WHAT IS WANTED.

It is quite evident to the experienced observer that what is most wanted here is a unity of effort. There should be no east side or no westside. Sectionalismlike this savors of the village or to use a vulgarism of the "one horse town" and it should form no part of the question to which the people of Calgary must address themselves, gary is to become anything at all it is to become a city and in the near future too. If it is to remain forever a village there is little use in expecting anything from it except that for which villages are notable, but our promising little town has higher and juster aspirations than to be a cluster of houses around a town pump who have invested money here real estate and in building improvemens expect to see the town rapidlyenlarge into a metropolis and their expectations are not withouttgood reason. Beyond doubt our town will be selected as the capital of the province of Alber ta when it is organized, and to be the captal of a flourishing province like this fine district is sure to become, means a good deal. metropolis is where capital finds its way. The impetus given it by selecting it as the seat of government will be considerable. People of limited means will come here to locate, and large capitalists will find their way here seeking investment for their superflous veelth These things will naturally come as water finds its level. Our people here have a heritage which requires to be fostered in order that it may be made flourish. Local jealousies should be sunk in promoting the main chance for they are neither to the benefit of the commonwealth nor to that of the individual. Those who have a proprietary interest in the town should be the first to show their condemnation of sectionalism by discountenacing it on every occasion. There are always plenty of narro w minded persons in every community who are seldom heard saying a good word or a good thing about any body. They delight in forturing their neighbors with ill reports, and are never found soaring above the commonest gossip of the By all means let the people abroad know that Calgary has al ready the nucleous of the right kind of a population here already, and no doubt whenever it can named Shorty, of the Indian Police, arrived be reasonably shown that amend-in Fort McLeod in search of a horse stolen and that although we are only a ments will be beneficial there can they know what their duty is toward thetown and towards each other, there are no other motives to ensure this regard for the commonwealth surely that of the community of interests ought to be sufficient to ensure for our town that mutual good will whichoutsiders will accept as

His date of settlement would take us back to the days of the war between the north and south. Like John Glenn he has traveled far and wile from the "Russian possessions down to Mexico," and a few miles from Calgary is where he has staked out his home. His wife is of mixed blood and numerous little Livingstones peered through the crevices of the canyass tent at we took our notes. Livingstone is a man of unusual natural intelligence. He left his Irish home when quite a boy, and he has crossed the wide ocean, sailed the seas over and traversed the continent, and now past the middle age he is taking his comfort almost under the shadows of those tall cliffs which are justly called rocky. We engaged in conversation and he tells us of the grievances which exist to the detrement of the settler. He complains that the re is no land in the district that is not cither an Indian reservation or a lease or a reserve of some kind.

The territory in dispute is very valuable, as it entraces much of the best mineral sections in that portion of the ceuntry. A conflict between the authorities will take place, and then an adjudication will follows, possibly in London, England.

The difficulty between Manitoba and the Dominion Government will of course be patched up. The people of the prairie province are always finding fault with some thing or other and making big threats at public meetings, but in the end they cool down and go home to tea. It is likely that Sir John and Mr, Norquay had an understanding in regard to the whole matter, and that the clause in the agreement to the effect that the concessions were to be accepted in full of all domands, was only inserted with the object of being thrown out. It was a straw man, set up for the purpose of giving Mr. Norquey a chance to show his pluck. The intimation has been given that the Dominion Government had no intention that the terms offered should be a final settfement of Manitoba's claims. Manitoba will therefore accept them in part payment of what she has asked for, and the farmers will return ao their work of setting up setting up scarecrows in the fields to keep
