

HON. JAS. S. DUFF, MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE IS DEAD
2000 Belgians are Deported Daily From Their Country by the Germans

HE WAS FIVE DAYS IN NO MAN'S LAND BEFORE RESCUED

Further Details of the Harrowing Experience of Corporal Raymond of This City

Mr. Douglas S. Robertson, special correspondent of the Toronto Telegram, in London, England, sends the following letter to that paper, with reference to the recent remarkable experience at the front of Corporal Raymond of this city.

Five days and nights lying wounded in a shell-hole out on No Man's Land, and yet alive to tell the tale, bright as a dollar and fast recovering!

Corporal W. Gladstone Raymond, son of Mr. W. G. Raymond, Postmaster, of Brantford, went through the above harrowing experience. In the first wave of a local attack, when his battalion, the 58th of Toronto, made an assault on the neighboring Hun, Corporal Raymond presently found himself all alone at the German wire.

AMBULANCE TO AID. Finding himself thus apparently alone so close to the enemy, Corporal Raymond threw himself into a big shell-hole and from this coil of vantage began heaving grenades on the Germans.

RESCUER KILLED. "Keep down!" I shouted in a stage whisper, quoth Corporal Raymond, relating the episode, "but I had hardly got the words out of my mouth when a bullet got the poor chap in the head and he rolled over without a murmur, stone dead. He was just

BELGIANS DEPORTED NOW REACH TOTAL OF 40,000

And is Continued by Huns at Rate of 5000 a Day—Populace of Belgium Indignant but Helpless Against the Outrage

The Hague, Nov. 17.—via London, Nov. 18.—The number of Belgians deported by the Germans up to date, according to information given today from a reliable source, apparently is between thirty and forty thousand and they are being deported at the rate of about 2,000 daily.

Antwerp, it was said, has been commanded to furnish 27,000 men, which is probably not more than ten per cent. of its able-bodied population, but the commune of Lessines has lost more than 2,000 from a total population, including women and children of 7,000, representing virtually every able-bodied man, excepting officials.

The entire Belgian population, the narrator said, is terrorized because the people realize they are entirely helpless. Crowds of hysterical women and children gather at the railway and recruiting stations and many women at Lempsnes threw themselves on the rails to prevent the departure of a train of immigrants and had to be forcibly removed by the gendarmes.

Neutrals in Belgium, especially the ministers, are receiving many appeals to try and induce their governments to intervene. The newspaper La Libre Belgique, which has maintained a wide circulation throughout Belgium for more than a year, despite the alleged efforts of the Germans to discover its authors and suppress the sheet has published a special number containing an appeal to the neutral nations.

ITALY PROTESTS WITH ALLIES. Against German Establishment of the Kingdom of Poland.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 18.—The Italian Government has joined the other Entente powers in protesting against the action of Germany in proclaiming Russian Poland an independent state. Premier Paolo Rossi has sent the Italian legation in London a telegram to Premier Sturmer of Russia.

Duchess of Devonshire.

The elder daughter of the Marquess of Lansdowne, small and dark-haired, she bears a remarkable resemblance to her distinguished father. Most of her childhood was spent in the princely atmosphere of Lansdowne House, where she naturally came into touch with court life when quite young. After her marriage in 1892 with the Hon. Victor Cavendish as was the Duke's name then, she lived very quietly at Holker Hall, in Lancashire, with exception of entertaining now and again at her husband's town residence. But when her husband succeeded his uncle to the dukedom, she at once took her position as hostess at the numerous mansions of the Devonshire family, and she has always been distinguished by her charm of manner.

She is a very capable organizer, and as the chatelaine of many beautiful houses, Chatsworth, Devonshire House, Lismore Castle, Hardwick Hall, and Compton Place, Eastbourne, she has had a wide experience of entertaining. Chatsworth is famous as being one of the most interesting houses in the country, with its pictures and valuable collections of works of art. The expense of the upkeep of this huge estate is enormous, and a heavy drain on the Duke's income.

In 1910 the Duchess of Devonshire succeeded her aunt, the Duchess of Buccleuch, as Mistress of the Robes to the Queen. The duties, however, of a Mistress of the Robes are not especially onerous. She accompanies the Queen to any state ceremony, and is present in any procession in which Her Majesty takes part. She no longer acts as tiring woman to her Royal mistress as in bygone days.

The Duchess is one of Queen Mary's closest friends, and is frequently in her company. Both the King and Queen have been entertained at Chatsworth where the King has often enjoyed a good day's shooting. Since the war her grace has worked unceasingly for the cause of war charities, and has especially interested herself in the nursing of our wounded. Years before the war she was constantly urging the importation of emergency hospitals.

Canning Without Sugar.
Housewives who intended to reduce the amount of canning done this season by reason of the high cost of sugar may abandon that project and put up as much as they wish, in the statement issued by the canning specialists at the Department of Agriculture.
This can be made possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond one's means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and retained in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of the hot syrup. Most fruits canned alone in water do not retain their flavor, texture, and color as do those canned in sugar, and must be sweetened when used for sauces or desserts.
In order to can without sugar the product must be canned on the same day that it is picked. It should be prepared for canning in the ordinary way. Then the containers should be placed in a sterilizing vat such as a wash boiler with a false bottom, and completely covered with boiling water. The sterilization process may extend from 10 to 30 minutes, according to the process used. After sterilization the packs should be removed, the glass jars sealed and wrapped in paper to prevent bleaching and stored in a dry, cool place—Harford Times.

Queens Sold Almanacs.
The sale of almanacs was once a lucrative monopoly. Queen Elizabeth granted the sole right to publish "almanacs and prognostications" to the Stationers' Company, and James I. extended the privilege to the University of Oxford, and Cambridge, but for centuries only these three bodies were permitted to issue printed calendars. The monopoly ended when the claim of the King to the privilege of granting of withholding permission to issue calendars—a survival, perhaps, from days when kings asserted their right to regulate all things, including even the times and seasons—was definitely disproved and proclaimed non-existent. Now any body can say who's who anywhere.—London Chronicle.

THE COURIER

Published by the Brantford Courier Limited, every afternoon, at Dalhousie Street, Brantford, Canada.

Subscription rate: By carrier, $4 a year; by mail to British possessions and the United States, $5 per annum.

Saturday, November 18th, 1916.

THE SITUATION
The news with regard to Roumania is not so reassuring. Von Falkenhayn's forces are once more making marked headway on the Transylvania front, and the statement from Petrograd that the Teutons have been largely reinforced to manifestly the case.

On the north part of the Ancre, the British front has been somewhat further extended, but as the result of a strong German counter attack, some of the ground recently taken has been lost east of Warlencourt. Frederick Palmer, the war correspondent delegated by the British Government to represent the entire U. S. press on the front, has returned to the States for a rest.

The Serbian forces continue to meet with success in the drive towards Monastir. They are now among the ridges east of that place, while the French and British troops in this region are also doing well. Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, during a vigorous protest against the outrageous deportation of Belgians to Germany, says: "I hope that American public opinion will show itself, not only in a few short days or weeks of protests and criticisms, but in steady pressure upon the invaders of Belgium, to conduct the war against the soldiers of the allies in the trenches, and not against the helpless civilians, whom they have in their power."

At present there do not seem to be any indications that our neighbors will take such a lead. Even if they did, the Huns would probably pay no more attention to the matter than to the protests over the sinking of the Lusitania.

PROHIBITION IN THE U. S.

ELECTIONS.
In the recent United States elections the Prohibitionists gained five States, Michigan, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana and Utah. In the last named instance, there was no direct measure, but a majority of the members elected to the State Legislature are pledged to introduce an enactment. Twenty-three States, or nearly one-half of those in the Union, are now "dry," the others in addition to the five named consisting of Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Washington, Virginia and West Virginia.

In the vast majority of cases it is the open bar which has been abolished and as in Ontario, the homes have not been touched.

WILSON'S DENIAL

When the announcement was recently made that an official message had been sent from Washington to Berlin objecting to the deportation of Belgians to Germany, most Canadians entertained the hope that after his recent victory President Wilson was going to develop some backbone against the big bully. However, Woodrow has shattered that idea by hurrying to explain that he has not taken any such step.

In the name of heaven, why not? The New York Globe, in referring to the matter, says: "Germany, through the despatch to the front of her workers, finds it increasingly difficult to provide the munitions needed by the army and the food and other supplies required by her soldiers and her civilian population. She has used prisoners to supply her labor lack, but they do not suffice. She has sought to bring the Poles to Germany, but the effort has had small success, and having elected to try to get the Poles to fight for her, does not deem it wise to resort to forcible deportation. So she turns to Belgium and has brought over huge bodies of slaves."

That is just what they are—men, women and children forced to work for the devils who ravished them, and their country, and to help with war and other supplies in order to prolong the resistance of their ruthless despoilers. Very few pages of history record a worse plight for any people, and as to their women folk under such circumstances, God help them. The United States was a party to the treaty which forbade any such enslavement and yet the spectacle is presented of the President of that country hastening to deny that he has made any protest. Faugh.

THE LATE HON. MR. DUFF.
The sudden death of Hon. Mr. Duff will come with a sense of personal loss to all who had the privilege of his chery acquaintance. He was never a politician in the sense in which some people regard that term, although throughout his life a staunch Conservative. As Minister of Agriculture he was often made the target for Opposition criticism, but he brought a loyal spirit of service to the discharge of his duties and enjoyed the great confidence of the agricultural community.

News Notes of 215th Battalion

The situation in Haldimand county, is being looked over to-day by Col. Morris, of the 215th, who is in Dunnville. The prospects in Norfolk county are reported to be well up to expectations, and if the same conditions are encountered in the other districts it is thought that there will be no difficulty in securing the required number of men. Col. Morris after conferring with the officers of the recruiting organization in Haldimand will go to Toronto, returning to Brantford on Monday. The soccer team of the battalion will leave on the one o'clock radial car for Hamilton, in order to be there on time to start the game at three o'clock. Both teams are reported to be in fine condition, and after the draw score here two weeks ago both are anxious to secure a victory. The team will be better entered at a supper and theatre party to-night by the Tigers.

The contest will be staged on the Hamilton Association grounds, which will be free, owing to an open date in the league for to-day. A large number of the members of the battalion expect to take in the game. A Hamilton referee has been chosen to officiate. Pte. J. B. Appleby has been placed in charge of the recruiting for the battalion in Paris, and commenced work there yesterday. Lieut. Kyle, accompanied by four N.C.O.'s will leave on Sunday to take a two weeks' bombing instruction course in Paris, and Capt. Joyce and two N.C.O.'s will commence an instructors course in trench warfare at Exhibition Camp on Monday.

Review of the Week's Market

An upward tendency is still the keynote in food products. Flour is now well over $10 per barrel, the actual quotation being $10.49. Toronto, sugar is slightly easier in the market, due to the lower price paid for raws in New York. All Canadian refiners are again quoting on the same basis, the three refiners who were quoting fifteen cents above the other manufacturer have returned to the lower level. This does not mean that there has actually been a decline in sugar. Refiners at 15 cents above one other refiner, sales were actually made by all refiners on the basis of the lowest quotation.

Provisions of all kinds are firm. Live hogs hold near the level of last week. New laid eggs continue to be even scarcer and are quoted 2 cents to 5 cents per dozen higher. Butter inclines to higher levels. Cheese advanced a half a cent a pound. Pure lard and compound lard went up half a cent. Owing to the big demand for cottonseed oil, used in compounding lard there has been a firming tendency. There has been a big demand for fats and oils of all kinds and in the face of easier prices for live hogs lard has been advancing.

Fancy Barbadoes molasses is firm and higher in price. Evaporated apples advanced during the week. All dried fruits are firm in price. Some Australian currants are being brought into the Toronto market. Beans are at high levels, with advances recorded during the week. Considerable quantities of foreign beans are being brought in. Canned salmon in certain brands are higher in price. The Canadian market has absorbed large quantities of American canned goods. It is conservatively estimated that over 45,000 cases of American canned goods arrived at Montreal during one week. Wholesale prices for canned tomatoes were higher last week. For a couple of weeks following the announcement of the opening prices, some wholesalers circularized the trade, offering some lines of canned goods about 15 cents per dozen below the opening prices announced by the canners.

Business in nearly all grocery lines has been good. Wholesalers are experiencing difficulty in getting supplies to meet the demand.

HON. MR. DUFF Ontario Minister of Agriculture Passes Suddenly Away

Had Been in Poor Health and Was Grieving Over Son Killed at Front

Hon. James Stoddart Duff, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, is dead. Taken ill while on a visit to Alliston late yesterday afternoon, he died in the house of a friend before medical aid could be summoned, acute heart trouble being the immediate cause. According to the word that reached Hon. W. H. Hearst last evening, the funeral arrangements were made in Cooktown on Thursday, apparently feeling in good health after a week at work in his office in Toronto. Yesterday he attended to private business, and while on the street felt himself becoming faint. He went into the house of a friend, who immediately hurried out after a physician. Dr. Cunningham responded, but before he reached the house the Minister was dead.

Friends of the family took charge of the remains, there being no one else to assume that duty. Mrs. Duff has been prostrated since the death of her son at the front, and other members of the family are away from home. The funeral arrangements have not been decided upon, but Hon. W. H. Hearst and the other colleagues of the late Minister will go up to Cooktown to attend the funeral. Son's Death Was Great Shock. The death of Hon. Mr. Duff was a shock to his colleagues, and to the wider circle outside the Cabinet, who were in daily touch with him, for while it was recognized that the Minister's health was not the best, there was little fear that it would take him out of public life for some time to come. Undoubtedly the news of his son's death at the front a fortnight ago had a great deal to do with hastening his death.

The death of Hon. James Duff will bring regret and sorrow not only to his relatives and friends but to the big staff of the Department of Agriculture. Few Ministers have been as thoroughly liked and respected as the jovial, large-hearted little farmer from Cooktown. No matter how heavy the burden of work he had to carry, or the worries that met him, he was never anything but sunny tempered and considerate. He was the most truly democratic member in the Cabinet, with a ready ear for everyone, and was always anxious to hear the views of his constituents. The late Mr. Duff was one of the veteran members of the Legislature—only one or two can show a longer period of service—but he was not one of the original "Whitney Cabinet," having become Minister of Agriculture in 1908, following the defeat of Hon. Nelson Monteth in the general election in that year. Previous to the war for 10 years as a member for Centre Simcoe, winning his seat on each occasion by a wide margin. When Hon. Nelson Monteth decided to retire from the Cabinet in preference to seeking a seat in some other riding than his own, Sir James Whitney had no hesitation in choosing James Stoddart Duff to remain in the Cabinet, and he was subsequently elected to the Prime Minister's office. Take Two Hon Mr. Duff.

Hon. Mr. Hearst's Tribute. In referring to Hon. Mr. Duff's death, Hon. Mr. Hearst said: "In the death of my friend and colleague, the Hon. Mr. Duff, the Government and the Province of Ontario has sustained a deep loss, and the sadness of the event is shared by all who know that he has recently come to Mr. Duff's home through the death of his son, who a few weeks ago made the supreme sacrifice for country and freedom on the battlefield of Europe. The only other son is overseas with the Canadian forces. He was wholeheartedly British, had an intense love for his country and was at all times anxious to advance its interests and to maintain British institutions and British ideas. Mr. Duff was a typical Canadian and loved and was loved by all the people of the province who knew him. His upright character, sterling qualities and manly spirit were recognized and admired by all who knew him, no matter to what political creed or race they belonged. From his youth he took a very active interest in political matters and the public questions of the day, and at the time of his death he was one of the oldest members of the Legislature. In his own riding and county, his name was a household word, and he was exceedingly popular everywhere. In 1908 he became Minister of Agriculture in the Whitney Government, a portfolio he continued to hold until the time of his death. Mr. Duff brought to his office practical knowledge of more than ordinary character and devoted himself energetically and conscientiously to the discharge of the duties of his important department, where he was signally successful in promoting the great industry of agriculture in all its branches. His work and achievements will long be remembered by the farmers of the Province of Ontario. Personally Mr. Duff was a most lovable character, kind, generous and sincere. I not only lose a most able colleague, but one of my warmest personal friends, and my heartfelt sympathy goes out, as I am sure does that of all the members of the Legislature and the people generally to the widow who has thus been severed from a loving and devoted husband, while her heart is still sore from the loss of a splendid and heroic son."

To The People of Brantford and Vicinity 118 Colborne Street. Brantford, Nov. 18, 1916 To You Who Buy: Are you aware that the same quality of Jewelry, Watches, Clocks, and Silverware in our store, are really sold at a closer margin of profit than those sold by any far-away Catalog House? Has it ever occurred to you, that by purchasing here, you can handle the goods, admire them, and receive our personal guarantee upon them? These Catalog houses are at too great a disadvantage to be able to do justice to such a discriminating line as ours. Handling the large variety of goods that they do, it is absolutely impossible for them to explain to you the many points in connection with the quality so vital and important when you buy jewelry. The housewife is apt to forget sometimes, that we are right in Brantford, and always ready to make good any articles purchased from us that do not stand up to the guarantee. Your safety lies in this fact; that you can come in at any time, look through our stock, and if we do not have what you have in mind, WE CAN GET IT FOR YOU. This is the time of year to come in. New goods are arriving constantly, and we are perfectly willing to lay away any article in the store until you are ready for it. Do far-away Catalog Houses offer any such inducements? At least, come in and talk this matter over with us before sending anybody money for an article that you have never seen. You can put your absolute faith in what we tell you, and at the same time buy it at the same price. PUT US TO THE TEST. Bring the Catalog with you, if you wish, and let's compare prices. We will look for you within a few days. Yours very truly, BULLER BROS., Jewelers, 116-118 Colborne St.

 Apropos of the fact that although children soon weary of doctrinal or any other teaching they are never tired of tales well told, the following story is related in regard to the Bishop of London. He was once addressing a boys' meeting, and having delighted them with some of his ray illustrations he began to draw to a close by saying: "Now I'm going to point out the moral of all this," when a little fellow from the middle of the hall stepped forward and said: "The moral, Gie's another

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH & CAMERON AND MARGARET RESPONDED

"The doctor wants Margaret to take some of this medicine twice a day in milk, but I know she won't like it," a mother said to me the other day. "She doesn't like milk, you know, and she is terribly stubborn about medicine."

"Then she gave a worried glance toward four-year-old Margaret, changed her tone to the wheedling accents mothers use when children have the upper hand of them, and said:

"Now, dear, don't you want to be a good girl and take some of this lovely medicine that's going to make you all well?"

But Margaret shook her head stubbornly. "Don't like the old medicine," she said, "don't like milk."

She was living up to her Mother's Expectations.

The seed her mother had planted had taken prompt root. She was expected to object to taking the medicine and she was fulfilling that expectation.

Such is the power of suggestion. True, she might have objected anyway. But if her mother, without letting the child see that she expected her to object, had advanced upon her firmly without the manner of one who intends to be obeyed without teasing or fuss, don't you think the result would have been different?

"I do. I think there is more in the power for good or evil in suggestion than we realize."

You suggest to a child what you expect of him and he responds to your suggestion.

A Mother Who Was Too Resigned.

"I once knew a girl who was inclined to be untidy and careless with her clothes. Her mother, instead of trying to root out the bad habit, accepted it with a weary resignation.

"Rita never will take any care of her clothes," she would say.

And when Rita tore her dress or lost her hair ribbons the family comment was, "That's just like Rita."

The result was that Rita came to expect untidiness of herself and to regard the fact that it was just like her as a kind of justification. She could have been made to feel that she was being selfish.

If she had been made to see how much trouble her carelessness caused, and to realize that it was just a form of selfishness and that her parents expected better things of her, might she not have done more to overcome it?

Having his table dislikes recognized and talked about, fixes them more firmly in a child's mind. Many a dislike which might be cured by having the food presented to him with the suggestion that he is going to like it this time, is forever fixed in his mind by hearing his parents say: "Oh, Henry doesn't like cucumbers," or "Rena never eats fish."

We are all influenced by what is expected of us, and children, being in a more pliant state of mind, are the most susceptible to such influence.

Valuable Suggestions for the Handy Homemaker—Order Any Pattern Through the Courier.

LADY'S HOUSE DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

A woman who keeps her house in order without the aid of a helper needs a dress of just such simple loveliness as the one in the illustration, so that she may be quite presentable to the unexpected caller.

This model is thoroughly up to date with a waist that is bloused quite full and, shaped with a tuck in each front turned toward the armhole, the effect is pretty. The left front, closing with button decoration to yoke depth, adds the necessary smartness. Although the neck finishes without a collar, the sleeves are cuffed with contrasting goods.

The seven gore skirt has a plait at each side front seam and an under box plait in the centre of the back, so that the same fulness that stamps an afternoon dress in the mode is featured in this serviceable garment.

It may be made of seersucker, linen, chambray or checked-gingham. The ease with which the design can be reproduced will surprise and please you.

The dress pattern No. 8011 cuts in sizes 34-44. To make in size 36 requires 5 1/2 yards 36 inch material with 5/8 yard contrasting goods.

To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

NEWSPAPERMAN LOSES PASSPORT

It Is Cancelled Because of Work Done For Britain.

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, Nov. 18.—(Montreal Gazette)—D. Thomas Curtin, a newspaperman of Boston, now with the Northcliffe papers here, was deprived yesterday of his American passport by Ambassador Page.

Curtin is accused of violating his passport in going to Germany in November 1915, ostensibly as a representative of American magazines, but chiefly as a representative of the Northcliffe papers.

In the latter capacity he obtained information which he has used in a series of articles published here. In one of his articles Curtin stated that what Northcliffe wanted was, among other things, "to obtain as much military and naval information as possible."

The American ambassador summoned Curtin and demanded his passport, which Curtin was obliged to give up. The ambassador takes the position that the passport was obtained on false representation to the state department, when Curtin, in order to get it, said that the purpose of his trip was to write articles for America, while he actually acted as an investigator for the Northcliffe press.

Curtin intends to remain in London several months, so he said last night, writing articles and giving lectures. His only comment on the taking away of his passport was that it had expired.

Noblewoman Can't Mend Roads.

After nearly four months of heavy farm work Lady Mabel Smith, London, sister of Lord Fitzwilliam, applied to the Wortley rural council for a position as a road laborer. The council has refused to give her a job, saying the work is too hard for a woman.

"That's exactly the point. So many persons' ancestors did do things which got them into trouble with the police."

FARM HANDS SCARCE

And They Will Be Scarce in England When War is Over.

The Journal of Agriculture (Eng.) in a discussion of the English agricultural labor problem says it is estimated that 320,000 men have left the land in the United Kingdom since the beginning of the war, and in this regard will have to be added the number leaving between now and the end of the war; the number who will not go back to the land is estimated at twenty-five per cent. of the enlistments, or at least 80,000.

From examination of the means to be adopted, to meet this serious shortage of labor which has led into the matter are forced to the conclusion that unless the agricultural production and population are to be further reduced, a considerable number of ex-service men who were not employed in farm work at the outbreak of the war will have to be brought into English agriculture. It is interesting to note that the possibility of the ex-service men settling in the Dominions, or in foreign countries, the committee think a greater might be done, not only to bring home to him the comparative advantages of life in a more settled country, but to improve the conditions that have hitherto prevailed.

As a means of improving conditions it is suggested that small allotments of land be made near towns so that artisans engaged in industrial employment in those towns may provide at least a portion of their food supply in their spare time. It is further suggested, with a view of giving an added stimulus to general farming, that duties be placed on agricultural produce imported, which will be sufficient to give the protection that is necessary to the farmer.

It is evidently the intention of those behind what is proposed to keep at home the prospective farm laborer, who is hoped might be attracted to this country. It also appears probable, in addition to this, that Canadian farmers may find in the United Kingdom will no longer offer a free market for their produce.

Canadians Get V. C.

The Victoria Cross has been awarded to Lieut. Thomas Orde Lawler Wilkinson, North Lancashire Rifles, killed July 25, aged twenty-two. He was the second son of C. E. Wilkinson of Comox, B.C., and was a surveyor in Victoria when he enlisted originally, early in the war, in the Canadian Gordons.

Lieut. Wilkinson was decorated "for most conspicuous bravery. During an attack when a party of another unit were retiring without their machine gun, Lieut. Wilkinson rushed forward, and with two of his men, got the gun into action and held up the enemy till they were relieved. Later, when the advance was checked, during a bombing attack he forced his way forward and found four or five men of different units stopped by a solid block of earth, over which the enemy was throwing bombs. With great pluck and promptness, he mounted a machine gun on top of the parapet and dispersed the enemy bombers. Subsequently he made two most gallant attempts to bring in wounded men, but in his second attempt was shot through the heart, just before reaching his man. Throughout the day he set a magnificent example of courage and self-sacrifice."

The Victoria Cross also is awarded to the Rev. William Robert Addison, chaplain, who early lived in a Canada number camp. He carried a wounded man and assisted several others to cover. By his splendid example of utter disregard of danger he encouraged the "stritcher-bearers" to go forward under a heavy fire.

It is hard to break the chains of habit. It took one man six months to stop saying "Gee Whiz."

It is astonishing how habit will keep a person asking for "the same as usual" tea long after she has intended to try Red Rose Tea. Why let habit prevent you enjoying this richly flavored Indian-Ceylon blend?

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.
If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look. Mothers!
see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach aches, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels, and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full particu-

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. McCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

PREVENTION OF DISEASE.

EXPERIENCE in the control of infectious diseases brings very forcibly to one's mind that the present methods of preventing the spread of these diseases are of doubtful value. What is the ordinary procedure say in a town of 2,000 or 5,000 population? Scarlet fever for example is discovered, the physician in attendance notifies the health officer, and a placard is placed on the house for six weeks, notifying the public that none are allowed to enter the home but members of the family during that time. These directions, if followed, limit this focus of infection.

Down the street a few doors Mrs. Brown's little girl, eight years old, is a little under the weather, vomits once or twice and has a slight scarlet rash on her body with a little fever, but is not very sick. It may be that the young doctor, who is called in, regards the case as one of indigestion, prescribes a laxative and sees the case no more; or perhaps suspecting scarlet fever, he covertly or at the instance of the child's mother, who doesn't want her house placarded, fails to notify the case to the Medical Officer of Health. Consequently after a few days Mary goes back to school and no more is thought of it. Mary, however, fails to pick up as she should. She is pale, flabby looking, and complains of headache. Her mother finds she does not eat her meals, and on Saturday night while superintending her bath she notices that Mary's feet are a little swollen and her eyes look puffy. The mother is alarmed, and finding the family doctor out of town another one is called. He finds on examination of the urine that the child has nephritis or inflammation of the kidneys, and Mary is sent to bed. She is seriously ill for several weeks. She gets well for the time but her kidneys are maimed for life.

By this time there is a general outbreak of scarlet fever all over the town. Everyone is alarmed. The public schools are closed. The local board of health and the medical officer of health take stringent measures, but despite their efforts the number of cases grow. The outbreak lasts most of the winter, spreading to the adjacent townships and villages. It seems to wear itself out towards spring, returning again after the lapse of a year or two to carry on in the same way. Several fine children have died of the disease during the winter, and several mothers of families are left with aching hearts and the outer semblance of mourning for their little ones. Others have had somewhat the experience of Mary's mother.
But let us follow Mary a little further. Ten or twelve years have passed, and she has grown to be a fine young woman. She is courted and married by one of the best young men in an adjacent town. She is loved and happy. Her husband has provided a pretty home, and her mother and father are rejoiced to see that she has bright prospects before her. After a few months she writes her mother that she is not feeling well, that she is sick in the mornings, vomits a good deal and has headaches. To the mother this is not unusual. Her daughter is pregnant. Most of women have these little troubles when in this condition. But she is not improving and the mother is shocked when she visits her to find Mary with puffy swollen face and legs. The doctor must be called at once. He promises to call in the morning, but during the night Mary has some sort of a fit and becomes unconscious. The doctor comes hurriedly. He finds the patient has eclampsia. There is a consultation. A necessary operation is decided upon, but in spite of the efforts of two or three of the best doctors of the neighborhood and of a specialist from a nearby city, the poor young woman dies. What a tragedy! It is not an uncommon occurrence.
It dates back to the neglected case of scarlet fever in the little school girl. The neglect has had far-reaching consequences. Every neighborhood has had such cases. Every physician is familiar with them.

Mild cases of scarlet fever are often more dangerous than severe ones. The mild cases fail to receive the careful attention which would prevent the disastrous consequences just outlined. These mild cases, because they are so common, spread the contagion far and wide. The same is true to some extent of all other contagious diseases. It is playing with public health and with human life, health, and happiness to deal with How can it be checked? By education. People must learn that the best and most satisfactory way to deal with these contagious diseases is to be frank about them. The slightest suspicion of scarlet fever in a family should suffice to have the Medical Officer of Health notified and the case prevented from doing any harm to others. If Mary's case had been regarded with due weight and received proper treatment she would not have been a happy wife and mother, but alas! her foolish mother and reckless doctor sealed her fate.

To Popularize Sheep Raising.

A scheme for popularizing sheep breeding in counties of the Province of Ontario is being promoted by the Agricultural Department. The plan is to take five counties, the names of which have not been selected yet, and applications will be received from each of these counties from farmers' sons and others who have taken one of the short courses under district representatives. In each county a competition will be held in sheep judging, and the boy who makes the best record and whose father is not now raising sheep, and who conforms to the conditions, will be given a flock of six ewes. He has to agree to keep records of the cost and other things. The ewes become the property of the lads for two years. At the end of two years from the time that they took them over they turn back the Live Stock Branch two shearing ewes, at the end of the third year two more, and at the end of the fourth year other two. By this period the boys will have given back the Live Stock Branch in supplying pure-bred rams, and it is estimated that at the end of a year these young farmers should get six lambs. It is probable that in time the scheme may be extended to more than five counties.

Guelph's Loss by War.

The extent to which recruiting has been carried on in Guelph is well reflected in the returns from the Assessment Department, which were handed out recently. Assessor Hattings places the population of the city at 38,222, a decrease from the previous year of 713. A large number of soldiers' wives and families have returned to the old country until after the war. The total assessment is $11,419,890, an increase of more than $200,000. The city loses the business tax from the hotels of the city, which was included in the estimate at the first of the year. This amounts to $1,800. Only one ward in the city shows an increase in population.

The Lost Art.

The four-year-old had just been reproved at the table. He continued to talk cheerfully, though uninterested, to father. After some minutes of soliloquy he turned to mother and remarked:
"Your husband doesn't talk very much this noon, does he, mother?"

remedies that your case is incurable.

A king's ransom would not more handsomely reward persistence than does the new Willys Six.
Never before has any six of its size performed in ordinary driving to equal the new Willys Six.
High-speed motors may develop greater power at racing speeds.
But we sought to develop greater power at driving speeds.
And the Willys-Six proves conclusively that it was still possible to further improve six cylinder performance in the usable speeds.
What we have attained in the new Willys Six compared with any other six of its size is —higher power at speeds below 25 miles per hour —faster pick-up at speeds below 25 miles per hour
—smoother climbing at speeds below 25 miles per hour —slower speed on direct drive with absolute smoothness.
And we have attained all this and still have mile-a-minute speed and all the power at speeds above 25 miles per hour that you would ever need or use, and all this without sacrifice of sturdiness, without increasing fuel consumption.
These are motor qualities which you can use in every-day driving.
And these are the very qualities which the excessive speed motor sacrifices at low speeds in order to gain them at speeds no ordinary driver ever uses—and with a loss in sturdiness and fuel economy.
And if you use the mile-a-minute speed of the Willys-Six you will find that it tugs the road while cars of

WILL ATTEND THE CONFERENCE

Mayor and Mr. Wedlake Will Take Part in Hydro Discussion

Another communication has been received by the city council regarding the approaching conference to be held in Toronto to discuss the Hydro Electric situation in the province.

It is also expected that a discussion of the advisability of submitting by-laws to the different municipalities concerned, with the commission, will take place.

It has been practically decided that Mayor Bowly and Mr. Geo. Wedlake of the Brantford Hydro Electric Commission will be the local representatives at the conference.

The following reply has been sent by Mayor Bowly:

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 15th inst., and in reply desire to say that I regard this proposition as in the last degree important, and I expect Brantford will be represented by its Mayor and Mr. Wedlake, a member of the Hydro Electric board, and perhaps another representative. I cannot but feel that legislation in reference to the subject matter alluded to in your communication will not but Dominion legislation to accomplish the

Music and Drama

THE BRANT

Press comment on Thos. L. Dixon's great sequel to "The Birth of a Nation," "The Fall of a Nation," which will be seen at the Brant Theatre next week with special music by Victor Herbert, in the rendition of which the band of the 215th will take part.

New York Sun—Thomas Dixon's "The Fall of a Nation" heaps up thrills. The reverberations of his 42-centimeter cannon, as simulated in Victor Herbert's music, were matched by the applause for the battle scenes.

New York World—A powerful and fascinating spectacle. The audience watched it with breathless interest.

New York Times—Finely spectacular. Mr. Herbert's score is effective.

Chicago Herald—The battle scenes are magnificently staged and offer unequalled examples of photography. Victor Herbert's music is inspiring, and the play is a mastery conception.

Chicago Tribune—Dixon's great war play stands alone. Herbert's music is big, sonorous, delightful. "Lillian Bell," the Chicago Novelist:—It is dramatic photography raised to the nth power, enhanced a hundred fold by Victor Herbert's descriptive music.

Mrs. William Cumming Story, President-General of the D. A. R.—Truly a splendid patriotic spectacle which I commend heartily to the Daughters of the American Revolution throughout the country.

"The Fall of a Nation" which will be presented for the first time at the Brant next week, tells a vital story of international significance. A confederation of European powers decides to seize North America and annex it to Europe. A secret army of the foreign-born is raised in New York. As the greatest city of the North American States has few armed defenders, it is an easy task to capture it overnight.

Meanwhile 150,000 trained troops, fresh from the European wars, are rapidly transported across the Atlantic with all their equipment of great guns, poison gases, liquid fire and bombs. Effecting a landing, they easily vanquish the small North American army, join the foreign-born conquerors of New York, and march to Washington where they depose the President and put in his place the "Imperial Viceroy of the Provinces of North America."

While the locale of the story is in lesson applies to any country unprepared to meet the foreign foe. At the end of the present war there will be millions of idle troops in Europe, for whom? Will covetous eyes be cast on the riches of the continents discovered by Columbus? Will some Emperor—like Napoleon III, who sent the French invaders into Mexico to seize a fair and wealthy portion of the New Hemisphere? Then—unless the country attacked is ready and well prepared—history will record a real tragic "Fall of a Nation."

It is against this terrible danger that Thomas Dixon, the author of the spectacle, provides an awful warning.

Prince's Hard Luck. It seems likely that Prince Albert's career as a sailor is to come to an untimely end, for he is again invading home, and may have to undergo another operation. It is very hard luck, for he is extremely keen, but he is consoling a little by the thought that he was able to see something of the "Jutland" "scrap" and got a "mention."

It used to be thought that Prince Albert was the more robust of the King's two elder sons, but this war has proved that, though slight, the amount of staying power, and that his looks belie him. There are authentic stories of the Prince of Wales cycling long distances with scarcely a bit to eat at the call of duty, and such feats would be impossible were he not strong and wiry.

Tenders for Indian Supplies. SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and marked on the envelope "Tender for Indian Supplies," will be received at this Department up to noon on Tuesday, December 12, 1916, for the delivery of Indian Supplies during 1916, fiscal year ending 31st March 1917, at the following points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR IS GRAND AWARD

Given As Prize in Palace of Machinery at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Dodge Brothers have been notified that the Dodge Brothers' Motor Car has been awarded a grand prize at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to the prize winning exhibitor in the Palace of Machinery.

The selection was made by a committee of 18 chosen by the Machinery Exhibitors' Association of the Palace of Machinery. The committee was unanimous in its choice after an examination of all cars selling at approximately the same price.

In making its announcement the committee said:—"This decision was reached only after a most careful consideration of the merits of the many cars selling at about the same price as the Dodge Brothers' Motor Car, as well as the financial standing and responsibility of the manufacturers themselves."

The formal award took place in the Palace of Machinery and there was a big attendance. The selection is particularly gratifying to the Detroit manufacturers because of the large field from which the choice was made.

Danish Germany Suffers More. A Danish-American who has been visiting the country of his birth this summer and spent several weeks in the districts along the Danish-German border, writes to a friend in London that practically everybody there, on both sides of the frontier, have relatives or friends fighting in the German front. The Germans have sent the regiments consisting of young men from northern Schleswig to the most exposed positions, and the number of Danish-speaking men who have lost their lives is already larger than the total number of Danes who fell in the war against Prussia and Austria in 1864.

Servants Who Have Risen. A London writer recalls one who became Lady Parkes, wife of a famous Australian Premier. Emma Lyon, who was a general servant in London, married Sir William Hamilton, one of our Ambassadors, and no fewer than seven of his own servants were successively wives to Sir George Clifton. Betty Starkey, a maid-of-all-work, married a millionaire London banker and had a marchioness and a countess for daughters, and Catherine Skovronski, a Lithuanian scullery-maid, became an Empress when Peter the Great led her to the altar.

Not Satisfied. "There you are, sir, I've painted you a full line of ancestors, and I'll warrant you are that none will know they are not your grandfather, this your great-grandfather, and—"

Parvenu: "Hold on! Good heaven, Aunt, you've made my great-grandfather a much younger-looking man than I am!"

DODGE BROTHERS WINTER CAR

This business has rounded out twenty-two months of existence by distributing to owners more than one hundred thousand cars.

Price concessions on this car are rarely asked, and never given with Dodge Brothers consent or to their knowledge.

You can therefore figure accurately the amount invested by the public in Dodge Brothers cars, by multiplying the output by the retail selling price.

One hundred thousand cars at $785 per car means a sales-total in less than two years' time of $78,500,000—or, with freight-cost added, considerably more than $80,000,000.

There have been no bursts of speed in the up-building of this great business.

At no time has there been even an attempt at stimulation of sales or of production.

Never for a single day has production been speeded up for the sake of attaining a total.

On the contrary, it has been held down every day within the limits of close careful conscientious manufacturing.

Both production and sales have been steady, steady and spontaneous, scrupulous care in the one, producing huge volume in the other.

At this moment, as at every other period, although producing a large volume every day, Dodge Brothers are "losing business" by their policy of keeping production within the bounds of continuous betterment.

In that sense they have doubtless suffered a great loss in the past and will endure a great loss in the future.

But over against this great loss is an infinitely greater gain—the people of the United States have implicit faith in the integrity of Dodge Brothers manufacturing methods.

One hundred thousand owners—or rather one hundred thousand families—are of one mind concerning the car and the men who make it.

This business and its product are blessed with a friendship probably without parallel in the history of American manufacturing.

Fresh from the factory, or sold at second hand from one end of the nation to the other, the car has special value and a special reputation, because of the name it bears.

Because of of the name it bears, you may be sure that the principle behind the car will never be changed a hair's breadth.

Dodge Brothers have only one idea in the upbuilding of their business.

That idea is to build so soundly and so well that the good will which they have won will grow and endure forever.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car. The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete including regular mobile top is $1,225. The price of the Winter Touring Car or Roadster complete including regular mobile top is $1,525. Add freight from Detroit.

Over Watts and Co's. Sugar warehouse on the second floor the Misses Eddys conducted a Private School on the opposite side of Watts and Co. warehouse, lower end of Colborne Street was J. P. Excell the Locksmith, who made keys, and paired locks, guns and sold fishing tackle as well as Canary birds. I can recall very well his display window. He had a wire charged with electricity running across the front of the window to keep the boys and girls from leaning against the window watching him work.

These were the days when the English soldiers, (7th and Fusiliers) were stationed at Brantford, during the Fenian raid. Once a week they had a "Field Day" at the Fair grounds, which was composed of running foot races, running jump, sparring with gloves, catching the greasy pig, etc. It certainly was a great day for sport, and many a kid was absent from school that afternoon.

Of the public buildings, the Market House, now known as the City Hall since its enlargement was the principal. Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Is it Fair?

Belgium entered this war because she would not sell her honor to an overwhelmingly powerful neighbor. Britain and Canada took up arms in defense of treaty obligations and simple justice. The Belgian motive is as noble and unselfish as our own.

Belgian troops are holding the line side by side with our own gallant lads, braving equal dangers—bearing equal hardships—striving for the equality ends. We non-combatant Canadians are living in a land of plenty—well-fed, lacking no necessities, and indulging in many luxuries.

The Belgian mothers and children in millions are eking out a pitiable existence on the daily ration of three slices of bread and a pint of soup supplied by the Belgian Relief Commission.

Women Must Have Voice In After the War Problem

Declares Mrs. S. W. Secord, President of Equal Franchise Club, In the Course of a Stirring and Forceful Address For Women's Suffrage.

"From time immemorial it has always been the case that a man first gets a hobby or an idea; then the idea gets him."

The above was one of a number of striking arguments brought forth by Mrs. S. W. Secord, president of the local Equal Franchise Club, in an address delivered in the city, espousing the cause of the extension of the suffrage to women. It was fully time, declared the speaker, that the old idea was buried forever, that women were in any way inferior to men. The present war had demonstrated clearly woman's ability to take her share in work of any nature. Like the wave of prohibition, a wave of women's suffrage was sweeping over the country. Prohibition had been introduced into Ontario, and the women of the province were desirous of having a vote in the referendum on that question to follow the war. This was one of the reasons for their wartime agitation for the suffrage. Another reason was the sincere desire in the hearts of all loyal women of Canada to do their utmost to bring the war to a swift and successful conclusion, and it would not be doubted in the least that the support of the women of the country would serve to strengthen greatly the hands of the government, while the granting of the vote to them would similarly reinforce the loyalty and patriotism of the women of Canada.

In the west, the agitation for women's suffrage had led to its being granted; why not, then, demanded the speaker, in Ontario, where the women were at least the equals of their western sisters. The women of this province were not jealous of those who had obtained the vote; rather, they rejoiced with them in the victory for the common cause. Yet the action of the government of Manitoba and other provinces should serve as an example to that of Ontario.

The belief common in many quarters, that women were too ignorant to exercise the vote was clearly and logically refuted by the speaker. The great national problems of the day were those which concerned men and women alike in equal measure. Recruiting in Canada could be aided greatly by the women of the Dominion. If they were induced to refrain from holding back their relations from enlisting, "Many women are opposed to recruiting" stated Mrs. Secord. "There are not so many who deter their sons from enlisting as they do their husbands. I know one woman who will not attend a recruiting meeting for anything. She has a reason, and a good strong one, it goes to work every morning."

A BUDGET OF NEWS FOR THOSE INTERESTED IN LABOR IN THE WORLD OF LABOR GLEANED FROM THE EXCHANGES AND OTHER SOURCES

More than 600 machinists employed by the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, Mo., have secured an eight-hour day at the same wages they formerly received for working nine hours.

Seven weeks ago the metal polishers organized a new local in Jackson, Mich., which is now a one-hundred-percent. Only men who hold a union card can work hereafter.

Under a new agreement, Philadelphia, Pa., jewelry workers, who have a 100-per-cent. organization, have secured a 47-hour work week and 20 per cent. increase in wages.

Wood carvers in Chicago are enforcing their demand for an increase in wages of five cents per hour.

Building laborers of Denver, Col., are seeking an increase of twenty-five cents for an eight-hour day, bringing the minimum up to $4.

Iron molders in Manchester, N.H., have been out for two weeks to enforce a fifty per-cent. wage increase and recognition of the union.

The St. Louis Metal Ware Company has granted the machinists in its employ an eight-hour day and fifty cents per hour minimum wage rate.

Woolen mill employes in Parkersburg, W. Va., will hereafter work only eight hours a day, with a ten per cent. increase in wages and time and a half for overtime.

Stage employes in Olympia, Wash., have increased wages $3 per week; they are 100 per cent. organized and had no trouble.

The newsboys of Memphis, Tenn., have formed a strong union, which includes nearly all the newsies in the city. They are said to be great union husters.

Iron Molders employed by the Coldwell Foundry, of Birmingham, Ala., have gone on strike, refusing to work with objectionable non-unionists. The shop is tied up and will remain so until the services of the unfair molders are dispensed with.

The cigarmakers' union of Jackson, Mich., has put in force a new scale of prices which calls for an advance of fifty cents per thousand on all straight work.

Director Persons of the New York Charity Organization Society says a man who earns $32.75 a week now cannot buy as much as he could on $17 five years ago.

At the next municipal election Calgary will take a plebiscite on a new question of adopting the proportional representation system of voting. The proposal is that it will carry by a substantial majority.

The Quebec Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is preparing the resolutions to be presented to the Provincial Legislature, and the Montreal Trades and Labor Council has appointed Delegates France and Mathieu to cooperate with it.

Winnipeg upholsterers have secured a new agreement with the employed and the wage scale has been advanced from 42 1/2 cents to 55 cents per hour. The union was never in better shape than at present, and all the nons are now getting in out of the wet.

Coal in Niagara Falls, Ont., has gone up in price some $3 a ton within the last few weeks, and now the dealers with egg coal at $10.25 and $10.50 and $11.00 for nut and stove coal will not guarantee delivery. It looks like higher prices, too. It is wondered the workers in the frontier town are getting strong on independent political action.

The sugar beet growers in Lambton County claim that all the profits go to the combine, so they organized an association, and unless they receive $7 a ton for their product they will refuse to grow any beets next year. One ton of beets yields 300 lbs. of sugar, which at $7.50 per cwt., the factory selling price, would be $22.50 per ton. Formerly the price received was only $4.50 per cwt. To-day there is a rise of $3 per ton of beets, but the grower only receives $1 more per ton, for his share. It looks as though the other fellows will have to come over, if the growers stick, and they can afford to do so, as improved machinery has decreased the cost of manufacture, but the only way apparently for the people to get sugar is to cut their sugar out and use molasses.

The new schedule which is now in force on the Canadian Government lines which concedes the minimum union wage rates is as follows: Machinists, 48 cents per hour; boiler-makers, 48 cents; blacksmiths, 54 cents; carmen, 40 cents; pipe-fitters, 42 cents; pattern makers, 46 1/2 cents. In the general rules or conditions there has been a general all-round improvement, so marked indeed that the Government lines men can claim to be somewhat ahead of the Canadian Pacific in their terms of employment.

During the four week period ending Oct. 9th, the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines made a gross operating profit after meeting all obligations of $1,545 in excess of the sum required to pay the regular monthly dividend of 1 per cent. on its issued capital of twenty-four million dollars. And just to think this was the corporation that imported Thiel detectives and gunmen when its miners went out on strike. As far as gold and nickel is concerned, it's no wonder naturalization of the mining industry being to look like a real good proposition to the public.

The number of women who have taken the place of men in the capacity of wage-earners during the past year or so has grown to extremely large proportions. Nearly four thousand are now engaged as clerks in banking institutions, and the number is rapidly increasing. In the munition factories they are being most extensively utilized as well as in numerous other lines of business. In mechanical callings there is a disposition in many cases to pay them very far below the price they are worth and to deprive them of their right to turn out the work at a larger profit for employers.

SIDE BY SIDE TO FINAL VICTORY Russia Avows Determination To Remain True To Her Allies.

Petrograd, Nov. 17.—The minister of foreign affairs has sent a telegram to all Russian representatives in allied countries, declaring Russia's firm determination not to make a separate peace under any circumstances, according to the semi-official news agency. The text of the telegram is as follows: "Petrograd, Nov. 16, 1917.—Reports spread abroad, promulgated by the secret press of certain countries of pretended secret-pour parleys being carried on between Russia and Germany with the object of signing a separate peace are futile and make no impression on the Russian Government. The Imperial Government desires to declare in the most categorical manner that these absurd rumors can only find force in enemy countries. "Russia will maintain intact, the intimate union which binds her to her valiant allies and far from thinking of the conclusion of a separate peace, will fight by their side the common enemy, without the slightest faltering until the hour of final victory. Nothing that our enemies can do will shake in any degree the irrevocable decision of Russia. "You are charged to give the largest publicity to the proceedings and to bring the contents of this telegram to the knowledge of the government to which you are accredited."

WOMEN MUST Continued from page 14. matter in which the women were as vitally interested as the government itself, and it had only recently been demonstrated how deeply this matter did concern the government. In this question the women of the country should most assuredly be afforded an opportunity to speak. After the War. The after-the-war problems would concern the women of Canada. Canada had been promised a voice in the imperial conference to follow the conclusion of peace terms. Why should the women of Ontario be excluded from that gathering while their sisters from the western provinces were admitted. The employment question after the war would also be one which would vitally interest the women so many of whom were now enjoying the independence of working for a living, and who would not be willing to be turned out of their situations after the war. New Stimulus. "A new stimulus" declared the speaker, "is required throughout the whole of Canada, and where is a better stimulus to be found than the illustration in the electoral veins of the country of new fresh, vigorous blood. The men have been long enough driving in single harness" declared Mrs. Secord in closing, "and it is now fully time that a little team driving was tried."

Neuralgic Headache. Don't drug yourself, it is just nourishment your nerves need. Dr. Cassell's Tablets Nourish your Nerves. Neuralgia and Neuralgic Headache simply indicate that your nerves are weak and underfed. Why drug them into insensibility when it is nourishment they need? Drugs cannot supply that nourishment, they can only deaden the pain for a time at the cost of bad after-effects—heart-depression, faintness; and if persisted in a drug habit may be set up. In Dr. Cassell's Tablets you have true nerve nutrients. The active principles in them are precisely what a specialist would prescribe in cases of Neuralgia, Neuritis, Neurasthenia, and other forms of nerve weakness. They nourish every nerve-centre in the body and give to the entire system that strength and vitality which make nerve troubles impossible. Read what a Scientist says about Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Dr. Chas. W. Borwood, B.Sc., Ph.D., etc., of York, England, says: "As a safe and reliable remedy for loss of flesh and vigor, nerve debility, and bodily weakness, Dr. Cassell's Tablets appear to be unique. I have no hesitation in recommending them." Dr. Cassell's Tablets are Nutritive, Restorative, Alterative, Ant-epileptic, and of proved therapeutic value in all run-down conditions, and the recognized remedy for NERVOUSNESS, SLEEPSLESSNESS, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS BREAKDOWN, ANEMIA, PALPITATION, NEURASTHENIA, MALNUTRITION, and Women's Weakness. I pulled his ears and tweaked his nose, and said, “We'll just forget those prunes, but never mind, till life shall close, will I spend here my pleasures.” A lot of merry chants make that bluff, “Your money back, if things don't please,” but when you call to get the stuff, they hand you out the same old wheeze. Lesson VIII.—Fourth Quarter, For Nov. 19, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xviii, 11-31. Memory Verses, 20, 31—Golden Text, Rom. 1, 16—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

After carrying three months at Malta another ship from Alexandria, which had wintered in the Isle, was sailing for Italy, and on that they departed and reached Italy in safety, remaining three days at Syracuse and seven days at Puteoli on the way.

Then it was that Mr. Walter Cunliffe, as he then was, and two or three great money experts, came to the assistance of the Government. The financial system of the country was reorganized under their direction. The money of the country was preserved, so that we were not obliged to carry on our business as usual, but were able to be of financial help to our Allies.

Lord Cunliffe is easily distinguishable by the height of his stature. He is six feet high and very broad, with a fairish moustache and his hair is a frock coat and silk hat. For a man of his age he is remarkably active and young.

PRINCE OF FINANCE

Cunliffe Given the First Peerage in the War.

In the City of London he is known as “The Kitchener of Finance.” Outside the city, Lord Cunliffe, who has been re-elected Governor of the Bank of England—the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street—for the fourth time, is practically unknown.

RELIGION NEEDED IN ENGLAND NOW

Appeals From Army and Navy Leaders For Prayers For Victory.

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Nov. 18.—A London despatch under Wednesday's date, published in The Sun yesterday, says:

Londoners were surprised this morning to observe walls all over the city covered with huge official posters exhorting Englishmen to pray daily for their country, for its soldiers and sailors.

Admiral Beatty's words are displayed prominently: "Until a religious revival takes place at home, so long will the war continue."

They are followed by General Sir William Robertson's message: "A serious determination on the part of the nation to seek divine help would undoubtedly furnish valuable help to our soldiers and sailors."

The poster ends with the following words, printed in large type: "Will you join those who every day at noon and at family prayers at home, pray for our country, our sailors and soldiers?"

DICTATORSHIP IN AMERICA ALSO

Governmental Food Control There Suggested As Solution For H. C. of L.

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Nov. 18.—Government supervision of the nation's food dictatorships in Great Britain, France and Russia, was suggested here today as the only solution of the increasing cost of edibles in the United States.

The suggestion was made by Geo. W. Perkins, head of Mayor Mitchell's food supply commission, on the eve of a campaign for the creation of federal, state and municipal market departments. With the opening of the next session of the legislature efforts will be made to obtain the passage of a bill under which a state market department may be created, the first duty of which will be to make a sweeping investigation of the New York food supply with a view to fixing the responsibility for the present high cost of living.

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—all this Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

HUN TORPEDO BOATS LOST

Between Six and Nine Destroyed in Attack on Gulf of Finland.

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Nov. 18.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Petrograd says: The admiralty staff has issued a communication announcing that in accordance with the latest information of the recent German naval attack in the Gulf of Finland and comparing the number of explosions heard in the fog with the reports from the Russian warships engaged, it is possible to affirm that the Germans lost between six and nine torpedo boats. This supposition, the communication adds, is confirmed by the examination of wreckage, which also shows that the destroyed vessels were of the most modern type and the biggest vessels in this class.

FUNNY LOVE-LETTERS.

Some of the Quicer Epistles of Audent Woovers.

"Is love insanity?" asked the candid critic; and as a reason for his question he points to the amusing letters made public through the medium of the breach of promise and divorce courts. "These 'Tootsie' and 'Woollie' epistles," he says, "are nauseating in their sickly sentiment."

Certainly it is difficult to imagine a sober and practical-minded business man beginning a letter "My darling Poodle," and ending with "Go doating Puddy." Yet this was revealed in the courts of one county, when "My darling Poodle" made "Puddy" pay some $2,000 for the privilege of making love to her in such extravagant terms without being absent in his attentions.

"You little, yellow-haired ducky, you've waddled straight into my heart," another victim of love-madness wrote and ended. "No bread and cheese for us, Angel Face. But there'll be kisses by the bushel. Yours to the crumpled in court not long ago when confronted with this poetic outburst of his soul:

The glove on Mary's hand, I wish I could be for one day, Protecting my Mary's soft fingers from the cold And getting rubbed up against her cheek; And even getting left at home, To sit and think in the top dresser-drawer And wish I was with Mary.

A great deal more poetic in its style was the following epistle: "O, you Venus, you perfect woman, I would offer you two willing hands, and pray that more might grow so that I might better serve you. I would be your shoulders, that I might shoulder everything for you. This not being possible, I dear one, writes to me with these hands, that with thy shell-like ears to my burning words; that leaving me 'thin, seem cold and hard in comparison with the first time she consumes me even in thoughts of thee. Yours till I am eternally consumed."

Girls are quite as hopeful as men when it comes to love-letters. "I am sitting alone thinking of you, you darling curly-haired lambkin," writes one girl to a boy. "I'm running one girlish epistle. I'm mighty sweetheart—because in your last letter you only put one page of crosses. Just think, only one page of crosses, when I sent you two."

He Lost His Case.

Lord Reading—better known to fame as Sir Rufus Isaacs—recently told the story of his first brief. He had been retained to defend a man, a street trader, who had been summoned for selling bad fruit. Mr. Isaacs, as he then was, expatiated at length on the splendid quality of the fruit, and in this way, as was only natural, backed up his client.

Presently the magistrate intervened. Had either of them tasted the fruit, he asked. They both confessed that they had not. Whereupon the magistrate suggested that either the defendant or his counsel should eat some in court.

Mr. Isaacs turned to his client: "Go on," he whispered, "eat one or two." "What will happen if I don't?" whispered the other in reply. "You'll lose the case." "All right," answered the defendant resignedly, "when lose it I'll have to."

When He Was Boston.

Dr. Macnamara, M.P., of the British House of Commons, is a skilled debater and rarely at a loss for a retort. Once he was addressing a meeting of laborers, when one of his hearers expressed a wish to ask a question. Dr. Macnamara suggested that he should wait till the end of the speech, but he persisted until another member of the audience finally remarked: "Sit down, you ass!"

There was some disorder, and a third man shouted: "Sit down, you ass!"

This was Dr. Macnamara's chance, he thought, and he cut in with: "There seems plenty of seats about us here, but your ass's make let us hear one at a time."

"Well," said the original interrupter, pointing to the doctor, "you go on these."

For once the doctor, as he does not hesitate to admit, was beaten.

Not for Twice as Much.

He was an idle Irish boy, but he had the Irishman's ready wit. He had shipped on board a man-of-war, where he annoyed the boatswain by his laziness. Seeing him on the main-top one morning, gazing idly out to sea, the boatswain called to him: "Come down out of that, ye rascal! Come down out of that, an' Oi'll give ye a dozen whacks wid me rope!"

"Pah, sorr," replied the boy. "Oi wouldn't come if ye offered me two dozen!"

Fresh From the Mint.

A returned vacationist tells of being in a country store when a little girl entered with an egg in her hand. "Give me an egg's worth of tea, please," she said to the storekeeper. "An' ma says you might weigh out an egg's worth of sugar, too, cause the black hen 'tlickin' an' I'll be up again in a minute."

Insult.

"Blacksmiths seem to have a reputation for honesty." "Deservedly so, but due partly, perhaps, to the nature of a blacksmith's work. Nobody encumbers a blacksmith with trust funds. There is nothing to adulterate in his line. Compared with some of us, a blacksmith has few temptations to reprobation."

Miss Helen Keller suffers a breakdown and is forced to cancel her lecture engagements.
