PREMIER EXPECTED TO FACE PARLIAMENT

HOUSE LIKELY TO MEET SOON, OTTAWA BELIEF

Developments Halted Waiting Announcement of King

ELLIOTT WILLING

Will Consult Constituents About Vacating Middlesex Seat For Prime Minister

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 3.—Until Premier King formally announces the intentions of his government, further developments in the political situation are not expected.

1—The government has decided in favor of meeting Parliament.

2—That Parliament will be summoned as early as is practicable.

Premier King saw the Governor General last night, and submitted to him his views of the situation.

It is, however, unlikely that he will publicly announce his intentions until final election returns are in. This, owing to uncertainty in Provencher, Man., may take some days.

CONSERVATIVES STAND PAT

Conservatives, in the meantime, are holding their ground.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, declines to make any statement, until the intentions of the government are made formally public.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 3.—J. C. Elliott, K. C., who carried West Middlesex, for the Liberal party with a substantial majority in the election last Thursday, will seek the first opportunity to consult his supporters in regard to opening the riding for Premier King.

Mr. Elliott stated today that he thought such action would be his best service to the Liberal party, and with his constituents, he will consult with the premier.

MESSERVEY ELECTED.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 3.—The election of John Messervy, Conservative, over Hon. John E. Sinclair, minister without portfolio, is now generally conceded, as the result of a complete checking up of the figures furnished by the deputy returning officers, although the issue will not finally be decided before Declaration Day.

The re-checked figures for the three candidates in line for the junior seat in Queens, as accepted by the Charlottetown Patriotic Liberal Party, are: Messervy, Conservatives, the victory by 24 votes. They are: Messervy, Conservative, 7,424; Sinclair, Liberal, 7,400; McKinnon, Conservatives, 7,396.

The Charlottetown Guardian claims the election of Messervy by 29 votes.

ANOTHER OFFER.

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 3.—Stanley G. Tobin, Federal Liberal member-elect for Wetaskiwin riding, has telegraphed to Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister in the riding of North York in the general election, offering the Prime Minister his seat.

In the event that the Prime Minister is unable to accept the offer, Mr. Tobin offers to resign in favor of Hon. G. G. Graham, former Minister of Railways.

K. K. K. AND PROHIBITION FEATURES IN U.S. VOTE

Contests Waged in 13 States Today—Wet and Dry Issue in New Jersey—Ten Candidates in the Field for Boston Mayor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Prohibition and the Ku Klux Klan furnished the issues in some of the more spectacular of the election contests which are to be decided today in 13 States.

The wet and dry question is right at the front in the New Jersey gubernatorial contest with Harry Moore, the Democratic candidate, declaring for modification of the Volstead Act, and repeal of the state enforcement act, and State Senator Arthur Whitney, Republican, favoring enforcement of both of these acts.

KLAN IS ISSUE. The Ku Klux Klan issue has been raised in the majority fights in Detroit and Louisville, Ky. Prohibition also has figured in the Detroit contest.

The campaign for mayor of New York is between State Senator James J. Walker, Democrat, and Frank D. Waterman, Republican.

Two seats in the House of Representatives are at issue in today's election with the republicans seeking to retain control over that from the New Jersey district, and the Democrats seeking to keep that from the third Kentucky district.

New York, Kentucky, New Jersey and Virginia are to elect members of the state legislature, while the voters of Pennsylvania will fill one state office. Constitutional amendments also are voted upon in New York and Ohio.

Boston furnishes a special mayoralty contest unique in the number of candidates offering for the place—seven Democrats and three Republicans.

At one time 17 were in the field. Kansas City, Indianapolis and Pittsburgh, are among the other cities to decide the question of the purchase of a municipal street railway.

Toronto Business Men Back Case of Maritime Provinces

BY A. M. BELDING. Staff representative of The Telegraph-Journal and Evening Times-Star, who is now on an active canvass of Canadian importers and exporters in behalf of the more general use of Canadian ports.

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—I was recently the guest at lunch at the National Club of President S. B. Gundy of the Board of Trade, along with George Wilson, vice-president; C. L. Burton, treasurer; Brig.-Gen. Mitchell, and Secretary F. D. Tolchard. Mr. Burton is the manager of Robert Simpson & Co. and Brig.-Gen. Mitchell is the Dean of Applied Science in the University, an eminent engineer, and an enthusiast regarding the available water powers in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Mr. Wilson is a well known banker. We sat in before 1 o'clock, adjourned to another room after lunch, and it was after three before the conference ended. All these men are going to Winnipeg, with many others, and that they gave up so much time on a busy day to discuss from every angle the Maritime situation is the best evidence of their sincere desire to aid in bringing about improved conditions and a better understanding.

BRIG.-GEN. MITCHELL believes there are great possibilities for industries in our provinces, manufacturing for overseas markets. This point was discussed at length, and the view expressed that if the people of the Maritimes took the initiative they would not lack financial support.

"Capital will follow enterprise," sums up the matter, and that this enterprise should be local rather than from the outside, to ensure its permanence, was the view expressed. "Your people are dependable," said one, "and if they declare there is profit in an enterprise, and present the case clearly, it would go a long way to interest capital up here."

With our seaboard location we have, it was held, a distinct advantage, more particularly in relation to industries based on our natural resources.

It was agreed that consideration should be given to the Maritime claim for better transportation rates, and that practical steps should be taken to aid us in getting settlers for our abandoned farms. The Toronto men were perfectly frank in saying that help should only be given to those who are willing to help themselves, whether east or west; and on that basis they were sure the Maritimes would not ask in vain.

Just what our provinces can best do was the question in these men's minds, and for that reason they are looking forward with great interest to the outcome of the Charlottetown Conference, and to the discussions they hope to have with our delegates en route to Winnipeg, and during the conference there and on the return.

I MUST pay the tribute to these business men of Toronto, after two conferences last winter and that of today, that they are national in their outlook, and that they are keenly interested in the Maritime situation. They asked more questions than I could answer to my own satisfaction, but the questions were pertinent and showed a desire to study our problems from every angle. The Toronto men will be greatly disappointed if there is not a strong Maritime delegation to go with them to Winnipeg, leaving this city on Nov. 14. They look forward to that conference, at which the West will be strongly represented, as a great opportunity to begin along new lines to promote the welfare of Canada and all its parts.

This is another of Mr. Belding's letters written at Toronto before his return to the Maritimes.

HEAVY GALES AND HIGH SEAS ARE REPORTED

Word of Many Vessels in Distress Is Picked Up

GETS A FREE TRIP

Regina, Unable to Land Quebec Pilot, Carries Him to Liverpool

Canadian Press. LONDON, Nov. 3.—Liners reaching Liverpool report stormy weather in the Atlantic.

The Conard steamer Franconia encountered exceptionally heavy gales and high seas all the way across. She was unable to make Queenstown, owing to the force of the storm, and passengers bound for Queenstown were taken to Liverpool.

A couple of days from New York, the Franconia received a wireless from a Dutch steamer which had lost its steering gear, owing to the stress of the weather.

The gale was so fierce the Quebec pilot could not be landed at Father Point, and had to be brought to Liverpool.

SCHOONER HELPED. The White Star liner Baltic had a stormy passage. The commander gave an account of succor rendered to a distressed schooner, of which the master, Captain Misson, said he had been 50 days out from Cadix, bound for Nova Scotia. He was short of bread and had a bad time.

The White Star liner Regina reported buffeting all the trip. The gale was so fierce the Quebec pilot could not be landed at Father Point, and had to be brought to Liverpool.

OFF U. S. COAST. NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 3.—The fate of the crew of the steamer Agiers, found Sunday night, gutted by fire and abandoned, remained obscure. Coast guard vessels from Norfolk and New York have set out to search for them, and other vessels that have sought them failed to find a trace of the freighter's lifeboats. The vessel was out of Philadelphia.

The crews of the other two ships that were caught in the week-end storm in this area, have been accounted for. The British freighter Mont Royal yesterday nosed her way to the entrance of the Virginia Capes under her own power, despite a damaged rudder head. Apparently garbled messages concerning her gave rise to the report that she had gone down.

Coast guardmen reported yesterday that the four masted schooner Isabella Parmenter, wrecked off the Carolina coast Saturday, had gone ashore bottom up and would be fatal loss. Her captain, his wife, two children, his sister-in-law, crew of six and two stowaways were rescued after the crew had been with salt, foundered. They were landed here Sunday by the collier Achilles.

POTATO SHORTAGE IN U. S. BOOSTS COST

Retailing at $1 to $1.10 a Peck in Chicago—Higher Price Predicted

Canadian Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—An unusual shortage of potatoes throughout high Chicago prices for the product in the opinion of local commission men. They predict the price will go even higher.

Wisconsin potatoes were quoted at market prices, wholesale today, from $4.45 to $4.50 a hundred pounds, while Idaho russet, "spuds" were one dollar higher, from $5.25 to $5.50. This means a peck at a retail price of about 60 cents a peck and a retail price of $1 to $1.10 a peck.

B. C. MILLS BENEFIT BY SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Orders For 20,000 Tons Newsprint Diverted From Britain For Australia

Canadian Press. VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 3.—The strike of seamen in British ports, had the effect of diverting orders for approximately 20,000 tons of newsprint to British Columbia mills. This would not have been possible but for the Canadian-Australian treaty, which went into effect on October 1, giving Canadian newsprint access to the Australian market duty free, the same as the British product.

Filling of this order will represent the first large shipment of this commodity by Canada to Australia.

2 MOOSE AT A BLOW

C. N. R. Engineer Runs Down Two on Tracks on Way to Winnipeg

Special to The Times-Star. WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Engineer Jas. Strouthers of C. N. R. train 403, made a record in moose hunting yesterday when he killed two with his engine about one mile west of Yelliff Station, in the heart of the big game country.

Strouthers was running west when he suddenly saw a bull and a cow step out into the middle of the track and stand facing the engine in the broad glare of the headlights. The bull did a war stamp, bellowed a challenge and then charged. It was a short battle so far as the bull was concerned. He was eliminated by a ten-foot throw and wound up in the ditch. Before she could jump to safety the engine also struck the cow. There is now plenty of moose meat at Yelliff.

2 NEW BERTHS ON WEST SIDE ARE REQUESTED

Mayor Receives Appeal From Shipping Federation

DELAYS FEARED

Advertised Sailings Show Considerable Increase Over Last Year's Traffic

AT THE meeting of the Common Council this afternoon a letter from the Shipping Federation to Mayor Potts advocating the building of two new berths in West Saint John to be ready for the traffic of 1926-27 will be under consideration.

The letter, dated October 30, points out that this year the advertised sailings from the port total 1,353,531 tons as compared with 1,159,928 for last season, and this is very likely to lead to congestion.

They point out that no extension of the harbor facilities, with the exception of a new grain conveyor to No. 15 berth, have been provided for some years and that only the closest cooperation between the shipping men and the harbor officials can prevent serious delays.

They say that the only way open at present to handle the shipping is to leave the berthing in the hands of the harbor master, as at present but they ask that if possible the rotative docking at Long Wharf be allowed.

In closing they point out that there will likely be an increase over this year's ship in 1926-27 and urge that the council take steps to urge the immediate construction of two new berths on the West Side.

7 FIRMS SIGN.

The letter is signed by representatives of the C. P. R., Robert Reford Co., Furness Withy Co., McLean Kennedy Co., Canada S. S. Lines, Elder Dempster Co., and New Zealand Shipping Co.

Commissioner Frink, acting mayor, said he had opened the letter in the absence of Mayor Potts and realizing its importance would lay it before the council at once. He pointed out that the recommendation in the letter was simply asking for a carrying out of the tri-partite agreement.

SHIP CHANDLERY IN GRIP OF FLAMES

Early Morning Fire in Nelson Street Causes Loss of Several Thousands

Smoke was seen issuing from the second floor of a building at 9 Nelson street occupied by the Atlantic Ship Chandlery, Ltd., by Sergeant Spiney and Policeman Garter about 5 o'clock this morning, and an alarm was sent in from box 7.

The fire apparently started in the second floor of the building and by the time it was seen it had spread to the floor above. The section of the building where the fire was situated was filled with general ship chandlery supplies and these were considerably damaged.

The walls of the building were brick and this prevented the fire from spreading to 10 Nelson street, which is also occupied by this concern. The fire, however, did considerable damage to the floors and goods on the lower floor suffered from water.

F. A. McFadden, proprietor of the Atlantic Ship Chandlery, said this morning that he was unable to estimate the loss, but thought that it would amount to several thousands of dollars. He said it was covered by insurance. The firemen were busy more than an hour and a half before the blaze was finally extinguished.

Officials Dump 3,200 Gallons Alcohol Into North End Sewer

Officers of the Preventive Service were busy today at the bonded warehouse at the cold storage plant in Main street dumping approximately 3,200 gallons of alcohol into the sewer. This alcohol was seized several months ago hidden in a freight car in the northern part of the province and was brought here.

The alcohol, which was in 80 puncheons of about 40 gallons each, was contraband stuff, it is said, and since they were unable to sell it for more than the duty, which is about $10 per proof gallon, the order was given for its destruction and this work was carried out this morning.

ON CHURCH MISSION. Rev. R. G. Fulton of Centenary church, and Rev. W. MacN. Matthews of the Carleton United Church, left for Hampton today to attend a meeting of the commission engaged in re-distributing the parochial districts of this section. The re-arrangement of boundaries is an outcome of the amalgamation of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches, a move to prevent overlapping and various other forms of duplication.

Falls into Coal Bunkers of Steamship and is Found Dead

When the steamer Tyrifjord, of the Norwegian-American Line, arrived in port yesterday afternoon her flag was at half mast on account of the death of a coal trimmer named Rvalde. Search was made when he was missed.

The man was unmarried and his home was in Norway. J. T. Knight & Co., Ltd., local agents for the steamer, notified the authorities and Coroner William Warwick viewed the body and decided that an inquest was not necessary.

The funeral was held this afternoon from Chamberlain's undertaking rooms. Interment was in Fernhill.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. A LETTER FROM MR. GOLDING. To the Editor of The Times-Star: In connection with an item appearing in your paper last evening containing a resolution of protest moved at a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance by Rev. H. A. Godwin against the sacred concert held in Imperial Theatre Sunday evening in aid of city orphanages, I would like to ask the reverend gentleman named a question or two.

Is it true that the Chautauqua parties, which are held in aid of the city for several years past have begun their campaigns with Sunday-night programs opening their doors as early as 7.30 P. M. Tedford ought to know if this is true, for he was the local manager of it last season. Again, how much of the Chautauqua money has gone to local objects? Or how many deficits have been paid for it by local people? And of Rev. Mr. Goodwin may I ask if it is true that his church, Portland Methodist, refused through him to take up the special denominational collection for the N. B. Protestant Orphan's Home last year? I am a church member, indeed I have an interesting Sunday school class of 20 boys, but for the life of me I cannot see a difference between a genuinely sacred concert in a public auditorium after church hours and recitals—invitation and general public affairs—held in the churches themselves on Sunday evenings, as of late. In my humble lay mind I am wondering if this is the right place to quote that old adage about consistency being a jewel.

W. H. GOLDING, Manager Imperial Theatre, Saint John, Nov. 1925.

Overseas Officers Look Forward to Notable Event Armistice Night

Major General MacBrien Definitely Announces That He Will Attend

From reports presented at a meeting held last evening by the committee which has in hand the dinner for overseas officers, to be held in the Admiral Beatty Hotel on the evening of Armistice Day, there is every indication that the event will be the biggest of its kind since the close of the war.

It is anticipated that more than 400 officers, former officers who served overseas, and N.C.O.'s and men who saw active service, and who now hold commissions in the militia, will be in attendance from all sections of the Maritime Provinces.

The sub-committee in charge of the tickets reported that already more than 150 persons from outside the city had signified their intentions of being present, and that the railways had offered reduced fares for the return trip under the standard certificate plan.

HAS AGREED TO ATTEND.

It was definitely reported that Major General J. H. MacBrien, chief of staff of the Department of National Defence, had agreed to attend, and will be the principal guest of honor. Several of the permanent staff in the Halifax garrison and officers of the Nova Scotia Military District, it was said, planned to attend.

Major General MacBrien will respond to the toast to the C. E. F. Besides the toast to the King and the C. E. F. it was decided that the only other toast to be arranged for was that to Fallen Comrades.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

A sub-committee was appointed to go into the matter of a musical program which will include some of the choruses which will go down in history as the battle songs of the Canadian Army in Flanders.

Last evening's meeting was presided over by John Gale, chairman, and others present included E. C. Armstrong, secretary; Norman P. McLeod, F. J. Nisbet, W. J. Ryan, G. G. Anglin, J. B. Dever, E. J. Cronin, F. X. Jennings and A. G. Rainnie.

Never Failed To Cast Vote In 52 Years

SINCE 1873 John Kelly, chairman of the sub-district Board of Health, has never failed to exercise his franchise in every civic, municipal, provincial and federal election and in every plebiscite on any matter.

A voter for 52 years and never failing to cast his vote, Mr. Kelly may well claim to have established something of a record. Not even in the plebiscite on whether the city would adopt Daylight Time, when the vote polled was remarkably small, not even then was Mr. Kelly found among the negligent ones.

In the 52 years he has seen some changes in methods and has cast his vote for a great number of candidates as well as having expressed his opinion on a great many hotly debated subjects, including the Scott Act.

He Doesn't want to hurt you

THE PEOPLE who are afraid of the dentist are the people who do not consult him until they have toothache. Your dentist is more interested in protecting your teeth than he is in repairing them. Go to him regularly for examination and you will escape a lot of pain and trouble.

4 out of 5 is grim pyorrhea's count

DENTAL STATISTICS tell this grim story: four people out of every five are destined, through neglect, to contract pyorrhea after they pass the age of forty. Thousands younger also suffer.

Pyorrhea is the dread disease of the gums which is responsible often for loss of teeth, rheumatism, neuritis and other dangerous disorders.

It starts with tender bleeding gums. Pockets form below the teeth and poisons spread relentlessly through the body. If you have pyorrhea or any of its symptoms see your dentist at once and start brushing your teeth with Forhan's for the Gums.

To safeguard yourself against pyorrhea make Forhan's your regular dentifrice. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., and contains his pyorrhea liquid which has been used by dentists the last 15 years in the treatment of pyorrhea. If used regularly and used in time it will prevent pyorrhea or check its course. Don't give this insidious disease a chance to start. Start using Forhan's this very day. All druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

BLUE-EYED GIRL STOLE THOUSANDS

Admitting Thirteen Robberies, is Sent to Jail For Three Years

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Criminal exploits of a blue-eyed girl, who adopted more than a score of aliases, stole thousands of dollars worth of jewelry and had dealings with several "fences" in London, have come to light through the conviction of Doris Clayton at Dover.

Although only 25, she is regarded by the police as one of the cleverest women criminals in the world. Her method was to pose as a domestic servant, obtain a situation in a big house with the help of forged references, and decamp at the earliest opportunity with jewelry.

She has just been sentenced at Dover to three years' penal servitude. She admitted 13 robberies, involving jewelry worth over $14,500 in different towns in the past two years, but as she stoutly denied charges against her in respect of thefts at Eastbourne and Southend it has been decided to test the police allegations by bringing the girl convict into court.

Doris Clayton is a diminutive girl, only 4 ft. 10 in. in height, with an innocent babyish face, but she has been described in the "Police Gazette" as a dangerous traveling thief.

Beautiful and Useful Anywhere in the House

OWNERS of fragrant, moth-defying "Red Seal" Cedar Chests are proud to accord them a prominent place in most any room in the house. They have all the desirable attributes of the cedar chests that our mothers and grandmothers cherished, plus the period style and fine finish that makes them a real addition to the furniture of bedroom, living room, dining room or hall.

"Red Seal" period chests include genuine Walnut cases in Queen Anne, William and Mary, Chippendale and Adam designs that harmonize perfectly with the period suites of the leading furniture makers. All "Red Seal" chests have an inner case of genuine Tennessee Red Cedar, the aromatic fumes of which kill the destructive moth-worms and thus protect your valuable furs, woolens and other garments.

In the Hall (as shown above) a "Red Seal" chest makes a beautiful seat or table, while serving, also as a safe depository for mady's furs or that favorite motor rug. You will be surprised at the various purposes to which a lovely "Red Seal" chest—in Walnut, Mahogany or natural cedar finish, as you prefer—can be put in any home.

It pays to buy "Red Seal" quality. Look for the name inside the lid and insist on getting a genuine "Red Seal" Cedar Chest, made by

"NOW IT CAN BE TOLD."

The election being over, certain Conservative newspapers have turned their searchlights upon Montreal and the Patenaude adventure. They now feel, apparently, that the attitude and ambitions of a certain Montreal group can be discussed with less injury to party prospects than while the fight was on.

hold their support, and it is predicted in Paris this morning that the government is likely to encounter an adverse vote in the Chamber, if not to-day, in the near future. It appears that for the present any French ministry which shows a disposition to meet the country's difficulties by introducing the necessary scale of taxation has little chance of survival.

(F. McDermott in Chamber's Journal.) The diving-rod of modern days is a simple forked twig of hazel wood, with this twig in their hands, certain individuals are able to locate the presence of underground water.

The Journal concludes by reading a severe lecture to the Montreal gentlemen whom it regards as a group of would-be dictators. It is to be hoped, it says, that these Montreal people now recognize "that to keep stabbing behind the scenes at such leadership in disregard of the expressed will of the majority is not decent; that to attempt to dovetail a national party into an unholy local provincial alliance with the opposition party is treachery; and that to assume that a national party can be more appropriately guided by a local junta which can't elect a poundkeeper in its own backwater than by the voice of the rest of the Dominion is a conceit and a folly which almost excites Sir Clifford Sifton's recent diatribe that many big business men do not exhibit outside of their own businesses any startling indication of brains—at least, not on politics.

BEAUTY.

Oh, what a pure and sacred thing Is Beauty, contained from the sight Of the gross world, illumining One only mansion with her light! Unseen by man's disturbing eye— The flower that blooms beneath the sea, Too deep for sunbeams, does not lie, Hid in more chaste obscurity. A soul, too, more than half divine, Where, through some shades of earthly feeling, Religion's softened notes shine. THE OPTIMIST AND THE PESSIMIST.

(London Daily Express.) Since the war, despite our industrial troubles, the general standard of living has improved. Many workpeople have their own houses. Still more have money in the savings banks. Were it not for the deplorable extent of unemployment, which, after all, could be reduced by determined effort, there is no single grievance which would justify any agglomeration of men in possession of their senses in following the counsels and practice of despair.

EMPIRE DEVELOPMENT.

(London Morning Post.) (The Empire Industries Association has been started for the purpose of extending Imperial Preference and protecting home industries.) It is in the further development of the Empire, as the Empire Industries Association recognizes, the promise of the future resides; and therefore the association advocates the extension of the policy of Imperial Preferences. The execution of that policy is intimately related to the problem of unemployment; for it is the essential principle of the development of Imperial resources, that migrants leaving this country for the Dominions should both increase the productivity of the Empire, and become the customers for the manufacturers of Great Britain. It is little use to put men on the land unless a market for their wares is assured to them; and the system of preferences gives them an advantage over foreign competitors in the best market in the world. Conversely, unless the industries of this country can exchange their goods for the food and raw material supplied by the Dominions, the population of Great Britain must continue to be dependent upon foreign exporters, who will continue to control prices.

THE RUSSIAN FRONT

(London Times.) It is a singular coincidence that the points where Russian and British influences clash are the same as those which were the scenes of Anglo-Russian rivalry in the unhappy years before the Agreement of 1907. Territorial spoliation is out of date; but penetration by propaganda has taken the place of arms in the struggle for power. Having received a serious rebuff in this country at the last general election, Bolshevik activity against the British Empire has been redoubled elsewhere. And in the east the schemes of Moscow believe that they have found the Achilles heel of Great Britain.

Maritime Boards of Trade Meet Wednesday In P. E. I.

IN THE CITY OF CHARLOTTETOWN on Wednesday morning, in the historic room in the old Legislative Buildings where the conference was held in 1924, which adjourned to Quebec and resulted in the formation of the Dominion of Canada, representatives of Boards of Trade of the three provinces will meet in an earnest effort to do their part in bringing Confederation up to date.

As a result of the earnest work of committees in the three provinces, appointed at the Moncton conference in July, an answer will be given to the question asked the representative of The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star from Montreal to the coast last winter, "What do the Maritime Provinces want?"

The question was asked in the spirit of sympathy and good will, by people who agreed, when the situation in the Maritimes was explained to them, that there is down here a national problem. They are awaiting the answer, and the Charlottetown conference will give it.

Women's Hospital Aid Has Completed Plans For Their Jelly Day Treat On Nov. 10

THE WOMEN'S HOSPITAL AID Jelly Day will be held on Nov. 10 this year and the members of the aid are hoping that the contributions of jellies, jams and preserves for the patients of the General Public and Saint John County Hospitals will be greatly in excess of the contributions of last year when more than 500 jars of home made delicacies were presented to the two hospitals as a Thank offering gift of the housewives of the city.

This season fruit has been abundant and the housewives have large stores of preserves and the response to the appeal is expected to be most generous. Throughout this week the special conveners for jelly day collections are receiving the contributions at their homes.

THE CONVENERS. Mrs. Ralph Robertson, 74 Mecklenburg street, is the convener for the General Public. Mrs. George Ewing, 142 Duke street, is convener for the collections for the County Hospital.

The home made delicacies are a special treat to the hospital patients and the annual jelly day of the Hospital Aid has been the means of bringing a "home touch" that has meant far more than a special dainty served in a hospital meal.

POTATOES AT PEAK FOR 4-YEAR PERIOD

$7 to $8 a Barrel by Growers at Presque Isle, Maine

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., Nov. 2—The potato market opened strong today and the bulk of the sales was at $7 cash to growers bulk barrel measure for Green Mountains, the highest mark reached in four years. Some lots went even higher and, as usual, small or fancy lots and special grades were made at higher prices, in many places in the county as high as $8.

FREDERICTON, Nov. 2—A record high offer of $4.50 per barrel for potatoes was made today at C. F. R. points in York and Carleton counties. This is the highest price offered by shippers this season and indicates that the upward trend in the potato market has not been stopped.

The Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa last week sent out a notice that the Cuban market had been glutted and a half cargo at Havana refused, advising that shipments be discontinued. That situation, however, has not affected the New Brunswick market and the "bullish" tendency still is to be observed.

Perhaps if Wives Were Better Listeners Husbands Would be More Fluent Talkers; Perhaps the Silence of Man is Self-Protection, Suggests Dorothy Dix to Women Who Complain of Clam-Like Husbands.

MEN do not appear to object to silent wives. I have never heard a man complain that the lady to whom he was married did not talk enough, but one of the chief grievances of wives is the dumbness of husbands in the family circle.

DOROTHY DIX

Wives say that, instead of their husbands entertaining them of an evening with bright chitchat and merry cracks and jests, they busy themselves in their papers and only grunt by way of answer, even when they are asked questions. Further, they aver that if a wooden Indian should be substituted for their lords and masters, they would never find out the difference. One would hand out about as interesting a line of conversation as the other.

The charge is, alas, only too true. No matter how loquacious the average man may be abroad, he can give a clam points on how to keep his mouth shut at home. He may set other dinner tables in a roar with his wit, but he doesn't waste it on his own board. He keeps his good talk, as he does his pre-war cocktails, for company. They are not for every-day home consumption.

IT IS natural that the wives should resent this. What a woman really marries for is to get a friendly companion, some one with whom she can gossip endlessly, as she does with another woman. And when she finds out that instead of having got a chatterbox she has acquired a life companion afflicted with the lockjaw, she feels that she has been defrauded. What she would like would be for her husband to regale her with choice bits of office scandal and repeat to her the good stories he has heard, and tell her of what he said, and the boss said, and the customer said, and so on. Instead of which, mums the word.

In thousands of homes wives, with undying optimism, attempt every evening to open up a conversation by asking their husbands, "Any news?" "None," "What did you do today?" "Same old thing." "Who did you see?" "Same old crowd." "Hear anything interesting?" "None." After which silence descends that you could cut with a knife until visitors drop in, when husband rouses up and becomes the life of the party.

NOW, there are several explanations to be offered of why men do not talk at home. One is that they are tired and nerve worn, and when they get home they want to slump. They have been talking all day in business, arguing, persuading, combating, trying to hold the attention of others, and they are talked out. They are weary of babbling voices, and they don't want to hear their own or any one else's. The thing they long for more than anything else is just silence.

Another reason that men don't talk at home is because they are selfish. They make no effort to entertain their wives because they are concerned only with their own comfort and pleasure, and are not considering hers.

THEY are indifferent to the fact that she may have spent a dull, monotonous day, with no companionship except little children, doing over and over the dull, mechanical tasks of housework that occupied her hands but not her head, and that she needs to be brightened up and have her thoughts changed by hearing new things.

But the man who does not talk at home is not wholly to blame. Often the reason he is silent is because he has been terrorized into silence. He is afraid to talk for fear of starting something. Experience has taught him the truth of the old proverb: "The less said, the least repented."

THERE are women to whom any subject is as good for an argument as a nickel is for a ginger cake. They never by any chance agree with their husbands' views on anything, from politics to pie. A husband cannot even discuss the weather with such a woman without getting into an acrimonious debate, and so, unless he enjoys fighting as much as she does, he learns that the only way to keep the peace is to keep silent.

Other men never tell their wives anything they do because they know they will never hear the last of it if they admit to having made any mistake or having been guilty of the slightest side-stepping. There are wives who have nagged husbands for forty years over money they lent a friend who never repaid it, or some investment they made that failed.

THERE are men who would not dare to tell their wives that they stayed downtown and played poker of a night, or that they had taken an old woman friend to lunch, or that they thought such-and-such a girl pretty, or that they had enjoyed the conversation of some entertaining woman at dinner. They have precipitated squalls and storms of jealousy and torrents of tears upon themselves by the most innocent remarks, and so they have learned to mind their p's and their q's when they talk to their wives, and this naturally puts a crimp in their conversational style.

Many a man never talks to his wife because she never listens to what he says. She doesn't give more than one lobe of her brain, and half of an ear to his remarks. She doesn't hesitate to interrupt his story just at the critical point. She doesn't pay his jokes even the poor tribute of a smile, and after he has spent a half hour explaining to her just exactly what the President should do about the foreign debt and how he would run the air service, she says: "You know, I think I will have the parlor done in blue, after all."

And when he tries to talk to her about his business she yawns in his face and shows that she is bored to death.

PERHAPS if wives were better listeners, husbands would be more fluent talkers. Perhaps the silence of men is self-protection. You might look into the matter, you wives who complain that your husbands never have a word to say at home.

Adventure Followed Ship On Long Sea Trip

Three times short of food and water and once losing their sails, the crew of the 20-ton schooner Cremlay, sold by an Irish firm to a new owner in Fremantle, Australia, have just delivered the vessel after an adventurous voyage of eleven months across the world. They left Holyhead at the end of August last year, and were not heard of until Christmas, when they were compelled to call at Rio Janeiro short of food and water and with their sails gone.

After being refitted they resumed their voyage in January, and nothing more was heard of them until their arrival early in June at Cape Town, again short of food and water.

On July 29 they arrived at Fremantle after a fifty-eight day's passage from Cape Town, during which the crew again ran short of food and water. They had stood their eleven months' ordeal well.

"DEAD" MAN ESCAPES. BELGRADE, Nov. 2.—A great sensation has been caused here by the resurrection of a Russian, who was found dead, and was taken to the hospital mortuary to await burial. When the hospital attendants entered the room this morning they found the body had disappeared. No clue to the resurrected Russian has been found yet. Many people, especially women, regard the resurrection as a fact, but the truth seems to be that the Russian got so drunk that his body was unable to show any signs of life. During the night the man recovered his vitality, and, seeing the awful position he was in, escaped without leaving any traces.

YOUNG couples think that the chaparrin is the person who put the "wreck" in recreation.

Girls Comes From Convent To Star In New Film

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL. Samuel Goldwyn, producer, and Henry King, director, have contributed their combined film genius in presenting their first production, "Stella Dallas," to the United Artists Corporation.

"Stella Dallas," adapted by Frances Marion and the widely read novel of the same name by Francis Higgins Prouty, is the product of two years' thinking and many months of actual filming.

FROM OBSCURITY. Goldwyn and King sought out the niches in Hollywood and the rest of the earth to find the suitable film characters for their biggest production of the current season.

In the convent in Paris, Goldwyn discovered 16-year-old Lela Moran who portrays the wistful role of Laurel. In obscurity he found Belle Bennett, a forgotten forget-me-not star of yesterday.

Today Goldwyn rescued her from oblivion and now she comes into her own again in the pathetic and gaudy rags of Stella Dallas.

MATINEE IDOL. Henry King found Ronald Colman on a New York stage.

Today Colman is labeled one of the matinee idols of a movie-mad country. He humanly enacts the role of Stephen Dallas in King's production. Alice Joyce and Jean Hersholt are other cinema marionettes in "Stella Dallas" worthy of special mention.

"Stella Dallas" has some of the greatest heart-pulling scenes ever viewed on the screen. The former birthday party . . . the wedding scenes . . . mother love and youthful love . . . walk hand in hand to produce one of the most artistic pictures ever authored by Samuel Goldwyn and Henry King.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON. THE SCARE CROWS FORTUNE. "I see you are a man of parts," she said quickly.

"How do you know that?" asked the twins when Jack O' Lantern's party was over.

"I don't know exactly," said Mister Corn Dodger, "but I shall find out. There is always something going on in High Jinks Land."

But he didn't have to find out, for at that very minute along came Mrs. Gipsy.

"I'm telling fortunes," she said. "We'll Me! I do!" We do! shouted at the High Jinks Land at once.

"One at a time, please," said Mrs. Gipsy. "I can only tell one fortune at a time, and even then it won't be a good fortune unless you cross my palm with silver."

"What does that mean?" asked Nancy. "It means that I have to have a nickel on a dime or a sixpence or a farthing," said Mrs. Gipsy.

"Here you are!" said the Scare Crow. "I have a dime. I found it in the pocket of this old coat the farmer gave me."

"Then you get your fortune told first," said Mrs. Gipsy. "Everybody please be quiet while I tell this gentleman's fortune. Hold out your right hand, Mister Scare Crow. I always tell fortunes by hands."

The Scare Crow held out his straw hand limply. Straw hands stuffed into gloves aren't good to tell fortunes by, but the gipsy went right ahead as though it didn't make any difference.

"I see you are a man of parts," she said quickly. "That's true! He is a man of parts," nodded the High Jinks Landers solemnly at each other. "Broomsticks, saucers, straw, and clothes."

Searching For The Burial Place Of Attila

A new search is being made for the grave of Attila, the Hun. History records that during the middle of the fifth century Attila led his ruthless hordes westward from Asia and over-ran the greater part of Europe, his career of conquest carrying him almost to the Atlantic Ocean.

According to tradition Attila was buried on top of a high mountain somewhere in the basin of the Danube. Numerous legends describe his burial, the most striking point of which was the encasement of his body in three metal coffins. The outer coffin was made of iron, the middle one of silver, and the inner one of gold.

By common consent among the historians it has long been conceded that his grave was somewhere on a Hungarian mountain near the River Tisza. For more than a thousand years this mountain has borne his name.

No absolute proof of his burial here has ever been discovered, however; and now the claim is being disputed.

In Steiermark, one of the nine states which compose the Austrian republic, excavators have discovered a number of weapons and other implements which date from the fifth and sixth centuries.

These discoveries were made on a mountain named "Huchenberg." In ancient manuscripts this mountain was referred to as "Hunenberg," or Huns Mountain, Steiermarkians claim that the discovery of the ancient weapons as well as the name of the mountain itself indicated that Attila and his chief were buried somewhere in the vicinity.

Hopefully and with great care they are now busy making further excavations at every point on the mountain where it is possible that Attila the Hun may lie resting in his triple coffin.

A radio beacon tower is to be erected at Monmouth, Ill., as a guide to pilots of the UNITED STATES AIR MAIL SERVICE.

BLACKHEADS

Don't squeeze blackheads—disinfect them. Get into contact with peroxide powder from any drug store and rub with hot, wet cloth over the blackheads. They simply dissolve and disappear by this safe and sure method.

In the morning cut in thin slices and bake in hot oven.

Lemon Pie—Juice and grated rind of one lemon, one cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, three egg yolks. Cream sugar and egg yolks, add lemon and flour. Then add one large cup of milk and the whites beaten stiff. Bake three-quarters hour in one crust.

SUGGESTIONS. After boiling salt beef, leave two or three carrots in the liquid until cold. The carrots will absorb the salt and the liquid can be used for soup.

Pineapple, either fresh or canned, is both food and medicine. The juice contains an element that helps digest meat fibre and also furnishes mineral salts for the regulation of the body.

THE LAST FRONTIER

Many Fakes Follow Each Scientific Discovery

By DAVID DIETZ. POLITICAL economists have long been aware of the existence of what they call the "lunatic fringe."

Each new political idea not only attracts many worthy people but also a small group of wild-eyed enthusiasts with schemes for remaking humanity thought and not the members of the lunatic fringe.

Science too has its "lunatic fringe," and the layman who delves into science must take care that he follows the accepted leaders of scientific thought and not the members of the lunatic fringe.

Each new discovery in science is followed by increased activity from this source. Sir J. J. Thomson discovered the existence of the electron. Following that we had electronic cures, his associates were experimenting with electro-magnets, magnetic cures were the rage.

We laugh now to think of people being fooled by fakes who said that a tub of water treated with electro-magnets resulted in "magnetized water" which would cure rheumatism. New facts of astronomy are seized upon to explain the mummery of astrology.

Scientists discover ultra-violet rays and the like and the lunatic fringe of science immediately "discovers" a whole series of mysterious rays and auras of deep mystical "powers."

DR. DAVID STARR JORDAN, chancellor-emeritus of Leland Stanford University, terms this lunatic fringe, "the underworld of science."

The progress of science is slow, he points out, each step forward being the result of hard thinking and trying research.

WHATEVER YOUR SKIN TROUBLE

Heal It With Zam-Buk!

If you have any local disturbance a dressing of Zam-Buk will quickly put your skin right. If more serious disease has already taken root there is no surer way of dislodging it from the tissues than by regular use of Zam-Buk.

When applied to broken or diseased skin, Zam-Buk stops pain and prevents germ infection. It ends the burning irritation of eczema, draws poison and irritation out of ulcerated places and quickly purifies the ringworm-ridden scalp of a child. Also for cold sores, chilblains, frostbite, etc., Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy.

Zam-Buk's wide range of utility and its certainty of benefit are due to the rare properties of the herbal extracts from which it is prepared. Furthermore, Zam-Buk has the advantage of being absolutely free from the coarse mineral drugs and rancid animal fats found in ordinary ointments and salves.

IRRITATING ECZEMA. Mr. John Connors, of 19, Belvidere St., Boston, Mass., writes:—"I suffered from eczema for years. It broke out at intervals, and was very irritating and annoying. After a deal of experimenting I found a real remedy in Zam-Buk. This splendid balm subdued all irritation, and when its use was continued the sores and blotches rapidly healed and disappeared."

WELCOME GIVEN TO MINISTERS

Evangelical Alliance Extends Greetings to New Arrivals Here

Pleasant Function is Held in Clifton House—Addresses Are Given

The Evangelical Alliance members and their wives yesterday tendered a luncheon to the new ministers who have recently entered upon their duties in the city and their wives. The luncheon was a very delightful gathering and was held in the Clifton House with Rev. W. J. Johnston, president of the Alliance, as chairman.

the visitors—Rev. Dr. Gandier, principal of Knox College, former Presbyterian, and Rev. Dr. Stewart, of the West China Union University, a former Methodist, both of whom are members of the United Church of Canada.

URGES GET-TOGETHER. Dr. Gandier in replying expressed his great belief in getting together. The larger fellowship, he believed, was the world's great need and he decried narrow and selfish patriotism, nationalism and denominationalism. He recalled the great religious gathering he had attended in Zurich when German and French religious leaders had pleaded for World Fellowship. He closed by quoting Austen Chamberlain as saying that the leaders could accomplish little unless the people had in their hearts ideals of world fellowship.

DR. STEWART HEARD. Dr. Stewart spoke of the happy spirit of interdenominationalism in China, and the uniting of all denominations for the work in that mission field since 1898. There were now 20,000 Chinese students in the Christian schools there, and at the Union University with 700 students all met together as one body. The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Rev. E. E. Styles, secretary of the Alliance. He extended cordial greetings to each of the guests and spoke of the stimulus given the work of the Alliance by the coming in of new men.

EXTENSION WORK OF CHURCH URGED

Rev. Drs. Stewart and Gandier Address Meeting in St. David's

About 250 people assembled last evening in St. David's United Presbyterian church to hear Rev. Dr. J. L. Stewart, of the West China University, and Rev. Dr. Gandier, principal of Knox College, Toronto, speak on the maintenance and extension work of the United Church. Rev. Hugh Miller was in the pulpit. Rev. H. A. Goodwin led in the opening prayer and Rev. Alexander Robb, missionary on furlough from Korea, gave the benediction.

Rev. Dr. Stewart spoke of the anti-foreign agitation in China and declared that the only solution to the troubles there was the education of the rest of the world to what was owing that great country and the raising of the standard of living in China. The United Church of Canada had made a magnificent challenge to the others in the mission fields by its appropriation of $4,000,000 and he hoped that the amount would be raised.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. Courtlandt Robinson, Hazen street, gave a small but none the less enjoyable week-end tea in honor of Miss Constance Fitz-Randolph, of Fredericton. Mrs. Guy Fitz-Randolph presided over the teacups. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anglin, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence MacLaren, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morrisey, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil West and Miss Barbara Jack.

In honor of Miss Helen Louise Smith and Dr. Grant Harper, a theatre party, followed by a supper at the Admiral Beatty Hotel, was given jointly by Dr. John F. Edgewood and Mr. Arnold P. McAlpin last evening. The guests, members of the Smith-Harper wedding party, included Miss Smith, Dr. Harper, Miss Dorothy Roach, Miss Audrey Rankin, Miss Pauline Harper and Mr. Robert Paterson.

The Misses Muriel and Ethel Bustin were the joint hostesses at a most enjoyable Halloween party at the Lansdowne House on Friday evening when upwards of 60 guests enjoyed their hospitality. The drawing rooms were elaborately decorated in keeping with Halloween. Streamers of yellow and black from which goblin faces were suspended stretched from the central shaded lights to the corners of the rooms, and on the mantels black cats and jack-o'-lanterns were effectively used to carry out the Halloween idea. The tea table, which was appropriately decorated, was presided over by Mrs. J. D. Howe and Mrs. Robert Watson. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Stanley Bustin, Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Russell Evans, Miss Mary Eason and Miss Belle Howe. Little Miss Ruth Bustin assisted at the door. During the evening games and dancing were enjoyed. For the former appropriate prizes were presented, as was also a prize for the most sociable guest of the evening. The affair proved one of the most enjoyable of the Halloween season.

A very enjoyable Halloween masquerade ball was given at Glenwood on Saturday evening. The decorations were attractively arranged and carried out in Halloween fashion. Miss Ethel Belyea was convener of the ball committee and was assisted by Miss Jean Lawson, of Queenstown. Many prizes were awarded for the best costumes and were won by the following: First, ladies, Miss Jean Lawson, representing "Night"; second, ladies, Miss Sarah Donald as "A Boy"; first, gentlemen, Bruce Williams, second, gentlemen, Harry McEwen, of Glenwood, representing "A Clown". The consolation prize went to William Doughty, of Saint John. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served.

The engagement is announced of Mabel Gertrude Prince, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Prince, Hampton, N. B., to Thomas Allen Mesereau, formerly of Detroit, Mich., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mesereau, French Lake, N. B. The wedding will take place in the Church of Ascension, Lower Norton, November 25.

Mrs. Kilmour Shives and Miss Mills, of Campbellton, are guests at the Admiral Beatty.

Mr. Cyrus Inches entertained informally at luncheon at the Admiral Beatty yesterday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ross, of Montreal. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mackay and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLean.

Mrs. Perkins, who has been the guest of Mrs. F. L. Fotts, has returned to her home in Westfield.

Miss Mary Bilzard is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George N. Miller, at Montreal.

W. G. Pugsley, of Ottawa, son of the late Hon. Dr. William Pugsley, was in the city yesterday, leaving in the afternoon. He was at the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Toronto Editor Was Visitor to City

C. H. J. Snider, editor of the Evening Telegram, Toronto, arrived in the city yesterday morning and went this morning to the Charlottetown conference.

Mr. Snider was a guest at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday. Later he was taken to the roof of the Admiral Beatty and shown the eastern and western harbors and historic points of which a fine view is obtained from the top of the big hotel. He also visited the Old Burial ground, took a picture of it and of the court house and some others. The rest of the afternoon was spent, as was a portion of the morning, in the Public Library, looking up some historical data he desired to secure.

Mr. Snider pays a high tribute to Miss Vaughan, the librarian, who was able quickly to lay before him what he wanted and make his task easy.

DRAWING TONIGHT. At the meeting of the North End Catholic Women's League last night arrangements were made for selling the last of the tickets of the hope chest which is to be drawn for this evening at the second show in the Imperial Theatre. Mrs. M. A. Quinlan and members of the executive were appointed to sell tickets in the theatre. Mrs. William Harrington, the newly elected president, was in the chair. It was decided to take charge of the sale of poppies in Stanley ward for the G. W. V. A. Poppy Day and Mrs. Clement Murphy was appointed ward convener.

THOSE ABLE, SHOULD GIVE

Rev. Dr. Gandier declared that the giving of 25 cents a week by each member of the United Church would mean the raising of twice the sum asked. He did not mean that those able to give more should not do so. He thought the children should be taught Christianity. This was the first step in the spreading of God's word. Then the congregation should give an example to others of the Christian spirit. Later they should send out teachers to the churches districts to carry the Gospel.

He made an impassioned plea for the support of the church program declaring that the giving of money was the only way in which the greater part of the church members could assist in the great work of the missions in far districts and foreign lands.

His wife was ready to quit! It was almost impossible to get her husband to go out after dinner. And his stay-at-home tendencies bored her to a point where she was almost ready to give up in despair. That evening she was particularly anxious to get him to do a little dancing. Some neighbors who had a wonderful new radio had invited them. But there he sat, as usual—and frowned his reluctance. "You're always this way after dinner," she sighed. Indigestion is a miserable thing. So many people suffer this way. If they only knew that simple old method our grandfathers used—peppermint. And now it is available in a new and really convenient form—Pep-o-mint Life Savers; the little candy mints with the holes. It sounds very simple and old-fashioned. But Pep-o-mint Life Savers really do the trick. Try them after meals when that heavy, lousy feeling comes over you—or to relieve that irritating distress of indigestion. Pep-o-mint is displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself; also Wint-o-green, Cinn-o-mon, Lic-o-riec, Clo-o-ve and Vio-let. Five cents a package.—Life Savers, Limited, Prescott, Ont. Decided Decrease in Contagious and Notifiable Diseases in Saint John

Tuberculosis Monthly Shows Large Decline—Reports Made to Health Board

Deaths from contagious diseases in the city and county of Saint John for the year ending Oct. 31, 1925, were 43 as compared with 130 in the previous year, cases of notifiable diseases reported to the sub-district board were 388 this year as compared with 773 in the previous year.

These very gratifying reductions were reported at the meeting of the health board yesterday afternoon when John Kelly, chairman, presided and Charles A. Emerson, the newly appointed member, took his seat for the first time.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

T. M. Burns, secretary, submitted the annual report on notifiable diseases. The report showed that in the previous year there were 117 diphtheria cases with 12 deaths, this year 84 cases and no deaths; last year 130 cases of scarlet fever with 4 deaths; this year 81 cases and two deaths; last year 87 typhoid cases and one death, this year 28 cases and no deaths; last year 258 cases of measles with 13 deaths; this year 65 cases of measles and no deaths; last year 35 cases of chickenpox and this year 10 cases; last year 16 cases of whooping cough reported and 10 deaths, and this year nine cases and three deaths; last year 35 cases of mumps reported and this year 17 cases; last year one case of infantile paralysis and one death and this year none; last year 140 cases of tuberculosis and 86 deaths; this year 123 cases and 37 deaths; last year one case of cerebrospinal meningitis and no deaths; this year one case and one death; last year three cases of encephalitis and this year none.

With reference to whooping cough and mumps it was pointed out that these are not quarantine diseases and the great majority are not reported.

In regard to the tuberculosis cases the fact that there was so little falling off in the number was due to more searching work in looking out contacts. The drop in tuberculosis deaths from 86 to 37, a cut of more than 50 per cent, was held to be a tribute to intensive work.

LICENSE CANCELLED.

The board cancelled the license of one milk vendor found selling raw milk. Department reports submitted were very satisfactory.

Dr. T. Fred Johnston, dairy and food inspector, reported inspecting slaughter houses, city market, milk trains and milk pasteurization plants as well as the premises of 33 milk producers in Kings county and taking 424 sediment tests of milk. He had had 27 of the eight quart cans of milk dumped as unfit for consumption and had shut off shipments from two producers.

V. O. N. REPORT.

The V. O. N. child welfare report showed 485 home visits had been made and 824 babies supervised while the attendance at clinics was 242 and 185 children in kindergartens were inspected.

The report of tuberculosis work submitted by Miss Alice P. Hegan showed 968 cases had been registered during the month, of which 18 were new and nine were former cases readmitted. During the month 88 were discharged, 10 had left the city and 21 were non-

LEAK IN SHIP IS PLUGGED BY COAL

Improvised Patch Keeps Vessel Afloat After Seas Crash

LONDON, Nov. 3.—How a ship "cracked" in heavy Atlantic seas and was kept afloat until port was reached by the ingenuity of the master and crew, is being told in Grimsby.

During heavy weather in the North Atlantic the Grimby trawler Deansyde commenced to leak. Examination showed that the ribs of the vessel's port side had fractured.

The steel plates in the hull were bending and cracking under every blow of the seas, threatening to collapse and bring instant destruction upon the vessel and crew.

All hands set to work to chop up deckboards, and with these the weakened plates were shored up. Coal was then conveyed to the bunkers and packed between the bulkhead and ship's side, being hammered until it was a solid mass.

This improvised patch of coal checked the rush of water, and with the pumps working at full pressure the vessel was prevented from foundering and reached port in a sinking condition.

tubercular and one had died. At the ten clinics held 74 cases attended and 15 were X-rayed and 16 fluoroscopes were taken. The nurses made 455 home visits. Free milk was given two patients and free medicines given nine patients.

UNSATISFACTORY, SHE SAYS.

Mrs. M. Furlong Coleman, food inspector, reported having made 410 visits and issued three milk permits. She drew attention to the unsatisfactory conditions as regards refrigerators in some of the restaurants of the city.

After 12 years' suffering with constipation, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought lasting relief

This woman feels ten years younger. No more headaches or medicine.

Think what it means to be everlastingly free from the dull, throbbing headaches, sallow skin and perpetual tiredness which are constipation's toll. But let Mrs. Bevis tell you her inspiring story:

Words can't express my gratitude for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For 12 years I suffered with constipation, always taking medicine, had dull headaches and never felt well. For the past 13 months I've eaten ALL-BRAN and haven't taken one drop of medicine. I've gained in weight, my health is so improved I feel 10 years younger.

CAMOUFLAGED AUTO TO HUNT BIG GAME

Wealthy Indian Prince Buys Car at Cost of $35,000

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A camouflaged automobile designed especially for tiger and big game hunting, and costing $35,000 has just been delivered in London to the Maharajah of Patiala.

"The Magnificent Maharajah," as he has been called since he swept into London some weeks ago and startled all England with the barbaric splendor of his appearance and his expenditures, will use the machine for tiger hunting in his Indian state.

Among the items of special equipment for the car are a searchlight for pursuing game at night; gun rests on the side of the car so designed that the guns can be brought into instant use and an exhaust "whistle" to frighten off tigers from springing on the car from behind from an overhanging branch. The body has been camouflaged for effective concealment in jungle hiding places.

Tiger hunting from an automobile, according to the Maharajah, is one of the most exciting sports in the world.

Burglar Enraged As Court Says Prison

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Henry Battaglia, 19, alias Ballow, became incensed when Judge Rosalsky sentenced him to from two years and six months to five years in Sing Sing on an old burglary charge. Battaglia was acquitted by a jury before Judge Rosalsky last week on a robbery charge in the drive to decrease crimes of violence.

Battaglia was hopeful that the acquittal would not impair his parole on his plea of guilty to the charge in 1923, but his face flushed with anger when the Court indicated that he would have to serve the prison term.

"You have had your chance to reform," Judge Rosalsky said, "but you didn't profit by it. I snatched you from the prison doors in 1923. I gave you a chance, but now you must go to Sing Sing."

"You didn't give me a chance," broke in Battaglia. "You gave me the dirtiest deal I ever got."

The DOOR to the FUTURE

TO-DAY there are prophets—more than at any time in the world's history.

They are found in big business institutions, for big institutions are built on the faith and vision of far-seeing men. While other men around them work in 1925, these business prophets work, by habit of thought and training, in the future—five, ten, yes, twenty or twenty-five years ahead of the times.

They are the men who are planning new applications of science and industry: perfecting new processes, new products, new appliances—not for today, but for the time when public service will demand them.

In the research department of the Northern Electric Company there is a door through which the men of this engineering organization are always trying to peer.

It is the door to the Future Electrical Age.

Our products of today are the result of their efforts in peering through that door. Products which will appear on the market perhaps tomorrow, perhaps five or ten years hence—these have already crossed the vision of the prophets who peered through that magic door and saw the needs of this and future generations.

Engineering minds that are forever anticipating the future needs of a people and their industries.

MERGER STORY IS DISCOUNTED

Saint John Wholesale Grocers Speak of Report From Quebec

Maritime Fusion is Story, With Meeting to be Held in Saint John

That so far as they knew, nothing had been done yet in arranging a merger of the wholesale grocers of the Maritime Provinces, referred to in an article in the New York Journal of Commerce from its Quebec correspondent, was the statement made this morning by several Saint John wholesale grocers when asked by a Times-Star reporter.

They said that the matter had been broached to them some weeks ago, but no definite proposition had been made and until that was done they could not consider it. In connection with a meeting that was said would be held here in the next three weeks, they had no information and did not think any meeting was planned.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—A special despatch to the New York Journal of Commerce from its correspondent at Quebec, says:

The apparent success that has attended the amalgamation of virtually all the wholesale grocery houses of Ontario—and reports from the inside indicate that the economies are more than justifying the hopes of the promoters of the plan—has inspired similar plans in other provinces, and prediction is made that before the end of the year virtually all of Canada will be consolidated into four great systems of jobbing houses.

The plans for this giant merger are already virtually worked out, and only await the final action of the houses concerned to put it into action. It will in the four systems, embrace a total of over 80 wholesale grocery houses doing a business at present of about $150,000,000.

ONTARIO MERGER.

The Ontario merger, which was consummated about two months ago and was made effective on August 15, included 24 independent wholesale grocery houses at 37 points, doing a business of approximately $80,000,000. Though the ultimate program of consolidation and elimination of competitive waste has not yet been completed, the combine has already absorbed one more house and consolidated the entire system into 63 points.

A large number of salesmen have been dismissed and as many more will go in a short time. There are now only three or four houses which have not joined the merger. Economies have been such that retailers are daily signing up as 100 per cent. customers, saving not far from five per cent. by giving their patronage to one house; in addition to which the savings to the jobbing houses have been so great that a substantial dividend has been earned already and, strange to say, the volume of business has been increased about eight per cent. Details are not easily obtainable from those interested but there appears to be a growing enthusiasm in the working of the plan.

MARITIMERS TALK PLAN.

The wholesale grocers in this province and in the Maritime Provinces have been discussing the matter, and James P. Grimes, of Chicago, who has been acting as the promoter and expert accountant of the plan, has been in consultation with the leaders in all parts of the Dominion of late, giving advice for forming similar mergers at meetings soon to be called at Saint John, N. B.; Quebec and Winnipeg, the latter amalgamating the entire western provinces to the Pacific coast.

The plan is likely to be consummated at Saint John, N. B., within the next three weeks and will involve about a dozen houses at 24 points doing a business of $20,000,000.

In the merger of houses in the Province, 14 jobbing firms are involved and doing a business of about $40,000,000. The Winnipeg meeting will cover Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, and will probably cover 50 jobbing houses doing business at present at 40 points, with an aggregate volume of about $60,000,000.

It is reported in the ranks of those interested in this province that most of the preliminary details have been worked out and most of the opposition has faded away in the light of what already shown in the Ontario experiment to be possible.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Running easily on its trial test schedule time, No. 85620, one of the new oil-electric cars recently put into service by the C. N. R., arrived in Winnipeg last night, thereby completing the first half of its transcontinental journey of 1,872 miles. The car was operated under its own power and not once did the engine stop running. The 2,937-mile trip to the coast is being made as an endurance test, and that the performance already shown has been most encouraging. The car left Montreal Sunday.

K-FREDERICTON HOCKEY.

FREDERICTON, Nov. 3.—The Fredericton Hockey Club has been reorganized with the following officers:—President, J. Stanley Scott; vice-president, Leo Lane; secretary-treasurer, Barron White. Aiden Clark was selected as team captain. The club was desirous of entering the northern section it being understood that Moncton would transfer to another section. This is now impossible as the northern has formed with the same four clubs. Clarence Wade, who has gone to Saint John to represent the reorganized Marystown Club, which is supplying for admission to the western section, is likely to represent Fredericton also. He is Arctic rink manager.

WHAT difference does it make? Light is the least expensive of all modern comforts. It costs less now than it did before the war.

A 75 watt Edison Mazda Lamp averages less than half a cent an hour for current. If you read your daily newspaper from end to end under the proper light, the paper will have cost you more than the light you read it by.

The price of a cigar given to a guest will more than cover the cost of illuminating your house all evening. In comparison with any other service to the same end, light is an infinitesimal item in the cost of comfort and convenience.

ESKIMOS MAN SHIP FROM ARCTIC TO N.S.

Unique Experiment is Successful—3,000-mile Journey is Completed

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—Unique in the annals of Arctic navigation is the bringing down from Chesterfield Inlet, bordering on the 64th degree, to Liverpool, Nova Scotia, a distance of nearly 3,000 miles, of a northern trading schooner manned by full-blooded Eskimos. The schooner, Jean Revillon, is a fur trading craft, belonging to Itteville Freres, of Montreal. It was built in 1923, and since then has plied their Arctic waters north and west of Chesterfield Inlet.

ary to bring it to civilization to Shelburne, N. S. In charge of Captain W. H. Robertson, a Newfoundlander, and with C. J. King, of Montreal, as engineer, the vessel left on August 1st with a crew of four Eskimos. Only three weeks late, the Jean Revillon arrived at Liverpool, N. S., on Sunday night.

Percy Belyes, 130 Elliott Row, was taken ill in Germain street yesterday and he was taken to his home in the ambulance.

Windbag Captures Big Aussie Race

British United Press.

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 3.—The Melbourne Cup, decided over a distance of two miles, which is Australia's greatest horse race, with prize money aggregating over sixty-five thousand dollars was won by Windbag out of Charleyville, a four-year-old who was the Sydney champion. Melbourne's wonder three-year-old, Manfred, was second, while New Zealand's champion, Pillie Winkie, was third, thus maintaining the traditional intercolonial rivalry. Windbag has now won stakes totalling more than $152,000. He was bought as a yearling for $750, but the owner regretting his purchase shortly afterwards resold him at a loss of $100.

THE WEATHER.

The genial lull in the weather after a protracted spell of gusty days and nights—ugly westerlies—could hardly be designated "Indian Summer," thinks Director D. L. Hutchinson, of the local weather bureau. Indian Summer is a poetic thought mostly, the weather is what the weather is. The folks like to see the present spell is of that traditional brand, let the poetic thrills continue.

Use the Want Ad. Way.

OLD GRAMMAR SCHOOL OF SAINT JOHN TOLD OF IN ARCHIVES RECORDS

AMONG the Loyalist founders of New Brunswick were men who had come from high positions in the land of their forefathers. They were clever lawyers, wise judges and adroit statesmen. These men were nearly all graduates of the universities of the older colonies, and they were quick to realize the benefits derived from a good education.

In March, 1803, did the Saint John Grammar School have its beginning. The school was placed under the control of a board of directors of which the rector of Trinity Church was always to be president, the Mayor and Recorder of Saint John to be ex-officio members, with an executive of six additional members. Men such as Ward Chipman, Thomas Wetmore, Jonathan Bliss and William Pagan, were on the board and to them is owing Saint John's first school. Among various privileges accorded the directors was that of admitting eight free scholars into the school. The board was granted £100 annually for the upkeep, and an extra £100 for the erection of a school building.

FIRST SITE

This necessitated seeking a suitable site for the school, and a committee reported a lot on the corner of King street north which had been granted to Trinity Church by the city corporation. The vestry of Trinity were willing to lease two lots at 50s. each, but the school board did not accept, as a more reasonable offer had been made by Thomas Horsfield for a lot on Germain street. (Mr. Horsfield was one of the largest land owners in the city at that time).

The records in the Registry Office show that Mr. Horsfield, in consideration of 5s. "granted, bargained and sold" to the school board, two lots on Germain street about 160x200, at an annual rent of 5s. One condition attached was that a public street should be made from Charlotte to Germain, with 20 feet taken from the school lot and the other 20 from the property owned by Mr. Horsfield. So, in the summer of 1805, Horsfield street was opened to the public.

Arrangements were made by the board with a Mr. Jenkinson to open the school in June, 1805, on the condition that he provide a school room until May 1, 1806. Mr. Jenkinson was to receive a salary of 100 shillings per annum for every scholar excepting free from each scholar to provide fuel. Mr. Jenkinson proved a prudent teacher and in 1807, 1808, the board entered into another agreement with him similar to the first.

The next thing was to build the school, and a committee composed of Messrs. Blair, Wetmore and Chipman contracted for a building. Mr. Jenkinson was the contractor, and the school was to cost £218. The building was finished and ready for occupancy in 1806.

The first free scholar admitted was Peter James Dowry. In November, 1806, Rev. Roger Viets was appointed preceptor and assistant to the rector of Trinity church.

HARD GOING AT FIRST. In its early days the school had a hard struggle for life, and in 1808 was £100 in debt to Mr. Horsfield and £50 elsewhere. The legislature was appealed to and a grant of £170 freed the school from its encumbrances. Mr. Horsfield gave the directors an absolute deed, dated August 1, 1808, which is in the form of a perpetual lease.

The rector of Trinity, Rev. Mr. Viets, was growing old and was not able to attend to his duties. Consequently, Mr. Viets, as assistant, had twice as much work to do and was forced to neglect his school duties. About this time (1812-1814) the school was again in debt and the board asked the City Council for a grant. The sum of £25 was voted to be given annually. At the same time Mr. Viets resigned his preceptorship.

GET NEW TEACHER. The position was then offered to J. T. Twining, who refused. As no one seemed available, the board commissioned C. F. Hazen, who was going on a trip to the U. S., to secure a teacher for them. Accordingly, in 1815, Jonathan Wainwright arrived to take charge, but in the meantime the board had engaged Mr. Bremner, who resigned his claim when Mr. Wainwright came upon the scene. His resignation was refused, and Mr. Wainwright was paid £150 for his trouble. Mr. Bremner remained preceptor for two years. He was postmaster and coroner of Saint John at the same time.

The legislative grant was increased to £150 and fuel money from 5s. to 7s. a quarter. In April, 1816, there were 27 Grammar and 22 English pupils receiving instruction.

In 1818, James Patterson, a highly recommended gentleman of the University of Glasgow, arrived to take up the preceptorship of the school. The school flourished under the direction of Mr. Patterson, and the attendance increased noticeably. In 1827, the tuition fee was reduced to 2s. per annum.

FIRST GOLD MEDAL. In 1832, the board offered a gold medal for excellence in the classical department, which was won by George Lee, who thus became the first corporation medalist. The school hours were altered to give six and a half hours in the summer and six hours in the winter months and the following holidays were decided on: From Good Friday to Easter Tuesday, inclusive; Whit Monday and Tuesday; Ash Wednesday, the King's birthday, Loyalist Day, May 18; the whole of July; from Dec. 21 to Jan. 8. The school was now firmly established, and each year growing more popular with the people, because of the superior facilities it afforded for a first class education. In order to accommodate the large classes, the school was enlarged, and an attraction added in the shape of a fine library for the boys.

SAME AS THEY ARE NOW.

"Boys will be boys" no matter what the time or the place, and they were no better at that time than they are today. A complaint was made that the boys had been abusing the people in the yards next that of the school, so the master was authorized to close the gate after school hours.

In 1837, the school boasted three teachers, the principal, with a salary of £200; a classical teacher, £250; and an English master, salary £250. In 1858, extensive repairs were made to the building and the old bell was disposed of. The bell hung in a belfry which stood in the centre of the roof, and was rung by a rope which came through the ceiling into the head master's room. The opening and closing of school had been announced by this bell for a great many years.

In this year, Rev. William Armstrong, Messrs. C. W. Weldon, W. P. Dole, and Dr. Sinclair were appointed examiners, and reported on the progress and condition of the school. Previous to this time, the school had been taught on Saturdays, now the pupils were given the first Saturday of each month as a holiday.

PARKER MEDAL. In 1864, Mr. Justice Parker presented £50 to the Board, the interest of which was to purchase a medal, to be given annually, and to be called the "Albert Medal." W. S. MacFarlane was the first Parker medalist. Dr. Patterson, after teaching about 50 years, had given up all control of the school, but was given a pension from the government grant.

TO UNION STREET. In 1883, the school outgrew its quarters, and was moved to the Odd Fellows Hall in Union street. In November of the next year the board of directors transferred all the property to the Board of School Trustees. The following is one of their resolutions: "By the Act of Assembly, 47 Vic. Cap. 12, passed April 1, 1884, and recorded on the minutes of the last meeting of this board, all property in whatsoever form existing or hereafter situated, belonging to the president and directors of the Public Grammar School in the City of Saint John was transferred to the Board of School Trustees of the City of Saint John."

The Grammar school under the amended act comprised the three highest departments of the city schools, that is, three departments of the grammar school and the three highest departments in the Girls' High School. The curriculum in what is male and female departments was the same. The Grammar School was, in 1884, the only one in the county and was open to every parish.

Find Foot Prints Of Giant Dinosaur. BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Two Harvard students, doing research work in geology in the valley of the Connecticut river, discovered at Turner Falls the giant footprints of what is believed to have been a prehistoric dinosaur. The marks were found near the base of Sunderland Cliff, near Amherst, and are believed to be several thousand years old.

D. H. Leavitt '26 of Omaha, Neb., and D. D. Reynolds '27 of Newton Highlands, the two boys who made the discovery, have been granted a week's leave of absence by Harvard College in order that they may investigate further their strange and unexpected discovery. It is several years since any similar traces have been discovered in New England.

STREET SINGERS OWN CAR. BATH, Eng., Nov. 2.—An itinerant musician playing for alms in the streets of Bath, and his "collector," drive to the city in the mornings in their own touring car, which they leave in a garage. A man, an accomplished violinist, plays, while a woman collects. At four o'clock after reaping a good harvest, they return to the garage and drive off to new pastures.

A monument in Robert Fulton, inventor of the steam boat, is to be erected in a small French town where he conducted tests with a miniature steamboat in 1802.

What Will They Do?

The three men who have the destiny of the country in their hands, Premier W. L. M. King, who along with seven of his ministers, was defeated in the election campaign, may refuse to resign. His reconstituted party in that case would face a new Conservative group of 118 members under Hon. Arthur Meighan. Robert Forke, the leader of the diminished group of Progressives, now numbering 23, will be able to turn the tide in favor of whatever party he may throw in his lot with. In the back group of the picture is the latest view of the parliament with the completed Victory Tower.

With the remanets the docket is as long as that of July which was one of the largest ever presented to the court. The new cases at this time however are fewer than at preceding terms.

DEFENDED CASE

In Macintosh vs. Macintosh, which was entered previously and withdrawn, action is brought by the plaintiff wife before marriage named Duke, who now is residing with her parents at Liverpool, England. The defendant husband is Dr. L. DeC.

MRS. SNOWDEN'S VODKA.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of the ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the Congregational Union Conference at Bournemouth a few days ago how she, an ardent temperance advocate, once took "strong drink." "I was in Russia," she said, "and after very strenuous duty, we were sitting down, hot, tired, and exhausted. Being in a prohibitionist country, I accepted at a banquet what I thought was a glass of lemonade. "But I soon knew that I had been given not lemonade but the poisonous vodka. It took a great deal of the grace of God for me to forgive these people for having played such a practical joke upon an unsuspecting colleague."

Grocery and Whisky Trucks Used To Transport Bullion

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Two inconspicuous covered motor lorries, one advertising grocery business and the other a brand of whisky, rolled into the courtyard of the Bank of England yesterday afternoon. They contained neither food nor drink, but over 21,000,000 worth of bar gold. The bullion, which had been removed from Tilbury Docks, was the first shipment of gold from South Africa since the strike of seamen at Cape Town. Special precautions were taken at the Cape to prevent any interference with its shipment in the Ellerman liner, Trafford Hall, which sailed to London with the bullion in its strong-room. The loading of the motor lorries was carried out under the protection of two plain-clothes policemen. The lorries were then driven to the Bank of England through Barking and the East End.

Grange Soars To Great Heights Against Quakers

Writing in the New York Times, Harry Cross says of "Red" Grange: The golden yellow headgear of Red Grange of Illinois flashed over Franklin Field Saturday last, while 65,000 spectators, gathered from all over the East, looked on and saw him almost single handed defeat Pennsylvania's great football eleven by a score of 24 to 2. The speed, cleverness and uncanny intuition of any football player has never made such an impression on the Eastern gridiron as Grange's meteoric flights over a slippery, muddy field. The East has heard of the great achievements of this football player and has taken them with a grain of salt. They did not believe that he could be as great as the Middle West until the last inch had been gained. Everywhere in the mazes of mud-smeared players the golden yellow top-piece of Grange stood out like the helmet of Navarre. Beneath that leather headgear was a shock of red hair, but no one saw it. All that they saw was that big open face with an expression of seriousness which almost bordered on sadness. It was not sadness, though, because Red Grange must enjoy and enthuse over everything he does on the gridiron. If he didn't, he never could do it so well. SAD BLOW TO RED AND BLUE. Pennsylvania suffered terrific shock in the humiliation of the Red and Blue this afternoon. This eleven was triumphantly pointed toward an Eastern and even a national championship. It was proud of its strength and boastful of its achievements. It regarded Illinois as a one-man team and was so certain that the wet and muddy field today would be Grange's undoing that it was prepared for nothing but the sweetness of victory. It tasted nothing but bitterness. He shakes them off by a tricky twist of his hips. He twists about in their arms until he pries himself loose. An artful dodger he is, as artful as anything one will see on a football field in many, many moons. His left arm is a rod of steel. When he shoots it out straight at the onrushing opposition they bowl over like so many ten pins. And how that boy can keep his feet! Legs constitute something like 80 per cent of Grange's physical make-up. In every scrimmage which marked Pennsylvania's downfall, Red Grange was the last player to go down. The other players, his interferences and his tacklers, piled about him, but there he stood, the last contestant on his feet, and he did not topple over actor's wounds, and summoned medical assistance. Linder was rushed to the hospital.

The low-lying forward end of the Italian freighter Ignazio Florio, photographed from the rescue ship, President Harding, just before she went down to Davy Jones' Locker on October 21, about 1700 miles east of New York. This remarkable picture was taken during the raging storm which doomed the vessel, immediately after the crew were brought to safety. She sank a few moments later.

The 27 officers and men of the Italian freighter, Ignazio Florio, which sank during a severe storm in mid-ocean, brought safe into New York by the American liner, President Harding. Their rescue through persistent effort in the face of extreme danger constitutes one of the greatest hero stories in recent years. The highest praise has been given Captain Paul Grening and the crew of the President Harding.

Max Linder, French screen star and war hero, was born in Bordeaux and educated there and in Paris. He began his motion picture career with Pathe in the early days of the industry and was the screen comedy in France what Chaplin is in America. He wrote, directed and starred in the "Max Comedies" produced by Pathe and Essanay, among these being "Max Comes Acoos," "Max in a Taxi," "Max the Heart-breaker," "Max Plays Detective," and "Max Wants a Divorce."

When the World War started Max joined the French Air Service and fought with distinction on many fronts. He was wounded on the Aisne. Later he was cited for the rank of Knight of the Legion of Honor.

Soon after the close of the war he came to this country and entered motion pictures, making his home in Beverly Hills, near Los Angeles. He returned to Europe early in 1923. In that year while in Switzerland he had a narrow escape from death near Lausanne, where he was caught in an avalanche and swept down a mountain-side.

Just a few months later, while competing in automobile races on the Riviera, he was seriously injured in a smash-up along the Promenade des Anglais, near Nice. A fly striking his eye caused him to lose control of the steering wheel and the car overturned, hurling Linder out, seriously injuring his head.

In February of 1924 Linder and his wife were found unconscious in an hotel room in Vienna from what was said to be an overdose of sleeping

MOVIE SECRETS TO BE BARED WITHIN MONTH

Public Hearing on Conspiracy Charges Starts November 24

ANSWER MUST BE FILED BY NOV. 10

Original Complaint, Involving $1,500,000,000 Property, Lodged 4 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Interest of the theatrical world and the moving picture public will be centered here this month on the response of moving picture producers and exhibitors to charges of conspiracy filed against them by the Federal Trade Commission and subsequent public hearing of the case, which is set to begin November 24.

The answer of the moving picture respondents to the complaint of the government that they conspired to hinder competition in the production, distribution and exhibition of motion picture films and to monopolize or attempt to monopolize the motion picture industry must be filed with the Federal Trade Commission not later than November 10.

Preparation of the answer to the government brief, which was filed early in September, is said to be well under way, as much as the defense had been in process of development over a long period since the original complaint was lodged against the concerns, most of them with headquarters in New York, nearly four years ago. In fact, answers of some of the separate companies heretofore have been filed with the commission.

COMPANIES NAMED.

Companies named in the case, which has had considerable publicity over the long period since its inception, are the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, the Real Art Pictures Corporation, the Stanley Company of America, the Stanley Booking Corporation, the Black New England Theatres, Inc., and the Saenger Amusement Company. Individuals named are Adolph Zukor, Jesse L. Lasky, Jules Mastbaum, Alfred S. Black, Stephen A. Lynch and Ernest V. Richards.

From the standpoint of the values involved, the case is one of the most important undertaken by the Federal Trade Commission, the properties included aggregating more than $1,500,000,000.

Interest in the case is spirited also, because it affects people of the largest importance in the motion picture realm, who are known from one end of the country to the other.

WOULD DIVEST DEFENDANTS W. H. Fuller, chief counsel for the Federal Trade Commission, in the final brief of the government detailing the charges, asks for an order directing the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Adolph Zukor and Jesse L. Lasky to divest themselves of all interests which they have in theatrical property where motion picture films are exhibited, the order to be directed also, in order that it may be effective, to the respondents Jules Mastbaum, the Stanley Company of America, the Stanley Booking Corporation, the Saenger Amusement Company and Ernest V. Richards Jr.

In the case of the latter group it is asked that the order be the alternative of the order asked against the former group, which was that they be directed to "divert themselves of either the theatre interests which they own that exhibit motion picture films or should divest themselves of all interests in or ownership of all organizations engaged in the distribution of motion picture films."

Arguing from certain answers already filed in which the defendant companies has sought to prove that moving picture concerns, independent of their combination, have not been injured financially or otherwise, the government counsel in his brief maintains that it is not necessary to prove total annihilation of a competitor in order to prove illegal conspiracy to restrain competition.

the financial statements of other producing companies, which were held by the examiner to be incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and respondents have made an offer of proof as to financial standing and prosperity of two or more competing producers and asked for subpoenas duces tecum, requesting this information from several other producing companies. They will probably urge before this commission that this should have been admitted in the record and should now be considered by the commission in passing upon this case.

The brief sets out in great detail the operations of the Zukor interests in New York, whereby many other motion picture concerns have been forced into deterioration. The protection of the Loew theatres by Zukor is cited as an instance to show how individual exhibitors who formerly had first run pictures have been driven to a disadvantageous position in the field.

"Your counsel," the government brief concludes after setting forth in more than 100,000 words details of the operations of the respondents to control the moving picture business, "realize the far-reaching results of such an order (the order to respondents to divest) and that it contemplates the disposal of property of a probable value of more than $100,000,000.

SMELTERS MOST ACTIVE STOCK AT MONTREAL

Makes Net Loss of Half Point—No Wall Street Market Today

Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—Consolidated Smelters featured the opening of today's stock market, being easily the most active issue and declining a point overnight to 159 1/2, following yesterday's four point drop. In the early trading, however, it recovered to 160. The balance of the list was quiet. Steamships preferred selling unchanged at 53, Besco 2nd preferred off 1/4 at 12 1/2, and Brazilian unchanged at 77 1/2. Dominion Bridge, ex-div., was down half to 94 1/2. There were no other changes.

Farren Says He Did Not Sanction Arena Card

In a statement to The Times-Star this morning, Edward A. Farren, chairman of the Civic Boxing Commission, said he had not given his consent to the arena card last night, as he had felt that the fans were not getting their money's worth with only one bout and no preliminaries. Asked if he intended to resign, Mr. Farren said: "Certainly not; it is up to the others to resign."

Sport Ed's Note—The chairman's post mortem statement that he opposed the card comes rather late in the day to do any good. It is a similar case to padding the old barn after the old nag has been vamoosed. The fans look to the Boxing Commission to protect the interests of all concerned—boxers, promoters and public as well. It is a tall order sometimes, and maybe there is disagreement. But the time to talk is before—not after.

Jury Verdict Humors.

The case in London, reported in a paper by last mail, in which a coroner said he profoundly disagreed with the verdict of the jury, has recalled to a legal correspondent the trial that came before a well-known judge of a man indicted for theft, who pleaded guilty. His friends, however, having scraped together a sum sufficient for his defence, he was allowed to withdraw his plea, was tried and acquitted. After the verdict had been given, the judge, interrupting him, said, "Man, by your own confession you are a thief, and the jury have found you a liar. Get out!"

Another case is that in which a jury recommended the prisoner whom they had found guilty, "to mercy."

"Upon the grounds?" inquired the judge.

"The gentlemen are well qualified to make that recommendation," said the judge, dryly.

MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN Depends on Father John's Medicine to Keep Her Boys and Girls Strong and Healthy.

A very heavy responsibility rests on the mother of a family. Children are subject to so many sicknesses—are constantly playing around and exposing themselves to all sorts of dangers. Wet feet—running outside without coat or hat—standing in open doorways, and a hundred other little things, cause Coughs, Colds, Tonillitis and Bronchitis. Every mother knows what that means and takes every precaution to prevent it, but often in spite of her vigilance a cough or cold develops and it seems almost impossible to get rid of it. This is because the affected parts are weakened and the system is unequal to the task of building up sufficient resistance.

Mrs. Edward Sheridan, of 41 Sault au Matlot St., Quebec City, has every reason to be proud of being able to keep her family of seven children in such robust health. She says: "I have used Father John's Medicine for years and always have a bottle in the house. My children had Bronchitis for a long time and I used Father John's Medicine. It proved to be wonderful, so I thought my testimonial would help some other sufferer."

For seventy years mothers have used Father John's Medicine and have found that it so nourishes, strengthens and builds up the body that Coughs and Colds are driven out in a natural way. On the first appearance of a cold or the exposure to the danger of contracting one—mothers bring out the bottle of Father John's Medicine and find that this treatment usually prevents the cold from getting a foothold. It is a real food- tonic, containing cod liver oil and other valuable ingredients in a blend which is particularly palatable to children and easily digested by them. It enriches the blood, nourishes the nerve and body tissue, and in this natural way builds up the system's power of resistance so that disease finds it extremely difficult to batter down the defences.

As Father's John Medicine contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs it is perfectly safe for anyone.

The ability of Williams Shaving Cream to provide such wonderfully perfect beard-softening, skin-comforting lather makes one think that it should cost more than ordinary shaving creams. But it doesn't.

"You've sold the dog?" "Yes." "What for?" "For ten thousand dollars." "Ten thousand dollars! What are you talking about? Where's the money?" "I didn't get money, dad. I got two $5,000 cats for it."

$300,000 SAVED BY ONTARIO ON LOANS

Lower Rates of Interest Secured on Hydro and Other Issues

Canadian Press. TORONTO, Nov. 3.—Provincial Treasurer Price has announced the receipt by the government, during the year, of $8,151,078 in payment of interest and carrying charges of money which has been advanced to the provincial hydro commission.

The advances now total $146,529,309, and the amount loaned during the last fiscal year, amounted to $8,844,092. There are no arrears of hydro interest.

REFUND AT FROTT. During the year the government has been able to refund, not only certain hydro loans at lower rates of interest than was being paid but other Ontario government loans. The result in connection with hydro loans had been a saving totalling $160,298 for year on interest charges and approximately the same amount on Ontario government loans which had been refunded. While Provincial Treasurer Price was unable to state exactly just what the saving would be to the province on the whole of the refunded loans, it is gathered from government circles that the sum will be about $300,000.

Marysville May Come in Hockey League The Fredericton Gleaner has the following: "Marysville may get back on the hockey map again this winter, according to reports gaining circulation in generally well informed circles. "Clarence Wade, veteran of New Brunswick Hockey League struggles for some years past, and new lessee of the Arctic rink, is on his way out of the Minichewi woods today, headed for Fredericton and en route to Saint John, where the western section of the New Brunswick Hockey League will hold their preliminary meeting tomorrow.

"It is said that it is his intention to encourage the return of Marysville to the provincial hockey league again, thus reviving the old-time rivalry between Fredericton and Marysville. It is said that in the event of Marysville returning to the provincial league Edgar Wade, Mark Wade, Charlie Wade and other Penniac players will be with the Marysville club. Dow Brewer, another former Marysville standby, is also available again as are the Harrison brothers and others.

"Dr. Allen Sterling is expected to represent the Fredericton Hockey Club at the meeting here tonight."

ROY MITCHELL WINS ON FOUL FROM JACK WARD

Nearly Knocked Out Montrealer in the Sixth Round

OUTSIDE of the dinner bell, Jack Ward, Montreal heavyweight, never listened to a sweeter sound last evening than the gong ending the sixth round of his bout with Roy Mitchell, Halifax light heavyweight, in the Arena. It is quite possible that Monty Ward never heard much of the bell outside of a faint tinkle calling him back out of a rather dazed state into which he had been suddenly plunged by his younger colored opponent's flying fists for the way he staggered around the ring and fell into the ropes...

The opening rounds were rather tame and as matters progressed, the frisky Mr. Ward slowly got lulled into a sense of security by the cautious attitude of Mr. Mitchell. He commenced jabbing around like a bantam in the fourth round after closing up Mitchell's eye and jarring a few molars and his pupils loose and in round five looked even better with Mr. Mitchell's rather sorry-looking mess. The sixth opened with Mr. Ward making plenty of hay under the calcium glare and the fans started in with pencil and pad to figure out how long Mr. Mitchell could last, when, presto—Mr. Ward caught a few on the jaw and the next second saw him caving his way to the floor. Here Mr. Ward got up to fire in the count when Mr. Ward groggily staggered to his feet, one arm clutching the ropes. Mitchell sailed into him and he almost fell on him in his eager desire to enfold him. Vainly, Mitchell tried to shake him off. They parted and Mitchell pushed Ward to the other side of the ring where he pressed a great deal in the ropes, almost doing a Jack Dempsey into the spectators' laps. Mitchell could not find the desired number in his stock to end matters. Ward slipped but was soon on his feet again. He socked him high and low but the Montreal warhorse refused to go down with Mr. Mitchell easily. Ending the best chance Mr. Mitchell ever had of reaping fame and glory by doing something even Jack Renault could not do, Ward walked dazedly to his seat and there under expert handling he revived sufficiently to last out the next round. Mitchell's over-eagerness again cost him dearly for as the minutes progressed, Ward in his cleared and he was coming back strong when soon after the ninth round, Mitchell dropped to the canvas on a low blow. Dr. H. S. Clark pronounced it a foul blow and the bout was awarded to Mitchell.

Outside of the sixth round, it was the toughest fight here in some time. Ward is a lumbering fighter with a knowledge of in-fighting while Mitchell showed speed and cleverness and looks like a real comer. It was the only bout...

HOPE TO HAVE LEAGUE FORMED IN BASKETBALL

Definite Action Expected at Meeting Next Tuesday Night

As there was no definite information available as to whether boys' or girls' rules for basketball would be used in other parts of the Maritime Provinces and in Canada as a whole for girls' basketball teams, the meeting of representatives of the girls' basketball teams in the city, which was held last night in the Y. W. C. A., was adjourned until Tuesday evening of next week, when it will be convened again in the same place at 9 o'clock. The meeting was presided over by W. E. Stirling, and Miss Marion Belding was chosen as secretary. There were present representatives of the Y. W. C. A. basketball teams, and the teams of East and West Saint John and Trojan Rovers. It had been hoped that arrangements for the formation of a City Girls' Basketball League could have been made last night, but the question of what rules were used by other teams was brought up and it was decided to adjourn the meeting until the desired information was available. One representative from each girls' basketball team in the city is invited to attend the meeting on Tuesday.

THOMAS E. SHEA WARMLY GREETED ON RETURN HERE

Well Known Actor Gets Ovation After Several Years' Absence

FINE PERFORMANCE AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Carroll Players Present Stir- ring Drama of War Days, "The Fires of Passion"

Thomas E. Shea must have been a happy man last evening. Seldom, if ever, has a Saint John audience extended to a returning favorite a welcome such as was accorded him. It was doubly flattering as a Saint John audience as a rule, is not demonstrative, and only an extraordinary display of merit or the existence of a strong tie of friendliness can arouse it to give what might be called an ovation. And both these necessities were realized last evening.

Mr. Shea, on his first appearance, was accorded the tribute of a returning favorite. As the play progressed, it was realized that the guest star of the Carroll Players was presenting an impression that was worthy of the Shea of other years. And so when the curtain descended on the last scene but one, there was a prolonged and fervent applause which resulted in six or seven curtain calls. Finally, Mr. Shea stepped forward and in a few words expressed his appreciation of the reception given, his delight at being back once more in the city where he had made so many friends in the past and which was one of the brightest pages in his book of memories. He paid a high tribute to Mr. Carroll personally as a show man and to his company for their fine work.

STIRRING DRAMA

"The Fires of Passion" in which Mr. Shea was cast in the role of Cardinal Mercier, that war-famed prelate, is a stirring drama of the German occupation of Belgium and held the audience throughout by its tense situations, its thrilling climaxes, its well woven and well presented story of tragedy and pathos. Although the action centres around Mr. Shea's wonderful characterization, it is by no means what is termed a one-man show. The regular members of the Carroll Players share to a large measure the honors of the production and they were well cast and played their parts in a manner which reflected much credit on their abilities.

Miss Helen Louise Lewis, as Yvonne Dumont, of the American Red Cross, bore a heavy share of the presentation and her work was that of the artist. In scenes depicting her offer of generous sacrifice to save the life of her father, and her flight to preserve herself from the scheming Prussian ruffians, she rose to new heights of achievement. Her endeavors received hearty approval from her audience. Miss Irene Hubbard, the only other lady in the cast, also gave a fine performance as Countess De Perigny, sister to Miss Dumont. She too was particularly effective in the strong dramatic passages.

Edward Cullen, although his role was not as lengthy as usual, developed a fine heroic part, that of Neville Ordway, and English-American aviator and his presentation contributed greatly to the success of the piece.

Two fine character impersonations were those of Owen Coll and William Townsend, as General Von Eisenrath and Colonel Von Hoenwarth, respectively, ultra-Prussians capable of almost anything in the name of the Fatherland. Theirs were despicable characters, yet the artistry in their presentation was equal in measure to their atrociousness.

Gordon Anderson presented another real character as Muhlbauer, an orderly, who was a little more than he seemed on first acquaintance. J. Russell Webster typified the real Hun officer in his part of Lieut.-Col. Von Barch. Jack Haggerty doubled in the roles of Secretary to the Cardinal and Major Krell, of the German Secret Service, in both of which he was excellent. G. C. Hansen was a typical German orderly, while Forrest Cummings, as a Bavarian Colonel, Count Lantz, completed a very efficient cast. The play was excellently staged and the effects were particularly effective. A bombing raid was very realistic and the flight of an airplane across the distant background near the end of the piece was quite true to life. Taken all together, the play is one that is above the ordinary and the faithfulness with which the details are made to fit the actual realities of the story is particularly outstanding.

AGNES AYERS STAR AT UNIQUE THEATRE

Seen at Best in "Her Market Value," From Noted Stage Success

Comedy, drama and romance are combined in equal and satisfactory proportions in "Her Market Value," starring Agnes Ayers, which was given its first local showing yesterday at the Unique Theatre. The picture is an adaptation of Frances Nordstrom's sensational London stage success which for over a year has occupied the same theatre in London.

Miss Ayers does some of her finest work as Nancy Dumont, widow of a suicide stock broker. The story tells of three men who have promised the bankrupt Dumont that they will care for his widow. They form a pool of $40,000 which they give to her under the guise of a legacy, but instead of using this for subsistence, she pays off the debt contracted by her husband and then goes to work as private secretary to one of the three men.

Two of the men seek control of the girl for the furtherance of their own desires. The third is a young attorney who had been an unsuccessful suitor before her marriage. All three endeavor to buy the other two out to get control of "the Dumont stock," as they term it. A sudden and intensely dramatic climax comes when Davis succeeds over the others.

UNHOLY THREE FINE PICTURE

Strong Story Based on Crooked Alliance of Three Freaks of Museum

Imperial Theatre enjoyed particularly generous patronage yesterday, especially at night because of its extraordinary feature picture and the novelty of the new Wurlitzer organ as supplementing the orchestra. It was a very choice program indeed and will be continued tomorrow.

"The Unholy Three," a crook drama directed by Tod Browning for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and now being featured at the Imperial, can apply to the film and has left out the old brocade situations about mortgages, snow storms and villains who claim the beautiful young heroine is heir of certain amounts of money owed by poor parents.

MUSEUM FREAKS.

He has filmed the adventures of a trio of museum freaks who unite as a criminal band called "The Unholy Three." There is a fourth member but she becomes the heroine in the early part of the picture and fades out in the arms of an innocent lover who has been framed by her erstwhile friends.

The picture is not lacking in comedy and it is interpreted by an all-star cast that has used every opportunity to a good advantage.

The cast includes: Lon Chaney, Mae Busch, Matt Moore, Victor McLaglen, Harry Earle and Mathew Betts, as well as a number of lesser names.

Great credit should be given the director for the masterful way in which this production has been made. Yet it must be conceded he started with an out-of-the-ordinary story.

Mae Busch, a winner. Mae Busch proves in this drama that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer made a real find when they placed her under contract to play heroine roles for the next few years. Lon Chaney is an outstanding success of the production and Matt Moore is extremely good as the lover.

Both Victor McLaglen, who is a celebrated English actor, and Harry Earle, a 85-pound midget, deserve commendation for their forceful interpretations.

In addition to the main feature the Imperial showed pictures of the Prince of Wales snowbound in the Andes as well as other topical news in Pathe Weekly. A magazine reel contained intimate pictures of trained wild animals in the London zoo, a wedding in the Holland and the colored pictures were taken in the Pyrenees. With the new Wurlitzer organ and the orchestra the musical part of the show was particularly enjoyable. The same program for tomorrow.

COLLEEN MOORE IN NEW HIT, "SALLY"

Film Star at Palace Theatre in Screen Vision of Ziegfeld Success

Ziegfeld's "Sally" has left his tender care and now is in the movies. Colleen Moore is the new "Sally," as revealed yesterday on the screen at the Palace Theatre. She is altogether a charming and personable heroine, delighting her audience with moments of hoydenish humor, much human interest and no little genuine drama.

First we discover "Sally" as the forlorn little inmate of a foundling home. Then we see her as the drudge in the kitchen of the Elm Tree Inn. Quickly the action shifts and "Sally" is plunged into the vortex of a gay life as revealed at the lawn fête of a multi-millionaire.

Lloyd Hughes is Miss Moore's leading man. Leon Errol, who was in the original stage version, is seen in his same role in the film. He is exceedingly funny and does well in enhancing the scenes with Miss Moore.

Others in the cast are Myrtle Stedman, Dan Mason, John T. Murray, Ray Hallor, Louise Beaudet, Eva Novak and Carlos Schlipa.

GLORIA SWANSON ON QUEEN SQ. SCREEN

Leads in Production of "Man- handled" After New York Shop Girl Experience

Gloria Swanson spent several strenuous days in preparation for her latest Paramount picture, "Manhandled," being shown at the Queen Square Theatre. She worked a day in one of New York's largest department stores to get a line on how shop girls think and act. That is, she worked almost a day before the other girls in the store recognized her despite the blonde wig and dark glasses she wore for a disguise.

After her experience in the department store, Miss Swanson added another equally picturesque adventure to her preparation for the part. She ate several meals in a Bronx boarding house, the kind that is pictured in "Manhandled." To cap the climax of her work in getting atmosphere for the picture she picked the rush hour to take her first subway ride in New York.

"I got the biggest thrill out of the subway," declared Miss Swanson, when she returned to the studio to begin work. "The experience in the department store was novel, and I enjoyed it. So was the boarding house, but neither one of them could compare with the subway. When I went down in the big elevators at the Grand Central station I discovered just how a sardine feels when he is canned-up and ready for shipment."

"Manhandled" is an Allan Dwan production, with Tom Moore, Frank Morgan, Lalyan Tashman, former Follies beauty; Paul McAllister, Ian Keith and others playing in the supporting cast. The picture will be shown for the last time tonight, 7 and 8:45 o'clock.

"John Henry" is an Allan Dwan production, with Tom Moore, Frank Morgan, Lalyan Tashman, former Follies beauty; Paul McAllister, Ian Keith and others playing in the supporting cast. The picture will be shown for the last time tonight, 7 and 8:45 o'clock.

Cat May Have $150 a Year for Maintenance

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—"John Henry," price per cat of the late Irving Wood of Commonwealth avenue, comes from a fortunate line of felines.

The beneficiaries under the Wood will have agreed that $150 may be spent each year for the care and maintenance of "John Henry." This is in compliance with a wish expressed by Wood, but which was not taken care of in his will.

"John Henry" comes from the same line of felines as did the seven cats owned by the late Etta O. Stockwell, and lived in Providence. Their mistress fearing that they might come to want if anything should happen to her, made a provision in her will, drawn in 1917, that $7,000 be set aside for their care.

However, all seven cats died before their mistress and so the fund reverts to her estate.

Events Planned and Other Activities Are Gone Into—Aid Poppy Day

Four primary chapters of the I. O. F. E.—Brunswick, Loyalist, Royal Arms and Seven Seas—held their November meetings yesterday. Generous votes of money were made and plans were furthered for future activities.

BRUNSWICK CHAPTER.

Almost the entire membership was present at the meeting of Brunswick Chapter in the afternoon at the residence of Miss Annie Tilton. Mrs. J. William Hart, regent presided. Excellent reports were received from all branches of the work. Plans were made for a social hour at the residence of the Carleton G. W. V. to attend divine service in Ludlow street Baptist church on Nov. 8. The meeting voted $25 to the Carleton G. W. V. for Poppy Day; $10 to the Opportunity class of the New Albert school, and $10 towards purchasing a nucleus for a patriotic library for the school in the County Hospital. After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. The hostesses were Miss Tilton, Mrs. W. I. Penton and Mrs. R. D. Dole.

LOYALIST CHAPTER.

Loyalist Chapter met at the home of Mrs. P. H. Estabrook, Mount Pleasant, with Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, regent, in the chair. The chapter decided to give milk for the South End Free Kindergarten, and voted $25 to the Goodfellow's Fund, and $50 for Christmas boxes for soldiers' families. It was decided to assist the G. W. V. A. in selling poppies on Poppy Day and Mrs. W. Vassie was appointed convener of the seven chapter members who will help. Final arrangements were made for a rummage sale this week. Miss B. Dawson was given charge of the nomination of officers for the annual meeting. A short programme was given after the rummage meeting and was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Fred Foster gave readings and Miss Louise Knight sang. The hostess of the evening was Mrs. W. R. Rising, and she was assisted by Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, Mrs. Fred Foster, Mrs. R. F. Wright, Mrs. Percy Turcott and Mrs. D. W. Ledingham.

ROYAL ARMS CHAPTER.

Mrs. Norman Gregory, regent, presided at the meeting of Royal Arms Chapter, held at the residence of Mrs. Allan Sharpe in West Saint John. Four members were elected. Plans were made for decorating with poppies the 61 soldiers' graves in Fernhill on Sunday, when the G. W. V. A. will hold its annual decoration service. Preparations for the Christmas sale and tea to be held in December were also made. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

SEVEN SEAS CHAPTER.

Seven Seas Chapter met at the residence of Miss Helen Corbett, Duke street, with Mrs. Everett Hunt, regent, in the chair. The chapter welcomed one new member and voted a sum of money to the G. W. V. A. as a contribution to Poppy Day. Final preparations were made for a sale to be held next week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Jessie Chipman Mission Circle of Portland Church Has Pleasant Evening

The Jessie Chipman Mission Circle of the Portland United Church met at the new parsonage in Main street last night for a birthday party to which members brought the same number of pennies as there were years in their age. The rooms were very nicely decorated in Halloween colors. Mrs. Fred Smiler, president, was in the chair and Miss Muriel Fanjoy led the opening devotions. Miss Gertrude Wales had charge of the first part of the program. During the evening a quiet was pleasantly sung by Miss Helen Henderson and Miss Margaret Henderson and a solo by Miss Madeline Daley. When the delicious refreshments were served a handsome birthday cake was the object of special admiration. Those in charge of the refreshments were Mrs. John Stevens, Miss Cora Carr, Mrs. Lloyd Yeomans, Miss Muriel Fanjoy, Miss Jennie Eagles, Miss Gertrude Wales and Mrs. Fred Smiler. Rev. Dr. Stewart of the West China Union University gave a short address.

Girl Guides Enjoy Halloween Event

Attractive and novel costumes of the young people at a Halloween party for the members of the St. Paul's No. 5 Company of Girl Guides and their guests, which was held last evening, made a very picturesque scene in the gaily decorated schoolroom of the church. There were prizes for the costumes. Ruth Anna Foster and Elaine Cunningham dressed as a pair of white mice were awarded the prize for the best pair. Lorraine Ramsay won the prize for the best Halloween costume and one of the visitors dressed as a bird won the prize for the prettiest costume. The judges were Mrs. James Magee and Mrs. C. C. Kirby. The girls greatly enjoyed the program of games and entertainment as well as the delicious refreshments which followed. Those in charge of the party were Miss Irene Barber, captain of the company; Miss Margaret Anderson, Mrs. C. C. Kirby and Mrs. J. Gilchrist.

GOES TO TORONTO

W. Russell Evans to be Sales Manager in Ontario City

Many friends of W. Russell Evans, who has been chief assistant to A. Ernest Everett, house furnisher, Charlotte street, for the last 10 years, will be pleased to learn that he has accepted the responsible position of sales manager for the city of Toronto and environs of the Easy Electric Household Appliance Company, Toronto, and that he will leave within three weeks time to take over his new duties. While glad to hear of this well-merited promotion, many will regret his new position will entail his removal from the city.

He expects to come back about Christmas and on his return to Toronto will be accompanied by his wife and family. Prior to entering Mr. Everett's employ, Mr. Evans was connected with E. Leonard & Sons, Ltd. here. He has made a fine record here and the best wishes for success from many friends will follow him in his new line of endeavor.

As Hiram Sees It

I never got such a squeeze from so many women in my life as I did in the elevator in one of them there big department stores in Toronto. They must've wanted to do it too—fer they jammed in till I couldn't hardly get my breath. They were squarer than some of them no-fangled dancers. Beats all how bargain-huntin' makes women dig their elbows into a feller's ribs. Well, sir, —after another Sunday in Toronto I'll say it's about as excitin' as settin' on a stump watchin' a funeral. Now Pa, to home I'll see about bankin' the house an' mendin' the barn door afore I start out on my travels again. HIRAM.

HOLD FIRST DEBATE

St. George's Y. P. S. Hear About Baking Powder and Gun Powder

At a meeting of the Young People's Society of Saint George's Church, in the school room last evening, with Rev. John Unsworth, rector, presiding, the members held their first debate. The subject was, "Resolved, that baking powder has done more for the world than gun powder." The affirmative was taken by Mrs. Parker Mitchell, Miss Alice Fulton, and Miss Alice Silphant, and the negative by Leonard Johnstone, Robert Orr and Norval Lambert. The judges were Rev. George M. Moore, curate of St. John's (Stone) Church, W. R. Sanderson and Arthur Hatfield. The verdict was given in favor of the affirmative. In summing up the arguments, Rev. Mr. Moore congratulated all the speakers on their eloquent addresses, gave some helpful criticisms, and exhorted them to continue to stress in the art of debating in the Young People's Society. Much merriment was caused when two cakes, one made with baking powder, the other with gun powder, were brought into evidence by Mrs. Parker Mitchell to illustrate her remarks. It was felt that this in no small way helped to win the verdict.
