CHAPTER XVII

Sir Charles followed Mr. Lupus in a dazed, mechanical sort of way. Jabez Caddick gone!

He could scarcely realize it. All else was exactly the same, even to a scratch on one of the frosted window panes. He had been struck by its absurd likeness to a monkey's face five years ago.

He sat down, and Mr. Lupus took the chair wherein he first saw Jabez Caddick.

"Where shall I be able to find Mr. Caddick?" he asked. "Has he retired from business?"

"Yes, Sir Charles, a long time ago—almost five years ago. I didn't want to shock you, but the fact is, sir, your father-in-law is dead!"

Hastings started. He was astonished, and had never anticipated this. "You surprise me," he said.

"I wrote full particulars to you, but the letter came back, and I judged that you had gone abroad."

"Ha! I remember that letter. I thought that it was from him, and wished to hold no communication is the title thousands of people have given to SLOAN'S LINIMENT. It is distinguished as a counter-irritant. Its beneficial and soothing effect when applied to any painful part is immediate. It is highly penetrating, relieves pain quickly, is clean, and easy to apply and will not blister or cause soreness, as is the case with mustard plasters. Every drop in the bottle is medicine. Try it and be convinced. SLOAN'S LINIMENT (FRANK'S REMEDY) GERALD S. DOYLE, Distributor, St. John's.

Bottled Relief

with him. You know all the circumstances?"

Mr. Lupus nodded. "Perhaps you can tell me what has become of her?"

"Your wife?"

A spasm of pain contracted the young man's features. A week or two since he could have heard the words "your wife," with the utmost indifference; now their significance was horrible.

"Is it possible that you have not heard from her, or of her in any way, Sir Charles?" continued Mr. Lupus.

"Not one word since the day I married her. I would give anything to get rid of the bonds that bind me to that woman. If you know anything, Lupus, I will pay you well. I am my own master now; I have put my affairs on a business footing, and can find a reasonable amount of money for the purpose of setting this marriage aside, if such a thing is possible without publicity. It was no marriage in the sight of Heaven. I never spoke to the girl. I never even looked at her."

"I know—I know." A sudden light had come into the eyes of Ebenezer Lupus, and he grinned. The distortion of his features could not be called a laugh.

"I think that I am your man," he said, with a chuckle. "If you have money to work with, I have very little capital, as Jabez Caddick merely left the bare business connection. I should require to draw pretty liberally in advance."

"Upon what grounds do you base your hopes?" was the eager question. "It is a complicated story," Lupus replied, "and the girl you married was not his daughter at all. He never had any children. Her correct name was Lucy Rankin, and she was left at the age of fifteen heiress to a vast sum of money. Something like a hundred and fifty thousand pounds. She lived with an aunt, and the property was in the hands of two trustees until Miss Rankin was twenty-one years old. These trustees were Jabez Caddick, and the junior partner in Spiers' Bank—Alfred Spiers. As Miss Rankin approached womanhood, both trustees conceived the idea of marrying her for the fortune she was possessed of."

"I thought that Caddick was already married," interrupted Sir Charles.

"Yes, but his wife died within a year of her marriage."

"Pray, go on! Oh, if there is hope for me I shall be the happiest of men."

"It was soon apparent to Caddick that Miss Rankin favored Spiers, and he set his artful brain to work to circumvent his rival, and obtain at least a portion of her money, for gold was his god."

"At the time she married you she was only nineteen, and had to obtain the consent of both trustees in writing, or forfeit her entire fortune to a pack of greedy relatives. Pretending that his suit was hopeless, Spiers apparently lost all interest in his ward, and when she made a formal demand upon both trustees to be made mistress of her fortune, on the plea that she and her aunt wished to go abroad, Caddick absolutely refused unless she consented to marry one of his needy clients, and transferred to himself some fifty thousand pounds. By this move he calculated to shut out his rival entirely, and, besides having a sweet revenge, hoped to pocket a neat sum after foregoing his claim against your mother. He was outwitted at every point by Spiers. The transfer was antedated, and, therefore, valueless, for the ward's signature was not in effect until after she entered into possession of her fortune. This she did the day after her marriage. In the meanwhile young Spiers had sold his interest in the banking business, and immediately assisted your wife to realize her property. Within one week after her marriage the two went away together, and when Caddick discovered how he had been duped, and at what a financial loss, he moped for two days, and finally died in this very chair!"

Sir Charles listened to this story with breathless eagerness. It was an extraordinary story of plot and counterplot, and he was interested to learn in what position he stood now.

"Caddick's money went to some hospital," continued Lupus and he left the business to me. If I can number you among my clients, Sir Charles, I shall always endeavor to serve you well, and it may be that I am in a better position to unravel the tangle into which you were forced than any other man living."

"I believe you—I believe you," the young baronet responded. "Now tell my position exactly. Lupus, you cannot guess what this means to me?"

"I think I can, Sir Charles. It comes to every man at some time in his life. You have met the woman you want to marry!"

"Sir Charles flushed redly. He wondered if it were possible for men like Ebenezer Lupus to understand the meaning of love."

After a few moments of consideration, the lawyer went on:

"There is but one way out of this trouble if your wife is still living, and that is divorce."

"That means a horrible story in all the papers!"

"I do not think so; there can be no defense. The woman's guilt is so certain. She went away with Spiers and neither has since been heard of, to my knowledge."

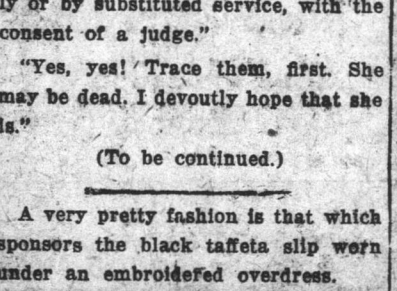

"What became of the aunt?"

"She went with them, I suppose," replied Lupus. "Of course, the proceedings will obtain a certain amount of publicity. If there should be any defense, it will be too weak to hold water, but we must be prepared for all emergencies. In the first place, I suggest that we employ an astute detective to trace the movements of Spiers and your wife. The situation will have to be served either personally or by substituted service, with the consent of a judge."

"Yes, yes! Trace them, first. She may be dead. I devoutly hope that she is."

A very pretty fashion is that which sponsors the black taffeta slip worn under an embroidered overdress.

The Safe Milk Supply for Summer

Summer heat makes no difference to the sweetness and purity of Carnation Milk. It will keep indefinitely, even in the summer, in the cans. And when opened, it keeps for several days. Carnation Milk is simply rich, "whole" milk—wonderfully fresh—reduced to creamy consistency by removing part of the water by evaporation; it is then sealed in new containers and sterilized.

Use it as it comes to you—to add flavor and deliciousness to coffee, tea, cereals and fruit. Add water for table use, for drinking and for ordinary milk uses. Begin today to end the anxiety about the milk supply that summer weather brings. Order from your grocer several tall (16 oz.) cans or a case of 48 cans of Carnation Milk.

The new Carnation Milk Recipe Book is sent free on request, and contains 100 delightful, tested recipes. Beautifully illustrated in colors. Write for a copy.

NO EGG SALAD DRESSING

1/2 teaspoonful salt, 2 teaspoonfuls Carnation Milk, 1/2 cup oil, 1/2 teaspoonful paprika, 1 tablespoonful lemon juice or vinegar. Put salt and paprika in a bowl; add Carnation Milk and mix thoroughly; add oil slowly stirring constantly. Then add the lemon juice or vinegar. This recipe makes 1/2 cup salad dressing.

Forty-Three Years in the Public Service—The Evening Telegram

EVENING MEDITATIONS.

WALT MASON.

Often in the quiet gloaming by my cottage door I sit, from my tangled whiskers combing chinchebugs, sandbars, dust and grit. And I see the people chasing to some silly, maudlin show; all diversion-mad they're racing, on their errands vain they go. Where the garish lights are burning in a long parade they tramp; no one's reading, no one's learning, banished is the evening lamp. In my youth I read the pages writ by men of mighty domes, for there were no movie stages calling children from their homes. When the evening chores were finished, I sat in our humble cot, and with pleasure undiminished read, Bill Shakespeare, Pope and Scott. And my head is always ringing, with the echo of their lyrics. And I soothe myself with verses as beneath my vine I rest, while the boys, in speedster harness, rush to see some Chap-linfect. Times have changed, and oft I wonder if with change we risk or sink, with the evening lamp gone under, and the poets on the blink. In their cars of tin and iron folks are going to the show; do one spend a night with Byron, as I used to long ago.

Prime Minister Condemns Canadian Postage Rate.

"Idiotic" the Term Applied by Sir R. A. Squires --- Railway Owners and Strikers Deadlocked --- Free State Demands Unconditional Surrender of Rebels.

THE RAILWAY STRIKE.
CHICAGO, July 9. The railroad shippers entered the second week of the strike with no apparent inclination to follow the only avenue of peace held open by the Railroad Labor Board which stands on the position that the striking shippers could only receive recognition in conciliatory conferences by returning to work and then entering into negotiations for a settlement. B. M. Jewell, head of the Shop Crafts, held himself open to approach by any responsible person authorized to negotiate a settlement, but declined to make the move, saying the blame for the continuance of the strike rested on the Labor Board and rail companies. The railroads remained immovable in their attitude of considering the strike as against the government rather than against the roads.

IDIOTIC!
MONTREAL, July 9. "Idiotic" was the characterization applied to the action of the late government of Canada in doubling the postage rate to Newfoundland by Sir Richard Squires, Premier of Newfoundland, in an interview. Sir Richard spent two days in Montreal, leaving on Saturday night for New York, where he will sail for England for a final conference with English capitalists, who are considering the investment of approximately twenty million dollars in development in the Humber Valley, Nfld. In view of Canada's efforts to develop and increase trade with Newfoundland, Premier Squires considered the doubling the postage rates not only inadvisable and shortsighted, but absolutely idiotic. Through the department of Trade and Commerce Sir Richard, Canada spent a considerable sum in sending a Trade Commissioner to Nfld. for the purpose of convincing the merchants there, they could transfer to Canada the trade they were conducting with the United States. Through the Postmaster General Canada nullified its other efforts, discriminating against Newfoundland in favor of the United States.

QUIET IN DUBLIN.
DUBLIN, July 9. The week end was quiet but in the Provinces, operations on a large scale continued. The National troops have taken numerous positions from the irregulars.

IRREGULARS TREATED AS REBELS.
DUBLIN, July 9. Irregulars at Inch Island, one of the last remaining Republican strongholds in Donegal, are trying to arrange a truce but the Free State officers demand unconditional surrender. One hundred Republican prisoners, captured in Donegal have asked to be treated as prisoners of war. The request has not been granted on the grounds that they are not prisoners of war, but rebels against the Government. At Wexford and other places, where the Republican forces were defeated, the Free State Regulars have been received with acclamation, the townspeople turning out in torchlight processions with bands.

PROMINENT RAILWAY MAN DEAD.
MONTREAL, July 9. One of the best known railway men in Canada, W. H. Bigger, K.C., Vice-President, and general counsel of the Grand Trunk railway system, died here suddenly on Friday night in his sixty-ninth year.

MAJOR GENERAL BARTON DEAD.
LONDON, July 9. Major-General Sir Geoffrey Barton died here to-day, aged seventy-eight.

FLASHLIGHT COMMENTS.

How our tastes do change as the years fly by! Is there anything more interesting than looking back down a vista memory lined with household gods we once worshipped and now are ashamed of? People who have an attic of many years standing can look down this vista with the physical eye by going up into their eaves. But an attic stored with the accumulations of 40 or 50 years is not such a common possession as it used to be. I suppose there are millions of children to-day who never played in one, never dressed up in clothes from some old chest, never dragged out big bundles of old St. Nicholas or Harper's Young People from the nearest reaches of the eaves, or looked longingly into the forbidden far reaches of them with the feeling that any number of wonderful treasures were surely hidden there.

A Japanese Flame Bush. But a Japanese flame bush, instead of an attic, was the agency that turned my eyes down the vista of household gods foregone. I saw such a bush in the full glory of its stiff, scarlet blooms in an artistic garden and realized for the first time how beautiful a flower it is. And yet we had a Japanese flame bush in our garden when I was a child and I hated it, because it looked so stiff, and because it would not make good bouquets for the house, which, at that time was my idea of the sole mission of a garden. I have other ideas now.

That Dreadful Lamp shade! I also have other ideas about a certain lamp shade we bought in those same days. It was a wonderful yellow globe with Chinese dragons in gilt on it, and we bought it to go on an old fashioned lamp which should have had a simple little spreading shade. Fancy! For some years we regarded it as the one artistic and attractive bit in an old fashioned parlor. Then we began to have doubts which carried it into a less conspicuous place. Finally it disappeared altogether from the haunts of the living. A Nubian girl's head is another of the sign posts on my progress toward better taste (I hope). I wonder how many homes contain such a sign post. And the poster period! Somewhere I don't know just where, there is a collection of posters that were stripped off my wall when my ideas of decoration changed. I should have burned them up then and there but many of them were such hard won trophies of a chase which at the time seemed all important that I could not quite commit that sacrifice.

The Rogers Group. Out in the barn of a little Inn where I stayed a few days lately I found two bits of flossam and jessam that indexed the taste of 40 years ago as nothing else could. Two Rogers groups! I suppose to some of my readers that will mean nothing. But if they will ask their fathers and mothers they will doubtless be able to tell them what a mark of gentility and taste the Rogers group once were. No better class home was ever without at least one. And to-day they are hidden in the barn behind the old buggy and the tool chest! As you look down the vistas of the household gods you have set up so painstakingly, worshipped so fervently, discarded so completely, I wonder what you see.

The Pony and Small Horse Race will be run on measured ground and exact time taken at the Garden Party on Pennywell Road on Wednesday, in aid of the Methodist College and Orphanage. Don't miss it.—11

Britain's Ensign.

Our Trinity correspondent in his last weekly contribution, published in Saturday's issue of the Telegram, discusses a very important matter, and with his usual earnestness when on the subject of national affairs makes a good case for the greater education of the boys and girls of our schools in the symbolism of flags, particularly the flag of Britain. The Union Jack is familiar to all, but how many know of its origin and design, or could answer any question off hand on either point. The young school teacher who instructed her class that the make up of the Union Jack contained three crosses, red, white and blue, erred rather more on the side of zeal, and should not be taken too severely to task for her (under the circumstances) pardonable inaccuracy. Such statements, however, go to prove that there is need for the more careful study of the flag of Empire and its heraldic symbolism. Then, too, as our correspondent notes, more care should be exercised in the ordering of miniature national flags, whether Jacks, White, Blue or Red Ensigns, the design of the Union, being in the cases of stamped cotton flags, especially, nearly always wrong. If such flags are being purchased in Japan, Germany, or any other foreign country, buyers should make sure that the principal emblem is not of bastard design. Too much care cannot be exercised in the selection of the correctly made flag of Britain, and it practically constitutes an offence—if not an insult to the dignity and greatness of the Empire to be waving and flying flags which are not officially and heraldically accurate in design.

As a matter of fact the national banner of Britain should be called the Union Flag, though ordinarily it is known as the Union Jack. The latter is a diminutive of the former, and the term, in strictness, should be confined to small union flags, bordered white, flown from the jackstaff fixed to the bows of naval and merchant ships. The original flag or banner of England was the red cross of St. George on a white field, the central design of the present flag. With the union of Scotland the white saltire of St. Andrew on a blue field was added, and on the union of the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in 1801 the cross of St. Patrick, a red saltire on a white field, was, by royal proclamation, ordered to be incorporated in the design, and the heralds began their device of the flag as we know it to-day, containing the triple crosses of St. George, St. Andrew and St. Patrick. It will be noted that in the Union Flag that the red cross of St. Patrick is not in the centre of the white cross of St. Andrew. This is explained in "Hulme's Flags of the World" in this manner: "The scarlet cross of St. George is equally fringed on either side by the white border or fimbriation that represents the original white field, and the addition of the white cross of St. Andrew on its field of blue fitted in very happily. When, however, another X like cross had to be provided for the admission of Ireland to the Union, a difficulty arose in the placing of the red saltire over the white one, as the former being of equal width would, if superimposed, entirely obliterate that of St. Andrew. A compromise was arrived at, however, which shows in the flag in that awkward looking break in the continuity of direction of the arms of the red cross of Ireland, by its portions being thrown out of the centre of the white oblique bands, so that in each portion the crosses of Scotland and Ireland are clearly distinguished from each other." But here is the particular point to be noted and the principal one contended for by W.J.L. When the Union flag is flown it should always be with the broad white stripe nearest to the head of the flagstaff. (See design of flag at head of this column. The colors can be filled in with crayons as an object lesson.) It would be quite possible as our readers will see, on a little study of the matter, to turn the flag with the red stripe uppermost; but this is incorrect, and trivial as the matter may appear, there is a right and wrong to it, and the point therefore should not be overlooked.

Alumni Association
St. Bon's College.

A meeting of the old boys of St. Bonaventure's was held at the college yesterday to complete preparations for the coming celebration on July 14th. Mr. W. R. Fowler, the President, occupied the chair. The pupils will meet at 8 o'clock on the 14th at the college where those who have not already procured tickets may get them. After signing the roll the members of the Association will attend Mass in the College Chapel which will be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Mons. Donnelly, P.P., Conception Hr. His Grace will impart Benediction, should the state of his health permit him to be present. The breakfast will follow, after which the oration will be delivered by Rev. Father O'Flynn, B.A.

Susu From North.

S.S. Susu, which arrived at 5 p.m. Saturday from the Foggo mail service, reports fishery prospects good. The ship brought a small freight and the following passengers: S. J. Blackler, J. Wells, Rev. The Susu sails again at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Personal.

Mr. Charles White, J.P., of Twillingate, is in the city on business having arrived by s.s. Prospero.
Capt. Geo. Penney, late of Carbonear and well known in St. John's, who has retired from active marine duties and now resides in New York, is visiting friends in town and on the peninsula.
Mr. Mack Garland, son of Mr. W. J. Garland, J.P., Island Cove, Bay de Verde, has returned home, having benefited much from the course of optical treatment at the hands of a city specialist.
Mr. J. W. N. Johnstone, local agent Canadian Government Merchant Marine who has been on an extended trip to Western Canada returns by the Digby due this evening.
Mr. E. C. Brown of King's Cove, was a passenger by S.S. Prospero on Saturday on his usual semi-annual business visit to the city.

Bad Roads.

REPAIRS NEEDED ON "COW PATH."
Motorists who have recently driven around Conception Bay complain of the atrocious condition of the road between Upper Gullies and Clark's Beach. In nearly every case the bridges are badly in need of repair and many are even dangerous. The roads are nothing but ruts and stones on the "cow path," that very appropriately named section of the road between Seal Cove and Upper Gullies, the road bed consists of nothing but loose stones. If money is to be spent on road work, there is sufficient to be done to this road to keep men occupied all the summer.

Splendid Sermons
at Cochrane Street.

At Cochrane Street Methodist Central Church yesterday, the Rev. L. G. Hudson, B.A., who is taking the preaching appointments of the Rev. C. H. Johnson, B.D., who is now enjoying a well earned vacation, occupied the pulpit at the morning service, preaching a well thought out and up-to-date discourse from the fifth chapter of St. Matthew and 89th verse. At the evening service a splendid congregation assembled to hear the grand old man of Methodism, the beloved General Superintendent, the Rev. Dr. Chown, of Toronto. The service was in charge of Rev. L. G. Hudson, the opening prayer being made by the Rev. Dr. Curtis. Dr. Chown, before taking up his sermon, stated that he remembered very well the day when he laid the corner stone of the church in the height of a terrible rainstorm, and said that he was delighted to see on behalf of Methodism, such a beautiful edifice erected for the worship of God. The sermon was based on the following words, taken from the 77th psalm, "And I said this is my iniquity, but I will remember the year of the right hand of the most high." The sermon was considered a masterpiece, delivered with great force and energy and will not soon be forgotten by the great throng of worshippers present. The singing by the congregation was perhaps the best heard since the opening of the church, the grand old hymns with inspiring tunes were heartily sung, the grand organ being heard to splendid advantage under the skilful manipulation of Mr. Arthur News, C.M.G.

The boats will make good time on Wednesday, July 12th, after crews have had their tea and taken in side shows, etc., by being over to N. B. S. Garden Party at Woodley's.—Jly10.31

Carboner Unemployed.

MEN SENT TO GRAND FALLS.
A mass meeting of the unemployed residents of Victoria Village, near Carbonear, was held in the latter town last week. According to Hon. Dr. Campbell, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, the meeting was a quiet one, and the men discussed the possibilities of obtaining work. Rumours have been spread, however, stating that a demand for immediate work was made and that the attitude of the men was so threatening that the Government was compelled to take immediate action. Dr. Campbell said that Mr. Gillingham, agent of the Anglo Newfoundland Developing Company visited the district and gave work to 75 men at Grand Falls.

If you are down to pond looking at crews practising on Wednesday, July 12th, just drop over to Woodley's Farm for your tea at N. B. S. Garden Party and stay down all evening.—Jly10.31

The Weather.

BIG DROP IN THERMOMETER.
With that glorious inconsistency for which it is famed, the weather which yesterday morning was reminiscent of the Tropics, changed last evening to something approaching the Polar regions. The morning and early afternoon were gloriously warm and the thermometer stood at 76 degrees in the shade. As the evening came on, a chill wind and fog set in and the thermometer actually dropped to 42 degrees, a fall of 34 degrees in a few hours.

Shipping Notes.

S.S. Silvia arrived at Halifax on Sunday at 1 p.m., making the passage from here in 44 hours.
S.S. Rosalind arrived at Halifax this morning. The run from this port was made in 48 hours.
S.S. Manoa leaves Charlottetown tomorrow, and is due here Thursday afternoon.
S.S. Sablé I, is supposed to have left North Sydney at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The ship was not reported up to press hour, and is probably delayed by fog and head winds.
S.S. Daguid arrived at Aquathua on Friday from Sydney, and is now loading limestone.
S.S. Bethalmen sailed on Saturday from Botwood in ballast for Sydney.
Schr. Vandalia, coal laden for Cape Race, harbored at Trepassay on Saturday night.
Schr. Emily H. Patten has entered at Grand Bank to load fish from J. B. Patten for Oporto.

Formerly Church Property.

The Rennie's River Tannery building, which was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, was formerly the property of the Continental Church and School Society, and was situated where the Synod Hall now stands. In the early twenties it was purchased by John Hillier and Roger Downs and attached to the site near Rennie's River.

To Correspondents.

The War Memorial.

PADRE NANGLE WILL HAVE DESIGNS PREPARED—KING WILL UNVEIL MEMORIAL.

Lieut. Col. T. Nangle, C.P., who leaves for England on the "Digby," has been authorized by the Executive of the War Memorial Committee to have designs prepared for the National Memorial. Major W. H. Green, the architect who rebuilt many of the buildings in St. John's after the fire, will co-operate with Padre Nangle in this work. Artists will be asked to submit designs in which there must be embodied a leading light, a cross, and figures symbolical of the Royal Navy, Army, Merchant Marine, and the Nursing Services. These figures are to be done in bronze. Padre Nangle expects that the designs will be ready to be submitted to the War Memorial Executive by Christmas and that the Memorial itself will be in readiness to be unveiled on July 1st next. His Majesty the King will unveil the monument electrically through the courtesy of the Commercial Cable Company. Plaster casts of the various designs will be placed on exhibition in St. John's some time in December.

Cemetery Monuments.

Lieut. Col. Nangle said he hoped that two monuments would be erected and unveiled on the battlefields this summer, in memory of the Newfoundlanders who fought on them. One of these monuments will be erected at Kieberg Ridge, and will be unveiled by King Albert of Belgium. The other will be placed on the field of Guedecourt. It is hoped that Marshal Foch will consent to unveil it. The second part of the work of the War Graves Commission will soon begin. This consists of the removal of the old wooden crosses and the erection of permanent stone monuments which will be modelled according to the wishes of the relatives of the dead. The cost of erecting these monuments is being borne by the Imperial War Graves Commission and each dominion pays its per capita share.

Graves Found.

Padre Nangle told the Telegram that a message had been received from Berlin to the effect that a cemetery containing the graves of 23 Newfoundlanders who had died in captivity, had been found. They had been buried by the Lower Alaskan Regiment. The War Graves Commission had been looking for this cemetery for some time, but its location was some five miles from that near which the search had been made.

Loyal Orange Association.

Annual Church Parade.

The members of Royal Oak and Leeming Lodges of the Loyal Orange Association held their Annual Church Parade yesterday afternoon, attending Divine Service at St. Thomas's Church. There was an exceptionally large attendance, some 400 members being present including the P.G.M., A. W. Piccott and P.P.G.M. Cave of the Grand Lodge. The parade was headed by the C.L.B. Band, the route to church being from Victoria Hall, via Military Road. Rev. E. C. Earp, Rector of St. Thomas's delivered a masterly address, appropriate to the occasion. After the ceremony the society returned and returned to the hall via Duckworth Street. A vote of thanks to the Rector of St. Thomas's for his discourse, proposed by Grand Master Piccott and seconded by Deputy Grand Master Gordon Bradley, was passed unanimously. On Wednesday night there will be a banquet and other celebrations in Victoria Hall at which a large attendance is expected. The speakers have not been arranged but will be called from the gathering.

You will never forget it if you take in the T. A. Club's Annual Outing to Donovan's, Wednesday afternoon. Bennett's orchestra in attendance.—Jly10.21

German payments, in goods, may be arranged immediately, without parliamentary approval, Premier Poincare told the Chamber of Deputies Saturday. The decision empowering the Government to act immediately followed a conference between the Premier and members of the Chamber of Foreign Affairs.

CORK STANDS EAST.

LONDON, July 10.
Latest reports from Ireland indicate that the Republican movement is collapsing everywhere, except in Cork district, where it is believed De Valera has gone to join his supporters.

TRANSFER OF H. Q.

CORK, July 10.
The Republican army has evidently transferred its headquarters from Malin to Limerick, as Sunday night's official statement was issued from the latter place. Describing the general situation, the statement claims that the whole of the West, South and Midlands stand firm for a Republic, but admits the loss of Kilkenny Castle, Thurles, Marlborough, Nenagh and Thurles Bridge, which are held by Free States. It also says the Republicans have evacuated Sligo, and fighting is in progress in the vicinity.

RAILWAY BRIDGE BLOWN UP.

BELFAST, July 10.
The bridge at Dunleer, County Lough, has been blown up, together with four others, thus completely severing rail communication with Dublin. All trains have been cancelled. Telephone communication with Dublin was restored to-day for the first time since the attack on the Republicans in Four Courts.

CHRISTENING AT MUNDY'S POND.—A large number of people witnessed the baptism of several converts to the Bethesda Mission at Mundy Pond yesterday forenoon. Preceding the ceremony of christening which is by total immersion, the leader, Rev. R. English, gave several Bible readings and a sermon. Nine women and one man were christened and whilst the immersion was proceeding, members of the sect, who assembled on the bank sang hymns.

Ward Crane in "The Dark Star."

PLAYER WAS ONCE SECRETARY TO THE LATE COL. ROOSEVELT.

Ward Crane, who plays a leading role in the Cosmopolitan production of Robert W. Chambers' story, "The Dark Star," featuring beautiful Marjorie Davies which is at the Grand theatre to-night, was once upon a time secretary to the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and among his closest treasures Mr. Crane preserves some autographed photographs presented to him, together with many souvenirs, by Colonel Roosevelt.

It was when Colonel Roosevelt was governor of New York that Mr. Crane served with him and even after Mr. Crane left the services of the distinguished statesman, Colonel Roosevelt frequently sent for him, to take down some particular speech or to read to him some passages from some volume, whose plot they had talked over during the last summer afternoon at Sagamore Hill. Colonel Roosevelt, Mr. Crane says, was greatly interested in pictures and often wrote him comments on his work in them. It was his intention to see Mr. Crane in "The Dark Star" when it was released, but death intervened.

A Pointed Query.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—I beg leave to use the columns of your influential daily, in asking the Government what steps have been taken to secure compensation from Germany for marine losses during the war.

Four years have passed since the Erik was shelled and afterwards sunk by an enemy submarine in sight of the Newfoundland coast. Special compensation forms supplied by the Minister of Shipping were filled in by members of the crew who had lost all, or part of, their belongings; and having been verified by affidavit they were returned to the Shipping Department.
It has been stated that losses through enemy submarine activity were to be paid first. Germany has already paid many millions towards those losses. Did Newfoundland receive the share set apart for her? If so, what about distributing it? If not, it is high time that the Government got busy and let England know that Newfoundland is entitled to part of Germany's first payments.
Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
RADIO.

Early Morning Blaze.

RENNIE'S RIVER BARNBURN DESTROYED.

Rennie's River Barnburn, an isolated building, situated in a field at the foot of Robinson's Hill was practically destroyed by a fire of unknown origin, which started about one o'clock Sunday morning. The blaze was first noticed by some motorists who were returning to the city. An alarm being sent in the Central and East End fire companies were quickly on the scene. Streams of water from Circular Road and Rennie's Hill were quickly brought into play. The steam engine was also employed and water was pumped from the river close by. A large amount of hose was used and the chemical motor truck was obliged to bring extra supplies to the scene. In the building were a number of barrels of grease and oil, which added fuel to the flames. The interior woodwork being also saturated from fire of use was so insubstantial that it was quickly consumed. Shortly after the firemen arrived the whole place was a roaring furnace, from which issued dense volumes of suffocating smoke. Both firemen and police worked well and managed to save several out-buildings and a linney. The ground flat of the buildings, where the vats were situated, was not badly damaged, but the upper flat was completely gutted, and a large amount of machinery destroyed. The cause of the blaze is not known. The Manager, Mr. Thos. Johnson, stated that when he left the premises at 6 p.m., on Saturday, everything was in order, nor was there any fire in the boiler room. The fire appears to have started near the centre of the top flat, on which is one of the finishing rooms. Rennie's River Tannery was built about 50 years ago and was owned by Roger Downs. About 28 years ago the present company assumed control and made many additions to the place. The plant and stock are insured for $6,000.

Appreciation of Popular Mariner.

Capt. Archibald Blandford, S.S. Glencoe.

Dear Captain Blandford:
The members of the Newfoundland Methodist Conference, clerical and lay, have observed with genuine appreciation your great concern for our welfare as passengers on the good ship "Glencoe." Not only has our safety been a matter of your particular consideration, but you have manifested the most constant interest in our comfort and enjoyment as well. We desire also to express our thanks to the officers of the ship including particularly the stewards and stewardess, for unfailing courtesy, and unwearied service.

That you may be long spared and blessed with health and strength, to give the travelling public the benefit of your marine skill and good seamanship is the sincere wish and earnest prayer of the undersigned.
Signed on behalf of the Conference,
S. D. CHOWN, D.D., LL.D.,
General Superintendent,
W. J. MORRIS, President,
E. BROUGHTON, Secretary.

A Protest and a Demand.

What has been termed for years the Government wharf here is in a most dilapidated condition, and is very dangerous to the travelling public in general. Passengers to and from the small ferry have to be either assisted or take chances of going through the thing, as nothing remains, but two iron rails whereby they can reach the boat or station in safety. It would be a credit to the place if some of our Road Board members would get busy and consider having the landing place repaired, otherwise it is feared something serious sooner or later will result. Other places have been given grants for these purposes, and why not this place as well? The whole trouble is, nobody has troubled whether it is repaired or not. Quite recently a lady while going from the station to join the ferry, fell through the wharf and barely escaped serious injuries, and despite all the protests the wharf remains in the same condition. I repeat it's high time some one got busy or the result will be sooner or later serious.

In the Realms of Sport.

G.W.V.A. SPORTS WEDNESDAY.

The annual G. W. V. A. Sports will be held on Wednesday next at St. George's Field. Gold and silver medals will be given for the hurdles, 100 and 200 yards, quarter, half, and one mile; gold medals for the pole vault and football sprints, in addition to the Governor's cup for the latter; silver cups for the Field Regatta, tug of war, scooter race, and for the football Intercollegiate set of silver medals. The tennis trophy this year is a twenty-seven jeweled solid gold Waltham. The prizes on exhibition at Trapnell's are attracting a great deal of attention.

THE GOVERNOR'S FOOTBALL CUP.

His Excellency the Governor, Patron of the G. W. V. A., has once more shown his unwavering interest in the welfare of the Association by donating a beautiful and valuable cup to be competed for at the annual sports next Wednesday. This cup will be known as the open challenge cup for football sprints to be played for at the G. W. V. A. Sports each year. In addition to the cup, gold medals are being presented by the G. W. V. A. to the winners. The following are the conditions governing the trophy:—

CONDITIONS.

- (1) The Cup shall be called the "Governor's Football Cup."
- (2) This cup shall be given annually for Football Sprints played on the ordinary six system by teams recognised as amateur by the Amateur Athletic Association of Newfoundland, of a standing which is approved by the Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association.
- (3) The competition shall always take place at or in connection with the G. W. V. A. Sports if any such are held.
- (4) In the event of their being unable to hold Annual Sports in any year, the Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association shall make such arrangements as they consider best for the competition.
- (5) The Club whose team wins the Cup will for the year ensuing have custody of the Cup and undertake to keep it at their Club house or any such other place as may be approved by the Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association.
- (6) The holders of the Cup will undertake to refund to the Great War Veterans' Association the amount of the premium for the insurance of the Cup for one year.
- (7) The name of the winning Club from year to year shall be engraved on the Cup or on plates on the plinth at the cost of the holder, subject to the approval of the Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association.
- (8) Any question arising as to the interpretation of the above Rules shall be resolved by conference between the Executive of the Great War Veterans' Association and that of the Amateur Athletic Association.

The Fieldiana and C.E.I. will try conclusions tonight, and though the odds are greatly in favor of the college lads, yet the red-and-whites are going to do their damnest. It must be remembered that very often a surprise attack throws a scare into the opposed camp, and if the general cashier in a certain steamship office can be believed, "he" is going to be a regular David and Goliath affair. The players will be the same as in the last appearance of each.

The B.I.S. put it all over a mixed crew from H.M.S. Valerian and S. S. Norburn by a score of 4 to 1. The visitors played well but the fast combination of the Irish forwards rather nullified them. In a collision with Halley of the B.I.S., one of the ship's crew named Norman Turner, fell and had the misfortune to break his ankle. Dr. Chas. Fox, who was playing, made a temporary splint and ordered him to hospital, where he was taken in Dr. Power's car. This morning the hospital reports him to be doing as well as can be expected. The unfortunate accident is much regretted.

July 8th.—The weather grown warm again and a thing to note is how many people do wear hats of straw, where last year I did see few such. I walked to the Railway Offices, although very hot, and learned how Mr. Morgan is on a tour of inspection. So to the Board of Trade, where Sir Patrick McGrath tells me that he will go to England about the boundary of the Labrador, and the matter, he says, is satisfactory for this country. Povy and I by water to see the schooner that did fall in the Harbor Grace dock, and a sorry state was it in. I did work hard all the afternoon, and so to bed, very tired.

July 9th, (Lord's Day).—A warm day, but mighty cold at night, and this climate is indeed, a strange one. I did have discourse with Mr. Cook, the Mayor, at Topash, and our talk or many things, but above all else, of the fisheries. I hear how a fire did destroy the Tannery at Rennie's River last night, but the amount of the damage I could not learn. News comes of a disturbance at Carbonac and it seems how more trouble will be caused there by the unemployed, but I hope this will not come to pass.

Obituary.

ALBERT MERCER.

On the 4th inst., there passed to a happy, better land, Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mercer, of St. George's. Deceased was just entering into young manhood, and was of a pleasant friendly disposition, which had won him many friends. His illness was a short one, his death unexpected till the last, and the grief of his parents so intense as to win them the sympathy of all the townspeople. The funeral was largely attended and many beautiful wreaths were sent to adorn the casket. Many relatives of the deceased live in the neighborhood of St. John's, and some in Canada and the United States. To these and to the sorrowing parents the writer offers sincere sympathy. May the soul of Albert Mercer rest in peace.—Com.

SATURDAY'S CONTEST.

A very fine exhibition of the noble game was given on Saturday afternoon when the Shamrocks and Fellidians Clubs met in friendly combat. The match was only one innings, and the 24 runs. Some very fine batting was produced, as it was a batters day. The wind made it very difficult for bowlers, and constant changes had to be made. The Fellidians were first to bat and M. G. Winter, Jr. and E. Jerrett first faced the music to the bowling of Ryan and Finn. Jerrett appeared to be just nicely settled when a very brilliant catch by Jerry Savage sent him to the tent. Harry Winter took Jerrett's place and was playing a very good game, and was playing a very good game, and was playing a very good game.

SHAMROCKS TO BAT.

The Shamrocks immediately took the wicket, and Simms and Furlong opened the ball. The first over Simms placed a catch nicely in the vicinity of Ellis, who availed of the courtesy thus extended, and Simms retired with the distinctive ducksegs to his credit. T. Ryan replaced him, and after a short life he also retired. Furlong had been playing a pretty fair game and gave promise of making doubles, but R. Martin by a very nice catch ended his career, and 7 runs were all he could add to the Shamrock total. Dr. Fox and P. Berrigan gave a very brilliant exhibition. The Doctor had some very sweet hits, and when he was "held" by Thomas he had the respectable score of 13 to his credit. Berrigan added 18 runs, the highest score for the day. Neddy Power contributed 7, and Savage, Finn, Dug French, F. Edens and C. Morris added 6 between them. The sum total of the Shamrocks amounted to 59, thus the Fellidians were victors by 24. A goodly number of spectators were present and enjoyed the game immensely. Rumors of a return match are in the air. Appended are the scores:—

Prospects Good.

PROSPERO ARRIVES FROM NORTH
Fishery prospects along the Northern coast are good, according to reports brought along by s.s. Prospero, which reached port from the northern coastal service Saturday afternoon. Several big catches had been made on the Labrador, one crew having 200 qts. landed. Salmon are plentiful north, but icebergs are interfering with trap fishing. The following passengers came on the ship: Messrs. Furga, Brown, Barbour, Baker, Murphy, Lodge, Barbour, Howlett, Bishop, Lovelace, Flight, Bragg, Tiller, Oake, White, Dawa, Newhook, Penny, Rev. Fr. Nolan, Quirk, Frost, Coyell, Wells, Sacker, Morgan, Maunder, Pilliar, White, Collett, Blackburn, Hunt, Moore, Newell; Mesdames Barnes, Connolly, Harding, Bragg, Bugden, Ledrew, Stuckley, Rideout, Boyan, Wells; Misses Campbell, Nickle, Sparkes, Rideout, Davis, Sutton, Hynes, Anthony, Norris, Winsor, Foley, Gillett, Flynn, Richards, Garland, Strong, Clark, Hatch and 62 in steerage. The ship sails again at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

 Well equipped Dental Offices can repair plates. A broken tooth is a reason why a plate should be discarded. A new tooth, or several of them, can be vulcanized onto the old plate and make the service absolutely as good as ever. If you meet with an accident that injures your plate in any way, consult your dentist about it before you discard it for a new one. You can often prevent a serious expense. Just look at it.

BY ONLOOKER.
 One of the most interesting matches played in the season of '97 was that between the St. Andrews and Terra Nova teams, played on Lewisville Place the night before the annual Regatta. The following report of the matter is extracted from the Evening Herald of August 6th, 1897.

23rd League Match—St. Andrews vs. Terra Nova—A Waterloo for the Blacks—Result: Saints 6 goals; Terra Nova Nil.
 In beautiful weather, and before a tremendous concourse of spectators this match was played off on the League grounds on Wednesday evening. We think we are safe in computing the gathering at something accounting for some 550—then, when we consider ladies free, season ticket holders, and dead heads, the other 450 could easily be tallied up.

There was, of course, a great gathering of the "Clans" conspicuous amongst them being quite a large number of the gentler sex, some of whom had never witnessed a football match before, but yet whether carried away by the brilliant form displayed by their true born countrymen and Scotch-Newfoundlanders or not—gave full vent to their feelings quite as much as the most ardent male football enthusiast on the field. The Blacks (Terra Nova) were not lacking in supporters either, more especially in the first half. This was very noticeable on the stand from which we viewed the game, where a most amusing wordy war was carried on between two noted and popular admirers of the opposing teams, and which gave the spectators around a good bit of additional value for the admission fee. But to the game. We were not present at the kick off, just arriving at the point when two determined onslaughts on the Terra Nova citadel were made by the "Blues" in quick succession, Fearn (the Terra's goalkeeper) having to bustle in clearing. The game at once developed into a fast, and what promised to be (what everyone expected) a stubborn and closely contested match, determination being stamped in every feature of the players on both sides. The Saints, who were playing uphill, slowly but surely asserted their superiority, making the pace a cracker, and after some 20 minute play, from a pretty bit of combination amongst the forwards, Tom McGill beat Fearn, and the Terra Nova's lost their first League goal. Nothing further of note occurred till the half-time whistle was sounded, the teams crossing with the score, one-nothing in favour of the Saints.

Change of ends gave the Blue Brigade the advantage there in the ground, and they quickly began a series of rushes, which completely bewildered their opponents on every hand, and only ended when other 5 goals had been placed to their credit in something like 20 minutes. The first of these was recorded by Mars-Fearn, in an attempt to tackle the St. Andrews' Captain, finding himself stretched on the goal line and the second goal scored.
 Number three was accomplished by Walter Monroe, and we think this might have been saved by the goalkeeper. It was a high shot over the players heads, and just dropped under the bar, and Fearn might easily have fished it out. He, however, seemed as if he had got quite enough in his previous effort to save and, contented himself in watching the ball going through. The next goal was a beauty, in fact, probably the best for the season, being the result of some fine passes on the part of the Saints' forwards, Mars, at the right moment passing to McFarlane, who promptly shot through. Four to nothing was pretty hard on the hitherto unbeaten Blacks, but the Blues were not yet finished, and from another combined rush, Munn got possession and goal No. 5 became a fact. The sixth and final goal was secured by McNeil, from a pass by McFarlane. During the time of this record scoring the Terra Nova's had paid one or two visits to the other end, and from corners and one shot of G. Ayre's (Capt.) the St. Andrews' goal had one or two narrow escapes. The Saints' back division, however, were too strong for their opponents, having very little trouble in clearing, whilst Scapelin had to content himself with goal kicks, his wonderful saving propensities never being called into requisition. The pace put on by the Saints had told its tale on the doubtable Blacks, and we think we are safe in stating that very few of the players were sorry when Maynard sounded time, announcing the fact that the great match of the season had ended in a victory for the Saints by 6 goals to nothing. Referee, Mr. F. Maynard. Linesmen, Messrs. F. Donnelly, C.C.C., and T. H. Hayward, C. L.B.

The players were:—
ST. ANDREWS.—Goal, Scapelin; backs, R. Young, Herb Rodger; half backs, H. Jardine, R. Forbes, S. Rodger; forwards, T. McNeil, W. Monroe, P. Mars (Captain) A. Munn, J. McFarlane.
TERRA NOVA.—Goal, C. Fearn; backs, G. Halley, N. Vinnicombe; half backs, C. Foran, Geo. Ayre (Capt.), J. Ayre; forwards, M. Murphy, Brophy, Kennedy, Dowden, A. Carnell.
NOTES ON THE GAME.
 Six to nothing looks like a one sided affair, but this was not so much the case as one would infer who did not see the game.
 It was simply a case of individual work on the one side, and combined efforts on the other.
 The St. Andrews' lads knew that great things were expected from them, and proved themselves—every one of them—equal to the occasion.
 The 5 forwards, although 3 of them were partially disabled, viz: Munn, Mars and McFarlane (the latter receiving a nasty knock in collision with Carnell) treated the big crowd to a grand sample of the passing game.
 Walter Monroe was undoubtedly the most brilliant exponent of the ball being almost perfect.
 Each of the forwards successful in scoring—McNeil getting two which made the 6th goal.
 The popular right and left half backs—Jardine and Stan Rodger—played their usual dashing and reliable game, and Bob Forbes (a 2nd eleven player) as centre half put in some very effective work, considering that he played in a new position.
 Herb Rodger sustained his reputation of being one of the coolest backs playing this season, and seems to possess the knack of being just there when wanted.

"My Mirror Told Me"
 THE excitement of business emergencies kept me so busy that I did not notice that I was losing out physically, until one day, when looking in a mirror, I suddenly realized my condition. I could see then that I was rapidly approaching a nervous breakdown.
 "About that time a friend of mine told me about what a large proportion of life insurance applications were being turned down because of physical disabilities resulting from the tense nervous strain of recent years."
 "What was I to do?"
 "Well, my wife had noticed me being nervous and worried, and had been at me for some time to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to give it a try-out."
 "During the first week I could not see much improvement, and was getting rather discouraged. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Everything worried me so that I was continually nervous and irritable. But my wife saw to it that I did not miss my regular dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and by the second week I began to sleep better and to feel more cheerful."
 "From that time on this restorative treatment seemed to build me right up, and I know now that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food saved me from a nervous breakdown."
 "There must be many thousands of men and women in just such a serious condition as I was, and who can benefit by my experience."

 16.—SUNDAY. 6th after Trinity. Flight of Mahomet, 622.

Bobbie Young, who is vastly improved on last year's form, played better than ever, never making a miss, and Scapelin in goal had a comparatively easy time of it.
 The Terra Novas were certainly severely handicapped by the unavoidable absence of 4 of their crack players, but their places were filled by the best possible players at the command of their stalwart captain.
 Their forward line was decidedly weak, and the most notable of them viz: Murphy and Carnell (outside right and left) were closely looked after, rendering it next to impossible for them to accomplish anything of a brilliant nature.
 The half back division was good, George Ayre (Capt.) putting up perhaps the best game he ever did, and he was well supported by Foran and namesake (J. Ayre) who, for a young player put up a splendid game.
 The backs, Geo. Halley and 'Nix Vinnicombe, were very good, but could not withstand the terrible rushes of their agile opponents.
 Fearn, in goal, to our mind, was not a success. He certainly saved at first in goal style, but after the second goal seemed to be mesmerized, and did not at all give evidence of being the possessor of goalkeeping prowess he was reported as having previous to the fatal 5th of August.

We must not forget to mention that as announced before the match, the receipts are to be devoted as a benefit to the popular Referee (Maynard) and we believe we are justified in stating that it will take the form of some tangible token of esteem for his arduous and unenviable labor during the series of fixtures, and a something that will remind him in the future of the largest crowd, who (up to the present time) ever were gathered together to witness a football match in St. John's.

ENGLAND LOSES TWO CHAMPION SHIPS.
 Two English Championships were lost to foreigners on Saturday.
 The Diamond Sculls, at Haverly Royal Regatta, the most favored prize among international oarsmen, were won by Walter Hoover of Philadelphia and Susanne Lengien, world's champion tennis player, again won the Women's singles at Wimbledon.
 Although these events are English, they are open to outside competitors.
THE DIAMOND SCULLS.
 Hoover had a hard race and was driven to almost superhuman efforts by the doggedness of some of the other competitors. Baynes of Queensland, Australia, and Schmid of Switzerland finished close behind him. The Diamond Sculls left England for the first time in 1892 when J. J. Ooms, a Hollander, won the finals. In 1904, L. F. Scholtes, a Canadian, won the great event from F. S. Kelly of the Leander Boat Club. In the following year Kelly established a speed record of 8 minutes and 19 seconds for the course. This has not yet been surpassed.

FRENCH GIRL WINS.
 The overwhelming defeat of America's woman tennis champion, Miss Molla Mallory, by the French star, Susanne Lengien, will come as a surprise to many, in view of Lengien's sensational collapse in her match with Mrs. Mallory in the States last year. Despite strenuous opposition on the part of her parents, Miss Lengien insisted on playing the finals of the Women's Singles at Wimbledon, and the criticism to which she was subjected as a result of last year's collapse, must have caused her to play like one inspired. She quickly disposed of her opponent in two sets 6-3, 4-0.
 No news has yet been received of the result of the Men's Singles at Wimbledon. Major Kingscott and Gerald Patterson are the favorites.

Produce and Provisions.

From Saturday's Trade Review.)
Fish—Exports for the week from St. John's and the outports have been the lowest for some time, due to the fact that practically all stocks of cold fish have been cleaned up. Exports for the next few weeks will be confined mainly to fish intended for the market. The total for the week was 4,732 quintals shipped by the St. John's and the Littleton Export Co., and the Littleton Export Co., and the Littleton Export Co. cleared for Bahia with 3,312 quintals from Bowring Bros. The A. F. Rose is loading at St. Breton from Hickman and Co's., for Oporto. In addition to these a few small shipments were sent out by steamer. The export market still holds its own and there are greatly reduced with further arrivals. Conditions for fish were never better but exporters are not optimistic on account of exchange rates and the high import duties imposed by the Portuguese Government.
Oil—Latest advices from the American market give a much more hopeful tone to the outlook for this article. Recent quotations have not been in keeping with the demand in the United States where $110.00 is being offered for good oil here during the past week, but little could be got for the price. A considerable change for the better has taken place in the oil industry as a result of the settlement of labor disputes that had been clipping the industry for some time, and the return to work of thousands of operatives who have been idle for months. The outlook for new oil is much brighter. The week's exports amounted to 15,000 gallons.
Wheat—The market is very erratic. The general tendency is firmer, prices having advanced about 20 cents per bushel this week. This advance, it is believed, has been occasioned by disappointing threshing results from the United States winter wheat belt. It is not, however, being reflected in local quotations which are $9.70 for King brands and $9.20 to $9.50 for other qualities. There is little buying activity and imports have been very nominal for some weeks. The crop outlook is extremely bright for the Western Canadian provinces. Heavy rains during the week came at a critical moment and the greatest danger now prevails amongst business and agricultural interests.
Port—There is absolutely no change in the port market since last report. The present tendency is, however, firmer but there is little or no buying. Local demand is now at its lowest. The 500 barrels arrived to dealers during the week and prices remain unchanged at $29.00 for First Best, $28.00 for Second and $29.00 for Grocers' quality.
Meat—The market is still weak with signs of a firmer tendency for the time to come. New York firms are actually selling from $2.00 to $5.00 below cost of production. There is little local buying and the market is fairly stocked. Fourteen hundred barrels by the Rosalind constituted the week's imports.
Classes—The Barbados market is to be about closed with both Fancy and Fancy melasses all sold. This season has been exceptionally few as compared with other years and as a consequence the market is only moderately supplied. One lot came in this week, the schooner L. Warren arriving on Wednesday with 475 puncheons, 75 tierces and half-barrels, which was consigned to several dealers. A cargo of two hundred barrels arrived to outport dealers and others are expected shortly. Quotations all point to prices rising at the present level. Quotations wholesale are 89 cents per gallon for Fancy and 70 to 75 cents for other.
Potatoes—This market is somewhat firmer as a result of the reaction following the sharp rise of two weeks during the past week prices declined on profit taking sales and buyers have been a little more active. This is not, however, reflected in quotations on the spot as prices have not been advanced in proportion to the present level. Quotations both in barrels and sacks is quoted at $11.10 per 100 lbs.
Onions—There is no change since last week in this market. Island potatoes are now selling at $3.00 per barrel and only sufficient stocks to meet local demand from week to week are on hand. Large shipments are expected next week and will be sold at the new prevailing price.
Potatoes—The outlook for both local and imported potatoes is good and there is to be no great change in prices for this season's production.
Onions—Onions are somewhat stronger. The wholesale price here remains $3.00 per sack. There is very little buying as yet and imports are low. A few hundred sacks being sent in by the steamers arriving last week. Present stocks are not enough to meet the small demand but these will be augmented next per Canadian Sapper.
Local dealers are offering $62.00 per ton, a figure likely to prevail for the balance of the summer months. "Onions" are at its lowest and little or no buying done. Latest crop indicate good prospects for a while but local buyers are expected to exceed last year's crop.

A Terror to the Huns.

Major J. B. McCudden, whose death on July 9, 1918, was due to an accident, was famous for the number of his victories over German methods. He had come from Scotland, and was on his way to an aerodrome in France, after a safe landing from his overseas flight, when the accident which caused his death happened. He had had an astonishing record of successful fights. He crashed 45 enemy aircraft, and drove down 13. Some days he was invincible and his sense of mastery both as pilot and marksman led him to challenge any enemy at sight and to accept unequal odds. He had a cool head and was most undisturbed when in greatest danger. He always succeeded in manoeuvring into the good position from which he could use his machine guns, and when he had secured that he was practically sure of his man. One day, when he was last out in France, he had a succession of single combats in which he was victorious, so that within an hour or so of his leaving the aerodrome, he had crashed five hostile aircraft, by shooting them with his machine guns, after close and exciting manoeuvres. In one case all four wings of the enemy's aeroplane dropped off, and in another case it fell in flames. This deadly precision of attack, generally from a height above the enemy, made him feared on the western front by all hostile aces who could appreciate his way of sight and of fighting; but there whom he once met and engaged seldom lived to see him again. Major James R. McCudden, V.C., D.S.O., J.L.C., M.M., Croix de Guerre, was only 24 years of age. He was born in barracks at Chateaufort, his father being a warrant officer in the R.E. Major McCudden joined the R.F.C. as a mechanic.

AMERICA.

Land of all that's best on earth,
 Land of laughter and of mirth,
 Now we celebrate your birth,
 To the sound of horn and drum
 Hear the grateful voices hum
 As your loving children come.

May your torches of freedom shine
 As a symbol and a sign
 Of a never-ending line.

Land where merry children play
 Round your feet from day to day,
 You shall conquer time's decay.

Brighter, brighter glow your skies
 Where the starry banner flies
 As the generations rise.

Land of freedom, land of truth,
 Man feels winter's cruel tooth
 But each day renews your youth.

There are songs for you unsung,
 Clearer bells that shall be rung,
 Always shall your hearts be young.

When the greatest of our race
 Shall depart, a shining face
 Shall come forth to take his place.

You shall never stand alone
 As the old whose youth have flown,
 Youth eternal you shall own.

These our children, when we're gone
 You shall have to lean upon
 They shall pass your glory on.

Not a wedding race we breed,
 Prey to lust and passion's greed,
 But the manhood you shall need.

While for freedom men shall yearn,
 Brightly shall your altars burn
 And this day of days return.

Farewell Address of Popular Clergyman.

Rev. E. Broughton.

Dear Sir--We the undersigned, have been requested by the members of "Star of the East" Lodge, Loyal Orange Association, to express to you our love and affection. The time has come when you have to sever your connection with us. We regret that your stay among us has come so quickly to an end. As a Minister of the Gospel, we Brethren of the Loyal Orange Association have appreciated, and highly esteemed your labors among us for the past four years, and for your life, and words we all join very heartily in thanking you. You have always been willing to assist us in carrying out the high ideals of true Orangism, and we can assure you that your services among us will not soon be forgotten. "Our motto is 'Love and Loyalty to God and Man.'" We thank you for the manner in which you have so lovingly discharged your duties. Truly we can say, you did "Love the duty in the joy."

We hope that this simple address will cheer, and comfort you as you go out from us, and we beg to assure you, that you will always find a welcome back to the old historic circuit. We hope that your labors on other circuits will be as successful as here, and that you may be esteemed wherever you may go, for your work's sake. Hoping that the blessing of God may follow you and yours until you hear the glad "well done." We remain,

Yours fraternally,
 CHARLES BROWN,
 W. Master,
 CHESLEY BENSON,
 D. Master.

Brownsville, T. Bay.
 PASTOR REPLIES.

In accepting the address our Pastor said: "He wished at once to say, that if the purpose of the address was to cheer the heart of him who for the past four years had been laboring among them, then he wanted to assure them that the purpose had been well and blessedly achieved. Just where his path in future would be, he hardly knew. But of this he was confident, that his sky would be brighter, and his load lighter, because of what his friends in Brownsville had done that day. In a minister's life there were spots and places he was glad to forget, but Brownsville was one of the spots and places he would be glad to remember. His ambition during the four years had been, not so much to please as to help them to measure up to the great ideals for which Orangism stood. For all expressions of love he thanked them, and if not in this world, then in the next, he looked forward to the pleasure of meeting them again."
