Mr. Morin, Minister of the Interior, in

THE PREMIER'S SALARY.

The Montreal Gazette comes out squarely, and on very good grounds, for an increase in the salary of the Prime Minister of Canada. It says:

It is not creditable to this country that its chosen leader should be driven to financial suits to make provision for his family, and that the well-known fact that his official income is not adequate to the demands of his position should be the occasion for stories of debt and projected bankruptcy. The serious illness and strained circumstances of the Prime Minister, which made him the recipient of a tribute from his friends which did credit to their generosity, and which was none the less regrettable, in addition to the fact that John Thompson died in such circumstances that Parliament felt called upon to provide for his family, are not the kind of things which should be the cause of the country's concern. As the years have gone by, and Canada has grown bigger, the expenses entailed by holding high office have greatly increased, and no one familiar with what is expected when the Prime Minister in the way of social entertainment believes that it is possible for him to do so on a salary of $20,000 a year. The claims upon him increase year by year, and the fact remains that the increased expenditure. The expenses of living in Ottawa and the scale of social entertainments all over the country have greatly advanced since the Prime Minister's salary was fixed at $20,000 a year. There are few salaries attached to positions approaching it in importance which are not at very much higher figures. It may be argued that the best money goes into politics to make money, and we have no objection to paying a small salary. That is probably true, but the fact remains that the Prime Minister should have a salary which will enable him to discharge his social duties of his station, and should not have to be dependent on the state and the demands of hungry politicians and the worries of small economies and private detail. The country is prosperous and can afford to pay an adequate salary to the Prime Minister. If it put an end to the unpleasant stories about gifts from contractors and the undignified projects of gifts from political supporters.

THE DISPUTED BOUNDARY.

The Canadian public these days are being treated to a lot of news items—some of them originating in the American papers and some in the Canadian papers—concerning the disputed Alaskan boundary. Canada is charged with attempting to make a grab, and in other ways of trying to get the best of Uncle Sam. Running through all these news items and the various theories of the American papers are two ideas. First, that the disputed territory really belongs to the United States, and second, that it is an actual possession of the people of that country. If the territory is really theirs, of course we have no right to take it, but that is the very point in dispute, and all Canada is urging is that some reasonable method be taken to ascertain the true boundary.

Anniversary Sale Friday and Saturday

We wish to reaffirm the principles proclaimed when we opened the Bazaar. RETROSPECT—One year ago to-day we opened our store, with the hope of getting a firm grip on Toronto trade, not because our store could compare in size to large departmental stores, but because our first aim was to cater to economical well-to-do, by bringing our goods direct from manufacturers, thus making prices right; by having the brightest store in Toronto, having courteous employees, and a quick delivery of goods. Our hopes this past year have been realized, and we wish to thank the public for the hearty appreciation of our efforts.

PROSPECT—It shall be our aim to give you a thoroughly satisfactory store. We mean to conduct it so that you will take a personal pride in the Bazaar, which is not like an ordinary store. If you want chinaware, hardware, glassware, lawns, toys, notions, jewelry or candies, they are all to be found here. All we ask is a visit this week. Toronto Junction, July 13.—(Special.)—The Council on the 10th inst. reported that there was a great possibility that the council would find difficulty in getting a supply of soft coal for the waterworks and electric light stations, owing to the strike among the miners in the coal region of Pennsylvania.

A LETTER FROM J. B. TYRRELL.

Says the Mounted Police are the Pets of the Klondike—No New Rich Ground Discovered.

The following letter from Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, the well-known explorer, who is now consulting mining engineer at Dawson, was received by a friend of his in the city yesterday. The letter is dated June 18:

"This is one of the quietest towns in Canada. Klondike, the Mounted Police, like and property are just as safe here as they are in any part of Ontario. The Mounted Police are the pets of the country, from Col. Greene down, for, no matter how onerous or disagreeable the task that may be assigned to them, the people have confidence that it will be carried out faithfully and fearlessly. And through the whole of the latter part of the winter, after the transport of the mail was put in their hands, they carried it regularly in and out of Dawson, regardless of personal hazard or difficulty. They will be a long time before the people of the Klondike forget the men who, after months of isolation, came down the river with their sleighs loaded with sacks of mail, bringing word from the many loved ones outside."

The dumps of gold-bearing gravel and mud that were mined during the winter have now been mostly run through the sluice boxes, and many of the claim owners are jubilant as they think of the bags of gold deposited to their credit in the banks. Others are disappointed because their ground did not prove as rich as they had expected. But on the whole there seems to be a general feeling of satisfaction.

Recent strikes are occasionally reported, the latest one being on California, a tributary of White River, but taken altogether, the prospectors cannot be said to have discovered any new rich ground this winter. While prospecting has been very disappointing, work, good claims, which will yield large returns for the money invested, can readily be purchased."

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET

IMPROVEMENT IS SURE

The Sidall Plans Proved to be the

Thing When the Actual Tenders

Were Opened.

TOTAL COST FIXED AT $158,942.

Board of Control Recommends the Successful Tenders to Council

For Acceptance.

The tenders for the various contracts involved in the improvement of St. Lawrence Market were opened yesterday at 12 o'clock.
The Board of Control, after a long and careful consideration, has decided to accept the following tenders, which are considered to be the most economical and practicable. The total cost of the improvement is fixed at $158,942.

Regular contracts:
Suel and Iron work, Dom. Bridge
Excavations, piling, masonry and Carpentering, M. Hutchinson... 27,720
Shovel, metal, and architect... 14,963
Plumbing and steamfitters, W. J.
McGuire & Co., Ltd... 10,300
Brick paving, Dom. Bridge, W. J.
Davies & Co., Ltd... 9,821
Painting and glazing, C. Davies &
Holists, Pension Estate... 3,834
Electric wiring, Electrical Manufacture & Construction Co... 1,550
Total... $138,255

Extra contracts:
Tendering in all these works was very close. There were about 25 tenders in all. But in addition the following contracts were awarded for special work:
Expanded metal, piling and concrete floors to the expanded metal and concrete floors, $17,187; rolling shutters, $400;
This makes the net total cost $151,442 for the work proper.

The World predicted two days ago that it would be less than $200,000 in excess of the $130,000. The excess is $142.

To this must be added, however, $7500,
the amount allowed for architect's fees, being 5 per cent, commission on $150,000.
So that the grand total cost is $158,942.

Lynd Spoke Out.
The Board hesitated for a moment, but only for a moment. The Mayor was looking about him for some method of cutting down to the $150,000. He suggested doing away with the roofing or a part of it provided to shelter the front street contention between the upper and lower halves
of the new market.

But Ald. Denison was jubilant at his violation, and Ald. Hallam, also acting as controller without portfolio, was unequivocal.

"Suppose we refer it to Mr. Sidall to see if he can cheapen it in any way," suggested Ald. Denison.

"Then you accept his plans?" queried
Ald. Denison.

"Yes," drawled his Worship.

"Oh, I think Mr. Mayor," said he, "that we go to Council with those tenders that they will accept them. You must remember, you know, that we will make up $4000 by the sale of the debentures, and so that we will only have $5000 in addition to finance for."

No Time to Hesitate.
It was no time to hesitate, and the Board,
though they had been waiting for the Mayor
to stick his head out of his shell, hesi-tated no longer after this outspoken comment.

Charles Wagner of Wagner & Edwards
made objections to the plans of Architect Sidall, who has won, but the controllers discounted his words.

The Board holds another meeting on Monday, to settle the plans of the new market, and then on Tuesday or Wednesday Council will be asked to ratify the work of the controllers.

meeting of Council in the new City Hall

should be to provide for the utilization of the aid.

The Tenders.

There were two tenders for the big iron and steel contract, the Hamilton Bridge

Company's figure being $80,145. Seven others, varying from $10,300 to $10,850, were in for the plumbing, eight others, varying from $12,970 to $15,450, for the sheet metal

work; eight for the piling, excavations, masonry,

cut stone, brickwork and brick paving; three for the painting and glazing;

two for the electric wiring, and one for the elevators.

This Deal is Dying Again.

But the Controllers could not agree so readily on the St. James' Cemetery agreement. In fact, for a third time this deal seems as good as dead. When a host from Rosedale and heard against it and promised to join with the opposition and even the Mayor was not so much in love with a favorable recommendation. He had been favorable enough, but when a score of Rosedale protested with utter rene-sance, the Mayor weakened. "Let Council do as they like with it; we will recommend nothing," such was his position yesterday.

Who Opposed it?

At the head of the Rosedale protestants

were M. B. Jackson and J. W. Ellis. Mr.
Jackson's brief was in yesterday's World.
Mr. Ellis had contigous property, but he had his all at stake, like Mr. J. G. Ramsay, the deal "dastardly."Mr. Ellis said, "I have invested everything I own in this market. I have acknowledged to be very moderate, though
not uncertain in my tones.

"Buy the Park property outright," said
payer, will not object, or buy the Hosking property, which the Cemetery Trust wants to buy, but don't allow a grave to be dug there."

This sentiment suited Mr. Jackson.

Don't Want to Fight, But—
Mr. J. G. Ramsay seemed most affected of all. "It is the fourth time I have had home," said he. "I have invested everything I own in this market. I have acknowledged to be very moderate, though
not uncertain in my tones.
