See Collapse Possible At Lausanne and War In South-East Europe

No Active Break Yet at Near East Conference, But Some Fear it Will Come—Talk of Crusade Against Turk, All Nations Helping to Quick Finish.

(Canadian Press.)

Lausanne, Dec. 5.—Turkey and Europe have apparently drifted so far apart on the great issues of the Near East conference that the pessimists have a fruitful field for unhappy prognostications of a complete collapse of the parliaments and the resumption of war in south-eastern Europe.

Such a culmination of the conference discussions could easily be argued as a strong possibility, but any such argument based on a reasonable hypothesis would leave out the fact that Europe needs peace and that Turkey has constantly proclaimed her need for building up international relations in acquiring capital to develop her immense resources.

WILL UNITE IN VOTE TODAY

Georgian and Asquithian Liberals on Agriculture.

Amendment to Trade Facilities Act Carried in House—Maximum Guarantees Increased to £50,000,000—Some Georgians Did Not Vote.

London, Dec. 5.—The House of Commons early today passed a resolution authorizing amendment of the trade facilities act, to renew it for one year, and to increase to £50,000,000 the maximum guarantee provided by the measure. The resolution was offered by Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

More than twenty Georgian Liberals voted against the government, while thirty-five abstained from voting. Had the latter also opposed the measure, the government's majority would have been twenty-seven.

The action of the House last night in rejecting an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, demanding repeal of the act, and the division of industries act, is an indication of what might happen if or when the Georgian and Asquithian Liberals joined forces. The amendment was offered by Sir John Simon, Liberal M. P. for the City of London.

The division of the Liberal majority was supported by some of the Asquithian Liberals, while the majority abstained from voting. It is expected that the two Liberal wings will unite today to support the amendment, which would call for an inquiry into the condition of British agriculture.

ELEVEN TROTTERS BURNED TO DEATH

Fire Destroys Stable at Race Track at Pittsburg.

New York, Dec. 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Eleven racing trotters, several of them holding local track records, were burned last night, according to reports from the New York Telegram correspondent in a fire which destroyed the frame stable at the Schenley Park race track at Pittsburg.

George Kay, 218, a pauper by East Kay, valued at $5,000 and Lou H. 218-14, trotter, valued at $1,000, both owned by Tucker McDaniels, were among the horses burned to death. Mrs. Adeline J. Jones, and one owned by Andy Lieb also perished.

The blaze, the origin of which is a mystery today, caused a loss of $3,000, including the stable, equipment and harness.

CARING FOR THE HOMELESS IN TERREBONNE

Terrebonne, Que., Dec. 5.—The work of clearing the debris of last week's fire will be started in a day or so, according to announcement by Mayor Labelle. At present, all efforts are being concentrated looking after the homeless, it being estimated that there are 175 families without homes, and the ever-mounting lists of those injured. He gave figures to show that the wheels of the juggernaut are more deadly than the most prevalent communicable diseases. In the last three years an average of nearly three people a day have been injured on the streets of Toronto by automobiles, while fifty-five were killed in 1910, forty-two in 1911, and thirty-seven in 1912. The totals of those injured in recent years were 1,018 in 1910, 1,068 in 1911, and 1,075 this year with a month yet to go.

NUMBER OF MOTOR ACCIDENTS IN TORONTO IS DECLARED APPALLING

Toronto, Dec. 5.—In a second letter to the press, Sir Thomas White again calls attention to the appalling number of accidents caused by careless motorists, and the ever-mounting lists of those injured. He gave figures to show that the wheels of the juggernaut are more deadly than the most prevalent communicable diseases. In the last three years an average of nearly three people a day have been injured on the streets of Toronto by automobiles, while fifty-five were killed in 1910, forty-two in 1911, and thirty-seven in 1912. Paris, Dec. 5.—Professor Valliant, director of the X-ray laboratory of Lariboisiere Hospital, has undergone his 13th operation for amputation, made necessary by the withering effects of X-rays during the long experiments that have won his prominence. His right forearm has been amputated in an effort to stop the crippling X-ray malady.

The operations were begun on Professor Valliant's left side, with the removal of his fingers and ending with the amputation of his arm at the shoulder. The disease has now attacked his right side.

TELEGRAPH CO. WINS THE CASE

Question Liability in Matter of a Delayed Telegram.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—A finding in law which is of Dominion wide interest was rendered in the Superior Court here yesterday, when Mr. Justice Dugas dismissed action taken by the Montreal Trust Exchange against the Great North Western Telegraph Company to recover loss alleged to have been suffered through delay in delivering a telegram. His Lordship found that the sender of a telegram was insured of delivery only when he "repeated" his message. The telegram in question was sent from here to Los Angeles ordering a carload of oranges at the price of a previous load. The message was not delivered for some days, by which time the price had gone up, entailing an alleged loss of $300 to the sender.

He was sixteen years old when the crime was committed.

Doyle and System Criticized in Report On Bungled Hanging

Sheriff Foster Found to Have Done His Duty Blamelessly—J. B. Dickson Reports to Government on the Execution of Bennie Swim.

The provincial government had before it today at Fredericton the report of J. Bacon Dixon, the commissioner who inquired into the matter of the execution of Bennie Swim who was executed at Woodstock for the crime of murder. The body of Swim was cut down before he was entirely dead, and it was necessary to repeat the hanging. So many rumors regarding the affair had been sent broadcast that the government appointed Mr. Dixon to make a thorough inquiry.

He went to Woodstock, summoned all the witnesses to the execution of Swim and now reports upon the evidence. There was the governor of Montreal jail, and F. G. Gill, who was also well recommended. These men were engaged after Sheriff Foster had failed in his efforts to get Arthur Ellis or Holmes, both of whom were regarded as official hangmen. The commissioner finds that Sheriff Foster did all in his power to have a capable man for the execution of Swim.

There were rumors that Doyle was intoxicated on the morning of the hanging while four witnesses believed Doyle had been drinking fourteen others saw no sign of intoxication and the commissioner concludes that if he had taken any liquor it did not so affect him as to interfere with his work. He does find that Doyle was less considerate of the feelings of the condemned man than he might have been, and he concludes that it was Doyle who ordered the unfortunate man cut down after the first hanging. Recommendations as to future executions are contained in the report, the text of which is as follows:

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "has St. John had took the right dose lately?"

"I had to drink about a quart the other night," said Hiram. "I ketcht cold cold out without a muffer an' drivin' about ten miles, an' when Hiram seen the way I was she put me to bed an' trotted out the ginger tea. I was asleep in the mornin', an' as s'pry as an owl—yes, sir."

"I can taste it now as if it were yesterday instead of years and years since I had to take the dose and go to bed. Not a bad taste, at that. And, as you say, it taken in time it has its merits."

"You got to take anything in time," said Hiram. BAD SPILL IN SIX DAY RACE

Some of the Riders Drop Out—Some Fifty Miles Behind Record.

New York, Dec. 5.—Ten of the sixteen teams of bicyclists that started the 38th annual six day race at Madison Square Garden at midday on Sunday came to the finish of the race at the 32nd hour at eight o'clock this morning. Walker and Lorenz, dropped out last night. But, partner of Lorenz and McBeth, Walker's partner, formed a new combination, leaving fourteen teams in the race. The record for the 32nd hour is 706 miles and one lap, made by Lawton and Root, in 1911.

A crash in a sprint for which a $10 prize was offered forced Oliver from the race with a fractured toe. His partner, Asati, paired with Joe Kopsky and accepted a penalty of one lap.

Nine riders crashed last night in one of the worst spills. Whirling about in a spiral for points, Reggie McManara and Willie Lorenz accidentally locked handlebars. Both fell and rolled down the incline, taking seven other riders with them.

The nature of his business is unknown. His hands are not only full of national business, but he is gravely ill, and it is not believed he would have left if he could have avoided doing so.

CHURCH AT OKA, SEMINARY AND HOUSE BURNED

Famous Trappist Monastery Escapes the Flames.

Montreal's Mayor Gets a "K. K. K." Threatening Letter—Princess Block in Yarmouth Prey of Flames and Business Section is Threatened.

Oka, Que., Dec. 5.—The Sulphide church seminary and priests' residence here was destroyed by fire this morning. The great monastery of the Trappist Monks was not touched by the fire.

The fire started in the furnace room of the presbytery early this morning. The whole structure was soon in flames. A gale spread sparks to the church and seminary near, which were also soon ablaze. The church was valued at $150,000.

The church dates back to the earliest times of this country and was erected by the Sulphide Fathers as a mission house for the Indians. It was destroyed by fire in 1871 when the seminary and church were burned.

The seminary was a very old building, built by Sulphide Fathers in the summer time as a retreat.

"K. K. K." Threats. Montreal, Dec. 5.—At a meeting of the City Council yesterday, Mayor Martin in supporting a proposal to send a letter to the police and fire departments, referred to the suspicious number of fires that have destroyed Catholic institutions in and about Montreal. He had received, he said, several anonymous letters signed with the initials "K. K. K." These had all been of a threatening nature, inasmuch as they contained veiled warnings to the effect that other Catholic buildings would disappear the same way.

Letter Tells of Infatuation—
Wife Says Girl was Guest in Their Home Until She Had to Drive Her Out.

New York, Dec. 5.—Sue for separation from Eugene Valentine Brewster, millionaire lawyer and publisher, has been commenced in the Brooklyn Supreme Court by Mrs. Eleanor V. Brewster, his second wife, who declares that her husband is infatuated with Miss Corliss Palmer, a motion picture beauty. Justice Lewis reserved decision on the application of Charles F. Murphy, former state senator, attorney for Mrs. Brewster, for an increase of allowance for the plaintiff from approximately $500 a month, the amount the now receives from her husband, to $1,000 a month and counsel fees pending the settlement of the suit.

Brewster, in a letter to his wife which is attached to the papers in the suit, admits that his feelings for "another" have superseded his love for her as the result of an "endless, heartrending struggle" in which he fought against "something it seemed to be impossible to fight."

Mrs. Brewster says that the woman referred to is Miss Palmer, and that she is living in a fine house in Normandy Park, near Morristown, N. J., which her husband provided for her and where he is now living.

The Brewsters were married in 1916 and have a three-year-old son, who lives with his mother at Roslyn, L. I. Brewster is head of the Brewster Publications, Inc., of 118 Duffield street, Brooklyn, publishers of "Shadowland," "The Motion Picture Classic" and several other pictorial magazines which feature the beauty and charm of women.

man. He formerly was widely known as a lawyer, and was nominated in 1900 for Attorney General. His wide activities also include the direction of motion pictures, painting and amateur photography, and he is the author of several books. He is forty-five years old and his wife is twenty-four. The letter was Miss Eleanor Cator, of Far Rockaway.

Three years ago, Mr. Murphy told the court, Brewster first aroused the suspicions of his wife when he brought Miss Palmer to live at their home at Roslyn, telling his wife it was necessary for him to have the actress with him constantly because of their motion picture work. For a number of months he accompanied the young woman home nightly, giving her every attention, even in the presence of Mrs. Brewster. The three would motor out together, Brewster insisting on his wife's presence to cover the situation from the public, but all the while she was ignored, the attorney said.

Parted Since February 1921. The attorney cited various instances of Brewster's disregard for the feelings of his wife, including his bringing to her room one night a bowl of chop suey, which she admitted Miss Palmer had refused. After the wife protested finally against the other woman's presence in the house, according to the papers, Brewster fitted up the Normandy Park place for Miss Palmer. This final break came in February, 1921, and since then Brewster has remained away from his home at Roslyn.

John W. Peters, attorney for Brewster, told the court that Miss Palmer lived at Normandy Park with her mother and sister. He presented an affidavit in which Brewster alleges his income is but $12,000 a year as grounds why he cannot pay the alimony asked for by the wife. He is said to be paying $50 a month to his first wife, who divorced him several years ago.

A prominent place in most of the five publications issued by Brewster has been devoted to photographs of Miss Palmer during the last year. Some of these pictures appear in connection with articles on beauty under the signature of "Corliss Palmer" and others in prominent advertisements for "Corliss Palmer Powder," prepared by a company which Mr. Brewster is said to control.

Fought Infatuation, He Says. The letter written by Brewster to his wife, telling her frankly of his unsuccessful struggle to retain his affection for her, says: "Dear Eleanor: I think it is only fair and just to you that you know the exact situation, regardless of the result and of the pain it might cause to everybody. I have been through a most amazing experience during the last fifteen months, and an almost unbelievable one. When another came into my life I realized that it was anything but an artistic enthusiasm that I had many times expressed to you, a desire for, long before then, and when I saw that it was becoming dangerous, I assure you that I fought it with all my strength.

"The endless heart-rending struggle was bitter—for everybody concerned, and many the heartache and tear that it caused. I assure you it was an honest fight for both of us—a fight against something it seemed impossible to fight."

"I thought of you being a faithful, loving wife, of my vow to love and cherish you as long as I lived, of my child and its reputation, of my dear old father and other relatives, and of yours, but all in vain.

"I suppose I could come back to live my old life over again, but I know that in doing so my life would be miserable—and another's also. I am certain. I have had many serious talks over the situation, reviewing things from every angle, and finally we agreed to separate for at least two weeks to see what we did think of each other, Separation "An Eternity."

"We separated; she going many hundreds of miles away among her old friends and admirers. All the time she was making preparations to go it occurred as if we could not bear it, just as we had several times before, as you know. Proverb, 'Out of sight, out of mind.'"

"She went. I saw her to the train. Thereafter each day seemed an eternity. With all my friends, relatives, influence and power, surrounded with theatres and entertainments of all kinds, not one moment of happiness could I buy or procure.

"I could not eat or sleep, and when she returned I felt that I could never let her leave me again, whatever the cost. I am certain as I can be of anything that your judgment of her was entirely wrong, and that you formed a very wrong opinion of her.

"I have only the kindest feelings toward you, in spite of the terrible things you did to her, and I shall always do my utmost to make you comfortable.

"Please think this over carefully from day to day, and sometime after the holidays we will have a conference.

"Very sincerely,
"EUGENE."

EASTER ISLE CALLED LAND OF MYSTERY AND HORROR
Devoid of Vegetation, and Lacks Bird Life of Any Kind.

London, Nov. 8.—(By Mail)—Easter Island, the land of mystery of the South Pacific, virtually devoid of vegetation, and without bird life of any kind, is a horrible place to live, according to a New Zealand scientist who is now in London after a five months stay on the island.

No trees grow on Easter Island because the heavy winds wreck them. No birds live there because there are no worms in the dry soil; there are no mosquitoes, but this lack is more than compensated by vicious local flies.

The island is triangular, twelve miles by nine by seven, and is remote from the track of ships. Two hundred Polynesians inhabit it, and they suffer

It is famous for its high curved stone images, the origin of which never has been determined. Professor Brown says the island cannot have been long inhabited. He fixes 1600 as the date of the first settlers, and consequently of the setting up of the strange stone gods. NEW TYPE OF ROBBERS

STEAL ONLY STATUARY
Austrian Shrines and Chapels Being Plundered of Priceless Relics.

Vienna, Nov. 10.—(By mail.)—A series of robberies of way-side shrines, private chapels, cross-roads monuments and other medieval statuary is occurring all over Austria. The thefts are so skillfully planned that only carvings and statues of high artistic or historic value are taken, leading the police to believe that they are directed by experts.

Austria is rich in these relics. In remote and lonely places all over the country are rare and wonderful monuments, often dating from the Middle Ages, and some even said to be of Roman origin. In the Tyrol and Styria particularly, on high passes or on the sites of ancient churches, are to be found reliefs, carvings, statuary or tablets almost priceless to the anti-

A Tailor's Sale The First Ever!

I have two apologies for never putting on a Sale before—the profit here is too small to stand any kind of a cut, and we have always been busy enough without a Sale, anyhow. But this year more expert help had to be added to take care of two heavier rush seasons and now that it is over we want to keep all our help for the next one—that means losing on overhead or losing on profits. I have chosen a loss on profits as letting me down easier till the busy times return—and as letting my friends in on a good thing while keeping the staff employed.

Now for getting down to brass tacks. This week you get an imported Tweed made by hand here for $40—a serge for $44, the kind that comes from Yorkshire, is full weight and fully guaranteed for purity and dye. Come in and see what else—choose anything here or come to the wholesalers' over the road and count your saving.

GET ON WITH THE JOB.

The New Brunswick Power Company's offer cannot be accepted by the city. The next move on the part of the city is obvious. It made the offer and the offer is rejected. There was to be no parley and no further delay. Ten days were the limit. The city must now get on with the job.

THE RESULT IN LANARK.

The Lanark by-election was the only one out of five that could afford any indication by popular vote as to the feeling of the people toward Hon. Mr. Melghan and his party. In the other four there was no Conservative candidate. The result in Lanark shows that Mr. Melghan has lost ground, even in a Conservative constituency.

THE RED MAN'S SUCCESSOR.

(Toronto Mail and Empire). Edward McNamee, in New York Times. The great city had its birth and rose in splendor from the earth. The redskin figured it his job to plant his axe in someone's knob.

SIR BASIL ZAHAROFF.

(Toronto Mail and Empire). Sir Basil Zaharoff's name is being mentioned again in connection with the parities of Lausanne. He is the mysterious Crecus, strongly resembling a character of Oppol Oppenheimers who took with responsibility for the Greek policy which at one time threatened to produce another European war.

DOUBLE BILL AT IMPERIAL ENJOYED.

"A Glorious Fool" is Charming Comedy—Interesting Nature Picture Also.

"The Glorious Fool," the Goldwyn picture now playing at the Imperial theatre, lives up to all the good things said about it. Mr. Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author of the story, has an uncanny sense of comedy values on the screen without ever becoming commonplace. For her latest Goldwyn triumph, she has chosen the scene of her first professional work, a large city hospital, for the background.

Why do young men fail to manifest the interest they ought to have in politics, whether federal, provincial or city? The Toronto Globe admits that the answer is not very far from the obvious.

THE AUSTRALIAN ELECTIONS.

(Toronto Globe). The Australian elections on December 16 may prove the last of the kind in the British Empire. Mr. Hughes has been Prime Minister since 1915—a record which he left the Labor party to head the Nationalist party, pledged to the vigorous prosecution of the war.

A Friend of the Allies.

In the Great War Zaharoff was a friend of the Allies. He was a member of the War Relievement Committee, and he was one of the few who were not only a friend of the Allies but also a friend of the Allies.

GRECK DIGNONERS HERSELF.

Eight members of the recently deposed Greek cabinet and several military officers have been tried by a military tribunal on charges of high treason, embezzlement and other crimes. The tribunal consists of five judges and the defendant consists in having failed to prevent the defeat of the Greek army in Asia Minor by the Turkish forces.

OBBLIGATORY PLEASURES.

(London Spectator). After all it was very pleasant, and I'm glad I went. Nine times out of ten that is what we say when we look back upon an obligatory pleasure to which, in the common sense of the phrase, we have not "looked forward." A great proportion of the pleasures of life are obligatory. Most people who have passed their first youth would like to "sell off" them at the last minute. For all that they would find life very dull if they gave in to a momentary sense of distaste and they know they would.

SOME CHANGES MAY BE MADE IN CASE OF URGENT NEED, BUT THE LIST AS GIVEN IS A CLOSE APPROXIMATION. EVIDENTLY SOME OF THE RECIPIENTS OF GRANTS HAVE A REGULAR SOURCE OF REVENUE TO COVER IN SOME CASES A LARGE PORTION OF THEIR EXPENDITURE, WHILE OTHERS MUST GET ALL THEIR MONEY FROM THE FUND.

IT HAS BEEN FOUND THAT ANNUALMENTS OF A DOUTFUL CHARACTER DO NOT ADD TO THE success of exhibitions. Hence the annual convention of the International Fairs and Exposition Association, in Toronto last week, adopted this resolution: "We again go on record as favoring clean fairs, fairly maintained at the highest possible standards for all attractions and concessions, and as determined that nothing be tolerated on our grounds which is of a degrading or dishonest nature, to the end that our fairs in the United States and Canada may render the maximum service in years to come."

THE SCORN OF CORIOLANUS. In the Victoria street Baptist church last night Rev. W. A. Robbins delivered an interesting address on "The Voyage of Life," under the auspices of the Baptist Young People's Union of the church. He has informed the members that in addressing them he is performing "what is an act of purely formal defence" toward them for which they do not seek them.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

Lesson No. 173

SUPER-REGENERATION BY THE ARMSTRONG CIRCUIT.

Super-regeneration, through its ability to overcome the limitations existing in the usual forms of regenerative circuits, has made possible the simplification of radio signals to a degree heretofore unapproached. In radio receivers, employing the vacuum tube, there are two methods in common use for obtaining regeneration and consequent magnification of the radio signal by "feeding back" to the grid circuit a portion of the energy of the plate circuit. In one of these methods which utilizes the "tuned plate" arrangement, a variometer may be connected in the plate circuit and owing to the capacity between the grid and the plate, capacitive coupling between the grid and plate circuits is secured, the amount of this coupling depending upon the adjustment of the variometer inductance.

Another method obtains regeneration through the use of a "tickler coil" which is connected in the plate circuit and placed in inductive relation to the grid circuit, thus providing a magnetic coupling by which a portion of the energy of the plate circuit is repeatedly "fed back" to the grid circuit, this action being cumulative.

In the tuned regenerative circuit, capacity reactance and inductance reactance are so adjusted as to neutralize each other, leaving the resistance of the circuit to be "balanced out" by the energy supplied through regeneration. Regeneration, therefore, has the effect of decreasing the effective radio-frequency resistance of the circuit.

When the coupling of the "tickler coil" is gradually tightened, there is a decrease in the effective resistance of the circuit and an increase in signal intensity up to the point where the resistance approaches zero and the tube begins to oscillate.

In the "super-regenerative" circuit, originated by E. H. Armstrong, coupling may be increased beyond the oscillating point and the effective resistance of the circuit reduced to a value less than zero, or in other words, the circuit has a negative resistance. Exceptional amplification of the radio signal is made possible during the period of negative resistance by effectively preventing the formation of oscillations.

The accompanying diagram shows a method of obtaining "super-regeneration" through the introduction at intervals of a positive resistance into the tuned grid circuit (L) (C) of the tube (R), this tube performing the function of a regenerator and detector while the tube (O) acts as an oscillator. The received radio signals are impressed upon the grid of the tube (R) and are amplified by regeneration resulting from the magnetic coupling of the "tickler coil." The tube (O) is utilized as an oscillator, the oscillations produced, for example, at a frequency of 10,000 cycles are also impressed upon the grid of the tube (R).

Regeneration through proper control of the "tickler coil" coupling is adjusted for a point beyond the oscillating point of the tube. During the interval when the local impressed oscillations make the grid of the tube (R) negative, no grid current flows, and exceptional amplification of the incoming signal is secured due to the negative resistance of the circuit. This regeneration takes place beyond the normal oscillating point of the tube but before the tube can oscillate the impressed oscillations of the tube (O) are reversed so that during the following interval the grid of the regenerator tube is given a positive potential. The positive potential on the grid results in a flow of grid current which is equivalent to introducing a large value of resistance across the tuned circuit and by thus giving the circuit a positive resistance the formation of oscillations is effectively prevented.

It is thus apparent that great amplification of signal is obtained by alternately giving the circuit positive and negative values of resistance. The period during which the circuit is negative permits remarkable increase in signal intensity while the positive resistance period is utilized to prevent the formation of oscillations.

BURNING OF JUDGE'S HOME LAID TO ANGRY MOONSHINERS

Woburn, Mass., Dec. 5.—The home of Judge John J. McGuire of the Woburn District Court was gutted by fire, endangering the lives of the judge, his son, W. Frank, and the latter's family and forcing them to flee in their night clothes through the now to the homes of friends.

Police expressed the belief that the fire was set by revengeful moonshiners, as there had been an unusual number of liquor cases before Judge McGuire recently.

Fire Chief Frank E. Tracey declared that the fire had been set from the outside and that the veranda, which extended across the front end one side of the house, had been saturated by gasoline or some other inflammable liquid.

DOYLE AND THE SYSTEM ARE CRITICIZED

The C. F. R. train leaves Montreal for the east at 4 p.m. If the sender of the telegram had taken that train he could have arrived in Woodstock...

Getting a Hangman. When Bennie Swin was sentenced to hang the sheriff at once proceeded to secure the services of a hangman.

Both hangmen, Doyle and Gill, arrived in Woodstock several days before the day set for Swin's execution.

All of the witnesses examined by me have given their names as to the main facts regarding the execution. It will outline the facts concerning which there was no dispute and will later deal with certain matters which require special attention.

On the morning of October 6 Sheriff Foster notified the persons who were assembled at the jail. The sheriff had received information that Doyle was on his way to Woodstock.

The other fourteen witnesses saw no signs of Doyle until he was taken to the gallows. These witnesses included Sheriff Foster, who saw and talked to Doyle before he was taken to the gallows.

When Doyle was taken to the gallows he was wearing a dark suit and a white shirt. He was carrying a small bag in his hand.

The sheriff should be commended for the way in which he handled the execution. He was calm and dignified throughout.

What is not a part of my duty, I feel that having been in close touch with the facts regarding this regrettable affair, it would be well for me to deal briefly with our system of capital punishment.

JOBS ON INCREASE SHOWN IN REPORTS OF MANY NATIONS

Comparison With Last Year Indicates That Unemployment is on Decline.

London, Nov. 12.—(By Mail).—The latest unemployment figures published by the monthly review of the International Labor Office of the League of Nations for most countries show that the decreases in unemployment previously recorded still continue, notes "The London Daily Telegraph."

In the United States, where the statistics are often a useful forecast of European conditions, improvement is taking place. For example, the figures published by the United States Department of Labor, show that the number of persons employed by about 1,500 representative firms increased considerably in September, and this in spite of a depression in the labor market due to the strikes on railways and in mines.

In European countries the latest statistics available without exception mark an improvement. In France and Germany the situation steadily improving, the latest figures, remains the same as in the previous months, and unemployment has been almost negligible.

In European countries the latest statistics available without exception mark an improvement. In France and Germany the situation steadily improving, the latest figures, remains the same as in the previous months, and unemployment has been almost negligible.

The latest figures received from Belgium referring to the end of July is the lowest recorded for nearly two years; all industries report a great activity, except textiles, leather and transport, which report a slight increase in unemployment due to the high prices of raw materials and the decrease of activity in the ports.

In Poland and in Czechoslovakia unemployment has been steadily decreasing since February, 1922. In the Scandinavian countries, Norway, Sweden and Denmark and in the Netherlands a fairly rapid decrease has taken place since February, 1922. Though this is largely due to seasonal fluctuations, it is of greater dimensions than in previous years.

Heaping Plates of Food.

Chunks of turkey meat, roast beef, sliced ham and white sauce of ham and olives of roast chicken were heaped on plates already covered with vegetables and thick, steaming gravy.

To accommodate the 2,000 beings who waited for food, fifty were seated for each serving. They remained in their seats as they entered the room, crowded next to one another on the benches at either side of the long table and applied themselves to the food, never glancing to right or left, never speaking a word to their partners in misfortune, never raising their eyes from their plates. Their clumsy fingers grew tangled about unaccustomed knives and forks, but they managed to sop up every drop of gravy by wiping their plates with bread.

Many heaped about the charitable feast that was served for widows. One giant Swede buried his lips in the peak of whipped cream and others followed suit. The cakes and cookies they spread with jam from the bowls that were scattered over the table. As they passed out of the door each man was handed an orange wrapped in tissue paper. Some remembered to say "thanks." Others pocketed the fruit as they had swallowed the food, without a show of any emotion but hunger. Two or three asked for cigarettes.

First in Line Get Baskets.

Those who arrived first in line were luckier, for instead of receiving oranges they were given baskets containing meat, candy, cake and apples. The sick poor who were unable to come in person to the coffee stand were provided with a meal sent in a basket.

The armless, the legless, the sightless and the lame were seated first. Pullermen and employes of the organization escorted them to seats next and throughout the rest of the day came men out of work, beggars, peddlers and longshoremen.

Their host, J. M. Lamadri, whose wife, Clementina Lamadri, supported the work until she died, remained in the tiny office near the restaurant and superintended the service. He saw that the hundreds of plates were ready for serving, so that the hungry should not wait. He chatted with some of the victors, old friends of the institute who stop in every day to get their penny cup of coffee and sandwich.

The line this year was longer than it has ever been, he said, and added that poverty may be on the wane, but there is no indication at St. Andrews, for the crowds that wait to be fed are hungrier and more numerous.

BARNJUM FOREST FIRE RANGER PRIZES AWARDED

The Barnjum forest fire ranger prizes amounting to $225 for Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, have just been awarded as follows: In New Brunswick the prize of $200 was awarded to H. C. Lynn of Kentville, though the decision in this province was very close owing to the keen rivalry for this prize, which has been waged in a well organized effort by the entire force to keep forest fires down to a minimum, resulting in the smallest fire loss in New Brunswick for many years. The results obtained have been of such great value to the province and the men have worked so hard in this fire protection work that Mr. Barnjum felt that an extra bonus be paid to the second and third best record, though only one prize was offered in each province, and he has accordingly forwarded a check for $50 to E. Baldwin, Westchester, N. B., as a slight acknowledgment of their efforts in protecting the forests of New Brunswick.

In Quebec the prize of $250 was awarded with the unanimous consent of all concerned to the winner, Albert Heureux of St. Michel des Saints, Berthier County, not only from the fact that he was one of the best rangers in the province but that he lost his life in the performance of his duty; having given his life for his country just as much as if he had died on the battle field, for the saving of trees is the equivalent to saving life, for without trees life could not exist.

In Nova Scotia the prize of $250 was awarded to W. J. Scott of Middle Musquodibit who had the best fire fighting record for the season.

OUTPUT OF HARD COAL IS SHORT 41 MILLION TONS

Five Years' Steady Operation will be Required to Eliminate Deficit Caused by Five-Month Strike— Work Still is Hindered.

New York, Dec. 5.—Failure of the anthracite mines to make up any appreciable part of the coal shortage since mining was resumed almost three months ago is indicated in the figures on hard coal production announced by the United States Geological Survey for the week ended November 26. The report shows that up to date of its issuance 44,000,000 tons of anthracite were produced this year, as against 84,000,000 tons for the same period in 1921, making a deficit of 40,000,000 tons from the 1921 production. On September 11, when mining was resumed following the settlement of the five-months' coal strike, this deficit amounted to 42,500,000 tons.

That is, it has taken two and one-half months to decrease the deficit by 1,600,000 tons, a rate which will require steady operation of the anthracite properties for more than five years to make up the deficit caused by the strike.

Another Walk-Out Scheduled.

The biggest of the strikes has been called for today, when it is expected that 10,000 men employed in the Illinois collieries near Pittsburg will leave their work unless efforts now being made by union and mine officials to bring about peace are successful. The miners have grievances against their foremen and have demanded what is known as a "checkbook" shake-up, or a general shifting of the foremen, in order that each gang will have a new boss.

The mines affected in the strike order were many years virtually the only pits in the hard coal region where the miners were not members of the United Mine Workers. The men were organized in the strike of 1920 and since then have become the reputed, radical element of the ranks. Their leader, Cappelli, has been at odds with the officials of the union on several occasions, and with his followers led the move to prevent the ratification of the settlement which ended the strike in September.

Unless the strike move is thwarted the quitting of work of 10,000 miners will mean a loss of about 100,000 tons in the weekly production.

Just how much coal production has been lost by the numerous smaller strikes cannot be computed. It is safe to assume, however, that the failure to make up the huge deficit or any substantial part of it is traceable to this cause, for the most part. The men have quit, in most instances, on what is known in the anthracite region as a "button strike," and have returned to work after three or four days with the "button" restored to them by law from compelling men to join the union. The closed shop has been effectively maintained by the men refusing to work with any miner who is not a member or, as the miners put it, does not wear a button. Buttons are changed upon each payment of union dues, on a given day, "button day," when all of the men must have the new button. If one miner fails to pay his dues and appears without the button a strike is called and continues, usually, until he has put himself in good standing once more. Many of the mine superintendents will discharge a workman or compel him to pay his dues rather than have their mines closed down by a strike.

Holidays Cut Production.

The long drought in the section of the region around Shamokin also has impeded production, and in around Scranton several of the larger collieries have been forced to suspend by the Kohler mine cave law prohibiting operations under the city.

These various causes have resulted in the more than 40,000,000-ton shortage being made up at a rate of less than 150,000 tons a week and have made it extremely difficult to get even emergency quantities of domestic size anthracite into New York. The difficulties of the Fuel Distributors have been added to by the shutting down of the mines on Election Day and Armistice Day, cutting production an additional 200,000 tons, and a further loss of 280,000 tons for Thanksgiving Day.

The operating schedule in the anthracite field calls for an output of 80,000,000 tons for the year ending December 31, which is 36,000,000 tons or about 40 per cent. short of last year's production. In order to keep up to

BEGGAR SAYS HIS WIFE TAKES ALL HE COLLECTS

New York, Dec. 5.—When Aaron Cohen, 76 years old, of 520 East 108th street, was arrested at Hester and Essex street for soliciting alms it developed that his wife holds the key to the tiny bank he uses in his trade and also holds the key to the City Prison as far as her husband's incarceration is concerned.

Every morning Cohen gives him the bank and 5 cents, Cohen told Magistrate Thomas F. McAndrews in Essex Market Court, and then he goes forth to beg. When he returns home he hands over the bank to his wife. Cohen was fined $10, with the alternative of spending three days in the City Prison. Lacking the necessary money, he went to jail until officials communicate with Cohen.

WEEKS SAYS U. S. ARMY TOO SMALL

War Secretary Declares Their Enlisted Man "is the Best in the World."

Washington, Dec. 5.—The present authorized regular army strength of 135,000 officers and 125,000 men is "inadequate" for national safety, and further cuts would be "inevitable," Secretary Weeks declared in his annual report to Congress.

"We should seize the first opportunity to bring the regular army back to the proportions which are required," he wrote. "We can not ever again make the mistake of expecting good soldiers to rise overnight and good officers to be turned out in quantities in three months' periods."

Declaring the officers corps, "is really the backbone of our military system," Mr. Weeks said that security for the future must rest "upon the foundation of our leadership."

"I do not believe the enlisted men—ours is the best in the world," he continued. "It is because I appreciate him that I emphasize the need for officers to give the soldier his best opportunity to fight for his country and for his life. We must have officers sufficient to handle the great army of the United States. We have not these officers now."

"I earnestly advocate reconstituting of our officer body to a minimum of 15,000 at the earliest date."

Reverting to the present status of the military establishment, Mr. Weeks said that "under the stress of economy"

STORM-DRIVEN FISH OFTEN STRANDED IN DASH FOR SAFETY

Anglers on the British Coast Make Lucky Hauls After Tempest Lashes Sea.

London, Nov. 10.—(By mail.)—Curious tales of fish that catch themselves are recounted by T. C. Bridges in the London Daily Mail.

"During the great north-westerly gale which ushered in the present month large shoals of herrings drove into Loch Bay, on the west coast of Scotland, and also into Loch Keal," he says. "Next day when the tide went out the fish lay in masses among the weed-cleft rocks in both estuaries."

"In times of heavy frost many a 'longshoreman' makes a point of walking along the rocks at low tide with an eye open for cod or conger eels stranded in the rock pools.

"Some years ago a wildfowler from Armoth, noticing a commotion in a hole near the water's edge, found a huge cod struggling in vain to regain the sea. He took the fish home and found that it weighed twenty-two pounds."

At Stettisham, near Hunstanton, on the Norfolk coast, a 'longshoreman' caught in similar fashion a conger which must be almost a record for its species. It was eight feet eight inches in length and weighed 148 pounds.

Another curious discovery made near Maryport, on the Cumberland coast, was an angel fish, a hideous brute, seven feet long, which had stranded itself on the beach.

"Whales often drive ashore. In July, 1911, a shoal of pilot whales came into Mouse's Bay, Cornwall, and between fifty and sixty of these great creatures stranded themselves on the beach. Some were over twenty feet in length.

"There is a record that in the year 1845, a herd of no fewer than 1,540 of these whales came ashore in Quendale Bay, South Shetland, and were all slaughtered. Their value was about seventy shillings apiece."

"I have myself seen salmon, spawning in a small pool near the head of the Dart, fling themselves right up on a sand bank when frightened. On one occasion, of seven fish in a pool, two got right over into a little backwater and had to be helped back."

"In tropic seas these fish swarm in myriads, mullet will often jump right into a boat at night if it has a light aboard. Red snapper will do the same thing."

"Even in English waters gray mullet sometimes catch themselves. Some years ago a shoal of these fish invaded the Great Western Dock at Millbay, Plymouth. The dock was closed and emptied, and 10,000 mullet, weighing four and a half tons, were caught and packed for the French market."

The largest packet 30 years ago had a tonnage of 1,200; the largest one today is of 26,000.

Be a Thoughtful Santa Claus this Year!

Be a thoughtful, rather than an extravagant Santa Claus this Christmas. Give her something personal if you wish, but give her also something which shows you sympathize with and understand her housekeeping problems. Give her a whole new, beautiful, shining set of Diamond Ware, Pearl Ware, or Crystal Ware—those wonderful, clean, lovely enameled wares.

Makes Food Taste Better

Perhaps she has been struggling along with a motley collection of all sorts of cooking utensils, doing her best on cheap wares, slaving away half the evening cleaning up her all-metal pots and pans.

Cut Down Fuel Bills

Diamond Ware and Pearl Ware utensils heat quicker and retain even heat, thus cutting down fuel bills. They give far better satisfaction, and if given fair care will outlast any kitchen ware made. Good hardware stores sell SMP Wares.

CANADA'S PULP AND PAPER RESOURCES
(Ottawa Journal)
It is estimated that the world's approximate newsprint producing capacity is 4,315,000 short tons. The United States, Canada, Germany and the Scandinavian countries are the only nations possessing an important export trade in newsprint. Practically all other countries throughout the world are forced to import the major portion of this vital necessity of modern community life. Even Russia in normal times, despite her almost illimitable forest resources, was a large importer of newsprint. The United States, Canada and Germany are the premier exporters of this commodity, actually consuming 500,000 tons of newsprint in excess of her productive capacity.
Canada has reason to be proud of the fact that the most remarkable development in the history of the industry has taken place within her borders. As recently as the year 1909 we emerged from comparative obscurity as an active competitor in the pulp and paper trade. In that year we produced only 100,000 tons, but even that figure attracted considerable attention amongst interested foreign observers. In 1914 this quota had increased to 414,000 and in 1921 had reached the truly enormous total of 3,200,000 short tons, an amount equal to two-thirds of the total American output. For the seven months of the fiscal year, ending October 31st, newsprint to the value of $38,702,094 was exported from Canada, as compared with $26,788,267, for a similar period in 1921. The total value of paper, wood pulp, and pulp wood exported during October last was $11,388,267, while for the seven-month period of the present year it was $78,566,144. It is practically certain that within a brief period Canada will supplant the United States as the largest producer of newsprint in the world.
The cautious observer may incline to depreciate this rapid development as an indication of over extension and entertain fears of surplus production in excess of readily available markets. However, since the beginning of the period of depression in 1920, following an acute shortage, which was felt wherever newsprint publishing was an important industry, the world demand has not been large enough to absorb the full capacity production of the industry, and, as a result, Germany and the Scandinavian countries, in order to keep their mills running, turned to the markets of the United States. However, this surplus supply is a direct result of a rapidly passing condition of acute trade depression, and the unprecedented domestic demand in the United States together with a growing market in South America will assure Canada of readily available purchasers for her augmented output.
Furthermore, through the operation of provincial pulpwood embargoes, and proximity to almost inexhaustible sources of supply we possess the added advantage of lower production costs over the United States or any foreign competitor.
The weekly meeting of the Fairville Methodist Epworth League was held last evening in the form of a literary night. Those taking part in the program were: Miss Helena Ryan, Harry Sweet, Miss Eva Taylor, Miss Vivien McCollan, Miss Hazel Kelly, Miss Edna Shaw and Miss Hazel Linton. Rev. J. M. Rice, the pastor, spoke a few words.
Mayor Fisher was formally confirmed as chairman of the Board of Governors for the Boys' Industrial Home at a regular meeting held yesterday afternoon at the office of His Worship. The annual report for the year was deferred until the next meeting. Other routine business occupied the short session.

U. S. Consular Report Says Industry Has Grown Independent of U. S. Makes

Washington, Dec. 4.—(By Canadian Press.)—The progress which the Canadian shoe industry has made in meeting the competition of U. S. manufacturers is reflected in a report received by the Department of Commerce from Jose de Oliveira, U. S. Consul in Hamilton.

The consul, after reviewing conditions in the shoe industry in his district, which he declares "is in a general, satisfactory" condition, continues: "Existing conditions seem to hold out little encouragement for a revival of American export trade in boots and shoes in Canada. The consensus of opinion of close observers of the situation is to the effect that during recent years, when the abnormal depreciation of Canadian currency proved so great an obstacle to continued trade with the United States, the production of Canadian factories has grown so much in public favor as to preclude the necessity of restocking the market with imported American lines of footwear which were formerly regarded as staples in the Canadian market."

"Added to this are the effects of the long and persistent campaign on the part of the Canadian Government and numerous Canadian exporters and importers throughout the Dominion in favor of Canadian-made commodities, including boots and shoes, and the existing high duties on the importation of American-made footwear, which have tended to give a boost to the industry here."

New York, Dec. 5.—Persistent selling of railroad shares, both dividend and non-paying, which fell one to two points, had a depressing effect on the whole market. Some of the industrial leaders such as Baldwin, U. S. Steel common and P. & N. E. stock, showed resistance to selling pressure. Studebaker fell nearly all of its initial price. Having succeeded in checking the rally which started last week, bear operators were active in putting out new short lines of stock. People's Gas was hammered by a rumor and Maryland Oil 3/4, while Tidewater Oil, Lorillard Tobacco, American Hide and Leather, Green Bay, Northern preferred, St. Paul preferred, Louisville and Nashville, Gulf States Steel, Houston Oil and American Oil "New Jersey" dropped 1/2 to 3/4. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Montreal Exchange.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—(10:30)—Trading on the local stock exchange during the first half hour this morning was not very brisk. The general tone was only moderately strong, several fractional declines being registered. The paper issues were neglected and, with the exception of Florida, which changed hands at 5, none were bought. The stock market was generally weaker at 110, while the rights sold five cents below their close at 130. Consolidated Smelters, influenced by a rumor that the company was a half point to 3/4. National Breweries was quiet at 48 3/4. It closed yesterday at 48 1/4. Quebec Railway, concerning which much gossip is continually going on in the local street as well as in the ancient capital, sold unchanged at 32. Steel of Canada was off a quarter at 52. The strongest issue this morning was Toronto Railway, which opened a quarter point higher at 85 and then immediately rose to 86.

WAS DULL AND IRREGULAR AT THE OPENING

Hesitant Attitude of Traders in Early Wall Street Dealings—Not Very Brisk in Montreal.

New York, Dec. 5. (10:30)—Opening prices in today's stock market were dull and irregular, most traders adopting a hesitant attitude in the early dealings. Speculative expectation that the Studebaker board of directors will decide on the maintenance of the ten per cent dividend rate and declare a 25 per cent stock dividend at today's meeting, found reflection in the strength of that stock. The sale totaling 8,600 shares at an extreme gain of 2 1/2 points. Sterling Products was pushed up 2 1/2 to a new high for the year, and Continental Can equaled its former high on a gain of 2 1/2 points. Cluett-Peabody climbed five points.

SAY GERMAN GOODS SWAMP HOLLAND

Dutch Factories Forced to Close, Returning Passengers on the Rotterdam Assort.

New York, Dec. 5.—Passengers arriving from Rotterdam say that Holland was in a bad way commercially and financially because the country had been swamped with German goods. The Dutch merchants, it is stated, get a permit to export goods from Germany and have to pay a duty of 100 per cent to Germany before they can be taken over the frontier. They also have to pay the Dutch import duty. The Dutch manufacturers, they said, had to shut down their plants and discharge their workmen. In addition, the cost of living had increased very much in Holland and even fish, formerly cheap and plentiful, was now scarce and very dear.

THE LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY.

(Bank of Commerce Circular)

The number of cattle offered for sale during November in the yards at Calgary was exceptionally large, and for the first time in many months cattle were held over. The number offered for sale at other marketing centres is also large, and as usual, well-finished animals are finding a fairly satisfactory market. For stockers there is, however, a limited demand, but relief in this regard is expected now that arrangements are being made for the modification of the British cattle embargo, and dealers from the United Kingdom are already investigating the possibilities of shipping their stock to Canada. In Canada itself, a movement of stock is taking place to districts where there is ample fodder. At eastern centres there has been some improvement in prices, particularly in dairy cattle.

There has been a considerable improvement in the hog situation in the Canadian West during the past year, and where the market is active, they have gone a long way towards offsetting their losses on cattle. At the Winnipeg market, for instance, twelve per cent on October 25, 125,000 head were received, against 91,115 head for the corresponding period last year.

HIDE PRICES LOWER.

New York, Dec. 5.—Local hide prices declined again yesterday. This is the second day since last Monday. City calfskins weighed 100 lbs. and were quoted yesterday at $3.20, a decline of twenty-five cents from the previous price and a drop of forty cents from last Monday's price. Continued quietness in the local market caused a small panic among some of the smaller dealers, resulting in the two successive price cuts within four days.

A. G. FULLER

In a strong address yesterday afternoon before a combined meeting of the local Advertising Club and the Retail Merchants' Association in the telephone company's building, A. C. Fuller, head of the Fuller Brush Company, told his hearers, "and that is why Canada and the United States, advocated better trade relationships between Canada and the United States for the expansion of the too-limited Canadian market."

BUSINESS GAINS COAST TO COAST

Mine, Mill and Factory Output Jumps. Wages Up and Unemployment Almost Thing of the Past—Wholesale Prices Higher—Loadings Near Record.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Improvement in business and financial conditions in recent weeks is shown in a statement of the Federal Reserve Board just made public. The board gives a summary of conditions throughout the Federal Reserve Districts in the month of November. It says: "Substantial increases of productive activity were reported by basic industries during October. Due principally to increased activity at anthracite coal mines, mineral output was 19 per cent. larger than in September. There was also a larger production of all other miscellaneous freight by railroads."

Record Car Shortage. "The total number of railroad cars loaded was nearly at a maximum, yet the car shortage on November 1 was the largest ever recorded. The large movement of manufactured goods is indicated by the fact that loadings of miscellaneous freight by railroads were larger in October than in any month since 1920. Live stock receipts continue to be exceptionally large, as drought conditions on the ranges during October necessitated unusually heavy marketing. During the first two weeks of November there was a decline in car loadings and some reduction in the estimated car shortage."

Increased production in October has been accompanied by a continued increase in the volume of employment at industrial establishments. The average pay per worker was larger in many industries, due in most cases to increases in hours of work rather than to increases in rates of pay. Railroad repair shops and equipment factories made the largest additions to their forces. Steel mills, metal mines and building contractors still report shortage of skilled labor. Automobile coal mines, on the other hand report a small surplus.

Wholesale trade showed comparatively little change during October. Furniture, hardware, groceries and drugs showed a general up-tendency. Seasonal declines took place in sales of dry goods, textiles and automobile supplies. Retail trade continued to be greater than a year ago and throughout the month was larger than the last month. The volume of payments by checks also increased in every Federal Reserve district, compared with the last month. The total for 140 cities, not including New York, was 11 per cent. larger in October than in September and 13 per cent. larger than in October, 1921. The increase over last October is partly due to the increase in the volume of payments by check.

PASSENGERS HURT AS WAVE HITS SHIP

President Wilson Runs Into Storm, Causing Excitement Below Decks—Two Injured.

New York, Dec. 6.—Rough weather that marked the passage of the liner President Wilson from Trieste to this port, culminated in a heavy storm on Tuesday, during which a mountainous wave struck the vessel, smashed port lights, stove in the door leading to the engine room and caused severe injuries to an immigration official and a woman passenger, and minor injuries to several other passengers and members of the crew. Officers went among the second and third cabin passengers and calmed their fears.

Rough weather began practically as soon as the vessel got out on the North Atlantic lane. It was on Tuesday, however, that she ran into the worst part of it.

All Monday the vessel ran through rough seas and had to fight through a storm that increased in violence until at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the wind instrument on the bridge recorded a velocity of 120 miles an hour. This was accompanied by high seas that sometimes broke over the bows and sent tons of water down the decks. Captain Roberto Stuperich, the ship's commander, and Captain Ettore Zan, her former commander, who comes to this country to take command of another steamship of the line, agreed after the President Wilson had berthed at Pier 7, Bush Stores, Brooklyn, that it was one of the worst storms of their experience.

Describing the huge wave that struck the vessel on Tuesday, the skipper said: "It rose like a green wall slightly on the port side of the ship, and as the vessel rushed to meet it, it broke and the ship was momentarily buried in a another of water that swept her from bow to stern. The onrush of the water stove in some of the port lights and smashed the two-inch glass in the veranda and summer garden forward of the promenade deck. The glass protection on the bridge was smashed.

Captain Zan, who had the bridge, was swept against the bridge railing and bruised. He was also cut by flying glass. Captain Stuperich was in the chart room. He was flung against the opposite wall, but was not hurt.

Commander G. B. Berardelli of the Royal Italian Navy, who was Italian immigration Commissioner on the ship, was sitting on a lounge at the head of the grand staircase with Miss Clara Mary Frank, daughter of a Washington (D. C.) florist and Mrs. Marie Delano Donati. The lounge was torn from its fastening. Mrs. Donati managed to cling to it, but Commander Berardelli and Miss Frank received lacerations of the head and body and possible internal injuries. One cut, four inches long, on the top of her head required five stitches. They were treated in the ship's hospital by Dr. Sestilio Domenico, who also treated other passengers for slight hurts, and several members of the crew for injuries of more or less seriousness.

ROBE OFFICE REFUSED BY BRITISH MAYOR

London, Nov. 12.—(By Mail.) Councillor Mrs. Ada Salter, wife of Alderman D. A. Salter, Labor candidate for W. Bermondsey, who has been elected Mayor of Bermondsey, is the first woman in London to be offered such a position and the first woman representative of Labor in the whole country to be appointed to the office of chief citizen of her town, notes, "The London Daily News."

Mrs. Salter does not propose to wear the chain of office nor the robe. She will not appoint a chaplain, but is prepared to make arrangements for a ten-minute service in the manner of the Friends in the Mayor's parlor before the council meetings. The council previously has opened with prayers.

"I do not know if my husband is going to take upon himself the duties of Mayor," said Mrs. Salter. "There is nothing like having a true comrade at home to help one in public work."

12-HOUR DAY USELESS.

New York, Dec. 5.—The twelve-hour work day has outlived its usefulness and could be eliminated "without either economic or financial disturbance to the progress of American industry," President Harding declares in a statement incorporated as part of the Federal American Engineering Societies' report.

The statement comments on the report of a committee of the organization based on a two year investigation of more than forty continuous industries, including steel and iron, in which the engineers concluded the twelve-hour day was not an economic necessity.

A meeting of the St. John Ambulance Association was held last evening in the Health Centre, when the annual reports of the secretary and the treasurer were read. Arrangements were made for the annual meeting and a nominating committee was appointed. A. C. Skelton was in the chair.

MENTALITY TEST MOST EFFECTIVE

New System at Yale Said to be Best Yet—Ten-Minute Series of Questions—Answers "Yes" or "No."

New Haven, Dec. 5.—A rapid-fire method of testing Yale students mentally has been introduced at the university. Forty questions requiring a "yes" or "no" answer are given in ten minutes. Professor J. M. Anderson of the psychology department says that the new examination is working well and that by it a man's knowledge can be sounded in ten minutes better than in the old way, which required at least half an hour.

Marking in the test may go below zero. The list of questions has been tried on 225 students and, in general, it is understood, the subjects scored about as they would have done in the old test. The physics department thus far has had only one student under the zero until after the college year had begun.

It is said that the new test resembles the psychology tests which have been used in the army and at Columbia University. It will be supplemented by questions from the old form.

Professor L. L. Woodruff of the biological department says that the questions used seem to try out a student's fund of information but apparently fall to test his ability to use the knowledge which he has disclosed.

It is understood that the new test has not yet been regularly taken up but is serving at present as a minor test. The character of the questions has not been made public.

VOYAGERS WILL PLAY AS CASTAWAYS ON CRUZEIRO ISLE (New York Tribune.)

Some of the tourists sailing today on the Ebro of the Pacific Line will take advantage of the special cruise that has been arranged to pass the Christmas holidays on the Juan Fernandez Island, the involuntary home of Robinson Crusoe. The vessel will make a trip to the island, which is a little more than 400 miles out in the Pacific, after she reaches her usual destination, Valparaiso.

Purser William Browne, who brought back stirring stories about the size, deportment and edibility of the Robinson Crusoe crab, on a previous voyage, said he was glad to have the opportunity of going there again so he can bring back concrete evidence of his veracity.
