Giving the position of mayor to the alderman heading the poll, as suggested by Mayor Jutte of Hamilton, would not be a popular move in London, in the opinion of City Clerk Sam Baker.

"There is a prejudice against it, but I don't see why there should be," said Mr. Baker. "The mayor in English cities is always taken from the council and it works out very well."

"However, we are so close to the United States, where they are elected directly, that we want to do the same."

OLD BALL TEAMS MAY MEET AGAIN COMMITTEE MAY SEE FIREWORKS

City Treasurer Bell Suggests a Game Between Pastime and Knox Nines. City Treasurer James S. Bell has come forward with a suggestion for the centennial celebration next year that will undoubtedly be hailed with much enthusiasm by the old-time baseball fans of London.

"I noticed in 'The Advertiser' 25 years ago today column where the Pastimes had defeated Knox church for the city championship," said Mr. Bell. "I used to play on the old Pastimes and on making inquiries I find that every member of the two teams with the exception of Jack O'Dell is still alive and will probably be home for the celebration."

"George Gibson played for Knox church in that game, but of course I was more familiar with the Pastimes. I was early pitched up to victory that day and Bill Carroll caught behind me. Other members of the team were Sammy Lee, 'Torch' Carroll, 'Sick' Phillips and Major Hodge. Bill Haddon, who used to captain the champion Riverides and still takes a very active interest in sports, might be induced to play in the game. I am sure that will make a good impetus, and I think the old-time fans as well as the younger ones would be interested."

ARTS MEN SHUT OUT FROM ATHLETIC PLACE

Friendly Rivalry of Faculties Strained to Limit by Appointment. The friendly rivalry which for years has marked the relations between the University of Western Ontario college of arts and the medical school has been strained to the limit in the past few days. Ill-feeling originated at a special meeting of the athletic directors on Tuesday evening, which was held to decide the manager of this year's senior basketball team.

Londoner Has Given Much Time and Thought to Highway Traffic. The delight of a trip across Canada never wanes, and the act of one day's travel through the "Canadian Rockies" is an experience of a lifetime. The route of the Continental Limited which runs daily between Montreal and Vancouver, with direct connection at Toronto, via The National, traverses the beautiful lake country of Northern Ontario, and passes through some of the most fertile lands and prosperous cities of the great Prairie Provinces.

HONORED AT LAST. Philadelphia—For saving lives during a windstorm 21 years ago, when he was a Philadelphia policeman, Theodor Herzl, there is a big investigation, which was fully explained to Marshall and me only, but we were asked not to mention it for a while. It sure is a real story though, and I'll tell you later.

BECK FIND TEAMS ARE "DIGGING IN"

Secretary Pearson Reports Success So Far in Appeal For $75,000.

Encouraged by the figures reported at last night's meeting of team workers in the Beck memorial endowment fund campaign, workers who have voluntarily enlisted in the effort to raise London's quota of $75,000 went out again this morning with renewed vigor, confident that the objective set would be in sight before the final meeting tomorrow evening.

"Twenty-seven teams of canvassers were hard at work this morning in many sections of the city, calling upon citizens who had not been able to see in time for last night's meeting. While it was impossible to ascertain just what degree of success they were meeting, indications are that the response has been generous and that the final report banquet tomorrow night will reveal a large portion of the hoped-for amount realized."

COOKSHUTT VISIT OFF TILL JANUARY

Following the policy of all governments officials in the matter of cancellation of functions during the period of mourning for the late Queen-Mother Alexandra, Lieutenant-Governor Harry Cookshutt has cancelled his official visit to the university of Western Ontario until the end of January or the first of February.

The lieutenant-governor was to have visited the "U." in his official capacity as visitor on Dec. 2. With him was to have been G. Howard Ferguson, minister of education and president of Ontario, and possibly W. L. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, and other government officials.

The duty of the official visitor consists of making a survey of the work of the university, and so keep the government in practical connection with it. According to Col. W. J. Brown, executive secretary of the "U.," plans were being drawn up to facilitate the fulfilment of the work, and all possible assistance was to have been given to aid him in receiving exact information in the shortest time possible in the limited time; to the medical school, where he could inspect the students at the work. In the afternoon, the party was to have gone over the university college of arts.

SEIZURE OF STEERS BASIS OF LAWSUIT

John W. Hobbs Asks For Return of Animals or $170 Be Paid. An action has been set down for three in county court involving four steers alleged to have been sold to John W. Hobbs, West Nissour farmer, by one of the defendants in the action, John S. Smibert, a farmer of the same town.

The plaintiff says that in March of the present year he purchased four steers from John Smibert, which were delivered to him. For these animals Hobbs claims to have paid $170.

On April 8, 1925, the two other defendants, Richard and Robert Smibert, brothers of John Smibert and both of London township, accompanied by a bailiff, one Billings of St. Marys, took the steers by force from the plaintiff. The defendants refused to return the steers to the plaintiff.

Robert and Richard Smibert claim to have partly owned the steers and say that they had not given John Smibert any authority to dispose of them. The plaintiff claims either the return of the steers or else the $170 for their unlawful detention. Jarvis & Vinhoe are appearing for the plaintiff.

BIG PROGRAM PLANNED FOR ST. ANDREW'S BANQUET

The St. Andrew's society of this city has planned a reunion banquet for Tuesday, Dec. 1. The society has sent invitations to sisters societies throughout Canada and United States and they are expecting a large assembly of representatives in company with their wives and friends to celebrate the night in true Scottish fashion.

The program will include the presentation of a banner to the society by W. J. Pretty, an address by Rev. Malcolm McArthur of Knox United church, a toast to "Brothers of the World" over by Dr. D. H. Stevenson. Representatives from the Sons of Scotland, ladies members of the Sons of Scotland, St. George's society and the Irish Benevolent society will be in attendance to reply to the society's toast on their behalf. W. C. Noble will be acting toastmaster.

COSTLY PROJECT

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—In the course of his address at the annual meeting of shareholders of the Imperial Bank of Canada today, Peleg Howland, president of the bank, dealing with the railway situation in Canada, said: "It is of the utmost importance that our railway problem be solved; that a period be put to the increase in the country's obligations caused by the expenditure on the government road for the deficits for its operation. These more than overbalance any apparent reduction in the net Dominion debt. How can we hope that desirable immigrants will voluntarily seek us out if our burdens are not becoming lighter, or that new enterprises will be established or satisfactory development undertaken if sales and profit taxes give promise of indefinite continuation?"

"Are we not paying altogether too much for our experiment in government ownership?" he asked, "and are we not incurring the expense of the government road since ownership was assumed, added to the fixed charges not earned, of which the country is either directly or indirectly in debt, will reach a sum equal to one-third the published net debt, in which it is not included; and this debt is constantly growing."

"Why not get rid of the road, if a purchaser can be found for it, on a basis that would give a reasonable chance in the future to the buyer, and thus peg our loss? Once the country can show a surplus in its revenue that is real, new loans will be put into the whole community. What defence is there for public ownership if it does not pay? There is no magic about it. There is no inherent benefit irrespective of results."

Gratifying reports on bank affairs were presented. The profits for the twelve months ending October 31 are $1,162,148, an increase of $55,099 over the preceding year. The figures in every department of the bank's activities show improvement and indicate a somewhat better feeling in business circles. Deposits stand at $95,341,168, an increase of $8,909,099 over a year ago. Current loans are slightly higher than at last year, and stand at $60,829,845.

Don't Be Fooled By Hosiery Canvassers

To save you money and the experience that a number of women have had with hosiery sold by canvassers from door to door, allow us to give you a few facts to remember if you are solicited by hosiery canvassers.

Although the hosiery peddler will tell you that his hosiery is lower in price because it is sold direct from the factory to the consumer, this does not prove out. Stocking for stocking, we can give you the same quality as the canvasser at a lower price or a better quality at the canvasser's price. The reason a retailer can do this is a simple problem in economics. Our cost of doing business is distributed over many sales and many articles rather than over a few sales on one article as in the case of the canvasser. Moreover, the canvasser never mentions that he makes never less than 20 per cent commission on each sale and that his branch manager makes a commission on every sale, and so on down the line.

The house-to-house canvasser's first trick to impress people is to run a nail file up and down his stocking or to stretch it over a door to show its strength and immunity to tears. Do not be fooled by these so-called tests. They can be done with any stocking of fair quality.

Why take chances with hosiery you know nothing about, or people you know nothing about, when you can come here and get Holeproof Hosiery, known all over the world for its high quality and wonderful durability. By coming here for your hosiery you get double protection. First, the reliability and standing of our store, and second, the 25-year reputation of Holeproof Hosiery. Another fact to consider is that you may purchase only one pair here, whereas the canvasser insists that you buy not less than four.

Our stocks of Holeproof include every wanted and popular style in hosiery. And we repeat again, we can offer you superior values in hosiery at every price and can prove it.

UNITED CHURCH DRIVE FOR $4,000,000 STARTED

Canadian Press Despatch.
 Toronto, Nov. 25.—The United Church of Canada's campaign for $4,000,000 maintenance fund is now well under way and a telegram to provincial chairmen states that the total for the first day's canvass in the Dominion was approximately $290,000, with six Montreal, three Bay of Quinte, six Toronto, eleven Saskatchewan and nine British Columbia conference churches having reached their full objectives.

It is believed that amounts held back by congregations until they are able to report their full objectives, would swell considerably the official total reported to date.

Amid Wailing, King of Gypsies Sets Sail In Search of Bride

Associated Press Despatch.

Early today, the weeping and wailing of his followers at a steamship dock caused consternation to a special detail of secret service men who were escorting the Italian debt commission, headed by Count Giuseppe Volpi, to board the Mauretania.

Wails, screams and cries greeted the debt funding party on arrival at the pier. The Italians learned that the followers of Frank Kaslov, whose wife

Whirling Objects Seem Still When Seen Through Machine

New Form of Stroboscope, Invented in France, Permits Examination of Revolving Objects—Is Expected To Prove Great Aid to Many Industries.

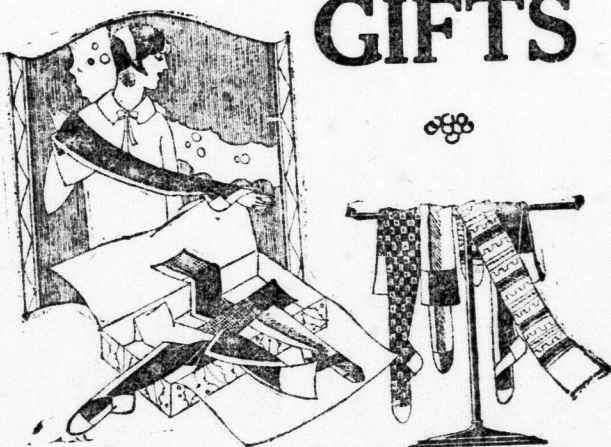

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Nov. 25.—A new form of stroboscope, the instrument used for studying revolving objects, has been demonstrated to the academy of sciences by George Claude, who apologized to the learned assembly for placing a "fool protector" about the exhibit.

Instead of the old mechanical apparatus for interrupting the vision, the new instrument, the invention of the two brothers Seguin, projects powerful lightning-like flashes from a tube of iron gas. These flashes, when directed on anything which is rotating rapidly, even in full daylight, make the rotating article appear to be completely still, or if it is so desired, to be turning very slowly. It was this apparent immobility of a rapidly turning object that made Professor Claude decide to prevent his colleagues from approaching the machinery too closely.

Apparently there is no reason to suppose that the new stroboscopes will be advertised in the near future as a necessity for every home, but the industrial world will find them of importance in permitting the examination of rapidly moving bodies while in full action. For example, an aeroplane propeller making 1,200 revolutions to the minute was shown. It appeared to be absolutely motionless. It had a bit of string to one end of the propeller blade. This also appeared motionless in place, but it assumed a graceful curve under the air pressure. Spindles when turning and rapidly running motors and turbines are other examples of things that can be examined under the stroboscope while at work.

Champion Has Advantage In Ten of Twelve Rounds

DRAW TWO ROUNDS

DEFENDS TITLE.

Newark, Nov. 25.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, retained his title tonight when he gained a newspaper decision over Sallor Friedman, Philadelphia challenger, in a twelve-round fight at Newark, N. J.

Walker had a margin in ten rounds, while two went on the records as a draw.
Except for the eleventh and twelfth rounds, Walker was master of the situation. He was in the ring for the first round in the closing rounds threatened to cut Walker's lead, but the champion recovered from the storm which Friedman directed at him, and earned an even break for the round. The champion's weight was announced at 146½ pounds, while Friedman came in at 145 pounds.

Round One.
Walker started with a tremendous rush, but missed his first two leads. The champion concentrated his attack to the challenger's body, sending him to the ropes to evade the hard-punching Walker's attack. Friedman ripped over two sharp punches, and took two hard rights to the body in return. The men were clinched in a neutral corner.

Round Two.
Friedman tried to mix it with the champion, and for two seconds the betting waxed fast and furious, both landing damaging blows. There was plenty of action, with the Sailor hanging on most of the time. Walker roused Friedman in distress by a terrific attack. Walker was still boring in when the bell rang.

Round Three.
Friedman cut Walker lightly to the head. He exchanged body blows. Friedman straightened his jaw on Walker's face, and the challenger, who had been in distress by a terrific attack, was still boring in when the bell rang.

Round Four.

Round Five.
Walker sailed in, and in the vicious attack sent Friedman reeling across the ring with a straight right to the jaw. The champion was on his feet, but the storm directed against him, Walker caused Friedman to reeling across the ring and almost floored him, but the bell halted the round.

JABS AND JABBER—
St. Thomas is staging a pro boxing card Friday night, featuring Pook and Gardner. They are starting modestly with four bouts, and it should be a success. It is thought Pook was through. There is no doubt but that the former heavyweight champion of the dominion was rather discouraged with the lack of interest in his chosen trade last season. However, if St. Thomas is to go homeless this winter it may become a light center instead.

Boston Bruins and Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets Open N.H.L. Pro Season Tonight

Associated Press Despatch. Boston, Mass., Nov. 25.—A newly assembled hockey machine bearing a Pittsburgh marker, receives its initial "tryout" here tomorrow night, when the Boston Bruins, first-rounders in the 1924 National Hockey League race, entertain the Pittsburgh Pirates, brand new members of the professional hockey family. The match will also be the opener for the 1925 program of the National League, and a season of hockey that has just acquired a decided international flavor will be put under way with the blast of the starting whistle.

While the Bruins rule a slight favorite to win the inaugural tilt by virtue of this being their second season in professional hockey, whereas the majority of the members of the Pirates are just being introduced to the "moneyed" game, all the local sports scribes warn the Boston board of strategy that they have a hard contest on their hands. The Pittsburgh team includes many of the "simum pure" stick-handlers of last year's Yellow Jackets, and while this will be their debut into the program, the magnates of the smoky city have salted their six sets with many seasoned professional players, and this is expected to balance the team. Reports from Duquesne Gardens, where the Pirates have been receiving their early season training, heralded the team as a "fast-skating, hard-checking, smooth-passing" machine.

The Bruins have also shown phenomenal condition in their pre-season practices, strengthened with the addition of many new players from both the professional and amateur ranks, the Boston entry in the Canadian-United States league is conceded a bright chance of finishing the league schedule in a first division berth. "The teams will probably line up as follows: Pittsburgh—Worters, goal; Smith and Conacher, defense; O. Cleghorn, center; Torraugh, right wing; Belbiquette, left wing; McCurry, Drury, Mihs, subs. Boston—Stewart, goal; S. Cleghorn and Hitchman, defense; Geran, center; Herborts, right wing; Mitchell, left wing; Brackenborough, Cooper, Stuart, subs.

SESSION OPENS DECEMBER 10 BUT 100 WRITS ARE HELD UP

EARLY DECISION NEEDED

King Believes Long Delay May Involve Government in Litigation.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Nov. 25.—"We still hope to call parliament by Dec. 10," said Premier Mackenzie King tonight, at the close of a long cabinet council. The prime minister intimated that a definite announcement on the subject probably would be forthcoming on Monday next, so that the usual ten days' notice of the opening of parliament could be given its members-elect.

After a final consultation with the chief electoral officer, the government then will decide if there is reasonable likelihood of all the writs being returned by the tenth. The premier suggested that if there remained only one or two writs unreturned on the date decided on, it might be possible to begin the business of parliament, if it was probable that the members affected by these delays would take their seats before the house reached a vote at the Christmas adjournment.

As to when this adjournment would be taken and how long a recess would ensue, the premier pointed out that this was for parliament to decide. His sole reason for hastening the meeting of the house, he said, was that the whole question of who is to carry on the government could be put up to the people's elected representatives.

It is understood that about 100 of the writs issued for the elections of October 29 are still out. Most of those are held up through some technical omission on the part of the deputy returning officers, and the bulk of them will be returned complete within the next week or so.

LEONARD TO RETURN ONLY WHEN REAL MAN LOOMS UP

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Nov. 25.—Benny Leonard is ready to return to the ring only when "a good fighter comes along and there is an enormous demand" for the retired lightweight champion to meet him.

Leonard is quoted to this effect today by the Evening World, adding that he wants to fight again and in a decision to do so, but has no immediate intention of re-entering the arena.

Leonard said he thought the lightweight of today were of good calibre, but lacked experience. "It makes me required weight," he said, indicating that if he returned to the ring he would do so as a lightweight in spite of the general conviction that he has outgrown this division and would be forced to box in welterweight ranks.

WOODSTOCK "Y" JUNIORS DOWN COLLEGIANS 64-27

Woodstock, Nov. 25.—The Junior O. B. A. team of the Woodstock Y.M.C.A. putting a surprise on the Woodstock College basketball team this afternoon when they defeated the Collegians, 64 to 27, in a game played on the college gymnasium. The college 'ers were highly rated, but speed and combination of the "Y" team left them standing still at many periods of the game. The "Y" team will take a lot of beating this year.

The teams:

MONEY ALLEGED MURDER MOTIVE

Quebec Man Faces Charge of Slaying Aged Mother For Wealth.

WAS STRANGLER

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, Nov. 25.—Eugene Bigaouette, 40 years old, appeared this afternoon before Judge Lachance in police court to face the charge of having murdered his 79-year-old mother.

Bigaouette pleaded not guilty, and the preliminary inquiry was fixed for Friday.

The arrest was made in the morgue after the coroner's inquest. After hearing nine witnesses the jury rendered the following verdict: "Mrs. Alexander Bigaouette died of strangulation caused by Eugene Bigaouette, and the said Eugene Bigaouette is held criminally responsible of her death."

A will signed by the deceased in May, 1925, was found by detectives in Mrs. Bigaouette's house. In this will she named her son Eugene the sole heir to her fortune, valued at $30,000.

The brothers of the accused testified at the coroner's inquest that Eugene Bigaouette had caused great trouble in the family, and that for the last six months they had seen the recorder and the police with a view to having him interned in the asylum.

HOLD-UP STORY FALSE

Toronto, Nov. 25.—Charged with the theft of $317 and of drugs valued at $50 and the circulation of false reports, Donald S. The police state that on the night of Sept. 13 Gollan reported that he was attacked by two thugs while closing the store, and beaten over the head with a blunt instrument.

RHINELANDER'S NEGRO PAL GIVES EVIDENCE FOR WIFE

Chauffeur of Wealthy Youth Tells Court He Warned His Employer That Girl Was Part Negress, and Rhinelander Replied That He Did Not Care.

WAS STRANGLER

Associated Press Despatch. White Plains, N.Y., Nov. 25.—Recalled to the witness stand after a brief respite from his week-long ordeal, Leonard Kip Rhinelander reiterated previous statements that Alice Jones had told him before their marriage that she was white.

A little later the defence in the annulment suit produced a surprise witness, Ross Chidester, formerly chauffeur for Leonard's father. He said he told Leonard three years before his marriage that Alice's father was part negro, and that young Rhinelander answered, "I don't care for she is."

The recall of the plaintiff followed the judge's announcement granting the plaintiff's request to amend the original complaint by charging that Alice defrauded Rhinelander by failing to tell him she was of negro blood. Previously the complaint had charged that she told him she was white.

Three members of the Jones family and one relative by marriage were called as defence witnesses by Lee Parsons Davis, attorney for Alice.

Grace and Emily, sisters of Alice, said the color question had never been brought up in their presence on any of Rhinelander's frequent visits to the Jones' home. Mrs. George Jones, white mother of Alice, also said she had never heard Alice tell young Rhinelander she was white.

Robert Brooks, negro butler and husband of Emily, told of friendship between himself and young Rhinelander. They had called each other "Bob" and "Len," he said.

The former Grace Jones, now married to a white man, said Leonard and two other men had "picked her up" and that he had at first paid attentions to her and given her a ring. Later he transferred both ring and affections to Alice, she said.

ENGLISH FLAT RACING SEASON ENDS THIS WEEK

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 25.—The English flat racing season for 1925 will be brought to a close by the meeting at Manchester, which commences tomorrow and concludes on Saturday.

While steeplechasing, of course, is carried on throughout the winter, one of the most important flat races of the season is the Manchester November handicap, one of the series of handicaps to which the turf gives chief attention during the season's dying days. The race will be run on Saturday as the feature of the Manchester meeting and is over the mile and a half course. It has a value of approximately $10,000.

OPERA STAR COLLAPSES

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 25.—Gerardine Farrar, exhausted by the strain of five strenuous weeks' rehearsal of "Romans Love Spell," the new opera which had its American premiere here last night, is seriously ill at the noted Hotel Waldorf, necessitating the cancelling of engagements at Parsons' Theatre and all future engagements for at least four weeks, according to a statement tonight by her manager, Chas. J. Foley.

FOOT SHATTERED IN HUNTING ERROR

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, Nov. 25.—(Bert Webb of this city is in the General Hospital suffering from a shattered foot, as the result of a hunting accident, in which a load of shot from a gun in the hands of his chum, Earl Bruder, entered the injured member.)

The two young men were rabbit-hunting near Beachville, when in the course of their hunt a rabbit appeared and Bruder fired at it. Webb was slightly in advance of Bruder, who erred in his aim, with the result that the full charge entered Webb's foot.

Webb was rushed to the hospital, where examination showed that the condition of the foot was very serious.

WOULD JOIN PARLEY

Canadian Press Despatch. Sydney, N.S., Nov. 25.—That he would join President R. M. Wolvin in a conference on co-operation before the royal commission left Sydney, that he was not now in favor of the withdrawal of maintenance men during a strike, that he favored the rehabilitation of the Maritime Labor Herald and that he had counselled interference with company officials ostensibly employed in the maintenance of Dominion No. 6 mine during the recent trouble, featured the evidence adduced by R. M. Wolvin, president of the British Empire Steel Corporation in his cross-examination today of John W. McLeod, district president of the United Mine Workers of America before the royal commission investigating the coal industry of Nova Scotia.

ROUNDING THIRD

by Hugh A. Jennings

"Rounding Third," the remarkable series of articles by Hughie Jennings which The Advertiser will publish, beginning next week, provides a real landmark in baseball history.

For 34 years Jennings has been in major league baseball, not as a mere spectator, but as one of the greatest shortstops of all time, later as a manager who won three pennants, and finally as a scout and assistant to McGraw.

But Jennings not only knows the inside of the baseball world—he can also tell about it in witty, humorous, epigrammatic style. Any baseball fan who reads his first article next week—"The Catcher Who Jumped the Fence"—will stay by the series till the end. Many fans will clip these daily stories and make of them a treasury of baseball gossip and history.

"There never was a batsman who did not have a weakness," writes Jennings. Then, what were the batting weaknesses of Hans Wagner, "Cap" Anson, Dan Brothers, Napoleon Lajoie, Sam Crawford and others? What are the batting weaknesses of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby and other stars of today? Jennings explains them.

What about Ruth? How great is Ruth as a slugger? How does he compare with the long hitters of the baseball yesterday? What slugger that performed before Ruth could have beaten his home run record had he been able to bat against the same kind of ball and with pitching restrictions what they have been during Ruth's reign as king slugger of baseball? What would Ruth have done against the kind of ball and pitching baseball knew twenty years ago? All these questions are answered by Jennings.

What about the pitchers? How would you rank Sadie McMahon, Mattie Kilroy, Amos Rusie, Christy Mathewson, Chief Bender, Jack Coombs, Addie Joss, Joe McGinnity, Walter Johnson, Mordecai Brown, Dazzy Vance, and others? Jennings compares the leading pitchers of all baseball history.

He discusses the men that starred at the different positions. He analyzes all the good second basemen—McPhee, Lowe, Pfeffer, Lajoie, Collins, Hornsby, Evers, Harris, and compares them.

The first basemen, Comiskey, Chase, Anson, Donohue, Blue, Bottomley, Kelly, are thoroughly discussed. So are the third basemen, Collins, McGraw, Steinfield, Lobert, Groh and others. The shortstops, Wagner, Dahlen, Peck-

Included in the series is an analysis and comparison of base-runners. Jennings tells how the game developed, how position play changed, how changes came about, who was responsible and why.

There are a few chapters from his own managerial career. How did Jennings handle Cobb? How did he develop him? What peculiar system did he use in Cobb's individual case?

You will read in this series the inside stories of a few pennant races and one chapter of unpublished baseball history, the story of how a team lost a championship by a single game because of one slip.

There are chapters on signal stealing and the inside story of the most famous of all signal stealing cases. There are chapters on the clowns of baseball, the troubadours who were found on the bench and in the "front offices" as well as on the playing field; the umpires and their personal peculiarities, heroes of the world series, baseball courage, the greatest game in history, the greatest plays, the most stupid plays, the freak plays, the theatrical careers of a number of players, the colleges, the changes the game has seen.

All these features are included in the Jennings baseball series. It is called "ROUNDING THIRD" and begins in The Advertiser next week.

POCOCK DEFENDS WATER INCREASE

RATES ARE LOWER

Other Cities Pay More and Get Impure Water, Is Statement.

Philip Pocock, dean of the public utilities commission, and candidate for re-election to that body for his tenth consecutive term, replied in detail in an interview with The Advertiser to the statements and questions of Chas. R. Smith, candidate for the commission in the current election.

"We welcome such criticisms as Mr. Smith has made," remarked Mr. Pocock, "because the facts of the case speak for themselves and reveal the soundness of the commission's policy in all its departments.

"The policy of any successful business concern must be formulated by those in charge, and so it is with the commission, and if any man on the street can tell more about the business and how it should be run, as Mr. Smith pretends to be able to do, then the commission is not competent."

"Mr. Smith complains of an increase of 23-1/2 per cent increase in water rates," pursued Mr. Pocock, "but as a matter of fact, the average domestic rate for water in 1925 is $11.34 per annum, almost the average cost for the month of 1924, when the waterworks system was first begun, until 1905.

"Our water rates are lower than numerous other cities, and we are supplying pure drinking water, while other towns have to be satisfied with river or lake water. There is no commodity other than electric light, that is being sold at the same price or less today than twenty years ago, and I consider the supplying of pure spring water in ample quantities to the people of London to be one of the commission's outstanding achievements.

Water Expenses.

"Mr. Smith criticizes the commission for spending $125,000 for water meters," pursued Mr. Pocock, "but it was either a case of doing it or not doing it at all. The commission is saving the pumping of 100,000 gallons of water daily, and the same price or less today than twenty years ago, and I consider the supplying of pure spring water in ample quantities to the people of London to be one of the commission's outstanding achievements.

"The policy of metering the water system in London is simply to save the money of the larger Canadian and American cities, because the unmetered system sets a premium on waste. It must be remembered that the water is a product, this pure, spring water, does not cost anything, it does cost money to pump the water and to deliver it from the source to the consumer in the city. Experts have surveyed the whole situation, and they have come to the conclusion that metering, either for water or light, is the fairest and best manner known to charge for the water or light used.

"Mr. Smith wants to know why American well-drilling firms are being employed in the digging of wells in East London, rather than Canadian firms," observed Mr. Pocock, "but here again the answer is simply to state the facts as they are. The Canadian firm, the Petrolia drillers, did not produce results. The American drillers drilled exactly the same site, King street and Highway avenue, on which the Petrolia drillers had failed, and they produced a well of 250,000 gallons of water per day. No Canadian driller can drill gravel well wells of 18 inches in diameter, because they have not the proper equipment for that purpose.

"Moreover, the Levey-Fowler Company, the American firm which is drilling wells for the commission at the present time, is the largest well-drilling firm in the world, and is drilling wells at Cochrane, Midland, Dinton and other Canadian cities. The company's contract calls for payment of the full amount of a well producing over 200,000 gallons of water a day is obtained, and only one-third of the amount if a well of less capacity per day is produced.

North Branch Exhausted.

"Mr. Smith declares that the north branch of the Thames is the best place to hunt for water," stated Mr. Pocock, "but the north branch of the river has been explored and reported upon by a number of engineers, and the total amount of water available would not be as great as that produced by two wells. It costs practically nothing to connect wells located in the city along the large mains, as a thousand in the east end, while it would cost $50,000 to say nothing of the property which would have to be acquired, as well as collecting ponds, reservoirs, and pumping plant to establish a pipe line to bring the north branch spring water into the city.

"Mr. Smith protests against the service charge for electricity," concluded Mr. Pocock, "but this has been in force for over ten years, and the citizens appear perfectly satisfied with the manner of billing. These electric rates are laid down by the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario, and if Mr. Smith is elected, he will not have any control over a change in these rates. Mr. Smith questions the right of the commission to have a service charge when a similar charge was declared illegal for the City Gas company. It might be stated, however, that services charges from publicly-owned institu-

Fate of Communists Riles Labor Leaders In Britain

MacDonald, Snowden, Henderson and Others Put Motion on Order Paper Condemning the Government's Action—Declares British Rights of Freedom of Speech Have Been Violated.

By HENRY SOMERVILLE. Staff Correspondent to The London Advertiser. Copyright.

London, Nov. 25.—It is not the Communist party but the Labour party which suffers as a result of the trial, conviction and imprisonment of the twelve Communists sentenced yesterday, for it gains for the Communists sympathy of the working class and a moral authority they have never had before.

The feud between the Communists and a great majority of the Labour party was not a sham. It was sincere and exceedingly bitter, but every section of the Labour party renounces the imprisonment of the Communists as monstrous.

The following motion has been placed on the order paper of parliament in the names of Ramsay MacDonald, J. H. Thomas, Philip Snowden, Arthur Henderson, Tom Shaw and C. P. Trevelyan: "That the action of the government in initiating the prosecution against certain members of the Communist party is a violation of traditional British rights of freedom of speech and publications of opinion.

Those of the extreme right wing of the Labour party, who have never received anything but vituperation from the Communists and who say or speak of the Communists except to denounce them.

A similar motion has been handed in by the radical group of the Liberal party in the house of commons. Right Hon. John Wheatley, Labour M. P., says: "The judgment is a long step back towards the dark ages. I cannot escape the conviction that the hostile attitude and speeches at the Labour party conference at Liverpool, when the Communists were thrown to the wolves, are largely responsible for the proceedings and the result."

It will be noted that the motion is signed by the radical group of the Liberal party in the house of commons. Right Hon. John Wheatley, Labour M. HERRIOT UNABLE TO RULE FRANCE

Fails To Form Government and Senator Sarrant Is Summoned.

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Nov. 25.—Former Premier Herriot today informed President Doumergue that he definitely declined to form a cabinet.

It is understood that the president probably will call next on Senator Maurice Sarrant, the radical-socialist, to attempt the formation of a ministry.

The bus was one of the largest owned by the Metropolitan Bus Company, and had been a year's service. C. C. Kamm, owner of the company, notified last night of the accident, which occurred on the bus, and it was only slightly damaged. The chassis is also badly damaged.

"It was the coolest accident that I have ever seen," stated George Smith, when he was questioned this morning concerning the accident. "Of course it may have been serious, and had the engine been moving a trifle faster I doubt if anyone would be here to tell me about it. I was only slightly injured outside of one person yelling, 'Keep your seats,' after the bus had come to a stop against the telephone pole on the street."

"If this pole had not been there the accident may have been of a more serious nature, but its presence prevented the bus from toppling over onto its side, as it most certainly would have done had it not been there.

"I noticed nothing," Mr. Smith went on to say, "but I saw the front of the nose of the engine protruding through the broken window. I was sitting in one of the back seats facing the back of the bus, and it was only slightly jarred when I was thrown across the aisle onto the corner of the opposite seat. The injuries as far as I could see were very slight. Those who were shaken up suffered more from fright than from actual injuries.

"The bus was travelling, I should judge, no more than ten miles an hour, when it was crossing the street, as it was having slowed down, as is usual when crossing the street. I could not say whether the engine sounded a warning or not, but I saw no warning light, and perhaps I did not notice it."

Fred Furioner, of 873 Trafalgar street, was thrown into the windshield when the bus struck the telephone pole. He said he had a bad case of nose broken and severely cut.

"The bus was travelling about eight miles an hour as we were crossing the street," said Mr. Furioner, "and I had about twenty-eight passengers. There was no warning whistle, and the next thing I knew I was thrown face forward into the windshield of the bus. There was not a great deal of panic, and with the exception of one woman exclaiming, 'God help us,' there was very little shouting. The engine proceeded from the east, hit the bus directly in the center on that side, staying the side in and smashing the windows."

"The bus was then thrown to the west side of the road and against the telephone pole just south of the tracks. Had the pole not been there I think the accident would have been more serious. I could not say to what extent the injuries were, as I was bleeding freely from the nose, and hurried off to have it dressed."

BLAMES EVIL COMPANIONS FOR THEFT OF SWEATER

Evil companionship was blamed by George McCullough, 18 years old, as the cause of his attempted theft of a sweater from a local haberdashery last week. The boy appeared in court this morning for sentence.

"I'm sorry for what I've done. It was on the spur of the moment," he told Magistrate Graydon.

Upon McCullough's assurance that he would go to work and earn a living Mr. Robert him for a month in the father's custody.
