(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, May 8.—Increase in the maximum registration fee from five to ten cents on letters or other articles sent by registered mail is proposed in a resolution introduced yesterday by the minister of customs and inland revenue.

The resolution, which will be considered in parliament early next week, also proposes an increase post on weekly newspapers and periodicals within a distance of forty miles from the place of publication. Between Jan. 1, 1921, and Jan. 1, 1922, the rate is to be one cent, and one and a half cents thereafter. It is not proposed to diminish the free postage facilities enjoyed by members during sessions.

Sir George E. Foster announced that the budget would be brought down on Wednesday.

The house in committee on a vote of $50,000,000 for soldiers' land settlement debated accomplishments of the Soldiers' Settlement Board. Progress was reported. A comprehensive review of the work accomplished to date under the Soldiers' Settlement act was given by Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Major G. W. Andrews of Centre Winnipeg, congratulated the minister and the government on the excellent work of this board. He said it had been a remarkable achievement.

Dr. Michael Clarke congratulated the minister of the interior on the satisfactory and lucid statement he had made in which there was mentioned work of the board. Major C. G. Power of Quebec South had some criticism. He said that the chairman of a board engaged in dealing with returned soldiers should himself be a returned soldier.

Creation of a Canadian bureau of scientific research, at an initial cost of $500,000 for site and construction and $50,000 for the first year's salaries and upkeep, was endorsed by unanimous vote.

Mr. Meighen replied that so far as possible returned soldiers were being employed by the board.

RAILWAY SHOPMEN LIKELY TO GET THE PAY THEY WANT

Winnipeg, May 8.—Railway shopmen throughout Canada will in all likelihood get the advance in wages asked for at a conference in Montreal between representatives of the men and the railway association.

The demands were for ninety cents an hour for mechanics and seventy-five cents for helpers. There will be the same percentage increase for apprentices.

The new schedule will not become effective until the American organizations have come to terms, but will be retroactive to May 1. The railway association have given an understanding to this effect.

Meeting of Waterways Commission There

Residents of North Ontario Urge Plan Which They Say Would Uncover Great Natural Resources.

(Canadian Press)
North Bay, Ont., May 8.—Optimistic on the probable contributions from this vast northland to the economic success of the proposed St. Lawrence deep waterway route, the necessary improvements were made in the French river and sufficient water power were developed, men who appeared before the International Joint Waterways Commission her yesterday were unanimous in their expressions of confidence in the great wealth to be uncovered in the mineral deposits, forests and agricultural lands of Northern Ontario.
They were especially insistent on the developing of water power here as necessary to the welfare of the newer sections of the province.
The desirability of the connection of the French river with Lake Nipissing, so as to open the way for boat traffic on the Great Lakes was emphasized. Those who presented their views were not enthusiastic on the question of the St. Lawrence sea route being the most desirable thing from an economic standpoint, but they were unanimous on the power question and on the matter of obtaining a water outlet to the Great Lakes by the canalization of the French river.
Major John Ferguson of North Bay, however, told the commission that there was no contentious opposition to the St. Lawrence scheme.
There was no opposition to the deepening of the St. Lawrence, said John Henry of Sudbury, but there was a decided preference for the French river scheme. Sudbury, he said, was not interested in the development of the French river as a lake port, but was interested in the development of the water power.
The members of the commission present included Chairman Magrath, and H. A. Powell, K.C., St. John.

GET IN NEXT WEEK.

St. John is forging ahead in the matter of playgrounds and athletics. A review of the situation is worth while, now that the activity of the spring season has begun.

Two years ago the South End Improvement League was formed and set out to make a playground. It asked and received some aid from the city. The West End followed its example and began to make a playground on Queen square.

Last spring the East End Improvement League was formed, and now has the best playground of the three. Next week the North End will organize an Improvement League and go after a playground. Meanwhile the city council has begun actual work developing the great area at the entrance to Rockwood Park.

All this is in line with the general plan set forth when the South End Improvement League was formed. It was that there should be in each of the four sections of the city a good neighborhood playground and baseball field, and crowning the system a great general playground at Rockwood Park. On the latter all kinds of sports could be carried on by high school, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and other young athletes, and it would be the place for championship meets in which athletes from the four Improvement Leagues would compete, as well as those from other parts of the province.

The first baseball games of the season will be played on May 24. Then, on June 26, the Olympic marathon trials for the maritime provinces, with an afternoon of field sports at the same time, will be staged here. It will be the biggest sporting event in St. John for years, and will attract a great many visitors to the city.

All this is pleasant reading. In two years, following the faithful spade work of a few years before, the city has come to the front in quite a wonderful way. The support of such organizations as the Rotary Club, Commercial Club, and Board of Trade has been of great value, and the Trades and Labor Council has also begun to take an active interest, being well represented in the Playgrounds Association.

But there is still great need of a wider popular interest in the work of getting the playgrounds into shape. All four Improvement Leagues will hold meetings next week. The people in each section of the city should join and take part in the work. A city-wide support by individual citizens is necessary. The more there are in the work the better will be the equipment of the grounds and the greater the benefit to all the young people. Next week, therefore, let everybody begin to talk about the playgrounds and ask what they can do to help the movement that will be of such lasting benefit to the city.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

Some interesting information was given in a discussion of proportional representation by the Montreal charter committee this week. Mr. H. S. Ross described the system. He said the next election in Ontario would probably be held under that system; and that the Manitoba legislature will elect its Winnipeg members by this system in July. The city of Calgary has for a number of years elected the members of its city council under the system and the movement is gaining ground in cities of British Columbia. It was used in the municipal elections in Ireland in January, and is used in Belgium, Switzerland, Sweden and some other countries. In the United States, Ashland, Ohio, has elected its council under proportional representation for a few years. Kalamazoo, Michigan, has adopted the system and it is also in force in Boulder, Colo.

Mr. Ross favors what is called the Hare system, and this enumerates its advantages:— "Voters get real representation; votes are of equal value, discouraging corruption; there is no necessity of splitting votes; it encourages strongest candidates; votes need not be thrown away; it gives representation to all substantial minorities; it encourages representatives to have principles and to be true to them; it secures co-operation of the community; it makes a policy-forming council so representative that it can be made responsible for the appointment of administrative officials."

The system is somewhat complicated, but is said to be simple enough for the voter, who simply indicates his first, second, third or any number of preferences among the candidates. The real work is in the counting at the central electoral office, to give effect to the popular verdict.

WHAT WOMEN ENDURE.

Judge Cusson in the Montreal police court this week had before him several husbands charged with neglect. One who earned $8.60 per day, gave his wife $15 per month to keep herself and three little children. She had to scrub floors to earn more money. The judge said:—"I am satisfied that you are a heartless husband and father, but I am going to see that you take care of your wife and children. You have no right to expect your wife to work when she has to take care of three children, one of which is not yet one year old. You are going to pay her thirty dollars a month, and you are going to make a payment right now, or I will send you to jail for at least six months."

Another man earning forty to fifty dollars per week had given his wife no money for months. They had no children, but the wife had to sell some of the furniture to get money. The judge said to this man:—"Your wife would not have to sell her furniture if you supported her. You are another heartless brute and I would like to send you to jail. You are going to pay your wife fifteen dollars a week, and you are going to make a first payment right now or take the car for Bordeaux."

These two illustrations serve to reveal a condition that is by no means confined to Montreal. There are great numbers of wives and mothers suffering from neglect, who are too sensitive to take their case to the court. Because so little attention is paid to community welfare work, those whose influence might bring about a change are ignorant of the daily tragedy under neighboring roofs. Women and children suffer, and the world goes carelessly about its business and pleasure. And in cases where the courts are appealed to, if a man is sent to jail, the wife's condition is not improved, unless she had also to support him in his idleness when he was at large. There is need of a system to compel such men to work, and to pay their wives the value of that work.

The plebiscite on prohibition in this province will be held early in July. Every church, every temperance organization, every man and woman who oppose the saloon and desire absolute prohibition will have a work to do in this connection. The liquor interests will seek to persuade the people that prohibition is responsible for the conditions under which much liquor is now produced, and it must be made clear that these conditions are due to the law that permits importation from Quebec. That law must be changed, and the first step will be to roll up an overwhelming majority for provincial prohibition.

An intimation of what it will cost to construct highways this year was given in August, Maine, this week, when tenders were opened by the state highway commission for certain sections of road. For 4.71 miles of bituminous macadam road the only bid was $171,811.80. For another stretch of 2.54 miles the bid was $100,810.48. For another of 3.92 miles one bid was $116,449.06, and another $124,986.96. All these tenders were rejected and new proposals will be asked.

Should the West India delegates to the Ottawa conference come by way of St. John it goes without saying that they will be given a hearty reception. Increased Canadian trade with the West Indies means more business for the port of St. John, and the West Indies will eventually become a great winter playground for Canada.

Sir Hans Greenwood, the Canadian who is now Irish secretary, has been returned by a large majority in an English constituency where there is a very considerable Irish vote. The by-elections lately have gone in favor of the Lloyd George candidates.

In Montreal an effort is being made to raise $100,000 for a Business Girls' Hostel. Such houses are needed for the benefit of girls who are away from home and working for their own living. In every city this need is being more fully recognized.

There is to be another lory convention in Toronto next week, engineered by Hon. Robert Rogers, by way of a salute to Sir Robert Borden. How will Sir Robert like it?

Sir Robert Borden will be in Ottawa next week. There is still no indication of his intentions, as to whether he will remain in office or retire at the end of the session.

Kiev has been captured by Poles and Ukrainians. Bolshevism has not brought peace to Russia.

The intermediate class of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium girls were the hostesses at a very enjoyable party in the recreational centre last night. About forty young people were present, and dancing, games and music made the time pass all too quickly. Delicious refreshments were served before the entertainment was brought to a close. Every one had the best of good times and regretted when the time came to go home. Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Mrs. T. H. Somerville, Miss K. McK. Matheson and others of the Y. W. C. A. executive assisted the girls in entertaining and acted as chaperones.

Rippling Rhymes by Walt Mason. (Copyright by George Matthew Adams.)

BALMY DAYS. When arrives the month of May, winter's gone, beyond dispute; which reflection makes us gay, and our loud bazookas we toot. It is good to go to bed, twenty minutes after ten, knowing that the storms we dread for long months won't come again. It is good to rise at dawn in a balmy atmosphere, gazing on the sprouting corn, and the playful cat and steers. May's a rippling and a bawling, o'er whose charms all hearts enthral of the pebbles on the beach, she's the one the wise boys choose. Oh, a month ago we felt that the winter might return; and the sleek again suspense, and the weather prophets all were forever on the fence, knowing not what might befall. And a month from now we'll fry in the superheated air; and no doubt the passers-by will forgive us when we swear. But May brings us no distress, in her genial smiles we bask; she climaxes us to bliss; is the smoothest man could ask. It's the month that hits the spot, after winter, cold and dreary; every other month, I wot, should be May, throughout the year.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Dominion Happenings of Other Days

ON TO PRETORIA.

Night had fallen on that early day in May, 1900, with the naval guns of the British shelling the Boers at the Vet River where the Canadians, with the other Britishers, were attacking the strongly entrenched forces of the enemy. A hard fight was expected the next morning for the foe had shown great determination in the fighting before nightfall. But at daybreak there was no trace of the enemy; he had vanished in the night.

It was Sunday morning, but there was no trace for a religious service. The order was "Forward" after the flying foe. Ninety men of the Canadians under Captain Macdonell had been in the saddle all night endeavoring to cut the Boer line of communication with Kroonstad. They caught a glimpse of the Boers as they fled from the village of Smal-deel and at once set out in pursuit of the fugitives.

The Boers had gathered a strong force and were preparing to take the offensive for a time under such generals as Botha and De Wet. So it was necessary for the British to halt and allow their troops to appear up to Smal-deel. It was becoming apparent that the enemy had planned a big fight to prevent the British from crossing the Zand River. The main army left that place on May 9, and marched to Weigelgen. A part of the Mounted Rifles were ahead of the Zand to study the Boer position. It was a strong one, with the front extending for miles and every kopje big gun and visible, while great masses of men could be seen in the distance. It was estimated that the army numbered nearly 20,000 men.

As the mounted men approached within in range of the Boer shells began to fall so they turned back and about and De Wet retreated with the knowledge that the big battle would come in the morning.

When the sun went down on May 8, at least 45,000 soldiers lay facing each other preparing for the battle on the morrow. The fight began with the shillery died at dawn, then the infantry went into action. By the middle of the afternoon the enemy saw that the plan of victory had failed, so they slipped from the trenches and fled for Kroonstad, while the Canadians slept on the ground the Boers had occupied in the morning. On the morning of May 10 the British line along the Zand River extended from thirty to forty miles.

THERE'S MANY A TALE OF SPRING BEING SUNG

There's many a tale of spring being sung Of Crocus path and bloom above. There's many a tale of love begun— And is there ever an end to love? You know the feeling of the air When first the breath of spring comes in.

The smell of damp fresh earth is there. You know the throbbing of the heart When first the thrill of wing is heard? How warm the sun is on your face, and wonder is it saint or bird? The bending, glowing lines of trees, The water rushing deep and cool, The laughing of the birds, and then, Then violets by a sunken pool. There's many a tale of spring to tell, But mine 'tis of a brave, white face— He loved me in the spring so well. My Eros of immortal race. —Marjorie Weir.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

The stage manager was often at his smaller dramatic critic who regularly attended the theatre and kept up a running conversation in a loud voice about the merits or demerits of the plays he saw.

The piece was a thrilling melodrama of the old school when the critic happened to be there one night. The hero, an understudy—was slender and short; the lovely heroine tall and stout. "Marry that man," shouted the villain to the princess pointing to the hero, "and I'll ruin you both!"

The heroine then screams and falls into the arms of the hero, who is expected to carry her out. But on this occasion the slender hero, doubting his fitness for the task before him, hesitated. "All right, mister," yelled the critic. "Just take what you can and come back for the rest!"

Little Ruth was the youngest daughter in a family that especially abhorred strong language. One day Ruth became exceedinglyasperated with one of her dolls. In her baby vocabulary she could find no words to express adequately her disapproval of dolly's conduct.

Finally, throwing the offending doll across the room, she cried feebly: "My gracious! I wish I belonged to a family that swears!"

Gritty Girl.

Jenkins and his best girl were motoring a considerable distance to see one of the last round cup ties, and the margin of time was very short.

"With about twelve miles to go, he here to the girl of his heart, exclaimed:—"We're going at fifty miles an hour. Are you brave, dear?"

The girl, as she swallowed a quantity of dust, replied, with emotion: "Yes, dear; I'm full of grit!"—London Tit-Bits.

THE SUGAR SHORTAGE.

(New York Evening Post.)

In immediate explanation of the soaring prices it is stated that the government has no control over the Cuban crop. But more fundamentally, there is a world shortage and an increased world consumption. When the European war broke out, affecting the greatest sugar-growing area on earth, strenuous efforts were made in America to reduce its use, yet our imports rose in 1915 to $200,000,000, a record figure. Prohibition has increased the demand for sugar throughout North America; the confectionery trade grew in 1919-20 to 121,000 tons only.

The main facts regarding the shortage of production, though estimates vary and are far from exact, are plain. The All-American Sugar League makes the computation that the 1919-20 crops is 5,000,000 tons less than that of 1918-19. As in 1918-19 the world's total production of cane and beet sugar was 26,655,900 tons, this estimate would mean that the present supply is about three-fourths the present demand. The great beet sugar fields in Belgium and France were destroyed, great areas in Germany were made unproductive, in other regions labor cost has restricted acreage, and in Louisiana and Cuba weather conditions have been unfavorable to the cane. The production of beet sugar in this country in 1919-20 is 78,401 tons; it reached 87,400 tons in 1915-16, but in 1919-20 has fallen back to 726,000 tons. The Louisiana crop in 1918-19 was 200,000 tons; in 1919-20 it was still high, 280,000 tons; but the federal crop estimate on April 24 placed the present season's output at 121,000 tons only.

In support of estimates showing a very great decrease in world production, the Statistical Sugar Trade Journal publishes figures obtained from the very best foreign sources. The German crop in the season before the war was very nearly 3,000,000 tons, and in the present season is placed at 385,000 tons. The prewar production of Austria-Hungary was 1,730,000 tons, and that of Austria, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia, in 1919-20 is believed to be 750,000 tons. In all, our government gave the total for Europe in 1913-14 as 8,684,702 tons, while the present crop of 1919-20 is 1,919,200 at much less than 4,000,000 tons. In the five years 1909-13 Germany exported an annual average of 578,000 tons of sugar, and the present crop would allow for export only what she could save from a per capita annual ration of slightly over thirty pounds. And in the first ten months of 1919 Americans consumed sugar at the rate of ninety-one pounds per capita.

No long-continued shortage is likely, in spite of the tremendous cultivation of his sweet tooth by man. Present high prices should bring the European beet fields back into cultivation. In the world at large beet and sugar cane have been running a close race, but the cane promises to forge ahead. There are great tropical areas which, if labor can be cultivated, as Hawaii, Fiji and Porto Rico have been recently brought. The future is one of passing through the immediate stringency by economy and wise use. Sugar for candy is dispensable, but sugar for fruits is not.

MOSS-SIDE.

("Lights and Shadows of Scottish Life.") Many cottages are there in Scotland like Moss-side, and many such humble and virtuous cottages as were now beneath the wide valleys and the moorlands in thousands all over the land; and most beautiful do they make it through all the wide valleys and narrow gullies—its low holms, encircled by the rocky walls of a bonny burn—its green mounts, its sunny day to make Moss-side can be then a pleasant dwelling. Its roof, overgrown by grass and moss, was almost as green as the ground out of which it grew. The moss behind it was separated from a little garden by a narrow slip of arable land, the dark color of which showed that it had been won from the wild by patient industry and by patient industry retained. It required a bright, sunny day to make Moss-side fair; but then it was fair indeed; and when the little brown moorland birds were singing their short songs among the rushes and thistles by some green barley field for its nest, rose singing all over the enlivened solitude, the crowning glory of the little farm, the little black farm, smiled like the paradise of poverty, affecting in its lone and extreme simplicity. The boys and girls had made their short slaps of flowers among the vegetables that the little garden supplied for their homely meals; pinks and carnations, brought from walled gardens of strath, grew here with somewhat diminished luster; a bright show of tulips had strange beauty in the midst of that moorland; and the smell of roses, mixed well with that of the clover, the beautiful clover that loves the soil and the air of Scotland.

This millionaire owns several thousands of acres of rubber plantation in the Malay Peninsula, and has already built kindergarten, primary and secondary schools in his native village near Amoy.

He contemplates a girls' school and a separate boys' school, and later a normal school, so that when the university is built he will have established a complete system from the lowest to the highest grades.

Icebergs Reported.

Quebec, May 8.—(Canadian press)—The ice report received by signal service here last night from Cape Race, records two icebergs east twelve miles, one west southwest 15 miles, all moving southwest.

New uses for electricity are constantly appearing. One of the latest is the detection of crude oil in the earth instead of boring for it. It is stated that crude petroleum has been located electrically in the shallow oilfield near Corsicana, Tex., and that further tests are being made around Burkburnett, a series of batteries is used for the test, the negative terminal being connected to a wire which is dropped into a dry waterhole, valley or indentation, and the positive terminal being connected to a "sand wire," which is used to make contact at various points on the surface of the field investigated. It is stated that the higher electrical resistance of oil compared with other constituents of the earth, permits it to be located by the reduced deflection of a sensitive instrument in the circuit.

ICELAND IS MORE THAN AN ICEBERG FACTORY

Is a Habitable Place as a Summer Resort—Has Fine Scenery, Theatres, Newspapers, Chain Stores and Paris Fashions.

Contrary to popular conception polar bear hunting is not the principal industry in Iceland, nor is the flesh of that furred animal the chief article of diet of the Icelandic people. Furthermore, the people do not live in snow huts, dress entirely in furs, or go into hibernation after the first fall of snow. The school books we used to study two or three years ago were entirely and absolutely wrong. Iceland is something more than an iceberg factory. True, there are no street cars and railroads in the island, but they are not needed. The people read the Polar Bulletin and The Evening Glow by the light of the aurora borealis; they have automobiles, motion picture shows, and the legitimate drama, and enjoy them as Bjornson, Jon and his sister go to public school and high school, and later, if he wishes, the boy may attend an agricultural college, or study medicine. In the winter, it is true, the Icelanders have to sweep the snow from the front doorstep every morning and chop holes in the ice in order to swim or fish, but in the summer the weather is bland and warm, the grass grows green and flowers spring up along the wayside. It is a habitable little spot, and some of these days, after the Peace Treaty is signed and Bolshevism is in its grave, Americans will avail to the fact that this little island in the top of the Atlantic is well worth visiting as a summer resort and that it offers scenery which can well vie with some of our own. But, unlike Canada, our neighboring "Pearl of the Antilles," Iceland is limited in the line of refreshments. Prohibition here is effective.

Recent Information About Iceland.
Some recent information about the island comes from Mrs. J. Jonasson, who in the matter of style, though of course a clothing material is rather more heavy than ordinarily seen in better known capitals. Mrs. Jonasson is part owner of a firm in Reykjavik, and one of each in the cities of Hafnarfjord and Isafjord. Among the things she came to buy were dry goods, notions, crockery, confections, and soap. Her interviewer writes:
When first approached, Mrs. Jonasson refused to be interviewed, but it was not long after the subject had been turned to her native land that she was discussing Iceland. Then only was it possible to edge in a question or two about her stores.
"There is nothing to operating my stores," said Mrs. Jonasson. "I am not a pioneer as a woman in trade in Iceland. Other women there have carried on their own business as long as twenty-five years ago, while I have had my shops only about fourteen years. And then I have my partner, Miss Halldorsson. She manages our stores most capably while I must be away buying. Real success is due to her ability as a manager."
Miss Halldorsson and Mrs. Jonasson are not partners solely in business. It appears they are each adopting a boy, one of whom is nine and the other ten years old, which only goes to show that the fashion for those who can afford to rear children to adopt them is equally as popular in Iceland as in the United States.

Once Lived in Canada.
For sixteen years Miss Jonasson says, she lived in Canada before returning to Iceland fourteen years ago to enter the field of trade there. This fact may be accounted for the "very American methods" she says she uses in her business.
"Yes, I have telephones and cash registers in all the stores," she said, "and all other modern conveniences for that matter."
New York, Broadway, Fifth Avenue did not seem to thrill in it, in her opinion. And as for the theatres, "We have our own theatres in Iceland," she declared.
Performers give the plays of Ibsen and Bjornson.
"In Iceland," she continued, "there are no railroads and no street cars, but there are lots of automobiles, and where they cannot go the people ride horseback."

Mrs. Jonasson said she first came to the United States to "shop" for her stores in 1910. Since then she has been back three times and has purchased everything sold over her counters from manufacturers in that country. The Icelanders like United States made goods. Mrs. Jonasson said, adding that she believes trade between the United States and the northern island should be even greater in the future than in the past.

Swimming a Great Sport.
Mrs. Jonasson is a lover of sports. Her conversation took a turn in this direction when she vouchsafed the information that swimming is one of the principal sports in Iceland.

Swimming! Bhhrrrrrr! Imagine it! No. They do not have to push the ice cakes out of the way or cut holes through which to dive; they have hot springs—some very near to Reykjavik—Mrs. Jonasson said, where swimming is excellent.
Then, too, horseback riding, in addition to being one of the chief means of travel in the country, is also one of the main pleasures, beautiful scenery adding to the enjoyment of an afternoon's jog in rain or sunshine, according to the visiting woman merchant, the people of Iceland ride for exercise. There are motion picture theatres, too. There are, there are not any saloons, for Iceland is as dry as the United States—perhaps drier, for prohibition is effectively in effect in Iceland. She is enthusiastic about the country that is her home, the frozen island where they read the news-

MOTHERS' DAY

(Toronto Globe.)

The observance of the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day has become very general, and this is the more surprising because it commenced only about thirteen years ago. It started in a very quiet way through a young American lady, but it grew with such uncommon quickness that not only in the United States and Canada, but also in England and other countries it has been widely taken up with great keenness. Its badge is a white carnation, and the one idea is to show loving remembrance by some definite act of kindness, or a visit, a letter, a gift or a tribute.

Although it is called Mother's Day, it is really intended to emphasize family ties, and, therefore, is to be regarded as "Father's Day" as well. The war became the occasion of a very general observance of this day, because the men overseas realized with unusual vividness what home life meant. There are many instances forthcoming of the way in which our soldiers bore testimony to their deep appreciation of mother and home.

Among the incidents in proof of this one seems to stand out with unusual force. It was Christmas Eve, and after the toll and dangers of that here and some Canadian soldiers were having a sing-song in one of the Y. M. C. A. huts. A young officer of the Royals, a mere mere sentiment, but a practical reality, and every word of his song sounded clearly through the room:

"Did ye ever have a mother, A Mother!
Faix, ye'll never get another,
Another.
So just praise the dear old mother,
For ye'll have a job to bate her,
And she's just the swaist cratur
In the wide, wide world."

Chorus:
Mother, Mother,
Nivver such another;
Swatst cratur,
None can bate her,
Mother, Mother."

The silence became tense as the words fell upon the ears of the fighting men, and it must be confessed that here and there a hand was nervously brushed across a rough face. As the two last words rang out the young officer bowed and retired. Two days after Christmas the men were hard at it, and a "scrap" was proceeding. Some soldiers who had heard the song found a young officer at the bottom of a crater. He looked so young and fair as he lay with his face upturned to the sky, and the lips that had sung "Mother, Mother," were sealed in death.
It is impossible to exaggerate the value of home-life on individuals, and on communities, for a true home is one of the most potent forces in human affairs, whether personal or national. Three things in particular stand out which deserve special attention on Mother's Day. Motherhood means beyond all else the

"Say it with flowers"

On Mother's Day Let This Be Your Message

"Mother—to-day we come with hearts full of exquisite memories and hands filled with fragrant flowers. More dearly we see with each passing year that we owe our ALL to you. Never can we forget our debt—nor ever hope to discharge it.
"So to-day we bring flowers in token of our love eternal. We choose them for their beauty and fragrance—emblematic of your mother-love. And we wear them ourselves in honor of the one universal holiday—Mother's Day!"

reality and blessedness of Love. Mother-love is in some ways the greatest on earth, because it is associated from the very first with suffering, self-sacrifice and service. Love in a mother is precisely what love always means in Scripture, no mere sentiment, but a practical reality. The proof of love is not what we feel, but what we are prepared to do for the object of our love, and this beyond all else marks motherhood as the supreme earthly proof of love.
Another great truth connected with motherhood is that of home. It is in no boy wherever he may go in the world after leaving the old home. Many a man today owes everything in life to his mother's prayers and to the memory of what true religion meant in his mother's life. He may question many things, and it is possible that doubt and difficulty about sacred realities may enter into his doubts, but one thing he never doubts, and that is the genuineness and reality of his mother's devotion to Christ. Religion is to the home what air is to life. It is the atmosphere which we breathe.
Love, Home, Religion. These three call for special emphasis on Mother's Day, and in proportion as they are given prominence in heart and life will individuals, cities and nations find their true and full realization. These three are faint, but genuine, indications of the unwearied love of God for man, for his mother, and children, and all that is meant by the command, "Honor thy father and thy mother," we see what God intends by the home, and the reason why "He setteth the solitary in families." The chief value of motherhood is connected with religion, and many a man looks back to his home as the place where he first learned of Christ at his mother's knees. The mother in the home was the first revelation to the boy or girl of what godliness really means, and we know how the prayers of the mother are continually ascending for her children, and how those prayers follow her after leaving the old home. Many a man today owes everything in life to his mother's prayers and to the memory of what true religion meant in his mother's life. He may question many things, and it is possible that doubt and difficulty about sacred realities may enter into his doubts, but one thing he never doubts, and that is the genuineness and reality of his mother's devotion to Christ. Religion is to the home what air is to life. It is the atmosphere which we breathe.

Of Direct Interest To All Advertisers

EIGHTY-TWO PERCENT of the circulation of daily newspapers in Canada and the United States that have a circulation of 5,000 or over is audited and verified by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The number of A. B. C. newspapers issued every day is greater than the total number of families in the two countries.

The continent, from ocean to ocean and from Hudson's Bay to the Gulf of Mexico can be covered without using a single publication that declines to give properly certified circulation data.

The very few reputable publishers that are not now members of the Bureau will come over to the majority if you as an advertiser will insist upon your rights in the matter of verified circulation statements.

To confine your appropriations to A. B. C. mediums, both in your consumer and trade advertising, is sound business practice. You expend your own money in the most efficacious way. You also assist other advertisers and honest publishers to crown the efforts they have made for the past five years to replace by system and certainty the fortuitous conditions that obtained before the advent of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Persistence and insistence in demanding A. B. C. reports is the only method by which advertising will be placed finally on an exact basis.

The A. B. C. audits the circulation of The Daily Telegraph and The Evening Times-Star.

Mr. Advertiser: When you advertise in St. John or Canadian newspapers do you KNOW just what amount of circulation you are actually buying? The net paid circulation of The Telegraph and Times-Star for twelve months ending September 30, 1919 (the last A. B. C. audit) was 28,514.

Compare the established facts with your knowledge of other newspapers you use.

TAX DIRECTORY OF DOMINION IS IN PREPARATION

Hard to Dodge the Demand for Part of Income

Further Report on Address of Commissioner Breadner to Members of Parliament in Caucus Yesterday - The Coupon Cutters.

(Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, May 8.—By securing the presence of R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, and by adopting for the first time the expedient of throwing the caucus doors open to the press, the western Unionist members yesterday did the Canadian public the service of getting the most complete statement yet given as to how the income tax is collected, the organization built up to make the collections, and the provisions for preventing dishonest Canadians slipping through the meshes of the law. Mr. Breadner acknowledged frankly that there was room for criticism, saying that when the income tax proposal was first made in 1917 he had warned Sir Thomas White that the government must be prepared to stand considerable criticism during the five years it would take to perfect an organization. At the end of the present year, however, he expected to have a directory of taxation, now being prepared over all Canada, so near completion that it would be a perilous adventure for most citizens to try to escape paying their just share. The department foresees difficulty with only two classes of citizens—coupon cutters and wage earners who shift their habits and occupations several and sometimes many times a year. He said that they expected to devise machinery which would enable them to tell how much revenue the coupon cutters obtained. So far as concerns the second class, the wage earners who change occupations often and sometimes their names as well, Mr. Breadner suggested after hearing representations from G. B. Nicholson, member for Algoma, and F. H. Keefer, member for Port Arthur, that the matter could best be met if labor would not object to the employers collecting one per cent. of the salary or wages of every man getting $100 a month or more.

Mr. Breadner said that the tax directories prepared by the income tax officers in the various districts through the country were the result of analyzing city directories, voters' lists, telephone books, and lists of people having automobile licenses. This tax directory, now being compiled everywhere, is the foundation for collecting the tax. If for any year a man escapes the tax by not making a return, and it is found out by these methods that he should have made one, he still stands a chance of being "run to earth" because, as Mr. Breadner said, "he never dies."

Mr. Breadner said that Canadians must learn to distinguish between taxable incomes and the total income of a man before criticizing collections. Most people would expect senators and members of parliament to have taxable incomes, but for the year 1917 when there was an exemption of $3,000 there were seventeen senators and eighty members of the house of commons who did not have taxable incomes, including 44% of the sessional indemnities of $2,500 each. He was satisfied the statements were right. Senator Bennett had spoken of incomes above $100,000, but in the Ottawa district from Stormont to the St. Lawrence there were only four persons who had taxable incomes above that amount. They might make more, but he knew of one man who gave away $110,000 to patriotic, Red Cross and other funds. That was not taxable. A man with $5,000 entirely derived from stocks would have nothing to pay. The normal tax for four per cent. up to $6,000 was paid by the corporation from which the dividend was received and so was not liable to the tax a second time. A super tax might be charged on the dividends for an income above $6,000.

The speaker urged that throughout the world it was recognized that the tax was largely an urban tax, and that as the greatest wealth was in the large centres of population, the farmers were largely excluded from the tax. In Canada the farmers who had been found taxable bore the following proportion to the whole: Saskatchewan, 75 per cent.; Alberta, 5 per cent.; and Ontario, 20 per cent. More than $100 were assessed. As to the banks, Mr. Breadner said that one per cent. had been levied on the bank note circulation, and there were taxes on the premiums of insurance and the income of trust and loan companies. The income tax came in and took the levings. With reference to the members of parliament not making returns, N. White, member for Miramichi, reminded those present of the drought in Alberta. One farmer member with $100,000 capital had lost $10,000 for the last two years. That was one reason he could not pay an income tax.

NO GREAT SHORTAGE OF SEED POTATOES

This Is Hon. Manning Doherty's Assurance to Ontario Legislature.

There is no serious shortage of seed potatoes in Ontario. Hon. Manning Doherty informed the Ontario House recently that he had been in communication with district representatives of the department of agriculture in all parts of the province, and their reports show that the farmers and commercial producers had retained enough stock for seed. There might be some difficulty in cities and towns where potatoes were needed for seed for gardening, but the department was ready to put any municipality in touch with firms that would supply potatoes for seed in car load lots. There had been a lot of "cheap talk" about methods of bringing down the cost of potatoes, observed Mr. Doherty, but the only thing that would be of any avail was greater production. The shortage was due to one of two things, crop failure or low production, due to a low price in past years. The present high price was the best guarantee that the shortage of potatoes would be rectified.

Review of Week With Baseball Batsmen

Roughly and Ty Cobb Are Getting Into Their Stride - Babe Ruth Lines Out Two Homers.

Chicago, May 8.—Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis star, is showing the way to the batters of the National League with an average of .469, and Lehoureau of Philadelphia, with .375, is runner up, according to official averages, including games of Wednesday.

Hornsby has been at bat sixty-three times in fifteen games. He drove out twenty-nine hits for a total of thirty-eight bases. In this collection he bagged six doubles and one home run. He has been showing much speed on the paths, having registered twelve runs.

Rough of Cincinnati, who held the rating honors of the league last year, gradually is getting his stride. He boosted his average to .362, forty-six points within a week. Robertson of Chicago leads in home runs with three. Williams of Philadelphia and Paskert of Chicago are tied for second place with two each. Other leading batters for ten or more games—Gron, Cincinnati, .259; Wheat, Brooklyn, .257; Daubert, Cincinnati, .256; Duncan, Cincinnati, .228; Bancroft, Philadelphia, .221; Raha, Cincinnati, .224; Burns, New York, .219; Flack, Chicago, .209; Janver, St. Louis, .206; Fournier, St. Louis, .202; Celen, Pittsburgh, .202.

America League. Joe Jackson, Chicago White Sox slugger, continues to top the batters in the American League, who have participated in ten or more games. There are three batters in the 400 class, headed by Jackson, with 424; Johnson of Cleveland is second with 408, and Weaver of Chicago, third, with 404. Other leading batters for two home runs. The home run king has a batting average of .261 for thirteen games, having made twelve hits in forty-six times at bat. His hits, besides the two home runs, include a triple and three doubles. Ty Cobb, Detroit star, who held the batting championship last season, is rounding into form and has boosted his mark from .162 to .214 within a week.

SAME CONDITIONS EXISTED IN 1767

Extravagance and High
Prices the Order of the Day
Then as Now — Same Reasons Advanced.

"The enormous expenses and unparalleled success of the late war" is the reason given for high prices and extravagance in the London Magazine or Gentleman's Monthly Intelligence for the year 1767, in an article which the American Exchange National Bank is reprinting in pamphlet form. It is interesting to compare the situation then and now and to find how similar conditions of fact and thought were a century and a half ago.

The writer says that "whoever remembers the many millions annually borrowed, funded and expended, during the last war" can be under no difficulty to account for the high prices of provisions, etc., and he shows how the interest on these borrowed funds and the new taxes every year imposed "must unavoidably increase prices."

Taxes Interdependent.

"For," he says, "a duty laid on any commodity does not only add the value of that duty to that commodity, but the dealer in it must advance the price double or treble times that sum; for he must not only repay himself the original tax, but must have compensation for his losses in trade by bad debts, and loss of interest by his increased capital. Besides this, every new tax does not only affect the price of the commodity on which it is laid, but that of all others, whether taxed or not, and with which, at first sight, it seems to have no manner of connection. Thus, for instance, a tax on candles must raise the price of a coat, or a pair of breeches; because, out of these, all the taxes on the candles of the wool-comber, weaver and the tailor must be paid. A duty upon ale must raise the price of shoes, because from them all the taxes upon ale drank by the tanner, leather-dresser, and shop-maker, which is not a little, must be refunded.

"No tax is immediately laid upon corn, but the price of it must necessarily be advanced, because, out of that, all the innumerable taxes paid by the farmer on windows, soap, candles, malt, hops, leather, salt and a thousand others, must be repaid. So that corn is as effectually taxed as if a duty by the bushel had been primarily laid upon it; for taxes, like the various streams which form a general inundation, by whatever channels they separately find admission, unite, at last, and overwhelm the whole. The man, therefore, who sold sand upon an ass, and raised the price of it during the late war, though abused for an imposition, most certainly acted upon right reasons; for though there were no new taxes then imposed either on sand or asses, yet he found by experience, that from the taxes laid on almost all other things, he could neither maintain himself, his wife, nor his ass, as cheap as formerly. He was, therefore, under a necessity of advancing the price of his sand, out of which alone all the taxes which he paid must be refunded. Thus the increase of taxes must increase the price of everything whether taxed or not; and this is one principal cause of the present extraordinary advance of provisions, and all the necessaries of life."

Currency Inflation.

The philosophy of that day has not changed in the 163 years that have passed. This, on inflation, has a similar sound. "The first and most obvious effect of the increase of money is the decrease of its value, like that of all other commodities, for money being but a commodity, its value must be relative, that is, depending upon the quantity of itself, and the quantity of the things to be purchased with it. In every country where there is a great plenty of provisions, and but little money, these provisions must be cheap, that is, a great deal of them will be exchanged for a little money; on the contrary, where there are but little provisions in proportion to the number of consumers, and a great plenty of money, or what passes

The basic reasons for Waltham supremacy

IN 1854 the first factory in the world to manufacture complete watch movements was opened at Waltham.

Before that, plates were fashioned in one place, screws in another, springs in another. All the parts, produced by different people in different places, were finally assembled somewhere else. As a result, the time-keeping qualities of completed movements were by no means reliable.

Waltham altered this condition. Waltham replaced his-or-miss methods with standardization. At Waltham were evolved those marvelous automatic machines which replaced much hand-work, resulting in greater precision. A modern Waltham Watch is the world's finest achievement in watch-making. To own a Waltham is not only to be assured of time accuracy, but to have the prestige which comes from possessing a watch that commands respect everywhere.

for money, there they will inevitably be dear, that is, a great deal of money must be given to purchase them.

The increase of money does not only operate on the price of provisions by the diminution of its own value, but by enabling more people to purchase, and consequently to consume them; which must unavoidably likewise increase their scarcity, and that must still add more to their price.

The extravagance of those times, brought about from the same causes as in these; the right to work little or be idle, which, if denied, incited rebellion; all these are duplications of the present situation.

"The consumption of everything is also amazingly increased from the increase of wealth in our metropolis, and indeed in every corner of this kingdom; and the manner of living throughout all ranks and conditions of men, is no less amazingly altered. . . . The shopkeeper, who used to be well contented with one dish of meat, one fire, and one maid, has now two or three times as many of each; his wife has her tea, her card parties and her dressing room; and his apprentice has climbed from the kitchen fire to the front boxes at the play-house. The lowest manufacturer and the meanest mechanic will touch nothing but the very best pieces of meat and the finest white bread."

You Pay only the Same Duty on Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea as on the Very Poorest Tea

Before the war there was no duty on tea.

To-day there is a duty of 7 cents a pound on tea brought from British possessions, and one of 10c. a pound on tea brought from other countries, regardless of the quality.

If it were levied on the value of the tea, as is the case with other goods imported into Canada, the duty on a pound of Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea would be about double that levied on common tea.

But the duty on a pound of this fine-quality, mountain-grown tea—Red Rose Orange Pekoe Tea—is the same as that on a pound of the very poorest tea.

This is one of the reasons that this tea of extra quality—as well as our standard, well-known Red Rose brand—is so much better value than ordinary teas.

You pay less duty.

This situation is appreciated by tea lovers all over Canada. There is a greater demand for fine-quality tea to-day than before the war. And our NEW fine-quality tea—Red Rose Orange Pekoe—is already enjoying a brisk demand.

Try it. Sold only in our new package—the waxed board carton.

THE NOVA SCOTIA TEMPERANCE BILL OUTLINED

Act With Its Several Amendments Explained in the Legislature of Sister Province.

Halifax, May 7.—In the house of assembly today, Hon. Mr. McGregor explained the temperance bill, which he as introduced, saying that all the amendments suggested had been placed in it and decision upon them would be left to the committee. The chief changes include the appointment of a board of endorses to control the import and sale of intoxicants, the abolition of the legal vendors in rural municipalities, the making the appointment of vendors subject to the approval of the governor-in-council, the application of all fines for violation of the temperance act to the expense of its administration, provision for enquiry into the resignation of an inspector or vendor after canvassing or soliciting orders for alcohol.

Mr. McGregor doubted the possibility of passing this last amendment, which seems aimed at the several import companies, until the question of inter-provincial transportation of liquors has been definitely settled.

PRINCIPALITY OF LICHTENSTEIN WANTS A CHANGE

(Associated Press Despatch.)

Geneva, May 7.—There is evidence of a movement to bring about the de-thronement of Prince John, ruler of the tiny principality of Lichtenstein, according to advices. Complaint is made that the prince has done nothing to assist his people since the armistice, and has been living in Vienna.

The people have several times been forced to appeal to Switzerland for aid. Lichtenstein wants to become a Swiss canton, but the Swiss government is opposed to the policy of expansion. A revolution is possible, it is said.

ANCIENT ORIGIN OF MODERN TOOLS

Much-Neglected Mechanical Side of Human History.

(Exchange.)

The story of the mechanical aids of human history has been much neglected. Thousands have described the sculptures of the Parthenon, yet no one has mentioned the tools that carved those fluted columns. We naturally suppose that our present day tools have far better forms than those of past ages. That is true in many cases, but not always.

It appears that the forms of the chisel were perfected 2,500 years ago, and that the beauty of workmanship in Bronze Age chisels has never been exceeded.

The use of saws and crown drills with fixed teeth of corundum or gem stones for cutting quartz rocks was the regular practice in Egypt 6,000 years ago. The cores produced were so perfect and clean cut that any modern engineer would be proud to turn out such good work with the best diamond drills. The saws were over eight feet long, and cut blocks of granite seven and a half feet long. That splendid work was forgotten; the Romans did not use such tools, and some thousands of years passed before the same tools were reinvented fifty years ago.

The carpenter's saw was at first merely a blade roughly hacked on the edge; by 4,500 B. C. it had regular teeth, sloping equally both ways; by 900 B. C. the Italians gave a rake to the teeth to make them cut in one direction, instead of merely scraping as before. No ancient saw, however, made a kerf wider than the thickness of the blade; we do not know when the saw that makes a wider kerf was invented, but it was some time in the Middle Ages.

The Egyptians used a push saw as the earliest form; the pull saw was the only one in the west and the Roman world. The push saw came back into use a few centuries ago, although the pull saw in a frame is still universal in the east.

THE LETTER BOXES.

To the editor of The Telegraph.—Sir: I have received the following note from our inspector which I think should be treated as he suggests. Will you kindly publish it in 'The Telegraph'?

EDWARD SEARS,
Post master.

Dear Postmaster: My attention has been called to the fact that letters dropped in the letter boxes at the Union station or at the transfer men's room at the same place for United States points are sometimes delayed twelve hours on account of the fact that there are no mail clerks on the Boston train, which leaves St. John in the evening at 5 o'clock.

It has also been pointed out to me that on account of the transfer men at the St. John station not having time to properly look after letters for the Montreal train, which leaves at 6:45 p. m., much of this mail is delayed until the next afternoon, and it occurs to me that if the attention of the St. John business firms was called through the press to the fact that all letters for despatch on these evening trains for United States, Montreal and upper Canadian points, dropped in the aforesaid boxes, should be there not later than 4:30 p. m., many delays would be avoided; stating that if they had any American mail after the hour of 4:30 p. m., same could be brought to the St. John office and despatched on the Boston train, which leaves St. John at 6 p. m., and if they had any Montreal and upper Canadian mail, same could be despatched from the St. John office on the train which leaves at 7:45 p. m.

Yours sincerely,
H. W. WOODS,
P. O. Inspector,
St. John, May 7.

CHARLES W. MORSE AGAIN IN TROUBLE

An Amazing Career of Ups and Downs — Maine Man Once More Indicted.

Charles W. Morse, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steamship Company, was indicted by a federal grand jury in New York Monday on the charge of having sold secretly one of his steamships to a French shipping concern, in violation of the Shipping Board Act.

with Morse. He pleaded not guilty and was freed under $5,000 bail.

The nine indictments against Morse and the three other defendants accuse them jointly of conspiracy and of violating the Shipping Board Act, in event of conviction, a penalty of five years imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both, may be imposed.

Assistant United States Attorney Simmons obtained the indictments after four months investigation of complaints of secret sales of ships of American registry to foreign shipping concerns.

Although Mr. Simmons alleges in his complaint that Morse, through Captain Mitchell, sold the 2,000-ton steel freighter J. G. McCullough in August, 1917, to the Tunisian government, a French protectorate, for $500,000, Harry F. Morse, president of the United States Steamship Company, and son of the defendant, asserts that the British and United States governments commandeered the vessel, and after it had been torpedoed, the United States paid the company $400,000 compensation for her loss.

Charles W. Morse's career is remarkable for its amazing series of ups and downs. Born in Bath, Me., he came to Brooklyn when he was twenty-four years old and established an ice company. Within ten years he had obtained control of ice companies in New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities. He then created an "ice corner," pushed competitors out of business and accumulated a fortune.

After organizing the American Ice Company, which came to be known as The Ice Trust, he organized the Consolidated Steamship Company, which he planned as a coastwise steamship trust, and the Great Eastern Telephone Company, which he intended to make the Telephone Trust.

In 1907 he bought two banks and used the stock of those banks in speculation to buy others. He obtained control of sixteen banks and trust companies, and was said to be worth $40,000,000. He was caught in the panic of the fall of 1907, however, and his transactions with bank funds were exposed.

He was indicted and convicted in 1908 of misapplying the funds of the National Bank of America, Inc. He was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in the federal prison at Atlanta.

While he was out on bail pending appeal by a series of business manoeuvres he recouped $7,500,000 of his sentence at Atlanta. His wife, who had been divorced from Charles, Dodge of Texas in 1901, began a nation-wide petition to obtain his pardon. She sold the Morse home for $265,000 and auctioned the furniture. The appeal was decided against him, however, and he started to serve his sentence at Atlanta.

President Taft denied application for pardon three times. Finally, however, when Morse was removed from the prison to Fort McPherson Hospital, said to be ill with Bright's disease, on the assurance of Brig-General G. H. Torney of the Medical Corps that he would not live more than six months, and would certainly die within a month if kept in prison, President Taft pardoned him.

Morse made a startling recovery from his illness, and going back into the steamship business, is said to have again achieved considerable wealth.

Washington, May 5.—John F. Overend, an assistant controller of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, testified Wednesday before the house committee investigating shipping board operations that the Virginia Shipbuilding Company, a Charles W. Morse concern at Alexandria, Va., had diverted more than $1,000,000 paid in for ship construction. He said $400,000 had been expended in 1918 for building workmen's homes at Rosemont, Va., and that $600,000 had been used to complete the company's plant.

FIRST INSTANCE OF ITS KIND IN CANADA

Appeal of a Case by Department of the Attorney-General When Three Young Men Were Found Guilty and Sentenced.

Winnipeg, May 7.—Extension of the evidence taken in the Deforge murder case has been ordered by the department of the attorney-general, according to a statement made by Deputy Attorney-General John Allen yesterday, with the view of appealing the case. This will be the first instance of its kind in Canada. The three young men convicted of manslaughter for the murder of Henry Deforge, are William Elmech, Harold Murdie and Harold Clemens. The first was sentenced to twenty-five years imprisonment and the other two to fifteen years each.

The grounds upon which the case will be appealed by the department, it is said, will be that all should have been convicted of murder because the deed was committed while the convicted parties were in the act of felony. The appeal, it is said, will not affect the present sentences passed by the court but will be rather in order that it can serve as a precedent for future cases. It is expected that the extension of the evidence will be completed in such time as to allow the appeal to come up for hearing next week.

EVICTED TENANTS TO PAY RENT IN POOR HOUSE

Bloomfield, N. J., May 8.—Officials here have under advisement a plan to utilize the town almshouse to solve the housing problem should conditions become more acute. It is planned to accommodate a number of families in the almshouse temporarily, in the event that they fail to find more suitable accommodations. A nominal rent will be charged and the two persons now being cared for in the house would be "boarded out" elsewhere.

ROTARY CLUB HELPS BANGOR BOY SCOUTS

(Bangor Commercial.) At the fine public meeting held Tuesday evening in City Hall there was formal organization of the Boy Scout Council, carrying out the plans initiated by the Rotary Club. The council will have charge of the Boy Scout work in the cities of Bangor and Brewer which will be under the active supervision of a trained executive whose entire time will be given to the work. A splendid start has been made in a splendid task. For half a decade the Boy Scout organization in the United States has been increasing by leaps and bounds. The idea was borrowed from England and met with some opposition from people who held the erroneous idea that the training of boys as scouts would tend to develop militarism. Others have thought that the scout idea began and ended with affording pleasant outings for the boys. Both ideas were wrong. Primarily and in the ultimate the general plan of the Boy Scout movement is to make the boys better citizens, to be brought about by inculcating higher ideals, teaching responsibility, obedience to constituted authority, readiness, initiative and general helpfulness.

The scope, the plan and the objective of the Boy Scout movement is exemplified in the Scout oath as follows: "On my honor I will do my best. To do my duty to God and my Country and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times, incidentally awake, and morally straight."

Incidentally the boys are afforded an opportunity of wholesome amusement. Under the direction of the scoutmaster they enjoy their holidays in outdoor recreation, in which all members join and in which they are ranked according to their abilities and capacities. They learn to swim, to care for injured, to be more self-reliant. And always there is taught the lesson of responsibility, of proper citizenship and always there is held before them the high ideals of manhood and of citizenship. The movement is an admirable one, and Bangor and Brewer are to be congratulated that due to the action of leading citizens, it is now to have a forward place among the lads of the cities. We need not touch upon the development of scout work in many municipalities where in times of stress, of fire, flood and riot the scouts have been called upon and trained for emergencies, have risen manfully to the occasion. Such are open demonstrations of the usefulness of the scout movement. Not as apparent are the greater effects in the making of better citizens and the inculcation of higher ideals and the setting of a higher moral standard, aided by the physical upbuilding as well as by the sense of responsibility developed.

LESSENER PRODUCTION

(Bangor Commercial.) We quoted, the other day, the opinion of a high official regarding the scarcity of help in the agricultural sections and the probable results. This opinion is being confirmed on all sides. V. A. Sanders, field agent for the department of agriculture in New England, makes a statement that the acreage of intended planting in New England will show a reduction of about 25 per cent, while in the line of garden vegetables required hand labor, the reduction will be much larger.

Forewarned is said to be forearmed, but this is not true if the arms cannot be obtained and this is the condition that confronts the farmers today. They cannot obtain the strong arms of the hired labor, these having been attracted to the cities and manufacturing centres by the allurements of high wages and short hours.

The situation must be looked upon as a condition and not a theory. Planting time is near at hand and while the farmers, realizing that they are likely to receive high pay for their crops will do their best they must have help to engage in farming on any extended scale if production slackens it will not be the fault of the farmers. It is very unfortunate, just as there are indications of slackening of high prices, that the fear of a near-famine in crops should be raised. If production shortens appreciably the coming of more modern prices will be delayed. The present situation is one that calls for every possible effort and should stimulate the cultivation of home gardens to a greater extent than ever before.

A handsome roof that defies the weather

An added touch of beauty to any house is a roof of Brantford Asphalt Slates, which are in soft, harmonious shades of reddish brown and dark green. The colors are permanent and fadeable, being the natural shades of the slate just as it is taken out of the quarries.

It will also prove a very economical roof, because Brantford Asphalt Slates do not split, get loose, absorb water or rot. They are strongly fire-resistant and are classified as non-combustible by the fire insurance companies, and allowed to be used in cities where the most rigid fire-prevention By-laws are in force.

Brantford Asphalt Slates are very moderate in cost. The regular size of the slates and their pliability make them easily and quickly laid, thus saving time and cost of labor. Being made of high grade felt saturated and coated with asphalt and with a surface of crushed slate, they make a roof that defies the elements and is a permanent part of the building, just like the walls and the foundation.

Brantford Asphalt Slates

are being used more extensively every year for city, country and summer homes, churches, golf clubs, stores, garages, and wherever an artistic effect is desired on a pitch roof.

If you are going to do any building this year or have an old roof that needs replacing, it will be to your advantage to investigate Brantford Asphalt Slates.

INTERCOLONIAL AS NATIONAL ASSET

A New Brunswick View of the Property

ts Colonizing Agency — Flourishing Villages and Fertile Fields Are Replacing Waste Lands.

(W. C. Milner in Montreal Gazette.)
St. John, N. B., April 17.—Reading the reports in Montreal and western papers and hearing the annual criticisms in Parliament on the deficits of the I. C. R., one might imagine that it constituted a national tragedy. Yet it is probably the most profitable piece of property acquired by the general government. The people of the eastern provinces do not mourn, because they have to their share of the annual deficits of the canal which cost practically the same as the I. C. R. The maritime provinces have to pay their share of interest, upkeep and also operating expenses of the canal as they are free about there being a dollar of benefit to them.

Sectionalism and ignorance have indeed a great deal of superficial and less criticism as to the expenditures of the I. C. R. Up to Confederation the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia railways paid handsomely from the day they commenced traffic, notwithstanding an extraordinary low traffic rate. The real moan was in the 800 miles from Moncton north to connect with Quebec. The entire absence of local traffic and the low rates, for which through business is offered, more an wiped out the surplus from the trillium province end.

HAIRCUT OR HUNGER BECOMES A DILEMMA

Getting a haircut in New York is becoming increasingly difficult for the busy man. Time was when he could get up half an hour earlier in the morning, when the hairdresser would come to his door, and have his head groomed at the barber shop around the corner before breakfast. Now few barber shops are open for business much before the breakfast hour. He must put off his visits until evening. But even the evening call at a barber shop is going out of fashion. Along with the high-priced shave and hair-cut has come an earlier closing hour for barber shops; places that formerly stayed open always until 9 o'clock now close as early as 7 p. m.

"A skin you love to touch"

You, too, can have this charm

No matter what other charms you have, they count for little unless you have the greatest of all charms—a clear, fresh skin.

An authority on the skin has said: "Whatever your difficulty is, you can remedy the trouble, if you will only give your skin intelligent care and attention."

The following treatment brings the blood to the surface and stimulates the small muscular fibres. Begin it tonight and see how it will improve your skin.

Just before retiring, wash your face and neck with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water. After rinsing your face with warm water, rub a fresh lather of Woodbury's into your skin, using an upward and outward motion. Do this until the skin feels just a little sensitive. Then rinse the skin well in warm water, then in cold, finishing by rubbing for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Always be careful to dry the skin thoroughly.

Make this treatment a regular habit, and in a much shorter time than you would imagine, your skin will take on the greater loveliness that it can have.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

And the Other Presidential Candidates is Clearly Shown

In "The Digest's" Mammoth Poll Of 11,000,000 Voters

There are from fifty to sixty thousand votes being received daily in THE LITERARY DIGEST'S great presidential poll of 11,000,000 voters. As the vote grows and all sections of the country begin to be represented, a number of editors comment on the really popular expression of opinion which these ballots represent. The Troy Record makes the interesting suggestion that by means of such polls "it may be possible for the people to shake themselves free from paid publicity and artificially stimulated candidacies and indicate the men they want to that class of representatives who really want to know." In trade and labor circles, in political clubs, in fact wherever men and women congregate throughout the country, THE LITERARY DIGEST poll is arousing the most intense interest, as is evidenced by our daily mail.

More than 700,000 votes are tabulated and shown in THE LITERARY DIGEST for May 8th. When it is remembered that eleven million voters, almost two-thirds of the vote cast in the last presidential election, are being canvassed some idea of the magnitude of the enterprise will be gained. Every ballot is mailed in an envelope, and delivered through the U. S. Post Office personally to the voter's address. Return postage on the ballot is prepaid, and the voter has only to check or write the name of his or her party and the first and second choice for Presidential candidates. Thus every vote cast is absolutely a secret ballot.

If you are not following this unique poll through the pages of THE DIGEST weekly, begin to do so this week. Other important articles in this number of THE DIGEST are:

MOONEY TERRACE IN ORANGE ST. IS SOLD

Local Man Purchaser of Fine Property

Real Estate Business Here Is Reported Brisk—Some Other Sales—Today at Chubb's Corner.

A real estate transaction of considerable magnitude was effected the latter part of April by Messrs. Taylor & Sweeney, when they disposed of the Mooney terrace on Orange street, corner of Wentworth. The property consists of three brick residences, the corner being two-family and the other two self-contained houses. The purchaser is a local man.

With the exception of the Lady Barker property on Mount Pleasant, recently sold by the same firm, this forms one of the most important local real estate circles in some years. The properties are all splendid, modern, brick houses and the location one of the choicest from a residential standpoint.

Including these sales, Messrs. Taylor & Sweeney have transferred six properties during April and they report the estate market continues brisk. Other sales are as follows:
Self-contained brick house, modern heating and lighting, etc.; freehold; sold for Audrey S. Hood to G. H. Markham.
Two-family, freehold property, Leinster street; sold for C. E. Colwell to H. Vinton Copp.

Self-contained, modern, freehold property, Winslow street; sold for S. Herbert Mayes to Fred M. Blair.
Two-family house, leasehold, Clarendon street corner of Douglas avenue; sold for Mrs. Margaret Lannan to John Martin.

Self-contained, freehold property, Millford; sold for James Leahy to Oliver Philpott.
One of several sales made during May is herewith submitted, having been made on Monday, May 3, during the process of moving. This sale was referred to in an advertisement and the firm promised to name the purchaser later. The property is a self-contained house in Alexandra street, and the owner for the present desires his name withheld. The purchaser is Robert Thornton.

As an evidence of the seriousness of the housing problem, Messrs. Taylor & Sweeney report sales for occupancy on or about May 1, are picked up almost immediately and they instance the following:
Hood property, Wright street—listed on Saturday and sold before the following Saturday.
Lannan property in Clarendon street—listed on Wednesday, sold on Thursday.

The housing situation generally, they report is about as serious as they have met with during the eight years or so that they have been in business, the enquiries for flats being continuous, even up to the present.
Princess Street House.
Dr. A. E. Macaulay has purchased a self-contained house in the Princess Terrace, Princess street, from C. H. Dearborn.

This morning at Chubb's Corner, Auctioneer F. L. Potts disposed of the farm property owned by Wm. J. Knox at Silver Falls, consisting of forty acres of land, house and barns. It was bid in by L. B. Komiensky for $4,500. A lot and building at 112 City road were sold to Charles Hanington for $2,100, this amount to include mortgage. The L. C. Prime house at Westfield was sold to H. J. Gannon for $2,785.
Auctioneer Potts also announced today that he had sold the Tisdale property in the Loch Lomond road to William O. Monahan at private sale.

Solid comfort, isn't it, when you come home from a day's work, tired to the bone but satisfied with what you have done, and sink into a big armchair with a good book and a pipeful of your favorite tobacco? You're pretty apt to stay right there the whole evening.

We can give you the equipment for just such an evening—the big chair and the smoking stand—at as reasonable a price as you'll be apt to find anywhere.

The rest depends on you—and whether your pipe draws.

Youths Plead Not Guilty to Theft — Proceedings in Renforth Case.

The case against Messrs. Beverly, Ross, Currie, Kennedy and Wilkinson, (and also Max Dean who was unable to be present), was taken up in the police court yesterday afternoon as the defendants decided that they would rather have the case disposed of, even though Dean was not present, as it would be some time before the latter would be able to appear in court.

Dr. Baxter pointed out that Beverly's family were on friendly terms with Mr. Gunter and had Beverly asked for the car he would undoubtedly have been given permission to take it.

The defendants were remanded for further hearing.

An Umpire Killed for Once.

New York Times: Demands that the umpire be killed are among the pleasant amenities that make professional baseball the game it is and set it so far apart from the other games in which both participants and spectators feel under an old-fashioned obligation to be courteous and decent, especially to visiting opponents.

Over in Italy, this week, the indignation of a crowd watching a game resulted in what in this cooler land is only demanded, and the umpire was shot dead. It was at a football, not a baseball game, however, that this desperate form of criticism of the umpire's partiality was resorted to, and the episode evidently was complicated by political animosities as well as those due to sporting rivalry.

But there is no present indication that the football field at Viareggio, in Tuscany, is to have in history the place accorded to a certain Parisian tennis court, where an umpire seems to have died in vain.

ELECT DIRECTORS FOR COMING YEAR

Reports Presented at Annual Meeting of Y. M. C. I. Last Night.

The annual meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held last evening in the Y.M.C.I. with the president, Thomas Nagle in the chair. The directors for the ensuing year were elected and the reports of the various committees received.

A vote of thanks was passed to the retiring directors, Judge H. O. McInerney, Charles Owens, Alfred Dever, J. A. Barry and Dr. L. Flemming and the new directors were elected as follows: Dr. S. H. Clarke, St. Peter's parish; J. A. Barry, Assumption; J. Harrington, Holy Trinity; H. J. Sheehan and L. J. MacDonald, Cathedral.

The report of the treasurer, P. J. Fitzpatrick, showed that the finances for the year were in a satisfactory condition, and after this had been adopted the president read his address in which he complimented the different committees on the excellent work they had accomplished and paid a high tribute to the general secretary, J. H. Cahalan, to whose efforts he said the success of the year was largely due.

H. J. Sheehan reported for the physical committee and paid a high tribute to Joseph McNamara, the physical director. Gerald O'Neill reported for the boys' committee, and E. P. O'Toole for the educational committee. Joseph Harrington read the report of the religious committee. The meeting was addressed by the new directors and by Hon. R. J. Ritchie.

THE SOCIAL PROBLEM. La Presse:—"The social problem cannot be solved by suppressing labor strikes by weight of force, by adopting the Prussian methods that are advocated by certain heads of industry, nor by embracing the impracticable communism of Lenin and Trotsky, for that is a communism which destroys all initiative and drives to enforced labor. No; a solution to the social problem can be established only on the foundation of equality, honesty and justice. If the workman, whether he be organized or not, has a right to rely upon his employer respecting his engagements, the patron on his side has the right to insist that his employee shall keep his word. If neither the one nor the other, after signing an agreement which has necessitated a great deal of negotiation, respect their signature, we may expect nothing but perpetual social convulsion. It has to be remarked that for some time past certain labor leaders have considered contracts to be no more than mere scraps of paper which may be thrown into the fire. Such men only discredit the workmen and do their cause very great injury. No class of society has a right to be dishonest and commit perjury."

EDUCATION BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Work Done by Government Meeting Yesterday.

Fredericton, May 7.—The board of education transacted a variety of business this afternoon. No action was taken with regard to selecting a text-book on general history to take the place of Myers' history to which objection was taken some time ago.

Miss Marion Caswell, teacher in the model school which is conducted in connection with the provincial normal school, resigned and her resignation was accepted with regret. Miss Marion I. Gibson, daughter of Mrs. W. A. Gibson, Fredericton, was appointed to the position. Miss Gibson is at present teaching at Campbellton.

principal of Sussex grammar school and was acting inspector for Kings and Queens counties during the absence of A. J. Brooks.

A high school course in literature, recommended by the chief superintendent of education, Dr. W. S. Carter, was adopted.

The summer scholarship was awarded to A. S. MacFarlane of the staff of the Provincial Normal School. The value is $200. It is probable that Mr. MacFarlane will attend Columbia University.

There was a brief session of the executive council prior to the meeting of the board of education. Premier Foster said afterwards that it was devoted to routine.

In regard to the personnel of the water powers commission the premier said that the government had had it under consideration and that two members had practically been selected. He had no announcement to make concerning the identity of those members and would not have until all members of the commission were selected.

In connection with the development of the Lepreau, Premier Foster announced that within a fortnight members of the government would visit that river and inspect the location of the proposed development. At the same time there will be an inspection of the Provincial Hospital buildings and grounds at Lancaster. A meeting of the government will be held in St. John about that time.

JOY FOR GIRL OR BOY. This Genuine Culver Chummy Racer, The Marvellous Boys and Girls Real Gasoline Auto. Solve this Puzzle! For Johnny's birthday his mother presented him with a dandy rifle, and Johnny took the target that came with the rifle and went out to the back yard to try his marksmanship. His mother came out too to satisfy herself that Johnny was a good shot. She was examining the targets showing all the holes in the bullseye and saying "do you know that you have made every target, real a word. Can you tell me what they are?" Can YOU Puzzle It Out? Johnny couldn't, so his mother told him HOW TO DO IT. Each target spells a word. Each circle of each target a number of bullet holes. As you can see by the targets, each circle represents a letter. The number of holes indicates the position of that letter in the word. "S" by two holes, "C" by three holes, and so on. After you have worked out the letters that are represented in each word, you will find that they are not in their proper order. Put them into their proper order to spell out correctly the names of the four things wanted. In order to help you, we will tell you that the letter represented by the middle circle of first target is "A," because "A" is the first letter of the alphabet. This is not an easy puzzle, but with persistence you will solve it. This is not an easy puzzle, but with persistence you will solve it. Copy your answer upon a plain white sheet of paper as neatly as you can. Do not write your name on the answer. Your name will be written in the top hand corner of the cover. If you have to write a letter, or show anything else, put it upon a separate sheet of paper. We will write as soon as your answer is received, and send you a complete illustrated list of the grand prizes that you can win.

Forty-Two Nurses Graduated in Montreal

Two Nova Scotians Tied for
First Place at Royal Victoria
Hospital — Both
Awarded Prizes.

(Montreal Gazette.)
Forty-two nurses were graduated from the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon before an assembly of more than 200 persons, which completely filled the hall of the nurses' home and overflowed into the adjoining rooms and corridors.
The diplomas of graduation were presented by Sir Vincent Meredith, the president of the hospital, who presided. Present on the platform were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hosmer and Miss M. F. Hersey, lady superintendent of the hospital.
At the close of a brief session of congratulation to the young women who had successfully completed three years of arduous training, an announcement important to all graduates was made by the president. This was the announcement of the gift of a spacious residence in University street, formerly the home of Dr. Sterry Hunt, to the Royal Victoria Hospital, as a residence for its graduate nurses. The donor of the house and its complete equipment is R. B. Angus "in recognition," said the speaker, "of the keen interest in the hospital always evinced by Mr. Angus, and his many generous benefactions to it, the home will be called the 'Angus Annex of the Royal Victoria Hospital.'" There is sleeping accommodation for fifteen nurses in addition to a large lounge which is equipped with a piano, couches, easy chairs and writing tables. The home was opened to the nurses yesterday, and last night the first occupants, a number of yesterday's graduates, took up their residence in the Angus Annex. Dr. W. Gordon M. Byers addressed the graduates, summing up in a most comprehensive manner the special duties and privileges of the life upon which they were about to enter in the practice of their profession. They were adjured to approach as nearly as possible the ideal woman, combining strength, force and intelligence with the softer virtues of sympathy and understanding, and above all, to keep up a high moral standard in the trivial as well as the larger issues of life. The multifarious duties of a nurse were outlined, and it was said that the truest gauge of her success as a nurse was her relationships with the individual surrounding her. Her position to the doctor must be that of an adjutant to a commanding officer. The patient's material interests for the time as well as his physical interests must be her first care, and she must remember that the susceptibilities of every individual of a family in which her presence was required through illness were sharpened by the circumstances so allowances must be made for all, and the nurse in the midst of the abnormal must remain normal, and strive to retain calm clarity of mind. All these virtues were much to expect from any one individual, but the admission of the nurse into the training school, her survival of the strenuous probationary period, and her successful completing the course, were all guarantees that she possessed unusual qualities of both body and mind, and to whom much was given, from her much might be expected. That such material might be continued to be supplied from the young womanhood of Canada, the graduates were asked to use whatever influence they possessed when mixing with the public to disseminate the idea that educational changes and reformation must be brought about in the dominion. Intellectually the nation is going backward, according to the speaker, through poor school accommodation, especially in the rural districts, and through the inadequate salaries of teachers in those schools.

Economy Was Urged.
Returning to the personal interests of the graduate nurse, the speaker emphasized the advice "Save your money." The working career of a nurse is pronounced by authorities to be twenty years. After that her services decline in value, therefore it is necessary for each one who will be dependent upon her own resources to lay aside a certain sum weekly from the very beginning of her professional life. It would be the wiser course to lay out a scheme of saving money which would extend over the whole twenty years, and in working out such a scheme, the young women were advised to seek the advice of experts in such matters, such as the banks and trust companies. At present it is extremely difficult for a nurse to lay aside any money and obtain the necessary of life and rightful recreation. For this reason the gift made by Mr. Angus was said to be most opportune, as the means is a difficult one for the graduate nurse. In conclusion, Dr. Byers pointed out that the profession offered the greatest opportunities for advancement and advancement, and besought the graduates to shun the extreme materialism rampant today, to realize that the world really only be made better by individual effort to live uprightly.
Miss Anne Slatery of Port Morien, N. S., and Miss Beatrice Pennington of Halifax tied for equal place at the head of the graduating class, and each received a prize, one having been given by Dr. W. Chipman, and the other by the Alumnae Association of the hospital. A special prize presented by Dr. Hamilton White was won by Miss Helen McCabe of Montreal. This prize was given for good executive ability, practical work and personal tact.
The members of the graduating class are:

- Bertha Archibald, Musquodoboit, N. S.;

(Boston Globe.)
No shoplifting case perhaps ever brought such a big crowd to the Municipal Court House in Pemberton Square as the one today in which a pretty and stylishly dressed young girl, Miss Katherine Reynolds, alias Katherine Planery, was accused of larceny of furs of great value.
Judge Duff twice ordered the court room cleared of those who were not directly interested in the case.

As evidence of the importance of the case, three department stores sent their personal lawyers to appear for their stores, while Attorney Herbert F. Callahan appeared for the girl.
All of the women store detectives were in the court room and two young woman buyers for one of the stores were present, and testified they themselves selected for the trade the particular coats that the young woman was accused of stealing. They made the purchases in New York and positively identified the coats and knew they had never been sold to any one, but instead were reported to the superintendent of protection department as having been stolen.

During the long trial the young pretty defendant sat in a chair and held her head down most of the time and went larceny of a coat at one store valued at $75 and with larceny at another store of garments valued at $350, $275, $1,550 and $270. She was also charged with possession of a hypodermic needle.

Judge Duff sentenced her to the Reformatory for Women at Sherburne, making two, instead of one sentence. She appealed and was held in $7,000 for appearance in the Superior Court next month.
London, Eng., May 8—Two hundred lady teachers resigned last year to get married, it was announced at a meeting of the city council.

BISHOP WATCHES AS HEALER WORKS

Crowds Throng Trinity Chapel, New York, for Help.

(N. Y. Evening Post.) It was early this morning that the doors of Trinity chapel, 25 West Twenty-fifth street, were opened to admit the first comers in a long procession, which more or less continuously poured into the church until in the forenoon. Later, they came anxiously and eagerly to the doors only to be turned away in disappointment, for there was no more room—human power was helpless to take care of the numbers who would have attended the service this morning. The line was a strange composite of those who were suffering from every form of bodily ill, and those who, perfect in body were ailing in mind and in soul, all alike turning to healing by prayer and by the laying on of hands, as demonstrated through James Moore Hickson. Mr. Hickson, after making a tour of the country for the purpose of healing, and of establishing prayer circles to carry on his work, has returned to this city for a brief stay. He will hold services every morning this week, with the exception of Saturday, from 10.30 until 12.30 in Trinity chapel. During the remainder of each day he will visit those who are too ill to attend the church services. Bishop Burch was present at the service this morning and made the opening prayer. He afterwards accompanied Mr. Hickson to the front seats of the church to offer prayers for those among the congregation who were most seriously afflicted. The Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, pastor of Trinity church, and other members of the New York clergy attended the service of healing.

Many Children Present. Many children were in the congregation, some of them able to walk only with the assistance of the ushers, who led them to the altar rail where Mr. Hickson administered to them. The more serious cases and the children were the first to be taken into the chapel, and they were followed by the rest of the congregation, filing up one by one, each accompanied by an attendant in order to avoid confusion or hurry. Those who had many minutes to wait were asked to remain quietly in their seats, to make the hour into a time of prayer rather than one of impatience, and to devote it to a further preparation to receive the help which would be given them. Every one of those present had apparently come with faith, and with anxiety to be receptive to whatever help might be given. Among the hundreds

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary mercurized wax is far better; it literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and tonight spread on enough to completely cover the face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared. Rough, blotchy, pimply skin, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of by this same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful.

He plundered the coast of Naples in 1533, descended on Tunis and ousted its degenerate ruler, Mulai Hassan, and in 1538 defeated the fleets of Spain, the Papacy and Venice at the battle of Prevesa. In 1541 he and the Duc d'Enghien—high company for a pirate—captured Nice. Then he went in back to Constantinople, where, like any honest man of great wealth, he died in his bed and bequeathed his fortune for compounding his piratical equipment, for the founding of a college.

Advertisement for Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances. Text: "A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many who were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: 'I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully, now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me.' A lady who used it says: 'The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses.' It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and much more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eye two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind people have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: 'Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in most every family.' It is sold in 'Wasson's Drug Store and other druggists'.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray. That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur Compound enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyet's" Sage and Sulphur Compound because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautiful by dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

How Lack of Iron In The Blood May Change A Woman's Appearance And Break Down Her Physical Strength While Plenty Of Iron Makes Rich Red Blood Corpuscles That Give Health, Vitality and Beauty

Advertisement for Nuxated Iron. Text: "Every Woman Who Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn Should Have Her Blood Examined For Iron Deficiency—Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Will Often Increase the Strength and Endurance of Weak, Nervous, Care-Worn Women in Two Weeks' Time and Make Them Look Years Younger. Longing for the keen activity, the youthful step, the fresh rosy cheeks and the sunny disposition or buoyant health is making many a woman unhappy, discontented, wrinkled and old before her time. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit-forming drugs and narcotics and useless attempts to brace up with strong coffee do not help the real cause of their trouble, which may be nothing more than lack of iron in the blood. For want of iron a woman may look and feel old at thirty, be pale, haggard, and all run-down—while at 60 or 65 with good health and plenty of iron in the blood she may still be young in feeling, and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age. That women may become stronger, healthier, more beautiful and better able to meet the cares of home, social and business life by increasing the supply of iron in their blood is the opinion of Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon of Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: 'What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the springtime of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs, but plenty of rich, pure red blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron. From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel confident that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results.' Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author. Dr. King says: 'By enriching the blood and increasing its oxygen carrying power Nuxated Iron will often transform the flabby flesh, toneless tissues, and pallid cheeks of nervous, run-down women into a glow of health and make them look years younger within a surprisingly short time.' Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: 'As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is one of the greatest of all strength builders. I have prescribed Nuxated Iron—organic iron—many, many times, and I have seen frequent instances where it gave renewed strength and energy, increased power and endurance, steady nerves, and the rosy bloom of health in about ten days' or two weeks' time. I consider Nuxated Iron one of the foremost blood

druggists. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Ross Drug Co., S. McDiarmid, E. Clinton Brown, Wasson's Drug Store and all good druggists.

BUENOS AIRES SPENDS FREELY ON CLOTHES, CURIOS AND CULTURE

Growing Demand for Real Jewelry, Music and Pseudo Antiques Among Argentina's Rich; Proud of Their Home Town.

Special Correspondence of The New York Evening Post.
Buenos Aires, March 12.—Although summer is by no means over by the middle of March, its reign, in so far as Argentine society is concerned, draws very near its close. Down at Mar del Plata occasional cold winds drive bathers and idlers from the Rambia and the breakers; ladies who intend to finish the month send up to town for furs, and many families decide that after all, now the elections are done with, they may as well get back to Buenos Aires.

It has been an exceptionally brilliant season by the sea this year. Never were the hotels so full or the private residences so continuously occupied. Europe not yet attractive to the Argentine tourist, who goes as a rule only for pleasure. As a mundane centre of fashion Buenos Aires has now certainly arrived, and many artificers and artists throng here. For while stuffs and labels come from abroad, much of the initiative skill and daring conception that turn out the Argentine girl a masterpiece of attractiveness is thoroughly local. Not only in dresses, hats, gloves, hosiery and the thousand and one minutiae of dress does Buenos Aires now look for the best with her local tradesmen and find it without fail. In all the various objects of art that were formerly looked on as being distinctly second-rate, not actually bought in Europe, trifles ranging from costly bibelots set with jewels to a tiny ivory statuette, the Buenos Aires shops will stand comparison with those of any capital in Europe or the States, alike for the quality of their merchandise and for its costly price.

In Buenos Aires today the same insidious spirit which whispers to the women what they shall wear has now decreed that antiques are "fashionable" and the result is a harvest for every one who can bring in a mixed assortment of odds and ends from Europe or get into touch with pre-Iberic pottery or similar "objects of bigotry and virtue." That there are a few things of veritable local interest may be admitted, though as a rule they are confined to silver table fishes, the ceremonial mate gourd and its accompanying tube, or bombilla and so forth. Argentina was always richer by far in all the amenities of civilization at the time when today's "curios" were in common use. During the war there has been some diminution in the eclectic quality of lyric and dramatic performances in Buenos Aires, but if only half the plans for the 1920 season are carried into effect the Argentine capital will have an artistic feast such as it has never known and may even surpass the results usually achieved by the wealthy cosmopolitanism of New York. That in these matters it does exceed the records of London and Paris is no mere piece of local bragadocio. In neither city is there an audience for first class Spanish and Italian dramatic companies, such as make a regular practice of coming hither, and this year instrumentalists of world fame together with conductors and composers of the premier rank will not only add to the brilliancy of an exceptional opera season but should also do much to raise the level of real symphony concerts.

Nikisch, Weingartner and Strauss—the Strauss of "Elektra" and "Der Rosenkavalier"—are definitely engaged; the last named being promised as the conductor of a series of ten symphony concerts at the Colon Opera House, while Weingartner will undertake the musical direction of the Coliseo, where Wagnerian opera will predominate. The list of individual instrumentalists booked up to the present includes Rialer, Arthur Kulbenstein and Ignatz Friedmann, Franz von Vecsey and Gaspar Casado, Andres Segovia, perhaps the greatest exponent of the old and all too little understood art of the true Spanish guitar, and other musicians of note. Comedy and drama will be represented by the Guerrero-Mendoza company, the Spanish equivalent today of the players of the house of Moliere and unquestionably the first troupe in the Spain. As well known and as popularly received in Buenos Aires as in Madrid, they may not be able to play this year in the spacious and entirely original theatre now under construction for their special account, but their coming is none the less eagerly awaited. Italy's contingent is not yet certain, beyond the statement that a company will be brought to Buenos Aires toward the end of the season, but French dramatic art will be well represented by Huguenet and Andre Brule's organizations.

It is, however, to opera that the great general public of Buenos Aires turn with unflagging interest directly the programme of the season is under discussion. All classes are keenly anxious to read the list of prime dones and tenors as well as the proposed yet seldom completed repertoire of operas to be given during the season. The competition is keen between the official Colon and the unofficial but equally important Coliseo. The Coliseo has said nothing beyond giving a hint that there will be much Wagner, as has been mentioned before, but the Colon authorities have already published the following attractive list: "Lohengrin," "Tristan and Isolde," the "Valkyries," "Mephistophiles,"

"Loreley," "Der Rosenkavalier," "Hansel und Gretel," "Rigoletto," "Aida," "The Barber of Seville," "Il De di Labore," "Manon," and "Fidelio et Medvande." Two new operas by Argentine composers, namely, "Salka" by Floro Ufarte, and "Ariana and Dionisia" by Felipe Bocro, are also promised, as is a novelty by Piazzi, styled "Fasha." From the foregoing rough notes it will be understood that Buenos Aires this winter promises to be gay in many directions.

COMMONS MEMBERS CHEER LADY ASTOR

Rally to Her Support Against Personal Attack by Horatio Bottomley.

London, May 8.—An attack upon Lady Astor made by Horatio Bottomley in his weekly journal, John Bull, led to a demonstration in the House of Commons in support of her ladyship. Lady Astor, in a recent debate in the Commons, spoke against the habit of drunkenness as described or illustrated by Bottomley, and expressed the opinion that "in America, where many states have made it a crime for a woman to be the wife of a drunkard, women had not been the gainers." Bottomley, in his leading article, denounced this as "rank hypocrisy." He said that "Lady Astor's husband had divorced her first husband, Robert Gould Shaw, second, in 1908, and quoted from the New York Herald of February 5, 1908, to support his allegation that her divorce was collusive and that "cause cited in her original petition was simply that of desertion although, as it shall show you in a moment, by arrangement between her and her husband, further 'statutory reasons' that is, according to the law of Virginia, were at a late stage introduced." Consequently Bottomley called upon Lady Astor to "avail herself without delay of the privilege which the House of Commons always extends in such circumstances to members and to tender her personal explanation."

Lady Astor entered the Commons during question time and as she moved quietly to her seat she was greeted by a volley of cheers. She made no acknowledgment, but the demonstration was taken as meaning that the House resented deeply the attack made on her. Bottomley, who was sitting a few yards away from her, rose a few minutes later to put a question and had to face some boing.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

Canada is in a unique position in regard to forests. Not only has she still large forest resources, but about 95 per cent of the land which these forests stand belongs to the dominion or to provincial governments—that is to the people of Canada. Nor is this ownership merely nominal. The different governments receive from the lumberman a price per thousand feet when the timber is cut and a ground rental for every year the lumberman occupies the land. Thus, in addition to the benefit Canada receives from timber as a great basis of trade and manufacture, the taxes are reduced by the amount of this revenue. It therefore doubly behooves every Canadian to do all in his power to stop forest fires. Tourists must start a fire by throwing a lighted match from a smoking-car, or a clearing fire may get away from a settler clearing his land, or a hunter or fisherman may leave his camp fire still burning when he breaks camp. Everyone should remember that every time these things happen and a fire starts every citizen in Canada is a loser. Those who care to pursue this subject further may secure free of charge a booklet giving the laws which prevent fires by applying to the director of forestry, Ottawa.

Jap Launchings Are Dry.

The Japanese observances attending the launching of a ship, as described by a writer in "The Ways of the Croton Ironworkers," are begun with a religious ceremony. Then the ship is released in the usual way, but instead of cracking a bottle of champagne across her stern great quantities of flowers, usually chrysanthemums, and the sponsor's bouquet and a number of live pigeons are scattered from a decorated globe suspended over the launching platform, the sponsor pulling a cord. The flowers fall about the launching party as the freed birds circle overhead.

COUNTY COUNCIL FINANCE COMMITTEE

The finance committee of the municipal council met in the county rooms, Prince William street yesterday afternoon and prepared the accounts which will be presented to the council at the quarterly meeting next Tuesday.

Among the matters considered was an application from the city turnkeys, Samuel Clifford, W. J. Cunningham and Frank A. Bowes, for an increase in salary. At present they are getting $95 a month and work eleven hours in the day in the night shift.

They asked to be placed on the same footing as the police and the request was handed to Councillor Thornton to take up with the council direct.

Discount day was set for August 21. The matter of a new athletic field in Lancaster will be taken up with the council direct, as will also the Lancaster ferry matter which was recently before the provincial legislature. Under the new arrangement the city, parish and province each pays a third of the cost of maintenance.

Mayor Schofield, chairman of the city finance committee, presided and there were also present Councillors Thornton, Jones, O'Brien, Bentley, Campbell, Donovan, Anderson, Warden Bullock, ex-shift and thirteen members of the council.

AT DODDSEY'S

M. J. Griffin Gives Up His Column in Montreal Gazette

Newspaper's Tribute to the Librarian of Parliament, Ottawa - A Charming Bit From the Old Literary Life of London.

(Montreal Gazette.) With this issue, the Saturday literary review, which for thirty-one years has appeared in the Gazette under the title "At Doddsley's," comes to an end. It is with reluctance and regret the announcement is made that no more will our readers read in the brilliant writing, the trenchant criticism, the store of literary and historical knowledge poured out during that long period...

stone, the Wartons and Glover, in 1738 Doddsley published Johnson's "London," for which he gave ten guineas, and issued subsequently many of the great man's works, helping also to finance the "Dictionary." He had the high distinction of having brought out Johnson's "Elegy;" he founded several literary periodicals, and had achieved such position in the book world that Pope made over to him his interest in his paper, the "Review," which he conducted with a constant tendency to the right side of the question...

A Constipation Cure A druggist says: "For nearly thirty years I have commended the Extract of Senna, and Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, for the radical cure of constipation and indigestion. It is an old reliable remedy that never fails to do the work." 30 drops three times daily. Get the Genuine, at druggists.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion. A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity-acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then out comes sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to continue the use of the gas-making maker, first start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

MRS. M. J. GORSE 3928 Union St., Vancouver, B. C.

"I suffered with all the symptoms of Female Trouble, with chronic Constipation and constant Headaches. I had pains down in the back and sides of my body. I tried various remedies without relief, and then put myself under a doctor's care and he advised me to have an operation. I refused.

"Then, I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives,' and from the outset, I felt better, and this medicine has completely relieved me of all my misery and suffering. My weight was only 143 pounds and now it is 169 pounds. I am free of pain and headaches and the terrible Constipation and what saved me from misery is the splendid Fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-lives.'"

It is entitled "The Elephant and the Flea," and the prologue is as follows: The Brightest of Poets have passed away. Never a one of them composed on the subject of the Flea. At last it's composed by the Poet, James Gay.

ANY WOMAN'S STRUGGLE FOR GOOD HEALTH QUICKLY REWARDED

A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT NOW ADVOCATED THAT GIVES FINE RESULTS.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong. Putting off only makes matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment:

At the close of every meal, with a dip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferronone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine. Ferronone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.

A Cure for Pimples. "You don't need mercury, potash or any other strong mineral to cure pimples caused by poor blood. Take Extract of Roots—druggist calls it 'Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup'—and your skin will clear up as fresh as a baby's. It will sweeten your stomach and regulate your bowels." Get the genuine. 50c. and $1.00 Bottles. At drug stores.

"DANDERINE" Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

Prevent Influenza—Internal Bathing the Best Method. Did it ever occur to you that if the system is kept perfectly clean, both inside as well as out, how much easier it would be to keep yourself free from contagion? It is only when the blood is not kept clean and pure that you are unable to throw off disease.

FRECKLES. Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine—Doddie's Strength. This preparation for the removal of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

MOTHERS' ADVICE. The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl.

TAKES OWN LIFE AFTER TRYING TO FREE HER LOVER

Hungarian Dancer Tries to Secure Release of Friend But Fails—Stabs Herself With Hat Pin.

Budapest, May 7.—Yusi Kazcos, a pretty Hungarian dancer, after attempting the life of a police officer, stabbed herself to death in tragic circumstances at the central Hungarian police station. On learning that her lover, Miklos Ohmer, has been arrested on a charge of being concerned in a plot to re-establish the Soviet in Hungary, she obtained permission to visit him while he was undergoing a preliminary examination in the police station. After an affectionate greeting she asked the detective in charge of the case if she might speak to him alone for a moment. He assented. After protesting her lover's innocence and pleading in vain for clemency, she said, "Then it means he will die, or at the best suffer life-long imprisonment? I am afraid it is so," answered the policeman. Kazcos thereupon pulled out a revolver she had hidden in her dress and levelled it at the detective. While waiting to be removed into custody she pulled out a hatpin and pressed it into her heart, where it broke off short, but not before a mortal wound had been inflicted.

ANNUAL DINNER AND MEETING OF R. K. Y. C.

The commodore's dinner and the quarterly meeting of the Royal Kennebec Yacht Club was held last evening at Bonds. The dinner was given by the modore, F. P. Starr, to the officers and members of the R. K. Y. C. After the dinner had been disposed of, toasts to the King, and the St. John Power Boat Club were drunk, and the members then resolved into a business meeting. It was announced that the annual cruise would start July 24, the destination to be fixed by a committee, and that the annual service would be held on the river August 1. The secretary reported that the membership in the club was on the increase and that the club was in a very satisfactory financial condition, with a substantial amount on hand. The sailing committee recommended that the cruising race be held June 19, also that a series of five dingy races be held during the season, the place and dates to be arranged later. Several cups have been donated for the races by the commodore, F. P. Starr, and by George H. Kimball, William S. Allison, W. E. Earle and A. M. Rowan. F. S. Heins made an open challenge to all boat owners for a race to be sailed on the river or on the outside harbor course. A vote of thanks and appreciation was extended to the orchestra which assisted at the annual service last season. Following the meeting an enjoyable concert was held and a programme consisting of gramophone selections by John Prodsham and songs by Thomas Guy, John Rusley and Robert Carson, accompanied by D. Arnold Fox. The evening was closed by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

Change in Sentiment Towards England in France and Italy

PUTTING BLAME ON BRITAIN FOR DISCOMFORTS AFTER WAR

State Visit of Belgian King and Queen Forecasted—What London Hears About Woodrow Wilson—Kitchener Given Credit—News of Empire Metropolis.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) London, April 15.—A friend who has returned recently from Italy via France assures me that the change in public sentiment towards this country during the last year has been amazing. He doubts whether at any other time in recent history England has been such an unpopular name in either country. In both cases the main cause is seemingly economic. The French, and especially the Italians, put on our shoulders all the blame for the discomfort following the war.

Queen of the Belgians, one of the most attractive royal ladies imaginable—petite, vivacious, intelligent, extremely handsome, and most agreeable in her manner to all. We shall have state dinners, command performances, dances and perhaps a review.

Only One Left Now. The departure of Sir Auckland Geddes, our newly appointed Washington ambassador, and Lady Geddes took place at Easton station under quite happy auspices. One of his great admirers and close personal friends, Bonar Law, was among the little crowd who bade the parting guest bon voyage and good luck. A lovely bouquet was handed to Lady Geddes, who seemed much more excited than her husband, to whom the Unionist leader managed to get a few moments of parting conversation just before the train whistled. Sir Eric Geddes was there but his conversation was anything but serious. He was the centre of perpetual laughter and chatter, and seemed the embodiment of nervous energy.

Belgian King's Visit. King Albert of Belgium has been in London several times since the war, and even since peace, one on occasion coming over by aeroplane. But he has still to pay London a state visit. This will probably take place in August, during next month, and will be the occasion of extraordinary celebrations and great festivity. London will be ready to accord its most strenuous and wholehearted welcome to the giant monarch who proved during the hours of darkest trial that his heart was at least commensurate with his gigantic stature. King Albert will be accompanied by the

Some time ago I stated how seriously alarmed Dr. Woodrow Wilson's friends were at his state of health. People whose reports are dependable, and who have had opportunities of finding out the truth so far as is known in Washington and New York, have returned to this country with the most discouraging prospects of anything like effective recovery. It is alleged in the United States that the work of the presidential office has from the moment of the president's seizure been mainly conducted by Mrs. Wilson, a lady of great capacity, with such assistance as from time to time the president has been able to give, and the help of confidential subordinates. The fact that during the whole of his stay in Washington, Lord Grey was not permitted to see the president is also significant, and is quite inadequately explained by the trouble over some alleged commotion in the White House, or by the fact that Mrs. Wilson is also significant, and is quite inadequately explained by the trouble over some alleged commotion in the White House, or by the fact that Mrs. Wilson is

Man Who Won The War. Sir George Arthur's "Life of Lord Kitchener," which is published this week by Macmillan, is the most fascinating account so far of the commander-in-chief of the British forces during the war. It settles some very big controversies authoritatively. For instance, Sir George proves irrefragably that Kitchener was not the real cause of the war long before anyone else, in this country or elsewhere, awakened to the fact. He was at once a planning genius and a tactician of the highest order. His instinct was amazing. The great soldier whom the "stunt" press clamoured for as a scapegoat for failure to grasp the importance of shell supply was grappling with that problem as strenuously as any man could months before Fleet street dreamt of any shortage.

Every rank and office is open to young men and women whose ability and consecration qualify them for it.

Gutter and university meet

SOME people think their Officers come only from converts among the submerged tenth.

THIS is not so. Provided a man or woman is possessed of a personal experience of salvation and a passion to help and save the world, he or she will be welcome in their ranks.

FROM gutter, from university, from slum hall, from mansion, men and women of every type of intellect and ability have consecrated themselves for service to Christ through the medium of the Salvation Army.

EVERY rank and office is open to young men and women whose ability and consecration qualify them for it.

As they had the chicken, and worked out too much it came to be divided by three, so that each might pay her share. Each lady gave one penny to the waitress. One lady discovered that under the system of their division she had got off two pence cheaper than her due. She pointed this out, and, while the waitress waited, said, "I will pay the 'bus'!" The girl's comment, in answer to my friend's smile as the ladies withdrew, was, "It must be her birthday!" And she told her that a little earlier two ladies had come to one of her tables, ordered two small coffees, and paid for them with the sixpenny tip left by the last customer—a man—which she was then picking up quite coolly when they sat down. She said it would never do to have taxed them with the petty larceny.

Something For All. There is a heated discussion in one of the nearer suburban parishes as to whether it is advisable to hold the annual jumble sale this year, and the vestry meeting, which assembled in solemn conclave to discuss the question, was given with embittered strife. It would seem that these sales offer bargains that prove most attractive in these days of high prices, to the poorer paragon of the community, and who are in a stretch of the imagination be considered church members. And some of the least earnest of the trustees say that the crowds to annex articles without troubling about the formality of payment. Last year, because of this, detectives were employed to suppress this inclination, and the parish or certain sections of it, viewed these precautions with marked disapproval. At the vestry meeting the vicar said in previous years the church had benefited to the extent of some £200 by such sales, and it would be a serious loss if the opportunity of collecting similar sum this year were lost. "Yes," commented a parishioner, "and the parishioners between them collected eighteen months imprisonment!"

This week I was talking with one of the successful commercial travellers in the north of England. His views on the trade situation were extremely interesting. He is certainly entirely free from any sort of political or social bias, being simply a keen business man first and last. He tells me that all his firms, mostly great industrial concerns, say that the attention of the board of governors of the Boys' Industrial Home at the next meeting.

The side saddle was invented in the fourteenth century that Anne of Bohemia, who was deformed, might ride in comfort.

Site for School in East St. John. A committee composed of Robert Magee, J. Whitcomb Plewelling and Frank E. Joselyn waited on Mayor Schofield yesterday and requested that a portion of the land now used by the Boys' Industrial Home be granted to the trustees of the East St. John school. The present school building is considered entirely inadequate for the needs of the community. There are sixty pupils in daily attendance and the trustees consider it a better move to build a new school to replace the old one. The matter will be brought to the attention of the board of governors of the Boys' Industrial Home at the next meeting.

Magnetic Healing. Notting Hill Gate has for some years been the centre of strange cults, but a young friend of mine who suffers from a stiff right leg, acquired in France, had a novel experience in surgical treatment. He met a man who proclaimed himself a "magnetic healer," and said that he could cure any disability, physical or surgical, by the magnetism of his own personality. There was no suggestion of hypnotism or manifestation of faith of the healer. In fact, he declared that the sceptic was the best patient.

Uses for Aeroplane Propellers. A deluge of aeroplane propellers from the disposal board is sweeping over the city, and beautiful polished pieces of wood being presented by generous members to the embarrassment of secretaries, who cannot think what use can be made of them. A young friend who has had some acquaintance with this species of war stores in other connections than moral decoration, has given me a few hints which are worth passing on. If you can get a complete two or four bladed propeller, thus circumventing a mean trick of certain storekeepers who saw the blades off, several things can be done with it. A neat clock or aneroid can be set in the boss, and looks very effective in a hall or over a fireplace. A four-bladed fastened securely to the wall and fitted with pegs makes an excellent coat rack. There is not much to be done with a single sawn-off blade except cut it up for walking sticks. In this connection avoid the usual red mahogany blades, for sticks made from them easily break. The rarer walnut blades are very choice for sticks, picture frames or any purpose, and are readily worked by an amateur carpenter.

In the Soup. There is a little restaurant not far from the Palace Theatre which provides quite a satisfying and varied lunch for a modest half-crown. And its windows, gay with entrancing pastries, have drawn a regular clientele of those little French modistes who work in the innumerable "magasins" which are such a feature of every Soho street, where wonderful dresses may be bought at not too unreasonable a figure. But it is not the cakes alone that have attracted the girls, but even more it is the soup. The establishment specializes in its soup, which is unlike any I have been given elsewhere in London, for floating in it are tiny letters of the alphabet made of spaghetti. Crystal-gazing, palmistry, and even tea-leaf reading are the accompaniments. When properly constructed by a romantic mid-nite, a spoonful of soup in Soho may hold the portent of a fortune, a wealthy marriage, or a thrilling adventure. A girl lunching at the restaurant discovered the letters FATAL in her spoon, and with a long-drawn "Oh—oh!" declared that now she would have to abandon her intention of buying "that jade-green hat."

Wireless Telegraphy. An interesting practical experiment in wireless telephony for press purposes is being started. The London correspondent of the Gazette del Popolo is transmitting his copy to the head office in Turin straight from London by this means. It is quite appropriate that a countryman of the famous inventor of "wireless," Signor Marconi, should be the pioneer experimenter with the news-wireless. The experiment is being very closely watched by the London newspapers, whose accounts for the telegraphy of their foreign news are becoming almost prohibitive owing to the necessity most of them are under of having this sent not at press rates but at ordinary private charges. This is found to be almost obligatory owing to the telegraphic upset following the dislocation of the war. I believe the main difficulty in wireless telephony at present is the jamming that is apt to take place, which still to some extent is experimental in ordinary wireless telegraphy. But the promoters are confident of complete ability to overcome this difficulty in time.

TEACHERS FOR THE PLAYGROUNDS

BOSTON TRAFFIC

The teachers to take charge of the supervised playgrounds this summer were appointed at the meeting of the playgrounds association held last night in the Y. M. C. A. with the president, W. K. Haley, in the chair and fifteen members present.

Twenty tons of freight brought to Yarmouth by the Boston liner Prince Arthur, will be brought to this port next Monday by the coastal steamer Keith Cann and will be the last transfer of freight for that vessel to make this season, as the new Yarmouth-St. John schedule, calling for two trips a week by the Keith Cann, makes it impossible for the coastal steamer to handle the American goods. This information was given to the board of trade and local shippers yesterday.

The ladies' committee submitted a report, nominating the teachers for the supervised playgrounds and, with one or two alterations, the report was adopted as follows. The teacher given first preference in each case the superintendent and the one given second the assistant: Central grounds, Miss Edie Trentowski and Miss Rita McDade; Alexandra, Miss Kathleen Lundy and Miss Josephine Walsh; King George, Miss Dorothy Simons and Miss Frances Grant; West Side, Miss Ella Higgins and Miss Alice Harding; Allison, Miss Edna Colwell and Miss Doris Woodrow; Aberdeen, Miss Beatrice Fleet and Miss Beatrice Mooney. The various committees presented reports and told of general progress being made in all branches of the work. The resignation of R. S. Ritchie as a member of the board was received and Mrs. George Dishart, treasurer, was appointed to take his place on the financial committee.

A. C. Currie, local agent for Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc. notified the Boston office upon the matter yesterday and has been informed that definite statement regarding the plans of the corporation regarding the vessel to take up the St. John-Boston route on the date of first sailing will be forwarded to him next week.

Will of Sir Wm. Osler. London, May 7.—The estate of Sir William Osler has been probated at £11,650. The will was made Decem. 1919, and leaves his medical and scientific library to McGill University. The residue goes to his widow and on her death his residence is devoted to Christ Church College, Oxford, as a residence for the regius professor of medicine.

A gallon of rum, addressed to 11 Gard at 72 Acadia street, and invoice at $15 was seized in the Dominion Express Company's rooms yesterday after being inspected by McAlister and Kerr. The inspectors say that the consignee never lived in Acadia street.

Opinion of A. W. Covey Who Addressed Executive of Amherst Organizations.

A. W. Covey, president of the M. B. A. U. of C., addressed the executive of Amherst athletic organizations on Thursday evening.

In opening his remarks, Mr. Covey expressed his admiration for the manner in which the western division of the central league will pool their traveling expenses.

'That motion recently passed will do more to boost amateur sport in these two counties than other work would accomplish in a year,' said Mr. Covey.

'In this baseball work, Nova Scotia has set the lead for the Dominion of Canada. The entire province is organized—even Cape Breton, seeking admission to the amateur field. I regret to say that in New Brunswick such activity has not occurred.'

'A fair chance of securing the same. Another incentive for the amateur.'

Regarding amateurism a professional, he said: 'No man is a professional until charges against him have been proven. Men that will all come under the head of the general reinstatement, with the exception of the out and out professionals. Even their application will be carefully considered and I may tell you that I am doing all in my power to get these men back into the fold.'
