

nephew of the deceased, will accompany the remains.

A whole family is swept out of existence in the death of Engineer Hannah, his wife and children. Mr. Hannah had been married a second time, and more than two months, and the family had taken a trip to Cape Breton. According to the report, the family was on their way back to Halifax, was Miss Sarah Mearns, of North Sydney. All will be buried from the home of Mr. Stone, Cornwall street, probably on Friday. The family consisted of:

William Hannah, his wife, a native of St. John's, N. B.

Harry Hannah, his eldest daughter. Archibald Hannah, his son.

Ewan Hannah, his youngest son. Captain Ferguson was one of the most careful and experienced navigators on the coast. Since he was fifteen years of age he followed the sea, and in all that time he had not lost a life till about a year ago, when a steamer was wrecked on the Durack. He was with the Edgar Stuart, and subsequently commanded the M. A. Starr. He leaves a wife, five children, and a brother and sister, at Lonsburg. He was a freeman, belonging to St. John's lodge, in this city.

Hector McDonald, mate of the Durack, leaves a widow and children.

D. Kennedy was unmarried. He leaves father, mother and sisters. James Kelly, a deck-hand on the Durack, was a brother-in-law of Captain Ferguson.

Age Kelly leaves a small family. Mr. McDonald's family live on Upper Water street, and are in destitute circumstances.

A. Sanguy's widow and one child live on Upper Water street. Captain Spencer, of Lonsburg, has a brother, book-keeper at Miller Brothers, Granville street.

THE LOST. Those on board the steamer Durack were:

Capt. Ferguson, of Lonsburg; C. B. H. McDonald, mate.

John T. Sharp, A. B., of Weymouth, N. S.

Benjamin Boom, A. B., of Lonsburg. Norman McIlroy cook.

Alex. McVicar, A. B. William Hannah, chief engineer, his wife and three children.

Sadie Mearns, of Sydney. A. Tanquary, second engineer. D. Kennedy, fireman, of Lonsburg. William McDonald, fireman, of Lonsburg. Those on the Durack were:

Captain Spencer, of Lonsburg. William Price, mate, of Lonsburg, formerly captain of the P. V. V. M. P. M. V. George Kelly, James Kelly, A. McDonald, Norman McCaskill, seaman, of Lonsburg. David Baldwin, cook, of Lonsburg.

NEW YORK DELUGE. THE BIGGEST RAINSTORM IN THE HISTORY OF THE CITY.

New York, Aug. 24.—A cyclone storm struck this city last night just before midnight. The wind blew a gale and the rain fell in torrents all night. The storm was far the most severe that has ever been seen in this city.

ANOTHER REPORT. New York, Aug. 24.—The storm which started on last evening and continued until this morning, ripping up trees, breaking down telegraph wires, tearing away awnings, damaging the water front, injuring vessels and flooding streets and sidewalks has, for the rainfall which accompanied it, broken all previous records.

During the twelve hours beginning at 8 o'clock last evening and ending at 8 o'clock this morning, the total amount of rain which fell was 3.84 inches. The nearest approach to it was on Sept. 23, 1882, when it rained steadily for the entire twenty-four hours, and chalked up a record of 6.17 inches for that period. It was a veritable cyclone which swept down upon us, and the water from the clouds fell in rain fall upon Manhattan Island.

To be exact the figures which Mr. Dunn, the weather prophet, gave out this morning were 3.84 inches. The nearest approach to it was on Sept. 23, 1882, when it rained steadily for the entire twenty-four hours, and chalked up a record of 6.17 inches for that period. It was a veritable cyclone which swept down upon us, and the water from the clouds fell in rain fall upon Manhattan Island.

To do so was given twenty-four hours in advance so that mariners could take warning and seek shelter.

In spite of the prophecy, however, reports of wrecks and collisions are already coming in. Parties abroad last night got the full benefit of it. Even those who were provided with umbrellas did not escape, as the storm, which seemed to play all sorts of fancy tricks, dived with the weather protectors in a tantalizing fashion. Dozens of them were turned inside out and before the street cleaning brigade got around this morning the landscape was dotted with umbrella wrecks. But it was after midnight, and between that hour and dawn when all New York had practically been lulled to slumber that the cyclone broke in all its fury. Then the rain came down in sheets striking the sidewalks with force enough to waken anyone, crashing against window panes and rushing in torrents from overcharged water pipes. The crowds passing through City Hall Park this morning gazed upon a scene of desolation quite out of place with the bustle within public buildings and the other familiar surroundings. Limbs had been torn from the trees and branches in turn wrenched off the limbs littering the park. The twitter of the sparrow was hushed for hundreds of them lay dying or dead. It was not that they had been struck by lightning but that roused from their slumber in the dead of the night, they had scarce time to take their heads from beneath their wings when the pitiless rain and wind combined tumbled them from their perch and they fell dazed to the grass beneath.

There they lay trembling in fear until they became choked completely through and died. In only one or two cases did the trees escape damage by the blast, some of them lag strong masses of foliage which had withstood the storms of years, had been bent nearly double. In others the branches after swaying until the wind had lulled at last snapped as if they had been mere twigs.

Brooklyn and Jersey City suffered like New York, and while the cyclone catastrophe occurred thousands of dollars worth of damage was done along the river fronts. The extreme high tide flooded many docks and cellars.

At the near by seaside resorts, Coney Island, Kew-Forest, Long Branch and other places, the damage has been severe. Several wrecks of vessels along the coast are reported but no details given as the telegraph wires are in such bad shape that little business can be handled.

Featherbone!

is simply quills put into corsets. There is nothing in the world so elastic or tough as quills. Featherbone Corsets are therefore tougher and more elastic than any other corset. Wear them, and you will be convinced that this is so.

This is a cut of the old reliable

improved for the season of 1893. The removal of the Leading wheel and the tight Malleable inside shoe allow perfect freedom of tilt and with the improvement in the shifting gear constitute it the lightest draft and most easily handled as well as the most durable and satisfactory Mower in the Market.

For Stony ground our 21 inch section Machine is unequalled.

We have also a full stock of Cossitt Light Reapers, and Carls, Harness, Harrows, Cultivators, Threshing Machines, and all other Farm Implements.

A large stock of repairs constantly on hand, together with sections for the Buckeye, Walter A. Wood, Warrior, Massey and Toronto Mowers.

We are also agents for the WOODSTOCK WOOD WORKING Co. Persons wishing to purchase DOORS, SASHES, MOLDINGS, etc. will save money by examining our samples before purchasing elsewhere.

THREE DOLLARS A WEEK FOR LIFE.

Here is a Snap for Brainy People—The Latest Thing Out.

In order to introduce The Canadian Agriculturalist into New homes, the publishers have decided to present an unusually attractive reward list for their Great English Half Yearly Literary Attraction for the summer of 1893. They have entered into a written agreement to pay through the Judges all the rewards offered.

HOW TO SECURE A REWARD—Those who become subscribers can command free of charge. All that is necessary is to take a few sheets of paper and make all the words you can out of the letters in the three words, "World's Columbian Exposition"—that is, the word "World's" for instance, could not be used, because there is but one "W" in the three words, etc. 2. Names of persons and places barrel. 3. No charge for packing or shipping, but all prize winners will be expected to help us to extend our circulation. 5. All lists containing over 100 correct words will receive a special reward.

JURORS.—The following well-known gentlemen have consented to act as judges and will see that the prizes are fairly awarded—Commodore Calcutt, (Proprietor, Calcutt's Line of Steamers), Peterborough, and Mr. W. Robertson, President Times Printing Company, Peterborough.

AUGUST WRITERS.—We pay $1 to $5 per day salary (no commission) to men, women, boys and girls. Write for particulars. Register all money letters. Address: THE AGENTS, 127 FIVE C. (LTD), Peterborough, Canada.

RULES.—1. Foreign or obsolete words not counted. 2. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "World's Columbian Exposition"—that is, the word "World's" for instance, could not be used, because there is but one "W" in the three words, etc. 3. Names of persons and places barrel. 4. No charge for packing or shipping, but all prize winners will be expected to help us to extend our circulation. 5.
