BORDEN'S ANNOUNCEMENT IS A DISAPPOINTMENT

No Contribution Unless Canada is Consulted on Expenditure

Ministers Dined by National Liberal Club—Hazen Urges That All Should Have Voice in Imperial Affairs

(Canadian Press)

London, Aug. 2.—Mr. Borden has made his position very clear on the subject of the naval assistance, that Canada is to offer the mother country.

Mr. Borden and his colleagues of the Dominion cabinet told the British cabinet that Canada is prepared to assist Great Britain to maintain her naval supremacy, but when she does so, she will want to be consulted as to the way the money is spent.

When Mr. Borden and his colleagues, comprising J. Douglas Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries; C. J. Doherty, minister of justice; L. P. Pelletier, postmaster general; and Geo. E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, arrived, it was announced that they came with an offer to contribute a squadron of Dreadnoughts, four, to be exact, to England. This was accepted by the public, so there is certain to be some disappointment when the part Canada proposes to take is finally settled. Mr. Borden himself says this will not be until after his return to Canada, and he has had an opportunity of consulting with the full cabinet.

"There are only five of us here, and the cabinet consists of eighteen members, so it is not likely that we should make any decision until we have a full meeting," said the premier, when approached on the subject.

"Not as politicians, but as kinsmen," was the phrase used by Mr. Borden last night, to describe the attitude in which he and his colleagues had come to Great Britain. That, too, was the attitude of the National Liberal Club, as revealed at the banquet presided over by the Marquis of Lincolnshire. Lord Strathcona, the object of the visit, as a distinct agent of the history of the empire, at a time when the watchword of all parties must be Britain's supremacy on the seas.

Mr. Borden was most heartily received when he declared that Canadian loyalty was more pronounced now than ever before. The audience applauded long and loud, when the Canadian premier suggested, amidst cheers, that it might be well for British ministers to visit Canada.

Mr. Hazen outlined the position of the Canadians in the border towns with Americans, laws and administration easily, in his opinion, bore of the palm, yet a remedy should be applied in removing the handicap on Canadians, who were voiceless in the affairs of the empire, unlike the American, who participated in all that concerned the republic, whether he lived in New York or Hawaii.

"We are simply here," he added, "to find out the true position of affairs and secure all the facts for cabinet consideration."

The facts have been given by the members of the British cabinet, at a series of joint meetings with the Canadian statesmen, who have also had the advantage of conferences with the officials of the admiralty and foreign office. These conferences will be resumed during the coming week.

TORONTO WELCOMES HER VISITORS FROM OLYMPIC GAMES

Silver Service for Gouding, Winner of World's Walking Championship—Congratulatory Addresses

(Canadian Press)

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Toronto last night extended an inspiring reception to George H. Gouding, winner of the world's walking championship, at the Olympic games, and to the other Toronto members of the Canadian team. Hundreds of citizens, including large representations of the athletic clubs, met Gouding and his fellow athletes at the North Toronto station, on the arrival of the Canadian Pacific express from Montreal, and conducted them down Yonge street to the city hall, the route being lined through by applauding spectators.

Acting Mayor Church extended the civic welcome and presented Gouding with a handsome silver tea service of 10 pieces. Congratulatory addresses were made by prominent citizens, one referring humorously to the fact that the birth of a son to Gouding, during his absence, would give him an opportunity to put his proficiency as a walker to practical domestic use.

Methodist's Lose 9,198 MEMBERS IN PAST YEAR

Starting Statement in Annual Report of Dr. Chown, Statistician for Canadian Church

(Canadian Press)

Toronto, Aug. 2.—Rev. Dr. Cornish, general conference statistician of the Methodist church, has just issued a table of the church membership for the past year. The report is a demonstration of affection at the close of the proceedings, when in response to repeated calls, he arose and spoke a few words.

"The figures of loss amongst us," he said, "are not very encouraging. In which he characterized the visit of the Canadians and the object of the visit, as a distinct agent of the history of the empire, at a time when the watchword of all parties must be Britain's supremacy on the seas.

COMMISSIONERS MUST CLOSE TWO SALOONS IN QUEEN'S WARD

Legal Number Exceeded, Says Rev. Mr. Robinson—Threatens Action if Matter is Not Remedied

(Canadian Press)

Rev. W. R. Robinson, acting on behalf of the New Brunswick Temperance Federation, has again resumed his warfare on the liquor traffic in the city, and this time is centering his efforts in Queen's Ward.

At present there are ten liquor saloons in this ward, and Rev. Mr. Robinson has notified the liquor license commissioners that, according to the population of the ward there should only be eight, and that they have made themselves liable by the fact that the birth of a son to Gouding, during his absence, would give him an opportunity to put his proficiency as a walker to practical domestic use.

"According to the law," he said, "the commissioners are permitted to grant four licenses for the first thousand persons in a ward, and one for every five hundred above that. In Queen's ward this would allow but eight bars, but the commissioners have made themselves liable by granting ten, and have notified them that unless they remedy the matter immediately I will take action against them in the courts. It is simply shameful that the way the liquor license laws are being carried out in this city, and I intend to see that in future they are more strictly adhered to."

The liquor license commissioners are Dr. H. C. Wetmore, W. D. Baskin and Thomas Kitcham. J. H. Sinclair is the legal adviser of the commissioners. When seen this morning the commissioners refused to say anything about the matter. The saloons in Queen's Ward are mostly situated in Water street, although there are two in Church street. The Union Club saloon in Queen's Ward. It is not known what action the commissioners will take in the matter.

MAGISTRATE REFUSES TO RELEASE MCCOY

London, Aug. 2.—"Kid" McCoy (Norman Selby), the boxer, was brought up again at the Bow street police court today and again remanded until August 8, when the papers connected with the case are expected to arrive from Belgium. The police magistrate once more refused to release by such an amount, but that the judge of information from the people who had preferred the charge of alleged larceny, said that he was a serious and unrepentant criminal, and that he was a danger to the community. McCoy's attorney made a strong plea for bail this morning, arguing that the only charge against his client was an uncorroborated statement by a woman who had been arrested as the accomplice of the real thief.

KILLED IN SAWMILL AT CHATHAM, N. B.

Chatham, N. B., Aug. 2.—This morning about five minutes to eleven, before the mill whistle had blown for work to commence, Allan McDonald, of Chatham, was killed in a sawmill at Chatham. It seems that he was going from the mill to the yard and in some unknown manner his clothing got caught in the pillar shaft and he was whirled around so that before the machinery could be stopped he had been killed. The deceased lived in Chatham, being millwright in Sinclair's at the time of his death. The deceased is survived by one brother, James J. of Bathurst, and the following children: Alexander, Chatham; Allan, who was working with him in Newcastle; Miss Minnie, Chatham; Miss S. G., student nurse in Somerville, Mass.; Miss Nellie, student nurse in Amherst, and Mrs. James Doyle of Jacques River.

THE FISH MARKET

Those who, through religious tendencies or force of habit, appreciate a fish dinner on Friday had a fairly wide variety to select from today as the market was well stocked with such kinds as are usually the favorite of the men of the sea. Although the season is rapidly passing and there was a plentiful supply of salmon at from 19 to 29 cents a pound today, and many of the stock were what are known as fiddlers, or small salmon. The source of supply is mostly local, both harbor and bay fishing having been very good this week, which was most gratifying, as the salmon run on the North shore and about Newfoundland has ceased. The season for salmon locally ends on August 22. There were quite a number of "raker" mackerels on the market today selling at 30 to 35 cents each. There is very little halibut to be had, but what is the market is being received chiefly from about Bristol Island. Cod and haddock are coming in a little more abundantly and selling at 5 cents a pound.

Still in Trouble Over His Initiation—Bantam Champion to Cross Atlantic—Coming Matches

(Canadian Press)

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Jack Johnston, champion pugilist, will engage in a race in his big car against an airship driven by L. Arthur Hesdorn, the first, and said to be the only, negro aviator in the world, at Hawthorne race track next Sunday afternoon. Johnston announced last night that he had been told that his weight was not seriously against him and that he was considering taking up aviation himself.

London, Aug. 2.—The Grand Lodge of Free Masons, Scotland, yesterday, dismissed the appeal against the sentence of suspension passed on the Dundee lodge in connection with the initiation of Jack Johnston, the pugilist. The lodge was suspended in amount of irregularities in the initiation.

New York, Aug. 2.—The next boxing act to cross the Atlantic to this side will be Lefoux, bantam weight champion of Great Britain, who is expected to arrive here on Saturday. He is expected to fight against the bantam weight champion of Great Britain, in five rounds. The match is expected to take place in the city, and I intend to see that in future they are more strictly adhered to."

The Liquor License Commissioners are Dr. H. C. Wetmore, W. D. Baskin and Thomas Kitcham. J. H. Sinclair is the legal adviser of the commissioners. WHO THREW FIRST QUESTION?

International Affair in the Police Court—Nine Months for Women Prisoners—Other Cases

Samuel Teopulos, a Greek, was arraigned in the police court this morning, charged with assaulting Paul E. McKinnon, a Charlotte street yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock. The Greek, who pleaded not guilty to the charge, was represented by K. J. MacLennan. The complainant went on the stand and swore that he was assaulted by the Greek in Charlotte street, where the defendant was employed, to buy some fruit. He picked up three peaches and paid ten cents for them. Defendant wanted to give him three others, and when he refused he was struck on the back of the head and knocked out into the street. George Blair and Frederick Selby also told of seeing the Greek strike McKinnon.

The Greeks gave evidence and stated that McKinnon was the first to throw a pebble at the witness in the face with one of the pebbles. McKinnon then said that he struck McKinnon. McKinnon also told of seeing McKinnon, to Canada, and of seeing the latter strike McKinnon.

The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock when other witnesses will be called.

William Guthrie pleaded guilty to being drunk on Wednesday night last, and yesterday afternoon and also to having escaped from the chain gang in September last. He was fined $5 or two months in jail for the drunkenness and remanded on the other charge.

One prisoner charged with drunkenness was fined $5 or ten days in jail, and another was remanded on the same charge.

Mrs. Marie Macoy and Mary Stogers, arrested some time ago in connection with a house raid in Germain street, and who were adjudged guilty, were brought into court this morning, and sentenced to nine months in jail. The fine was allowed to stand on condition that they both leave town at once.

Two other prisoners, who were remanded on the charge of drunkenness, were brought in and sentenced to $5 or two months in jail.

Mrs. Roy Wilson appeared in court and charged her husband with assaulting and using abusive language to her. It appeared in the evidence that Wilson was arrested on the charge several days ago and forfeited an $8 deposit. His Honor told the complainant that he could not proceed further in the matter now.

William McCollum was fined $2 for allowing his horse to run at large in Prince street, West End.

URGES LAW TO JAIL BEATING TEACHERS, REDEEMING VOW

Washington, Aug. 2.—Little Willie Wilson was late for school at Blantyre, in Scotland, forty years ago and the schoolmaster soundly thrashed him for it. That day Willie took an oath that when he got to parliament he would pass a law making such behavior on the part of teachers a penal offence.

He never went to parliament, but in the house of representatives he took steps to make good his oath. As a representative from the Fifteenth Pennsylvania District, he dropped in the speaker's basket a bill making corporal punishment in the District of Columbia a serious offence.

AWARD OF $6 AND NO COSTS IN SUIT FOR $2,343

Interesting Developments May Arise From Application For Guardian

THE COURTS TODAY

Agreement in Nepisquit Lumber Co. Case—D'Irsabel Asbestos Co.—The Chaprene's Suit

(Canadian Press)

In the case of Richmond Rochester of New York, vs. Miles E. Agar, Mr. Justice Laundy this morning gave a verdict for the plaintiff for $6 with no costs. The original claim was for about $2,343 for rope sold to the defendant by the plaintiff. About $1,883.47 of this amount was not disputed, and was paid over to the plaintiff. For the balance of the amount a set off was claimed, including $23.75 for alleged shortage in the quantity of rope received, and $683.78 the amount of a debt due Rochester, wife of Geo. McHenry, and sister of John E. McDonald, asking for the appointment of a guardian of the estate of the latter. The petition was filed in the McHenry Hospital in Waverley, Mass. The estate is valued at about $80,000.

Some very interesting developments will arise out of this case, as several conveyances made by John E. McDonald, husband of the plaintiff, signed by him, while insane, and probably after he had been adjudged a lunatic, are being brought forward. It is expected that the case will be decided by the court.

Before Mr. Justice McLeod in Chancery this morning, a summons was returned in the matter of John E. McDonald, lunatic, not so found, but adjournment was made until next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The case will be to consider an application of John A. Barry, appearing for the petitioner, Isabella McHenry, wife of Geo. McHenry, and sister of John E. McDonald, asking for the appointment of a guardian of the estate of the latter. The petition was filed in the McHenry Hospital in Waverley, Mass. The estate is valued at about $80,000.

German Citizens Were Victims of Mexican Rebels

Not Americans as Before Supposed—Report Will be Made to German Ambassador

(Canadian Press)

Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 2.—John Hertling and Guido Shubert, the men hanged at Montevista, east of Kansas, Sonora, about a week ago, but whose bodies were not found until Tuesday, were natives of Germany, and subjects of that country, though Hertling had taken out his original citizenship papers in the United States. It is believed that the bodies were found by a party of Americans, who were hunting for the bodies of the two men.

"Whitney Jack" Lewis Captured by New York Police at Fleischman

Gangsters Attempt Rescue—Declares He Can Prove an Alibi—Search Continued—One of Suspects May be in Montreal

(Canadian Press)

New York, Aug. 2.—"Whitney Jack" Lewis, one of Big Jack Kelly's gun men, and of the four men accused of shooting down the gambler Herman Rosenthal, was given a third degree grilling today, to plan further information that would supply corroborative of the confession of "Big" Jack Rose, Harry Valon, and "Bridge" Weber, that Police Lieut. Becker sought the death of Rosenthal.

Lewis, whose real name is Frank Senden, was picked up yesterday on the station platform at Fleischman, N. Y., just as he was about to take a train for the west. He was taken to Kingston and brought to this city this morning. The trip was without incident until the train drew into the terminal. There a band of six or seven East Side gangsters, leaped over the gate separating the platform from the tracks, and started toward the train. Suddenly their eyes fell upon several headquarters detectives who had been sent across the river and the gangsters quickly backed into the station. No move was made to rescue the prisoner who was quickly taken to headquarters. There he was locked up to await the arrival of Police Commissioners Waldo and Dougherty. Lewis said that he was on the point of giving himself up as he heard the police wanted him. He would not say where he had been in hiding. The gunmen declared that he could and would prove an alibi. He did not tell where he was. He would not say what he was doing at Fleischman, but reiterated that he was stopping at a "respectable place," and with "respectable people." Police officials at the station noted that he appeared to be a well-dressed man. Two of three detectives in the Lewis arrest remained behind. It is thought they are on the trail of other gunmen wanted in the case. The two other gunmen wanted are Harry Horowitz, otherwise "Gib the Blood," and "Lefty" Lewis. Lefty Lewis is said to have been in Boston Wednesday and later in Montreal.

Some very interesting developments will arise out of this case, as several conveyances made by John E. McDonald, husband of the plaintiff, signed by him, while insane, and probably after he had been adjudged a lunatic, are being brought forward. NO CHANGE FOR CUPID ON CHICAGO WIRES

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Don't tell the hello girl you like her rules. Don't ask her what color her eyes are. Don't purr "sweet nothings" at her. Don't try to start anything. Because: She can only answer out of a phrase book. She is officially forbidden to flirt. She officially has no name, just a number. She will put the chief operator, after you. A telephone girl has nothing to do but work. First the company prohibited peckish wains, heavy clothes and the like. Now comes the order that forbids the "central girl" from flirting on the wires, even just a tiny bit. The Chicago Telegram.

DRINK HABIT CURED IN THREE DAYS

AT NEAL INSTITUTE, 46 Crown Street

HIBERNIAN OFFICIAL

National Director Ancient Order Hibernians and President of the Order in Ontario Endorses This Treatment.

"I KNOW IT TO BE A SUCCESS."

In an open letter to the public, he says:

"The Neal Treatment for the liquor habit has been given to a number of people with whom I am acquainted. I have had every opportunity of judging of its effectiveness, and from the results attending the treatment, I know it to be a success."

A strong terse statement like the above, coming from a man who is well known to all Hibernians in Canada, must carry with it great weight in removing skepticism and inspiring public confidence in the Neal Treatment, for it does take from the drinker all inclination to drink, all craving, desire and appetite for liquor, in three days, transforming the former drinker into a sober and respected citizen, to the joy of his relatives, friends and acquaintances. The drinker is a new man; his desire for liquor gone, his nerves are steady, skin clear, eyes bright, step elastic, and he is himself again, and he has something in life to live for, new hope, new aspirations.

The St. John Neal Institute, 46 Crown street, corner King and Crown streets, affords the comforts of a refined home for all of its patients while under treatment. Their meals are served them in the privacy of their rooms. They are constantly attended by a physician and nurse. The very short time required to complete the treatment, only three days, especially appeals to the business and professional man and mechanic, because of the great saving in time. Those interested should call on or write B. L. Stevens, manager, "Phone No. 1685.

Unpleasant Experience of British M. P.—Unsettled Because of His Mother's Garden Party—African Prince Now Porter in Paris

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company)

Lord Clifden's eldest son, and heir to his great wealth, the Hon. Thomas Agar-Robartes, Liberal Member of Parliament for the St. Austell Division of Cornwall, who is due in New York today on board the Cunarder Lusitania, was the victim some years ago of the extraordinary severity of the laws of England dealing with political bribery and corruption.

In 1906 he had been elected by a large majority for the Bodmin Division of Cornwall. Unfortunately, while the electoral campaign was in progress, his mother, Viscountess Clifden, gave a garden party at Lambeth, her place in Cornwall, in connection with Lord Clifden's presidency of the Liberal Association of the County, in which his estates extend over an area of some 70,000 acres. The garden party was a great success, but the decision of the election was lost to the defeated Unionist candidate, and a petition against the election was presented to the House of Commons for the purpose of annulling the election. Lord Clifden and his friends and agents had rendered themselves guilty of violation of the anti-bribery statutes with regard to parliamentary elections.

The matter was brought into court, and tried in the usual manner before the Supreme Court judges, sitting at Bowdoin, and resulted in a decree annulling the return of the Hon. Thomas Agar-Robartes to a new election; since Lady Clifden, by giving her garden party, had violated that section of the anti-bribery law which strictly prohibits "treating" in parliamentary campaigns. This law runs as follows: "Any person who either himself or by proxy, either before, during, or after the election, directly or indirectly gives, provides or pays for either wholly or in part, any meat, drink, entertainment or provision to or for persons entitled to vote, and also, 'And any person who accepts such meat, drink, entertainment or provision, or the equivalent thereof, shall be held guilty of bribery.'"

The decision against Agar-Robartes, in addition to depriving him of the seat in parliament, rebuffed him from being elected to the House of Commons for the constituency in question, that is, the Bodmin Division, where his home and the greater part of his father's landed property is situated. Lord Clifden, who is a charming woman, and who certainly never had any idea of rendering herself guilty of "treating," was subpoenaed in the case, compelled to testify in court and made to feel that her garden party had been a serious matter.

Two years later Tom Agar-Robartes was elected to the House of Commons for the St. Austell Division of Cornwall. Lord Clifden, in addition to his Cornish estates, has a large estate in the County of Devon, which is the most valuable in Great Britain, extending for miles under the sea, and is a great landowner in Cambridge, of which county he is the Lord of the Manor. The Agar-Robartes family has been the subject of much bad blood between him and some of the most influential members of the English aristocracy, especially that portion of it which is connected with the court, where the viscount was for similar reasons viewed with disfavor during the last two reigns.

The fact is that Lord Clifden, who, in those days, sat in the House of Lords as Lord Robartes, acquired, by purchase, a mortgage on the Wimpole Hall estate of his kinsman, the fifth Earl of Hardwicke, comprising the property and his ancestral home, with its glorious avenue three miles long, of elms hundreds of years old. It is claimed that Lord Robartes suddenly became so acute that Lord Clifden made a futile effort to secure his wife's arrest on a charge of kidnapping their son. At the time of their marriage Lord Clifden had yielded to his bride's entreaties, and had promised that all the children born of the union should be brought up in the Roman Catholic church, to which she belonged. When later on the couple separated, Lord Clifden considered himself released from the agreement, and insisted on a reversal of the stipulation. The dispute was carried into court, where it was decided on appeal that in England a father has the supreme right to control the religion of his children while minors and that no private agreements in the matter are recognized by law.

Still, as a compromise, one of Lady Clifden's daughters, Harriet, known in London society as "Ducky" Ellis, remained with her mother, and was brought up as a Roman Catholic, while the other daughter and the son, although both of them Roman Catholics, were brought up by their father as members of the Established Church. Both children prior to their father, while "Ducky" Ellis made a secret and runaway marriage with Captain Granville Knox, a member of the King's Royal Rifles, a member of that Scotch house of Knox of which Lord Ransford is the chief, and to which John Knox Beaufort belonged, and, as might be expected, a Protestant. Having but little money, the Hon. Mrs. Granville Knox, who then had heard of her, had set up in business in Dublin as the owner and manager of a handsome establishment and restaurant. Her mother, the Dowager Viscountess, likewise kept a millinery store under her own name in London, resolved as she was not to accept a penny piece of her husband's money, of which he, it may be added, had but little, his nephew and predecessor in the title having left all the

The Anecdote Bore

By RUTH CAMERO

TO be able to tell an interesting anecdote in a clever way, or, better still, to know how to make a commonplace happening interesting by one's manner of telling it, is one of the greatest of conversational gifts. But to crowd one's conversation with anecdotes is as great a conversational mistake—especially when one does not have a knack of telling them.

Anecdotes ought to be the trimming of conversation, not its warp and woof. And just as we like to see a gown garnished and embroidered here and there, but do not like to see it over-ornamented, so we tire of the talker whose conversation is all trimming.

Furthermore, there are certain kinds of anecdotes which never ought to be included on a long-suffering public. For instance, there is the narrative whose chief element of interest lies in a knowledge of the people involved; to tell such a story which would be howlingly funny to a group of newspaper men, and then have the story in an unknown language and accused them of lacking a sense of humor for not laughing. Unfamiliar terms and technicalities spoil the best story. Explained, they break the march of the story; unexplained, they make it incomprehensible.

And yet, there are people who think to divert their friends by telling them such anecdotes in which every other word is either the name of some unknown person or an explanation in regard to one.

Similar to these narratives are anecdotes requiring for their comprehension a knowledge of some trade, profession or story which would be howlingly funny to a group of newspaper men, and then have the story in an unknown language and accused them of lacking a sense of humor for not laughing. Unfamiliar terms and technicalities spoil the best story. Explained, they break the march of the story; unexplained, they make it incomprehensible.

The worst bore of all in the story-telling line is the person who has read an interesting story or attended an absorbing play and tries to tell you about it. Perhaps one man in ten thousand can give a fairly clear synopsis of a story. And at best it is a rather pale and warmed-over thing to hear the story of a story. But to hear it turned upside down, distorted, cross-crossed with explanations and re-explanations like an old-fashioned letter, as the average man does it, is well, it is commensurate with yourself and you retire into the recesses of your own mind, to cease and you know it is time for you to say: "Isn't that interesting?"

Like this is about as rare as the man or woman who will really listen and try to understand a thing while it's better not to attempt it. For that makes nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine out of ten who are not the gifted "raconteurs" and the same number that he is not the gifted listener. Rather heavy odds, don't you think?

property he could alienate therefrom to his sister, wife of Lord Annull.

Some fifteen years ago the French General of Division Dodo, the mulatto son of an English trader in Senegal, and of a native woman, added the great African kingdom of Dahomey, so famous for its army of Amazons, to France's possessions in the Dark Continent. The conquered kingdom was shipped off with a selection of wives to the Isle de Reunion, where he eventually died. His eldest son, Prince King Behanzin, by reason of his frightful cruelties, was shipped off with a selection of wives to the Isle de Reunion, where he eventually died. His eldest son, Prince King Behanzin, by reason of his frightful cruelties, was shipped off with a selection of wives to the Isle de Reunion, where he eventually died.

He retired on account of three bad wounds, with the rank of Sergeant Major, and a military pension of $180 a year. This was not enough for an inveterate soldier, and still less so for a prince, who had been heir to a native throne. Influential people championed his cause, but he was unable to secure any additional allowance from the government, and today, after having been in the light of a soldier, a chauffeur, and a street laborer, he has found a job as "chauffeur" or porter of a Paris restaurant, where he operates a close the doors of the motor cars and manages the baggage, actresses, etc., who patronize the place. The ex-emperor of Madagascar, the ex-emperor of Annam, and the Arab chief Abd-el-Kader, received similar generous treatment at the hands of the French government.

Mended Her Spine With Wire

New York, Aug. 2.—Mrs. Mary Mariano of No. 19 Orchard street, Orange, N. J., who is in the Orange Memorial Hospital, broke her spine more than two months ago in a fall downstairs. Instead of using a plaster cast, usually resorted to when a spine is fractured, Dr. Edward Calvin Seibert performed an unusual operation by reinforcing the fractured vertebrae with fine wire. The surgeons who are watching the case said yesterday the nerves were regenerating and that Mrs. Mariano was able to move her legs and feet. Her recovery is now almost complete.

A little girl three years old stopped a policeman in New York city last week and informed him that she was lost. The policeman took her to the Station House, where she showed him a tag inside her dress at the neck. The tag set forth that she was Sarah Ketter of 238 East 102nd street. She gets lost frequently, but the tag always finds her again. Her parents were found.

Illinois Cow a "Fence"

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 2—Three weeks ago a small box of jewelry was stolen from the home of Miss Josephine Schultze, of No. 417 Blackman Avenue, this city. Today it was found in the stomach of a cow, which was kept to an abattoir here from a farm eight miles from Joliet. No clue has been found to trace the journey of the jewelry from the Schultzes house to the farm.

The articles found in the stomach of the animal are two brooches, one diamond ring, a bracelet and a woman's gold watch. They were returned to Miss Schultze.

THE NATIONAL SPIRIT

The great heroine, Signor Foll, when singing in grand opera in his native city, Cork, had to sing one of his songs from a stage balcony. The arrangements were not very perfect, and the manager, fearing the carpenter had not made the balcony strong enough to sustain the weight of the big man, told off two assistants to hold it up from beneath. The lengthy Signor was only half through his song when one man said to the other:

"He japers, Moike, this Oitlan is mighty heavy!"

"Let's drop him, Pat, he's only an Oitlan, either all!"

Voice from the Signor above: "Will ye, ye divil, will ye?"

"Fare-an'-ous! Pat, but he's an Oitlan!"

WHY THESE FOREBODINGS?

Years ago, when the Canadian Pacific had extended its line to St. John, there were persons in this city who repeatedly asserted that western trade would not come to this port, but go to Portland and Boston. They objected to large expenditures to attract trade that would not come. But the expenditure was made and the trade came. At a more recent period these same persons made merry over the suggestion that the Grand Trunk Pacific would ever do any business here, or that Courtenay Bay would be converted into a harbor. But the Grand Trunk Pacific has secured the site for its terminals, and the explorations at the site of the great Courtenay Bay harbor works disturb the dreams of the false prophets. Now, however, there is a new cause for protest. It is proposed to reclaim ninety acres below the Ballast Wharf, on an area which could never be used in any other way, and make there an ideal site for large manufacturing industries. The sea-eyed pessimists protest once more, and see in the project only a wild-cat scheme that should be suppressed. Having in mind the facts of local history the average citizen will not be disturbed by these forebodings. St. John has awakened to a knowledge of her opportunities and prospects, and will not be denied.

CONCERNING MR. BORDEN

The Standard fears that the Times is losing some of the joy of life through its inability to discover in Mr. Borden the savior of the Empire. In reality this journal is able to make a distinction. It is not to Mr. Borden the people of England are paying compliment, but to Canada, the country he represents. Mr. Borden has really proved a disappointment. His speeches will not build Dreadnoughts, nor solve the naval problem. Behind him and over him looms the shadow of Henri Bourassa.

It is quite useless for the Tory press to keep up its pretence of superior patriotism and exalted devotion to the best interests of the Empire. A party which could stoop to stir up racial and religious prejudice in one portion of the Empire, to the end that it might secure the spoils of office, should be the last party to boast about itself, its achievements, or its aims and purposes. Canada for years to come will be a less united country because of the inflammatory appeals made by or with the full approval of the man who placed Mr. Borden at the head of the government. To say that to such a leader and such a party naturally belongs the task of drawing an Empire into closer relationship is to overlook the credulity of the people. Now can it be overlooked that this same leader and party did their utmost to estrange Canada's nearest neighbor and the Empire's most desired ally in any great crisis in world-politics. Paris is a long way from Canada and the markets of France are limited, while a language foreign to most Canadians is a bar to business. But Washington is within easy reach, and the market of the United States is enormous and at our doors, and the people speak our own language and share our traditions.

Which is the better friend of the Empire—he who estranges the United States and cultivates France, or he who seeks more friendly relations between the Empire and the American republic, leaving the mother country, for example, to preserve the friendship of her neighbor, France?

CO-OPERATION

The co-operative telephone company is helping the Ontario farmer to solve his problems. The Toronto Weekly Globe draws a picture of a Mariposa farmer and his wife, weary after a hard day's work, thinking of their daughter in Toronto, whose usual letter had not been received that day. They called on the long distance telephone, and in less than ten minutes were chatting with her, and the sense of isolation and of separation fell away from both.

With two or three exceptions all the farmers in Mariposa township have connection with a rural telephone line which they own, and which gives them connection with the Bell Company's long distance lines. The Globe's description of the system and its benefits is worth quoting in full—

"And not in Mariposa only, but within a radius of fifteen miles around Lindsay the farmers of Victoria county are linked to each other and to the world at large by magic wires. By these wires the farmer transacts business. He arranges for getting help from his neighbors in harvesting his crops. He calls up the impatient agent in town when he wants to know how to put a machine together. He lets the live stock buyer know how many calves and hogs he will sell this week. His wife and daughters hold long gossiping conversations with the neighbors and arrange details for church socials and other pending events just like city folks.

"The farmer has a decided advantage over the city man in the matter of telephoning. They cost him less both to install and to maintain. There is no trouble between subscribers and shareholders or directors, because the subscribers are the shareholders and the directors. Most of the local telephone companies are co-operative companies organized by the farmers among themselves and for their own benefit, and not with the idea of paying dividends to shareholders.

"There are about two hundred telephones on the several lines radiating from Lindsay, and the central switch-board is in a house in the village. Each farmer installs his own instrument at a cost varying from $20 to $30, according to the length of wire and the number of poles necessary to reach his house. After that, the average subscription cost is from $2 to $10 per annum. It seldom reaches the higher figure. The regular subscription charge is $2 per annum to cover the cost of operation. Each farmer pays his share of maintenance and keeps his own telephone in repair. If there is anything left over at the end of the year it goes into a contingent fund.

"They all have connection with the Bell Telephone Company, and so can get long-distance connection with any point in the province. In cases where a long-distance message originates outside, the co-operative company charges nothing for the use of the line. In this regard the farmer figures it out that if anyone outside wants to speak to him it is usually as much to his advantage as it is to the other fellow's, and accordingly he sees no reason for charging a toll.

"Around Lindsay there are such telephones as these in operation at Little Britain, Oakwood, Cambray, Fenelon Falls, Dunford and several of the villages farther north. The movement for the organization of these co-operative companies was started about six years ago, and since then the number has been gradually growing until it has attained its present proportions, with about 1,200 rural local telephones through the county, as well as 100 rural telephones of the Bell Company. At the same time the farmers of the county have been securing the extension of the rural mail delivery system, and thus in another way are brought into closer touch with the outside world. It will be observed that the cost of the co-operative rural telephones is small. Co-operation will solve many problems for the farmer, and make farming more profitable as well as more desirable as an occupation.

The farmers this year must make hay when the sun doesn't shine.

The law regarding the carriage of hay on river steamers will be enforced. This is in the public interest.

When Mr. Winston Churchill comes to Canada he will desire to consult Sir Wilfrid Laurier as well as Mr. Borden. Naval affairs are of Imperial concern.

The announcement that France and Russia have formed a defensive and offensive alliance is one of much significance in the present state of European politics.

It is announced from London that the First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill, will visit Canada. He will receive a most cordial welcome from everybody but the Nationalist allies of Mr. Borden.

The citizens will pass a unanimous vote of thanks to the first factory owner who instructs his engineer not to wake the town with needless use of the steam whistle. The like would be true in the case of the owner of a tugboat.

The Toronto Globe says "All this talk of a 'contribution' for naval defence means that Canadians, being unwilling or unable to provide their own naval defence, are going to 'hire' British sailors to defend them. Why do we not demand our militia and give a 'contribution' for military defence also?"

Sir Edward Grey is no good reason for friction between Britain and Germany. He declares that a more friendly feeling is springing up between the two powers. Sir Edward Grey is not a man who speaks lightly of grave matters, and his words are therefore more reassuring than some we have lately heard.

SOMETHING HE HAD NOT SWALLOWED

Mr. M.—a gentleman passenger on an outward bound ocean liner from Southampton, recently, is said to have been the hero of the following episode. The steamer left port at noon with a light breeze and smooth water. Early in the afternoon Mr. M. chanced to enter into conversation with a young lady, who very soon made an impression on his somewhat susceptible organ of affection, and the hours passed pleasantly. About five o'clock the wind freshened, and white caps appeared on the hitherto calm sea. At this juncture the lady joined some friends, and Mr. M. was left to meditate alone. Not long after the shades of night had fallen, the lady was a good sailor, was strolling along the deck when she spied Mr. M. sitting in a steamer chair near the rail, gazing forthfully at the sea. "O, good evening," waiting for the moon to come up," she inquired in dulcet tones, in a luminous voice, her far-from-fading-comfortable chance acquaintance replied—"No, thank the Lord, I didn't swallow the moon."

IN LIGHTER VEIN

A SUMMER SECTENADE.

He sang to her under the window,
He told of the peaceful night;
He sang, "How serenely quiet
Is all 'neath the stars so bright!"
But just as he reached the strains
That ended with "silver moon,"
Her father appeared at the window,
And he instantly changed his tune.

DRAMATIC SNAP.

A number of players and playwrights at the Lamb's Club were discussing the question of what constitutes the "snap" so persistently demanded of the dramatist by the manager of today.

"I have talked to so many managers on this subject," said one writer, "but none has been able to give me any very definite notion as to just what 'snap' is."

"I can help you out," said Eugene Walter. "I have an idea for a one-act play that just bursts with 'snap.' I'll give it to you. Here it is:

"Enter to them a man with a suit-case and an umbrella. He is, of course, to all intents, husband unexpectedly returned.

"Husband no sooner takes in the situation than he yanks out a revolver and shoots both man and woman."

"Then he takes out his glasses, puts them on, looks about him, and suddenly gives a start."

"Merciful heavens!" he exclaims, "I'm on the wrong floor!"

THOSE GAMES WE LOSE.

I like the credit of the night attack,
When ash and horsehide meet;
When feldiers dive for the crashing drive
That bounds on past their feet.

I like the fun when fast players run
Around the sacks at will,
And slide cross the plate where others wait
To lean against the pill.

I like it all, every strike and ball,
Unseen, the credit of the night attack,
It's the other side that turns the tide
And "hits 'em where they ain't."

—August Lippincott's.

SHOULD HE?

During a discussion of the fitness of things in general, some one asked, "If a young man takes his best girl to the grand opera, spends eight dollars on a supper after the performance, and then takes her home in a taxiab, should he kiss her good-night?"

An old bachelor who was present growled, "I don't think she ought to expect it. Seems to me he has done enough for her."

—August Lippincott's.

One of a party left his corner seat in an already crowded railway carriage to go in search of something to eat, leaving a bag to reserve his place. Returning, he found that, in spite of the bag and the protests of his fellow passengers, the seat had been snatched by a well-dressed woman. With feeling eyes she turned upon him:

"Do you know, sir, that I am one of the director's wives?"

"Madam," he replied, "were you the director's only wife I should still protest."

Tram—Madam, can you help a poor man with a wife and eleven children at home?"

Housewife—Are you very needy?

Tramp—Needy—is no word for it, ma'am. I couldn't see the little ones suffer so I left them to ask the assistance of the charitable.

Housewife—Did you leave home today?

Tramp—No, ma'am; it will be seven years tomorrow. Can't you help a man who wants to surprise his little ones?

—August Lippincott's.

MYSTERY CLEARED UP

The horse stolen by Amherst over a month ago, and for which the police of two provinces have been hunting ever since it disappeared, has been located. Constable W. E. McLeod discovered the animal at Chas. Pabst's Millstream, yesterday. Mr. Pabst was the innocent victim of a horse trade, and it was his horse that was found a few days ago in St. John. Mr. Pabst gave him and will be out that much. Mr. McLeod got his clue a few days ago, and by clever work was able to get possession of the missing animal, which is now at his stables on Church Avenue. The mare is a good rider and was highly valued by its Amherst owner. The man who stole the horse has left Canada. —Sunset Record.

The oldest actor who ever appeared on the stage was Charles Macklin, who presented Shylock in 1789 at Covent Garden when past his hundredth birthday.

MARKET SQUARE AND KING STREETHANDSOMEST COUPLE IN
ALL LONDONThe Marquis of Anglesey and Lady Marjorie Manners
So Described

RECENTLY BETROTHED

Despite Extravagance of Predecessor Marquis Has $400,000 a Year — Romantic Rumors Coupled Names of Both With Connahs

(Times Special Correspondence.)

London, July 20.—It was from Paris, where the young Marquis of Anglesey was spending a few days, that the recent announcement of his engagement to Lady Marjorie Manners was made, but the rich and handsome young peer is back in London now, and with his pretty fiancée is enjoying what undoubtedly is the happiest time of their lives. They are being seen everywhere, at balls, at the theatre, at garden parties, and at the old-time "housewifery" that are being held at Earl's Court in connection with "Shakespeare's England"—and always in each other's company. Their first public appearance as prospective man and wife was made this week when Lady Marjorie accompanied her young husband-to-be to the town of Burton-on-Trent, (where the ale comes from), of the greater part of which he is ground landlord and whose mayor he is, and there the happy pair got a great reception.

Barring the fact that Lady Marjorie is a couple of years older than the marquis—she is 29 and he 27—the match is quite an ideal one. Both the young couple have the bluest of blue blood in their veins. Lady Marjorie, who is the eldest of the three comely daughters of the Duke of Rutland, is a direct descendant of that heroine of novels and playwrights, Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall, and Lord Anglesey is the head of the historic house of Paget, and numbers among his forebears the fiery old warrior, Lord Uxbridge, who led the cavalry charges at Waterloo, and was shot in the leg so badly that it had to be cut off. A month later he was created Marquis of Anglesey by the Prince Regent. His young descendant, whom many people consider the handsomest man in the peerage, is rich enough for all practical purposes, but still has to work, for the Marquis's income is $400,000 a year. This property, by the way, has been in the possession of the Pagets for centuries. The Marquis's father, Lord Uxbridge, was broken up by Henry the Eighth. Besides it he owns Beau Desert, a beautiful old place in the Marais district of Newydd on the Menai Straits, residences, however, which have been robbed of many of their finest relics through the ravages of time. The Marquis's mother, Lady Marjorie, is a daughter of the late Marquis, who had more clothes than even Hannibal, including a "pinkish green" dress, valued by himself, and who enjoyed appearing in pantomimes of his own composition, glittering with diamonds. Lord Uxbridge, the present Marquis's father, was a member of parliament. At present Lord Anglesey has a sumptuous furnished flat off Bond street, but probably will give this up as soon as he is married. He was educated at Eton and Sandhurst and served for a while in the Royal Guards.

Lady Marjorie is one of the handsomest girls in London and if she were on the regular stage instead of being a really first rate amateur actress, it is likely that as many post card likeliness of her would be sold as there are of the famous Phyllis Dare. Prince Arthur of Connaught is said to have fallen head over heels in love with a picture of Lady Marjorie in one of the London Times. This is one of three odd coincidences in connection with the Anglesey-Manners engagement. The Marquis of Anglesey is said to have inspired a similar devotion in the breast of the Princess Patricia of Connaught, Prince Arthur's sister.

Lady Marjorie is fairly tall, though only slightly higher than her betrothed, who is as famous for his inches as for his good looks. She has a wealth of dark hair, a beautiful skin, and eyes that have made many a masculine heart beat faster. Incidentally she is one of the best dressed girls in London, and can talk almost as well as her talented mother, who was one of the most brilliant members of the society of "Society," of which the present Mrs. Anguish, the original of "Dorothy" and the Right Hon. Arthur Balfour were members.

GETTING AMERICAN CAPITAL. At a meeting of the shareholders in the Pigeon Fertilizer Company, at Windsor, N. S., held on Monday, July 15, it was unanimously resolved to accept the offer of the Consolidated Fertilizer Company, of Boston, to purchase and operate the plant of the company. Work has already been resumed and the plant enlarged. The town of Windsor has voted to ask the legislature for power to exempt the new company from taxation over and above $8,000 for a period of 20 years. The town also voted to supply the company with water at the rate of 80¢ per year. The new power plant will be installed. More land has been acquired. The company will spend from $20,000 to $60,000 this fall in plant alone.

A man in Cleveland, O., paid his last instalment last week on a $6 fine which he was ordered to pay for violating the speed laws on a motorcycle. He was arrested and brought into court nearly a year ago. He was unable to pay the $6 fine at the time, so the judge kindly arranged for him to pay it at the rate of ten cents a week.

Professor W. R. Graham of Ontario in England—Co-operative Schemes Engage His Attention

(From a Staff Correspondent)

London, July 20.—Professor W. R. Graham, of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ontario, has just arrived in London. He is here to attend the meeting of the International Association of Poultry Instructors, which opens next week, to study the co-operative schemes in regard to poultry and products in England, Ireland, Scotland and Denmark, and to survey, generally, the agricultural conditions in these countries.

In Ireland, he finds that the practice of instructing farmers is on the increase. As far as poultry is concerned, the instructor practically holds short courses in the evenings, and gives individual instruction on the farms. As far as he can gather, this method of instruction is thoroughly satisfactory, and the visible result is that most of the poultry on Irish farms are uniform and well-bred. The co-operative movement, too, seems to have a strong hold, and is fairly successful.

In Scotland, the schemes for agricultural education and co-operation are on similar lines to those in Ireland, but the movement has not been in operation long enough to arrive at full development, so that at the present time the degree of progress cannot be accurately ascertained, not can an opinion be offered as to its permanency.

In England, Professor Graham finds that the working of the co-operative movement among farmers is very difficult, and finds the reason for this to be the excellent markets that are actually at the producer's door, and the demand which appears to be unlimited.

"These conditions," says Professor Graham, "make co-operation unnecessary, but they show what a big market there is in Great Britain for poultry and products. I find that, in general, poultry-keeping here is conducted on practically the same lines as it is in Canada; and in many cases is looked on as a distinct branch of farming, and not as a side line."

During his visit here, Professor Graham has visited the largest poultry establishments. At the International Association of Poultry Instructors, he is on the committee, and is scheduled to outline what is done in Canada. Members of the committee will be tendered a reception by the Marchioness of Salisbury, and a dinner by Lord Lucas. Next week they visit Lord Rotschild's poultry farm at Fring, which is in the centre of the Aylesbury duck district; and after the meetings are over, will take a motor-car excursion to the large poultry-breeding establishments and farms in Kent.

The Maldiva archipelago, lying in the Indian Ocean several hundred miles south-west of the southern point of Hindustan, is inhabited, but it rarely sees visitors from the civilized world. There are as many as 14,000 islands in this archipelago and all are composed of coral rock. Few of them rise more than seven or eight feet above sea level, though they contain coconut nut palms and other forms of vegetation.

PAUL GILMORE SCORES
SUCCESS IN "THE HAVOC"

Plot Unconventional and of Gripping Interest—Supporting Company Few in Number, But of Satisfying Merit

In an interesting three-act dramatic production entitled "The Havoc," Paul Gilmore was welcomed back to St. John last night at the Opera House by a very good sized audience, who showed appreciation of the performance and were generous in their applause at deserving moments.

The play calls for some very clever acting, and is replete with gripping situations, and every opportunity presented in this regard was thoroughly mastered by Mr. Gilmore and his supporting company of three members, two men and a woman.

The theme of the piece is rather far-fetched and unappealing to the lovers of the being domestic infidelity, and the philosophical scheming of a supposed friend whose underhand cunning so utterly fails to impress the audience as to warrant a home and the lives of at least two persons.

But it is the carrying out of the main idea, the resignation of the husband to the situation, his co-operation with his false friend, and his wife in trying to care for their happiness, his helping her secure a divorce, and his making a home with them as a boarder, that the piece seems unconventional, so vastly different from the ordinary and expected aftermath of such circumstances. And while the scenes seem to be approaching one objective looked for as a finale, it is again unexpected that the present itself in the triangular situation which arises from the position of the wife, and these two themes.

"The Havoc" affords a chance for three people to display their merit, and Mr. Gilmore, Mr. Band and Miss Perry last night easily fulfilled the requirements of their roles. Mr. Gilmore was the trusting husband attending more to business than to his domestic needs, and in reality aiding his wife and her lover to their own damnation. He played his role with animation and gave a splendid rendering, being frequently applauded for his clever handling of a trying scene. Miss Perry made a fine impression as the wife, a part somewhat repulsive but, as played by her, seeming to demand more of sympathy than scorn. She has an attractive stage appearance, a pleasing voice, and in her acting was at all times equal to the demands upon her. Of Mr. Band it may well be said that he gave a finished performance. He had a distasteful, although exacting, role, and he acted it in a thoroughly efficient manner. Wm. Devere appeared in a minor role in the last act.

The play is to be continued for the remainder of the week and should meet with success, as it is most interesting in story and enactment, and as the players presenting it are each thoroughly at home and highly proficient in their parts. A notice is to be given on Saturday.

RECENT DEATHS

At the age of seventy-four years, Mrs. Agnes Palmer, wife of Caleb R. Palmer, died yesterday at her home in Duke street. Mrs. Palmer was formerly Miss Murray, of Kings county. For many years she lived in Moncton, where her husband was a prominent I. C. R. official. They had been living in this city about two years. Mrs. Palmer is survived by her husband, for whom there will be much sympathy. The body will be taken to Penobscot.

The remains of Robert Starrett, who died in Butte, Montana, are expected to arrive at Woodstock on Saturday next. The deceased expected to return to New Brunswick on a visit this summer. He had been away about twenty-five years. His son Guy is accompanying his father's body home.

Mrs. Caleb R. Palmer died yesterday at 175 Duke street after an illness of several months. For a number of years she was a resident of Dorchester, and later she lived in Moncton. She was in her 74th year, and is survived by her husband and two sisters. The sisters are: Mrs. Thomas Pearson, of Parranville, and Mrs. T. H. Pearson of Highfield. The funeral will take place Saturday at Penobscot on the arrival of No. 2 train. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Flanders and Rev. T. J. Dehadt.

SCOTIA HAS

OF NORTH AMERICA

(Hants Journal.)

On the farm of Joseph A. Kinsman, near Lakeville, in Nova Scotia, stands the champion apple tree of North America, now 113 years old, still healthy and productive. It grows on a hillside, the base of a ravine that makes down from the North Mountain, in which a small stream of water runs, the roots extending into the stream. The trunk of the tree is nearly as thick as a man's arm, and begins to branch out about six feet from the ground, and the branches have a spread of over eighty feet. The tree was grafted on a Gravenstein about forty years ago. It bears only on alternate years, as a rule, but in some "off" years it has four or

For a considerable period Mr. Kinsman kept a record of its yield, but this has not been continued in recent years. However, it is now producing almost as large crops as it did in the years given below when records were kept.

In 1878 it produced fifteen barrels of saleable fruit; in 1880, eighteen barrels; in 1882, twenty-one barrels; in 1884, twenty barrels; in 1886, twenty-one barrels; in 1888, twenty-three barrels; in 1890, twenty barrels; in 1892, twenty-one barrels; in 1894, twenty-six barrels; in 1896, twenty-seven barrels; in 1898, twenty-two barrels, making a total of 234 barrels which, at $2 a barrel, were worth $468.

Mr. Kinsman kept no account of the apples that dropped during those seasons, nor did he of the loss in picking, which is very great, owing to the top being nearly fifty feet high on one side, in consequence of its position on the side of the bank. In 1896 he should have had over thirty barrels if it had not been for an accident in the breaking of a large

TURKISH
IN REVOLT

Seek Overthrow of Existing Government and Return
To Old Regime

A BIG ORGANIZATION

Known as "Association for Defence of Fatherland" — Allied With Albanian Movement—In Touch With Sherif Pasha

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—The secret committee, under the name of the "Association for the Defence of the Fatherland," was formed at Monastir by some leading officers of the Ottoman Army, of which Lieutenant Suley Bey, was the originator, has attained extensive proportions. It includes a large number of distinguished persons, such as Commander Taky, in whom the government had, only a short time ago, the fullest confidence. Those who become members are sworn to an oath that they will always keep secret the tenets and plans of procedure of the organization.

The chief object of the association is to create discord among the members of the Union and Progress party, and to bring about its overthrow. At present it possesses a number of associates who formerly belonged to this party. To gain a stronger basis and a better field for its operations it used to send out its emissaries to various parts of Macedonia and Albania in order to recruit there as many partisans as possible. These emissaries came into touch with the leaders of the Albanian movement and both soon succeeded in combining their forces in order to proceed more vigorously against the government.

Frequently the secret association has recourse to violent measures. Thus it ordered, not long ago, the execution of several lieutenants who professed sympathy with the existing cabinet. Captain Hasan Isleri Bey was shot dead by Hadji Ali for the same reason. Not seldom its emissaries make desperate attempts to appeal to the religious fanaticism of the Moslems, scattering everywhere the false news that the government is abandoning the sacred Shariat and secretly selling the Fatherland to Christian Europe. It will be remembered that the same stratagems were used by the reactionaries soon after the establishment of the constitutional regime.

The association has created branches in a number of more or less important centres of Albania, such as Perisep, Debra, Ferisovic, &c. Every person who in any degree acts against its plans and programs runs the risk of assassination.

It is believed in Constantinople that the secret organization stands in direct communication with Sherif Pasha's committee in Paris. There is frequently active intercourse between the two, either by way of letters or through the emissaries of both camps. This Turk fled to the French capital soon after the deposition of Abdul Hamid, and he is now publishing pamphlets in favor of the "Red" Sultan.

The Ottoman government has decided to proceed in a most rigorous manner against the revolted officers.

GIRLS GO ON STRIKE

AS PROTEST AGAINST
USE OF PROFANITY

New York, Aug. 2.—Four hundred girls, members of the Dressmakers' Union, employed at a Brooklyn factory, are on strike today against the use of profanity by the foreman and other male employees of the shop.

The strikers hope to bring about a sense of decency for a rule that foremen and others be instructed that no profane or abusive language shall be used in the workrooms at any time, no matter what the provocation.

The largest railway station in the world, so far as area is concerned, is the New York city station of the Pennsylvania Railway Company, which has an area of twenty-eight acres followed by the Gare St. Lazare, Paris, with twenty-five, and Edinburgh Waverley, with twenty-three.

A Lazy Liver

Upsets the Whole System.
Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills
Put Things Right Again.

A bitter taste in the mouth—coated tongue—dizziness on rising suddenly—bowels alternately loose and constipated—these mean that the liver is out of order.

Instead of flowing into the bowels, to regulate them and aid digestion, the bile has been going all through the system, upsetting digestion, leaving the bowels constipated, and making the sufferer perfectly miserable. This is biliousness.

The quick, safe and certain cure is Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. They clear out the clogged-up system, stir up the lazy liver, cleanse the stomach and bowels and purify the blood. The bile returns to its normal course, the food is again digested properly and all the disagreeable symptoms vanish.

Doctors prescribe Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills and they are known throughout the world as a proven cure for all digestive troubles. They are equally effective in strengthening weak kidneys and curing rheumatism.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA WILL BE UNITED IN STRONG ALLIANCE

Paris, Aug. 1.—The Franco-Russian naval convention has reached a point verging on conclusion. The earlier convention between the two governments referred only to the army. With the signature of the new agreement the whole fighting forces of the allies will be brought within the terms of an offensive and defensive treaty of alliance.

The new bond is understood to have been completed with the exception of the signatures during the recent stay in Paris of Admiral Prince Delvigne, the head of the Russian naval staff.

It is believed that Premier Poincaré, whose departure for Russia has been fixed for August 4, will sign the new naval agreement during his visit to St. Petersburg.

DISCUSSED PROJECT FOR RECLAMATION WITH BOARD OF TRADE

The engineers of the Norton Griffiths Company, Ltd., who have been looking into the details in connection with the proposal to reclaim a part of the harbor and Courtenay Bay, as told in The Telegraph on Wednesday, met with a committee of the board of trade yesterday in connection with the project.

The cost of reclamation is an important feature of the work and the estimate of the engineers places the cost well within a million and a quarter dollars. The engineers have made an examination of the site of the proposed new land and told the members of the committee that no very great difficulty presented itself in carrying out the project and they believed that the work could be easily done, in fact the engineers seemed very enthusiastic about the scheme and they asked for more time in order to go more fully into the details.

H. C. Schofield, president of the board of trade, and last evening that he believed that the work would be done and that the engineers had made a more exhaustive examination of the site and conditions and reported, the council of the board of trade would endeavor to get the city to take the matter up. Failing in this, it was likely that the members of the board of trade would endeavor to finance the project themselves.

The reclamation would make about 90 acres available for industries and this would give room for the proposed sugar refinery and many other manufacturing plants. A particularly attractive feature would be that the industries there would have deep water at their doors.

at Nuremberg, Germany

Nuremberg, Germany, Aug. 1.—This large German national songfest ever held opened here yesterday with more than forty thousand singers from Germany, Austria, Russia, Roumania and the United States in attendance. Several hundred singing societies paraded today and tomorrow a chorus of sixteen thousand will sing. This city, which hardly expected such a crowd, is hard taxed to take care of its guests. The town halls and schools are being used as temporary sleeping quarters. The city has spent $100,000 on decorations alone. A specially built hall covers 8,000 square yards. The stage will hold 10,000 singers and an orchestra of 200, and there will be seats for a audience of 12,000 and standing room for 5,000 more.

The Duke Karl Edward of Coburg, Prince Alfonso and other members of the Royal family will take part in the functions. The occasion marks the fiftieth anniversary of the German songfest, which now numbers 6,800 societies with a membership of 700,000. The fest will close on Wednesday night.

The directors of the summer school work in Los Angeles plan to clear off the city's vacant lots and have the school children raise potatoes and other garden truck on them. Assistant Superintendent of Schools Bettinger estimates that even if only a part of the plan can be realized enough potatoes can be raised on vacant lots to supply nine-tenths of the city's requirements. Only the most up-to-date methods of scientific cultivation will be used.

FORTY FIREMEN WERE OVERCOME
IN MONTREAL FIRE

Montreal, Aug. 1.—Forty firemen, including numerous officers of the force, were overcome by ammonia fumes and by the clouds of smoke from the burning land and met during a fire which raged all afternoon in the premises of the Montreal Abattoir, Limited, on the bank of the canal in Point St. Charles.

Several recovered and resumed the fight to either the managers or the singers. A report just issued by the management of the Royal Opera at Dresden shows that 360,000 persons attended the opera last season, yet King Frederick had to go down in his pocket to make up a deficit of $200,000. Opera singers in the smaller cities are generally paid only $25 to $30 a night. In Berlin 1,200 concerts were given last season, of which only 150 at 500 barely covered expenses, while in 1,000 cases the artists had to foot bills of from $125 to $350 each. These latter are known here as "show window" concerts, as they are given by singers who desire a public rating and press criticism.

TURKEY FACES
FIERCE REBELLION

New York, Aug. 1.—A Constantinople cable says: Fierce fighting has occurred between Turkish troops and rebels at Scutari, Albania. Messages received here today say: "Thirty Turks were killed. The tribesmen lost heavily also."

London, Aug. 1.—A despatch from Constantinople this morning states that the Porte has been informed that a force of Bulgarians have determined to march on the Turkish capital the moment blood is shed in the conflicts between the rival Turkish political and military parties.

It is expected here that this threat will aid the Turks in settling their internal affairs. Fear is expressed, however, that the military leaders will stop at nothing in their desire to have the chamber dissolved and the country's affairs placed in their hands. Following the announcement this morning that the Turks and Albanians have fought a severe battle in Albania, it is reported that the Albanian tribesmen are marching on Uskub.

GRAND OPERA

Artists Have to Foot Their Own
Bills at Many German Concerts

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The Royal Opera season will begin here August 26 with "Der Meistersinger." Emil Paer will wield the baton on the opening night, inaugurating his directorship.

The financial outlook is not encouraging to either the managers or the singers. A report just issued by the management of the Royal Opera at Dresden shows that 360,000 persons attended the opera last season, yet King Frederick had to go down in his pocket to make up a deficit of $200,000. Opera singers in the smaller cities are generally paid only $25 to $30 a night. TO PROTECT
YOUNG PEOPLE IN LONDON

International Association Will Keep Eye on Boarding Houses

A SOURCE OF DANGER

Downfall of Youthful Visitors To Metropolis Leads to Organization—Will Be World-Wide

London, Aug. 1.—An international association for the housing of students and travellers, with branches in all the capital cities of the world, has just been launched, and is making good headway.

Mrs. Durant Rose, an American authoress, who during her stay in London, has been investigating the conditions of life among the less well-to-do visitors to the great Metropolis, is the originator of the scheme. She was interviewed shortly before she left on her way back to the United States.

"During my work at the British Museum and elsewhere," said Mrs. Rose, "I came across many American girl students who were simply drifting about London without any definite plan of action. Those of them who did not like to go to the different boarding-houses to another. Those who were imposed upon by the restrictions imposed were provided with no friends here, and of course at the mercy of the agencies they went to. And these agencies just give them the address that turn up first, and probably know nothing about the places they recommended. That is not as it should be, as the consequence is, too often, I am afraid, that girls get into very undesirable houses. I have myself come across cases in which a great deal of harm has been done in this way. Young men, too, run grave risks through the lack of anything like a list of recommended lodgings. I know, of course, that various excellent institutions, such as the Y. M. C. A., keep lists, but those who are not attending such institutions and do not wish to go to sectarian homes or hotels, as I said before, have no way of finding out what places are desirable and what are not."

Mrs. Rose then gave several well-vouched-for instances of young men and girls being ruined at so-called "boarding-houses."

"In brief," she continued, "the object of the association will be to make out a list of really respectable boarding-houses and lodgings in London, and, later, in other world-cities, which will be sold everywhere for a few cents. The Duchess of Marlborough, who is a strong supporter of the scheme, suggests that these lists should be displayed on all the steamers. Many of the Consuls and clergymen, too, will keep copies for the information of their less visitors."

We hope eventually to affiliate with the University lists and other college lists.

To appear on the list that we shall publish it will be necessary for a student to be recommended by at least two people who have stayed at her house. Those who over-work and underpay their servants won't stand much chance of seeing their names on our list. I know, please—this is by the way—where the Italian servants employed get $1.00 a week and have nowhere to sleep. Attention, too, will be paid to the sanitary conditions prevailing at a lodging-house or boarding-house which its proprietor desires to have recommended.

"We have received many promises of support, and among these who have expressed approval are the Duchess of Marlborough, Countess Mazoni, the Chancellor of the Italian Embassy, the United States Embassy, the Danish Ministry, the French Consulate, Mrs. Boyd Carpenter, wife of Bishop Boyd Carpenter, and Sir Henry Lunn. Seven out of the nine clergymen living in this locality—Bloomsbury—are also very interested in the plan, and are going to do their best to help it on."

THE NEAL THREE-DAY

The Neal Treatment consists of the administration of a perfectly harmless and purely vegetable medicine taken internally only and without any hypodermic injections.

The Neal Treatment and the methods of its administration are pronounced and recommended by all who have investigated, to be not only ethical and professional, but entirely satisfactory. The success and success of the Treatment in all cases has been demonstrated and proved by Doctor Neal who, during the past ten years, has successfully cured upwards of five thousand of bad cases of the drink habit without a single failure—each one in just three days' time.

The Neal Treatment is simple yet very effective. Doctor Neal, after many years of the most painstaking, professional and thorough study, experiment and investigation, has found and demonstrated that the drink habit instead of being a disease or an inherited affliction is due to the stored up poison in the system, coming from the continued and excessive use of alcohol.

After making this discovery and demonstration he found the antidote for alcoholic poison. The administration of this antidote results in the neutralization of the poison. This antidote neutralized, the poison is eliminated from the system, and the desire, appetite and craving for drink is at once destroyed or lost.

This is all accomplished in each case in from one to thirty-six hours, depending entirely upon the physical and mental condition of the patient. With this accomplished, nature aided by the recuperative and building-up treatment, soon asserts its power, and at the end of three days the patient returns to his home in a normal and healthy condition.

The Neal Cure is the most effective and safest ever dedicated to the cause of greater human happiness. There is a buoyant air in the "God-bless-you" which daily are showered upon Neal Institutes by men redeemed.

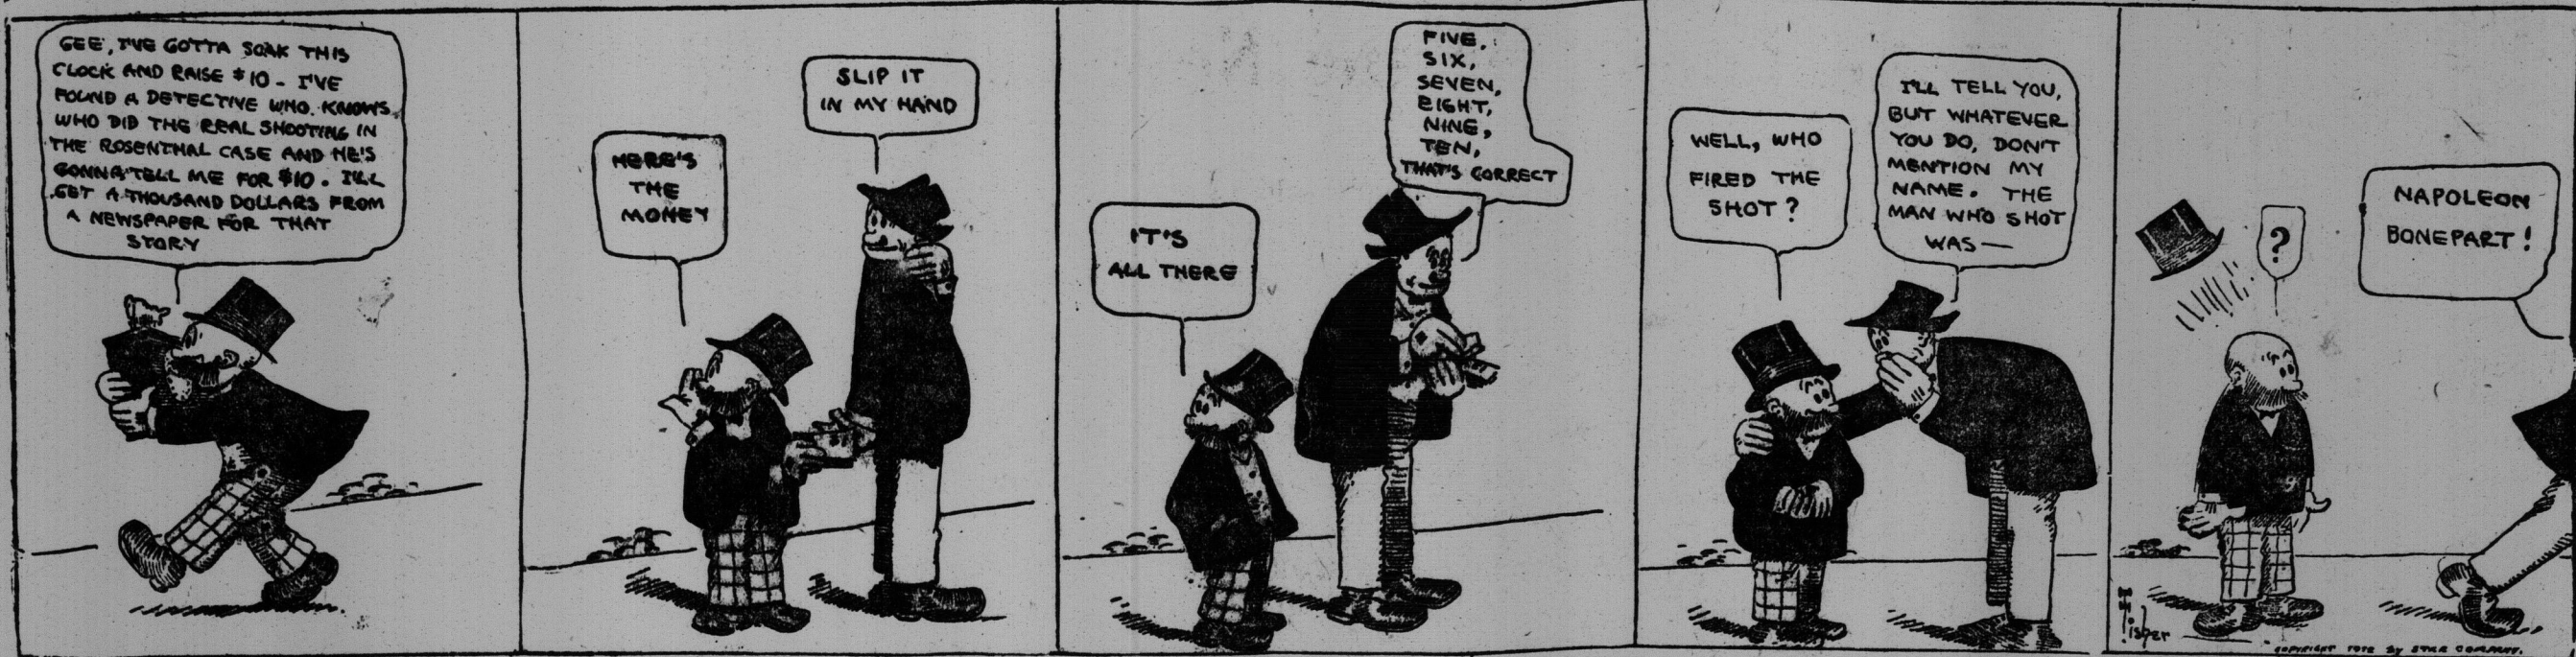

The Neal Institute, 46 Crown St., Cor. King and Crown. Phone 1685. B. L. Stevens, Manager.

Baseball
Both games in the N. B. and Maine Baseball League, scheduled for yesterday, were postponed on account of wet grounds. The Greeks went to Woodstock but did not play. They returned to the city last night, and if the weather is suitable they will meet the Houston Reds here this afternoon, and if the weather is suitable they will also play the Reds tomorrow. George Winter will probably do the pitching to-day.

Fielder's Record.
Flint, Mich., Aug. 2.—After playing 79 games without an error and accepting 138 chances, outfielder Billy Hunter of the Flint Southern Michigan club made his first mistake this week. Besides fielding perfectly, Hunter has been leading the league batters by a comfortable margin. He has played in every game this season. Hunter was sold to Cleveland a week ago.

King George Gives Cup.
New York, Aug. 2.—The New York Yacht Club received word from England that King George V. had presented a cup to the club to take the place of the cup presented by the late King Edward VII. The King Edward cup has been used for each year at the finish of the club's cruise off Newport. The new cup presented by King George is to take the place of the King Edward cup as a trophy. The King Edward cup will be retained by the club as a memorial.

American Y. C. Open Races.
Newburyport, Aug. 2.—The annual open races of the American Yacht Club will be held on Monday, August 5. The event has long been known as Newburyport day and attracts many yachtsmen from various places along the coast.

The Rifle Spanish Champion.
Bayonne, France, Aug. 2.—The championship of the world with a military rifle has been won by Captain Castro of Spain, who scored 596 points in the international tournament now in progress here. Captain F. W. Edy of the Ohio team, finished third, with 498 points. The Americans, who are not satisfied with the behavior of their rifle, have decided not to compete in the international team match tomorrow. The tournament in 1910 will be held in Ohio.

Have They Seen the Rose?
Washington, Aug. 2.—The Assistant Secretary of War, Robert Shaw Oliver, in a letter to Col. Charles Githler of the Maryland National Guard, who was captain of the American rifle team which swept everything before it at the Pan-American competition in Buenos Ayres, congratulated the team on its signal success and declared the results there and at the Olympic games in Stockholm showed not only the superiority of American riflemen but of the American rifle. He said Americans could point with pride to the fine mechanical genius and workmanship of American ordnance of rifles and workmen. Col. Githler, in reply, declared the South Americans fully recognized the fact that the Americans had the best rifle in the world.

GIRL ATHLETES OF SWEDEN

Golf
Seventy-eight qualify.
Buffalo, Aug. 1.—The completion of the two rounds of medal play in the opening golf championship of the United States over the course of the Buffalo Country Club today, left seventy-eight golfers with scores low enough to qualify for the final 36 holes to be played tomorrow.

Three were tied with the low score of 167—Alex. Smith, Wykagyl; M. J. Brady, Wallatop, and P. F. Barrett, Lampton. All players with fifteen points higher than the tenth low score, 16, will start the third round tomorrow.

Athletic Maritime Championships.
The twenty-fifth annual field and track championship of the Maritime Provinces Amateur Athletic Association will be held on the grounds of the Albertville Athletic Club, Charlottetown, on Wednesday, Aug. 21. The programme of events is: 100 yards dash, 220 yards dash, 440 yards dash, 880 yards run, one mile run, five mile run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, 160 lb. shot, 16 lb. hammer, quarter mile bicycle, half mile bicycle, one mile bicycle, three mile bicycle, 120 yards hurdle.

Events will be open to all duly registered maritime athletes. An entrance fee of 50 cents per man will be charged for each event. Entries will close with the secretary in Charlottetown on Friday evening, August 16. A gold medal will be given to the winner in each event, a silver medal to the second, and a bronze medal to the third.

Two years ago these championships were held in Charlottetown and were a great success. It is expected that even better results will be attained this year.

Britain and Olympiad.
London, Aug. 1.—The continued agitation over Great Britain's poor showing in the Olympic games recently held in Stockholm, brought about a meeting tonight of the athletic advisory club to consider the situation. Lord Desborough, who presided, said that if Great Britain competed at Berlin where the next Olympic games are to be held, she must take the games as seriously as the other nations. He advocated a team representing the entire empire in the track events.

Lord Desborough proposed that a fund of $25,000 should be raised in each of the next three years, and $50,000 the fourth year, to be used for preparations. A letter from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was read announcing that he will appeal to the public for $125,000 for the same purpose.

J. G. Merrick, president of the athletic union in Canada and secretary of the Canadian Olympic committee, declared that if the same care were taken in athletics as in rowing and football and if the Olympic winners were held in as high regard as in the United States, Canada and Great Britain could produce as good a team as the United States.

BATTING AVERAGE IN N. B. & MAINE LEAGUE.
(Frederick Gleason.)
Manager P. J. Dugan of the Fredericton club has climbed into the leadership of the New Brunswick and Maine League's batters, having accumulated the healthy average of .339.

There are several players with the various teams with larger averages than Dugan's, but none of them have played as many as ten games, and the manager of the Pats is therefore the real leader. Frank Harrington, however, has been in nine games and is batting for .367.

Happy Iott, the Houston leader, is giving Dugan a good race for the honors, and is just one point behind the fallen slugger, while George Winter has fallen back and is now hitting for .348. There have been some changes in the 300 list since the figures were published the last of the week, but the changes are not material.

The Hardest Hitting Team.
The hardest hitting team from the averages herewith would be as follows:—Pitcher—Harrington (F.), .367. Catcher—Watt (H.), .321. 1st Base—Iott (H.), .308. 2nd Base—Pinkerton (S. J.), .298. 3rd Base—O'Brien (S. J.), .297. Shortstop—Pryor (S. J.), .297. Left Field—Perley (W.), .310.

Centre Field—Dugan (F.), .339. Right Field—O'Donnell (W.), .329. The Figures.

Following are the figures as made up to, but not including, yesterday's game (July 31), and also omitting the game played by the Houston and Woodstock teams on Saturday, July 20th, at Houston, of which no box score is available:

MILAN, WASHINGTON'S WONDERFUL OUTFIELDER

Washington, July 31.—The wonderful fielding and base running of Clyde Milan, Washington's star outfielder, is the talk of the American league circuit this season. Probably no other gardener in the junior league has made as many brilliant catches as Milan this season. It may also be stated that he is the most accurate judge of a fly ball in the game today. Milan is also after Ty Cobb's base running honors. At present he is leading the big league with forty-five thefts to his credit. Clyde has been doing some good work with the stick and has a batting average of .396.

those have been shut down and search for jobs. Many of the unemployed men who in former years were employed in the city have been forced to seek employment. Not more than a million feet of logs, at the outside, will be cut this season. The lumber market at the balance of the eighteen million feet of logs cut this season are being rafted to the mouth of the Mississippi and are being towed to St. John, as was the case at Fairview. Next year it is expected that a pulp mill will be erected at Fairview and will employ about twice as much employment as the mill ever could.

J. W. DOUGLASS MAY GET IT

It is expected that J. W. Douglass and authority that John Wesley Douglass has been elected for the position of police chief of the city of St. John, in place of Daniel Johnson deceased. Mr. Douglass is a graduate of Mount Allison University, and has been a member of the city would have to do with the citying of the city. The citying of the city might work with the municipalities and the citying of the city might be followed in laying out.

The mayor thought that the whole question of the citying of the city might be off hand by the commissioners. The scheme must be in the hands of a committee and the citying of the city might be considered.

IN SEARCH OF A PASTOR.

Saccharville Tribune—Some weeks ago the Saccharville church was in search of a pastor. The church extended a call to Rev. F. G. Macdonald, of Economy, N. S. The call was accepted and Mr. Macdonald is now on his way to Saccharville early in July. A recent census has shown that the church is one of the largest in the district and it is probable that the church will be held at an early date to decide whether to wait for Mr. Macdonald or to call on some other minister.
