplined force, and it led directly to the unpleasant Swettenham-Davis episode, where the governor's undiplomatic expression of his natural irritation at the assumption of authority by an alien armed force, obscured its excusable character. The incident illustrates the moral effect of even a solitary representative of the imperial flag, for had a ship of the royal navy been in port, the admiral would scarcely have forgotten to be conventionally circumspect. There is thus a lesson for Canada in the incidents attending the Kingston catastrophe, and it is absolutely true that Canadians may yet find need of a Canadian flag on a Canadian ship which will at once assert our national staidness and our partnership in a world wide empire.

WHAT SEPARATE SCHOOLS ARE.

A correspondent asks us to inform him thru The World regarding the significance, in Canada, of the term "separate" schools. In The Canadian Handbook, published in 1905, under Dominion Government auspices, the following explanation is given: "In the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec (wholly) the public schools are divided on religious lines, there being in each public school called Roman Catholic separate schools and Protestant separate schools. Parents elect to which they shall send their children to be taught." "In the other provinces," according to The Handbook, "the education laws recognize no division on these lines." This was accurate at the date of writing, but, by the constitution of the two new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, "separate" schools are imposed on them.

THE RAILWAYS AND THE BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS FOR CANADA.

Fifty-first Article.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Liberal Club on Monday evening, Mr. A. A. Briggs made the assertion that the board of railway commissioners for Canada was the best commission Canada has ever had. When a man makes a statement of this nature he should necessarily have some information upon which to base his remark, and we think that in the interests of the people of Canada Mr. Briggs should tell us what he knows about the board of railway commissioners. If their work has been beneficial to the country there should be no difficulty in establishing that fact, but up to the present time we have not been able to learn of anything done by the board in question that would warrant the assertion made by Mr. Briggs.

We have repeatedly made the statement that the board of railway commissioners for Canada is the greatest farce ever presented to the people of Canada, and we believe that we have given the public convincing evidence that we knew whereof we spoke. We did not ask them to accept our statement as being correct without undertaking to support it by facts, and these facts have not yet been disputed.

If, however, Mr. Briggs is in a position to substantiate his assertion we would suggest to him that now is the time to do it, and we will throw our columns open to him for that purpose. We would like to learn in what way the board of railway commissioners has been a benefit to this country. The only legislation of a general character passed by the board in question was issued in the interests of the carrying companies. This fact is beyond dispute, and it is also absolutely correct that they have failed to perform the work entrusted to them.

The board of railway commissioners should be a power for good throughout the country, but in order to do effective work a complete reorganization is necessary. As at present constituted, it is simply a source of daily aggravation to the people of Canada.

Canada needs a Theodore Roosevelt. Canada requires a new political party.

The proposed public ownership league may produce a Roosevelt, and it may also prove strong enough to control the political destinies of the country. The old parties have outlived their usefulness. They will not permit any man to use his judgment in the interests of the constituents—implicit obedience to the demand of the party is their motto. The board of railway commissioners should be a power for good throughout the country, but in order to do effective work a complete reorganization is necessary. As at present constituted, it is simply a source of daily aggravation to the people of Canada.

In the eyes of the public these men stand out as manly men. Can as much be said for the premier when he seeks to become the keeper of the conscience of every man within the ranks of the Liberal party? It is just such actions as those referred to that destroy political parties, and it is time for the people of Canada to take notice of the fact that they are not willing to approve of the attempt made by the leader of the government to coerce their representatives. Every member of parliament is entitled to the privilege of maintaining his independence and taking whatever position his judgment dictates in connection with legislation submitted for consideration.

In the eyes of the people the strongest men in the house of commons to-day are the independent members, and if Canadians will work together for the good of the country there will be such an increase in the number of independent members in parliament that they will be able to hold the balance of power and force legislation in the interests of the people.

Join the Public Ownership League and give it your personal and active support. This league should not be confined to the City of Toronto—there is room for it wherever there are thinking men. Send in your name and become enrolled in the ranks of those who are working for the essential for the building of a strong and self-reliant nation. NEED NO SQUADRONS HERE LASTING PEACE ASSURED

New York Times Says Britain's Possessions and Interests Are Secure From Attack.

The New York Times of Jan. 24 has an editorial commenting on W. F. Maclean's remark in parliament that the withdrawal of the British Atlantic squadrons was a distinct loss to imperial prestige on this continent. The Times says: "Lamenting what he described as 'a distinct loss to imperial prestige on this continent,' Mr. W. F. Maclean, a member of the Canadian parliament at Ottawa, said during the session of the house on Tuesday, when Secretary Root was expected to be present, but was not: 'British naval stations on this Atlantic Coast are no more.' For the best of all reasons—that they are superfluous. In his brief speech to his hosts of the Canadian Club on that same day Mr. Root, speaking of the pursuit of the ideals of liberty and justice by Great Britain and the United States, declared that 'they work side by side for the peace and righteousness of the world in peace with each other.'"

Great Britain needs no naval station on this side of the Atlantic, because her possessions and her interests are secure from attack. Where there is no foe there need be no defenders. Englishmen have deplored the lack of a British naval force in the West Indies, so pointedly brought to their attention by the emergency of the Kingston earthquake, where our own ships were first to offer relief. But the British government knows, and we know, that the maintaining of a squadron in the West Indies would be an empty formality, an expenditure of money to no purpose. Among the most fatuous of all the explanations offered of Gov. Swettenham's escape was that based upon the theory that by reason of the proximity of Jamaica to the Panama Canal England has cause to regard with peculiar jealousy the presence of any part of our naval force near that island. His Majesty's government knows as well as we know that without a ship or a gun, without a fort or a soldier, Jamaica would be as safe from our aggression or even from our coveting as England's home domain. We do not think that quite the same thing could be said for any other great power that ours occupied the same geographical relation to Jamaica.

For one thing, England knows that we are in quest of no further colonial adventure. We feel no land hunger. Perhaps, indeed, we are a little uncomfortable over our recent setbacks. But that is not the main reason why Jamaica is safe. It is because, chiefly, of the friendly relations between the English and the American people. England's possessions are everywhere safe from us as ours are everywhere safe from her. It is difficult even for the purposes of hypothesis to put ourselves in the frame of mind to imagine the kind of aggression on the part of one of us against the territorial interests of the other. We hear sometimes that the friendly feeling between the two nations is mostly talk, a sentiment furnishing very proper material for after-dinner discourse but convertible into a safe basis of policy. That is a baseless and mistaken comment.

We heard something of it last summer from a distinguished American visitor to England, and there was well-nigh universal dissent. If Anglo-American animosity were in the beginning only "talk," it has ripened into an enduring reality. Talk can accomplish many things, and so many an American has been misled by the talk of the English people that it would be contrary to reason and human experience if multitudes of converts had not been made. There can be no doubt about the feeling of friendship and the desire of its unbroken continuance all the time affect our mutual professions of friendship and sisterly solicitude. It would be such an exception to the law of human progress and the advancement of civilized nations as to demand an explanation which, we think would be found only in disproof and denial.

More and more commercial interests are coming to have their say about a century ago, when the ambitious princes prompted them to make war, they encountered no very effective restraint, and treaties—that of Vienna, for instance—were drawn

MANZANI HIRED DETECTIVE TO SEE JAIL OFFICIALS

Found Out That Three of His Henchmen Bore Little Love for Him.

The crown case in the Vanzant enquiry will be closed this morning. The defence will be heard to-day and to-morrow, when it is said the case will be finished.

Yesterday before the court adjourned Mr. E. J. Healey, who is appearing for Vanzant and Connolly, asked for a further adjournment to marshal his defence. He also wanted his witnesses paid by the crown.

In reference to the latter, Commissioner Judd said he had no power, and on the other hand, the defence must go on to-day with the witnesses present. He might adjourn a short time for further witnesses, but no further time was to be wasted.

Dr. Olinwood, warden of the Central Prison, explained that the Central had only accommodation for 400 prisoners, and it was not large enough for the number sentenced. Often there were 100 prisoners awaiting admission from all over the province, and there were cases where criminals served out their terms in Toronto jail. He had known nothing irregular in the conduct of Governor Vanzant.

Dr. James H. Richardson, jail physician, testified that he had prescribed for Connolly for a contagious disease. Charles Low of the Canadian Detective Agency, who was engaged to ferret out some points about Vanzant for the governor himself, was the next witness. He stated that he was to visit Markham Township and the officers of the jail, and get what information he could about Vanzant. He visited Deputy Wilson, Engineer Brown, Steward MacMillan and Gorman, Robertson and Dr. Pett. He represented himself as a private enquirer, and swore positively that he told no one he was from the provincial secretary's department.

Witness had never seen Edith Elton in connection with the case. He had made note of what each party visited and said, and turned it in to his superintendent. Dr. James H. Richardson, who is also appearing for Vanzant, stated that he had the various reports.

In cross-examination, witness said that Wilson told him that Vanzant was not a fit and proper person to be in charge of the jail. A Conservative should have the job. "If Wilson denies it, he says what is untrue," asked Mr. Higgins.

"Wilson said he introduced a man to the governor, supposed to be Simms, but that man was not there," said Mr. Simms at all, to identify Vanzant as having taken part in an election in West Elgin. He went there as a spy," said the witness.

Witness saw MacMillan, who stated to him that Vanzant was appointed by the Board of Management instead of the sheriff, and that it was high time he was out of a man of the party put in. He threw the evidence at the witness that he was dead as a brick. Vanzant. They had had considerable conversation. "Brown, MacMillan and Wilson seemed to be in a league," said the witness.

The Cause of It. A Mr. Judd of Markham told the detective that there were no charges against Vanzant previous to 1900. "This is the cause of the whole thing," said Mr. Higgins.

Mark Kellar, erstwhile a prisoner at the jail, stated that a Mr. Purcell of 72 Albert-street used to visit him at the jail. He would meet her in the jail office. Asked where the young lady was, witness said she had gone to Detroit for her health.

Joseph Tenover told how Governor Vanzant connected a sale for a prisoner called Johnston. Thomas Lonergan, a jail guard, testified that meetings were held about Vanzant. Brown had bet him $5 that the governor would be fired before Christmas.

Percy Newton denied that he had ever seen the witness, Macintosh, in reference to messages from Guard Connolly. The time of the commission was used up for half an hour after the noon adjournment while a witness was sent for. Mr. Van Loan, a crown witness, was ill.

A Visit From the Governor. Miss Mary Purcell, formerly of 72 Albert-street, was called. Mr. Vanzant called to see her at her home. He was not invited to call, although she had visited the jail several times. "Had he any reason for calling on you?" asked Mr. Baird.

"What did he say when he came there?" "I can't remember." "Were you surprised to see him?" asked Commissioner Judd.

"I did not expect him, but I think he called for some papers. My stepmother was there all the time." "Where is your stepmother?" "I have not seen or heard of her since she left home four months ago. I am not living with them now. I live on Borden-street."

Cross-examined, witness stated that Vanzant came to her house for bills. He took a message from Guard Connolly to a woman, and Newton assisted him to deliver it. He was sure of his man, despite the fact that Newton denied knowledge of witness at the morning session.

Charles Anderson had told him that he had a good notion to chuck Lowery and Connolly over the bridge." Anderson denied this in previous evidence.

Bowmanville Oddfellows Coming. To-morrow evening a strong delegation of Bowmanville Oddfellows will be entertained by Toronto Lodge, I. O. O. F., in College-street Hall. The visitors will be accompanied by a large number of candidates for initiation, whom the Bowmanville degree team will put thru, at the same time giving picturesque explications of the initiatory and subsequent degrees.

The ceremonial installation of officers of the Oriental Order of Humilité and Perfection, Xerxes Sanctorum, No. 1, will take place on Saturday evening, followed by the typical entertainment and banquet.

REQUEST RAILWAY BOARD TO ACCEPT CITY ROUTES

Controllers So Decide—Negotiations for Radials May Be Called Off.

MEETINGS TO-DAY. 10.30 a. m.—Board of control. 3 p. m.—Island committee. 4 p. m.—Fire and light committee.

The railway board will be asked to vary its routine order so as to provide for the running of the Bathurst-street, Arthur-street and Winchester-street cars over the city's routes, and also to withdraw its injunctions which prevent the city from interfering with the running of the cars. Controller Hocken obtained the consent of the board of control yesterday in his motion along the above lines. The controller would have liked to have asked that it be declared that the city engineer had a right to order the routes, but the mayor thought only one point could be pressed.

The complaint of E. King Dodds moved Controller Harrison to propose that the railway board be asked to take up the question of street cars that only operated over a portion of a route.

This was also adopted. The street railway must answer before Magistrate Denison to-day for non-removal of the street car used as a ticket office at the southeast corner of Victoria and Richmond-streets. The city solicitor has advised the city architect that the car is to be classed as a wooden building, and as such, should be excluded from the district.

In the absence of Mr. Rust, Acting City Engineer Pelletier has written a letter of protest to the street railway against the dumping of passengers at King and Dufferin-streets. Gave the Game Away. Corporation Counsel Fullerton is incensed at the publication of the city's plans for keeping King-street open for street car service. He says that when the company got wind that a check was to be made on Yonge-street on Monday night, they pressed many cars into service, so that a fair test of the traffic could not be made.

Manager W. H. Moore of the Metropolitan Railway says, in a letter to the mayor, that unless the city will agree to materially alter its terms for the entrance of the radials, further negotiations are off.

Street Work to Be Extended. There will be no extension of Harding-street from Clinton-street to Ossington-avenue. Property owners have been up in arms against being taxed on the undertaking ever since the basis of assessment was fixed, and last week a petition signed by 200 of the 724 owners affected was submitted to the court of revision. The city clerk has gone carefully over the list, and yesterday he certified to its accuracy before the court. The Assessment Act provides that if the number of owners of property within 30 days of notice being sent out, against such a work, is sufficient to block the undertaking.

The Building By-Laws. City Architect McCallum is exercised over the delay on the part of the board of trade in reporting on the draft of the new building by-laws. Further progress with them has been held back for some weeks on the board's account.

"If they don't hurry up, the city may as well adopt the old by-laws again. The new draft contains most-likely concessions," he remarked yesterday. As to complaints that the regulations for building houses are unduly strict, Mr. McCallum says that in Buffalo and Rochester, which have their own by-laws, the thickness is required, by several inches.

Too Late. Controller Harrison's "anti-Ottawa" campaign re Yonge-street bridge is promised a serious setback. The city solicitor says he understands that all private bills must be received by the government within six weeks of the opening of a session, and that a $400 penalty must be handed over. Mr. Chisholm will look further into the question.

The board of control has agreed to the Grand Trunk's suggestion that the railway commission be asked to defer a decision on the high-level bridge across the Don at street-level, until the whole waterfront problem has been reported on.

Dealing With the Estimates. The fire and light committee and the island committee, at their meetings to-day will thresh out their estimates. The parks and exhibition committee and the property committee will do likewise to-morrow, while the board of works will complete its work Friday. The mayor hopes by the end of the week to have the estimates ready for the pruning of the board of control, and to rush them on to council with the least delay possible.

Chairman A. G. Geary of the board of works, who opposed James-street extension last year, says he has no wish that the street be opened, and that it has been passed by council. He is accordingly adverse to entertaining the petition against the project, which will be brought before the committee on Friday next.

For the carrying out of the municipal asphalt plant undertaking, the board recommends the purchase of 12 dump wagons at $140 each.

Power Requirements. Commissioner of Industries Thompson was instructed to ascertain the quantity of electric power that factories and other consumers would agree to take from the city when the power commission is ready to deliver it.

The mayor has further explained his apprehensions of a soaring tax rate. The street-cleaning estimates, he points out, are $250,000 more than for 1906, while the items amounting to $84,000 which the city council is adverse to having conveniently tided along as a debit on the city's account, will add extra, if taken out of current revenue.

Another large industry is promised for Ashbridge's Marsh, the board of control having agreed to lease three acres, with a frontage of 500 feet on Cherry-street, and extending 1400 feet along the shore of the marsh, and being a malleable iron works. It is stated that $125,000 will be expended at the outset on a plant and that about 150 hands will be employed.

Dr. Sheard says he expects within a few days to raise the quarantine on the Brock-avenue houses from which the city has ordered the removal of patients were removed. All the sufferers are doing well and he hopes to be able to let them out of the pavilion on the Swiss Cottage on Monday.

Water Meters. For the waterworks department in pursuance of the plan whereby every street and lot will have its own meter, $100,000 is being asked. Last year $50,000 was so spent. It is claimed that much waste of water is prevented by their use.

The Tabernacle Church on the west side of Markham-street, north of Bloor-street, will be exempt from taxation. The establishing of a palm garden on the site of the old pavilion in Allan Gardens is suggested in a letter from Sir Henry Pelletier.

The city lamp-lighters will receive a slight increase in pay, bringing the wages up to 22 1/4 cents an hour.

WOMAN FREEZES TO DEATH. A Winnipeg Tragedy—Intoxicated, Succumbs in Her Home. Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—(Special)—Lying on the floor of the front room at her home, 397 Logan-avenue, with her head propped up against the bed and fully dressed, Mrs. Mary Throughton, aged nearly 70 years, was discovered shortly before noon to-day, frozen to death. The circumstances surrounding the death of the woman were more or less unknown, but judging from the surroundings, the old lady had come home under the influence of liquor and, lying on the floor, had succumbed to the intense cold without any effort to protect herself against the elements.

Weak Men. Try This. DRUGS CURE ACUTE DISEASES, BUT FAIL TO CURE CHRONIC TROUBLES. Drugs cure acute diseases because the latter are of poisonous origin, and the poison in drugs counteracts or neutralizes the poison in the body. They fail to cure chronic diseases, as you know who have tried them. Chronic ailments are caused by depletion of the nerve tissues, lack of recreation, of fresh air and of exercise, the non-assimilation of food, and often by excesses in eating, drinking and numerous other excesses and violations of the laws of nature which result in weakness of the various organs of the human body. It goes without saying that the taking of poison into the body will not, cannot cure these conditions, for poisons do not give nourishment. What must be the means of cure? It certainly must be something which replaces and reinstates the lost or wasted vitality. It must be a natural element of the body, not an unnatural one. No one will claim that poisons are natural elements of the human body, for it revolts every time they are taken. An experience of more than 20 years with drugs and Electricity has confirmed me in the belief until it has become fully grounded knowledge that Electricity alone, without any other material aid, will replace and renew lost energy and vitality. Thousands of grateful letters from cured people tell me that drugs failed to cure, and that Electricity as given by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is the only successful means of cure. These people will tell you they have been cured by this Belt of weakness, nervousness, backache, rheumatism, sciatica, stomach troubles, constipation and liver and kidney ailments, after spending large sums of money fruitlessly in drugs and other treatments. Electricity cured them by exercising the relaxed nerves, muscles and organs, and putting back into them the element which was lost, and which is the foundation of strength. Dear Sir,—I am pleased to be able to tell you that I have derived great benefit from your Electric Belt. When I started to wear it, my back felt much run down, but after three months I must say that I feel perfectly restored to my usual health and vitality. Thanking you for the great benefit received from your treatment, I remain yours very truly, R. L. HARRIS. Get it now, while you run no risk. My confidence in my method enables me to offer you those terms. Any man or woman who will secure me can use the Belt at my risk, and PAY WHEN CURED. READ WITH CARE. DR. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT is positively the only Electric Belt offered to the public where you have a regular physician in attendance. You have his advice and consultation FREE OF CHARGE. FREE BOOK. RAN CARLOAD OF STUDENTS TO DOOR OF POLICE STATION

U.C.C. Boys Get Too Giddy on Avenue Road Car and Motorist Almost Managed to Corral the Whole Bunch—Some Names Taken.

An attempt at a wholesale arrest of a street car jammed with Upper Canada College boys, by steering a course for No. 5 police station in the old Yorkville town hall, was made by the motorman of car No. 102 last night.

The net results were the loss of about 20 minutes in transit to some labor citizens who happened to be on board, and whose remarks seemed to point towards the need of another street car.

At College-street there was a halt while the conductor replaced the pole which had been wrenched from its socket. A scuffling of the hordes failed to locate a policeman, and the car rolled on in darkness.

When we get to heaven We'll give our college yell, And if we're not so fortunate.

That the license to exporters would not be limited to any time nor would it be subject to any quantity for export, beyond saying that only the surplus would be exported.

Mr. Maclean suggested that the power license should be granted in time, for man and for machinery, and that the license to export should be granted at all.

Mr. Aylesworth again repeated that there would be no power generated at Niagara Falls than could be used in Canada.

Mr. R. Borden thought that the bill vested too great discretion in one man, a commission might be appointed to do this work, or at least to investigate the conditions and recommend to the minister or to the government what license should be granted and upon what terms.

Mr. Maclean suggested that the Hydro-Electric Commission would be a suitable board to consider these questions.

So far from the Ontario market being limited to 40,000 horsepower, it was nearer 200,000 horsepower. Why should parliament interfere with the Province of Ontario?

Mr. W. F. Cocksbut took exception to Mr. Aylesworth's estimate that 40,000 horsepower might be required for the Dominion government not to interfere with the power policy of the Whitney government.

Mr. Lennox (South Simcoe) doubted if any good would be accomplished by this legislation.

Mr. Bristol (Centre Toronto) called attention to section 4 of the bill. All power to be vested in the minister. This seemed a dangerous thing in view of the fact that the house was not in session at the time.

This physician, who has never heretofore been mentioned in connection with the case, said that he had seen Dr. Street in Montreal, Dr. Street declared that he and a friend, a Montreal dentist, sat down to a table where Dr. Street and White was when he was killed, that he had a good view of Harry Thaw's face, that he saw the revolver in his hand, and that he saw the shot fired.

He had taken occasion when he met any of the gentlemen concerned to say that he was not a party to the case, but that the university was desirable, but delay was better than a hasty appointment.

Dr. Street, Formerly of Montreal, May Be Valuable Witness For Defence.

Boston, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A young physician who says he has had many years' experience with the insane in an asylum, who declares he saw Harry Thaw shoot and kill Stanford White at the Madison Square garden, and who is willing to take the witness stand and swear that the young millionaire was mentally unbalanced at the time he fired the fatal shot.

He had taken occasion when he met any of the gentlemen concerned to say that he was not a party to the case, but that the university was desirable, but delay was better than a hasty appointment.

As time went on the government would try to get the mind of the people on all subjects upon which they were legislating. He did not understand Mr. Graham's remark about the trouble over the education bill. There was no trouble. The greatest newspaper in Canada had declared in favor of the bill, and the government should not abate one tittle of it.

Mr. White said that he had seen Dr. Street in Montreal, Dr. Street declared that he and a friend, a Montreal dentist, sat down to a table where Dr. Street and White was when he was killed, that he had a good view of Harry Thaw's face, that he saw the revolver in his hand, and that he saw the shot fired.
