Dantsic, northeastern Prussia. A Fiery Speech in the French

Chamber. PARIS, July 17 .- The floors and galleries of the Chamber of Deputies were crowded today when Pourquery De Boisserin, Radical Republican, ascended the tribune to speak against the Government's anti-Anarchist Bill. The bill, he declared, was a retrograde measure, and more tyrannical in its provisions than any law enacted under the monarchy or empire. He denounced the parties of the Right and Center and the Socialists, the former for their connection with the Panama canal scandals and the Socialists for their teachings, and declared that all of them had contributed to the spread of the spirit of anarchy. The speaker's remarks elicited a storm of protests and denials. Pourquery De Boisserin declared the Republican Government had neglected to introduce and advocate legislation favorable to the masses. He concluded by heaping reproaches upon the Dupuy Ministry. At the conclusion of the speech the uproar in the Chamber was prolonged. M. Brisson (Radical) stigmatized the bill as a reactionary measure. It was not a Draconic law that was necessary, but it was rather a more thorough and effective system that was needed. With this improvement the existing laws would abundantly suffice. (Radical cheers.)

British Parliament. today Lord Salisbury formally moved the second reading of the Alien Immigrants neglect on the part of the Ministry, he declared, that the alien question had not been touched. When Lord Salisbury was in power the case agaidst alien immigrants was infinitely stronger than it is now, as immigration was much greater, yet the Conservative Ministers then opposed any special legislation on the ground that aliens were few, and that the right of asylum in England ought to be upheld. Lord Rosebery quoted copiously from statistics showing that immigration was now at a lower point than it had reached in many years. The bill, he said, had not the slightest chance of becoming a law, and it was therefore a waste of time to put it through the House of Lords. On the authority of the Home Office he could deny the allegation that any plot against a foreign Government or an official of a foreign Government had been hatched in England since the present Ministry came into power. He advised Lord Salisbury by all means to drop the measure.

Lord Salisbury expressed regret at the Government's refusal to support the bill which was necessary legislation in the direction of protecting the workingmen against the competition of low-priced labor and also as a preventive of England's becoming a permanent asylum for Anarchist

A division was taken and the bill passed its second reading, 89 to 37.

In the House of Commons Sir Wm. Hargramme of the Government for the remainder of the session.

A motion made by Sir John Lubbock to reject the budget bill was lost by a vote of On Sir William Harcourt's motion the SENSATIONAL CLIMAX. CHICAGO, Ill., July 17 .- There was a sensational climax late this afternoon to the troubles that have disturbed railroad circles during the past three weeks, when refugees. He declined to withdraw the President E. V. Debs, of the American Railway Union, and his cabinet, Vice-President Geo. W. Roward, General Secretary Sylvester Keliher and L. W. Rogers, chairman of the executive committee, were court announced that to-morrow he would taken to the county jail and incarcerated make a statement of the Parliamentary pro- as prisoners of the United States for violation of the injunction issued July 2 by Judges Woods and Grosscup, restraining them from combining and conspiring to hinder in the State commerce, traffic or the movement of the United States mails. The imprisonment of the chiefs of the railway union was not in any sense an arbitrary proceeding. An opportunity was afforded the defendants of presenting bonds for their appearance in court a week hence. This proposition, however, was rejected on the ground as emphasized by President Debs after the court had rendered its ultimatum that the principle involved was one entirely too serious in its nature to admit of the defendants availing themselves of any technicalities that might be regarded as loopholes. Bondsmen offered aid to the union leaders, but their overtures were declined and the prisoners suffered themselves to be taken to jail and locked up. Unless in the meantime they should tire of incarceration, they will remain until Monday morning of next week. In support of the contention of the Government that defendants violated the court's injunction . several scores of telegrams, which had been secured from a telegraph company under a ruling of the court, were cited. These are specimens of the whole:

"To Court Head, South Butte, Mont .paralysis will follow."

"Potatoes and ice are out of sight. Save your money and buy a gun. E. V. DEDS." "To W. F. Smith, Grand Junction, Col. -It will take more than injunctions to mission was refused. move trains. Get everybody out. We are gaining ground everywhere. E. V. DEBS." Only a few of these dispatches had been of the injunction.

At 4:30 Marshal Arnold escorted the prisoners to an open carriage, in which they were driven to the county jail. On their arrival at the jail the prisoners were Cheyenne and Rawlins are very bitter courteously received. The marshal did against the men who have taken their the introductory honors, and the prisoners | places. shock hands cordially with their new custodian. No feature of jail methods was, however, relaxed in their behalf. On the demand of the turnkeys they held up their hands and submitted to a search. They were deprived of all their valuables and then led to cells in the debtors' depart-

CAST IRON CONDITIONS. SAN FRANCISCO, July 17 .- Each applicant for re-employment with the Southern Pacific Railway Company is required to sign a promise that he will sever his connection with the A. R. U.; that he will not join a labor organization during his employment by the company, and that he will not become a member of any brotherhood or union for five years.

A REIGN OF TERROR. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 17 .- A second battle was fought at slope No. 4 of the Pratt mines simultaneously with that at No. 3, and the total number of dead reaches six, with at least a score wounded.

Forty-two alleged miners were jailed this morning on a charge of murder; 50 more will be arrested. A monster citizens' indignation meeting is being held here now, and as the excitement is intense further trouble is feared. Military companies are arriving from various parts. Last night 700 troops were here.

Several attempts were made during the night to burn lroad cars in the yards here, but they were unsuccessful. An attempt was made to wreck the Louisville and Nashville passenger train, No. 4, by breaking a switch. A reign of terror prevails.

Two more were added to the number of victims of the casualty at slope No. 3 by finding this morning the dead bodies of a Mountain, and many of the buildings are Frenchman and a colored man. The former was one of attacking force and the latter a miner. The mines and railroad shops are guarded tonight by soldiers, with a heavy reserve in camp.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 18, 1894. Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, got back from Chicago today. He eays if there is any coldness or quarrel between him and Debs he (Gompers) does not know of it. President Gompers says Debs'assertion that the strike is still on is true, and there will doubtless be more men who will go out in support of Debs and his strikers. They will be workmen, however, contiguous to localities already affected, and in trades in some way connected with the railroads or that the railroads are dependent upon. Mr. Gompers said the Federation intended to do all in its power to assist the American Railway Union in a moral way. There would be no pro rata financial assessment to give assistance to them, but the unions have generally given voluntary financial aid.

M. C. R. AND A. R. U. President H. B. Ledyard denies the statement of the strikers that the Michigan Central road is discharging those members of the A. R. U. who stayed by the company during the strike. "I don't know whether we are refusing to take back any strikers or not," said he vesterday. ### SPIRIT VS. SPECTATOR.

Lively Wrestling Scene at a Seance in Bradford, Pa. BRADFORD, Pa., July 17 .- Local spiritists are all torn up over an exposure made by one of their number at a seance at the house of James Campbell, on Congress Place in this city. The exposure was made Sunday night. About 30 members of the local spiritist circle attended the seance and paid $1 each for the privilege of conversing with the deceased individuals who were to come to earth through the influence of Medium Orens Steven's.

The room was darkened, and at the proper time a tail, white figure appeared at the cabinet opening. The white spirit made a speech and disappeared. Then a baseball ghost, who said he had been killed in a hot game in Tennessee some years ago, appeared and jumped about the room, showing how he threw his curves. The phenomenal pitcher gave a specimen of his style in the presence of W. L. Dudley, a spectator. Dudley clutched the ghost and found it to be a very active individual still in the flesh. Dudley is a muscular man, but the spirit kept him hustling. Finally the spirit put a strangle hold on the investigator and got back to his cabinet. Great confusion followed, and in the excitement Stevens reappeared and said he was a Southern gentleman and could lick the man that had grabbed him. He thus acknowledged that he had impersonated the ghost of the ball-player, and still there were believers present who joined him in denonucing Dudley. Peace was finally restored and the next day the medium left town. Dudley will have him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses if he returns to this place. Stevens came here last fall from Indianapolis, and has lived in clover since. He is a Lily Dale star, and will probably appear there in his specialties during the summer.

Destructive Apple Tree Blight,

MOUNT MORRIS, N. Y., July 17 .- A new and as yet unexplainable blight has struck the apple orchards of Wyoming and adjacent counties, which threatens the total destruction of the crop. The apple crop is worth $1,000,000 a year to the farmers of this part of the State. At the opening of the season its prospects were never brighter. Within two weeks a blight has spread over the orchards, causing the leaves to shrivel and turn yellow, and the young apples to fall to the ground. One farmer alone in this vicinity says his annual crop, in average seasons, of 1,000 barrels of apples is lying on the ground, the fruit having grown to about the size of cherries. Similar reports come from all parts of the apple district. This blight never appeared in western New York before. It is not the result of any worm or

Masonic Grand Lodge.

Today's Opening of the Supreme Body in Hamilton.

Grand Master the Hon. J. M. Gibson on the State of the Order.

The Ancient Organization Prospering and Progressing.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) Hamilton, July 18 .- The 39th annual communication of the Grand Lodge, A., F. and A. M. of Canada, in the Province of Ontario, opened at high noon today in the court house here, Most Wor. Hon. J. M. Gibson, grand master, in the East. Between 600 and 700 brethren from all parts of the jurisdiction were in attendance. After the usual preliminaries the grand master delivered his annual address, which was of an interesting nature. The grand master said that "there have been no burning questions to become excited over; our domestic and foreign relationships have been peaceful and harmonious; our business affairs have been prospering; and while in no particular respect have we been, so to speak, setting the world on fire, in all respects we have abundant reason for satisfaction and thankfulness." Corner stones have been laid by the Grand Lodge as follows: Of St. James' (Anglican) Church, Morrisburg; of public school, at Palmerston, on Aug. 11, and of Methodist Church at Pottawa

Creek, at Mattawa. DEDICATIONS. Grand Lodge dedicated the following lodge rooms: At East Toronto, for Acacia Lodge, No. 430; at Stratford, wherethe grand master had a splendid reception, new lodge room and apartments for Tecumseh Lodge, No. 144, and Stratford Lodge, No. 332; at Milton, lodge room for St. Clair Lodge, No. 135; at Port Elgin, lodge room for Port Elgin Lodge; at Hespeler, lodge room for New Hope Lodge; at Eden Grove, lodge room for Moravian Lodge, No. 430; at Port Perry, Fidelity Lodge, No. 428. "It is," says the grand master, "gratifying to observe the continuance of a disposition on the part of our lodges to secure more attractive and comfortable rooms."

VISITATIONS. The grand master refers in detail to his visitation to lodges in various central localitits. Of his visit to London he says: "In response to repeated invitations, I visited the London brethren on Feb. 6 last, and was received by an immensely large gathering of the fraternity. A flattering address was presented and every courtesy and attention paid me which the extreme of thoughtfulness could suggest. After the conclusion of the proceedings in the lodge room a very enjoyable concert and ball were participated in by the brethren and their lady friends."

MASONIC CONGRESS . in the ritualistic portion of which there has Pursuant to the resolution adopted year ago, authorizing the representation of this Grand Lodge at the Fraternal Congress of Masons to be held at Chicago, I deemed it my duty so to regulate my engagements that I might be able to attend on this important occasion, and was fortunate enough to be accompanied by Past Grand Master principles shall characterize the everyday Kerr, who very ably assisted in the representation of this jurisdiction. R. W. Bro. James McLauchlan, P.G.S.W., and V. W. Bro. R. McKnight, of Owen Sound, who gratitude which I am not able adequately to were present at Chicago at the time, were express. But while, as I pass from the

and attended the meetings.

The congress assembled on Aug. 14 in the consistory rooms of the Scottish Rite, on the eighteenth floor of the great assured brethren, my appreciation of your Masonic Temple. Thirty-six grand jurisdictions were represented. M. W. Bro. Monroe C. Crawford, grand master of Illinois, was by acclamation elected president of the congress, and presided over its deliberations with marked ability, while $18,991 15, and the expenditure $16,478 26. your grand master was honored by unanimous election as one of the vice-presidents. The following are the conclusions as adopted: 1. Grand Lodge Sovereignty .- The conclusion of the congress is that a grand lodge duly organized in a State or other autonomous territory is rightfully possessed of absolute Masonic sovereignty therein. 2. A Plea for Improved Proceedings .-

The conclusion of the congress is that the formation of Masonic libraries should be encouraged and fostered, and inasmuch as the published proceedings of our grand lodges and other Masonic bodies do and ever will constitute the larger part of such libraries, greater care and more pains should be bestowed upon the preparation and publication of such proceedings, to the end that they may have greater value in every Masonic collection, and that there should be a freer and more generous distribution of proceedings among the brethren, to the end that Masonic light may be more generally diffused. 3. Grand Representatives .- It is the conclusion of the congress that under the changed condition of selecting grand representatives too little time has elapsed to give opportunity for definite judgment as to the usefulness of the system, and it should therefore be continued. 4. The Prerogatives of Grand Master .-It is the conclusion of the congress that the dispensing power recognized by the old regulations as residing in the person and office of grand master, has been so generally exercised by that officer from the organization of Masonry on the Grand Lodge system down to the present time that its existence cannot successfully be denied, but that there are no dispensing powers so residing that may not be limited or wholly denied by the Grand Lodge, save such as inhere in that office under the sanctions of the ancient landmarks. 5. The Ancient Landmarks. - The conclusion of the congress is that the ancient landmarks are those fundamental principles which characterize Masonry as defined by the charges of a Freemason, and without which the institution cannot be identified as Masonry, combined with the essentials of the unwritten language by which brethren distinguish each other as Masons. 6. The Creed of a Mason .- An unequivocal belief and trust in God is the fundamental principle upon which the institution of Freemasonry was founded and must forever rest. 7. Appeals for Aid .- The conclusion of the congress is that worthy Masons are entitled to relief from brethren and lodges wheresoever they may be found in need of relief, and that the brethren of lodges granting such aid are not entitled to demand reimbursement from the lodges in which they hold their membership, but that when a member of one lodge is relieved by another, and the financial situation of his lodge is such as to permit, common courtesy and duty alike demand that it should reimburse a poorer lodge relieving its members. Written or printed appeals for aid which do not secure the indorsement of the grand master of the jurisdiction from which they emanate should be dis-countenanced. 8. Non-Affiliates. - The conclusion of the congress is, that every Mason ought to be a member of some regular lodge, attend its meetings and share its burdens.

The foregoing conclusions have, of course, no binding effect upon the jurisdictions represented, but are simply the opinions of the congress as formulated on the subjects discussed.

It will be observed by reference to the grand secretary's report, that a very considerable number of lodge bylaws and amendments of bylaws were submitted to me during the year for approval. The petition was indorsed by Saugeen Lodge, No. 187, of Walkerton, and recommended by the D.D.G.M. ALL EUROPE READY FOR WAR.

The Great Nations Prepared for a Declaration of Hostilities. After the dreadful Franco-German war of 1870-1871 the principle of prolonged military service and of diminished annual contingents were given up, says McClure's Magazine. The monstrous principle of universal service was adopted instead. By this principle the whole nation is under arms. A country is no longer a country, a people is no longer a people; a nation is now nothing but an army, and a country is only a barrack. Everybody wears the uniform. Everybody is sur le qui vive. If war breaks out today all prefessions become deserted, all functions abandoned; the life of the nation stops so that national activity may be said to begin again only with the blood that is shed. Moreover, before two hostile armies, that is, two nations which are enemies, join in combat, each of the two armies, that is, each of the two infinite hordes which traverse their several countries to meet eventually on the field of battle, will leave behind it a country in famine, its factories silent and its trade paralyzed. Again, enormous stocks of food supplies must be accumulated on the frontiers where the two armies are likely to meet; but before reaching these inexhaustible magazines the armies must be fed while crossing their own territories, and that requires money. So that before even the first gun is fired each army will have expended enormous sums and left in its train towns and villages stripped of men and beasts, the cities in famine, the country without a single tiller of the field.

They take different means and methods, but arrive at the same conclusion to make men better and happier. So do Stark's Powders. ### COL. O'BRIEN KICKS.

Though a Conservative He Cannot Indorse the Dominion Government.

His Sweeping Exposure of the Wrong-Doing at Ottawa.

Belwood, Center Wellington, July 17 .-At a public gathering in this place today Col. O'Brien, M. P. for Muskoka, spoke. He met with a good reception. He spoke as a Conservative born and bred, he said, who in acting in accordance with the principles of Conservatism could not follow the party under the present leaders. He would take the present session of Parliament as an epitome of every political sin that a country can commit, he said. First, there was the trade question. He had supported the N.P., but the moment the protected industries began to combine, the protection on those industries offending should be cut off. Yet today there is not one important protected industry which is not the subject of a combine, and the country is governed not by the voters, nor the farmers, but by the combinesters. The rice duty is a good instance. Col. O'Brien said, and he gave particulars how to satisfy the owners of three rice-cleaning mills, occupying 50 hands, the duty, at first reduced, has been brought up to its old figure of 11 cents per pound. Mr. Foster had not been man enough to stick to his reductions. It was childish to say that the tariff is in the interests of the farming community. Col. O'Brien then took up the subject of corruption, and animadverted severely upon the proposal to pay $750,000 a year for a fast Atlantic line. It would not benefit the farmers at all to shorten the nearly all run at an actual loss. Over the French treaty $150,000 would be lost in revenue, and $100,000 is given to the Pacific service, so that $1,000,000 would be spent every year on these subjects. The country should be willing to pay money into good investments, but these would only benefit the few, not the many. The condition of the cattle trade was another point upon which the Government deservdetailed how, to secure certain advantages in the way of landing Canadian cattle alive, certain undertakings had been contracted by the Dominion Government, as to rigidinspection of United States cattle coming into Canada, the sending of inspectors with the trains, etc. Everyone of these solemn undertakings the Dominion told how the cattle had been inspected by lantern light in the cars, and how railway conductors had been appointed train overseers. This was now known to the Imperial Government, which would hardly trust the Canadian Government again, and it was the height of impudence for the Government and its papers to accuse the men who exposed the deceit with dis-

Mr. Haggart was Intercolonial, but his investigations led bridge affair was such an exposure of Ministerial incapacity as cannot be found elsewhere. Col. O'Brien then forcibly detailed the frauds in connection with the bridges, even to the paying of men to steal the Linbers, and said that he did not charge Mr. Haggart with dishonesty, but that he would take the first man in the audience, put him in Mr. Haggart's place, and he would not lose much. As Told by Conductor L. Christie, an Eye-Witness of the Disaster.

MONTREAL, July 17 .- L. Christie, Pullman car conductor on the Montreal G. T. R. express, which was wrecked at Battle Creek early yesterday morning, passed through this city this morning en route for Ottawa, his home. He himself is uninjured, and he tells a thrilling story of the wrecking.

"I was passing from the rear Pullman to the one in front," he said, "when just as I opened the door of the rear car I saw the vestibules fall in. I knew then that there was a runoff, or something of the kind, and ran back, jumping from the rear platform.

SERIOUS ACCUSATIONS AND THEIR DISPOSAL.

Mr. Tarte, M.P., on his responsibility as member of the House of Commons, made several serious charges against Quebec judges. He was challenged to do so by his political opponents, who professed to be anxious that there should be an investigation.

Sir John Thompson nominates himself judge and jury at the same time, and refuses all investigation, on the grounds that in bringing voters back from the United the judges deny the truthfulness of the not definite enough, anyway.

The accusations were not even sent to Col. Lazier so that he could make a defense. Mr. Patterson, Minister of Militia, confessed that he had dismissed Col. Lazier on these grounds without trial and without calling for any explanation! Mark the difference of the treatment of the Quebec friends of Sir John Thompson and of this old servant of Canada.

Sir John Thompson refuses all investigation into the charges of wrong-doing against these judges, just as he at one time refused investigation into most serious accusations brought against an Ontario judge who had interfered with the course of justice to save a seat for a member of his Cabinet. In thus refusing inquiry, which would bring discredit on the ascuser if his charges were, as is contended by the government, ill-founded, Sir John Thompson does a very poor service to the judges attacked. He should have afforded ample opportunity for investigation.

But if the conduct of the Government in regard to these charges is censurable, what shall be said of their diametrically opposite course in the case of Col. Lazier? He was dismissed in disgrace, Mr. Patterson, Minister of Militia, says, without a trial, without even being informed of the charges lodged against him. Is this British jus-

THE INQUISITION WILL CONTINUE | JOSEPH Sir John Thompson has resolved to drop the bill for the revision of the Deminion

Franchise Act, with the exception of the section providing for the changing of the lists to meet the needs of the constituencies re-arranged by the last Gerrymander Act. This decision is to be regretted. We had hoped that a sense of common justice and a desire to reduce the expenditure of time and labor to the community would move the Dominion authorities to forego the anomalous measure which has for eight years governed Dominion elections. We have proved that it is in the public interest for the Dominion Government either to totally repeal its Franchise Act, or to amend it so as to provide for the adoption of the "one man one vote principle," and for the registration on the eve of an election of the manhood suffrage voters. The Dominion Franchise Act was forced on the country in 1885, despite the fact that it was not petitioned for by one representative body in any portion of the community. It was alleged that the measure would give us better lists than those provided by the municipal officers free of cost. But, though the operation of the Franchise Act has 000, and the political parties about an equal sum, it is conceded on all hands that the lists compiled under its provisions have been far less fair, complete and satisfactory than those formerly provided by the non-partisan municipal

A Government desirous of practicing economy, and of providing for fair lists, would have passed a radical measure of reform; and the Conservative leader did bring in a measure that would have been a decided improvement on the existing law, but he seems to be powerless to resist the influences that demand the continuance of the present inefficient measure, with all its expensive and unfair attachments. The public, then, is doomed not to have equality of voting power in the Dominion elections. The voters' lists are still to cost the country an enormous sum every time they are revised. When they are made up they will be, as hitherto, far from complete. Loopholes for partisan officials to crawl through will remain. The democratic principle of "one man one vote" is denied the people. The foreign vote will still rule in all close elections, and the political party that spends the most money States will be successful. The young men accusations, that he does not believe there who stick by Canada will find that they are is any truth in them, and that they are without votes, while those who have deserted the Dominion will, under this law, Col. While a poor man's son is thus treated, the rich property owner can have his son's name put on the list without question, though he may be a cigarette smoking dude, who has never done an honest day's work in his life. If the independent electors of Canada tolerate the continuance of such a system moment longer than they can find opportunity to put in power a Government that will sweep from the statute book this iniquitous measure and put in its place a simp'e statute like that now in force in Ontario elections, we shall lose faith in our fellow-countrymen. SOC'AL PROBLEMS AND THE CHURCH.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur Crafts has recently written a thoughtful paper regarding the position of the Church to the great social reforms of today in which he points out that while the Church, as an organization, may not be taking that decided stand regarding needed reforms that it should, these reforms are almost entirely carried on by members of the various Churches. He says: "There is Christian unity, on a small scale, in social reform where there ought to be church union on a larger scale for the world's sake and for the Church's sake."

His conclusion, which is no doubt correct, is that, "The real difficulty seems to be not so much lack of sympathy with social reforms, as failure to adjust ancient Church creeds and discipline to the new social conditions of our times. The chief denominations were organized in the age of individualism, before the age of cities and of social solidarity, when environment did not need to be converted as well as character. It should also be noted that the Churches mostly originated in doctrinal controversies, before Christian ethics had been fully developed, when liquous or lotteries were neither of them ethically heterodox, when Sunday trains, Sunday mails and Sunday papers were unknown." He thinks that now denominational conferences should hasten to adjust their creeds to the new developments of Christian ethics, and whether they can agree on standards of doctrine or not, there should be substantial agreement regarding the right position of the Church in moral and must be changed if this country, with its social reforms, so that the world shall receive all the advantages of such united intunities, is to prosper as it ought to fluences and co-operation. In Canada our leading Churches are becoming more and more outspoken and aggressive in these -Toronto Telegram: Toronto is Mr. matters, and it is a needful sign of the I results are everywhere apparent.

WANTS TO GET OUT OF THE WET.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, M.P., the eader of the Dissident Liberals in the British House of Commons, is weakening. He knows he has no future as a leader in the Conservative party, to the tail of whose kite he has been attached since he ceased to co-operate with the Liberal leaders. He, therefore, counsels his friends to get ready to re-enter the Liberal ranks. This is significant indication of the trend of events in Great Britain. We beg to prophesy that before five years have elapsed, there will be no Liberal "Unionist" party. The unnatural alliance between Mr. Chamberlain and the Conservatives will soon cease. Those Liberals whose predilections will not permit them to be absorbed in the Conservative ranks must find a new field for their exertion. As they have almost everything in common with the historic Liberal party, it is natural that their leader should yearn to get back into the fold. Birmingham's Joe has a long head. He knows the strength of Liberalism, and he apparently has faith in its future Lord Rosebery is making better headway than cost the taxpayers directly over $1,000,- either friends or enemies believed to be possible. Mr. Chamberlain's advice is tribute to the stability of the Liberal party in spite of the troubles which it has had to encounter. It will be interesting to hear what the Liberal leaders have to say in response to Mr. Chamberlain's olive branch. officers, while the gravest of scandals,

A FARMER'S TERRIBLE DEATH.

Kicked in the Head by a Horse and Then Mangled with a Mower. FOREST, Ont., July 17 .- Yesterday forenoon a young man named Thomas Freel, eldest son of James Freel, Forest, who was working on the farm of Wm. Knapp, four miles from town, met a terrible death. He was driving a mower, and while oiling the machine was kicked in the head by one of the horses. The team ran away and he was dragged under the mower and terribly mangled. Mr. Stewart Pays a Visit to Pictou-Congratulated by His Many Friends on His Restoration to Health.

PICTOU, N. S., July 16.-Good news cometimes travels as fast as bad news, which is proverbially fast. Many people here knew that Mr. Allan Stewart, of Springton, P. E. I., had been for many years afflicted with kidney disease and gravel. It was known, too, that last year he was so bad that public opinion put him down as likely to die soon. Mr. Stewart fooled pub-Dodd's Kidney Pills, and ten boxes of them competely cured him. When he paid a flying visit to this city a few days ago he received many hearty congratulations on his restoration to health and improved appearance. Dodd's Kidney Pills have never yet failed to cure in this part of the Dominion.

Going to See "The Calf."

BROOKLIN, July 17 .- The Brooklin football club send a team to Guelph Wednesday to play a friendly game with Berlin at 2:30. The South Ontario Farmers' Institute is running an excursion to the Model Farm that day, and nearly all the county intend taking a holiday to see the notorious calf of election fame.

Sprained Her Tongue. WINSTED, Conn., July 17 .- Mrs. J. J Taylor, of Waterbury, came here to visit her parents a month ago and sprained her tongue during a fit of laughter. She thought little of the matter until a few days ago, when her tongue began to swell. Some of New York's best physicians have treated her in vain. She has been unable to eat for the past three days.

WHY I INSURE, AND WHERE-

Because the moment my life is insured my estate is worth fully the amount of my policy in addition to its previous value. Because a policy of insurance on my life will give me the composure and freedom from solicitude which in sickness contributes to recovery and thereby lengthens

Because, if I owned a house, the value of which was $1,000 per year, I should deem it a duty to my family to keep it insured; then, how much more a duty, having but one life which is worth $1,000 a year to my family, to keep that insured. Every man will die; only one house in 500 will burn. Because, as death is certain, every dollar invested in life insurance must return to my estate, and at a time when my family will need it most. Because, whatever as a matter of theory it is possible to do in the way of laying aside small sums annually, experience proves that I shall not do it unless an obligation is created by which I feel bound to do so; whereas, by the stipulation to pay a small sum annually, I at once secure to my family an accumulation which could only be the result of the savings of many

Because the experience of more than a century proves that well-managed Life Insurance Companies are the safest institutions in the world. Because other investments with promise of as profitable returns are not so easily found, and generally being of a speculative character, not unfrequently end in entire

I want the BEST SECURITY, a LIBERAL AND UNRESTRICTED POLICY, a company which pays its claims PROMPTLY and HONORABLY, and other things being equal, I prefer to keep my money in the country, whose commerce I am interested in supporting. I prefer a CANADIAN COMPANY, and I want a policy at the LOWEST COST consistent with there conditions.

Moreover, Canada is a country of good lives and profitable investments. Companies which confine their business to the Dominion and avoid unhealthy climates have as a natural consequence a lower death ratio than their more reckless competitors; and companies investing in Canadian mortgages and debentures receive higher rates of interest than do the British or American companies. I have investigated for myself and among the excellent Canadian companies I have found one which meets all the requirements. The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company is a quarter of a century old, has proven itself unsurpassed for its policy holders, and I have placed my application with the agent, Mr. J. F. SANGSTER, office, London.

Gen. Herbert's Administration of Military Matters Scathingly Criticised-Want of Confidence Motion Defeated, 87 to 42.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) OTTAWA, July 17 .- A strange spectacle was presented in the public accounts committee this morning of a member of the Cabinet beginning inquiry into improper expenditure in one of the departments.

Mr. Haggart charged that the Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs had paid money out of the capital of the Indian trust funds, and that the Auditor-General should not have enabled him to do so by issuing letters of credit to the department. Vankoughnet, who was until recently Deputy Superintendent-General, was dismissed, and is new an opponent of the Government. The Auditor-General was appointed by Mr. Mackenzie in 1878, and is a life-long Liberal, and is regarded as a good mark for attack by members of the Cabinet that he is constantly holding in check.

Mr. Haggart asked the Auditor-General to explain how he allowed the Indian land management funds to be overdrawn by $78,000.

The Auditor-General replied that it was not overdrawn at all but had $77,000 to the

Mr. Haggart did not press the matter, as he said he required further papers, and the Auditor-General is to appear tomorrow

Mr. Haggart's main point was to ask the Auditor-General to produce his authority for issuing the letters of credit to the department in excess of the amount of this fund. The Auditor-General said he never had done so, as the department gets a general letter of credit and they draw on it as they please. His audit was an audit after payment, and he could not get back any money paid out, but he could object if he saw anything wrong, and in this case he had a long correspondence on the subject with the department, There was no order in council preventing the department from drawing on the capital of the land management funds until it was exhausted. What the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs had done was to draw against the interest when there was no interest, and to charge it against interest; but the Auditor-General took a different view and believed that as there was no interest on hand it should be charged to capital.

Mr. Mulock expressed the opinion that bad management and extravagance of the Department of Indian Affairs were responsible for trenching on the capital funds, which were hold in trust by the department for the Indians.

Mr. Haggart asked what was the value The Auditor-General replied that he was in 1886. ordered by the statute to issue genera letters of credit to all departments, and he knew of no way he could prevent the Department of Indian Affairs from drawing will be gone into with more preciseness tomorrow, as Mr. Haggart was not prepared to go on.

Sir John Thompson announced to the House today that the Franchise Bill would be dropped except that portion making the revision of the voters' list this year applicable to the constituencies as arranged under the Redistribution Act of 1892.

On the motion to go into committee of supply, Lieut.-Col. Tisdale drew attention to the recent suspension of Adjutant-General Powell by General Herbert. He noted the difference between regular soldiers and volunteers, and between the volunteer force of Canada and volunteer force of England. He came to the conclusion that General Herbert had no authority to suspend the Adju-tant-General of Canada. The latter need not have submitted to the humiliation of suspension, but in that he did show the soldier. Even if the general had authority, his action was unjustifiable and unprecedented. The miserable quibble upon which the general based his action-the lack of initials to a routine general orderwas narrated and then Col. Tisdale dilated on the services rendered to Canada at the time of the Red River expedition, the Fenian raid, the Northwest rebellions and other occasions by Col. Powell. He characterized the suspension as an outrage. Turning to the administration of Gen. Herbert he corrected the popular impression that the general was an impartial officer, and concluded by saying that the first duty of an officer was to control himself and failing that, it would be better for the efficiency of the force if he should Major Hughes described General Herbert as a total failure in the management of men. He gave a dozen instances and, said he, I would not be surprised if Gen. Herbert next placed the Minister of Militia under arrest. As a volunteer of 27 years standing Major Hughes declared that he would not stand Herbert's harsh, unjust and arbitrary treatment of volunteer officers. Col. Denison put in a good word for Gen.

Herbert as a soldier. Mr. Mulock dwelt on the case of Lieut. Col. Lazier, in command of the Fifteentl Battalion, Belleville, who was dismissed about three months ago. He recited the facts that owing to some friction between the department and the D. A. G. of the district Lieut .- Col. Lazier sent in his resignation. "Instead," Col. Lazier wrote in a letter to the Minister (read by Mr. Mulock), 'of the department accepting my resignation and thanking me for my 30 years of volunteer services, I was kicked out without being told the reason. I was executed without trial. I have worn her Majesty's uniform too long to submit tamely to such an outrage. Mr. Patterson, Minister of Militia, made a long statement in reply. He had not yet received the Adjutant-General's reply to Gen. Herbert's charges. He would not answer the question raised whether Gen. Herbert had the authority to suspend Adjutant General Powell. He was responsible for all the official actions of Gen. Herbert. He had to learn the characteristics of Canadian people, but he had a all the conferies on the Tariff Bill was high sense of duty. She—Do you maan to say I am a freak? was $12,782,824 in 1878, and was $20.954. For sale by W. S. Barkwell, city

003 in 1893, an increase of $8,171,179; that the expenditure of Canada on account of the consolidated fund was $23,503,158 in 1898, and was $36,814,052 in 1893, an increase of $13,310,894; that the expenditures on account of administration of justice, arts, agriculture and statistics, fisheries, quarantine, judiciary legislation, militia and defense, public works, excise, superannuation. Northwest Territories government, mail subsidies and steamship subventions, civil government, adulteration of food, miscellaneous and Northwest mounted police amounted to $5,256,424 in 1878, and to $10,384,272 in 1893, an increase of $5,127,246, or 97 per cent; that while the increase of the population of Canada from July 1, 1878, to July 1, 1893, did not exceed 20 per cent, the increase of customs taxation for the same period was 63 per cent, and the increase of expenditure for the same period was 56 per cent; that this House expresses regret that the increase of customs taxation and of expenditure should have been permitted to reach a ratio three times greater than the increase of population since [1878; that the controllable expenditure should have been permitted to reach a still higher rate of increase, and that a considerable portion of the annual expenditure has been absorbed by grants made for party or political purposes and not in the public interest, and that this House expresses the opinion that the enormous annual expenditure places a burden upon Canada so serious in amount that strict honesty and rigid economy in the future management of the finances of the Dominion should be practiced with a view to lessening the public burdens.' After speeches by Foster and Cartwright the amendment was rejected by 42 to 87. Mr. Girourard asked what was going to be done by Mr. Tarte's charges against the judges. Sir John Thompson read letters from Judges Davidson, Ouimet, Tellier, and a telegram from Judge Bosse denying the charges and asking that an inquiry be had. Sir John Thompson held that the charges as made did not warrant an investigation. Mr. Tarte reaffirmed his position and declared he could prove his charges. Messrs. Davin and McCarthy protested against such scenes being enacted in the House, and declared that Mr. Tarte was not taking a proper mode of securing investigation.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier said Mr. Tarte had the right to make charges from his place in the House against any person in the land.

Sir John Thompson promised an inquiry into the place of residence of Judge Ouimet, and the incident terminated. The House spent the balance of the sitting in supply.

HAMILTON'S GERM WHEAT

Is not equaled. Try it during the hot weather. Besides being delicious in taste it is cooling to the blood. Sold retail and whole sale at $73 Talbot Street.

COMMERCIAL.

Local Market.

Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son. Wednesday, July 18.

WEEKLY REVIEW. Yarmers in this vicinity have been busy cutting hay and wheat this week, and as a result we have had small grain markets and stiff prices.

There was a good supply of fruit and vege tables and steady prices. The local crop of raspherries seems to be equally as short as strawberries, and were it not for heavy receips from the Arkona district we boileve much higher prices would be seen.

Gooseberries, red and black currents, and black raspberries come in freely and find steady sale. Cherries have been reported short, and have proven the report to be correct. Receipts continue small, and prices hold firm at 10c for red and 11c and 122c for Provisions have seen a strong week. Both butter and eggs were in good demand. Butter made another gain of ic per lb, and eggs, although the figures remain the same, were in better demand and sold freely. Poultry is getting more plentiful; the size of chickens is improving and the price getting more reasonable.

Beef and lambs were the only meats offered

Wool receipts have fallen off to almost nothing, only an occasional lot coming in, and no alteration in prices. Hides, tallow and skins remain about the same as last week.

Banch carrots, beets, onions, lettuce were the only new vegetables that were equal to the New potatoes were scarce, and were it not for imported stock the price would be entirely out of reach: as it is they sell at 40c a peck, and John Mustill Attempts Suicide With a Razor-Drink the Reason-Sympathy for the Wife and Family.

A terrible temperance lesson was that which John Mustill turnished yesterday morning when his wife found him lying on a bed with two deep gashes in his throat and the element of life flowing in a torrent over the bed clothes and into a pail placed by the would-be suicide to retain it. Mustill is a well known King street blacksmith, and with the aid of his sons he has built up a successful business in that line. But he had an uncontrollable desire for liquor, and during the last five years he drank very heavily. About three years ago a son attempted to commit suicide by the same means in Michigan. This apparently brought the father to his right mind, for Mrs. (Commandant) Booth will be present. and desperation. New Jersey has been outdone by the blaze which is at present sweeping through the pine belt. There is but little hope of stopping the flames. Yesterday a whole village was wipe out by that part of the fire which for two days has been sweeping toward Brigh-

The inhabitants had ample warning. Scouts reported that the village was doomed. Household effects were hastily loaded on wagons and carts and hurried away. The bush fire soon resumed its normal appearance and went on its march of destruction. Children, women and even as they thought of their little farms being reduced to blackened earth, hardly distinguishable from any of the thousands of acres of timber land over which the fire was burning. The loss will foot up into

Here Mr. Kitts gives way to mirth. "Do you remember that last time we caw him?-when the English fellow came round on a temperance crusade? He didn't know anything about Sir Darby's propensities, of course, and, thinking the title would sound well on the notices, asked him to take the chair at the meeting in the village. And he came, you know,"—to Miss Anson, who is the only person present who doesn't know the sorry tale-"a little-just a little-d'ye see? and when he got on his legs to start the show, he-ha! ha!-never got beyond the opening sentence. And what was that, d'ye think? 'Ladies an' gemmen, I'm so full of the subjeck—' Ha! ha! ha! he got no farther. He was so full of the subject," roars Mr. Kitts, "that he slipped, and was carried out by the temper-

"Oh, was he?" says Miss Anson. She looks perplexed. "And what was the asks she, curiously. She is certainly terribly English.

At this Mr. Kitts turns away sadly and reproachfully, leaving Larry to explain. "Whisky," says that young man, in a cheerful tone.

Providentially at this moment something occurs to change the current of their thoughts. It is the afternoon post: it consists of one letter for Terry, who, letters being very rare with her, seizes upon it, and, after a little glance at Fanny as if to ask permission, tears open the envelope:

CHAPTER XVII.

She is still reading it, when Max, swooping down upon her from behind, snatches it out of her hand. 'Now," cries he, darting away with it, "you told me yesterday you had no secrets from any one, so I'll read this out loud.' He holds up the letter teasingly, as if about to begin.

"Max!" cries Terry. There is something so sharp, so agonized in her tone, that Trefusis starts, and looks at her. Her face! What a face! Crimson when first he sees it, and now absolutely colorless, as white as paper, and with something in the eyes that is surely fear.

"Max, give me back my letter." says she, trying to control her voice, but failing.

"Max, do you hear?" She is actually trembling. It is fear, then, that is stirring her! Trefusis feels suddenly as if everything has given way beneath him. Only a moment ago, and his path so sure as in that moment ago. He had told himself that all was coming right with her and him, and now, now, suspicious seem to swarm upon him. What is in this letter to make her look like that?-guiltyyes, guilty, frightened. Would he have his wife look like that? She is not his wife yet, and his doubts of her are many and various. If, when she was his wife, he saw her look like that-Larry, happening at this instant to look at him, reads the situation in a glance, and something of contempt enters his heart.

He, that cold, cynical fool, to doubt her!
"A love-letter, Terry?" he asks. There is malice in the question—a sort of mad longing to dig a little dart into Trefusis's soul. Had he thought his idle, mischievous words would cause Terry the very faintest annoyance, it is only fair to him to say that he would have died rather than utter

Terry turns her large eyes on his. "Get it, get it for me !" says she. Larry takes a quick step forward, seizes Max by the neck, and adroitly pulls the letter out of his hand

'Here it is," says he, holding it out to Terry, whose fingers close over it with a most unmistakable haste. Trefusis moves abruptly away. Whatever this letter means, and it occurs to him that it means nothing, so far as either he or O'More is concerned, still it was to O'More she had turned for help; not to him, the man she has promised to marry.

It is another little fillip to the already too great anger that is burning in his The letter-it was not from him or from O'More; certainly it was then from a third. How many lovers has she? And who is this last one, of whom no word has been uttered up to this? With an impatience that scorehes him, but that he hides so completely beneath the self-control that nothing can ruffle, he waits until the last of Terry's guests have driven away from the door, and then turns to her. "I want to speak to you," says he, abruptly. "To speak to me?" The girl stares at him lost in wonder. What does the cold anger in his face mean? She, once the letter was returned to her, had thought nothing more about it, had not understood that it might be a subject of thought to others. She had been taken up with her guests, and had scarcely had time, even if she had knowledge of it, to take notice of Trefusis's coldness. "You wish to speak

"Yes," says he, strong displeasure in his tone. "Well, speak."

"Not here, where we may be interrupted; in the garden. "Come, then." She takes the initiative, going, indeed, quickly before him, not speaking another word until the sweet precincts of the garden are gained. Here

"It has always been so peaceful here," says she. "I have had nothing hateful said to me here to make it sad to me.' "Here or there," says he, remorselessly,

"I shall speak to you."
"Come, then," says she. She passes through the pretty hedges, and then stands

"You had a letter this afternoon." His air is rather too like the counsel on the face. Unlucky blush! It inflames his ire. As if driven to frenzy by it, he turns upon her.

"I may as well say at once what is in my mind," says he, in the slow hold-back sort of way that always incenses her; "it will be better, fairer. I have asked you to marry me, and you have said 'Yes.' You"-looking at her for the first time-"you have said yes ?

"Why ask me?" she replies. "There is nothing to contradict. But what has all this got to do with-the letter?"

"Something, surely."

"Nothing, certainly "Do you say that? Will you tell me that there was nothing in that letter you did not wish me to see? Me? The man who is to be your husband?" There is passion in his tone now. Terry's delicate face flushes. She hesitates. What does it all mean? What can she say? "I--" begins she, faintly. She stops. The stop is fatal.

"Don't be unhappy about it," says he, coldiy. "You need not answer me. Your face," with a contemptuous smile, "is an answer enough. And your agitation when your brother seized that letter—your fear lest he should betray its contents-"Well," says Terry, interrupting him hurriedly, "it was my own letter. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DIScovery, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilicus habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. ### THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Inspiring Address of Mrs. Margaret Bottome, President of the International Society.

The parliament of King's Daughters was n session on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last at Long Beach, New York.

The convention room was decorated with flags, bunting and flowers. Against the wall above the speakers' heads was a semicircle, formed of 29 medallions framed in gold, on which were the names of the countries with which the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Isabella Charles Davis, has official communication.

"The cross of the King's Daughters," said Mrs. Davis, "is worn in every land beneath the sun. At one side, back of the platform, was stretched a handsome ivory white satin banner of the international order, on which was inscribed in purple velvet letters the motto, "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister." On the other side of the platform was hung the society's banner of the State of New York, with its motto in gold letters, "By the cross we conquer."

THE SPEAKER OF THE DAY. Among those who were on the platform at the opening of the parliament were Mrs. Chas. E. Dodge, Mrs. Margaret Bottome (president of the International Society of the King's Daughters), Miss Mary Cookman. Miss G. H. Libby, Mrs. Isabel Charles Davis and the Rev. Dr. David James Burrell, who opened the meeting with an address of welcome,

After this a hymn was sung, and then in a poem Mrs. Mary Low Dickinson told what the King's Daughters were. Then she introduced the speaker of the day, Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the International Society of King's Daughters. Mrs. Bottome is a fine looking woman, whose hair is slightly gray and whose voice has the ring and quality of a man's. She is a very enthusiastic speaker, and holds her audience by her personal magnetism. Mrs. Bottome began by a quotation from the New Testament, "I must be about my

"I could not," she said, "give you s better keynote for this our first meeting by the sea. I have wanted so much to get light on the business of the Father, and the mind of the Master when he stood in the temple and said those words, 'Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?'

"I am sure that it came to him that his Father's business was sacrifice. And in doing his Father's business he gave to us, who needed it, the best he had-his life. "I want to give you three musts, which should be the watchword for us to live by. I must work, I must do my Master's work, and I must suffer.

"A man or woman who has no must in them is good for nothing; THEY ARE ONLY PUTTY.

Let us give our time, our energies, our lives for the Master's work, Did he not give his life for us? Why should we not give ours for others? We are all as sure to die as we live, and while it is called day let us do the work of him who sent us, that our lives, that our deaths, may not be in "The sad thing to contemplate is that link it to the lines of Christianity, for without the light of the Gospel all work is vain. It is the only thing to make our lives sublime.

"There is an inseparable link between suffering and beauty. It is through suffering, through sacrifice, that our lives, our characters are made beautiful. Some time we will know the highest, the noblest and the most beautiful reward for all we suffer and do here in his name." It was an evidence of her suffering "in his name" for Mrs. Bottome to appear before an audience and speak. She is in the deepest grief for the death of her husband, the Rev. Dr. Bottome, who just two weeks ago met with sudden death through an accident in England, where he had gone to ### spend his vacation .- [New York Herald. SHORT TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

(By Charles Austin Bates.) Don't be too distinctly original in your advertising. Don't try to startle people with your wit.

The successful new idea is the one that everybody has unconsciously recognized for a long time. Don't get beyond the age. I don't believe in cute advertising. It may pay in the show business. I've heard that it does. The other day I asked a theatrical manager whether he had ever tried newspaper advertising alone and unaided by posters. He said he had. Said he had tried posters alone, too, and that a combination was better, but he said: "Novelties and startling effects are best of all." That is for theatricals. Business methods and show methods must of necessity differ. A show stays a day, or three days, or a week. May never come again. Must get all it can then and get it quickly. There must be a "hurrah." The more people are startled and the more their curiosity is aroused the better. It isn't that way in a mercantile business. That stays. The longer it stays in one spot the better-if it is properly conducted. Show methods of advertising will beget suspicion. Can't have "startling reductions" and "bankrupt sales" every day. That doesn't mean, never have a "sale," Have plenty of them, but find a good, honest reason for each one, and tight it out on that line." Remember the boy who cried "Wolf!" and don't say anything startling unless it can be backed up with the facts. If you cry "Wolf!" let folks hear him howl.

The LATEST, the RICHEST, the MOST EX-QUISITE perfume ever introduced to the citizens of London, and this, and this only is the delicate odor that was sprayed around the grand stand at the Cook & Whitby circus by the Parisian who informed all present that W. S. BRYERS BARKWELL, days when the old Mohawk used to ply with passengers and freight between Buffalo and Port Stanley. Port Stanley was of some account then as a port of entry, and in the absence of a railway the village ran a stage line for freight and passengers between that place and St. Thomas and London. Their old familiar coach, wider and larger than any seen nowadays (so old residents assert), continued to ply a good trade until the iron horses supplanted those of flesh and bone. The Keilys also ran a stage line east and "pooled" with a Brantford man, each doing half the distance. But they did not make a fortune at this, and with the advent of the railroad they went into the livery business with a man named Seger. This firm failed, and the Kiely's were next heard of in connection with the Middlesex Agricultural Mutual Insurance Company. At this they made their first actual money, which they invested in the then nearly worthless Toronto Street Railway Company. The affair almost proved an elephant on their hands, and the stock went abegging. Toronto people had little faith in the concern as a money maker, and Londoners had less. The Kielys themselves shrewdly guessed that Toronto was bound to go ahead, and their expectations were realized to a surprising degree. At a critical moment the late E. W. Hyman was induced to assist the venture, and purchased $25,000 of stock. This set the concern on its feet, and as the city grew and the street railway line began to prosper the Kiely brothers gradually became very wealthy. Wm. Keily sold out his interest to Senator Frank Smith. The latter and deceased were the principal owners of the old Toronto Street Railway Company, Mr. Kiely was in his 64th year.
