Mayor Suggests Old Burying Ground Be Memorial Park U.S. JOIN IN LONDON PARLEY

WOULD REMOVE TOMBSTONES IN OLD GRAVEYARD

Then Erect One With All Names Inscribed Upon It.

CITY HALL MATTERS

Carleton Millpond Future is Again Discussed by the Commissioners.

A suggestion that the Old Burying Ground be beautified and turned into a park, was made this morning by Mayor Potts at the committee meeting of the council. He suggested that all the present grave stones be removed and that a monument erected in the centre of the area, and on it all the names of those interred in the burying ground, as far as possible, be placed, this as a permanent memorial to the fathers of the city.

Commissioner Frink called attention to the destruction of grave stones in the Old Burying Ground, and asked that the police keep an eye on offenders and warn them that repetition would mean a trip to court. Commissioner Harding said he had already given these instructions to the Chief of Police.

Says City Violates Law

Commissioner Frink said the Mayor's proposal would require an act of the Legislature and said that the city was at present violating the law, which required the Old Burying Ground be securely fenced. No action was taken on other matters under discussion were the extension of water to sections of West St. John and Fairville and the filling in of the Mill Pond area.

King Street Fountain

Commissioner Frink reported that it would cost over $1,000 to move the drinking fountain at the head of King street to make way for the proposed war memorial and as the letter of the committee did not make it clear whether they proposed to pay the cost or expected the city to do it, he recommended that the committee be asked to meet the council as early a date as possible to discuss the matter.

Mayor Potts thought the council should go on record as to whether they were in favor of having the fountain moved at all, no matter who paid the cost.

The motion to hear the committee carried.

Commissioner Frink was given authority to purchase a lot for the fountain at a cost of $102 each.

Commissioner Harding moved that a report by the road engineer on the steam railway tracks located in public streets be filed and requested that he be furnished with a report on the conditions under which the tracks were placed in the streets and, if a lease had been given, the expiry date of such lease. Carried.

Water Services

Commissioner Wigmore reported on applications for water extension in Pleasant street, West St. John and Fairville Plateau. In Pleasant street there was a revenue of $146 in sight on an expenditure of $2,800 and in Fairville Plateau there was revenue of $92 in sight on an expenditure of $11,217 to provide water for the houses already built there. If water mains were laid to serve all of the plateau the expenditure would be about $30,000. As this provided only five per cent. of the cost of extension he moved that until a guarantee of 10 per cent. was furnished no extension be undertaken. Carried.

The Mill Pond

Commissioner Harding said a prominent citizen of the West Side had called his attention to the Mill Pond and asked if it would not be possible to raise the level of the gates about two feet and thus keep the mill flats covered.

Commissioner Bullock said this matter had been under consideration before and it would take a considerable amount of money to raise the gates and make them safe. He could see no (Continued on page 2, fifth column)

ROAD BUILDING MORNING SUBJECT

Convention at St. Andrews Heard Several Addresses Today—Fine Weather.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, June 26.—Yesterday's disagreeable weather gave way this morning to a clear day, and the large throng attending the conference of the Canadian Good Roads Association once more was able to enjoy the outdoor features of the programme, as well as attend the business sessions.

CHICAGO MAN HEARD

The first paper was delivered by Colonel H. C. Boyden of Chicago on construction of cement and concrete highways. During 1923, he said, $218,709,000 had been expended in Canada and the U. S. on this class of road, and the prospects were that during 1924, this amount would be greatly increased. Engineers in Illinois had made extensive tests by constructing two mile sections of all classes of concrete mixtures, which were subjected to intensive use, such as would represent the travel of many months, and then checking up the results. He said the question of the most suitable form of concrete slab for road building was one that had not yet been solved, but was still being closely studied by experts. The paper, though, for the greater part technical, was highly praised.

St. John Engineer

Other subjects on the morning programme included a paper on the latest practice in the construction of asphaltic concrete pavements, by R. H. Parsons, chief engineer of Peterboro, Ont., in which G. N. Hatfield, road engineer, St. John, led the discussion.

The Use of Tar was another paper, which was scheduled to be delivered by J. S. Randall, consulting engineer, New York City, with discussion by P. E. Jarman, city engineer, Westmount, Que., and another address was on "Colonization Roads," by P. Philp, public works engineer, British Columbia. This was to end the morning general session.

A conference on technical training for highway engineers took place during the noon hour.

DEMOCRATS TO GIVE VOICE FOR AL. SMITH TODAY

Demonstration for New York Governor is Planned for Convention.

THREE NOMINATED

Underwood, Robinson and McAdoe Names So Far In—Some Problems.

(Canadian Press.) New York, June 26.—Deadlocked in advance, and its fighting fever mounting, the Democratic National Convention was called at 10:30 today to drive forward with the reception of nominating speeches while platform builders, heavy-eyed, struggled on with their night problem.

This was another day of tumult and fever, interspersed with oratory. Only three nominations had been made when yesterday's adjournment ended a one hour demonstration staged on behalf of William G. McAdoe, and about 17 remained on the schedule, including that of his leading rival, Governor Alfred E. Smith. Troubles Unsolved.

The platform advanced early today by a drafting sub-committee to the point of being put into its final form, and the League of Nations and the League of Nations problems unsolved, is not to be taken up until all of the nominating speeches have been made. It is not even expected to be ready until tomorrow morning, and there was no way of knowing while the delegates assembled today, whether the platform committee would be able to eliminate all the explosive elements that might hurt the convention into a turmoil of bitterness.

SMITH DEMONSTRATION

The Smith forces, like those of McAdoe, were organized in advance to stage a demonstration that would get into the church current.

They watched the McAdoe demonstration yesterday with critical interest, and by set about the completion of plans to put on a longer, noisier, and more impressive show.

Th McAdoe and Smith demonstrators were the only ones pre-arranged by the rival managers with an eye for magnitude, most of the others having adopted the "dark horse" strategy of waiting for the leaders to defeat each other and give their men an advantage in the compromise which they—but not the leaders—regard as inevitable.

The candidates nominated yesterday were in order: Senator Oscar W. Underwood, nominated by Alabama; Senator Joseph T. Robinson, by Arkansas; and William G. McAdoe, by California.

EUROPE MUST GET BACK TO NORMAL

Canada Should Get More Immigration Says Sir Robert Kindersley.

By H. N. MOORE (United Press.) London, June 26.—While generally optimistic regarding Canada's future, Sir Robert Kindersley, Governor of the Hudson Bay Company, in presenting his annual report to the shareholders, emphasized the necessity of increased immigration, in order to lighten the present heavy burden of taxation.

Sir Robert also referred at some length, to the impossibility of any permanent basis of recovery being reached until European affairs had been settled. He was a member of the Dawes Commission, and for this reason his statement that "every day's delay in bringing the finding of the Dawes Commission into effect inevitably lessens the chance of complete success," is of special interest.

In spite of the huge crop of 1923, no less than 58,895 acres more of land reverted to the Company than the total acreage worked by sales.

SEEKS TO JOIN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Germany Will Apply in September Says News Report From Berlin.

(United News.) Berlin, June 26.—Germany intends to apply for membership in the League of Nations, at the League Assembly at Geneva, next September, according to information from a reliable source.

The news follows the announcement of plans for an inter-Allied reparations conference fostered by Britain and France, the Governments of which are both inclined toward increased League activity in European affairs.

Britain and other powers recently have urged that Germany apply for League membership, but relinquish her former demand for immediate permanent membership in the League Council. It is understood that the experts are convinced that once the experts' scheme is in operation her importance as a world power will assure her admission to the League.

SIX HORSES DIE IN FIRE BURNING SUSSEX STABLE

Murray Carr's Place Affire About 2 O'clock This Morning.

LOSS IS HEAVY.

Auto, Carriages and Other Equipment Gone—Horses Awaken Watchman.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Sussex, N. B., June 26.—Murray Carr's livery stable, situated at the Victoria Hotel, Park street, with practically all its contents, was destroyed by fire early this morning.

About 2 o'clock Harvey Boyce, who slept in the barn as watchman, was awakened by a noise made by the horses, and discovered that the building was on fire. He made a hasty exit through the office window and called to Chief of Police Asbell, who was standing up the street and who sent in an alarm from Box 4.

The firemen arrived promptly, but the flames had gained such headway that it was possible to remove only a small portion of the contents of the building. Six horses fell prey to the flames, three belonging to Mr. Carr, one to the C. N. R. Express Company, and two to Murray McDonald, storekeeper at Hammond. A Grey Dart automobile, almost new, several carriages, harness, robes, etc., and other contents of the barn were burned.

The firemen were unable to remove several thousand dollars. He has insurance of $600. Through the good work of the firemen the fire was confined to the building in which it started.

Woman's Body Found in River; Four Are Held After Drinking Ride

Groveton, N. H., June 26.—The body of a woman believed to be Mrs. Katherine Nelson Wallace, 24 years old, of Berlin, was found in the Ammonoosuc river here, and, fearing foul play, an autopsy has been ordered. County Attorney Ryan has had officers round up members of an automobile party with whom Mrs. Wallace had motored to Beecher Falls, Vt., a week ago Sunday.

Three young men living in Berlin were ordered held; also a young woman who was in the party. The three men held are Boutin Edgar, Edmund Couette and Oscar Tananguay, all under 23 years of age. The girl is Zona Hurlston, 18 years old, of Berlin. She and Mrs. Wallace were companions of the three men held and another man whom the police are now seeking.

According to their story the party had been drinking and Mrs. Wallace and Miss Hurlston had a quarrel and left the car to settle the matter. Then Miss Hurlston returned and the men went to search for Mrs. Wallace. They heard a cry near the river bank. They went in the direction of this outcry, but could find no trace of the woman. They continued the search until midnight without result.

Disfigurements of the face of the woman found in the river caused Dr. Noyes to suspect foul play.

Meeting of Allies to Agree on Execution of the Dawes Plan.

Washington, June 26.—United States Ambassador Kellogg, at London, was instructed yesterday to attend the forthcoming premiers' conference to discuss execution of the Dawes plan.

This plan was announced in a White House statement, which said that Mr. Kellogg would attend the conference "for the purpose of dealing with such matters as affect the interests of United States, and otherwise for purposes of information."

This action was determined upon after the State Department had been advised by the ambassador that an invitation for the United States to participate had been handed the United States embassy in London.

DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN 20 MINUTES

Gale With Thunder and Rain His New York; Four Are Killed.

(United Press.) New York, N. Y., June 26.—Faded decorations and a cooler temperature greeted Democratic visitors today, following a sudden gale and rainstorm which struck the city late yesterday.

Four persons were drowned, dozens injured, convention decorations ripped from buildings, subway lines tied up, and river and harbor traffic halted by the storm.

The deluge broke just as some 1,800 delegates and friends were assembling at the country home of Samuel Untermyer. There was to have been a garden party, but the "mess tent" went with the 72 mile an hour wind.

Approximately 100,000 natives and visitors were promending about Coney Island, seeking relief from the 94 degree temperature and were caught in the storm.

In the str at the outbreak of the storm. Their airplane was forced into the harbor, but the men were saved. The air lasted only 20 minutes, but coupled with the damage, it brought relief from the high temperature, which has marked the week.

WILL VISIT MEN IN MANY PRISONS

Welfare Party on Unique
and Doughnuts.

Philadelphia, June 25—Bearing good cheer and doughnuts to convicts in penitentiaries from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, a gospel car will leave here on July 7 with a party of welfare workers, some of whom helped brighten dark days for the soldiers in the trenches in France. On the front of the car will be a brass plate with the inscription "In the Service of the King".

The automobile tour was planned by some of the workers following a visit to a convict camp, where they made doughnuts for the men and talked and prayed for them. The prisoners seemed so cheered by the unexpected visit that it was decided to spread the work to every prison to which admission could be gained.

With $5 cents as capital, the workers set out. Their doughnut-making, with doughnut cutters made from captured German shells, and the appeal of their ideas soon brought aid to them, and recently they were given a large automobile, fully equipped, in which to make their journey. The first five gallons of gasoline also was presented. With this as a basis, the party plans to dedicate the car at special services here July 6, before leaving on their trip, with Seattle, Wash., as the ultimate destination.

Letters have been sent out in advance to the governors of the various states asking that the workers be admitted to the state prisons, while a permit has been obtained admitting them to all federal prisons.

The personnel comprises Miss Cloris Aiken, who made doughnuts for the soldiers in the Argonne; Barney Roth, and Lynn W. Parsons of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Bean of Columbus, O. Mr. Bean, an electrical engineer, volunteered as chauffeur for the trip.

SAMUEL GOMPERS AT CONVENTION
New York, June 25—Samuel Gompers, venerable president of the American Federation of Labor, left a sick bed today to present labor's case to the platform committee of the Democratic National Convention.

His face was pale and drawn. The labor leader was assisted to and from the committee room by other officials of the federation. He was attended by a trained nurse and made frequent use of smelling salts during the 20 minutes he was in the committee room.

Despite the apparent effort it cost him, Mr. Gompers twice addressed the committee room by pleading for justice for the workers and inveighing particularly against the use of the injunction by the courts in industrial disputes.

Is Harry Thaw On Cupid's List?

New York, June 25—A beautiful widow has entered the life of Harry K. Thaw. While the world has been supposing that he came to New York this week to bask once more in the bright lights of Broadway, Thaw was fooling them once again. The smile of a woman was the only radiance that Thaw desired, it appears. Mrs. Edith Lewis of Park avenue is the woman. Tall, slim and with large brown eyes, Mrs. Lewis sat in her apartment and said that she had known Thaw for many years and that she liked him more now than in days gone by. Much more, in fact.

Arriving in New York, Thaw proceeded to the Waldorf Astoria, where a room was engaged in his secretary's name. And then, before a scant three hours had passed, Thaw was comfortably seated in Mrs. Lewis' Park avenue apartment.

"Harry is not insane," said Mrs. Lewis, "and people somehow don't realize that he has been unfortunate in more ways than one. Sometimes I think it is the fault of the newspapers. They never, never let the poor man alone."

"Harry corresponded with me while he was in the asylum—but this was the first time I had seen him in many years. And really, he's not a bit unbalanced. A little twitch once in a

The Australian Immigration Act empowers the authorities to require the candidate for admittance to write correctly, from dictation, a passage of fifty words. This may be required in any language, and the authorities may choose the language. If a Canadian applicant for admittance to the country he may be required to write fifty words in English. If a Japanese appears he may be asked to write fifty words in Welsh or Sanskrit. If he fails to meet the test he is barred. Australia had 29,907 Chinese in 1901, but the number had dropped to 15,240 in 1921. The number of Japanese in Australia, which was 3,993 in 1901, had fallen to 2,762 in 1921. The country is not bothered with the problem of interracial marriages or with the smuggling of immigrants.

Web Cords for a low inflation tire

—Because Balloon or Balloon Type Tires are made with fewer layers of cords and the cords are much longer—because of the great circumference of the tires,—and because the play of the casing with low inflation as it compresses beneath the weight of the car, is much greater,

—the value and necessity for the Web Cord process, combined with Sprayed Rubber for the side walls, becomes many times emphasized.

Web Cords marked the greatest advance in building standard cord tires since the cord method was first evolved and this improvement, exclusively used in Canada for Dominion Tires, places Dominion Royal Cord Balloon and Balloon Type Tires in a class by themselves.

If anything will insure the practical road success of a low inflation tire, Web Cords and Sprayed Rubber will do it.

These processes are used exclusively in Canada for—

- Dominion Royal Cord Balloon Type Tires,—to fit all present wheels.
- Dominion Royal Cord Balloon Tires.
- Dominion Royal Cord Tires.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 26, 1924

A CLOSED DOOR

However well intended, some sentiments expressed by Mr. Willis G. Nash, retiring President of the New York State Bankers' Association, at the annual meeting of that body held in Montreal, will not be very cordially received in this country.

It is a realization of course that there are certain key industries which a country ought to build up—particularly when, like Canada today, it stands at the threshold of an era of unexampled growth in wealth, population and power.

There is no doubt that this country would like better tariff arrangements with the United States, but if Mr. Nash was speaking of free trade between the United States and Canada, but something like commercial union—and his words have been so interpreted in some quarters—he has in mind something which will never come to pass.

It is a realization of course that there are certain key industries which a country ought to build up—particularly when, like Canada today, it stands at the threshold of an era of unexampled growth in wealth, population and power.

Coming from a country of high protectionists, there is nothing to prevent Mr. Nash from advising his countrymen, for their own good, to lower their tariff against Canadian products.

THE WISER COURSE

The Maritime Province postal workers who declined to go on strike along with those in Toronto and some in one or two other centres are now able to congratulate themselves upon their level-headed course.

Such a strike could not succeed, and the Maritime Province postal men, and others throughout Canada who remained at work under rather trying circumstances, not only have their jobs but have risen in public estimation.

whole country, and those who actually tried to do so are now in a very unfortunate position; yet clearly they brought the trouble upon themselves.

BETTER BUSINESS

Canada's wheat exports to the United States during May were double those for the same period last year, notwithstanding American confidence that the increase of the duty to forty-two cents a bushel would shut out our grain.

At present the outlook for Canada's grain crop is considerably better than that in the United States and in other countries with which our farmers compete, and the Financial Post regards this as a most favorable feature in the Canadian business outlook, saying that the continuance of this set of conditions would result in a highly advantageous situation for the Canadian grain producer and consequently for Canadian business at large.

There is another development which the Post says is adding many millions annually to the national income, and this is the manufacture within Canada of a rapidly increasing proportion of our natural resources.

It is over half a century since Riel's first rebellion, and most of the writers on the subject have stated the case as they saw it. The subject was taken by surprise when the troops under Sir Garnet Kolesley approached Fort Garry on Aug. 24, 1870.

At last we sighted the glimmers of the fires; we pushed on far enough to distinguish the fires themselves, but it was evident we were approaching the sentries' lines and the outposts, and not caring to fall into their hands we fell back.

A SAFETY PLEDGE

The Board of Trade of Buffalo is supplying free to motor car owners a new sort of emblem, which is to be wired to the radiators of cars. It is a "safe driver's" pledge, containing the following:

"I will study and obey all local and state traffic laws. I will at all times drive with extreme care, realizing that accidents occur at unexpected moments.

"I will keep my car in good mechanical condition, with special attention to the brakes. I will signal to following drivers my intention to stop or turn."

This is but one small feature of the nation-wide campaign against preventable motor car accidents. That campaign is more than ever necessary both in the United States and Canada, because the number of cars increases tremendously, causing greater traffic congestion and more and more danger.

St. John's debt of honor—the raising of the $8,000 still required to erect the War Memorial—should be quickly paid. Many have given generously according to their means, but a glance at the list published yesterday shows how many more there are who should welcome the opportunity to add their contributions and gladly share in the privilege to assist in keeping forever green the memory of those who so gloriously lived up to the noblest traditions we cherish.

The New York World, which advocates the nomination of Governor Smith of New York, tells the Democratic convention that if the party wishes to spend its time between now and election day in defending its candidate, it had better select Mr. McAdoo.

BRITAIN AND HER DEBTS

(Ottawa Citizen.)

Last week Britain handed over another instalment of the debt to the United States and the treasury of our neighbor to the extent of $60,000,000. It is a big sum for a people already among the most heavily indebted in the world.

It is a characteristic British way, when Lloyd George recently criticized Stanley Baldwin for making a bad bargain on the war debt issue with the United States, it was Ramsey MacDonald who was grinning and bearing it and no one, from premier to humblest peasant, has suggested that it be not paid.

IN OLD MADRID

Long years ago, in old Madrid, where softly sighs of love the light guitar Two sparkling eyes a lattice hid, two eyes as darkly bright as love's own stars!

Refrain: Come, my love, the stars are shining, time is flying, love is sighing, Come, for this heart is pining, here alone I wait for thee!

Far, far away from old Madrid her love fell, long years ago, for Spain; A convent veil those eyes hid, and all the vows that love had sighed were vain.

BRITAIN'S BIG AIRSHIPS

(Toronto Globe.)

Two British airship projects which have taken definite shape will appeal to the imagination of the English-speaking world. The Imperial Airways, Limited, with a share capital of £1,000,000, headed by Sir Eric Geddes, has made a contract with the British Government (which will be represented on the directorate) to provide aeroplane services immediately with France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Russia and the Channel Islands, and ultimately with all parts of the British Empire.

The other scheme, which also has the Government behind it, though it will be directed by private enterprise, provides for an airship service to India as soon as the dirigibles are completed. Two monster lighter-than-air machines of 5,000,000 cubic feet capacity—more than twice the size of the United States dirigible Shenandoah and the ZR-3, being built in Germany—have been designed to carry 200 passengers on a cruising radius of 2,500 miles. They are to be hydrogen filled, with extra precautions against fire.

If the experiment of an airship service to India on a regular schedule succeeds, it will be extended to Australia and eventually to Canada and the other Dominions. Recent accidents, such as the destruction of the E-38 and the ZR-2, gave a setback to the lighter-than-air type of aircraft, but it is coming back into favor.

Horrible Thought. "I hear that that dreadful cynic, Kadey, is losing his mind." "Isn't that terrible?" "Oh, I don't know. I haven't any sympathy."

"But suppose some decent fellow should find it?"

Away Ahead. Binks—"You say your son leads his class at college?" Rink—"Yes, his racer will do eighty miles an hour."

DEAD MAN FOUND NEAR RAILROAD

(Halifax, June 25)

The body of an elderly man, identified as Richard O'Neill, a resident of Portuguese Cove, N. S., was discovered this morning lying on the ground near the railway tracks in the vicinity of the Halifax Shipyards. From the statement of a person who was talking to O'Neill on Saturday, it would appear that death was caused from heart trouble, as he had then complained of acute pains in the region of his heart.

The Joyous Years From 7 to 15

AT the age of seven the boy leaves kindergarten and starts to school. At fifteen he is getting ready to climb into long pants.

The eight years between seven and fifteen are the joyous years of his life. They will pass all too quickly.

Why not help your boy crowd all the enjoyment possible into them?—help make them the memorable, fadeless years of his life.

Like all boys, one of his dearest desires is to possess a real, classy bicycle—a C.C.M. Then he can join in all the boyish games and sports that require a wheel.

How a real boy does love to get out into the open spaces where he has room to let himself loose. How he loves to fly along on his easy-running C.C.M., imagining he is an express train as he coasts down a hill.

And when he comes home happy as a lark, bright-eyed and rosy-cheeked, how glad you'll be you got him a C.C.M. Bicycle.

A bicycle is a mighty good thing for a boy or a girl—especially a C.C.M.—with its smooth, easy-running Triplex Hanger, its quick, strong, sturdy Coastar Brake, its strong, sturdy frame of English Seamless Tubing that stands the rough and tumble wear of care-free boyhood, the bearings of tough flint-hard steel that a file cannot cut.

Drop in and see the new, dashing, sparkling C.C.M. models for Boys and Girls—including the Curved Bar model, the bicycle a boy won't outgrow. Prices are $15 to $20 less than the "peak" prices. A Big Dollar's Value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M.

C.C.M. JOYCYCLES, too, for the little folks too young for bicycles. Joycycles are high-grade tricycles, built to run as smoothly and easily as C.C.M. Bicycles. They've made a wonderful hit! Just the thing for birthday and other gifts.

NOT SO MANY HOME LESSONS, SAYS THE CHIEF

Dr. W. S. Carter Advocates Abolition of Examinations in Lower Grades.

Moncton, June 26—The 30th annual New Brunswick Teachers' Institute, attended and some very interesting and instructive addresses were heard by the teachers in attendance.

Much interest was shown in the public meeting this evening, a pleasing feature of which was an address by Hon. Augustus O. Thomas, Commissioner of Education for Maine, whose subject was "Modern Tendencies in Education."

At this morning's session the following were chosen to act as a nominating committee: W. M. Burns, Fredericton; Inspector Doucet, Bathurst; W. McL. Barker, Moncton; Alonzo R. Stiles, Riverview; Mr. Steeves, Blackville; S. A. Worrell, St. John; Miss Bernice MacNaughton, Moncton; Mrs. Brooks, Sussex; Miss Mary Alexander, Mascarene.

The public meeting this evening was largely attended. Dr. Carter, Deputy Mayor Edgett, and others attended a cordial welcome to the visitors. He congratulated the Moncton Board of School Trustees who are using 48 per cent of the city's revenue for local educational purposes.

The secretary read a letter from the Women's Institute of Petticoats asking that the Institute consider an amendment to the Education Act providing that wives of qualified voters be eligible for election as school trustees and to vote. This was received.

A letter was read from the Moncton Teachers' Association favoring holding of the Provincial Institute at Easter instead of June on the ground that teachers are too tired at the end of the term; that a change of programme at Easter would be beneficial and that teachers are better able financially to attend institute at Easter than in June.

The meeting by a large majority voted in favor of the change and, on motion of Dr. Bridges, the question was referred to the executive with power to act.

Accomplishments. Dr. Carter, who gave a comprehensive address, spoke very appreciatively of Moncton in his introductory remarks and expressed deep regret at the retirement of Dr. Inch and Dr. Foster and the absence of the latter and Dr. H. S. Bridges. He discussed the following: Things accomplished since 1920; amended Pension Act with contributions from teachers; providing a disability clause; maximum pension of $800 with a minimum of $260; loans to student teachers of the Normal School; one man one vote at school meetings; authorization of free kindergarten in St. John city; six opportunity schools for retarded pupils in St. John city; authorization to teachers to devote the last half hour of school on Fridays to Junior Red Cross; authorization to trustees to add to teachers' pensions in the cases of long and meritorious service; the payment of a portion of the board of a number of pupils in unorganized and isolated school districts. There were also things to be accomplished, such as: A more satisfactory compulsory act, free text books, remedy for present inequalities of assessment and provision to tax all property in the province for school purposes, raising the standards of qualification of teachers. Pensions. He thought the teachers should heartily appreciate the Pension Act and its amendment. The old act provided a maximum pension of $400, half the average of the last year's salary up to $400. The amended act requires contributions from teachers of 5 per cent of Government grant and raises the maximum to $800. No doubt the act was somewhat imperfect, he said. Young teachers contribute, although many do not draw anything out. But there is risk in all insurance and the young teachers ought to be willing to make the sacrifice to help those who remain in the profession. Most other professions hold out better inducement for long service than that of teaching. The initial salaries of teachers are comparatively high, therefore many young people teach as a stepping stone. It is hard to teach uninterruptedly for 35 years, therefore at last there was a disability pension after 20 years of service which was eminently fair. While some teachers are disabled before 20 years it is best to adhere strictly to the law. It is too hard to have to refuse disability allowance to one disabled after 18 or 19 years but loosening of the Ontario Pension Act led to its destruction. He relied upon teachers to help carry out the act. It was worthy of an expression of appreciation. The minimum pension is $250. That is small but the act is expensive, especially on the disability side, so the Government will soon have to pay more than the teachers. More Students. He felt optimistic in many respects. Last year was the best in educational history, most schools and teachers with most students at Normal School and University of New Brunswick. Greater expectations of salary and security of tenure and the loan to students had increased the attendance at the Normal School. The attendance in 1922 was 450; in 1923 it was limited to 350; this fall it will be limited to 380, on

COULDN'T BEND WITHOUT PAIN

John Dixon is Delighted With New Found Health. DRECO Relieves His Troubles, Giving Further Proof of Its Value as a Corrective and System Builder.

No wonder people are so enthusiastic about DRECO. Every day they read or hear of some one among them who has experienced its remarkable health-giving powers. Every day it is proving to the most skeptical that good health, so easily lost, may be recovered if the proper methods are employed.

"My stomach was in such a bad condition that I could not eat anything substantial," says Mr. Dixon, who lives at 70a Young St., Montreal. "I was constipated and frequently had severe dizzy spells that prevented me from using my work. I had pains across my back so bad I could hardly bend over and rheumatism tortured me in every limb."

"DRECO, however, has made a new man of me. My bowels are as regular as clockwork and I can eat and digest a hearty meal. I can feel the strengthening effect of the splendid nourishment I am getting from my food. With my liver active once more, those dizzy spells are gone; so too, have the pains in the back and rheumatism. I thank DRECO for what it has done for me and recommend it heartily."

Put your stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys in healthy working order, by taking this pure herbal remedy, DRECO. It tones and strengthens the whole system and purifies the blood stream. DRECO users never feel seedy, weak, run down or out of sorts. They are brimful of life and vitality, because their whole system has been cleansed and is working properly. DRECO contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

DRECO is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King Street, Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward Street, F. W. Munro, 357 Main Street, and in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson, and by a good druggist everywhere.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For The Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Do not use prepared shampoo or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulifed coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greasiness, and is better than anything else you can buy. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulifed is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulifed coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulifed. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

WANT ALL THERE AT SCHOOL OPENING

Some of the city teachers yesterday made a plea that parents would take into consideration the fact that this year the scholars are having ten weeks' summer vacation, nearly one-fifth of the whole year. They urged that the parent send the children back to school promptly on Sept. 8, the opening day, as the school teaching sessions are none too long for imparting the knowledge for which the curriculum calls. The teachers asked the parents to have the children vaccinated early enough to enable them to recover fully of their illness. A principal of one of the schools said also that it would greatly facilitate the arrangement of classes and to the greatest satisfaction of all concerned if any requests that pupils be placed in the class of any particular teacher be preferred before the classes had been made up. Once the classes were made up alterations could not be made.

Among the articles exhibited will be lunchboxes, cloth, bureau and table scarfs and some remarkably pretty hats. Paper cutting was done by the very young children. On Tuesday Miss Lundy treated the children to a lawn party.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

TO BAKE A PIE

While some pie bakers scoff at the idea of measuring flour, lard and water for the crust, the inexperienced cook finds it quite as necessary to measure her ingredients for pie as for cake.

So, for the benefit of the new cook this rule and method for a rhubarb pie is carefully worked out.

First and foremost, pastry flour should be used. Less lard is necessary to make a flaky crust and there is consequently no danger of a "lardy" taste to the pie. Half butter and half lard can be used if preferred, but the amount of shortening must be doubled. The lard should be cold and firm but need not be chilled.

The water should be cold but need not be water.

Quick work and a light touch are two necessary ingredients for a good pie.

Rhubarb Pie

One pound rhubarb, 1 to 1-2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup pastry flour, 4 tablespoons lard, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cold water.

Remove skin from rhubarb and cut in inch pieces. Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt and rub with lard and work into about half of it. Add the other teaspoon at the other side of the mixing bowl and work up the rest of the flour mixture. Work the two together, always rather tossing and lifting the dough than pounding or kneading it.

Divide, reserving a little more for the upper crust than the under. Work the dough into a round flat cake with the fingers, then put on the moulding board, evenly floured, and roll. Turn the dough half way around after each rolling to keep it round.

Fill the pie shell with about three-eighths of an inch thickness. Fold one-half over the other and place on an eight-inch pie dish.

Fit snugly with the tips of fingers. Be sure the dough covers the edge of the dish. Roll the remaining pieces of dough as you did the first and cut a gash in the centre. Fold over ready to put over under crust.

Fill the pie shell with prepared rhubarb. Any sugar and juice that have set in the bowl of rhubarb should, of course, be poured over the rhubarb in the pie shell. Moisten the edge of the dough with cold water and fit top crust over dish. Press edges tightly together and trim close to the dish with a knife. Run the rolling pin gently around the edge to insure even pressure. Roll the edges together with the thumb and first finger of one hand, using the first finger of the other to make a sort of "flute" if you have no pastry sagger.

Put into a hot oven and bake about 20 minutes. The rhubarb will cook as quickly as the crust.

Cornstarch is used in place of flour to thicken the juice because there is less danger of its boiling up out of the pie.

One cup of sugar will make a tart pie and one and one-half cups will make a very sweet pie.

One pound of rhubarb measures three cups of rhubarb cut in inch lengths.

The oven should be hot enough to brown the pie as it bakes. Any pie with a top crust should be a healthy tan. Nobody likes an anemic looking pie.

HELD SANE IN DAY, INSANE AT NIGHT

Philadelphia, Free From 8 a. m. to 8 p. m., Then Confined.

Philadelphia June 26—A gray-haired man, just past middle age, mounts the wooden stairs of the four-story building at 705 Chestnut street each day...

A Strange Story.

It is a strange story that Macusker tells in the dim room at the top of the four flights of wooden stairs and much of it the records of the courts bear out.

Across the street from Macusker's office is Independence Hall. Macusker can see it from his office window.

The office is that of the Journal of Commerce, which Mr. Macusker owns and edits. It is a weekly periodical, devoted largely to business affairs but printing some political articles.

"I made enemies through my political activities," Macusker said today. "They robbed my place. They stole my papers. They sought to ruin me. They framed me up. They had me found insane."

"In the fall of 1922 my unhappy domestic affairs came into the courts. I had, upon the advice of my attorney, stopped payments to my wife. She had me arrested for non-support. Instead of the matter ending with a simple court order for support, I was sent to an insane asylum, and subsequently a guardian was appointed, my property was seized, and, although I was given absolute liberty by day, I became a lunatic at night."

Macusker charges a conspiracy, and it is best to turn to the court record. That shows that on Feb. 27, 1923, Macusker was brought before Judge Charles L. Brown, presiding judge of the municipal court. The testimony was similar to that given in such cases.

"You have mental delusions, that is the trouble with you. The man ought to be committed to the Philadelphia Hospital for a mental examination."

Declared Delusions. "You have a client with delusions, a mental disease, afflicted with paranoia. He is a complete paranoid, and all those accusations spring from his imagination."

Inquiry as to what brought about this conviction in the mind of Judge Brown elicited the reply that before the case came up Macusker was given "a thorough mental examination."

When Macusker was asked about that he recalled having told his story to a woman doctor. Search of the records falls to show that the woman doctor was placed on the witness stand, either to give direct testimony or to be cross-examined.

The outcome of the hearing was that Macusker was committed to the psychopathic ward for thirty days for observation. In that his lawyer concurred. At the end of thirty days he was pronounced insane.

The next step in the case was a petition by Mrs. Macusker for the appointment of a guardian. A hearing was held and Mrs. Macusker charged her husband with having threatened her life. She said that he drove her out of the house at night with a revolver. A neighbor told of Mrs. Ma-

Winnipeg man prefers Kellogg's Bran to Million Dollars

"If," says Mr. J. M. Nichols of Winnipeg, "I had to choose between doing without your bran or a million dollars, I would much rather do without the million."

Mr. Nichols is one hundred per cent right. The wealth of the world could not buy the health that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, has brought to thousands of Canadians. Mr. Nichols wrote us to ask if Kellogg's Bran is sold in Liverpool as he is going abroad and did not want to be without it.

Kellogg's Bran has restored health to legions of sufferers after all else has failed. It is guaranteed to bring relief in the most chronic cases of constipation—permanent relief if eaten regularly. The reason is—Kellogg's Bran is ALL Bran. Only ALL Bran can bring 100% results. That is why doctors everywhere recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Kellogg's Bran is totally unlike ordinary unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. It is as enjoyable as it is beneficial. Try it with milk or cream, sprinkled over other cereals, cooked with hot cereals or in the wonderful recipes given on every package.

Eat at least two tablespoons daily in chronic cases with every meal. It is guaranteed to relieve the most obstinate case of constipation or the purchase price will be returned. Don't delay. Constipation, if neglected, can lead to over forty serious diseases. Begin eating Kellogg's Bran today. Made in London, Canada and sold by all dealers.

with the others. The result was the following order of July 2: "That the writ of habeas corpus be dismissed; that James E. Macusker be remanded to the Friends Asylum at Frankford with leave to the Friends Asylum to permit said James E. Macusker to be on parole between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m."

That was how Macusker won his liberty by day. He at once went to his office in Chestnut street. The guardian had not been able to run his paper. The paper had not come out for a month. Macusker set to work. He got the news and wrote the editorials and solicited the advertising. He bought the printing. He arranged for the printing. He brought the paper out. And for a year he has been doing that, working all day long, returning at night to the Friends Asylum, where he is officially insane.

Makes Success of His Business. But although Macusker did this and did it successfully, for his accounts show a balance in the bank, he has not been allowed to have the rest of his property. Nevertheless, the guardian of this insane man consults with him and takes his advice in the management of the estate that he is too incompetent to manage. Macusker has the letters. He produced some of them. One, dated July 31, 1923, less than a month after the guardian has been appointed, and signed by L. J. Knodel, Vice President of the Commonwealth Title and Trust, submits a bill for plumbing done on some of Macusker's property and asks Macusker to advise whether it should be paid. Another suggests this arrangement:

"Please have the bills sent to you and you approve them if they are correct and send them to us for payment."

"Will you kindly advise," reads another under date of Aug. 13, 1923, "whether it (a bill) is correct, and if so we will be glad to pay same."

Still another, in November of that year, telling of an increase in assessments, states: "We will accept the notices unless you, in your opinion, feel that they should be appealed."

"Fortunately," remarks Macusker with some irony, "these letters asking me for my advice in running my estate reach me in the daytime, when I am sane. If they came at night the answers would be in the night, and so they wouldn't be worth very much."

When Judge Martin was approached on the case he very much felt that Macusker had good business judgment he was suffering from delusions and might become a victim of designing persons. It was pointed out that Macusker did not seem to have become a victim of designing persons in the conduct of his newspaper and that, on the contrary, he has made some profit out of the business. To that Judge Martin answered that even the conduct of the newspaper came within the supervision of the guardian. Macusker asserts that the guardian, after having caused the suspension of the paper, never has had a word to say about it, never has supervised its management, never has scrutinized its bills.

"It is an unusual case," Judge Martin admitted.

"It is an unusual case," said Charles A. Zag, Vice President of the Commonwealth Title and Trust.

"It is an unusual case," said Clinton A. Sowers, attorney for Mrs. Macusker. "Damned unusual!" Was Macusker's comment.

FRIENDS ASKED TO SUPPLY HISTORY OF "BUFFALO BILL" Names of Those Who Knew Col. Cody Will be Written in Book.

A compilation of incidents and anecdotes relating the life of Colonel William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody, is to be undertaken in connection with the unveiling of a statue to the famous Indian fought on July 4 in Cody, Wyoming. The work is to be done under the direction of Mayor R. C. Trueblood.

The plans include the collection of signatures of Buffalo Bill's friends into a huge tome to be known as "The Register of Colonel W. F. Cody's Friends." Additional volumes will contain incidents of his life. The register of friends is expected to contain the names of all high officials of the United States Government, as well as those of several ruling monarchs of Europe, with several of whom Colonel Cody was intimately associated.

Mayor Trueblood expresses the belief that Colonel Cody had more friends than any man living in his time. The Mayor has issued an appeal to all acquaintances of the famous frontiersman to send in data for the memorial library. The statue will show Colonel Cody astride a rampant horse. It will be reared near the entrance to the city. The Cody archives are expected to furnish to posterity intimate glimpses of life in the west.

DUNLOP BALLOON TIRES FOR ALL CARS

Dunlop makes two types of Balloon Tires— INTERCHANGEABLE and SMALL WHEEL

All car owners can enjoy the greater comfort, added safety, and pleasure of Dunlop Balloon Tires right now.

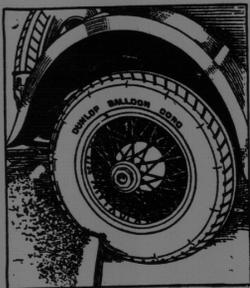

The Interchangeable Balloon Tire is made in various sizes to fit your present wheel and rim equipment without change or additional expense.

The Small Wheel Balloon Tire is made to fit the new small-diameter wheels which can be purchased for your present car or secured as equipment on many new cars.

Whatever your Balloon Tire problem is, DUNLOP can take care of it for you.

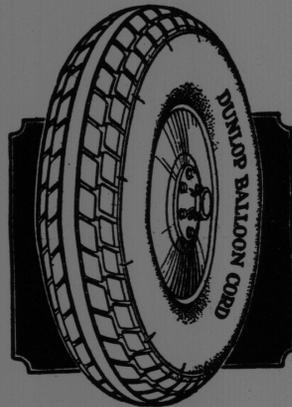

The Balloon Tire is the development of the Dunlop idea of Tire Building so as to increase riding comfort and prolong the life of a car.

A recent issue of "India Rubber Review" says: "In reality the balloon tire is not an invention at all. It represents a stage in the process of evolution of the pneumatic tire principle, extending over the past 30 years or more. In principle, and even in application, that which we today call a balloon tire is as old as the first pneumatic tire, and was first employed more than 30 years ago in Great Britain when DUNLOP applied a two-inch rag tire to a bicycle wheel."

Here's something the average car owner does almost every time he takes his car out. It shows how Balloon Tires absorb road shocks. They can do it successfully because they are built for it.

Any Dunlop Branch or Dunlop Tire Depot will gladly furnish you with particulars concerning Dunlop Balloon Tires.

MINISTER IS EXONERATED IN HOME BANK CASE

Vote After Several Divisions in Ottawa House is 119 to 44.

RESUMES SEAT

Amendments by Conservatives and by Labor Member are Defeated.

(Canadian Press.)

Ottawa, June 25.—After debate and divisions lasting all day this morning, the House of Commons adopted the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections which exonerated Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, from the charge of having acted contrary to his obligations as a minister of the crown in withdrawing his deposit from the Home Bank two days before it collapsed.

The vote for adoption was 119 to 44. Immediately, Mr. Murdock, enthusiastically cheered by Liberals, again took his seat in the House. Ever since the charges were made against him, he had been unable to sit in the House.

The vote on the main motion was preceded by two other divisions. First came a Conservative amendment that the charge against Mr. Murdock had been sustained. This was defeated by 149 to 89. Liberals and Progressives voting solidly against the amendment. Conservatives voting solidly for it.

Afterwards, there came a Labor amendment. William Irvine, Labor member for East Calgary, moved to amend the report in such a way as to render a Scottish verdict of "not proven." This was defeated by 129 to 22.

As the debate drew to a close, there were some sharp clashes and frequent appeals to the chair.

Dealing with the specific charges against Mr. Murdock, Mr. Archambault said that, although not required to do so, Mr. Murdock had gone before the committee and admitted that he had withdrawn $4,000, two days before the failure of the bank. He had not withdrawn it after banking hours, as had been suggested by the liquidator and this had been described by both Mr. Porter and Mr. Hanson, Conservative members of the committee, as material in that it bore upon the question of intent. Moreover, the minister had repaid the claim of the liquidator in full, so that neither the depositors nor the people of Canada had lost a farthing.

Did Not Hear of Meeting

There was not a little of evidence, declared Mr. Archambault, to show that Mr. Murdock had used information which he had received at the cabinet. Mr. Murdock had not heard of the meeting between the Home Bank directors and members of the Government until that conference had become generally known.

E. G. Porter, (Conservative, West Hastings) said he did not wish a verdict or a judgment from the House upon suspicions. It was necessary to bring in a judgment based in fairness and sincerity and upon the facts. In an ordinary matter where a minister had made a mistake, but with no wicked intent or criminal negligence, the public would be the first to extend the greatest measure of sympathy. The public would have taken that position today had Mr. Murdock had received the information which he had received at the cabinet. The Minister of Labor had pursued a most defiant course and had forfeited the sympathy of everyone.

York County Member

R. B. Hanson (York-Sunbury) made some comments on the atmosphere which prevailed in the House during the investigation of the charges.

"From beginning to end the proceedings were charged with partisanship of the most blatant character," he said. "I would suggest to honorable members that they had better not do violence to the intelligence of the people of this country by resorting to a coat of whitewash in this case."

Logan Defends Murdock

Fiance Logan (Liberal, Cumberland) said that never before in the history of Parliament had a man been treated with such a degree of injustice as that meted out to the Minister of Labor. Mr. Porter, he said, had been successful in keeping the minister out of his seat for more than a month, when the evidence showed that the whole attack on the part of the Conservatives was unjustifiable in the light of the evidence adduced before the special committee on privileges and elections. Not only had the charges been disproved but the member making them owed an apology to the House of Commons for not having proven them.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, said that it was admitted he would lose the money which he had in the Home Bank. He must have known that all the other depositors were equally in danger of losing their deposits. In spite of this he had gone and taken his money out.

Uncertain Footing Often when a man stands on his dignity it might just as well be a banana peel.

RAISING SHIPS IN SCAPA FLOW

Operations are Begun on the Hindenburg, of German Fleet.

Stromness, June 25.—Some of the secrets of the sunken German Fleet in Scapa Flow are already beginning to be revealed by the British divers, who are making preparations for the salvage of the ships.

This huge enterprise is the biggest thing in salvage which has ever been attempted.

Picked corps of divers, under Chief Diver Mackenzie, go down every day to prepare the first ships for being raised.

Plans of every sunken ship have been prepared, and the immediate work is being undertaken on the "Hindenburg" and some smaller vessels.

The object of this work is to close the hulls and the water in the interior will be displaced by air pressure. With the help of a floating dock which has been towed up to Stromness, it is hoped to raise the sunken ships.

Although the cost of raising the big German battleships will run into six figures, there is estimated to be sufficient "scrap" to compensate.

Lyness Pier, close to where the divers are working, is an old Admiralty depot, which was not quite completed by the end of the war. Besides the big workshop, the salvage firm has taken over the huts, and it is reckoned that when the work is in full swing there will be 1,000 men engaged in the enterprise.

The floating dock, which has been towed to Scapa Flow, was formerly German property, and it has been adapted to its new requirements. It is to be cut in two and used for the raising of the Hindenburg's 27,000 tons, when the work of sealing, and the pumping operations by motors lowered through steel tubes to the holds, has been completed.

WAS FIRST TO SAY PRINTERS' MASS

Mgr. Evers Dead in New York—Was Tombs Chaplain.

New York, June 25.—Mgr. Luke J. Evers, pastor of St. Andrew's Catholic church, City Hall Place and Duane street, chaplain of the Tombs Prison, and founder of the printers' early morning mass, died suddenly this week in the rectory, 20 City Hall Place. Mgr. Evers had been suffering from acute indigestion, but had recovered, and Sunday morning at 2.30 o'clock, he offered the mass for the printers and other night workers in the neighborhood as usual.

When the Rev. Hugh J. Daly, first assistant, went to the room shortly after one o'clock to call the pastor for lunch he found him sitting in his chair dead. His prayer book was in his lap. Cardinal Hayes, who was a close personal friend, having been born a few doors from St. Andrew's church and reared in its parish, was notified at once. He took charge of arrangements for the funeral. Mgr. Evers leaves two sisters and a brother, Patrick Evers, a retired lieutenant in the police department.

The clergyman was in his 65th year, and in the 42nd of his priesthood. He had been pastor of St. Andrew's and chaplain of the Tombs for a quarter of a century. Twenty-three years ago he started the printers' mass because he saw how difficult it was for Catholic night workers to attend the usual mass. It was his custom to spend from two to three hours a day in personal ministrations at the Tombs in addition to offering mass regularly in the chapel of the jail.

Mgr. Evers founded the Holy Name Society Mission for "down-and-outers." This mission is now used also as a distributing centre for the Catholic church. Not only did Mgr. Evers found the printers' mass, but he was the first priest in the United States to receive permission from the Vatican to offer a mass during Lent and Advent and from All Souls' Day until New Year's Day. This noonday mass, which has become a feature of the life of the workers in the City Hall district, began 16 years ago.

Another priest, Mgr. Evers was also the chaplain of the Retired Police Association. Mgr. Evers was born in Sing Sing, N. Y. He was educated in Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind., and in St. Joseph's Theological Seminary, Troy, N. Y. He was ordained May 19, 1883. His first assignment was as an assistant at the Church of St. Charles of Genoa, 54 West 14th street. He was after some years promoted to the pastorate of St. Theresa's church, Tarrytown. From there he was elevated to the pastorate of St. Andrew's.

PASSENGER AGENTS FROM NEW ZEALAND HERE

Three traveling passenger agents from New Zealand, representing the Canada Australasian Line and the San Francisco Royal Mail Line, arrived in the city yesterday after a trip across Canada which occupied three weeks. They are making the trip to obtain first hand information about New Zealand and the U. S., so that they may be able to route New Zealand passengers better through both countries. They visited the main cities of Canada en route, and they will leave tonight to return via U. S. cities to the Pacific coast.

GWATHMEY WINS 9 POINTS IN DIVORCE

Court Instructs Jury to Answer No to His Wife's Charges.

New York, June 25.—Supreme Court Justice Davis instructed a jury to answer "no" to nine questions concerning alleged wrong-doing on the part of Archibald B. Gwathmey, former president of the New York Cotton Exchange, and Mrs. Betsy Judd, widow of James Judd, cotton broker, who was named by Mrs. Gwathmey as co-respondent in her suit for divorce.

His instructions followed motions by Colonel William Rand, Jr., counsel for Mr. Gwathmey, and former Justice Alfred R. Page, counsel for Mrs. Judd, who asserted that no evidence had been introduced to show that Mrs. Judd had been more than a friend of Mr. Gwathmey. Colonel Rand contended that if a man and woman could not be friends without being suspected the "world was both cruel and unjust."

Mrs. Judd listened to the discussion of the lawyers from a seat at the counsel table beside Mr. Gwathmey. She did not deny Colonel Rand's statement of Friday last that she and Mr. Gwathmey were to be married as soon as possible.

PAYING THE TEACHERS.

The office of the Board of School Trustees is a busy place this week, as more than $81,000 is being paid out in salaries to the teaching staffs of the city. The sum is larger than the usual monthly pay roll, as tentative deductions made during the year for illness or various other causes are added if they are not actual deductions.

FINDS GOLD HOARD ON RUBBISH HEAP

Carter Picks Up Tin Containing 82 Sovereigns and Six Halves.

London, June 25.—When George Wright was clearing away some roadside rubbish at the village of Munnely, near this town, he picked up an old tin, which was found to contain 82 sovereigns and six half-sovereigns. The find was made behind a row of cottages, along which a footpath runs. For years the cottagers have been accustomed to throw rubbish into the ditch by the side of this pathway, and it had become necessary to clear it out. Wright, with his horse and cart, was employed to do the job.

"I picked up the old tin," he said, "because I heard it rattle, and I thought it might have some nails. And when I opened it, I says to myself, 'Here's somebody been saving up farthings.'"

"But when I looks at 'em again, they turned out to be sovereigns. I look 'em to the policeman—though some of my neighbors thinks as I were a fool to do it. But I always acts honest—have done all my life."

But how did the tin and its freight of gold get there? The vicar's theory. Munnely is a little marshland village, a long way out of the main stream of traffic. In the old days, before 1834 it had its own parish, which was controlled by the vicar and church-wardens. When the parishes were grouped into unions, Munnely parish was left in their hands, and they turned it into four little cottages. One of these abuts on the footpath where the money was found. It was occupied by an old woman who was known to have some house property. She had no relatives, and when she died a friend came over from Hull to attend the funeral and take over the few effects in the little cottage. These were of very small value, and the suggestion of the vicar is that the old tin, with other odds and ends, was thrown into the ditch as being worthless.

This habit of hoarding money is once very prevalent among the old people in the marsh villages. The bank manager at Alford tells a story which illustrates this. A few years ago, an old man sent for a local solicitor to draw up a will. Legacies were put down to the amount of £7,000 and the solicitor began to wonder where the old man money was. So he asked the old man about it. "I'm lying on't," he said. Sure enough, after his death, it was found sewn up in the mattress, in coin of various denominations.

and thence home. The men are: E. H. Wing, Auckland, N. Z.; E. C. Adams, Wellington, N. Z.; and R. T. Dalziel, Suva, Fiji Islands.

USE MIRRORS FOR TRAFFIC CONTROL

General Butler Plans Thirty Miles an Hour in Philadelphia.

(United Press.) Philadelphia, June 25.—General Smedley D. Butler, Philadelphia's fighting marine director of public safety, while he has injected a goodly number of thrills and innovations into general use among the public here, is still full of new ideas and is still dashing madly about the streets at all hours of the day and night to get still further new ideas "across" to the Philadelphia public.

His latest idea is to equip the city's main thoroughfares with an extensive system of curved mirrors, whereby traffic may be regulated and maintained on a still higher speed basis. His mania is to make it possible for a motorist to go through the heart of the city at an average speed of 30 miles an hour.

When he installs his curved mirrors he declares it will be possible for auto drivers to see in all directions, maintain a high speed traffic standard and yet at all times provide perfect safety to pedestrians.

His mirrors will be curved sheets of highly polished steel. They will be mounted on the light-poles at every street intersection. They will work in conjunction with the traffic control lights now showing their powerful glare from the dome of City Hall flash on, directing traffic on the main arteries of traffic to come to a halt, the light will be reflected in the curved mirrors and motorists going in opposite directions from the lights will likewise be guided by them. He plans to make it possible for his traffic lights to be seen from every angle on any street and thereby synchronize the city's traffic into a single unit. He says the system can be so perfected that a single individual on City Hall can direct the city's traffic. It is generally declared here that Philadelphia has the most efficiently governed traffic of any city in America.

New York's traffic rules are declared to be obsolete in comparison to those in use here. Business men here are predicting New York will soon be imitating Philadelphia's regulations. In order that his heavy traffic along Broadway and Fifth avenue may be speeded up.

HE'S A DOCTOR THOUGH BLIND

Jacob Bolotin, 35, of Chicago, is a successful doctor despite the fact that he was born blind. He was recently appointed director of the Illinois Tuberculosis Hospital. Bolotin earned his way through college by selling typewriters. He rose to a high position with the typewriter concern and then turned to medicine. Medicine bottles he uses are marked with raised letters.

SAVED FROM DEATH IN PETITCODIAC

Moncton, June 25.—Hazel Jonah, aged about 10 years, was saved from death by drowning last evening by the prompt action of Harold Bullock, a C. P. R. messenger, who went to her rescue when she slipped into the muddy waters of the Petitcodiac while picking greens on the river bank near Gunningville.

The girl went too near the edge of the river, which was at full tide, and slipped into the water. She was rapidly carried several feet from the shore. Her cries and the cries of two girl companions attracted the attention of Bullock. She had gone down twice. With some difficulty he got her to the bank again. He was helped by two girl friends. She was still comatose but it is believed by those who saw her that if another minute or more had passed before young Bullock came to her rescue she would have drowned.

That Touch of Flavor which marks it as HEINZ

The Heinz label on a can of Heinz Cooked Spaghetti prepares you for a special treat. But the goodness in the can surpasses your highest expectations. There's the zesty flavor of Heinz Tomato Sauce—and the tang of a surprisingly good cheese of Heinz own selection. The dry spaghetti itself is made by Heinz, and the whole is skillfully blended, cooked and seasoned in accordance with the recipe of a famous Italian chef.

MAY ORGANIZE EASTERN CANADA MOTOR LEAGUE

Inter-provincial Conference is Held by Good Roads Delegates.

CO-ORDINATION

Co-operation in Tourist Traffic Urged—Governor and Mrs. Todd Receive.

Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, June 25.—A movement which may eventually result in the formation of a Maritime or Eastern Canada Motor League was started here today, when representatives from automobile clubs in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, and Ontario met in an inter-provincial conference and discussed many questions relative to motor car travel through and between the different provinces represented.

Co-ordination of traffic regulations, standardization of road markings and co-operation between the clubs in the different provinces in the matter of routing or tourist traffic were among the matters brought up. At the conclusion of the conference it was agreed that a similar meeting held annually or biennially in connection with the Good Roads' Convention or otherwise would be to the advantage, not only to the Maritimes, but to the other Canadian provinces.

From Several Provinces. T. P. Regan, president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, presided, and those present included Hon. J. J. Veniot, Premier of New Brunswick; J. Chabon, Berrie, secretary of the N. B. A. A.; F. A. Dykeman, director, N. B. A. A.; A. Gordon Watson, Halifax, president N. S. Motor League; F. W. Annand, Halifax, secretary, and F. A. Gillis, Halifax, director, N. S. Motor League; J. A. Webster, president, P. E. I. Automobile Association; G. G. Grady, director, P. E. Island Motor League, all of Charlottetown; Hon. J. A. Begun, Controller of Provinces, Quebec; Auguste Pion, president Quebec Motor League; H. K. Carruthers, president, Ontario Motor League; J. P. Doolittle, Toronto, president, Automobile Association; C. B. Allen, secretary of N. B. Tourist and Resources Association, and Colonel W. E. A. Thompson, Halifax.

After the chairman had outlined the purposes of the meeting Premier Veniot expressed the opinion that Maritimes should unite in the matter of handling tourist travel. He deprecated the propaganda of the Automobile Association of the Maritimes by certain people across the border to divert travel from Upper Canada through the State of Maine. Some years ago the route through Maine was the better one but today conditions were changing. Mr. Dykeman said he was over both routes and there was no doubt that the New Brunswick highways were better.

Col. Thompson suggested that New Brunswick might co-operate with Nova Scotia in encouraging traveling motorists to continue on through to his province. Premier Veniot promised that any signs advertising Nova Scotia which they sent to the New Brunswick Public Works Department, would be erected.

Mr. Webster said Prince Edward Island would do its share in carrying out a co-operative programme. He said both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia had already done much for the Island along these lines. He said all the roads of the province were now open for automobiles.

Best He Traveled. Mr. Pion said that on the way to St. Andrews the road from St. Stephen to him was the best piece of road on which he had traveled. He suggested a system of correspondence between the provincial clubs to keep all in touch with the conditions in each province. Dr. Doolittle remarked that United States tourists left $30,000,000 in Vancouver and $50,000,000 in the whole of British Columbia last year. He reiterated what many delegates had already said, that the St. Stephen-St. Andrews road was the best piece of gravel road he had ever gone over.

Regarding travel into the United States, he said that the Ontario Motor League had made arrangements with the United States Government whereby members of the Ontario League were allowed entry into the United States on presenting an O. M. L. membership card. The meeting passed a resolution asking Dr. Doolittle to take up with Washington the matter of extending this privilege to the other provincial clubs, each club to guarantee the return of all cars to Canada.

Mr. Dykeman estimated that 85 per cent. of the people who drove cars might be educated in the matter of the use of the road. He referred particularly to the practice of drivers sticking in the ruts and not distributing the wear on the whole road.

Governor Receives. St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, June 25.—The scene of activities in connection with the eleventh annual Convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association was moved this afternoon from St. Andrews to St. Stephen, where Lieutenant Governor (Continued on page 12, column 6.)

Oil Companies in Anti-Trust Proceedings

Washington, June 25.—Fifty or more of the principal oil companies of the United States were attacked in anti-trust proceedings instituted by the U. S. Government today in the federal court at Chicago.

Attorney-General Stone asked for an injunction to restrain the companies from further violations of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act which he charged against them. Nearly all of the important companies, including all of the Standard Oil companies, were cited.

The action instituted one of the most sweeping anti-trust moves on the part of the United States Government in many years. Besides the principals, the Attorney-General named as parties a number of "secondary defendants," whom he charged were in the conspiracy as a result of accepting licenses from one or more of the primary defendants.

Cigar Merger Is Called Off

New York, June 26.—David A. Schulte, president of the Schulte Retail Stores Corporation, has announced that all negotiations with the United Cigar Sales Company of America, concerning a merger, reports of which have been circulating for months, have been definitely called off. Officials of the United Cigar Sales also sent a notice to their clerks saying no negotiations were on for consolidation of the company with any other.

W. A. Field Suicide

Former Steel Man Found Dead From Gas in Chicago Home.

Chicago, June 26.—William A. Field, former steel man and head of William A. Field & Co., electrolyzers and engineers, took his own life at his home, 1023 North Dearborn street, by inhaling gas. A body was found in his bedroom. A rubber tube leading from an open gas jet was in his mouth. He had placed a cardboard box over his head.

Mr. Field was in good health, had no financial difficulties and no domestic troubles, Mrs. Field said. He retired in good spirits, following a game with members of his family and guests.

For thirteen years he was general superintendent of the Illinois Steel Company plants in South Chicago. In 1917 many plants in South Chicago were moved by him to Canton to take charge of the Alloy Steel Company. During the world war he was a "dollar a year man" in the Ordnance Department, returning to Chicago after the war. He was 55 years old and was born in Nashville, Tenn.

NEW CHARGE ON ENTERING U. S.

Prospective Residents Must Have $10 Visa, Besides Head Tax.

New United States immigration regulations will go into effect on July 1, and after that date Canadians, as well as immigrants from European countries, will have to obtain a consular visa in order to obtain a U. S. immigration certificate.

Details of Regulations.

The new regulations make it necessary for every Canadian going to the United States to intend to take up residence or to remain for a considerable period of time, to obtain from the American consul nearest to his or her place of residence a consular immigration visa.

May Reduce Emigration.

The manager of the local immigration office predicted the result of the new regulations would undoubtedly be to prevent numbers of Canadians from making their homes in the United States. Where there are large families and means are small the payment of $10 for each child will be an effective hindrance to removing across the border.

After Many Years.

A Little Surprise.

Fred Hilton bought an auto and promised to return home early in the afternoon and teach his wife how to drive. Thinking to surprise her husband, Mrs. Hilton took the car out alone and did well until she backed into a tree, smashing the top and the rear fender. Returning home she forgot the keys and ran into another tree, this time smashing the lamps and the radiator. The machine was hauled to a garage for repairs. She surprised her husband all right.

IS RETURNING IN PENITENT MOOD

Transjordania Sees Error of Its Way—British Representative Takes Hold.

Amman, Transjordania, May 20.—(Associated Press by mail)—Left by the British Government for the last three years to set its house in order, Transjordania is again becoming virtually a part of Palestine, financially and administratively dependent on the Palestine Government. It is returning in a penitent mood because its independence was the Emir Abdullah, son of King Hussein of the Hedjaz, as ruler, by the grace of the British, proved to be too wasteful and costly.

To help it on its way to autonomy the British have been giving Transjordanians for the last three years a grant of aid amounting to about $500,000 a year. The grant was conditioned on Emir Abdullah's early introduction of order in general, and especially into the system of taxation. Another condition was that the expenditure of the money should be supervised, not by Abdullah, but by Rida Pasha Al Rikabi, the then prime minister. A further, though tacit condition, was that whatever was to be done in Transjordan should be done under the watchful eyes of a British representative, known as an adviser.

SHOT BY GUN IN BROTHER'S HANDS

Helen Olive, of Coldbrook, Meets Death Under Tragical Circumstances.

A fatal shooting accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Coldbrook when Helen, the 16-year-old daughter of the late Dr. Olive, was shot through the temple. A bullet from a .22 calibre rifle in the hands of her 11-year-old brother, David, struck her in the forehead. The accident occurred when David put a gun to his shoulder and, aiming at nothing in particular, and thinking the gun was not loaded, pulled the trigger just as his sister stepped back from talking to a friend.

Guy, aged 15 years, brother of the father, who was also in the party, rushed to the house and called his father, who carried the girl home and summoned Dr. Baxter, but the daughter was dead before the doctor's arrival. Besides her parents, the girl is survived by five brothers and eight sisters.

As Hiram Sees It "I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "some of them there critics we let into the country has been tryin' to take charge out there in Alberta."

They're gonto make their own laws an' do as they like—an' chase everybody out that don't jine in with 'em. Well, sir—they orto be thankful they're in Canada. If they was in roo s h i e, now, they'd be shot on sight—but out in Alberta, they'll git the benefit of the very laws they're tryin' to upset—an' they haint got gumption enough to see what that means to them an' their children.

They're tryin' to upset an' they haint got gumption enough to see what that means to them an' their children. Why if they let their kids git schoolin' an' grow up as they orto in this country some of 'em 'll be in Parliament some day—an' all of 'em kin be well-off an' git more out o' life than the folks in any o' them countries that sends out such warped minds to make trouble in a free country like Canada. I aint sure jist how fer we orto go in bein' a school-house an' a lunatic asylum for the scourin' of the airth. No, sir—I aint."
