Good Times Ahead

The sudden breaking out of the war caused many to "run to cover." Like the chicken on whom the rose leaf fell, some became a prey to fear and were ready to declare "the sky is falling." Now our vision is clearing our alarm has fled, we have recovered our poise. We are faced with a condition and an opportunity both trending to our advantage as a country of industry, agriculture and trade. Good times are ahead.

You will need plenty of goods. I have a larger and better stock than ever before. "What we have we'll hold." By this I mean what I have not gotten in stock will gladly get for you—to hold your business.

CENTREVILLE

LOYAL TO CANADA AND TO THE EMPIRE

In Parliament last week F. B. Carvell, M. P., spoke, following Premier Borden in his address on the proposed "war" taxation. The whole speech is too long for publication this week. The editor has instead selected numerous paragraphs of strong appeal. Note that Carvell says "if one hundred millions is not enough then make it $150,000,000 and we will vote for it just the same."

Every one knows that the business of this country cannot be closed down; the Minister of Finance cannot do it, and nobody wants him to do it. All we want the minister to do is to be reasonable; to reduce expenditure. If he wants any better evidence of the desirability of taking this course, I direct his attention to what was practically an admission on the part of a former Minister of Finance (Sir George Foster)—a man who knows something about finance—that the ordinary expenditure of this country could be cut down to the extent of $30,000,000 a year. If he had done what his colleague almost said he could have done, he would have closed up the gap between revenue and expenditure and would have obviated the necessity for special taxation.

When this country is at war, every person ought to be straining every effort to bring this war to a successful conclusion, then the Government of this country have no right to tax people white in order to satisfy and placate their political friends over the country. It ought to be the duty of the Government to try to treat the people fairly, to make the cost of living as low as possible consistent with raising a revenue. Those are things I am trying to point out, and not what I or my hon. friend may have voted for three or four years ago. The Tory party never seems to realize that this world moves, and that what may have been true 100 years ago may not necessarily be true to-day, that what was true ten years ago may not be true to-day.

I am perfectly right when I say that the cost of the manufactured article is at least three times as much as the cost of the raw material, and that, to be logical, you should increase the duty on the raw material by three times the duty on the finished product. My hon. friend might ask: Would you advocate that? No, never. I hope I shall never be guilty of advocating such a policy as that. I would never advocate a policy that would increase the ordinary burdens of the people of this country at a time when they were bending their energies and spending every possible dollar in order to carry this country and this Empire through such terrible conditions as confront us to-day.

I would reduce the expenditures of this country and get down to something like decent, honest Government. I would get rid of the horde of unnecessary officials and of all the little armours that are being built at country cross roads in Ontario. I would get rid of all these things, and do business on business principles, and then it would not be necessary to increase the duty on the raw material or on the manufactured articles.

I would try my utmost to increase production in this country. I would not put on a duty to discourage those who are trying to raise products to the best of their power. I would not put a duty on fertilizers. My hon. friend may say, now you are talking shop, or something narrow. But let me tell my hon. friend that the duty on fertilizers is no small thing to the district I represent. Let me just give some figures. The total importation of fertilizers into the whole of Canada for the last fiscal year was valued at $602,148, and I have here a return from the Commissioner of Customs showing that of that amount, $118,000 was imported into my town of Woodstock in New Brunswick; that is, about one-fifth of the total importation into Canada went into my home town. I also find that $10,000 went to the town of Debec, only 12 miles away; and I see that St. John and St. Stephen took $50,000 more; so that almost $200,000, or nearly one-third of the total importation of fertilizers, went to the province of New Brunswick.

The first thing I would do would be to cut out that part of the tariff and reduce the cost of fertilizer. I want to do everything I can to induce people to produce two blades of grass where one was produced before, to produce two bushels of oats where one was produced before or to produce two bushels of wheat where one was produced before. I want to see the agricultural people of this country encouraged to produce more than they ever produced before. What this Empire needs is agricultural produce more than anything I know of. This Empire needs all the food products that it can possibly raise.

The next thing I would do is this; I would see that as far as possible these taxes were so adjusted that the rich man would pay his share and not put them on the shoulders of the poor man. These hon. gentlemen will tell you that this is not an ordinary fiscal policy, they will tell you that this is an emergency conditions of affairs, that the Empire is at war, and as the Prime Minister said today, it is the duty of this Government to keep at war until the war is finished. We agree with that. We tell the Finance Minister that if he wants to have more money than the ordinary revenues of the country will produce, it is his duty to place his request before the House and take a vote upon it. We say to him: bring down your vote for $100,000,000 and give us an opportunity of voting for it; we want to help you to carry on this war and we are anxious to know why you have not brought forward your vote of $100,000,000 because when you do we will vote for it; if $100,000,000 is not enough then make it $150,000,000 and we will vote for it just the same; we are not going to ask you questions as to how you are going to expend it; we will have to trust you to expend and when we come back later on, or next year, it may be our painful duty to criticize how you spent it as we have now to criticize how the money voted last session has been expended. In the meantime you can go on and spend it. But if the Minister of Finance says that he has to put additional burdens upon the shoulders of the people of this country let him not place those burdens on the backs of those least fit to bear them.

If the Finance Minister will take some of these ideas to heart and bring them into play by resolving them into legislation, he will make a greater name for himself than he will ever make by playing the game with the manufacturers of this country. He will put the people of Canada in a position to contribute to the funds of the Red Cross Society and to other patriotic funds instead of paying this increased taxation. He will enable them to make easier and more pleasant the life of the men who are fighting in the trenches and he will put Canada in a position to do her share to bring to a successful termination the greatest war which this Empire or the world has ever seen.

A COMP ARISON

Conservative attacks upon Mr. Carvell because he dared to submit a bill for his legal services during the Dugal inquiry are probably being made in the hope that sentiment may be created against him in the counties of Carleton and Victoria. But there is an obvious danger to the Conservatives' cause in those tactics as employed against Mr. Carvell for the elections of Carleton-Victoria will be led to compare the effort to trump up charges against Mr. Carvell with the real charges made and proved against Mr. Fleming, the choice of the Conservative machine for the federal seat.

What Mr. Carvell did was to expose the means by which Messrs. Fleming, Teed and Berry collected the famous fund from the lumbermen, and the manner in which Mr. Fleming held up railway contractors for some thousands of dollars. Mr. Carvell was not allowed to prove that the Fleming party got $100,000 of Valley railway funds for the elections of 1912, for inquiry in that direction was ruled out after a certain point had been reached. Mr. Gould was asked if he had paid Mr. Fleming any money and he replied significantly: "Not out of railway funds." Everybody knew what this limited denial meant.—Telegraph.

Beaufort Girl to Become a Nurse

Miss Claribel Scovil of Beaufort has gone to the Fisher Memorial Hospital to train as a nurse. Before leaving Miss Brooker, the teacher where she attended school, on behalf of friends, presented her with an ebony toilet set, accompanied by the following address:

I have been asked on behalf of the many young friends of Miss Claribel Scovil to present her with this small token of remembrance which I sincerely hope will cause her to often look back on the many happy days she has spent in Beaufort.

Miss Scovil has been a pupil in the Beaufort school since I have been here and has proved herself to be not merely a pupil but a student, and I feel sure that she will diligently pursue her new studies while training for a nurse, and will finally become a successful graduate of the Fisher Memorial Hospital at Woodstock.

While we hope Miss Scovil will make a success of her calling, we expect she will often meet with discouragements, but let her remember that:

"Heights by great men reached and kept,
Were not attained by sudden flight,
For they, while their companions slept,
Were toiling upward in the night."

Then it is with great pleasure and best regards for every success in her new duties that I present Miss Scovil with this.

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING

Cured by Toning the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves

It is the opinion of the best medical authorities, after long observation, that nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. Vital changes in the system, after long winter months, may cause much more trouble than the familiar spring weakness and weariness from which most people suffer as the result of indoor life, in poorly ventilated and often overheated buildings. Official records prove that in April and May neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy and other forms of nerve troubles are at their worst, and that then, more than any other time, a blood-making, nerve-restoring tonic is needed.

The antiquated custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening, while purgatives only gallop through the bowels, leaving you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine, for they actually make the new, rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves, and thus cure the many forms of nervous disorders. They cure also such other forms of spring troubles as headaches, poor appetite, weakness in the limbs, as well as remove unsightly pimples and eruptions. In fact they unfailingly bring new health and strength to weak, tired and depressed men, women and children.

Saving on Fertilizers

B. N. and C. M. Shaw were in town several days this week looking after the delivery of the initial consignment of a 100 ton order of raw fertilizer material purchased through the medium of the New Brunswick Farmers Union, to be home mixed at a saving of $12 to $15 per ton.

The secretary attempted to arrange for satisfactory co-operative buying of seed but was unable to accomplish anything definite simply because those directly interested were wilfully absent from the meetings and without the sanction of the purchasers themselves the secretary was unable to put a deal through. A saving has been effected on fertilizer as above, and the order should have been five times as large. The same could have been done on seeds with a little more interest among the farmers.

LETTERS FROM LT. SHAW

Bravely Hopeful He Writes His Mother at Victoria

Letters have been received from Lieut. W. B. Shaw, at the front, by his parents at Victoria under dates of Feb. 18 and 20 and March 7. The last was received just two weeks after it was written.

All the letters have been handed to the Observer for publication and it is the editor's regret that only one, the last, can be given this week. In the first two he relates interesting experiences as witness the following excerpts:

"At last I am at the firing line and the concussion of the heavy explosive shell is shaking the windows."

"In the village the people go about their daily routine as usual despite the rain of shell. Children playing in the streets duck as a shell shrieks by, then run to pick up shrapnel bullets and shell."

"I expected to be slightly nervous being in the range of fire but find myself almost indifferent. The buildings are shelled every day. How they escape is marvelous."

"I am very glad to be here." "Don't worry about me. To say I am not running risks would be foolish, but millions of men are doing the same."

A later letter says: "Have spent some time with the forward observing officer and have watched the effects of shells fired from our own guns. Saw several infantry men struck down. Yesterday forenoon I spent in the trenches, at one point only 125 yards from the enemy and had the pleasure of taking a shot at the enemy. The snipers of both sides constantly watch for a head to come in view. I was sniped at going and coming from the trenches."

Here is a letter of Mar. 7. In France, March 7. My Dearest Mother:

I have not had time to write you since coming up here. We are at the front with our battery in position and already have done considerable firing. I think we will be moved up closer so as to cover a longer range. Our own infantry are in front.

We left our billets last Sunday and our Brigade—a column about three miles long, started on its last move toward the front. It was an impressive march. On Monday I went up close to our trenches to observe and spent 4 days up there.

We have a very poor place to observe from and I was shelled out of a small house from which I was observing. I managed to get out O. K. The next day I was fired on by a machine gun (maxim) but they wasted ammunition for the second time. I am very interested in this game and have had quite a few thrills in the last week. Our infantry officer from Victoria (H. Boggs) a great friend has been killed, and another very intimate friend died from pneumonia. I feel I have already a heavy score to settle with the Germans. From now on my turn to go up and observe is 24 hours every 5 days. I do not mind it but enjoy it—presuming the shells do not come too close. Some days are quite quiet. The country close to the firing line is absolutely devastated, to say more is unnecessary. It is all you can imagine and more. I cannot seem to write tonight, as we are expecting the order to fire at any minute.

It is nearly 10 o'clock. The fire (which is a dandy) is burning low just at the moment. Out here is very comfortable, and we have good food just now with steaks, chicken, etc. The water is rotten so we drink light beer—oceans of it—6 cents per bottle.

Dear Mother, I cannot write as I would like to tonight. I am quite well and never more pleased with work, than I am here, and although we are of course in the firing line and getting a certain amount of risk, yet you really need not worry, so here's to the home coming, when our little game is finished in France. I would rather have had the interesting experiences, and seen what I have seen than live 60 years longer in dear old but quiet Canada.

I feel we are here for a long while, as this is a siege warfare, and not likely to be anything else for some time to come. Sooner or later we shall win and then the Germans have something to account for.

Good-bye and God bless you all. Your devoted and loving son

SEES GOOD TIMES COMING

St. John Wholesale Dealer Makes Trip Along the River and is Enthusiastic

The Observer on Monday enjoyed a call from Harold W. Rising of the well known footwear concern of Waterbury & Rising, St. John. Mr. Rising has visited every town and village between Edmundston and Woodstock on this, his first trip along the Upper St. John Valley. It is a pleasure to meet him and his St. John friends will be refreshingly entertained by his rehearsal of business as he saw them.

"That the war is hurting or will hurt us is a myth, a scare pure and simple" said Mr. Rising. "Immediately the war broke out we, in common with all others felt the shock, but with the confidence which has characterized Canadians everywhere we kept pushing forward. With us business under the changed conditions began to pick up, all through the winter it has been good, while March is our best month in many years. We find payments and collections as good if not better than last year."

Mr. Rising is highly enthusiastic over this northern section and wants to make another trip in the summer. He was cheered by the hopeful optimism exhibited by merchants and all the people he met, and said it was now an accepted fact among all that the war instead of depressing business was creating good times for all New Brunswick.

Last evening the United Baptists of Waterville met and decided to form a new group of churches including besides Waterville, Avondale and Charles-ton, and later Lakeville. Pastor E. C. Jenkins has decided to accept the urgent and unanimous call of these churches to remain with them another year. This he has decided to do, foregoing the call to Nova Scotia.

St. JEROME, N.B., Jan. 27th, 1914.
"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of 'Fruit-a-lives'. I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-lives'."

Mrs. Everett London

The home of Everett London of Easton on March 2 was made extremely sad by the death of his beloved wife Della Pearl at the age of 21 years, seven months and 16 days.

Mrs. London was the daughter of the late Finley Cogswell, and had not enjoyed good health for some time, yet put up a brave fight for life, spending five months at the sanatorium at Hebron.

The deceased in March, 1914, made a profession of faith in Christ, on the 29th day of the same month followed her Lord in the solemn ordinance of baptism at Plaster Rock, N. B., remaining an ardent follower of Christ ever since, and carrying with her that influence which led the many she came in touch with to believe that she "had been with Jesus." Being a sweet singer, Eternity alone will reveal the work she did for her Lord through the power of song, in the short time she had the privilege of working in his vineyard.

While her married life was of only two years and six months duration, her Christian life was even shorter, being a few days less than one year. How loudly this speaks to the living that we should use the days as they come and go to the honor and glory of God.

Mrs. London leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, a mother, Mrs. James Kiggins, one sister, Louise, two brothers, Alva and Charles, with a large number of near relatives. Also a large circle of friends in both New Brunswick and Maine.

The funeral service was held in the Free Baptist church, Spragues Mills, Rev. Archibald Hatfield of Plaster Rock conducting the service, assisted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Clark. The text was James 4:14. The choir consisted of Mrs. Roy White, organist, Mrs. Eldin White, Mrs. Roy Kneeland, Selton Wheeler and Charles Flewelling.

Friends of the deceased wish to express their appreciation to Dora Stanchfield for the efficient manner in which he acted as funeral director.

May each one who mourns the loss of the departed one be willing to say "Thy will be done, not mine." She cannot come to us, but we can go to her. Glory be to him who has conquered every foe.

TAKE OFF DANDELION, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandelion right now. Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scourge.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandelion tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandelion from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandelion. Save your hair! Try it.

The March to the Battlefield, or Canada's Men on the Way

The above is the title given to a picture that will for many years to come be a highly prized treasure.

It is a photographic reproduction showing the 32,000 men of Canada's first contingent breaking camp and on the march to join the Continental forces. It shows miles and miles of the white tents and the marching men. It is a most inspiring sight. The size is 20 x 46 inches, all ready for framing. This picture is sure to be a popular souvenir of the war as far as Canada is concerned, and will be in great demand. It is owned by The Family Herald, of Montreal and Weekly Star, of Montreal, and a copy is being presented to all subscribers to that great national weekly newspaper, The Family Herald, Montreal, whose subscription of one dollar a year is received from this date for a limited period.

Mogul Oil Engines

The International Harvester Mogul Oil Engine is the latest development in internal combustion engine of throttle governor type, an engine that will run on either kerosene oil or gasoline. The feature here is a great advantage over the ordinary gasoline engine. Furthermore, kerosene has greater explosive power, at considerably less cost and much less danger in handling. The Mogul Engine is constructed with enclosed crank case and mechanically operated valves and has automatic force feed oiler on a H. P. pump. This engine is made in sizes from 1 to 60 horse power, equipped with magneto at the factory. Every Mogul Engine will develop 20% more than its rated horse-power before it leaves the factory. The 1 1/2 H. P. is absolutely frost proof and does not have to be drained off even in the coldest weather. For further information or catalogues apply to the nearest McCormick local agent. POTATO SHIPPERS DISCUSS SITUATION

On Saturday afternoon the N. B. Potato Shippers' Association met at the Fisher Agricultural School Building, Woodstock, to discuss with Dr. Gussow, the Dominion Botanist, matters connected with the inspection of potatoes.

Dr. Gussow was first called and he told of the reported finding of powdery scab on a car of potatoes recently sent from Carleton Co. to Boston by a U. S. Inspector who reported that after searching for seven hours he had found two potatoes affected.

This had been sufficient excuse for the withdrawal of important permits by the U. S. authorities. The Canadian inspector who was sent to examine the car could not find any indication of powdery scab. However, there did not seem to be anything to be done to have the embargo lifted, although consumers were glad to get N. B. stock and actually gave it a preference of about 5c per bushel.

There was also some danger of trouble in the west in regard to N. B. stock as Ontario dealers were jealous of orders coming to N. B. Dr. Gussow then presented a number of questions for discussion by the meeting and it was decided by vote—

(1) That all first grade stock should be shipped in bags, which had never before been used for potatoes;

(2) That it was not necessary to tag each individual bag of table stock potatoes when such were shipped bagged;

(3) That it is not desirable after the present season to accept returned empties;

(4) As to whether all potatoes for shipment should be inspected or not there was a division of opinion.

The chairman, Messrs. Porter, Ridsout, Gallagher and Clarke were emphatic that it was very desirable that all potatoes should be inspected and brought up to the standard of quality satisfactory to the Government; while Messrs. Nodden and Phillips were not favorable to this. Mr. Nodden did not consider powdery scab at all serious and believed that in a year or two it would all be forgotten. He had had extended opportunity to see potatoes that were produced in various parts of Canada and the U. S. and in his opinion N. B. potatoes were able to lead them all in quality. The quality of our potatoes was better than years ago and they were also more free from disease.

Guy Porter argued at some length for the need of establishing a standard and having Government inspectors to see that this standard of quality was lived up to.

Dr. Gussow pointed out the great difficulty there would be in making a standard to suit all markets and said the grading of potatoes did not properly fall under the work of the department.

Mr. Daggett said that undoubtedly general inspection would be a good thing if it could be had but such an army of inspectors would be required he did not believe any government would undertake to be responsible for it. Mr. Smith suggested that they would be paid by the shippers. Continuing, Mr. Daggett spoke of the many complaints he had received from the trade in England upon the quality of the New Brunswick potatoes sent there as a gift from the New Brunswick Government and said if only transportation could be arranged there was now in Europe a demand for all the potatoes we had to sell. He had nothing at present to say about providing for such but the Provincial Department was studying the whole question and later on he hoped would be able to take some action that would help to clean up the present situation.

NEW BRUNSWICK POTATOES

From a circular issued by a local firm The Observer quotes the following information concerning the succulent spud:

IRISH COBBLERS: This is a popular potato, and deservedly so. It is very fine looking, with flesh and skin pure white, being nearly round in shape, eyes slightly indented, bright, clean, white stock. The tubers are very hardy, and will keep well until spring. It is just as early as the Early Ohio and a far better yielder and although a few years on the market the demand has always exceeded the supply. Its chief merits are ripening qualities, enormous productiveness, and strong vigorous growth. In our opinion, no praise is too high for its merits as an early table potato.

NEW SNOW: This is a handsome potato, shape ideal, strong healthy grower, roundish oblong and are smooth with very shallow eyes, good size. These potatoes are noted for their yield per acre. We have harvested as high as 600 bushels from one acre of land with reasonable cultivation given. The bugs kept down it will yield enormously. As for a table potato they cannot be beaten having delicious floury white appearance when cooked.

COMMINS' PRIDE: This is a popular potato and another great yielder, roundish and oblong, something like the Delaware, flesh perfectly white, very dry and floury when cooked.

GREEN MOUNTAINS: The Green Mountains are noted for their smooth appearance and their table qualities, and this is the most important part of the story, for no matter how good it is in other respects, if it was a failure for table use, we would never have introduced it to our customers. But right here let us state that there is no potato grown to-day in the Dominion of Canada that is in more demand than the Green Mountain.

From the time it is large enough to use it is the same floury white, dry, sweet, nutritious article, and is the crowning glory of every dinner table. This is the ideal variety, equal to any emergency for every day use. The tubers are roundish oblong and are smooth with very shallow eyes, flesh perfectly white, free from red spots.

It is to be regretted that a lot of potatoes grown in other provinces than New Brunswick are being sold as N. B. Green Mountains because of the Mountains having such a good reputation. Dealers can guard against this by placing their orders with the growers and shippers who are specialists in the potato business and never send out potatoes that cannot be guaranteed to land at destination in first class shape.

As for climate we have the finest in New Brunswick for growing potatoes. It is THE POTATO COUNTRY. The land is gently sloping for miles along the borders of the St. John river, the ground is always high and dry, and the soil is a sandy loam. Potatoes grown on this land are the smoothest, finest and cleanest ever placed on the market.

Every bag of potatoes is put over a screen, and is examined by a Dominion Government inspector before shipment is made, and certificates attached to each bag, showing same to be perfectly sound and free from disease.

We will be pleased to give you our quotations on a straight or assorted car. The minimum car load for the west is 450 bags, all potatoes packed into well sewed clean, uniform ninety pound bags.

We want to get into touch with every potato dealer in Western Canada, that being the object of this circular. We feel sure it will be to your advantage, when in the market for potatoes, to get in touch with shippers who have their warehouses situated in the potato growing section and who always are on the job with the lowest possible price for the day.

What Mothers Say of Baby's Own Tablets

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use no other medicine. She quickly realizes the Tablets are an absolutely safe remedy and one that will give sure results. Concerning them Mrs. R. L. Wright, Pennabit, Sask. writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my three babies and think so much of them that I always keep them in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
