Members of the Czech National Council said here it was feared that most of the prisoners, or at least the officers, might be summarily executed.

The property damage is estimated at from $100,000 to $150,000 in the two places. Half a dozen other towns and cities including Los Angeles, suffered minor damage, confined mainly to plate glass windows and shattered cornices.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, April 22.—(Via Reuters Ottawa agency.)—The lull in the battle is not expected to last long, despite the inclemency of the weather, with wind and rain. MRS. DOOLEY'S ADVICE TO WORKING GIRLS

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I wish all girls who work and suffer from functional disorders would profit by my advice and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I was married, I can work hard and take home from work at night, I would be just worn out with pains which dragged me down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel like a new woman. I can work from morning until night and it does not bother me, and I wish all girls who suffer as I did would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. H. Dooley, 1135 25th Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Working girls everywhere should profit by Mrs. Dooley's experience, and instead of dragging along from day to day with life a burden, give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It has overcome just such conditions for thousands of others, and why not for you? For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of her 40 years experience is at your service.

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, April 22.—(From our own correspondent.)—Advice was received here yesterday of the sudden demise yesterday morning, of Rev. F. S. Sharp, B.A., B.D., pastor of Caven Presbyterian Church, Exeter. Deceased was a son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. P. He attended high school at Orangeville in 1886-8 under the late Principal Alexander Steeie, B.A., and after serving as a missionary on the prairie, returned to the Theological Seminary, at Auburn, N.Y. His first charge was in Holy, New York, from which he accepted a call to Rochester, Strickland by an illness from which he never thoroughly recovered, he was obliged to resign his charge, and a year later he was received into the Canadian church. His first charge following the transfer, was in Alliston, Ont., and while here he pursued his studies for his B.D. degree from Knox College.

He was called to Exeter in 1909, and apart from the duties of his charge, did considerable research work in Social Service problems.

The deceased leaves a wife, and one young daughter. His mother lives at Tottenham, York county, and two of three surviving brothers are residents in North Peel. Mrs. Sharp is the oldest grandchild of the late James McKnight, of Windham.

Residential Lots Sold
Drs. Eaid and Burt sold by auction on Saturday evening, the remainder of the Bonne Terra, subdivision lying between the woollen mill and the San King property. This is by all odds the best subdivided subdivision adjoining the corporation, and the purchasers of the various lots can easily pay for them, on the terms given, with a couple of crops of potatoes or beans, for the price is excellent. The twenty-one lots were knocked off in about half an hour, by Sam King, who all the while was wondering who his next neighbor was going to be.

Norfolk Farmers Respond.
Dr. Burt received yesterday orders for seed for 250 acres of flax, without any outside solicitation, and has received enquiries from Brantford, Stratford, Rodney, Welland, Norwich and many other outside places.

Saunies in England.
The first hospital for American soldiers in Great Britain has been opened in Liverpool. All other hospitals thus far opened in the British Isles have been for American officers. The Liverpool hospital is known as American Red Cross military hospital No. 4 and is situated in the Mosley Hill district, the most fashionable residential section about three miles from the downtown business part of the city. Already many American soldiers occupy its clean wards and many others in the convalescent stage, clad in hospital pale blue are walking about the spacious grounds. The hospital proper occupies Mosley House, the former home of Dr. Edmund Knowles Muspratt. The authority on chemistry and one of Liverpool's leading citizens, who when he heard that the Americans wanted it gladly turned it over to them. It occupies the highest position in the city. A typical old-gothic style English town house, it stands in the centre of seven acres of beautiful grounds, the flower gardens of which are rapidly being converted into plots for raising vegetables. The American flag, flying from the tall staff in front of the grounds can be seen a great distance, and assists visitors to find the place.

EVEN WEALTHY MUST WORK

"No More Golfing in Queen City," Says Toronto Chief of Police

Toronto, April 21.—Male Toronto between the ages of 16 and 25 very likely to receive some rude shocks, at least those who are not engaged in some useful occupation, very shortly.

An announcement made by Col. Grasset, chief of police, to-day, leaves no doubt as to the manner in which the new order-in-Council is going to be carried out. Male Toronto is going to work and this with a capital "W."

"We have already received the names of a number of persons of means who have no useful occupation," stated Col. Grasset, "and unless they obtain employment at once they will be prosecuted. No man between those ages can live on his means. Some persons have no more useful occupation than to fine around in a motor car. Well, this is going to stop."

WARTIME PROSPERITY.

Some Figures About Conditions in Great Britain

In Great Britain, as in Canada, the war has been accompanied since the first year of shock and uncertainty, by more than normal prosperity in many departments of trade and industry. "The Economist," in its analysis of the latest reports of 380 British industrial companies of a representative kind, shows that they yielded last year an average income of 10 1/2 per cent. in profits above the amount of the previous year, and 33 1/2 per cent. more than two years ago. The general movement of industrial profits is thus described: "First there is the slight decline owing to the first effects of war. Then, in the second year, record prices are made, but by the third year the excess profits duty has come to check the rate of increase to a considerable extent."

The average amount put aside for depreciation and repairs in this group of industries last year was 38.6 per cent.; a rate so high that in many cases it is probably a form of concealment. The brewing business has been especially lucrative, and stands near the head of the list. The London Daily Chronicle reports that 86 companies present an increase of nearly 50 per cent. in profit during the three war years over the three pre-war years' average, despite liberal allowances for depreciation, repairs, and renewals. A number of breweries which were weak and failing before the war have been restored to financial health. The gross profits of four of the largest firms are given as follows: Alkops's, £239,700 last year, against £68,100 the year before the war; Onn, Cooper & Co., £294,700 and £94,190, respectively; Watny, Goss, & Balfour, £1,119,900 and £904,200, respectively; Salt & Co., £28,100 and £30,900, respectively. Of the whole number of 34 brewing companies, 27 are paying the highest rate of ordinary dividends during the whole of the five years, while many others give the best returns for ten, twelve, or fourteen years. Several have begun to capitalize their reserves by issuing increases of ordinary dividends in order to keep down the rates of dividend.

The prosperity of British banks has been so enhanced by the war that deposits have increased from £740,000,000 in 1913 to £1,265,000,000 in 1917, and six of the larger institutions have increased their dividends.

AMERICAN TROOPS BEAT HUNS BACK

Hand-to-Hand Struggle for Village of Seicheprey

With the American Army in France, April 21.—Twelve hundred German storm troops, the largest number ever concentrated against the American troops for an offensive operation, were hurled against the American position on a one-mile front west of Heuvels Forest, northwest of Toul, yesterday, after a terrific bombardment of gas and high explosive shells.

The enemy succeeded in penetrating the front line trenches and taking the village of Seicheprey, after furious hand-to-hand fighting, which was still going on at nightfall, the American troops recaptured the village and most of the ground lost in the early fighting. Three Germans were taken prisoner. German airplanes, flying at a low altitude, attempted to disorganize the American fighting men, but two enemy aviators were brought down and others driven off.

The Germans suffered heavy casualties and the American lines remained virtually intact.

Jukes Gordon was committed for trial at Stratford on charges of assaulting John Idington, 47.

CONSERVATION OF COAL

Must Be the Strict Watchword of All
Result of Conference With U. S. Representative

Ottawa, April 21.—At the close of the conference held here last week of coal operators, Labor delegates and transportation representatives, with Mr. Neale representing the U. S. Administration and Mr. C. A. Magrath, Dominion Fuel Controller, a memorandum was submitted by Mr. Magrath covering the chief developments of the conference, which lasted for a couple of days.

The memorandum contained the important statement that the United States Fuel Controller felt it his duty to inform the Canadian Fuel Controller, that he would pass the information to the Western Provinces of Canada, that the situation is as follows:

(1) That anthracite coal supplies to points in Western Canada will be very materially restricted during the present coal year.

(2) Under the circumstances it is predicted that no American anthracite coal will be available for shipment to points west of Winnipeg.

(3) It is also proposed to restrict shipment of anthracite to Canadian field ports during the early part of the present season.

(4) That the public both east and west, must be given to understand distinctly that conservation of coal must be practiced to the utmost extent by all classes of consumers.

Some Treatment as U. S. Mr. Magrath's memorandum said that the attitude of the United States Fuel Administration was that Canada would receive preferential treatment as the various States of the Union. The Western States had been given to understand that they must use the softer coal of the West and that the available anthracite would have to be conserved for the purpose of supplying the eastern part of the United States and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

The sessions of the conference were attended on behalf of the Government by Sir George Foster, who acted as Chairman, Hon. T. W. Crothers and Hon. Senator Robertson. There were present, in addition to Mr. Neale, Mr. Magrath, W. H. Armstrong, Director of fuel operations at Calgary; H. P. McGe, Assistant Fuel Controller for Canada at Pittsburgh and the representatives of the transportation companies, mine operators and Labor Unions throughout the mining areas of Canada.

West and East Conditions.
At the first meeting memoranda were presented from the mine operators of Nova Scotia and the Western Provinces, and by W. P. Elston on behalf of the transportation companies.

The Western coal operators stated their ability to increase the production of bituminous coal by 1,250,000 tons and the lignite coal by 1,225,000 tons. These figures would not hold good unless the same amount of labor was available as last year, and the railroads were able to furnish transportation required.

The memorandum of the Nova Scotia operators stated that the production of Nova Scotia mines had been estimated at 5,950,000 tons, but the production actually attained was 5,640,000 tons, the operators reported a considerable improvement in transportation facilities.

Petty Officer P. A. Smith Has Seen Service on Land and Sea

Gassed thrice wounded and admitted to hospital on a raft in the North Sea, Chief Petty Officer Albert Edward Smith, now visiting in Brantford on furlough, is a man who has seen war in more phases than falls to the lot of most. In September, 1914, Mr. Smith enlisted in London, England, becoming attached to the 51st London Regiment. After six months training in England, he crossed and was wounded in three different battles in the early months of 1915. Later, he was gassed so severely that he was invalided out of the army.

Not yet content to bear a passive part in the struggle, Pte. Smith, as soon as his health permitted, joined the British Navy, and the most thrilling of his experiences must remain a closed book until the end of the war. While on minesweeping duty in the North Sea, in the early months of 1917, Petty Officer Smith's stowager was itself

RECOVERS FROM SHOCK AT LAST

Mrs. Downs Could Hardly Get About House—Enjoys Work Now. "Before I started on Tanlac I was so weak and run down that I could hardly get around the house, and now I just enjoy doing my household work," said Mrs. Downs, of 1 Currier street, Toronto, recently.

"About six months ago I was operated for a kidney ailment, and the doctor told me that I would never get over the shock. I had no appetite and had to force down every bite and have actually gone for days hardly sleeping and eating a thing. I felt as weak as water and I tried to exert myself the least bit I would get exhausted and have to stop. My nerves were so bad that I would hardly sleep and many nights I would lie awake all night long, and if I dozed off at all I would wake up with an awful nightmare, trembling and shaking like a leaf.

"This was just the way I was when I took my first dose of Tanlac. It wasn't long before I felt like a new woman, and making me eat more. I have taken three bottles and my appetite is just fine. I feel like a new woman, and my nerves are all right, and never have any more of those terrible nightmares any more. I am able to do all my household work without half trying and I never feel tired and worn out like I did before I began using Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Robertson Drug Store, in Paris by Apps, Ltd., in Mt. Vernon by A. Yeomans, in Middleport by William F. O'Neil, in Onondago by Neil McPhadden.

THIRTY THOUSAND MEN Are Expected to be the Result Of the Cancellation of Exemptions

Ottawa, April 21.—Approximately 66,000 men will be affected by the cancellation of exemptions under the Order-in-Council approved by both Houses of Parliament Friday night, and formally passed by the Cabinet Council yesterday, which also decided to cancel the exemptions. It is proposed in the first place to call three years of unmarried men and widowers without children—men of 20, men of 21, and men of 22 years of age. As a basis for computation, it is anticipated that the age declared by the man in his claim for exemption will be accepted. Therefore, if this course is adopted, the first call will comprise men who were 20, men who were 21 and men who were 22 years of age between the issue of the first proclamation on October 13, 1917, and the last date for filing exemptions claims under that proclamation—Nov. 10, 1917.

Exemptions granted in each of these three years, it is estimated, number about 22,000, or a total of 66,000 in the first call. Of these 66,000, however, a large proportion will be physically unfit. The total number of men available for combatant service will probably be 30,000, or 10,000 in each year. This means practically doubling the number of men now with the forces as a result of the Military Service Act. It is necessary it is intimated that two more years of unmarried men and widowers will be called, namely, men of 19 and men of 23. From the 19 year a much greater number would be available than from any other year, as the proportion of unmarried men in that year is larger and no men of that age have yet been called. Details of the procedure to be followed will, it is expected, be announced to-morrow. In all probably only a few hundred men will be called.

THE SITUATION.
 Not much of importance has transpired on the Western front during the past three days. The British have successfully attacked advanced positions of the enemy northwest of LaBassee, in small engagements, and straightened their line to that extent. An attempt of the foe to advance east of Ypres was stopped. Twelve hundred German "storm troops" were hurled against the American front—the biggest test they have yet had. The foe succeeded in penetrating the first line trenches and taking a village, but the Sammies came back in good style, recapturing the village, and most of the ground lost. The Belgians ejected the Boches after they also entered some of their trenches. The third phase of the German offensive is momentarily expected, but losses already sustained with regard to some of the most seasoned troops will have an effect and so also will the fact that the supposedly all conquering German machine has not fulfilled expectations. The chances that the Germans can secure a definite decision are becoming steadily less and it is not now then the game is up for them, although, of course, the tremendous struggle will yet wage back and forth for a considerable time to come.
 British and German light naval forces had a small clash on Saturday in the waters off Heligoland, but after the exchange of a few shots at long range the Germans were glad enough to scurry behind the protection of their mine fields.
 That is satisfactory news from Siberia with regard to the attitude towards the Allies.

A MATTER WHICH SHOULD BE PRESSED.
 Mr. W. F. Cocksbutt, M.P., secured the admission in the Dominion House that an unfortunate blunder had been made in leaving off the names of Harry Cocksbutt in Brant and other candidates. In the list which was published for the information of the soldier voters. He expressed the opinion that certain men had been marked for the slaughter and that is an impression which many others will also entertain.
 The "Canadian Daily Record" (issued by the Canadian War Records Office) to all units of the Overseas Military forces of Canada) was the publication which perpetuated the incomplete record and somebody or other was responsible for the omissions.
 Where does that responsibility rest?
 The affected candidates have a right to know and so also have the general public.
 The exercise of the franchise in all its aspects is too grave and too important a thing to permit of the slightest tampering and when a large number of voters are misled as to those in the field in Brant and other Ridings, then the affair bears a serious aspect.
 There should be a full and complete enquiry and the responsibility placed where it belongs, together with adequate punishment.

THE STREET RAILWAY.
 At the recent meeting of the City Council to consider the auditors' report a good deal of attention was devoted to the affairs of the Brantford Municipal Railway. One question was asked as to whether the system was on a paying basis, and another query as to whether any sum had been set aside for depreciation of plant. In reality these and other matters were fully covered by the annual report of the Commissioners issued not long ago. The figures demonstrated that there was a small deficit on the operations of the year and that nothing had been set aside for the replacement or upkeep. No one would for an instant think of going back to the old condition of affairs, and even at a loss: the system is a big and a growing asset and moreover belongs to the people. One fact which has to be faced is that with eight tickets for a quarter and certain hours and six for a quarter at others, the levy per passenger has for a long time remained at an extraordinary figure, while the cost of carrying said passenger, in the matter of wages, material, etc., has steadily grown. The question to be met in such a regard is whether it is better to lessen the number of tickets or else have needed revenue made up out of the general taxation rate. The whole matter is one worthy of careful and intelligent consideration and the appointment of an expert manager might also help a good deal. At present there is no such official.

A MATH EXPLODED.
 Even yet there are reverberations of the claim that prior to the formation of the Union Government, Sir Robert Borden and his ministers held power by reason of the Nationalists. That is one of the excuses also advanced by the Laurierites for the condition of affairs in Quebec Toronto Saturday Night has been looking into the facts and it explodes the yarn in very efficient style.
 Those who promulgate this story must have forgotten the election returns of 1911, or are very poor arithmeticians. Certainly they are giving an entirely fictitious importance to the Nationalist contribution to Sir Robert Borden's victory.
 A reference to the Parliamentary Companion for 1912 shows that in the general elections of the previous September, the people of Canada elected 134 supporters of Borden and 87 supporters of Laurier, thus giving the Conservative leader a majority of 47. Sir Wilfrid Laurier carried the Province of Quebec by a majority of 11, but Sir Robert Borden carried the Province of Ontario by a majority of 60. The other provinces, lumped together, gave the old Liberal chieftain a majority of 2. It is therefore clear that Sir Robert Borden's large majority in 1911 came from the electors of Ontario, the West being at that time very inadequately represented. Laurier's followers from Quebec numbered 38 and Borden's 27, of whom not more than 20 by the widest stretch of the imagination could be described as Nationalists. Several of them indeed, not very long afterwards repudiated Nationalism; but if the whole score had elected to shift their allegiance to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the session of 1912 they would still have left the Prime Minister with a majority of 7. So much for a widely credited political myth. The Nationalists were never strong enough even to hold the balance of power, let alone furnish a large majority.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PARIS LADIES' AID
Women of Methodist Church Elected Officials—Other Paris News

From Our Own Correspondent.
 Paris, April 22.—The Armitage residence on Jane street, at present occupied by Rev. Mr. Adamson, has been purchased by Mr. G. W. MacFarlane, and the Miss Gamble property near the subway, has changed hands. Mr. G. Chapin, Brantford Twp. having purchased the same and will move to town shortly.

 The first annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. MacFarlane, and was well attended as the work and merits of the institution warranted and the lack of interest shown by the citizens in not attending is to be regretted, as the "Y.W." is certainly a long felt want in this town. Quite a large number of citizens, it is true, as we understand, are honorary members, and as such support the same, but their presence at the annual meeting would have been encouraging and helpful to the Board and management. The president, Mrs. I. Bonner, was in charge of the meeting and presented a very comprehensive report of the year's work.
 The by-laws of the association provide for the annual meeting to be held in April, so that the fiscal year ended on March 31st. As the building was opened in November last the report only covered five months. The board of 18 women was elected in July, 1917, and the formal opening took place on November 8th last. By the end of January every room in the association was occupied and has since remained so, there being accommodation for 35 persons. A deficit, but few months ago, showed a deficit, but some time now current expenses were being met. The price of food for board was $4.50 per week. The other expenses of some $1,200 per annum were being borne by the Penniman Company. As is known, the Penniman Company gave the building as long as same was used as a Y.W. C.A., and for the fiscal year ending in no charge for interest, insurance or taxes. A campaign held in September last toward furnishing the building netted $3,237.70. Those women who contributed $100 or more were given the privilege of voting and at the present time there were some 400 on the roll.
 Every attention had been given to confining the efforts at the first to the home welfare and comfort of the young women living there. Several social evenings had been held at which outside members were invited, and a small sum had been set apart to continue same. Classes of physical culture were also formed, which were free to members. As funds were not available for purchase of a piano, one was rented and several Young People's Societies in town gave a number of entertainments and a silver collection taken up defrayed expense of same. The Paris Musical Club also gave a concert, the proceeds of which, $60, was placed toward the piano fund.
 Thanks were also extended to the merchants for their generous contribution to the furnishing supplies. In closing, the report pointed out the splendid field there was in Paris for the success of the association.
 In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Robinson, the report was presented by Mrs. Emerson, which was considered satisfactory.
 The report of the general secretary, Miss Deuch, who was unavoidably absent through illness, was read by Miss Young and gave a complete outline of the good work being done by the association, and of the appreciation shown toward same by the young women there.
 On motion the reports were adopted.
 The following ladies will comprise the board: Mesdames Bonner, Emerson, Lovett, Harold, Howard, Clump, Davidson, Dunn, Robinson, Duntop, Rehder, Appa, Brooks, Clement and the Misses Young, Tate, Craig and James.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PARIS Y.W.C.A.

OTHER NEWS OF PARIS
 Paris, April 20.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—The annual meeting of the Paris Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church, was held last Wednesday afternoon, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
 President—Mrs. Geo. Sudden.
 First Vice-President—Mrs. H. Rehder.
 Second Vice-President—Mrs. J. Harrison.
 Secretary—Mrs. A. C. Lee.

 Pianist—Mrs. Clement.
 Assistant Pianist—Mrs. H. Rehder.

 It was decided to hold a membership contest, Mrs. Rehder and Mrs. Finlay being the respective candidates, the contest to run for an indefinite period, when it is hoped that a goodly number will be added to the membership roll.
 Paris Branch of the Red Cross Society acknowledged the following donations being: The Misses Whitney concert, $20; "Willie," $2; Mrs. Kelly, a quilt; Lend-a-Hand Club of Paris Plains, quilt and pillow cases; Excelsior Girls' Class of Presbyterian Church, 25 personal property bags.
 Word has been received in town that Corp. Wilfrid Martin has been awarded the Military Medal. His brother, Vernon Martin, resides here and Wilfrid visited in town.
 The evangelistic services held in the Agricultural Building by Rev. Mr. Johnston are awakening interest and being largely attended. He is assisted by Bro. Swartzberg and Miss Ditzel, also Mrs. Johnston. The cottage prayer meetings in the tower are becoming very popular.
 The home of Miss Kittie Brookbank, Burwell street, was the scene of an interesting event of the evening, when Mrs. (Rev.) Armstrong, who is shortly leaving with her husband for Ottawa, was entertained by the ladies of the Congregational Church, who during the evening presented her with a purse of gold and silver, and a most appropriately worded address. Mrs. Armstrong had ably filled the position of president of the Ladies' Aid Society for the past four years, and the members took occasion to show in which she was held, as also to wish the family God speed in their new field of labor. During the evening a musical program was rendered and before separating light refreshments served.

Margaret Garrett's Husband
 By JANE PHELPS

MARRIAGE DEMANDS ADJUSTMENT.
 Chapter XXXV.
 About two o'clock the telephone rang.
 "Are you going to John's with me to-night, Margaret?" Bob asked.
 "Certainly not," Bob asked.
 "Understand that this morning?"
 "I wish you would go, Margaret. There was a wistful tone in his voice, and before I had time to say I shall not and appealing.
 "I feel about going with those people and I can't see why you persist in asking me."
 "Very well. Don't expect me to dinner. I'll dine with John so long as you refuse to spend the evening with us," and before I had time to protest the click of the receiver told me he had hung up.
 I was stunned. Not for a moment had I really believed he would go without me if I refused to accept Mr. Kendall's invitation. On one or two occasions when they had spent the evening together at John's study, I had not been invited.
 But I considered it an insult that after I had declined, Bob should accept.
 I turned from the telephone, my cheeks burning like fire. I was too angry to cry, and paced the floor while I wondered what I could do to compel Bob to come home and remain with me.
 He's afraid to come home to dinner for fear I shall persuade him to remain with me," came the thought like a ray of sunshine. I would call him up any night about the evening, just tell him I couldn't surely expect him to dinner, then keep him with me.
 Does it seem strange that I can thus bare my secret thoughts to the world? Do you who, read, stop to think that when a woman tells the story of her life, it is mostly a story of feeling, of emotion, of pain, as a sex are creatures of emotion; and that too often we spoil our lives because we allow our thoughts to dwell on the non-essentials of life, instead of being big enough to grasp what makes for happiness and true living; and forget all else.
 That I believe is one of man's strongest characteristics. Seldom does a man fuss over trifles; seldom worry over non-essentials. He shrugs his mental shoulders—if he doesn't, his physical—and immediately forgets all about it. While most women roll their troubles over and over so that no matter how small they are at first; in the final analysis they have reached enormous proportions—in their eyes. I waited until after four o'clock, when Bob didn't like to be disturbed in the middle of the day, then I called Bob's office.
 "Hello, Margaret," he answered. Then, "I charged your mind?"
 "I called to tell you I wanted you to be sure and come home to dinner. I have something you particularly like."
 "Can't, dear! It's too late. I've promised Joan. But if you have decided to be sensible and want to you can join us. Old John will be delighted if you will I am sure. We are dining at Hartwell's at six-thirty."
 "Once more he hung up without giving me a chance to answer.
 I of course blamed John Kendall more than I did Bob for this high-handed proceeding—as I called it. If those men would only let me alone he would be all right! It was all their fault. But I wept bitterly as I thought of my lonely dinner and evening.
 Finally I bathed my face, and set down with a book. I was proud, and would not allow even Della to know I felt slighted by my husband's actions. But my thoughts course I should take with Bob. That eventually I would wear him from me I never doubted.
 I heard the bell, but paid no attention until Elsie Barton breezed in upon me.
 "Well I am lucky! I've made three calls and found no one at the same time tell me why those don't deny it?"
 "I rang for Della, and ordered tea, then tried to interest Elsie in some Christmas work I was doing; but she would not be put off."
 "Come now," she said when Della had brought the tea.
 "He is dining with John Kendall."
 "Is that still? I thought he had gone away for a week. Why as it happens Tom is out too. To-night I'll just take off my things and dine with you."
 "I was none too pleased in one way, although it was always a treat to have Elsie with me. But I didn't want Bob to know I was in any way lame in his absence. She would be gone when he came in, I would say nothing about it. So I told her how pleased I would be, and she telephoned her home that they need not expect her.
 "Now what else?" she asked, returning to Bob.
 "He is going to spend the evening with John Kendall looking over some foolish manuscript." Then I added, "I was invited but wouldn't go."
 "Why not? I'd like to see John Kendall ask me if he didn't want me to accept! I do not go to his studio."
 "I have told you, Elsie, that I do not care for these old friends of Bob's. I shall accept no invitations from them. I shall soon get Bob to feel as I do; but if I accepted their invitations I would have no argument at all."
 "You foolish girl! You are making an awful mistake!"

Large congregations were in attendance morning and evening, and the clergyman was tendered a hearty welcome by his former parishioners, as well as by old friends from other churches who were present.

In the morning, Dr. Hutchison spoke upon "The Gospel of the Church," pointing out that it was a Gospel of Divine Personality, of Sin, of an All-Sufficient Saviour, and of the Coming and Reigning King. In the evening Dr. Hutchison spoke upon the subject "Sorrow Turned into Joy," taken from a text in the sixteenth chapter of the gospel of St. John. The speaker pointed out the sorrow of the ship with God. YAAOAG. Christ was turned to joy when he was delivered from danger, sorrow and trial, and that of the sinners when he came into the world in relationship with God. Our sorrow would be turned into joy when the present conflict resulted in victory.

CANADIANS IN FRANCE

With the Y.M.C.A. Overseas—Easter Greetings From Battle Front

To-day there is no place in France and that is "Somewhere." All Canadians in La Belle France are these days, it is a real experience getting to "Somewhere" from a non-stop run on a troops train from London to a coast town, followed by a splendid trip on a mail boat crowded by British battleships, sea-planes, dirigibles, etc., with every precaution possible added to protect the life of these treacherous times at sea. Over all is a kind of Providence under whose protecting power we are guided safely to a French port. A night here, amid scenes somewhat similar to French Canada, and we proceed via passenger train; the slowest in existence, toward a night in another French town, and we continue on board a freight train to rail-head, from whence we wander on foot to headquarters.

On the way "up" we come in contact with the most cosmopolitan crowd, Australians, Belgians, Canadians, Chinese, English, French, Hindis, Indian, Irish, Japanese, New Zealanders, Portuguese, Russian, Scotch, South African, Welsh, Yankee, etc. All evidences of German gain, Germany's apparent enemy. All get along well together, the lack of knowledge of each other's language, is no apparent handicap, for they are united in the one great task of the day, with no trace of treachery or retreating thought allowing their attention, thought of energy to be misdirected for one moment by smaller issues.

Some of our foreign friends, particularly after heavy campaigning, appear unkempt, unclean, unbrushed, unshaven and sleepily dispiritedly uninviting figures, but they are of one mind and inspired with the same uncompromising idealism that liberty, justice and democracy must prevail, and that the first essential toward this end is the defeat of the Hunnish spirit and will to conquer and dominate after which the Boche may appreciate what the forces of love, good will and brotherhood may do for the world.

Our introduction to real things has been interesting and exciting. Trips "up the line" take us through what was once peace country, quiet hamlets and flourishing towns, now one scene of dreadful devastation, which defies description. This Hunnish spirit of destruction is perhaps most forcibly illustrated in the havoc wrought on cathedral and church. It is a strange, savage and sad state of mind that makes a nation destroy that which is beautiful, including beauty in art. Speaking of church buildings, Robert Louis Stevenson said: "I find I never weary of great churches. It is my favorite kind of mountain scenery. Mankind was never so happily inspired as when it made a cathedral a thing as single and apocryphal as a statue to the first glance, and yet, on examination, as lively and interesting as a forest in detail. The height of spires cannot be taken by trigonometry; they measure absurdly short but how full where we have so many elegant proportions growing one out of the other, and all together into one, it seems as if proportion transcended itself and became something different and more imposing I never could fathom how a man dares to lift up his voice to preach in a cathedral. What is he to say that will be an anti-climax? For though I have heard a considerable variety of sermons, I never yet heard one that was so expressive as a cathedral. 'Tis the best preacher itself, and preaches day and night, not only telling you of man's art and aspirations in the past, but convincing your own soul of ardent sympathy or rather, like all good preachers, it sets you preaching to yourself, and every man is his

LEMONS BRING OUT THE HIDDEN BEAUTY

Make this lotion for very little cost and just see for yourself.

An attractive skin wins admiration in social life and in business the girl or woman whose face and hands show evidence of constant care enjoys a tremendous advantage over those who do not realize the value of a healthy skin and a spotless complexion. At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quartet pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in. Then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quartet pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin.

During his time a few years ago, it would have been impossible to conceive of a people taking as much delight in wrecking such splendid and stately edifices. What effect would the appearance of the terraced houses with which we are surrounded have upon such a refined mind? Sacred structures, through whose doors kings and queens of France have passed, with the richly colored and painted windows strewn with the volume of solemn sound of organs flooding the cathedral prayer for worship. These great shrines of faith and history, crowded with remembrance and the pageantry of life, to-day stand as high-heaps of stone monuments to the moral needs and destructive day of paganism of the Germany of today.

The hum drum of the shelling and bombing of the day is continued with all are lulled to sleep by the day of toll, by the sound of guns. The same sounds awaken the soldier from his slumber in the early morning hours and he seems to start with increased activity, the part of all branches of the service in efforts to return to "Fritz" the type of compliment he deserves.

But there is one encouraging side as we note that territory occupied by the Hun, now commanded by Canadians, is again being turned into gardens by the French folk who are homeward bound, which they were driven. It shows, too, the great confidence the French have in the Canadians as they stand beside the French as they stand given tasks, worthy of their prowess and manhood, to complete. That they have always been more than measured up and made to measure, incomparable name is a matter of history. As they address themselves to harder tasks in the tremendous times of the immediate present they will continue to add glory and honor to their names and homeland.

First impressions, here more even than elsewhere, go deep. We are passing through a landscape which will stand out in memory as long as we live. The abnormal becomes the ordinary. Life is lived under conditions which are formerly looked upon as impossible and which are, in fact, possible and strong spiritually and physically at home are coming through the experiences of to-day stronger men with their splendid gifts of youth and strength and unspilled enthusiasms.

It is interesting to note that every one here as in England is endeavoring to "do their bit." We find women are doing their bit in the fields. While Canadian and English boys are particularly interested in helping assist in the production of foodstuffs as their extra duties we are seeing a lot of stepped into young men's places some even cracking stones, building and keeping them in a state of repair—a most necessary thing in warfare.

The Government is having every available acre worked and tilled. Already fields are appearing green, trees are budding and flowers blooming. Altogether nature gives promise of a bountiful harvest. Municipalities have not forgotten their responsibilities for we find baths, bake shops, wash houses, and standard cement houses with their tile roofs being erected in sections reclaimed from the Hun. Amid all the "rag outs" we have vegetable and flower gardens, in spots from which debris has been cleared, with violets, primroses and jonquills adding to the brightness of the summer-like weather now being enjoyed.

The French school children are intensely interested in the experiences which they cannot fully understand. In every town through which we have occasion to pass the readiness for attacks which may come at any moment. The boys on the village common, perhaps a little soldier by the cloud that shadows their country, play games similar to those played by Canadian boys. Each group is always accompanied by a dog but of much humbler breed than those which are usually faithful and companions of Canadian boys. Questioned as to why many are not at school they will answer in broken English, "School bombing is finished." This remark is accentuated by a not altogether look of sorrow or severe suffering. In fact there is the twinkle of real jubilation much the same as we can see in the faces of Canadian school children during the extra enforced holidays of the past winter made necessary through the shortage of fuel.

Many, too, are the amusing incidents noted among soldiers including nationalities. More childlike than any are the Chinese whom we see from Kildes. From fond affection seems to be shown toward the varied mascots and pets of battalions in England or Canada. The touch of real comradeship is evidenced as we meet the cheerful Canadians always ready to direct a hand or give a lift as occasion requires.

The Y.M.C.A. seems to be everywhere present even more so than in England. The troops might stop anywhere in most of the long spots yet a glance up or down the line and a "Y" but comes to make a "bee line" for what may be termed their "hive." After securing some sweets, biscuits and a refreshing cup of tea, coffee or cocoa all are ready to proceed further up on warning from the horn of the trainman which in France replicates the horn of the hunter in England.

In camp, the work of the Y.M.C.A. is conducted with much the same programme in progress as that in England. Here the happy greetings of comrades are heard, new acquaintances and friendships are made, and encouraged. Within sound and range of enemy gunfire, plays equal to those given in our cities are enjoyed along with the best moving pictures. As the fighting line in nearest the "Y" coffee stalls or "dug outs" are havens where soldiers going in or out may obtain fresh drinks and biscuits, etc., and it is safe to say that no service which the Y.M.C.A. is rendering is more needed or more appreciated by the soldiers. Here we find the lines of poetry: "To live in a house by the side of the road and stay in a shack by the side of the road as a sign to passing men."

And now at this Easter season of 1918 when all nature seems to give expression of its gladness and promises through the budding trees, songs of birds, the budding man in the flowers and green fields man is enraptured in the most terrible conflict of the ages. What a study in contrast! Home folks will know more of the actual happenings than can be told from this end. It is our duty here to "carry on" with our soldiers while they endeavor, if God so will, to pass a decision that will prove to be a mighty factor towards eventual victory and peace—a victory worthy of their valiant and the spirit with which they have accepted the challenge of the present crisis.

BUDGET SPEECH ON THURSDAY

Hon. A. K. Maclean Will Present Financial Proposals for Year's Needs

Ottawa, April 21.—The Budget for the present fiscal year will be presented to the Commons on Thursday of this week by Hon. A. K. Maclean, Acting Minister of Finance. At about the same time Sir Thomas White will arrive in Washington from California to negotiate tentatively ways and means of meeting the big balance of trade deficit which has to be met this year. The two big items of this cash deficit are first, the British credits to Great Britain for approximately eight hundred millions of war purchases in Canada for food and munitions during the twelve months, and second, between four hundred and five hundred millions of the American trade balance with the United States.

Two Objects in View. The Finance Minister will seek to complete pending arrangements for re-marking four or five hundred millions of the United States loans to Great Britain for transfer by Canada to help to pay for our financing of British orders in Canada. He will also take up with the Washington Government the question of largely increasing American war orders from Canada this year. At least one hundred millions of American orders for munitions, etc., are now being developed there are good prospects that they will be obtained. That will be one big step towards reducing the adverse trade balance. A direct loan to Canada by the United States of perhaps two or three hundred million dollars also be sought to take up the rest of the cash balance due on international trade, thus restoring the exchange equilibrium.

New Forms of Direct Taxation. Meanwhile at Ottawa, Mr. Maclean will in the Budget speech, present the solution for meeting Canada's direct expenditures this year on her own war and domestic account. As already forecasted, there will have to be new forms of direct taxation to meet the increasing burden of war expenditures, railway financing, debt interest, pensions, etc.

Bigger Tax on Large Incomes. While taxation announcements are kept as Government secrets until formally announced, the Budget speech, it is understood that the main new taxation to be proposed this year will be a substantial jacking up of the toll taken from the men of big incomes. Canada will follow the example of Great Britain and the United States in this respect. The details of the proposals are still conjectural, but it is pretty certain that the Government will take the lion's share of anything over fifteen thousand per year.

VETERANS HELD CHURCH PARADE

Returned Men of City Attended Service in Grace Church

The silence of reverential devotion pervaded the six hundred souls, a gathering of the congregation of Grace Anglican Church and other English churchmen and the honored veterans of the world war, at the held commemoration service on Sunday morning, "In proud memory of our fallen comrades, and to commemorate the day on which Canadians held the line against tremendous odds at the second battle of Ypres April 22nd, 1915."

This, the second annual church parade of the Brantford Great War Veterans, was not a gala day, a time of rejoicing. It was a service of commemoration service or "Sun-day" which have made the supreme sacrifice.

At 10:45 Sunday morning the men, 125 strong, lined up in front of the Soldiers' Home. A memorable scene was this. These men since returning have adopted various individual walks of life. From the office and the bench, they came, having donated their uniforms, uniform symbols of all that is right. Here there was an officer or so, numerous "non-coms," privates and cavalry with medals and ribbon, with service stripes and with "wounded" stripes. All were men.

At eleven o'clock after the parade the men, accompanied by the C.O.R. band, marched to Grace Church. With the choir singing the processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the veterans entered the church.

Rev. J. E. Fotheringham in the absence through indisposition, of Rev. Capt. Jenkins, preached the sermon. His text being taken from the first book of Peter, 10:2. The rector paid tribute to those of our men who have done all their country can ask, those who have "gone west."

After the sermon the National Anthem was sung. Then the C.O.R. band played the Dead March very beautifully, after which the "Last Post" was sounded and the benediction pronounced.

Football

London, April 20.—With the season only one more week to go, and all league champions decided, the games played in the various sections of the English and Scottish football to-day were of little interest to their usual interest. In the London section, Clapton, who have been running none too well all season, easily defeated Brentford Crystal Palace also had a somewhat easy win over Queen's Park, 3-0 being the final score. Fulham and West Ham played to a draw, 1-1, and the "Pensioners" at Tottenham defeated the latter after a hard struggle by 1-0. The "Gunners" also had to put in all they knew to win from Millwall, 1-0.

Only three games were played in the Midland Section, Birmingham in their own ground, winning from Leicester 1-0; Bradford City and Leeds City played to a goalless draw while Huddersfield defeated Bradford, 3-1.

A full quota of games was played in the Lancashire Section. The champions, Liverpool, lived up to their name by defeating the strong Stockport team 4-0. Everton also won by the same score from third in the section, Burnley. Blackburn registered their third win of the season by defeating Burnley 2-1 after a hard game. The defeat of Stoke by Manchester City was unexpected. Bury and Oldham played one of their old-time struggles, and at the finish each side had scored one and the honors were even. "Proud Ruston" won from Blackpool, 4-1 being the final tally.

The Scottish League championship having been decided, several of the teams were engaged in a War Cup competition. The league champions, Rangers, had no difficulty in defeating Patrick Thistle 3-0, while Morton piled up seven goals to Kilmarnock's one. Celtic, who finished a good second in the league, defeated Queen's Park 2-1. The day's results were:

ROCKFORD, ILL. APRIL 22. With the consent and endorsement of Gen. Charles H. Martin, Commander of Camp Grant, plans were laid last night to try and stage the contest between Jess Willard and Fred Fulton at the cantonment on July 4 in case the proposal to hold the bout at St. Paul and Minneapolis failed.
General Martin said the national army has fostered boxing, and "we cannot put too much emphasis on the need to foster the fighting spirit in this training camp."
Those behind the plan propose to erect an open-air arena to seat 30,000 spectators, with standing room for all the soldiers in the camp.
