Wellington, Grey and Bruce Rail-way.

Sir,-It is already almost reduced to a rtsinty, that the long talked of enter-ise to unite by rail Guelph and Southvauce, A. P. McDonald, Esq., M. P. for e West Riding of Middlesex, and imber of American capitalists have pre-eded over the line and had a persona observation of the location through the Northwestern Counties. They were sur-prised at their wealth and prosperity. They fully realized the importance of the ork, and the value the building of the ad would be to the trade and commercial of the country, as also giving a needful stimulus to the staple trade in wheat, and opening up additional markets for the same, thereby giving encouragement capitalists and manufacturers to extend eir operations, and consequently an imto the settlement of the vacant They thought it scarcely conceiv een so long without a railway, and con-rested the enterprise and energy of the American people to that of the Canadians. with her network of railways already. But netwithstanding that they have comnced building a railway from Oswego o the city of New York, running parallel with the New York Central, and the New York and Erie railways, through e same State and entering the same city, and the people had given $5,000,000 to assist in carrying it through. The Directors of the Wellington, Grey and Bruce road occupy a vantage ground. They enter upon this work baving all the s to the best sad most economical modes of building railways, and of avoiding the eavy expenses of experimenting, for bich come other Companies bave paid dear a rate. Besides, the Directors pave not to incur the risk of waiting for siness to be transacted upon this route. They know from present passenger traffic, the conveyance of goods and mails, that ese will produce an adequate revenue upon the investment, and pay the exnses of working. The great annual increase of the Guelph export trade during the last few years, from $281,34° in the year 1864 to nearly $1,000,000 this resent year, is a sufficient proof of the means which still exist for the extension of the trade of the County. The employent of capital in building the railway vill contribute in an extraordinary deies, and add to the prosperity of their polation, and at the same time create esh markets for our commerce and new enings for our enterprise. Wherever Mr. McDorald and party isited they found nearly all in favor of the work, and a good feeling towards isting it. In Guelph Mr. McDoneld ad an interview with some of our leading itizens, who agreed with him that the ad would be a great benefit by giving road would be a great beneat by giving an immediate impulse to agriculture and to the trade depending upon it, and at the same time to many branches of manufacture now in their infancy, but which a ready demand would soon raise to importance. They agreed that, to develop to the utmost the trade so important to these counties, this railway should built at once through to Southamptom. Branch lines of rail and road should comect the main line with the grain districts. Branch lines of rail and road should connect the main line with the grain districts,

Hon. Mr. Howland has written another letter on Confederation, which appears in the Halifax Chronicle .me Unionists consider it as an acceptance of the situation; Antis do not admit this view, but say Howe is still for agiting for Repeal, though opposed to violent measures.

It is reported that Mr. Shanly has been offered a commissionership on the Intercolonial Railway and declin-

The House Commission sat on Wednesday. Petitions were received from employees of the House, praying that the reduction of 121 per cent ordered by Parliament should be abrogated. The Commission did not dare to go directly against the action of Parliament, and it is not likely any of the salaries that have been reduced will be raised; but Parliament has delegated its powers and it would not be surprising if salaries were raised for the well-salaried officials on returning from the seaboard.

Things are beginning to look lively in Ottawa; six or seven railway contractors have arrived. Among others, Mr. Wm. Betts, of England. It is said the Ministers will appoint the Railway Commissioners next week, and that the Intercolonial Railway is be commenced forthwith. It is further stated that the Riviere du Loup end, and the Truro end of the railway are to be commenced simultaneously, The portion in the St. Lawrence to be put under contract. extends from Riviere du Loup to Trois Pistolas.

The third son of the Emperor Alexander of Russia, Grand Duke Alexis Alexandrovitch, sailed on Sa turday last from Algeria for the United States. Grand Duke Alexis was born in January, 1850, and is, therefore, in his eighteenth year. He has recently been on a visiting tour in the countries about the Mediterranean, and, in particular, spent some time in Constantinople. This is, we believe. the first visit to this country from a member of the Imperial family of Russia.

Southampton, August 26—The defeat of the Sappho yesterday is explained by the fact that she was not in proper condition to enter the regetta, and in consequence met with a series of provoking accidents which really put her out of the race long before its conclusion. It seems that the Sappho was in dock all the night previous to the regata undergoing repairs to her hull and rigging, which were damaged last week in a collision with the Englantees; the work was hurried on the the repairs were incomplete, so break-downs were inevitable. 'I have said so.'

'But they have not told you how they have spread among the people the foul suspicion that Queen Margaret as sister of Harry of England, is willing to bend Scotland to the yoxe of England. They have not told you that their real object in obtaining possession of the King is to force her Majesty from the King is to force her Majesty from the King is to force her Majesty from the Regency, to disgrace your brother, and to summon Albany from France. Oh, it is foul treason that you have been dragged into. Break, break now from the mesh of lies in which you are involved and return to your allegiance. You will serve neither the Queen nor your brother by aiding this plot, you will destroy both.'

Whilst he spoke Mistress Douglas had clasped her hands upon her breasl as if in pain; but when he finished she answered haughtly—

'Again you reproach me; ah, madam, you cannot know how much bitreness your words convey to me,' he cried passionately; 'for I love you, Mary Douglas, for an you my every hope of happiness is centred. But this is a choice between my country and myself; and not even to win you will I dishonour myself. You would despise me for it when you learned how cruelly you had been deceived, I am here to guard the entrance to the King's chamber, and z' will guard it against all comers. I stand here to save the King and I will be against you, Mary; if you would force a way to him.'

'I have promised that yonder gate shall be oppened, and I will keep my word,' she said in a half-smothered voice.

'Back—back, or I will sound the alarm of treason.'

'Ho, there, Scotland for the King', he

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE :- This sterling Good as it has always been, it has evidently improved considerably of late, and is certainly doing its best to regain its pristine vigour. The contents are as follows: The Right Hon. Benj. Disraeli—No I, The Odes of Horace, Recit d' une Socur, How Frank Thornton was Cured, Letters from a Staff Officer with the Abys-sinian Expedition — Part III, Historical sketches of the reign of George II, Cornelius O'Dowd's papers. The Magazine is for sale at the bookstores in town.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The September number of this best of American periodicals has been received from the publishers Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. lishers Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. Its contents are more than usualy varied. They are as follows: No News, Expectation, Siberian Exiles, St. Michael's Night IV, On Modern Methods of studying Poisons, In Vacation, Sidney and Raicigh, Bill: and Joe, The Impossibility of Chance, The Face in the Glass, I, The Island of Maddalena, The Man and Brother, I, American Diplomacy, The Genius of Hawthorne, Reviews and Literary Notices. Altogether a splendid number, and may be had at the bookstores in town.

Our Youse Folks.— The September number of this favorite of the little people has been received from Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. It has a number of very interesting articles and stories adapted to the comprehension of juvenile readers. The lecture on heat in particular is admirably fitted for imparting to youthful minds an elementary knowledge of one of the subjects embraced in Natural Philosophy. The number contains also several well executed woodcuts. For sale at the bookstores.

THE YOUNG ARTIST .- Messrs . Nordheim The Young Artist.—Messrs.Nordheimer, Toronto, have sent us a new piece of music, a Swiss air, which is one of a collection of beautiful melodies arranged for the piano forte, by Woodlawn. A peculiar feature, and a forcible recommendation of the pieces in this collection is, that the fingering is rendered easy by means of numbers on the notes. This is designed to facilitate the progress of the beginner, or of those who have only a partial knowledge of the plane, and it is for such that these melodies are designed. The collection is highly approved by music teachers. The piece to which we have referred is for sale at Clarke's music store, Market Square.

A CRUSI SENTENCE.—A few days since an unfortunate woman was passing by a field from which a splendid crop of wheat had just been carried, and seeing a few ears lying on the ground she ventured to pick them up. She had seven young children at home, and being very poor was not able to buy costly toys for their amusement, so, wearied as she was, she turned aside a moment for the purpose of gathering up the half dozen wheat cars, thinking as she said, "they would please the little ones." But the farmer to whom the half dozen cars belonged, was watching behind a neighboring hedge, and with a fierce yell of indignant fury he bore down upon her. All in vain were the poor woman's prayers, all in vain were the protestations of "not meaning any harm." woman's prayers, all in vain were her pro-testations of "not meaning any harm,"
He laid his heavy hand upon her should-er and dragged her straightway before the Mayor of Chester, one Johnston, and another worthy rejoicing in the name of Smith. The facts of the case having been stated and the prisoner havibg made known her defence, these worthies laid their heads together, and after a short deliberation between themselves and the clerk (very ampropriately named deliberation between themselves and the clerk (very appropriately named Sharp) they condemned the purloiner of wheat ears to seven days imprisonment. Upon hearing the sentence we read that the defendant turned pale and bursting into tears said "Seven days for that! Don't send me to gaol from my poor children, and one sucking at the breast." Then the clerk, who appears to have taken an active part in the proceedings, declared that such cases were of frequent occurrence, and that the only remedy was to adopt the most stringent corrective measures, and so the woman was hustled off to jail, and "the four poor children, one sucking at the breast," were left to "shift for themselves".
