NEWMAN BROOK SEWER QUESTION

Engineer Asked to Submit Plans for System in That Area.

Report on Tower Street Water Supply—Contractors Ask Return of Money Guarantee—Preparations for Next Year's Paving.

The establishment of a trunk sewer system in the Newman brook area was again considered by the commission in committee meeting this morning and it was decided to have the engineer submit plans for the proposed system. The latest of an improvement in the water service in Tower street was laid on the table for more information. The matter presided and all the commissioners were present.

Morrison and Newlands were asking the city for the return of an amount held back by the city in payment on a contract for the delivery of 10,000 feet of curbing at $10 a foot delivered at the city yards and $110 a foot delivered on the street, for straight curbing and $120 a foot for circular curbing. The pipe at present in use extends from Charlotte street, where it is connected with a six-inch cast iron pipe, passes under a dwelling house in Charlotte street and through several vacant lots until it reaches Tower street, then under two more houses to Dufferin row, where it is "dead-ended." Originally this pipe was maintained through the eight-inch cement pipe, extending from the reservoir down Prince street and across Duke street; this was abandoned some years ago, and since that time the supply is taken from the six-inch cast iron main in Charlotte street.

Commissioner Jones reported that to give the residents of Tower street the best water service it would be necessary to abandon the eight-inch cement pipe, which was installed about thirty years ago, and to install the West Side water system and establish a new service through Tower street. The pipe at present in use extends from Charlotte street, where it is connected with a six-inch cast iron pipe, passes under a dwelling house in Charlotte street and through several vacant lots until it reaches Tower street, then under two more houses to Dufferin row, where it is "dead-ended." Originally this pipe was maintained through the eight-inch cement pipe, extending from the reservoir down Prince street and across Duke street; this was abandoned some years ago, and since that time the supply is taken from the six-inch cast iron main in Charlotte street.

He reported on this matter, the superintendent said that the water takers in Tower street do not get even a fair supply of water, the pipe is old and unreliable, and should be replaced by a new pipe, and that the work should be done, if possible, before winter sets in.

Mr. Jones said that nine families were affected. He recommended the installation of either a six-inch or eight-inch pipe. The estimated cost was between $10,000 and $4,000. The difference in cost between six-inch and eight-inch would be about $100.

He moved that he be authorized to carry out the renewal of the water service in this area was put in with the idea that it was to be a temporary arrangement.

Commissioner Prink said that the deepening of Newman brook would be of no use unless a trunk sewer was established to drain the area.

It was decided to ask the city engineer to submit plans for a trunk sewer system in that area.

Commissioner Thornton presented an application from the Nova Sales Co. to establish a gasoline filling station on the vacant lot at the corner of Princess and Germain streets.

The matter was referred to Commissioner Thornton.

IRISH MATTERS IN COMMONS TODAY

Unionist Motion Against the Government's Course.

London, Oct. 31.—Debate in the House of Commons on the Irish question, particularly the Unionist motion intended as a censure of the government, excited keen interest through Great Britain today.

Evidence of this interest was found in the fact that it was impossible to manfully more than a fraction of the demands for seats in the restricted public galleries, hundreds of applicants being disappointed. The Unionist motion, which was introduced by Col. John Grafton, follows:

"That this house views with grave apprehension the action of the government in entering upon negotiations with delegates from Southern Ireland, who have taken the oath of allegiance to the Irish Republic and have repudiated the authority of the crown.

"And in view of the fact that an act of parliament for the settlement of the relations between Great Britain and Ireland was passed as recently as last year, this house is of the opinion that no proposals for the government of Southern Ireland should be made without the sanction of parliament."

Premier Lloyd George returned to London from Chequers Court, his effectual Londoner last night, so that he might have final consultations with his colleagues before replying to his critics in the house today.

It was expected his speech would virtually be the only feature of importance during the debate, and nowhere was there any apprehension that the results of the vote on the motion of censure would involve the least danger to the government's stability.

This morning's newspapers indulged in considerable speculation relative to the premier's pronouncement, but they differed considerably in their forecasts. Some anticipated a clear statement as to the progress of negotiations and the prospects of success, while others contended that, as the men involved in the Irish conference were pledged to secrecy, it was impossible that Lloyd George would reveal matters which must be held in confidence until the conclusion of the negotiations. It was generally believed the premier's speech would materially influence the position of the Unionist party, but whether it would take the direction of rallying the moderate majority to continued support of the coalition government, or would indicate the strength of malcontents remained to be seen.

Prominent Unionists held many conferences over the week-end, and A. Bonar Law, former government leader in the House of Commons, was one of the notables engaged in the discussions. The question of the alliance of the king received little attention from Irish writers on the Anglo-Irish situation today. They appear to regard Ulster as the chief source of preoccupation on both sides.

The Daily Mail declared it was understood the government had decided to grant Ulster's petition that its government be made effective, and had determined to turn over to that government various powers thus far withheld, pending the creation of a separate government in Southern Ireland.

The newspaper explained that the method by which this could be effected without special legislation was undetermined, and it added that it had received no information as to the way the government would meet objections in the Daily Mirror.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—Four Irish women, political prisoners in Mount Joy prison, this city, escaped from custody last night. One of them, Linda Keary, a nurse, was serving a sentence of ten years. The escape was effected by means of a rope ladder thrown across the prison wall, and the fugitives clambered down a steep embankment and escaped, completing the most daring jail delivery in the history of Mount Joy. The guard was summoned, but search failed to reveal a trace of the four women.

STREET CARS IN MONTREAL CRASH

More Than a Score Hurt as They Come Together at Excessive Speed.

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Two street cars, both traveling at an excessive rate of speed, collided early this morning in St. Denis street, near the back river, resulting in more than a score of people being seriously injured. Both cars were totally wrecked.

Several of the broken limbs and the mortuary of one car, which was pinned under the wreckage for some time, was taken to a hospital in serious condition. The accident was attributed to an error in switching.

TWO FIRE CALLS TODAY; WERE 17 IN OCTOBER

The firemen were called out twice this morning. The first call was from box 512, for a fire in a house occupied by Mrs. Margaret Halpin, Kimball street. The blaze originated around the chimney in the upper part of the house and was extinguished with the chemical.

Some of the woodwork had to be chipped away to get at the seat of the fire. About a quarter after twelve a fire alarm was sent to No. 8 Station for a fire in the rear of a house occupied by Charles W. Pacey, 314, Carleton street. A few minutes later an alarm was rung in from box 58. The person who gave the alarm saw smoke issuing between the rear of the house and a shed which is separated from it by about three inches. Those who arrived the smoke had practically disappeared and there was no sign of any burnt material. It is presumed that the smoke issued from a defective flue. A fireman said this morning that there had been seventeen alarms this month, up to noon today, which is rather above the average.

Salvage THE chair is empty. The man is gone—gone on that long journey from which there is no return. And with him has gone the vitality—the spirit—the prestige—he gave to the business. His passing means immediate—its may be irreparable—financial loss to the concern whose destinies he controlled. Months—perhaps years—must elapse before another man of equal strength can be found to fill the vacant chair. In the meantime the stability of the concern will be threatened by turmoil, loss of business, tightening of credit and other ills—ills which the inflow of a substantial amount of ready money would largely obviate. Business Life Assurance is designed to meet this and other contingencies which—sooner or later—arise in every business. You insure your business against possible loss by fire. Surely life assurance should also be carried on the lives of your partners or valuable officials. Fire is only a possibility—death is inevitable. This Company has given special attention to the subject of life assurance for business protection and has been privileged to serve many of Canada's most prominent concerns in this connection. Some of the knowledge acquired during many years' study of the application of Business Life Assurance has been embodied in an interesting booklet on the subject. We'll gladly mail you a copy if you send us your name and address. There's no obligation involved. COUPON The Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada. Please send me your booklet about Business Life Assurance.

Choosing the Phonograph! In choosing the phonograph great care must be taken that its reproduction be perfect, true and musically correct. No mistake is possible if the IMPERIAL is chosen. Play While You Pay We have arranged specially attractive terms, so that none may be without music in their homes. J. MARCUS, 30-36 Dock St.

NEWMAN BROOK SEWER QUESTION (Continued from page 1.) Commissioner Frink recommended that permission be granted to John M. Journey to erect an electric sign at his place of business in Union street. Commissioner Jones said that this sign was already erected and was lighted on Saturday. Dr. Frink said that he had given Mr. Journey orders not to put the sign up until permission was granted by council. The recommendation was granted. Prepare For Parvins. As the commissioner of public works was anticipating the paving of the section between Cooper's corner and City road and Prince Edward street, and also the Market square next year, the mayor asked Commissioner Jones if he would look into the question of water and sewerage services to see that they were in good shape this fall. Mr. Jones promised to report on the matter. Commissioner Bullock said that before Market square was paved a permanent wall should be built along the head of the Market Slip. He said that this would have to be either of concrete or granite. The concrete, he said, was not standing up well in salt water, and granite would have to be used at least below high water. He suggested that the engineer bring in a report on the matter. NO ACTION WAS TAKEN. IN WALL STREET. New York, Oct. 31.—(10:30)—The uneven course of early prices in the stock market today was indicated by Mexican Petroleum's loss of 15-8 points and Baldwin Locomotive's gain of 11-2 points. Oils as a group were lower, further selling of Pacific issues being noted. Rails, equipments, motors, chemicals and leather and textiles strengthened fractionally to 11-2 points. Of the speculative stocks, Vanadium was heaviest. Wilson and Company common lost five points, and the preferred dropped fifteen.

BAD OR HARD BOILED

Hamilton, Oct. 31—While market matters were being discussed by the Property and License Committee last week, Ald. MacKay said that he had an experience that made him feel that citizens should have more protection from those who sell eggs on the market. He said that he bought two dozen eggs at 75 cents per dozen. Of the two dozen, seven were bad and two hard-boiled. Ald. Birrell stated that many of the eggs now being sold at high prices are strictly fresh were packed last May or June.

It was decided that all persons selling eggs should be obliged to register, and be given a number by which they can be identified by purchasers. It is thought this will stop the trickery of some egg dealers.

While riding in a truck, driven by James Quigg, last evening in Douglas avenue, Michael Edward, a returned soldier, was cut about the face. School Work Brought Home To Weak or Crippled Children By Plan of Visiting Teachers Little is Known of Excellent Work Being Done in Connection with Public Schools of Toronto for Little Folk Unable to Attend Classes—Weaker Children Eager Scholars.

One of the most interesting classes in connection with the public schools of Toronto is that known as the class for disabled children, who, through weak hearts or being crippled, are prohibited from attending the daily school, and are receiving instruction in their homes. The first group was organized as an auxiliary class last Easter, and Miss Honor Milne, a teacher of boys and girls in Toronto public schools for many years, appointed the visiting teacher.

The fifteen members of the class are widely scattered, some situated in the centre of the city, but others residing at the city limits. Twice a week Miss Milne visits each pupil, supervising its studies and assigning the lessons.

"My chief aim is to get these children together between lessons," Miss Milne told The Globe. "The teaching is absolutely different from that of the public schools. In visiting the disabled children, the teacher comes in contact with the individual pupils, and knows them personally. My greatest desire is to bring into action every agency that I can break the monotony of their lives and get the children interested and in touch with the outside world, through libraries, museums and parks," said Miss Milne.

With pride shining in her eyes the visiting teacher told of the few excursions in which the disabled children have participated. It is difficult to plan these for all are delicate, and it is seldom all are equal to an adventure on the same day. An occasion arose when the class of five was taken to the city hall. The class of five was taken to the city hall. The class of five was taken to the city hall.

CURRENT POLITICS

A Vain Appeal

(Bathurst Northern Light)

Not so many months ago the Maritime Provinces united in sending to Ottawa a great delegation to argue and plead that better treatment should be accorded this section of the Dominion in regard to the freight rates. The reception of the delegates by Premier Meighen and the members of his cabinet, the cabinet of the pre-revision period, was one long record of courtesy and politeness, but any tangible concession, or hope of concession, to the arguments presented on behalf of these provinces by the delegates will be searched for in that history in vain.

Not Enthusiastic

(Branford Expressor)

The Premier was given a respectful and attentive hearing, but there was much to indicate that a certain personage of the audience was not in sympathy either with the Premier or his Government. There was very little in the meeting that was inspirational. In fact, there was an utter absence of what, in times past, was usually paraded for the sake of lashing the faithful into a frenzy of excitement and loyalty. Nothing is more certain than that the order of partnership has passed away.

Not Sure of Meighen

W. J. Tupper, K. C., Winnipeg, a delegate to the convention of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, and a son of Sir Charles Tupper, prime minister in Canada prior to the elections of 1896, does not seem to be overwhelmingly content that the administration of Mr. Meighen will escape that fate that befell the government of Sir Charles a quarter of a century ago.

Mr. Tupper was nominated last week for the position of honorary president of the association, but he told the delegates that usually that honor went to the minister of militia in Canada.

"As we don't know who he is going to be we should just nominate the 'minister of militia,'" he told the gathering.

The association elected Mr. Tupper.

The committee investigating the possibilities for a hockey rink in St. John met on Saturday evening in the G. W. V. A. rooms with His Worship Mayor Schofield, presiding. They discussed the several possible locations for a rink that they had seen and decided to submit four to the financial committee some time today. It was said last evening that the prospects for a rink were bright as the investigating committee saw no insurmountable obstacles in the way of a rink ready for use about the first of next year.

HOT SHOT FROM MURDOCH

"Thou shalt not prevent our friend from preying on his fellow man; neither shalt thou prohibit him from exploiting a nation's distress."

That the above motto was the motto of the Conservative government at Ottawa was the conclusion reached by Mr. James Murdoch, labor leader and member of the Board of Commerce, when he threw up the latter position in 1919. He said so last week, in accepting the Liberal nomination for South Toronto. Referring to his appointment to the Board of Commerce, he said, "I went there to do my duty. I proposed to see that certain monopolies, you had them in 1919; you had them in 1920, and you've got them yet—and certain combines—you had them in 1919 and 1920 and you've got them yet; I can name the combines that are extracting money from the people of Canada—I proposed to see that these were curbed. But it was not to be."

Mr. Murdoch proceeded to tell why it was not to be, but first he gave a few instances. We quote from the Toronto Globe report of his speech:

"Mr. Murdoch instanced certain commodities that had come under notice of the board at that time, and which led him into a determination to fight the combines that existed, but he soon found that he would have to fight unaided. It was suggested to him, he said, by a certain venerable member of the then Dominion cabinet that the board confine its inquiries to tariff problems, a suggestion which he declined to accept. On December 19, 1919, I had occasion to call at the office of another venerable and long-time servant of Canada," said Mr. Murdoch, "on an entirely different matter. As I turned to leave, this gentleman asked me to sit down. He said that he wanted to discuss certain matters with me. For one hour and fifteen minutes I received the most gentle, quiet and kindly scolding any man in public office in Canada ever received. A scolding in nice, inoffensive language, but that led to but one thought: 'Thou shalt not.' At the end of the time I told him: 'I don't propose to have you or any other person tell me my duties under a law written plainly for me to follow. I decline to accept of your suggestion that we do not do the things you say we must not do.'"

Asserting that the Board of Commerce Act and Trade Combinations Act were never intended to be carried out, Mr. Murdoch said that certain manufacturers refused to reply to questionnaires, and when they finally did so under protest the disclosures were "appalling." Nothing was done, however, and Mr. Murdoch adds:

"I finally gave the cabinet one week in which to decide to permit the Board of Commerce to do right or to get along without my services. There were two other meetings before June 24, and on that evening I resigned. With red blood in my veins I could not do otherwise than I did."

The government will have some difficulty in answering Mr. Murdoch. The exposure he makes is timely. He brings strength to the Liberal party and its cause. Here is his challenge in accepting the Liberal nomination in South Toronto:

"I prize above all things the opportunity that comes to me now, as your candidate, and in the time between this date and the 6th of December, to appeal to the jury of Canada, to give the facts and evidence in this matter to the people of Canada, to let them decide if they want to continue in office a government which has for its policy the motto: 'Hands off our friends! We don't care for the rest.'"

THE NEED OF THRIFT

A correspondent of the Toronto Globe calls attention to some very striking facts deduced by the American Bankers' Association from the census reports and dealing with the relative success in life of any given average hundred men. If the results are well-based, there could be no stronger argument in favor of an universal policy of thrift. Here are the deductions:

"One hundred average men are taken at the age of twenty-five, healthy and vigorous in mind and body, without capital and dependent upon their own toil for their support, and the economic condition of these men is recorded in ten-year periods. At thirty-five are ahead, ten are wealthy, ten are in good circumstances, forty in moderate circumstances and thirty-five are as they were ten years before. At the age of forty-five eleven more are dead, four only are wealthy, sixty-five are still working and self-supporting, but fifteen are no longer able to earn enough for self-support. At fifty-five four more have died, leaving eighty alive. Of these one has become very rich and three are in good circumstances, but they are not the same three as at the age of forty-five, as one who was then wealthy has lost all and one who was then not wealthy has taken his place. Forty-six are still working for a living and thirty are more or less dependent upon children, other relatives or charity. At the age of sixty-five thirty-six are dead, one is still rich, three are wealthy, six are still at work and self-supporting and fifty-four are dependent. At seventy-five only thirty-seven are left, two only are wealthy and thirty-five are dependent upon children, other relatives or charity."

The hope which it is said springs eternal in the human breast creates in the mind of every youth a confidence that success is waiting somewhere in the future, and hence there is a fairly general tendency to spend today's earnings with a rather careless assurance that the tomorrows will look after themselves. It is well to indulge high hopes, but unless they are accompanied by industry and thrift there is grave danger that in the end the aid of "children, other relatives or charity" may be necessary. Indeed, under present social conditions the parents of many a large family have no other prospect than the kindness of their children in their old age. There is all the greater need of thrift on the part of all.

CHILD WELFARE

At a conference of Catholic doctors with Archbishop McNeil to consider a survey of the Catholic charities of Toronto last week, Dr. John A. Lapp, director of social action of the Catholic Welfare Council of the United States, made a very impressive address. Referring to the part the medical men should have in such a survey, he pointed out that "a very large proportion of dependent people are in that condition because of some physical or mental defect, and he emphasized the need of the medical examination of children in schools and institutions; adequate care for maternity cases; development of facilities for convalescent care and the establishment of a reception clinic for mental and physical examination of dependent children."

Child-welfare becomes more and more the business of the church and of all organizations laboring to ensure a better and more efficient human fabric. We must begin with the child. Health must be conserved and improved. Defects must be removed or made less harmful. Mental efficiency must be taken into account and care provided for those who are deficient. Every infant born into the world has a right to a fair start in life, and a great host of them are not getting it under present social conditions in every country. There is here a challenge to every man and woman acquainted with the facts of the situation. The encouraging reports of industry noted above are the answer to Mr. Meighen, if indeed any were required. Mr. Meighen knew perfectly well that the depression which had set over the land was in no wise due to the cause which he assigned. On the contrary, he believes, the restoration of confidence and the evidences of revival in business and industry may be ascribed to the growing feeling throughout the country of the certain defeat of his government, the return of the Liberal government, and the restoration of the Laurier policy, which has brought peace, prosperity to all Canada, and has caused resources are fighting against Mr. Meighen and his discredited government.

ONTARIO LIBERAL LEADER

On the shoulders of a man well versed in provincial and municipal affairs the Ontario Liberal leadership mantle has fallen, says the Toronto Globe. Francis Wellington Hay, M.P., who has been chosen temporary leader, has made a success of his own business, which portends success in looking after the interests of his party and his province.

On the floor of the house or on the hustings his speeches have been known for what they contain rather than for oratorical delivery. He has a way of delivering cold, hard, uncolored facts with the force of a sledge hammer.

Hard-working and painstaking, Wellington Hay has climbed from the Littleton town council to head the Liberal party in Canada's banner province.

He is the first leader for a number of years who has not been a lawyer. In his home town, where he was born and raised, Mr. Hay is a grain dealer. As a young man he entered the town council, was mayor in 1903-04 and then took a four years' breathing spell before he contested North Perth as a candidate for the legislature. He was defeated, but in 1914 a second chance came and he made good use of it. In 1919, Mr. Hay was re-elected and appointed chief Liberal whip.

THE SONG OF SONGS.

(Rev. George Scott.)
The tide flows in across the sands,
And breaks against this stranded boat,
Out yonder where the lighthouse stands
All listlessly the sea-gulls float.

The tide flows in across the beach,
And breaks among the broken shells;
As far as keeness eye may reach
Unruffled peace and beauty dwells.

The tide flows in across the shore,
All day its troubled spirit croons,
Changeless burden evermore
Of buried gems and gold doubloons.

All round the margin of the bay
The maple's queenly coronet
Sparkles upon the autumn day,
With priceless rubies all beset.

And lordly heralds stand and wait,
Their tabards all the cloths of gold,
Such majesty befits the state
Of kingly warriors true and bold.

While youthful pages stand a-peak,
To bear aloft the cloths of pall,
Broidered with gems and minivere,
With purple lacings bound withal.

There's many a kingly crown beside,
And many an ancient blazonry
Gleams in the woodland spaces wide,
For all who have the eyes to see.

And here and there among the rest,
For seen amid the brilliant throng,
The pine tree rears his plumed crest,
A royal minstrel he and strong.

But now upon the western sea
The golden sun was sinking low,
Reverently it seemed as he
From such content were loth to go.

The tide flowed in across the sands,
The shadows stole across the lands,
And kindly glimmer of the stars,
No "BLUE RUIN."

(Halifax Echo.)
Just at the moment when the government's electioneering managers are preparing to placard the billboards and boardings throughout the Dominion with huge posters picturing the terrible woes that will befall the country and the ruin and disaster which face the industries in each community where the Liberals come into power, reports are coming from many quarters giving promise of an encouraging upward trend in employment and business. It is true that local conditions in many places are not satisfactory, and the immediate outlook is not as encouraging as might be desired. But it is distinctly encouraging to learn from reports compiled by the Industrial Editor of the Toronto Globe that a better feeling, based upon actual orders and business, is prevalent.

One of the brightest spots in manufacturing is in textiles, particularly cotton goods. Some companies report capacity operations and a healthy amount of future business. The clothing industry shows vigorous, but on the whole there is a fair activity and some promise of more employment.

Metal industries are laboring against odds. The building trade requirements will be at comparatively low ebb until next season. The stars in their courses have gathered about the second executive said present business would not last longer than three weeks.

A third said his plant was closed down for four days, hoping for a tide over the next few months. The most universally there is a feeling that the corner has been turned and that the coming of spring will coincide with further definite improvement.

In his speech at Halifax Premier Meighen contended that the reason for stagnation in business and industry being stagnant was that manufacturers were looking back on account of the uncertainty over the tariff, "uncertainty" which he claimed had been precipitated by the fact that the Liberals or the Farmers would lay their hands upon the sacred temple of protection. The encouraging reports of industry noted above are the answer to Mr. Meighen, if indeed any were required.

Mr. Meighen knew perfectly well that the depression which had set over the land was in no wise due to the cause which he assigned. On the contrary, he believes, the restoration of confidence and the evidences of revival in business and industry may be ascribed to the growing feeling throughout the country of the certain defeat of his government, the return of the Liberal government, and the restoration of the Laurier policy, which has brought peace, prosperity to all Canada, and has caused resources are fighting against Mr. Meighen and his discredited government.

NEW REVOLUTION: THE PRESIDENT OF PARAGUAY TENDERS RESIGNATION

Buenos Aires, Oct. 31.—A despatch to La Nación from Asuncion says that President Gonzalez of Paraguay has handed his resignation to Dr. Felix Paiva, the vice-president, owing to a revolutionary movement by the followers of ex-President Schaerer. The revolutionists are reported to have the support of all the troops in the capital and country districts.

PARDON 300 YEARS OLD

A free pardon granted by James I to a man named Richard Humfrey, who killed his father in 1609, and bearing the second great seal of that monarch, has been discovered at the bottom of an ancient chest, and has been placed in a glass case and fixed to the tomb of the Humfrey family in Hethenden church, Essex, England. The vellum was taken to the British Museum for translation from the original Latin. The translator reports that the story it revealed was that the young man was preparing to

CHIEF ELECTION FIGHT IN ONTARIO

Candidates Already in Nearly All Canada's Ridings.

Nomination Day is Three Weeks Away—The Line-up in the Various Provinces—Government, Liberal, Progressive, Independent and Labor.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—(Canadian Press)—With the official nomination day still three weeks away, the interest everywhere taken and the nature of the fight to be waged in the coming general election are shown by the array of candidates and labor men, who have accepted nominations. Of the 225 seats, there is practically no constituency where at least one candidate has not already been chosen and announced that he will stand for election.

That Ontario will be the main fighting ground is evident from the fact that in the eighty-two constituencies practically all have two or three candidates named, and some have four. The number of candidates in the field for Ontario who have been nominated and accepted is shown by a Liberal which has not again the same man as a Liberal candidate.

In this regard there are fewer changes in the party line than in any other province. Twenty government candidates have been nominated in Quebec to date, four Progressives and half a dozen who have announced that they will run as independents.

The sixteen Nova Scotia seats there are sixteen Liberals nominated, fourteen government supporters, five Progressives and two Labor candidates.

New Brunswick, with eleven members to elect, already has eight government supporters, seven Liberals and three Progressives in the field.

Manitoba, which elected fifteen members to the House, has nine government supporters, five Liberals, ten Progressives and three who are running under the title of independent.

British Columbia for her thirteen seats has twelve government supporters, thirteen Liberals, two Progressives and three independents in the field.

Prince Edward Island has four seats of government and Liberal candidates, two Progressives and one independent. Saskatchewan, with sixteen seats, has eight government supporters, six Liberals and eleven Progressives already in the field.

Alberta, with twelve seats, has eight government supporters, five Liberals, six Progressives and four independents nominated.

For the Yukon Territory, which returns one member, has both a Liberal and government supporter in the field.

In this last labor men and independents are grouped.

55 LIVES LOST IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Statistics Submitted by Deputy Coroner to Meeting Discussing Prevention—23 Children Killed.

(Montreal Gazette)
For the purpose of ascertaining the causes of street accidents and fatalities, and discussing means for their prevention, a meeting was called by the Automobile Club of Canada yesterday afternoon in the club's headquarters, New Birk's Building. Representatives from the Juvenile Delinquents Court, the Coroner's Court, the city police department, the School Commissioners, and transportation companies were present. The question was discussed and some suggestions were made.
J. A. Duchastel, president of the club, as chairman, referred to the alarming increase in the number of fatalities, and explained the purpose of the meeting.
Mr. Lorenzo Prince, deputy coroner, submitted statistics showing the number of fatalities which have occurred during the present year to date. Of the fifty-five automobile fatalities, twenty-three of the victims were children under ten years of age, the average being seven years. In five cases the children were hanging on passing horse drawn vehicles, had either jumped or fallen in front of passing motor cars.
Drivers did not figure in any of the fatalities, it being the consensus of opinion that the women were more conscientious in preventing accidents. One way streets such as St. James and Notre Dame were condemned from the point of view of the cars being parked on the wrong side of the street, one fatality being ascribed to this cause. Taxi drivers and trucks do not appear to have figured in any of the fatalities. A poorly lighted street contributed to the death list in one instance.

Safety First Lectures.
Fatalities to children being the particular concern of the meeting, it was felt that a severe penalty for contraventions of the law would have a good effect. Education of school children by posters placed in the school rooms, safety first lectures aided by moving pictures, and the compilation of a catalogue of safety rules would also help. The erection of school zone signs, and on amendment to the law requiring vehicles to slow down within these zones were suggestions advanced. The speed of motor vehicles was condemned by one of the school commissioners, who stated that motorists should educate themselves first in using the public thoroughfares and that more supervision in the matter of chauffeur's licenses be exercised.

Floor Collapses With Large Crowd—The Protestant Orphans' Fair Brought to a Close—The Prize Winners.

A space of about fifteen by sixty feet of the floor in St. Andrew's collapsed on Saturday night, due to the weight of a large crowd on it. As the floor slowly started to give most of the people were able to get away from the spot, but about thirty being on it when it struck the ground, five feet below. The only one injured was Mrs. Leggett, who had one of her ankles hurt. The gross receipts from the fair, which was brought to a close Saturday were nearly $20,000. It is expected that the net will be considerably less on account of the high expenditures. The attendance of the last night was a record for the two weeks the fair has been running, nearly 3,000 being present. Three policemen were at the gate to control the admittance. Drawings were held quietly to avoid attracting too great a crowd. The results were as follows:—

The results of the drawings were as follows:

Most Ailments Due to One Thing
That is, Impure, Improperly Devitalized Blood.

Probably 75 per cent. of the ailments of the human race are due to an abnormal condition of the blood—thin, poor, anemic.

This fact and the further fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies, enriches and revitalizes the blood, by creating a healthy appetite, aiding digestion, and in full all the benefits of complete nutrition, must impress the thoughtful with the wisdom of giving this great medicine a good fair trial.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is greatest merit plus greatest economy, the most for the money. Get it today.

WAS MISTAKEN FOR A MOOSE
George A. Kennedy, of Passesque, Kings County, was shot and killed on Friday afternoon, supposedly by a bullet from the rifle of John Davidson, in mistake for a moose which they saw in the vicinity. This was the verdict of the jury which was empaneled on Saturday night by Coroner F. H. Wetmore. His body was examined by searching parties with the bullet wound in the chest. The fatality in the province which has occurred during the present shooting season.

TWO FIRES
The fire department was called out over the week end to extinguish two fires which threatened to assume serious proportions. An alarm was turned in Saturday evening for a blaze in a garage in Carleton street, owned by F. E. Williams. The firemen found an oil jutting out from the garage in flames, inside and out, and the best from the oil-soaked wood-work was so great that a stained glass window in St. John's church was cracked. The firemen took three streams of water and soon put it out. Some of the automobiles were taken out to a place of safety. An almost entirely new car, owned by Captain H. V. Butlers, of the local customs staff, was destroyed, but the car, owned by John Kelly, had some insurance on the car. Another stall was almost completely wrecked, but a few look. A repair shop owned by Harold Reid was also damaged.
Yesterday afternoon an alarm from Box 8 summoned the firemen to a fire in the attic of a house owned by Mr. Seely, 24 Pond street. The smoke was pouring from the roof of the house. The main portion of the building was not Another singer who is attracting attention on the same bill is Miss Doris Hilton, whose voice has been described by the critics as "golden" and so the audience thinks, deservedly. Miss Hilton's success is great and positive for her soprano is colorful, flexible and of wide range, every note beautifully rounded. Carroll Baker Cameron, two talkative young men and a shapely girl in red who can talk much faster than either of them, who are among the winners. I suffered for ten years from severe headaches, and although I took all kinds of headache powders they just seemed to trouble me. I have taken eighteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it has made an entirely new person of me. I felt that I could not have lived without it. I do not have one headache now for every hundred I used to have, and my nerves are good and strong. I just weighed 109 pounds when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and now I weigh 121. Knowing what this treatment has done for me, I cannot too highly recommend it to others."

DOCTORS DISAGREE ON RADIUM AS CURE

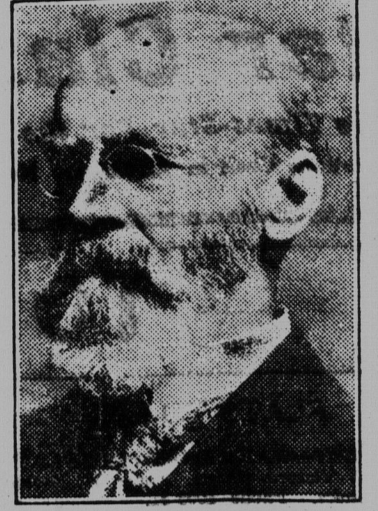

Dr. Deaver's Assertion That It Has No Uses in Cancer Treatment Unsupported in New York.

(New York Times) The declaration by Dr. John B. Deaver, newly inducted president of the American College of Surgeons, that radium falls and has no future as a cure for cancer, apparently is not generally accepted by cancer specialists and investigators of New York.

Dr. Deaver's assertion that radium cures all cancer growths was not challenged yesterday, but there were none who were willing to come forward in support of Dr. Deaver in saying that radium has no uses in the treatment of cancer. The remarks of the Philadelphia surgeon that offered no encouragement to the hopes of cancer sufferers that radium can be controlled as a harmless curative of cancer growth were made Monday at the eleventh annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, now in session at Philadelphia and attended by surgeons from all parts of this country and Europe.

The only underclothing made in Canada that is re-inforced at all wearing parts. The only full-fashioned underclothing made in Canada—that is knitted to fit the human form. Has a Comfort-Crotch that does not gap or loosen—a unique and pleasing feature. Is most economical because of its inherent good qualities and lasting service. Unreservedly, we state that 'CEETEE' is a truly Canadian product, infinitely superior to any—and all—imported underwear.

follow the widely heralded gift of a gram of radium to Mme. Marie Curie, discoverer of the element, for research work in connection with the properties of radium and the possible control of its emanations to render it harmless in treating the internal and more malignant forms of cancer growth. Dr. D. Bryson Delavan, a director of the American Society for Control of Cancer, declared Dr. Deaver's remarks "very discouraging." "Dr. Deaver's statement as reported," he said, "is very broad and general, and it should be so accepted by those who at first might interpret them as giving no hope for other than surgical care for cancer. Apparently he is speaking from the point of view of the pure surgeon. Before any opinion can be expressed, it must be known what Dr. Deaver's definition of cancer is. The term cancer has been applied to a great many varieties of growths, some external and some internal and malignant. Just how far radium can be used for cancer depends upon future discoveries of its properties. It is a comparatively new element and its properties at present are by no means fully understood. Thus far, however, radium and the X-ray have shown curative values in the treatment of new growths, in the external and less malignant types of cancer. In these limited fields radium by no means has been a failure and in many cases its use has been most gratifying."

"With a Rich Creamy Liquor" D. J. Shaw, of Vernon, Prince Edward Island, is more than a tea enthusiast—a tea connoisseur in fact. And here is what he says after tasting Blue Bird Orange Pekoe: "Your tea is all you claim for it. We have found it with a rich, creamy liquor when poured out of the pot, and a mild, nourishing beverage." Blue Bird Tea Brings Happiness!

utterly in the treatment of cancer. I almost hesitate to express the fear I have that nothing can be looked for from radium in the future to be of any advantage in the treatment of cancer." Dr. Deaver then added that radium's benefit had been virtually negligible and that in many cases it was found to have worked more harm than good.

York specialists. It was pointed out by more than one specialist and surgeon that Dr. Deaver was regarding the situation from the viewpoint of a surgeon and that the conclusions he drew were general rather than particular. Nevertheless, it was admitted that Dr. Deaver's remarks have the genesis of a lively controversy in the medical and surgical world in that they

Dr. Wood's View. If Dr. Deaver believes that radium can do no more in the treatment of cancer than surgery at present, then he is in agreement with Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Crocker Special Research Fund at Columbia University for investigation of cancer. "Dr. Deaver is both right and wrong," he said. "He is generalizing and is clearly speaking from the surgeon's point of view. He is right if he means that radium is a failure as compared with surgery in cases of internal growths of cancer. There is not a single case on record where radium has cured cancer of the stomach. On the other hand, the Mayors at Rochester, Minn., have reported a high percentage of cancer cures through surgery."

uses of radium are limited in the future, that it is hopeless to expect that its emanations can be controlled and that it can cure without surgery, or that radium and the X-rays cannot be used in connection with surgery.

and which constituted some of the best advertising Canada has ever received. The loan was most favorable. All Canadian, provincial and national loans are being eagerly sought by American financiers, but Nova Scotia stands exceedingly high which may be indicated by the fact that the Western houses are bidding as well as east. A representative of one large financial corporation at present in Halifax said, considering specially the lower rate of exchange, this was the best sale made for some time. Another broker who makes a close study of the American market attributed the demand for all Canadian, provincial and national securities very much to the very energetic propaganda which bond houses of this country were putting out all over the United States.

EUROPE STILL HOLDS KEY TO PROSPERITY Common Basis of Understanding a Necessary—Curtail Armaments

In an interview given in Montreal last week President C. E. Mitchell of the National City Bank, Montreal, of the City of New York, stated that the great debtor and creditor nations of the world must come together on some common basis of understanding leading to the clearing up of the complicated international obligations before any one country could expect a return of prosperity. He also said that wasteful expenditure in Europe, where he had studied the internal conditions of the larger nations and he emphatically expressed his opinion that the key to prosperity would continue to be held in Europe.

Increased activity was observable in most lines of American trade, but the metal trades of the United States was suffering from European competition, which would hold until wages were further reduced on this side. Mr. Mitchell thought the tendency of various countries to establish artificial trade barriers was another stumbling block in the way of progress, but could not see much hope of a lead to different action from the United States.

POTATOES CHEAP IN TORONTO MARKET (Toronto Globe).

The potato market remains easy with receipts of Ontario stock plentiful and commission men were quoting prices as low as $1.15 per bag in carlots for Ontario grown stock yesterday, while New Brunswick were quoted at $1.25. Quotations to the retailers ranged up as high as $1.75 per bag, there being apparently considerable high-priced stock still on the market. Two cars from the West were seen to have been on the local track shipped down here on consignment, but it is difficult to see how the shipper will make money at present prices. One Toronto dealer estimates that potatoes must sell at $1.75 here to net the western shipper 60¢ per bag at home.

SHOE FACTORIES BUSY Hamilton, Oct. 31—W. S. Orfield of the John McPherson Shoe Company stated today that during the past month there had been a considerable increase in business, and nearly all orders were wanted at once. The firm is employing more hands than it has had for months.

SALT IN THE OCEAN.

(New York World)

It has been figured that if the salt of the oceans could be removed it would make a layer 400 feet thick over the earth. It is interesting to know that many of our scientists believe that the ocean was originally fresh water, and the salt has been added to it by a process of evolution, writes Bradley Jones in National Marine.

Only fresh water forms steam. In the common practice on steamers at sea of making ocean water potable distillation the brine is heated and the water evaporates, leaving the salt behind. The steam being condensed, is pure, fresh water.

Madrid, Oct. 31—Severe fighting took place between Spanish Moroccan troops and the rebellious Moorish tribesmen in the vicinity of Magan, according to dis- patches yesterday from war correspon- dents at Ouezz.

GRAPHITE PRODUCTION.

A. H. Redfield Says Output of 1920 Was Less Than That of 1919.

The general opinion of the world's industry and commerce caused by the war showed its effect on the production of graphite. Graphite enters in various ways into many basic industries, the graphite industry, according to a statement prepared by A. H. Redfield of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.

Though 1919 is considered a "boom" year in the production of graphite, compared with 1917 and 1918, when its output was stimulated by the World War, it really showed nothing more serious than a return to normal production and consumption. The slackened demand for graphite that followed the war was made up, however, largely by stocks on hand, so that in 1920 the producers of both crystalline and amorphous graphite were not over a dull market.

The countries that produce chiefly crystalline or flake graphite are Germany, Canada, Ceylon and the United States. Graphite districts of the United States showed gratifying increases in production. Madagascar, still suffering from the effects of the war, was the exception. On the other hand, the output of amorphous graphite in Mexico, Australia, Canada, Ceylon, and Italy showed marked decreases. Chosen, however, which produces both varieties, increased its output of amorphous graphite because of an increased demand from Japan, and the United States also made a larger output than that variety.

With the single exception of crucibles, there is no production or use of graphite for which the two varieties are not to a certain extent rivals. In a dull market the advantage goes largely to crystalline or flake graphite, much of which is purer than the amorphous variety. Moreover, for several uses, the "fine" and dust crystalline graphite that is produced in the preparation of crucible-flake may be sold as a by-product at prices which amorphous graphite cannot possibly compete.

On the whole the conditions that prevail the world over make the production of amorphous graphite in 1920 less profitable than before.

SHOE TRADE SITUATION.

Toronto, Oct. 31—That few, if any, of the principal shoe manufacturing companies are now in a position to accept orders for delivery in less than six weeks' time and that manufacturers' prices are being made by S. Roy Weaver, Manager of the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada.

"Within the last month," he said, "there has been a notable improvement in buying, due in part no doubt to the change in season. Many merchants had let their stock get low and are now returning to the market to buy goods. There are practically no job lots obtainable and the majority of the manufacturers are operating at capacity. Orders calling for deliveries in less than 6 weeks' time are being refused.

"This situation emphasizes the importance of merchants anticipating their requirements and giving the manufacturer a reasonable time to make the goods. Prices are now the lowest possible under present conditions and no further reduction in the cost of production is in sight. If retailers continue the policy of depending upon rush orders, it seems in-

New York Store Starts Spanish Course.

Realizing that there are valuable merchandising possibilities in the increasing number of South Americans who come to New York to shop, James McCreery & Co.'s Fifth Avenue department store has started a Spanish class for its selling force and is offering inducements to every woman and man behind the counter to take the course free of charge.

Senora Ravella, who is in charge of this course, holds classes every Tuesday night Thursday evening, and her pupils are given lessons not only in conversational Spanish, but in trade terms and Spanish grammar.

According to a representative of the store's educational department, rapid progress has already been made by several of the pupils who are most interested, while appreciation has been expressed by several of the store's Spanish customers, one of whom was particularly delighted with the service rendered her by an especially apt student.

Brooms at 21 Cents

The Frank Dry Goods Company, of Fort Wayne, Ind., recently launched a way of turning customers of a special sale that was being launched.

The sale was a "Clean-Sweep Sale" to concentrate publicity on the affair in addition to the advertising the store announced that on the day of the sale 100 dozen brooms would be sold at twenty-one cents apiece.

Had Only Two Hats

Miller & Turner, local clothiers, finished the month of August with one straw hat and one Panama in stock and with four Palm Beach suits left.

Naturally they do not believe very much in talk about business depression and in fact they are not at all inevitable that they will experience difficulty in obtaining their usual lines for early spring. This situation is reflected by leading merchants in the retail trade who are returning to the normal practice of anticipating their needs. But dealers in the smaller places may be caught napping unless they do likewise.

A. E. Ames & Co. Successful Among the 27 Tenderers.

Toronto, Oct. 31—The Globe's financial writer says that Prince Edward Island's bond issue appears to have just about established a record in the number of tenders received, in addition to the fact that the difference between the highest and the second highest bids was only 0.06. A list of bids shows twenty-seven for the $125,000 six per cent. ten-year bonds, which were awarded to A. E. Ames & Co., with a bid of 99.99.

EXPLORER AND AUTHOR DEAD

Edinburgh, Oct. 31—William S. Bruce, explorer and author, is dead. He was born on August 1, 1867, and was educated at the University of Edinburgh. He was lecturer on geography at the Heriott-Watt College and acted as naturalist for the Scottish Antarctic expedition in 1902. His work in the extreme southern and northern latitudes continued until 1920. He was the author of a large number of papers and pamphlets on the work done by Polar explorers.

LITIGATION OVER THE REID ESTATE

Montreal, Oct. 31—A majority ruling of the court of appeal on Saturday dismissed an appeal of Harry Duff and Robert Gillespie Reid, Jr., from an interlocutory judgment granting Miss Harriett Reid's petition for the appointment of a rogatory commission to examine certain witnesses in Newfoundland in relation to the principal action of the parties.

Miss Reid is asking that the executors of her father's will shall render her an accounting of the succession, and that certain shares in the Reid-Newfoundland Co. shall be reassigned to the Royal Trust Co.

ONTARIO LABOR FREE TRADE PLANK RENEWED

Hamilton, Ont. Oct. 31—The so-called "free trade" plank in the platform of the Ontario Labor party was removed on Saturday at a convention held here behind closed doors, though it is understood that the speakers declared that some of the members of the central branch, Hamilton, were too conservative.

PORTUGUESE PRESIDENT TO STAND BY HIS GUNS

Lisbon, Oct. 31—President Almeida, speaking to a great throng urging him not to resign, declared he would retain the post of chief executive of the nation. He exhorted everybody to stand by him and aid in upholding Portugal. His speech was hailed with great enthusiasm.

GUARD MAIL HEREAFTER.

New York, Oct. 31—Responsibility for failure to carry out orders for the protection of valuable mail, which enabled bandits to hold up a mail truck in Broadway last Monday night and escape with $150,000 in securities and cash, will be determined by an investigation ordered by Postmaster Gen. Hays. It is said that all mail trucks will hereafter be accompanied by three of four armed motor cycle escorts.

Williams, recording secretary; Geo. Barnett, 1st vice-president; Edward McGinnis, financial secretary; J. Taylor, treasurer. Trustees—Leonard Harned, John Carson, John McGinnis, Marshal Marshall, James Harrington.

Frank Dykeman, 48 Watson street, was taken to the hospital on Sunday morning, suffering from a leg wound. One account is that it was the result of a collision between Dykeman's automobile and another car and another is that Dykeman's Ford and a street car came together. A citizen passing shortly after said that the jitney was across the car tracks and a street car was crossing a few feet away. He surmised that the car had hit the jitney. The accident occurred across the Fairville bridge near the power house of the provincial hospital.

The owner of the seaplane Pelican, now at Black Beach near Musquash was in the city last evening and denied the rumors which have been circulated that he was a rum runner. He is W. H. Alexander, of New York and has been making his name for carrying sightseeing parties in Maine and was on his way to Bear River to visit his brother. Last Friday he was forced to descend near Black Beach. When he struck the water the wings of his plane were damaged, a pilot and mechanic. Mr. Alexander was a lieutenant commander in the American Air Force during the war.

MORNING NEWS
OVER THE WIRES

Twenty-three are known to be dead and at least thirteen are missing as the result of a flood which raced down a steep mountainside and struck the copper mining settlement of Britannia Beach, B. C., on Monday night. Half the village was carried away and smashed to splinters. The flood was caused by the breaking of a railway fill which released the roaring torrent. The village was plunged in darkness.

Lumber valued at $150,000 and two dwellings were destroyed by fire yesterday at Clarksville, twenty miles from Windsor. The lumber yards of F. J. Logan and San at Musquodobit Harbor was damaged yesterday to the extent of $20,000.

Twenty persons were drowned by the capsizing of the steamer August in the Scheldt yesterday. The cargo shifted and the vessel tilted and sank in a minute. The passengers and crew above decks were saved.

The southeast of the Newfoundland coast is in the grip of a terrific storm which has raged since Friday evening and which reached its height in a snow blizzard on Saturday morning. Two feet of snow fell. A high tide accompanying the storm has destroyed goods around the coast and in St. John's harbor. Communication is partially disabled and whole sections of the railroad tracks were washed out. Lady Laurier is seriously ill. The last sacraments of the Roman Catholic church were administered yesterday. She was in her usual good health up until a week ago but her illness is due to weakness of the heart and as she is eighty years of age it is feared that she will not recover.

Five early yesterday morning did damage to the amount of $14,000 to a building on Main street, Moncton, owned by Pitton and Mercier. Half of the building was used as a tobacco store by the owners and the other part as a meat shop run by Harrie Attis. A three masted schooner is ashore in Myra Bay, two small steamers were washed ashore in Sydney Harbor and much minor damage was done by a heavy gale which swept Cape Breton Friday until yesterday. At Glace Bay the spire of the Baptist church was blown down. At North Sydney a portion of a street was carried away and two buildings undermined.

IN CITY CHURCHES.

There was a large congregation in Edith avenue hall in East St. John last night to hear Evangelist George Knight, who gave a forceful address and also sang a solo with fine effect.

The Methodist ministers in the city observed their customary monthly interchange of pulpits yesterday morning. Rev. Neil MacLaughlan, of the Queen square church, exchanged with Rev. H. E. Thomas, of the Esplanade church; Rev. R. G. Fulton, of Centenary church, exchanged with Rev. H. B. Clarke, of the Portland church; Rev. J. K. King, of Zion church, exchanged with Rev. J. Heaney, of the Carleton church, and Rev. E. E. Styles, of Carmarthen street, exchanged with Rev. J. M. Rice, of Fairville. Rev. R. O. Morse, editor of the Maritime Baptist, conducted the services in the Waterloo street Baptist church, which is awaiting the arrival of its new pastor.

The Marsh Bridge Mission celebrated its eleventh anniversary yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. K. King, in a helpful address, gave some examples of loyalty of Sunday School workers and scholars. William Baxter also gave a short talk and a musical programme was carried out under the guidance of Rothsay McLaughlin. In the evening the pastor, Rev. Robert Crisp, preached. Miss Bessie Comben played the violin as an accompaniment to the hymns.

Yesterday was the Sunday appointed by the home visitation committee as the day on which new members of the congregations were to be given special welcome and in some of the churches special welcomes were extended. Other churches are delaying the special greetings until a later time.

In St. Andrew's church at both services, large attendances were present to welcome new members. Rev. F. S. Dowling, in his morning sermon traced the effect of Christ on the religious thought of the world. In the evening he spoke of the home and the church and emphasized the importance of every family having a church home. He said that St. Andrew's was ready to become the church home of any new members and that the pastor would be at the service of all. In St. Andrew's church they were kept in touch with the members' homes by the home department, which was one of the finest of its kind in Canada.

WILL HAVE NO MORE OF SEMI-PROFESSIONAL

(Saskatoon Star.)
Saskatoon, Oct. 30.—In the three cities that made up the Saskatchewan Hockey League last winter, is going to break away from the camouflaged amateur game and come out in the open with professional sport this winter. Arrangements have been completed for entering the Saskatoon team in a league with the four Alberta teams that had previously decided to turn professional. There is still a possibility that Regina may enter the league, which would round it out nicely. If Regina does not, the five teams will play out a schedule to be arranged later.

For the past two or three years the situation has been more or less of a scandal, with professional teams masquerading as amateur. That is a bad thing in sport. Professional sport has its place, but disguised amateurism has no place at all. It is unsatisfactory from every standpoint, and particularly, perhaps, from the standpoint of the influence on boys growing up.

Professional and amateur hockey can flourish side by side. That has been proven over and over again, and, in fact, the best amateur hockey is played where it competes in interest with the professional game. That, we hope, will be the case here, now that the situation has been straightened up by putting the senior team into the professional ranks. But amateurism must be straight amateurism to hold its place. There is no twilight zone in sport. If Moose Jaw and Regina insist upon playing senior teams of disguised amateurs, the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association

SKATING ALREADY.

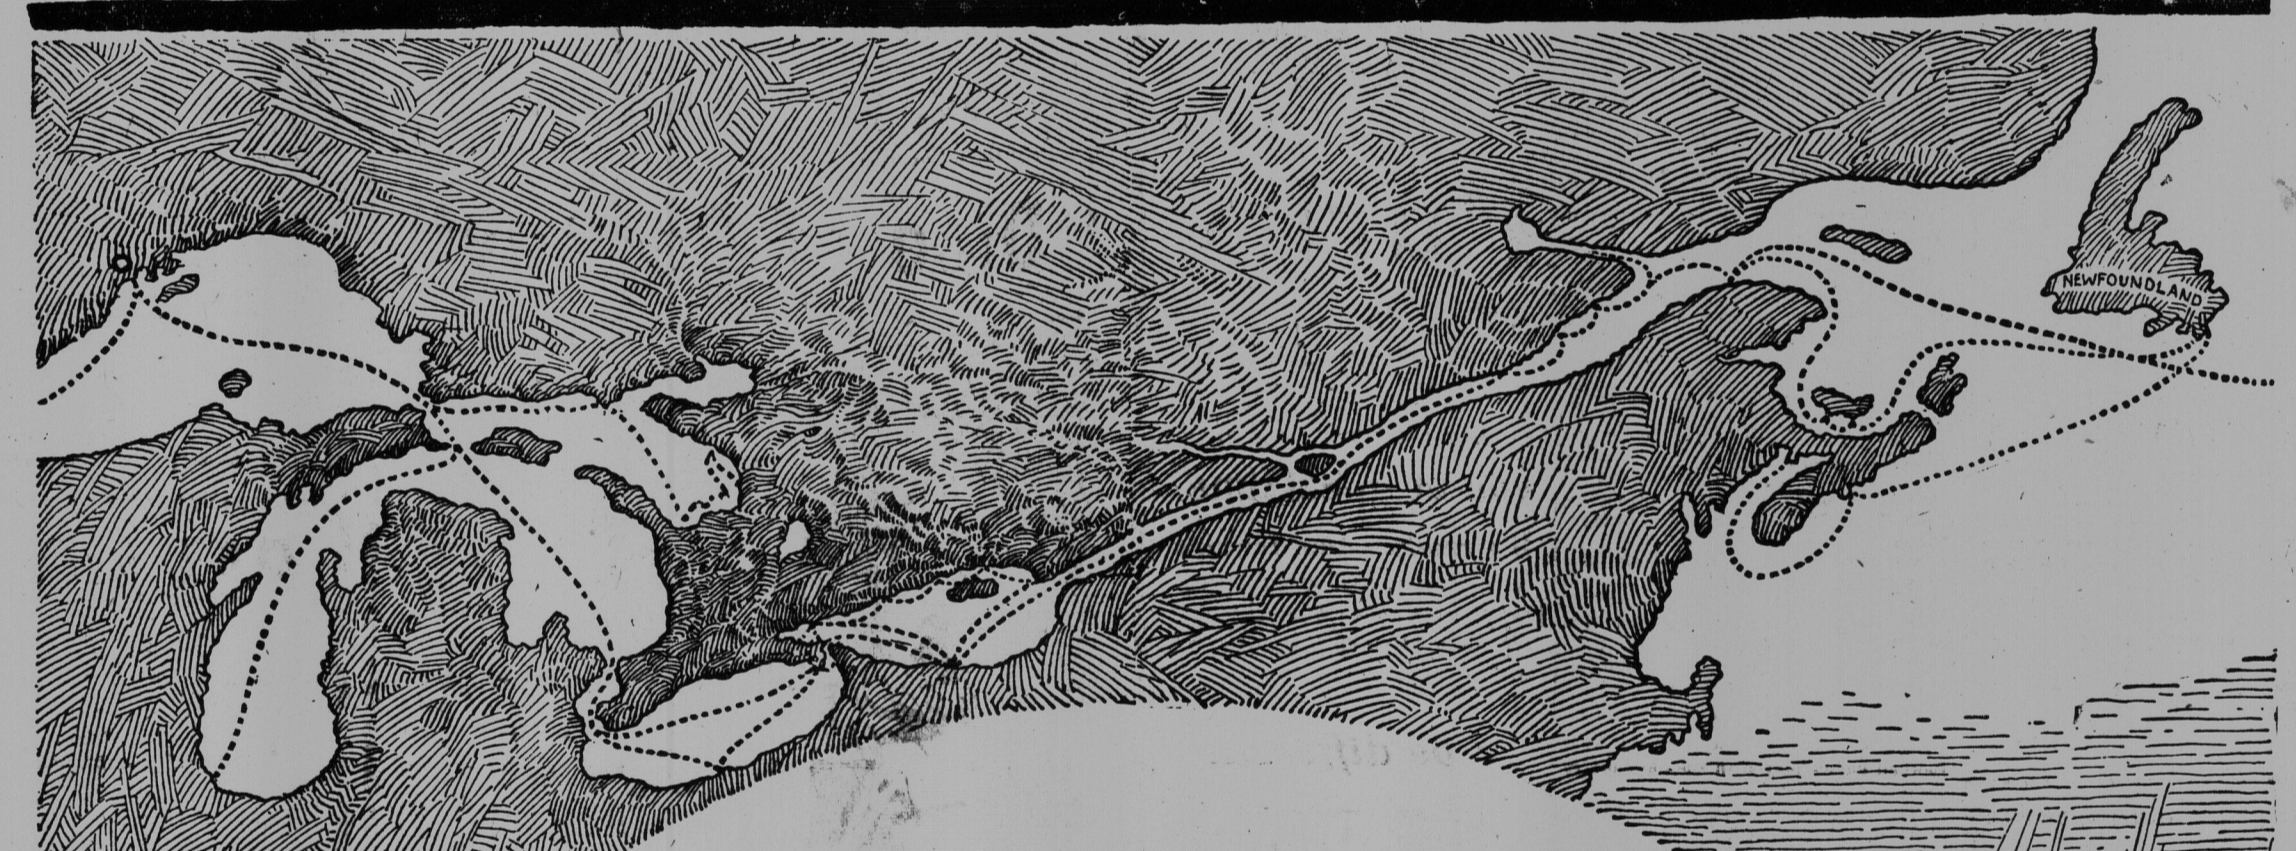

(Toronto Globe.)
With the ice in good condition public skating will commence at the Arena Gardens Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. This sets a record, and despite the early season, it is expected that the devotees of the winter sport will take advantage of the occasion to take a whirl on the steel blades. It seems rather strange that skating should be ushered in when the baseball season has just concluded and the football teams are only about halfway on their journey. Artificial ice is the answer.

The hockey teams will not be permitted to practise until the last week in November, but the players will avail themselves of the opportunity to get some skating practise.

TRAIN WOMEN FOR PUBLIC JOBS IN BOSTON
Director of "The Training School for Public Service" in Boston, one of the most interesting educational institutions in the United States, is the title recently bestowed upon a Providence girl, Miss Bernice V. Brown, a graduate of Radcliffe, where she specialized in the Department of Municipal Government, and she has twice won the William H. Baldwin prize open to all students in American colleges and universities which offer courses in government. For two years she held a Cambridge fellowship in international law, under which she studied at Yale University and she has done graduate work at the University of Brussels, where she spent last year on a fellowship from the Relief of Belgium Educational Foundation. She was chosen director for Boston's novel educational enterprise not only because of her splendid educational equipment, but because of her known sympathetic outlook on working women's problems. This training school, organized by the Women's Municipal League of Boston for the purpose of training women to fill positions in municipal and state employ, aims to fit women to take a high place on the list of those eligible to civil service, and to enter upon their work well equipped. The instruction offered by the school is divided into two main groups, one a course in law and order and the other a course in sanitary inspection. Under law and order are included classes for policewomen, probation officers and attendance officers. Under sanitary inspection are classes for inspectors of tenement houses, streets and alleys, ice cream manufactories, bakeries, restaurants, markets and provision stores. In each course instruction will be given by means of lectures, discussion, reading, field work and report writing. The general structure of city and state government will be covered and the relation of the public employ to good government will be emphasized. Each course will last six months, and only women who have had a High School training or the equivalent and who show evidence of fitness for the work will be admitted. A tuition fee will be charged and a certificate will be given to each student who completes the course satisfactorily. The school does not guarantee positions to graduates but will aid them as far as possible to obtain employment. Already several cities offer such positions to women, and lectures will be given by women who have been active in developing these new fields of service and every effort will be made to maintain a high standard.

Look at the Map!
See How Canada's Future is Bound up in Her Lake Transportation

The map tells its own story. These inland seas provide a direct pathway from the great producing Canadian West to the threshold of European commerce. It needs no great imagination to depict the influence which these waters have borne in the development of Canadian commerce and industry.

Canada's place as a producer of raw material for the World depends in no small measure upon the ease and facility with which such products may be brought to their market places. Ships that ply these waters are the direct link between producer and market. No chain is stronger than its weakest link and the Canada Steamship Lines recognizes its responsibility. Constantly additions are being made to the fleet which ceaselessly delves into every corner of our inland waterways to seek out and bring to its most favorable market each particular product. All this vast business is a logical outcome of the fact that Canada is penetrated to the extent of some 2,000 miles—from the Gulf to the head of the Lakes—by a navigable water-way which makes important lake ports of our inland cities.

A great man has once said "To Canada belongs the twentieth century" and as Canada grows in stature to assume her rightful place among the Nations of the World, Canada Steamship Lines will endeavor to keep abreast of this growth in order that no defect of transportation, nor lack of port facilities, may hamper in any way the splendid progress of this great country of the north.

By grouping under one operating head the chief factors of Canadian inland water traffic, the Canada Steamship Lines has accomplished a great step toward increased efficiency of operation with minimum rates. Unnecessary duplication of routing has been eliminated. Economies in operation and maintenance are progressing steadily and this Company feels that soon it may be rightfully entitled to call itself one of the most efficient common carriers in the World.

Just as Canada itself has still more room to grow in population and in wealth, so Canada Steamship Lines Limited has ahead of it a future vastly greater than its present.

These quarters will be on the third floor and will be better situated than the present ones.

Games and music were then enjoyed, and refreshments served. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

IN THE INTEREST OF BARNARDO HOMES

More Than 30,000 of These Children in Canada and 98 per cent Make Good.

A very interesting visitor to St. John this week is A. N. Stephen, who represents the Barnardo Homes. The people of the maritime provinces know about the Barnardo boys and girls, but not so much as is known of them in Ontario and the west, where there are three receiving homes from which the young people are distributed to individual homes. More than 30,000 have come to Canada, and 98 per cent have made good. More than 6,000 Barnardo boys from Canada fought in the great war. The story of the Barnardo Homes and their work for fifty years is one of absorbing interest, and splendid inspiration. In that half century 92,000 waifs have been taken into the Homes and none is ever turned away. Dr. Barnardo started the work, depending on public support, and it has never failed. The work goes on and grows ever larger. One source of revenue is the National Farming League, founded by Miss Bertram, by which people in works and factories all over Great Britain contribute regularly in small sums from their weekly or monthly wage. The aggregate of such sums is of material assistance.

Miss Bertram and her secretary, Mr. Stephen, are now touring the Empire. She is in Nova Scotia and he has just come from there. They go next to Montreal and on to the west. The plan is to start a Canada Cent League, and already a good start has been made in Halifax. Mr. Stephen has letters from the Anglican bishop of Halifax, the secretary of the Presbyterian synod, and others, including some from large Halifax employers whose workmen were addressed by Mr. Stephen and at once agreed to contribute regularly. The Bank of Montreal is the receiver of all funds. The expenses of the Empire tour are paid by one friend of the cause in England.

Mr. Stephen spoke in German street Baptist church and Sunday school yesterday; addressed the employees of M. R. L., Ltd., and T. McAvilly & Sons, today; will speak before the Rotary Club, Board of Trade, the schools and in other places, and has called upon the other places, and has called upon the other places, and has called upon the other places. Here are some figures which tell something of the story of the Barnardo boys and girls in Canada: Number of Barnardo boys who joined the Canadian Expeditionary force, 6,211; record of those killed in action shows, 215; number of boys and girls settled in Canada who "made good," 98 per cent; amount invested in Canada, $1,188,325; number of visits to our children paid by inspectors in one year, 13,215; mileage of inspectors in twelve months (miles) 101,548. It takes $10,000 per day to keep the Barnardo family of children, the largest in the world.

C. P. SHIPS BUSY HERE IN DECEMBER

Heavy Outward Passenger Sailings—N. R. DesBrisay Brings Word from Montreal.

N. R. DesBrisay, general passenger agent of the C. P. R. New Brunswick district, who arrived home Saturday from Montreal, where he was attending a meeting of general passenger agents of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamship Limited, said that it was expected there would be a heavy outward sailing from this port during December. A large number of people are already, he said, booked passage for the Christmas sailings.

The sailings to here up to December 15 will be as follows: Tunisian on December 3, Metagama on December 9, and Empress of France on December 13, which will be the regular Christmas sailing. The arrivals here up to December 30 will be as follows: The Tunisian is due to leave Glasgow on November 19; the Metagama from Liverpool on November 25; the Empress of France from Liverpool on November 29; the Scandinavian from Antwerp on December 6; the Melita from Liverpool on December 7; the Pretorian from Glasgow on December 10; the Minnedosa from Liverpool on December 17.

The new Italian service of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company will be inaugurated from this port on December 7, when the Caserta will sail for Italy, calling at Naples and Genoa. The steamer will carry passengers and freight. During January, February and March the Empress of France will be placed on cruising trips to the Mediterranean, and the Empress of Britain will go on a cruising trip to the West Indies. All will sail from New York under charter. D. H. Ryan, assistant superintendent of the C. P. R., arrived home this morning from Montreal, where he spent a two weeks' vacation. He said that there was quite a heavy movement of freight in Montreal during his stay there and that the outlook is bright for a fairly good season here.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning six men, charged with being drunk, were given the alternative of an $8 fine or two months with hard labor. The case against Fred Gallant, charged with breaking and entering the store of E. R. Taylor and taking cloth to the value of $400, was set for Wednesday at 11 o'clock. Percy Hand, manager of the Canadian distributing Co., was notified to appear on a charge of unlawfully selling liquor. J. B. Dever, acting for E. R. Taylor, the counsel, asked for a postponement as the accused was attending a session of the County Court. The case will be resumed this afternoon. W. M. Ryan appeared for the prosecution.
