

The Sun Standard

VOL. XI, NO. 69.

SIXTEEN PAGES

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1919.

GENERALLY FAIR

THREE CENTS

VOTE ON M'MASTER AMENDMENT END OF NEXT WEEK; PEACE COUNCIL REWISE TEXT OF PEACE TREATY; CHIEF JUSTICE ARCHBALD SPEAKS FOR WOMEN

Women Are Demanding Equality

Chief Justice Archibald of Montreal Comments on the Shortcoming of the Law in the Light of the Growing Independence of Women.

LACKS BREADTH RE MARRIED WOMEN

Believes That When it is Proposed There Can No Longer be Harmony Between Consorts They Should be Authorized to Live Separately

Special to The Standard.

Montreal, June 13.—A noteworthy incident at today's sitting of the second Division Court of Review, was the impromptu observations made by acting Chief Justice Archibald, respecting the status of married women before the courts, and what seemed to him to be the short coming of the law in the light of the growing independence of women and their demand to be treated in their married life on an equality with their consorts.

The judge's conclusion was that the law, at the present time, is not wide enough in scope to render justice in cases where there may not have been any actual breach of the provisions as laid down by the law, yet in which the parties no longer have any interest in common and who, as the judge said, "so hate each other that there can be no semblance of harmony, but only a veritable hell, so long as they are compelled to live together."

These cases, the acting chief justice said, were getting more and more difficult to decide every day. One judge would interpret the law in one way and another judge in another way—one would find that a certain thing was an injury, and another would not see it in the same light. The result was that there was no settled jurisprudence.

Manners were changing from day to day, and the independence of women was increasing. They demanded to be placed in the same position as men in regard to matters of social life, and were unwilling to be treated differently from men with respect to any question concerning their conjugal life.

"And," His Lordship added, "that probably, is the position which will finally obtain recognition in the laws of the country."

"It seems to me that when it is proved there can no longer be proper harmony between consorts they should be authorized to live separately from each other. It is on the ground of good moral effect, from any point of view, to compel two persons

ELABORATE PLANS PREPARED FOR THE FORMAL CEREMONY OF SIGNING OF PEACE TERMS

The Actual Signing Will be Staged in the Historic Hall of Mirrors of the Chateau Versailles—Only the French Flag Will Float from the Chateau at the Opening of the Ceremony—Pres. Wilson Will be First to Affix Signature—Famous Fountains Will Play for the Admiration of Delegates—Pomp and Splendor on All Sides.

Winnipeg Rounds Up Offenders

Officers Believe They Now Have in the Toils Those Who Were Responsible for the Riots of Tuesday and Wednesday.

MULTITUDE OF SEAMEN ON FRENCH BLACK SEA FLEET REPORTED TO CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Refused to Make War Against Russians, a War Which Parliament Had Not Voted—Red Flag Run up on the Battleship Beside the Tri-Color—Men Respectful in Their Attitude But Refused to Obey Orders and Insisted They Should be Returned to France—Admiral Promised They Would Not be Punished.

Division On Amendment Next Week

It is Expected Every Member from West of Great Lakes Will Want to Place Himself on Record Before the Vote.

DR. EDWARDS ATTACKS HON. T. A. CRERAR

Declares That as Minister of Agriculture for the Last Eighteen Months He Was Responsible for the High Cost of Living.

Winnipeg Switchmen and Trainmen Vote To Go On Strike

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—Officials of the Winnipeg switchmen and trainmen's locals announced this afternoon that they had voted to go on strike at six o'clock tonight. It is believed that the action of the trainmen will severely cripple freight service to and from Winnipeg and may handicap passenger transportation.

ADVERSE WEATHER PREVENTS HOP OFF OF VICKERS-VIMY

Capt. Alcock Plans to Get Away Today on His Trans-Atlantic Flight in Quest of $50,000.

FOUR FACTORIES AT AMHERST TO RESUME WORK

Have Made an Amicable Adjustment of Differences With the Strike Employees—Others Still in Deadlock.

SCOTIAN SAILED YESTERDAY FOR QUEBEC

London, June 13. (By C. A. P. cable)—The Scotian sailed for Quebec today carrying 92 officers, 46 nurses and 1,605 men, practically all of the fifth division artillery from Willey Camp.

OLYMPIC DOCKED AT HALIFAX ON FRIDAY WITH FULL LIST

Lord Beaverbrook Among the Notables on the Civilian List of Passengers—He Comes to Canada to Recuperate from His Recent Illness—Thirteen Trains Needed to Convey Soldiers to Their Dispersal Stations.

Halifax, N. S., June 12.—The Olympic, with the 38th and 72nd Battalions, and a number of smaller units, and various dispersal areas in Canada, arrived this afternoon at 4 o'clock, having been detained off the coast for several hours by thick weather. Colonel C. M. Edwards is in command of the 38th, and with him is Mrs. Edwards and their son, Colonel Kirkpatrick, of Vancouver, in command of the 72nd. The Fourth Machine Battalion, the 10th, 11th and 12th Engineers, the 4th Divisional Train, the Canadian Engineers Motor Transport, and a signal corps of half a dozen officers and 100 men, besides the two infantry battalions, were among the men who landed from the big liner. The railway trains with the 72nd and the 38th left in the evening, the other units getting away first. All told, there were thirteen trains for the Olympic, the Ottawa men leaving on the 9th and 10th, following the departure of the Vancouver men. The senior officer commanding troops on board was General Kirkpatrick, who had been G. O. C. of the 12th Infantry Brigade. General Kirkpatrick is a C. M. G., and has the D. S. O. with two bars. Other noted officers on the Olympic were Colonel McLean, M. P. for Brigs, Lincolnshire W., who is a St. John boy, the son of General McLean, of that city. Colonel Amshel

Winnipeg Switchmen and Trainmen Vote To Go On Strike

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—Officials of the Winnipeg switchmen and trainmen's locals announced this afternoon that they had voted to go on strike at six o'clock tonight. It is believed that the action of the trainmen will severely cripple freight service to and from Winnipeg and may handicap passenger transportation.

ADVERSE WEATHER PREVENTS HOP OFF OF VICKERS-VIMY

Capt. Alcock Plans to Get Away Today on His Trans-Atlantic Flight in Quest of $50,000.

FOUR FACTORIES AT AMHERST TO RESUME WORK

Have Made an Amicable Adjustment of Differences With the Strike Employees—Others Still in Deadlock.

SCOTIAN SAILED YESTERDAY FOR QUEBEC

London, June 13. (By C. A. P. cable)—The Scotian sailed for Quebec today carrying 92 officers, 46 nurses and 1,605 men, practically all of the fifth division artillery from Willey Camp.

OLYMPIC DOCKED AT HALIFAX ON FRIDAY WITH FULL LIST

Lord Beaverbrook Among the Notables on the Civilian List of Passengers—He Comes to Canada to Recuperate from His Recent Illness—Thirteen Trains Needed to Convey Soldiers to Their Dispersal Stations.

Halifax, N. S., June 12.—The Olympic, with the 38th and 72nd Battalions, and a number of smaller units, and various dispersal areas in Canada, arrived this afternoon at 4 o'clock, having been detained off the coast for several hours by thick weather. Colonel C. M. Edwards is in command of the 38th, and with him is Mrs. Edwards and their son, Colonel Kirkpatrick, of Vancouver, in command of the 72nd. The Fourth Machine Battalion, the 10th, 11th and 12th Engineers, the 4th Divisional Train, the Canadian Engineers Motor Transport, and a signal corps of half a dozen officers and 100 men, besides the two infantry battalions, were among the men who landed from the big liner. The railway trains with the 72nd and the 38th left in the evening, the other units getting away first. All told, there were thirteen trains for the Olympic, the Ottawa men leaving on the 9th and 10th, following the departure of the Vancouver men. The senior officer commanding troops on board was General Kirkpatrick, who had been G. O. C. of the 12th Infantry Brigade. General Kirkpatrick is a C. M. G., and has the D. S. O. with two bars. Other noted officers on the Olympic were Colonel McLean, M. P. for Brigs, Lincolnshire W., who is a St. John boy, the son of General McLean, of that city. Colonel Amshel

Division On Amendment Next Week

It is Expected Every Member from West of Great Lakes Will Want to Place Himself on Record Before the Vote.

DR. EDWARDS ATTACKS HON. T. A. CRERAR

Declares That as Minister of Agriculture for the Last Eighteen Months He Was Responsible for the High Cost of Living.

Winnipeg Switchmen and Trainmen Vote To Go On Strike

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—Officials of the Winnipeg switchmen and trainmen's locals announced this afternoon that they had voted to go on strike at six o'clock tonight. It is believed that the action of the trainmen will severely cripple freight service to and from Winnipeg and may handicap passenger transportation.

ADVERSE WEATHER PREVENTS HOP OFF OF VICKERS-VIMY

Capt. Alcock Plans to Get Away Today on His Trans-Atlantic Flight in Quest of $50,000.

FOUR FACTORIES AT AMHERST TO RESUME WORK

Have Made an Amicable Adjustment of Differences With the Strike Employees—Others Still in Deadlock.

SCOTIAN SAILED YESTERDAY FOR QUEBEC

London, June 13. (By C. A. P. cable)—The Scotian sailed for Quebec today carrying 92 officers, 46 nurses and 1,605 men, practically all of the fifth division artillery from Willey Camp.

OLYMPIC DOCKED AT HALIFAX ON FRIDAY WITH FULL LIST

Lord Beaverbrook Among the Notables on the Civilian List of Passengers—He Comes to Canada to Recuperate from His Recent Illness—Thirteen Trains Needed to Convey Soldiers to Their Dispersal Stations.

Halifax, N. S., June 12.—The Olympic, with the 38th and 72nd Battalions, and a number of smaller units, and various dispersal areas in Canada, arrived this afternoon at 4 o'clock, having been detained off the coast for several hours by thick weather. Colonel C. M. Edwards is in command of the 38th, and with him is Mrs. Edwards and their son, Colonel Kirkpatrick, of Vancouver, in command of the 72nd. The Fourth Machine Battalion, the 10th, 11th and 12th Engineers, the 4th Divisional Train, the Canadian Engineers Motor Transport, and a signal corps of half a dozen officers and 100 men, besides the two infantry battalions, were among the men who landed from the big liner. The railway trains with the 72nd and the 38th left in the evening, the other units getting away first. All told, there were thirteen trains for the Olympic, the Ottawa men leaving on the 9th and 10th, following the departure of the Vancouver men. The senior officer commanding troops on board was General Kirkpatrick, who had been G. O. C. of the 12th Infantry Brigade. General Kirkpatrick is a C. M. G., and has the D. S. O. with two bars. Other noted officers on the Olympic were Colonel McLean, M. P. for Brigs, Lincolnshire W., who is a St. John boy, the son of General McLean, of that city. Colonel Amshel

METHODIST CONFERENCE JOINS IN UNITED NAT'L CAMPAIGN

Chief Justice McKeown Moved a Resolution Heartily Endorsing the Movement and Also the Inter-Church Forward Movement—Conference to Respond to the Extent of Its Ability in Reaching the Financial Objective of $4,000,000.

Winnipeg Switchmen and Trainmen Vote To Go On Strike

Winnipeg, Man., June 13.—Officials of the Winnipeg switchmen and trainmen's locals announced this afternoon that they had voted to go on strike at six o'clock tonight. It is believed that the action of the trainmen will severely cripple freight service to and from Winnipeg and may handicap passenger transportation.

ADVERSE WEATHER PREVENTS HOP OFF OF VICKERS-VIMY

Capt. Alcock Plans to Get Away Today on His Trans-Atlantic Flight in Quest of $50,000.

FOUR FACTORIES AT AMHERST TO RESUME WORK

Have Made an Amicable Adjustment of Differences With the Strike Employees—Others Still in Deadlock.

VANCOUVER WAR VETERANS LINE UP FOR LAW AND ORDER

At a Mass Meeting Thursday They Pledge Their Support to the Citizens' Committee.

Vancouver, B. C., June 13.—At a great mass meeting of war veterans here last night, attended by over 1,000 returned men, a resolution was enthusiastically passed...

GREATEST RULE OF HEALTH

And How It May Be Carried Out With Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

You sometimes hear it said that the most important Rules of Health is "Daily movement of the bowels."

Constipation begins with the bowels but it does not end there.

You must also consider the way it affects the liver, the kidneys, the digestive system, and in fact the whole human body.

Headaches, backaches, aching limbs, indigestion, biliousness, kidney derangements, appendicitis, and the most serious diseases imaginable often have their beginning with constipation of the bowels.

There is one treatment which has a direct and combined action on the bowels, the liver and the kidneys and gets these organs into good working order in remarkably quick time, and that is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Their effect is relief quickly, but they do more than that. They positively cure constipation, and insure lasting regularity of the bowels by setting the liver right.

Mrs. M. Lock, 30 Home street, Brockville, Ont., writes: "For many years I have been troubled with constipation and have tried a number of remedies, but without obtaining much benefit."

After a year ago I started using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and have found them to be the best medicine for constipation that I have ever used.

I would strongly advise anyone troubled with this complaint to try the same remedy.

Mrs. R. Childs, Harrison, Ont., writes: "I suffered from constipation and kidney trouble for some time. One day I bought some of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to see if they would help me, and to my delight, I received great benefit from them in a short time."

They are a splendid medicine, and I always keep them on hand as a household remedy.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so universally used as a treatment for constipation and liver and kidney troubles that you can obtain them at any store where medicines are on sale.

One pill a dose; 25 cents a box. Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

DEMOCRATS READY

Plan to Prevent, if Possible, Vote on the Knox Resolution.

Washington, June 13.—After a conference today a group of leading democratic senators announced they had decided to prevent a vote if possible on the resolution of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, declaring the peace treaty with the League of Nations covenant included, unacceptable.

Dr. J. A. McCourt for exceeding the speed limit in the city was fined $5.

Edward Kearns, for refusing to obey the signals of a traffic policeman at the corner of Sydney and Union streets.

Harry H. Rouse, Price Bros., James J. Jeffries and Wallace Stevens for operating their automobiles without a city license did not put in an appearance and these cases will be heard later.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL SESSION

Committee Favor Moncton as Site for Maritime Provinces Live Stock Yard—Will Cooperate With G. W. V. A. in Providing Employment for Returned Men.

The Board of Trade council yesterday passed a resolution favoring the resuscitation of the Maritime Board of Trade. The last meeting of this body was held at Summerside in 1916 and it was felt by the local body that now the war was over the time was ripe for a revival of the larger organization.

The committee appointed in connection with the establishment of a live stock yard in the Maritime Provinces reported that after hearing representatives of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association they were in favor of having established at a central point a live stock yard and they strongly recommended Moncton, it being practically in the centre of the three provinces and also a divisional railway centre.

Major C. H. McLean, D. B. O., appeared before the council as a representative of G. W. V. A., and asked the co-operation of the board in providing employment for returned soldiers. He contended the men were not receiving the attention they were entitled to in this matter. He was promised all the assistance the board could render and a committee was appointed to act with the G. W. V. A. in procuring employment for the boys.

BANK MESSENGER FRUSTRATES DARING ROBBERY ATTEMPT

Following Six Hold-up Men He Gets One With His Revolver, Saving Bank Loss of $100,000.

New York, June 13.—The alertness of an elderly bank messenger, who pursued six hold-up men down the stairway of an uptown Manhattan elevated station and followed one of them with a fusillade of shots from his revolver, frustrated a daring attempt at daylight robbery here today.

The man with the bag containing $100,000 in securities taken from Davil Ryan, the messenger who did the shooting, and Henry Boylan, employee of the Colonial Bank, who were taking the funds to the Federal Reserve Bank.

The robbers appearing suddenly on the elevated stairway, but Boylan was of business by pressing a wad of cotton saturated with chloroform to his face, while Ryan was stunned with a blow from a black jack. However, all the thugs ran toward the street, Ryan leaped after them and fired four shots at the group.

The man with the bag collapsed, releasing his hold on the container of the securities, and while his companions were carrying him to a waiting automobile, Ryan retrieved the valuables.

The hold-up occurred at 81st street and Columbus Avenue, and the robbers, of whom the police have a fairly accurate description, made off in a green touring car from which the license plate had been removed.

BRITISH SQUADRON BOMBARDS BASE AT KRONSTADT

Bolshevik Batteries Failed to Reply—Floating Mines in the Nearby Waters.

Balti—Stockholm, June 13.—A British squadron is bombarding the Bolshevik base at Kronstadt with heavy guns, according to a report published in the Aftonbladet today.

The Bolshevik batteries, however, are not replying to the British fire. The Bolsheviks have placed floating mines in the nearby waters. The report suggests that the Bolsheviks are trying to evacuate the town.

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY

Disorderly House Case and Illegal Liquor Case Postponed—Traffic Law Cases Also Adjudged.

Langford Coram was before the police court yesterday, charged with keeping a disorderly house and Thomas Murray, Joseph Rusey and James Coyne, were charged with being inebriated in the Aftonbladet today.

The evidence showed the complaint had been made about the house at the corner of Canterbury and St. James' streets. Members of the city detective force visited the place and found many empty lemon extract bottles. The case was remanded for further consideration.

Coyne, who is an old man, hails from Woodstock and it is expected that arrangements will be made to have him returned there.

James McKinney was charged with illegally having liquor in his premises, Adelaide street. Some evidence was taken and the case adjourned.

J. Starr Tait appeared for the prosecution and J. A. Barry for the defendant.

John Hayes, charged with striking Sheriff Wilson, in the county court room, several days ago, was remanded.

Dr. J. A. McCourt for exceeding the speed limit in the city was fined $5.

Edward Kearns, for refusing to obey the signals of a traffic policeman at the corner of Sydney and Union streets.

Harry H. Rouse, Price Bros., James J. Jeffries and Wallace Stevens for operating their automobiles without a city license did not put in an appearance and these cases will be heard later.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL SESSION

Committee Favor Moncton as Site for Maritime Provinces Live Stock Yard—Will Cooperate With G. W. V. A. in Providing Employment for Returned Men.

The Board of Trade council yesterday passed a resolution favoring the resuscitation of the Maritime Board of Trade. The last meeting of this body was held at Summerside in 1916 and it was felt by the local body that now the war was over the time was ripe for a revival of the larger organization.

The committee appointed in connection with the establishment of a live stock yard in the Maritime Provinces reported that after hearing representatives of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association they were in favor of having established at a central point a live stock yard and they strongly recommended Moncton, it being practically in the centre of the three provinces and also a divisional railway centre.

Major C. H. McLean, D. B. O., appeared before the council as a representative of G. W. V. A., and asked the co-operation of the board in providing employment for returned soldiers. He contended the men were not receiving the attention they were entitled to in this matter. He was promised all the assistance the board could render and a committee was appointed to act with the G. W. V. A. in procuring employment for the boys.

NO MORE KIDNEY TROUBLE

Since He Commenced to Take "Fruit-a-tives"

73 Lees Avenue, Ottawa, Ont. "Three years ago I began to feel run-down and tired, and suffered very much from Liver and Kidney Trouble. Having read of 'Fruit-a-tives' I thought I would try them. The result was surprising."

"I have not had an hour's sickness since I commenced using 'Fruit-a-tives' and I know now what I have not known for a good many years—that is, the blessing of a healthy body and clear thinking brain."

WALTER J. MARRIOTT, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited.

GRAND FALLS FINDS NEW SOOTHER FOR THE INEBRIATE

"Flagatune" Name Given Home Distilled Drink Having a Kick That Puts the Famous Maud in the Shade.

Grand Falls, June 12.—Look though not upon the wine when it is home-made, an unwritten edict of the scriptures, that within ten months in this section of the province gained many admirers and, before the host has time to offer the guests with a drop of the "forget all," the question is invariably asked: Did you make this yourself? But a short time ago one of the private distillers in the Parish of St. Andre, in Madawaska county, was before the police magistrate and fined $200 for attempting to monopolize the industry.

During the history of intoxicants, various names have been applied, whiskey, such as "soother," "foj-juice," "happy thought," "forget-all," and countless others, but, in the modern age within which we are now passing, there looms up bright on the horizon of inebriates the word: "Flagatune," pronounced "flagatone."

Nobody appears to know from what dead language this word was resurrected, but yet, everybody knows what it means—and what care they from where it comes, since they are sure that it means nothing else but home-made whiskey. And for a kick-maud the mule is pushed clean off the map. One drink is guaranteed to place the user far into oblivion.

It is reported that had the Allies known of this terrible explosive in the days of the war half of the bomb plants would have been closed down.

A story is told of one who, recently made, having the force to explode in a molasses cask and straightening the iron hoops to such an extent that they were driven into the ground for sleigh runners. Just what goes to make up the ingredients which constitute this violence little is known, but the sale of raising, home, yeast cakes and alcohol lead one to believe that such are used in the manufacture.

RICH, RED BLOOD MEANS HEALTH

Weak, Pale People Require a Blood-making Medicine.

It took centuries for medical science to discover that the blood is the life. Now, it is known that if the blood were always abundant, rich and pure, very few people would ever be ill. It was not until the end of the 19th century that an instrument was invented for measuring the red part of the blood. Then doctors could tell just how anemic a patient had become, and with medicine to make new blood the patient soon got well.

All the blood in the body is nourished and kept rich and red by the food taken daily, but when, for any reason, a person is unable to eat and cannot make sufficient blood from the food to keep the body in health, then a blood-making medicine is required. The simplest and very best of blood-makers suitable for home use by anyone, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When a course of these pills is taken their good effect is soon shown in an improved appetite, stronger nerves, a sound digestion and an ability to master your work and enjoy leisure hours. For women there is a prompt relief of, or prevention of ailments which make life a burden. Mrs. Thos. Kaake, Trenton, Ont., tells how she obtained new health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "The weakness came on me so gradually that at first it was hardly noticeable. But after a time it got so that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. Every particle of color left my hands and face, and the least exertion would tire me and leave my heart palpitating violently. I consulted a doctor who told me the trouble was anaemia and prescribed a tonic. I took this medicine for some time, but it did not seem to help me a bit. Then I read of a cure in a similar case through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. The result was these pills made me feel like a new woman. I have gained all my former health and strength, and feel that I owe my present condition entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

On and after Saturday, June 14th, steamer Champlain will leave St. John on Tuesday and Thursday at twelve o'clock, noon, and Saturday at 2 p.m. (daylight time).

SOLDIERS HOT ON TRAIL OF MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

Fredericton Police Commission to Meet Officers of G. W. V. A. Re Police Appointments.

Fredericton, N. B., June 13.—The meeting of the Police Commission, which was called for this afternoon, has been postponed until tomorrow morning, according to an announcement made this morning by Wm. McKay, the chairman.

It is understood that officers of the G. W. V. A. will meet the commission, have the names of several returned soldiers to submit for positions on the police force, and it seems to be generally expected that the appointment of Ford Verza to a position on the force will not be confirmed by the commission.

Further negotiations have been going on between the G. W. V. A. officers and Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, Minister of Agriculture, regarding positions in connection with the being and weighing of wool that has been gathered for sale on a co-operative plan. It appears that when the G. W. V. A. made their protest the other day, the officials in charge made another new position or two, and retained on the job the man without military service who had been put in the best position of the lot at $4.25 per day, the soldiers being employed on unimportant jobs which paid less.

This afternoon Secretary Chas. L. Dougherty of the G. W. V. A., stated that Hon. Mr. Tweeddale had promised that the man over whom the protest was made, would be discharged at once, and Lieut. W. R. Clarke, M. C., has been named to take his place.

WEDDINGS

Webb-Farr. Hoyt Station, June 12.—A quiet wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Webb when their son, Marshall, was united in marriage with Miss Florence Farr.

PERSONALS

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. J. Richardson. Those in attendance were the father and mother of the groom and also his brother, Truman Webb of St. John, accompanied by Miss Edna C. Turt, also of St. John. During the evening the many friends of the happy couple gathered and gave them a hearty serenade, wishing them long life and happy days for the future.

Mrs. Louis Comeau and Miss Corinne Comeau, of St. John, are in Fredericton. W. H. McQuade, of St. John, Provincial tax inspector, was in Moncton yesterday.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with Piles. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once. Get a sample box from any dealer, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, 1000 St. John street, St. John, N. B. Stamp to pay postage.

LION BRAND CANADIAN CORDAGE FOR CANADIAN INDUSTRIES. THE FISHERMAN, the Shipowner, the Farmer or the Lumberman who purchases cordage is wise if he exercises caution in his selection. Certain rope is on the "free list," not subject to duty, and the result is that undesirable qualities of cordage are finding their way into Canada. Imported rope may or may not be worth what it costs, and care should be taken to avoid cheap, unserviceable rope. LION BRAND Cordage, made in Canada by Canadian labor, is backed up by the guarantee of the manufacturer. It is consistently uniform in quality, and sells at a price that makes it most attractive, if service is a consideration. When you purchase LION BRAND Cordage you secure a product that has given employment to Canadians—a product that, dollar for dollar, is the most economical to purchase—a product that will meet your requirements. Ask for LION BRAND Cordage. Consumers Cordage Company Limited. Factories at HALIFAX MONTREAL.

of their daughter, Sylvia Pauline Cronkite, to Mr. Gratien L'Anglais of Amqui, Que. Mrs. Louis Comeau and Miss Corinne Comeau, of St. John, are in Fredericton. W. H. McQuade, of St. John, Provincial tax inspector, was in Moncton yesterday.

What Enemies of the U.S.A. Lurk Behind the Bomb?

Why the bombs were placed on June 2d and what is the reason for this series of outrages making Democratic America resemble the Russia of the Czars and a career on the United States bench as hazardous as a Muscovite Grand Duke, is the question which the American press has set itself to answer in earnest. These attempted assassinations may be "the work of a little group of desperate criminals," as the New York Globe has it, or "of a few individuals obsessed with Bolshevistic radical designs who do not recognize the utter absurdity of a reign of terror in this country," as the Philadelphia Record concludes. They may indicate, as Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer says, "nothing but the lawless attempt of an anarchistic element of the population to terrorize the country and thus stay the hand of government," which "they have utterly failed to do."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 14th, the leading article takes up this latest attempt to disturb the forces of law and order, and by quotation from newspapers and individuals of widely divergent opinions, presents the subject in all its phases.

Other important news-articles in this number of "The Digest" are:

- Canada's Big Labor War
A Survey from All Angles of One of the Most Critical Periods in Canadian History.
Little Austria
Our Big Navy Plan Torpedoed
Getting Back to Business in Europe
Turkey's Injured Feelings
Colored Troops Healthier Than White
An Antinoise Telephone
The Film Finds Spiritual Beauty in Chinatown
The Case Against Zionism
Estonia—Its Location, People, and Future
Personal Glimpses of Men and Events
The German Idea of a Just Peace
"Labor" and Daylight Saving
Jugo-Slavia's Domestic Jars
Electric Tractors for Factory Use
How to Light a Movie Theater
The English Hearth of the Washingtons
Madness and Music
Failure of Religion in Russia
Conscience Plus Red-hair Were Bad for Germans
The Best of the Current Poetry

Many Illustrations Including Maps, and Laughable Cartoons.

TO MAKE THE "WEEK-END" COMPLETE. Before running away to the mountains or the seashore for a rest at the end of the week, be sure and take THE DIGEST with you. It will add to the pleasure and benefits of your rest period. Through its pages the great events of the world pass in review before your eyes. THE DIGEST is intensely human and its many interesting stories of individual experience will make a strong appeal to you. In a couple of hours' reading you can catch up with the world and when you return to your every-day duties you will do so with a clear and balanced understanding, as every topic in THE DIGEST is discussed from all viewpoints—there is no attempt at partisanship. Don't miss this week's number.

June 14th Number on Sale Today—All News-dealers—10 Cents

The Literary Digest. This is a Mark of Distinction to Be a Reader of The Literary Digest. FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY (Publishers of the Famous NEW Standard Dictionary), NEW YORK.

ge Suits... 35... serge clothes... careful judg... selection... the unscrupu... an easy field... Consequent... buy where several lines of... particular... directed to the... good shade... in regular... models. Ready... ort notice... 68 King St... count of soldier's... outfit.

OUCH! CORNS! LIFT CORNS OFF. Doesn't hurt a bit to lift that sore, touchy corn off with fingers.

Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezono for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness at all.

The St. John Standard

Published by The Standard Limited, 33 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B., Canada. H. Y. MACKINNON, Manager and Editor. The Standard is represented by Heary de Clerque, Malters Bldg., Chicago; Louis Klobb, 1 West 34th St., New York; Freeman & Co., 9 Fleet St., London, Eng.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1919.

IN THE LAND OF MANANA.

The people of El Paso, Texas, are now enjoying their regular midsummer entertainment. The customary revolutionary activities in and about Juarez are in progress and El Paso is thronged with visitors from that bustling Mexican town who have come to occupy grandstand reservations on the roofs of El Paso houses and public buildings for the purpose of observing, by the opera glass route or otherwise, the now familiar comings and goings of the Rebels and Federals. In less exciting seasons of the year the movement of the population is in the opposite direction for the people of El Paso are so fortunately situated that by walking across the bridge over the Rio Grande they are enabled to participate in the attractive programme of cock-fighting, bull-baiting and crap games, by means of which Juarez wiles away the dreary hours of a Sunday afternoon. Today, however, El Paso is enjoying a return visit of the Mexican population and is, no doubt, entertaining the visitors to the best of its ability. Dry and dusty, yet with sufficient liquid comfort to overcome the tortures of the heat, and with a location admirably adapted for purposes of observation, El Paso forms the ideal lookout for the revolutionary activities of the neighboring republic. From easy chairs placed on the roofs of houses, from points of vantage in the upper windows, from trees, barns and telegraph posts, the children and adults, Texan and Mexican alike, watch with interest the comings and goings of the disreputable scalliwags assembled under the revolutionary leaders and of the scarcely more presentable Federal troops who can with difficulty remember which side they are supposed to support. And bets are made as to whether the casualty list this year will exceed that of 1915, when one mile was killed and seven chickens stolen, or whether by accident someone's gun will go off unexpectedly and by such an unforeseen catastrophe terminate hostilities. Whatever may be the procedure of Rebels and Mexican Federals when they meet in the interior, their conduct on the American border partakes very largely of the comic opera. They circle around the forsaken town of Juarez, they shoot in the air or in the ground, they use their artillery with great effect on abandoned fortifications—each thing consisting of little heaps of stone and earth. They charge and they re-charge, they draw off in presence of defeat, and assault again with a noise of great shouting. Once in a while when the town has been captured by one or other party, the vanquished creep silently in haste, strike or two with the conquerors and then draw off to resume active warfare. The utmost friendliness prevails between the opposing parties, for no man knows today what side he may be on tomorrow, and while, were living conditions in the town to remain normal, injuries might be caused, the fattered soldiers of the mountains and the more dignified, though dubious, Federal troops resist the temptation of population is watching proceedings from a safe distance and that if personal injuries are inflicted on any of the opposing forces, swift punishment will be meted out to the offenders.

THE KINNEL RIOTS.

The Kinmel Camp court-martial has ended with the conviction of twenty-three Canadian soldiers, and the discharge of twenty-six others. All cases were heard before the same court, a rather undesirable policy in view of the fact that any group of men dealing with such a heavy burden would be inclined, despite their own desires for justice and fair play, to become wearied and careless because of the repetition of evidence along the same line. While it is unfortunate that loss of life was caused during the riots at Kinmel Camp, the Canadian Military authorities might well take action towards procuring the release of those who have been convicted and are now under punishment. Had the overseas branch of the Canadian Department of Militia performed its duty in anything like a reasonably competent manner and had administration at home displayed firmness in demanding for Canadian soldiers the fair treatment they deserved these riots would never have taken place. The men were not to blame for the unrest which was fanned by the continuation of undurable conditions, by the breaking of promises, by the seeming neglect of Canadians in order that United States soldiers should benefit, and by the moral spirit of unfairness which marked the treatment accorded those four men stationed at Kinmel Camp. It will be remembered that the disturbances resulting in this court-martial occurred within a few days after an announcement that the big trans-Canada route were to be diverted to New York for the accommodation of American soldiers who had not been overseas many months and that our own men were to be brought back on less desirable steamers and much less rapidly than had been promised. That announcement was the culminating incident in a long series of disappointments for which the administrative officers of the Militia Department were largely to blame, and that the dissatisfaction among the men found expression in unruly conduct was the inevitable outcome. The soldiers who participated in the rioting which unfortunately resulted in loss of life are not deserving of punishment, for their conduct, contrary to discipline though it may have been, proved sufficient to bring Ottawa to its senses and impress upon the British Admiralty the fact that the Canadian soldiers who had served so well intended to demand reasonable treatment, and induced the immediate return to Canadian service of the transports which had so unwisely been diverted for the use of undeserving United States troops. The men now under sentence should be discharged as once and without any demerit marks to their names.

THE SCHOOL CAMPAIGN.

Well done, High School, and Well done, Victoria School! In fact, well done all schools! The results to date in the Thrift Stamp Campaign are gratifying indeed and indicate not only an interest on the part of the boys and girls in this worthy movement, but the development of the saving habit among a great many of the school children. Yet, while the figures now given out of the amounts invested in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps by school societies are reasonably large, the total goes to show that there are still many pupils in the various grades who have not become members of the Thrift Clubs and that there is room for a wide extension of this movement in all the grades. A total of $12,414 for the province in the five months period is very nice indeed, and St. John especially deserves credit for raising almost $7,000 of that amount. Perhaps it is true that the city schools were able to start this work earlier than was possible with some of the classes in other towns, but if such such were indeed the case it must be admitted that the individual records of several of these outside schools have far surpassed the St. John per capita savings. It was not anticipated at the beginning of the movement that the amount of money saved by the boys and girls would be very large, and indeed it may still be believed that those who now belong to the Thrift Clubs could put aside much more than they have already done if they really settled down to work. It is to be feared that too large a proportion of their pocket money is squandered foolishly and that by a little closer interest in the Thrift Campaign they would be able to put away double the amount that they have already saved. Let us see if the twelve thousand cannot be made twenty-five thousand in the next five months. During the holidays everyone will have a chance to earn, and this money of the greater part of it should be saved for the purchase of stamps when the schools re-open.

POSSIBLE CHANGES.

Ottawa speculation is to the effect that when the McMaster amendment comes to a division from ten to fifteen supporters of Union Governments will cast their votes with the Opposition. This is easy, for Union Government assumed control with a total of one hundred and fifty-three seats against eighty-two in the opposition. Changes occurring since the general election have not materially altered the relative standing of the parties, so that even allowing for fifteen bolters from Division on the tariff question, the Government will still enjoy a paper majority of forty, and making allowance for absentees through illness and otherwise, a working majority of at least thirty. This is quite good enough. In fact it is better for the country than a much larger majority could possibly be, for nothing is so conducive to good government as an effective opposition. Yet it need not be believed that all of those who oppose the Government tariff policy will take stand against Union in other matters of national importance, for it is recognized that some of those who most strenuously advocate tariff reduction almost amounting to free trade are at the same time wholly in sympathy with the Union Government and will be prepared on other occasions to stand by the administration until party warfare is actively resumed.

WHAT THEY SAY

Out of The Mouths of Babies. New York Herald: When young Rudyard Kipling sang of the West and the East that "never the twain shall meet," he little dreamed that so important a statesman as Viscount Kaneko, of Japan, would declare in the year of grace 1919, that this one, raised in a rhyme, was the vital question of the future.

No Higher Service. Boston Transcript: In awarding to this brilliant and modest journalist

(Mr. E. P. Mitchell, of the New York Sun), the degree of Doctor of Letters, Columbia has honored its degree as well as the man, reminding the scholars world that in this age there can be no higher service to letters than the careful, clever, scholarly fair, and "straight-thinking, hard-hitting" conduct of the editorial page of a great newspaper.

Might Help the World.

Buffalo Express: The old Austrian empire is completely broken up into minor states. A few months of occupation of the Rhenish provinces by Allied troops has led a section of the people of that district to declare for a republic independent of Prussia. Perhaps an occupation of the remainder of Germany would end to a general break-up and thereby remove the danger of another war no less league of nations ever can remove it.

Wounded—in the Pocket.

Buffalo News: A study of the literature of protest that has come from the German delegates at Versailles shows that it is of a personal and material nature. The Germans are not so deeply wounded in their national pride and patriotic sensibilities as they are in their pocketbook. The anguish of the settlement lies in the terms of reparation—wealth mortgaged to pay the cost of unsuccessful crime.

Canadians and Copyright.

New York Globe: When the law looks to the justice of the thing it is a good law. And when judges interpret laws liberally they are good judges when the interpretation goes to the establishing of a better feeling between two countries. A few days ago the courts decided that the Canadian Gitz Rice was entitled to a royalty from the records of his songs. Just why it should have been disputed at all in the case of this fine soldier-artist, who has done so much is not clear, unless the manufacturer looked to the establishing of a precedent or looked to his own profits. In any case the rule now is that a Canadian is entitled to copyright protection. Which means that the court paid a tribute to Rice and a greater tribute to Canada.

A BIT OF VERSE

TABLE TALK.
A Dread in Spring.
Mother she calls to me: "Here, Heas, Slip up! Heaton Farm," she says, "An' take their basket back again; 'An' keep an eye for drin'-wood." She thinks the climb 'll do me good. She dunno how I greeds that lane.
"Nightingale Lane," as Jim an' me Did used to call 'em, when we were young. Walked out on April nights last year. For where it sang above its nest We'd stand 'tinside the hedgerow, prest. In one another's arms to hear.
An' Jim he'd learned to mock the bird That nateral joy he'd heard.
Four long high notes he used to give, Then "jug-jug-jug," until, maybe, "his fold" would sing him answer, seemingly— "There, I shall hear it long's I live!"
An' spring nights, when he'd pitched his fold, An' moonlight for me dusky gold, He'd whistle for me like that—low: "An' I 'ud steal out soft to Jim, No none 'ud see me go to him, Only our nightgale 'ud know."
First of we cared naught for the war, But, before April came once more, Jim he had gone, an' fought, an' died; Yes, when he'd heard an' thought on it, It seemed as he must do his bit, For love of me, like—love an' pride.
I durstn't never go that way, Up our old lane, 'cause any day "The nightgale may get back there; An' sudden, maybe, he might sing The call Jim whistled me, an' 'wing My poor heart worse'n I cud bear.
An' I dreads even's more an' more; When mother's knittin' at the door, An' fathers got his pipe an' mug, I sits an' holds my head, for fear I lose up our little lane I'll hear Those four long notes, then "jug-jug-jug."
—Haberston Latham, in the London Spectator.
Millions for defense—and the same amount for prosecution—is the lawyer's motto.

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE.
Puds Simkins had his express wagon out yesterday, and me an' him staved to go up alleys with it looking for old newspapers to sell to the junk man and we came to a little pile of grass outside of a fence proving somebody had bin cutting their grass, and I sed, I tell you lets wat, lets put the grass in the express wagon and peddle we're bucksters.
Wich we started to do, putting the grass in the bottom of the express wagon and pulling it up the alley, me yelling, Terntips, spinitch, red ripe tomatoes, sparrowgrass.
Cabbages, peas, roobard, red ripe cellery, yelled Arse.
And we kept on going, yelling different things to eat, and pritty soon 2 ladies came out of 2 back gates at the same time, one saying, Heer you are, huckster, well, for goodness sakes its jest these 2 kids, and heer I came all the way from the 3rd floor all out of breath thinking it was a huckster.
Being a short lady with long feet, and the other one sed, I think its a outrage, thats wat I think it is, I was all the way up stairs dusting the 2nd story back and I heard somebody calling Roobard, and I hurried rite down and wat do I find?—Nothing but these 2 silly boys, I think its a outrage.
Being a fat lady with a thin wrapper, and us 2 bucksters stood there looking at them and wondering weather to run or wat, and the long one saying, I think children like that awt to be locked up, and me way up on the 3rd floor and haf to go back agin, if my brother was a pieceman like yours I'd soon have them locked up, too.
Thats a good idee, thats a good idee, sed the fat one. Wich jest then Puds Simkins whispered, I best you to the corner. And I whispered, I, 2, 3, go, and we both ran like everything with the express wagon bumping in back of us like anything, and wen we got around the corner Puds sed, Do you think her brother really is a pieceman?
It wouldnt make any differents to me if he was, I sed.
Me neither, sed Puds.
And we undumped the grass out of the express wagon and stuffed it in our blouses to make bloeve we was rather than we really was.

A BIT OF FUN

The divorcee Judge, like the poor markman makes a good many misses.
The wise young man always laughs at the ancient jokes of his tailor.
Unsuccessful Author: "After my death this world will realize what I have done."
Sympathetic Friend—"Well, don't worry about it, old chap. You'll be out of harm's way then."
Papa (from the stairs)—"Mary, what are you doing out there?"
Mary—"I'm looking at the moon."
Papa—"Well, tell the moon to go home and you come into the house. It's half-past eleven."
Judge—So you claim that the defendant hit you with malice aforethought?
Complainant (suspiciously)—"It's no good tryin' to make me contradict myself, suv'ner, I sed he hit me with a hammer, and that I stick to through thick and thin."
"There's only one good thing about that young puppy that came to see you last night," said the irascible father, "and that is he healthy."
"I'm surprised to hear you admit that when," replied the dutiful daughter.
"I wouldn't except for the fact that last night I heard you say, 'Oh George, how cold your nose is!'"
A Good "Gad" Flyer.
A tramp applied to a lady for work and was given some carpets to beat. He did the job so well that she commended him for it.
"You must have beaten carpets frequently to be such an expert," she said.
"Never beat a carpet before in my life, jady; I've been a school teacher," he answered promptly.
Top of the Morning.
Smell of the woods in the morning; The sun shines gold through the trees, And the heavens are filled with music, From the lips of the wide-eyed breeze.
And who's for a plunge in the water A swim in the laughing lake? Be quick! There is breakfast to follow And there still is the fire to make.
I'm in! What a splash! Are you ready? Who, who would be lazy asleep When all of the wide world is calling With the lure of the lake blue and deep?
So come, that's the stuff, all together, Swim with a stroke true and straight To the boat and the first back, the winner— Great winner! But swimming is great!
The first back the first, one to break fast! This trail once again and the fun— The day lies alluring before us, And the morning is only begun!

ORGANIZED LABOR HEAR GOOD ADVICE

Secretary of Labor Wilson Counsels Convention at Atlantic City to Act Cautiously on Mooney Affair.
Bulletin—Atlantic City, N. J., June 13.—Secretary of Labor Wilson addressing the convention of the American Federation of Labor today counsels organized labor not to participate in the proposed national strike for the release of Thomas Mooney, convicted of complicity in the San Francisco bomb plot. He said the government was investigating the evidence in the case with a view to granting Mooney a new trial and that workmen could not properly constitute themselves a jury to try him.

The Balfour Model

Low Shoe Time!
You need cool, new trim Oxfords for the hot days coming.
Here's a model catching real particular attention.
Look at its comfortable heel, then study that long range toe and forepart.
Style there is and comfort for the man who likes good shoes.
Prices $9.00 to $12.00.
Open Friday nights during June and closing at six o'clock on Saturdays.
Foot Fitters McROBBIE 90 King Street ST. JOHN

ESTABLISHED 1894

OPTICAL SERVICE
Unexcelled is What We Offer.
We grind our own lenses, insuring you a service that is PROMPT AND ACCURATE.
Send your next repair to us.
D. BOYANER, 111 Charlotte Street

No Summer Vacation

this year as some of our students cannot afford to lose time.
Have been considerably crowded but vacancies now occurring give a chance for new students who can enter at any time.
Tuition rates mailed to any address.
S. KERR, Principal

Culled (or refuse) Lumber

If you'd rather not use merchantable lumber in building your home, try our CULLED (or refuse) LUMBER which is excellent stock of its kind, and CHEAPER THAN YOU'LL FIND ANYWHERE.
For prices, 'Phone Main 3000.
MURRAY & GREGORY, Ltd.

Silverware

HERE are a few suggestions out of the many beautiful yet practical gifts you can select here for the June Bride.
Entree Dishes, Compartment Dishes, Bake Dishes, Casseroles, Cake Dishes, Butter Dishes, Spoon Trays, Sauce Boats, Bread Trays.
1847 Rogers Bros. Knives, Forks and Spoons, Community Plate.
'Phone M 2540 McAVITY'S 11-17 King St.

Bridal Silver

Happy indeed the bride whose gifts include a goodly array of choice solid Silver and Silver Plated Ware which we offer in richly varied range of the quaint artistic effects so popular just now.
Complete sets may be selected—Tea and Coffee Services, Trays, and Vases also, Vegetable Dishes, Entree Dishes, Sandwich Trays, Trivets, Bread Plates, Salts, Peppers and Cutlery.
Look through our exhibit before you decide.
Ferguson & Page

800 Bags FEED FLOUR

Cheap feed for young pigs. Write or wire for quotations.
C. H. PETERS' SONS, LTD. St. John, N. B.

JUST ARRIVING Famous Valspar Varnish

Superfine Automobile and Carriage Colors Ground in Japan
Nobles & Hoares and Wm. Harlands & Sons English Auto and Carriage Varnishes, Rubbing Stones and Rubbing Felt, Steel Wool, Wire Brushes, Camel Hair Color Brushes, Badger, Fitch and China Varnish Brushes, Striping Pencils, Dusters.
M. E. AGAR Union Street — St. John, N. B.

D-K BALATA BELTING PHILLIPS PRESSED STEEL PULLEYS CRESCENT PLATES LACE LEATHER

ESTABLISHED 1894
OPTICAL SERVICE
Unexcelled is What We Offer.
We grind our own lenses, insuring you a service that is PROMPT AND ACCURATE.
Send your next repair to us.
D. BOYANER, 111 Charlotte Street

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

Have You An Extra Pair of Glasses?
To be without a reserve pair of glasses is inexcusable lack of foresight. It means if you break a lens, which may happen any minute, you are put to much inconvenience, discomfort and possible distress.
To be without your glasses even the few hours that it takes to have a new lens made at Sharpe's means a handicap in your work, embarrassment, and you can think of conditions wherein it might mean a heavy financial loss.
Don't take this chance. Come in today and let us fit you with a reserve pair of glasses.
L. L. Sharpe & Son Jewelers and Opticians. Two Stores—21 King St., 189 Union St.

GOOD SPRUCE CLAPBOARDS CHEAPER THAN CEDAR

You will find our Spruce Clapboards of good quality.
2nd Clear 6 in., $60.00
Clears 65.00
Extras 70.00
'Phone Main 1893.

The Christie Wood-working Co., Ltd.

186 Erin Street

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS AND AT HOME CARDS

Engraved in the latest styles
Die Stamping
FLEWELLING PRESS 5 Water Street, St. John

Loyalist War Savings Campaign

May 16th and 17th. We sell Thrift Stamps. SMITH'S FISH MARKET

REGAL FLOUR

The Big Value in FLOUR
OF all the products of the oven, there is none so important as a good loaf of bread. This test of "REGAL" has established its reputation as the big value in flour.
THE ST. LAWRENCE FLOUR MILLS CO. Limited MONTREAL

Even of Ladies now they second fl... We styles that Betty Wales... 'set the... Betty Wales Dress and snap all their simple, smart, distinct the youthful lines a modern woman. More are splendidly made ty in every detail do snap.
Each Betty Wales label. Also a seal containing the...
Ferguson & Page

MAL CR TIE

The motor that the service one sure wa... lence. Serv... foretold; but... and of the... weight, size... a scientific... service, to be... thousands th... The MAL... mark is the... against fault... ship or infer... guarantee the... a service rec...

Gutta Percha

HEAD OFFICES A... Branches: Halifax, Mon... lian, Winnipeg, Regina... Lethbridge.

MARITIME D

Enjoy life while it lasts. tent with one that is contin... come to us and your mouth... hood and your face will have... PEERLESS
FULL SET $8.00
PAINLESS EXT... Guaranteed Crown... BROKEN PLA... Filling of all kinds. P... teadance. DR. A... 'PHONE M. 2780-21. Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Betty Wales Dresses

Have Come To Stay

They Are To Make This Store Their Home

Every month Betty Wales Dresses have come to Saint John for a visit in the pages of Ladies' Home Journal, Pictorial Review, Vogue and other smart magazines. But now they are to be here permanently—right in our regular dress department on the second floor.

We have been awarded the exclusive right to carry the splendid assortment of new styles that these popular dresses offer. Nowhere else in town can you secure the genuine Betty Wales, the dress with the Betty Wales Polishkin label attached; the dresses that "set the style and stay in style."

Betty Wales Dresses have a grace and snap all their own. They are simple, smart, distinctive. They give the youthful lines so essential to the modern woman. More than this, they are splendidly made of the best quality in every detail down to the smallest snap.

Each Betty Wales Dress carries the Betty Wales label. Also a big brown envelope with a gold seal containing the Betty Wales Gift Certificate.

We show a full assortment of Betty Wales Dresses for practically every occasion. Smartly tailored serges, afternoon silks, two-material combinations, social frocks, wash dresses of voile, cotton and gingham are included.

This certificate is exchangeable for any one of Margaret Ward's eight absorbing books about Betty Wales and her college friends, books that cost $1.25 each at book shops.

But without the gift book, Betty Wales Dresses represent unusual value. Their purchase is a real economy in these days of careful buying when service vies with smartness with every woman.

Even if you are not thinking at all of buying a dress, we extend you a cordial invitation to look over these new arrivals in their new home with us. You will enjoy seeing just what the new styles are and how unusually attractive are the Betty Wales models.

D. Magee's Sons, Limited
Since 1859
St. John, N. B.

MALTESE CROSS TIRES

Service Record

The motorist should remember that the service record of a tire is one sure way to measure its excellence. Service records cannot be foretold; but experience with thousands of tires exactly the same weight, size and construction, gives a scientific basis for an estimate of service to be expected of the other thousands that follow.

The MALTESE CROSS trademark is the buyer's protection against faulty or careless workmanship or inferior materials. It is his guarantee that the tire will give him a service record to his satisfaction.

Gutta Percha and Rubber, Ltd.

HEAD OFFICES AND FACTORY: TORONTO
Branches: Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Fort William, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Vancouver, Victoria

MARITIME DENTAL PARLORS

Enjoy life while it lasts. If you must wear a plate, do not be content with one that is a continual source of annoyance to you, but come to us and your mouth will experience all the comforts of childhood and your face will have the charm of youth.

PEERLESS VULCO DENTURE

FULL SET
$8.00

PAINLESS EXTRACTION ONLY 25 CENTS
Guaranteed Crown and Bridge Work $4.00 and $5.00.
BROKEN PLATES REPAIRED IN 3 HOURS
Fillings of all kinds. Free consultation. Trained Nurse in attendance.
DR. A. J. MCKNIGHT, Proprietor,
136 Charlotte Street,
ST. JOHN, N. B.
Phone M. 2769-21.
Hours 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Thoroughly Reliable FUR STORAGE

THAT GUARANTEES To Call For, Clean, Store, Insure and Deliver YOUR FURS All for Three Per Cent. of Valuation.

You may also have your Furs remodelled or repaired now at SUMMER PRICES
D. Magee's Sons, Ltd.
For 60 Years.
ST. JOHN, N. B.

PRICES IN ONTARIO.
Rev. W. D. Wilson, chief inspector under the prohibitory law, arrived in the city yesterday from Toronto. While away Mr. Wilson visited the Ontario dispensaries which handle all the liquor sold, legally, both wholesale and retail, in that province. He reports that prices are much lower than here and are uniform all over the province. Imported brandies and whiskeys are selling at $3.25 per quart, and Canadian whiskeys at $1.85 per quart. Mr. Wilson left last evening for Sackville, where he is to address the Methodist Conference.

GRANTED LEAVE OF ABSENCE.
J. M. Christie, manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been granted a year's leave of absence on account of his health and will probably spend the time in the south. His many friends will be glad to learn that a rest will probably bring about a complete restoration of health.

One Reason For High Cost of Meats

Maritime Merchant Says Cattle and Sheep Are Taken to Montreal and Fattened and Sold Back to Provinces at High Prices.

One reason for the high cost of meats in St. John and Halifax is given by the Maritime Merchant. It says that cattle and sheep in poor condition are being taken out of the Maritime Provinces at a low price, shipped up to Montreal, where they are fattened, and then in many cases sold back to the Maritime Provinces at high prices. The corrective for this, says the Halifax Journal, is a stock yard at a central point, the city of Montreal, apparently having the first claim. This it is argued would tend to encourage Maritime farmers to take a greater interest in stock raising, and keep profits which probably belong to our people within the home territory.

The Maritime Merchant also advocates cold storage plants at St. John and Halifax, built by the federal government, though some people have attributed the high cost of living to these establishments. The Maritime Merchant's statement is in an unsatisfactory state, in so far as it applies to New Brunswick, a few months ago claimed that under his inspiration the stock raising industry of this province had attained a state of perfection which had caused astonished commendation by Dominion experts accustomed to judge by Ontario standards. It is not likely that the unsatisfactory condition complained of has developed within the last week or so, because with the young grass growing all around there has been no particular reason for sending cattle or sheep to Montreal for fattening. Somebody's wits are wool-gathering.

Mrs. H. Hornbeam Still Talking

Gives Her Views on Technical Education—Thinks She Will Take a Holiday and Talk About the Matter.

"I see by the Times Hiram has been to the doctor to see if he has iron in his system," said Mrs. Hornbeam. "I could have told him that, so I don't see why he wanted to go to the doctor, for I know he wouldn't be looking for one of those beef, iron and wine bottles. Yes, I've noticed Hiram's getting too much iron in his system; he's becoming a hard man. He wants the young men and women to acquire a technical education by spending two hours in a night school, and to devote the rest of the evening to becoming proficient in sports and athletic games. And then he wants them to work long and hard to increase production and carry on an economic war after the war. No wonder the doctor took a mineral rod to sound for his heart, though I must say, he was soft-hearted enough once upon a time. If he has his way of regulating the lives of the rising generation, I'll sure have to pity the young people. When will they have time to loaf and invite their souls, as Shakespeare says? Why, they'll never have a chance for courting, unless they thought they had to, which amounts to the same thing. Those who are now preaching work, work and economic war, can't see, I suppose, that it must lead to another armed struggle, and more bloodshed than ever before.

"Civilization has come to a pretty pass if with all the machinery we have people can't make a living without working themselves to death. Way back in the middle ages when England was merry England, the eight hour day was in vogue, and what's more, the church in those days guaranteed the worker ninety rest days a year, fifty-two Sundays and thirty-eight holidays, during which it was a sin to work. But now some people kick when the Mayor proclaims a half holiday to welcome the soldiers home from the greatest war in history. Why, in the dark ages when soldiers returned from war everybody feasted and made holiday for seven weeks at a time.

"In those days tradesmen in the towns were only able to keep an apprentice or two in their employ but by and by it came to pass that they were able to keep a half dozen or a dozen journeymen working for them. And what happened then? Why, Hiram's forefathers, the Puritans appeared on the scene. They began to preach the gospel of work, because the more the journeyman worked the better off the master became. Holy days with their feasts and pageants became an abomination—a sinful interruption of labor. They asked the Pope to abolish the holy days, but he refused, so they had what they called a reformation. They de-throned the saints in heaven in order to abolish their feast days on earth, and rob the worker of his holidays.

So Puritanism with its gospel of work flourished in the land, and soon the laborers were working 12 hours a day and then 16 hours, and the more they worked the worse off they were. Until after Napoleon's wars the condition of laborers in England went from bad to worse, and only since they started struggling for shorter work days has their condition begun to improve.

"So I think it my duty to take a holiday from my household labors and go out and talk against that spirit of Puritanism, which Hiram and some other prophets want to fasten upon this fair land, to raise my feeble female voice against the spirit of Puritanism, with its passion for work on the part of other people, and its itch of repression of everything that does not tend to make people into machines, which found its truest expression in Prussianism—the curse of our generation."

MANY NOSES POINTED EAST

Some of the people who congregate in King Square and the Old Burying Ground during the afternoons have been noticed with their heads raised and their noses pointed towards the east, especially when the breezes blow from that direction. On closer investigation it was found that the air was charged with a pleasant and satisfying odor. In the prohibition days such a perfume brings back memories of bygone days, when there were brass rails to rest weary feet upon and the clink of ice on glass and the plunk of drawing cozes made music to the ear. Now these are gone but the brewing of the weaker forms of spirits still bears the same scent and some male members of the population assemble in the open spaces in the centre of the city and face the east. Then the old brewery gives off the scent of hops and men are somewhat satisfied.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE.

Good progress is being made with the building of the bathing houses at Marble Cove and it is expected to have them and the small scow ready for Monday next. Jack Redfern will be in charge. Last summer the scows did not provide nearly sufficient dressing accommodation for those wishing to take advantage of them, and this year Commissioner Bullock has had twenty dressing rooms built on the wharf, ten for men and ten for ladies.

Vacation-Time Footwear

Now is the time to select your Vacation-Time Shoes—the shoe you will travel in; the shoe you will want to wear both for a comfortable outing as well as the shoe that you will want to look best in.

Here are new Summer Shoes that combine smart appearance with good wearing qualities.

- White Lace Boot in Buckskin and Canvas, $3 to $9
- White Kid Lace Boots $10 and $12.50
- Pumps and Oxfords in White Canvas, . . $2.35 to $7
- White Buckskin Oxfords $7 and $9
- A large assortment of Brown, Black and Patent Leather Oxfords, high and low heels, . . $3.65 to $10

Headquarters for Reliable Footwear.

Waterbury & Rising Limited
111 KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Solignum

WOOD PRESERVATIVE & STAIN

In various shades, British manufacture. Does not evaporate as other stains. Prompt shipments. Prices right.
P. CAMPBELL & CO., 73 PRINCE WILLIAM STREET.

GEM RAZORS GEM BLADES

They Always Give Satisfaction.
At The Royal Pharmacy, 47 King Street

FIRE ESCAPES

Structural Steel, Bolts and Rods
WM. LEWIS & SON, ST. JOHN.

The Union Foundry and Machine Works, Ltd.

Engineers and Machinists
Iron and Brass Castings. Phone West 15.
West St. John G. H. WARING, Manager.

INSURE WITH THE Guardian Accident and Guarantee Company

Accident, Sickness, Employers' Liability, Guarantee Bonds, Burglary and Plate Glass Insurance.
Knowlton & Gilchrist, General Agents, St. John, N. B.

SEE US FOR PRICES ON General Electric Edison Mazda Lamps

HIRAM WEBB & SON, Electrical Contractors
91 Germain Street Phone M. 2579-11

GRAVEL ROOFING

Also Manufacturers of Sheet Metal Work of every description. Copper and Galvanized Iron Work for Buildings a Specialty.
J. E. WILSON, LTD., 17-19 Sydney St.
Phone Main 356.

FERTILIZER

Oats, Feed, Cornmeal, Bran, Flour (all kinds). Get our prices before you buy. Write, wire or phone
R. G. DYKEMAN, 68 Adelaide Street, St. John, N. B.

WHAT YOUR EYES NEED IN GLASSES

can be determined to an absolute optical and mathematical exactness under Epstein & Co's methods of scientific eye examination. Consult us about your eyes.
K. W. EPSTEIN & CO., Optometrists and Opticians
193 Union Street
M. 3554. Open Evenings.

Painless Extraction Only 25c.

Boston Dental Parlors.
Head Office Branch Office
827 Main Street 85 Charlotte St.
Phone 683 Phone 38
DR. J. D. MAHER, Proprietor.
Open 9 a. m. Until 9 p. m.

Old Dutch makes your refrigerator safe and sanitary Insures Clean Food

Old Dutch Cleanser

ire
E are a few ons out of y beautiful ctical gifts select here
June Bride.
ake Dishes,
poon Trays,
Spoons,
11-17
King St.

Page

OUR
e for quota-

arnish
Colors

English Auto
Rubbing Felt,
Brushes, Bad-
dipping Pencils,

hn, N. B.

TING
PULLEYS
TES
R Manufacturers
ohn, N. B.

ARDS

l find our boards of 6 in., $60.00
65.00
70.00
ain 1893.

ie Wood-
Co., Ltd.
n Street

ar Savings aign and 17th.
ift Stamps.
H MARKET

A Reliable Business Directory.

BAKERS

ST. JOHN BAKERY
Standard Bread, Cakes and Pastry.
H. TAYLOR, Proprietor.
21 Hammond Street. Phone M. 2148.

BINDERS AND PRINTERS
Modern Artistic Work by Skilled Operators.
ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.
THE McMILLAN PRESS
114 Water Street, Phone M. 2148.

CONTRACTORS

ISAAC MERCER
Carpenter and Joiner.
197 Carmarthen St.
Phone M. 2991-31.

W. A. MUNRO
Carpenter—Contractor.
134 Paradise Row.
Phone 2129.

EDWARD BATES
Carpenter, Contractor, Appraiser, etc.
special attention given to alterations and repairs to houses and stores.
80 Duke St. Phone M. 766.
ST. JOHN, N. B.

CANDY MANUFACTURER

"G. B."
CHOCOLATES
The Standard of Quality in Canada.

Our Name a Guarantee of the Finest Materials.

GANONG BROS., LTD.
St. Stephen, N. B.

COAL AND WOOD

COLWELL FUEL CO., LTD.
Coal and Kindling.
UNION STREET, W. E.
Phone W. 17.

H. A. DOHERTY
Successor to
P. C. MESSINGER.
COAL AND WOOD
377 Haymarket Square.
Phone 3030.

ELEVATORS
We manufacture Electric Freight, Passenger, Hand Tower, Hoist, Winches, etc.
E. S. STEPHENSON & CO.,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

ELECTRICAL GOODS
ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS
Gas Supplies
Phone Main 518, 54 and 56 Lock St.
J. T. COFFEY,
Successor to Knox Electric Co.

ENGRAVERS

F. C. WESLEY CO.
ARTISTS, ENGRAVERS, etc.

FARM MACHINERY
OLIVER PLOWS
McCORMICK TILLAGE AND SEEDING MACHINERY
J. P. LYNCH 275 Union Street
Get our prices and terms before buying elsewhere.

FIRE INSURANCE
WESTERN ASSURANCE CO.
(1851 A. D.)
Fire, Explosion, Strike, Riot, Automobile, Postage and Marine.
Assets exceed $1,000,000.
Agents Wanted.
R. W. W. FRINK & SON,
Branch Managers. St. John.

FRESH FISH
Fresh Fish of all kinds.
JAMES PATTERSON,
19 and 20 South Market
Wharf, St. John, N. B.

GROCERIES

T. DONOVAN & SON
Groceries and Meats
203 Queen Street, West End.
Phone West 286.
Canada Food Board License
No. 8-3866.

HORSES
Just received from Ottawa, various horses. Edward Hogan, Union Street.

QUEEN INSURANCE CO.
(FIRE ONLY)
Security Exceeds One Hundred Million Dollars.
C. E. L. Jarvis & Son, Provincial Agents.

FOR
"Insurance That Insures"
SEE US
Frank R. Fairweather & Co.,
12 Canterbury Street. Phone M. 653.

AUTO INSURANCE
Ask for our New Policy
FIRE, THEFT, TRANSIT, COLLISION.
All in one Policy.
Enquiry for Rates Solicited
Chas. A. MacDonald & Son,
Provincial Agents. Phone 1536.

WESTERN ASSURANCE CO.
(1851)
Fire, War, Marine and Motor Cars.
Assets exceed $6,000,000.
Agents Wanted.
R. W. W. FRINK & SON,
Branch Manager. St. John.

HOTELS

VICTORIA HOTEL
Better Now Than Ever.
KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.
St. John Hotel Co., Ltd.
Proprietors.
A. M. PHILLIPS, Manager.
Canada Food Board License
No. 10-2455.

CLIFTON HORSE
CORNER GERRARD AND VICTORIA STS.
REYNOLDS & FRITCH

ROYAL HOTEL
King Street
St. John's Leading Hotel.
RAYMOND & DOHERTY CO., LTD.

DUFFERIN HOTEL
FOSTER & CO., Prop.
Open for Business
King Square, St. John, N. B.
J. T. DUNLOP, Mgr.

HARNESSES
We manufacture all styles Harness and Horse Goods at low prices.
H. HORTON & SON, LTD.
9 and 11 MARKET SQUARE,
Phone Main 448.

HACK & LIVERY STABLE
WM. BRICKLEY
Boarding and Livery Stable
74 1-2 Coburg Street.
Phone M. 1367.

JEWELERS

POYAS & CO., King Square
All lines of Jewelry and Watches.
Prompt repair work. Phone M. 2965-11

LADDERS
EXTENSION
LADDERS
ALL SIZES
H. L. MACGOWAN,
79 Brussels Street, St. John.

MACHINERY
J. FRED WILLIAMSON
MACHINERY AND ENGINEERS
Steamboats, Mill and General repair work.
INDIAN TOWN, ST. JOHN, N. B.
Phone M. 2278.

SPRING IS HERE
and housecleaning time has come around once more. We have all the necessities—Heavy Mined Pains, Varnishes, Floor Stains, Enamel, Brushes, etc., and every variety of household hardware.
A. M. ROWAN,
331 Main Street. Phone M. 398

PLUMBERS

WM. E. EMERSON
Plumber and General
Hardware.
81 UNION STREET
WEST ST. JOHN. PHONE W. 175

FRANCIS S. WALKER
Sanitary and Heating Engineer.
No. 14 Church Street.

NERVOUS DISEASES
ROBERT WILBY, Medical Electrical Specialist and Masseuse. Treats all nerve diseases, neurasthenia, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, sciatica, rheumatism. Special treatment for uterine and ovarian pain and weakness. Facial blemishes of all kinds removed. 48 King Square.

PATENTS
FETHERSTONHAUGH & CO.
The old established firm. Patents everywhere. Head office Royal Bank Building, Toronto. Ottawa offices, 5
Elgin Street. Offices throughout Canada. Booklet free.

CHIROPODIST
MISS L. M. HILL has resumed practice at the old address, 92 Princess street.
Office hours 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Phone 1770 M.

MISCELLANEOUS
FREE DEVELOPING
when you order 1 dozen pictures from a 8 expo film. Prices 40c, 50c, 60c per dozen. Send money with films to Wasson's, St. John, N. B.

VIOLINS, MANDOLINS, and all String Instruments and Bows Repaired.
SYDNEY GIBBS, 81 Sydney Street

Established 1870.
G. G. MURDOCH, A.M.E.I.C.
Civil Engineer and Crown Land Surveyor.
74 Carmarthen Street.
Phone M. 65 and M. 655.

DOMINION COAL COMPANY
DOMINION
SPRINGHILL
BITUMINOUS
STEAM AND DOMESTIC COALS
GENERAL SALES OFFICE
112 ST. JAMES ST. MONTREAL

COAL
IN STOCK
All Sizes American Anthracite
Georges Creek Blacksmith
Springhill Reserve
PRICES LOW
R. P. & W. F. STARR, LIMITED
Agents at St. John.

LANDING
SYDNEY SOFT COAL
McGIVERN COAL CO.,
TEL. 42. 5 MILL STREET

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that under and by virtue of a License issued by the Probate Court for the City and County of Saint John, and for the purpose of paying the debts of Thomas B. Blair, late of the City of Saint John, Banker, deceased, there will be sold by public auction at Chubb's Corner, on Saturday, the Twenty-eighth day of June, A. D.
1919, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon
(daylight saving time), the following Real Estate in the City of Saint John, which at the time of his death belonged to the said Thomas B. Blair, deceased, namely:—One Sixth Interest in the Blair Homestead Property, so called, consisting of a lot of land numbered 693 situated, on the north side of Orange street, in the said City of Saint John, which said lot of land is 47 feet wide and 135 feet deep, and is bounded as follows:—Easterly by the Venning lot, so called; Northerly by lands in possession of Mrs.
Robert McKen; Westerly by lands known as the Sinnott Estate lot, and Southerly by Orange street on which said lot of land and being part thereof there is situated a three story brick building.
Dated this Thirtieth day of May,
A. D. 1919.
ELIZA M. BLAIR,
Administratrix of Estate of late Thomas B. Blair, deceased.
F. L. POTTS, Auctioneer.

STEAM BOILERS
We are offering for immediate shipment out of stock "Nathanson" steam boilers for under. All are absolutely new, of recent construction and late designs:—
Two—Vertical type 35 h. p., 48" dia., 14'0" high, 125 lbs. w. p.
One—Portable type on skids, 50 h.
p., 48" dia., 16'0" long, 125 lbs.
w. p.
One—Portable type on skids, 45 h.
p., 48" dia., 14'0" long, 125 lbs.
w. p.
One H. R. T. type, 60 h. p., 54" dia., 14'0" long, 25 lbs. w. p.
Boilers of other sizes and designs can be built to order very promptly, regarding which we solicit correspondence.
I. MATHEWSON & CO., LIMITED
New Glasgow, Nova Scotia

TRANSPORTATION

CUNARD ANCHOR ANCHOR-DONALDSON
Regular Passenger Services to 11 British Ports
ANCHOR-DONALDSON
TO GLASGOW.
From—
Montreal Cassandra (about) June 28
Montreal Saturday July 5
Montreal Cassandra (about) Aug. 5
Montreal Saturday Aug. 12

CUNARD LINE TO LIVERPOOL.
From—
New York Vastria June 16
New York Vestra June 21
New York Royal George June 24
New York Orforda June 28
New York Caronia July 5
New York Carmania July 12

TO SOUTHAMPTON.
New York Mauretania June 14
New York Aquitania June 28

TO LONDON
Montreal *Willaston June 21
Montreal *Vardulia June 28
Montreal *Inkulu June 30

TO PIRAEUS, GREECE.
New York Panonia June 18

TO AVONMOUTH
Montreal *Ocean Monarch June 28

ANCHOR LINE
TO GLASGOW
Boston Massilia July 12

THOMSON LINE
TO LEITH
Montreal *Cairngowan June 15
—Cargo only.
For rates of passage and further particulars apply to all local ticket agents, or to
THE ROBERT REFORM COMPANY
LIMITED.
162 Prince William Street,
ST. JOHN, N. B.

THE Maritime Steamship Co.
Limited
TIME TABLE
On and after June 15, 1919, a steamer of this company leaves St. John every Saturday, 10 a. m., (daylight time) for Black Harbor, calling at Dipper Harbor and Beaver Harbor.
Leaves Black Harbor Monday, two hours of high water, for St. Andrews, calling at Lords Cove, Richardson,
L'Etete or Back Bay.
Leaves St. Andrews Monday evening or Tuesday morning, according to the tide, for St. George, Back Bay and Black Harbor.
Leaves Black Harbor Wednesday on the tide for Dipper Harbor, calling at Beaver Harbor.
Leaves Dipper Harbor for St. John
8 a. m., Thursday.
Agent—Thorn's Wharf and Warehousing Co., Ltd., Phone 2581. Manager Lewis Congors.
This company will not be responsible for any debts contracted after the date without a written order from the company or captain of the steamer.

GRAND MANAN S.S. CO.
DAYLIGHT TIME.
Commencing June 1st, a steamer of this line leaves Grand Manan Mondays, 1:30 a. m., for St. John via Campobello and Eastport, returning leaves St. John Tuesdays, 10 a. m., for Grand Manan, via the same portals. Wednesdays leave Grand Manan, 9
a. m., for St. Stephen, via intermediate ports, returning Thursdays.
Fridays, leave Grand Manan, 6:30 a. m., for St. John direct, returning 2:30 same day.
Saturdays, leave Grand Manan, 7:30
a. m., for St. Andrews, via intermediate ports, returning 1:30 same day.
SCOTT D. GUPTILL, Manager.

Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc.
ST. JOHN AND BOSTON
Resumption of Service
The S. S. "Calvin Austin" will leave St. John every Wednesday at 9 a. m. and every Saturday 6 p. m. (Atlantic time).
The Wednesday trips are via Eastport and Lubec, due Boston 10 a. m., Thursdays. The Saturday trips are direct to Boston, due there Sundays
1 p. m.
Fare $6.00. Staterooms $2.00 up.
Direct connection with Metropolitan steamers for New York via Cape Cod Canal.
For freight rates and full information apply
A. C. CURRIE, Agent
St. John, N. B.

MANCHESTER LINERS
Direct Sailings.
MANCHESTER
To St. John
About every three weeks.
Wm. Thomson & Co., Ltd.
Agents.

TRAVELLING?
Passage Tickets By All
Ocean Steamship Lines
WM. THOMSON & CO.
LIMITED.
Royal Bank Bldg., St. John.

LATE SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE

PORT OF ST. JOHN,
June 14, 1919.
Arrived Friday.
Coastwise—Sirs Grand Manan, 180,
Hersey; Keith Cann, 177, McKinnon,
Westport; Cannon Bros, 64, Warnock,
Chance Harbor; Frances Bottiller, 17,
Teed, Weymouth; sch Maudie, 25,
Copp, Harvey.
Cleared.
Coastwise—Sirs Grand Manan, 180,
Hersey; Keith Cann, 177, McKinnon,
Westport; Cannon Bros, 64, Warnock,
Chance Harbor; Frances Bottiller, 17,
Teed, Weymouth; sch Maudie, 25,
Copp, Harvey.

Discharging Coal.
The S. S. Lengan is at the Dominion Coal Company pocket discharging her cargo of 7,000 tons of soft coal.

Lumber-laden Steamers.
The S. S. War Country and the S. S.
Florida are expected to clear and sail today. Both are lumber lads, with cargoes consigned to British overseas ports.

Will Sail Today.
The R. M. S. P. Chaudiere will sail for Halifax at noon today to load general cargo for the West Indies.

Has Finished Loading.
The S. S. Panga has finished loading wheat and will sail Sunday for a British port.

Are Due Monday.
The S. S. Manchester Port, from Manchester direct, and the "Puruss" liner Caterino are expected to arrive
Monday to load wheat and grain.

The Steamer Express.
The steamer Express again took up the regular daily St. John-Digby service yesterday morning, carrying across the Bay considerable cargo and a fairly large passenger list. The vessel arrived from the Halifax dry docks
Thursday night, and on the way up called at Digby, where she took on some cargo for here.

THE MAJORITY SOCIALIST PARTY PASS RESOLUTIONS Express Indignation at the "Peace of Violence" Which Makes Germany's Future Impossible.

Weimar, Thursday, June 12 (By The Party)—The majority expressing indignation at the "peace of violence" which makes Germany's future "impossible" were adopted by the majority socialist party at its convention here today. The resolutions declare that the peace terms are not in conformity with President Wilson's fourteen points, or with the principles laid forth by the international socialist conferences at Bern and Amsterdam.
International socialists are called upon to write me. Loose stamp for reply. Lillian Sproul, Station H, Cleveland, O.

MALE HELP WANTED
Peace work at war pay guaranteed
for three years. Kilt urgently need socks for us on the fast, simple Auto
Knitter. Full particulars today, 3c
stamp. Auto Knitter Co., Dept 567,
607 College street, Toronto.

QUEENSTOWN HONORS RETURNED NURSE Served Fifteen Months With Harvard Unit and Afterwards Joined the American Red Cross Forces.

Queenstown, N. B., June 11—Miss Edna B. Davis, Red Cross nurse, lately arrived from France by way of New York is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Davis, of Queenstown.
Miss Davis arrived on Tuesday,
June 3rd, after a year's service in an American Evacuation Hospital. This is the second time Miss Davis has been overseas, having served fifteen months with the Harvard unit, after which she came back to America and joined the Red Cross.
A reception was tendered Miss Davis on Tuesday evening, June 10th, in the Queenstown Hotel. A short program was rendered by the young people, after which Miss Scovill presented Miss Davis, in behalf of the Women's Institute, with a beautiful brooch set with amethysts and pearls and a bouquet of red carnations, which were acknowledged by a very fitting reply.
Miss Davis, while overseas, was stationed in the northern part of France, but while on leave visited southern France, Italy and Belgium, and had the exciting experience of going up in an aeroplane, and visiting the battlefield a few days after the signing of the armistice, bringing many valuable souvenirs.

FUNERALS.
The funeral of Miss Mary E. Sullivan took place at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 53 City Road. The Rev. R. T. McKim conducted the service; interment in Fernhill cemetery.

CATARRH
and DISCHARGES Relieved in 24 Hours
SANTAL MIDY
Dr. Br. Wilson's
HERBINE BITTERS

SURPRISE SOAP

SURPRISE SOAP
A PURE HARD SOAP
You can't tell the worth of any Soap by the size of the Cake only—it may be padded or filled with useless material to make it look big.
"SURPRISE" is just a Pure Hard Soap that looks good and is good. The largest real Soap value.
Don't Accept Substitutes The St. Croix Soap Mfg. Co.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

1-2 cent per word each insertion.
Minimum charge twenty-five cents.

AGENTS WANTED
AGENTS WANTED—Ladies and gentlemen, $5 to $7 daily selling Quality Non-Alcoholic Concentrated Extracts, etc. $1.55 worth of regular goods sent postpaid as samples, $1.00.
N. H. Munro, Amherst, N. S.

WANTED
WANTED—Intelligent young man, of good education, not necessarily experienced. Apply in person Specialty Film Import, Limited.

AGENT RECENTLY WRITING
"Secured 168 orders in 56 hours, making $172.20 commission," introducing "History of World War." Canadian edition; Canadian authorship; Canadian publishers. Great opportunity returned soldiers, students, teachers, others. Special terms; freight paid;
credit. Outfit free. Winston Co., Toronto.

WANTED—Man and Wife to look after a small farm near St. John.
Comfortable house, will employ or rent. Apply Box 36, care Standard office.

PERSONALS
YOUR FUTURE FORETOLD—Send me, birthdate for truthful, reliable, convincing trial reading.
Hazel Hulse, Box 1408, Los Angeles, Cal.

WANTED—Two Teachers for Hampton Consolidated School for coming year. Apply stating salary to Thos. E. Smith, secretary to Trustees,
Hampton Consolidated School.

CUT THIS OUT for nick. Send birthdate and 10c for wonderful horoscope of your entire life. Prof. Ra-phael, 94 Grand Central Sta., New York.

WANTED—A teacher, one with school garden certificate preferred, for School Dist. No. 5. Apply, stating salary, to R. B. McCready, Shannon, Q. Co., N. B.

IF YOU WISH a pretty and wealthy wife, write me. Loose stamp for reply. Lillian Sproul, Station H, Cleveland, O.

WANTED—An office boy. Apply
The Standard, Ltd.

CASH FOR OLD FALSE TEETH
(broken or not)—We pay $2 to $35 per set. Also actual value for Bridge-work, Crowns, Old Gold, Silver and Platinum. Send at once and receive cash by return mail. Your goods returned if price is unsatisfactory.
Maser Bros. D. 2067 S. 6th Street,
Philadelphia, Pa., U. S. A.

WANTED—Second Hand Boiler
in good condition about 16 ft. x 5, 3 ft.
Tubes. W. & R. Walsh, Chatham,
N. B.

MALE HELP WANTED
Peace work at war pay guaranteed
for three years. Kilt urgently need socks for us on the fast, simple Auto
Knitter. Full particulars today, 3c
stamp. Auto Knitter Co., Dept 567,
607 College street, Toronto.

WANTED—A second or third class female teacher for District No. 17, District rated poor. Apply, stating salary, to Albert E. rated, Secutary, Starkey's, Queens Co., N. B.

MINARD'S
"KING OF PAIN"
LINIMENT
Extract from a letter of a Canadian soldier in France.
To Mrs. R. D. BANNERICK:
The Rectory, Yarmouth, N.S.
Dear Mother:—
I am keeping well, have good food and well protected from the weather, but have some difficulty keeping uninvited guests from visiting me.
Have you any patriotic druggists that would give something for a gift overseas—if so do you know something that is good for everything? I do—Old MINARD'S Liniment.
Your affectionate son,
Ron.
Manufactured by the
Minard's Liniment Co. Ltd.
Yarmouth, N.S.

FOR SALE
MOTOR BOAT FOR SALE—One year old, 34 feet long, suitable for pleasure or work. Apply to P. O. H.
117 Westport, N. B.

FOR SALE—1 Boiler, 10 ft. x 4 ft.,
32-4 in. Tubes; 1 Boiler 12 ft. x 4 ft.,
30-3 in. tube; 1 Payne Engine 8 in. x
10 in. with fly wheel 4 ft. in diameter and 10 in. face; 1 2 Spindle Shaper and Counter-shaft; 1 Heavy Iron Dowel and Sash Clamp; 1 30 in. Sheldon
Blower; 1 Wooden Frame Rip Saw; 1
Band Saw Blade and Setter; 1 Belt-driven Force Pump. W. & R. Walsh, Chatham, N. B.

FOR SALE—100 H. P. Horizontal
Tubular Boiler in A1 condition. Apply
James Robertson Co., Ltd., St. John,
N. B.

FOR SALE—A beautiful home suitable for two Commercial Travellers' families. House in good condition, containing 6 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, dining room, large bars and wood house. Tow a water and electric lights. Two minutes' walk from station (good school). Will be sold cheap to quick purchaser. Apply Mrs.
Walker Peitrey, Lawrenceport, Anna
Co., N.S.

FOR SALE—Property at Sussex, consisting of lot of land, modern house and barn, nice grounds and trees. Situated on Church Ave., one of the most desirable residential streets. For further particulars apply to Ethel A. Davis, Box 232, Sussex, N. B.

Simple Herbs
Cure Serious
Troubles
MANY of the diseases of our combined may be prevented with care.
Mental excitement—neurasthenia—disturbs the delicate balance of woman's sensitive nerves, and upsets her whole system. At the first indication of nervousness or any irregularity, take
Dr. Br. Wilson's
HERBINE BITTERS
It's safe and certain—purely vegetable —regulates kidneys and bowels—overcomes headaches, indigestion, stomach trouble—purifies the blood—tones up and invigorates mind and body.

THE NEW FRENCH METHOD
THERAPIE No. 1
THERAPIE No. 2
THERAPIE No. 3
No. 1 for Bladder Catarrh, No. 2 for Gonorrhea, No. 3 for Chronic Weakness.
Dr. Br. Wilson's Bitters, 100 St. John St.,
St. John, N. B. Price 25c per bottle.
No. 1-2-3-4-5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30-31-32-33-34-35-36-37-38-39-40-41-42-43-44-45-46-47-48-49-50-51-52-53-54-55-56-57-58-59-60-61-62-63-64-65-66-67-68-69-70-71-72-73-74-75-76-77-78-79-80-81-82-83-84-85-86-87-88-89-90-91-92-93-94-95-96-97-98-99-100-101-102-103-104-105-106-107-108-109-110-111-112-113-114-115-116-117-118-119-120-121-122-123-124-125-126-127-128-129-130-131-132-133-134-135-136-137-138-139-140-141-142-143-144-145-146-147-148-149-150-151-152-153-154-155-156-157-158-159-160-161-162-163-164-165-166-167-168-169-170-171-172-173-174-175-176-177-178-179-180-181-182-183-184-185-186-187-188-189-190-191-192-193-194-195-196-197-198-199-200-201-202-203-204-205-206-207-208-209-210-211-212-213-214-215-216-217-218-219-220-221-222-223-224-225-226-227-228-229-230-231-232-233-234-235-236-237-238-239-240-241-242-

Exceptionally Attractive Bonds

Our list of offerings includes some very attractive bond issues both from the standpoint of yield and safety of principal.

Eastern Securities Company, Limited 92 Prince Wm. St., St. John

MONTREAL SALES

(McDougall and Cowans.) Montreal, Friday, June 13.—Morning. Vic Bonds 1922-1929 @ 101 1/4, 6.000 @ 101 5/8.

Steel Can Com—4 @ 233. Can Cen Pfd—3 @ 215 1/4. Afternoon. Vic Loan 1922-1929 @ 101 1/4.

Steel Can Com—295 @ 69, 25 @ 68 1/2, 235 @ 68 1/2. Dom Iron Com—25 @ 69 1/2, 440 @ 65 1/2.

N. Y. COTTON MARKET (McDougall and Cowans.) Bid. Ask. Ames Holden Com. 43

J. R. RYAN

J. R. Ryan, member of the newly-formed financial partnership composed of J. R. Ryan, J. G. Hastings and C. B. Grier.

TORONTO TRADE QUOTATIONS

Toronto, June 13.—Board of Trade quotations today: Manitoba wheat, in store Fort William, No. 1 northern, $2.24 1/4; No. 2, $2.12 1/2; No. 3, $2.17 1/4; No. 4 wheat, $2.11.

Manitoba oats, in store Fort William, No. 2 C. W., 77 1/2; No. 3 C. W., 75 1/2; extra No. 1 feed, 73 1/2; No. 1 feed, 74; No. 2 feed, 69.

Manitoba barley, in store Fort William, No. 3 C. W., $1.32 1/2; No. 4 C. W., $1.27 1/2; rejected, $1.18 1/4; feed, $1.15 1/4.

American corn, track Toronto, prompt shipment, No. 3 yellow, nominal; No. 4 yellow, nominal.

Ontario oats, according to freights outside, No. 3 white, 77 to 80.

Ontario wheat, f. o. b. shipping points, according to freights No. 1 winter, per car lot, $2.14 to $2.20; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.16; No. 4 winter, $2.03 to $2.14; No. 5 winter, $2.02 to $2.10.

Barley, according to freights outside, malting, $1.28 to $1.32.

Buckwheat, according to freights outside, No. 2, nominal.

Rice, according to freights outside, No. 2, nominal.

Manitoba flour, government standard, $1.11, Toronto.

Ontario flour, government standard, Toronto-Montreal, $1.75 to $1.11, new bags.

Millfeed, car lots, delivered Montreal, shorts, $44; bran, $42; feed four, not quoted; middlings, not quoted; good feed four per bag, $2.80 to $2.90.

Hay, baled, track Toronto, car lots, No. 1, $23 to $25; No. 2 mixed, $22 to $24 per ton.

Straw car lots, $10 to $11.

N. Y. QUOTATIONS

(McDougall and Cowans.) Open. High. Low. Close. Am Best Sug 87 87 84 84

CHICAGO PRICES

(McDougall and Cowans.) Chicago, June 13.—Corn, No. 3 yellow, $1.75 to $1.76 1/2; No. 4 yellow, nominal; No. 5 yellow, nominal.

MONEY SITUATION AFFECTED TRADE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Interest Rates on Both Mixed and Industrial Collateral Rose to 12 Per Cent. New High Record for the Year.

New York, June 13.—This was a day of severe liquidation of the Stock Exchange with trading infrequent.

Shares of virtually all groups were unloaded freely. Under the activities of the bear faction the occasion, short covering not being sufficiently important to check the decline except during monetary periods.

INDIANS TO ASK GOVERNMENT HELP

Quebec, June 13.—A delegation of Montserrat Indians from the far interior of the North Shore after traveling some seven or eight hundred miles to come to Quebec, arrived here and proceeded to Ottawa where their chief will meet members of the federal government to ask for aid for families of Indians who will leave by the end of August for their wintering grounds, and who lack provisions.

CONGRESS APPROVES THE U. S. ARMY BILL

Bulletin—Washington, June 13.—Without a record the House passed and sent to the senate the 1920 army appropriation bill, carrying a total of $178,000,000, and providing for a temporary army of 300,000 men.

MONTREAL MARKET.

Montreal, June 13.—Oats—Extra No. 1 feed, 80 1/2. Flour—Man. spring wheat patents, extra, new standard grade, $11.00 to $11.10.

THE PROBATE COURT.

In the Probate Court, Judge McInerney presiding, letters of administration have been granted to J. Roy Campbell in the matter of the estate of J. K. Percy.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Transfers of real estate in St. John county have been recorded as follows: Beatrice E. Brown and C. Brown to Florence R. Harrison, property in Lancaster.

Paul F. Blanchet

Chartered Accountant TELEPHONE CONNECTION St. John and Rothesay

ALFRED H. BRITAIN

Alfred H. Britain, the vice-president and general manager of the Maritime Fish Corporation Ltd., is one of the largest fish producers in Canada.

Mr. Britain is a member of the National Fisheries Protection Association of Great Britain.

HEAVY SELLING AFFECTED STOCKS

Motor and Oil Stocks Were the Heaviest Losers on Sluggish Market.

New York, June 13.—Selling was heavy around mid-day and in the early afternoon and affected the rails as well as the industrials. Motor and oil stocks were the largest losers, some of them going half a dozen points or more below the previous closing prices.

Much Schooling.

Young officers graduated at West Point yesterday had been graduated there once previously. All of them are going to France for more training.

The New Twenty-year Capital Return Policy

(Issued by The Canada Life)

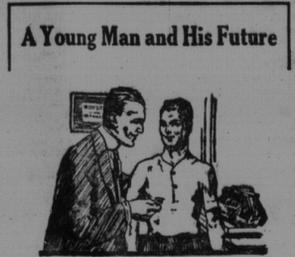

Absolutely guarantees the return at the end of twenty years of all annual deposits, with accumulated profits, after giving you insurance protection for twenty years.

Easily Understood:

- 1st. Deposits are made yearly. This is what you are saving, and at the end of 20 years the Canada Life guarantees the return of every dollar paid in. 2nd. Your life is insured from the day you make the first deposit, for $5,000, or whatever amount you decide.

And in addition— you can draw a Special Cash Guarantee, together with the Accumulated Profits, making a substantial sum, and leave the $5,000 Policy fully paid for and continuing to earn Dividends as long as you live.

Canada Life J. M. Queen, Manager Canada Life Bldg. 60 Prince William St. St. John.

He takes his first step in business affairs, is examined by the doctor, and creates an estate of $5,000.

He improves the shining hour and impresses upon an important person that he is in possession of an "estate."

His tendency to save and invest is noted by his employers.

He finds his savings of great assistance in buying a home.

And as time goes on he is enabled to enjoy many of the good things of life.

The Management of Your Real Estate either small or large, is one of the many capacities in which we can be of service to you.

THE CANADA PERMANENT TRUST COMPANY Paid-up Capital $1,000,000.00

FOR A GOOD INVESTMENT BUY VICTORY BONDS

McDOUGALL & COWANS Members Montreal Stock Exchange 58 Prince William Street, - St. John, N. B.

HOTEL SEVILLA Fifth Avenue & 29th Street NEW YORK CITY An Atmosphere of Comfort and Refinement SINGLE ROOMS, WITH BATH, $2.50 UPWARD ROOMS, WITH BATH, FOR TWO $3 to $5 Per Day

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

PROPERTY FOR SALE

Beautiful home suit commercial Travellers' in good condition. 3 bedrooms, parlors, kitchen, large barn and own water and electric utilities' walk from station.

AROUND THE CITY
GENERALLY FAIR.

NURSING SISTER CLINGH.
Miss M. A. Clingh, Moncton, a nursing sister who spent three years in France, arrived home yesterday.

RETURNED TO MONCTON.
Adjutant Hang of the Salvation Army, Moncton, who attended the self-denial gathering here, has returned to the railway town.

ADMINISTRATED CONFIRMATION.
Bishop LeBlanc has returned from Moncton, where he administered confirmation to a number of candidates at St. Bernard's church.

A DANGEROUS DUMP.
A dump in the rear of St. Luke's church is causing the residents of that vicinity considerable worry, fire having broken out on it less than four times in the past week.

ST. GEORGE CELEBRATION.
On St. John's Day, June 24th, the Acadia ball team of St. John will play the local team at St. George. In the morning there will be a Masonic parade, and in the evening a grand ball under the auspices of St. George Lodge of Masons.

GIVEN A FRIGHT.
Several pedestrians along Princess street between Charlotte and German were frightened yesterday when the tongue of a wood-laden dray snapped, the horses plunging on to the sidewalk. The horses were controlled without any damage or danger, however, and the dray was rolled into an arway by human power.

ON HOSPITAL SHIP.
The hospital ship Essequibo is due at Portland, Maine, on June 19. Official word came to Charles Robinson, yesterday afternoon, that the Essequibo had on board twenty-one people for New Brunswick Military District, including two nurses, four officers and fifteen other ranks. There are no cases among the officers, but there are two cases among the men and one amputation case.

THIEVES IN HALIFAX.
Halifax, too, is subject to a wave of petty stealing. According to a Halifax exchange the thieves visit likely houses and rings the door bell. If it is answered a query is made as to where somebody lives. If there is no reply to the bell the thieves immediately effect an entrance. The robberies over there have been most prevalent during the hours when the families are attending divine services.

DID NOT ARRIVE.
Relatives, friends and members of the various reception committees gathered at the Union depot last night to greet seven New Brunswick war veterans and their dependents who had arrived on the R. M. S. Melita at Quebec Thursday. The train pulled in almost on time, but the expected party was not aboard, the explanation being that they had stopped off at Moncton.

H. C. L. STILL HEALTHY.
The Maritime Merchant predicts that the cost of living will increase during the next six months. It is difficult to see how it can do anything else, it says, because supplies of necessities are so much in demand in Europe that everything the world can spare will be required there. It hopes, however, that by this time next year there will be a marked turn in the other direction.

BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL.
At the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held last evening a building trades council was formed and all the building trade organizations are affiliated. The officers elected were:

PROGRESS IN CITY WORK.
City workmen were engaged yesterday repairing the surface of the roadway in Main street near North End police station. A preparation of tar and crushed stone was being used. Further along the street near Sheriff's progress was being made in placing a retaining wall. Here the street is well above the adjoining lots and a retaining wall has been necessary to keep the roadway in place as well as to protect the private property.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TEACHERS' LICENSES.
Twenty-seven persons from different parts of Province have been writing examinations this week for advancement in class.

CAPTAIN WM. SPRAGUE DIED IN VANCOUVER.
Captain William Sprague, who once sailed in the Battle Line, died recently in Vancouver. He was born in Port Egin, and in 1870 had the distinction of commanding the first vessel that brought steel rails across the Atlantic for the construction of the Intercolonial Railway. He had many stirring adventures when he carried supplies to Admiral Dewey during the Spanish-American War.

Do Not Look
Any Lower Prices

Clothiers in Toronto Claim That Margin of Profit is Comparatively Slim Now—Little Hope for Drop for Couple of Years.

Up in Toronto the clothing and woolen men are against the views expressed by the Cost of Living Commission that clothing prices are due for a big drop. The idea in Toronto is that prices of clothing may drop in about two years, but there is little hope held out before that time.

The manager of a large woolen house in that city is quoted as saying that manufacturers were begging wholesale houses to cancel orders for delivery next fall and winter. The labor situation regarding wages and the difficulty of keeping machinery up to the standard are given as their reasons for requesting release.

When asked what would be the proportions of cost in a $60 suit, the reply was: "Materials would consume at least half of it, wages for labor about one-third, and trimmings and tailors' profits the balance. But tailors are making less profit on a sixty-dollar suit now than they did on a forty-dollar suit three years ago. Within a year the journeymen tailors have struck for higher wages, which has almost doubled their earnings of fifteen months ago, and now they are talking of striking for a thirty per cent. increase."

A manager of another large woolen house said that he had only last week received notice of advances in prices of Canadian wools ranging between 5 and 7 1/2 per cent. On top of this came advice of advances of ten per cent. from manufacturers abroad.

This dealer pointed out that there was a factor that the public did not consider when they talked about the high cost of clothing, and that is the enormous stocks of woolsens that have been destroyed during the war. Heretofore a woolen suit was torn up and mixed with cotton and then made into what it vanished from sight. It is estimated that it will take about two years to restore the market to a condition where cast-off woolen clothing can be made into by-products.

Taking everything into consideration none of the manufacturers or dealers in woolen goods consider a reduction in price likely within the next two years.

City Fathers Are Anxiously Waiting

Wondering What Has Happened to the Provincial Government's Housing Scheme—Has Foster Government Abandoned or Gone on Journey?

Has the Venet-Porter government abandoned. Or has it perchance gone upon a journey?

These questions are agitating the good people at City Hall. For a long time the city fathers have been waiting for information about the Provincial Government's housing scheme, which was to enable enterprising citizens here to take advantage of the Dominion Government's offer of a loan of considerable monies. Last March Mr. Foster with a great flourish of trumpets had an act passed, which was supposed to embody a scheme to make the money available. But where the money is nobody seems yet to know, and how the scheme is to be worked still remains a good deal of a mystery.

If the Provincial Government is still alive it appears to have at any rate abdicated its functions, in so far as giving out information about its housing scheme. Possibly the government is unable to explain its own legislation, and may have referred the matter to the Supreme Court or to a commission of investigation. This would not be surprising, as the principal feature of its policy has always been a strong determination to sidestep its functions and shoulder the responsibility of doing anything upon somebody else. Meanwhile the city fathers are waiting in the dark, and half the summer has sped, and those who thought to build homes for themselves and New Brunswick will apparently have another thought coming to them.

"Silk Hat Hurley"
Visiting St. John

The Many Years Mayor of Salem, Mass., Arrived Yesterday With B. Frank Smith of Woburn, Mass.—Leave Tonight for Boston.

Ex-Mayor John F. Hurley, better known all over the continent as "Silk Hat Hurley," of Salem, Mass., and his chum, who Mr. Hurley always refers to as his "son," B. Frank Smith, of Woburn, Mass., arrived in the city yesterday and are registered at the Victoria. They are on a sightseeing trip, having made a tour of Maine and New Brunswick and will leave tonight by the Boston boat on their return to their homes.

Mr. Hurley, who will be 75 years of age on November 15, is the idol of all classes in his native city, and for six years filled the mayor's chair. He is still hale and hearty and looks like a man ten years younger than he confesses to. He is a candidate for the office of mayor at the fall election and will likely be elected. His trip to the city was made on September 12 next and looks like a "boy" of seventy.

Both are veterans of the Civil War, having served in September, 1861, in the Salem Light Artillery, and serving in the army for four years and two months. Since that time, 58 years ago, they have been the closest of chums.

Mr. Hurley visited St. John 10 years ago and, a singular coincidence, stopped at the same hotel, the Victoria, in the same room as he was given on his arrival yesterday morning. He has been a great traveler in his day, having covered the United States and Canada, the British Isles and France. On his trip to Ireland he sent $800 postcards to Salem, one to each voter in the city, and another to each voter in the county.

Returned Men
Arrive Today

Thirty-seven Soldiers Who Reached Halifax on the Olympic Reach Here This Morning—Captain A. G. Rainnie is One of the Party

The steamship Olympic arrived in Halifax yesterday with a large number of returned soldiers and civilians. Charles Robinson, secretary of New Brunswick Returned Soldiers' Commission, received a wire last evening stating that the men for this district left on the regular express and would arrive here this morning about 6 o'clock.

Captain A. G. Rainnie and thirty-six other ranks are in the party. Captain Rainnie went overseas with the Army Service Corps under the command of Lt.-Col. Massey, and will receive a warm welcome from his many friends in the city. Those who will arrive today are as follows:

- Capt. Rainnie, A. G., 12 Prince Wm. St., St. John.
- Cpl. Aklerley, A. T., Pennfield, Char. Co.
- Pte. Ayette, F., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Sedard, W. G., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Doyon, N., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Fitzgerald, J. C., Georgetown, P. E. I.
- Pte. Flewelling, G. R., Hampton.
- Pte. Fay, P. H., Denville, P. Q.
- Pte. Fullerton, C. G., Parrsboro, N. S.
- Pte. Gardener, R. R., Hamilton, Ont.
- Pte. Gordon, R. F., Montreal, P. Q.
- Pte. Hoare, F. T., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Hutchins, L. W., Brigham, P. Q.
- Pte. Jenkins, T. E., Utica, N. Y.
- Pte. Lacombe, J. P., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Lemmon, C. W., Kingston, Ont.
- Pte. Marjerrison, M. G., Maxville, Ont.
- Pte. Martin, E. S., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Munsell, E. M., Osgoode Sta., Ont.
- Pte. Roche, L. E., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Seiford, C. A., Ottawa, Ont.
- Pte. Gray, C. F., Limestone, Me.
- Pte. Lehr, W. A., Plymouth, Mich.
- Cpl. Murphy, H. A., Pittsfield, Mass.
- Pte. Webb, C., Lawrence, Mass.
- Pte. Baynam, H. W., Merona, Sask.
- Pte. Craig, A., Kintino, Sask.
- Pte. Fyfe, H. J., Elm, Sask.
- Pte. Graham, H. C., Galt, Ont.
- Pte. Paradis, J., Dorchester St., St. John.

A. C. GORHAM TAKES UP HIS NEW DUTIES

Succeeds R. P. Steeves as Director of Elementary Agricultural Education—Will Conduct Rural Summer Science Course for Teachers in Sussex.

A. C. Gorham, B. S. A., M. S., has taken up the duties of director of elementary agricultural education. He succeeded R. P. Steeves, who carried on the work for the past five years but has retired because of poor health.

Mr. Gorham's qualifications are such as to specially fit him for the work of his division. He was born in St. John County, was educated at the public and high schools of St. John. He received his normal training at Fredericton and successfully taught in the public schools of the province for three years, paying particular attention to agricultural work. In order to specialize in this work he enrolled as a student at the Macdonald Agricultural College in Quebec, and received the degree of B. S. A. from that institution in 1912. After graduation he accepted the position of assistant horticulturist on the staff of the Macdonald college, which position he very acceptably filled until 1918. During the past year he has been taking post-graduate at Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y., and has just been awarded the degree of M. S. in the Science of Agriculture from that university.

Mr. Gorham's first work in the province will be in organizing and conducting the Rural Summer Science Course for Teachers, which will be held at Sussex from July 8th to August 5th. His special training will give him a good grip of the needs of the school and a very successful course is assured.

Mr. Gorham's first work in the province will be in organizing and conducting the Rural Summer Science Course for Teachers, which will be held at Sussex from July 8th to August 5th. His special training will give him a good grip of the needs of the school and a very successful course is assured.

Well Kept Food Safeguards Health

A Refrigerator is vitally necessary to every home, especially in warm weather; it protects food from mold and disease germs, besides effecting a great saving in worry, and going far to reduce the cost of living.

Our Refrigerators are scientifically constructed with special attention to the free, even circulation of dry, cold air; their roomy compartments being easy to clean and keep clean. They are shown with Opal Glass, Enamel and Galvanized Iron Linings, are attractively finished in oak, and will give the best service at LOWEST COST FOR USE. See them before you decide.

W. H. THORNE & CO., LTD.

JUST THINK!

Very, Very Pretty Summer Hats

ONLY
$3, $4, $5 Today

A Gorgeous Showing, The Best Week End Specials This Season

Panama Hats 89c up Sport Sailors $2.25 Today Basket Woven Hats $2.48

Marr Millinery Co., Limited

An Enterprise Range in Your Kitchen

will do a great deal to lighten the labor of the housekeeper.

We invite everyone interested to come in and look over the fine new stock now displayed in our greatly enlarged Stove Show Room on the floor above the main store, which we have found it necessary to open in order to display a more complete line of the many new patterns and improvements made by the Enterprise Foundry.

Open Friday Evenings — Closed Saturday 1 o'clock

Emerson & Fisher Std.

M. R. A. Suits for Men

Are Instantly Acknowledged Distinctive

Preferences of course differ as to line, color, style, trimmings, number of buttons, the peculiar twist of a pocket, etc. These things we have anticipated in our well-balanced and varied line of Summer clothes.

THE NEW SUITS

are cut trim at the waist and shoulders, broader at the chest, built for men who believe in staying young.

WAIST SEAM AND FORM FITTING MODELS are in great demand. Our display shows these and many other style diversities in attractive weaves, popular colorings and unusual shades, made with careful attention to the smallest details of workmanship and of fine selected materials. $20.00 to $47.50

Come in and see for yourself.

Men's and Boys' New Clothing Section, Second Floor.

Special Week-End Prices on Men's Summer Furnishings

NECKWEAR —Popular Open-end shape Ties, in good colorings and patterns. Sale prices 50c. and 75c.	HEMSTITCHED HANKER-CHIEFS at special values. White "Wolsey," "Jaeger" and other reliable makes. Sizes 32 to 44. Every pair a big bargain. Special value 2 for 25c.	NATURAL WOOL DRAWERS —Several weights in fine imported "Wolsey," "Jaeger" and other reliable makes. Sizes 32 to 44. Every pair a big bargain.
SUMMER HALF HOSE in fine mercerized cotton with reinforced heels and toes. Colors are black, white, grey, brown and champagne. Sale price 35c. pair.	COMBINATIONS in Summer weight—Odds makes to be cleared out quickly. Size 34 to 46. Special values $1.35 to $4.00.	NATURAL WOOL SHIRTS in Summer weights. Size 34 to 36, selling at special prices to clear.
		SUMMER MESHING SHIRTS —Sizes 36 and 46 only. Sale price $1.00 each.

Suburban Delivery leaves on Westfield Route, delivering parcels from South Bay to Lingley Station, on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
On Rothesay Route from One Mile House to Fair Vale on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Manchester Robertson Allison Limited
KING STREET • GERMAIN STREET • MARKET SQUARE

SAFETY FOR YOUR FURS

These warm days won't be injurious to your furs (or valuable woolsens) in the least if they have been safely tucked away in Magee's Fur Storerooms which for the minimum cost of three cents on each dollar of valuation guaranteed to freshen and preserve them.

We call for, Clean, Insure, Store, Deliver all apparel entrusted to our care.

D. MAGEE'S SONS, LTD.
63 KING ST. 60 YEARS YOUNG ST. JOHN

FEATU
Home Rea
Comics

Here is the out-of-door st
Charles E. Va themselves ev pulse-stiring

Whenever a recruit join Jays—that famous minor which sends so many yo the big league and takes exchange—the first thing crut was likely to ask is him?"

Nobody pretended to m that question. The playe out a tall, thin man, w forehead and hair turni temples, and the recruit w fill with reverence and his eyes. "Him" was no
the great and only Brun
"Bruno of the Ten-th Arm"; and our fathers cl elves hoarse over him.

To do the recruits just the sight of one of the ness of the division, he treat so strongly, but the old Bruno was still pitch ball—"still getting away they said.

If Bruno had an eccent in the almost idolatrous w he bestowed upon his ten arm. If that be an eccen a red fox in electric. If but the extravagant car lavished upon his aged m made it possible for the depend on left-hander in —and all the right-hander
From the day when a manager paid an unbr
Bruno and his left arm, been a sensation.

Bruno Signs With B

Bruno lasted several big leaguer; and then sl away to the minors—school for corners and the has-beens.

He signed with the B cause of the warm cur home town. The old-t player likes warm weather er the better. That heat aged points, supporting and takes the knees out mated legs so that he is and cavort about the di recruit.

For the first few season
er found that his arm w to the task of mixing cur for nine innings, but a depended more and mo head, coaxing his ten-th arm with every artifice
mand.

Perhaps no man has more exhaustive study cutting down the numb balls to the minimum an innings of the least pe figure of energy. Bruno master of every annoyanc which a pitcher "sneaks ball" upon a dangerous b awake at night pit strategies, always with ing his arm as much wor
The curve ball, of cour est upon his arm; so, as he pitched very few of simply to prove to the b still had a "bone no man stopped to spit, the catch the curve was coming—
Smelzer's heart to thro
Charlie Grubb was the Bruno captain for the B held his job in spite of
he was always at war w
Dave Bullen. Charlie
Bruno a personal love fo would have been glad to the veteran; but the only tioned that to Bullen, t into a stone wall. Bullen put his foot down; but there was an end to the

Smelzer's Position

"Now you listen to owner. "You let that understand. He won six sixty-seven per cent. of year, and that makes hi cher—as good as we've g
if he couldn't pitch a l he's worth his salary for teach these new kids br got more baseball savvy another manager in th
there's just one thing and get away with—sta Bruno. You let off him another thing—any tim you and says he's ready when he's ready, and you ordering him out, it doesn't feel like workin and don't you forget it!"

Grubb was furious. He that Bruno would upse routine of the pitchers w turn; but by special Bruno became a law int
the out-party. This thirty times a season, an himself for each contin
as a debutante prepara
the out-party. This which never varied, was monious affair.

When the early bird
tary has two or three b who show up at the club —found all the doors c closed, and were salu
by a withering blast wh

FEATURES
Home Reading
Comics Sport

The St. John Standard,

NEW BRUNSWICK, CANADA.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1919.

FEATURES
Society—Fiction
Children's Corner

The Ten-Thousand-Dollar Arm

By CHARLES E. VAN LOAN

Here is the first of a short series of wholesome, thrilling, out-of-door stories, written by the master of sporting stories, Charles E. Van Loan. They are worth reading for the stories themselves even if it were not for the breath of fresh air and the pulse-stirring excitement that they carry.

Whenever a recruit joined the Blue Jays—that famous minor-league club which sends so many youngsters to the big league and takes veterans in exchange—the first thing that the recruit was likely to ask was, "Which is him?"

Nobody pretended to misunderstand that question. The players would point out a tall, thin man with a wrinkled forehead and hair turning gray at the temples, and the recruit would look him full with reverence and some other name. "Him?" was none other than the great and only Bruno Smelzer—"Bruno of the Ten-Thousand-Dollar Arm"; and our fathers cheered themselves hoarse over him.

To do the recruits justice, it was not the sight of one of the former great ones of the diamond which moved them so strongly, but the thought that old Bruno was still pitching winning ball—"still getting away with it," as they said.

If Bruno had an eccentricity, it lay in the almost idolatrous worship which he bestowed upon his ten-thousand-dollar arm. If that he was eccentric, then Bruno was still pitching winning ball—"still getting away with it," as they said.

Bruno lasted several seasons as a big leaguer; and then slipped quietly away to the minors—the graveyard of the has-beens.

He signed with the Blue Jays because of the warm climate of their home town. The old-time baseball player likes warm weather—the warmer the better. That heat loosens his aged joints, supple his cramped muscles and takes the kinks out of his rheumatic legs so that he is able to prance and cavort about the diamond like a recruit.

For the first few seasons the old-timer found that his arm was still equal to the task of mixing curves and speed for nine innings; and he depended more and more upon his head, coaxing his ten-thousand-dollar arm with every artifice of his command. Perhaps no man ever made a more exhaustive study of the art of cutting down the number of pitched balls to the minimum and lasting nine innings with the least possible expenditure of energy. Bruno was a past master of every annoying trick by which a pitcher "sneaks over a strike ball" upon a dangerous hitter; and he lay awake at night planning new strategies, always with an eye to saving his arm as much work as possible.

The curve ball, of course, was his best upon his arm; so, as time went on he pitched very few of them—and then simply to prove to the batter that he still had a "bender." When Bruno stopped to spit, the catcher knew that the curve was coming—and it broke Smelzer's heart to throw one.

Charlie Grubb was the manager and team captain for the Blue Jays, who held his job in spite of the fact that he was always at war with the owner, Dave Bullen. Charlie did not have any particular love for Bruno, and would have been glad to rid himself of the veteran; but the only time he mentioned this to Bullen, he ran headfirst into a stone wall. Bullen did not often put his foot down; but when he did there was an end to the argument.

Smelzer's Position Assured.

"Now you listen to me," said the owner. "You let that old boy alone; understand. He won six hundred and sixty-seven per cent. of his games last year, and that makes him a good pitcher—as good as we've got. And even if he couldn't pitch a lick on earth, he's worth his salary for what he can teach these new kids breaking in. He's got more baseball savvy than you or any other manager in this league, and there's just one thing you can't do and get away with—start a row with Bruno. You lay off him, Grubb. And another thing—any time he comes to you and says he's ready to pitch, you send him in. He's the best judge of when he's ready, and I won't have you ordering him out there when he doesn't feel like working. That goes, and don't you forget it!"

Grubb was furious. He complained that Bruno would upset the regular routine of the pitchers who worked in turn; but, by special dispensation, Bruno became a law unto himself. Bruno figured that he should pitch thirty times a season, and he prepared himself for each contest as carefully as a debutante prepares for her coming-out party. This preparation, which never varied, was quite a strenuous affair.

When the early birds—and every team has at the club house at noon—found all the doors and windows closed, and were saluted upon entering by a withering blast which would have gone credit to a Turkish bathhouse; they knew that Bruno was "reading up for a game." He was sure to be busy by the stove, stripped to the waist and soaking in the terrific heat like a salamander.

Photograph of Charles E. Van Loan Characteristically Autographed.

The other players complained of the heat in the club house—and well they might, for the weather was usually hot enough to suit any one—but Bruno never paid the slightest attention. One o'clock was the hour set for "limbering up." He would rise and put his left arm through a gentle course of callisthenics, bending the elbow and stretching the muscles for half an hour. Then he would take a two-ounce glass jar of the precious "dope" with which Bruno never failed to learn Smelzer's peculiarities. With "Steve" Sullivan behind the bat, Bruno's little strategies reached their highest power, and away they would go, with Bruno doing the signaling and Steve "hanging out" a set of false signals for the coaches to see and tip to the batters.

Their Pet Trick.

By years of practice, Bruno had acquired alarming proficiency in one trick which required Sullivan's collaboration. Ordinarily foul balls against the grandstand netting were tossed back to the catcher by players from the bench. When Bruno worked, Steve Sullivan did his own retrieving. Steve picked up the ball he would lose it back to Bruno, who would at once step into the box ready to pitch. Sullivan, returning to the plate, would pick up his mask where he had dropped it—always behind the batter, and from six to ten feet away from the plate. As Steve picked up the mask he would address some remark to the batter, calculated to extract a reply. If the batter turned his head to answer, Sullivan would drop the mask and dive into position, for the turn of the batter's head was Bruno's cue to slam the ball over for a strike. Managers howled, team captains protested, but there was nothing in the rules to prevent Smelzer's throwing the ball, and if Sullivan cared to dash over and take one without his mask, that was Steve's risk.

Grubb's Waterloo.

Charlie Grubb, second baseman with the team for six years and playing manager for four, found his trouble at last. A recruit from the wilds of Wyoming literally elbowed the boss out of his place at second. Charlie had no wish to become bench manager, and he hung on as long as he could; but he could not conceal the fact that he was no longer hitting in the 375 class, and, to make it worse, his legs were going back on him. McTae, the Wyoming recruit, was not only a sensational infielder, but he could hit like a DeLahanty and he was a streak on the bases.

In the end, the manager was forced to retreat, and McTae got his chance—and made good.

To make the situation worse for Grubb, the Blue Jays struck a phenomenal winning streak, which carried them through the first division and to the top for the first time in four years. As Grubb had been at considerable pains to make enemies out of the newspaper men, the sporting writers at once pointed out that but for Grubb's obstinacy and bull-headedness the team might have been in front much sooner.

The left-field bleacherettes—why is it that all the insurgent fans sit behind third base?—began attacking Grubb every time he appeared on the coaching lines, and they made his life a misery to him.

There was nothing yellow about the way the Canaries twittered when they rolled into town, needing three games to win the flag. They modestly announced that they would win all four, and the local fans howled.

Old Bruno had been percolating his ten-thousand-dollar arm for a week, and was far from satisfied with his condition. He had pitched a hard game on the road—twelve innings—and he felt it from elbow to shoulder and back again. Though he massaged himself industriously and worked out each day, he congratulated himself upon the fact that "Himie" Pittman, "Beau" Nash, and "Dud" Belcher, all reliable pitchers, were going well.

Nash led off for the Blue Jays, and then won his game on cannon-ball speed. Dud Belcher went in for the second game, and sustained a defeat in eleven innings.

Grubb's Fatal Mistake.

On the third day poor Charlie Grubb offered his overladen back to the last straw. The score was a tie at three apiece when the Blue Jays began to hit in the eighth inning—began to hit with one but Grubb's coaching of third base, McTae and "Skeets" Tilford, the two heaviest hitters on the team, were coming up. McTae slammed a first ball into center field, and was off around the bases like a deer. Jimmy McLennon, the Canaries center fielder, played the ball off between second and third, the dulcet flut of the bleachers saw Jimmy relay to "Wingo" Jones, back of second base—"Wingo" howled, "Piggy" Powell, who was coaching behind first base.

Grubb lost his head completely, and signaled McTae to keep on to the plate and the boy had no choice but to obey the manager. Wingo Jones whipped the ball home with a foot of lead, and a needless slaughter as was ever seen on a professional diamond.

Coming from any coacher in the world, the blunder would have been Grubb's error of judgment—picking the kindest name for it—had thrown away a clutch on the pennant, and Helme Powell, who had pitched a remarkable game, came near weeping in the clubhouse.

The next morning Dave Bullen was called out of bed and answered the telephone. He was informed that his manager was seriously ill at his hotel. The overwrought nerves had given way under the strain of months of criticism, abuse and hounding, and a doctor in charge of the case promptly killed any hope that the manager might be able to appear that afternoon at the park.

A nervous breakdown, Mr. Bullen, said the physician. "I have had this man under my care for weeks. The abnormal occurrence of yesterday undoubtedly hastened matters."

Bullen was at his wit's end. He had no experience in managing a club, and Piggy Powell, who had been acting as team captain, was really no more than the mouthpiece through which Grubb had issued orders from the bench. In despair, the owner went to the club house. It was eleven o'clock in the morning, yet there was the aged Bruno pottering around in his capacious locker.

"You're the man I've been looking for," said Bullen.

"How so?" demanded Bruno, pausing with his hands full of stockings. "I want you to handle the team today," said Bullen. "Grubb is down and out—nervous collapse."

Bruno wrinkled his forehead. "Hard luck," he said. "Poor old Charlie! And—I'm to be the goat. Is that it?"

"You are not," snapped the owner. "Who else have I got? Who can I put in there to pull us out of this hole? The boys know you and you respect your judgment. I'll give you all the authority you need. Go in there today and run the team, and if you win this game, I'll give you—"

Bruno Takes the Reins.

"Cheese! Cheese!" said Bruno. "You'll give me nothing. What do you think I am, Dave? Now, let me understand this. You put this thing right up to me, do you?"

"I do."

"In the boss here?"

"You are."

"Well, then," growled Smelzer, "I'll give you everything I've got. Now, you duck out of here, Dave, before the boys begin to drop in. I'll explain the situation to you myself. If you tried to do it you'd put 'em all up in the air."

When the Blue Jays arrived at the clubhouse they found it empty. Bruno was out behind the bleachers, pitching to the groundskeeper's fifteen-year-old son. He put in an appearance, explained the situation, and issued his orders.

"Nash, you'll start. And Belcher, I want you warming up right through the game, in case anything should happen. If Beau has what he had on Wednesday, there won't be anything to it; but I want you to be there ready to hop in."

The Canaries sent in their pet and the Blue Jays fell upon him like a flock of chicken hawks. In the third inning they rattled out a volley of safe hits and piled up four runs. Wilkey went to the bench and Oscar Peterson replaced him in the box. The inning stopped abruptly.

In the sixth, the Canaries continued to hit, and drove in their third run on three singles. Brilliant fielding cut them off just short of a tied score. Steve Sullivan, who was coaching, came back to the bench dripping wet.

Wanted—A Slow Ball.

"I pitched my head off to every man in that inning," complained Dud; "and if you think there wasn't anything on the ball, ask Steve. They hit it just the same. Why, that Wingo Jones lit on that break ball of mine so hard that he nearly pitched 'Piggy' off his feet. Good thing he held it, eh? Oh, these fellows are only lucky—that's all. They're just shutting their eyes and taking a clout at it."

"Three innings to go," thought Bruno—"three innings."

"Steve!" he called. Sullivan moved over and sat down by the acting manager. "I'm going out to warm up for a minute," said the old man. "Delay this inning all you can."

Bruno and the manager catcher slipped out of the side gate as the last of the sixth began.

"Is that old fool going in?" demanded Nash, still snarling from the peeping into the locker room. "You shut up!" snarled Sullivan. "These fellows have been murdering speed today. Bruno will make suckers of 'em. See if he doesn't."

"Can you do it?" asked the catcher anxiously, when Smelzer came back to the bench. "How's the arm?"

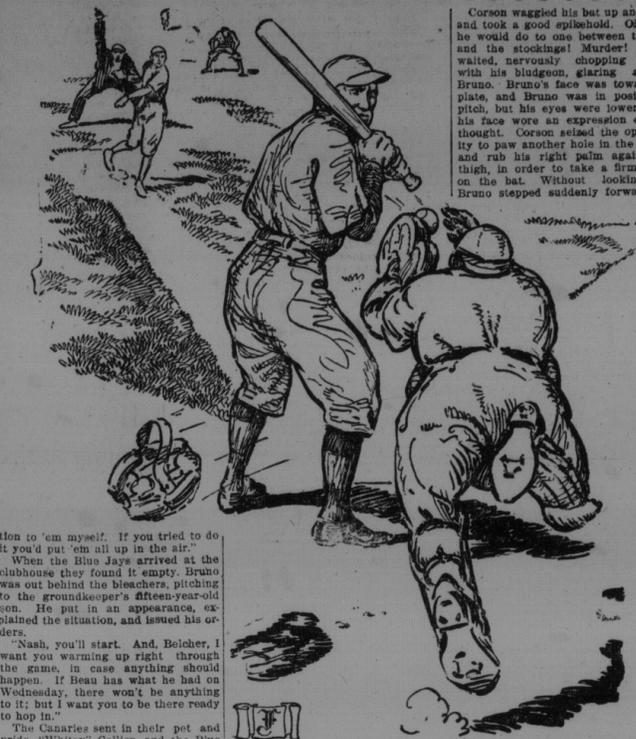

"Sure," said Bruno briefly. "I'm taking an awful chance, Steve; but if I leave Dud in there they'll just about knock him endways next inning. I guess the old girl will stand three innings all right, and the control's there. That's the main thing. We'll work that mask trick on 'em if we get a chance. I haven't tried it against this club since June."

When Umpire Burke made the announcement at the beginning of the seventh, there was a feeble cheer from the stand. The fans had an enormous respect for the aged Bruno, but they did not like to see him gambling his venerable southpaw against a renegade. Baseball fans like to see speed and wide-breaking curves, and Bruno had neither. The Canaries welcomed the announcement with delectable hoots and jeers.

"Well, here's grandpa!" they shouted. "Old man, wait are you going to do with their fortiori, hope 'Rube' Corson was a dangerous batter if he could get a ball anywhere but between his waist and his knees. A high ball he could do nothing with, and barked at the umpire. Then he waited, swearing savagely under his breath.

"Why, Clarence?" said Sullivan, in a high falsetto. "Shame on you! I believe you're angry!"

Corson wagged his bat up and down and took a good epithet. Oh, what Bruno in Bruno's face was toward the plate, and Bruno was in position to pitch, but his eyes were lowered and his face wore an expression of deep thought. Corson seized the opportunity to paw another hole in the ground and rub his right palm against his thigh, in order to take a firmer grip on the bat. When looking up, Bruno stepped suddenly forward and when he slipped over the first strike, but the ball was taken from the pitcher's ten-thousand-dollar arm, so long coiled and sared and petted like a spoiled child, was ending in its sharp protest. Bruno set his jaw with a time lock and thanked whatever gods he knew that the "old control was still there."

As McLennon Took His Eyes Off the Pitcher, Steve Leaped Forward.

What happened to McLennon.

The nervous fans chirked up marvelously when the first hitter splashed out via third base, and the second one foiled to Sullivan. The third batter sent this was the demon Jimmy McLennon, whose hitting was taking him to the big league next season—lined a single into center and presumed upon the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

The Blue Jays succeeded in getting two men on the bases in their half of the seventh, but Billy Keith, the first baseman, sent a line drive fairly at the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

"Take that horseshoe out of your pocket!" vociferated the faithful runner on the bleachers. "You ought to be arrested!"

Bruno wringed through the eighth inning somehow. He was holding the Canaries, but his arm was totaling the cost for him as well as a cash register might have done the job. Every ball cost him an effort, and the pain in the shoulder was becoming unbearable.

"You're angry, too, aren't you, Eddie? I'll bet you won't hit the next one at all. If you could hit hard enough to earn your one-hundred-dollar a month, Bruno wouldn't have been playing you on the bench all season!"

Now, it was a sprained ankle that sent Merrill to the bench, and Sullivan knew it. The big outfielder spluttered, incoherently—and over came the ball. Merrill collected himself for another giant swing—and flew out back of second base.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Rayburn, the second baseman, got that he was going to get nothing but strikes, chopped at the first one and dropped a Texas leaguer over on the third-base line and halfway between two fielders. He could not have placed it better had he used a messenger boy, and the throw to second did not come near catching him. Two bases on a Texas leaguer!

"Sag" Haisey, the right fielder, also smashed at the first ball and drove a vicious liner toward first base. Billy Keith knocked it down and chased after it, and Bruno, his aged legs working like drunks, raced over and took the bag ahead of Haisey, all in vain, for Keith could not make the loss in time. Result: Haisey on first and Rayburn on third, ready to sneeze.

Corson wagged his bat up and down and took a good epithet. Oh, what Bruno in Bruno's face was toward the plate, and Bruno was in position to pitch, but his eyes were lowered and his face wore an expression of deep thought. Corson seized the opportunity to paw another hole in the ground and rub his right palm against his thigh, in order to take a firmer grip on the bat. When looking up, Bruno stepped suddenly forward and when he slipped over the first strike, but the ball was taken from the pitcher's ten-thousand-dollar arm, so long coiled and sared and petted like a spoiled child, was ending in its sharp protest. Bruno set his jaw with a time lock and thanked whatever gods he knew that the "old control was still there."

What happened to McLennon.

The nervous fans chirked up marvelously when the first hitter splashed out via third base, and the second one foiled to Sullivan. The third batter sent this was the demon Jimmy McLennon, whose hitting was taking him to the big league next season—lined a single into center and presumed upon the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

The Blue Jays succeeded in getting two men on the bases in their half of the seventh, but Billy Keith, the first baseman, sent a line drive fairly at the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

"Take that horseshoe out of your pocket!" vociferated the faithful runner on the bleachers. "You ought to be arrested!"

Bruno wringed through the eighth inning somehow. He was holding the Canaries, but his arm was totaling the cost for him as well as a cash register might have done the job. Every ball cost him an effort, and the pain in the shoulder was becoming unbearable.

"You're angry, too, aren't you, Eddie? I'll bet you won't hit the next one at all. If you could hit hard enough to earn your one-hundred-dollar a month, Bruno wouldn't have been playing you on the bench all season!"

Now, it was a sprained ankle that sent Merrill to the bench, and Sullivan knew it. The big outfielder spluttered, incoherently—and over came the ball. Merrill collected himself for another giant swing—and flew out back of second base.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Rayburn, the second baseman, got that he was going to get nothing but strikes, chopped at the first one and dropped a Texas leaguer over on the third-base line and halfway between two fielders. He could not have placed it better had he used a messenger boy, and the throw to second did not come near catching him. Two bases on a Texas leaguer!

"Sag" Haisey, the right fielder, also smashed at the first ball and drove a vicious liner toward first base. Billy Keith knocked it down and chased after it, and Bruno, his aged legs working like drunks, raced over and took the bag ahead of Haisey, all in vain, for Keith could not make the loss in time. Result: Haisey on first and Rayburn on third, ready to sneeze.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Rayburn, the second baseman, got that he was going to get nothing but strikes, chopped at the first one and dropped a Texas leaguer over on the third-base line and halfway between two fielders. He could not have placed it better had he used a messenger boy, and the throw to second did not come near catching him. Two bases on a Texas leaguer!

"Sag" Haisey, the right fielder, also smashed at the first ball and drove a vicious liner toward first base. Billy Keith knocked it down and chased after it, and Bruno, his aged legs working like drunks, raced over and took the bag ahead of Haisey, all in vain, for Keith could not make the loss in time. Result: Haisey on first and Rayburn on third, ready to sneeze.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Corson wagged his bat up and down and took a good epithet. Oh, what Bruno in Bruno's face was toward the plate, and Bruno was in position to pitch, but his eyes were lowered and his face wore an expression of deep thought. Corson seized the opportunity to paw another hole in the ground and rub his right palm against his thigh, in order to take a firmer grip on the bat. When looking up, Bruno stepped suddenly forward and when he slipped over the first strike, but the ball was taken from the pitcher's ten-thousand-dollar arm, so long coiled and sared and petted like a spoiled child, was ending in its sharp protest. Bruno set his jaw with a time lock and thanked whatever gods he knew that the "old control was still there."

What happened to McLennon.

The nervous fans chirked up marvelously when the first hitter splashed out via third base, and the second one foiled to Sullivan. The third batter sent this was the demon Jimmy McLennon, whose hitting was taking him to the big league next season—lined a single into center and presumed upon the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

The Blue Jays succeeded in getting two men on the bases in their half of the seventh, but Billy Keith, the first baseman, sent a line drive fairly at the pitcher's head. Instantly, the outfielder perished in a cloud of dust and a whirl of arms and legs—Sullivan to McTae.

"Take that horseshoe out of your pocket!" vociferated the faithful runner on the bleachers. "You ought to be arrested!"

Bruno wringed through the eighth inning somehow. He was holding the Canaries, but his arm was totaling the cost for him as well as a cash register might have done the job. Every ball cost him an effort, and the pain in the shoulder was becoming unbearable.

"You're angry, too, aren't you, Eddie? I'll bet you won't hit the next one at all. If you could hit hard enough to earn your one-hundred-dollar a month, Bruno wouldn't have been playing you on the bench all season!"

Now, it was a sprained ankle that sent Merrill to the bench, and Sullivan knew it. The big outfielder spluttered, incoherently—and over came the ball. Merrill collected himself for another giant swing—and flew out back of second base.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Rayburn, the second baseman, got that he was going to get nothing but strikes, chopped at the first one and dropped a Texas leaguer over on the third-base line and halfway between two fielders. He could not have placed it better had he used a messenger boy, and the throw to second did not come near catching him. Two bases on a Texas leaguer!

"Sag" Haisey, the right fielder, also smashed at the first ball and drove a vicious liner toward first base. Billy Keith knocked it down and chased after it, and Bruno, his aged legs working like drunks, raced over and took the bag ahead of Haisey, all in vain, for Keith could not make the loss in time. Result: Haisey on first and Rayburn on third, ready to sneeze.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

Rayburn, the second baseman, got that he was going to get nothing but strikes, chopped at the first one and dropped a Texas leaguer over on the third-base line and halfway between two fielders. He could not have placed it better had he used a messenger boy, and the throw to second did not come near catching him. Two bases on a Texas leaguer!

"Sag" Haisey, the right fielder, also smashed at the first ball and drove a vicious liner toward first base. Billy Keith knocked it down and chased after it, and Bruno, his aged legs working like drunks, raced over and took the bag ahead of Haisey, all in vain, for Keith could not make the loss in time. Result: Haisey on first and Rayburn on third, ready to sneeze.

By this time the fans were in a terrific commotion, and there was considerable excitement on the visitors' bench. Keane was running up and down in front of his players and flapping with the rough side of his tongue.

"Here's an old man, a thousand years dead and buried, and you're going to let him win this pennant from you? Are you? What's he got out there today? Nothing but a wish and a prayer! Nothing at all! Oh, you're a fine bunch—"

FEATURES

Home Reading
Comics Sport

The St. John Standard,

NEW BRUNSWICK, CANADA.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1919.

The Ten-Thousand-Dollar Arm

By CHARLES E. VAN LOAN

Here is the first of a short series of wholesome, thrilling, out-of-door stories, written by the master of sporting stories, Charles E. Van Loan. They are worth reading for the stories themselves even if it were not for the breath of fresh air and the pulse-stirring excitement that they carry.

Whenever a recruit joined the Blue Jays—that famous minor-league club which sends so many youngsters to the big league and takes veterans in exchange—the first thing that the recruit was likely to ask was, "Which is him?"

Nobody pretended to misunderstand that question. The players would point out a tall, thin man with a wrinkled forehead and hair turning gray at the temples, and the recruit would look him full with reverence and some other name. "Him?" was none other than the great and only Bruno Smelzer—"Bruno of the Ten-Thousand-Dollar Arm"; and our fathers cheered themselves hoarse over him.

To do the recruits justice, it was not the sight of one of the former great ones of the diamond which moved them so strongly, but the thought that old Bruno was still pitching winning ball—"still getting away with it," as they said.

If Bruno had an eccentricity, it lay in the almost idolatrous worship which he bestowed upon his ten-thousand-dollar arm. If that he was eccentric, then Bruno was still pitching winning ball—"still getting away with it," as they said.

Bruno lasted several seasons as a big leaguer; and then slipped quietly away to the minors—the graveyard of the has-beens.

He signed with the Blue Jays because of the warm climate of their home town. The old-time baseball player likes warm weather—the warmer the better. That heat loosens his aged joints, supple his cramped muscles and takes the kinks out of his rheumatic legs so that he is able to prance and cavort about the diamond like a recruit.

For the first few seasons the old-timer found that his arm was still equal to the task of mixing curves and speed for nine innings; and he depended more and more upon his head, coaxing his ten-thousand-dollar arm with every artifice of his command. Perhaps no man ever made a more exhaustive study of the art of cutting down the number of pitched balls to the minimum and lasting nine innings with the least possible expenditure of energy. Bruno was a past master of every annoying trick by which a pitcher "sneaks over a strike ball" upon a dangerous hitter; and he lay awake at night planning new strategies, always with an eye to saving his arm as much work as possible.

The curve ball, of course, was his best upon his arm; so, as time went on he pitched very few of them—and then simply to prove to the batter that he still had a "bender." When Bruno stopped to spit, the catcher knew that the curve was coming—and it broke Smelzer's heart to throw one.

Charlie Grubb was the manager and team captain for the Blue Jays, who held his job in spite of the fact that he was always at war with the owner, Dave Bullen. Charlie did not have any particular love for Bruno, and would have been glad to rid himself of the veteran; but the only time he mentioned this to Bullen, he ran headfirst into a stone wall. Bullen did not often put his foot down; but when he did there was an end to the argument.

Smelzer's Position Assured.

"Now you listen to me," said the owner. "You let that old boy alone; understand. He won six hundred and sixty-seven per cent. of his games last year, and that makes him a good pitcher—as good as we've got. And even if he couldn't pitch a lick on earth, he's worth his salary for what he can teach these new kids breaking in. He's got more baseball savvy than you or any other manager in this league, and there's just one thing you can't do and get away with—start a row with Bruno. You lay off him, Grubb. And another thing—any time he comes to you and says he's ready to pitch, you send him in. He's the best judge of when he's ready, and I won't have you ordering him out there when he doesn't feel like working. That goes, and don't you forget it!"

Grubb was furious. He complained that Bruno would upset the regular routine of the pitchers who worked in turn; but, by special dispensation, Bruno became a law unto himself. Bruno figured that he should pitch thirty times a season, and he prepared himself for each contest as carefully as a debutante prepares for her coming-out party. This preparation, which never varied, was quite a strenuous affair.

When the early birds—and every team has at the club house at noon—found all the doors and windows closed, and were saluted upon entering by a withering blast which would have gone credit to a Turkish bathhouse; they knew that Bruno was "reading up for a game." He was sure to be busy by the stove, stripped to the waist and soaking in the terrific heat like a salamander.

The other players complained of the heat in the club house—and well they might, for the weather was usually hot enough to suit any one—but Bruno never paid the slightest attention. One o'clock was the hour set for "limbering up." He would rise and put his left arm through a gentle course of callisthenics, bending the elbow and stretching the muscles for half an hour. Then he would take a two-ounce glass jar of the precious "dope" with which Bruno never failed to learn Smelzer's peculiarities. With "Steve" Sullivan behind the bat, Bruno's little strategies reached their highest power, and away they would go, with Bruno doing the signaling and Steve "hanging out" a set of false signals for the coaches to see and tip to the batters.

Their Pet Trick.

By years of practice, Bruno had acquired alarming proficiency in one trick which required Sullivan's collaboration. Ordinarily foul balls against the grandstand netting were tossed back to the catcher by players from the bench. When Bruno worked, Steve Sullivan did his own retrieving. Steve picked up the ball he would lose it back to Bruno, who would at once step into the box ready to pitch. Sullivan, returning to the plate, would pick up his mask where he had dropped it—always behind the batter, and from six to ten feet

ST. JOHN

The many friends of Captain G. H. Edgecombe will be pleased to learn that he has arrived home from Toronto to where his battery, the 23rd, was demobilized.

Mrs. Walter Hall, with her young son, arrived from New York on Monday evening, and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Christian A. Robertson, King square.

Colonel Davies of the 4th Battalion, and Mrs. Davies spent a few days last week the guests of Mrs. J. V. Ellis 215 Princess street.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mrs. George E. Fairweather and the Misses Carrie and Grace Fairweather, arrived from Boston, and after a few days visit with the Misses Fairweather of Rothesay, are now at their camp at Red Head for the summer.

Lieut. Colonel Walker Bell, D. S. O., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bell, Wellington Row, arrived in the city on Wednesday to visit his parents for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

The many friends of Captain G. H. Edgecombe will be pleased to learn that he has arrived home from Toronto to where his battery, the 23rd, was demobilized.

Mrs. Walter Hall, with her young son, arrived from New York on Monday evening, and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Christian A. Robertson, King square.

Colonel Davies of the 4th Battalion, and Mrs. Davies spent a few days last week the guests of Mrs. J. V. Ellis 215 Princess street.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mrs. George E. Fairweather and the Misses Carrie and Grace Fairweather, arrived from Boston, and after a few days visit with the Misses Fairweather of Rothesay, are now at their camp at Red Head for the summer.

Lieut. Colonel Walker Bell, D. S. O., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bell, Wellington Row, arrived in the city on Wednesday to visit his parents for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

The many friends of Captain G. H. Edgecombe will be pleased to learn that he has arrived home from Toronto to where his battery, the 23rd, was demobilized.

Mrs. Walter Hall, with her young son, arrived from New York on Monday evening, and is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Christian A. Robertson, King square.

Colonel Davies of the 4th Battalion, and Mrs. Davies spent a few days last week the guests of Mrs. J. V. Ellis 215 Princess street.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mrs. George E. Fairweather and the Misses Carrie and Grace Fairweather, arrived from Boston, and after a few days visit with the Misses Fairweather of Rothesay, are now at their camp at Red Head for the summer.

Lieut. Colonel Walker Bell, D. S. O., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bell, Wellington Row, arrived in the city on Wednesday to visit his parents for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. George McE. Blizard are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of a little son on Sunday, June 8th.

GRADUATION TIME

Just a few more days of school and then the most important event in the school life of the girl graduate will be here. With it comes the need of a graduating gown and all the requisites that are essential to this great event.

Dainty White Voile Dresses of fine quality, prettily trimmed tucks, lace, insertion or heavy embroidery. Sizes from 16 years to 42 bust. $10.30 to $17.50.

Simple White Crepe-de-Chene Dresses for girls of 16 to 18 years with touch of embroidery at neck and full skirt. $18.50 each.

White Georgette Blouses, trimmed fine tucks, filet lace, braiding or beading, individual styles, tasteful designs. $8.50 to $12.90.

Such an array of exquisite White Dresses for the Miss of 8 to 14 years. So many smart styles, mothers will have no difficulty in procuring just the one she wants among this assortment.

Lovely embroidered Organadies, soft Mulls, drapy Voiles, fine Lawns, all trimmed with embroidery, lace, tucking and lots of wide Satin Ribbons. Sizes 8 to 14 years. $2.25 to $8.75.

Beautiful Dresses of White Crepe-de-Chine, trimmed wide tucking and embroidered in gold silk, made with round neck and long sleeves. Sizes 10 to 14 years. $14.75.

The necessary underthings are here too. Princess Petticoats, Pantes, Vests, Corsets, Waists, etc. to fit all sizes.

GRADUATION ACCESSORIES

Fine quality French Kid Gloves in pure white, finished with heavy silk embroidery stitching on back. All sizes. $2.85 to $2.95 per pair.

Perrin's White Silk Gloves with double tips and two dome fasteners. All sizes. 85c. per pair.

Special line of Radium White Silk Hose, full fashioned double gartered top. All sizes. $1.35 per pair.

White Fibre Silk Hose in extra heavy weight, full fashioned with lisle sole throughout. All sizes. $1.00 per pair.

Splendid line of Gordon "round ticket" Stockings in heavy weight or white silk, full fashioned with seam back. All sizes. $1.95 per pair.

London House DANIEL Head of King St.

ROTHESAY

Rothsay, June 12.—Next week will be a very interesting one, on account of the annual closing exercises of the Rothesay Collegiate School and "Netherwood".

The city residence of James T. Logan, Waterloo street, was the scene of a most enjoyable evening on Monday last, when a number of the friends of Miss Anabelle F. Logan, who is to be married on the 14th, were invited to an interesting event in the near future.

Lately coming to the park are Judge J. B. Armstrong, and Miss Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitaker, of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, are expected to arrive in the city today to visit Mr. Whitaker's father, Mr. James E. Whitaker, Dorchester street.

Miss Ellen Keefe left on Thursday for Montreal where she will take a course in vocational training.

Lieutenant Frederick Lawton Foster and Mrs. Foster have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in the death of their infant son which occurred on Wednesday at the Exchange Hospital.

News of the death of Dr. Silas Alward was heard on Thursday with regret by many old friends. To the bereaved family sympathy is extended.

The city residence of James T. Logan, Waterloo street, was the scene of a most enjoyable evening on Monday last, when a number of the friends of Miss Anabelle F. Logan, who is to be married on the 14th, were invited to an interesting event in the near future.

Lately coming to the park are Judge J. B. Armstrong, and Miss Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitaker, of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, are expected to arrive in the city today to visit Mr. Whitaker's father, Mr. James E. Whitaker, Dorchester street.

Miss Ellen Keefe left on Thursday for Montreal where she will take a course in vocational training.

Lieutenant Frederick Lawton Foster and Mrs. Foster have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in the death of their infant son which occurred on Wednesday at the Exchange Hospital.

News of the death of Dr. Silas Alward was heard on Thursday with regret by many old friends. To the bereaved family sympathy is extended.

The city residence of James T. Logan, Waterloo street, was the scene of a most enjoyable evening on Monday last, when a number of the friends of Miss Anabelle F. Logan, who is to be married on the 14th, were invited to an interesting event in the near future.

Lately coming to the park are Judge J. B. Armstrong, and Miss Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitaker, of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, are expected to arrive in the city today to visit Mr. Whitaker's father, Mr. James E. Whitaker, Dorchester street.

Miss Ellen Keefe left on Thursday for Montreal where she will take a course in vocational training.

Lieutenant Frederick Lawton Foster and Mrs. Foster have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in the death of their infant son which occurred on Wednesday at the Exchange Hospital.

News of the death of Dr. Silas Alward was heard on Thursday with regret by many old friends. To the bereaved family sympathy is extended.

The city residence of James T. Logan, Waterloo street, was the scene of a most enjoyable evening on Monday last, when a number of the friends of Miss Anabelle F. Logan, who is to be married on the 14th, were invited to an interesting event in the near future.

Lately coming to the park are Judge J. B. Armstrong, and Miss Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Whitaker, of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, are expected to arrive in the city today to visit Mr. Whitaker's father, Mr. James E. Whitaker, Dorchester street.

Miss Ellen Keefe left on Thursday for Montreal where she will take a course in vocational training.

Lieutenant Frederick Lawton Foster and Mrs. Foster have the deepest sympathy of their many friends in the death of their infant son which occurred on Wednesday at the Exchange Hospital.

News of the death of Dr. Silas Alward was heard on Thursday with regret by many old friends. To the bereaved family sympathy is extended.

The city residence of James T. Logan, Waterloo street, was the scene of a most enjoyable evening on Monday last, when a number of the friends of Miss Anabelle F. Logan, who is to be married on the 14th, were invited to an interesting event in the near future.

Lately coming to the park are Judge J. B. Armstrong, and Miss Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Tennant, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson are returning home from Fredericton this week.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, June 13.—Miss Tompkins arrived from the city on Saturday.

Mrs. Annie Merrithew, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Newman, of the city, arrived in Woodstock on Saturday.

This package... Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes... Always ready to eat... Demand to-day... In the imitation is equalled... THE KELLOGG COMPANY... LONDON, ONT.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years Always Ready to Eat... Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, June 13.—(Lent. J. Douglass Tompkins arrived here on Friday and is the guest of his father, Col. E. R. Tompkins. He went overseas with a British Columbia unit and saw heavy fighting in France, where he was seriously wounded.

Mrs. Annie Merrithew of McKenzies Corner, was the guest of friends here on Saturday. During the winter she will make her home with her son in Sydney, N. S.

In St. Gertrude's church on Sunday, Rev. Father Ryan published the bans of marriage of Mr. William Elliot of Brookfield Junction, formerly of Benton and Miss Beanie Loane of Woodstock.

Mrs. Robert Newton of Montreal, was the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Macdonald. Mr. Newton who was previous to the war, director of Agricultural Schools, with headquarters in Woodstock, is expected in Montreal from overseas in Ed. Montreal, where Mr. Newton has accepted a responsible position.

On Friday evening last the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peabody Road and tendered them a house-warming in the shape of a surprise party. The evening passed pleasantly in dancing and cards.

Mrs. James W. Goffagher and Miss Beanie Loane have arrived home from Boston. Mrs. Gallagher has been receiving medical treatment and will make a complete recovery after a few weeks treatment at home. This will be pleasing news to her numerous friends.

Mr. Willard L. Carr and Mr. Douglas Carr motored to Centreville on Sunday morning. They returned home in the evening and were accompanied by Mrs. R. Wilmot Balloch and Miss Pauline Balloch, who are spending the week here.

Mr. Allison B. Cornell has been confined to his home the past week through illness.

Mrs. R. W. Blair spent a few days in Fredericton this week. Mrs. Ada Poole entertained a few friends at the tea hour on Monday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. W. W. Inches of St. Stephen.

Tea was served at the Golf Club house on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. L. E. Young, Mrs. George Mitchell, Mrs. J. R. Tompkins, Mrs. J. A. S. Garden and Mrs. J. B. Mowman. The young ladies assisting in serving were the Misses Elizabeth Ketchum, Muriel Smith, Muriel Merriman, Rowena Ketchum, Ida Armour. Among the guests were Mrs. W. W. Inches, St. Stephen, Mrs. Ada Poole, Mrs. Charles Smith, Muriel Merriman, Rowena Ketchum, Ida Armour, Lieut. J. Douglas Tompkins, Stewart Bailey, Laurence Bailey and Neville Tompkins. Although the weather was wet and cool a large number were present.

Wilmot Lister, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Lister of Woodstock, who has been considered a deserter with the American army overseas, enlisting in Newport, Vermont, returned home on Friday evening.

Miss Ida Gies, who has just returned from France, where she served as Red Cross nurse, accompanied by Miss Edna Gillis of Boston, are guests of their sister, Mrs. T. W. Baker, St. John street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Richmond street, are planning to take a trip to Dubuque, Iowa, in the middle of June, when their daughter, Gladys, will take the vows in the order of the Sisters of Charity in that city.

Mr. Theodore H. Bird is spending a few days in Bangor, after which he goes to Presque Isle, where he will open "Why She Loved Him" for the Knights of Pythias of that place.

Rev. A. H. Traflet and Mrs. Traflet left on Thursday to spend the summer with their daughter at Port Maitland, N. S.

Gunner Harold Cahoon, who left here with the 65th Battery a year ago last November, arrived here on Wednesday for a brief visit to friends here.

Mrs. W. S. Corbett and Mrs. R. B. Hoyko have returned from Moncton, where they attended the W. M. S. Convention in connection with the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hartley of Woodstock, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Colwell of Tupper Mills, spent a few days very enjoyably at Skiff Lake last week.

The annual ladies approaching and putting match was held on the golf links Wednesday evening. Three of the ladies tied for first place and on the play of Mrs. W. B. Belyea was the winner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rudge and son, Fred, left Tuesday evening for Denver, Colorado, where Mr. Rudge will attend the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Mr. Charles Glidden left this week for Alberta, and after arranging some business matters there, will return with his sister, Mrs. Arthur Smith, whose husband died a few months ago.

Rev. J. J. Ryan, Mr. Albert E. Jones, Mr. W. B. Belyea and Mr. McManus returned on Wednesday night from a successful fishing trip to Pokok Lake. They made the trip in Mr. Jones' automobile.

Hon. W. P. Jones and Mrs. Jones left last week for a trip to Vancouver, B. C., on their return they will be accompanied by Mrs. R. K. Jones, who has made her home in the West for a number of years.

On Friday evening the young folks of Northampton, gave a party at the home of Mr. Burns Clark, in honor of the Rev. J. J. Ryan, Mr. Albert E. Jones, Mr. W. B. Belyea and Mr. McManus, who returned on Wednesday night from a successful fishing trip to Pokok Lake. They made the trip in Mr. Jones' automobile.

There was a tennis tea on Wednesday afternoon at the Club House. The ladies present were Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Mrs. W. E. Stone, Misses Jean Tilley, Mary Baldwin, Bertha Sprague.

There was a tennis tea on Wednesday afternoon at the Club House. The ladies present were Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Mrs. W. E. Stone, Misses Jean Tilley, Mary Baldwin, Bertha Sprague.

ST. STEPHEN

St. Stephen, June 13.—Miss Greta Gies has returned from a pleasant visit in Apschaqui.

Mrs. B. E. Smith and Miss Smith left on Friday morning for a visit in St. John, at the Royal.

Mrs. Corbett of Woodstock, is the guest of Mrs. Nettie Clarke at her home on Union street.

Mrs. H. B. B. Brothard has returned from Moncton, where she attended the W. M. S. Branch meeting.

Miss Louise Purvis and Miss Mary E. Ward are in Fredericton attending the meetings of the W. A.

Mr. R. J. Maxwell is visiting friends in Fredericton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Veery and Mrs. Beattie Richardson motored to St. John during the week and spent the week-end there.

Rev. H. L. B. Strothard left on Monday night for Sackville to attend the Methodist Conference in session there.

Mrs. Louis Struder of Arizona, who has been the guest of her uncle, Dr. J. P. Nelson, left on Saturday last for Sackville to visit her sister, Mrs. Clarence Fiewelling.

Mrs. Louis Abbott left on Friday last for New York to meet her husband, Mr. Louis Abbott, who is expected to arrive from Cuba, where he has made the winter.

Madame Blair, accompanied by her son, Mr. W. L. Blair, arrived on Saturday from Ottawa. Madame Blair will spend the summer with her niece, the Misses Abbott at their home on Prince W. street.

The Old Polka Concert and Coffee Shanty given in the Bijou last week, under the auspices of the Canadian Club, was a great success and thoroughly enjoyed by all present, as the size and enthusiasm of the audience gave ample proof.

The whole program was well planned and carried out and it was a splendid success financially. The proceeds were all given to the Canadian Club Hospital fund.

Mr. Ashton Hamilton of Brookton, was a recent guest of his father, Mr. W. L. Blair.

Capt. M. C. Buchanan has returned from a pleasant visit with relatives in Fredericton.

Miss Edna Veasey and Miss Lela Leeman have returned from Moncton, where they attended the W. M. S. Branch meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mowatt of Pictou, are guests of Miss Minnie Clark at her home on Marks street.

Mrs. Wm. Hall of Toronto, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Frank Todd.

Mrs. J. Walker Moore and son, Browne, have returned from an extended visit in Montreal, P. Q., and Halifax.

Mr. Loring Cosobon of Grand Manan, was a recent visitor in town.

Mrs. Thos. Storr of St. Andrews, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Cole.

Mrs. Josephine Lambie is the guest of Mr. Willard King at her home in Colville.

Mrs. Clarke and Miss Bessie Clarke, who have been spending the winter with Mrs. M. C. Buchanan, left this week for their home in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Bartlett and Miss Kettle McKay enjoyed a fishing trip to Moore's Mills on Tuesday of this week.

Miss Josie Malone has returned from a pleasant visit in St. John.

Miss Dorothy Huestis has arrived from an enlightening visit in St. John and other cities.

A quiet, but very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the home of Dr. W. L. Blair on Wednesday.

Mr. Norman Higginbotham, a student of McGill University, is visiting in town the guest of Mr. Lawrence Fitzmaurice, before returning to his home in Lethbridge.

Mr. Edgar Graham left on Wednesday evening for Vancouver, where he will resume his banking duties.

Mr. Edgar Shirley and bride of Bathurst, passed through Campbellton on Tuesday evening enroute to Montreal.

Miss Leo McCallum has returned from Acadia Ladies' Seminary, Wolfville, and will spend the vacation at her home here.

CAMPBELLTON

Campbellton, June 13.—Rev. Mr. Jobb of New Mills, occupied the pulpit in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here on Sunday last.

Mrs. Robt. Anderson of St. John, and Mr. William Anderson are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stafford Benson.

Mr. Frank Dunn of Sydney, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fitzmaurice for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cool of Dalhousie, spent Sunday here in the company of relatives in town.

Mrs. Wm. Murray of Ottawa, and Lieut. Arnold Murray spent the week-end in Campbellton before moving to their cottage at Tide Head, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Whitney McMillan of Sudbury, Ont., is the guest of relatives in town.

Mr. Duquall McMillan, who has recently returned from overseas service, is visiting at his home here.

Mrs. George LeBlond of Dalhousie, who spent the winter in Montreal, has returned.

Mrs. John Collier is visiting friends in Fredericton this week.

Mrs. W. Fraser of Toronto, is visiting at her home in Tide Head.

Misses Isabel McNeill and Audrey McNeill, who have been visiting in Montreal for the past winter, are spending the vacation at their homes here.

Mrs. Geo. G. McKenzie has returned from Newcaste, where she spent the past month.

Mrs. J. Porter Mowat is the guest of relatives in town.

Rev. J. F. Rowley has returned from Newcaste, where he attended the District Meeting of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Robt. Healy of St. John, was in town for a few days last week.

Mrs. Alexander McLenan and Mrs. T. Henderson are visiting relatives in Chatham.

Mrs. Fitzmaurice entertained on Friday evening last for her guest, Mr. Frank Dunn of Sydney. Bridge was played at four tables and after lunch was served the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The guests were: Miss Mary Graham, Miss Jean McLennan, Miss Greta Metzler, Miss Lena Graham, Miss Margaret McLennan, Miss Jean Henderson, Miss Josie Mackintosh, Miss Jessie Moore, Miss Kathleen Kirk, Miss Hazel Ling, Messrs. Wesley Macdonald, Austin Macdonald, Mott Lingard, Edgar Graham, James McLean.

Rev. Hugh Miller spent Sunday in New Mills and occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church there.

Miss Nan Wetmore has returned from a pleasant trip with friends in Blackville.

Mr. Austin Macdonald is visiting friends in Fredericton this week.

Mr. L. Secord of Brantford, Ont., is visiting in town, the guest of Mr. Douglas McNair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Glennie of St. John's, Newfoundland, are in town, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lunan.

Sig. Douglas Craig of Upper Charles, returned on Tuesday of this week in town.

Mrs. Thomas Malcolm of Montreal, formerly of this town, called this week for England.

Mr. W. Rogers was in Moncton on Monday of this week.

Rev. Hugh Miller and Mr. Frank Ferguson spent Tuesday of this week at Yorkton Island.

Miss Monica White is visiting friends in Bathurst.

Mr. Herbert Dickson of St. John, was in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lennox of Toronto, are visiting at Mrs. Lennox's home in Dalhousie.

Mrs. Margaret Clarke spent the week-end in town, the guest of relatives.

Mr. Norman Higginbotham, a student of McGill University, is visiting in town the guest of Mr. Lawrence Fitzmaurice, before returning to his home in Lethbridge.

Mr. Edgar Graham left on Wednesday evening for Vancouver, where he will resume his banking duties.

A Real Whole Wheat Food SHREDDED WHEAT Ready-Cooked, Ready-to-Eat SAVES FUEL SAVES FOOD SAVES HEALTH For any Meal with Milk or Cream MADE IN CANADA OF CANADIAN WHEAT

NEWCASTLE

Newcastle, June 13.—Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Helen Armstrong and Miss Russell have gone to Youghill, Bathurst, for the summer vacation.

James Leslie of Phoenix, B. C., is visiting his mother, Mrs. William Leslie, at an absence of eighteen years.

Mr. D. R. Moore has returned from his month's visit to the United States. Mrs. J. F. R. MacMichael visited Moncton last week.

Miss Emma Stewart is visiting friends in Blackville.

Miss Parker of Millerton, is visiting her old home here.

John Wood of Donalstown, late of the Lousiaby Co.'s staff of Moncton, has returned to the Newcastle office.

Charles Macdonald has returned from North Sydney.

The Misses Aitken of Calgary, are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. William Aitken here.

Lance Corporal W. Earle Macdonald, returned from overseas yesterday, and is being given a hearty welcome.

Mr. Macdonald enlisted in October, 1915, with the 132nd Battalion, went to Valcartier three years ago this month, and was in France and Belgium two years and a half. He was gassed once. Before going overseas Mr. Macdonald was a printer in the Union Advocate Office.

When he reached England Mr. Macdonald accepted a lower rank in order to get over to France quicker. He was attached to the 87th Battalion, and demobilized in Montreal.

Among the local heroes home are John Galloway, a hero of the Boer War and an expert collector of Newcastle; Corporal J. Herbert, Drivers J. R. Bernard and J. Creamer, Sapper J. C. Allison of Weymouth, and Ptes. F. M. Hayley, C. H. Russell and J. H. Whelan.

Thousands of mothers throughout Canada—many of them your neighbors—speak with thankfulness concerning the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Once they have used the Tablets for their little ones they would use nothing else. The Tablets are an absolutely safe medicine for even the youngest baby, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. Concerning them Mrs. David MacRae, Divide, Sask., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them so satisfactory I would not be without them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scovill, Queenstown, N. B., announce the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte A., to Mr. Bentley Fiewelling Peters, also of Queenstown, the marriage to take place July 2.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Thousands of mothers throughout Canada—many of them your neighbors—speak with thankfulness concerning the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Once they have used the Tablets for their little ones they would use nothing else. The Tablets are an absolutely safe medicine for even the youngest baby, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. Concerning them Mrs. David MacRae, Divide, Sask., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them so satisfactory I would not be without them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scovill, Queenstown, N. B., announce the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte A., to Mr. Bentley Fiewelling Peters, also of Queenstown, the marriage to take place July 2.

Advertisement for Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes. Text: YOU PROTECT YOURSELF WHEN YOU DEMAND Kellogg's TOASTED CORN FLAKES IN THE ORIGINAL RED, WHITE AND GREEN PACKAGE. Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. Our product is imitated but not equalled—Refuse all substituted imitations. Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes are only made in Canada by THE BATTLE CREEK TOASTED CORN FLAKE COMPANY LONDON, ONT. Head Office and Plant:

Advertisement for Cream of the West Flour. Text: Cream of the West Flour—the hard wheat flour that is guaranteed for bread. The high gluten flour prized for splendid big loaves of delicious, nourishing bread. Ask for it at your dealers. The Campbell Flour Mills Company, Limited, West Toronto. The Campbell Flour Mills Co., Limited, Simpson Bldg., Halifax, N. S.

l life of the all the req- that con- ner younger racks, lace, inerr- ust $10.30 to re with touch of white Georgette ling or beading, 14 years. So curing just the Laws, all trim- Satin Ribbons. St. stripped to the waist, side him. to Bruno's cor- and he, "that was the ed's the matter?" he said. "My arm!" away in this last in- saw Chris Town- make a burglar's chance with a sore arm and kill "this time, Dave," said e, "I felt her so sailing when I threw that articles of the young fellows may and come back again, in all done, Dave." the owner slowly, "I'm sorry I didn't tell t Grubb's contract ex- and I had you pick- gapped Sullivan, for unable to rise to the ce soft! Pretty soon!" said Sullivan here! "You're now. Why don't you say Bruno. "I will!" in the clubhouse. The ed to their homes. The ed with discarded un- inment bottles, odd h, worn shoes. Major ed wiser, was stinging if as he moved about, articles of his trade, he paused and looked where Bruno smel- his hand mechal- bare left shoulder, strong smell of alcohol major ventured over to- "What did you say, they something I kin me?" up and shook himself. he left arm by his side e said. "Major, I wish can do anything with a s, indeed!" said Major in.

SUSSEX

Sussex, June 13.—Mr. William Francis of Halifax, is spending this week in town, the guest of Mrs. David Aiton.

Mrs. J. P. Atherton, Mrs. J. J. Daly, Mrs. Jack Ferguson and Miss Della Daly, motored to St. John on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Worrell and their guest, Miss Hannah of St. John, are on a motor trip to St. Martins, this week.

Mrs. Garfield White returned the last of the week from a trip to Boston and New York.

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. G. N. Pearson entertained at a very delightful tea in honor of her guest, Miss Elizabeth Robertson of St. John.

Mrs. C. P. Clarke presided at the tea table and was assisted by Miss Frances Vanwart, Fredericton, Miss Sybil McKinn and Miss Robertson.

The guests were Mrs. Gordon Mills, Mrs. Gertrude White, Mrs. Vank Mrs. Walter Mills, Mrs. E. Keith, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Charters, Mrs. H. H. Reid, Mrs. G. W. Sherwood, Mrs. H. H. Dryden, Mrs. Vanwart, Fredericton, Mrs. A. L. Price, Mrs. W. B. Jonah, Mrs. C. P. Clarke, Mrs. W. B. McKay, Mrs. Clarence Flewelling, Mrs. Sturder, Mrs. Hatfield White, Misses Sharon Reid, Kate White, Gertrude Sherwood, Frances Vanwart and Carrie Roach.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox and family spent the week-end at Pleasant Lake.

Mrs. Vanwart and Miss Frances Vanwart of Fredericton, were guests of Mrs. W. B. McKay two days this week.

Mrs. Shawan, Mrs. Oscar Roach, Mrs. Frank Lansdowne, Miss Hazel Falweather and Miss Laura Jeffries, delegates from Trinity church, were in Fredericton this week attending the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams left on Monday for Boston to spend a few weeks with friends in that city.

Dr. W. A. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson left on Monday for Atlantic City, where they will attend the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, which convenes at Atlantic City this week.

Mrs. Leslie Sants and little daughter, Josephine of Texas, arrived in the city on Sunday, and will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sants for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Purdy have returned from Columbus, Ohio, where they have been spending a month.

Mr. Purdy was a delegate to the B. of B. T. convention held in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Waldon and little daughter, Elizabeth, left this week for Boston and New York, where in Boston they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barralough.

Mr. R. P. Dickson of Sumner Co. left this week on a business trip to Montreal and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Brittain, who have accepted a position with Melancon Jewelry Co. in this city.

Mr. James West of Lynn, Mass., is spending a few weeks with relatives in this city.

Mrs. W. H. Barralough has received word of the illness of her mother, and expects to leave in a few days for her home in Ingersoll, Ont., to be at the bedside of her mother.

The marriage of Miss Julia Cecilia Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Flanagan and Mr. Henry Lloyd Morris, Captain of the Royal Engineers of Pridle Hill, Shropshire, England, took place in St. Bernard's church, on Monday morning.

The couple left on a wedding trip to St. John and Boston.

Mr. John T. Hawke returned this week from Toronto, where he has been on business.

Miss Eunice Addy has returned from a month's visit to friends in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Mr. D. A. Storey, former general traffic manager of the C. N. R., has returned from a trip to Montreal and Western Points.

Mrs. E. Wolfe and Miss Francis Wolfe of Amherst, arrived in the city on Wednesday to spend several weeks with friends.

MONCTON

Moncton, June 13.—Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Craig of Amherst, motored to Moncton this week, and registered at the Hotel Brunswick.

Messrs. J. E. Marven and F. E. Denison left this week for Montreal and Toronto on a business trip.

Hon. C. W. Robinson, Mrs. Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Somers, left this week for Mr. Padden's Lake, Albert County, for a week's fishing. They were accompanied by Mrs. Somers' guest, Mrs. Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hutchinson and son, Lovell, have returned from St. Louis, Mo., where Mr. Hutchinson attended a meeting of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

Mrs. A. T. McLean and son, Donald, left on Monday for Halifax, to meet Mayor McLean, returning to Canada with the 8th Battalion.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Waldman, left on Monday for Virginia, where they will spend the summer with their two daughters, who reside there. Enroute they will visit relatives in Revelstoke, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bedford, left this week for Boston and Newport. During their visit in Boston they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Houghton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beers have returned from a month's visit to Columbus, Ohio. They also visited friends in New York and Boston.

Miss Susie Sutton has returned from a visit of several weeks to friends in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Adams left on Monday for Boston to spend a few weeks with friends in that city.

Dr. W. A. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson left on Monday for Atlantic City, where they will attend the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, which convenes at Atlantic City this week.

Mrs. Leslie Sants and little daughter, Josephine of Texas, arrived in the city on Sunday, and will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sants for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor Purdy have returned from Columbus, Ohio, where they have been spending a month.

Mr. Purdy was a delegate to the B. of B. T. convention held in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Waldon and little daughter, Elizabeth, left this week for Boston and New York, where in Boston they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barralough.

Mr. R. P. Dickson of Sumner Co. left this week on a business trip to Montreal and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Brittain, who have accepted a position with Melancon Jewelry Co. in this city.

Mr. James West of Lynn, Mass., is spending a few weeks with relatives in this city.

Mrs. W. H. Barralough has received word of the illness of her mother, and expects to leave in a few days for her home in Ingersoll, Ont., to be at the bedside of her mother.

The marriage of Miss Julia Cecilia Flanagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Flanagan and Mr. Henry Lloyd Morris, Captain of the Royal Engineers of Pridle Hill, Shropshire, England, took place in St. Bernard's church, on Monday morning.

The couple left on a wedding trip to St. John and Boston.

Mr. John T. Hawke returned this week from Toronto, where he has been on business.

Miss Eunice Addy has returned from a month's visit to friends in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Mr. D. A. Storey, former general traffic manager of the C. N. R., has returned from a trip to Montreal and Western Points.

Mrs. E. Wolfe and Miss Francis Wolfe of Amherst, arrived in the city on Wednesday to spend several weeks with friends.

HAMPTON

Hampton, June 13.—The summer residences at Lakeside are being re-opened this week by their city owners. Among the arrivals this week were Canon Armstrong and family, Mr. John McAvity and family and Rev. J. A. McKelgan and family. The latter occupying the bungalow in former years by Mr. William Angus and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyons have returned from their wedding trip and will reside in Hampton during the remainder of the summer.

Miss Estelle Black, St. Martins, was a guest on Monday and Tuesday of Miss Estelle Powder.

Rev. J. Graham, who has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in this place, arrived last week with the family and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Brittain. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Britain entertained the Missionary Society of the church. After the usual programs the members had the opportunity of personally meeting Mrs. Graham. A social hour was enjoyed and dainty refreshments served by the hostess.

Lieut. Cortlandt Dickson-Ottley is a visitor to Fredericton this week.

Mr. John Smith and Mr. Harold Scribner have returned from a successful fishing trip to Heary Lake.

Mr. E. C. Coster of Dalhousie University, is spending his vacation, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coster.

Miss Darling, Boston, was a guest this week of her sister, Mrs. Harry Gilliland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowan motored from Sussex on Sunday and were guests of Mrs. George Howard.

Mrs. Fred Dingle was a week-end guest of Fredericton friends.

Mr. Fenton Kestreted spent the week-end with his family.

Mrs. Frank Compton is a guest this week of St. John friends.

Miss Geraldine Coady, St. John, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leonard.

Mrs. T. William Barnes and son, Major R. Barnes were guests of Hampton friends for the weekend.

Rev. S. S. Heals is in Sackville in the vicinity, have about completed operations on their farms, and, due to the pleasant season, great progress has been accomplished. It is hoped the fall of 1919, will be a banner year in this locality, as conditions are favorable for planting, and with good weather a heavy turnout is expected.

On account of the fair condition of the roads here, many of the townfolk and those of the suburbs, have invested in new autos, and daily trips are made to the nearby American centres.

The Honorable J. Fletcher Tweeddale, M. L. A., was a recent visitor in town on business.

Charles Owen, of St. John, was in town last week on business, and spent the week-end here.

Some time ago the town council discussed the question of concrete sidewalks. The council met some evenings ago in the town hall and after a further discussion of the subject, the question was voted upon and the motion "to lay concrete sidewalks during this summer" was lost, the majority of the aldermen believing the town could not afford any added civic expenses for a time. However, it is felt that the question will be considered later when civic affairs have returned to normal.

The death occurred a short time ago of Noel Bernier of St. Andrews, after a short illness, leaving her husband and one child surviving.

The funeral took place from the Catholic Church last Friday morning, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Joyner. Interment took place in the Catholic cemetery.

"A play full of pathos," "One to be remembered by the old and young," and "The death of an audience entertained for the actors in their ridiculous attempt to stage such a heavy play. As for the 'show' being remembered by the old and young, the cast can rest assured that if the play is forgotten, those who participated, will live long in memory of the people who patronized the theatre on the night of the 'show.' It was neither drama or melodrama, it was a farce, and next to the wonderful James Boys, who held up the country, it was the biggest and boldest robbery effected in this county for a long time. The town patronized the theatre well, and before the curtain rolled up, every seat was full. But ere the last breath he left the body of Uncle Tom, many, left, fearing that they might be asked to remain for the wake. And 'Woe betide when Iva' 'died' of all dead scenes ever witnessed, this was the most agonizing. Eliza's dash across the Wabash, made Hawker's attempt to fly the Atlantic, fade into insignificance. In fact, the entire show would have been expensive, had they charged the usual admission for a barn show, three pence and a piece of gum. Grand Falls is a good theatre going town, but it will not stand for shows of this nature, and it would be advisable for travelling companies to present a play of some standing, rather than to try and run a wizard.

St. George, June 13.—Miss Julia Murray has returned from a very pleasant visit with friends in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little of St. John, were recent guests of Mrs. Mary Mealing.

Miss Beattie Connell is home from the bank of the city of St. Stephen, is a guest at the home of Doctor Garnet Coburn.

Mrs. Matilda Brannan of St. Stephen, is a guest at the home of Doctor Garnet Coburn.

Douglas C. Campbell left last week for St. John, where he is employed by the bank of the city.

Rev. James Spencer left on Wednesday for North Head, where he will conduct for a few days.

Miss Mae Eppes was a visitor to the border towns this week.

Mrs. Cecil Orr of Bonny River, visited friends in town this week.

Miss Grace Doyle is visiting friends in Lepreau.

Private Gordon Wren and Watson Dow returned home from overseas on Monday, and are receiving a warm welcome from their friends.

Mr. Arthur G. Dewar left for Liverpool, England, on Monday, where he will rejoin his wife. He was accompanied by Mrs. Dewar.

Mrs. Henry Sherrard in their car, Mrs. George Frutley and Miss Edith Moirde were visitors to their former home in Calais this week.

Miss Kathleen Cockburn of St. Stephen, is the guest this week of Miss Carolyn Gillmor.

Grand Falls, N. B., June 13.—The farmers of Grand Falls and vicinity have opened up a 'Farmer's Co-operative Store' at this place, and have appointed Barton A. Hildout as manager.

Mr. Hildout's executive skill and business capacity should assure success for the movement, an innovation long discussed here, and realized but a short time ago.

The farmers opening such a store, believe they can supply customers with merchandise in close competition to other merchants, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

At the present time it is felt that the new business will be a success here, as overhead expenses, are lessened, particularly when merchandise can be imported from outside centres in large lots, eliminating freightage to an extent, and, in turn, giving their customers the benefit of such saving.

Five long in memory of the people who patronized the theatre on the night of the 'show.' It was neither drama or melodrama, it was a farce, and next to the wonderful James Boys, who held up the country, it was the biggest and boldest robbery effected in this county for a long time. The town patronized the theatre well, and before the curtain rolled up, every seat was full. But ere the last breath he left the body of Uncle Tom, many, left, fearing that they might be asked to remain for the wake. And 'Woe betide when Iva' 'died' of all dead scenes ever witnessed, this was the most agonizing. Eliza's dash across the Wabash, made Hawker's attempt to fly the Atlantic, fade into insignificance. In fact, the entire show would have been expensive, had they charged the usual admission for a barn show, three pence and a piece of gum. Grand Falls is a good theatre going town, but it will not stand for shows of this nature, and it would be advisable for travelling companies to present a play of some standing, rather than to try and run a wizard.

St. George, June 13.—Miss Julia Murray has returned from a very pleasant visit with friends in St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little of St. John, were recent guests of Mrs. Mary Mealing.

Miss Beattie Connell is home from the bank of the city of St. Stephen, is a guest at the home of Doctor Garnet Coburn.

Mrs. Matilda Brannan of St. Stephen, is a guest at the home of Doctor Garnet Coburn.

Douglas C. Campbell left last week for St. John, where he is employed by the bank of the city.

Rev. James Spencer left on Wednesday for North Head, where he will conduct for a few days.

Miss Mae Eppes was a visitor to the border towns this week.

Mrs. Cecil Orr of Bonny River, visited friends in town this week.

Miss Grace Doyle is visiting friends in Lepreau.

Private Gordon Wren and Watson Dow returned home from overseas on Monday, and are receiving a warm welcome from their friends.

Mr. Arthur G. Dewar left for Liverpool, England, on Monday, where he will rejoin his wife. He was accompanied by Mrs. Dewar.

Mrs. Henry Sherrard in their car, Mrs. George Frutley and Miss Edith Moirde were visitors to their former home in Calais this week.

Miss Kathleen Cockburn of St. Stephen, is the guest this week of Miss Carolyn Gillmor.

Grand Bay, June 13.—Reverend H. D. Marr, Calgary, and Mr. Walter Calder, Vancouver, were guests during the week of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Moir.

On Saturday Mrs. Charles E. Bolyea entertained a number of friends in honor of the members of Rivendale Camp, who have recently returned from overseas. During the evening music and games were enjoyed and a delightful time was spent by all present.

Mrs. Hayward Coburn and son, Hayward, arrived from Chicago, on Saturday last to visit Mrs. Coburn's sister, Mrs. W. R. Robinson at "The Gables."

Lieut. Harold Patterson and Corp. Fred J. Irvine, who returned from overseas with the 4th Battalion on Friday, are receiving a hearty welcome from the many friends. Both Lieut. Patterson and Corp. Irvine have seen considerable service in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Brown, St. John, spent a few days during the week with Mr. and Mrs. James Hann.

Mr. Frank Wilson, St. John, was the

Advertisement for Lantic Old Fashioned Brown Sugar, featuring an illustration of a bowl of porridge and text describing its natural flavor and health benefits.

Advertisement for 'The Big Value Package' featuring an illustration of a woman holding a box and text promising guaranteed quality and value.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Calvin are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a young son on Saturday.

Miss Rita Berrie and Miss Wetmore, St. John, were weekend guests of Miss Bertha Weatherhead.

The first dance of the season on the pavilion which was to be held last Saturday and which was postponed on account of the wet weather, will be held this evening. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Canfield returned this week after a delightful trip of several months in Western Canada. Lieut. Shields and Mrs. Shields, St. John, were guests of Mrs. Teed, Pandemic, for over Sunday.

Mr. S. R. Pendleton left on Tuesday for Charlottetown, where he will reside.

AN AWNING BURNED. An awning in front of the Athens fruit store, 30 Mill street, went up in a blaze early yesterday afternoon, when it became ignited from defective electric wiring. An alarm was sent in from box 5.

Thousands of the fair sex are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women usually pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle cures, of which there are many.

If they only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered azoxilite and half a pint of water. Mix the two together and into the two. Apply this daily for a while to a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the most advanced and marked improvement is noted and the face has a smooth, firm look that is most pleasing.

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

For 15 years the standard skin remedy—a mild and external—constant relief from itching, the mildest of cleansers—keeps the skin soft, cool and healthy. Come in and ask us about both.

D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema Soap

For 15 years the standard skin remedy—a mild and external—constant relief from itching, the mildest of cleansers—keeps the skin soft, cool and healthy. Come in and ask us about both.

Wool, silk, linen or cotton—Majic Flakes are safe and sure

FOR a waist—silk, Georgette or voile—simply use a tablespoon of flakes—two tumblers of hot water. Whip with the hand to a rich, creamy foam of Majic suds and bubbles. Two or three minutes whisking through this safe lather—rinse in cold water—and your dyeing is done! No spotting, no streaks! An even, exact and exquisite color—just what you wanted—no matter whether your fabric is silk, wool, cotton or linen. For a larger garment use more flakes and more water. Directions with every package.

Your nearest drug, grocer or "5, 10 and 15c" store carries a complete variety of Majic colors. Watch for the display carton on counter.

15c

Canadian Distributors: W. G. PATRICK & CO., Limited, MONTREAL, TORONTO, WINNIPEG

Majic Dye Soap FLAKES "A Dainty Dye--For Dainty Women"

Every Majic Dye is true to name, no matter whether the fabric is silk, linen, cotton or wool. Fifteen standard colors—and every one a color that is even and lustrous.

And now you can dye as well as clean the most delicate fabrics—yourself!

HERE'S a new modern home-dye—a dye you have always found a need for. Different from any dye you have ever tried because it comes in flakes.

Therefore it is better. You know that flakes are the finest, most perfect form in which you can get soap. Majic Dye Soap Flakes are the newest word in flakes. They dye and wash, color and cleanse, at the same time. And you get the color you intend to get!

No rubbing or boiling as with old-style home-dyes. No injurious salt or vinegar. No harmful chemicals. Pure as your own toilet soap!

Majic Dye Soap Flakes have done away with troubles and disappointments. They quickly whip up in warm water to a pure, foaming lather. The most delicate fabrics can be safely entrusted to it. Silk, cotton, linen or wool—no matter how sheer and fine the garment—out it comes soft, lustrous, exquisitely and evenly colored, new!

Think of what such a dye will save you! Think of all the old mussiness and uncertainty gone! Think of the pleasure of giving your most expensive and stylish clothes a new lease of life!

Canadian Distributors: W. G. PATRICK & CO., Limited, MONTREAL, TORONTO, WINNIPEG

Majic Dye Soap FLAKES "A Dainty Dye--For Dainty Women"

When the system receives a shock of any kind

Down Sugar

Sugar makes the best 2c. stamp for number of old time sugar fresh and moist.

S. Ltd., MONTREAL

TEA

"You'll like the Flavor"

Big Value package that is guaranteed.

packed in bright and price marked every package.

Pendleton will be greatly his numerous friends.

AWKING BURNED.

ing in front of the Athens 20 Mill street went up in early yesterday afternoon, came ignited from defective wiring. An alarm was sent in is of the face are spending frantic efforts to remove the wrinkles from their faces. an unwillingly pay almost any money for worthless wrinkle which there are many. only know it, the most effective and safe is a simple, harmless which can be made up at home in a minute. They have only a ounce of powdered azoic acid and of which basal at the drug ask the two. Apply this daily as a refreshing lotion. The result is magical. Even after the most marked improvement in the face has a snug, firm is most pleasing.

Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces

cription for zema

the standard skin remedy— a usually— instant relief from itching, the mildest of cleansers— keeps the skin soft, smooth and healthy. come in and ask us about both.

elf!

ton— sure tette or boon of water. creamy through water— dotting, ct and wanted ibric is For a es and C.

5 C.

counter.

S

Special Sale Ladies' Suits Coats and Dresses

For the next ten days you have a chance to get your Suit, Coat and Dress for Spring at about what you would pay wholesale. Our prices, as you know, are about the lowest in town, and when we have a sale, you can always save from One to Two Dollars on every Ten you spend.

Ladies' Spring Suits
From $14 to $50
LESS 10 P. C. FOR TEN DAYS ONLY

Ladies' Spring Coats
From $12 to $35
LESS 10 P. C. FOR TEN DAYS ONLY

Ladies' Silk, Serge and Voile Dresses
LESS 10 P. C. FOR TEN DAYS ONLY

Ladies' Furnishings of All Kinds
AT SPECIAL FOR TEN DAYS

It Always Pays To Shop At

Wilcox's
COR. CHARLOTTE AND UNION
Store Open Friday and Saturday Till Ten p.m.

SHEDIAC

Shediac, June 12.—Very cool weather has prevailed of late at the seaside.

The summer cottage people are gradually arriving. The family of Mr. James Weldon of Moncton are in their new home on Pleasant street recently purchased from Mr. Ivy Avard. Miss Beatrice Harper has arrived home from St. John.

Among visitors recently in town was Captain Augustin Landry of Chester, Penn. The captain came home to New Brunswick, owing to the death of his brother, the late Valentine Landry of Moncton. The captain and his family were at one time residents of Shediac and he has many friends here who were pleased to see him again.

Mrs. Thomas Hicks of St. Andrews, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. S. Harper.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met during the week at the home of Mrs. R. C. Tait.

Mrs. R. Jardine entertained the ladies of the Anglican Guild this week.

Miss May Harper spent Wednesday with friends in Moncton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cutler of Moncton spent part of the week in town.

Miss Weddall of Fredericton is a guest of her brother, Rev. Dr. Weddall and Mrs. Weddall, at the Methodist parsonage. Mrs. Weddall and her guest were present at a number of the sessions in connection with the Women's Missionary Convention held recently in Moncton.

Recent strangers in Shediac included Captain John Malenfant, a former resident of the town. Captain Malenfant, since the early days of the war, has been engaged in military duties overseas, and at present on this side.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Jardine of St. John have been spending some days with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jardine, Main Street East.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Macdonald and son, Master Eric, and Mrs. E. B. Macdonald recently motored to St. John.

Mrs. Geo. E. O'Brien of Toronto is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tait. Mr. O'Brien after a few days here proceeded to Windsor, N. S.

Miss Elsie Jardine at her home, Main Street East, entertained recently at a very pleasant card party, in honor of Mrs. Parsons, of Regina. Guests were present for three tables, pretty souvents of the score, falling to Miss Bray and Mrs. Avard White.

Dr. R. W. Weddall is in Petticoat this week in attendance at the annual district meeting, previous to the Methodist conference, to be held in Sackville.

A very enjoyable social event of the past week took place on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Margaret Evans at her home, Main street, entertained at the tea hour in honor of Miss Lena Melanson, who in the near future is to be one of the principals in an interesting event to take place in Shediac. The parlors on this occasion were very pretty in their spring flower decorations. The guests included Miss Melanson, Miss C. Dube, Riviere de la Leup, Miss Fraser, Moncton; Mrs. Parsons, Regina; Mrs. Lionel Hanington, Shediac Cape; Miss Lawton, the Misses Harper, Miss Bray, Miss Wortman, Miss Weddall, Miss Weldon, Miss Gertrude Evans, Miss Eleanor Tait, Mrs. Robitoux, Mrs. A. J. Tait, and Mrs. O'Brien, of Toronto. Other guests to be present were Messrs. Sidney Willett and Allan Tait, among our returned boys from overseas.

Shediac has been gradually welcoming back our boys who had done their "bit." Among those recently in our midst was Pte. Fred Murray, formerly of this town, but now of Moncton. Fred and his father were recent guests at the home of Mrs. James McQueen, Pte. Murray at the time of his service on the staff of the Bank of Montreal. He has seen much active service, and was awarded the Military medal.

His Lordship Bishop Richardson, of Fredericton, has been holding a mission and special services at St. Martin's Church, Shediac Cape. On Sunday last His Lordship officiated at the service in St. Andrew's church in town.

Recent guests in town included Captain E. Kemp of Charlottetown, of the government boat, Ostrea.

Ex-Gov. and Mrs. Wood were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tait, Elmbank.

Mrs. H. W. Murray, Mrs. O. M. Melanson and Miss B. Wortman, Mrs. E. S. Williams, and Mrs. George A. White, were among Shediac people in Moncton during the week.

Miss B. Fraser of Moncton is the guest of Miss Bessie Wortman at her summer home, Lingerlong.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Schaeffer are at their summer home, Cape Breton, and have as their guest their son, Mr. F. Schaeffer, late of overseas, where he served his country in the great cause of freedom.

Mrs. Colpitts of Moncton and sons, Messrs. E. and B. Colpitts, are occupying a summer home on Pleasant street.

Mrs. Avard White has recently had as guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thurber, of Millerton, and her brother, Mr. James Thurber, who lately came home from service "over there."

Mr. Leslie Frier, late of overseas, after some weeks spent at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Frier, has left town on an extended holiday trip across the continent. He will visit Winnipeg, Calgary and other points of interest en route.

Miss C. McAllister of Dorchester was a guest during the week of her

The young leaves—the tender leaves—those full of flavor and richness—are selected for Red Rose Tea. The strength, flavor and freshness of these choice, delicate leaves is fully preserved for your enjoyment by the sealed Red Rose package which keeps out odors, dust and moisture.

The Red Rose name guarantees satisfaction.

Red Rose Coffee is as generally good as Red Rose Tea

You Just Try NR For That Indigestion

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver. It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or overcome.

This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering, if you are constantly having bilious attacks, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, are nervous, listless and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) right today and start taking it. Give it a trial for a week or two and just see how much better you feel. See how quickly your sluggish bowels will become as regular as clock work. See how your appetite clears up and your good, old-time appetite returns. See how splendidly your food will digest and how your stomach and "tinger" rejoice.

Just try it.

There is no risk whatever for Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is only 25c a box, enough to last twenty-five days, and it must help and benefit you to your entire satisfaction, or money returned.

Five million boxes are used every year—one million NR Tablets are taken by some people every day. That's the best proof of its merit.

Nature's Remedy is the best and safest thing you can take for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

You Just Try NR For That Indigestion

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver. It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or overcome.

This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering, if you are constantly having bilious attacks, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, are nervous, listless and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) right today and start taking it. Give it a trial for a week or two and just see how much better you feel. See how quickly your sluggish bowels will become as regular as clock work. See how your appetite clears up and your good, old-time appetite returns. See how splendidly your food will digest and how your stomach and "tinger" rejoice.

Just try it.

There is no risk whatever for Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is only 25c a box, enough to last twenty-five days, and it must help and benefit you to your entire satisfaction, or money returned.

Five million boxes are used every year—one million NR Tablets are taken by some people every day. That's the best proof of its merit.

Nature's Remedy is the best and safest thing you can take for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

NR Bought—Toward Low Feet Right Get a 25c Box

KING'S SURGEON CANNOT ACCEPT

Sir Arbutnot Lane Now in Atlantic City Forced to Decline Invitation to Address St. John Canadian Club.

Sir Arbutnot Lane, surgeon to His Majesty King George, is at present in Atlantic City addressing a convocation of surgeons of the United States. In reply to an invitation from C. W. Romans, secretary of the Canadian Club, to address the members in this city, the famous surgeon replies that he regrets exceedingly that he is obliged to return to England as soon as possible and therefore precluded from having the pleasure of addressing the St. John members. He further says that he trusts the Canadian Club may do him the honor of repeating the invitation in a subsequent less hurried visit.

Sir Arbutnot closes his letter with sending kind regards and many thanks for the pleasure of addressing the St. John members and courtesy extended to him.

Pimples Broke Out All Over Face, Arms and Neck.

Pimples are a sure sign that the blood is not in its proper shape. While the skin is the seat of the irritating, unsightly pimples, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and irritation, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated and the skin permanently injured by their use. The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned. Burdock Blood Bitters quickly and effectively cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions.

E. M. Davidson, Daysland, Alta., writes:—"Last summer I was greatly troubled with pimples breaking out all over my face, arms and neck. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles, the pimples had almost all disappeared. I shall always recommend this remedy to anyone afflicted with skin troubles."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

An Addition To The Collection

Natural History Society Has Received Garments, Working Implements and Hunting Weapons Used by the Blonde Eskimos.

A recent and much prized addition to the collection of curios at the Natural History Society rooms is a complete set of male and female garments, hunting weapons and working implements used by the blonde Eskimos of the Coppermine River region and brought to this city by E. Eldon Merritt, the St. John missionary who has been stationed at the place. The wearing apparel is a real work of art. The sewing has all been done by bone needle and gut string thread and each garment is made up from scores of pieces of different skins, ranging from caribou skins to those of rare and valuable animals. The man's suit consists of boots and stockings of one piece, trousers, coat with hood, and long gauntlets.

The woman's suit is different from that of the man in that the clothing for the nether limbs is all in one garment and is more fancifully wrought with the furs of different animals.

Fish spears are shown with which the natives of this land of the midnight sun secure the greater portion of their daily fare. The bows and arrows with which they bring down their larger game, are entirely unlike those used by the Canadian Indians. The bow is over five feet long and has a very heavy string. The arrows are long and tipped with copper found in a metallic state in the north country. The bow case and quiver, also shown, are peculiar in their way of distinctive design and very carefully made.

Other articles among the thirty-three varieties shown are the slings and ropes for dragging caribou and other carcases over the snow, household appliances used for the native cookery and models of snares used for trapping the smaller game.

A special case is being made for this exhibit, the society deeming the expense therewith justified from the fact that the Eskimo has been proved to be the first settler of this province, evidence of Eskimo habitation having been found which dates back farther than the earliest Indian settlement.

These curios have been stated, have been brought from the land of the blonde Eskimo, a type of the far northern native which is very uncommon. With their light skin, blue eyes and blonde hair, these Eskimos are thought to be direct descendants of the ancient hardy world-wandering Norsemen and Vikings of the days of Erikson and Olaf, the sea king.

The increased interest which is being taken in the exhibits of the Natural History Society, now that the war is over, is shown by the fact that since the last monthly meeting in May 514 donations and loans of curios have been received by Curator McIntosh.

IF THEY ARE NOT GOOD ENOUGH TO USE, THEY ARE NOT GOOD ENOUGH TO SELL. THIS IS NR Policy and Slogan on every Type, writer I sell. A. Milne Fraser, Ltd., A. Little, Mgr., 27 Dock Street, St. John, N. B.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY
KINGSTON, ONTARIO

ARTS

Part of the Arts course may be covered by MEDICINE EDUCATION APPLIED SCIENCE

Mining, Chemical, Civil, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering

SUMMER SCHOOL NAVIGATION SCHOOL July and August. December to April 28 GEO. Y. CROWN, Registrar.

You Are Invited to visit this DEMONSTRATION and become better acquainted with KLIM

KLIM is pure pasteurized separated milk in powder form. It is economical, pure and wholesome. Reduces milk bills. Saves waste. Does not turn sour nor spoil. Use it as needed from the tin. Saves delays and bottle washing. Keep Klim in the Kitchen Cabinet or pantry. No ice required in summer. Does not freeze in winter. Use it in every recipe that requires milk. Delicious to drink—has the natural flavor that proves its genuineness. No chemicals, cane sugar or other adulterants are used in Klim. It is made by drying fresh separated milk in modern plants in the country.

Every day next week Klim will be demonstrated at our store. You are invited to come and see what it is and how it can save you money.

WALTER HART
65 Union Street
WEST ST. JOHN

Cuts grease - Saves Soap

A spoonful of Snowflake Ammonia softens a whole pan of dish water, dissolves the grease from the dishes and saves its cost in soap.

Use it in kitchen, bathroom, laundry.

Snowflake Ammonia
THE FULL STRENGTH

UNIQUE THURS. FRI., SAT. MATINEES AT 2, 3, 30 EVENINGS AT 7, 8, 30

PEARL WHITE IN "The Lightning Raider" 12TH EPISODE

W. S. HART IN "THE RUSE" 2-REEL DRAMA

IN "HOT DOGS" —A JOLLY— GOOD COMEDY

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

COMING MONDAY "Maciste," the Giant, in "THE SUPERMAN"

LYRIC THE KING MUSICAL CO. Present— THE DETECTIVE A NEW BILL FULL OF FUNNY SITUATIONS

THURS., FRI., SAT. FRIDAY—REGULAR AMATEUR NIGHT

OPERA HOUSE VAUDEVILLE

TODAY Afternoon 2 and 3.30 Evening 7.30 and 9

FIELD SISTERS Two Clever Girls

AUDLEY C. TOBIN Comedy Revolving Globe

WELLS, VIRGINIA AND WEST Musical Comedy Hits

HARRY MEEHAN The Tramp Caruso

PAGE and GREENE Comedy Acrobats

THE TIGER'S TRAIL

IMPERIAL

BILL OF LAUGHS AND TINGLES TODAY

Handsome William Desmond —IN A FIVE-REEL FARCE—

"LIFE'S A FUNNY PROPOSITION"

—OR—

FOR GOODNESS SAKE WHOSE BABY IS IT, ANYWAY?

A Clean, Satisfying Feast of Fattening Laughter.

A ROBERTSON-COLE PICTURE

Herbert Rawlinson —IN THE SERIAL STORY—

"THE CARTER CASE"

Two Weeks

—WE—

WILL SHOW LAST WEEK'S CHAPTER, ALSO THIS WEEK'S

Thus Making Up for the Lapse Due to Grand Opera.

TWO EPISODES AT ONCE.

COMEDY GALORE, THRILLS AND GOOD MUSIC

You Are Invited to visit this DEMONSTRATION and become better acquainted with KLIM

KLIM is pure pasteurized separated milk in powder form. It is economical, pure and wholesome. Reduces milk bills. Saves waste. Does not turn sour nor spoil. Use it as needed from the tin. Saves delays and bottle washing. Keep Klim in the Kitchen Cabinet or pantry. No ice required in summer. Does not freeze in winter. Use it in every recipe that requires milk. Delicious to drink—has the natural flavor that proves its genuineness. No chemicals, cane sugar or other adulterants are used in Klim. It is made by drying fresh separated milk in modern plants in the country.

Every day next week Klim will be demonstrated at our store. You are invited to come and see what it is and how it can save you money.

WALTER HART
65 Union Street
WEST ST. JOHN

Motto: Kindly Deeds Make Happy Lives

Weekly Chat

My Dear Kiddies:— It is sad but nevertheless true, that some of you need an apology from me, so we might just as well get it over with at the beginning of our chat. Some very nice letters to me were received, and you may have disappeared, I must acknowledge the fault to be entirely with me and can only beg your patience as well as forgiveness. It is really too bad, for they told me of birds' nests found, reports of the progress of the gardens and many such interesting items as I love to hear about, so that you dear young people who do not read an answer to your letters in today's page will understand the reason why and just show your sympathy for me by writing me again—not forgetting to repeat those bits of nature gossip which I enjoyed reading so much. Indeed, some of the letters I intended publishing as they were of much interest to you all.

Well, it just goes to show that Uncle Dick can be careless as well as other people, even though very ready to give the best of advice to help the Corner chums to what they can be. Never mind kiddies, every one has his or her weak point, and whether he was just watching for a nice big fat worm to feed his babies with or whether he was deciding which new play to try for his next meal, I could not quite make out, for he looked too grand to even bob his head or perhaps he wished me to have that opinion of him, anyway, one verse about robins says:

"When leaves are young,
The robins fill their beaks."

so I imagine a little lettuce leaf might taste very sweet and tender. Did any of you notice how the green carpet which nature has so well covered the earth with has been so dotted in places with pink and white spots? I did and in some orchards it must look much like a snow flurry for the petals of the fruit blossoms have certainly been thrown hither and yon by Mr. Wind during the last few days. And the part of the blossom which remains on the tree, just think of it in a few weeks and months truce to see how rosy juicy they are. That was one of the greatest surprises I received when a kiddie and indeed I don't think I could have believed it possible if I hadn't the chance of watching the same fruit trees each day. It just sounded to me like one of the many fairy tales grown up tell the young fry, so I wasn't going to believe any thing like that possible without a close inspection every few days and I found out it was a really true story alright, but it seems just as wonderful to me now as it did then. Do you know that lots of wonderful things like that happen all around us and we don't stop and think about them at all, but just take everything for granted. Even the many blessings we have are all accepted without any over-awe of thankfulness on our part. Just think how happy-go-lucky we can be in health, then when sickness comes, and only then do we realize what a precious blessing health is. It used to be just grown-ups that thought of things like that, but after so many of our boys and girls were ill with the "flu" last winter, I know they will think more of the blessings they have, especially when well, than they ever did before. It seems just to think of such things too, much better than just wishing for pleasures and luxuries all the time. You know one writer said: "A certain amount of blessing is good for a dog, they keep him from brooding over being a dog," so perhaps a certain amount of trouble teaches us to be more grateful than we otherwise would be.

Hope of the best to all the chums,
UNCLE DICK.
THE FAITHLESS FLOWERS.
I went this morning down to where the Johnny Bunns are, and I saw one like a purple face nodding in a row. I stayed most all the morning there, so I sat down on a stump. And watched and watched and watched them—and they never gave a jump!

And Golden-Glow that stands up tall and yellow by the fence,
It doesn't glow a single bit—it's only just pretence—
I ran down after tea last night to watch them in the dark—
I had to light a match to see; they didn't give a spark!

And then the Bouncing Bets don't bounce—I tried them yesterday, I picked a big pink bunch down in the meadow where they stay,
I took a piece of string I had and tied them in a ball,
And threw them down as hard as hard—they never bounced at all!

And Tiger-Lilies may look fierce, to meet them all alone,
All tall and back and yellow and nodding by a stone,
But they're no more like tigers than the dogwood's like a dog,
Or tulips are like a bull or a toad-wort a frog!

I like the flowers very much—they're pleasant as can be,
For bunches on the table, and to pluck and wear and use,
But still it doesn't seem quite fair—it does seem very queer—
They don't do what they're named for—at any time of year!

—Margaret Wildmermer.
Boy—"A man called while you were out, sir. He said he wanted to thrash you."
Editor—"And what did you say to him?"
Boy—"I said I was sorry you were out."

Answers To Letters

JENNIE MCGOWAN, Tweedside— It is always a pleasure to hear from you. You must be having all the thunder storms because they don't seem to reach here. Indeed you might rejoice over the approach of holidays for the last few weeks seem to drag so with all the scholars and the teachers too. Many thanks for your contributions to our puzzle column.

GEORGE McFARLANE, Waasie— Thank you for the information. I wish to tell you that your letter was very kind and very interesting. I should like to hear from you again. After the busy time is over I shall be glad to hear from your brother, too.

WELL, it just goes to show that Uncle Dick can be careless as well as other people, even though very ready to give the best of advice to help the Corner chums to what they can be. Never mind kiddies, every one has his or her weak point, and whether he was just watching for a nice big fat worm to feed his babies with or whether he was deciding which new play to try for his next meal, I could not quite make out, for he looked too grand to even bob his head or perhaps he wished me to have that opinion of him, anyway, one verse about robins says:

"When leaves are young,
The robins fill their beaks."

so I imagine a little lettuce leaf might taste very sweet and tender. Did any of you notice how the green carpet which nature has so well covered the earth with has been so dotted in places with pink and white spots? I did and in some orchards it must look much like a snow flurry for the petals of the fruit blossoms have certainly been thrown hither and yon by Mr. Wind during the last few days. And the part of the blossom which remains on the tree, just think of it in a few weeks and months truce to see how rosy juicy they are. That was one of the greatest surprises I received when a kiddie and indeed I don't think I could have believed it possible if I hadn't the chance of watching the same fruit trees each day. It just sounded to me like one of the many fairy tales grown up tell the young fry, so I wasn't going to believe any thing like that possible without a close inspection every few days and I found out it was a really true story alright, but it seems just as wonderful to me now as it did then. Do you know that lots of wonderful things like that happen all around us and we don't stop and think about them at all, but just take everything for granted. Even the many blessings we have are all accepted without any over-awe of thankfulness on our part. Just think how happy-go-lucky we can be in health, then when sickness comes, and only then do we realize what a precious blessing health is. It used to be just grown-ups that thought of things like that, but after so many of our boys and girls were ill with the "flu" last winter, I know they will think more of the blessings they have, especially when well, than they ever did before. It seems just to think of such things too, much better than just wishing for pleasures and luxuries all the time. You know one writer said: "A certain amount of blessing is good for a dog, they keep him from brooding over being a dog," so perhaps a certain amount of trouble teaches us to be more grateful than we otherwise would be.

Hope of the best to all the chums,
UNCLE DICK.
THE FAITHLESS FLOWERS.
I went this morning down to where the Johnny Bunns are, and I saw one like a purple face nodding in a row. I stayed most all the morning there, so I sat down on a stump. And watched and watched and watched them—and they never gave a jump!

And Golden-Glow that stands up tall and yellow by the fence,
It doesn't glow a single bit—it's only just pretence—
I ran down after tea last night to watch them in the dark—
I had to light a match to see; they didn't give a spark!

And then the Bouncing Bets don't bounce—I tried them yesterday, I picked a big pink bunch down in the meadow where they stay,
I took a piece of string I had and tied them in a ball,
And threw them down as hard as hard—they never bounced at all!

And Tiger-Lilies may look fierce, to meet them all alone,
All tall and back and yellow and nodding by a stone,
But they're no more like tigers than the dogwood's like a dog,
Or tulips are like a bull or a toad-wort a frog!

I like the flowers very much—they're pleasant as can be,
For bunches on the table, and to pluck and wear and use,
But still it doesn't seem quite fair—it does seem very queer—
They don't do what they're named for—at any time of year!

—Margaret Wildmermer.
Boy—"A man called while you were out, sir. He said he wanted to thrash you."
Editor—"And what did you say to him?"
Boy—"I said I was sorry you were out."

CHILDREN'S CORNER

Prize Stories

In another children's page a story contest was held and the successful prize winners' stories were printed. As many of our members belonging to the Children's Corner have sent in their own stories at different times, I know they will be interested in reading what the kiddies belonging to other provinces were able to contribute. The following was written by a girl eleven years old, living in Toronto, and it won the first prize. Next week we will print the second prize story.

JEAN'S REWARD.

Twelve-year-old Jean was going on her holidays with her grandmother. She had never travelled on a train and she had been looking forward to the holidays, when she would go for many months.

At last the great day had arrived, bright and sunny; and she was all excitement.

Just as they were about to start for the train the postman came up the path with a letter. Jean's father hastily tore it open, and, after reading it two or three times, he broke the news it contained.

"Aunt Jane has written," he said impressively, "to say she is coming on the three-thirty train to stay with us."

"We can't go to mother's," exclaimed Jean's mother.

"Mother, can't we?" cried her daughter.

"No, we can't possibly, but Aunt Jane off, for she has started," said her father.

"Oh, dear," she cried passionately, "I wish old Aunt Jane had never been born."

"Hush—hush! That's not the way to speak," said her father reprovingly.

They went slowly into the house and began putting the things in order. For Aunt Jane was very particular; and Aunt Jane came.

She stayed for nearly three weeks, and Jean could not do a thing without being scolded by her.

She had been very good, and had borne her disappointment well after the first few minutes.

"And here you are. There's grand old Aunt Jane, who's here to stay for the first few minutes."

"Hullo, there goes the bell. Come along, you two."

Roy MacGregor was now Master of Stormross. The old castle stood on the edge of the low cliff, in a rough, weathered, and the mountains high, the spray leapt upward and drenched the battlements and turrets of the grim old walls.

Two years ago, had echoed to the tramp of armed men and had defied the assaults of many a hostile clan.

The whole country was desolate in the extreme. It seemed as though the pitiless winds had quenched its life, except in a deep valley a mile or so to the south of the castle, where the forest ran down to the sea, and the other side stretched away to the mountains.

The nearest railway station was nearly a day's ride, and the forest ran down to the sea, and the other side stretched away to the mountains.

Ronald, the ancient butler, and the other old servants of the castle, loved the solitude and were well content, especially as Roy had proved to be a young master after their own hearts, high-spirited, sporting, and full of eager interest in the castle and surrounding estate.

Jack Clive and Angus were almost as keen as Roy. They saw visions of a far more peaceful and beautiful life than the life of a castle, and they meant to land salmon and to go sailing in the smart little cutter which had once belonged to Roy's great-uncle, and later in the year they hoped to come up again, and then they would have some deer-stalking.

They were a merry trio at dinner that evening; and afterwards the talk fell again upon the haunted wood, and the deer-killers who had murdered the keepers.

"Hoy," said Jack Clive, "we'll explore that wood. You and I and Angus will spend a night there. We'll solve the mystery of the lights and sounds which seem so to have terrified everybody."

The adventurous spirit of Roy MacGregor was fired on the instant.

"We will," he cried. "Eh, Angus?"

"Rather," said Angus. "When shall we go?"

"Tomorrow," exclaimed Roy.

CHAPTER II.

"Dinna gang, now; dinna gang to sile the head keeper. 'I wudna spend a night there for a fortnight!'"

"We don't want you to," laughed Roy. "You'll just guide us, Donald, to that part of the wood which is said to be haunted, and then you can go home again, and say nothing to anybody about it, do you hear?"

"I hear," replied Donald. "An' I warn ye once more, young master."

"Ronald will think we're spending the night out to sea in the yacht," said Roy. "We're just going for a sail now, and Peter will lend us in the dingy just by the moon's light."

"I'll," answered Donald, and went off shaking his head.

"So at six o'clock, or thereabout, Peter grows they are only two feet in length and scarcely one foot high, which proves that it does not always take a big person to do big things, for the houses which the Beavers build are often stronger than many of the great big buildings right in your own city.

When Mr. and Mrs. Beaver are busy

A Face in The Haunted Wood

"Did You See It?" Gasped Angus.

"In the castle haunted!" asked Jack Clive.

"No, but the wood is," said Roy MacGregor.

"The wood?" exclaimed Angus Murray.

"Yes, the deer forest, as it used to be called. Ronald, the old butler, has told me tales of strange lights and sounds; and there's not a keeper who would venture into one part of it even in the daytime."

"It appears that about fifteen years ago, when my great uncle, the Master of Stormross, was alive, the forest was the haunt of a large horde of red deer. Many of these were killed by poachers, and one night two keepers, while watching in the woods, surprised a band of wild-looking scoundrels in the act of cutting up a fine stag which they had shot."

"The keepers made a dash at the poachers, and there was a desperate fight. Both the keepers were killed."

"Killed?" cried Angus.

"Yes—murdered. If you like, for the skull of one man was smashed by the butt of a gun and the other was shot through the heart. The poachers vanished, and though the woods and the whole district were scoured for days, they were never caught, and it was believed they had somehow gone off to sea, for a boat was missing from the cove."

"How many were they?" asked Jack.

"Four or five. They were not of the neighborhood, and where they came from and how long they had lived in the deer forest, nobody knew. You see, this is a wonderfully remote and lonely place—the most lonely in Scotland. When my great uncle died, and my father came into the property, he was the general commanding a district, and he was to have a boat, but he never troubled to visit Stormross."

"After his death, I came to England to school, and then, when I first met you at Mitchell College, where I first met you two fellows, my guardian, old Col. Liversay, told me what this place was like, and I determined to pay it a visit, and to ask you chaps to come up later on and keep me company."

"And here you are. There's grand old Aunt Jane, who's here to stay for the first few minutes."

"Hullo, there goes the bell. Come along, you two."

Roy MacGregor was now Master of Stormross. The old castle stood on the edge of the low cliff, in a rough, weathered, and the mountains high, the spray leapt upward and drenched the battlements and turrets of the grim old walls.

Two years ago, had echoed to the tramp of armed men and had defied the assaults of many a hostile clan.

The whole country was desolate in the extreme. It seemed as though the pitiless winds had quenched its life, except in a deep valley a mile or so to the south of the castle, where the forest ran down to the sea, and the other side stretched away to the mountains.

The nearest railway station was nearly a day's ride, and the forest ran down to the sea, and the other side stretched away to the mountains.

Ronald, the ancient butler, and the other old servants of the castle, loved the solitude and were well content, especially as Roy had proved to be a young master after their own hearts, high-spirited, sporting, and full of eager interest in the castle and surrounding estate.

Jack Clive and Angus were almost as keen as Roy. They saw visions of a far more peaceful and beautiful life than the life of a castle, and they meant to land salmon and to go sailing in the smart little cutter which had once belonged to Roy's great-uncle, and later in the year they hoped to come up again, and then they would have some deer-stalking.

They were a merry trio at dinner that evening; and afterwards the talk fell again upon the haunted wood, and the deer-killers who had murdered the keepers.

"Hoy," said Jack Clive, "we'll explore that wood. You and I and Angus will spend a night there. We'll solve the mystery of the lights and sounds which seem so to have terrified everybody."

The adventurous spirit of Roy MacGregor was fired on the instant.

"We will," he cried. "Eh, Angus?"

"Rather," said Angus. "When shall we go?"

"Tomorrow," exclaimed Roy.

CHAPTER II.

"Dinna gang, now; dinna gang to sile the head keeper. 'I wudna spend a night there for a fortnight!'"

"We don't want you to," laughed Roy. "You'll just guide us, Donald, to that part of the wood which is said to be haunted, and then you can go home again, and say nothing to anybody about it, do you hear?"

"I hear," replied Donald. "An' I warn ye once more, young master."

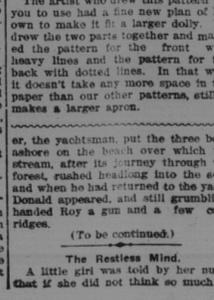

"Ronald will think we're spending the night out to sea in the yacht," said Roy. "We're just going for a sail now, and Peter will lend us in the dingy just by the moon's light."

"I'll," answered Donald, and went off shaking his head.

"So at six o'clock, or thereabout, Peter grows they are only two feet in length and scarcely one foot high, which proves that it does not always take a big person to do big things, for the houses which the Beavers build are often stronger than many of the great big buildings right in your own city.

When Mr. and Mrs. Beaver are busy

THE DOT PUZZLE

When the sea is nice and fat
Piffle smiles and looks so pleasant
Complete the picture by drawing a line through the dots beginning at figure 1 and taking them numerically.

A Regular Saturday Page for the Kiddies

Smile Kiddies, Smile! Answers To Puzzles

As Defined.
Schoolmaster asked his class to define generation. One solitary hand went up.
"Well, what is a generation?" asked the master.
"One of Tommy Jones's family, errr," was the queer but confident answer.
The master stared, as well he might, despite a large experience of the oddity of juvenile replies. Proceeding to question the pupils as to how he had stumbled upon such an idea of the meaning of the word generation, he elicited the fact that it was due to the boy having seen a photograph of a classmate named Tommy Jones, who had been photographed with his father, grandfather, and great-grandfather, the picture, which was exhibited in a local photographer's window, being entitled "Four Generations."

Wanted to Know.
When a certain eccentric millionaire engaged a young man as secretary he did not tell him at what hour in the morning to report himself.
The youth appeared at nine, but found the millionaire at work. Nothing was said about the secretary being late.
The next day he presented himself at half-past eight, only to find his energetic employer ahead of him.
So on the following day he came at eight o'clock with the same result.
Determined to be there before his employer, he came at half-past seven the next day, only to be greeted as he entered the room, by the millionaire with the question:
"Young man, will you tell me what you do with your forenoon?"

Awkward.
Some little while ago a popular writer visited a gaol in order to write a magazine article of prison life.
On returning home, he described the horrors he had seen, and his description made a deep impression on the mind of his youngest son, Jack.
The writer and his offspring, a week later were in a train together, which stopped at a station near a gloomy building. A man asked:
"What place is that?"
"The country gaol," another answered promptly.
"Whereupon Jack embarrassed his father and aroused the suspicions of the other occupants of the car, by asking, in a loud, shrill voice:
"What that the gaol you were in father?"

"Yes, I've registered all right. What you gonna join de infamy or de calvary?"
"No calvary for me. 'Ee going in dat infamy. When de general sound de 'ord 'Restraint' dis 'nigh' don' wan to be berbered with no 'nigh'."

"How long has that clerk worked for you?" asked the travelling man, as he watched the man do up some butter.
"About four hours, I should say," replied the man who keeps the store.
"I thought he had been here longer than that," said the travelling man.
"He has," said the storekeeper. "He has been here for four months."

Sir Robert Ball had delivered a lecture on "Sun Spots and Solar Chemistry," says the Chicago News. A young lady who met him expressed her regret at having missed the lecture. "Well," he said, "don't know as you'd have been particularly interested. It was all about sun spots." "Why," she replied, "it would have interested me exceedingly, I have been a martyr to freckles all my life."

The Cooking Class.
"I am sorry," said debe, "your sister is not here, Mr. Bunt."
"She didn't get quite well," replied Mr. Bunt. "She went to the cooking school this morning, and you know after the girls get through they have to eat what they've made."

Flower Epigrams.
Violet.
Enigma.
Skipping rope.

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES.

Bird Conundrums.
1.—Oven Bird.
2.—Nuthatch.
3.—Crow.
4.—Flicker.
5.—Creeper.
6.—Kingfisher.
7.—English Sparrow.

Flower Epigrams.

Violet.
Enigma.
Skipping rope.

Birthday Greetings

To all the kiddies having a birthday during the coming week we wish them many happy returns of the day. Those on our list are:
Lena G. Fowler, Young's Cove Rd.
Daisy Grass, Moncton
Percy Golding, Wall St.
Stuart Dickson, Chatham
Viola Kirkpatrick, Upham St.
John DeWitt, Fredericton Jct.
Fred J. Richard, Grand Alderman.
Emmie Danville, Cumberland Bay.
Myrtle White, Royton.
Hilda Vaughan, St. Martins.
Mildred Wainman, Bentworth.
Glenna Lawrence, Lakerville.
Alexis McCarron, Newcastle.
Ida Winnie Scott, Upperton.
Beatrice Croft, Chatham.
Charles Fokins, Fokins P. O.
Maud McFarlane, Waasie Sta.
Hazel Kennedy, Shediac.
John Gallagher, E. Centreville.
Eunice Neve, Horsfield St., City.
Ronald Davis, Hatfield's Pt.
Lloyd Jones, Hatfield's Point.
Eleanor Sharpe, Salisbury.

JIMMY COON STORIES

By DR. WARREN G. PARTRIDGE

JIMMY COON SUPPORTS A FAMILY OF EIGHTEEN.
You remember that Jimmy Coon was so fond of Carrie Coon, his mate, and Jimmie's mother-in-law, his father-in-law, and their fourteen children; so there were eighteen people for poor little Jimmy Coon to provide food for.

Well, Jimmy was a wonderful hunter and fisherman. You remember that he slept in the daytime and hunted all night long, and Jimmy never before in his life, hunted so hard and so many hours.

And it was funny to see Jimmy Coon come back in the early morning with his load of frogs, fish, bird's eggs, persimmons, and black and green snakes hung around his neck; and his pockets stuffed full of grass-hoppers, black crickets, beetles and white grubs.

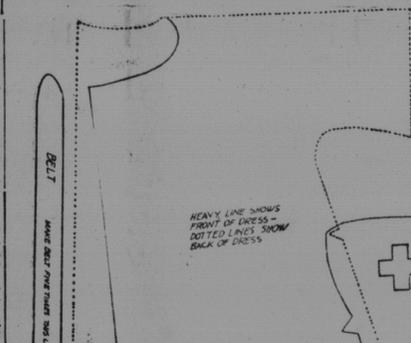

Why Jimmy Coon looked like a poddy, with so many packs on his back; and with all his pockets stuffed with good things to eat! And it was laughable to see Jimmy's mother-in-law at the breakfast table. She sat at the head of the table, and she would say, "Now, Father Coon, just pass your plate first, for I want you to have all these nice fresh eggs; for they will help your lame back!" And I will take the frogs, for they look tender; and I need them because I haven't got my new false teeth yet.

All now my dear children, you all help yourselves; and be lively, before everything is all eaten up. And you would have laughed to see the fourteen children jump up on the table and gobble everything up, before Jimmy Coon could get a single bite.

And poor Jimmy's mate, Carrie, got only the wing of one grasshopper! And you know there isn't much nourishment in the wing of one grasshopper! And when Jimmy's mother-in-law was eating those tender frogs, she scolded Jimmy Coon, saying, "Jimmy, I wish you would be more careful in getting young, tender frogs. I have spoken to you many times about this matter. And I'll not stand surely!"

Red Cross Pattern For The Little Seamstress

Dolly Dear is to have the most beautiful gown in all the world. It is made of the finest material, just plain white cotton, and it is made in the simplest manner possible, just a straight little apron. Yet you know, and I know and every one knows that it is the

You must trace the two pieces of the pattern onto another piece of paper, instead of cutting them out, for if you cut out one piece, you will spoil the other piece.
Fold the cloth and lay the pattern on with the long, straight edge of the pattern on the fold of the cloth. Cut two pieces and baste up the shoulder seams and the under arm seams with the notches together.

Try the apron onto Dolly and if it fits, hem the edges and make some tiny button holes to fit the little buttons you saw on.
The pattern shows you just how to make the pocket and belt.
The veil for Dolly's head is just a square of white cloth hemmed on all the edges.
Dolly must have two red crosses, one for the front of her veil and one for the front of her apron.

er, the yachtman, put the three boys ashore on the beach over which the stream, after its journey through the forest, rushed heading into the sea; and when he had returned to the yacht Donald appeared, and still grumbling, handed Roy a gun and a few cartridges.

(To be continued.)

The Restless Mind.
A little girl was told by her nurse that if she did not think so much by

AND HER NAME WAS MAUD

