SHERIFF FOSTER A BUSY MAN

Locates Missing Autos and Rounds Up Several Miscreants

Sheriff Foster has been a busy man lately. Last week he arrested George Arsenault accused with stealing $25 cash and clothing from Charles Hynes, employed at work on the Big Presque Isle bridge. Under the Speedy Trial Act Judge Carleton sentenced him to two years' penal servitude, and the sheriff took him to the house.

Last week Sheriff Foster received a message from Sheriff Dunn of Arsenault county asking him to look out for two men alleged to have stolen a Buick car at Sherman Mills. The sheriff found that two strangers had passed through Hartland and sought to barter the Maine car they were traveling in for $200. At Stikiney they ran out of gasoline and left the car with Moody Broker, who said they left and told him they would shortly return. It was here the sheriff recovered the car he was told.

On the same day Mr. Foster had a message from Willis R. Dresser at Port Fairfield stating his Buick car had been stolen from in front of the Plymouth hotel. He notified Deputy Sheriff Moores at Woodstock who almost immediately located the car in Woodstock and had the thief in jail. Thus inside of three hours two stolen cars were recovered.

On Tuesday, on complaint of Onca L. Shaw of Middle Simonds Frank DeLong of Wilmet was arrested by Sheriff Foster. Shaw claimed that DeLong had shot one of his sheep and carried the carcass away from the field to his home. The Sheriff, armed with a search warrant, went to DeLong's home and found the fresh carcass of a sheep in his cellar. He also found a willing witness in the person of Kenneth McLean, a young fellow who claimed he helped dress the sheep. The circumstances pointed so strongly to his guilt, that Police Magistrate Kelly, who examined the accused, sent DeLong up for trial, refused to accept bail, and he was placed in the county jail. DeLong has a wife and child.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT

Haying has been generally delayed by the wet weather, but farmers are busily engaged in finishing up, while many or most of them are all through. Reports from eastern counties state that considerable hay has been damaged by the wet weather.

The grain crop is coming along satisfactorily. A few of the earlier sown fields are showing signs of ripening. The crop is well up to the average and the quality of grain should be good.

The potato crop report is still favorable. They are making splendid growth and up to the present, no signs of late blight has been reported, although at this time last year it was quite prevalent.

The cool damp weather is especially favorable to the turnip crop. From all districts the reports state that turnips are making very rapid growth and present indications point to a very heavy crop.

Pastures are being helped by frequent showers and cows are milking well. In an average season the falling off is quite marked during late July and early August, due to pastures becoming dry.

A number of districts in the province are organizing to sell their lambs co-operatively. South

Tetazouche expect to have three car loads, Melrose district two car loads and Chapman one car load. These lambs will be loaded on cars and shipped to Montreal by the farmers, one of their men going with the cars and looking after the sale of the stock.

HON. F. B. CARVELL OUT OF POLITICS

Made Chairman of Railway Commission

Hon. F. B. Carvell, a dominant figure in politics for more than 20 years, has resigned the portfolio of Minister of Public Works, and his membership in parliament, and accepted the chairmanship of the Canadian Railway Commission, one of the most important positions in the gift of the government.

The St. John Globe, independent, says:

Hon. F. B. Carvell's appointment as head of the Railway Commission, to succeed Sir Henry Drayton, created Minister of Finance, in succession to Sir Thomas White, is generally commended. No minister of the Union government played fairer than the Minister of Public Works. An uncompromising opponent of party rule in the days of party government, Mr. Carvell was one of the first to advocate union as a war measure, and when given a place, a most important place, in the war government, he faced the responsibilities and the obligations of the position in the true spirit of union, sinking past differences, forgetting past prejudices and working with a mind centered on the great problems which called upon government into existence. War was a very real thing to Hon. Mr. Carvell and his administration of the great spending department of the government proved to friends and foes that his one aim was to conserve the resources of the country to do effective work in winning victory and establishing peace. From the moment he took office, Mr. Carvell thought only of the aid his department could render the country's military and naval forces. He gave little thought to the problems of the politician, but much to the problems of the soldier, and on more than one occasion his was the voice which sounded the note of caution against extravagance. He played fair, and if all his colleagues had been animated by the same high ideals and the same determination that the war was the only thing there would have been few to criticize, few to find fault with Union government, Mr. Carvell's legal training and parliamentary and cabinet experience will be valuable to him in the new position to which he has been called. He should prove a worthy successor of the able men who have administered Canada's Railway Commission, but his task will be greater than theirs because of the enlarged scope of the work consequent on the decision to extend the jurisdiction to include the government system. In Hon. Mr. Carvell's retirement from active political life, New Brunswick loses one of its outstanding parliamentary figures, but as head of the Railway Commission Hon. Mr. Carvell will find new opportunities for the application of those principles which ever made him a champion of people's rights. —St. John Globe.

HARTLAND WINS THE FIRST GAME

In the New League Series of Base Ball

Base ball is more than ever a live topic and now the teams of Hartland, Centreville, East Florenceville and Bath have formed a league and will play six games each. The first of the series was played at Bath on Monday evening when Hartland won in a score of 11 to 8. A good number went to Bath with the Hartland team, and Florenceville was also well represented. This is the first game Hartland has taken from Bath this season, and the upriver team's backers would have shown more real sportsmanship if they had proved more gracious losers, the players themselves all being "good fellows" and well liked by their opponents.

Herewith is the score

It is understood the four teams have pooled in making first and second prizes for the winning teams. The arrangement of this series will stir up a great deal of interest and the outcome is sure to be watched with keen interest.

This morning The Observer received the following signed by D. J. Coughlin, manager of the mill ball team:

"The mill ball team wants you to make known through your paper that the Hartland team is afraid to play them. We have gone down three times and they have each time put up some excuse."

Praise From The Press

Although not the best lawyer in the county, Mr. Carvell is in the first rank. He is talented, a good speaker, possesses lots of "pep," there is not a lazy bone in his body, and he was the hardest worker in the Borden government. When he went to the "big show" at Ottawa, he proved he was one of the biggest and brainiest men in Parliament. As a born and bred Carleton county boy we were all proud of his achievements in that sphere of usefulness.—Press.

"HIS TREATMENT IS REMARKABLE," HE SAYS

Capt. F. S. Patty, Ex-Passenger Agent Northern Pacific, Discusses Former Troubles.

Nearly everybody in Knoxville, Tenn., especially railroad people, know Captain F. S. Patty, for twelve years district passenger agent for the Northern Pacific railway, with local offices in Chattanooga and general offices in St. Paul, Minn.

On account of generally failing health Capt. Patty was forced to discontinue active work and for the past few years has been making his home in Knoxville, where he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. He is a kind, genial gentleman of the old school and is beloved by all who know him. The following interesting statement was made by him in person to the Tanlac representative:

"I am 69 years old and always enjoyed good health up to about six years ago, when I suffered a nervous breakdown and my general health gradually failed me. My principal trouble was indigestion and constipation, but my whole system seemed to be out of shape. My condition finally got so bad I couldn't sleep at night and always after eating I would suffer so from indigestion and heart-burn that I felt just like there was a coal of fire in my stomach. My hearing and vision were also affected. I consulted several doctors here in Knoxville and other cities and they helped me considerably and I finally got so I could go around, but some how I just couldn't feel right and could not sleep at night, which made me awfully nervous and nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me.

"I began reading about this Tanlac when you first came here, but did not decide to try the medicine until I talked with a friend of mine who had actually used it. He said it was the best thing he had ever taken, and that was sufficient proof for me.

"I have just finished the first bottle and came here this morning, not only to buy the second bottle, but to tell you just what it has done for me. I began enjoying my meals from the first few drops. My nervousness is gone and I can sleep like a child and always wake up in the morning ready for breakfast and feeling refreshed. I am very fond of onions, but was almost afraid to eat them, because they always disagreed with me so; I could taste them for hours afterwards. I ate one for dinner the other day and it agreed with me perfectly and I felt no bad after effects whatsoever. I tell you I am beginning to feel like a different man and am always going to keep this Tanlac on hand. It has done me more good than anything else in the medicine line I have ever taken. I certainly do recommend it to my friends. It is really remarkable. Tanlac is sold in Hartland by E. J. & Curtis Co., in Bristol by Dr. G. W. Somerville, in Centerville by Stevens Bros., and in Woodstock by E. W. Main.

Burned the Mortgage

An interesting event took place at the Reformed Baptist parsonage, Hartland, Friday evening, July 18th. The occasion was the burning of the mortgage on the property. The parsonage and the lot were bought five years ago for two thousand dollars. A barn was built at a cost of two hundred and twenty-five dollars. Two hundred dollars was paid on the property and a mortgage given for the balance of eighteen hundred. In four years they reduced the amount to one thousand. The retiring pastor, Rev. P. J. Trafton, felt led to try and raise the balance and so relieve the circuit of all indebtedness, the brethren and sisters responded nobly, the total amount subscribed being one thousand and ninety dollars. After spending some time in conversation, the company was called to order and the simple exercises began. After a few remarks by Brother Trafton, he applied the match and the mortgage burned, while the company sang, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," etc. Brother Arthur Baird, on behalf of the company, presented Brother Trafton with thirty-eight dollars. Brother G. O. Gray spoke a few words and closed the exercises by prayer.—Kings Highway.

Death of a Chester Lad

On Tuesday, July 22nd, the funeral of Howard Kearney of Chester was held. Death claimed this young lad of fifteen years after several months of ill health. The large gathering at the Baptist church at Bath, went to show that the parents and family had the sympathy of many in this sore bereavement. Howard was a general favorite with all who knew him. He has gone to be with his Lord whom he loved. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. C. O. Howlett. Rev. M. H. Manuel assisted in the service, and Miss Helen Estabrooks presided at the organ.

Re-Dedication

The United Baptist church of Kierstead Mountain, of which Rev. Mr. Young of Lower-Millstream, is pastor, was rededicated Sunday, July 13th. Mrs. W. E. Sadler of Maple View, presided at the organ, assisted by a band of singers under the direction of Mr. John R. Peterson of Tracy Mills, who acted as church master during the day. Rev. W. J. Hurlow, pastor of the Baptist church at Tracy Mills, preached three powerful sermons. Over $360 of a debt which remained on the church was paid. In addition to the renovation of this church a splendid horse shed was built.

THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS

Almost Always Due to Weak, Impoverished Blood.

Apart from accident or illness due to infection, almost all ill-health arises from one or two reasons. The great mistake that people make is in not realizing that both of these have the same cause at the root of them, namely poor and improper blood. Either bloodlessness or some trouble of the nerves will be found to be the reason for almost every ailment. If you are pale, suffer from headaches, or breathlessness, with palpitation of the heart, poor appetite and weak digestion, the cause is almost always bloodlessness. If you have nervous headaches, neuralgia, sciatica and other nerve pains, the cause is run down, exhausted nerves. But run down nerves are also a result of poor blood, so that the two chief causes of illness are one and the same.

This accounts for the great number of people, once in indifferent health, pale, nervous and dyspeptic, who have been made well and hearty by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; for no other medicine ever discovered is so valuable for increasing the supply of rich red blood and giving strength to worn-out nerves. Men and women alike greatly benefit from a course of the splendid blood builder and nerve tonic.

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Animals That Swim.

Nearly all animals are said to be better swimmers than man, and to take to the water naturally. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads. The elk keeps its head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as it likes, keeping its head only a little above the surface. But of all swimmers, of all climates, the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, which passes half its time in the water, swimming and diving.

Nerves are Exhausted

When you have frequent headaches, find yourself easily irritated and annoyed, feel discouraged and down-hearted, cannot rest and sleep well, and find appetite fickle and digestion bad, you may know that the nerves are in bad condition. Don't wait for these symptoms to become chronic, but start in early with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and head off disaster.

Operation for Appendicitis

Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne, Surgeon Falls, Ont., writes:—"My husband was treated for appendicitis and the doctors ordered an operation. But he would not consent to an operation and began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since doing so he has had no need of an operation or even of a doctor as the trouble has completely left him. I cannot find words to speak our gratitude for his cure."

On the Way.

A radical revision of the law regulating the sale of liquor in Belgium has been recently proposed in the Chamber. This will include the doubling of the duty on alcohol, the complete discontinuance of selling liquor by the glass, and the prohibition of opening new liquor shops in the kingdom. The bill also provides that the stock of all liquor establishments shall not exceed a fixed amount designated by law, and the right of selling liquor will be promptly withdrawn from any found guilty of illicit traffic. Progress is, very largely, always a matter of comparison, and anyone who knew the Belgium of the days before the war, with its quite unlimited facilities for drinking, will recognize that here is progress indeed. Belgium has not risen to prohibition yet, but, like all the rest of the world, she is, quite evidently, on the way.

HARTLAND, N. B., AUGUST 7, 1919

In Saint John County Hospital

Many will be pleased to learn that Murrell Clifton Hartgrove of Rosine, who some days since entered Saint John County Hospital for treatment, is greatly improved and a speedy recovery is looked for. This popular young soldier went overseas with the 140th and did his part bravely, being in the front lines about twenty months. He came through it all with but minor wounds but is now suffering from the effects of gas of which he was the victim.

Rosine and the neighboring places mustered to the number of a hundred or more on June 12 and gave him a warm welcome. His old home was suitably festooned for the occasion and under a rustic tent a dainty repast was served to the joyous company. Rev. C. O. Howlett on behalf of the soldiers home presented him a handsome watch. Rev. G. A. Giberson and others were called upon and tendered the hero with many appreciative words.

Now that Murrell has been compelled to undergo treatment in the hospital his many friends have added interest in him and with earnest hope await his full recovery.

Could Not Be a Delegate

Sheriff Foster, who was absent from the Liberal Convention when he was elected as a delegate, has written the following letter to the secretary, which is self-explanatory:

Dear Mr. Gallagher:

In view of the fact that I hold the office of Sheriff of Carleton County I feel that I cannot accept the appointment as a delegate to the Liberal Convention at Ottawa, and I know that it had been brought to the attention of the committee at the time they would have realized that it was out of the question. Had I been present at the convention I should have declined at once.

I may say, however, that I appreciate the honour done me and trust that my refusal will not in any way disturb the plans of the convention.

Yours very truly,
A. R. Foster.

Mr. Trafton at Fredericton

Rev. P. J. Trafton, the new pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church, conducted both services yesterday. For some seven years Rev. Mr. Trafton has been the pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church at Hartland and previous to that he was engaged in Evangelical work for some years. He and his family are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barr on Queen Street and will be for some time until a suitable dwelling can be arranged for them.—Fredericton Mail.

Earl Atkinson Electrocut

Earl Atkinson, aged 20 years son of F. T. Atkinson, formerly manager of the N. B. Telephone Co., at East Florenceville, now in Moncton, was electrocuted by coming in contact with a live wire at Sackville on Monday. It is said 2,200 volts passed through his body and death was instantaneous.

The sad news is learned of with general regret among the many in this county who knew the bright young man. His bereaved parents will have much sympathy from Carleton Co.

Adopts Town Manager Plan.

The big Montreal Daily Star has this sarcastic item:

The little town of Hartland is the first community of New Brunswick to adopt the town manager plan. Ernest Plummer has been appointed Chief of Police, Superintendent of Water Works, Public Health Officer and Supervisor of Streets. The only reason he was not appointed to more offices was that there were no more. If that does not make him the town manager, it is difficult to imagine what would.

A Real Tornado

Considerable damage has been done by the electrical and wind storm which swept over New Brunswick and reached the proportions of a tornado last week.

In Carleton county between Florenceville and Centreville, eleven barns were razed by the tornado while at East Florenceville the warehouse of B. F. Smith & Co., Ltd., a building about 100 feet in length, was smashed and blown to bits. Fifteen or twenty trees in its path in East Florenceville were uprooted, and telegraph, telephone and electric light poles were bowled over by the tornado which swept over a territory about quarter of a mile in width and carried everything before it.

In a number of cases it is declared that loaded hay wagons which had been left standing in barns with the doors open, were lifted bodily and carried along by the tornado, the wagons being smashed and the hay scattered about.

THE MURMAN RAILWAY

How the Archangel Troops Were Fed.

Fuller details of how the Germans concentrated a large force in Finland late last summer in the hope of seizing the Murman Railway and occupying Kola and Murmansk are given in recent despatches. Relatives and friends of troops have an especial interest in this railway since it is the artery which supplied the Allied forces in North Russia with food, clothing and munitions during the long winter months when Archangel itself was closed to shipping by ice.

Murmansk is the northern terminus of the Murman Railway, a single track, line which connects the local port with Petrograd by way of Kandalaksha, Kem, Petrozavodsk and Zvanda, 660 of the 900 miles of the line having been constructed since 1914 in the face of some of the greatest obstacles ever encountered in civil engineering," the bulletin states.

"War work on the Murman Railway began January 1915, with the appointment by the Russian Government of Vladimir Gorshakovskiy as the engineer. At his disposal were placed 100,000 workmen, recruited from all parts of the empire.

"The line had to run through a terrain presenting the most discouraging difficulties—swamps, bogs, frozen lakes and almost impenetrable forests. In Russia's perilous construction work could not wait until the advent of spring. Soundings were made through the ice by means of long iron rods to determine earth contours, in order to establish the safest roadbeds in swamp country. Much of the surveying during the long nights of the Arctic winter had to be done by lantern light.

"The German propaganda bureau spread reports of frightful mortality among the workmen, but as a matter of fact, although the laborers lived under the most primitive conditions, in tents, the death rate was extremely low. About one per cent. of those taken ill succumbed to surgery.

"It is true that when the first trains began to run over the partly completed road there were occasions when the track suddenly subsided, due to the fact that the rails had been laid upon what were thought to be rocks, but which proved, with the thaw of spring, to be ice. Under the circumstances, however, these mishaps were comparatively rare, and no serious accidents resulted. The swampy character of the right of way is indicated by the fact that there are 1,110 bridges on the line.

"To maintain Allied troops operating along the Archangel-Vologda line in the winter of 1918-1919, when the harbor of Archangel was sealed, supplies were shipped by steamer to Murmansk, where they were unloaded and sent by rail to Kandalaksha, a distance of 170 miles, and thence transported by sledges across the frozen White Sea to Archangel, 200 miles to the east."

Democracy.

"It's great to live under a Democratic form of government."

"No doubt about that."

"A man can express his feeling freely. For instance, he can say what he wants done with the railroads."

"True, and then he can sit back and wonder who's going to do it."

An Italian Holiday.

Hereafter the Italian people may celebrate November 11 as a double holiday—the anniversary of the end of the great war, as well as the birthday of King Victor Emmanuel.

To Prevent Appendicitis

Here is the Experience of a Man Who Escaped the Surgeon's Knife.

You hear almost daily of some one going to the hospital for operation or appendicitis. Do you know of any one who was ever really well afterwards?

Realizing the risk and expense of the operation, the results are usually disappointing. For this reason alone it is well worth while to try to avoid appendicitis by keeping the digestive system in beautiful condition.

Many have written us about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as a preventive and cure for appendicitis. This letter is a fair sample of the cases described.

Mr. John Poole, R. R. No. 5, Dresden, Ont., writes: "I was taken very sick with severe pains and cramps in my stomach. I called in a doctor, who said I had appendicitis in the worst form, and my case was very serious. He gave me medicine, which relieved me at that time, but I was far from being cured. He said I would have to go through an operation before I would be well, but this I did not wish to do. One day in looking through Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, I saw that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended for appendicitis. I took them in time, so I thought I would try them. I took them for a few days, and I feel now I am perfectly cured. I can do all kind of hard work without any trouble. I would not be without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in my house under any consideration, for I can truly say that they will do just what is claimed of them."

Perhaps the one greatest rule of health is that which calls for daily movement of the bowels. With this program in effect there is no danger from appendicitis or similar dangerous diseases.

Chronic constipation of the bowels is cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they give the liver in beautiful working order. In other words, they get at the cause of the trouble and remove it, thereby restoring thorough and lasting benefit.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A Penny Birthday

By WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)

It was a weird, forlorn looking store, bearing a weather-worn sign outside reading: "Eben Harlow, Taxidermist." Its shelves were filled with stuffed birds, reptiles and animals. Eben Harlow, however, so named, resided at the railings of a store where there was a bench and tools, for he was dead. His brother, Alden, now operated the store, did no work in preserving subjects and was engaged only in selling off the stock on hand.

Alden had been called from his work as clerk in a business office to carry out his brother's instructions. That was six months ago. From New Mexico, whither Eben had gone for his health, a letter had come. It had been written a week before the death of Eben. The latter, anticipating his own demise, left Alden the little store and the charge of his motherless boy, little Bennie. He asked Alden to care for the orphaned child as if his own, knowing full well that his loyal brother would fully heed the request.

The dilapidated store building had two rooms upstairs. To lessen expenses Alden rented these to an old lady, a Mrs. Norton, and her daughter Elsie, who supported themselves by expert needlework. Behind the store were two bedrooms and a large apartment which Alden utilized as kitchen and living room combined. He planned to sell off the stock by the time the lease expired and settled down to the task.

It was a dreary one. The day of stuffed birds had passed away. Once in a while a stray customer appeared, but the sales were slow and prices paid low. Whenever Alden found it necessary to go out on business, Miss Norton brought her sewing downstairs and tended shop during his absence and looked after Bennie. The little fellow was no care, however, he got so that he delighted in sitting near her while she told him stories. Elsie had won upon both uncle and nephew. She unostentatiously looked after mending the clothes of the little fellow. Often of evenings they would pass a pleasant hour together, and many a time Alden Harlow sighed deeply as he realized how poor he was, and how vague his prospects of getting ahead sufficiently to begin thinking of a halpmeet.

He had gone away one day and Elsie was seated on duty in the front storeroom, when little Bennie, who had been racing about the suite, came to her side.

"Did you know that it was Uncle Alden's birthday, amty," he asked.

"Is it, indeed?" replied Elsie. "Then I must tell mother and we shall invite both of you to supper."

"That will be grand!" enthused Bennie. "Uncle says it's just like heaven when we go up to your room, and you sing, and grandma tells about old times, and everything is so cozy and happy. Yes, it's his birthday, and I want to make him a present. Will you buy it for me, Aunt Elsie?"

"What shall I get, Bennie," she inquired.

"Oh, anything a penny will buy. That's all I've got," and Bennie placed a large copper coin in her hand. Elsie observed it casually and slipped it in her pocket.

"I found it," explained Bennie, "back in the room where my dead papa used to sleep, under the old bureau, you know. Uncle lets me play there, but he tells me never to disturb anything. He says he wants it to stay just as papa left it."

"I will buy you the present," pronounced Elsie. "Hush! here comes uncle, and we want to keep the present a secret."

Alden entered the store and thanked Elsie for her services. She went upstairs to arrange for something extra for the birthday meal and then out to the street. At a store she purchased a neat necktie, intending that this should be Bennie's present to his uncle, paying for it out of her own little store. The big penny happened to fall out of her purse. The storekeeper glanced at it with a token of interest.

"May I look at that odd coin?" he asked.

"Ah! it is indeed an old one. And rare, too. I'm somewhat of a collector in numismatics. It's a King George, 1811, isn't it, worth twenty-five dollars and fifty cents. Did you know that young lady?"

"I did not, and I thank you," responded Elsie, quite flustered over the strange circumstance. Then when she got home she deemed it right to inform Alden of the incident. He went back to the room where Bennie and found the coin. It had reminded him of the fact that his dead brother had at one time been a diligent coin collector.

New Alden made a closer search. When he came to the bottom drawer he discovered a canvas sack. It had a hole in it and the bottom of the drawer as well, for a rat had gnawed through. As he lifted the bag, the worn fabric gave way and out poured a stream of coins, gold and silver, as well as copper, and every one a rarity.

While the hour Alden Harlow knew that he was the possessor of over 24,000, represented by some of the most valuable coins in the world.

Upstairs an hour later Bennie gave his penny birthday gift to his uncle, and while the little fellow was playing dominos with grandma, Alden secreted his wonderful find to Elsie and Bennie's use in becoming his wife.

A. D. Colwell Sends Greetings

After reading the interesting items of local and adjacent happenings, the eye of the printer naturally turns to the advertising columns to observe the evidences of prosperity or efforts to improve the condition of the community in which a newspaper is published. This is generally a sure index to the go-ahead-ness of a town or city than the mere say-so of the editor, whose main excuse for living is the placing of his town in the most favorable light in his eyes of the general outside public. Having read the pithy news notes of Hartland and immediate vicinity, where the writer spent four of the pleasantest years of his existence on this mundane sphere, his eye, as aforesaid, turned to the advertising columns to get an idea of the progressiveness of the town since his departure—for the communities' good, let us say.

One thing that drove home to him the sturdy determination of the people to forge to the forefront was the notice of incorporation of a company having for its object the introduction of electricity for commercial and domestic use along the St. John Valley, taking within its circuit the Town of Hartland. The writer has known that the people of Hartland had the money, the ability and the will to make their pretty little town a real live centre of one of the most fertile and prosperous counties of the province. Like the gas engine properly constructed and loaded with the proper fuel, it only required the spark of electricity to start the wheels a-turning in order to drive ahead in the grand procession of industrial and domestic advancement. And just here it may be said that the main impetus of the movement may be credited to the progressive spirit of what may be termed the town's "champion"—H. H. Hatfield, who loses no opportunity to advance not only his own interests, but that of the town in which he lives.

During the writer's residence in Hartland he witnessed the construction of many new residences and the expansion of territory that was then known as a village into the more dignified status of a town, with its Mayor and Board of Aldermen, and he feels, with a certain sense of pride, that he aided, at least in some small degree, in the accomplishment of this advanced step in the history of the community, for he was one of a committee who secured signatures to a petition seeking for incorporation.

Without further wearying the reader it may be said that the writer views with what may be termed a certain amount of "home-town" pride the evidences of advancement which he gleaned from the local and advertising columns of The Observer, and trusts that the interest will not wane until Hartland equals, if it does not surpass, its nearest rival, the town of Woodstock.

Several members of Brunswick Lodge, Florenceville were present and participated in the ceremony with the local lodge. After decorating the graves of all deceased brothers the members were treated to an excellent discourse by the Rev. M. H. Manuel of Florenceville who preached eloquently from I Thessalonians III-6. The choir rendered special music for the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Koe'haly of Andover occupied the Baptist pulpit on Sunday morning in exchange with Rev. S. Johnson.

The soldier boys from this vicinity are all returned now and the ladies of the town have arranged a very comprehensive and elaborate welcome, in the form of a banquet and entertainment to be given in the Opera House on Friday evening. Several representative committees, each with a special duty, have the matter well in hand and are working strenuously towards a successful and very pleasant occasion. All the good townspeople are to be both hosts and guests to each other and all are anticipating a wonderful time.

A large number of relatives and friends met on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gibson for a family picnic. All the best eaters of the family were present and performed the disappearing act on the great array of luscious eats spread in endless variety.

Baseball fans are very much interested and quite excited over the proposed schedule of six games each, to be played between opposing teams of a league composed of Hartland, Bath, Florenceville and Centreville. A little friendly competition of this sort is just what is wanted to put a little zest and a spice of pep into the game. We only hope that both the actual participants and also the spectators and rooters will do their fullest to aid in carrying on these contests in a most amicable and praiseworthy manner. Every team surely can't win. Let us all be fortified with the determination that during the unlucky moments we shall at least deserve the name of "good losers."
