THE CANADIAN MILITIA OUTSIDE OF CANADA

Change in the Militia Act That Meets With Condemnation From Members of the Commissions.

Ottawa, July 12.—(Special).—The further the bill to amend the Militia Act is scrutinized, the more evident it becomes that a skilful anti-imperialist artist had a hand in its preparation.

There are several other gentle intrusions in those portions of the act that have a pronounced British aspect.

Her Majesty may call out the militia or any part thereof for active service, either within or without Canada, at any time when it appears advisable to do so by reason of emergency.

Comparing the two clauses, it will be found that whereas under the present act the Canadian militia could be sent outside of Canada for the purpose of the defence of Canada.

Several members, among them Seymour Gourley, Dr. Daniel of St. John, W. F. Maclean and others, who have spoken strongly against withholding the support of the Canadian militia from the defence of the empire.

The Militia Called Out. Sir Frederick Borden stated that he had talked the bill under the name of a clause making it obligatory on the government to send the militia within a fixed period, in case the militia is called out for service outside of Canada.

W. F. Maclean asked if the clause limited the Canadian militia in their service outside of Canada to the defence of Canada.

Sir Frederick replied that the Canadian troops volunteered for service and were sent out as imperial troops under a special agreement with the imperial government.

Col. Hughes insisted that the member for King's was perfectly in accord with the idea that troops should go outside this country.

CONSTITUTION IN DANGER

Woodstock, July 12.—(Special).—In a stirring address before a gathering of 5000 Orangemen here to-day, Rev. Canon Farthing, rector of New St. Paul's Church, this city, made a scathing denunciation of present-day political methods and the reprehensive means employed by parties in an effort to remain in power.

These men are the real enemies of Canada. Nowadays it appears a mad method employed in stealing our votes are a disgrace to our country.

The other chief speaker was Dr. Spruille M.P. of East Grey, the grand master of the Grand Lodge, who delivered a patriotic address on the order.

The gathering included nearly all the lodges of Oxford, Brant, Middlesex, Elgin and Norfolk, and was a grand success.

HOUSE OF COMMONS

Canada. W. F. MacLean said that Canada was not a part of the British Empire. If the compact between Britain and Canada amounted to anything the Canadian militia should not be devoted to the exclusive service of Canada.

Mr. MacLean said that the greatest thing that had happened since the war was the settlement of the relations between Britain and Canada. The minister should give the house a very full explanation.

Sir Frederick Borden repeated his assertion that the changes made in the act were not material. The militia had always been that the militia of Canada should not be compelled to serve outside the country.

The English militia, as a matter of fact, could not be compelled to serve outside the British islands. The militia was for home service.

Mr. Gourlay wanted to know why, if there was no change in the wording of the clause should be changed. Sir Frederick replied that the government had made clear in the clause exactly what had always been understood to be the object of the militia force.

Dr. Daulton of St. John pointed out that our militia force is our only force, and is in fact our regular army. The militia force being simply a permanent militia.

Mr. Gourlay urged the government to accept the old act, explaining that the bill before the house would prevent the only force which we have in Canada from contributing to the defence of the empire.

Under the old act, said W. F. MacLean, "the militia of Canada could be sent out of Canada for the defence of the empire, and under the proposed act that is prohibited."

This Sir Frederick Borden admitted to be virtually the case. The government was advised that it could not send the militia to the front.

Bad advice, then, commented Mr. Gourlay. The clause finally carried. Clause 12, dealing with the application of the act of the United Kingdom to the Canadian militia, drew some strong remarks from Col. Sam Hughes.

Col. Hughes said he wanted it understood that the Canadian militia was not to be subject to the regular army system as it exists in the United States and certain European armies.

Col. Gregory's Retirement. Papers relating to Col. Gregory's retirement from the 2nd Dragoons were laid on the table of the house to-day.

WALTON, PHENOM, RENEGGED BUT NOTICE LEAPED THE GAP

Oliver Belz Made Success of Dizzy Feet at First Attempt on Ordinary Wheel.

Walton, christened the Whirlwind by some one who evidently did not know what he was talking about, did not "leap the gap" at Hanlan's Point yesterday. He got what gamblers call a "cold feet." At the last moment he showed a yellow streak, and refused to do what he had promised, and with that permission, he was advertised to do.

But his second attempt differed from the first in the management of the crowd. There was another, there generally is, no matter in what line of business, Walton's place was taken very quickly, and much to his own surprise.

When Walton refused to go, Oliver Belz, who had been waiting for a long time, stepped forward and gave a reception that would make any one feel like a real war hero.

Those who were waiting for a performance said it was one of the most daring and graceful stunts ever witnessed. Belz started down the incline slowly, the speed becoming greater every moment, until he passed the spectators like a flash of lightning and was seen sailing through the air a distance of thirty feet.

Belz made the landing without a hitch, and took the leap into the water with a safe resounding splash. When he got on dry land he was given a reception that would make any one feel like a real war hero.

Walton refused to allow Belz the use of the heavy bicycle, and Belz simply took the pedal cranks from an ordinary wheel and put in a stick of dynamite as a motor.

NOTICE. A meeting of property-owners and tenants on the Esplanade will be held in ROOM NO. 8, CITY HALL, ON THURSDAY, 14th INST., at 7.30 p.m. to consider a special meeting of the town council has been called for to-morrow night.

Some Changes in Law Accorded by Provincial Secretary's Department.

Regulations re motor vehicles have been under consideration by the provincial secretary's department for some time past. Changes are necessitated by an amendment of the motor vehicle act, passed at the last session of the legislature.

The main changes, however, relate to vehicles owned by manufacturers and dealers, and not used by them for their own private purposes or for hire.

Under the former regulations, the mark on the property of the holder of the permit, used for the purpose of the provincial secretary's department, was not to be renewed or if the vehicle is destroyed, or if for any other reason the permit should lapse.

A leading motor vehicle firm in the city was seen by the provincial secretary's department to propose regulations that would require that a motor vehicle should be marked with a number which would be visible while the vehicle is in motion.

It is thought this could be arranged easily by having a long-distance marker. We've All Been There.

A COMMODIOUS, ELEGANT HOUSE FOR $4000.

This is a very artistic and complete house in the Spanish style, to be built either in cement construction or all frame. It is, of course, a house entirely suited to brick, would be handsomer in that or in brick and rough-cast than in frame, but it would cost more.

PURSE WITH $325 IN IT DROPPED IN HAMILTON

Hamilton, July 12.—(Special.)—This afternoon a lady's satchel fell off a rig at the corner of King and John-street. An old man picked it up and Edward Long took it from him and carried it to No. 3 police station. The desma was very much surprised on opening the bag to find a purse containing $325 in bills. There was a card in the purse bearing the name of E. Hymal.

The cemetery board was in session for a few minutes this evening. Complaint was made in writing by a grocer and a landlady that one of the cemetery employees was trying to beat them out of money by overcharging.

The superintendent was instructed to notify the delinquent that the board did not want any more of that kind on their pay list. A statement submitted by Superintendent Hetherford showed that there were 429 employees on the roll for the year, compared with 307 for the corresponding period last year. There was an increase of $1824 in the receipts and a decrease of $333 in the expenditure, making a total of $1491.

John Billings was re-elected chairman of the hospital board this afternoon and the hospital staff was reappointed with few changes. The surgical staff was increased from four to five. Dr. Olmsted was added to the staff. Dr. Mullis was removed from the staff and Dr. Bauer was added to the staff. The board also considered the typhoid fever outbreak the closing of the institution was inspected and found to be in good condition. The City Lacrosse League. The Tigers and the Y.C.C. teams are now tied for first place.

Friday continues to improve. Mayor Morden and ex-Ald. Dunn called on the local Orangemen, several hundred strong, came back from Toronto this evening on the Toronto and marched up town around the Gore Park, which was lit up in their honor.

Another Ephemera Outbreak. Diphtheria has broken out in the Girls' Home, George-street, where about 50 influenza and young girls are housed. Five cases have been taken to the Isolation Hospital, and the doctors think that the disease is spreading.

The cause of the outbreak is unknown.

FRANCHISE IN THE YUKON.

Residence Must Be Not Longer Than Twelve Months.

Ottawa, July 12.—(Special.)—The bill to amend the Yukon Territory Act, so as to allow of the division of the territory, and to fix a franchise, provided the period of residence for qualification to vote be made not longer than twelve months, was taken up in committee in the senate to-day.

Sir Mackenzie Bowden contended that the period of probation should be at least 12 months. The bill, as it stood, was most dangerous to legislation, as it would place the power in the hands of the assembly to stamp the country a year before the election.

Senator Loughheed wanted to know why there should be a difference in qualification between the territories and the Yukon. The bill not being printed in French, the committee rose and obtained leave to sit again.

NEW AND HANDSOME PREMISES

For Samuel May & Co., the Well-Known Billiard Table Makers.

For permanent premises, Mr. Samuel May has recently purchased the commodious factory building situated at 102 and 104 West Adelaide-street, Toronto, (situated west of Bay-street). Mr. May has had the building thoroughly renovated from the foundations up. The new building is very tastefully fitted up with offices and show rooms, while the large floors above are used for cabinet work, fitting up and finishing tables and accessories. New and special machinery has been installed, which will materially increase the output. This step has been found necessary owing to the ever-increasing demand for May tables, in both English and American styles and sizes. Samuel May & Co. have the distinction of having been established in Toronto in the business for 40 years. Mr. May is recognized as one of the veteran billiard table makers of America. He has been through the business in all its stages, and with undiminished enthusiasm has kept his product prominently before the public always, and always at the very highest standard of quality. Mr. May is a great believer in making things good; as a consequence many of the prominent homes of Canada, as well as most of the prominent clubs and billiard parlors, are supplied with May tables in either English or American styles. May tables have for many years been exhibited at world's fairs both in America and Europe. May's patent billiard cushion, when exhibited at the Centennial Exhibition in 1876, opened the eyes of some of the largest U. S. makers, and the Centennial Exhibition. Mr. May's cushions were eagerly taken up by a prominent American firm, and the cushions are still being made and extensively used throughout the U. S. Samuel May & Co. are manufacturers of billiard tables of all styles and kinds; they also manufacture bowling balls, lawn bowls, iron ball turners, pool ball turners, importers and dealers in billiard cloth, etc.

The new showrooms and modern offices are well worth a visit, and will give visitors to both the city and out-of-town friends an opportunity to call at our address and look them over.

FRIDAY'S RECEPTION.

The preparations for the Dundonald reception on Friday evening in Massey Hall are well under way, and the committee in charge of the arrangements are meeting daily to complete the details and have everything in perfect readiness.

It is to be understood by those wishing to attend that the hall will be open to any one, and the first gallery will be reserved for ladies and their escorts. Tickets will be required only for the platform guests, and the invitations are on a large and representative scale.

"THE HOUSE OF QUALITY"

William Kuton of The London Graphic, and Mr. Williams of The London Sphere Arrive in Victoria, B.C., and Tell of Their Experiences.

Victoria, B. C., July 12.—Wm. Kinton, war correspondent for The Central News and London Graphic, a military critic of considerable note, arrived this morning by the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company's steamship Empress of India. Asked as to the real reason for the refusal of the Japanese to allow any war correspondents to go to the front, Kinton declared with great emphasis that the sole reason was the fact that a number of irresponsible and sensational American newspaper reporters, who knew nothing about war or the duties of a war correspondent, had been sent out by individual American newspapers, and that the Japanese include not only those persons in the ban of prohibition, but also on their account the trained and veteran British war correspondents.

Kinton maintains that is the one solitary reason why Japanese did not permit correspondents to leave Tokio, or on permitting a few to accompany the latter divisions, effectually nullified them at the front, so that all their efforts were absolutely abortive. He says further that until the American newspapers remove these men there will be no material change in the situation so far as the correspondents are concerned. Kinton says that the British are based on information imparted to him by responsible officials, civil and military.

Describing the Yalu River fight, which he witnessed, says it was par excellence a Howitzer fight, that the Japanese outclassed the Russians in everything at every point, their combination work being the finest he had ever seen in a campaign. The Russians gave every evidence of being completely stupefied by the movement of the enemy. Flanking contradictory orders led to several disastrous evolutions, which the Japanese used to advantage in the hand-to-hand fighting. Some of which Kinton saw, the Russians, in spite of their superior physical stature, were no match for the Japanese, who won all those encounters with the steady hand.

Kinton says E. F. Knight of The London Morning Post, reported killed by the Russian rifle fire, in alive, but suffering from an aching ankle, due to a fall off his horse during the Yalu action. This fall led to the report that he had been shot.

He declares it is useless for correspondents of individual newspapers to remain in Japan or try to get to the front. The only men who are doing the real war reporting are the representatives of the Associated Press of America, who are scattered all over the war front, and doing what Mr. Williams describes as truly splendid work.

It is now understood in Japan that Kurapatka's decision to fight or fall back will determine the length of the campaign. The Japanese are preparing to leave the front just before the Empress left, expressed no doubt that Kurapatka intended to risk all in a general engagement on a selected day.

Mr. Williams says Oscar K. Davis of The New York Herald is returning to leave. Major-General Sir A. B. Tulloch, in command of the British forces in China, was a passenger on the Empress, bound for England.
