FIRST OPEN AIR CONCERT BY W.M.S.

Immense Crowd Hear Overture C. cert

Not for years has there been such an immense audience as that which turned out last night to hear the first open air concert of the W. M. S. Band, and judging by the applause and the enthusiasm evinced the program certainly pleased to the fullest extent.

It was the first appearance in public of the new director of the band, Mr. C. F. Thiele, and while he has had the band in charge only a few weeks, he has worked out a program of music which is a credit to his ability and his thorough musicianship was plainly apparent in the rendition of the different numbers.

The program selected was one that could not help but please the most critical. The classics were featured and the overture, Morn, Noon and Night by Strauss, was given a most perfect rendition.

Perhaps the one number that stood out most prominently and the one which showed the musicians to better advantage was the Suite "Atlantis" comprising as it did four distinct movements it proved to be the best number heard in town for many years. Beautiful tone, perfect shading and clear execution made it a number that will be repeated. Of the soloists, Mr. F. Boffinger and Mr. Fred Crowther exc-

PALE AND WEAK DESPONDENT PEOPLE.

See Their Condition to Weak, Watery Blood—How to Regain Strength.

Every woman's health is peculiarly dependent upon the condition of her blood. Far too many women suffer with headaches, pains in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, palpitation of the heart, a constant feeling of weariness, shortness of breath, palor and nervousness. Of course all these symptoms may not be present in any particular case. They are merely a warning that the blood is out of order, and that it is thin and watery, and if you note any of these symptoms in your own case, you should lose no time in taking the proper steps to enrich and purify the blood. Anemia—poverty of the blood—is a most insidious disease and if allowed to run wild and in a complete breakdown of the system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are, beyond doubt, the greatest blood-making tonic offered the public to-day. For more than a quarter of a century they have been the standby of hundreds of thousands of people in all parts of the world. No other medicine has ever achieved such world-wide popularity, and the reason is that this medicine does what is claimed for it, enriches and purifies the blood, thus bringing new strength to every organ and every nerve in the body. In this way Dr. Williams' Pink Pills bring new health to weak, despondent people. Among the many who speak highly of this medicine is Mrs. Louis L. Larsh, Windsor, Ont., who says: "It would be impossible for me to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. Some years ago I was very thin and pale. I suffered many of the symptoms of anemia, and always felt tired, depressed and weak. I had tried several medicines, but they did not seem to help me. Then, noting on the advice of a friend, I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had used half a dozen boxes I was actually feeling like a new person and had gained nine pounds in weight. I continued taking the pills until I had taken a dozen boxes, and from that time I have always enjoyed the best of health. I freely write you this letter in the hope that some woman in need as I was will see it and be benefited as I have been."

Most of the troubles that afflict mankind are due to impoverished blood, and will promptly disappear if the blood is built up and renewed. If you are ailing, give this greatest of tonic medicines a fair trial and it will not disappoint you. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be procured through any dealer in medicines, or will be sent by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

excellent their respective numbers and getting away from the classics a little number that proved a winner was Sally Trumbone, it being well rendered and comical.

Every number was enthusiastically encores and heartily responded to. The crowd was large but it was a remarkably attentive one its attention being riveted on the director and his band.

Prof Thiele has won his way into the hearts of the music-loving public and his masterly handling of the band last night and his clear and precise way of interpreting the different numbers won favor from the immense crowd.

Good things are in store for the music lovers of the twin-city the coming season and the best in music is promised. Printed programs were distributed free of charge and proved of great convenience to the audience. The price of the concert next week will be held in the Park.

SUFFERED BROKEN ARM THIS MORNING

Mr. W. Moyer, of Young street, an employee of the Waterloo Mfg. Co. had the misfortune to break his left arm shortly after commencing work this morning. He is employed as a painter at the above plant and in some unfortunate way he slipped on the floor and in trying to save himself he put out his left arm with the result that he suffered a painful fracture. Medical aid was summoned and the arm was set. As a consequence he will be laid up for some time.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The bowling green has been put in first class shape and every evening the past week many members have been turning up getting in shape for the opening of the regular season.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Snyder and family motored to Ridley College, St. Catharines, yesterday, which was Field day at the College, for a visit to their son Stuart.

Mrs. P. J. Wright and Mrs. James Lockie were the hostesses of the regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Ladies Aid Society, in the school room of the church on Thursday afternoon, with a large number of the members and friends in attendance. The afternoon was devoted largely to quilting in preparation of the bazaar to be held at the West shortly.

The delegates from the Twin-City Chapters, Mrs. H. M. Snyder, Mrs. C. H. Mills and Miss L. M. Bruce, have spent a busy week in Montreal in attendance at the annual meeting of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, reports of which will be given later. Many delightful social functions have been given in honor of the delegates, thus combining business and pleasure in a very enjoyable manner.

TOURNAMENT ON JUNE 25TH

A meeting of the executive of the Preston Lawn Bowling Club was held and it was decided to hold a one-day tournament on the Preston greens on Wednesday, June 25th. Invitations will be sent to all the nearby bowling clubs to send rinks to compete in this event. Secretary Ballantine started to get busy on the tournament which proved to be the event of the season. The report of the Games Committee to the effect that they are anticipating starting a town bowling league was quite satisfactory and therefore the Games Committee will start organizing the league at once. The Merchants have already consented to enter two rinks in the competition, and rinks are expected to enter from the following shops: Preston Furniture Company, Preston Car & Coach Co., Pattinson Woollen Mills, Buffalo Sled Company, Metal Shingle and Siding Co., Hurlbut Shoe Company, Canadian Officers & School Furniture Co., and Solid Leather Shoe Company.

FOUR NEW "V" BOATS FOR CUNARD CARGO SERVICE

Cable advices from Liverpool just received in the New York office of the Cunard Line announce the acquisition of four new cargo steamers. Three of 9600 ton deadweight are to be called the VARDITIA, VASCONIA and VIRGILIA, and of 8500 ton deadweight has been named the VERBANIA.

DISAGREED OVER PIECE WORK

Men on Piece Work Quit Work Disagreement over wages following the introduction of the nine-hour day induced the piece workers at the Woolfite Shoe Company, Ltd., to quit work. The men are still out. This morning the following statement was submitted on their part: "The piece workers of the Woolfite Shoe Co. went on strike yesterday to enforce a 10 per cent. bonus for piece workers to make up for the 10-hr. pay. Their suggestion is for the piece worker to get out as much work in nine hours as ten and the time worker to get ten hours' pay for nine hours' work. "We have had several meetings asking for the 10 per cent. bonus for piece workers which they absolutely refused to give. When they saw that we were going to force the demand, they offered us 7 1/2 per cent. which the strikers will not give in to. They intend to be strikers until they get the offer of 10 per cent. Some of the day workers are out on strike with the piece workers. The whole workers of the factory will be out on strike by Monday next if they do not come to terms in the meantime.

Mr. W. E. Woolfite, of the Company, when queried by the Record this morning, had no statement to make other than the matter was not serious and that he expected an early adjustment.

Special Session of Legislature

IS URGED BY COL. MACHIN. OTTAWA, May 30.—Col. H.A. C. Machin, M.P.P. for Kenora, has wired from Ottawa to Premier Hearst, commending strongly the action of Sir Adam Beck in granting an eight-hour day to hydro-electric employees. Inasmuch as a federal jurisdiction, he "solemnly urges" the provincial premier "to call immediately a special session of the Legislative Assembly for the purpose of enacting the measures I urged you to adopt at the last session, namely, a 44-hour week, minimum wage and abolition of child labor."

Canal Workers are Now Satisfied

MEN IMPRESSED WITH SIR ADAM'S DESIRE TO BE FAIR NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 30.—Sir Adam Beck has presented a new schedule of wages to the men working on the Hydro Canal, and this schedule will be dealt with by the individual unions of trades concerned. In the schedule some trades are given an increase, but the most are not, among them laborers, whose pay is left at 40 cents an hour. There are 1,100 laborers employed on the Hydro and Welland Ship Canal men will get the same as the Hydro Canal men. A conciliation board will be asked for by both sides if any of the unions refuse to accept the awards. Labor leaders said to-night there was no danger of any further trouble, as the men were quite willing to take what a conciliation board gives them, provided they cannot arrive at an agreement without resorting to such a board. Labor men here are well impressed with Sir Adam's desire to be fair.

Tightens Her Skin—Loses Her Wrinkles

"I want to tell you how easily I got rid of my wrinkles," writes Louise. "While in London a friend, much envied because of her youthful looks, gave me a formula for a home-made preparation that effected the effect of instantly tightening the skin, thus smoothing out wrinkles and furrows. The principal ingredient is powdered sallote, which can be had at drug stores here. An ounce of sallote is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. After bathing my face in this but once the transformation was so marvelous I looked years younger. Even the deep crow's feet were affected, and the smothering creases about my neck. It seems difficult to believe anything could produce such results. Several to whom I recommended the recipe have been similarly helped, one an elderly lady whose cheeks had become quite bumpy."

FARM LOANS for SOLDIERS

Agricultural Training For Soldier Settlers

A SOLDIER is entitled to the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Act if he can satisfy the Agricultural Qualification Committee in his district that—

- He has performed the required military service;
- He is sincere in his intention to make farming his permanent occupation;
- He is physically capable and is fitted in general to make a success of the farming business.

If he is otherwise qualified, but has not had sufficient practical agricultural experience, the Committee may recommend that he be given agricultural training. A generous scale of allowances for soldiers in training has been adopted.

Training Centres For Soldier Settlers

The applicant who is recommended for instruction in agriculture may first be sent to a Training Centre, specially operated for the purpose, where he will learn, by practical experience, how to handle and feed horses and other live stock; milking; the operation of farm machinery, ploughing, etc.; general farm building work; farm blacksmithing; the different kinds of soil and rotation of crops; the selection and judging of live stock and the marketing of farm products. Short lectures on the business management of a farm will be given.

With A Selected Farmer

After the course at the Training Centre, the length of which depends on the progress of the individual but will not exceed three months, the man is placed with a carefully selected farmer in the district in which he intends to settle, to complete his training. During this period (not exceeding one year), the soldier is visited from time to time by representatives of the Soldier Settlement Board, who check his progress and recommend when he is considered qualified to take up a farm of his own.

It will be evident that by this system of preliminary training the soldier settler will gain a thorough practical knowledge of farming without expense; will learn to appreciate the responsibility involved in the venture, and at the same time gain a clear conception of just what farm life means.

On His Own Farm

When a settler is deemed qualified by the Agricultural Qualification Committee, the Board will assist him to become established on a farm of his own, and will, through its Agricultural Advisers, continue to co-operate with him in his work, thereby ensuring his success and consequent ability to discharge his obligations and become permanently established.

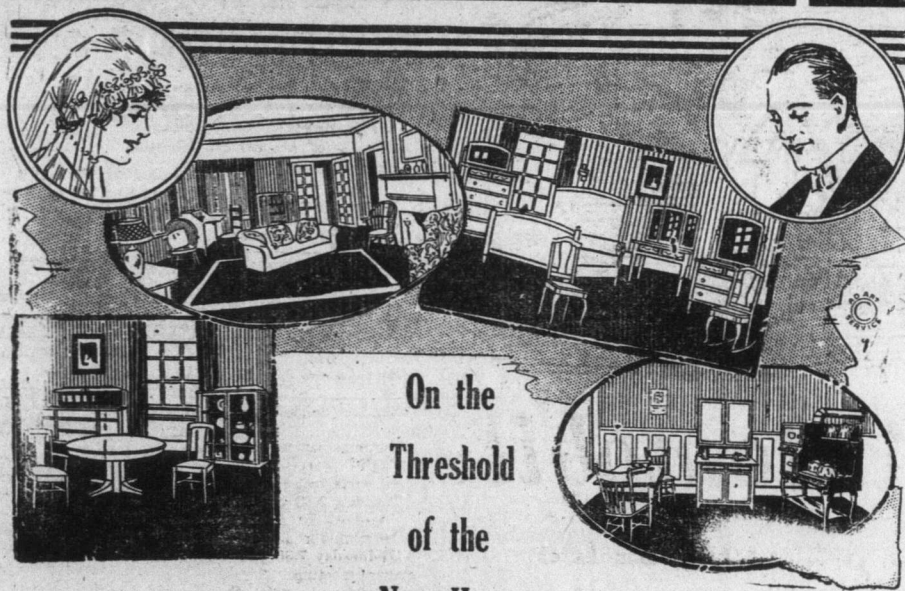

Fair To Both

The procedure outlined not only gives the soldier an opportunity of first becoming familiar with his environment and of acquiring the experience requisite to success, but ensures adding to the nation's fundamental industry only competent and satisfied producers.

Detailed information regarding the provisions of the Soldier Settlement Act and further particulars regarding agricultural training may be obtained from the Provincial Superintendent, 32 Adelaide Street East, Toronto, Ont.

JOHN C. HETHERINGTON LIVES LIFE IN COURAGES ACT IN MAIN

HINGHAM, Maine, May 29.—While attempting to rescue his three-year-old niece, Beatrice Hetherington, late yesterday afternoon, John C. Hetherington, of Guelph, Ont., recently discharged from the Canadian military service, was drowned in the Canaan stream in this town.

The little girl, with a five-year-old companion, Bertha Hall, were playing near the stream and the Hetherington girl fell over the bank, her playmate immediately calling for help. The child's mother heard the cries and with her brother-in-law ran to the stream. Hetherington, with hesitation, jumped into the stream, but being unable to swim, quickly sank. The child was floating on the water near the shore and the mother, securing a pole with a hook in the end of it, caught hold of the child's dress, carefully pulling her ashore. Lying on the child on the ground Mrs. Hetherington then returned to assist her brother-in-law, but he did not come to the surface. The body being taken from the water about three quarters of an hour later. Hetherington, who was employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway at Guelph and Guelph Junction before entering his country's service, was making his first visit to his brother's new home in the States since the latter's arrival here with his family from Guelph three years ago.

An inquest held this afternoon resulted in a verdict of death due to accidental drowning. Aside from his local relatives, Mr. Hetherington is survived by two sisters, Beatrice Hetherington, of Windsor, Ont., and Mrs. James R. Kildaire, of Galt, Ont. The little girl is recovering.

For the second time in two weeks Harry Grosques, Sydney, attempted suicide by cutting his throat.

C. F. Knight was appointed mechanical superintendent of the L.C.R. shops at Moncton.

A violent explosion caused by the dumping of slag into Muggan's Creek shook the whole of Sydney.

Economy

The difference in cost between an ordinary baking powder and the pure, strong, double-acting is trivial. It amounts to only a fraction of a cent on each cake you bake. Against this you risk your high-priced flour, butter, sugar, eggs and milk, and your reputation as a cook.

EGG-O Baking Powder

Spoiled bakings not only cost you money, but they waste food. With the heavy Government Standard flours in use to-day, the selection of a strong baking powder is absolutely necessary.

The double-acting strength of Egg-O is needed to make a baking of a light cake from a heavy flour. Try a can and watch your bakings improve. You can use sweet milk, sour milk, buttermilk or water with Egg-O—a different and better baking powder.

Two Great Inventions Exclusive to

The Brunswick
ALL PHONOGRAPHS IN ONE

MADE IN CANADA

It Had to Come!

The Brunswick just had to be. In every industry the law of evolution applies, and sooner or later perfection is attained. Just as we have seen the automobile perfected, in the last fifteen years, so those in the phonograph industry confidently watched for the "Final Phonograph."

And it has come. The "Final Phonograph" is the Brunswick—the instrument which plays all records CORRECTLY. The Brunswick unlocks for you the whole world of recorded music.

In addition to having all the good features of every other good phonograph, the Brunswick alone has these two supreme inventions:

- The "Tone"—an improved tone arm and reproducer which provides by a mere twist of the wrist, the exact VERBET the proper DIAPHRAGM, and Correct NEEDLE for every make of record.
- The all wood oval tone amplifier—built like a violin. This tone chamber, oval-shaped, made from choice woods, and absolutely free from any kind of metal, eliminates all harsh metallic notes.

The Brunswick plays better, looks better, costs no more and gives you unlimited choice of records.

Let Your Ears Be the Judge

Hear it play your favorite record—any make.

COST OF LIVING PROBE

Notice of motion has been given by Sir Thomas White that he will introduce a motion for the appointment of a Committee of M.P.'s to inquire forthwith into the prices charged throughout Canada for foodstuffs, clothing, fuel and other necessities of life and into rentals in urban centers.

Broad powers of investigation are apparently to be given the parliamentary committee. It will have power to send for persons, papers and records, to examine witnesses under oath and to engage accountants.

The Committee will be asked to report to parliament from time to time the result of their inquiries. With a view to effecting reductions in unfair prices and rentals, where such are found to exist.

In the past, parliamentary committees and even commissions appointed to perform similar investigations, have not won public approval. They have been regarded as dilettantes who did not wish to harm anyone and whose findings were so long delayed in delivery that the sufferers had either recovered or expired.

The federal government in our opinion, made an error in removing that capable and conscientious investigator—W. J. O'Connor, K.C.—after he had discovered profiteering in bacon and taken steps to end it. The cost of living is such an intricate question and has so many ramifications that a capable man and staff are continuously needed on the job. As far as foodstuffs is concerned, we still believe that a limitation of profits, coupled with a regulation that would prevent stock watering, to be the best corrective for high prices.

The temper of the times is such that the proposed House Committee may act differently than any which has preceded it and zealously try to discharge the duties for which it is to be appointed.

Press dispatches did not say when nor where the Committee would begin its investigations. It will when it meets probably decide these points and whether it will first tackle any single food question.

There are fourteen members to be appointed to the Committee. They have been selected from the different provinces, so as to have all sections of Canada represented. Ontario members who are to be placed on the Committee appear to be: Mr. Hoeken of Toronto; Mr. W.D. Euler of North Waterloo; Mr. Nesbitt of North Oxford and Mr. McCog of Kent. It is as a whole a strong committee.

The task assigned it is one of the most vexed which any committee of members could undertake. The public demands immediate action and amelioration of conditions. To accomplish anything worth while the Committee will require to delve deeply into the matter and its recommendations be put into shape where they can before the end of the session be turned into law. The Department of Labor may have at its command reports which it can turn over to the Committee and thus expedite its work.

Complicated as the matter undoubtedly is, and short as the time at its disposal probably will be, the Committee may be able to do two things: Discover where the alleged profiteering exists and on the other hand establish that some high prices are due to uncontrollable causes. To do these things will be to perform a real service for Canada. They can only do it by hewing to the line.

TIME EXTENDED

Owing to only a small number of citizens having yet signed the Housing petition, and desiring to act fairly in the matter, the Finance Committee authorized the City Clerk to continue receiving signatures for at least two weeks longer.

It will be obvious to everyone that however anxious the City Council might be to adopt the Housing Act, it would not, were there only half a dozen applications, be justified in doing so.

Willing as they may be to proceed, they owe it to the ratepayers to pay safely. It therefore becomes the duty of those who need houses and can provide the stipulated minimum of 15 per cent in cash or land to sign or to have the firms which employ them to furnish the security named in the petition.

AIR LAW IS NOT ENTIRELY NEW

With the prospect that air travel is likely soon to become a thing of everyday life for everyday people, there has appeared in the newspapers on both sides of the Atlantic many articles and comments on the subject of law to regulate the goings and comings of the airman, and to protect the rights and safety of those mortals who are still obliged to keep to Mother Earth. Much of the comment has been of a humorous nature, with some of it serious in tone.

As a matter of fact the subject of air law received the attention of the courts in Britain more than a century ago. In the year 1845, as the records show, a farmer named Pickering sued a certain Mr. Judd for crossing his land in a balloon, and thereby—as he alleged—frightening his cattle. The judge was the famous Lord Esher, and he decided in favor of the defendant. There can, he said, be no trespass in passing over another man's land in a balloon.

Some years later a similar case came up in India, and the court gave a similar decision saying: "To interfere with the column of air superincumbent upon land is not a trespass."

The next case of importance was not heard until the year 1912. Maurice Farman was then proprietor of an aerodrome at Bou. France, and the farmers of the neighborhood combined to bring an action against him. They wished to prohibit him or any of his pilots from flying at a less height than 650 feet. The grounds of their complaint was the noise made by the engines which frightened their cattle, and did them damage. Other makers of aeroplanes allied themselves with Farman to fight the case, which was tried in June 1912 and was won by the airman.

BY THE WAY

Breaking out of Toronto last appears as easy as getting out of an old folks' home.

The heat wave is rushing the season but is just what the farmers needed to dry the land and the ice cream cone industry to put busy into business.

Japan has abolished the duty on imported wheat and barley. It has also reduced the tariff on flour 75 sen per bushel. One bushel is 33.33 pounds; 1 ton is 498 cents and 75 sen equals 37.35 cents. Canada grain growers will be interested.

EXTRACTS OF EXCHANGE

GUELPH'S RADIAL ROAD

Brantford Examiner—Guelph radial railway when it comes face to face with such a crisis as the demands of the men for immediate action in regard to more wages has a good opportunity for telling the people the truth about the road.

Fortunately for Guelph it has in its civic service at this time. Ald. Westoby a thoroughly informed financial man who can see that a dollar in revenue cannot balance an expenditure of a dollar and a half. He is presenting to Council now facts that should have been made known before. Guelph's radial road has had a habit of sending a cheque along to the treasurer of the city at intervals and ratepayers unmindful of the fact that they were paying a tidy sum out in sinking fund and interest have at times probably imagined that their radial road was in reality a graft from the original dollar tree.

The radial road must not be confused with the Guelph Junction line which is owned by the city, but operated by the C.P.R. This latter proposition is the one good proposition that Guelph possesses in the way of utilities, and it pays handsomely.

Any small city has a problem to run a street railway especially like that of Guelph, which has no outside connections. The Guelph road is paying now for serious errors of judgment in the past such as issuing twenty and thirty year debentures for cars and equipment that would not have a lifetime of much over ten or twelve years.

Guelph ratepayers should be thankful that they have at the local radial road this year an official who is not afraid to call a deficit a deficit. It will be interesting to watch what is done to meet the situation if the road is going to stand by itself on an almost fixed and limited revenue in these days of soaring costs.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD

There's bad in the best of us, every one knows,
And there's good in the worst of us, too I suppose;
And some of us, seem to be worse than the rest.
As though we were trying to strangle our best;
But most of us want to be decent and kind,
And leave a few people to mourn us behind.

Some of us steal and a lot of us lie
But none of us ever can tell you just why;
We know that it's wrong and we preach against shame
Yet vice gets a hold of us all, just the same;
But always, it seems, just to balance the sin,
We manage to squeeze a few kindnesses in.

A skeleton every old closet contains,
The ghost of some folly with each one remains,
And if you go prying and snooping about,
The life of a man you can soon dig it out.
But why seek the shame when you'd find it so
The traces of deeds that were kindly and good?

A life is a mixture, of good and of bad,
According, it seems, to the light it has had;
And never a mortal has lived through the years,
And what in his record some shining appears,
And few are the brothers so worthless and vile,
As to live here and die without being worth while.
—Edgar A. Guest.

SMILE OR TWO

Cause, for Worry,

"You look very worried old man," said Paddy to his pal.

"I was just wondering," said the stricken one "how I'd get my night-shirt over my wings when I'm dead."

"Arrah!" said Paddy "if I were you, I'd drop that idea altogether and think out a way of wearing your hat over your horns."—Exchange.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHODS

Suggestions given whereby insomnia can be safely and quickly cured.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved. Congestion of blood in the head must be removed. Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrozone?

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly.

Ferrozone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use. Absolutely safe is Ferrozone.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or the blues—use Ferrozone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and a tonic to the strong.

Sold in 50c boxes six for $2.50 at all dealers or direct from The Catarrh-ozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels. From this mass of left over waste, toxins and stomach-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a real hot glass of water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour gas' stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little but sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon, a tender, itching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or aftercare. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

Under- Currents

By The Duchess

"Oh, nll," says Griselda—she lifts her eyes to her now, and the new friend can see that large tears are swiftly rising in them—"such happiness is not for me. He would be perfectly furious if I even hinted at such a thing. No, I am doomed to stay here forever. The tears, here reach such a height that they roll heavily down her cheeks."

"But such tyranny is intolerable; it is not to be endured. Surely some one ought to interfere. There is your cousin, for example, Seaton Dysart. What is he thinking about, I should like to know? Bless me, I thought there was more in him than that. Now if he were to speak—"

"Oh, don't ask him," interrupts Griselda quickly.
"I was just as if I could ask him anything; he is kind, and you won't appeal to him, I shall Ah, here is the carriage. Now good-bye, my dear child, and keep up a good heart, and dream of coming oh—go, and happier days I store."

"Lady Riversdale," begins Griselda. She has a look as if it is a subtle to proceed, and Lady Riversdale, who has her foot on the step of the carriage turns back; the girl is so evidently embarrassed that the older woman, after a moment's survey of her, lays her hand upon her arm.

"Speak without fear of me," she says kindly.
"It is this," says Griselda, with a s t of desperation; horribly ash of herself when she gets these words out, and covers her face with her hands. "Oh, I know I should ask no favor of you, y are so kind—so kind," a little incoherently, "but poor Vera, she too is unhappy, she is miserable here—worse than I am, because she has—n't Tom—and I couldn't be happy if I left her behind me eatin her heart out."

Lady Riversdale reWards her silently fr a moment or two; t lovely mournful, tender face touches her as no face h s ever touche her before. Quite overcome by this last loving trait in the girl she has come to hate, she stoops forward and kisses her warmly.

"I am glad Tom has chosen you," she says; "and be happy—when you come to me, be sure that Vera shall come too."
At the very last she leans out of the window and kisses her large white well-shaped hand to the motionless girl on the avenue. "Good-bye, dear little prisoner. Believe I shall return to hear you and Vera away with me in triumph."
Her cheery words instill a ray of hope into Griselda's despondent mood. If only, this charming woman who has dropped down upon her like a very angel from heaven can work a miracle and set her and Vera free, life will be still worth living. Oh, to be rescued from this gloomy atmosphere, these prison walls that hold them!

CHAPTER I.

The end must justify the means. Going ba k to where Tom Peyton is diligently weeding Griselda takes him to task.

"Why didn't you tell me your sister was the sweetest woman on earth?" demands she in quite an aggrieved tone.
"Because she isn't," says Tom, striving valourously with a giant dock that has treacherously concealed itself beneath the spreading leaves of a magnificent dahlia; "you are that."

"Nonsense!" says Griselda; and then "Oh, Tom, what do you think she is going to do—at once?" "Sleep," says Peyton, with an air of conviction. "She always does it when she can, and I should say a twenty-mile drive in a close carriage was an excellent opportunity for a snooze. That's what makes her so stout. She—"

"Will you listen?" with a stamp of her pretty foot; "she is going to make an effort to induce Uncle Gregory to let Vera and me stay with her at The Friars! Only fancy if she succeeds! Wasn't it perfectly lovely of her to think of it?" "She's a brick," says Tom tersely but eloquently.

"A dozen of them all squeezed up together. Don't you think," suddenly, "that she's pretty, Tom?" "No, I don't," flatly.

"Well—or perhaps not strictly speaking handsome, but, to my mind, she has the happiest manner and the nicest smile I ever knew."

HAS NOTHING TO SAY, HOWEVER, DECLARES ATTITUDE UNCHANGED.

AMERONGEN, MAY 29.—Since the former German Emperor has been acquainted with the peace terms he has become even more invisible to the outside world. The only possibility of catching a glimpse of him is when he crosses a draw-bridge twice daily, going to and returning from his log-sawing in the garden of the castle, and there he is only within sight for about four seconds.

Replying to a repeated request for a declaration the former emperor sent the following words:

"Tell the Associated Press that my attitude is unchanged."

It is virtually impossible to learn anything regarding the former emperor's life or plans, as everybody in the castle is under strict orders to maintain silence.

Apparently there is no excitement among the members of his suite over the terms. The only portion interesting the imperial exile is the clause referring to himself.

There have been no extraordinary moves about the castle lately, the only visitor being Dr. Krage, who came from Berlin in connection with the liquidation of the personal estates of the Hohenzollerns in Berlin.

If You Have Wondered
What the Returning
Soldiers Think About the French Girls, and How Marie Measures
Up With Gladys at Home, Here's a Glimpse of Real Opinion Right from the Men Most Concerned.

AN AWFUL FLIRT

By Hazel V. Carter

THE war isn't over yet—at least for the women. If you've been thinking to the contrary, just lamp this letter:

"Dear Teacher: Tell me what to do. My sweetheart, Billy, will have to spend Christmas in France among all those horrid, fascinating French girls. I'm worried sick! The Hun didn't get him—but I'm afraid the French girls will. Now, dear Teacher, are the French girls so much sweeter than the American girls? Just — FLOSSIE."

Well, my dear Flossie, you aren't the only one who is worried sick about the charms of the French girl.

Praying for Billy

Most of les femmes Americaines will have been lying awake at night ever since our boys went to France—praying that Billy wouldn't fall by the hand of the boche or fall for the charms of the French girl; that the winter in the trenches wouldn't be cold, but that the affection of the French girl would be 30 degrees below zero; and ending their prayer with, "Please God, make the war short and the French girl homely."

So, in answer to your letter and to the thousands of others from Ambitious Mamas, Loving Wives, and Just Flossies, I spent the day yesterday, X-raying the hearts of newly-returned soldiers, sailors and marines.

And I've brought you the real dope on Wee Wee Marie—just exactly as the doughboys dope her out. It's first-hand stuff from the Boys Who Have Just Come Back. I found them in New York—before they could invent ideas for you folks in Cloverdale, Missouri. I found shiploads of them, hospitals full of them and canteens crowded with them—bushful about ailing the hero-stuff, but chuckful of ideas about French girls.

I began my X-ray over at the Chateau-Thierry Club. The C.T. Club, you know, Flossie, is a place where reporters, feature writers and sub-sisters hang out to get an interview with the heroes of Chateau-Thierry who, now and then, succeed in gathering in a mouthful of cocoa between attacks of wild-eyed women, who shout "Now-tell-me-where-you-were-wounded-and-every-single-thing-that-happened-to-you-since-the-war-began!"

"Well, the poor Chateau-Thierry 'vets' had been under fire for some time when I arrived and they were just recovering from the talking-machine guns.

After the Real Dope

"You can see if the dear boys care to be disturbed," the woman in charge told me. "You know they like to have a few moments of quiet and rest to talk over with one another their narrow escapes on the battlefields."

I tiptoed over to a group of them who were trying to make themselves heard above a player-piano. I hoped to hear how the speaker, who was on crutches, got his war cross.

"Believe me, it was a wild night," he was saying, "I never saw so many of them in my life—at one time."

"Huns?" I hissed.

"Dames," he said, "French girls."

"Were they pretty?" I asked.

"Some of them," he said. "And, golly, how they do doll up! A French girl can make a franc go farther than an American girl can send a dollar, when it comes to glad rags. But as for likin' 'em—I wouldn't give one American girl for a hundred French."

"Get that, Flossie!"

"Too much paint and powder to suit me," slippers," said Ed. "But shucks, you can see 'em just as well and sweller on Fifth avenue any day in the week."

"I sure do like the way American girls walk," said George Ahearn, Ed. Hawkins's companion. "It was a relief to see the Red Cross nurses swing into Bordeaux, after watching the French girls Mary-Pickford-it-along."

Here's another angle.

"American girls don't stick you for your last cent, like the French girls," said Jack Robinson, up at Pier 30, where the big ships land.

Then Jack told me how one day he went into a shop in Amiens to get a cigarette holder.

"Four francs," said the girl behind the counter.

"I can get the same thing in America for a jittney."

The French girl didn't get him, but she smiled. French girls have a "kinda cute" smile, Flossie, Jack says. When she saw that Jack parted with the four francs sorrowfully, she smiled again.

"Oh, the très riche Americaines," she said, and turned around and sold the same holder to a French chasseur for a franc.

Jack'll be glad to get back to Chicago, where a taxi, flowers, the show and a dinner party is all the girls expect.

"They talk too much," said a wounded marine at Greenhut Hospital. "I was in a hospital in Paris. A French nurse passed by and asked me something. I didn't know what she said, but I smiled and said, 'Oh, fine, thanks.' Every day she said the same thing and so did I.

"One day my American nurse told me the French girl was waiting for me to take a walk."

"A walk?" I said.

"Yes," said the nurse, "she says she has asked you each day to take a walk with her when you are well enough, and you say 'fine.'"

"Well, we went walking and that French nurse talked so

"YOU CAN SEE EM
ON FIFTH AVENUE
ANY DAY IN THE WEEK"

growled a lieutenant, who was waiting for me to go and for the "wild night" story to proceed. "They're too friendly on short notice."

"Well, I don't know," said a young private with his arm in a sling. He pulled out a postal-card picture of a girl. "How's that for looks?"

She was mostly hat, Flossie, I couldn't see what her face was like.

"But say," he went on, "I've got a girl down in Arkansas that's got her back off the globe for looks."

I went up to a Fifth Avenue canteen where I found a bunch of bluejackets putting away griddle cakes and telling—"of narrow escapes on the battlefields."

"Some ankles," one of the bluejackets was saying as I approached.

Now hark to the story of Mimi, as I gathered it from the next table:

When Ed Hawkins of the Northern Pacific hit Brest, he was put on police patrol. He was standing on one of the cobblestone streets of Old Brest, when he heard a frightful noise behind him.

Right on French Soil

"It sounded like an army of German cavalry," he said. "I grabbed my gun and swung around—and Mol-ee Hoses! If it wasn't a whole herd of French girls coming clattering down the cobblestones on wooden shoes the size of a good-sized submarine chaser."

Now it seems that in Brest, just opposite the postoffice, is Mimi's Cafe. Mimi wore wooden shoes, too. She liked American lads, and the American lads liked—well, Flossie, I think they liked the red wine that Mimi poured for 10 cents a quart. Anyway, they didn't like her wooden shoes, not at all. So when Mimi discovered what was wrong, she sent to Paris for French-heeled slippers.

"Some swell ankles, too, Mimi had, in them

SOUNDED LIKE AN ARMY OF GERMAN

much she gave me a headache. But search me what she said."

When you start the wounded soldiers at the Greenhut Hospital talking about girls—you've started something whether it's French girls, English, American or Honolulu. A whole ward begins to shout at once. I took what I could distinguish down in shorthand—and here's what I have:

"Aw, sure she is."

"She ain't either."

"Well, she's the next best on the globe after the American girl, but give me good old U. S. skirts every time."

Newspaper Feature Service, 1919.

"Too much perfume, black, snappy eyes, too excitable, little and some flirt."

"She's a same good sport and she sure was white to us fellows, but I'll be glad when I get back to Wharton, Texas."

"No bells hangin' on her for the vampire-stuff. By the way, is Theda Bara still playin' for movies?"

At the Grand Central Terminal I saw a soldier who looked lonesome—like he had a lot of conversation and no place to spend it.

I tackled him about the French girl.

A French Queen

"Oh, she's bully," he said. "You can't beat the French girl for looks. She's a queen. She's got starry eyes and a smile that makes the sunshine misty. Sweet? She's everything. Look here—"

He pulled out his card case. I saw his name—Hardy, wireless dispatcher. Then he pulled out a pack of photographs of girls—all of them—and shuffled them like a deck of cards.

"English, Belgian, Serbian," he reeled off—"Ah! Here you are—French. Look at her."

I looked. Flossie, dear, the photograph you sent me of yourself is prettier, by far. And by the way, Hardy, is an Englishman. So don't you worry, Flossie. Just be a good girl and do as your mother says. I think your Billy will be perfectly safe among all those French girls.

Just as an after thought—maybe they will induce the American girl to sign an armistice with the French girl. But there'll be a hair-pulling match at the Peace Table, if they do.

Why Cannibalism Isn't Always Cruel

ONLY an anthropologist could understand the mind of the little girl in the well known story of the lions and the martyrs. As ordinarily told, the tale has to do with a picture of several primitive Christians who were thrown to the lions in the persecution under Diocletian. "But," said the little girl, pointing to an animal apart from the others, "this poor lion has no Christian."

If the little girl in the story had been mature her exclamation might have denoted a depraved mind.

In exactly the same way, a little boy who ties a can to a dog's tail is not necessarily cruel. A profound insight into the structure of the nervous system is required for an appreciation of the agony suffered by a dog who races in panic inspired by any such impediment.

Now the savage is in the child state. This point, often made by anthropologists, is not really grasped by the average person. That accounts for the prejudice against the savage on account of his cannibalism. It is a tendency associated with many lovable traits. Missionaries of long experience have affirmed that they were most successful in preaching the gospel of love to the cannibal: "He is so teachable."

Prof. George Winter Mitchell of Queen's University, Canada, from whose work on anthropology these statements are quoted in Current Opinion, declares among many savages it is a religious duty or a mark of affection to eat a relative. In primitive days, just because man could eat man, our species survived while so many other species of animals have become extinct. In seasons of drought and famine, when other food could not be procured, man survived through privation by eating his own kind. Many species of the lower animals, which were too squeamish to imitate man in this respect, died of starvation.

"Cannibalism after all is not revolting a practice if it is recognized that its origin lay in sacrificing a human victim to the gods. Man began by giving his best to the gods. At first the king or priest was sacrificed, and as he was often thought to be deity incarnate he was eaten by the worshippers in the belief that by doing so they became permeated with the divine spirit. Later an animal, such as a bull, was substituted. Bulls came to be regarded as too expensive and a goat or pig was sacrificed.

"Man became more niggardly still and fashioned a piece of dough to represent the victim and finally they did not even take the trouble to fashion the dough in any image."

The two essentially savage characteristics, however, are modesty and chastity. A different idea prevails only because the civilized enjoy, as a rule, slight personal experience with savages. The savage is truthful because he is not sophisticated. He literally does not know how to lie. In the same way, children are spontaneously truthful. They learn to lie from their elders, who punish them for frankness. In every family there are circumstances which it is deemed wise to conceal from the neighbors. The child does not at first realize this. It is taught the need of discretion under pains and penalties. Incapable of making discriminations at an early age, the little one takes refuge in deceit. A child in a reformatory was known to boast openly of the wonderful lies told habitually by its parents. This was no sign of depravity. It was sheer ignorance. In exactly the same way, the savage, detected in lies, is invariably the victim of association with the civilized. Anthropologists of renown have testified from first-hand knowledge to the veracity of the savage.

It is the same with modesty. The savage goes naked just as a little child goes naked if permitted. Anthropology finds, says Prof. Mitchell, that modesty has nothing to do with dress at all. It is asserted by experienced missionaries as well as by eminent anthropologists that European women and children may travel among the Congo naked men without risking the slightest shock to their self-respect in the way of gesture or word. Not until the savage has been taught the ethical significance of clothing does immodesty as a civilized idea render him objectionably self-conscious.

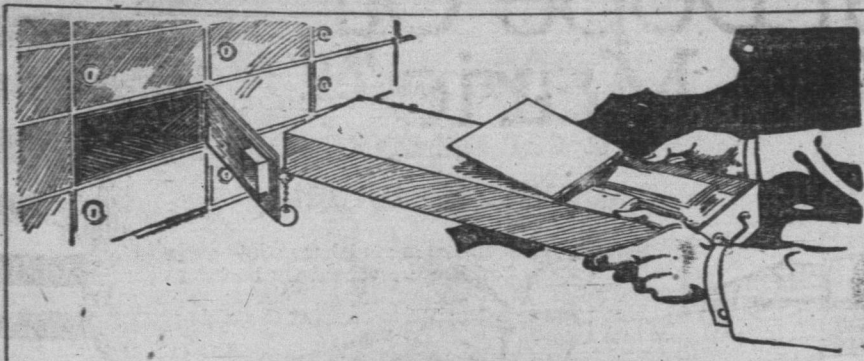

Again we will be told that savages lack intellectual power. This is the most persistent as well as the most egregious delusion of all. There are many men of intellectual power among the savages, men who rank as high mentally, perhaps, as Kant or Darwin. The fallacy upon which a contrary idea is based can readily be exploded. Take the African savage who can not count beyond four. He will readily exchange four skins for four tin cans. Give him eight tin cans and take eight of his skins and he is bewildered. The transaction must proceed by fives, since he cannot count beyond that number. Here we have no lack of mental power. The savage has no multiplication table, no arithmetic at all. Arithmetic has been handed down from generation to generation among the civilized until we forget that it is not natural. We count mechanically.

REX BEACH'S SUPER-THRILLER, THE CRIMSON GARDENIA. HERE Owen Moore and Hedda Nora Score in Powerful Roles of Author's Fascinating Mystery Story, Coming to Roma Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Typical of the virility, the humanity, and the appeal of all the former Rex Beach screen productions is his latest, "The Crimson Gardenia," a picturization of one of his widely-read works. Its delicate human touches, stirring suspense, carefully-wrought climax, unusual scenic beauty, and excellent all-star cast could only be the work of Rex Beach, peer of American novelists.

Following close on the unprecedented success of "The Brand" and Rex Beach's many others, "The Crimson Gardenia" promises to set a new mark in the hall of Goldwyn fame. It has every element of popular appeal, in appeal, in addition to exquisite touches of artistry such as only Rex Beach can achieve.

The story is of perhaps even greater appeal than the foregoing Rex Beach productions. Its locale is in quaint New Orleans at the most picturesque season of the year—The Mardi Gras. Dramatic values obtain from the opening. As the plot unfolds, and the mysteries of the underworld deepen, the suspense is heightened. "The Crimson Gardenia" is a drama that grips, thrills, holds.

An extraordinary cast, headed by Owen Moore and Hedda Nora, and including such players as Tully Marshall, Edwin Stevens and Sydney Ainsworth, portray with aplomb this drama of a civilization as old as the thirteen colonies, in which the author has combined the fierce passions of a semi-foreign race with the ideals of inherent Americans.

MADLAINE TRAVERSE COMING IN NEW PLAY

Local lovers of good motion pictures are to have the pleasure of seeing Madlaine Traverse, the beautiful William Fox star, in the near future. Miss Traverse will be at the Star Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in a play called "Gambling in Souls." This is a story in which a woman returns to a man the same kind of brutal treatment he had accorded her family. This man, a broker, gets Robert Dunning to invest his fortune in oil stocks that are worthless. Dunning, ruined, kills himself. Dunning's widow, Marcia (Miss Traverse) finally brings the broker to financial ruin, and to a point where his son faces a term in the penitentiary. But while Marcia is smiling over the success of her work she learns that her daughter has secretly married the broker's son. She is thus placed in a terrible position, but one that works out satisfactorily.

Miss Traverse, whose ability as an emotional actress is well known, is said to give a very fine portrayal in the character of the woman who is seeking human justice through human vengeance.

POLKA DOT," PET PIGGIE PLAYS WITH BILLIE RHODES IN "LAMB AND THE LION"

One of the scintillating luminaries in "The Lamb and the Lion," Billie Rhodes' latest picture for Exhibitors-Mutual release is "Polka Dot." "Polka Dot" is a diminutive and frisky pig, all spotted over with what looks like the black measles—hence his monicker. His comrade is unpretentious, except when he hits the bottle—that is the holy milk-bottle—but he registers strong in his scenes, especially where he is found in his mistress' bed by a burglar who expected to find something else. Star, Mon., Tues., Wed.

"OLIVER TWIST" ROLE FOR BILLIE RHODES
Petite Comedy-Drama Star Appears as "Boots," Child of the Underworld, in "The Lamb and the Lion."

"The Lamb and the Lion," Billie Rhodes' latest production released by Exhibitors-Mutual, is a sort of modernized "Oliver Twist" with a girl instead of a boy the center of a series of adventures which lead her through the mazes of the underworld of thieves into the environment of high society, and entangle her in the villainous schemes of an unscrupulous woman of fashion.

"Boots" was the heroine's name, while "The Lion," the master-thief who preys on society, was to her simply "Uncle Ben." "Boots" went with the gang, disguised as a boy, to take part in a midnight "job"—and was captured—and made the tool of a woman of fashion with a score to settle.

In high society "Boots" cut a figure as "Hope Kingston," a debutante of good family, until the crash came at her wedding.

There is the tang of adventure, the thrill of mystery and dramatic situations—and also some hilarious humor in this picture, which makes it entirely different from the ordinary photodrama. Not the least of the humor is supplied by a little pig which the burglar debauchee feeds with a baby-bottle and shocks the conventional society folk.

The production was made under the direction of Francis J. Granden, who has some notable successes to his credit, by the National Film Corporation. Star, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Sample Box Brings Great Results

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief

Chronic sufferers from Backache, Gravel, Stone in the Bladder or any other form of Kidney trouble are generally willing to try any remedy once. The excruciating pain caused by Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Inflammation of the Bladder or some other form of Kidney trouble, is so great, that persons afflicted are often driven to spending large sums of money in an endeavor to find relief at any cost.

This is proven by the testimony of hundreds of people who have written us letters stating "that having failed to find relief after years of trying, they turned to Gin Pills as a last resort—and a sample box of these pills soon convinced them that Gin Pills was the remedy they needed."

That is all we ask you to do. Try a box of Gin Pills at our expense, and if they fail to bring you the relief they have brought to hundreds of others with similar Kidney derangements, it costs you nothing.

Mrs. Dechene writes: "I received your sample box of Gin Pills, and they have done me a lot of good. I can congratulate myself on having them, and I will never be without them in my home."

This testimony from a woman who was skeptical about buying Gin Pills should convince you that a sample box is well worth writing for. Do it today. Address:

Darken Gray Hair, Look Young, Pretty

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value their own color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by adding at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

BIG FELT PLANT FOR HAMILTON

Will Employ 500 Hands and Expend $1,000,000.

It is an English Concern. The Hamilton Spectator of yesterday said: "One of the most important industrial acquisitions of recent years was announced by C.W. Kirkpatrick, commissioner of industries, this morning. Porritts & Spencer, Bur, England, the largest manufacturers of commercial felt in the old land, have decided upon Hamilton as Canadian and export headquarters. Felt is manufactured by the company are used largely for clothing paper-making machines and the directors of this mammoth company appreciating that Canada is the greatest pulp country in the world, looks for it to become the greatest paper manufacturing country. The name of the new company has not yet been decided upon. It will probably be the Canadian Porritts-Spencer company."

As an intimation of the magnitude of the new company, it will be incorporated at not less than $1,000,000, and immediate expenditures on construction and equipment will be from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Representatives of the big English concern who have been in the city for several days and in conference with Commissioner Kirkpatrick, have purchased the property on Lotridge street owned by the Canada Machinery corporation formerly the London Machine Tool company.

This embraces seven and a half acres and is considered the finest industrial site in Hamilton. The property commanded a high price and its sale was a cash transaction, another evidence of the solidarity of the English company. The site is bounded on the north by the main line of the Grand Trunk railway, on the south by the T.H. & B. industrial spur, and on Lotridge street, it has a frontage of 550 feet and a depth of 675 feet.

Hamilton plucked this new industry right from underneath the noses of Toronto, Montreal and other Canadian cities because it had the facilities the English company was looking for a live-wire industrial commissioner who "camped on the job" until negotiations were completed.

Several years ago Mr. Porritts president of the company came to Canada in search of a site for a Canadian branch. He returned to the old land without having heard of Hamilton. Two months ago William Spencer managing director, visited Canada having Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver in mind as possible locations. Hamilton was not being given consideration, and it was not until Commissioner Kirkpatrick was informed by J.A. Henderson of Bickle & Greening, local representatives of the Porritts-Spencer company that the company was on the lookout for an industrial location that Hamilton's advantages were brought to the attention of Mr. Spencer. The vice-president came to Hamilton and for two days Commissioner Kirkpatrick was with him, driving home the advantages of this industrial center. So impressed was Mr. Spencer with conditions here, it already being the center of the textile industry that he decided to seek no further. Returning to England Mr. Spencer prevailed upon the board of directors to locate in Hamilton, but difficulties were encountered in getting money out of England, because of the prevailing embargo. This obstacle was removed however when, a week ago, Lloyd George announced that preference under the colonies. John K. Spencer was the American representative, was enabled to close the property deal and make all necessary arrangements for the coming of the mammoth industry. The property deal was consummated yesterday.

William Spencer, vice-president will return to Hamilton in about five week's time. He will bring his family with him and make Hamilton his permanent home. The intention is to erect an administration building 80 feet by 75 feet, four story in height and a factory building 100 feet in width and 1000 feet in length. It will be of saw-tooth roof construction and as a hint of its magnitude if stretched out the length of the factory building would be more than three city blocks.

Besides manufacturing felt, the company will engage in the manufacture of woolen blankets and possibly other heavy woolsens. At the start 500 hands will be employed. It will be necessary to bring out several experts to train the employees, but as far as possible the help required will be secured right here in Hamilton.

Besides being the Canadian headquarters, it is the intention to use the Hamilton plant for the handling of the export trade. The company does an extensive export business care of the Hamilton plant.

Maxwell

—a car made of more brains than metal

SO much material and so much labor go into every car. And so many bookkeepers record the business done.

Have you ever stopped to consider the brain power that goes into a car?

Take the Maxwell, and note such men as these employed in its development:

1. The originator of quantity production in the automobile business and the master mind in the employment of machinery to produce quantity.
2. One of the two leading production men on the continent.
3. One of the two leading metallurgists on the continent.
4. One of the leading foundry engineers on the continent.
5. Probably the leading cost man on the continent.
6. A road testing engineer who has driven a car further than any living man.
7. An accountant who keeps a daily balance in a business that exceeds $50,000,000 a year.

These are but seven of more than thirty men of exceptional capacity who team together in the operation of the Maxwell business. The career of any one of these men furnishes a great human story.

The result is evident in the Maxwell of today—a car with a lineage of 300,000 before it. All designed and built on the original chassis program.

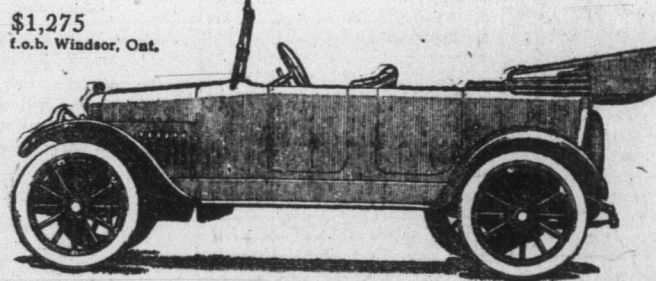

It is a car that grows better day by day.

Because more brains than metal are put into it.

IF YOU BUY OUT OF TOWN AND I BUY OUT OF TOWN WHAT WILL BECOME OF OUR TOWN?

"THE DOLLAR YOU SPEND IN KITCHENER WILL COME HOME TO BOOST."

The News Record "Buy-in-Kitchener" Campaign

Read with care the series of articles which the News Record is publishing in this department each week. They may present to your mind and heart something you have not thought of before. Patronize the people whose advertisements appear here. They are your friends and ours. They circulate the dollars you leave with them and are helping to build up our town and community.

THE MONEY YOU SPEND WITH THEM STAYS IN CIRCULATION IN KITCHENER.

WOMEN CONTROL TOWN'S DESTINY

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

It has been said that the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world and nowhere is this more literally true than in the world of trade. The woman is the purchasing agent of the household and man, as a rule, is very glad to have her handle the job.

It has been estimated by some students of the merchandising game that 80 per cent. of all retail buying is done by women. This may be a high estimate but a visit to the retail stores of any town or city is enough to convince one that the figures are not too high. The preponderance of women among the buyers is sufficient, at any rate, to make not only the retailer but the manufacturer and the wholesaler realize that it is the women that they must please with their merchandise.

Because they do by far the greater part of the buying in any community, the women have a responsibility that they do not always appreciate. The women of a town, through their buying power, can make or break the merchants of a town and as a natural consequence they can make or break the town. It is in their power to make it a prosperous town or a dead town. When the women of a town acquire the mail order habit, the town may just as well begin making arrangements for its own obsequies.

Hard to Understand

Just why a woman, who is a shopper by instinct and a shrewd judge of values in merchandise, should succumb to the lures of the mail order house it is difficult to understand but, unfortunately, some of them do. No one knows better than the woman who has had some experience in the buying of merchandise how difficult it is to distinguish between the genuine and the imitation even after a close inspection. The good shopper, when on buying bent, does not always take the first article that is offered for inspection. In fact this is the exception rather than the rule. The merchants know it and expect it. They expect a woman, if she is a good shopper, to "look around a little."

If a woman should walk into a retail store and purchase the first suit that she tried on, for instance, the shock probably would prove fatal to the storekeeper or the saleswoman. The chances are that she will try on a dozen suits and look at as many more before she selects one that suits her taste or pocketbook, and the storekeeper not only expects but wishes her to do this. He wishes her to be satisfied as he knows that a satisfied customer is the best advertisement that he can obtain.

Taking a Chance

This same woman, however, may order a suit from a mail order house on the strength of nothing more than a pretty picture and an alluring description. She has not even the opportunity to try it on, to say nothing of the chance of examining the fabric, noting the exact shade of the material and inspecting the workmanship. She is taking chances on the suit fitting her, on the material being good and durable, the shade shade becoming to her and the workmanship of such a character that the suit will not fall to pieces. The woman who takes such chances cannot be called a shrewd shopper.

It might be more easily understood why mere man, unaccustomed and averse, as a rule, to shopping excursions, should fall a victim to the catalogue habit. He might find it easier to order from the picture in the catalogue than to go to a store and look for the article that he wanted or he might take the position that he wouldn't know what he was getting anyway if he went to the store and he might as well take a chance on the mail order gamble, but why the woman who knows what she wants and knows that she is getting what she wants when she gets it should buy on the "sight unseen" plan—well, that's another question altogether.

Woman's Greatest Opportunity

Women are taking a more and more prominent part in public affairs all the time. They are aiding now in many parts of the country in running the affairs of state. Even where they do not have the ballot they are playing a big part, individually and through their organizations, in the conduct particularly of local governments, yet in the one field where they can do most to help build up their communities they may be overlooking their opportunity. With the buying power in their hands they can do more for their community by staunchly supporting their home business men than they can possibly do in any other way.

Man may think he is a very important element in the progress and development of his town but when he reflects that 80 per cent. of the buying power of the community is in the hands of the women he is apt to realize that he is a very insignificant atom.

*The Compliment Paid the Hot Spot Chalmers
by other Makers*

SO successful has been the public response to the Hot Spot feature of the Chalmers and so readily and consistently has this device made good that imitations are now beginning to appear on other cars.

"Yes, we too have a Hot Spot device on our car," is a comment to be heard daily in other motor establishments.

There are two vital weaknesses in the imitations. First, the Hot Spot is not efficient without the Ram's-horn. Second, the Ram's-horn is not a device that can be "fitted to" any motor. The motor must be designed to fit the Ram's-horn.

It is the proper co-ordination of all three—the Hot Spot, the Ram's-horn and the Cylinder block—that has made Chalmers one of the few great cars of the world.

It is always a compliment to be imitated. None greater can be paid. But you will be full of compliments for the present day Chalmers after you've turned the thousand-mile mark in one.

RURAL DISTRICTS OWN MOST CARS

One motor vehicle for every 17 persons is the boast of the United States, according to figures compiled by B.F. Goodrich Rubber Company. The average is based on the estimated population and the 1918 automobile and truck registration.

The most dense distribution of cars is in the middle western states, Iowa and Nebraska, being in the lead, each with an average of one car for every seven persons. Other middle west states having a record under one car, to every persons are: South Dakota, 9.15; Kansas, 10; North Dakota, 11.10; Michigan, 12, and Indiana, 13; and Wisconsin each with 13 persons to a car.

Altogether Illinois ranks in importance as a farming state with almost any mentioned above the factor of a big city pulls down the state's ratio to one in 17. Small towns, according to a recent national census have greater car registrations in proportion to population than the large cities.

New York and Pennsylvania, with their congested big city population and their lack of space for car driving have one out of 23 and 24 persons, respectively. The figures show that the most fertile field for the automobile and the salesman is in the rural districts and that the motor vehicle has practically become a necessity to the farmer.

Despite the fact that since 1916 the south, as a section, has shown the greatest increase in car ownership—a gain of 101 per cent, as compared with 46 per cent in New England and 66 in the mid-west—the southern states' ratio of cars to population is lower than that of any other section of the country. Mississippi and Alabama are last in the list of states with 50 and 52 respectively. Maryland and Florida rank first in the south with 18 and 20 persons to the car.

EASY WAY TO JOIN DRIVING CHAIN

The easiest chain to join the ends of a driving chain is to jack up the rear wheel and then engage the links at one end of the chain with the teeth of the countershaft sprocket. If the rear wheel is then turned until it is possible to engage the first link of the other end of the chain with that of the sprocket, the chain which brings the links to be joined together, and if the wheel is the turned back far enough so that both ends of the chain are held on the sprocket, it will be a simple matter, especially if a small centre punch is used, to line up the holes and insert the connecting pin, or bolt.

QUICK GETAWAY INJURIOUS

Do not think that you demonstrate skill or driving ability by making a quick getaway. You will have visible evidence of the inadvisability of this when you see your tire bill; but there is greater harm done, which you are not apt to see in the rear end and transmission of your car.

KEEP GASOLINE TANK CLEAN

Don't dip into the gasoline tank with a handful of cotton waste when you have something to lean. Cotton waste can cause more trouble with the carburetor than any amount of dirt. Incidentally, every precaution should be taken to keep the gasoline tank clean. Always strain the gasoline through a chamois filter and if you use a measuring stick be sure that it is always clean before it is inserted. See also that the surface around the tank is clean before removing the filter cap.

DEMOUNTABLE HEADS WITH VALVES

In engines having demountable heads and valves in the heads, the removal of valves is a matter of difficulty, unless one has found out just the proper trick. The head should be laid on the bench, right side up, the compressor slipped on, after which a wire should be fastened about the handle of the compressor and then beanchored to the leg of the bench or table. Next lift up on the handle; this presses the spring down, the lock may be removed from the stem very easily, and the job is done.

Chicago Has Pub. School on Motors

Windy City Offers Motorists and Would-be Motorists a Free Course.

Chicago now has a public school for the instruction of motorists. It is a part of the regular school system of the big city.

A car owner or member of his family who drives may enroll in the class, as if he feels moved to go back to student days for the purpose of initiating himself into the mysteries better driving or better understanding of an automobile. "Inwards," Mechanics chauffeurs and other professional automobile workers also are welcomed. The enterprise is under the direction of Edwin G. Conley, principal of the city continuation schools, who has the co-operation of a special committee of automobile manufacturers, dealers and garage owners representing about 150 Chicago firms and trade organizations.

The purpose of the school as announced is "to increase the efficiency of persons using or working with automobiles, whether mechanics, drivers or owners of cars, and members of their family authorized to operate car under the state laws."

The school is not operated as a service station or repair shop, but work is taken in on the instruction basis where it fits into the course being given.

CHILDHOOD CONNEXION

Constipated children can find prompt relief through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Gaspar Daigle, Demain, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of great benefit to my little boy, who was suffering from constipation and indigestion. They quickly relieved him and now he is in the best of health. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Engineer Smith was badly scalded when the Maritime Express was wrecked near Westchester, Colchester County.

John Densby, Halifax, was sentenced to twenty-three months for violating the N.S. Temperance Act and robbery.

P.E.I. Legislature propose an education tax to supplement the teachers' salaries.

CHILDREN NEED HELP

Spanking doesn't cure bed-wetting—the trouble is due to weakness of the internal organs. My successful home treatment will be found helpful. Send no money, but write me today. My treatment is equally successful for adults, troubled with urinary difficulties. MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 301 Windsor, Ont.

GRAY DORT

The Crowning Virtue

EXPERIENCED motorists determine a car's value by the service it renders. To them, this is the paramount virtue.

This is one of the qualities that constitute the crowning recommendation of the Gray-Dort car.

You want speed in the stretches, power for hills and poor roads, flexibility and easy pick-up for city driving—the Gray-Dort motor gives all these abundantly.

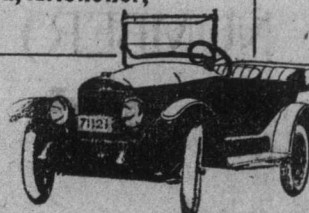

Comfort, of course—over any road. A roomy body, deep upholstery, long springs, insure it. In every phase of motor service that men value you'll find the Gray-Dort excels. And this service you get year after year—service far surpassing the price you pay.

The touring car is $1245; the Gray-Dort Special—the car with added refinements and extra equipment, is $1335 extra; there are also a coupe, and a sedan. All prices f.o.b. Chatham and are subject to change without notice.

Maxwell Has Added Beauty to A Dependable Chassis

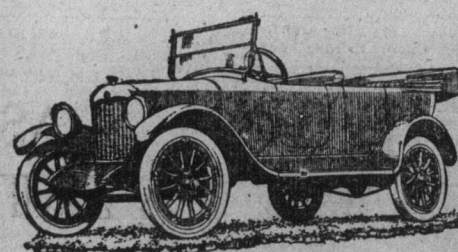

COME and take a look at Today's Maxwell. So vastly improved in appearance is it, so smart and distinctive are its advanced lines, that you may think it a new model.

But it isn't. It's just a better looking Maxwell—improved at twenty-four points.

And it's a better car. The chassis was designed five years ago. Designed right. 300,000 cars have been built on this original plan. But each has been a little better than its predecessor. Over 1000 refinements have been made since the first car was built.

Thus Today's Maxwell offers you what you have been looking for—a smart car, a dependable chassis, at a price that means heaping value.

Your time is our time. Let's demonstrate Today's Maxwell to you.

The Gay Letharic developed a big bump of community spirit over night, and now he is everywhere with her "letting his light so shine that men can see his good works" and talk about them.

The Gay Letharic's wife isn't dashing madly off to a lawyer. She has spent twenty years of her life with him, and she intends to spend the rest of it with him, widow, or no widow. "There is no perfect man," she says, "I would rather that Fred had some other fault, sitting in too long at a poker game, but you can't make a man over just because you marry him. Fred's bump of romance is overdeveloped, he can't seem to settle down, and remember that he is hell and cat, and married, and a grandfather."

mount picture "Peppy Polly" is coming to the Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday tells an entirely different story, at least, with regard to motion pictures.

She just had to get arrested in order to have people who are abusing girls in the Melville reformatory shown up in their true colors, but although she stole a coat from a pawnshop and ran down a hole block, no one paid any attention to her. Reluctantly she went back and ran down the street again, with no greater success than before, and so she marched back to put the coat away for the third time.

Just as she was putting it back the owner ran out and grabbed her by the arm. A policeman emerged from a doorway and ran to them. But instead of arresting Dorothy, he shoved the merchant back into the store and apologized to Dorothy for the way she had been treated. Dumbfounded, she went down the street looking for more trouble.

And finally had to break the show window of a jewelry store with a brick and take out two watches in order to attract enough attention to be put in jail.

But Dorothy says she doesn't think that would happen if she tried it in real life, for every time her speedometer shows half a mile over the limit there is sure to be a traffic officer in sight. Miss Gish is finely supported in this absorbing photoplay her leading man being Richard Barthelmess.

Harry Watson, of Woodstock, N.B., committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

J. J. BENSON, Manager,

FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE

The Bird of Omen

"H. Dorothy, look at this!" cried Miriam.

The two little girls were at Dorothy's house. Dorothy's aunt had given them a box of candy kisses, each kiss wrapped up in a bit of paper. Miriam was holding out the piece of paper which had come around her candy. Dorothy took it and read:

"Wealth and beauty you shall wed,
But beware of one with eyebow red!"

"Why, it's a fortune! I wonder if it's true!"

She searched for the wrapper she had thrown into the waste basket, and sure enough, there was writing on it.

"A gale shall blow, a bird alight
Upon the housetop in the night.
Then, then, beware! for fire will come
And burn you out of house and home!"—read Dorothy.

"Good gracious! I hope we won't have a fire!"

"What nonsense!" cried Miriam (but she noticed that Dorothy's eyebrows were red.)

"But if we did have a fire how dreadful it would be!" said Dorothy, looking very sober.

"Well, look out for the bird then," laughed Miriam. "You might put a scarecrow up on the roof."

"Supper time, girls!" called Dorothy's aunt.

Dorothy's father, mother and aunt and friend Miriam and Dorothy herself soon seated around the table, and such a merry party they were that the fortunes were forgotten for the time.

But after supper the girls went out in the garden for a race and Dorothy looked up at the house and saw a bird on the roof. For a minute she was quite breathless, then she thought: "Dear, dear! I hope that fortune isn't true!"

She looked at Miriam, but Miriam seemed to have forgotten the fortunes entirely. "And she'd miss me, if she thought I believed them," thought Dorothy.

When they went upstairs to bed, Dorothy was very quiet. She was thinking: "If there was a fire, and the house was burnt down, it would be my fault because I had a warning. She thought of her parents' distress at the loss of their home, and she thought of losing her little room and the piano in the parlor, and perhaps the canary would be burned up too! She couldn't go to sleep, so when all was still she crept out of bed and downstairs to the kitchen, where she found two pails. These she brought upstairs and filled with water and set near the attic steps. "It won't do any harm to be prepared," she said to herself.

"Why, it's a fortune! I wonder if it's true!"

She searched for the wrapper she had thrown into the waste basket, and sure enough, there was writing on it.

She looked at Miriam, but Miriam seemed to have forgotten the fortunes entirely. "And she'd miss me, if she thought I believed them," thought Dorothy.

peacefully, then she got up, put on her dressing gown, slipped out into the hall and lit a candle. Then very quietly she began creeping up the attic stairs.

There was a roof over the sleeping porch, and Dorothy thought she would climb out on it and see if the Bird of Omen were still on the housetop. She set her candle on a packing box near the window while she raised the sash and propped it open with a stick.

Soon she was out on the roof but she did not see any bird. As she stood looking up, a sudden flash of light made her look at the window she had just left. The curtain was all ablaze! The breeze had blown it into the candle! Dorothy stood still and began to scream: "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

In a moment she heard her father's voice calling. "Come to the attic!" she shouted.

Up came Father, rousing Mother and Miriam on his way, and falling over the water buckets! Dorothy had left on the stairs. The flames began to lick the woodwork around the window, but the fire was soon put out.

"What a good resolve, wasn't it? Because if she hadn't gone up in the attic with a candle, there wouldn't have been any fire, and if she hadn't put water buckets on the attic stairs Father wouldn't have fallen over them and gotten wet and cross. And it all came of being superstitious."

"But if it taught our Dot a lesson, it was worth the trouble," said Father, as he shivered off to bed. "No sensible person is superstitious."

"But what was I to do about red eyebrows?" asked Father.

So then Miriam told them all about her fortune.

"I'll never, never, never pay any attention to them again!" vowed Dorothy.

"But what were you doing on the roof, dear?" asked Mother.

"I feel as if I'm in a nightmare," said Father, rather crossly because he was very wet. "Please explain yourself, young lady."

"N-not exactly," confessed Dorothy, looking very much ashamed.

"I bet I know!" cried Miriam suddenly. "And you've got red eyebrows, Dot!"

"Why! This is extraordinary!" cried puzzled Mother.

"You see," explained Dorothy, "I went out to see if there was a bird there on the roof."

"A bird!" exclaimed Father. "When did you lose a bird?"

For answer Dorothy held out a crumpled bit of paper which she had pulled out of her dressing gown pocket.

"A gale shall blow, a bird alight
Upon the housetop in the night.
Then, then, beware! for fire will come
And burn you out of house and home," read Father.

"So that's it, is it? You were trying to save the house. But where was the gale?"

"It was blowing," said Dorothy meekly.

"Only a little breeze," replied her father, "but the fortune was right. There was a bird on the roof."

They all stared at him with big eyes.

"What is your full name, kiddie?" Father asked.

"Dorothy Crane," replied the little girl.

"There you see! There was a bird on the roof—a crane!"

Everybody laughed, even Dorothy, who then hugged everybody and said she was sorry she had been such a goose, which made them all laugh more than ever, and Mother said: "Well, there must have been two birds on the roof, then a crane and a goose."

"But what was I to do about red eyebrows?" asked Father.

TOYS AND USEFUL ARTICLES THAT A BOY CAN MAKE. BY FRANK I. SOLAR. INSTRUCTOR, DEPT. OF MANUAL TRAINING, PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF DETROIT

BOYS always like something that will go—that is, something that has motion, so it is quite likely that every boy will like to make this double windmill.

Kites are always popular at certain times of the year, but this toy does not depend upon the season to make it usable and interesting. It can be made and used at any time and with pleasure to the maker.

There is not a great deal to this little model. Not a great amount of stock will be necessary and most any kind of wood will do to make it from. Avoid knots, of course, as they are hard to work around.

Get out your stock first for the various pieces. It is immaterial which part you make first, but if there is any choice in the quality of the wood you have to work with, it will be well to use the best pieces for the vanes. Suppose we make these first. Reduce the two pieces to the overall dimensions then lay out carefully the parts that are to be removed. Please note that these two are not alike. One piece is just the opposite of the other.

Observe the drawing carefully as to this point. Before shaping, it will be well to lay out and bore the holes for the nail. Select the nail you wish to use, then bore the hole slightly larger than its diameter. The vanes are to revolve on this nail, as is evident from the drawing, hence it is necessary that there be not much friction. If the holes are too large, the vanes will not run accurately—they will wobble. Be careful in selecting the size of the hole you wish to bore. The next step will be to form the vanes. A good, sharp knife will be the best tool to use, and careful work is necessary. If the wood should happen to be a bit cross grained, difficulty will be experienced because of the tendency of the knife to follow the grain. Be sure to cut the wood—do not try to split it. Finish these two parts very carefully.

The part that rests on the upright support can next be made. Observe very carefully the drawing of this. You will see that at certain points on the drawing small spaces have been drawn and light lines run across them at an angle of 45 degrees. This shows the shape of the piece at these locations. It will be seen that the piece is round at one end. Part way back it becomes elliptical in shape, and at the other end it is rectangular. Cross grained wood will cause trouble with this piece also. Shape it very nearly complete with a good sharp knife and then finish with sandpaper.

The upright part can be almost any piece of wood, shaped or otherwise. No dimensions for it are given as its size will depend entirely upon the place you wish to place the windmill. It is evident that its use is to support the latter.

Washers should be placed between all movable parts to permit them to move more easily. The success of the windmill depends upon the ease with which it works. The particular feature of this toy is that one of the vanes revolves to the left while the other revolves to the right. Painting will add very much to the appearance. No painting scheme is given. That is left to the individual taste of the maker.

The Little Moose Tamer

DURING his short life of eleven years, in the wild Canadian lake country, Harry had heard often of moose, but had never encountered one of the big forest monarchs. He had seen several moose skins and the creature's great heavy branching horns, brought in their canoes by returning hunters, and from the stories told, the boy judged that a bull moose was one of the most fearsome of all the wild beasts of the "bush."

He knew that there was death in the fore hoofs of a plunging moose, if the animal gave battle, and that one sweep of its great horns could "down" any man or animal that dared to question its right of way. Only a bullet and a true aim could stop the charge of the ferocious creature. So when Harry first saw a live moose, recognizing it instantly, he tingled with excitement and alarm.

The boy was afloat in a bark canoe on the winding lake above an arm of which his father's little frontier farm was located. He was industriously putting into practice the lessons he had been given in paddling, trying to learn to steer, as his father did, by means of a deft twist of the ironwood blade as he dipped it into the water.

Tiring of this, he was returning homeward along the shore when he saw a half-grown moose step out of the dense brush and plunge into the water not more than a hundred yards away.

His evident intention was to swim across the "narrows," the lake at that point being less than half a mile wide. Having begun its task, it looked neither to right nor left, seemingly unconscious of the startled boy's existence.

Harry's first impulse was to put himself as far away from the creature as possible and with no loss of time. Then he reflected that the presence of the big game so near home ought to be made known at once. So he paddled rapidly toward the landing, calling out at the top of his voice in great excitement.

In a few minutes Mr. Brooke, his father, came running down, followed by Jim Casey, a neighbor who had been employed to help for a few days on the farm. Having procured ropes, the two men jumped into canoes, gave chase, and the wildly excited boy followed.

The swimming moose was overtaken and a rope, with a slip-knot in the end of it, was thrown, lasso-like, over its horns. Then the canoe of Casey, who had thrown the rope, sped through foamy spray behind the frightened and hurrying animal. The young moose changed its course and made for the nearest land, which happened to be the meadow of the farm.

When the bounding animal touched bottom and plunged up the bank the two men leaped from their canoes in water knee-deep and followed, each swinging on a rope, for by this time a second lasso had been thrown. After seeing that the three canoes were made fast, Harry snatched up a big stick and ran up the slope, shouting like mad. Thus they crossed the meadow with their prize, Jim Casey on the right, Mr. Brooke on the left, each swinging on a rope caught fast in the creature's branching horns, while little Harry urged it forward from behind with his stick.

If the moose plunged to right or left, charging upon one of its enemies, the man on the opposite side would throw his whole weight on the rope, and the weary animal would be checked. More than one frantic break for the woods was made, carrying the captors far out of their desired course; but the young moose had exhausted its best powers in the water and its struggles became less and less vigorous.

"Where would you like to put her?" panted Casey.

"In the stable—for the present," replied Mr. Brooke.

Harry ran forward, opened the door, returned to his former place behind the plunging moose, again employed his stick as a goad, and after a few moments of determined effort on the part of the men the great prize was caged.

The moose could have been shot in the lake and the body towed ashore. Either of the two men could have dropped it with a well-aimed bullet as soon as it had been frightened out of landing at a convenient point. But when the alarm was given the men came running without guns, armed with ropes only. The struggle to capture the animal alive was due to the fact that the game laws forbade the shooting of moose at that season.

"Now," said Casey to Harry, grinning and breathing hard, "you'll have to go to the bush every day and break that was required, and a dozen times a day he would go and look at the prize through the bars, talking to it in the most friendly manner. show stating that the management of this concern might purchase the moose if the boy cared to sell. Harry at first refused to part with his pet, but, urged by his anxious mother and advised by his father, he wrote in reply, asking for an offer. This came in due course, directing that the moose be delivered at a "get-at-able" point within easy reach of a railroad. The amount offered was larger than had been expected, and Harry decided to sell.

With the help of the boy's father and Jim Casey, the moose was transported over lakes on rafts and led over portage until the point agreed on was reached, and Harry parted from his pet.

Harry proudly told his moose story many times afterward, always ending with: "I certainly did want to keep her, but my mother was afraid for me, and, of course, it wasn't easy to turn down that much money."

INTERESTING RALLY

A Rally was given by the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides on Tuesday, May 27th, in Toronto to which Scouts and Guides came from all over the Dominion.

The march past took place at the University Stadium where thousands of Canada's young sons and daughters represented the various provinces.

During the afternoon proceedings, Mr. Baden-Powell, the deliverer of the Scout movement, presented a bronze life-saving medal to a Scout from the Scouts of the Mother of a Scout from Napanee, who lost his life last winter in rescuing some children who had broken through the ice.

Lady Baden-Powell presented the colors to the Scouts in a gracious manner and a tribute was paid to all the fallen heroes, while one of the Toronto bands played the hymn, "For all the Saints who from their labors rest."

At 7.45 in the evening the Girl Guides held their Rally in the spacious lawns at Casa Loma, the beautiful residence of Sir Henry and Lady Pellet who are Chief Commissioners for all Canada.

The Silver Cup was won this year by the 4th Beach Company with West on Company second. On Monday evening a dinner was given at the King Edward by the Dominion Council and Officers of the Girl Guides.

Miss Baden-Powell in full uniform of navy blue charmingly responded to the toast and expressed her pleasure in being with her sisters across the sea and her sisters across the border.

The chief scout from New York was present and also addressed the guests and officers. Among the guests were Miss Brethaupt and Mrs. Hughes, of Kitchener; also Miss M. H. Connor, of Waterloo; Captain of ten Guides of Waterloo district and her lieutenant.

A company of the Girl Guides is to be organized next week in Waterloo and any girl over eleven who is anxious for self-improvement and is anxious to do right may join presenting a written letter consent from her parents or guardians.

A company of "Brownies" is also to be started of girls under eleven. Any information will gladly be given by M. H. Connor, Waterloo, (cor. Pepper and Cedar Sts.).

Scout Master H. G. Appleby, of Kitchener, with representatives of the Kitchener Company, attended and took part in the Rally at the Stadium while Miss M. H. Connor, of Waterloo, with representatives of the Girl Guides, took part in the Rally for the Guides on Tuesday evening. The Guide Movement was founded by Miss Agnes Baden-Powell, sister of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, and is a purely womanly scheme for the purpose of making girls self-reliant and useful in the community. First Aid Swedish Drill Life-Saving, Swimming, Woodcraft, Camping, Embroidery, Knitting, gardening, etc., are the many subjects taught for which any girl who has passed the test can win badges.

A wonderful display of work done by our scouts at the Stadium and at Casa Loma for all guides was open to the public on Tuesday afternoon and evening. Many boy scouts and returned men were present at both rallies as well as Girl Guides with their officers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Clement and daughter, Florence, returned home on Wednesday from Hermosa Beach, California, where they spent the winter and the many friends of Mr. Clement will be pleased to hear that he returns much improved in health.

Miss Jackson and Mrs. Hayward who accompanied them to California are expected to arrive back in Kitchener over the week-end.

Mrs. E. H. Scully, 21 Schneider Ave., has as her guests for several weeks Mrs. J. P. Beck and daughter, Gladys, of Montreal, and Mrs. Huber and daughter, Florence Eva, of Toronto.

The Navy League Dance given in the Orpheum Hall on Tuesday evening, proved one of those delightful little functions that attracted the elite of the Twin City, who enjoyed to the full tripping the light fantastic.

Miss Lizzie-Maude Bruce is spending a short vacation with friends in Montreal.

Miss Alma Smith, Albert Street, was the hostess of the Girls' Club of St. John's Lutheran Church on Thursday evening when a few social hours were pleasantly spent followed by dainty refreshments.

OVERALLS TOO UGLY SO FARM-ERRETT BUYS BAKST'S CREATIONS

Vivian Martin Objected to Plain Garments in the Photo-play "Litt le Comrades". GENEVIEVE Rutherford, Hale was willing to do her duty for her county when it called for food producers in unlimited quantity, but she balked at the overalls that all her sister farmettes wore.

"I can serve my country without looking like a devastated Belgian landscape," said she. Whereupon she designed her own costume for farming purposes, and sent it to a fashionable modiste, who charged more for the making of it than she would have charged for a country dress.

When she created a sensation on the farm, when she appeared in her unique costumes. The farmer in charge had never seen the Russian ballet, or he would have recognized that the outfit was strictly according to ideas laid down by Bakst, a gentleman who prefers green, purple and red to any other colors in the world, and who mace costumes and scenery to prove it.

Genevieve is the character played by Vivian Martin, in her new Paramount picture, "Litt le Comrades," which will be shown at the Allen Theatre Fri. and Saturday.

She is at first scorned and jeered at by the more practical workers, but

BRIDGEPORT

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Humber family and friends gave a hearty reception and welcome home to their son, Driver Humber, who has just returned home from France. His Bridgeport friends are pleased to see him back after two years of active service for King and country.

Mr. Humber stated the voyage was a very pleasant one and was made in four days.

Mr. Geo. Philip is a very busy man at present getting things in shape and more attractions will be added to the amusements.

Mr. Oswald has purchased a parcel of land from Mr. Henry Schmidt and intends to build in the near future. Bring your friends to Bridgeport and enjoy the Midway. Big attractions in Riverside Park.

"You Will Try the Nerve Food, Won't You?"

"YOU seem to think that it would help me."

"I don't think anything about it, I know it would."

"And how do you know?"

"From personal experience. Isn't that the surest way to know anything?"

"I guess you are right. But you know I never had any use for medicines."

"Not many people have so long as they are well, and you were always well until you had this nervous breakdown. That was just the trouble, you thought you could stand anything, and overworked until you had not an ounce of nerve force left. Now you have to build up the nervous system again."

"Oh, I will soon be all right."

"Yes, I think you will if you use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, but you know you have not improved one bit in the last three weeks, and it's time you got something to help you. I was not a nurse for nothing. I know what you need and I never found anything in all my nursing experience that would build up exhausted nerves so thoroughly as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

"Well, I suppose I may as well give in, for I see you will have your way."

"Oh, I am so glad. I am going to send Bobbie to the drug store for half a dozen boxes right away."

"Why not try one first?"

"What is one box of medicine for a man whose nerves are in the condition yours are? This Nerve Food is not a miracle worker. It cures in Nature's way by gradually building up the depleted nerve cells. This is why the results are so certain and so lasting, but you must have a little patience."

"Oh, all right. You are the doctor. So we shall see what this Nerve Food will do for me."

CHARLES RAY HAS UNUSUAL ROLE IN "THE SHERIFF'S SON"

Cleaver Paramount Star Shown As Man Struggling Against Fear

Charles Ray gives an astonishingly clever characterization in his new Paramount picture "The Sheriff's Son" when he portrays a young man, who has inherited a great fear from his mother, and has to fight hard to get the better of his weakness.

When the story opens the boy's father is badly hurt in a fight with cattle thieves in New Mexico. The boy is yet unborn but the mother, who sees her husband attacked, receives a severe shock and later the lad is born with her fear in him.

His father is slain by rustlers and he is sent out to be educated. When he is grown to manhood he comes west to rescue the cattleman who sent him east. This man has been taken prisoner by the gang of cattle rustlers who were enemies of the boy's father.

Then begins the great struggle. All the boy's inherited fear prompts him to turn back. But he takes a firm grip on himself, pulls himself together and enters the domain of the cattle thieves. He learns where his benefactor is hidden, and he meets the niece of his enemy, the chief of the cattle thieves. He falls in love with the girl, and he rescues the cattleman who is prisoner. Having proved his courage and regained his self respect the lad brings about a reconciliation between the cattle rustlers and the law-and-order element of the country.

It is a vividly dramatic story, scenarized by J. G. Hawks from a story by William Melwood Raine, and it will be shown at the Allen Theatre Mon. Tues. Victor Sobert zinger directed the picture under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

TRACTOR MARKET TO BE TREMENDOUS

It is estimated conservatively by those who may be presumed to know that the potential tractor market will exceed 1,250,000. Some estimates place the number much larger. If the average life of a tractor be estimated at five years, it would indicate an annual replacement market of 250,000. This, together with the necessity of filling the original market, makes it seem quite possible that 400,000 or even 500,000 tractors may eventually be sold in a year.

It is interesting to note that 250,000 tractors at $1000 each mean a market of $250,000,000, which is about as large as the entire annual output of the agricultural implement industry before the war, which amounted to $164,000,000 in 1914 at manufacturers' prices.

At first the tractor industry developed slowly, with a production in 1912 of 11,400. Two years later the output was 15,000, then 21,000, then 35,000, and then 55,000 in 1917. In 1918 the output is estimated at about 100,000.

"FLORENCE AUTOMATIC" OIL COOK STOVES

THE blue flame from the Florence wickless burner is always steady, always under perfect control. A special jacket holds it directly under the cooking utensils—giving a quicker, more economical heat.

Used with McClary's Success oven, the Florence Automatic is a wonderful baker.

There are no wicks to clean, no odors, no trouble. Let us give you a demonstration of the Florence Automatic in actual operation.

The Late Mr. M.J. Bailey.

Regarding the death of Mr. Bailey yesterday facts have been ascertained that he is Mr. Marwood J. Bailey. He is a native of Bowmanville but had resided here for quite a number of years.

Some years ago he conducted a grocery store here where later Mr. Waldschmidt had his stand. In recent years he had lived retired. His age was 58 years.

Surviving him are his wife who resides in Seatonville with his daughter Mrs. A.E. Meyer. There is also one son, Mr. Wilbert Bailey this city, recently returned from overseas.

In the hour of sorrow the bereaved family have the sympathy of the whole community.

The funeral will be held in Bowmanville on Sunday. The body was to be forwarded to that place on the 2:32 G.T.R. train this afternoon.

The cause of death as revealed in the post mortem was an affliction with gall-stones.

Address and Presentation.

Mr. Nelson House returned home from overseas last Sunday was pleasantly surprised and presented with an address and Club Bag at the home of Mr. Harvey Niergarth. Cedar street north city, by a number of his friends on Thursday evening. The presentation was made by Mr. Niergarth and Mr. Jas. McKenty read the following address.

Dear Nelson:

On this, the occasion of your return let us extend to you a hearty and deserving welcome.

Words cannot express how glad we are to have you with us again, and to once more have the opportunity of seeing your pleasant face.

Although we missed you very much we know that while you were overseas you did your share towards bringing this awful conflict to an end.

We therefore ask you to accept this present, not for its intrinsic value but as a token of our esteem, love and best wishes.

Signed on behalf of your friends.

More Smallpox Cases

The Guelph health authorities yesterday morning ordered to the Smallpox Hospital three more patients, who were discovered suffering from the dread disease. This makes five patients in that hospital at the present time. In an effort to ascertain if the Board of Health was doing all that was possible in coping with the situation, Chairman J. A. Hewitt invited Dr. R. W. Bell, Medical Inspector for the Province, to come to Guelph, and the latter arrived here yesterday morning. He immediately went into conference with the Board of Health members, and after learning what had been done regarding vaccination and the removal of suspected cases to the hospital, Dr. Bell stated the Guelph authorities had acted properly.

ELECTRIC MOTORS PROPERLY REPAIRED

To Erect Monument.

To erect a suitable monument in memory of the brave Middlesex boys who sacrificed their lives on active service was the decision of the special committee of the Middlesex County Council yesterday afternoon. This will be recommended next week to the Council during the session.

In order to raise the necessary amount it was suggested, as the safest and quickest method to add another mill per dollar on the present tax rate. This would insure about $40,000 and although the price of bronze for monuments is at present high, the councilors agreed that the amount should be sufficient to pay for a splendid and very appropriate memorial.

A Race For The W.F.A. Hough Cup

A pretty race in the Hough Cup series is on. There is a tie for first place between the local Collegiate and Woodstock, both of whom have won two games and lost one. On next Tuesday evening, June 3rd, the King's birthday, at seven o'clock the game that tells will be played at the athletic park here by the two leading teams. Mr. H.W. Brown will referee.

This afternoon the Kitchener and Waterloo Collegiate boys played Stratford in a regular scheduled game this afternoon in the latter city. Mr. N. Fiebig refereed.

Beavers Broke Even on Holiday

The Beavers won their fourth game of the season and incidentally broke their losing streak by defeating the Halligans at Flint yesterday morning, 9-4. It was Memorial Day over on the other side and a national holiday and the games there were attended by large crowds.

It remained for Lodestro to bring his team out of the slump but he was able to support by the rest of his teammates who slugged the ball all over the lot. As a matter of fact, the team as a whole has been hitting well in all the games but have been unfortunate in the matter of holding back the opposing batsmen.

Kitchener, however, lost the afternoon fixture by another one-run margin, but the Flintites had to work overtime to turn the trick. George was on the mound for Beatty's men and was touched up quite freely, fifteen hits being the number registered against him.

As will be noticed from the score by innings, Kitchener had scored three runs in this game before the Halligans got going, but the performer on the slab was not strong enough to hold the advantage.

The Beavers have lost six games in this same manner by permitting their opponents to forge ahead after having assumed a commanding lead themselves. If anybody knows of a good pitcher who can hold out for nine innings, kindly pass on the good word to the management of K. B. C.

A Flint despatch gives the following account of the double header:
FLINT, Mich., May 30.—A two-bagger by Lotshaw and a single by Allen gave Flint the Memorial Day afternoon game, 5 to 4, in the tenth inning, and an even break on the way's pastime.

Carlson's pitching in the last stretch was offset by sharp fielding on the part of Kitchener. In the eighth Flint had three single for no count. The score:

ON THE SIDE

Second Baseman Wade had a bad day in the field in yesterday afternoon's contest. He had thirteen fielding chances and messed up four chances.

Kyle had his daily swat. Kyle has hit safely once in each game since the opening of the season at the Athletic grounds here. His fielding has also been perfect.

Bay City won a double bill on the holiday. Of course, it was no trick to beat the Tecumseh in the morning fixture 9-4, but Shaugnessy and his clan paid an official visit in the afternoon and received a beating by the same score.

London made it fifteen defeats out of sixteen attempts by dropping the morning attraction to the Saginaw Aces. Manager Mason will probably have a winning nine by 1930, if he keeps up at this rate. Hamilton dropped its second game of the game by losing the second game 8-3.

Kitchener and Flint probably set up a league record for time in playing out a game. It required two hours and thirty one minutes to finish yesterday's ten inning contest.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR

AUSTRIAN SUMMARY OF PRESENT

HER TERRITORY AND POPULATION GREATLY REDUCED
PARIS, June 2.—The terms of peace will be presented to the Austrians delegation to-day with the problem of the Adriatic claims of Italy unresolved. The Council of Four held a brief meeting before going to St. Germain this morning. Premier Orlando of Italy being present. During the meeting the Adriatic question was discussed. Austria was to-day given 15 days to reply to the terms of peace presented by the allied nations. Mr. Clemenceau, President of the Peace Conference, was the first prominent figure to arrive to-day at the meeting, at which the terms of peace were presented.

SUMMARY OF AUSTRIAN

OTTAWA, TREATY—The following is a summary of the text of the Austrian peace terms, received here by the Government and issued to the Canadian Press:
The conditions of peace of the Allied and Associated powers, with the exception of Military reparations, financial and boundary clauses, were handed to the Austrian plenipotentiaries at St. Germain to-day. The clauses, which are not ready for presentation, will be delivered as soon as possible. The Austrians in the meanwhile have the opportunity to begin work on the greater part of the treaty in an effort to facilitate greater decision.
The Austrian treaty is exactly the same outline as that of Germany, and in places is identical with it, except in name. Certain specific clauses, which apply only to Germany, are of course omitted, and certain new clauses of particular applicability of Austria are included, especially as regards the new states created out of the former Austro-Hungarian empire. Austria is left by treaty a state of six million people inhabiting territory of between fifty thousand and sixty thousand square miles.

TWO CASES OF DISCOVERY

The Patients Removed to MEASURES OF

Two cases of smallpox have been discovered in the city.
The patients are adult members of the Flowers family, a brother and sister, 45 East Weber street. The fact that this is the affliction was learned this morning when medical advice was sought by the patients. While eldly had not been feeling well for the last few days no suspicion was held that there was anything serious or that the illness was smallpox, which is prevalent in Guelph, Baden and other centres. The medical men when called in this morning soon ascertained what the illness was and communicated with the Medical officer of Health, Dr. McGillivray. The latter immediately set the machinery of the health department in order so as to prevent the plague from spreading. With Chairman J. S. Schreiber and Inspector J. G. Bushaupt they set about to have the patients removed to the Isolation Hospital. This was done this afternoon.

How the illness reached here is not yet known. It is interesting to note that one of the friends who lives at 45 Weber street a week ago Saturday went to Baden where the health department But he had not been back, he himself being under quarantine.

Will Provide Protection.
"Is it serious?" The Record asked of Dr. McGillivray.

Serious? All small-pox is serious. Not that the particular cases are serious but the possibilities that

THE ACT EXPLAINED

Not being able to interpret the notices in the press of late as to the meaning of the present procedure to take in regard to the securing of liquor, a prominent citizen of the city wrote the Department in this regard and received the following reply which is clear and precise. It reads as follows:
Dear Sir:
Your letter is to hand making certain enquiries, to which I may reply that the transference of the licensed vendor stores into the charge of the Board involves no change in the law so far as customers are concerned. It means I hope better service all round but a medical prescription is required for the maximum quantity of one quart of liquor for each person, or etc., and the doctor is under the same obligation as before to furnish such prescription only when he believes the liquor necessary for the health of the patient. His duty is laid down in Section 61 of the Ontario Temperance Act. The physician may also give a similar prescription up to six ounces of liquor upon a druggist.

There seems to be an impression abroad that some radical change has been made in the Ontario Temperance Act whereby liquor can be more easily obtained.
This is an error, which possibly has arisen from the referendum act which refers to the electorate certain points for decision. If the people desire, certain modifications may be made in the act in that direction. Most of the provisions of the Ontario
