

GOVERNMENT'S FINE RECORD CONTRASTED WITH BLACK RECORD OF PREDECESSORS

Hon. Mr. Foster, in Telling Speech, Reviews Progressive Legislation of His Administration

Presents Strong Arguments for the Election of Mr. Bentley—Largely Attended and Enthusiastic Meetings Held at St. Martins, Salmon River and Greer Settlement—Vigorous Addresses Also Delivered By Hon. P. J. Veniot, Hon. D. W. Mersereau and W. M. Ryan.

The electors of the eastern end of St. John county, who reside at A. F. Bentley, the Liberal candidate in the by-election to be held on Saturday of next week, turned out in force last evening to attend three meetings held in the interest of the government candidate.

The enthusiastic reception accorded Mr. Bentley, Premier Foster, Hon. P. J. Veniot, Hon. D. W. Mersereau and W. M. Ryan, who addressed the meetings, showed unmistakably the popularity of the candidate, the provincial government and its leaders and the cause which they represent.

Premier Foster, addressing a public meeting for the first time since the campaign opened, delivered a telling speech in which he reviewed the splendid record of achievement and his progressive legislation which has marked the career of his government and contrasted it with the black record of the preceding administration.

Electors Show Appreciation

The three meetings were attended by an encouragingly large number and the reception accorded the speakers, particularly Premier Foster and Hon. Mr. Veniot, showed the electors' appreciation of the splendid record of office turned in by the Foster administration.

Hon. Mr. Veniot

Hon. Mr. Veniot's speech was listened to with the keenest interest. He explained the expenditures in his department and compared the debt of the province under the late government and the Foster government. He spoke of the school book question and exposed the falsity of the statements of The Standard concerning Valley Railway charges.

Hon. Mr. Mersereau

Hon. Mr. Mersereau confined himself to agriculture matters, and his account of his stewardship was received with prolonged applause. The other meetings were held at Greer settlement and Salmon River. Premier Foster and Mr. Bentley addressed meetings at both places, and W. M. Ryan and Hon. Mr. Mersereau also spoke at the settlement meetings.

The Premier Speaks

At the meeting in St. Martins, Premier Foster said: By reason of three vacancies that have occurred in the legislature, namely, in the counties of Kings, St. John and Madawaska, the electors of these counties now have an opportunity presented to them of saying as to whether or not they approve of the actions of the government which I have had the honor of leading since 1917.

They have the opportunity of approving of the policies which have been enacted and crystallized into legislation, but in doing so you are also called upon to say as to whether or not you approve of the same things in so far as the opposition party is concerned. I need not go back to the period of time previous to the election of 1917 to remind you of the condition of affairs which existed in our province at that time.

It was a time when the government was in a state of confusion and the people were in a state of distress. The government was unable to carry out its duties and the people were suffering from the consequences of its mismanagement.

The government was unable to carry out its duties and the people were suffering from the consequences of its mismanagement. The government was unable to carry out its duties and the people were suffering from the consequences of its mismanagement.

remind him that the books of the province are open at all times and are so placed on the statute books since we came into power. But such was not the case so far as his connection with the public affairs was concerned, for it required a Royal commission, the force of law, and the unyielding witness, to pry open my unwilling witness, to the operations of the board of directors of which he was a member.

It is needless for me to say for it is a matter of public record, that the new leader held the position of secretary of the time the notorious deal was put through and $18,000 was taken from the people of the province. Of that amount $38,000 had been used to cover up the patriotic potato transaction.

Everybody knew that the tenders which had been received in response to the first call for tending the lower section of the railway had all been returned except that of the Nova Scotia Construction Company. It had been shown by a sworn witness that there had been collusion between the government of New Brunswick and the St. John and Quebec Railway Company.

Before entering into this matter, I would like to say that I am not a member of the party which is now in power. I am a member of the party which is now in opposition. I am a member of the party which is now in opposition.

Let me further say that I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province. I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province. I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province.

public health and give assistance to hospitals and other institutions of like nature. To maintain provincial rights. Since our return to power in 1920 we have passed and put into effect government loans to young men and women who desire to obtain an education. Such loans to be repayable upon most favorable terms. We have introduced and brought into effect a new teachers pension act.

Mr. Brooks and Mr. Dutler. I notice Mr. Brooks, who is the candidate of the opposition party in the County of Kings, attacks the administration of our Education Department. He says that the school in the province are in bad condition. Mr. Brooks up to the present time has not met up to the date of his nomination, has been in the employ of the government, acting in the capacity of school inspector, and if the schools of our province are in the condition he says they are, and I presume he is speaking on behalf of that part of the province best known to him, then he has been remiss in his duties in not reporting this condition of affairs to the Department of Education.

No government that has been in power in New Brunswick for years has done more for education than we. I am happy to say, increased our appropriation for education during the last two years over $100,000. A considerable portion of this amount has been used to supplement the salaries of the teachers of the province. The province recognized that to encourage our young people to enter the teaching profession, adequate salaries must be provided.

We also passed a new teachers' pension act, which provided that any female teacher of the age of fifty-five years, and any male teacher of the age of sixty years, who had taught not less than thirty-five years in the public schools of the province and who had received from active service as a public school teacher, shall, upon making application to the board of education, receive a pension of one-half the average salary of such teacher for the last five years before retiring.

Now, it is not my desire to take the full amount of that which will be paid out under this act, for the teachers themselves have agreed to pay into the Teachers' Pension Fund five per cent. of the amount of their salaries. It is my desire to see that the government allowance now payable to each teacher holding a license under the authority of the board of education. These are the chief features of the new pension act, which I am sure will meet with the approval of every fair-minded elector who is interested in the work of education.

Let me further say that I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province. I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province. I appreciate the unity which has been manifested in the province.

MCKENNA THROWS HOT SHOT INTO PALMER RANKS

Sussex, June 1.—J. D. McKenna, Liberal candidate in the by-election for the constituency of Kings, has taken the place on June 1, put the opposition forces on the horns of a dilemma this evening when he spoke at two meetings at Cornhill and the other at New-town. In dealing with the charges of extravagance which were being brought against the Foster administration in this campaign he called attention to the fact that not once in the house had the opposition attempted to bring in a resolution charging the government with extravagance. Therefore McKenna, after the charges were without solid foundation or if there was any foundation for them, then the opposition members were derelict in their duty in not bringing the alleged extravagance to the formal attention of the people of the province. McKenna's presentation of his case won rounds of applause for him at both meetings. He dealt also with the issues in the campaign in an able and effective manner.

Besides the candidate, Dr. D. H. McAllister, A. E. Pearson and C. P. Clarke, all of Sussex, spoke at both meetings. The speakers dealt in a convincing manner with the administration of the health act, the roads policy of the Foster government and the several departments of the provincial administration.

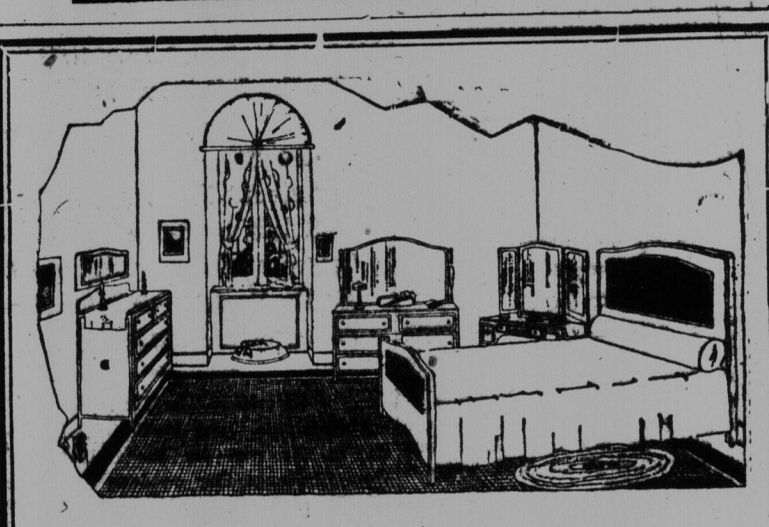

Enthusiasm and hopefulness for the future were expressed by the speakers.

As a politician he says our schools are in a bad condition, but listen to what he says as an inspector drawing a good salary from the government.

Mr. Brooks' report of Inspector A. J. Brooks, report of Inspector A. J. Brooks, report of Inspector A. J. Brooks, report of Inspector A. J. Brooks.

While overseas I had an opportunity of observing educational conditions in other countries and particularly noting the interest taken by the general public in their most important work. I am certain our system compares very favorably with that of other countries. As, for instance, men whose sole interest in life is to make it to make it as cheap as possible and in many cases neglecting to employ teachers who are absolutely forced to do so. This condition does not prevail only in a few, but I am sorry to say, in a number of districts. Anything is good enough for the school as long as our taxes are kept down. The public needs to be educated up to the fact that money spent for educating the children of our country is by far the best investment that can be made.

WOMEN BEG FOR 'ABANDONED' BABY

Two Weeks Old Boy Left in Hotel Room is in Great Demand.

New York, June 2.—Nearly a dozen women who live at the Buckingham Hotel, Fifth avenue and Fifth street, pleaded with the management to be permitted to keep a two weeks' old baby boy who had been left in one of the hotel rooms. The baby's cries in Room 184 had caught the ear of a watchman, George F. Thomas, and he and a bell-boy had found the child.

The baby was in good health, for when the bell-boy had warmed milk that some one had left the youngster drank it greedily. He did not seem to mind a bit having been deserted for about six hours.

At four o'clock Monday afternoon Paul R. Snyder, assistant manager of the hotel, said two young women arrived at the place in a taxicab, one carrying a suitcase and a baby. She registered as Mrs. Morgan Carter of Boston, and Room 184 was assigned to her. In half an hour she left her key at the desk and went down Madison avenue in the taxicab, which her friend had kept waiting for her. She was not seen again. The suitcase she had brought contained only copies of last Sunday's newspapers.

The increased consumption of tea in 1921 (during which year, by agreement of the tea growers of Ceylon and India had curtailed production) forced the price of tea steadily upwards to the present abnormally high level. their director, Miss Ida M. Leslie, B. L. L., head of the oratory department of Mount Allison Ladies' College. Miss Leslie has had much experience in the coaching of plays and her work in connection with this one maintained the same high standard which has characterized them all.

The play is the story of two men, partners in business, who cannot seem to agree on anything. Things go from bad to worse so they consult their lawyer, who suggests that they play a hand of poker, the loser in the game to be the servant of the winner for one year in any capacity which the winner may wish. The loser becomes a butler for the winner and many amusing situations develop which bring the play to an interesting and happy climax. It is difficult to pick a star. It is sufficient to say that it was hard to realize that one was watching a play put on by amateurs, so finished was the work. Norman Burchell, as one of the part-

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 2, 1922. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act, 1880.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

His loyal subjects throughout the Empire will tomorrow honor the birthday of King George. The royal family of England, since the accession of Queen Victoria to the throne, has been beloved of all the people. The present sovereign and Queen Mary and their children have not only lived a blameless life, but have served the people and entered into their thoughts, their hopes and aspirations, their trials and sufferings, everywhere they are welcomed with a warmth of affection which is the highest tribute to their qualities of mind and heart.

THE HALIFAX CONFERENCE.

The cities of St. John and Halifax are closer in sympathy today than ever before in their history. Nothing else could have so clearly demonstrated this fact as did the conference in Halifax of the House of Trade of the two cities. There have been meetings many times at which business men of both cities were present and discussed matters relating to trade and commerce; but this was the first conference designed to launch a great movement to bring the maritime provinces into closer and more effective harmony for the express purpose of maintaining the rights and developing the resources of this portion of the Dominion.

Leader Palmer and House Leader Richards both spoke in Fairville last evening in support of Dr. Barton. The answer to them, and especially to Leader Palmer, is found in Premier Foster's speech at St. Martins. Every elector should read the report of that speech in today's Times. It is of interest not merely to St. John and Kings counties but throughout the province. As the campaign proceeds the strength of the government position and the weakness of the opposition becomes more and more apparent.

Of conditions in British Columbia, Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice president C. P. R. western lines, said last week: "British Columbia is rapidly forging ahead. Although the domestic market for timber is not up to normal, the increasing demand for foreign countries is encouraging. The mining industry is going full blast. Smelters are in operation everywhere in the mining districts, despite the low price of copper."

It was the fulfillment of a movement which has been in progress for some time, the culmination of a thought which has been stirring men's minds in both provinces for many months—that the day had come when maritime provincial rights must be asserted by a concerted, concerted movement by the united action of all who were interested in the future of these provinces—that old rivalries must be sent into the limbo of forgotten things, and that the three provinces, which are one in geographical continuity, in natural resources and in political relationship to the rest of the Dominion, should act as one in the matter affecting the industrial and commercial advancement of themselves, especially in reference to their relations to the rest of the confederacy.

Now what are some of the things these progressive business men considered, and upon which they had perfect unanimity of opinion? Looking to the future relations between the maritime provinces and the rest of Canada they desire the most hearty co-operation between maritime members of parliament, which has never existed in the past. They seek justice for these provinces in the matter of freight rates and port development, and the management of the maritime portion of the Canadian National Railways. But they do not rely on federal initiative to bring progress and prosperity. They believe their own great resources may be developed by themselves, and a great overseas trade built up through the agency of a research institute, a survey of industrial possibilities, and complete co-operation in securing funds and instituting a general policy of development of resources. They are interested, also, in getting the right kind of immigrants, and going after them in genuine earnest; in the conservation and better utilization of forest wealth; in the real development of our neglected fisheries industry; in the full exploitation of our advantages as a region for summer tourists—all to be dealt with in plain business propositions by business men, backed by the business interests and the governments of the three provinces.

TREES.

I love the presence of the friendly trees, Whispering about my cottage by the sea. When the white straws of the surf allure, The trees are mindful of the land and me. When the wind tempts me with its wayward call, And fairy colors dance across the foam, My poplars gossip softly in the sun, My maple croons a quiet song of home.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Larger Exemption Helps. "I wonder why Bill married?" "So as to have some one help him live within his income; he couldn't do it alone." A Measure of Intelligence. The highbrow girl was talking. "Think of it," she said, "imagine those Spanish pirates going 3,000 miles on a galleon." "Yes, dear," said the profitter's wife, "but you can't believe all you hear about those foreign cars."

"I hate to hear you slandering lawyers," said the man in the hotel smoking room. "Last year a lawyer made me a present of fifty pounds." "Get out!" exclaimed the other. "It's the truth," persisted the first speaker. "You see, I was injured in a railway accident, and this lawyer acted for me and got one thousand pounds damages. His bill of costs came to one thousand and fifty pounds, but he gave me a word about the fifty-pound balance. He made me a present of it."

RECENT DEATHS
William Wright.
Newcastle, June 1.—(Special)—William Wright, one of Newcastle's best known residents, passed away at an early hour this morning after an illness of several months. In his younger days Mr. Wright was a well known stow-dredge and millman and later a fish warden on the Miramichi. He is survived by his wife, three children, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Reilly, of New York, and Raymond, of Montreal, two daughters, Miss Hugh Quilly, of Newcastle, and Mrs. John O'Reilly, of New York.

John Ryan.
Newcastle, June 1.—(Special)—John Ryan, a well known farmer and lumberman, died at his home, Chapin Road, on Sunday, May 28, aged seventy-five. He leaves a wife, formerly Miss Elizabeth Moran, Blissfield, five sons, Dennis, John, James, William and George, all of Chapin Road; also three daughters, Mollie, (Sister Beatrice), of Providence, (R. I.), Thress and Annie at home; one sister, (Mary) Sister St. Peter of the Good Shepherd, Millwaukee, (Wis.), and one brother, George D. Ryan, of Oskosh, (Wis.).

Florence O'Regan.
The death of Florence O'Regan, which occurred early this morning at the Home for incurables, removes a man who for very many years was a familiar figure around the waterfront. In the days of wooden ships Mr. O'Regan sailed to many ports, and in later years was engaged in work about the wharves and ships. His reminiscences of the old days were always interesting. Mr. O'Regan was stricken with partial paralysis several years ago, and later became afflicted with cancer. His sufferings came to a peaceful end this morning. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Richard Callaghan of this city, and two sons, Richard F. O'Regan, a well known member of St. Peter's baseball team, and Wilbert F. O'Regan of Boston. There are also several grandchildren and other relatives. Many friends will sympathize with the family in their bereavement.

TWO ARE DROWNED IN ST. CROIX RIVER

Father Gives Life in Vain Effort to Save Son.

St. Stephen, June 1.—A sad fatality occurred late this afternoon at Woodland, on the St. Croix river, about eighteen miles from St. Stephen. It is the site of a large dam of the St. Croix Paper Company and of a large power plant of that company. About 5 o'clock this afternoon, while children were fishing from the bank, one little boy, Freddie Guest, about six years of age, slipped from the bank into the river. His companions gave a speedy alarm and the child's father, William Guest, rushed from the power plant, where he was employed, and plunged into the rapidly running river in a vain effort to save his child. Both were swept down stream and were drowned. Mr. Guest was an industrious citizen, a valued employee of the paper company and popular with all who knew him. He was about forty

Chinese Feminist

Editor and Emancipator is Studying at Columbia.

Miss Alice Lee, one of the first Chinese women to become a feminist, and a pioneer in the movement to have women's feet unbound, has recently been staying at the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York. She is the daughter of the Chinese minister of education and, as one of the revolutionaries instrumental in making China a republic, she has had a most varied career.

"Upon my graduation from an American school in China," Miss Lee tells, "I became editor of the women's paper of an important Chinese newspaper, the name of which could be liberally translated as Fair Play, and my page dealt with all subjects pertaining to the advancement of the Chinese women."

"The Viceroys of Tientsin became so interested in my work that he opened a school and persuaded me to take charge of it. It was supported by government funds and was the first common school for girls in China; the boys had been receiving a liberal education, but prior to that time the girls had been neglected."

"In Tientsin, while I was doing this work, I met Miss Chu King, an older woman, and together we founded a magazine for women, the name of which in English would be The Woman's World. Miss King was the business manager of this magazine and furnished the funds and I was the editor. While it was ostensibly a magazine devoted to women's interests, this cloaked a deeper purpose, for it was really an organ of the revolution. Miss King was not only engaged in the management of this paper, but was actively engaged in working with the revolutionaries in Hong Chow. At last our activities were discovered by the government."

"It was in Tientsin at the time, and Miss King was in Hong Chow. Of course we were frightened, but we stood fast by our principles. One terrible morning word reached me that my friend, Miss King, had been arrested the night before and thrown into prison. Even before I received this information she was dead, for without a trial they took her out and beheaded her. She was the first woman martyr to shed her blood for her country and for the republic."

"Why did they not get me? I do not know. I lived in constant fear of arrest. Many persons lost their lives, but for some reason they passed me by, and then came the revolution, and my old friend, the Viceroys of Tientsin, became president of the republic."

"I am studying at Columbia now that I may go back and teach my people. I believe in the future of China, and, above all, in the emancipation of her women. We have progressed very fast in the last eleven years that I have been working, and I believe that even more rapid strides will be made in the next few years."

Use the Want Ad. Way

TWO THOUGHTS.
I like to think that every wind that blows
Is just a breath of God's, and breathes on me
A tender benediction ere it goes
To waft the flower's perfume to the bee.
And then I think that every lovely flower
Grows from a spot where God's thoughts rested, late
Perhaps, long after sunset hour.
For beauty must unfold where God

rate upon Canadian funds reacted against managers of attractions from the United States to such an extent that many of them have been steering clear of the bookings for Canadian cities which in former times had proved highly profitable to them. The average exchange rate cut down their profits to such an extent that many of them did not consider it worth while including Canada in their tours. An instance of this is cited by the Telegraph. The Ed Wynn production, "A Perfect Fool," the paper declares, did a business of $21,000 in Toronto on its preliminary tour and the rate of exchange prevailing at the time reduced the gross total to approximately $10,000 when the money was turned into dollars of the U. S. vintage.

If the vision is defective the impressions made and concepts received will be defective, and thoughts and opinions expressed will be distorted. The World War proved that about 25 per cent of the young manhood of the nation between the ages of 21 and 31 years, were suffering from defective vision. The only way to correct this alarming condition is to adopt corrective treatment from an optometrist early in life.

POLICEMAN RAIDS BOYS' ARMED CAMP AT DARTMOUTH LAKES

Two Lads Nabbed Despite Their Display of Firearms—Third Youth Escapes to Woods—Solution of Mysterious Robberies in and About Dartmouth is Believed to be at Hand.

(Halifax Echo) An armed camp, headquarters apparently of the gang, remote and situated in one of the most inaccessible places on the Dartmouth Lakes, well provisioned, and well stocked, it is said, with ammunition and guns, uncovered this morning the probable end of the story of the thieves who for the past few months have been systematically robbing Dartmouth stores, of cigarettes, tobacco and such sums of money as came their way. In this camp, surrounded by deep woods, three boys are said to have lived during the greater portion of the winter, secure in their retreat, which is said to have been used as a storing place for the loot, reached either by land or water. This morning Police Officer Worrell entered to take several guns leveled at him and arrested two of the boys, the third making good his escape into the thick woods in the rear of the camp. The two lads, aged 18 and 16 years, were brought to Dartmouth and lodged in jail. The third boy may be rounded up this afternoon. Last night or early this morning, O'Leary's store at the Banook Camp Club house was entered and cigarettes and tobacco to the value of some $30 stolen. A small sum of money, about $5 left for change was also taken, as were some boxes of candy. The store is located on the second floor and entrance had been made through a window opening onto a veranda. A ladder had been placed up to the balcony and the thieves apparently found little difficulty in getting in. They evidently worked in a hurry and removed only such goods as they could conveniently carry away. For some time past, it is said, Police Officer Worrell has been regarding the boys with suspicion. Finding at O'Leary's store a clue which connected them with the robbery, he secured a boat and went to the camp at Second Lake. Apparently the boys saw the boat coming for they proceeded to give the officer a warm reception. Firearms were in readiness and when Officer Worrell entered he faced the boys. He sprang forward, however, and clinched with the two boys who put up a sharp fight against arrest. The third bolted through the rear door and made his escape into the woods. It is understood that the camp bore evidence of being the store house of the spoils of more than one robbery and it is generally believed that it was used as a headquarters by the "gangs" who replenished their store of tobacco and necessities by visiting the stores of Dartmouth, and otherwise led a free wild life at the camp untrammelled by parents or school duties. The boys apparently following the example of some movie hero of the Nick Carter type, provided themselves with sufficient material to end the lives of several men but the police officer's quick action not only disarmed them but apparently tamed them and they were brought into Dartmouth without any difficulty and landed in jail.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Sussex, June 1.—A forest fire in the White's Mountain district was burning briskly here today, and it is reported to have completely destroyed the house of a returned soldier named Tudds, who was living in the vicinity. So far as could be learned the fire was still burning tonight. Charges of police cruelty against Louis W. Moore, Canadian war veteran from this city, are to be fully proved, according to a despatch from Washington (D. C.) An order to this effect was issued yesterday by the district of Columbia commissioners, who heard evidence supporting the charges.

Reported Massing of Southern Forces to Invade Ulster—Collins Regrets This—New Constitution Said to Prove Unacceptable.

(Canadian Press Cable) London, June 2.—The summoning of the Chief of Staff and the introduction of the Earl of Balfour into the conferences are regarded as indicating the approaching intention of invading the north. This, together with the new outbreak of outrages in Belfast, has caused great concern, adding to the government's perplexities, already weighty enough in consequence of the agreement of the southern political factions which Colonial Secretary Churchill has publicly declared contravenes the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

EVIDENCES OF EVOLUTION.

With regard to the observed facts in support of the evolutionary theory the writer says:—"These facts belong to three general categories. First there are the unmistakable indications to be found in fossils remains that life began hundreds of millions of years ago with simple water creatures; and it was a long time before the fishes introduced a backbone; and long after that before we have any vestiges of land mammals, which are indeed very recent innovations from a geological standpoint. Secondly, it is a fact, subject to verification by any amateur, that man's structure closely resembles that of all other mammals and is almost identical with that of the primates. His organs of sense and physiological processes are as similar as his bones and muscles. Some people say they hate to look at monkeys because they and their doling suggest a hairy travesty on man. Thirdly, and this is perhaps most striking of all, we each of us individually go through a most impressive evolutionary process to which those who oppose evolutionary theories seem quite oblivious."

HEADS THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time. In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained. BIRDCKE BLOOD BITTERS which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

Prof. James Harvey Robinson Points Out the Distinction Between "Darwinism" and Evolution in the Broad Sense.

Is Darwinism dead and the theory of man's animal origin played out? A totally mistaken idea of the scientific position is indicated by this question, according to James Harvey Robinson, author of "The Mind in the Making," in an article in the June Harper's. The recent revival of the old controversy about the evolutionary theory of man's origin, says Prof. Robinson, is due in part to the survival of much ancient ignorance and misunderstanding on the one hand and to the progress of critical investigation on the other. "The irreconcilables," he says, "have been encouraged to renew their attacks by the rumors which reach them that all the more progressive biologists agree that Darwin's theories are inadequate to explain evolution. So they jump to the welcome conclusion that evolution is dead and Darwinism is buried."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

Regarding Mr. Bryan's fear that the acceptance of our animal origin would make the Bible a "scrap of paper," Professor Robinson observes that this seems to rest upon the assumption that we find in Genesis a consistent statement of man's beginnings. "As a matter of fact," he says, "the early chapters of Genesis give conflicting statements on this subject. The creation of the man and woman is described and the birth of their two sons, Cain and Abel; but when Cain slew Abel as the result of a quarrel over a matter of ritual the population of the earth would seem to have been reduced to two persons. Cain, however, fares forth and founds a city which he names after his son Enosh. It has always been a puzzle to explain this on the old theory of the Bible; but as a French physician, Jean Astruc, pointed out as early as 1703, Genesis is evidently based on several different sources and these are in some cases hard to reconcile. So one might maintain that even Genesis hints at the existence of mankind before the creation of Adam and Eve."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

"Those who sit at the Bible over against any particular scientific theory or discovery ordinarily forget how many things in the Bible they themselves do not believe. . . . The Bible is not a manual of geology, comparative anatomy, embryology, or prehistoric archaeology, but a grouping after the Eternal."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

In conclusion Prof. Robinson urges an acceptance of what cannot be denied in a clear-eyed and constructive way. He says: "The recognition that mankind is a species of animal, like other important discoveries, illuminating for the simple reason that it makes possible more intelligent conduct. . . . Just as the architect has to consider the problem of a foundation for his building, as well as its design and purpose, so we have to consider our foundation. Our animal nature is in many ways very ill adapted for sustaining the burden and ever-increasing weight of civilization. It is possible that eugenics may do something by selection to improve the breed and better adapt it to our tasks, and there are various lines of research which may render the individuals who compose the race today more hopeful and enterprising and less timidly inclined to cling to routine. Among the things most essential to progress is the scrupulous study of our native nature, the recognition of our inherent weaknesses."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

"In understanding these fundamental difficulties the knowledge of our native nature is really the key. Could I determine the course of education, I should bring up every boy and girl in the light of our modern knowledge and with an honest realization of our history and our animal nature as it is coming to be understood."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

With regard to the observed facts in support of the evolutionary theory the writer says:—"These facts belong to three general categories. First there are the unmistakable indications to be found in fossils remains that life began hundreds of millions of years ago with simple water creatures; and it was a long time before the fishes introduced a backbone; and long after that before we have any vestiges of land mammals, which are indeed very recent innovations from a geological standpoint. Thirdly, and this is perhaps most striking of all, we each of us individually go through a most impressive evolutionary process to which those who oppose evolutionary theories seem quite oblivious."

EVOLUTION AN EXPLODED THEORY?

Continuing, the author brings his argument home to some of the more prominent "stand-patters" as follows:—"The most stalwart and eloquent opponent of evolution was, a few decades ago a single cell, less than one-hundredth of an inch in diameter. When we beget our baby albums the darling is already at least nine months old, and if we could only have a picture of Mr. Bryan or the Rev. John Roach Straton when he was, strictly speaking, only a month old, it would be impossible for any one but an expert to tell whether he was on the way to be a collic dog or a pet rabbit. This is a fact which any one can see illustrated in the pallid little creatures to be found in bottles in anatomical museums. We go through strange vicissitudes before being born, suggesting the various stages of animal

SAYS PUBLIC HEALTH HAS A PLACE IN POLITICS

Rockefeller Foundation President Asserts Programmes Need Discussion.

One of the chief ends of any political system is the guarding of the public health.

In the original meaning of politics, he said, "public health ought to be always in politics."

But obviously the busy health officer and his assistants cannot assume even the chief responsibility for creating and maintaining the popular understanding and backing essential to the success of modern and progressive health policies.

Discussing preventive medicine, Dr. Vincent said that there was on ground yet for a feeling of satisfaction.

A fourth phase just beginning to emerge has to do with economic, social, and mental influences.

ON MENTALITY AND FAILURE IN LIFE

Editor Times-Star:

Sir—The opinion is growing more firm and definite that the whole problem of delinquency, anti-social conduct, and abnormal behavior is an extremely complex one and can never be met satisfactorily until such a time as judges, probation officers, officers of correctional institutions, psychiatrists, and social workers can work together in order to obtain the best and full results of their knowledge and experience.

These individuals, our delinquents, that our courts, acting as clearing houses, are dealing with, are without doubt persons who, for certain definite reasons, are making a failure of life; that is, they are not only social problems, but the cause of their social and anti-social acts is their incapacity to resolve and adjust their personal social contacts.

for it is found that the large majority of delinquents are either mentally defective or come under the heading of some one of the different forms of abnormal personality, even though proper tests show them to be of an average intelligence.

There is the class which we speak of as constitutional psychopathic personalities, such as a young girl who had an overwhelming desire to get away and be alone, had hard feelings toward every one, and some slight melancholy by spells, though she was a church worker, and had ambitions for education and to become a missionary.

There is also a large, either unknown or misunderstood, class of a constitutional affective defective type, that is, with defective feelings.

There is also a large, either unknown or misunderstood, class of a constitutional affective defective type, that is, with defective feelings.

These cases show little capacity, if any, for real affection, and are usually without any sexual reaction at all, so much so that these are matters of indifference to them.

These are the individuals that are generally characterized as shallow, superficial, but on account of the emptiness of their natures fail to derive the satisfaction that normal people derive from work, friendship, family relations, or desire to win social esteem.

These cases are closely allied to other affective disorders as found in our mental hospitals, whose feeling disorders are due to such causes as emotional shock, strain or conflict in their instinctive life (it may have been in childhood), the difference being that these persons of constitutional feeling defect show an

Christian Leden, Norwegian Explorer, Lived in Igloos for Many Years and Has Come to Tell About It.

Christian Leden, the Norwegian explorer, is now in New York, after many years spent among the Eskimos. En route he stopped in his native land to entertain King Haakon with the story of his life among the people of the furthest north.

When interviewed here the other day he told many adventures, revealing the habits and customs of a race as yet little studied.

No other white man was with Mr. Leden. He lived with the Eskimos and slept in their crowded igloos made of ice and kept always below freezing to prevent the roof from thawing and dripping down upon the sleeping occupants.

He tells strange tales of the Eskimo women—of how, when they are old and unable to continue the endless wandering, they are killed, and themselves conveniently sent to be laid to some high cliff and pushed off. The young women, however, are not so casually treated.

Often a bride will run away from her husband as many as three times, returning to her father's home. And each time the patient husband goes back, pleading and coaxing, and fetches her gently home again instead of battering her over the head with the bone of a whale.

Once accustomed to each other, however, they usually remain faithful—though occasionally two couples will become quite chummy and trade wives.

Honore Gervais Who Suffered From Kidney Disease and Rheumatism Tells of the Relief He Got From Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Casimir, Que., June 2.—(Special)—The value of Dodd's Kidney Pills as a household remedy is splendidly shown by the statement of Mr. Honore Gervais, a well-known resident here.

"I suffered from kidney disease and rheumatism," Mr. Gervais states. "I used Dodd's Kidney Pills for my trouble and with such benefit that I recommend them to all others who suffer as I did."

"My wife and my little girl have also used Dodd's Kidney Pills and found them good. My wife has also been much benefited by the use of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

BRINGS UNDERSEA CANVAS.

Ass Cassidy Has Picture Painted in Bahama Waters.

New York, June 2.—Sir Harry Cardoux, Governor of the Bahamas, arrived here on the Munargo of the Munson Line to interest American capital in a $1,000,000 hotel to replace one burned last March in Nassau.

He said tourist trade had been affected as a result of the fire. He said he would confer with steamship officials regarding better service to the Bahamas, which he described as one of the greatest regions in the world.

Ass Cassidy, an artist, exhibited a canvas twenty-five by forty-two inches depicting marine funa and flora which, he said, he had made undersea in the Bahamas. He averaged four hours a day in a period extending over several months in executing the canvas, which was entitled "The Garden Spot of the Sea."

Mr. Cassidy said he used a $50,000 bell-shaped device, equipped with windows, which enabled him to see a distance of 400 feet and work in perfect comfort. The device also had been used by Captain Ernest Williams in making an undersea film, he added.

John L. Wilson, manager of a bank at Guantamano, Cuba, arrived on his way to be married "real soon" to Miss Mary

PLAYED, AND IT WAS QUICK AND APPROPRIATELY BRAZEN.

Harmony has not been developed among the Eskimos. They sing only in unison. But their melodies are weird and wistful, often consisting of only two or three motives, which are strangely effective. Some are faintly suggestive of originality, distinguishing them from the music of American Indians.

Huddled together during months of night, it is small wonder they have succeeded in crystallizing into sweet sound their transient, unearthly visions of a frozen world.

AGAIN CAPTURES THE SUBMARINE EFFICIENCY CUP

Word of Continued Success of Lieut. Richard Oland in Navy Work Received.

A letter from Portsmouth, England, dated May 20, announced that Lieut. Richard Oland, R. C. N., has again won the submarine efficiency cup. He won this cup last year, and his second success is a fine tribute to his ability. Lieutenant Oland is attached to the mother ship Maidstone, at Portsmouth, and is in command of Submarine H 84, which has won the same cup outright. These were the only two cups presented and H 84 has them both. Lieutenant Oland has a brother, Eric Oland, R. C. N., attached to the naval staff at Portsmouth. He has just completed an eighteen months torpedo course. The young Canadians attached to the British navy are making a most creditable record. Both of the Oland boys got their initial course of training at Halifax. Friends everywhere will hear with great pleasure of their success in their chosen career.

A JUNE DAY FOR A PLEASANT RAMBLE

What One May Find in and Around Rockwood Park—A Lovely Little Valley.

A few anglers could be seen yesterday afternoon on the shores of Lily Lake and also the artificial lakes. Rockwood Park grows daily more attractive with the putting forth of leaf and blossom. Behind the hill which marks the western boundary of the park there is a level, and a brook runs through it, and the soil is very rich. Coming upon it for the first time, one is surprised to find this sheltered garden of delight. The rock formation on one side is of limestone, and on the other it is more like granite. Up in the hills is a reservoir from which water is piped to the greenhouses. In one of these a Times man went to see the plants. They were also ready for market. There were also great quantities of lettuce, and younger tomato and celery plants, while in the garden outside was celery fit for the table. All through the winter, lettuce is raised in large quantities for the market, for these greenhouses have a modern heating plant and the valley is sheltered from the storms. This valley must have been at one time the bed of a lake. Members of the Peacock family have lived there for twenty-five or thirty years. While they can quickly drive or motor to the city, their home nest is completely secluded, and a place of rare and picturesque beauty. Coming to this extremity of the narrow and deep valley, one arrives at the Pedersen greenhouse on Sandy Point road, where there is also an abundance of rich soil, and where men were at work yesterday setting out flowering plants and ploughing and cleaning up new ground. A very strange tenant of this property yesterday was a tiny monkey at the end of a small chain, to be sure, but the animal displayed a most friendly disposition, and rather startled one visitor by making a sudden leap to gain a perch on his shoulder. These are pleasant days along the roads and winding paths in and about Rockwood Park. Few people from the city seem to find their way thither, but those who have tasted the pleasures of a ramble for an hour or two in that region find it very inviting in these early days of June.

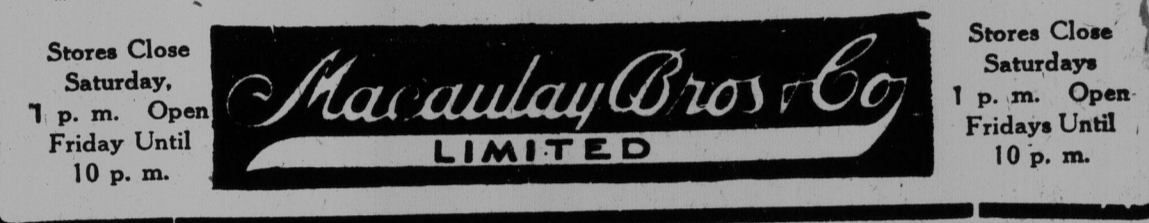

PROTEST DIAMOND TROPHY AWARD

Lake Placid Skating Association Takes Action Relative to Steinmetz Being Named Ace of America.

In a recent edition of "The Blade," the official organ of the Middle Atlantic Skating Association, I. S. U., issued recently, there is a lengthy article relating to a protest filed by the Lake Placid Skating Association against a decision of Julian T. Fitzgerald, referee, who ordered points equally divided for third place in the one mile race at the Diamond trophy meet last winter, when Roy McWhirter and Chas. Jewstraw skated what the judges deemed a dead heat. A book has been issued by the Lake Placid Skating Association setting forth the grounds on which their action is taken and it contains affidavits of the officials who acted on the date when the tie occurred, and correspondence between President Fitzgerald and the officers of the Lake Placid Skating Association. The appeal brings on the supposition that, had Jewstraw defeated McWhirter in a skate off for third place (as provided by rule) he would have tied William Steinmetz for first place points at the finish of the event, comprising the Diamond Medal meet, and the two skaters so tied should have raced off the tie for first place in a series of events. The "Blade" goes on to say:—"We regret that the Lake Placid Skating Association has found it necessary to take this action. The result can do the game little good, no matter what the decision, and we respectfully suggest that the I. S. U. ponder deeply before granting future requests for special title meets."

J.E. McAuley to Be Candidate In Kings Co.?

Prominent Party Leader Said to be Offering as Independent Conservative Candidate.

Sussex, June 1.—An unexpected change in the political situation in Kings county occurred today when it was declared by friends of Councillor John E. McAuley, prominent lumber merchant and farmer, of Millstream, that he would offer as an independent Conservative candidate in the by-election for the provincial house on June 17. It was said that Mr. McAuley's decision arose out of the treatment accorded him by the Conservative machine in this constituency. It was intimated he had reason to expect the nomination, but things were so manipulated that Mr. McAuley was passed over for A. J. Brooks. Mr. McAuley has been a large employer of labor in this county; he is widely known and would undoubtedly take a considerable amount of Conservative support away from the convention candidate. His nomination papers are, it is said, now being signed and it was said that Mr. McAuley has made arrangements for several meetings in different parts of the constituency.

Richibucto, June 1.—The preliminary hearing into the charge against Ernest McEachern of having caused the death of Gordon Michaud, Mill Creek, Buctouche, was commenced here this morning before Magistrate Daigle. E. H. McDonald, of Shediac, appeared for the Michaud family; H. A. Powell, K.C., of St. John, and Hon. A. A. Dyrart, of Buctouche, appeared for the prisoner. Witnesses examined were Mrs. Michaud, wife of Gordon Michaud; Dr. Delaney, of Buctouche, and Dr. R. G. Girvan, of Rexton (N. B.). The trial will be continued tomorrow. HENRY MORRIS OF HARVEY DROWNED IN PECULIAR WAY

Hopewell Hill, June 1.—Henry Morris, an aged and well-known resident of Harvey, was drowned at his home, after a sudden illness, he fell into a half-punchen of water in his stone yard. Mr. Morris, who was about eighty years of age, had been in poor health but had been able to be about the house. He had been under the doctor's care on account of the painful attacks to which he was subject. When his physician, Dr. Carnwath, accompanied by Rev. Father Walker, went to the house today there was no one inside. Going outside Father Walker found the unfortunate man in the water which was about two feet deep. Morris is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Berry, of Harvey. One brother, Charles Morris, formerly collector of customs at Harvey, is a resident of St. John.

RAPID GROWTH OF JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross is the department of the society which is making astoundingly rapid development, and it is also the branch to which the society looks for its greatest results. Miss Jean E. Browne, R.N., the dominion supervisor of the Junior Red Cross, arrived in the city last night and leaves this morning for St. Stephen in the course of a tour through the maritime provinces in the interests of the junior organization. She will return to St. John next week and will be one of the speakers at the public hearings of the congress here. She herself has accomplished great things for the junior work, and she believes there is a splendid future before it. In Nova Scotia and in Prince Edward Island, where she has been recently, there is now a vigorous campaign launched to enroll every school child up to eighteen years of age in the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Browne was a member of the original Junior Red Cross committee of Saskatchewan and director of school hygiene in that province. She was born and received her early education in Ontario and, after collegiate and normal school training, she taught in Ontario schools for a short time before entering upon a course of training in the Toronto General Hospital. For a year after her graduation she was in charge of the clinic in connection with the out-patient department of the hospital. She then went to Regina as school nurse and organized the school nursing work in the League of Red Cross societies. In that distinguished group she took a foremost place and brought credit to Canada. She received her appointment as dominion supervisor of the Junior Red Cross in March this year.

Speaking of the work of the junior organizations, Miss Browne said last night that their aims were three-fold, educational along health lines, to promote humanitarian ideals and to promote good citizenship. While necessarily the activities of the junior organizations varied with the locality and the local interests, there were some rules which all followed. The unit of organization was the classroom and only children under eighteen years were enrolled. Practically all the local supervisors were teachers, but the officers were always the children, and as far as possible the activities were what the children themselves had chosen. She could speak with great enthusiasm of what had already been accomplished throughout the dominion by the Junior Red Cross. Saskatchewan was the banner province and had 40,000 children enrolled. Through the united efforts of these children 600 other children had received medical care. The Junior Red Cross children had also done the necessary work for this unselfish service partly through their twenty-five cent membership fee and partly by means of entertainments, sales and talent money. In some cases they had sold the produce of school gardens. In Alberta there were 20,000 children in the Junior Red Cross and they had established a children's hospital at Calgary, where all the children whom they helped were brought for treatment. Manitoba and Ontario also have active Junior organizations and throughout the dominion there is a most encouraging expansion of the department.

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1922

In the annual report of the executive committee of the Canadian general council for 1921, the great progress made by the Boy Scout movement in Canada is shown and the need for more men to act as leaders is emphasized.

Large increase in membership of the various scout branches is shown, the total number on the rolls throughout Canada in 1921 being 38,445 as compared with 28,626 the previous year. Imperial headquarters states that apart from the British Isles, the most progress was shown in Canada.

Up From Tenderfoot.

All ranks in Canadian scouting were delighted to find in Lord Byng of Vimy a real scout who had passed through every rank of scouting from tenderfoot upwards, and who had with his own hands earned the Silver Wolf in England.

Since coming to Canada, His Excellency has emphasized his keen interest in all welfare work for the youth of the nation and has manifested a thorough knowledge of the Boy Scout movement.

In the midst of his many duties he has found time to give demonstration lectures to patrol leaders and scoutmasters. He has attended scout conferences and has given addresses on a number of occasions, emphasizing the value of the scout training.

On the course of his visits to and within the provinces, both Dr. Robertson and J. A. Stiles were glad to avail themselves of opportunities to meet groups of scoutmasters and other leaders, also to address many clubs such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Canadian, Commercial and Gyro, boards of trade and many other meetings of both men and women.

The report of the dominion medal board this year covers the period from June 30, 1920, to December 31, 1921, during which time fifty-three distinct acts of gallantry and heroism have been recognized by the chief scout for Canada, on the advice of local boards of honor, and provincial honor boards and the dominion medal board.

This is by far the largest number of awards which the medal board has reported within a like period.

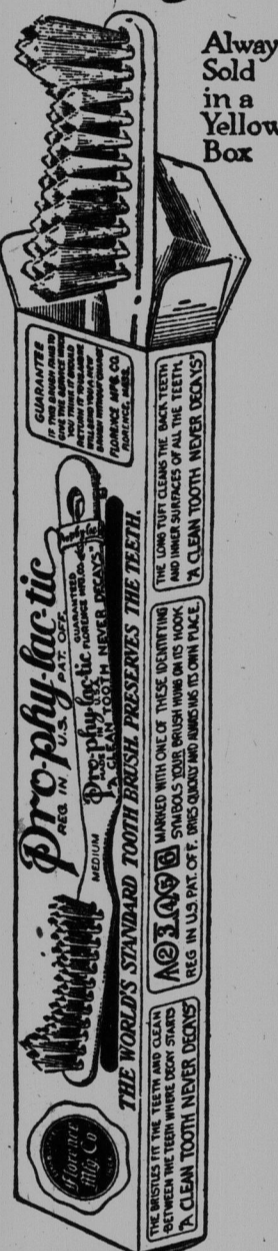

Probably more scouts were under canvas during last summer than in any previous period of scouting in Canada. This was largely due to the generosity of the militia department in lending tents to troops of bona fide scouts under certain conditions.

Endorsed by Churches.

The general synod of the Church of England in Canada warmly endorsed the Boy Scout movement, and regarding the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church the report says:

"The development in the Roman Catholic Church has also been ratifying. In Regina the Most Rev. Archbishop O. E. Mathieu maintains a participating interest in scouting. His Grace Archbishop McNeil of Toronto, in a letter to the members of the Catholic Boy Life Council of that city, dated August 22, 1921, called attention to the importance of the adolescent boy in this period of reconstruction of our country and urged members of the Boy Life Council to promote in every way the Boy Scout movement among our Catholic boys, to carefully select and train young men for leaders in this work; to be represented on the provincial and city been slow, but the Canadian General Council stands ready to help in any way possible, but considers that the initiative in this direction must come from those most interested.

"The cooperation of imperial headquarters," it is stated, "always one of the most pleasant features of the work. During 1921, the shipments have been prompt and there has been every evidence that the parent association has been doing its utmost to show a friendly and fatherly interest in the work in Canada. One of our ambitions is to 'make good' in the eyes of the world's chief scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell."

"We would like to give expression to the friendly relations which exist between the Boy Scouts of America and the Canadian General Council."

Appreciation is expressed of the assistance given the Boy Scouts by the Ottawa Rotary and similar clubs throughout Canada.

"To Be Prepared."

"We remind ourselves, constantly," the report states, "that the aim of the Boy Scouts Movement is to develop good character in boys and to prepare them to become good citizens. The spirit of scouting is set forth in the Scout Promise and the Scout Law; and is revealed by the Scout slogan, 'Do a Good Turn Every Day,' and the Scout motto, 'Be Prepared.' The Scout programme and Scout method make a happy combination. They are adapted to boy nature and suitable to boys of Scout age—twelve to eighteen. No other scheme of recreational education is liked better by boys themselves."

The continuing need of the movement is for more and more suitable men to volunteer as scoutmasters.

The report adds that the movement needs "men with an understanding of boys, men with enthusiasms for the well-being of boys; men to such men the movement extends boys hands and offers them an unparalleled opportunity for social service." That is an appeal whose significance might well be pondered by every parent of a Canadian boy. It is an appeal to help build a better Canada of tomorrow.

REVENUE $300,000?

Fredericton (Gleaner).—New Brunswick will have more than 16,000 motor vehicles licensed in 1922, according to a prediction made yesterday by Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, while here on a departmental business trip.

There were 12,288 automobiles and 875 motor trucks licensed in the province last year and the minister said that he expected to see 2,000 more cars in New Brunswick this year than last. Receipts from motor vehicle license fees to date are about $225,000, while last year the total reached for the entire twelve months was $276,232. It seems to be the expectation that the $300,000 mark in receipts will be exceeded this year.

COAL FOR BOSTON.

Although 7,000 tons of Cape Breton coal was recently shipped from International Pier to Boston in the S. S. Wilton, the Dominion Coal Company has no contract for the supply of fuel to the New England metropolis. What has happened is that a Massachusetts concern, the Everett Gas Company, has come to Cape Breton for the coal, which, on account of the American strike, it can no longer obtain through its usual channels. As soon as the strike is over the shipments from Sydney will cease, it is said. At present it is believed the Wilton will take about eight cargoes or 56,000 tons to Boston during the coming summer.

Many of the difficulties and controversies that now disturb the world and threaten its peace are directly traceable to the refusal of this country to go into the League of Nations. Contrasting the German-Polish situation with that resulting from the Genoa conference, one cannot blind oneself—unless wilfully—done, and the lately warring peoples have now come to agreement.

It would be much easier to follow the "lead" of the United States if one could know where it was going. It is a very great responsibility that this government has assumed. America took a distinct lead in the Washington conference. The example might well be followed. We refused to go into the League of Nations, played no part in the enforcement of the Versailles Treaty, negotiated a separate peace with Germany, were represented merely by "observers" at the meeting of the Supreme Council and at the Conference of Ambassadors, and declined to participate in the Genoa and Hague conferences. Even President Harding's Association of Nations is yet to be born. All the while Europe in her misery is crying out for more help. We began wrong. We shall hope that before long we shall decide to play the part that belongs to us, a part which, unless played by us, may not be played at all.

International for the big MOTOR TRUCKS Wholesaler

WORKING under time pressure is nothing unusual for the wholesale house. Getting out rush shipments, making trains and handling last minute orders is part of the daily program.

International Motor Trucks make good in the wholesale field because they can be depended upon to keep going with the least number of minutes lost. Rugged strength and sturdy dependability have been built into International Motor Trucks always, and this, we believe, constitutes a strong reason why many nationally known concerns come back again and again when the need for another truck arises.

International Motor Trucks are at work in every line of business that requires hauling equipment. The fact that they rate so highly among well-informed wholesalers indicates their value in other and less strenuous pursuits.

We will gladly help you analyze your hauling needs. Write or call at your convenience.

Mrs. Raymond Tells of Pan-American Conference

Graphic Description of Notable Gathering Given Before Meeting of Women's Canadian Club Last Evening.

Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond is an excellent narrator, able to describe graphically what she has seen and last night, when she described the wonderful happenings of the Pan-American conference at Baltimore, Washington and Boston before a large gathering of the Women's Canadian Club in the Natural History Society rooms, she gave splendid realization of the brilliancy, importance and dignity of that great international gathering attended by 2,000 women representing twenty-two nations.

Mrs. Raymond is the president of the St. John Women's Canadian Club and at the conference. She delivered the personal greeting of President Harding to the St. John Women's Canadian club. "Come with us, live with us and grow with us," as expressing the desire for unity of purpose among the peoples of both American continents. Miss Ingraham, of Baltimore, she said had first conceived the idea of holding such a conference and she had been inspired by the belief that peace would only be achieved through the union of the women of the two Americas. Her idea had been abundantly fruitful. The distinguished people of three continents whom Mrs. Raymond met intimately at the conference and spoke of last night, made a formidable list, yet each person mentioned was spoken of so as to convey a distinct and accurate portrait. One statement made by Sir Auckland Geddes of the conference that women were a grave menace until they had educated themselves along economic lines, was rather startling to Mrs. Raymond's audience but she said that the British ambassador had been informed by one delegate at the conference that the women of America had been studying home economics for many years.

The profuse hospitality and the notable social events of the conference Mrs. Raymond also spoke of, and on several occasions in Boston she had been asked to speak as a Canadian delegate. At the close of her address she showed a series of interesting views of the places of which she had spoken and photographs of the notable people to whom she had referred were placed on screens around the room.

Hearty thanks were extended to Mrs. Raymond on the motion of Mrs. L. Green, seconded by Mrs. Leonard Elley. During the evening delightful solos were sung by Mrs. Thomas Gay and Mrs. Blake Ferris who were heartily encouraged. Refreshments were served under the co-operation of Miss A. Tingey and Miss K. Bell.

New Honor for a St. John Girl

Miss Margaret Stewart, Now in Alberta, to Instruct Summer Course for Teachers in Michigan.

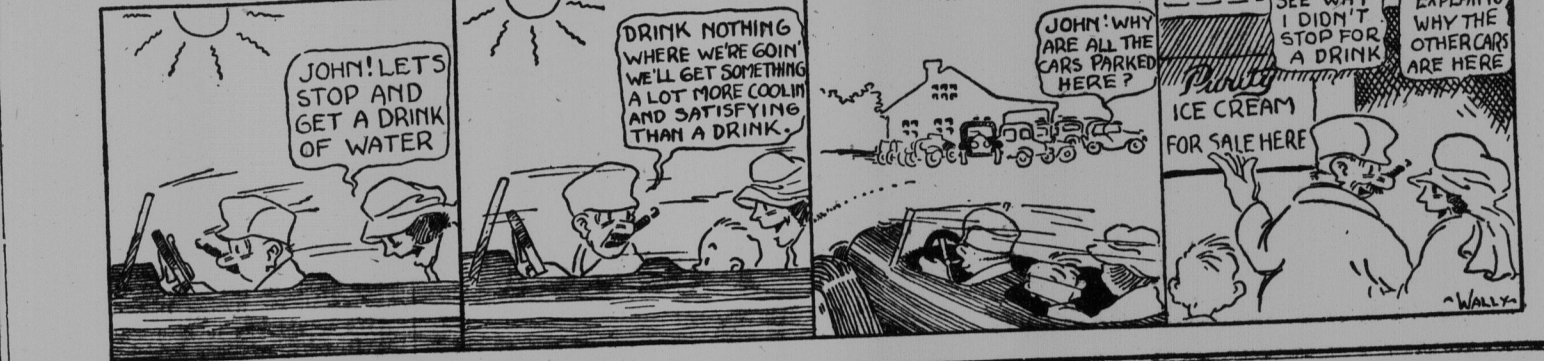

Many friends in the city and province will be interested to learn of the success of former St. John girl, Miss Margaret Stewart, the daughter of Mr. William O. Stewart, of Sydney street, and a sister of T. McAvity Stewart. The following announcement concerning her recent appointment is taken from the Morning Alberta of May 15:

"Miss Margaret A. Stewart, one of Calgary's first teachers of household economics, will leave soon for Lansing, Michigan, where she will give a summer course for teachers at the Michigan Agricultural college. This is considered a singular honor. In view of the fact that the students whom Miss Stewart is to teach are themselves teachers of first class standing in the States, it is to be noted that Miss Stewart, since 1913, has been director of household economics at the Cantor Normal school. Previous to that time she was an instructor in household economics in Calgary, having taken over the work here soon after it was organized.

"Miss Stewart is at present in the city inspecting for the provincial government the high school classes in home economics, and will leave this morning for Raymond (Alta.). She has been engaged in this work since the close of the Normal school in April, and will continue her tour of the province until the middle of June, when she will leave for Michigan. Before starting her classes there, she will tour the state with one of the household economic inspectors and will visit various schools of domestic science. She will have charge of a six weeks' course in methods of teaching and one course in vocational education for women.

"Miss Stewart is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where she took her Ph. B. degree. She has also studied in Columbia University at New York."

Re-gains in fifty-one, and Calgary in sixty-five hours.

There is no extra charge made for this feature by Canadian Pacific.

HALIFAX VIEW OF CONFERENCE

Welfare of That City and of St. John Bound Up With Each Other.

(Halifax Chronicle.)
The value of such conferences as that now being held by the St. John and Halifax Boards of Trade is not perhaps fully realized. The welfare of one city is so bound up with that of the other that their interests may be called practically identical. The closer co-operation of the maritime members of parliament may well be regarded as essential for the furtherance of maritime province interests. Too often in the past their failure to co-operate has resulted in failure to secure recognition of maritime rights. The rapid growth of the new western provinces and their somewhat spectacular attractions have led to the overlooking of the qualifications of the maritime provinces as homes for immigrants. Diverting a certain amount of immigration to these provinces would be good for them and for the Dominion.

Then there is the question of transportation, the equipment of both cities for a larger portion of the ocean commerce of Canada both incoming and outgoing. The restriction of the preferential duties to goods entering Canada by Canadian ports might reasonably be expected to be to the advantage of both St. John and Halifax, and not to the disadvantage of the rest of Canada, and the feasibility of having this scheme adopted is a legitimate subject of discussion. Warehousing and terminal facilities are also vital questions, and what separate effort might fail to secure improved effort may win. For these and kindred reasons the conference may well be termed timely and important. The eyes, not only of the people of both cities, but to a degree of all Canada, must be on the deliberations of the delegates. What they recommend may be finally adopted. It is a conference that calls for good-will and good judgment, for a sinking of all narrow aims, and for a broad, true vision of the possibilities of the near future.

The conference has opened most auspiciously. The subjects already discussed and the conclusions already reached are of importance not only to the cities of Halifax and St. John, but to the maritime provinces generally. It is here that the conference may be congratulated. While representing primarily the interests of Halifax and St. John, the conferees have had the good judgment to realize that the interests of these two cities are bound up in the interests of the maritime provinces. What is good for Halifax or St. John is good for the provinces of which they are the capital cities. Conversely what is for the benefit of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is also for the benefit of Halifax and St. John. The discussions already held have taken a wide range. There has been unanimity throughout and a strong, sane desire to serve the interests of Canada as well as the interests of the maritime provinces.

It is hoped that the conference in Halifax is but the forerunner of many more get-together meetings. The general conclusions arrived at at this conference, while valuable, will need to be followed up. The ports of Halifax and St. John and the provinces of which they are the capital cities, cannot benefit materially unless there is continuous and persistent effort on the part of everyone interested to make known the distinct benefits and advantages which will accrue to Canada by the development and increased prosperity of these maritime provinces.

The utilization of our maritime province ports for the transshipment of foreign trade will be a benefit to these ports, and will not be to the disadvantage of the rest of Canada. The railway freight rates from interior points to ocean ports are the same in all cases, and an importer or exporter in Ontario will suffer no disadvantage in freight charges by patronizing the maritime province ports. It is here that a campaign of education must be undertaken, and it is here that the Boards of Trade of Halifax and St. John can render a service to their respective provinces as well as to the Dominion at large.

congratulate the delegates of the Board of Trade on their entering in coming to Halifax to discuss matters of mutual interest and we welcome them most warmly and most sincerely to their sister city.

LORD INCHCAPE AND THE FAMOUS ROCK
(Toronto Globe.)

Lord Inchcape, who is on his way to India to reorganize that country's finances, first recalls "The Inchcape Rock," Southey's famous poem, and, more recently, the committee on national expenditure, on which he rendered important service in Britain. Formerly known as Sir James Mackay, Lord Inchcape hails from Arbroath, the "Fairport" of Sir Walter Scott's novel, "The Antiquary." He is probably the only peer of the British realm who takes his title from a rock in the sea off the place of his birth. This is the Bell Rock, or the Inchcape, a reef off Arbroath, which in olden times was known as Aberbrothock. It is recorded that the Abbot of Aberbrothock in olden times placed a bell upon the rock "which rang continually, being moved by the sea, giving notice to the sailors of the danger." The Inchcape and its bell form the theme of one of Southey's best known ballads.

Lord Inchcape is a real self-made man. He first went out to the Orient as an apprentice on a sailing vessel, and then worked for some time as a tally clerk on a British Indian coasting ship, a life which is renowned for its severity. He was born at Arbroath in 1856, and, starting life with a patrimony of £2,000, he went to India at twenty-three, and rose to be senior partner in some of the most important firms in the eastern trade. He was a member of council in India, and then a member of the India Council in London. He negotiated the Commercial Treaty with China in 1902. His shipping interests are great, one of his important posts being chairman and managing director of the P. & O.

Although strongly devoted to business, and one who operates with a strong hand and without sentiment, he has rendered many important public services, the latest being as a member of Sir Eric Geddes' committee, which performed the great task of reviewing the whole national expenditure, and whose reports are valuable revelations of Britain's financial position.

COMMITTEE SUICIDE
AFTER DISMISSAL

Miss Long Removed as Principal of School After Twenty-Seven Years of Service.

Chicago, June 2.—Feeling against the school board in Elgin, Ill., which was fanned to fever heat at the election two months ago, expressed itself again at an indignation meeting, following the suicide of Miss Mary Elizabeth Long, for twenty-seven years a teacher in the schools of the Kane County city. Miss Long, who was removed at a meeting of the school board as principal of the Sheridan School—a post she had held for the last fourteen years—ended her life by drinking carbolic acid in her mother's home in Elgin. A few hours later, Mrs. Jennie Long, widow mother of the teacher, wept at the inquest as she declared that the action of the school board alone was responsible for her daughter's act.

As the school board met to pass a formal resolution of regret for Miss Long's death, more than thirty teachers who had either been dismissed or placed on probation by the same order planned to meet in the office of Attorney Frank A. Russell. So many flocked to the gathering, however, that it developed into a popular protest meeting and had to adjourn to a hall, where speeches bitterly assailing the action of the board as "un-American," and charging it with "the murder of Miss Long," were delivered.

A battle between the present school board, headed by Dr. Edward H. Abbott, and the Elgin Teachers' Association has been waged ever since the birth of the latter organization, two years ago. Miss Long took an active part in opposing the recent re-election of Dr. Abbott and her dismissal followed.

Mr. Advertiser:

Think for a minute about St. John and Ottawa, in connection with newspapers and advertising.

The population of Ottawa (according to Might's Directory) is 143,402.

The population of St. John according to the last census is 47,166 or, counting close suburban territory, say 55,000 to 60,000.

The Ottawa Journal, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 27,717.

The Ottawa Citizen, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 29,460.

The Ottawa Journal and Citizen have the A. B. C. audit, which is accepted as the standard authority on circulation by all the agencies and leading advertisers in Canada and the United States.

The Telegraph and Times (A. B. C. audit) for the six months ended March 31, 1922 had a combined net paid circulation of 30,461.

Mr. Advertiser: Does not this strike you as a significant comparison?

The Telegraph and Times cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick like a blanket, from the advertising standpoint.

Their circle of readers exceeds 100,000 people, practically all the live buyers not only in New Brunswick, but as far east as Amherst and including the Nova Scotia counties across the Bay of Fundy.

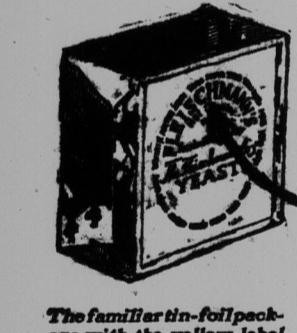

Please note that The Telegraph and Times are the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick. It is suggested to you that the Ottawa and St. John figures given above are worthy of a little study and productive of a little thought.

Advertising is the life blood of business. Circulation, particularly when it is well distributed among every class of buyers, gives advertising the pulling power that keeps the cash register and selling force busy. Advertising is a productive investment. It cuts your overhead by swelling your total sales.

GHISHOLM AND FIFELED.

(Halifax Chronicle)
It is officially announced by the officials of St. Joseph's A. A. C. that Roy Ghisholm, the 126-pounder, winner of the 126-pounder title in the United States and Canada, having won the National Amateur Championship in his class in Boston some few weeks ago. Many local sportsmen who have seen Ghisholm in action are willing to bet that he will be able to take the measure of the National champion, Fifeled, however, must be a good boy or he would never have taken the honors at Boston.

Also on June 1st, Johnny MacGrath with meet "Art" O'Grady of St. Joseph's, and it is said that there is no love between the pair. Healey, formerly lightweight champion of the marines might be seen in action against Mason of the Aurora, but up to the present no official announcement has been made to this effect. Other good bouts are to be staged, and St. Joseph's executive promises a real boxing entertainment to Halifax fans.

man imports of all commodities from Great Britain, however, were lower during that year than in 1920, and British consumption of German goods declined nearly one-third, the bank says. In the number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

"Imports of German goods into Great Britain during 1921 were valued at $20,350,000, nearly a third less than the total of $29,282,000 in the previous year," according to Commerce Monthly. "The value of British exports to Germany also declined, from $217,070,000 in 1920 to $178,810,000 in 1921, while re-exports of foreign and colonial goods decreased in value from $29,282,000 to $22,897,000. In value from 1921, Germany was the destination for 118,469,000 pounds of British re-exports of raw wool, compared with 25,018,000 pounds in 1920, and 83,197,000 pounds in 1919, and, in addition, took seven million pounds of British home-grown wool."

NO EASY COURSE FOR TARIFF BILL

Strong U. S. Senate Opposition to Building Unduly High Wall Against Canada.

(Canadian Press) Washington, June 2.—Progress of the discussion of the tariff bill is serving to bring out more and more clearly the fact that there is strong opposition to building up an unduly high tariff wall between the United States and Canada. This senate opposition undoubtedly reflects a powerful public sentiment of the same nature.

Those who object to building high the tariff wall between this country and the dominion are democrats and some of the more moderate republicans. For that matter, they declare danger exists in the high rates generally carried in the pending bill.

They perceive the danger of a large curtailment of trade between this nation and Canada and of closer trade relations between Canada and Latin America at the expense of the United States. Moreover, although there has been strikingly little attention given to it here, they perceive that high tariffs by this country against Canada will drive Canada into closer preferential trade relations with the United Kingdom and the rest of the British Empire to the detriment of the United States trade.

The high tariff republican leaders in the senate, it is true, are paying little heed to exportation against high rates. They are bent on driving the tariff bill through substantially as it came from the finance committee. Nevertheless, the importance of the ports now being made cannot be overlooked. The feeling is growing stronger here all the time that the operation of the proposed new tariff law will have a profound reaction and that the new law will be short-lived. In fact, many believe it will cause a political upheaval and defeat the republican party, although that is a question which it is too early to answer.

The tariff debate has brought up repeatedly the question of competition with Canada on this item and that item of the bill. The objectors to high rates have found occasion frequently to protest. Senator Jones of New Mexico recently in objecting to high duties said that "a matter of fact in Canada there was produced on the whole no more flour than was consumed. This led him to make the following general observations on Canadian importations and trade relations with Canada:

"We have heard a great deal here about some imports from Canada and about duty upon the Canadian commodities which are being brought into this country. I want to suggest to senators that this is no time for the United States to build a tariff wall merely for the purpose of retaliation. That has cropped out in the consideration of this bill a number of times. Even on limestone a high tariff is asked simply because on the western coast there is an concern which may export some limestone to the United States, and the reason given for the request for the duty was simply as a matter of retaliation, because Canada has a tariff upon the importation of limestone there; and so with other commodities.

"Canada reaches from one ocean to the other. Her conditions are varied, very much as they are in the United States; but this is no time to build up a tariff wall for the sake of retaliation against what Canada has done. On the other hand, it seems to me that we should try to bring about a better feeling, a more reciprocal condition between this country and Canada."

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

Use Lord's Prayer Boost Wood Interest.

Williams, Brown & Earle, Philadelphia, dealers in scientific and projection apparatus, recently have had the largest scientific department store in the world. And not a week passes but what Harry C. Bennett, display manager, does not take the opportunity of using his finely situated windows to tell the world many of his wares.

Recently Bennett built an elaborate display around a single bar of type upon which the Lord's Prayer was engraved in letters six one-thousandths of an inch high. This type was cut by the punch method, and is the smallest printer's type ever produced on a type bar. There are 372 letters in a space less than one-sixth of an inch square.

Besides showing many of the scientific instruments carried in stock, the window contained artistically painted show cards telling of the service given by the store and inviting onlookers to come inside and look at the tiny engraving under the microscope.

"Hundreds of persons who had never been in our store before," declares Bennett, "came in and looked at the tiny engraving of the Lord's Prayer. During the week the type was in the window we gave away thousands of souvenir displays of the prayer. This not only gained the store city-wide publicity, but gave us the chance to show our instantaneously to many who heretofore were reluctant to come in and examine them."

Kansas State Publicists Gossip of Its Sales.

Farmer in Pawnee County, Kansas, of course, are interested in the doings of the far side of Congress, and they never neglect to read the column entitled "Shop Talk at Doerr's" found on page 3 of the local weekly newspaper.

The column is a review of important town happenings, as well as a barometer of the selling activities of the store.

When Farmer Jones buys an automobile, and Lawyer Brown a new furnace for his home, he wants the world to know about it. That's only human, and perhaps explains the selling punch of this plainly written copy.

The county has a population of 10,000 persons, but in twenty-four years A. Doerr has built a business of $800,000 a year, and a store with the dimensions of a city department store. He carries on hand a stock valued at $100,000 and manages to turn it three or four times a year. With the exception of freight and transportation charges he does business on seventeen per cent. The store has seven departments, with a competent man in charge of each, and a sales force of thirty people.

Each year the Doerr Company spends between one and two per cent of its total sales on advertising.

Needlework Appeal Draws Big Crowds.

What kind of sales appeal has the strongest attraction for women? The average person on whom this question is put will answer "wearing apparel, particularly stylish styles."

One of the most successful selling efforts recently made by the Pullare Casual in Washington, D. C., dealt only casually and in small part with apparel. It was an advertisement which dealt instead with a special sale of art needlework in which the only articles of apparel specifically mentioned were children's dresses and rompers. It featured knitting yards, stamped bedspreads, pillow cases, towels, scarfs and other merchandise of this general character.

And the public response to the advertisement was so great that the store had to throw more than thirty extra saleswomen into the department to handle the crowd on the day of the sale.

The sale was held in proximity to the notion section, which also profited heavily, and not only was the special sale successful, but the stimulating effect was noticeable in the sales figures for the day in virtually every other department of the store.

Display Boards Add Many Small Sales.

E. M. Wright, proprietor of the Pullare Paint and Wall Paper Store, Tulare, Cal., in business to sell decorating materials to people of that city. Incidentally, he sells accessories also; little extras are used in the store, and he has a display of eight.

But Wright manages to sell wall-paper or paint customers such tools as they will need to make a better job of it. Instead of letting them make old tools do or try to do the work with some that are not suited to the job.

About his stock are to be seen attractive display boards that he has cut from composition board and covered with wall paper and neat borders. One may show the things needed by the amateur or professional painter hanger; another, paint brushes for the man with a painting job ahead; another, the materials to clean up the car, and so on. They never fail to catch the eye and mean many additional sales and more satisfaction with the job.

According to a prominent manufacturer of window-lighting apparatus to plan the color lighting of displays properly the color scheme of the merchandise must be analyzed.

If purple is the predominant color in the merchandise, red and blue lighting effects should be used. A single color light is likely to distort the colors of the merchandise, even though it attracts attention. Color contrasts and pleasing effects can be produced by two or more colors which harmonize with and emphasize the display matter.

The following table indicates the results obtained when colored lights are used:

Red plus yellow equals scarlet; orange, in increasing proportions of yellow.

Red plus green equals scarlet; orange, in increasing proportions of green.

Red plus blue equals red-purple; purple, blue-purple; in increasing proportions of blue.

Green plus green equals yellow-green; in increasing proportions of green.

Yellow plus blue equals yellowish-white, bluish-white; in increasing proportions of blue.

Halifax, N. S., June 1.—George Field of Toronto, received the judges' decision over Ray Chisholm, of Halifax, in a boxing bout at the arena tonight. The bout was close and exciting, the champion, had a close call from being put away in the final round.

An Interesting Performance.

Yesterday afternoon sporting enthusiasts witnessed Johnny McIntyre of Gloucester working out in the Y. M. C. I. gymnasium. Johnny, who is a boxer of 104, sparring six rounds, three with his manager and three with a young man secured for the occasion. McIntyre is a resolute boxer and handles himself well. He has an exceptionally good left, which he uses effectively, and had a "kick" in his right. Judging from his work he is in the pink of condition. Following his six rounds, he tossed the medicine ball around, shadow boxed, skipped, etc.

Duffy Finishes Thirty-fifth Year.

Boston, June 2.—Thirty-five years ago on May 30 Hugh Duffy, manager of the Boston Red Sox, made his debut as a ball player in the New England League. It was the afternoon of Memorial Day and he wore a Salem uniform in a game between Lynn and Salem. Duffy's team lost, 12 to 11. He was at the plate five times and failed to make a hit. He has been connected with the game continuously since that time.

Colohan.

Change Name to St. Johns.

C. J. Morgan, who was one of the organizers of the Garrison baseball team in the senior league, announced this morning that the team would in future be known as the "St. Johns." He explained that the team had no connection with the St. John Garrison Sports and Entertainment Association, and it was decided to change the name so as to avoid confusion with the Garrison Baseball League, which is a separate organization.

Prince as Captain.

The Royal and Ancient Club, St. Andrews, Scotland, governing body of the game in the British Isles, will have a member of the royal family as its captain in 1922, according to Golf Illustrated, the British publication which is edited by Harold H. Hilton, open champion in 1922 and 1927; amateur champion in 1920, 1921, 1921 and 1923, and American amateur champion in 1911. The Prince of Wales, it is stated in the current issue, has signified his intention of accepting the honor conferred upon him and will play himself into action, according to custom, at the autumn meeting of the club on Sept. 27.

ATHLETIC.

Disabled Veteran to Compete.

Urbana, Ill., June 2.—Among the entries received for the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field meet, which will be held at Chicago, Ill., is that of Paul, Grinnell star, who was seriously injured during the war. In spite of the loss of one eye and a part of one heel, in addition to carrying a piece of shrapnel in one of his legs, Paul won the century in last year's meet and recently did it in 09:45 and the furlong in 02:45 in the Grinnell-Washington dual meet.

Opening Day at Riverside

Prize Winners in Mixed Foursomes — A Beautiful Day on the Links.

Delightful weather—real golf weather—marked the formal opening of the season at the Riverside Golf and Country Club yesterday, and President John A. McAvity and his aides from the parent club and the ladies' association had a well-filled course from luncheon until the dinner hour. There has been considerable play on the Riverside course for three weeks past, but the parked motors yesterday were so numerous as to give notice that the real business of golf has begun for 1922. The course needs more play to bring it into summer condition, but it is improving rapidly, and a big programme of extension is being pushed vigorously.

The card yesterday was of mixed foursomes, medal play, a contest to try the souls of even the hardened veterans, and by no means all who participated were of that vintage. The scenery and the surroundings are nearly at their best now, and as the golfing fever begins to grip old and young players alike at this season, the play was keen and enjoyable.

The prize-winners were:
First prize—Miss Audrey McLeod and Thomas Bell.
Second—Miss Hare and P. L. Peters.
Third—Miss B. Jack and J. Pope Barnes.

The tea hour found the dining room and the spacious verandah well filled, and an orchestra added to the pleasure of a most successful day.

There will be a field day on the holiday, beginning with a President vs. Vice President match in the morning.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS.

Dearborn Independent. The lists of indictments in the large cities of the country afford ready evidence of the source from which has come the chief agitation against prohibition. In one of the typical cities recently a federal grand jury returned indictments against sixty-seven individuals for violations of the prohibition enforcement laws. (Then follows the long list of mostly unpronounceable names.) "The defendants belong to a type of recent immigrant which neither fears nor respects the American law. In the particular city mentioned the cosmopolitan political influence is controlling, and clubs of hyphenate names open, sell and permit the use of beer and liquor. There has been an effort to show that the country is dissatisfied with prohibition. Considerable noise has been made by those persons instinctively opposed to the policy, but it is the noise of a disconcerting minority. There is a type of person notable chiefly for the loudness of his shouting, and the extravagance of his gesticulation. He does not rely on reason or fact to carry his argument—simply tries to shout down the opposition by incessant clamor. It is to this type the country owes the attempt to bring the constitution into disrespect. The strength of this noise is no indication that any considerable portion of the people support its object. The fact is the real sentiment of the majority is the sentiment of law-abiding citizenry. The real American does not megaphone his views. He thinks them, votes them, and, if occasion demands, fights for them.

CROWN PRINCESS IS LAID TO REST

Body of Margaret of Connaught Taken to Burial Place.

Stockholm, May 15.—(By Mail).—The remains of the late Crown Princess of Sweden, Princess Margaret of Connaught, were today transferred to the beautiful site in the Haga Palace Park, outside Stockholm, which she herself had chosen as her last resting place.

Pending the necessary arrangements for converting this site into a consecrated burial place, to be used in future for uncrowned members of the royal family, the coffin of the crown princess has been lying on a catafalque in Stockholm Cathedral.

Today's ceremony was private, being attended only by the royal family and members of the court, but the attitude of the people all along the road followed by the procession of the coffin, covered by the British and Swedish flags, showed the lasting and affectionate devotion to her memory shared by high and low.

The same feeling was prevalent when a few days ago, a memorial window in the English church in memory of the crown princess, for which contributions were received from her friends in England and from friends and members of the congregation here, was dedicated by the Bishop for North and Central Europe (Dr. Bury), the Archbishop of Upsala, Primate of Sweden, taking part in the ceremony of dedication, which was attended by the crown prince and his children and other members of the royal family.

The late crown princess of Sweden, the eldest daughter of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, died at Stockholm on May 1, 1920.

CHANGES IN THE WOODSTOCK SCHOOL

Fredericton, June 1.—Fletcher Peacock, vocational director for New Brunswick, has returned from an official visit to Woodstock. He reports that changes have taken place in the staff of the Carleton county vocational school located in that town. S. C. Heckbert, who was in charge of the mechanical department of the school, has resigned. Ralph J. MacKenzie, of Fredericton, a graduate of the provincial normal school, who has been studying at Scott Institute in Wisconsin for two years, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Heckbert. Mr. Mac-

Snowy white without boiling

THAT dull, grey, streaky look that you always had to boil out of your clothes is never there when you use Rinso. It soaks the dirt, softens it, loosens it so thoroughly that it all runs away in the rinsing, leaving the clothes sweet, snowy-white and fresh as new.

It's because Rinso is the new, modern scientific washing preparation that works in an entirely new way. It washes by soaking. It is altogether different from ordinary soaps and washing powders. So, it should be used differently. Do not pour Rinso itself into the tub. Make your Rinso liquid first, as per directions.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE
Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or whatever time is convenient. Then add more Rinso solution and work the machine. Rinse and dry—you'll have a clean, sweet, snow-white wash.

PRETTY WOMAN IN WAR DEATH CASE

Alleged That Clarence Peters Was Engaged in Bitter Feud With Wealthy Man.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Reading, Pa., June 1.—Clarence Peters, slain by Walter S. Ward, wealthy New York baker, as the result of an alleged blackmail plot, was engaged in a bitter feud, with a wealthy married man "with a pretty wife for the affections and possession of a mysterious girl, according to the story told here today by Guy A. Phillips, a former service man, and a vocational student at a wireless school in Philadelphia.

Phillips, who bases his assertions upon a chance meeting in Philadelphia with a man he is certain was Peters, is positive in all his statements and identifications, facts and dates.

Phillips left Reading today for Philadelphia to tell his story to the authorities.

RIOTS IN BOLOGNA

Rome, June 1.—Much anxiety is felt in parliamentary circles over the situation at Bologna, according to reliable information. Sixty-five thousand armed fascists have gathered from the surrounding districts, while others are on their way, some of the extreme nationalists carrying bombs. Several Socialists' houses have been set on fire. The government has sent officials to Bologna, hoping to pacify the populace.

CHILDREN FLEE FROM FLAMES

Liverpool, N. S., June 1.—Fire today destroyed the house here of Samuel McLeod. Small children of the family, alone in the house, had a narrow escape.
