pointed for Match and Show.

THE WOMEN OF SCHORNDORF.

In the southwestern portion of Germany is the village of Schorndorf. Although now little more than a mere postal station, it was formerly one of the strongest fortified towns of Northern Swabia, and the pride of the beautiful valley of the Rems.

After the treaty of Westphalia, when the bishoprics of Metz, Tull and Verdun were ceded to France, the idea entered into the French mind to search carefully through the public records for the names of all towns and cities which during any former period had been the property of either of the three bishoprics, and to demand them from Germany as a portion of the rightful spoils. Although this preposterous demand failed to be presented in its original shape, it led to a series of aggressions which finally culminated in that devastation of the Palz in 1688 and 1689 by the French armies under the direction of Montcalm and Melac.

Mannheim, Rastatt, Baden, Heilbronn and many other places were already in ruins, and the French forces were rapidly advancing toward the boundaries of Swabia, their thirst for robbery and destruction increasing with every step.

The government of Wurtemberg, in the hope of saving Stuttgart, delivered all the towns of Northern Swabia into the enemy's hands, and the only fortification which had not been destroyed by the French troops was that of Schorndorf, to which the people looked as a last hope.

The French commander sat confidently in his camp at Eslingen, laying plans for his winter quarters in Wurtemberg. The royal commissioners had already left Stuttgart to give orders to Schorndorf to fling open its gates to the invading host, and the French gave little heed to this last stronghold of the Wurtemberg government, so sure were they of its speedy surrender. But exactly at this point was the invading army to meet its check-for within the walls of Schorndorf was a determined man, and what was still more important, a determined woman!

The man was the commander of the fortifications, Peter Krumpholtz. Although he had received the royal command to make a slight show of resistance and then surrender the city, he refused to obey.

At length a special messenger appeared from Stuttgart, stating that the French commander had given orders to burn the royal residence and take immediate possession of the city, unless Schorndorf complied with the demands made upon it. But, in spite of all demands and orders, Krumpholtz remained firm. He had strengthened his forces by drawing in large numbers of patriotic villagers from the surrounding country, and was determined to hold out until the imperial army arrived. But treachery and cowardice were so rampant in the highest places, that Krumpholtz found his strength growing less and less. At length he summoned a meeting in the town hall of all the officials and leading men, to consult upon the possibility of a continued defense.

Frau Kunkel, the wife of the mayor of the city, was a tall woman of about fifty years, whose word was law with all the women in Schorndorf.
Of a firm, upright character, she had made herself universally beloved and respected. Her patriotism was of that kind which allows nothing to stand in its path, but sacrifices everything to the beloved country. She suspected that the voice of the city fathers would be for surrender, and secretly following them to the council hall, she hid herself to listen. As she had feared, the patriotic determination of Peter Krumpholtz was overruled, and the city do, used to fall like its sisters.

Frau Kunkel rushed wildly from the hall, sending messengers through the town, she summoned all the women to assemble before her, armed with whatever they could lay hands on.
"We have not laid up riches for these rascally Frenchmen to live and grow fat on," said she, "and Stuttgart will see that Schorndorf will not be humbled in the dust, like Tull and Asberg."

An army of women was soon assembled. Armed with every conceivable weapon from a "tomstick" to a sword, they presented a very strange appearance. Then, with Frau Kunkel at their head, they marched to the town hall, and burst in upon the solemn council of their husbands. Frau Kunkel advancing toward the astonished city fathers, made them a speech, in which she called upon them to protect their homes, closing with these words, addressed to her husband himself:
"I will kill you with my hand if you act the part of a traitor."

After announcing their intentions, the women proceeded to take possession of the town hall, and organized themselves into companies, held strict guard over the gates of the city. For two days and three nights the town remained in the hands of the women, the city fathers, "on pain of death," being compelled to obey their commands. Meanwhile, Peter Krumpholtz was assisting the women in every way. Every moment was a step toward every offence in every case of sale."

being compelled to obey their commands. Meanwhile, Peter Krumpholtz was assisting the women in every way. Every moment was a step toward salvation, for the imperial army was rapidly approaching. The moral effect, too, of this patriotic uprising of the women was immense, and the whole country, which had been cowed down with abject terror, rose with one accord to save the Fatherland.

The heroine of Schorndorf, Frau Kunkel, lived many years after the uprising of the women took place, and it is said, related the history to a goodly number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

UNDER the sway of Doctor Davies, the renowned and fearless Headmaster of Eton school, at the "George the Third was King," scenes the most interesting, and of frequent occurrence, took place.

The monarch, it is related, made frequent visits to the school, and good-naturedly humored the pedagogue in "magnifying his office," it being the boast of the latter (and no vain boast) that he taught the little boys of great men that they have superiors.

Sir Bartle Frere, in a biographical sketch of his uncle, the celebrated John Hookham Frere (who was an Eton boy at the time Canning, Mr.
Arthur Wellesley, and other lords of distinction were there), thus remarks in confirmation of the Headmaster's iron rule, in the important matter of governing his pupils, "It is quite as difficult," says Sir Bartle, "and as important, to teach the little boys of great men that they have superiors—indeed, to teach this to the great bankers' and squires' boys, as to the sons of the Duke of Wellington. Neither rank nor money had any consideration there compared with that which was paid to age, ability, and standing in the school." Sir Bartle has some interesting reminiscences of this period of his uncle's life. A "barring out" at the school was got up, when, rightly boys, among them Mr. Arthur Wellesley (afterwards the Duke of Wellington) were flung. When Arthur was commander-in-chief on the occasion, Sir Bartle does not say, but that he took a prominent part in the affair, and took his flinging characteristically, there cannot be much doubt.

A WELSH Calvinistic minister, well known in his days as "Sammy Breeze," was called upon to preach, amongst others, at one of those periodical gatherings popular amongst the Welsh, which are as it were, feasts or sermons—two, three, or even four preachers succeeding each other in the pulpit—perhaps in Welsh or English alternately.

The young man who immediately preceded Sammy had taken as his text, "He that believeth not shall be damned," but "begged pardon" of his audience for the strong language he was using.
Said he, "Brethren, I have read the same text—
'Brethren,' said he, in his honest Welsh-English, "Our young friend has been very faine to-night, and very polite. I am not very faine, and I am not polite, but I will preach a little bit of gospel to you, 'He that believeth not shall be damned,' and I beg no pardon."

Scottish and Irish Peersages.

The British constitution still requires an occasional revival and readjustment. Among the latest matters under consideration of the House of Lords was the position of the Scottish and Irish Peersages. It seems that in Scotland the Peers have to meet and elect 16 of their number to sit in the House of Lords for life. A special committee of the Lords had the whole subject of these Peersages under consideration, and its report was submitted shortly before prorogation. The London "Times" calls the report a "harmless document." The committee suggest that the number of the Scotch representative Peers shall be increased from 16 to 21; and that of the Irish representative peers from 28 to 32—alterations which would at once add nine members to the House of Lords, the greater number of whom might be expected to attend assiduously the debates and divisions of that chamber.

The committee further recommend that Irish and Scotch Peers should not be disabled from sitting in the House of Commons for any one situation in the United Kingdom. It was an obvious injustice to shut men at the same time out of both Houses, though the "Times" declares that the Scotch Peers would regard a seat in the House of Commons with indifference, if not with feelings of positive repulsion.

The anomaly of electing one batch of Peers for life and another for a few years is to be left untouched, as a knot for some gallant reformer of the future to cut.

The Scotch and Irish Peers seek for admission to the House of Lords. They regard their present position as politically an-nihil and socially cruel. They look upon themselves as having a right to sit hereditarily in the House of Lords. This right has never been acknowledged by Parliament nor is it likely to be. Kinnaird, Irishmen and Scotchmen are from time to time created Peers. It is not likely that the House of Lords can be more "reformed" till it is made in some way representative. [Colonist.]

If a lady with a red cloak were crossing a field in which was a goat, what event would probably take place? Why the goat would be but her, and the lady a scarlet runner.

Altar Cloths and Ritualism.

The London correspondent of the Manchester "Guardian" of a recent date writes:

"One of the mysteries connected with the slow and but sure advance of Ritualism in the Church of England during the last ten years, has been the easy fashion with which the altars have been decorated with choice cloths, conspicuous plate has been studded with rich jewels, and even the eucharistic vestments have been embroidered with gold and precious stones. As a rule this expenditure is attributed, perhaps not without justice, to the 'silly women' popularly supposed to be led captive by the priests; but I am informed that where local resources fail, there is now an organization at work to supply all these luxuries of ritual, and it has, it is stated, helped to introduce vestments in upwards of sixty churches, besides giving candlesticks, stoles, altar cloths, &c., at a cost of about £1,200.— In the face of the Public Worship Bill it needs scarcely be added that the 'Society of St. Al-phege,' as it is termed, is preparing for further action."

SPRUCED UP.—We do not know where this bit of good advice originated, but it is worthy of note:—

If you get a moment to spare spruce up; put the gate on its hinges; put a little paint on the picket fence you built last year; trim up your door yard; make it cozy and inviting.— Do not say you can find no time to attend to these little things. The fact is you have no right to be slovenly. It can do you no good but on the contrary it will mar your power around your self-respect and in your credit. Then, by all means, spruce up a little, at odd times, and at even times too, for that matter. It will make you feel vastly better, and may be, a trifle proud of your pretty homestead. Your wife and children will be made happier for it; your neighbors will be enriched and blessed by it; and your farm will be worth more money in the market, and of greater value to you at home, if you spruce up a little now and then.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHING BUSINESS.—A correspondent of the "North Star" writing from Fortune Bay, northern district of Newfoundland, gives some idea of the immense fishing business carried on around the Island of Newfoundland. Under date of June 29, the correspondent says there were 350 sail of square rigged vessels in St. Peter's Bay, beside 300 schooners—a fleet of 650 vessels—all waiting for bait to pursue their business, collapsing; and this is only one district of the Island.

A LADY went a few days ago to a dressmaker to inquire about the character of a servant. "What I wish most of all to know is, whether she is honest, and do errands well." As to her honesty, I can answer for that, but as to errands she did not satisfy me at all.— For instance, I sent her a dozen times to your house with a bill of fifty dollars, which you have been owing me these two years, and she never brought me back a single cent.

A Healthy Stagnation.

The following feasible and seasonable comments upon the present depression of trade, are copied from a United States exchange, and are worthy of serious consideration. The remarks will apply in some measure to our own Province:

Business men tell us there has not in years been such a depression in trade as the past three months have witnessed, and we suppose it is true. But so far from joining with those who lament this condition of things, we rather rejoice at it, and hail it as a good sign of return to a healthier way of doing business. The truth is, there has been more business done than could find an outlet in proper legitimate channels, there has been much overtrading, and there has been speculation which, with the extended credits that have been so freely given have proved to be a great temptation for launching out in all directions.

We are glad to know, as we do, that there is less of this kind of transaction than there was; and so, too, in the building of railroads not justified by the conditions of the country in which the earnings of the hard working farmer and laborer have been invested only to be totally lost, we do not regret, we rejoice, that such operations have come to a standstill. And with all this energy for the time being suddenly conserved, is it any wonder that every branch of industry feels it, that there is less travel by railway and steamship, less extravagance in living, less vulgar ostentation at our watering places? We Americans need this lesson. We were living too fast. We are living too fast to day. We think, as people, too much of money and too little of cultivation and development of a higher life. As a rule, the wealthy business man of today does not enjoy life. He takes it home; he sleeps with it; he thinks of it as he rides out; and when Sunday comes, he takes it with him to church and dreams of it in his bed during the morning.

We must have a change for all this. There are other panics yet to follow if we do not cease this crazy pursuit of money. We are glad to know that there is a healthy reaction from the wild and foolish and wicked manner in which so much of the business of the country has been conducted, and we trust will continue. Better that business should droop a little; better that steamers and ships should wait a little at the wharves, than that we may scrape the bottom off; better that man should have the opportunity of knowing his neighbor; better that he should know more and think more upon the country to which he is going.

THE POLICE OF LONDON.—In London during the year 1873, according to the report of the London Police Board, there was a marked decrease of crime, which is credited to the efficiency of the police force. This does not mean an increase of the force, the additions to which are not at all in proportion to the growth of the city, but to the fact that the members as a rule appear to grow more devoted to their duty. During the year out of a body of 9858 men on police duty, only 17 were charged with offences before a magistrate; only 12 of these were convicted; and only two had committed more than minor offences. Of the 47 there were 12 who had served less than two years, while few if any of the number had served over five years. The men selected for police duty are chosen wholly on account of their physical and moral fitness for it, political and other irrelevant considerations having nothing to do with the matter. Candidates are examined by Commissioners of such experience that they are rarely imposed upon. Once appointed, the policeman is sure of permanent employment during good behaviour, and comes to regard his work as a profession to which he gives his life. He is encouraged to faithfulness also by knowing that if incapacitated by injuries received in the performance of duty, or invalided by long service and old age, he will be retired upon a pension. Last year over 200 men were thus provided for.

LAYING OF THE FIRST RAIL.—One of the most important events in the history of Yarmouth occurred on Wednesday, says the Illustration, when the first Rail of the Western Counties Railway was laid, near Lewis's Wharf. The first spike was driven by G. B. Doane, Esq., President of the company. The rails on hand—500 tons—will be laid in a few days, and, when these are ballasted, we understand a further lot will be forthcoming. The Company have advertised for tenders for sections Nos. 4 and 5, extending from the Yarmouth Co. line to Meteghan, a distance of about 11 miles. This will be put under contract about the 1st of October, and it is expected that the trains will be running to Meteghan—a distance of 30 miles—during next summer.

The Standard.

SAINT ANDREWS, SEP. 9. 1874

Government Changes.
reconstructions, every private conference, and prospective appointment, if we take their word for it, are known to some of our contemporaries. And what makes it marvellous is, that supporters and opponents of the Government, whether Local or Dominion, appear to know what is said and done at each meeting of Council, what member intends to retire, and who is to succeed him. We always supposed that important changes in the personnel of any government, which were only contemplated, or perhaps hinted at during a conference of Council, could not be known, unless by consent of the Executive, but we must have been mistaken, or else the Government are not sworn to keep their own or the Queen's secrets.

The craving for news has become so prevalent, that something must be published, whether correct or not, and reports are frequently circulated one day, only to be contradicted the next. When an official organ makes an announcement it does so "by order," and the report can be relied on; but where condensers of telegraphic reports to the various journals, only reflect their own opinions; the information can scarcely be relied on, as they very frequently turn out incorrect. We have been led to this conclusion, from the fact, that within a few days, we have seen what were believed to be reliable reports, contradicted in an authoritative manner, a few hours after the reports were published. The Governments may well exclaim "save us from our friends, we know our enemies."

The overstocking of the English and United States markets with manufactured lumber, has caused a depression in business at present, but there appears to be a large amount of building going on, it is probable that should the export of lumber be curtailed, in a short time the large surplus unsold will be in demand. It is a common occurrence, that at certain periods business is dull, and that there are seasons of prosperity and depression, but everything comes right again. Business and trade cannot always be prosperous, and these changes teach a salutary lesson, which should be improved.

NEW ENTERPRISE.—Mr. Wm. Sharp, formerly a resident of St. Andrews, but for some years past a citizen of Portland, Maine, has secured a patent in the United States and Canada for canning smoked "Haddies," and has two factories in operation, one in Portland, and the other lately established at Deer Island, in the County of Charlotte. Mr. Sharp kindly sent us four cans, two of which we received. Upon trial of one of them, we found the "Finnish Haddies" to be equal if not superior to any we had before used; and some of our Scottish friends, recently from home, declare "Sharp's Haddies" are even better than those they used in the Land of Cakes. No one fond of good smoked fish, well cured and nicely put up, need want one now. Mr. Sharp is enlarging his business, as the demand at present is greater than the supply. We predict for him abundant success in his business. The patents were issued U. S. Sep. 30, 1873. Canada Mar. 26, 1874.

EPISCOPAL SYNOD.—Rev. Dr. Ketchum and Geo. D. Street, Esq., left here by train on Monday morning last, to attend the meeting of the Episcopal Synod at Montreal, this week. All the North American Dioceses will be represented. We understand that Dr. Ketchum's health requires not only a change of air, but a few weeks relaxation from his onerous duties, which he has performed for several years with so much acceptance. His pulpit will be supplied occasionally during his absence. We trust that he may return renewed in health and strength, in which hope his numerous parishioners and other friends heartily join. The Bishop of Litchfield, England, is to preach at the opening of the Synod in the Cathedral.

SHOWS.—During the past few weeks a number of Shows and Entertainments were held here by Americans, and two thirds of them were as great humbugs as ever exhibited anywhere. Their flaming placards worded in the most bombastic style, attracted people to their exhibitions, who were disappointed and disgusted—particularly at the deception openly practiced by those who advertised "Gift Entertainments—no humbug—every one received a gift," according to the number of their ticket. In one instance a few paltry gifts were given away when numbers were called out which had not been issued. In a hall that will not contain more than 800, the folly of calling No. 450, 520, or 630 is apparent, that people saw at once that the Yankee claptrap had deceived them.

We hope they will profit by the lesson at the expense of 25 cents.

ST. ANDREWS.—A SKETCH.—The Patriarch of the "Globe," and we might almost say the Grandfather of the Press in New Brunswick, paid St. Andrews an official M. M. visit last week, and viewed it apparently in all its aspects, commercially, politically, geographically, socially, and to borrow one of his own expressions, "lazily." It is to be regretted that his innocent remarks have been misunderstood by people here, who say they earn their bread and butter, and get it too, by the sweat of their brow. We fear the writer will not be the recipient of any gift from the gentler sex, who are rather severe and outspoken if we can judge their feelings by one fair correspondent's cleverly-written epistle, which we prefer to hold over for the present.

THE DUGGASH BRIDGE is still a great annoyance to travellers, who are compelled to travel nearly six miles out of their way between St. Andrews and St. George. We have several letters on the subject. It is time the bridge was repaired, whether a draw is placed in it or not. One of our correspondents states that a reliable man offered to repair the bridge and make it passable for teams several weeks ago for the small sum of $100.

The barn of Mrs. Parker was set on fire on Monday night last, about 12 o'clock. The blaze was seen by C. E. O. Hatheway, Esq., from his bed room, and hastily throwing on his clothes, he rushed in putting out the fire with a couple of buckets of water before it had made much progress. It will be seen that a reward of $100 is offered for such information as will lead to the conviction of the offender.

From a card and notice in the "Clinton Democrat," we observe that our young townsman, Dr. Harry Gove, has opened an office and commenced practice in the pleasantly situated town of Clinton, New Jersey. We wish him abundant success in his new home, where no doubt his talents and abilities will be rewarded.

Incendiary fires are becoming frequent in St. John, as well as elsewhere in the Province. What has got into the people; the times are dull enough without increasing their burdens by such villainous conduct.

PROPERTY SALE.—Mr. James Orr, has recently purchased the "Rayner place" which is commonly known by, at the junction of the St. John and Roxx Roads. He is finishing the house, which is to be kept for the entertainment of travellers.

RAIN commenced falling last evening and continued for a few hours, thoroughly drenching the grain which was lying in swath.

On our first page is published a list of the Premiums to be awarded by the C. C. Agricultural Society at its Fair to be held on the 30th October next. Also the regulations for the Ploeghing Match and Fair. It will be noticed that inducements are offered for a better class of stock than has usually been exhibited.

The Hon. Mr. Mitchell was presented a few days ago by his constituents in Northumberland, with an address, a handsome solid silver Epergne, and a gold watch and chain; the whole cost $2,600.

BALLOU'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE for OCTOBER.—The best number we have seen for many days is Balloou's Magazine for October. Its engravings are reasonable, the stories of the most interesting kind, the poetry better than the average, and all things considered we must regard the Magazine as the best in the country when we consider the price. The October number has some thirty articles, all of them good, and not one of them indifferent. "After the Season," "The Auk," "Ireland and the Irish," "The Enchanted Wood," "A Common Home," "Haunted," or "Florence Livingston's Oath," "The Smiling, Silent Lover," (Humorous Pictures) For sale at all the periodical stores in the country. Published by Thomas & Talbot, 36 Broadfield St. Boston.

The Microscope as a Criminal Detective.

The annals of criminal jurisprudence furnish an abundance of cases in which the microscope, in the hands of an expert has been the means of eliciting missing links in the circumstantial evidence pointing to the guilt of the accused. Instances are cited where the instrument has shown hairs, clinging to the edge of an axe, to be those of a human being, in direct contradiction of the statement of the prisoner, ascribing them to some animal; and similar scrutiny of fresh blood upon clothing has proved the origin of the stain beyond a reasonable doubt.

When blood, however, has once become dry, several authorities assert that it is impossible to distinguish it from that of the ox, pig, sheep, horse, or goat. It is urged that the differences between the average sizes of their corpuscles are too irregular to measure accurately, and that a man's life should not be put in question on the uncertain calculation of a blood corpuscle's ratio of contraction in drying. In opposition to these views are some recent experiments, made by Dr. Joseph D. Richardson, of Philadelphia. This investigation dispenses of the first objection above mentioned by pointing out that, while it may be valid as regards feebly magnified blood disks, it becomes void when these bodies are amplified 3,700 times. Regarding the second, he stamps it as incorrect, and cites a case in which seven human blood disks, whose mean diameter had been accurately determined at 1-3238 of an inch, were subsequently computed to average 1-3266, or only 1-352292 of an inch less than their actual magnitude. Dr. Richardson also points out, with reference to the last objection, that, all the blood disks likely to be mistaken for those of man being normally smaller, instead of contracting they would have to expand to become conformed to those of human blood. This expansion does not occur, so that the only possible mistake in diagnosis would be to suppose that ox blood were present when man's blood had actually been shed; so that at the worst we might contribute to a criminal's escape, but never to the punishment of an innocent person.

In order to afford a positive demonstration of the facts, Dr. Richardson obtained, from each of two friends, three specimens of blood coats, from the veins of a man, an ox, and a sheep respectively, selected without his knowledge, and by microscopic examination alone, he was able to determine, with perfect accuracy, the origin of each sample. The corpuscles of human blood averaged 1-3439, with a maximum of 1-3174 and a minimum of 1-3636, of an inch; those of the ox blood gave a mean measurement of 1-4662, with a maximum of 1-4347 and a minimum of 1-1874; while those of the sheep's blood afforded a mean of 1-5952, with a maximum of 1-5405 and a minimum of 1-6451 of an inch.

From these and other experiments, Dr. Richardson concludes that, since the red blood globules of the pig, ox, red deer, cat, horse, sheep and goat "are all so much smaller than even the ordinary minimum size of the human red disk, as computed in my investigations, we are now able, by the aid of high powers of the microscope and under favorable circumstances, positively to distinguish stains produced by human blood from those caused by the blood of any one of the animals just enumerated; and this even after a lapse of five years (at least) from the date of their primary production."

SUMMARY.

LEAF AND FLOWER IMPRESSIONS.—On a piece of white paper on one side; hold the side that is oiled over a lamp or pine knot smoke till quite black; place the leaf on the black surface, as the veins and fibres of the leaves show plainly on the under part; now press it on all parts of the leaf with the fingers; then take up the leaf and put the black oiled side on the page of a book (made for leaf impressions) with an extra piece of nice paper on the top to prevent smutting the opposite page; press it a few moments; then remove the green leaf, and the impression will be left on the page as beautiful as an engraving. Flowers of single corolla can be pressed in like manner. Many of the geranium leaves make beautiful impressions. The impression book can be made still more interesting by giving botanical classifications each leaf and flower.

DEATH OF ALEXANDER ROBERTSON, Esq. We record today the rather sudden death of Alex. Robertson, Esq., long known to our citizens as a much respected merchant and also the efficient incumbent of several public offices. Mr. Robertson was a native of Huntly, Aberdeenshire, and was only in his 67th year. He leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends.—[Telegraph, 7th.

POWDER.—The "Head Quarters" publishes the following startling item:—"We are informed that a quantity of gunpowder is stored in one of the cellars under the Training and Model Schools, and that a young lad is frequently sent to remove it as required. While the doors are open the children of the school have access to the place, and may at any time be the innocent cause of a serious disaster. This is not a suitable place for the storage of powder, and the persons granting permission to use it as such, should heed this timely warning."

YELLOW FEVER prevails to a fearful extent on vessels arriving at Baltimore from Havana, and a late despatch relates the terrible experience of the brig "H. E. Wheeler," "Castalia," and other vessels.

The War Department is active in its preparations to carry out the President's instructions in regard to the employment of troops to maintain order in the South. The destination of the troops is to be left to the Department Commander. The President is said to be much in earnest in the employment of the military arm of the Government for this work.

One of the latest innovations of fashion at Saratoga is the wearing of bows of ribbon upon most of all toilettes. The new shade of gambrine or Turkish red is much used for them, as also a deep mauve blue, verging on a purple. It is quite en vogue to wear a bow of ribbon upon the top of each sleeve, one at the base of the ruff at the back of the neck, while ribbon of the same color, about two inches wide, is passed around the waist in the place of a sash, and hangs in long loops and ends at the left side. With black and white costumes the effect is pretty.

The sailors saw a comet and were somewhat surprised and alarmed at the appearance. The hands met and appointed a committee to wait upon the commander and ask his opinion of it. They approached him and said: "We want to ask your opinion, your honor." "Well my boys, what is it about?" "We want to inquire about the thing up there." "Now before I answer you let me know what you think of it." "Well, your honor, we have talked it all over, and we think it is a star sprung aleak!"

The Empress of Austria is said to be the handsomest princess and one of the handsomest women in Europe. This depends a great deal on taste and love of the beautiful.

Prospectus for 1874—Seventh Year. The Aldine, AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY JOURNAL, UNIVERSALLY ADMITTED TO BE THE HANDSOMEST PERIODICAL IN THE WORLD, A REPRESENTATIVE AND CHAMPION OF AMERICAN TASTE.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Altho' each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos besides!

THE ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view of the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art. The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward. The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions all of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874. Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thos. Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artists scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appear exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial over the signature of Mr. Moran himself.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873. Messrs. JAMES SUTTON & Co. Gentlemen,—I am delighted with the proofs in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful reproductions by mechanical process of the original paintings. Very respectfully, THOS. MORAN.

TERMS. $5 per annum in advance, with 100 Chromos free. For 50 CENTS EXTRA, the chromos will be sent mounted, varnished and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscription must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in case where the certificate is given, bearing the semi-similar signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

CANVASSERS WANTED. Any person wishing to act permanently as a local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to JAMES SUTTON & Co., Publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York.

REMOVAL. H. O'NEIL & SONS respectfully inform their friends generally, that in consequence of their late Market having been destroyed by fire, they have removed for the present to the building adjoining the store of Messrs. Robinson & Glenn, where they will be happy to supply the wants of their numerous customers, and beg to return thanks for the patronage heretofore received, and trust by efforts to please, to merit a continuance of their custom.

H. O'NEIL & SONS, St. Andrews, Aug. 20, 1874.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of Vinegar Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion by inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Biliary Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use VINEGAR BITTERS as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form. E. H. McDONALD & CO., Druggists and General Agents, San Francisco, California, and cor. Washington and Charlton Sts., New York. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands ascribe to VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Disinnes, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mucous Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofula, &c., &c. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Discharges of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Painting and Mineral, and in Plumber, Type-setting, Gold-beating, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Scabs, Pimples, Pus-tules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Cold Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scour, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, burrowing in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no cathartics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible. Jaundice.—In all cases of jaundice, rest assured that your liver is not doing its work. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use VINEGAR BITTERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
