

"Holy Ghosters" All at Sea No Place on Earth to Land!

"ELIJAH II" AND SHIP "THE KINGDOM." BOTH WANT TO SAIL, BUT HAVE NO PLACE TO GO.

Boston, Aug. 1.—Somewhere out at sea on the Atlantic coast the "Rev." Frank W. Sanford, worshipped as Elijah II, and self-styled Son of God, is drifting aimlessly about, wondering where on the dry earth he can land with his band of "sanctified" followers without being nabbed by the police.

Sanford got a few followers, induced them to generously appropriate their funds for the "common good," and he built the Temple of Shiloh in Maine. Here the poorer of his followers were magnanimously allowed to do the work of tilling the ground, while Sanford and the more wealthy of his followers kept up appearances inside the temple.

Sanford likes to travel, and he got his followers to appropriate funds to fit out a private yacht, which he calls "The Kingdom," and in which he cruised about the world seeking the sights. He enjoyed it immensely. In Jerusalem he deposited a few followers to guard the "Holy Ghost and Us" property there. They are still guarding and wondering how on earth they are ever going to get back to the good old U. S. A. Some more of the followers were on ship-board, and more of the faithful were back at Shiloh temple exercising themselves with prayers while their fields and gardens grew up to weeds.

Forty Day Period Expires And Italy Has Made No Formal Demand For Murderer—Cannot Be Detained.

What Happened When Scotland Yard Man Abruptly Ended Globe Crossing Chase for London Wife Murderer—Miss Leneve Found Refuge in Womanly Tears.

Quebec, Aug. 1.—With Crippen and the girl who accompanied him from London safe in their cells and all danger of escape passed, the officers and others who were present when the arrest was made on the Montrose talk more freely now of what occurred when Inspector Dew boarded the steamer and brought the half round the world chase to an end.

In case the girl fainted, then he entered the cabin, followed by himself. "Do you recognize me?" he asked of the girl when she arose to greet him.

EVERY DAY SEES MORE DOLLARS IN

Campbellton Relief Fund Gradually Nearing $50,000 Mark—Many Subscriptions Yesterday—Boston Helps.

Special to The Standard. Campbellton, Aug. 1.—Contributions today increased the relief fund by about $1,000. It is taking a long time for the fund to reach the $50,000 mark, but it is hoped that the second half of the necessary $100,000 will come quicker than the first. Otherwise there will be many people cold and hungry next winter.

The citizens of Amherst are responding nobly to the call. Yesterday another carload of clothing, etc., was forwarded through Mayor Curry. One day of unbroken sunshine has done a great deal to brighten the lot of the Campbelltonians. The spirits of the people rise and fall with the sun and shine and rain but during the last three days there has been more confidence that the public is going to answer the appeal with the accustomed generosity of Canadians.

A friend of Campbellton has written from Boston, saying that subscriptions were being daily filed in that city. "We must help you raise the relief fund to $100,000," he says. The recent contributions included: Ladies of Elmington, N. B., $61; Citizens of Charlottetown, $50; John W. McManus, Memramcook, $50; Mary E. Charman, Wallace, N. S., $4; Orange Lodge, Dorchester, $10; John Stewart, Halifax, $10; Town of New Glasgow, $50.

TRURO MAN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Thomas McElhenney Thrown From His Wagon When Auto Frightened His Horse—His Injuries Proved Fatal.

Special to The Standard. Truro, Aug. 1.—Word was received here today that Thomas McElhenney, an aged resident of this town, had succumbed to injuries received from an automobile accident on Friday. Mr. McElhenney was a man of over 70 and was thrown from his wagon when an auto frightened his horse. Included in his injuries was a broken leg, but hope was held out for his recovery. However, he will be greatly missed in the community where he was well and favorably known.

The accident coming as it does so soon after the serious one in Halifax makes it appear that automobile owners are either very careless, or are ignorant of the rights of the carriage drivers.

STRICKEN WITH HEART FAILURE, DROWNED IN LAKE. Kineo, Me., Aug. 1.—Stricken with heart failure while paddling a canoe on Moosehead Lake today, John J. Woodside, of Hermon, pitched forward into the water and drowned. Woodside was witnessed by a number of picnickers at Farm Island including Woodside's family, but they were helpless. When they reached the spot where the man had fallen overboard, he was dead. Woodside was 45 years of age and a carpenter by occupation.

THREE DROWNED AT GLACE BAY. Sydney, N. S., Aug. 1.—A distressing drowning accident occurred off Glace Bay yesterday in which three men, Dick Phillips, John Poussey and Miss LeNeve, lost their lives by the capsizing of a boat. The bodies have not been recovered. All were employees of the Dominion Coal Company.

Arrest of Miss LeNeve. Detective Dennis gave the most interesting account of how Miss LeNeve was trapped in her cabin. "As soon as Crippen had been taken in charge by McCarthy," he said, "Inspector Dew and myself went to cabin 5, where we were informed that Miss LeNeve was reading a magazine. Dew gave instructions for a stewardess to stand ready with a glass of brandy to be administered

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE ON BOND ISSUES

Moncton Board Will Submit Resolution Of This Nature To Provincial Board Meeting—Much Business Done.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, N. B., Aug. 1.—At tonight's meeting of the Board of Trade, 82 new members were admitted. Delegates were appointed to a meeting of the Maritime board at Chatham and the following subjects proposed for discussion: "Resolved, that it is the opinion of this board of trade it is advisable that the provincial government take steps to provide for the establishment of main roads between the centres of the several provinces with a view to having such roads established and maintained of a uniform and permanent nature. Further that such roads can best be established and maintained by having them withdrawn from operation of ordinary highway acts and placed under control of a skilled commissioner.

"Whereas the almost total destruction of the town of Campbellton by fire has removed to a large extent the security on which the bonds to be issued and has placed it out of the power of that municipality for a number of years to pay the interest on the same, necessitating an appeal to the Dominion and provincial governments to assume such charges. And whereas this disaster may prejudicially affect the sale of municipal bonds in future, therefore "Resolved, that it is the opinion of this board that all future issues of bonds by town, city or county under authority of the local legislatures shall be guaranteed by the several provincial governments both as to principal and interest and that a guarantee fund be provided by each province from the proceeds of sale of such bonds to meet calls upon them arising from extraordinary emergencies similar to the Campbellton fire.

Mr. Whitehead plans to be absent in the west about a year.

SETTLEMENT IN STRIKE ON GRAND TRUNK?

Company Says Yes, But Heads Of Unions Deny It—Meanwhile Troops Are Called To Ontario Points.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Aug. 1.—The official statement of the Grand Trunk in regard to the strike issued tonight contained the following paragraph: "It is understood that an agreement has been reached, but the details have not yet been given out."

Shows this, President Garretson of the conductors and President Lee of the trainmen, made the following signed statements: "We have no knowledge of any settlement. The best proof of this is that the strike has not even been called off, nor will it be until we have that knowledge and have concurred therein."

Attempts to bring these two statements into harmony were made in vain tonight. Troops Called Out. Bridgeport, Ont., Aug. 1.—A train consisting of five coaches carrying troops from London and Toronto to guard Grand Trunk property from strikers or their sympathizers, arrived here over the Grand Trunk Railway from Niagara Falls at 10.15 this morning. No freight trains have moved over the G. T. R. here as yet. No disturbance has occurred today.

Boston, August 1.—Fire starting from spontaneous combustion in shed number 37 at the Boston and Maine Company's Rutherford Avenue yards this afternoon, resulted in the destruction of the shed containing several thousand tons of hay and five freight cars. The flames spread to shed number 32 and shed number 19, and to the residence on the opposite side of Rutherford Avenue and for a time the whole section was threatened. The combined loss is estimated at $30,000, partly covered by insurance.

NO SPANISH AMBASSADOR AT VATICAN

Left Yesterday For Madrid One Hour After Communication Was Received—Rome Replies To Canalejas.

Rome, Aug. 1.—One hour after presenting the note of Premier Canalejas to the Vatican officially announcing that Marquis de Villaverde had been called to Madrid for a communication from the government, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican left Rome. It was early this morning and as yet no retaliatory measure had been taken by the church and Mr. Vico still remains in Madrid as papal nuncio.

The statement issued by Premier Canalejas yesterday bearing out the controversy between the church and the state has been carefully perused to be clearly understood that that part of the statement in which it is declared that the Holy See intended to concede to the Spanish government less than what was agreed to in 1904, Canalejas, they declare, who now wants greater concessions than those of 1904, on the plea that they were granted to the then premier, Maura, and that Canalejas believed them to be at that time insufficient.

Rome's Contentions. In answer to this the Holy See retorts that it deals with the Spanish government not with parties in the Cortes. The convention between the Holy See and the Spanish government agreed to in 1904, it is pointed out, had already been approved by the senate was about to pass the chamber of deputies when the Maura cabinet fell. This, however, was due to matters having no relation to the convention or the religious question. Why then, the Vatican asks, should greater concessions be granted to Premier Canalejas now? Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has prepared all the documents in the controversy for publication in a white book if the premier issues a red book on the subject.

MGR. TAMPIERI IN ADVANCE OF PAPAL LEGATE

Arrives in New York To Prepare Way For Cardinal Vanutelli Who Represents Pope At Eucharistic Congress.

New York, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Mgr. Santoro Tampieri, one of the secretaries of state and a member of the cabinet attached to the person of Cardinal Vincent Vanutelli, who will be the papal legate at the international eucharistic congress in Montreal, has arrived in this country to represent the cardinal in the arrangements that are being made for his reception.

Programme Arranged. A committee of well known railroad men have arranged a programme whereby the Papal legate will be able in a short time to cover a large part of this country.

Important Incidents. The important incidents of the congress will be the midnight mass for men at the Church of Notre Dame, the municipal reception to the Cardinal Legate at the City Hall, the formal opening at St. James' Cathedral, an open air mass at the foot of Mount Royal and the final procession on Sunday, September 11, which the Pope's representative will carry the sacrament through four miles of streets to Mount Royal, where he will bless the assembled multitude.

The United States will have large representation at this final ceremony. The Catholic club of New York, will marshal 200 members, who will travel to Montreal in a special train. Ev-

Cables From London Say Asquith Strengthened by Settlement of Religious Dispute—Lords' Veto Conferences Continue—Mrs. Pankhurst Threatens Trouble—Meeting of Medical Association—Theatrical News of the Season—Jack Johnson Leaves For London This Week.

London, Aug. 1.—Parliament will adjourn early this week until November. The event of last week in the House of Commons was the passage of the King's declaration bill. The government was apparently unable to jam the original bill through without amendment, but the deletion of the offensive phrase “as by law established” drew the teeth of the opposition and the government triumphantly carried the bill by a majority of 342.

Church Approves. The Archbishop of Canterbury and York express approval of the bill, and their endorsement guarantees it against opposition from the bench of Bishops, while insurgent peers under the leadership of Lord Kinnaird will be unable to raise any effective opposition. The bill as passed does a great and belated act of justice to Catholic subjects and to the King, and the exclusion of the offensive phrase “as by law established” conciliates the Non-conformists. Therefore the government gets out gracefully from what was promised to be an ugly corner. It is known that the King is personally pleased with the terms of the new oath.

MORMONS START CAMPAIGN TO ESTABLISH CHURCH HERE

Two Elders Held Service in Market Square Last Evening and Explained Doctrines—No Polygamy They Say; Have Abundance of Women in Utah—Interviewed By a Standard Reporter.

The Church of Jesus Christ of latter-day saints, commonly called the Mormons, held their first appearance in St. John last evening, about 8:25 Elder John G. Gubler of Santa Clara, Utah, U. S. A., and Elder William Evans of Fruitland, San Juan County, New Mexico, stood at the foot of King street and began to sing a strange hymn to the tune of one of our most familiar Wesleyan melodies.

After the conclusion of the song service Elder Evans stepped forward and explained that they were representatives of the much misrepresented Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints commonly known as the Mormons.

CAPE COD BAY THICK WITH EXPLOSIVE MINES

Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 1.—A line of submarine mines stretches across Cape Cod Bay from Truro to the Sandwich Shore, as a result of the mine laying practice of the battleship fleet today. All the 15 ships of the fleet were engaged all day in planting mines working about three miles apart so that they covered a line of 45 miles. More than 150 mines were laid, the South Carolina alone planting 15 and the others averaged about ten each.

War of the Women. The emphatic announcement that the government will not grant further debate on the “conciliation” suffrage bill has aroused the leaders of the anti-suffrage movement. Mrs. Pankhurst angrily warned the government that her group will resume militant tactics when Parliament reconvenes, darkly hinting that these methods will be “undoubtedly resorted to by the people as they did not understand them before.”

Hope in Radium. Prof. Wiekham spoke more hopefully regarding radium, but he admitted that the complete cure could only be looked for in the case of small accessible cancers. He was emphatic in declaring that radium had a new field in cancer, and he was not at all surprised that the rays, apart from their caustic action were particularly deadly to cancer cells, immediately picking them out by selective action.

Jack Johnson's Visit

Jack Johnson has notified his London agent that he will sail on August 6 for England. Before he sailed for Australia to fight Burns Johnson signed a contract with Walter Gibson, the vaudeville manager, who is now in New York, for an English tour of thirteen weeks at $600 a week. The contract did not state the time of his appearance. If he comes to London now Gibson can enforce the contract. Six hundred dollars a week will not please Johnson nowadays.

Theatrical Notes. Chevallier has been engaged by Tyler for a number of years to play in the United States. He will first appear in The Caretaker, playing an old French janitor. Tyler expects to induce Sir Beethoven Tree to play in the United States for three months. If Tree accepts Ellen Terry will accompany him.

Edward Terry in repertory has been engaged for an American and Canadian tour of 20 weeks. Oscar Asche and his wife have also been engaged. Lily Brayton will open in New York in January. Tyler expects to engage Lena Ashwell and Henry Arley to go to the United States for the autumn season. Miss Ashwell will create the leading role in a new drama. Since he arrived in London Tyler has contracted for the plays The Pompadour Walk, by L. N. Parker, who will visit New York to stage the piece; The Backsliders, by George Egerton; Mrs. Thistletoe's Princess, by Anthony Hope, and Marriage à la Mode, a musical comedy by McEllean and Ivan Carlyll.

Emmie Wehlen, a beautiful Berlinese, will make her debut in New York in a McLellan piece. Tyler has also bought an unnamed play by Justin McCarthy, Hall Caine's “White Prophet,” a new Zangwill play in which Viola Allen will star and a play about Andrew Jackson by Constance Fletcher. Tyler has arranged for a dramatization of “The Garden of Allah.” He says Gertrude Elliott will star in “The Dawn of a Tomorrow” in New York in September. It is apparent that Tyler does not intend to permit Froham in the future to dominate the European play market.

Automobile Industry. Boston, Mass., Aug. 1.—Much has been said first and last regarding the magnitude of the automobile industry, but figures prepared by some of the leading automobile authorities really give a much more concrete idea of the extent of this latest industrial development than can any general descriptive terms.

Displaced 500,000 Horses. Automobile makers claim that already the automobile has displaced 500,000 horses and wagons, the average upkeep of which is 55 cents a day, compared with the average upkeep for passenger conveyances, with an estimated value of $110,000,000. In addition there is a yearly expenditure of $125,000,000 for harnesses and $52,000,000 for harnesses, so that it seems fair to assume that the United States expends yearly for its horse vehicles a total of $240,000,000.

BALLINGER CLAIMS HE IS SCAPEGOAT

Calls Enemies Demagogues and Says Efforts Are Being Made To Ferment Trouble Between T. R. and Taft.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 1.—In an interview which he gave out tonight at Minneapolis, Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the Interior, bitterly arraigned his enemies as “demagogues” and charged that not only are they seeking to make a scapegoat of him, but that they are also trying to ferment trouble between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. He said: “Pheoch, Garfield and that bunch have been after me trying to make a scapegoat of me. The president and I have done all we could to make this administration a success. The president is heartily in favor of a rational conservation and so am I. There are a lot of demagogues that would like to see a breach forced between Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft. It's just the way of things. But President Taft has been wise. He has taken a broad and liberal stand for constructiveness and up-building policies.”

SOLOBERNER PAYS A VISIT

Enumerators Faces Froze with Temperature from 50 to 70 Degrees Below Zero—Easy to Men in Winter.

New York, July 28.—Ten years ago it would have been superfluous not to say impertinent to explain to New York who the Hon. Solo Bernier was. The name Solo Bernier, who was in all his glory in the gladdest nights of the old Fifth Avenue Hotel and its Amen Corner from sundown until it was time to hurry back to the City Hall at day-break to get the cards ready for a day of pinocle in the Aldermanic Chamber with Charley Steckler, now a lawyer, and Billy Leary, now Superintendent of Elections, and Jim Olinstead, now Justice Olinstead, and Jack Tinker, who is now in Washington, and Al Downes, who is dead.

But in the ten years strappings have sprung up who fancy they know all about politics even though the name Solo Bernier may be as new to them as was the sight of the Metropolitan tower to Sol as he looked for the first time in nine years at Manhattan's skyscrapers from the saloon deck of the White Star line Arabic while she was being warped into her dock early yesterday morning.

Bright Pupil.

For the benefit of children let it be told that Sol was one of the brightest pupils in the late Frederick S. Gibbs's old Twenty-seventh Assembly district school of practical politics. One of Sol's fondest memories is that of the founding in this district thirteen years ago of the "Better Element" Club, which got together to try to prevent Sol and other Republican party workers from naming delegates to conventions. But the worst that happened to Sol was that just a few months later Representative Shannon recommended Sol to Congress for the job of Consul to Tenerife, Canary Islands, and in the Senate Sol was endorsed by the late Senator McKinley. He's Consul there still.

"And so," said Sol yesterday as he landed, "my eight-year-old boy is called Julius—for his grandfather, Frederick for Fred Gibbs, Thomas for Tommie, and Solo for Sol. And my boy can speak a different language for every name he owns. He's got a younger sister too, named Miriam, who could think in two or three languages while she was learning to talk."

Sol's wife brought Miriam and Julius Frederick Thomas to the States a month ago and they are now with their grandmother in Washington, where Sol hastened yesterday as soon as he had shaken the hand of the Honorable Goldfogle. Sol's recent illness, his long absence from Broadway and the height of the thermometer, even at the early hour of Sol's arrival did not appeal to him as stimulants to interviewing stunts.

"They had to carry me aboard the boat when I left the Canaries," said Sol, who has lost twenty-four pounds since the beginning of summer. "I weighed only about 140 pounds to begin with, and so I applied for a sixty day leave of absence to pull myself out of the breakdown that due to the hard work that fell to me after Vice-Consul Vivos died a few months ago. I'm coming back from Washington in about a week to see a good doctor here."

When Sol first went to Tenerife he objected to the native method of laundering his daintiest shirt creations by pounding them with sharp stones and wrote home plaintively about the matter. And next he grew irritated when the islanders learned that he was the United States Consul (this was immediately after the Spanish war) and began to throw the sharp stones at Sol.

"But they're cordial to me now," Sol was glad to say yesterday. "We've got a busy office at Tenerife. These folks that think all a consul to the Canaries has to do is to shin up the peak of Tenerife once a month to see that the islands are still there has another guess coming. In the last ten years the exports from the Canaries to the United States have jumped from $250,000 a year to $1,000,000, and we have a busy consulate there."

"Every month the Canaries want more and more of our petroleum, tobacco, lumber, flour, lard, hardware cotton textiles, machinery—all kinds of American products. We're exporting about $150,000 worth of our own products to the United States every coilneal and onions. It was bad year, mostly onion seed, drawn work, enough when most of the work connected with these exports and imports was saddled upon me after the death of my Vice-Consul. Then the Vice-Consul's clerk died, and I had three men's work to look after. No wonder to this. The temperature is always about the same, but that's the trouble with it—it grows monotonous."

Sol said that he hasn't followed local politics during his absence. Before he left for Washington the Hon. Goldfogle told him a bit about recent happenings. When he gets back to Broadway next week he's going to brush up some more.

Parties Arranged.

But today the position is no longer the same. The clever French girl if she can sing or play or act in comedy wants to exhibit her talents in public. She is not too timid to appear before an audience which pays for admission in the sacred name of charity.

In Paris during the last winter the most chic entertainments of the season were those at which les dames du monde and les jeunes du monde appeared at matinees given in public theatres hired for the purpose, and saw private society under the most dramatic art, and it was almost as much as her reputation was worth to dance in public.

The audacious young ladies who first broke through the bounds of convention raised a perfect cyclone of outraged criticism. "What frivolity! 'C'est-à-pas l'usage.'" "The jeune fille de tout pas se faire remarquer." "I wouldn't let my girl do such a thing." Probably not. But one day for charity's sweet sake the scandalized mamma goes to a concert at which "une jeune fille du monde" lends her assistance. She is charming and accomplished, and before she knows it mamma is applauding as sincerely as everybody else. Applause means encouragement and when later mademoiselle asks her mother's permission to appear also at a charity entertainment mamma is powerless to refuse.

Despite herself she has been imperceptibly drawn into the current and is following the movement. Her doubts are silenced by such arguments as "Your niece appears in public, and your friends' daughters do it. Why should not Germaine, or Yvonne, or Suzanne?" Why not indeed, especially if it be in aid of a well-deserving charity? And so today that is where we are in Paris. A certain number—very day increasing—of girls and young women belonging to the best circles in society have now their theatre, their repertoire and their public.

A stern critic might find objections to this painting of feminine talent in public, even when the public is drawn from the same "milieu" as those on the stage. But there is also much to be said in its defence. It is better than shutting a girl up in a convent, and if she shows no taste for diverting visiting and Dorcas meetings the study of music and private theatricals may save her from neuroses or running away with the chauffeur.

To Study in Paris Dr. Raymond Landry, who has for the past two years been practicing in the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, passed through here yesterday en route to his home in Dorchester to make preparations for an extensive trip to Paris, where he will study for over a year.

THE METHODS OF DR. CRIPPEN.

Now that Dr. Crippen is safely within the clutches of the law it may not be without interest to look back and examine the steps he took to escape detection and throw the police off the scent. The tragedy which was enacted at 39 Hilldrop Crescent will find a prominent place in the annals of crime for its cold-blooded brutality and the many unusual circumstances which surrounded it. Crippen himself, to look upon, is described as small and insignificant. In the light of the evidence already made public, his mental ability for handling a crime of such a nature seems in keeping with his personal appearance.

All criminals, even the shrewdest of them, are said to leave some clue by which, if it can be found, they will be brought to justice. Crippen left not one, but half a dozen. An analysis of his actions, from the day he murdered Belle Elmore until his arrest, shows him to have been the veriest tyro in his methods to escape detection. That he succeeded in keeping clear of the police so long was not due to any foresight on his part. Criminals have compelled admiration for the adroitness with which they have succeeded in covering up their tracks, but Crippen was no artist in crime. The very steps he took to avoid suspicion were as tracks in the snow once the law was on his trail.

To begin from the date of the murder in January, his first problem was the disposal of the body of his victim. As far as is known he succeeded in removing all trace of the bones, skull and teeth of the unfortunate woman, and after cutting up the flesh, buried the remains beneath the brick floor of his cellar in quicklime. The fact that the soil being a dry clay would retard the action of the quicklime escaped his notice. The application of a pail of water would have resulted in the disappearance of every trace of his victim. He never thought of it, apparently, and the identification of the remains months afterwards as those of a woman is now one of the strongest links in the chain of evidence against him.

His next move was to write a letter, in a fairly good imitation of Belle Elmore's hand, which was sent to the Music Hall Artists' Guild, to announce that she had to leave hurriedly for the United States to visit a sick relative. This would, on the evidence of the recipients, have excited no surprise, but for the almost inconceivable carelessness in spelling "Elmore" with two l's. This trifling mistake first roused suspicion and set the wheels of the law in motion.

Next came a series of blunders on the part of Crippen which did not aid him in the least, and were quite unnecessary for his purpose. Having concocted the tale that his wife had gone to America, he not only announced her death, which was part of his plan to enable him to marry Miss LeNeve, but through the public press advertised the information that she died at the home of his son in California. When confronted with his son's denial of any knowledge of his stepmother, he was forced into finally admitting to the police that he did not know where his wife died. It is difficult to understand at this distance why the authorities at Scotland Yard did not then arrest Crippen on suspicion. That they were suspicious is clear from their having exacted a promise that he would not attempt to leave his home, and that they were considered to have been overcautious is evident from the series of questions on this point which were put to the Home Secretary in parliament.

This, then, was Crippen's chance to escape and he availed himself of it, but in doing so he did two things which left an indelible trail. He sent a lad to a store to buy a boy's suit of clothes and making Miss LeNeve dress in them took her with him. The boy's evidence was soon in the hands of the police and instructions were flashed to every port to arrest not one man, who would have had a chance to escape in a crowd, but two persons, and one a woman of whom an accurate description was given, dressed in boy's clothes.

Crippen does not seem to have been content to have indirectly aided the police even to this extent. Having succeeded in getting safely to the continent and Antwerp, where he had a chance to remain in seclusion, he boarded the Montrose with his companion, bound for Canada, thus giving Scotland Yard ten days' grace to complete their plans, and guard every port of entry while he was powerless to escape. Even on the steamer he exercised none of that vigilance to avoid suspicion which is characteristic of the ever watchful criminal. We learn from the captain that the girl's clothes excited his suspicions, and she was frequently seen affectionately pressing Crippen's hand in public, an action which any lad of sixteen would have avoided.

The arrest of the fugitives followed in due course, and Crippen is recorded as saying that he was glad the suspense was over. In the light of his long series of blunders and ineffectual attempts to cover up his tracks since the crime, this is little to be wondered at. As the perpetrator of a ghastly murder Crippen is pre-eminent, but as an adept in crime, even should he cheat the gallows, he must be left out of the reckoning.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

Mackenzie and Mann believe that the Intercolonial Railway should belong to the Canadian Northern System. It would carry their Transcontinental line to a winter port. Now they have only Montreal and Quebec as shipping terminals. Their Western lines are extending more and more. Their carrying trade to the Lakes is growing enormously. In time they must have an Eastern extension, whether they build it or buy it.

It would not be out of accord with the railway policy of the Federal Administration if the Intercolonial were put up for sale. Both the Premier and the Minister of Railways have expressed their hostility toward Government ownership of railways, and have asserted that the means of regulation given by Parliament to the Railway Commission is all the protection that the public requires.

There is a reactionary flavor about these statements. They do not sound well from the mouths of Liberal ministers. Certainly they do not express the ideas or the ideals of unofficial Liberals throughout the country. They do not partake of the democratic spirit shown in the platform of 1893. The whole tendency of modern Progressives is to take public utilities out of the hands of exploiting corporations, and to put them under the control of the people whose interests they serve. It has been proved that public service corporations are not particular about public rights. The very establishment of the Railway Commission is an admission of this fact. But, at best, it is a half measure.

The Laurier administration had the chance of making the Intercolonial a prosperous and profitable line. At comparatively small cost it could have been extended to the Lakes, and thus could have secured its share of the grain trade which is the sheet anchor of the Canadian railways. But the Government demurred, it neglected the one chance of putting the road on a stable basis. The Intercolonial remains a local line, running from seaport to seaport, and tapping no part of the country where freight originates.

But even this was not enough. The Government is building the Transcontinental line from Winnipeg to Montreal, a line which will cost over $200,000,000 of public money, and which, when completed will be handed over to the Grand Trunk Pacific—if it cares to take it. From Montreal east this line will be a competitor of the Intercolonial and will still further divide the local traffic. It would appear as if the Government were deliberately trying to injure the Intercolonial so that it might be handed over to one of the big companies which has a Western connection.—Toronto News.

RUSHING TO CATCH TRAINS.

The medical view of the physical effects of rushing to catch the train is being forced upon public attention in the capital of the Empire at present, and is not without interest elsewhere. A remarkable attack on the suburban residence habit, made by Dr. A. E. Harris, the Medical Officer of Health for Islington, was based largely on the physical dangers of the practice referred to. "There can be no doubt," Dr. Harris says, "that the hurry and rush to London and out of it have caused many premature deaths from heart disease, apoplexy, and paralysis." Inquiries made at the National Hospital for Diseases of the Heart, elicited the opinion that it was difficult to trace any cases treated at that institution directly to the causes mentioned by Dr. Harris; although it was added that many patients complained of symptoms directly referable to the nervous system, possibly in association with their heart trouble.

It was pointed out that much depends on the individual's habits, the distance from London at which he lives, and the facilities he has for traveling. If a suburban resident walks slowly to the station, and goes at a leisurely pace from the train to his work, he is not more liable to strain or stress than any man living in Islington or any other London borough. If, on the other hand, he rushes to business, hurries about his work, and takes insufficient time over his meals (consuming them in an underground restaurant over a game of chess), then the disadvantages of which Dr. Harris speaks become apparent. The view was expressed that Dr. Harris was perhaps a little bit prejudiced in favor of his own borough, which is a healthy one; and it was also pointed out that it is a moot question whether the cost of food is greater in suburban districts than in London.

Generally speaking, however, it was admitted that the modern hustling habit has told on the hearts of the population—especially with regard to functional diseases of the heart. "Nervous diseases as a whole, including 'insanity,'" it was stated, "and nervous diseases of the functional type, including those of the heart, have certainly increased in recent years—since the age of 'hurry' began."

The proposal of the Polymorphians to organize a musical night for the citizens in King Square next Monday for the benefit of the Campbellton fire sufferers is well worthy of support. Many who would not care to see their names on a subscription list, but would gladly add their mite to the fund, will welcome the opportunity. As one of the leaders in the movement said last night, "It will give the poor man a chance to give a little." There is much truth in the old saying "Many a little makes a muckle," and this is an excellent way to prove it.

CURRENT COMMENT

(Canada, London, England.)

It is the custom of some insurance companies to insert in accident insurance policies a clause restricting the liability of the insurance company to only one-twentieth of the indemnity in case of "exposure to unnecessary danger." An action against the Dominion of Canada Guarantee and Insurance Company, brought by the widow of a railway employe who lost his life on the Canadian Pacific Railway, is of much interest, and points an obvious moral. The deceased, whom a conductor of a train suspected of being drunk, was forced from the platform on to the track by the side of the train, and half an hour afterwards was killed by an incoming train, although he was seen to raise his arm to stop it. The widow claimed $2,000. The Guarantee Company declined to pay more than $100, basing their decision on the aforementioned clause. Plaintiff obtained judgment for $2,000, with interest from date of service and costs, the learned judge relying for his verdict upon the improbability of a railway employe voluntarily lying down between the rails, and upon his conviction that the man was stunned and incapacitated by the violent ejection. The moral appears to be that if insurance companies desire to promote universal insurance, it does not behoove them to put too great a strain upon provisions placed in insurance policies for their own protection.

(Toronto World.)

It is interesting to compare the passing of the bill in England modifying the language, insulting to Catholics, of the coronation declaration of the King, with the sending of the ultimatum on the same day by the Vatican to Spain, demanding that Protestants shall not have the freedom of public worship in that country.

(London Free Press.)

Hon. Mr. Pugsley has been to Campbellton. He saw the desolation that followed the fire, the people housed in sheds and lacking the necessities of life. His heart was touched. His impulses of sympathy were stirred. At once he gave orders that the Government building should be restored and a wharf built.

IN DEATH

How still the room is! But a while ago
The sound of sobbing voices vexed
my ears,
And on my face there fell a rain of tears.
I scarce know why or whence, but now I know.

For this sweet speaking silence, this surreal
Of the dumb, desperate struggle after breath.
This painless consciousness of perfect peace,
Which is the place of anguish—it is Death!
What folly to have feared it! Not the best
Of all we know of life can equal this,
Blending in one the sense of utter rest.
The vivid certainty of boundless bliss!
O Death, the loveliness that is in these,
Could the world know, the world would cease to be.
—Mary Emily Bradley.

THE NECESSITY OF FRIENDSHIP.

Shall you, whose life is so brief, become weary of enduring the wicked, and that, too, when you, yourself, are one of them? Our nature is too closely bound up with the fabric of the universe to make it possible to adopt an attitude of antagonism toward our fellows. A branch cut off from the adjacent branch must, of necessity, be cut off from the whole tree also. So, too, a man, when he is separated from another man, has fallen off from the whole social community. Now, as to a branch, another cuts it off, but a man, by his own act, separates himself from his neighbor, when he hates him and turns away from him; and he does not know that at the same time he has cut himself off from the whole social system.

MAIN STREET PAVING CONTRACT RESPONSIBLE FOR STORM AT COUGLE MEETING YESTERDAY

Ald. Potts Moved For Dismissal of City Engineer But Only Two Aldermen Voted For It--Question of Appointing Constables Leads Ald. Baxter to Resign Treasury Board Chairmanship--Resignation Not Accepted--Other Business.

At the meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon, two resolutions providing for an investigation of the Main street paving question were introduced but neither were voted on. A motion by Ald. Potts, to discontinue the engineer, secured two votes, that of himself and the second, Ald. Holder.

A dramatic turn was given to the proceedings when, as the result of the turning down of a motion to appoint constables to assist the chamberlain's office in the collection of taxes, Ald. Baxter asked to be relieved of the duties of chairman of the board. However, the street he stepped into the breach, and persuaded the council to reconsider its action in reference to the constables, and Ald. Baxter to withdraw his resignation. The council voted $3000 in relief of the Campbellton fire sufferers and transacted a good deal of other business.

Besides the mayor, there were present Ald. Hayes, Scully, Potts, Baxter, Elkin, Holder, Smith, White, McGoldrick, Likely, Wigmore, Russell, Willet, Sprout and Vanwart. After the minutes of the last meeting were confirmed the report of the treasury board was taken up. Ald. Baxter when explaining the accounts recommended for payment, said that owing to improvement work in connection with the ferry service, an overdraft of $7000 would be needed. The section recommending the dismissal of Constable A. G. Sherwood was approved. In reference to the recommendation that the sources of Harriet Weir in full payment for all arrears of water taxes up to 1908, Ald. McGoldrick said the law which enabled the city to sell property to secure water ratings was worthy of Siberia. He proposed to move that the law be referred to the by-laws committee with a view to having it amended.

Faith Alone is Wanted. Ald. Baxter thought the law would work out all right if they had faith. It was not the intention to sell people in unfortunate circumstances out of their house and home. The common clerk would grant relief when it seemed advisable. The main object of the law was to prevent the chamberlain being made the target of solicitations of all sorts. The section was adopted. In moving the adoption of the report as a whole, Ald. Baxter asked permission to add a motion to vote $3000 to the relief of the Campbellton fire sufferers. He thought the citizens would approve of this action. By voting $3000 the total contribution from St. John for the relief would be $10,000 or thereabouts.

Ald. McGoldrick in seconding the motion, said he had been in Campbellton for some time, and had never seen such a sorry looking town. Most of the people live in tents, and when it rained were soaked. There were only two or three houses, and the best accommodation was provided by the cars. He had never seen such a heartrending sight. The mayor and people of Campbellton appreciated the action of the City of St. John in sending a car of provisions, and would be glad to give them their position, but they would when the weather turned cold. They couldn't live in shacks all winter.

Use St. John Relief Fund. Ald. Potts thought Campbellton should take example from St. John and not tie up the relief fund. He understood that $12,000 of the amount contributed to the relief of the St. John fire sufferers was lying in the banks, and he thought the legislation should be secured to enable that amount to be turned over to the Campbellton people. Ald. Likely said the $12,000 was held in trust, and had been well administered by the committee in charge of it. He thought the citizens should subscribe money individually. The council in voting $3000 was compelling the citizens to pay whether they wanted to or not. However, he would vote for the grant. His worthy friend thought that the proposal made by Ald. Potts had been broached very often in his office during the last three weeks. The motion to grant $3000 additional was adopted unanimously.

LONG LIST OF CASES IN THE POLICE COURT Drunks Fined Usual Sums--Imperial Oil Co. Reported in Connection With Shipments of Oil in City. Half a dozen prisoners were on the police bench yesterday. Two drunks were fined the usual amount. Michael Manning was fined eight dollars for being drunk on Main street and was remanded on the charge of breaking glass in Mr. Smith's house on Long Wharf.

Policeman Hughes charged George Morrison with being drunk and using abusive language on Carmarthen St. Saturday afternoon. The prisoner pleaded guilty and was fined $16 or two months in jail. William Crowley was charged with being a common vagrant, with no visible means of support and with lying and lurking in a coal shed on the Dominion Coal Company's wharf. He admitted to the court that he had no home and had no money. He was sentenced to serve three months in the Municipal Home.

William Ryan pleaded not guilty to assaulting James McDevitt on the 30th of April last. McDevitt gave evidence that on the day in question he was in Tobin's store on Brussels street when Ryan and his wife entered and both were under the influence of liquor. Mrs. Ryan started to use insulting language to McDevitt and Ryan started to beat him. The complainant stated that Ryan wore steel knuckles and when he struck the witness on the eye he cut it very badly. The injured eye still bore the marks. After using the knuckles Ryan ran from the store and drove away. McDevitt said he then laid an information against Ryan, who was not arrested until last Saturday afternoon.

George McDevitt, a brother of the complainant, swore that he saw Ryan running from the store on the day in question and was then taking the steel knuckles from his hand. Ryan took the stand in his own behalf and testified that he was assaulted by McDevitt and that he did not once strike the complainant. Ryan also swore that her husband did not assault McDevitt and that the latter called her some very bad names. The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock when Mrs. Stevens, a clerk in the store, will give evidence.

Haley Brothers were charged with encumbering Broad street with a pile of lumber, and Britain street sidewalk with a wagon on the 28th instant. The firm was fined four dollars. Robert Beckwith, a hackman, was charged with violating the rules at the L. C. depot on the 29th inst, by receiving passengers from the side entrance. The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. James McCarron and James McCafferty were charged by D. H. Jack with throwing peanut shells on the Charlotte street sidewalk on the afternoon of the 23rd ult. They both pleaded not guilty. Mr. Jack gave evidence that he saw the men throwing the shells on the sidewalk and when they were required to give their names to Policeman Sullivan they refused to do so and taking the matter with a laugh, they walked away. Police Clerk Henderson stated that there was a great quantity of shells thrown about the King Square on Saturday night and that he thought the boys should not be allowed to sell peanuts about the streets.

McCarron took the stand and testified that they did not eat any peanuts or throw any shells on the sidewalk. Mr. Jack gave evidence that he was eating peanuts and was putting the shells in his pockets and perhaps some of the shells fell to the sidewalk. The case was stood over until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when the evidence of Officer Sullivan will be taken. Thos. H. Bullock, representing the Imperial Oil Company, was before the court charged by Charles Adams, representing the Turnbull Road Estate Co., with having more oil on the Turnbull wharf at one time than is allowed by law. The complainant stated that on Tuesday last the Imperial Oil Co. had no less than 15 barrels of oil, gasoline and naphtha, and that each barrel would contain about 40 gallons. The oil was to be shipped on board the steamer Bear River and was allowed to remain on the wharf during the afternoon and until the next morning. It was very dangerous in case of fire and the other property besides the estate company's property was endangered. Mr. Adams stated that the law did not allow any person to have more than 200 gallons of oil in a place such as the wharf at one time, and on Tuesday last there was in the vicinity of 600 gallons there. Once before there was no less than 95 barrels of oil on the North wharf at one time, and once last year the Imperial Oil Co. took twenty barrels to the schooner L. M. Ellis. Mr. Bullock stated that the company were within the law to ship the oil to the steamer and it was not placed on the wharf for storage. The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when other witnesses will be examined.

Young Girl's Sad Story. A young girl named Logan called at the police station yesterday and had a rather sad story to tell. She said that she formerly lived in Westville, Nova Scotia, and that a few months ago she was taken away from her home by a Mrs. Simpson, who conveyed her to Woonsocket, R. I. Last week Mrs. Simpson let her go and shipped her back to Canada and promised to send her clothes after her. The girl said that she arrived here on Friday morning last on the steamer Calvin Austin and has no money to proceed to her home in Westville and that her baggage has not yet arrived from Woonsocket. The officials at the police station are endeavoring to assist the young girl to get out of the city and on her way to her home.

GRAIN AND CATTLE IN CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS STRONG

New York, Aug. 1.—The speculation in stocks developed constraint today and there was hesitation about pursuing operations on either side of the account.

This was due partly to the closing of the London stock exchange for a holiday. The firmer tone of London exchange in New York and the weaker return of the Imperial Bank of Germany for the week seemed to turn the balance of advantage in favor of Berlin as a bidder.

The constraint on the speculation came partly from the uncertainty of the crop outlook. There is a desire to await the appearance of the government report on condition of the cotton crop tomorrow for information on extent of the deterioration of the plant during July.

In the opening weakness of the market, Pennsylvania was affected by the reduction in net earnings reported for June, the gross increase being overbalanced by the increased operating cost.

Individual investors may have our advice at all times on matters affecting the purchase and sale of securities. Write at once for the latest Review.

Since joining the Yankees the youngster has let the cat out of the bag, and now the athletic boards of the three colleges where he was a star member of the base ball team are away up in the air.

Boats went up to the Narrows again yesterday afternoon to grapple for the body of Jack Sherwood who was drowned Sunday afternoon. They were unsuccessful in their search, but another attempt will be made today. He Did Not Stay Long. Geo. Verity, the London electrical manufacturer, whom it is said has been making inquiries about conditions in St. John with a view to establishing a plant here, was in the city yesterday long enough to get breakfast. Considered Labor Day Parade. A meeting of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union was held in their hall on Brussels street last evening. A report was received from the Building Trades Council in reference to the proposal to hold a parade on Labor Day, but it was decided not to take any action in the matter. Several members were initiated. Heavy Travel on I. C. R. L. R. Ross, terminal agent for the I. C. R. is particularly well pleased with this year's passenger traffic from the city, both East and West, more especially to the East. The month of July was an exceptionally good one and exceeded all others in the previous years. This includes also the suburban traffic, which has increased wonderfully in the last couple of years. Will Attend Eucharistic Congress. It is expected that a great number of St. John people will attend the Eucharistic Congress, which will be held in Montreal early in September. His Lordship Bishop Casey, will be in attendance, leaving here on Sept. 6, and it is expected that several of the priests of the diocese will also go. NEVER SUCH CROPS AS THIS SEASON'S YIELD

A. H. Thompson Greatly Impressed With New Brunswick as Farm Province—Will Start Cattle Station Here.

A. H. Thompson, the importer of pure bred cattle and horses, is trying to secure a small farm near St. John, as a station where imported stock may recuperate from the effects of a sea voyage before being offered for sale. He arrived in St. John yesterday on his way to inspect a place not far from the city. To a reporter he said he had recently sold two Ayrshire cows, Flora Jean and Rhoda III, to A. E. Triton of Salsbury. "If the farmers of this province don't make money this year they never will," he added. "I've travelled around quite a bit lately and I never saw such crops. The more I see of this province the more I am impressed with its farming and stock raising possibilities. But it must be said that too little attention is given to farming in this province—mostly it is left with the boys. When the people really wake up to their possibilities you will see a great change in the Maritime Provinces. There is no place in the world where a man can get such good returns from a small expenditure of energy on the land. It is folly for the young men to go west. If they work just one-tenth as hard on a farm in this province as they have to do when they go west they would be better off. All that is needed is the hustling, hardworking spirit of the West to usher in an era of great prosperity in this province. Young men who get in on the ground floor now, and go to work with a will, ought to make a great deal more money than they could hope to do in the West, where they have to compete with the hardest workers in the world. And they will live longer and have a better time."

WOMEN'S COUNCIL WANT SANITARY FOUNTAINS

Pass Resolution Asking Council to Provide Drinking Water at Parks and Schools—Seal Bread Recommended.

The passing of important memorials to the city council, the reading of Mrs. A. W. Robb's report of the National Convention at Halifax, and the discussing of plans for the Dominion Exhibition were the features of the meeting of the Local Council of Women in the Assembly Hall of the King's Daughters Guild yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and Mrs. David McClellan, president of the council occupied the chair. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $566. Miss Isabel Peters submitted the following resolutions, all of which were passed after some discussion: "That we recommend to the common council the passage of a city by-law requiring all bakers of bread in St. John to enclose each loaf in a sealed paper case before it leaves the bakery; "That we respectfully request the common council of St. John to provide sanitary drinking fountains in the school houses, city buildings and public squares. "Whereas, the agitation against tuberculosis includes the sanitary protection of food and the proper care of public drinking fountains; resolved that the secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to the Anti-Tuberculosis Society and respectfully request its co-operation in securing favorable action thereon by the common council." In bringing forward the first resolution Miss Peters said that other cities had adopted the plan and it had proved successful. One grocer in the city with whom she dealt, was keeping all the bread in his store covered. The sanitary fountains referred to in the second resolution were composed of small pipes from which small streams of water flowed. Some of the ladies, speaking to the motion, said that the present method of having 200 or 300 drinking from the same cup was a very pernicious one. The last motion passed without any discussion. An Interesting Report. Mrs. A. W. Robb in her report to the national council paid a compliment to the president, Mrs. Robt. Thomson, of St. John, who proved efficient in all the departments of her work, and also to the general secretary, Mrs. Wilboughby Cummings, of Toronto, who upon retiring from her position was presented with a purse of $300 in gold. With $100 of the gift she had procured herself the position of life patron of the council. Mrs. Robb's report which owing to her absence, was read by Mrs. A. W. Campbell, also mentioned the report on Education by Dr. Eliza Ritchie, the address on technical education for girls, by Mrs. Sexton, of Halifax, the report on the white slave traffic, that on the laws for the better protection of women and children, by Mrs. Bullock, of St. John, and the motion for equal franchise passed by a large majority. The president, Mrs. David McClellan gave an interesting account of the entertainment extended to delegates by the local council of Halifax. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in discussing plans for the council's exhibit in September. Mrs. Coughie, exhibition secretary, announced that she had already received 48 entries and expected many more before the opening. The following societies have volunteered to take charge of the women's work building during exhibition week: Tuesday—Natural History Society, Wednesday—Church of England Institute, Thursday—Seamen's Institute and St. Stephen's church, Friday—Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary, Tuesday—W. C. T. U. Miss Grace Leavitt gave a detailed account of the Campbellton fire fund.

BISHOP'S PICNIC AT TORRYBURN TODAY

Grounds Have Been Improved and Big Outing Promises to Be Great Success—Start at 10 a. m.

Today is a red letter one to hundreds of youngsters in the Cathedral parish. The occasion is the annual outing of the Cathedral parish, or as it is more familiarly known, to the little ones, the "Bishop's Picnic" will be held. Should Old Sol be in a glad mood, "the bells will ring at eight" to announce that everything is in readiness. At 10 o'clock the little girls will assemble at St. Joseph's school while the boys will line up at St. Malach's. Headed by the City Cornet Band, which will render music suitable for the occasion, the little ones, dressed in gala attire, will parade to the Union depot, where special trains will convey them to the beautiful picnic grounds at Torryburn. And not only the children will enjoy the outing, hundreds of men will forget the cares and worry of the city and enjoy the crisp, fresh air and the natural beauties of this most picturesque spot. Several improvements have been made in the grounds, which will add greatly to the convenience of the crowds, and it is expected to make this year's outing the most successful for some time. Trains will leave the city for the grounds at 10, 11:30 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

POLYMORPHIANS WILL AID FIRE SUFFERERS

Novel Scheme Planned by Which Everyone May Give Something Towards Campbellton Relief Fund.

The Polymorphians are planning for big things in aid of the Campbellton sufferers. At a meeting of about 80 members of the old Polymorphian Club in the Victoria-Bowling Alleys, Charlotte St., last evening, with the president, Mr. R. J. Wilkins in the chair, it was decided to hold a giant band concert in King Square next Monday evening. All the bands of the city are expected to be in attendance. A committee was appointed to interview the Street-Railway relative to the hanging of many more electric lights. The money will be obtained by passing around a collection plate through the crowds. The reason for this mode of collection is that it will give the poor man a chance to contribute something. Meetings of the club will be held every night this week to develop plans for making this musical evening a big thing, and moreover a thing that will "gather in the shillings." All but one of the half-dozen city bands have been seen and have offered their services. Each band will mount the band stand in turn and at the conclusion the united bands will render a popular air. Besides determining to aid the people of Campbellton in this manner, the meeting last evening decided to give $100 in addition to what would be collected in the square. One hundred and seventy-two dollars had been received in cash and $157.88 paid out. Merchants with whom they had dealt had all given at least 5 per cent. discount on wholesale prices and in some cases as much as 20 per cent. below. In one case the bill of $50 had been cut in half and the firm had afterwards given $75 to the fund. Among the visitors at the meeting was Mrs. J. E. B. McCready, wife of the editor of the Charlottetown Guardian, who told of the technical schools in Worcester, Mass.
