

"Save the surface and you save all" Paint & Varnish

YOU PAY

If you buy an inferior paint you pay twice, once when you buy the paint, and again when you are obliged either to repaint or to suffer the loss of deterioration in your house.

If your paint blisters, scales off, cracks or checks, you pay twice.

If your varnish or floor finish turns white, "blooms," is brittle, if it shows heel marks and scratches white, you pay twice.

If your paint turns dark and muddy, you pay twice.

If your shingle stain does not have a creosote base, and the shingles consequently soon warp and the roof leaks, you pay twice.

TWICE!

REFUSE TO DO IT!

Insist upon having for your house or barn a paint with a long and honorable history. Buy B-H paints. Use common sense and be safe! They are sold here.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that gleams with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall, loosen and die; the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from irregularities of the blood, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it. Mrs. A. W. Binz, Black River Falls, Wis."

It is just such experiences as this of Mrs. Binz that has made this far one root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Every woman who suffers from indigestion, constipation, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

OVER $1,500,000 WILL BE SPENT

On the Roads and Bridges in New Brunswick This Year.

Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, announced today that the programme of work already outlined by his department for this year involved an expenditure of over one and a half million dollars and this, he said, would provide a great deal of labor for the period of transition from back to peace conditions.

During the past several weeks, the minister said, he had awarded twelve contracts for permanent bridges and five returned soldiers have been appointed as inspectors on this work. He outlined the proposed expenditures of his department of this year under the following headings:

Permanent and ordinary bridges—$1,000,000.

Permanent roads—$400,000.

Ordinary roads—$150,000.

This does not include the road tax.

(By Leased Wire to The Transcript) Fredericton, N. B., April 26.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, will go to Ottawa next week to consult with A. W. Campbell, federal commissioner for provincial aid for permanent roads, with reference to the policy to be pursued in the construction of permanent roads in New Brunswick.

DALHOUSIE

Dalhousie, April 30.—A very enjoyable Whist Party and Sale of Baskets was held in the Convent Hall on Tuesday evening, which gave the sum of $90 to the Hall Building Fund. The affair was organized by the Misses Yvonne and Lucienne Samson who were assisted by their mother, Mrs. E. R. Gaudet. Cards were played at 27 tables. The prize winners were as follows: Ladies 1st prize: Mrs. J. W. Cooke; 2nd, Miss Smith; 3rd, Mrs. Wm. Elzinger; 4th, Miss Farrell. Consolation prize, Mrs. C. Blanchard. Gentlemen's 1st prize, Charles Lee, Campbellton; 2nd, Louger Landry; 3rd, Jos. L. Blane; 4th, Joseph Elzinger. Consolation, George Elzinger. Further Drives began on Monday on the main Rd. River by The Richards Lumber Co., and on the South Branch, by S. S. Harrison.

M. John A. Harrison, Dundee who was so ill is now convalescent.

James Wright, Shannon Vale, was in town today. His daughter Frances, who is in poor health is spending sometime in Cambridge, U. S. with her mother. They are guests of Mrs. Wm. L. Carleton, Mr. Wright's daughter.

Miss Cooke and Miss Devereaux, Jacquet River, came to Dalhousie on Tuesday, to attend the Whist Party, and are the guests of Miss Cooke's aunt Mrs. J. W. Cooke.

Mrs. C. H. LaBelle left for Moncton, N. B., on Monday's Limited to spend a few days with Mrs. Fred B. Knight.

Ex Alderman Bryan Miller and Mrs. Miller were recent visitors to Dalhousie.

POOR ROADS YET

Early this week Mr. H. J. Currie, accompanied by Commissioner Henry McIntyre and the editor of the Graphic proceeded by auto, down river towards Dalhousie to ascertain the condition of the roads. These were found to be very wet, and in some places a considerable quantity of snow still covers them. It will be at least May 10th before they are fit for traffic by automobile. This is considerably later than last year as on the 28th of April 1918, Mr. Currie had no difficulty in running his car through to Dalhousie. The pieces of road built by Mr. McIntyre last year were found to be in excellent condition, and demonstrates that properly graded roads can stand the winter and be fit for traffic as soon as the snow leaves.

PAYS IT WAY.

A newspaper is in no sense a child of charity. It earns twice over every dollar it receives, and it is second to no enterprise in contributing to the upbuilding of a community. Its patrons reap far more benefits from its pages than its publishers, and in calling for the support of the community in which it is published, it asks for no more than in all fairness belongs to it, though generally it receives less.

TRANSPORTING CANADA'S

her component had been forwarded, only 13 minutes passing between the departure of the train. It is at this point in the record that the first prominent mention is made of the large amount of military baggage to be handled. On the same date the Caronia docked at 8.10 p.m. She carried 3364 passengers and 9 specials were despatched in 4 hours. On April 9 the Megantic arrived in the harbour with 1179 soldier passengers and 280 civilians, a total of 1579. The Megantic did not dock at once and the disembarking of troops was carried on by tender, necessarily a slow, laborious process, but three soldier and one civilian special had been despatched in two and three-quarter hours. On the day following, the Lapland docked at 5.30 in the evening with 1974 passengers, and in a little more than three hours later, 4 specials were despatched. Eight days later, April 18th, the Carmania docked at 7.25 p.m., with 2600 troops. Six specials were despatched in a little more than 6 hours. There is also note in the records in the case of the ship about the quantity of baggage to be handled. Two days later, April 20th the Adriatic arrived at 6.25 p.m., with 1841 passengers. Four hours after the time of docking 4 special trains had been despatched.

Then on April 21 the Olympic was back again. She docked at 11.30 a.m. and carried 5572 military passengers and 300 civilians, a total of 5872. Eleven special trains were despatched within seven hours and a half, and a civilian special was also sent forward carrying about 200 passengers. There was an unusually large amount of baggage to be handled, but this is regarded as one of the best troop movements since the first of the year.

On April 25, the Belgic, with 3320 soldiers and troops aboard, came in today ahead of schedule. Six hundred of these passengers were dispersed from Halifax, but the remainder were moved out over C. N. R. rails in seven special trains.

The handling of these 45000 troops and civilians by special train movement is regarded as a Canadian railway record, generally a highly satisfactory performance, but it reflects special credit upon the staff of the old Government lines which now the Maritime Provinces, not only Canadian National Railways. The railway service is keenly responsive to the great obligation of handling such large bodies of troops and civilians by rail. There is also a desire on the part of the trainmen to facilitate the movement of the troops with all possible speed, and the men in the operating departments especially as carrying, and will continue to carry, heavy responsibilities until the last troop ship and the last body of Canadian troops have been cleared from the ocean ports.

Dalhousie.

Dalhousie, April 29.—With the return of shipping the early preparations being made about our four saw mills, the arrival in our midst of a great many laboring men; the arrangements being made at the Inch Arran Hotel, for a greater number of tourists than usual, the opening of new stores and the improvements being made to several of our business establishments, all anticipate a very busy summer in the shiretown. It is also stated that our town rulers intend taking advantage of the housing problem presented by our government, and that Dalhousie will ask for $50,000, to be advanced to those who desire to build their homes.

The local government has a splendid scheme for wounded soldiers who desire to go on the land, but who, owing to wounds may not be able to work a large farm and would be satisfied with working 16 or 20 acres as a truck farm. The Local Government will purchase this land for them either 16 or 20 acres, in close proximity to a market such as Dalhousie or Campbellton, and if a returned soldier meets the requirements as to qualifications laid down by the Soldiers Settlement Board, this Board will advance him the money to build a house, purchase a horse and a cow, gardening implements, and give him the same terms of a payment as is done in G.D.R. cases, that is that the money is loaned at 5% interest, the principle payable in yearly instalments covering a period of 20 years.

The people of Restigouche County will be interested in the report of the ceremony that was held in the Central Baptist Church, St. John, N. B., on Sunday, before a very large company of young men, who were given a tour of inspection in some of the late Lieut. E. Chester Dean, who spent many summers in Dalhousie, and was killed in action on St. John's Day, 1918, killed in action while holding important advanced positions, September 25, 1918.

"Greater love hath no man than that that a man lay down his life for his friends." This was the theme of the last post was given, followed by the benediction and the national anthem.

Rev. D. J. McPherson preached eloquently on this occasion. Referring to the dead soldier he said "Lieut. Dean, was not carried away by the glamour of adventure. He knew what his mission to his country, cause involved. Quoting from 'In Flanders Fields' Mr. McPherson said: "We are the dead. Short days ago we lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, loved and were loved; and now we lie, in Flanders Fields."

MR. JUSTICE CROCKETT

RE PROHIBITION LAW

Letter From Rev. Thomas Marshall, To the Editor of the Globe:

Sir—In ordinary cases it is not desirable to bring into public controversy the judgments of a judge of the Supreme Court, but this case is not ordinary.

In at least two judgments (according to newspaper reports) the one ex parte Totten, the other ex parte Totten, Judge Crockett went one ex parte Lindsey, the other the Legislature and the administrators of the law.

In these judgments it appears to me that it is the province of the Legislature to make laws and the duty of the judge to interpret them as so made. It is not true that upon the bench the judge's personal opinions should have no place, and as between the Legislature and the judge, the judge has no more right to reflect upon the Legislature than they upon the judge, and when he undertakes to do the dignity that should hedge a judge is broken down. The Legislature of New Brunswick is fully as competent as Judge Crockett to determine what laws are for the public good.

The following are some of the judicial expressions he is reported to have used in describing the law:

1. "Enacted ostensibly for the promotion of the virtue of temperance I can conceive of no law which is more surely calculated to produce the serious crime of perjury."

2. "I cannot refrain from characterizing these sections as the most extraordinary statutory provisions which have ever been brought to my attention."

3. "Absurd and unbecomingly."

4. "This extraordinary legislation."

5. "A provision which is so manifestly repugnant to all personal ideas of liberty and the free principles of the British law."

6. "The whole tenor of the act is to reverse one of the fundamental principles of the British law."

7. "However shocking to one sense of justice, the law is there and must be recognized until the Legislature see fit to repeal it."

8. "My view is that when a statute creates an offense out of what was never before a crime, it is either religiously sinful or morally wrong."

9. "So utterly subversive of all principles of British justice and Christian ethics, I cannot refrain from expressing my regret that such a provision has found its way into the pages of the Statute Law of New Brunswick. There being fortunately I think for the good of Canada no other law which countenances or warrants such proceedings."

The above quotations find a place along with other slighting references in the judgments of Judge Crockett and the spirit of them runs through both the published judgments.

A person with such strong opinions so bitterly and repeatedly expressed would not be deemed competent as one of twelve jurors to decide upon questions so referred to, and one might naturally ask if such be the law disqualifying jurors, is the judge with such convictions fitted to give a judicial decision upon the law believed by him to be so unfair, un-British and un-Christian?

The judge must surely have slain by the role of judge and assumed that of humorist when he presents the following hypothetical case which is given in his own words:

"For instance, Section 21 of the act provides that no liquor procured by a physician under the act shall be consumed or drunk by any person other than the sick person for whom it has been prescribed. That is to say, that if any person even for the purpose of reviving him or her from a sudden prostration from heart weakness or otherwise, should swallow even so much as a teaspoonful of brandy or other stimulant which may be intoxicating, and which has been prescribed by a physician for any other person even though a member of the same family such person is guilty of an offence."

I can hardly conceive of any one believing that to be fair or just interpretation of the law, or a fair summary of the section, or that any reasonable judge would so interpret it and such expressions from the bench will not strengthen the legal reputation of the judge or promote respect for his decision.

The judge seems to consider it a wicked thing that in certain cases the right of appeal is taken away from the decision of a single judge. But if a single decision of his own should be wise and right in his eyes who should what is right for himself be deemed by him to be wrong for others?

He appears to overlook the fact that however erroneous his own judgment may have been in the latter of the cases, however unfair or unjust it may be deemed to be, he is advised, in this case, that if we had the right to appeal Judge Crockett's judgment would not stand in law.

In Ontario under the Prohibition Act, a single judge reversed a magistrate's decision, but an appeal to the Superior Court that body of judges reversed the single judge's decision and restored that of the magistrate. In the Superior Court, N. B., at its last session one of Judge Crockett's own decisions was reversed by it—several times over. Judge Crockett's decision is not always infallible.

It is not, however, with his interpretation of law we are just now concerned, but with his so-called facts. For instance, the judge says the law makes a crime of what was never before recognized as religiously sinful or morally wrong, and also he says, "there being fortunately I think for the good name of Canada no other law which countenances or warrants such proceedings."

In making these assertions he surely must have overlooked the fact that every province of the Dominion has a prohibition law, some of them embodying the very principles he so rashly condemns and which he says "were never before enacted."

The very facts, he says, "were never before enacted" and "un-British" are in some of these acts and existed prior to the New Brunswick law. The special section carried out by the judge is taken bodily from the Manitoba act and is also in the acts of other provinces. These acts also take away the right of appeal, which seems in the New Brunswick act to be such a sore point with Judge Crockett and constitutes a special sin in his eyes.

A judge who undertakes so generally and indiscriminately and wholeheartedly to condemn the New Brunswick act would do well to make sure that he is not making a mistake of fact and law. A careful study of Canadian prohibition laws and of the prohibition laws of the United States and also of other countries might possibly lead the judge to revise both his facts and opinions, if not also his law.

It is now too late even for a judge to raise the personal liberty cry; that is only for thoughtless, short-sighted people to do. Nearly all law is in restraint of personal liberty, and it is so intended, for the greater public good. Even the judge himself, in his somewhat brief and stormy political life, was guilty of aiding in passing law, interfering with personal liberty.

The slighting remarks in the judgment describing the sworn affidavit of the chief inspector will not be to the disadvantage of the inspector but those who know all the facts.

I was at the court on other business at the time Judge Ritchie gave the decision reversed by Judge Crockett. I sat alongside of the defendant and heard and saw what took place, and my personal knowledge leads me to support the inspector's affidavit and to differ from Judge Crockett's judgment and to believe in the justice of the judge's verdict.

The judge may be flattered by the fact that his strictures upon the law and its administrators have been telegraphed to outside papers and are being used in the propaganda against prohibition, yet that fact will not make his judgment any more correct.

This letter is published by order of the Council of the Temperance Alliance of the British law."

THOMAS MARSHALL, Vice-President of the Temperance Alliance of New Brunswick.

BIG VICTORY BOND INTEREST PAYMENT ON MAY DAY.

May Day will see $18,000,000 paid in interest to the holders of Victory Bonds issued in 1913. This will be by far the largest single interest payment ever made in Canada. Incidentally, it is only one of many for Canadians who draw over $70,000,000 in war bond interest this year.

The question arises, how much of this money will be saved? Will the over 1,000,000 holders of Victory Bonds in the Dominion become systematic savers, thus helping themselves and the country or will they discontinue saving?

A large portion of these $18,000,000 should be invested in War Savings Bonds, which are Government bonds and just as secure as Victory Bonds are. Victory Bonds started hundreds of thousands of people saving, who should continue the practice, which is made easy through War Savings and Thrift stamps.

Irrigation as a source of wealth

FEW agricultural districts have grown to prosperity more quickly and founded more substantially than the country tributary to Letbridge, in Southern Alberta. During the last summer, a prominent official of the Dominion Government at Ottawa, who had been making an extensive tour of Western Canada, remarked that here were the most prosperous agricultural communities he had seen during the whole of his trip. Now this remark is relative. All over Western Canada there are very prosperous districts, where modern homes, spacious barns, well filled granaries, good sized herds of livestock and many other signs reflect the welfare of their owners, reason may be given in one word—irrigation.

Driving into one of these districts from the east, one cannot help but be immediately impressed. The more compact settlement, the deep green fields of alfalfa, in which hogs, sheep or cattle are pastured, the substantial farm buildings, mostly surrounded by trees, the well fenced farms, all these are evidence of a prosperity which is being built up on sound lines. A measure of the fast development of the whole of the territory east of Letbridge is the village of Coalville, for this village has grown with the district. But a very short time ago a railway siding only, Coalville is now a thriving community. It has a lumber yard, hardware business, general stores, hay market, elevator facilities, bank and other businesses. The community is also served by one of the best and most up-to-date consolidated schools in the West.

Probably no other community in Canada has more settlers who have purchased lands at the high average price which has been paid by those who have settled among the hills and valleys of the West. The Coalville community during the last two years has received more settlers than any other community in the States, particularly from Washington, Idaho and California. An illustration will serve to show the value placed by them on the land in this territory. A settler who purchased a farm four miles west of Coalville at $12 an acre, recently sold it for $100 an acre. This was without any improvements except a timber mill.

But the property could not be bought from its purchaser new for less than $150 an acre and he had even heard to remark he would not care to sell at that price.

The number of tenant farmers throughout the Letbridge district who are purchasing irrigated land at similar prices is a good illustration of its productive value. Men who have farmed land here for a year or two on a rental basis are purchasing it now at ninety and a hundred dollars an acre. Instances of such rapid increase in value are not infrequently heard of. Wherever at that time the land was being sold, it was becoming numerous and the increase in value was being made with the most money out of their crops to be able to purchase the land on which they were grown. This is probably one of the most striking facts in connection with the development of the whole of the irrigable area of Southern Alberta. From like conditions like results may be expected. And this is being accomplished at Letbridge, and in other parts of the province.

As for the demand for land, it is being met. The fact that rents have doubled many times during the last few years that people have been buying land at $10 an acre, and that the irrigated land was being sold at $10 an acre as much as $10 an acre was sold in 1913, will show the rapid development of the country and the value placed by them on the land in this territory.

The district has been favored by the arrival and settlement there of a large number of settlers of high average intelligence. Most of them have had experience with irrigation in other parts of the world, and are able to make comparisons with other districts. The course of opinion of these men is that the facilities for irrigation in Southern Alberta equal or are superior to those by which they have been accustomed. A farmer who came from one of the irrigated districts in Idaho early this season was at first somewhat discouraged with conditions in Alberta. But business matters requiring his return to Idaho later in the season he had an opportunity to compare conditions and upon his return he had a new opinion. "Conditions in Alberta are ever so much better," he said.

These facts about the Letbridge district are interesting because they reflect the enormous possibilities of the other irrigable areas of Southern Alberta. From like conditions like results may be expected. And this is being accomplished at Letbridge, and in other parts of the province.

"Conditions in Alberta are ever so much better," he said.

These facts about the Letbridge district are interesting because they reflect the enormous possibilities of the other irrigable areas of Southern Alberta. From like conditions like results may be expected. And this is being accomplished at Letbridge, and in other parts of the province.

As for the demand for land, it is being met. The fact that rents have doubled many times during the last few years that people have been buying land at $10 an acre, and that the irrigated land was being sold at $10 an acre as much as $10 an acre was sold in 1913, will show the rapid development of the country and the value placed by them on the land in this territory.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Purged Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to be bloated with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a small barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental depression, everything that is horrible as cascading. A Cascaret tonight will give your congested bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.
