MORSE'S

Ocean Liner Halts at Sea as Doctors Perform an Operation.

Remarkable Operation for Appendicitis Performed on Cunarder Pannonia During a Gale, the Surgeon's Knife Having to Dodge the Steamer's Lurches.

NEW YORK, January 6th.—A successful operation was performed under remarkable circumstances while the Cunarder liner Pannonia was on her way from the Mediterranean to this port. Although the man operated upon was one of the humblest members of the crew, the great liner was stopped for one hour in midocean so that the surgeons could do their work.

The vessel at the time was laboring in a severe westerly gale, and when, as specialists in cases of this kind, an appendix in from seven to ten minutes, it took Dr. J. Fraser Orr, ship's surgeon, and Dr. Torok, of the Hungarian government, and an assistant, one hour to complete the operation.

On December 24th, Robert Law, a coal trimmer was taken ill suddenly and Dr. Orr found that he was suffering from appendicitis. Methods of cure without an operation were resorted to, but by night the man's condition was such that an immediate operation was imperative. The situation was explained to Capt. Irvine after the conference of physicians had decided on a definite action to save the man's life, and the commander decided to stop the vessel until the operation was over.

The hospital is at the stern of the vessel, located where every roll and plunge of the ship is felt. Law was put on the operating table shortly before midnight and a word was sent to Captain Irvine. A few seconds later the liner's speed was checked.

The sea was running very high. The vessel rolled badly, and there were times when the physicians had to hang on to keep their feet. It was under these conditions that Dr. Orr, assisted by Dr. Torok, began the operation after the patient had been put under the influence of ether for over an hour. As soon as the appendix was removed and the last stitch taken, the closing of the wound was sent to the bridge, and the Pannonia was again under way.

None of the passengers knew that the vessel had been stopped to save the life of one of the crew, and it was not until the next day that it was noted about the vessel that an operation had been performed.

When the Pannonia reached her pier yesterday, Law, who is an Englishman, 24 years old was recovering. His life had been saved "by an hour," for the surgeons found that gangrene had set in some hours before the operation was performed, and that had it been delayed, death was certain.

Dr. Orr, the operator, is about thirty years old. He has been in the employ of the Cunard line only a few months. He refused to talk of his successful and difficult operation. He stated modestly that it was company business and that he could not talk about it.

No Cessation in Bridgetown's Steady Growth.

A Factory, a Hotel Extension, and Several Handsome Residences Added to the Architecture of Bridgetown.

Bridgetown experienced its usual steady growth during 1907 as it has in former years. A number of fine houses have been built and other additions made to the architecture of the town.

At the beginning of 1907 the St. James Hotel extension was well under way. This is forty-seven feet in length with verandas on the eastern side and an octagon tower on the north end. With the exception of a large writing room, ladies' parlors and bath rooms, the rest of the building was laid off into bedrooms which are both slightly and roomy. The whole annex was attractively finished with new finishes and furniture. The contract for supplying these as well as for the erection of the annex was left to Messrs. J. H. Hicks & Sons. The improvements made on this hotel during the past year placed it well in the front rank of Valley hotels, and have been appreciated by the travelling public and tourists in so much that all of the rooms are occupied throughout the season, a number of families having apartments there this winter.

Mr. McKenney's second cottage on Granville Street, West, which was built for Mr. W. E. Jewett, was completed in the early part of the year. This is similar in design to the one formerly erected, and is a creditable addition to that end of the town.

J. Harry Hicks' house, Granville Street, East, has been previously described in the Monitor. This house is modern in its appointments and is well finished throughout.

E. A. Hicks' house on Washington Street was completed in the early part of the year, and was sold to Mr. Thomas Foster who now resides in the same. This is a most cozy dwelling and is a good addition to this street.

Since the sewer was laid in this section, a number of dwellings have been erected. On account of its central situation and the shade trees which are making a handsome growth it is becoming quite popular as a residential street.

The Baptist Parsonage Committee sold their old parsonage in the early spring, and bought a fine building site from Mr. Abram Young, situated on the corner of Granville and Inglewood streets. They erected a parsonage 31 x 36. This is similar in design to the one built by H. B. Hicks last summer. The lower floor contains a study in addition to kitchen, dining room, sitting room, hall and parlor. With both room, furnace and lighting and its spacious veranda, it is in every way an up-to-date house, and occupies one of the most slightly locations in town. The work was done under the supervision of E. C. Hall and W. Anthony.

Henry B. Hicks, upon selling his fine residence on Granville Street, West, to Mr. Lansdowne "Biggott," purchased an adjoining lot from Mr. Abram Young and erected a modern house on the same. The cozy veranda with columns and alcoves and bay window on the second story, and circular dormer window in the roof, together with the well kept grounds present a most pleasing aspect. The interior is finished with hard wood floors; hall and stairway in oak and the dining room is paneled in hemlock and is pleasantly lighted. This house Mr. Hicks's Mr. Young's, the Baptist and Methodist parsonages are connected with the sewer which Mr. Hicks laid down in the summer, and are thus well provided for in a sanitary way.

An addition to the houses built last year was the double house erected by A. D. Brown and Mrs. John Lockett of Granville Street, East. This comfortable house with wide veranda of column design extending 42 feet and large bay windows on each side together with one in the center running to the roof, and its large plate glass and leaded art windows, give evidence of good taste on the part of the designer and builder in this type of a house. The interior is modern in every respect; oak being used in the halls and stair way with hardwood floors. The design and appointments are excellent throughout. They also erected an office on the west side of their factory which is up-to-date in every way. The work was done by J. H. Hicks and Sons.

Mr. J. M. Fuller is having erected for him by Messrs. J. H. Hicks & Sons, a modern house 33 x 36, which is situated on Morse Street. This is being rapidly pushed to completion and will open up a very desirable residential section being within the new sewer district.

Messrs. J. H. Hicks & Sons have the foundation laid for their new furniture warehouses on Queen Street near the new bridge. This building is 40 x 108 and will be built similar to the one destroyed by fire last spring. This together with the new iron bridge will greatly improve the appearance of this locality.

Mr. E. L. Fisher who bought the Henry Many property on Queen Street, added plate glass windows and formed the lower part into a well equipped tailor shop while the upper stories were converted into a tenement, having bathroom and furnace.

The Fraser property purchased by Mr. Karl Freeman was remodelled and improved with plate glass front. Mr. John Ross had his harness shop converted into attractive modern business premises with plate glass on the two street fronts. The work was superintended by Major Slocomb.

An evaporator was built by R. H. Graham & Co. of Belleville, Ont., on a section of land belonging to the M. W. Graves Vinegar Co. who have also an interest in the business. This was an important addition to town industries and was made use of by many of our valley farmers for surplus apples.

W. W. CHESLEY

New General Manager For MacKenzie and Mann

Mr. Chesley is a civil engineer, and he has had a long and varied experience in survey and construction work on railways in this province and Prince Edward Island. He was chief engineer for Schreiber and Burpee, who had the contract for the P. E. I. road. He located and was engineer of the railway from Springhill to Parrboro, and he was engineer with C. C. Gregory in building the line from New Glasgow to Miramichi. Then he went on the C. P. R., while it was still a government road on a long section west of Winnipeg and when, in 1881, the present company took hold of the gigantic enterprise he continued with the development and operation of the mines and railway at Lehighville, the present name of the company being the Alberta Railway and Irrigation Company.

For the past eight years Mr. Chesley has been a member of the large contracting firm of Foley, Brothers, Laird and company of St. Paul, who have had big contracts both north and south of the line, and at present have 500 miles under construction for the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Some months ago Mr. Chesley visited from this firm, but the old spirit of activity is still with him and, when of the resignation of C. W. Sticker, MacKenzie and Mann offered him the general management of their lines in this province, and for the travelling and freight-shipping public.

Mr. Haviland Morse, who has been spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Morse has returned to Boston.

Mr. Aubrey Bohmer, who has been visiting the United States, returned on Saturday.

Mr. Willard Longley of the Truro Agricultural College, who has been at home during the holidays, has returned to his studies.

Miss Mabel Longley, who has been teaching in Williamstown, spent her vacation at home.

After the social service on Wednesday evening last, a deputat on from the Bible Class called upon their teacher, Rev. J. H. Saunders. Mr. H. A. Longley on behalf of the members of the class presented Mr. Saunders with a fine Morris Chair as a token of their appreciation of his services as teacher and pastor. The pastor replied in a pleasing address, after which came refreshments and an interval of social intercourse, enjoyed by all.

The week of prayer will be observed by services every evening.

We wish to express to our friends and patrons our hearty thanks for their appreciated favours during the year just closing and to extend to them, one and all, best wishes for a

Imperial Troops in

New Orders That Look Like Possibility of Change in the Garrison.

A correspondent of The Halifax
Herald writes:—From indications foreshadowed by recent orders from the Military Department at Ottawa, the increase in price, and the cause lies in this, that timber is getting harder for the manufacturer to get. Greater and greater economy and use of materials formerly considered as waste being introduced into the manufacture of wood, but in spite of it all the price of logs is going up, owing to higher wages that have to be paid, greater distances the logs have to be brought and many other reasons.

Not in America alone is the scarcity of timber being felt, it has become a world-wide question. Only seven countries in the world are now in a position to export timber. In Europe there are five, namely, Austria-Hungary, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia; in America there are two,
Canada and the United States. But

Anti-Suicide Association.

CHICAGO, January 8.—The Chicago
anti-suicide bureau of the Salvation Army issued a report yesterday of the cases handled and suicides prevented since the establishment of the bureau six months ago.

In that time 335 persons have sought the assistance offered by the bureau and of that number it is estimated that 50 per cent. have been saved from self-destruction.

A significant fact is that the overwhelming number of those who applied to the bureau were men. Only 55 women availed themselves of the help. The most prolific cause of men desiring to commit suicide are domestic unhappiness, lack of employment, drunkenness and gambling.
The reasons given most frequently by the women were desertion, sickness and lack of work.

Shiloh's Cure

for the worst Coughs and Colds QUICKLY

Use Shiloh's Cure for the worst cough, the most distressing and the most dangerous. It is a powerful expectorant, and it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a long-stemmed mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It cures the cough, and heals the sore throat, and relieves the chest, and opens the bronchial membrane. No opium or chloroform, nothing harsh, used to injure or oppress. The plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the doctor used "Herb of Health." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure.

No Alcohol Used in Frances Willard Hospital.

CHICAGO, January 3.—Mrs. Harold McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, refused yesterday to act as patroness at a benefit of the Frances Willard hospital, the cause being, as she wrote to the board of trustees, she did not "feel wholly in sympathy with a hospital which does not permit the use of alcohol under a doctor's prescription."

The entertainment had been postponed because it is said of Mrs. McCormick's position. A statement issued on behalf of the hospital says: "Opioids and other are used as stimulants after operations instead of alcohol at the Frances Willard hospital. The alcohol prohibition has even been done away with, but being used as a substitute."

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. You can't buy it for less than twenty or thirty cents. Made in a minute, it is ready to drink. Health Coffee is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee is either. Health Coffee imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains with milk, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he unknowingly to drink it for Coffee.

Cruise to the Pacific.

LONDON, January 2.—A new agency despatch from Berlin says that the Kaiser, in his farewell conversation with Lieut.-Commander William L. Howard, the retiring American naval attaché, expressed particularly upon the cruise of the American fleet to the Pacific.

He said he considered it the greatest enterprise in the history of any navy in time of peace and that all Germans would watch with interest its progress.

American and European expert criticism would, the emperor said, be of immense value in showing his mistakes could be avoided in war time. He prayed, however, that war would never come.

He said he considered it the greatest enterprise in the history of any navy in time of peace and that all Germans would watch with interest its progress.

Reindeer for Labrador.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., January 2.—The steamer Anla, bringing 200 reindeer from Norway, for the use of Dr. Wilbur F. Grenfell, the physician-missionary explorer, sought a harbor off the northern coast of Newfoundland today. She was unable to reach her destination, St. Anthony, Labrador, where Dr. Grenfell maintains a hospital, owing to the prevalence of icebergs, in the midst of which she had a narrow escape from being sunk. She will make another attempt tomorrow, with the aid of a local pilot. The reindeer are in excellent condition. Dr. Grenfell expects to use them extensively in his work in Labrador. He will leave St. John's tonight to join the Anla and will remain during the winter at St. Anthony.

Like a flash of light he had disappeared through the door. Handford, recovering from the colloquial torrent, started to his feet and called after him. There was no pause in the quick, slapping footsteps. They reached the floor below; the rapid pattering crossed the scale platform and reached the pavement below and away.

Somewhere below Bergman's voice called: "Hi, kid! Vore de defel you goin' to 'kick'?"

"That gill?" Recklessly, the Material Angel rose first in his mind. Would he care if the whole place fell in on him? He smiled cynically. In the depths of his consciousness he was perfectly well aware that she would care very much; but it pleased him to smile cynically and believe that she would not.

But his thoughts shrank quickly from the Material Angel. Was this absurd affair the product of a child brain somehow excited or an actual fact? For a time he could not admit the latter. Were it true it meant that he had been blind—that instead of the rigid discipline so long his pride he had been fostering within the Burnside works a perfect garden of anarchy.

Not many seconds later he pulled open one of the small drawers and extracted the revolver, hypothetical protector of the incumbent he had never even handled the weapon before. He looked it over and opened the chamber. It was quite empty and rusty to a degree. He glanced again into the drawer for cartridges. They were not there.

But if not that he possessed the possibility, but if the lunatics were meditating something—he laid the imposing useless pistol at his side.

Out on the high roof of the world's the white was blowing for seven in.

On a few minutes the crowd would come filing up for their money. Handford closed the door and opened the little pay window in the upper panel. He laid the cash box on the shelf below and the gun beside it, and watered with nerves more tense than he would have cared to admit.

Steps shuffled on the stairs. He bent and watched through the small aperture.

Henckel! His lowered head appeared above the door. Bergman, Schmidt, then Kreitz, "the little Dutchman," followed—and no more. These four were about of the main body at any rate.

It was Henckel who advanced first upon the window, his face blank and heavy. Handford picked up his envelope. The man halted and he extended the little yellow package with a steady hand.

In a twinkling his arm was seized and strangled through! He tried to wrench it free and could not. He watched for the revolver and thrust it through the opening and into Henckel's face. The man cried out and dodged, and his grip relaxed.

Handford slammed the window switch on the cash-box and darted across for the safe.

The office door was bending and creaking—the upper part turned inward. He heard a volley of eight shots. The lock buckled, the door flew open and crashed back against the wall, and the men were on him.

He straightened up and put his back to the safe. He had no time to twist the combination. The pistol pointed full at them, and his sharp voice yelled:

"Stand back there! The first man gets it that—"

Bergman rushed him. His arm flew un—the weapon shot away and rattled into the corner. A murderous fist just as he had his head as he ducked. Then great arms seized him and hauled him violently to the floor, iron fingers clamped his throat. He was seized by the fall, half stunned and choking, first he tried to shout for help.

It was utterly useless. Schmidt held his legs; Bergman was fast gagging the life out of him. Henckel bent over the safe. He had the box of money now, and was standing with it in his arms, stupid and confused.

Handford's senses were leaving rapidly. He seemed to have an impression of tramping below, a glimpse of blue smoke curling above the stair-head. Things turned black and whirled crazily. He was going—going—going— And he was not as well as he felt. As a superintendent was done for eternally. And the goal—

A screaming voice brought him back suddenly.

"Come on! Come on! For Gawd's sake, come on!"

The running of heavy feet set the place a-tremble again. Somewhere without the whistling of a trip engine seemed to haunt Handford. From closing eyes he saw a blue helmet and a blue uniform in the doorway, and a second and third. He saw the besting vision of a swinging night-stick, heard the crack as it met Henckel's head and the crash of his body as he fell; heard too, the "chattering" and "clinking" of money when the cash-box struck the floor and broke open.

Cured Senator Costigan

"FRUIT-A-LIVES"—is the finest medicine ever produced"

OSWEGO, Ont., Jan. 15, 1908.

I have been a dreadful sufferer from chronic constipation for over thirty years and I have been treated by many physicians and I have taken many kinds of proprietary medicines without any benefit whatever. I took a pill for every meal which was prescribed by the late Dr. C. S. Church, of Oswego. Also for many months I took a pill prescribed by Dr. A. F. Rogers of Oswego. Nothing seemed to do me good. Finally I was advised by Dr. Rogers to try "Fruit-a-lives" and after taking them for a few months I am completely well from this horrible complaint. I have had no trouble with this complaint now for a long time, and I can certainly state that "Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine I ever took that did me any positive good for constipation. "Fruit-a-lives" is to the public as, in my opinion, it is the finest medicine ever produced.

JOHN COSTIGAN.

"Fruit-a-lives"

or "Fruit Liver Tonic"

The thousands who know the Honorable Senator from New Brunswick, know that nothing short of a complete and wonderful cure could induce him to write such a testimonial as the above letter.

"Fruit-a-lives" was the only remedy that gave Hon. John Costigan any permanent relief.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL.

The St. John Business College has our thanks for a box of college pens.

The date of the auction of the Dalry estate advertised elsewhere is changed to Tuesday the 16th.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held on Monday evening. No business was transacted beyond the passing of some bills.

The Weekly Sentinel will appear on Friday and will be forwarded as an supplement to each subscriber to the Weekly Monitor.

It was reported last week that G. M. Lake would build an open-air skating rink, but to the disappointment of the young people it was decided that the winter had progressed a little too far to make the undertaking feasible for this season.

Calendars have been received this month from the Union Bank of Halifax; E. K. Spinney, Yarmouth; A. D. Mills & Sons, Annapolis Royal; Maritime Business College, Halifax; J. W. Beakwith, Bridgetown; R. H. Davis & Co., Yarmouth.

Eggs which have been selling here as high as thirty-five cents a dozen are on the drop and are now plentiful at twenty-five. Butter is also becoming most plentiful and the price has lowered from twenty-five to twenty-two cents during the past week.

A farewell dance was given by the young people of the town last Monday evening in honor of Miss Bessie Ruggles, who leaves shortly for Hamilton Bermuda, where she will be the guest of Mayor W. T. and Mrs. James for several months. The dance was a very pleasant affair held in Ruggles Hall. Mitchell's orchestra furnished of the music and ice cream and cake were served. All present wished Miss Ruggles "bon voyage" and a happy return.

THE SECRET OF CRISP PASTRY.

Keep three things in view, if you want unvarying success with your pastry—cold water, good shortening, and Blended Flour.

Ice water and butter are preferable, but it may be more convenient to use cold water and some other good shortening. But stick to the Blended Flour. It will never fail to give a light flaky crust—crisp tender, it will break with a breath, and as easy to digest as it is delicious.

The wholesomeness of pie crust depends on the lightness of the flour—that is, the crisp flakiness that you look for in pie crust must be made of flour having a large percentage of starch. Ontario fall wheat contains all the requisites for light, flaky, cake and biscuits, while Manitoba wheat has the heavier properties required in a strictly bread flour.

Combine the two, and you will get a perfect flour, that has the full rich flavor and delicacy of Ontario fall wheat, and the strength of Manitoba spring wheat—ideal combination.

With ordinary care in mixing and rolling the dough, Blended Flour will give you the most delicious pastry you ever ate. Many millers are now blending these two grades of flour scientifically, so do not attempt to do the blending yourself—it is no easy thing to get just the right proportions.
