REDUCED RATES OF PREMIUM—HALF CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM. CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

THE great and decided success which has attended this Institution has induced the Directors to REDUCE the RATES originally required in British North America to the ordinary European Rates. The result of such Reduction is to enable parties to avail themselves of the important benefits of Life Assurance at much lower Rates of Premium than those of any other Assurance Company transacting business in Canada.

The Directors have also resolved to extend to British North America the advantages a florded by the HALF CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved, and are so the HALF CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved, and are so generally adopted by Policy Holders in the United Kingdom. The most liberal conditions are likewise offered to the Assured in the limits to which they may proceed by sea or land, to other parts of North America, without affecting their Interest in heir respective Policies.

A way indisersest measure, originating in minken philanthropy, is before the Legislature in the bage of a Bill to Incorporate a Company for the purpose of establishing a Negro Colony in the Country of Essex. In every point of view 4 look upon this measure as highly objectionable. It will then out in practice to be crued to the megroes themselves; for it must be clear to all who think for a moment upon the indepensible conditions of civilized society, that a race of people, no matter from what cause, in all respects interior to the population through which they are now dispersed, cannot of themselves form any other than a helpless and wretered community. Their labor will cause to be valuable, or be next to valueless, if it be exerted on objects about which they know now thing. A negro may make a very good cook, or harber, or in short do very well is any of those occupations for which he is, from education and habit, fitted; but it would be monatrous to suppose that he could advantageously employ his ishor at farming, or that he is qualified to fill any situation in society. Reasoning from the individual to the mass, it is manifestly abourd its suppose that the Negroes can, with advantages to themselves, be formed into a distinct society. Then, it is also a consideration of some importance, in view of our relations with the United States, whether it be right far us to entire to our shores the discust, legally held in servitode, of a friendly power! It is not for us, by any means whalver, to interfere with the domestic arrangements of a targen power, however wrong we may believe, and for distant objects of benevolence. What nacessity exists for astablishing this Negro Colony to we are told by the advocates of the acheme that it exists in the ascial condition of that class of the popularist. Paets disprove the allegations. The condition of these people in Canada is not such as to awaken gentine philanthopy. They manage to get along very well, and nobody interferes with them. The truth is, the whole scheme has for its object the creation of a ready asylam for slaves who escape to Canada; and all the arguments by which it is supported, based on the allege of social condition of the Negroes wittled amongst us, are the insecut protexts. Such being the chyracter of the acheme, the Legislature is in duly bound to refuse to give it any countenance.

The Christening of the Infant Prince of England.

(From the Liverpool Mercury, June 25.)

The ceremony of the baptism of the infant prince, son of her Majesty the Queen and his Royal Highness Prince Albert, took place Saturday evening in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace. The whole of the cahnet ministers were invited to the ceremony, and began to assemble at the palace at six o'clock, being conducted on their arrival to the library. In the garden of the palace a guard of horor, composed of Foot Guards, was on duty, and, on the arrival of their Royal Highnesses the Butchess of Kent, the Dutchess of Cambridge, received them with the usual military honors, the band playing "God save the Queen." The royal family were conducted to one of the lower drawing-rooms. The diplomatic representatives of Prussia, Portugal, and Beigium were honored with invitations to the ceremony, and were conducted to the same apartments is the ashinet ministers, all the approaches to which were guarded by the Yeoman of the Guard while the entrance of the private chapel was lined by the Queen's honorable corps of Gentlamen-at-Arms. His Royal Highness the Prince of Prussia joined the members of the royal family in the lower drawing-room, the gentlemen of his suite being conducted to the library. The Queen and Prince Albest, with the royal children, having descended from their apartments and joined the royal visiters, preparations were made for passing on to the chapel, the foreign and cabinet ministers having previously been conducted there. The arrangements for the procession were made in the library by Sir Charles George Young, Garter King of Arms, who marshalled the noblemen and gentlemen in their stations, assisted by the other Kings of Arms, who marshalled the noblemen and gentlemen in their stations, assisted by the other Kings of Arms, who marshalled the noblemen and gentlemen in their stations, assisted by the other King of Arms, who marshalled the noblemen an

The gallery was filled by the choir and her Majesty's private band.

About ax o'clock, the Kings of Arms, in their splendid tahards, and several members of tha household, were in readiness in the chapel, and about a quarter past six o'clock the three foreign ministers—M. Van de Weyer, Vissount de Mongrey er on de the Chevalier Bunsen, representing Belgium, Portugal and Prussia—arrived in full official uniform, and were conducted to the front pew on the left, immediately behind the place occupied by her Majesty and the royal family.

At a quarter to seven-o'clock, the Archishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, and the attendant clergy, entered the chapel, and took their stations at the altar.

Immediately after the procession of the sponsors entered the chapel, ushered by Lancaster Herald and Chester Herald, the Hon. Mr. Lascelles, Comptrelles of the Household. The sponsors, his Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent, and his Grace the Dukese Wellington, were conducted to their places on the right hand side of the font, looking towards the altar. The Prince of Prussia worea dark blue Prussian tuiform, with the coller of the Order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the order of the Black Eagle, and the insignis of the Order, and the insignis of the Order of the Household, the Lades in waiting on the Prince of Prussia, formed a line behind the illustrious sponsors.

So shall no shades of sorrow cloud
The sunshine of the early days;
But Happiness, in endiese round.

At the conclusion of the chorale, the Marquis of Bredalbant, the Lord Chambertain, and the Marquis of Abercorn, Groum of the Stole to Prince Albert, left the chapel, and returned conducting the infant prince, who was borne in the arms of his nurse, and attended by the Countess of Gainsbotough.

The accred rite of baptism was then commenced by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the illustrious sponsors gradually drawing near the font. His grace went through the service in a moet audible and impressive manner, and the responses were listened to with the most breathless attention. It was indeed a most interesting acene, to see on one wide her Majesty, with the royal children, as it were, clustered round her, with the Psince Consort standing by her side, conferring this last mark of highor on the veteran hero, the unconducable defender of the cause of loyalty and good order, and the upholder of the glories of his country through perils such as are not likely ever to happen again. When, therefore, the archbishop called on the sponsors to "name this child," every one almost involuntarity leant forward to eight of the country leant forward to eight on the sponsors to "name this child," every one almost involuntarity leant forward to eight he heat sound of the Duke of Wellington's voice, who slowly and emphatically named the prince.

"The holy sign was then made by the archishep, and Prince Arthur made a member of the Christian Church.

The Gountess of Gainsborough received the royal infant (who is a remarkably fine and handsome child) from the arms of the archishop, and after the ceremony attended him with the officers of state out of the chapel.

The infant prince was dressed in a robe and mantle of Honiton lace over white satin.

The choir sang a hymn composed by Palestrina:—

After the ceremony, the Queen and Prince Albert, with the royal children, and accompanied by their royal visiters, proceeded to the throne-room, where they were joined shortly before eight o'clock by her Royal Highness the Düchess of Gloucester.

At five minutes before eight of coach, her Majesty and Prince Albert entered the picture gallery, where a most sumptuous dinner was served in celebration of the event, one long table down the middle of the gallery, which presented a most dazzling spectacle, being covered the entire length with magnificient opergnes, vases, dishes, and other articles, all of silver gilt, and most brilliantly dighted up with gold candelabra filled with numerous wax lights. In the midst of this splein dor appeared several plants of great rarity and beauty, each plant being inserted in a gold vase. In striking centrast to the rest of the gold service on the plateau, was "the christening cake." The cake was placed in the middle of the table, exactly opposite to the Queen's seat. The entrance of the sovereign in the picture gallery was the signal of the military band in attendance to commence playing the national anthem, which was repeated until the whole of the illustrious party had taken their seats.

A NALYSIS OF MINERAL WATER OF A POINT DU JOUR.—From Mr. Hunt's Analysis of the Water of the Mineral Spring at Point du Jour, near L'Assomption, i infer that R will prove a valuable addition to those already discovered in Canada.

It appears to be well adapted to cases of scrofula, diseases of the skin, rout, rheumatism, and dvadiseases of the skin, rout, rheumatism, and dvadiseases of the skin, rout, rheumatism.

It appears to be well adapted to cases of ecrofula, diseases of the skin, gout, rheumatism, and dyspeptic complaints generally.

Mineral Water to be useful should be taken for some time, and when it seems to lose its effect, that from another spring should be substituted; and one not agreeing with an individual, another may act kindly and effectually. Weak and delicate persons should seek the advice of a physician with regard to the employment of these waters—it would be a great blessing to society if these productions from the laboratory of nature were to supersede the vile and heterogenous compounds. Wo. Nesson, M.D. Montreal, 11th March, 1850,

I certify that I have used the Point du Jour Spring Water in my practice, and have found it to act as a mild purgative and alterative. From the quantity of Iodine it contains, it will, I doubt not, be found useful in scrofulous diseases and in some form of syphilis, in addition to other remedies.

Testimony of Ms. NATHAN MATHAWS. a highly respectable and unality citizen of Newerk, N. J. Du. G. W. HALSEY:—I believe your Forest Wine and Pills have been the means of saving my life. When I commenced taking them, I laid at the point of death, with Bropay, Piles, and Asthma. My Physicians had given me over as past eurs, and my family had lost all hope of my receivery. While in this deadlu situation, your Forest Wine and Pills were procured for me, and before I had finished the first bottle of the Wine, and boar of Pills. I experienced great relief; my hody and limbs, which were greatly secules, became sensibly reduced. Hopes of my receivery beam new to revive, and after continuing the use of your medicines for about a month, the Pilesand Asthma were completely curred. The Bropsy, with which my life was placed in such great danger, was also nearly gone. I have continued the use of your Medicines until the present time, and I now edge as perfect health as ever I did in my life, although I am more than sixty years of age. I service my recovery entirely to the use of your excellent Medicines. Several of my neighbors have also trad them with similar success in obtinate complaints, and I can cheerfully recommend them to the public.

Boston, Feb. 15, 1847.

Mr. WM. Bogle.—Sir.—The preparation invented by you for the hair, has been extensively used in my family, and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. It invigorates and beautifies

BOGLE'S AMOLE,

BOGLE'S AMOLE,

A COMPOUND FOR SHAVING.

This delightful article is totally different and far superior to anything yet invented for shaving. The base of it is derived from the Amole, or "soap plant," of Canifornia, an article used by the natives of that country for washing; and thus the use of strong alkali, so burful to the skin, is avoided. Its vegetable and detergent properties have the purcet and most nourishing effects on the skin,—it soothes and allays irritation, and has a fine, thick, creamy lather, which does not dry on the face. It is a decided luxury to be shaved with this incomparable soap. It is done up in elegant style, calculated either for the dressing case of the "rough and ready" traveller, or the toilet of the most fastidious connoisseur.

Mr. William Bagle,—Dear Sir; For several years past, my wife has been troubled with baldness on the Crown of the head, about its or seven inches in circumfrence, and by the advice of friends, she was induced to use your Hyperion as a wash, for the purpose of restoring her lost hair, and I am happy to say that its effect has been to cause the hair to grew all over the part affected. She has used only two bottles, and that very irregularly in all set used it of lever and more regular, I am convinced that the growth of the hair would have been accelerated. Like most of carbonic acid, and party as chloride. Like most of the other saline waters of the country, it contains becoming and foodner; in addition to which, I have detected, in small quantities, anks of baytes and stroutin, which had hitherto been inest with only in the waters of Vareanes. In its general characters, it is allied to the Source of Caxton, Plantaguest, and the Intermittent of Cale.

During the past eighteen months, I have had ample experience of the Plantagenet Mineral Waters, which has confirmed the farourable impression their analysis led me to entertain of them, as a safe, cooling and alterative bewerage during the heat of summer. I have also found them useful auxiliaries in the treatment of some derangements and diseases. PLANTAGENET WATER.
